Multiply] It's put 1. for, To make more, either the ſame in quantity, Gen. 3. 16. Deut. 8. 13. in number, Gen. 6. 1. Deut. 11. 22. or other things by addition, Job 35. 6. Iſa. 59. 12.

2. More and more aſſurance, Jude v. 2. 1 Pet. 1. 2.

3. Effectuall making more Chriſtians, Act. 12. 24.

4. To make great, 2 Sam. 22. 36. marg.

5. To have, 1 Chr. 23. 11. marg.

In multiplying I will multiply] With certainty and greatneſſe to increaſe. Gen. 3. 16. In multiplying I will multiply. By this ingemination, or doubling of words, both vehemency and certainty of the thing is meant, as in Gen. 2. In dying thou ſhalt dye.

Multitude] The greateſt and mightyeſt men, which by might bear down right, oppreſſing the poor by fraud or force. Exod. 23. 2. Thou ſhalt not follow a multitude to doe evill.

2. The common people, or vulgar ſort of men, becauſe they are the greateſt number. Mat. 9. 8. When the multitude ſaw it.

3. Many, Luk. 2. 13. Very many, Iſa. 31. 4. The whole people, Act. 21. 22.

4. Great ſtore, and plenty, Jer. 10. 13. Prov. 14. 28.

5. Too many, Eccl. 5. 3.

7. The aſſembly gathered, Act. 23. 7.

8. Fulneſſe, Gen. 48. 19. marg.

9. Noyſe, Iſa. 17. 12. marg.

10. Nouriſhed, Jer. 46. 25. marg.

11. Tumult, Ezek. 7. 11. marg.

Mixed multitude, Exod. 12. 38. that is, a great mixture.

Multitude of people] Abundance, or great ſtore of people. Prov. 14. 28. In the multitude of a people is the honour of a King. But multitude of people is no note and mark of a true Church, forſomuch as many walk in the broad way, whereas few walk in the ſtraight way.

Voyce of a multitude] A moſt vehement, ſtrong, and loud ſound, Dan. 10. 6. See Ez. 1. 34.

Munition] Fortification, fortreſſe, ſtrong hold, Naturall, Iſa. 33. 16. Artificiall, Iſa. 29. 7. Nah. 2. 1.

Muppim] Out of the mouth; or after the Syrian, a covering. The Son of Benjamin, Gen. 46. 21.

Murder] The taking away of mans life unlawfully. Rom. 1. 29. Full of murder.

2. Kindes or degrees of Murther by Moſes, deſcribed Deut. 19. One by ignorance, or error, ver. 4. the other of hatred pretenſed, v. 11. or ſudden, Exod. 22. 21, 22.

3. All cruelty, in deed, word, or thought. Exod. 20. 13. Thou ſhalt not murther. 1 Joh. 3. 15. He that hateth his Brother in his heart, is a murtherer. A Synecdoche.

Murtherers and Theeves] Not only men-killers, or groſſe ſtealers; but all oppreſſors, wrong-doers, cruel exacters, and fraudulent dealers, which by wiles and couſenage draw unto them the goods of other men. Iſa. 1. 21. 23. Now murtherers, and companions of theeves.

To murmur] To grieve in minde ſecretly, for want of ſome good thing which we deſire; or for feeling ſome evil things which we would not have, 1 Cor. 10. 10. Joh. 6. 41, 43, 61. Here it noteth indignation and offence taken upon Chriſts words carnally underſtood, but in Joh. 7. 12. it ſignifies ſpeech ſecretly whiſpered in the ear, out of fear of men.

It's put alſo for ſpeaking in a muttering manner, Joh. 7. 12, 32. and for complaining, Lam. 3. 29. Act. 6. 1.

Murmurer] A grutching diſcontented perſon, which is diſpleaſed with Gods diſpenſation and dealing. 1 Cor. 10. 10. Neither murmur ye as ſome of your Fathers murmured. Mat. 20. 11.

Murrain] Exod. 9. 3. that is, Peſtilence or death.

Muſe] To meditate, Pſal. 142. 5. To reaſon, or debate, Luk. 3. 15. marg.

Muſhi] Departing, taking away, touching, going back, or carryed away violently. The Son of Merari, Exod. 6. 19. Of whom came the Muſhites, Numb. 3. 33. & 26. 58.

Muſicians] Rev. 18. 22. Such as are skilful in ſinging and playing on Muſical inſtruments, as the Flute, Harp, Organ, Pipe, Pſaltery, Sackbut, Viol, &c.

Muſick or melody of the Land] ſignifieth, the praiſe-worthy, or beſt and moſt commendable fruit of the Land, and for which Songs of praiſe were given to God, Gen. 43. 11.

Daughters of muſick] Eccl. 12. 4. Hereby we may underſtand,

1. Some Organs of the body tending to muſick, either to ſing our ſelves, as the artery for for ſpeaking, thoſe fibræ vocales, which are bended and inflected in ſinging; or the ear, which judgeth of ſounds, as the palate of meats, when we hear others ſing: Or,

2. All kinde of muſicall conſort or harmony, vocall or inſtrumentall, which young men greatly delight in, as Solomon did, Eccl. 2.8. but to old men are little delightful, they can neither ſing themſelves, nor are greatly pleaſed with the muſick of others, 2 Sam. 19. 34, 35.

Muſt] A neceſſity of that thing whereunto it is applyed. Heb. 9. 16. Where there is a Teſtament, there muſt be the death of him, &c. Act. 14. 22. We muſt through many afflictions enter into heaven.

2. A duty, and that which ought to be. 2 Tim. 2. 6. The husband-man muſt labour, before he receive the fruit.

In ſignifieth a neceſſity of a thing in divers reſpects:

1. Of a good thing, in reſpect of Gods commmandement and duty, as Rom. 13. 5. 2 Tim. 2. 6.

2. Of a good thing in reſpect of Gods promiſe.

3. Of a morall evill or ſin, in reſpect of mans propenſion to it, Satans ſuggeſtions of it, Mat. 18. 7.

4. Of a ſin, in reſpect of Gods permiſſion of it, and purpoſe of that permiſſion by his providence and power to extract good out of evill, 1 Cor. 10. 16.

Muſtard-ſeed] It hath the preeminence of thoſe things whoſe power is to aſcend upwards, for that there is nothing which doth more penetrate into the noſtrils and brain. It is not unapt to ſhoot forth in a garden ſoyl, under what clime ſoever, not intemperately cold, and to a proportion of height more then ordinary, but of ſo prodigious a ſtature as the Goſpel deſcribeth, cannot be imputed but to the ſtrange pregnancy of the Heb. earth. Mr. Gregory in his Notes on Luk. 13. 19.

To muſter] Spoken of God, Iſa. 13. 4. Of a principall officer, 2 King. 25. 19.

Muth-labben] Pſal. 9. the Title. This (if it be referred to the Muſick) ſeemeth to be a kinde of Tune, like that we call the Counter-tenour. Otherwiſe it may be read for the death of labben; but whether Goliah, his own Son Abſolom, Nabal, or who elſe, is uncertain.

Mutter] To ſpeak ſoftly, applyed to Wizzards, Iſa. 8. 19. To the wicked Jews, Iſa. 59. 3.

Mutuall] Rom. 1. 12. Yours and mine.

To muzzle] To deny and keep back meat and maintenance from labourers, men or beaſts, Deut. 25. 4. 1 Cor. 9. 9. Thou ſhalt not muzzle the mouth of the Oxe.

M Y.

Myra] A City in Lycia. It's derived of μύρω, I flow, pour out; weep. Act. 27. 5.

Myrrhe] A moſt precious and odoriferous gum or ſpice, preſerving from corruption: Whoſe uſe was both ſacred, Exod. 30. 23. and common, In anointing, Eſt. 2. 12. Buriall of the dead, Joh. 19. 39. Mingling with wine, Mar. 15. 23. Offering of gifts, Mat. 2. 11.

Pure myrrhe, or choyce myrrhe] ſignifies, Pure, free, naturall, as it floweth; and it is a ſweet gumme or moyſture which iſſueth from the Myrrhe tree, Exod. 30. 23.

By it is often figured and repreſented the Graces of Chriſt, and of his Church, Cant. 1. 13. & 3. 6. & 4. 14. & 5. 1, 5, 13. Pſal. 45. 9.

Myrtle] Of the branches hereof, with the branches of other Trees, the people made them boothes, Neh. 8. 15. This the Lord can make grow, even in the moſt barren place. Iſa. 41. 19. It's a choyce tree, Iſa. 55. 13. and uſefull in phyſick.

Myſia] A Province of Aſia, ſo named of μυσός, a deteſtable, execrable crime, villany, Act. 16. 7, 8.

Myſtery] A thing kept ſecret and hid from our underſtanding, till it be revealed to us. 1 Cor. 2. 7. We ſpeak the wiſdome of God in a myſtery, even hidden wiſdome. The whole doctrine of Chriſt, concerning his Perſon, Offices, and Benefits. It is uſed to ſignifie the ſigne of things hidden and ſecret; ſuch were the Rites Legall, and Sacraments Evangelicall.

2. The vocation of the Gentiles, which is called a Myſtery, becauſe it was hid and kept ſecret from many ages, Rom. 16. 25. Alſo vocation of the Jews towards the end of the world, Rom. 11. 25. Alſo, the manner of the reſurrection, 1 Cor. 15. 51.

3. The ſpirituall union between Chriſt and his Church. This is called a Myſtery, becauſe it exceeds humane underſtanding, and is revealed onely to Gods children. Eph. 5. 32. This is a great myſtery, but I ſpeak of Chriſt and his Church. Fooliſhly then, and ignorantly doe Papiſts hence gather their Sacrament of Mariage: For not the conjunction of man and wife, but of Chriſt and his Church is a Myſtery. As alſo the Hypoſtaticall union of the two natures, 1 Tim. 3. 16.

3. The whole doctrine of Chriſt, and our ſalvation by him, Eph. 1. 9. & 3. 3, 4, 9. Col. 1. 26, 27.

4. The hidden meaning of the words which teach the things concerning the Kingdome of heaven, Mar. 13. 11. & 4. 11.

5. The manner of the reſurrection, and the change concerning thoſe that dye not, 1 Cor. 15. 51.

Myſtery of godlineſſe] The doctrine of free ſalvation, through faith onely in the blood of Chriſt; or the whole doctrine of Chriſtianity. 1 Tim. 3. 16. Great is the myſtery of godlineſſe. 1 Cor. 2. 8. Matth. 11. 25. 1 Cor. 2. 10, 14.

Myſtery of iniquity] Falſe doctrine, and corrupt worſhip cloaked and covered with the name of Chriſt, and of Chriſtian Religion. 2 Theſſ. 2. 7. The myſtery of iniquity doth already work. It crept ſecretly and under hand, even in the Apoſtles time.

Myrtelene] Cleanlineſſe, or the wiping of the wine-preſſe. An Iſle, Act. 20. 14.

N A.

Naam] Fair, or pleaſant. The Son of Caleb, 1 Chr. 4. 15.

Naamah] Fair, beautifull, comely, or greatly moving. The Siſter of Tubal-Cain, Gen. 4. 22. The Mother of Rehoboam, 1 King. 14. 21. A City, Joſh. 15. 41.

Naaman] The ſame. The Son of Benjamin, Gen. 46. 21. The Son of Bela, of whom the Naamites, Numb. 26. 40. A Captain of the hoſte of Syria, 2 King. 5. 1.

Nahbi] Very ſecret, hid, my beloved, reſting with me, or a leader with me. The Son of Vophſi, Num. 13. 14.

Nahor] The ſame with Nachor. The Son of Terah.

Nahum] as Naham. One that returned with Zerubbabel, Nehem. 7. 7. A Prophet, Nah. 1. 1.

Nail] Clavus. The matter thereof is iron, 1 Chr. 22. 3. and braſſe, Dan. 7. 19.

The uſe. 1. To hang things upon that are of ordinary uſe in the houſe, that they may not be caſt about, and ſo wronged, but may be there ſafe out of harms way, as we ſay, and at hand when occaſion is to make uſe of them, Iſa. 22. 23.

2. That the dores made therewith may ſafely keep any thing, 1 Chr. 23. 3.

3. To keep a thing from being moved, Iſa. 41. 7. Jer. 10. 4.

Hence the words of the wiſe are ſaid to be as Nails, Eccl. 12. 11. as which contain men in their duty. And a man meet to govern the Common-wealth is compared to a Nail, for that the State of a Common-wealth is by his counſell and ſtrength confirmed and ſtabliſhed, Zech. 10. 4. And give one a Nail, Ezr. 8. 8. is to give one a conſtant and ſure abode, marg. Iſa. 22. 23. Herewith Jael made Sifera ſure, Judg. 4. 21. Herewith the Jews Chriſt, Joh. 20. 25.

Nail] Unguis. The captive woman in Deut. 21. 12. was to pare her nails, as ſome read the words, that thereby ſhe might be admoniſhed to put off her former manners, and to betake her ſelfe to a contrary courſe, or ſuffer them to grow, as in the marg. that the deformity of her ſhaven head and long nails might allay the affections of him that took her, that he might not take her to wife, unleſſe ſhe ſhould ſhew her ſelfe a true convert to the the right Religion. Large Ann.

Naim] Fairneſſe, beautifulneſſe, pleaſantneſſe; trouble, or the moving of them. A City, Luk. 7. 11.

Naioth] Fairneſſe, beauty, comelyneſſe; or, a dwelling place. A place, 1 Sam. 19. 18.

Naked] One that is voyd of all clothing to cover his body. Gen. 2. 25. Adam was naked and was not aſhamed.

2. One that hath laid aſide and put off the chief of his garments. 1 Sam. 19. 24. Saul fell down naked; that is, he put off his Kingly apparell, Iſa. 20. 2. without his gown, not without his ſhirt.

3. One which lacketh Chriſt, the wedding and beſt garment. Rev. 3. 17. Thou art poor and naked; that is, voyd of Chriſt and his graces.

4. Such as want the favour and protection of God, which is our beſt covering. Exod. 32. 25. When Moſes ſaw the people naked.

5. One which is not yet clad with immortall glory. 2 Cor. 5. 3. We ſhall not be found naked.

6. One ſtript and left without worldly goods, Job 1. 2, 21. 1 Tim. 6. 7.

7. One deſtitute of the image of God, Gen. 3. 7, 10.

8. One abiding in his natural corruption, 2 Cor. 5. 3.

9. One that is voyd of faith and piety, Rev. 3. 17.

10. One that is in a periſhing condition, Prov. 29. 18 mar.

11. One deſtitute of the grace and help of God, Exod. 32. 25.

12. That which is not hid, but manifeſt, Job 26. 6. Heb. 4. 13. Hab. 3. 9.

Nakedneſſe] Lack of bodily cloathing in whole or in part. 2 Cor. 11. 27. And in nakedneſſe. Alſo our ſecret parts, Gen. 3. 7. & 9. 22. Lev. 18. often.

2. Want of Chriſt Jeſus, his merits, and graces of the Spirit: which are the ſoules deckings and ornaments. Rev. 3. 18. That thou mayſt hide thy filthy nakedneſſe. This is ſpirituall nakedneſſe.

3. Weak, naked, and ruined places, Gen. 42. 9.

4. Shame, Iſa. 20. 4. marg. & 47. 3.

5. The fleſh of their nakedneſſe, Exod. 28. 42.

6. Great diſgrace and ignominie, Hab. 2. 15. The Metaphor being taken from Drunkards, who after a filthy manner uncover their ſecret parts, Ibid. 16. Lam. 4. 21.

7. Great want and poverty, Rom. 8. 35. Job 22. 6. & 24. 7, 10. 1 Cor. 4. 11. Jam. 2. 15.

There is a double Nakedneſſe to be gathered out of Gen. 2. 25. They were both naked, and were not aſhamed; and Gen. 3. 7. They knew they were naked, and ſowed fig-leaves. The former was a nakedneſſe full of glory, holineſſe, and innocency, containing four things.

1. Uprightneſſe of minde and will.

2. Beauty and brightneſſe of the whole body and every part.

3. Harmony and conſent of appetite, ſenſes and members with the minde.

4. Impaſſibility of the body, not obnoxious to cold, heat, or to ſuffer any hurt.

The latter nakedneſſe after ſin, is full of turpitude, miſery, and containeth a ſenſe of all thoſe evils, contrary to the four good things now mentioned.

As 1. Depravation of minde and will, by blindeneſſe and perverſeneſſe; and depravation of the Image of God in wiſdome, holineſſe, and righteouſneſſe.

2. Filthyneſſe and deformity, in the privy members ſpecially.

3. Rebellion in the Appetite, and interiour interiour powers againſt the rule of the minde.

4. Paſſions ſundry and many, afflicting and affecting the body by diſeaſes and diſtemper of the air, &c.

Name] That whereby one perſon is known from another; as Peter, Paul, &c. Mat. 1.21. His name ſhall be Jeſus. Luk. 1.63. He ſhall be called John: or, one thing from another, as Rivers, Countreys, Cities, &c.

2. Teſtimony or report given of any man, which if it be for good things, and given by good men, then it is a good name; otherwiſe it is an evill name. Prov. 21.1. A good name is better then riches. This is that whereby we are made known and manifeſt to others, as men by their names.

3. Our ſelves, or our own perſons. Luk. 10. 20. Rejoyce that your names be written in the Book of life; that is, that ye are known before, and loved of God from everlaſting. Rev. 21. v. laſt.

4. Honour, renown, praiſe, or glory. Deut. 26. 19. To make thee high above all Nations in name. Gen. 6. 4. Men of name, Eccl. 7.3. As vile perſons are ſaid to be men without name, Job 30. 8.

5. Appearance, ſhew, and ſeeming. Rev. 3. 1. Thou haſt a name to live.

6. Memory, mention. Prov. 30. His name ſhall be put out.

7. The moſt noble and powerfull creatures in heaven and earth. Act. 4. 12. There is given no other name under heaven. Eph. 12. 1. Above all names.

8. Great excellency and dignity. Phil. 2. 9. And given him a name, &c.

9. Knowledge. Rom. 1. 5. For his name among the Gentiles; that is, to make him known by ſpreading the Goſpel, which is alſo ſometime called the name of God, and of Chriſt, as Mat. 19.29. Mar. 10. 29. Luk. 18.29. Laſtly, authority, power, or vertue, 1 Cor. 5. 4.

10. A finall cauſe, or reaſon and argument inducing to any thing; as namely, the ſervile uſe, goodneſſe, profit, praiſe, pleaſure or contentment of ſome perſon; or for his ſake, and becauſe of him, that he may receive profit thereby, &c. Rom. 1. 5. Mat. 19. 29.

11. The repreſentation of another perſon, the ſtead or ſupply of ones preſence, place or work; Joh. 5. 43. Matt. 10. 41, 42. & 19. 27.

12. The commandement and authority of ſome perſon, Deut. 18. 20.

13. The aid and aſſiſtance of ſome higher power, Pſal. 44. 8. Luk. 10.17. Mar. 16.17. Mat. 7. 22.

14. The merit, mediation, or means of ſome higher perſon, or the confidence had therein, Joh. 16. 23, 24.

15. Poſterity or iſſue, Deut. 25. 7. Ruth 4. 5, 10. Iſa. 66. 22.

16. A note or mark whereby one is diſcerned from another, Ex. 3. 15. & 15. 3.

17. Ones ſake, Mat. 10.42. & 18.5. Mar. 9. 37, 41.

Names given of God, were Iſhmael, Gen. 16. 11. Iſaac, Ib. 17. 19. Solomon, 1 Chron. 22. 9. The Son of Iſaiah, Iſa. 8.3. The Sons of Hoſea, Hoſ. 1. 6, 9. John the Baptiſt, Luk. 1. 13. Chriſt, Mat. 1. 21.

Of old the Fathers gave names to their Children, Gen. 4. 25, 26. & 5.29. & 35.18. & 41. 51, 52. Exod. 2.22. & 18. 3, 4. and ſometime the Mothers, Gen. 4.1. & 19.37, 38. & 29. 32, 33, 34, 35. & 30. 18. 20, 21, 24. Judg. 13. 24. 1 Sam. 1. 20. or they under whoſe power the Mothers were, Gen. 30. 6, 8, 12, 13. or one in whoſe power the childe is, Exod. 2. 10. or the neighbors, or ſuch women as were preſent at the childe-bearing, Gen. 25. 26. & 38. 29, 30. Ruth 4. 17. but not without the conſent of the parents, Luk. 1. 59, &c. And then did parents name their children when they were circumciſed, as now we doe ours, when baptized. Nor were their childrens names unadviſedly impoſed, but on good grounds, as is cleer by their ſignification. And often their children had two or three names, as Sarai, Jiſcha, Gen. 11. 29. Eſau, Edom, Ib. 25. 30. Baſemath the Wife of Eſau, Hoda, Ib. 27. 1. Jehudith another of his Wives, Aholibama, Ibid. 36. 2. Gedeon, Jerubbaal, Judg. 6. 32. and ſo of others.

They did alſo impoſe new names on them who were under their power, or whom they did admit as their familiar friends, or houſhold ſervants, Gen. 41. 45. Numb. 13. 17. Dan. 1. 7.

Name of Chriſt, of Jeſus, of Lord, of God] Chriſt, or Jeſus himſelf, or God himſelfe, Act. 9. 14, 16. Pſal. 124. 8. 2 Tim. 2. 10. The meaning hereof is to admoniſh us to ſeek to underſtand no more of God and of Chriſt, than is made known unto us in the Word.

2. The Commandement of Chriſt, Mat. 18. 20. 2 Theſſ. 3. 6. Col. 3. 17.

3. His authority, Matt. 7. 22. & 21. 9. Act. 4. 7, 10.

6. His advancement above all principality, power, might, dominion, Phil. 2. 9. expounded by Eph. 1. 20, 21.

Name, when it is referred to God] Any thing whereby God and his will is made better known to us. Thus his Titles, as God, Jehovah, Lord, &c. Alſo his properties, as Mercy, Goodneſſe, Truth; his Works, his Word, his Sacraments, his Religion, his Doctrine: All theſe are his Names. Exod. 20. 7. Thou ſhalt not take the Name of the Lord, &c. Exod. 3. 18. This is my Name for ever. And 33. 19. & 34. 6, 7. Pſalm 8. 1. Joh. 17. 26. 1 Tim. 6. 1. Elſewhere often.

2. The aid and help of God. Pſal. 44. 5. In thy Name we ſhall tread down our enemies. 2 Sam. 17. 45. I goe againſt him in the Name of my God.

3. His honour, renown, and glory. Pſa. 76. 1. His name is great in Iſrael.

4. The renowned virtue and power of God. Mat. 7. 22. In thy Name, &c.

5. The will and counſell of God, concerning ſalvation by Chriſt, Joh. 17. 6.

6. The knowledge of God, Joh. 17. 11. Meton. ſubj.

7. His love to us in Chriſt, Pſal. 22. 22. Joh. 17. 26.

8. His word by which he revealeth himſelf to us, and we know him, Pſal. 33. 21. Act. 9. 15.

9. His wiſdome and power in defeating the miſchiefs of the wicked, Pſal. 7. 17.

10. The works of mercy and goodneſſe, by which he is known as by a name, Pſal. 8. 1, 9. & 76. 2.

11. His ſtrength, power, and grace, Pſal. 20. 1, 7.

12. His goodneſſe and merciful acceptance, Pſal. 63. 4.

13. His worſhip and ſervice, 1 King. 5. 5. Mal. 1. 6.

A name above every name] Such dignity and renown as far excelleth all earthly and heavenly dignity and renown; whatſoever is in any creature, Eph. 1. 21. He hath given him a Name above every name.

To be baptized in the Name of Chriſt] To give our names to Chriſt by Baptiſme, and therein to be made partakers of his death, buriall, and reſurrection. Act. 8. 16. They were onely baptized in the name of Chriſt. Act. 19. 5.

To be baptized in the Name of the Father, &c.] To be dedicate and ſet apart by Baptiſme unto God, as his peculiar people and worſhippers. Mat. 28. 19. Goe teach all Nations and baptize them in the Name of the Father, of the Son, and holy Ghoſt.

2. To receive Baptiſme at the hands of man, who in the behalfe of the Trinity, and by the authority thereof, doth baptize.

3. To be baptized with the circumſtance of prayer made to the whole holy Trinity, & with calling on the Name of one God, and the three Perſons.

4. To be baptized by the power of the Trinity then named.

A Name better then of Sons and Daughters] The title and name of the Children of God, of Son or Daughter of God, of Members of Chriſt, of Heir and fellow Heir with Chriſt; which is more excellent by much, then to be called or named a Father of children: this is ſpoken for the comfort of godly Eunuches, which are childeleſſe, Iſa. 56. 4, 5.

Name of blaſphemy] One full of blaſphemy againſt God, againſt goodneſſe, and againſt good men. Rev. 13. 1. And upon his head a name of blaſphemies.

To come in the Name of Chriſt] Either Chriſt his agnomination, or his authority, Mat. 24. 5.

To come in the Name of the Lord] To be ſent of God, or to come from him, furniſhed with divine authority as his peculiar Meſſenger. Mar. 11. 9. Bleſſed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

To have a deſire to his Name] Inwardly to meditate of the truth, juſtice, and power of God, as alſo of his word and work, thereby to prop and ſtay their ſouls in patience and truſt, till their deliverance promiſed came. Iſa. 26. 8. The deſire of our ſoul is to thy Name. This their meditation in the nineth verſe is ſet forth two wayes:

1. By the earneſtneſſe of it, expreſſed in two tearms, Soul and Spirit.

2. By the continuance of it, Night and Morning; that is, all the day long.

To deſpiſe his Name] To contemne and cauſe to be ſet at nought, the outward true worſhip of God, as the Prieſts and Jews did, by offering corrupt Sacrifices, contrary to the Law. Mal. 1. 6. Ye deſpiſe my Name. See v. 7, 8.

For his Names ſake] The voluntary forſaking of Countrey and goods, for this end and cauſe, that they might preach the Goſpel to the Gentiles, 3 Joh. 7.

In the name of a Prophet, Diſciple, righteous man] As a Prophet, as a Diſciple, as a righteous man, becauſe they be ſuch. Matth. 10. 41, 42. He that receiveth a Prophet in the name of a Prophet, &c.

My Name ſhall be in him] Chriſt to be very true God, coeſſentiall with his Father: alſo, his lively Image by whom he is known; and laſtly, his Vicegerent authorized to be Lord and Ruler over his people. Exod. 23. 21. Becauſe my Name is in him.

To give ought for the Name of Chriſt] To entertain one for the love and ſake of Chriſt, becauſe he honoureth him. Mar. 9. 41. Whoſoever ſhall give a cup of cold water for my Name.

To be named with ones name] To be taken and accounted for ones Childe, no leſſe then if he were born of him. Gen. 48. 19. Let my Name be named upon them.

Thus Gods Name is ſaid to be called on us, Deut. 28. 10. 2 Chr. 7. 14. Jer. 14. 9. that is, we are named the Sons of God, 1 Joh. 3. 1.

2. To be renowned by bearing the name of ſome moſt excellent, as Chriſtians are by bearing the Name of Chriſt, Eph. 3. 15.

3. To be accounted ones Wife, Iſa. 4. 1.

4. To have a new name put on him in Circumciſion or Baptiſme, thereby to be put in minde of our duties, as Iſa. 8. 3. Luk. 1, 59, 60, 61, 62. & 2. 21.

New name] The childe of God. Rev. 2. 17. I will give unto him a new name. See New.

Some others expound it of the ſpirituall benefits of Chriſt, and the dignity that follows them.

Not to name a thing] Not to ſpeak or make mention with pleaſure and liking, but with a loathing and deteſtation of the thing named. Eph. 5. 3. As for Covetouſneſſe, let it not once be named. Pſal. 16. 4. Exod. 23. 13.

Through thy Name] Through the true knowledge of himſelf: a Metonymie of the ſubject. Joh. 17. 11. Keep them through thy Name.

Others expound it of the power of God, whereby men are preſerved: both expoſitions may ſtand; for God by his might keeps ſuch as ſoundly know and fear him, and none other.

Naomi] Fair, beautifull, comely; or, greatly moving. The Wife of Elimelech, Ruth 1, v. 2.

Naphiſh] A ſoul; or reſting; or after the Syrian, multiplying. The Son of Iſhmael, Gen. 25. 15.

Naphtali] My reſting, compariſon, likeneſſe, or crookedneſſe. The Son of Jacob by Rachel, Gen. 30. 8. His poſterity, Judg. 5. 18.

Naphtuim] Open, or an opening. The Son of Mizraim, Gen. 10. 13.

Napkin] Taken largely for a linnen cloth, Luk. 19. 20. ſtrictly, for an handkerchief wherewith the ſweat is wiped off, as ſudarium, a ſudore, implyeth, Act. 19. 12. Or, for a cloth wherewith both men and women covered their faces, as the Syrians and Hebrews take the word; or a linnen cloth wherewith they covered the faces, and wrapt about the heads of the dead, Joh. 11. 44. & 20. 7.

Narciſſus] Aſtonyed, or neglecting. A mans name, whoſe friends Paul greeteth, Rom. 16. 11.

Narrow] Strait, cloſe, not wide, wanting room. Spoken of a place where there was no way to turn, Numb. 22. 26. of Mount Ephraim, as being too ſmall for the Children of Joſeph, Joſh. 17. 15. of a Pit (whereunto a ſtrange woman is compared) out of which a man cannot get, Prov. 23. 27. Land, Iſa. 49. 19. Windows, Ezek. 40. 16. The way which leadeth to life, Mat. 7. 14.

Nathan] Given, giving, or rewarded. The Son of David, 2 Sam. 5. 14. A Prophet, Ibid. 7. 2. The Father of Igal, 2 Sam. 23. 36. The Father of Azariah, 1 King. 4. 5. The Father of Zabad, 1 Chr. 2. 36. The Brother of Joel, 1 Chr. 11. 38. A chief man, and of underſtanding, Ezr. 8. 16. Of the Sons of Baui, Ibid. 10. 39.

Nathaneel] The gift of God. The fourth Son of Jeſſe, 1 Chron. 2. 14. One that did blow with a trumpet before the Ark of the Lord, 1 Chr. 15. 24. A Scribe, one of the Levites, Ibid. 24. 6. The Son of Obed-Edom, Ib. 26. 4. Alſo, the name of a true Iſraelite, Joh. 1. 45.

Nathan-melech] The gift of the King; or, the King giving, or rewarding. A Chamberlain, 2 King. 23. 11.

Nation] Either the Countrey or people which inhabit it. Pſal. 117. 1. Prayſe him all ye Nations. Rev. 7. 9. Of all Nations, kindreds, and people. Exod. 19. 6. Ye ſhall be an holy Nation.

2. The Authour and Head of a Nation or people. Gen. 25. Two Nations are in thy wombe. This is meant (by a Metonymie) of Jacob and Eſau, the two roots of the Iſraelites and Edomites.

3. The original or beginning of Nations, Gen. 25. 23.

4. Coun-

4. Countrey-men, natives of the ſame ſtock, Act. 26. 4. Gal. 1. 4.

5. A poſterity increaſing into a Kingdom, Gen. 12. 2. & 18. 18.

6. A people, Gen. 20. 4. Jews, Jer. 9. 9. Gentiles, or heathen people, Iſa. 2. 2, 4. Jer. 2. 11. Act. 13. 19.

A great Nation] A large poſterity, both for quantity and quality, for number and name; ſo was Abraham's, for of him came the Iſmaelites by Agar, the Midianites by Keturah, and the Iſraelites, which were great in multitude. Secondly, in renown. Thirdly, in laws. Fourthly, by the Covenant with God. Fifthly, becauſe great Kings, Prophets, and holy men came from him, Gen. 12. 2.

To increaſe a Nation] To heap upon the Jews being brought low, life and all good things more and more, Iſa. 26. 15.

Two Nations] Father of two people, Gen. 25. 23.

Nativity] that is, Birth, Ezek. 16. 4.

Nature] Our eſtate by birth, being born into the world corrupt and ſinful. Eph. 2. 3. We are by Nature children of wrath; that is, ſuch to whom the wrath and judgement of God is due, even for our birth, through the guilt of that corruption, which by ſin fell into our Nature. Rom. 11. 24 Wilde by Nature; that is, by impurity and uncleanneſſe of Nature.

2. Senſuality. 2 Pet. 2. 12. As naturall brute beaſts.

3. A prerogative gotten by birth, or naturall deſcent and generation. Gal. 2. 15. We which are Jews by nature.

4. Naturall reaſon or judgement, ſhewing men what is honeſt. Rom. 2. 14. Gentiles doe by Nature things contained in the Law.

5. A long continued, and commonly received cuſtome. 1 Cor. 11. 14. Doth not Nature teach you, &c. Some interpret Nature here to be the common inſtinct of Nature.

6. In truth, or in very deed. Gal. 4. 8. Ye did ſervice to them which by nature were no Gods; that is, no Gods indeed and truly, but by opinion and eſtimation of men.

7. Godly qualities, and good diſpoſitions put into our Nature by divine power. 2 Pet. 2. 4. Partaker of the divine Nature; that is, of righteouſneſſe and true holineſſe, wherein we reſemble God, as children their Father: bearing the Image of his wiſdome, purity.

8. Eſſence or ſubſtance. Heb. 2. 16. He took not the Angels Nature. Jam. 3. 7. The whole Nation of birds and beaſts, hath been tamed by the Nature of man.

9. Kinde, or kindred, Jam. 3. 7. marg.

10. Diſpoſition or inclination of any creature to ſomething agreeable to his being and converſation, Jam. 3. 7. Nature of birds.

11. Virtue, power, or wiſdome, or all theſe, Jam. 3. 7. Nature of man.

12. Mankinde, Jam. 3. 7. Nature of man, marg.

13. The whole life of man, Jam. 3. 6. The courſe of Nature.

14. The proper appetite to the own kind, Rom. 1. 26.

15. Naturall reaſon and judgement, informed in the Law, Rom. 2. 14. and enlightened by Chriſt, Joh. 1. 9.

16. That which is naturally, Rom. 2. 27.

17. Naturall apprehenſion agreeing with right reaſon; or (as we call it) common ſenſe, 1 Cor. 11. 14.

18. Birth, naturall deſcent, and generation, Gal. 2. 15.

Naturall body] A body quickened by the ſoul, and maintained in life by naturall and ordinary means, as meat, drink, ſleep, &c. and is ſubject to naturall affections and operations, as generation, nutrition, augmentation, motion, &c. Contrary to this is a ſpirituall body, which being endowed with the condition of immortality, is preſerved alive without ſuch means, by the immediate work of the Spirit. 1 Cor. 15. 44. There is a naturall body, and there is a ſpirituall body. The body when it is ſown and buryed, is not now a naturall body, but was while it lived.

As mens bodies in this earthly eſtate are ſaid to be animal (or natural) becauſe they are quickned by the ſoul, which doth vivifie or give them life. 2. Becauſe this animal life being weak, needeth many natural helps, as meat, air, reſt, phyſick, &c. And 3. are ſubject to natural or animal affections or operations, as generation, augmentation, nutrition, motion, mutation, corruption, &c. So after the reſurrection, the ſame bodies of the Saints are called Spiritual, not for that they be turned into ſpirit, (becauſe they remain ſtill bodies, without any change of ſubſtance) but in regard they ſhall be endowed perfectly with the condition, qualities, and gifts of the Spirit; as our Saviour ſaith, Matth. 22. They ſhall be like the Angels in heaven, which neither marry, nor are given in marriage. The bodies once raiſed ſhal be wholly moved and ruled by the Spirit of of Christ their Head. 2. Be altogether subject to the Spirit, and shall intend none but spiritual actions. 3. Enfreed from all actions of naturall life: and 4. the Spirit shall immediately sustain them by his exceeding virtue, without any such helps as now our frail and animal life doth stand in need of. They therefore erred grosly, which taught, our bodies should be changed into spirits, and become unsensible, invisible, untouchable, &c. as one Joannes Hierosolymitanus, and after him M. Stapleton affirmeth, and as the Anabaptists doe hold: for the resurrection shall adde glory unto, but shall not destroy the nature of bodies, else could it not afford matter and cause either of comfort in the godly, or of terrour in the wicked, if the same bodies did not rise again.

Natural brute beasts] Persons caryed unto brutish lusts, being led not by any reason or counsell, nor by the Spirit of God, but by a blinde violence of Nature voyd of Judgement. 2 Pet. 2. 12. As naturall brute beasts. These are said here, vers. 12. to be made to be taken, by a speech borrowed from Beasts, framed to that end, to become a prey to others which consume them: so these devillish creatures willingly put themselves into the snares of sin, being vessels of wrath prepared to destruction, Rom. 9. 22.

Naturall care] True and faithfull care, voyd of counterfeiting and negligence. Phil. 2. 20. Which hath a naturall care of your matters.

Naturall use] A custome agreeable to the Law of Nature. Rom. 1.26. Did change the naturall use into that which is unnaturall.

Naturalnesse of Love] Truth and sincerity of Love. 2 Cor. 8. 8. I prove the naturalnesse of your love.

Naturall man] The unregenerate man, who still sticketh in the old corruption of Nature, his ignorance and obstinacy which he brought with him into the world. 1 Cor. 2. 14. The naturall man perceiveth not the things which be of God.

Naturall son] One truely and indeed begotten by the Gospel. Tit. 1. 3. Titus my naturall Son, or my own son. 1 Tim. 1. 2.

Naturally] By light and instinct of Nature. Jude v. 8. What things they know naturally.

Navill] That member and part of the body which is in the middle of the belly, Job 40. 16.

2. The extreme impurity and deformity of our corrupt nature. Ezek. 16. 4. Thy Navill was not cut; that is, thy impure and sinfull nature was not corrected and healed.

3. The middle part of any thing. Judg. 9. 37. I see folk come down by the navill (or middle) of the land. Metaphor.

4. The whole body. Job 40. 11. His force is in the navill of his belly. Synecdoche.

5. Both body and minde, and whatsoever is within or without a man. Prov. 3. 8. So health shall be to thy navill. An Allegory.

6. Means of spirituall nourishment in the Church, Cant. 7. 2. For as Infants in their Mothers wombe, by the navill take in nourishment from the Mother, to strengthen the most inward parts; so the godly in the Church are fed, strengthened, and put in good plight every way, through the true knowledge and reverence of God.

Naught] Unwholesome, 2 King. 2. 19. Not worth much, of small value, Prov. 20. 14.

Naughty] Wicked, Pro. 6. 12. A naughty tongue, Ib. 17. 4. Or, of naughtynesse; that is, most naughty. Naughtynesse must be laid apart, Jam. 1. 21. as wherein transgressors shall be taken, Prov. 11. 6.

Navy] A multitude of ships; as, of Solomon, 1 King. 9. 26. Hiram, Ib. 10. 11. Jehosaphat and Ahaziah, which were broken, Ibid. 22. 49, 50. Tarshish, Isa. 60. 6. Usefull for War, Dan. 11. 40. and for Merchandize, Pro. 31. 14. and to bring rich commodities from forrain Countreys, 1 King. 9. 28. and 10. 11.

Naum] Comforted. The Son of Esli, Luk. 3. 25.

Nay] A word of gain-saying, 1 Sam. 8. 19. & 12. 12. of denial, Mat. 5. 37. of imposing silence, Rom. 9. 20.

Nazarene] Matt. 2. 23. It's derived of נצר, which signifieth a branch; herein regard being had to the Prophesies, where our Saviour is so named; as Isa. 11. 1. Jer. 23. 3.

Nazareth] Separated, crowned, or sanctified. A City, wherein Christ dwelt, Mat. 2. 23.

Nazarite] He was a person which had made a vow of separating himselfe to the Lord in a speciall manner: the Law and order whereof is written, Numb. 6. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, &c. untill v. 21. It signified sundry things.

1. The purity of Christ that was so perfectly separate from sinners, Heb. 7. 26.

2. That we should separate our selves from all evill things, and whatsoever hath a shew of evill, 2 Thess. 5. 22.

3. Whereas

3. Whereas the Nazarite was holy in a ſpeciall manner, this ſignified the perfection of holineſſe in Chriſt above other; and that at length he ſhould give the like holyneſſe to his Church, Eph. 5. 26, 27, 28.

4. A dweller in the City of Nazareth.

5. A profeſſor or follower of the vowes or ceremonies of a Sect called Nazarites.

6. Chriſt, as in the 1. and 3. ſenſe.

N E.

Nebuſhazban] Speech, propheſie, budding, ſpringing, flowing; or, after the Hebrew and Syrian, fruit, or budding forth of delivering. A Prince of Nebuchadnezzar's, Jer. 39. 13.

Nebuzaradan] A budding forth, propheſie of forain judgement; or, the budding forth of the foot of a pillar. Captain of the guard, or chief Marſhall to the King of Babel, 2 King. 25. 8.

Neceſſity] 1. Want of good things temporal, Rom. 12. 13.

2. Any conſtraint or forcing cauſe, by authority, &c. 1 Cor. 9. 16. 2 Cor. 9. 7. & 6. 10.

3. The means or uſe of a thing, both in procuring good, and preventing evill, Heb. 7. 12.

Here note, that uſually unto this word, or ſuch as are equivalent hereunto, as muſt, muſt needs, and ſuch others; a reaſon thereof is either expreſſed or implyed, as Mat. 18. 7. It muſt needs be that offences come; namely, in reſpect of the power and malice of the devill, the weakneſſe and wickedneſſe of man. Luk. 23. 17. Of neceſſity he muſt releaſe one unto them at the feaſt; namely, becauſe of the continued cuſtome. Rom. 13. 5. Te muſt needs be ſubject; namely, not onely for wrath, but for conſcience ſake.

Neceſſity is twofold:

1. Abſolute, a force which we cannot reſiſt or avoyd it.

2. Conditionall, where we may do good as we are commanded, or muſt ſuffer evill and puniſhment as we are threatned: for if we chooſe to doe good, there is no neceſſity that we ſhall be puniſhed; and if we out of infidelity, will try the danger of puniſhment, there is no neceſſity of doing our duty, Rom. 13. 5.

Neceſſities] Such great wants and difficulties, which the godly meet withall, Act. 20. 34. 2 Cor. 6. 4. & 12. 10.

Necho] Lame, or ſmitten. The ſurname of Pharaoh, 2 King. 23. 29.

2. The head, Deut. 21. 4.

3. The hinder part of the head, or back, 1 Sam. 4. 18.

4. The whole man brought under ſubjection, Deut. 28. 48. Jer. 27. 8, 11.

5. The heart, Prov. 29. 1. Jer. 7. 26.

6. The hand or body, Neh. 3. 5.

7. Power over, Pſal. 18. 40.

8. Life, Rom. 16. 4.

9. The chief City in a body Politick, as Jeruſalem, Iſa. 8. 8.

Necromancer] One that ſeeketh to the dead, and enquireth of them, Deut. 18. 11. as Saul, 1 Sam. 28 11, 15.

Nedabiah] The vow, or the Prince of the Lord. The Son of Jeconiah, 1 Chr. 3. 17, 18.

Need] Want, Deut. 15. 8. 1 Sam. 21. 15. Phil. 4. 12. Affliction, diſtreſſe, Heb. 4. 16. Neceſſity, 1 Joh. 3. 17.

Needie] One that is deſtitute, poor, in want, and ſtandeth in need of help, Dan. 15. 11. Pſal. 82. 3.

Needle] The hanging for the dore of the tent, was to be wrought with needle-work, Exod. 26. 36. So Aarons girdle, Ibid. 29. 39. So the hanging for the gate of the Court, Ib. 38. 18. Siſera's Mother expected a prey of Needle-work, Judg. 5. 30. And of the Church it is ſaid, She ſhall be brought unto the King in rayment of needle-work, Pſal. 45. 14. That phraſe of a Camel going through the eye of a needle, Mat. 19. 24. is a proverbial manner of ſpeaking, whereof this is the meaning, That there is nothing in the world more difficult, then for that man who hath ſet his heart upon his riches, to enter into the Kingdome of God.

Neer] The words annexed hereunto ſhew the meaning.

Neer to curſing] That the curſe and wrath of God is not by and by executed after the ſin againſt the holy Ghoſt is committed, but is often reſpited. Heb. 6. 8. See the like phraſe, Heb. 8. 13. Neer to be done away; [to] ſignifies that it was not far off to be done away.

To have God neer us, and to be neer God] God to be joyned to his people by a Covenant with them in Chriſt, Eph. 2. 13. and by readineſſe to ſuccour and ſave them, according to that Covenant when they ſeek him, Pſal. 145. 18. & 248. 14. On the other ſide, Gods people are ſaid to be neer God by their ſervice of him, Lev. 10. 3. and by ſpirituall alliance in Chriſt, Joh. 20. 17. 1 Joh. 3. 1. For this word near or nigh, is put for Kindred, Lev. 21. 3. Chriſt draweth neer to God for his people, Jer. 30. 21. and they by him.

Neeſe] This is an evident ſigne both of life and ſtrength, 2 King. 4. 35.

Nethaneel]] as Nathaneel. The Son of Zuar, Numb. 1. 8. One of Jehoſaphat's Princes, 2 Chr. 17. 7. One of the chief of the Levites, 2 Chr. 35. 9. Of the Sons of Paſhur, Ezr. 10. 22. A Prieſt, one of the chief of the Fathers, Nehem. 12. 21. A Muſician, Ibid. 36.

Nethaniah] The gift of the Lord. The Father of Iſhmael, 2 King. 25. 23. Of the Sons of Aſaph, 1 Chr. 25. 2. To whom the Fift lot, Ib. 12. A Levite, 2 Chr. 17. 8. The Father of Jehudi, Jer. 36. 14.

Nether] The under, lower, milſtone, parts, ſprings, &c.

Nethinims] The notation of this word intendeth ſuch as are given or dedicated unto God, and his ſervice, or who voluntarily ſubjected themſelves thereunto, though they were not naturall Iſraelites.

The Gibeonites who did voluntarily yeeld to be hewers of wood and drawers of water for the houſe of God, (Joſh. 9. 23, &c.) are eſpecially comprized under this title. Annot. on 1 Chr. 9. 2. Their office was vile, as appeareth by that proverbial ſpeech, From the hewer of thy wood unto the drawer of thy water, Deut. 29. 11.

Netophah] A drop, dropping down from the head, gum that droppeth down from trees, or the bending of the mouth, Ezr. 2. 22. Nehem. 7. 26.

Netophathites] The ſame. A certain family which had their poſſeſſions in the fields, 1 Chr. 2. 54. Neh. 12. 28.

Nettles] Their uſe and hurt are well known. They grow eſpecially in unhusbanded ground, Prov. 24. 31. In deſert and deſolate places, Iſa. 34. 13. Zeph. 2. 9. Job 30. 7. Therefore by Nettles poſſeſſing pleaſant places, Hoſ. 9. 6. deſolation is ſignified.

Never] put for, 1. Not at all, or, at no time, Mar. 2. 12. & 3. 29.

2. A long time, Lev. 6. 13. which is expreſſed by yeſterday, and the third day, Joſh. 3. 4. marg. and, Till the heavens be no more, Job 14. 12.

3. Without end, Mar. 9. 43. which is thus expreſſed, unto generation and generation, Pſal. 10. 6. marg.

New] That which is not old, and comes in ſtead of the old. 2 Cor. 5. 17. All things new.

2. Unwonted, never ſeen or heard before. Eccl. 1. 9. No new thing under the Sun.

3. Another, Exod. 1. 8. or that which cometh in ſtead of another, 2 Cor. 5. 17. or, Not in uſe before, Job 19. 41.

4. Alwayes freſh, renewed upon new occaſions, and ſo permanent, Pſal. 33. 3. Iſa. 42. 10.

5. Hidden things not known, Iſa. 48. 6.

6. Principall, Ezek. 47. 12. marg.

7. Raw, or unwrought, Mar. 2. 21. mar.

A thing in phraſe of Scripture is ſometime ſaid to be new, which is alwayes renewed upon new occaſions, and ſo permanent; as Job ſaith, My glory was new with me. So love is both an old and a new Commandement, 1 Joh. 2. 7, 8. Alſo, new Songs, Pſal. 33. 3. & 40. 3. & 96. 1. & 98. 1. & 144. 8. Iſa. 42. 10. Unleſſe we may ſay that theſe have reference to the ſtate of things under the Goſpel, where there is a new Covenant, Heb. 8. 8. New heavens and new earth, Rev. 21. 1. A new man, Eph. 2. 15. & 4. 24. A new Jeruſalem, Rev. 21. 2. And all things new, 2 Cor. 5. 17. Rev. 21. 5. & 8. 9. & 14. 3.

New birth] The begetting of thoſe new qualities by the work of the Spirit. Joh. 3. 3. Except ye be born a new.

New Covenant] The agreement which God hath made with his people for ſalvation by Chriſt. See Covenant.

New creature] One regenerate by the Spirit, or endewed with new qualities of righteouſneſſe and holineſſe. 2 Cor. 5. 17. He that is in Chriſt, let him be a new creature.

New doctrine] Every doctrine not heard of before. Act. 17. 19. We will know what this new doctrine meaneth. Alſo, every doctrine how ancient ſoever it be, if it be contrary to that which is taught in the Word, it may be called new.

New heart] A ſoul renewed and changed, not in ſubſtance and faculties of it, but in the qualities, being framed anew after God, in knowledge, righteouſneſſe, and true holineſſe. Ezek. 11. 19. I will put a new heart in thee. He who ſaid, I will give you a new heart, and a new ſpirit, hath elſewhere ſaid, Make your ſelves a new heart; how is it then that he who ſaith Make, ſaith, I will give it? Why doth he command us to make, if he be the giver? Why doth he give, if man himſelf be the maker and worker? The cauſe is, he giveth the thing which he commandeth us to make, and helpeth us whom he hath commanded, that we may do the thing commanded. For through his grace it commeth to paſſe that man is endowed with a good will, who before naturally had an evill will. Auguſt. lib. de Grat. & libero arbitrio. c. 16.

Or he commandeth us to ask of him,

1. That we may know him to be the giver of goodneſſe.
2. That we may acknowledge our want.
3. That we may ſhew our duty to him.
4. That he by our prayer may be moved to give what we do ask, Pſal. 10. 17.

New heavens, and new earth] The eſtate and condition of the world after the laſt judgement, when it ſhall be purged from vanity and corruption, and reſtored to ſuch glorious perfection and proportion, as if heaven and earth were created anew. 2 Pet. 3. 13. Rev. 21. 1. I ſaw a new heaven, and a new earth. Rom. 8. 20, 21.

2. The bleſſed eſtate of the elect under the New Teſtament, being quite altered and framed (as it were anew) by the Spirit and Goſpel of Chriſt. Iſa. 66. 22. The new heavens and the new earth which I ſhall make, ſhall remain before me.

New Jeruſalem] The City of God, or the heavenly City. Rev. 3. 12. I will write upon him the name of the City of my God; that is, the new Hieruſalem.

All beleevers of the Goſpel from the firſt preaching of it, are called New Jeruſalem, which is ſaid to be the Mother of us all, by a familiar ſpeech of the Prophets, who as they liken particular Churches to the daughters, ſo they compare the whole Church with the mother, Rev. 21. 2. & Gal. 4. 25.

New name. See Name.

New lump] The whole body and maſſe of the Church, renewed and purged from the old leaven of ſin and corruption. 1 Cor. 5. 7. Purge out the old leaven that ye may be a new lump.

New Song] A Song which doth not wax old and vaniſh, but is continually revived by the godly, by reaſon of Gods continuall freſh mercies and benefits towards them. Pſ. 33. 3. Sing unto him a new Song. Pſal. 96. 1. Pſal. 40. 3.

New tongues] Strange languages, which they had not known nor uſed before, being ſuddenly taught them by the ſingular gift of the Spirit. Mar. 16. 17. And ſhall ſpeak with new tongues. Theſe are called other tongues, Act. 2. 4.

New wine, and new cloth] Wine newly preſſed out of the Grape, and raw cloth before it be fulled.

2. Strict and ſevere Laws, about ceremonies and things indifferent. Mar. 2. 22. No man puts new wine into old veſſels, &c.

Newneſſe of life] A converſation pure and unblamable, ſuch as Gods children live after their new birth. Rom. 6. 4. That we ſhould walk in newneſſe of life.

News] The Athenians and ſtrangers there, ſpent their time in nothing elſe, but either to tell, or to hear ſome new thing, Act. 17. 21. Good news are deſirable and comfortable, Prov. 25. 26. See Tydings.

Next] By the words annexed hereunto, relating to Time, as Yeer, Day, Sabbath, &c. Place, as Houſe, Town, City, &c. Perſons, whether in Age, Office, Order, Dignity, &c. the meaning may be plainly perceived.

Nezieh] A conquerour, everlaſting, or ſtrong, Ezr. 2. 54.

Nezib] Standing, a ſtanding place, an advancing of any title or right; or after the Syrian, a plant. A City, Joſh. 15. 43.

N I.

Nibhaz] Fructifying, budding forth, a viſion, ſpeaking, or propheſying a viſion. An Idol, 2 Kin. 17. 31.

Nibshan] Speech, propheſie, the ſpringing forth of oft ſleeping, or changing, or ſpringing forth of a tooth, or ivory. A City, Joſh. 15. 62.

Nicanor] A conquerour, or victorious. One of the ſeaven Deacons, Act 6. 5.

Nicodemus] Innocent blood; or after the Greek, the victory of the people. A ruler of the Jews, Joh. 3. 1.

Nicolaitans] Rev. 2. 6, 15. They held Wives to be common, as Eccleſiaſtical Hiſtories affirm.

Nicolas] A victor, or overcomer; or, the victories of the common people. A Deacon, Act. 6. 5. Of whom (as ſome think) the Nicolaitans are named.

Nicopolis] A City of victory, or a victorious City. A City of Thracia, Tit. 3. 12.

Niger] Black, purple, or dark. The ſurname of Simon, Act. 13. 1.

Niggard] A Churle who ſpareth more then is fit.

2. A wicked man, by a Synecdoche. Iſa. 32. 5. A niggard ſhall be called no more liberall.

Nigh] By the words annexed thereto the meaning is plain.

Nigh and far off] Not bodily alwayes and local, but ſometime ſpiritual neerneſſe, or diſtance. Eph. 2. 3. Ye which ſometime were far off, are made nigh by the blood of Chriſt. Neerneſſe and farneſſe, reſpect not place here, but condition or eſtate: the Gentiles in eſtate of unbeleef were far off, even enemies and ungodly; but the ſelf ſame being converted, and by faith ſet in the eſtate of grace, were ſo neer, as to become friends, members of Chriſt, children of God, and heirs of heaven.

Night] That ſpace of time wherein darkneſſe covereth the face of the earth, the Sun being abſent from us. 1 Cor. 11. 23. The ſame night when he was betrayed. Alſo ſuddenly, when it is leaſt lookt for, Iſa. 15. 1.

2. The time of ignorance and unbeleef. Rom. 13. 12. The night is paſſed. 1 Theſſ. 5. 7. Sleep and be drunk in the night.

3. Time after death, or death it ſelf. Joh. 9. 4. Night will come when none can work.

Night is the time of the Suns abſence from our Hemiſphere, as the day is the time of the Suns preſence therein: both they contain one whole revolution of the Suns motion to the ſame point of the Meridian in the twenty four hours.

4. A time of adverſity, Iſa. 21. 12.

5. A time wherein the opportunity of doing good, or receiving, is paſt, Joh. 9. 4.

6. The Old Teſtament which in compariſon of the New, was dark as the night, as clouded with ceremonies. So ſome expound Rom. 13. 12.

7. Death.

8. The ſecret manner or carriage of a buſineſſe, or

9. The ſuddenneſſe or unexpectedneſſe of a thing, Iſa. 15. 1.

Night cometh] As the Idumæans had their morning of proſperity and liberty, when they ſhook off the yoak of King Joram, ſo their calamity and miſery by Senacherib King of Aſſyria was coming and approaching, as a black night, upon them, Iſa. 21. 12.

Night is figuratively the time of trouble and dangers, Job 30. 20, 38. & 5. 2. Pſal. 31. 25.

Of the night] Blinde and ignorant perſons, overwhelm'd with the darkneſſe of ignorance and infidelity, having the Sun of the Goſpel hid from them. 1 Theſſ. 5. 8. Ye are not of the night.

Night-hawke] Lev. 11. 16. or Night-owle, as the Greek tranſlateth it. The Hebrew name Tachmas (ſaith Aynſworth on the place) ſignifieth rapine, or violence, which argueth the nature of this Bird. Some think it to be the Night-raven, others the Harpie.

It ſeeth better by night then by day, and (according to Plin) hath deadly war with the Eagle. This, with the other Night-birds, might be rather forbidden, to minde Gods people to avoyd deeds of darkneſſe, and to walk as children of the light, Eph. 5. 11.

Night-watches] Their night was divided into four quarters, or greater hours, tearmed four Watches, each watch containing three leſſer hours.

The I. tearmed, the beginning of the watches, Lam. 2. 19.

The II. the middle-watch, Judg. 7. 19. as which laſted till midnight.

The III. held till three of the clock in the morning, Luk. 12. 38.

The IV. The Morning-watch, Exod. 14. 24. which ended at ſix in the morning.

The 1. was tearmed the Even.

The 2. Midnight.

The 3. Cock-crowing.

The 4. the Dawning, Mar. 13. 35. Goodwyn Moſes and Aaron, p. 100.

David ſlept not all thoſe watches, but was religionſly exerciſed, Pſal. 63. 6. & 119. 148.

Nimrah] A City, or Countrey, Numb. 32. 3.

Nimrim] A leopard, rebellion, bitterneſſe; or, a change. A City, Iſa. 15. 6.

Nimrod] A rebell, rebellious, a ſinner, tranſgreſſour; or, Apoſtate. The Son of Cuſh, Gen. 10. 8, 9.

Nimſhi] The Father of Jehu, 1 King. 19. 16.

Nineveh] Fair, beautifull; oe, a dwelling place. A City builded by Aſhur, Gen. 10. 11. Hence Ninevites, to whom Jonah was ſent, Luk. 11. 30.

Niſan] A banner, proving, trying, flight; or after the Syrian, a miracle. A moneth anſwering to part of our March and Aprill.

Niſroch] Flight, a tender; or, delicate trying, banner; or after the Syrian, thy rable. An Idol, 2 King. 19. 37. Iſa. 37. 38.

Nitre] A matter much like ſalt, of colour light, ruddy, or white, with holes like a ſpunge. To this vineger ſometimes adds virtue, ſometime takes it away, and accordingly either way to make it operative and phyſicall, it muſt be tempered herewith, Pro. 25. 20. It's uſefull not onely for the ſcouring of apparel, and taking out of ſtains, and bloches from cloaths, but for the cleering of the skin, and taking away ſpots and freckles from the body, Jer. 2. 22. It is deemed by ſome to have its name from a word that ſignifieth to looſe, or diſſolve, Hab. 3. 6. becauſe, as vineger diſſolves it, Prov. 25. 20. ſo it diſſolveth and looſeth from cloaths and bodies any foul and filthy matter.

N O.

No] Stirring up, or a forbidding. A City, which moſt think to be Alexandria, Jer. 46. 25.

Noadiah] The witneſſing, or teſtification of the light; the company, or congregation of the Lord, the decking of the Lord, or the Lord paſſing over; or after the Syrian and Hebrew, the taking away of the Lord. The Son of Binnui, Ezr. 8. 33. A Propheteſſe, Neh. 6. 14.

Noah] (called Noe, 1 Pet. 3. 20.) a ceaſſing, or reſt. The Son of Lamech, Gen. 5. 29. The Daughter of Zelophehad, Numb. 26. 33.

Noahs Arke] did figure Chriſt his Church, whereinto they that enter by faith are ſaved from the flood of Gods wrath; of which grace Baptiſme (the anſwerable type) is the ſigne and ſeal. See 2 Pet. 3. 20, 21.

North] That part of the heaven where the North-pole is ſeen, Job 26. 7. Created of God, Pſal. 89. 12. Out of which cold cometh, Job 37. 9. as alſo fair weather, or gold, Ib. 22. marg.

Hereby Chaldea and Babylon are to be underſtood, in Jer. 1. 14. as being ſituate North from Jeruſalem; from whence the Lord threatned that he would bring evill upon his people, Jer. 4. 6.

Noſe] put for 1. that part of the face properly ſo called, Prov. 30. 23. being for breathing and ſmelling, Gen. 7. 22. Pſal. 115. 6.

2. The mouth, Ezek. 39. 11.

3. The forehead to the noſe, Iſa. 3. 21.

4. Raging power, 2 King. 19. 28.

5. Anger or loathing, Iſa. 65. 5. mar.

Noſtrils] Spoken I. of Man, and ſo put 1. for thoſe two ſpaces of the noſe, receiving in and letting out the breath, Gen. 7. 22.

2. The breath of the noſtrils is put for a King, the Lords anointed, Lam. 4. 20.

II. Of God, being put figuratively for his wrath, Exod. 15. 8. Pſal. 18. 8, 15.

Not] An abſolute denial. Exod. 20. Thou ſhalt not kill. As in all prohibitions.

2. A conditionall denialI. 1 Cor. 6. 10. Covetous, theeves ſhall not inherit. As in many threatnings and comminations [Not] is a particle of denying, or forbidding.

3. A reſpective and comparative denial. 1 Cor. 1. 17. Sent not to baptize, but to preach. Pſal. 51. 16. Sacrifices thou wouldſt not. Pſal. 40. 6. Jer. 31. 34. Every man ſhall not teach his neighbour. Hoſ. 6. 6. Deſired mercy, and not ſacrifice. Likewiſe, in ſundry other ſpeeches of compariſon, where a thing is not ſimply denyed, but in ſome reſpect; alſo in Eph. 6. 6. Here by the particle [Not] other enemies, as wicked men and our owne luſts are not excluded; but the chief above all is noted and named; to wit, the devils.

Notable] Sightly, or of ſight, conſpicuous, Dan. 8. 5. Notorious, Matth. 27. 16. Terrible, Act. 2. 20. comp. with Joel 2. 31. Known, manifeſt, apparent, Act. 4. 16.

Note] To delineate, deſcribe, engroſſe, Iſa. 30. 8. To record, Dan. 10. 21. To ſignifie, ſet abroad upon, take and give notice of, 2 Theſſ. 3. 14. Some underſtand hereby Excommunication.

To note a man] To excommunicate him. 2 Theſſ. 5. 14. Note that man, and have no company with him. Theſe words ſhew what is meant by noting; as alſo the like in 1 Cor. 5. 9, 11. The end of Excommunication, is, to bring the party ſo noted, unto ſhame, which may lead to repentance. To make lucre and money the end of Excommunication is moſt filthy merchandize of holy things, yet too too commmon in the Court of Rome, where all things be vendible. Such as think the word Note to be no more but to ſignifie, neither obſerve the Greek word, which is not Semainete, nor the article put before [Epiſtle] to point out a certain Epiſtle, even this written to the Theſſalonians.

Of note among the Apoſtles, Rom. 16. 7. that is, eminent Evangeliſts or Preachers of the Goſpel.

Nothing] 1. No good work at all pleaſing to God, not ſo much as a good thought. Joh. 15. 5. Ye can doe nothing without me. 2 Cor. 3. 5.

2. No doctrine pertaining to ſalvation, or any authority to preach it. Gal. 2. 6. They did add nothing to me. 1 Cor. 2. 2.

3. No reward or wages for their labour. 3 Joh. 7. Taking nothing of the Gentiles.

4. No one word, ſpeech or ſentence, Matt. 27. 12, 14. He anſwered nothing.

5. Of no worth, value, uſe, or accompt for true godlineſſe. 1 Cor. 13. 2. I am nothing; that is, it profiteth me nothing, as verſ. 3.

6. No meat, nor no kind of eatable things; for of ſuch he ſpeaketh. Rom. 14. 1. There is nothing unclean. Theſe two words [nothing] and [all things] are to be expounded according to the ſubject or matter which is preſently entreated of.

7. No divinity, no godly power, 1 Cor. 8. v. 4.

8. Of no uſe, Mat. 5. 13. not to be reckoned of, Mat. 23. 16. No ſcruple to be made of it.

9. No power over, nor matter or cauſe againſt, Joh. 14. 30.

10. Any thing, Joh. 16. 23. & 21. 3. Act. 20. 20.

11. Very little, Mar. 8. 2.

12. No other means, Mar. 9. 29.

13. Falſe, Act. 21. 24.

14. Worſe then nothing, Iſa. 41. 24. marg.

15. No

15. No man, 1 Theſſ. 4. 12. marg.

Further: this word nothing is not to be taken affirmatively, materially, or inſtrumentally, but negatively and privatively of the abſence of all ſuch matter or means, Job 26. 7.

2. Abſolutely, as Job 26. 7. Pſal. 49. 17. & 76. 5.

3. Comparatively, as Iſa. 40. 17. Pſal. 39. 5. as much to ſay, as little, Joh. 18. 20.

4. Nothing in mine owne eſtimation of my ſelfe, 2 Cor. 12. 11.

5. Nothing not in matter, but in the manner (as truely and rightly) or uſe, as profitable, 1 Tim. 6. 4. 1 Cor. 7. 19.

6. Nothing in compariſon of that which a man ought to be, Gal. 6 3.

7. Nothing in compariſon of a greater or better thing, eſpecially of God, Iſa. 40. 17. Pſal. 39. 5.

8. Nothing in matter, or exiſtence and being, Pſal. 49. 17. & 76. 5.

Nothing in me] No power over me, no matter nor cauſe againſt me, being the innocent Lamb of God, and the eternall Son of God. Joh. 14 30. And hath nothing in me.

Nought] Freely, Gen. 29. 15. Mal. 1. 10. 2 Theſſ. 3. 8. No part, Deut. 13. 17. No relief, Deut. 15. 9. Ruine or miſery, Deut. 28. 63. Nothing, Neh. 4. 15. In vain, or to no purpoſe, Job 1. 9. Without a cauſe, or ground, Job 22. 6. Without riches, Pſa. 44. 12. marg. Iſa. 52. 3. Vain, or nothing worth, Amos 6. 13.

By the words prefixed hereunto the meaning hereof will further appear.

Novice] A young Scholar, one newly or lately planted into Chriſtianity. 1 Tim. 3. 6. He may not be a Novice, or young Scholar; that is, a childe in underſtanding.

Nourish] ſignifieth, 1. To feed with food, Gen. 47. 12.

2. To comfort, Ruth 4. 15.

3. To bring up, Iſa. 1. 3. Act. 7. 21.

4. To cauſe to grow, Iſa. 44. 14.

5. To maintain, Act. 12. 20.

6. To traine up, teach, and inſtruct, 1 Tim. 4. 6.

7. To cheriſh, Jam. 5. 5.

Now] To day, Jer. 34. 15. marg. From henceforth Joh. 13. 19. marg. Hitherto, Numb. 14. 19. marg.

It noteth eſpecially, the time preſent.

N U.

To number] Referred to God, ſignifieth,

1. To know and be able to ſet down the number, and place, and difference of things, Pſal. 147. 4.

2. To determine or appoint what ſhal befall any man hereafter; as length or ſhortneſſe of life and years. Job 14. 5. He hath numbred my dayes. This muſt not be taken abſolutely without reſpect to the means of life or death, but conditionally, as including the means of the one which he giveth to be uſed, and of the other which he permitteth: for Hezekiah's life upon prayer and repentance was prolonged, and the Ninivites continued after the forty dayes, upon the condition which God required, and they performed. See Ecclus. 26. 1.

3. To finiſh, to bring to nought, or overthrow a State, Dan. 5. 26. Iſa. 65. 12.

To number] Referred to Man, ſignifieth,

1. To reckon the tale or number of things, Numb. 3. 40. Deut. 16. 19.

2. To conſider the ſtate of things, as the ſhortneſſe and ſmall number of our dayes, Pſal. 90. 13. which is done two wayes.

I. Arithmetically or artificially,

1. By addition of one day to another, dayes to weeks, the weeks to moneths, moneths to years. So we ſhall know how long we have lived, or the greateſt quantity of our naturall times, and ſo it is not much.

2. By deduction or abſtraction; for reckoning how many dayes, and how much time we have ſpent, 1 Nihil agendo, in idleneſſe and ſleep; 2 Fruſtra agendo, in doing that which yeeldeth no fruit nor furtherance to eternall life, as in eating, drinking, playing, and in all the cares and labours we uſed for the world; 3 Male agendo, in doing that which directly hindereth our paſſage to heaven, and prepareth us for hell, as all ſinners doe: the remainder is very little that is ſpent in goodneſſe: this is the numbring of our good time, which is but ſhort.

II. By proportion, or by the rule of proportion and compariſon of this preſent life or time, not onely with Gods eternity, a parte ante, & parte poſt; or a priori & poſteriori; but with our owne time to come, either in heaven or in hell, and ſo it is but a moment.

Teach us to number our dayes, Pſal. 90. 12.

1. He ſaith not, Teach us the number of our dayes, or how long we ſhall live.

2. Nor, Teach us to number other mens dayes.

3. Nor, Teach us to number our wealth, rents, revenues, poſſeſſions, &c.

4. Nor,

4. Nor, Teach us to number, this, that, or ſome one of our dayes, as our Birth-day, our Wedding-day, &c.

5. Nor, Teach us to number our weeks, moneths, yeers, but Teach us to number our dayes, implying

1. The brevity of mans life.

2. The certainty of mans death.

3. That the period of his time is ſet, and dayes determined, beyond which he cannot paſſe.

This numbering of our dayes conſiſteth in theſe particulars.

1. In a due conſideration of the uttermoſt time that we can hope to live here, which is but till we be 70 or 80 yeers of age.

2. In comparing the ſmallneſſe of this number (ſhould we live ſo long) with eternity.

3. In conſidering the uncertainty of this time, ſcarce one of many thouſands attaining hereunto.

4. In conſidering how many of thoſe 70 or 80 yeers are already expired.

5. In a narrow and ſtrict examination of our ſelves, how we have ſpent the time paſt.

6. In the daily examination of our ſelves, about our thoughts, words, actions.

7. In an holy indignation at our ſo much miſ-ſpending time.

8. In an holy and conſtant reſolution to redeem the time which we have ſpent.

Nun] Son, poſterity, ſtock, everlaſting, remaining for ever; or after the Syrian, a fiſh. The Father of Joſhua, Exod. 33. 11. called alſo Non, 1 Chr. 7. 27.

Nurſe] A godly Queen, Iſa. 49. 23. See Nurſing mother.

2. A Miniſter of the Word, loving and tender as a Nurſe. 1 Theſſ. 2. 7. We were gentle among you, as a Nurſe cheriſheth her children.

3. One that helpeth Mothers in the bringing up their children, Gen. 24. 59.

4. A woman giving ſuck, Exod. 2. 7. 2 Sam. 4. 4. 2 King. 11. 2.

5. A man bearing in his arms a ſucking childe, Numb. 11. 12.

Nuts] Taken properly, being a part of the preſent ſent unto Joſeph, Gen. 43. 11.

2. Myſtically, Cant. 6. 11.

N Y.

Nymphas] A bride-roome. A worthy man, whom Paul ſaluteth, Col. 4. 15.

O.

O, or Oh] The voyce of one Lamenting. Luk. 13. 34. O Jeruſalem, Jeruſalem. 2 Sam. 18. 33.

2. The voyce of one praying, and calling upon another. Matth. 6. 9. O our Father.

3. The voyce of one wondering and exclaiming with admiration, as at ſome ſtrange thing. Rom. 11. 33. O the depth of his wiſdome.

4. The voyce of one chiding or ſpeaking to another in way of reprehenſion. Gal. 3. O ye fooliſh Galatians. Luk. 24. 24. O ye fooliſh and ſlow of heart.

5. The voyce of one exhorting and encouraging to duty. Pſal. 95. 5. O come let us ſing unto the Lord.

One word, and ſyllable, leſſe then a word; a letter leſſe then a common ſyllable; a ſhort expreſſion of a long and longing affection. An interjection fit to caſt into the midſt of our inward thoughts, and outward affairs.

It's an Interjection ſetting forth the paſſion of the minde, as vehement deſire, Gen. 17. 18. Deut. 5. 29. Job 6. 8. Joy, Deut. 33. 29. Grief, Jer. 44. 4. Mat. 23. 37. Love, Pſal. 119. 97.

O A.

Oares] Made of the okes of Baſhan, Ezek. 27. 6. Uſed and handled by Sea-men or Mariners, Ibid. 29. for the rowing of galſies (or other veſſels, ſhips, or boats, great or ſmall, on the ſea, or rivers of freſh waters) that they may goe the more ſwiftly, Iſa. 33. 21.

Oath] A calling of the Name of God (the ſearcher of the heart) to witneſſe a needfull truth, for the ending of ſtrife and controverſies. Heb. 6. 16. An oath for confirmation is the end of all ſtrife.

The end and uſe of an Oath, is either for the ending of controverſies, or for the performing forming of promiſes. An Oath may be taken either publickly or privately, if cauſe bee.

2. A wicked or falſe taking God to witneſſe, for ſome evill end; as either to doe ſome wickedneſſe, or to hinder ſome good thing. Mat. 14. 9. For his oath ſake. Herod's oath.

An oath is either lawfull or unlawfull.

I. Lawfull, as 1. of God, both to Chriſt, Pſal. 110. 4. Heb. 7. 21. and to Man; and that whether in love and mercy, as Gen. 22. 16. Iſa. 45. 23. Amos 6. 8. Heb. 6. 16. or in wrath and diſpleaſure, Numb. 32. 10, 11. Deut. 4. 21. Pſal. 95. 11. Ezek. 20. 15, 23. Heb. 3. 18. Who ſweareth by himſelfe, Heb. 6. 13. his holineſſe, Pſal. 89. 35. his right hand and arm of his ſtrength, Iſa. 62. 8. his great name, Jer. 44. 26. his ſoul, Jer. 51. 14. the excellency of Jacob, Amos 8. 7. his life, Iſa. 49. 18.

2. Of Angels; who ſwear by God, Dan. 12. 7. Rev. 10. 5, 6.

3. Of Men; who are to ſwear religiouſly, by God onely, Deut. 6. 13. & 10. 20. 1 King. 2. 8. Reverently, with fear, Eccl. 9. 2. Cautelouſly, Gen. 24. 5, 8. Joſh. 2. 17. Lawfully, namely, in things lawfull, and that in truth, in judgement, and in righteouſneſſe, Jer. 4. 2. For that an oath bindeth, Numb. 30. 3. Joſh. 9 19. Eccl. 8. 2. and is a part of Gods worſhip, Pſal. 63. 11. Iſa. 45. 23. & 48. 1. & 65. 16. which hath been required one of another, Gen. 24. 3, 37. & 25. 13. & 47. 31. 2 King. 11. 4. and uſed in mutuall Covenants, Gen. 21. 23. & 26. 31. & 31. 53. 1 Sam. 20. 3, 13, 17.

Theſe words being uſed in taking it:

As the Lord liveth, Judg. 8. 19. Ruth 3. 13. 1 Sam. 14. 45.

God is my witneſſe, Rom. 1. 9.

God is my record, Phil. 1. 8.

God is witneſſe, 1 Theſſ. 2. 5, 10.

God knoweth, 2 Cor. 11. 11, 31.

Behold, before God, I lie not, Gal. 1. 20.

I ſay the truth in Chriſt, I lie not, Rom. 9. 1.

As the truth of Chriſt is in me, 2 Cor. 11. 10.

I ſpeak the truth in Chriſt, and lye not, 1 Tim. 2. v. 7.

Verily I ſay unto you, Mat. 5. 13.

Verily, verily I ſay unto you, Joh. 1. 51.

The Lord forbid (a phraſe uſed in the denial of a thing) 1 Sam. 24. 6. 1 King. 21. 3.

God do ſo to me, and more alſo, 1 King. 2. 23. Where note, that the Hebrews in their forms of oaths, were wont to expreſſe the conditionall part, but not the imprecation of the evill, which was to ſeiſe on them, if knowingly they did deceive, or ſweare falſly.

II. Unlawfull, as to ſwear, 1. Idolatrouſly, by falſe gods, Joſh. 23. 7. Jer. 12. 16. Amos 8. 14. Zeph. 1. 5. or, by the Creatures, Gen. 42. 15, 16. 2 Sam. 11. 11. Matth. 5. 34, 36. & 23. 16, 18. Jam. 5. 12.

2. Deceitfully, Lev. 19. 12. Jer. 42. 5, 20.

3. Falſely, Lev. 6. 3. Eccl. 9. 2. Hoſ. 10. 4.

4. Wickedly, 1 Sam. 28. 10. & 25. 22. 2 Ki. 6. 31. Jer. 5. 2.

5. Raſhly, Lev. 5. 4. Eccl. 9. 2. 2 King. 5. 20. 2 Sam. 19. 7. Joſh. 9. 15, 18, 19. Judg. 21. 1, 18. Mar. 6. 26. Mat. 14. 7.

Oath of God] An oath which God exacteth of his people, and they willingly give unto God, for performance of obedience to him. Eccl. 8. 2. I counſell thee to keep the Kings commandement, and that in regard of the oath of God. They erre which deny unto Chriſtians the lawful uſe of an oath.

O B.

Obadiah] Servant of the Lord. The Governour of Ahab's houſe, 1 King. 18. 3. See 1 Chr. 3. 21. The Son of Izrahiah, Ibid. 7. 3. The Son of Azel, Ibid. 8. 38. The Son of Shemajah, Ibid. 9. 16. One of the Sons of Gad, Ib. 12. 9. The Father of Iſhmajah, Ibid. 27. 19. One of Jehoſaphat's Princes, 2 Chr. 17. 7. A Levite, Ibid. 34. 12. The Son of Jehiel, Ezr. 8. 9. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 5. A Porter keeping the Ward at the threſholds of the gate, Neh. 12. 25. A Prophet, Obad. v. 1.

Obal] The frowardneſſe of antiquity, or flowing. The Son of Joktan, Gen. 10. 28.

Obed] A ſervant, or a work-man. The Son of Boaz, Ruth 4. 17, 21. The Son of Ephlal, 1 Chron. 2. 37. One of David's worthies, 1 Chr. 11. 47. The Son of Shemajah, 1 Chr. 26. 7. The Father of Azariah, 2 Chron. 23. 1.

Obed-Edom] The ſervant of Edom, or a ſervant Edomite. A Gittite, 2 Sam. 6. 10. A Levite of the ſecond degree, a Porter, 1 Chr. 15. 18. With an harp, Ib. 21. A dore-keeper for the Ark, Ibid. 24. The Son of Jeduthun, Ibid. 16. 38. The Father of Shemajah, &c. Ib. 26. 4.

Obedience] A readineſſe to doe the will of God in things commanded or forbid by him, be they never ſo troubleſome, and never ſo much againſt our reaſon and liking. Rom. 5. 19. As by the obedience of one man. 1 Sam. 15. 22. To obey is better, &c. Exod. 24. 7. We will doe it, and be obedient.

2. Submiſſion

2. Submiſſion by the Goſpel, when it is beleeved of us, Rom. 1. 5. & 10. 17.

3. Rumour and fame of obedience, Rom. 16. 19. So Rom. 1. 8.

Obedience is twofold:

I. That which is due unto God; and that by the creatures:

1. Irrational; as, the Ravens, 1 Ki. 17. 4, 6. the Clouds, thunder, &c. Pſal. 77. 17, 18, 19. the Waters, &c. Pſal. 104. 7, 8. Flies, Lice, &c. Pſal. 105. 31, 34. Fire, Hail, &c. Pſal. 148. 8. the Earth and Heavens, Iſa. 48. 13. a Fiſh, Jon. 2. 10. the Winds and Sea, Matt. 8. 27.

2. Rational; and that either unvoluntary, and compelled, as both that of the devils, Mar. 1. 27. Luk. 4. 36. and that of wicked men, Exod. 11. 1. & 12. 31. 1 Sam. 6. 6. or voluntary, and free, as that of the Angels, Pſa. 103. 10. and Man. This laſt is commended, Exod. 23. 21. Deut. 13. 4. & 27. 10. Mat. 17. 5. Joh. 2. 7. as being moſt profitable, Gen. 26. 4, 5. Exod. 15. 26. & 19. 5. & 20. 6. Deut. 4. 40. & 28. 1, 12. Pſal. 81. 14, 15, &c. Prov. 1. 33. Iſa. 1. 19. better then ſacrifice, 1 Sam. 15. 22. Hoſ. 6. 6. Mat. 9. 13. and to be preferred before all that we owe unto others, or they can require of us, Act. 4. 19. & 5. 29. This is both Evangelical, whereby we beleeve the Goſpel, and ſubject our ſelves thereunto; whence it is that obedience is put for faith, or the receiving of the Goſpel, Rom. 16. 19. comp. with ch. 1. v. 8. and to obey Chriſt, for to beleeve in Chriſt, 2 Cor. 10. 5. and obey the truth, Heb. 5. 9. for to beleeve the doctrine of the Goſpel. See 1 Pet. 1. 22. Rom. 6. 17. and legal, and this either particular, having relation unto the execution of ſome particular and extraordinary command of God, Gen. 6. 22. & 7. 5. Heb. 11. 7. Gen. 12. 1, &c. & 17. 9, 13. & 22. 1, 3, 10. & 26. 5. Act. 7. 4. Heb. 11. 8, 17. Exod. 3. 13. & 4. 3. & 7. 6. & 40. 16. Job 41. 9. Mat. 1. 24. or univerſall, namely, a conformity of our affections and actions unto the will of God manifeſted in his Word, which is in the regenerate begun in this life, but to be perfected in heaven, Rom. 6. 16. 2 Cor. 10. 6. 1 Pet. 1. 14. This muſt proceed from love to God, and goodneſſe, not for ſervile ends, muſt be without diſtruſtfull care, about ſucceſſe in outward things, or a preſent reward of well-doing, and that with conſtancy, humility, and fear, faith, or ſome perſwaſion of acceptation in all things. Byfield on 1 Pet. 1. 14. p. 113.

II. That which is due, or performed unto Man; either by the unreaſonable creatures, Jam. 3. 3. or by Inferiours unto their Superiours; as, by Wives unto their Husbands, Eph. 5. 22, 24. Tit. 2. 5. 1 Pet. 3. 1. Children to their Parents, Eph. 6. 1. Col. 3. 20. Servants to their Maſters, Eph. 6. 5. Col. 3. 22. Tit. 2. 9. 1 Pet. 2. 18. Subjects to their Princes or Magiſtrates, Rom. 13. 1. Tit. 3. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 13. People to their Paſtors, Heb. 13. 7, 17. Or by any unto another, adviſing or counſelling him aright, Act. 27. 21.

There's alſo an unlawful or ſinful obedience, namely,

1. Unto the unlawful commands of men, 2 Sam. 11. 15, 16, 17. 1 King. 21. 11. 2 Ki. 16. 17. 1 Sam. 22. 18. 2 Sam. 13. 29. & 14. 30. Act. 5. 36. where the word ſignifies alſo to beleeve, marg.

2. Unto ſin, Rom. 6. 12, 16.

To obey the doctrine] To beleeve it, and live after it, when our reaſon, minde, conſcience, will, affections and members are brought under it, to ſtoop to it, and be governed by it. Rom. 6. 16. Ye have obeyed from the heart the doctrine, &c.

To obey the luſts of ſin] In will to conſent unto, and in works to practiſe the evill and ſinfull deſires of our hearts. Rom. 6. 12. That ye ſhould obey the luſts of ſin.

To obey Miniſters] To ſubmit with readineſſe to their authority, ſuffering their words of exhortation and rebukes to take place with us, for our reformation. Heb. 13. 17. Obey them that have the overſight of you, and ſubmit your ſelves.

To obey Parents, Magiſtrates, and Maſters] Willingly to perform their juſt commandements, and patiently to bear even their unjuſt corrections. Eph. 6. 1. Ye children obey your parents.

Obeyſance] Civill reverence, by bowing the body in token of the regard which we owe to ſome perſon of dignity and worſhip for his years, gifts, or place. Exod. 18. 7. And did obeyſance.

Obit] Born, brought, led away, carryed, ſorrowfull, or waxing old. An Iſhmaelite, 1 Chron. 27. 30.

Oblation] Some externall thing, offered and given unto God, to pacifie and appeaſe his anger againſt ſin, or to witneſſe thankfulneſſe for ſome benefit. Pſal. 51. 19. Burnt offering, and oblation.

The word in the Hebrew ſignifies generally a gift or preſent carried to any, Gen. 32. 13. Pſal. 54. 12. & 72. 10. and in ſpecial, a gift or oblation preſented to God, Gen. 4. 3, 4, 5. Pſal. 96. 8. moſt ſpecially the oblation of corn or flowre, called the Meat-offering, Lev.

Lev. 2. Numb. 29. There is then a civil offering, called a preſent or gift to men, for love and honour ſake; and a ſacred offering to God for gratulation or propitiation.

Note further, that it was provided by the Law, that things offered to God, were to be without blemiſh, neither blinde, broken, or maimed, or which had a wem, or was ſcurvy, or ſcabbed; by all which was ſignified the perfect ſacrifice of Chriſt, holy, harmleſſe, &c. Heb. 7. 27. 1 Pet. 1. 19. Secondly, our obedience, though unperfect, it as yet proceedeth from the holy Spirit, to be pure before God, being without all hypocriſie, as 1 Tim. 2. 8. 1 Joh. 3. 3. Malac. 3. 11. Thirdly, that in heaven no unclean perſon ſhall come, Cant. 4. 7, 8. & Eph. 5. 5.

Note further, that the ſalting of oblations or ſacrifices with ſalt, according to the Law, Lev. 2. 13. which is repeated Mar. 9. 49. ſignifies, that the Covenant of God made with us in Chriſt, ſhould dwell in us, and be rooted in our heart, Mark 9. 50. Secondly, the mortification of our luſts, as ſalt taketh and dryeth up freſh and unwholſome humours; to which purpoſe Chriſt applyeth it, Mar. 9. 42. Thirdly, that zeal and fervency ought to ſeaſon all our actions, joyned with care of mutuall peace, Mark 9. 50.

Note alſo, 1. that they were to be brought in a clean veſſel, Iſa. 66. 20. and into the Houſe of the Lord, 2 Chron. 31. 10. where praiſes were to be returned unto God, Jer. 33. 11.

2. They were not to be the hire of a whore, or the price of a dog, as being unlawfull and unclean, Deut. 23. 18.

3. That God accounted them robbers of him that kept back their tithes and offerings, whereby his Miniſters and the poor were to have been maintained, Mal. 3. 8.

Oboth] Dragons, wombes, fathers, or deſires. A place, Numb. 21. 10, 11.

Obſcurity] put 1. for groſſe ignorance, Iſa. 29. 18.

2. Adverſity, Ib. 59. 9.

3. Darkneſſe, Ib. 58. 10.

Obſervation] Luk. 17. 20. The Kingdome of God cometh not with obſervation; that is, outward ſhew, marg. Meaning, that it ſhould not be as they dreamed, a Kingdome temporall, and glorious, with external pomp and majeſty; but ſpiritual, and ſo not to be diſcovered or obſerved by the world; for otherwiſe it appeared to the faithfull, by many evident ſignes and demonſtrations, that Jeſus was indeed that long expected Meſſias, and King of Iſrael, Joh. 1. 49.

Obſerve] To take diligent notice of, or heedfully to mark, Gen. 37. 10. To keep both in remembrance, and in ſetting apart a day for that end, Exod. 12. 24. To attend, and yeeld obedience unto, Ibid 34. 11. To look narrowly unto, Job 13. 27. marg.

To obſerve dayes] To attribute holyneſſe and virtue to dayes, which belongs not to them; or to put Religion in difference of dayes. Gal. 4. 10. Ye obſerve dayes and moneths, &c.

To obſerve the tradition of men] To keep and hold ſuperſtitiouſly the rules and precepts delivered unto us by men. Mark 7. 8. Ye obſerve the traditions of men.

Obſerver of times] Deut. 18. 10. that is, ſuperſtitiouſly making difference of dayes and times, good or bad, as lucky and unlucky. A Sooth-ſayer, an obſerver of the clouds, and of the planets, a Planetary, an obſerver of the flying of fowles, an Augur. Such as were carryed by outward obſervations in the creatures. They were of eſteem among the Philiſtins, and other Heathens, Iſa. 2. 6. and the ſin crept into Iſrael, 2 King. 21. 6. though God forbad it, Lev. 19. 26. The Hebrews ſay, they were ſuch as did ſet times for the doing of things, ſaying, Such a day is good, and ſuch a day is naught; ſuch a day is fit for to doe ſuch a work; ſuch a yeer or moneth is evill for ſuch a thing, &c. Aynſworth on Deut. 18. 10.

Obſtinate] Such as are ſtiffe-necked, Deut. 9. 6. will no more be admoniſhed, Eccleſ. 4. 13. whoſe neck is as an iron ſinew, and their brow braſſe, Iſa. 48. 4. hard, Ibid. marg. whoſe faces are harder then a rock, they refuſing to return, Jer. 5. 3. who will not hearken, Jer. 6. 17. will certainly doe whatſoever thing goeth forth out of their owne mouth, Ib. 44. 17. are ſetled on their lees, Zeph. 1. 1.

Obtain] To requeſt, Neh. 13. 6. marg. To bring forth, Prov. 8. 35. marg. But by the words joyned herewith, as children, joy, gladneſſe, kingdome, grace, &c. the meaning hereof is plain.

To obtain mercy] To receive and get the gift of Faith by the mercy of God: A Metonymie of the cauſe for the effect. Rom. 11. 31. Through your mercy they ſhall obtain mercy. The meaning is more fully thus, that the mercy ſhewed to the Gentiles, in calling them to Chriſt after the Jews were caſt out, ſhould be an occaſion that the Jews by the mercy of God (being now in unbeleef) ſhould ſhould hereafter beleeve, and be ſaved, for ſo much as the unbeleef of the Jews was occaſion of ſalvation to the Gentiles, v. 30. Me thinks the general calling of the Jews toward the ſecond coming of Chriſt, is plainly by Paul in this 11. to the Romans proved to be poſſible and probable in verſ. 24. by an argument from the leſſe to the more: alſo, from this power of God, verſ. 23. and then that it is infallible and certainly ſhall be, as agreeable to the will of God revealed to Paul, verſ. 25. confirmed by prophetical authority, foretelling it in two places out of Iſa. verſ. 26, 27. By the dignity of the Jews, being Gods elect people, verſ. 28. Alſo by the nature and condition of Gods calling and gifts, which are immutable, verſ. 29. By the compariſon of Jews and Gentiles, and the common end of their miſeries, verſ. 30, 31, 32. Laſtly, from the Covenant made to Abraham, and the Fathers of the Jews, verſ. 16. To all which may be added the Teſtimony as of the Lord, in Ezek. 37. 1, 2, 3, 4. and Rev. 7. 4, 5. & 21. 2, 3, 6, 7. Alſo of his ſervants, M. Calvin, Beza, Junius, Piſcator, Paræus, Peter Martyr, D. Willet; Fathers and Schoole-men, Hilary, Chryſoſtome, Thomas Aquinas.

O C.

Occaſion] A ſeaſon or opportunity of time; a meet, fit, and convenient time. This Joſeph's Brethren thought that he would ſeek againſt them, Gen. 43. 18. This Zebul adviſed Abimelech to take againſt his enemies, Judg. 9. 33. This Samſon ſought againſt the Philiſtins, Judg. 14. 4. This Samuel adviſed Saul to embrace, 1 Sam. 10. 7. This the Princes ſought againſt Daniel, Dan. 6. 4, 5. In 2 Sam. 12. 14. it may be taken for ground or cauſe. In Ezr. 7. 20. for need. In Jer. 2. 24. for luſt. In 2 Cor. 8. 8. for reaſon, or becauſe. The originall word in Rom. 7. 8. is ἀφορμὴ, which is taken three wayes.

1. It properly ſignifieth the opportunity of doing a thing.

2. Any circumſtance or accident, whereby one is occaſioned to doe any thing.

3. That which draweth a man from doing that he intended: both theſe laſt wayes ſin took an occaſion by the Law; for both the pravity of our nature is more inflamed by the prohibition, and we wiſh it were removed as a rub or block out of our way.

It cometh (as ſome think) of ὁρμὴ an aſſault, becauſe if we give our ſelves but liberty, never ſo little, more then is fit, the fleſh will make an aſſault upon us. Leigh Crit. ſac.

In Rom. 14. 13. the word is προσκομμα, which ſignifieth a ſtone or impediment in the way, againſt which a man daſheth or may daſh his foot. In 1 Joh. 2. 10. the original word is σκανδαλον, which Grammarians ſay, is the bridge in a trap, which when the Mouſe or any other vermin puts down, they are taken. Both are together in Rom. 14. 13. The firſt ſignifying a ſtone, &c. the ſecond to halt, and this ſeems to follow upon the former; for when a man daſheth his foot againſt a thing, he halteth or falleth. Leigh Crit. ſac. in the word σκανδαλον.

Occupation] Trade, or kinde of life, Gen. 46. 33. & 47. 3. Jonah 1. 8. Art or ſcience, Act. 18. 3. Part or ſhare, Act. 19. 25.

Occupie] To uſe, Judg. 16. 11. To trade, as in buying and ſelling, Ezek. 27. 9, 16, & 22. 22, 27. To accuſtome, or exerciſe, Heb. 13. 9. To ſupply, 1 Cor. 14. 16.

Occurrent] 1 King. 5. 4. The originall word is tranſlated chance, Eccl. 9. 11. It ſignifieth any thing that a man meets with, ſtanding in his way, or hindring him in that which he is about.

Ocran] Troublous, or troubling. The Father of Pagiel, Numb. 1. 13.

O D.

Oded] Suſtaining, or lifting up. The Father of Azariah, 2 Chr. 15. 1. tearmed Oded the Prophet, verſ. 8. See ch. 28. 9.

Odious] To ſtink, 1 Chron. 19. 6. marg. One that hateth, or is hated, Pro. 30. 23.

Odour] The efficacy of Chriſts death, appeaſing the wrath of God, for the ſins of the elect, cauſing themſelves and their prayers to be acceptable to God. Rev. 3. 8. Much odours was given unto him. Eph. 5. 2. A ſacrifice of ſweet ſmelling odour.

2. The works of Charity, which being done in faith, are unto God (through Chriſt) as a pleaſant odour. Phil. 4. 18. That which came from you was an odour that ſmelleth ſweet.

3. Incenſe, (the prayers of the Saints) Rev. 5. 8. marg.

O F.

Of] Efficient cauſe, or author and chief worker of a thing. Mat. 1. 18. And ſhe was found to be with childe of the holy Ghoſt. Rom. 11, 36. Of him are all things. Joh. 1. 3. But are born of God.

In carnal generation, this particle [Of] ſo noteth the material cauſe of which we doe come and be born, as it implyeth the efficient too, for parents be both first workers, and also the matter of generation. It is not so in our spiritual begetting, where God is onely efficient, the immortal seed of the Word hath the place and force of the matter.

2. The instrumental cause. Act. 19.11. God wrought miracles by the hand of Paul.

3. The material cause or matter, whereof any thing is made. Rom. 1. 4. Born of the seed of David.

4. In Gal. 2. 16. By the faith of Jesus Christ.

5. In, Eph. 4. 1. Rev. 3. 14.

6. For, Heb. 11. 26.

It's a particle noting 1. Possession, or appertaining to, or depending on, 1 Cor. 1. 12. & 3. 4.

2. Inward fellowship, 1 Joh. 2. 19.

3. Participation, 1 Joh. 4. 13.

4. The cause, Rom. 11. 36.

Of him, by him, or for him] That all persons, Angels and Men, also all creatures and works do take their beginning of God, as their first cause, to be by him sustained in regard of preservation; and for him in respect of their end and perfection. Rom. 11. 36. For of him, by him, and for him, are all things; that is, saith M. Calvin, of God himself alone, and none other moving him; by him, none other helping him; and for his owne glory, and not for any other cause.

Offence] A stone, block, or some other thing, whereat men may stumble.

2. Every occasion of sinning given to others. Mat. 18. 6. Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones. vers. 7. Woe be to them by whom offences come. Rom. 14. 21. 1 Cor. 8. 13. Give no offence to the Church of God. Every hinderance in the course of godlinesse, offered unto us by another is an offence; and (as it were) a stone cast in our way to make us stumble. This is an offence given.

3. Every hinderance and let in our course, not offered by others, but laid hold on by our selves, without just cause; as when the Jews were offended with Christs doctrine. Matth. 15. 12. The Pharisees are offended in hearing this saying. Joh. 6. 61. Doth this offend you? This is an offence taken.

4. Every sin or fault against God, or our neighbour, how secretly or privately soever done. Rom. 5. 15. The gift is not so as is the offence.

5. Knowledge of an offence. Rom. 5. 20. The Law entred, that the offence might abound. Rom. 2. For by the Law comes the knowledge of sin.

6. An occasion to fall to sin, Rom. 14. 13. and to pollute the conscience of another, 1 Cor. 8. 9, 10.

Without offence] Not one free from sin, but free from giving occasion of sin to others, in actions before men, as well as sincere before God in their mindes. Phil. 1. 10. Without offence.

To offend] To doe any sin in thought, word, or deed. Jam. 3. 2. He that offends not with his tongue, is a perfect man. Psal. 19. 12. Who can tell how oft he offendeth? Matth. 23. 13.

2. To minister or give occasion of sin, either by word or example. 1 Cor. 8. 13. That I may not offend my Brother.

3. To take occasion of sinning, when none is given, as the Pharisees at the Disciples, plucking the ears of Corn on the Sabbath. Mar. 2. 23. As before, Mat. 15. 12. They were offended at that saying.

4. To provoke God or any good man to anger (by some evill act or word of ours) whereby evill may come on us from them; this is the effect of sin on the good. 2 Passive, or to be offended.

5. To provoke or move any evil person to anger or discontent by some good word or deed, Joh. 6. 51.

6. To wrong, Psal. 73. 15.

7. To be guilty, injurious, Jer. 2. 3.

8. To cause to offend, Mat. 5. 29. marg.

9. To be a let or hinderance, Ibid. 30.

10. To doe unjustly, Act. 25. 11.

11. To stumble, Jam. 3. 2. (so the word is rendred, Rom. 11. 11.) or, to fall, as the word is rendred, 2 Pet. 1. 10.

Offer] To burn, Exod. 30. 9. To give, or present, Psal. 50. 23. Sacrifice, 1 King. 13. 2. To goe up, 1 King. 12. 32. marg. To stretch out, 1 Chr. 21. 16. marg. To bring unto, Mal. 1. 7. marg. To add to, Rev. 8. 3. marg. To pour out, Phil. 2. 17. marg.

Hereunto Burnt-offering, bullock, lambs, incense, silver, brasse, meat-offering, &c. being joyned, the meaning of such places is plainly perceived.

Offerings are 1. Mosaicall; Act. 21. 26. Heb. 10. 5, 8. Whereof there were Burnt-offerings, Numb. 28. 3. Free-will-offerings, Ezr. 7. 16. Sin-offerings, Ezek. 43. 25. & 44. 27, 29. Peace-offerings, Luk. 4. 10. Drink-offerings, Numb. 28. 7. Meat-offerings, Lev. 7. 37. Heave-offerings, Numb. 5. v. 9.

2. Idolatrous, Psal. 16. 4.

3. Christian

3. Christian and spiritual, both Christ, Isa 53.10. Eph. 5.2. Heb. 8.10. and our selves to God, Rom. 12.1. & 15.16.

Office] Some function or calling, which bindes to duty, Gen. 41.13. Exod. 1.16.

2. Some duty which is to be done in regard of some charge or function which we bear in Church, Common-wealth, or family. Rom. 12.7. He that hath an office, let him wait on his office.

3. Trust, 1 Chron. 9.22. marg. Ibid. 26. marg.

4. Station, 1 Chr. 23, 28. marg.

5. To be upon, Neh. 13.13. marg.

6. Observation, Ibid. 14. marg.

7. Charge, Psal. 109.8.

Officers] Servants and Ministers, which attend upon Magistrates, to execute their Commandement. Mat. 26. The Officers of the High-priest. Act. 5.22.

2. Eunuches, 1 Sam. 8.15. marg. 2 King. 8.6. marg.

3. Offices, 2 King. 11.18. marg. & 24.12. 15. marg.

4. Over the charge, 1 Chr. 26.30. marg.

5. Overseers, Gen. 41.34.

Off-scowring] 1 Cor. 4.13. See Alciatus in Parergon Juris, lib. 9. c. 22. tom. 2. who sheweth that this was the refuse person of the City, whom the people, first beating and disgracing him, afterwards killed and burned, and cast his ashes into the Sea, to make a lustration or expiation for all the multitude in time of plague, famine, or any other calamity.

Thou hast made us as the off-scowrings, Lam. 3.45. that is, Thou hast caused us to be had in as vile esteem as may be, as if we were no better then off-scowrings or scrapings; for from a root of that notion, Ezek. 26.4. cometh the word here used, and no where else found in Scripture; and the Greek word answering it, 1 Cor. 4.13. from the like. We are made the off-scowring of all things unto this day. The Apostle alludeth unto the expiation in use among the Heathens, saith Budeus. Certain condemned persons were brought forth with garlands upon their heads in manner of sacrifices: these they would tumble from some steep place into the sea, offering them up to Neptune, using this form of words, Sis pro nobis peripsema: Be thou a reconciliation or propitiation for us. As if the Apostle had said, We are as despicable and odious in the sight of the people, as those condemned persons, who were offered up by way of publick expiation.

Off-spring] Posterity, Job 31.8. Issue, race, sons, seed, Isa. 22.24. & 48.19. All mankinde, Act. 17.28. Jesus Christ, Rev. 22.16.

Oft, often, oftentimes] are in effect the same, importing the frequencie of speaking, acting, suffering, &c. frequently, diligently, continuedly, &c.

O G.

Og] Rosted bread, a mock; or after the Syrian, holding down, or hindred. The King of Bashan, Numb. 21.33.

O H.

Ohad] Praising, or confessing. The Son of Simeon, Gen. 46.10. Exod. 6.15.

Ohel] A tabernacle, tent; or light. The Son of Zerubbabel, 1 Chr. 3.20.

O K.

Oke] put 1. for the kinde of tree so called, Judg. 6.11. Which is strong, Amos 2.9. and thick with branches, 2 Sam. 18.9, 14.

2. The place of idolatrous worship, Isa. 1.29.

3. Men of proud, lofty, and unbendible spirits, Isa. 2.13.

Okes and Gardens] Properly a kinde of Tree (or Trees in general) and some enclosed ground for Hearbs, Plants, Flowers, Walks, and other pleasures: improperly, by a figure Metonymie, such Chappels, and Altars, as idolatrous Jewes erected under Okes, and in green Gardens, contrary to the prescript of God, who had sanctified the Temple and Altar at Jerusalem, for his Sacrifices and Oblations, as Psal. 132.8, 13. & Deut. 12.4, 5, 6. 1 King. 8.19. & 2 Chron. 7.12. Deut. 16.21. And by a Synecdoche of the part, these Altars thus erected, signifies, all voluntary service of God, Col. 3.23. and every invention of man in the publick worship of God. Isa. 1.29. For ye shall be ashamed of the Okes and Gardens which ye have desired and chosen. Where note from [ye have desired and chosen] that Idolatry hath original from men themselves, fervently coveting and chooſing it freely: whence it is, that Idol-servers are such hot persecuters of such as mislike their superstition, and be at such cost to uphold it.

As an oke without leaf] That Idolaters in the day of the Lords wrath, should be stript and spoyled of all their good and pleasant things, Rev. 18.14, 16, 17, 22, 23. Even as an Oke in midſt of Winter, lacking greenneſſe of leaf and all viridity and vigour, or as a Garden in midſt of Summer withered by drought and lack of water. Iſa. 1. 29. Thou ſhalt be as an oke without leaf.

O L.

Old] One of great age, and many yeers, Gen. 15. 15. & 18. 12. One decayed in ſtrength, 1 King. 1. 15.

Old commandement] 1 Joh. 2. 7. that is, ſuch as was from the beginning.

Old leaven] 1 Cor. 5. 7. that is, Sinfull notorious perſons, as alſo the corruptions of our nature, as naughty opinions, luſts, vices, ill manners.

Old man] Our naturall diſpoſition to evill. See Man. Eph. 4. 22. Col. 3. 9.

2. In priority, or in compariſon of another thing or perſon ſucceeding it.

3. By weakneſſe, or decay.

Old man, 1. One old in years. 2. The corruption of mans nature called old in the three former reſpects. 1 As old as our own conception, or as Adams fall. 2 It muſt give place to the new man, and ſo be out of office. 3 In the godly it doth daily decay, like an old or ſick perſon, Rom. 6. 6.

Old ſerpent] Rev. 12. 9. that is, the Devill.

Old Teſtament] 2 Cor. 3. 14. that is, the Scriptures of Moſes, and the Prophets, without having an eye to Chriſt therein.

Old things] Natural corruption, and the fruits of it, 2 Cor. 5. 17. The ſame is meant by old leaven, 1 Cor. 5. 7.

Old veſſels] A minde nouriſhed in blind ſuperſtition, and idle ceremonies. Matth. 9. 17. Neither do men put new wine into old veſſels.

Old way] Job 22. 15. or, the way of old, that is, of the ungodly men before the flood, how wickedly they lived. The word עולם comes from a word that ſignifies to hide, becauſe the ages paſt or to come, are hidden from us. And 1. it ſignifies a time paſt, or of old, Iſa. 57. 11. Jer. 2. 20. & 28. 8.

2. A time to come, and laſting long, Num. 10. 8.

3. Eternity, properly ſo called, without beginning or ending, Pſal. 41. 13. Annot. on Job 22. 15.

Old world] 2 Pet. 2. 5. that is, The time before the flood.

Oldneſſe of the letter] Rom. 7. 6. that is, The old corruption which by the outward letter of the Law is more and more ſtirred and provoked in us, in as much as the Law, though it condemned the ſinner, yet it affordeth no power at all to aboliſh or deſtroy ſin, in which regard it is called a killing letter, and the adminiſtration of death, 2 Cor. 3. 7. And in the word oldneſſe, the aboliſhing of the Law is inſinuated, in regard of the unſufficiency thereof. Annot. Or, the opinion of the old man, life or ſtate, concerning the worſhip of God, touching ceremonies, or merits of vertues, in which Jews and Gentiles were occupyed. Or, it's the idle knowledge of the Law, or whatſoever outward diſcipline, without the true converſion of the heart to God. Bernard. The outward and faſhionable knowledge of the Law, without any true change of the heart. Hall Paraph.

Olive] Taken properly for a tree ſo called, which is full of fatneſſe, Judg. 9. 9. And hence it is ſaid, Out of Aſher his bread ſhall be fat, Gen. 49. 20. namely, through the oyl which cometh of the olive, Deut. 33. 24. and is alwayes green, Pſal. 52. 8. in which reſpect the godly are compared thereunto, Jer. 11. 16. Hoſ. 14. 6.

Figuratively, by a Synecdoche, a moſt choyce tree, Iſa. 41. 19. By a Metaphor, the Church of the Jews, Jer. 11. 16. As alſo the abundant graces of the holy Spirit, and the continual flowings thereof in the Church, Zec. 4. 3, 12. or, Thoſe two excellent ſervants of God, namely, Zerubbabel and Jehoſhua, which did repreſent the gifts of the holy Spirit; or, from whom flowed a great deal of good to the people of God, as oyl doth from the olive, whereby the lamp is nouriſhed and burneth: to whom alluſion is made, Rev. 11. 4. Where by the two olive trees, the two witneſſes are to be underſtood, that is, the Doctors and Paſtors, whom God in theſe laſt times was to raiſe up againſt Antichriſt, and by their labour and miniſtery ſet up his worſhip.

Olivet, or Mount of olives] A hill two miles on the Eaſt ſide from Jeruſalem, the brook Cedron running between, taking name of the plenty of olives growing thereupon, Matth. 21. 1. Mar. 11. 1. Luk. 22. 39. Joh. 8. 1.

Olive branches, or plants] Children which (as olive branches) are an ornament and delight to their Parents. Pſal. 128. 3. As olive branches round about his table.

Right olives] The Jews, which were the people of his Covenant, Rom. 11. 17, 24.

Wilde olives] Gentiles, which were ſtrangers from Gods Covenant.

Olympas]

Olympas] Heavenly. The name of a man, Rom. 16. 15. from ὄλυμπος, a moſt high mountain, ſo called, as ὅλος λαμπρὸς, wholly ſhining, whoſe top (they ſay) is never darkened with clouds, ſo that by a Metaphor it is put for heaven.

O M.

Omega] Rev. 1. 8. as Alpha is the firſt letter of the Greek Alphabet, and Omega the laſt, ſo Chriſt was before all creatures, and ſhall abide alwayes, though all creatures ſhould periſh. He from whom all creatures had their beginning, and to whom they are referred, as their uttermoſt end, Prov. 16. 4. Rom. 11. 36. Rev. 4. 11.

Omar] Speaking, or exalting. The Son of Eliphaz, Gen. 36. 11.

Omer] A meaſure containing one Kab and an half, and a fift part of a Kab; that is, three pintes, and an halfe pinte, and a fift part of an halfe pinte. It was the tenth part of an Ephah, Exod. 16. 36. Goodwyn.

Some conceive it contained a pottle. Some rate it by the proportion of 43 Hens egges, and a fift part. Which way ſoever it be taken, it is enough for the ſtrongeſt man, and the hotteſt ordinary ſtomach; wherein Gods bounty may be obſerved. Annot. & Aynſworth on Exod. 16. 16.

Omit] To forbear, neglect, paſſe over, as having no regard thereof, or minde thereunto, Mat. 23. 23.

Omnipotent] Rev. 19. 6. An Epithet, which can be applyed to no other, but unto God alone.

Omri] A bundle, a rebellious or bitter people. The Father of Ahab, 1 King. 16. 21. The Son of Beſher, 1 Chr. 7. 8. The Son of Imri, 1 Chr. 9. 4. The Son of Michael, 1 Chron. 27. 18.

The ſtatutes of Omri, Mic. 6. 16. that is, the Idolatry brought in by that wicked King, 1 Ki. 16. 25. And to excuſe your doings you alledge the Kings authority by his ſtatutes, and ſo pretend both power, and prudence, and counſell in the making of them.

O N.

On] Sorrow, ſtrength, or iniquity. A City of Ægypt, (called alſo Aven, Ezek. 30. 17.) in circuite about an hundred and forty furlongs, more uſually called by the Greek name, Heliopolis, which by interpretation, is, the City of the Sun; but in latter times, the more common name is Damiata. The Son of Peleth, Numb. 16. 1.

Onam] Sorrow, ſtrength; or, iniquity thereof. One of the children of Shobal, Gen. 36. 23. The Son of Jerahmeel by Atarah, 1 Chron. 2. 26.

Onan] As on. The Son of Judah, Gen. 46. 12.

Once] A thing which (being done) is not iterated or gone over again. Thus Chriſt is ſaid to be Once offered, to have dyed Once, to have ſuffered Once, Rom. 6. 20. Heb. 9. two laſt verſes. Heb. 10. 10. Once and no more. Therefore the ſacrifice of the Maſſe is abominable, charging Chriſts death with inſufficiencie, and the Word with untruth. Their diſtinction of bloody and unbloody Sacrifice, is alſo directly againſt the Scripture, which teacheth that there is no remiſſion without ſhedding of blood, Heb. 9. 22.

Once and twice] Often, or many times. Pſal. 62. 11. God ſpake once or twice.

One] One onely, ſo as there is no more of that kinde: as, one God, one Mediator, one oblation, &c. 1 Tim. 2. 5. 1 Cor. 8. 4. Heb. 10. 14.

2. United to Chriſt, and among themſelves by faith and love, Joh. 17. 21.

3. It ſignifieth Firſt, as Dan. 10 13. marg. Mar. 16. 2.

4. Inſeparable union, Gen. 2. 14. & 11. 6.

5. The ſelf-ſame, Gen. 11. 1. & 40. 5.

6. A portion, Gen. 24. 45. & 48. 22.

7. A very few, Deut. 32. 30. Joſh 23. 10.

8. Somewhat, 1 Sam. 2. 36. marg.

9. The like, 1 Sam. 6. 4. One plague was on you all.

10. Some time or other, 1 Sam. 27. 1.

11. Some body, any one, 2 Sam. 23. 15.

12. Part, Pſal. 10. 10. marg.

13. A ſhort ſpace, Dan. 4. 19. Rev. 18. 8.

14. Another, and a third, Luk. 9. 33.

15. The ſame, Phil. 2. 2.

16. The devill, 1 Joh. 5. 18.

One accord] Common agreement and unity of minde in Religion. Act. 2. 46. And they continued daily with one accord.

One body] 1. All the faithfull ſo compact and knit together like a body conſiſting of many members well joyned; therefore ſtand bound ſo to love and help one another, as members of a naturall body doe afford mutual ſuccour. Eph. 4. 4. Gal. 3. 15. Ye are called to peace in one body. See 1 Cor. 12. 26, 27.

2. The corporation or ſociety of Church Officers, who have the reſemblance of a naturall body with their gifts, modeſtly to ſerve and further the whole, not only lifted up above others through pride and contempt, or deſpiſing others by diſdain. Rom. 12. 5. So we being many are one body in Chriſt. See verſ. 6, 7, 8.

Both one] Jews and Gentiles to be gathered and joyned into one people and Church of Chriſt, Eph. 2. 14.

One Church] See Unity of the Church.

One husband of one wife, 1 Tim. 3. 2. wife of one husband, 1 Tim. 5. 9. viz. at one time, for ſucceſſively each might have more.

One day] The firſt day, Gen. 1. 5. by an Hebraiſme uſuall in the Scripture, a cardinal number put for an ordinal. Gen. 8. 5. Mat. 28. 1. Gen. 2. 10. The name of the one (i. firſt) is Piſon, 1 Cor. 16. 1.

One Faith] One doctrine, not one gift of Faith, Eph. 4. 5. Faith is one, in reſpect of the object, but ſundry in reſpect of the ſubject.

One heart] Conſent in Religion and affection. Ezek. 11. 19. I will give them one heart.

One in Chriſt] To be as it were but one man. Gal. 3. 28. Ye are all one in Chriſt Jeſus; that is, moſt ſtraightly conjoyned under Chriſt your head, as if ye were all but one, quickned by one Spirit to God, as they are to the world by one ſoul.

To be perfect in one] To be firmly and for ever united and knit unto God the Father, through Chriſt our head and Mediator, by the Spirit and Faith, and among themſelves by conſent of mindes and wills. Joh. 17. 23. That they may be perfect in one. This ſentence leads our mindes to the conſideration of a threefold moſt bleſſed Union. The firſt is conſubſtantiall of the Father and the Son (Thou in me:) This is an Union coeſſential of perſons in one eſſence; and it is the ſoveraign cauſe of the two Unions following. 2. Union is the conjunction of Chriſt the head with the Church his true and myſtical body. This is an Union of two Natures in one Will. (Inthem.) The third Union is the Communion of the faithfull one with another, as fellow-members (made perfect in one:) This with the former Union, is not by mixture and tranſfuſion of ſubſtances, but by the ſpiritual bands of faith and love. Whence it cometh on the one ſide, that Chriſt with all his merits and gifts, are in common diſtributed to beleevers his members: and on the other ſide, the faithfull do mutually impart and beſtow all their good things inward and outward, unto the uſe and benefit of one another. And this is that Communion of Saints, whereof we make profeſſion in our Creed to beleeve it.

1. Of the eternall Son with the eternall Father, this is Union in Eſſence, which is but one in number. See Number.

2. Of the two Natures in Chriſt, Divine, and Humane; this is Union in Perſon.

3. Of Chriſt with his Church, this is Union in Nature as he is man, in affection as he is holy, in ſpiritual graces as he is God, 1 Cor. 6. 17.

4. Of Chriſtians among themſelves, 1 By nature, as men, Iſa. 58. 7. 2 In and by the Spirit, and ſpirituall graces, as good men, Eph. 2. 22. & 4. 3, 4, 5. 1 Joh. 1. 7. & 4. 15, 16. 3 In and by Chriſt, as happy men, Eph. 2. 20. & 4. 4, 5, 6.

One ſheepfold] One Catholick Church, conſiſting of beleeving Jews and Gentiles in all ages and places. Joh. 10. 16. And one ſheepfold.

One ſhepheard] Chriſt himſelf alone, the ſpring of Paſtors, Eccl. 12. 11, 12.

One Spirit] Spiritual Union, being knit to God by one Spirit. 1 Cor. 6. 7. Is one Spirit.

One thing is needfull] The ſound and ſaving knowledge of Chriſt by the Word preached. Luk. 10. 42. There is one thing needfull. Pſal. 27. 14. One thing have I deſired.

One way] The doctrine of godlineſſe, which is but one, as there is but one God. Jer. 32. 4. I will give them one way.

Onely] Separately, 1 Theſſ. 1. 5. 2 Tim. 4. 8. Alone, Jam. 2. 24. But, Job 2. 6. marg. Save, Deut. 4. 12. marg.

Onefimus] Profitable. A faithful and beloved Brother, Col. 4. 9. Philem. 10, 26.

Onefiphorus] Bringing profit. One for whoſe houſe Paul prayed, 2 Tim. 1. 16.

Onicha] is (as moſt agree) a ſweet kind of ſhell, white, like unto a mans nayl, found in the Indian lake, where ſhell-fiſhes feed of ſpikenard, Exod. 30. 34.

Onions] Roots well known, whereon (as on leeks, garlick, &c.) the poorer ſort in Ægypt fed, as did the Iſraelites when they were ſlaves there; which though groſſe food and naught (whereof a man ſhould eat but a very little, and in Winter dayes, not in Summer at all) the Iſraelites preferred before the Manna which God gave them from heaven, which was both pleaſant and wholſome. Aynſworth on Numb. 11. 5.

Onix] A precious ſtone of a white colour, like the white of a mans nail, whence it hath its name. Hereof there are divers kindes, kindes, and of divers colours, with white ſpeckles in them. It's mentioned to be in the land of Havilah, Gen. 2. 12.

It's ſaid of one kinde of it, that it ſtirreth up ſadneſſe, multiplyeth fears, and ſtirreth up the minde unto ſtriſe and contention. Geminian de lapid. fol. 62. col. 2.

Ono] Grief, ſtrength, or iniquity of him. A City, 1 Chr. 8. 12.

O P.

To open] To unlock ſomething, ſhut up and lockt faſt from us, Act. 16. 26.

2. To give unto us what we deſire in prayer: Thus God openeth to us. Mat. 7. 7. Knock, and it ſhall be opened.

3. To let in and receive Chriſt, to dwell in our hearts by faith. Thus we open unto Chriſt. Rev. 3. 20. I ſtand at the dore and knock, if any man open, &c. Pſal. 24. 9.

4. To make, Exod. 21. 33.

5. To be born, Numb. 8. 16.

6. To reveal, or uncover, Job 33. 16. marg.

7. To dig, Pſal. 40. 6. marg.

8. To cleave, or rend, Mar. 1. 10.

9. To interpret, Luk. 24. 32.

Open] is all one with Manifeſt, evident, plain, cleer. It's put for whole, Iſa. 9. 12. marg. Face, Ezek. 29. 5. marg. Openings, 1 King. 6. 18, 29, 32.

To open the ear] To give power unto our ſoul to underſtand and obey what we hear of Gods will out of his Word, Pſal. 40. 6.

To open the eyes] To give light of Divine knowledge to ſuch as were wholly blinde before, through ignorance. Act. 26. 18. To open the eyes of the blinde.

2. To help and increaſe their knowledge which doe already ſee, that they may know the truth more fully then before. Pſ. 119. 18. Open my eyes, that I may ſee the wonders of thy Law. Luk. 24. 45. He opened their underſtanding, &c. See further for this phraſe in Eyes.

There is a double opening of the eyes, one proper, when the fleſhly eye of the body is made to ſee that which before was not ſeen. The other improper, or Metaphorical, which is the opening of the minde, by which it underſtandeth things which before lay hid. And this cometh two wayes: either of grace, when the holy Ghoſt enlighteneth the minde to ſee that which is good pertaining to happineſſe and perfection, by an illumination immediate and extraordinary, as Luk. 24. 45. and mediate and ordinary, to wit, by Doctrine, as Act. 26. 18. Or it cometh of Divine judgement, when one hath given him a ſenſe and conſcience of his own ſin, being preſented to his minde before by Satan blinded, as it hapned to Adam, Gen. 3. and Judas, Mat. 27. 5. This is ſometime done, as by the inward work of the Spirit in the ſoul, (as in the two former) ſo by affliction men are made to underſtand their fault, as Joſeph's brethren, Gen. 42. 21. and in the prodigall Son, Luk. 15. 17.

Opening the hand] The large bounty and rich liberality of God, diſtributing good things to all living creatures. Pſal. 104. 28. Thou openeſt thy hand, and filleſt all things with thy bleſſing.

To open the heart] To enable and give power unto the ſoul to behold, and through faith, to embrace as Chriſt our Saviour, with good feeling of his ſaving mercies. Act. 16. 14. God opened the heart of Lydia. Our hearts are lockt up by unbeleef, and opened by faith.

Opening of heaben] The parting of the firmament. Act. 7. 56. He ſaw the Heavens open.

To open the lips] To give ſufficient matter by bleſſings from God, and ability by the Spirit of God to utter the praiſes of God, Pſal. 51. 15. Our wickedneſſe locks our lips, which are ſet open by grace. This is one Key. The ſecond Key is Gods benefits.

To open the mouth] To begin to ſpeak after ſome deliberation, Mat. 5. 2. Act. 10. 34. Then Peter opened his mouth. And by a Metaphor, when life, and ſenſe, and motion is attributed unto things ſenſeleſſe and liveleſſe; as the earth, in Gen. 4. 10. to exaggerate and increaſe the inhumanity of Cain more ungentle and fierce then the brutiſh and unreaſonable earth, which kindly received in Abel's blood, to hide that from the eyes of men, which he had cruelly ſhed and ſpilled: The earth opened her mouth.

1. To ſpeak aloud.

2. To preach boldly, openly, and plainly the Word and Will of God, Pſa. 77. 2. Mat. 13. 35. & 5. 2. Act. 10. 34.

3. To pray to God with a loud voyce or cry, ſhewing the neceſſity of the wants, and the faith and fervour of the perſon, Pſal. 8. 1, 10.

4. To receive ſomething into the mouth, or into that which ſupplyeth the place of a mouth, Gen. 4. 10.

To open the Scriptures] To interpret and make plain the true meaning of the Scripture.

pture. Luk. 24. He opened unto them the Scriptures.

Openly] Before the ſun, 2 Sam. 12. 12. In the gates, Prov. 31. 31. Before all men, 1 Tim. 5. 20.

Operation] 1. Of God, Pſal. 28. 5. namely, Gods purpoſe and counſell to bring David to the Crown, manifeſted and brought about by many notable events, and particular providences and diſpenſations. This was in mercy, Iſa. 5. 12. His judgements either incumbent or impendent. Such may be ſaid not to regard nor conſider them, which oppoſe to the manifeſtation of Gods will, and clear demonſtration of his divine diſpenſation, the counſels of humane wit and policy; or, who being taken up with other cares, as the ambitious, and covetous; or excluding all care from themſelves, and therein pl - cing greateſt happineſſe, neither of what happens to themſelves, in the courſe of their lives, nor what happens to others, either publickly or privately, thereby to underſtand the wayes of God, and of his providence, make any obſervation at all; or, who are altogether for the preſent, and judge of men generally as good or bad, in favour, or out of favour with God, from their preſent condition, and what happens to them in this world.

This operation of God, is ſuch a working which hath efficacie to the bringing forth the being of that which it worketh; ſuch a working that notes the moſt lively activity that may be, as the original word ἐνέργεια, Col. 2. 12. importeth. This effectuall working manifeſts it ſelf in afflictions, temptations, the difficulties of an holy life, and in the uſe of his ordinances.

Hereof ſee Byfield on Col. 2. 12. p. 58.

2. Of Man, but through God. An inwrought work, a work wrought by us, ſo as in us alſo, 1 Cor. 12. 6. The Spirit of God manifeſted his divine power in the miraculous works which were wrought by his ſervants.

Ophel] A tower, darkneſſe, or a little white cloud. A City, or Town, 2 Chron. 27. 3. & 33. 14.

Ophir] Aſhes; or, a fructifying. The Son of Joktan, Gen. 10. 29. A Countrey abounding with gold, 1 King. 10. 11. which was very precious, Iſa. 13. 12. Hereupon the fineſt gold is ſtyled Gold of Ophir, Job 22. 24. & 28. 16. This is ſuppoſed to be in Havilah, Gen. 2. 11. It takes the name from Ophir the Son of Joktan, who dwelt in a part of India, ſaith Mr. Aynſworth on Pſa. 45. 10. Hereof ſee the Annotations on Iſa. 13. 12. & Sir Water Raleigh his Hiſtory of the world. lib. 1. c. 8. ſect. 5. p. 175.

Ophni] Fleeing, or wearineſſe; or after the Syrian, a folding together. A City, Joſh. 18. 24.

Ophrah] Duſt, lead; or, a fawne. A City, Joſh. 18. 23. The Son of Meonothai, 1 Chr. 4. 14.

Opinion] Thought, 1 King. 18. 21. marg. Minde, or judgement, Job 32. 6, 10, 17.

Opportunity] The fitteſt and moſt meet for the doing of any thing. Rom. 13. 11. Conſidering the opportunity, or ſeaſon. The time of preaching the Goſpel, is our opportunity or ſeaſon, wherein to ſeek our owne ſalvation.

The word in Mat. 26. 16. is, εὐκαιρία, which ſignifieth the opportunity both of time and place. The word in Gal. 6. 10. is καιρὸς, which is put for mature and ſeaſonable time.

Oppoſe] To reſiſt, or in order to ſet againſt, as in battel aray, Act. 18. 6. To lye againſt, as a ſouldier in a trench againſt a fort, 2 Theſſ. 2. 4. To be affected with a contrary minde, 2 Tim. 2. 25.

Oppoſitions of ſcience falſly ſo called, 1 Tim. 6. 20. that is, made againſt ſound doctrine, out of erroneous grounds and principles of ſciences, ſo tearmed, but falſly. The Greek Fathers conceive that in theſe words the Apoſtle pointeth at the Gnoſticks, a certain ſort of Hereticks, who have their name from ſcience and profound knowledge, which they arrogated to themſelves.

Oppreſſe] To afflict, trouble, Exod. 22. 21. To couſen, or defraud, Lev. 25. 14. To cruſh, Judg. 8. 10. marg. 2 Chr. 16. 10. marg. Violently to take away, Job 20. 19. To defraud, Mal. 3. 5. marg. To break, Iſa. 58. 6. marg. To terrifie, Pſal. 10. 18. marg. To waſte, Pſal. 17. 9. marg. To break in judgment, Hoſ. 5. 11. To ſubdue, or bring under ones power, Jam. 2. 6.

Oppreſſion] The wringing and cruſhing of others, when great ones of the world deal extremely and cruelly with the poor and needy; or when one over-reacheth another in bargains. Iſa. 5. 7. Behold oppreſſion. 1 Theſ. 4. 3. The word in Iſaiah is a ſcab in the original Text. Oppreſſors be like ſcabs, which do moleſt men.

2. Any violence offered, either to mens bodies, eſtates, or conſciences. 1 Tim. 1. 15. Before I was an oppreſſor of them.

3. The ſin of adultery or fornication, whereby the innocent is robbed of his right in his wife, daughter, &c. 1 Theſ. 4. 6.

4. The

4. The ſin of robbery, extortion, unjuſt war, &c.

It is properly the ſpoyling or taking away of mens goods or eſtates by conſtraining, terror, ſtrength, &c. without any right thereto; working on the ignorance, weakneſſe, wit, wealth, friends, &c. fearfulneſſe of them whom they oppreſſe; which is, as if one ſhould make one drunken, and then couſen him, or rob him being aſleep, or ſick, &c. or as Ravens fall on young Lambs or weak ſheep.

5. Deceit, Iſa. 33.15. marg. Ezek.22.29. marg.

Oppreſſour] A man of violence, Prov. 3.31. marg. A treader down, Iſa. 16. 4. marg.

O R.

Oracle] The anſwers of the Heatheniſh gods, delivered in proſe or verſe.

2. The anſwers of God, declared to his people by the mouth of Moſes, or by his owne mouth, even the whole covenant of the Law. Act. 7. 28. Who received the lively oracles to give us.

3. The whole word of the Law delivered to Moſes from Gods mouth; together with the promiſes concerning Chriſt, and ſalvation by him. Rom. 3. 2. To them of credit were committed the Oracles of God.

4. The moſt holy place, 1 King. 6. 20. & 8. 6. or, the place within it, whence God gave an anſwer, Ibid. 8. 2 Chro. 3. 10, 16. tearmed, The oracle of Gods ſanctuary, Pſal. 28. 2. marg.

5. Word, 2 Sam. 16. 23. marg.

6. The doctrine of the Law and the Goſpel delivered in the Scriptures, Heb. 5.12.

7. The truth of God, 1 Pet. 4. 11.

Lively oracle] Making alive, or giving life. Such the words of the Law are in their own nature; and alſo to ſuch as perfectly keep them, Act. 7. 38. Rom. 7. 10. The commandement was ordained to life. If it be occaſion of death to any, it is their owne fault.

Orator] One skilful of ſpeech, Iſa. 3.3. marg. One of that power and efficacy in ſpeech, that he is able by his perſwaſions, ſo to prevail with thoſe he ſpeaks to, that his words ſeem to be as a ſpell, and the perſons he ſpeaks to, to be as charmed by him. Such a one Tertullus was expected to have proved, Act. 24. 1.

Orchards] or, Paradiſes for trees of all ſorts; under which Forreſts, and Parks, or places for choyceſt cattel may be comprehended, Eccl. 2. 5. Cant. 4. 13, 14. Neh. 2. 8. which were places of great pleaſure and delight, Eſt. 1. 8.

Ordain] put for, 1. To found, 1 Chron. 9. 22. marg. Pſal. 8. 2. marg.

2. To give, Jer. 1. 5. marg.

3. To chuſe, Mar. 3. 12.

4. To fore-ordain, or appoint unto, Act. 10. 42. & 13. 48.

5. To make by votes, Act. 14. 23.

6. To decree, judge, Act. 16. 4.

7. To order, Rom. 13. 1. marg.

8. To command, 1 Cor. 9. 14.

9. To prepare, Epheſ. 2. 10. marg. Iſa. 30. 33.

10. To appoint and decree ſomething to ſome ſpecial end, Rom. 7. 10.

11. To truſt, 1 Tim. 2. 7.

12. To appoint, Tit. 1. 5.

Order] A mean of peace and of avoyding confuſion. 1 Cor. 14. verſ. laſt. Let all things be done in order. It is order for one to pray, and the reſt to ſay Amen. For one to ſpeak, and the reſt to hear. For many to ſing together.

2. Time, ſome being raiſed before, as Chriſt; ſome after, as Chriſtians, 1 Cor. 15. 23.

To order] 1. To binde or tye, 1 King. 20. 14. marg.

2. To eſtabliſh, Pſal. 37. 23. marg.

3. To diſpoſe, Pſal. 50. 23. marg.

4. To ordain, Rom. 13. 1. See marg.

In the ordered place, Judg. 6. 26. that is, In an orderly manner, marg.

Ordinance] Appointment, decree and determination, touching things to be, or to be done, or not to be done. Pſa. 119.91. They continue to this day by thine Ordinance. Ex. 18. 16. And declare his Ordinances. Thus Gods Decrees are his Ordinances, though unwritten.

2. Some function and eſtate of life appointed for the good of mankinde. Thus Magiſtracy, Miniſtery, and Marriage, be Gods Ordinances. Rom. 13. 1, 2. The powers that are ordained of God; whoſoever reſiſteth power, reſiſteth Gods ordinance.

Note, that the diſtribution and decrees of Magiſtrates, be of God as author, as well as the general dignity.

3. Any commandement of God appointed as a path for us to walk in. Deut. 6. 2. That thou ſhouldſt keep all his Ordinances and Commandements. Gen. 26. 5. Thus Gods written Precepts are his Ordinances.

4. Obſervation, Mal. 3. 14. marg.

5. Tradi-

5. Tradition, 1 Cor. 11. 2. marg.

6. Ceremony, Heb. 9. 1. marg. Rite, or ceremony, Ib. 10. marg.

To change the Ordinances] To alter or turn rites and ceremonies inſtituted of God, from the right uſe for which they were ordained, whileſt they ſee not Chriſt in them, the ſubſtance of theſe ſhadows: and diſanulling the Covenant founded in the Meſſiah. Iſa. 24. 5. They have changed the Ordinances, and broken the everlaſting Covenant, and Act. 6. 14.

Ordinances everlaſting] The Ceremonies and Types of Chriſt, which are called everlaſting, becauſe in Chriſt (the truth of ſuch types) they have a perpetuall continuance. Exod. 12. 14. By an everlaſting ordinance.

Ordinary] I have diminiſhed thine ordinary food, Ezek. 16. 27. that is, have weakened thy eſtate, and taken away the abundance of my bleſſings from thee.

Oreb] A crow, pleaſant, a commander by faith, mingling together; or, the evening. A Prince of the Midianites, ſlain on the rock Oreb, Judg. 7. 25. Iſa. 10. 26.

Oren] A coffer, rejoycing; or, the ſlander of them. The Son of Jerahmeel, 1 Chr. 2. 25.

Organ] It hath the name in Hebrew, of lovelyneſſe and delight, and was a lovely or delightful inſtrument. It is one of the ancienteſt of the world, invented by Jubal, Gen. 4. 21. and an inſtrument of joy, Job 21. 12. & 30. 31. wherewith God was to be praiſed, Pſal. 150. 4.

Originall ſin] That tranſgreſſion which hath in it,

1. Adam's diſobedience imputed to us.
2. Want of his perfect righteouſneſſe.
3. Corruption of Nature.
4. Deſert of puniſhment, Pſa. 51. 5. Rom. 5. 12.

Orion] A ſtar, Job 9. 9. The Originall word ſignifies a fool, ſometimes; who as he is inconſtant, and one hour in one minde, and another hour in another, ſo this ſtar ariſing in the beginning of December, and beginning the Winter, produceth much variety of weather.

Orion is a Greek word, and comes from a verb that ſignifies to ſtir, or trouble, becauſe this ſtar troubles the air, and men alſo, by bringing alterations of weather by his great inconſtancie.

Ornament] A garniſhing, decking, or trimming.

Corporall, unlawfull, as the ornaments which were put upon molten images, Iſa. 30. 22. Alſo, which women wore, Iſa. 3. 18, 20. Superfluous, as the ornaments which were put upon the camels, Judg. 8. 22. Lawfull, as the ornaments uſed by the Bridegroome, Iſa. 61. 10. By the Bride, Jer. 2. 32.

Spirituall, Prov. 1. 9. & 4 9.

It's put for an adding, Prov. 1. 9. marg.

Ornan] (called alſo Araunah, 2 Sam. 24. 16.) Rejoycing, the light of the Sun, light; or, ſlander remaining for ever. A Jebuſite, 1 Chr. 21. 15.

Orphah] A neck, hinder part of the neck, ſtiffe-necked; the raiſing of the mouth, or the making bare of the mouth. The Daughter in law to Naomi, Ruth 1. 14.

Orphans] We are orphans and fatherleſſe, Lam. 5. 3. that is, are without King or Ruler, Hoſ. 3. 4. or, forſaken and left of God their Father, Deut. 32. 6. Iſa. 63. 16. & 64. 8.

O S.

Oſprey] Some take the Oſprey to be the ſame with the Oſſifrage; as if it were a changing of the word Osbreak into Oſpray. In Greek it ſignifieth a Sea Eagle, which is a bird of great bigneſſe, and of ſharp ſight, whereby diſcerning the prey in the water, he ſuddenly ſtriketh at it, and ſeiſeth on it. Annot. on Lev. 11. 13. Aynſworth on the ſame.

Oſtrich] Job 39. 13. A bird, which ſhews no pity to her young, verſ. 16. and maketh its neſts on tall and high trees, Pſalm 104. 17.

O T.

Other] Yet, Gen. 8. 10, 12. The ſecond, Dan. 8. 3. marg. The ſecond of the two, Gen. 32. 8. Divers, or of another ſort, Ib. 41. 4.

What other acceptations there are of this word, may be plainly perceived by the words going before and following after it.

Otherwiſe] Contrariwiſe. Gal. 1. 8. If I or an Angel preach to you otherwiſe.

Note, that there is nothing more contrary to free juſtification by faith, then to hold that we be juſtified by merit of works, yea ſuch works as be done by grace. See Rom. 11. 6. where Grace & Merit of works are oppoſed as contradictories, which cannot conſiſt, but the putting and affirming the one, is the denial of the other. Therefore both falſe Apoſtles in St. Paul's time, and hereticall Popiſh Teachers now, doe directly (in joyning works with grace, in the juſtification of a ſinner before God) croſſe and fight againſt againſt the doctrine of the Goſpel. It is worthy to be remembred and regarded what Chryſoſtom that golden-mouthed Doctor writ on theſe words of Gal. 1. 18. The Apoſtle (ſaith he) hath not thus written, if they preach contrary, or overthrow the whole Goſpel, but if they preach never ſo little as may be, otherwiſe then ye have received, yea if they corrupt or impair, let him be accurſed. Seeing all points of Chriſtian doctrine, which is neceſſary to ſalvation, be moſt fully and perfectly contained in the writings of Prophets and Apoſtles, it ſtrongly follows hereupon, that whatſoever is added thereunto, be it never ſo little, and under never ſo fair a pretence, that ſame is taught not onely beſide, but againſt them.

Othni] My time, or my hour. The Son of Shemajah, 1 Chr. 26. 7.

Othniel] The time or hour of God. The Son of Kenaz, Joſh. 15. 17.

O V.

Ouche] A circle of gold, wherein precious ſtones are ſo ſet, that they may be ſeen both above and beneath.

Ouches of gold, Exod. 28. 11. that is, hollow places, in which the ſtones were ſet faſt, as a Diamond in a Ring.

Oven] A place made to bake bread in, or to keep heat in, Lev. 2. 4. & 7. 9.

2. A place made to torment men in, Dan. 3. 15, 17.

3. A perſon filled with unnaturall luſt, as an Oven is with fire, Hoſ. 7. 4, 6.

4. A perſon filled with fire of Gods wrath, as an Oven with naturall fire, Pſal. 21. 9.

5. The day of Judgement (which is to be with fire, 2 Pet. 3. 10, 12.) Mal. 4. 1.

5. That which will eaſily conſume, Mat. 6. 30.

[Oven] The burning luſts of Adulterers. Hoſ. 7. 4. The Adulterers are as an oven heated. And verſ. 6. Their heart is ready as an oven.

2. The earneſt hot deſire of Innovation.

Fiery oven] Gods burning wrath, conſuming his enemies, Pſal. 21. 9.

Over] Upon, Gen. 1. 26, 28. To, or above, Ib. 27. 29. More, Exod. 16. 18. Of, Numb. 5. 30. Upon, 2 King. 5. 11. Could reſiſt, 1 Chr. 12. 14. marg. Fully, plentifully, abundantly, Pſal. 23. 5. Wholly, altogether, Pſal. 65. 13. Changed, or paſt away, Cant. 2. 11. For, Hoſ. 10. 5. More, Joh. 6. 13.

Overcharge] To burden, or load, Luk. 21. 34. Surfeiting, drunkenneſſe, and cares do commonly ſo overcharge, oppreſſe the drowſie ſoul, that it cannot look up to the things that concern the life to come.

To be chargeable unto, or to put one to charges, 2 Cor. 2. 5. 1 Theſſ. 2. 9. 2 Theſſ. 3. v. 8.

Overcome] Taken 1. properly, for, To ſubdue, vanquiſh, prevail againſt, Gen. 49. 19. Numb. 13. 30. Luk. 11. 22. Spoken of the evill Spirit, Act. 19. 16. And of the Beaſt, Rev. 11. 7. & 13. 7.

2. Figuratively, 1. for to weaken, Exod. 32. 18. marg.

2. To puffup, Cant. 6. 5. marg.

3. To break, Iſa. 28. 1. marg. and thus the drunkard is ſaid to be overcome with wine. See Jer. 23. 9.

4. Chriſts victory over all his enemies, Rev. 3. 21. Over the world, Joh. 16. 33. Over the ten horns, Rev. 17. 14.

5. The Saints victory, who overcome the devill by the blood of the Lamb, Rev. 12. 11. and evill with good, Rom. 12. 21. and the world by faith, 1 Joh. 5. 4.

Overflow] Spoken properly, of an inundation of waters, as of the water of the Red Sea, Deut. 11. 4. of Jordan, Joſh. 3. 15. of Noah's flood, 1 Pet. 3. 6. of the water that came out of the rock, Pſal. 78. 20.

Figuratively, 1. for the perſecutions of the wicked, Pſal. 69.

2. For deſtruction by the King of Aſſyria, Iſa. 8. 7, 8. & 10. 22. & Jer. 47. 2. or, Gods judgements, Iſa. 18. 2, 15, 17.

3. Great dangers, Iſa. 43. 2.

4. Prevailing, Dan. 11. 10. Over-running and overcoming, Ib. 26. Expelling and driving out, Ib. 40.

5. Plentifull bleſſings, Joel 2. 24.

The fats overflow, Joel 3. 13. that is, The malice of the world is grown to its height.

Overlay] Cover as with gold, Exod. 25. 11. Braſſe, Ib. 27. 2. Silver, Ib. 38. 17. Saphires, Cant. 5. 14.

Over-live] To live longer, or after, Joſh. 24. 31.

Over-much] More then is needfull, requiſite, or fitting, 2 Cor. 2. 7.

Be not righteous over-much, Eccl. 7. 16. that is, Be not thou too rigid and rigorous in exacting the extremity of juſtice upon every occaſion, neither do thou affect too much ſemblance and oſtentation of more juſtice and perfection then thou haſt, or canſt attain. Neither do thou arrogate more wiſdome to thy ſelf then is in thee; nor curiouſly ſeek and ſearch into thoſe myſteries which God would not have revealed. Be not too much bent on a thing, juſt in thine own opinion, but temper thy zeal with godly wiſdome. Adviſe with others, lean not to thine owne underſtanding; make not thy ſelf over-wiſe, as if thy own private judgement were ground enough to regulate all thy behaviour by: Flatter not thy ſelfe in any opinionative confidence of thine own ability to judge of all that is fit to be done, but think ſoberly of thy ſelf, Rom. 12. 3.

Be not over-much wicked, Eccl. 7. 17. that is, though there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his wickedneſſe, do not thou thereupon take courage to let looſe the reins to all luſt, or to make the impunity of others an encouragement to any exceſſe of wickedneſſe in thy ſelf. Every degree of wickedneſſe is too much, do not let thy ſelf looſe to any evil.

Over-paſſe] To goe away, remove, Pſal. 57. 1. Iſa. 26. 20. To exceed, goe beyond, Jer. 5. 28.

Over-plus] Lev. 25. 27. He that enjoyed the land, abating the mony for the yeers paſt, he that redeemed it was to pay for the yeers to come, according to the ſum received at the former contract of alienation. The Hebrews explain it thus: As if there remain unto the Jubile ten yeers, and he ſelleth him his field for an hundred crowns, and he that bought it, hath eaten of (the fruits of) it, three yeer, and then the ſeller would redeem it, he is to give 70 crowns, and the other is to reſtore him the field; thoſe 70 crowns being the overplus.

Over-run] To run faſter, more ſwiftly, 2 Sam. 18. 23.

Overſee] Conſiderately to look to, take care of, 1 Chr. 9. 29. 2 Chro. 2. 2. Set forward, 1 Chr. 23. 4.

Overſeer] One that hath charge and office for any buſineſſe; Civill, as Gen. 39. 4. 2 Chr. 2. 18. or Eccleſiaſticall, as Nehem. 12. 42. Act. 20. 28. Thus are Biſhops and Paſtors named, Overſeers and Super-intendents of the reſt; ſo called of their watchfulneſſe, care, and labour in teaching the people.

Overſhadow] This word is uſed to ſet forth the extraordinary manner of Gods power and preſence (who ſaid, that he would dwell in the thick darkneſſe, 1 King. 8. 12.) Mat. 17. 5. Luk. 1. 35. & 9. 34. God worketh as ſecretly, ſo wonderfully.

Overſight] The charge of, Numb. 4. 16. 2 Ki. 12. 11. An error, or miſtake, Gen. 43. 12.

Overſpread] Gen. 9. 19. that is, Peopled, planted or encreaſed with people.

For the overſpreading of abominations, Dan. 9. 27. or, with the abominable Armies; or, Wing of abominations: (Wing being taken for Armies, as Iſa. 8. 8.) meaning the Armies of the Heathen Romans, abominable to the Jews, in themſelves, and in their doings againſt them. Annot. on the place.

Overtake] To come at, Gen. 44. 4. To take hold on, Deut. 28. 2. It meaneth obtaining of all bleſſings, and effectuall applying of them for their good and comfort.

The like is ſaid of the curſes, v. 15. & 45. To come upon, Judg. 20. 42. Jer. 42. 16. To finde favour and aid, Hoſ. 2. 7. To prevent, Amos 9. 10. To ſeiſe upon, 1 Theſſ. 5. v. 4.

If a man be overtaken in a fault, Gal. 6. 1. that is, Taken before he is aware, or to be preſumed to be an offender, or taken before you; that is, publickly convicted of ſome fault or miſcarriage.

One out-reached or prevented by the deceit and ſleight of ſin and Satan, Gal. 6. 1.

Overthrow] This word noteth a ſudden, inevitable, and perpetual deſtruction, Gen. 19. 25. Jer. 20. 16. Lam. 4. 6. 2 Pet. 2. 6.

It ſignifieth alſo to conſume, demoliſh, break in pieces, Deut. 12. 3. To make fall, Pſal. 106. 27. marg. To thruſt away, Pſal. 140. 4. To turn away, or ſubvert, Prov. 18. 5. To undoe, Act. 5. 39. To caſt down, or overturn, Mat. 21. 12. To ſubvert, 2 Tim. 2. 18. Tit. 1. 11.

Overturn] To turn over and ruine, Judg. 7. 13. To lay level, or pluck up by the roots, Job 9. 5. To turn or change the face of a thing, Job 12. 15. To pervert, or make perverted, Ezek. 21. 27. marg.

Overwhelm] To cauſe to fall upon, Job 6. 27. marg. To cover, Pſal. 55. 5. marg. To cover over, Pſal. 61. 2. Aynſ. To ſwallow up, Pſal. 124. 3, 4. To make deſolate, Pſal. 143. 4.

Over-wiſe] Eccl. 7. 16. See in Over-much, where is ſhewed what over-wiſe meaneth.

Ought] noteth both a neceſſity, Luk. 24. 26. and a duty, Luk. 18. 1. Act. 5. 29. & 20. 35. Eph. 5. 28.

It's put for 1. Guilty, Joh. 19. 7. Act. 25. 24.

2. Very meet and reaſonable, Luk. 13. 16. Act. 24. 29. 2 Cor. 12. 11.

3. Appertain to, or bound unto, Act. 26. 9.

4. Right matter and manner, Rom. 8. 26. 1 Cor. 8. 2. 1 Theſſ. 4. 5.

Our] Spoken of ſociety or fellowſhip, Luk. 24. 22. Of the ſame Religion or profeſſion ſeſſion, Tit. 3. 14. Of temporall goods, or wealth, 2 Cor. 12. 14. Of internall, or ſpiritual riches, Luk. 16. 12. Of ſuch things as God hath appointed to ſerve for our edification and ſalvation, 1 Cor. 3. 22, 23.

Ours] that is, Belonging unto us, Gen. 26. 20. & 31. 16. 1 King. 22. 3. 1 Cor. 1. v. 2.

Out] From, 2 Sam. 7. 9. marg.

Put out, Numb. 16. 4. that is, bore out, marg.

Outcaſt] Pſal. 147. 2. or driven out; in Greek, the diſperſions, that is, the diſperſed, which word the Apoſtle uſeth, Jam. 1. 1. 1 Pet. 1. 1. comp. Deut. 30. 3, 4. Iſa. 11. 12. & 56. 8. Joh. 11. 52. Such as were driven out of their land for their ſins and exceſſes, Ezek. 11. 16. The people of God, whom their adverſaries conceited to be meer abjects, whom God had utterly caſt off and abandoned, whom neither God nor man regarded, Jer. 30. 17.

Out of] ſignifieth 1. The matter or ſubſtance borrowed or taken from another, Gen. 2. 23. or, borrowing of matter.

2. Separation or motion from ſome place, Mat. 2. 14. Joh. 13. 1. & 17. 15.

3. Separation or motion from ſome perſons, conditions, quality, or ſtate, Joh. 17. 6.

4. By, 2 Sam. 22. 9. marg. & Pſal. 18. 8. marg.

Out-goings] Thou makeſt the out-goings of the morning and the evening to rejoyce, Pſal. 65. 8. that is, Thou glorifieſt thy ſelf by the conſtant ſucceſſion of the day and night, and cauſeſt all the inhabitants of the earth, from the Sun-riſing to the ſetting of the Sun, to rejoyce and ſing unto thee, for the great works which thou haſt done.

Others by the out-goings of the morning, underſtand, men going with the morning light to labour, according to their ſeverall employments; and by the out-goings of the evening, wilde beaſts that wait for the darkneſſe, and then come abroad for prey, Pſal. 104. 20, 21, &c.

Others expound theſe out-goings, of the viciſſitude of day and night, and that admirable equipage of Sun and Moon, with other ſtars that belong unto them; wherein Gods great power and providence to men is ſeen as much as in any thing. See Jer. 31. 35. But why may not the morning and evening themſelves be ſaid to rejoyce? Pſal. 19. 5.

Out-landiſh] Born in another Countrey, not of the ſame Countrey, Neh. 13. 26.

Outſide] The outward part, that which is without, Judg. 7. 11. Mat. 23. 25, 26.

Out-ſtretched] Arm, hand, Jer. 21. 5. & 27. 5. For power exerciſed in a remarkable and conſpicuous manner. A tearm borrowed from the manner of ſtretching out the hand furniſhed with ſome offenſive weapon to ſtrike the enemy in fight, Exod. 6. 6. Pſal. 136. 12. Joſh. 8. 18, 19, 26. Iſa. 9. 12, 21.

Outragious] An overflowing, Prov. 27. 4. marg.

Outward] That of any thing which is viſible, conſpicuous, apparent, 1 Sam. 16. 7. 1 Pet. 3. 3.

O W.

Owe] To have right unto a thing, Lev. 14. 35. Act. 21. 11. To be bound unto the performance of a thing, or be in ones debt, Mat. 18. 28. Rom. 13. 8.

Owle] An unclean bird, Lev. 11. 16. It loveth to live in deſerts and ſolitary places, Job 30. 29. Pſal. 102. 6. Iſa. 34. 11, 13, 15. & 43. 20. It's of a cruell nature, Lam. 4. 3. and (as the name alſo implyes) makes a doleſull noyſe, Mic. 1. 8. (The word is rendred by ſome an Oſtrich (Job 30. 29. marg.) which is a great bird, of ſo heavy a body, that her wings will not bear her up in the air, and ſo they ſerve not for flying, but for flight, or running faſt on foot.) It's a night-bird, ſeldome ſeen in the day time, and then ſeeing but badly, being in the night of cleer ſight. It's an enemy to the Crow, whoſe eggs it deſtroyeth in the night, as the Crow doth the Owles eggs in the day time. When it flyeth abroad in the day, then doth other birds fly about it, to gaze at it, amongſt whom it uſeth ſo long ſo many divers and ridiculous geſtures, that in the mean time they are caught by the Fowler. When it's in danger of other birds, it's delivered by the Hawke. It's counted ominous, but falſly. The Aſiatick Tartarians have it in great eſteem, and judge it a lucky bird, for that their firſt Emperour Cingis Cham, being fled from his enemies, and hid under a buſh whereon an Owle ſat, his enemies not thinking that any lurked under it, he was preſerved.

Owne] Gods choſen in Chriſt, which Paul calls a peculiar people. Tit. 2. 14. Joh. 17. 10. All things are mine. Joh. 13. 1. Forasmuch as he loved his owne.

2. Such as bear the name of his people, to wit, the Iſraelites, with whom God had made a Covenant, and to whom he gave his Word and Sacrifices. Joh. 1. 11. He came unto his owne, and his owne received him not.

Owne, in this one ſentence, is referred in the firſt place unto things; for Judea, Jeruſalem, and the Temple were his owne: and unto the perſons in the ſecond place, where his owne ſignifieth the Jews, by a ſingular priviledge called and adopted to be his houſhold, and as it were his ſacred ſheepfold, to whom the Oracles of God were committed, Rom. 3. 2. See Rom. 9. 4. hereupon tearmed his peculiar, his treaſure, an holy Nation, &c. The whole world, and all which dwell in it be his owne.

3. That which belongeth to one, 1 King. 1. 33. marg. That whereof one is the Owner, and to whom it is due, Prov. 3. 27. mar. and that which pertaineth to him.

4. That which may befall one, 2 Chron. 6. 29.

Owne Son] Referred to God the Father, ſignifieth that peculiar perſon onely that is called Jeſus Chriſt, Rom. 8. 32. who is ſo called, and is indeed ſo:

1. In reſpect of his eternall Deity or Divine nature, viz. concerning his eternall perſonality therein, Joh. 3. 16. & 8. 38. 41.

2. In reſpect alſo of his Humane nature.

1. For the miraculous conception of it without all means, and immediately by the power of God, Luk. 1. 35.

2. Becauſe of the miraculous and moſt perfect and perpetuall union of it with the Divine nature, Joh. 1. 14. & 3. 13. for this maketh the Sacrifice of his humane nature ſo precious and powerful to redeem us, Act. 20. 28. 1 Pet. 1. 19. and it ſelfe ſo glorious, Phil. 2. 9, 10, 11. Eph. 1. 21, 22. 1 Pet. 3. 22.

O X.

Oxe] is a beaſt well known, and knoweth his Owner, Iſa. 1. 3. Uſed for ſacrifice, Ex. 24. 5. for ploughing the ground, 1 Ki. 19. 19. for treading or threſhing out the corn, Deut. 25. 4. for food, 1 King. 4. 23. Neh. 5. 18. for draught, 1 Chr. 13. 9. Abuſed to idolatry, Pſal. 106. 20. Act. 14. 13. to profaneneſſe, unſeaſonable, and unlawfull mirth, 1 King. 1. 9. Iſa. 22. 13. to keep back from Gods ſervice, Luk. 14. 19. to covetous ends, Joh. 2. 15. Feedeth on fodder, Job 6. 5. Graſſe, Ib. 40. 15. Straw, Iſa. 11. 7. He hath a good memory, and will not forget the man that pricketh him, whereas he will not ſtir at another. If diſeaſed, he wil nfect the reſt, unleſſe he be removed. It's ſaid ſo to love its fellow with whom it draweth in yoke, that being wanting, it ſeeketh him out with mourning.

As fooliſh and undiſcreet men ſtir up the occaſions of their owne harms, ſo the Oxe by raiſing up duſt blindeth its owne eyes.

Oxe: The Miniſter of the Word which laboureth in the Word and Doctrine. 1 Cor. 9. 9. Thou ſhalt not muzzle the mouth of the Oxe. Hath God care of Oxen?

O Y.

Oyl] The juyce of the Olive, which is naturall oyl. Pſal. 104. 15. And oyl to make the face of men to ſhine.

2. That oyl confected and made (by Gods appointment) to anoint the Prieſts, their garments, and holy things about the Tabernacle. Exod. 30. 25, 26. So thou ſhalt make of it the oyl of holy oyntment. This was artificiall and typicall oyl: A figure of thoſe gifts with which Chriſt beyond meaſure, and by him, his members in meaſure were furniſhed.

3. The holy Ghoſt with his ſpirituall gifts, whereby the ſoul is refreſhed and cheered. Pſal. 45. 7. Thou haſt anointed him with oyl of gladneſſe above his fellowes. This is ſpiritual oyl, as Mat. 25. 4. Oyle in their lamps.

4. That oyle wherewith the ſick were anointed in the Primitive Church, for healths ſake. Jam. 5. 12. Anoint them with holy oyl in the name of the Lord. This was miraculous oyl, given for a ſigne of health, not as a medicine; and it laſted but for a time, till the gift of miracles ceaſed. Therefore the imitation hereof by the Papiſts is abſurd and impious. For the gift being ceaſed, there is no ſenſe to uſe the ſigne; eſpecially at point of death, when there is no more hope of health.

5. A perſon anointed with oyl, to wit, Chriſt, upon whom the Spirit of the Lord reſteth, becauſe he hath anointed him. Iſa. 10. 27. The yoke ſhall be deſtroyed becauſe of the oyl, or anointing.

6. Sweet alluring words. Prov. 5. 3. Her mouth is ſofter than oyle.

Carefull endeavour of a good life, and to be furniſhed with good works, the fruits of faith, and of true and ſound profeſſion, Mat. 25. 4.

8. Plenty, Deut. 33. 24. Job 29. 6. which is therefore mentioned with Wine, Deut. 11. 14. 1 Chron. 12. 40. Corne, Deut. 14. 24. Hoſ. 2. 8. Joel 2. 19. Honey, Ezek. 16. 9, 13.

16.9,13. Balme, Ezek. 27.17. Wool, Hoſ. 2.5. 9. Joy, Pſal. 23.5. Eccl. 9.8. Iſa. 61.3.

There's I. Naturall oyl, Deut. 7.13. which was uſed with food, 1 King. 17.12. wherewith they anointed their bodies, Eſt. 2.12. Ezek. 16.9. Mic. 6.15. which they poured on the heads of friends, Amos 6.6. Luk. 7.46. Joh. 12.1. was a ſaleable commodity, 2 King. 4.7. Hoſ. 12.1. to make the face ſhine, Pſal. 104.5. for lights, Exod 25.6. and for wounds, Luk. 10.34.

II. Holy, Exod. 30.25, 26. (Excellent, Pſal. 141.5. Ezek. 41.14. Good, Pſal. 133.2.) which was uſed,

1. In conſecrating a place, Gen. 28.18. & 35.14. or perſon, 1 Sam. 10.1. & 16.1. 1 King. 1.39. 2 King. 9.6.

2. Offerings, Lev. 2.7, 15. & 14.24. Except that of Numb. 5.16.

3. Cleanſing, Lev. 14.16, 17.

III. Spirituall, Pſal. 45.7.

Oyl of gladneſſe] The Spirit of God, enabling us to comfort the weak-hearted, making our ſelves and others glad with his grace, Pſal. 45.7.

To anoint with oyl] 1. To furniſh and beautifie one with the gifts of the Spirit, Pſal. 45.7. Act. 10.38. God anointed Jeſus, that is, beſtowed gifts upon him in all fulneſs.

2. To be called and ordained of God to do his will. Iſa. 45.1. Cyrus my anointed.

3. To be furniſhed unmeaſurably from heaven with the holy Ghoſt and with power, to do the whole work of a Mediator, between God and man, ſo is Jeſus onely, therefore called Chriſt, that is, Anointed. Pſal. 45.7. God hath anoynted thee with oyl of gladneſſe, &c. Act. 10.38. Iſa. 10.27.

The firſt that ever we read of, to have conſecrated his offering with Oyl, was Jacob, Gen. 28.18. It was afterward appointed by Law to be ſo done: See Exod. 29.2, 3, 4. Which Ceremony ſignified theſe two things: One, that Chriſt was anointed and conſecrated to his office of Mediator, with fulneſſe of the holy Ghoſt. See Pſal. 45.8. Iſa. 61.1, 2. Heb. 1.9. Secondly, that the anointing of the Spirit, is that which makes us and all our ſervice acceptable to God, 2 Cor. 1.21.

Note. The effuſion and ſpreading abroad of ſpiritual gifts in all fulneſſe and moſt admirable plenty upon Chriſt our head, who had the graces of the Spirit above meaſure, Joh. 3.34. and by meaſure according to the free gift of Chriſt upon his members, Eph. 4.7, 15. is tearmed in Scripture anointing, Iſa. 61.1. Pſal. 47.5. Act. 10.38. 1 Joh. 2.20, 27. Alſo called the reſting of the Spirie upon Chriſt, Iſa. 11.2. and upon the Prophet Elias, 2 King. 2.15. and upon Eldad and Medad, Numb. 26. and upon all the Saints, 1 Pet. 4.14. which reſting, i.e. the abiding and dwelling of the Spirit on Chriſt the chief ſeat of the Spirits reſidence, was ſomewhat ſhadowed and ſignified in the dove reſting upon him at his baptiſme by John, Mat. 3.16. And note further, that he reſteth upon the faithfull as is convenient for the members, but on Chriſt as the head of the Church, in a far more excellency, which ſtandeth in theſe three things; for it reſteth on our Saviour, 1 Originally, as touching his ſubſtance, proceeding, and ſent both from him and the Father, Joh. 14. 2 Repletively and effectively working in him all graces in all perfection. 3 Communicatively diſtributing his gifts to others, Joh. 1.16. Eph. 4.8. which his members cannot do.

Whereas by the Law, Exod. 30.31, 32. none might anoint any fleſh with the holy Oyl, upon Excommunication: this did figure, that the reprobate, though they might be adorned with moſt excellent graces, yet ſhould never be oinment with the holy anointed of Sons and Prieſts of God. See 1 Joh. 2.16, 20.

Note further, that the uſe of oyl and anointing both before and after Moſes Law, was for ſanctifying and conſecrating to holy uſes the perſons and things ſo anointed, as Gen. 28.18. & 35.14. Exod. 40.9, 10, 11. And alſo for repreſenting the gifts of the holy Ghoſt upon Chriſt and his people, Pſal. 45.8, 1. Joh. 2.20, 27.

Rivers of oyl] Earthly things of all ſorts in great abundance. Job 26.6. The rock poured me out rivers of oyl: In Mich. 6.7. it ſignifieth Plentiful ſtore of oyl, onely.

Oyl-tree] Iſa. 41.19. that is, The tree of oyl, the Olive tree, whoſe fruit yeelded oyl, Exod. 30.24. Judg. 9.9. Rom. 11.17. Hence the ſucking of oyl out of the flinty rock, that is, from thoſe rocky places on which the Olive trees grew, Deut. 32.13. As it's a fat tree, Judg. 9.9. ſo it's alwayes green, Pſal. 52.8. Wherein it reſembleth Beleevers, by which the Jewiſh Church was named, in reſpect of the great dignity whereunto the Lord promoted her, Jer. 11.16. and beautifull, Hoſ. 14.6. Of its root, ſee Rom. 11.17. its branches, Deut. 24.20. Neh. 8.15. Iſa. 17.6. its flowers, Job 15.33. its leaves, Gen. 8.11. its berries, or fruit, Iſa. 17.6. & 24.13. Hag. 2.19. tearmed, the labour of the olive, Hab. 3.17.

Though the fruit hereof be ſweet and fat, and ſo uſefull both for food and phyſick, yet is its root and bark bitter. It's outward ſubſtance is hard, firm, and laſting, but inwardly it's full of moyſture. It loveth to grow in a temperate ſoil, neither too fat, nor too lean; too hot, nor too cold; and fructifieth beſt when the weather is fair and cleer. It needeth no pruning as the vine, but budding in the ſpring, yeeldeth its fruit towards the winter. In gathering the fruit, if the Olives be not pulled, but beat down, the tree proveth barren the next yeer. At one and the ſame time it beareth fruit unripe, which is green, ripe, being blackiſh, and between both, of a ruddy colour, but the blacker it appeareth outwardly, it is inwardly the riper, moyſter, and apter out of which to extract oyl. The fruit never ripeneth fully whilſt on the tree, but being gathered, & heaped together, doth. The fruit which is of a ruddy colour, is moſt wholſome and profitable for the ſtomach. The berries hereof whilſt they hang on the tree, conſume not, but are every day the better, and more hardly fall off. The leaves hereof were ſent by Ambaſſadors in ſigne of peace; and at Athens the Conquerours were crowned herewith. The Hart being ſick, feeding on the branches hereof, recovereth; as alſo do the Locuſts by the leaves.

Oyntment] The Spirit of illumination and diſcretion, enabling us to ſee and diſcern the truth of the Goſpel from all errors and lyes. 1 Joh. 2. 20. Ye have an oyntment, &c.

2. Chriſt, who is more ſweet to the ſoul than any oyntment can be to the ſenſes. Cant. 1. 3. He is an oyntment poured out.

The uſe hereof, as it was moſt profitable, ſo that Kings had their Confectioners, 1 Sam. 8. 13. and places wherein to keep their precious oyntment, 2 King. 20. 13. ſo it was,

1. Civill, or common, Eccl. 7. 1. Iſa. 57. 9. Mat. 26. 7.

2. Sacred, or holy; which was not uſed but for holy things, nor any ſuch to be made like it, Exod. 30. 25, 33.

3. Myſticall, Cant. 1. 3. & 4. 10.

The firſt ſort was abuſed, Amos 6. 6. Uſed by the Jews about their funerals, Luk. 23. 56. Reckoned amongſt the wares whereof myſticall Babylon ſhould be deprived, Rev. 18. 13.

O Z.

Ozem] The haſting of them, or faſting. The Son of Jeſſe, 1 Chr. 2. 15.

Ozen] The ſame. The Son of Jerahmeel, 1 Chr. 2. 25.

Ozni] An ear, my hearkening; or, a Goldſmiths ballance. The Son of Gad (called alſo Ezbon, Gen. 46. 16.) Of whom came the Family of the Oznites, Numb. 26. 16.

P A.

Paarai] A gaping, or an opening. An Arbite. One of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 35.

Pacifie] To appeaſe, quiet, allay, make calme, milde, or gentle. This with relation to God may be brought to paſſe by repentance, Ezek. 16. 63. With relation to Kings and Rulers, by the execution of juſtice, Eſt. 7. 10. and by yeelding, Eccl. 10. 4. which a wiſe man will effect, Prov. 16. 14. and is often effected by gifts, Prov. 21. 14.

Padan] Of the field. A place, Gen. 48. 7. which was in Syria, called therefore Padan-Aram, Gen. 25. 20.

Paddle] An inſtrument of iron, wherewith to dig an hole in the earth, wherein to bury their excrements, Deut. 23. 13.

Padon] His redemption; or after the Syrian, the yoke of an oxe, Ezr. 2. 44.

Pagiel] God hath met; the meeting, or the requiring pardon of God. The Son of Ocran, Numb. 1. 13.

Pahath-moab] A Duke of Moab. The Father of Haſhub, Neh. 3. 11. See 7. 11. & 10. 14. Ezr. 2. 6. & 8. 4.

Pai] (called Paul, Geneſ. 36. 36.) Howling, ſighing, or appearing. A City, 1 Chron. 1. 50.

Pain] 1. Travell in childe-birth, 1 Sam. 4. 19.

2. Bodily pain, or marring or ſpoyling of the body through grief; which laſt agrees with the nature of a dead body, which is capable of corruption, but not of pain, Job 14. 22.

3. Care, ſorrows, and pains, like a woman in travell, Job 15. 20.

4. A bodily diſeaſe, with grief of minde ariſing thereupon, Job 33. 19.

5. Straits and difficulties, Jer. 12. 13.

6. A ſad and diſconſolate condition, without hope or expectation of any change and alteration thereof for the better, Jer. 15. 18.

7. Grief, Jer. 51. 8.

8. Fear, Ezek. 30. 4. marg.

9. Sorrow, Rom. 8. 22.

The pains of death, Act. 2. 24. that is, the power of death, and band of the grave.

The pains of hell gat hold on me, Pſal. 116. 3. that is, I was as it were given up unto the ſtate of death. The ſtate of death, or the grave came upon me.

There's inward pain, Jer. 4. 19. and outward pain, in the fleſh, Job 14. 22. loyns, Iſa. 21. 3. upon the head of the wicked, Jer. 30. 23. There's pain perpetuall, Jer. 15. 18. and pain but for a while, Joh. 16. 21.

Paint] as an Whore, 2 King. 9. 30. as an Idolater, Jer. 4. 30. Ezek. 23. 40. as an ambitious perſon, Jer. 22. 14.

Painted wall] An Hypocrite, who ſeems to be that which he is not; a Wall which is rough and rotten, yet the painting makes a fair ſhew. Act. 25. 5. God will ſmite thee thou painted wall.

A pair] Luk. 2. 24. The word ζεῦγος, in Luk. 14. 19. is rendred a yoke, as conſiſting of two.

It's ſpoken alſo of ballances, Rev. 6. 5.

Palace] 1. Cæſar's Court, that is, the Perſons which dwelt therein, Phil. 1. 13.

2. A Kings houſe, Iſa. 39. 7. Dan. 1. 4.

3. The Temple of the Lord, 1 Chron. 29. 1, 19.

4. Gods Tabernacle in Shiloh, Jer. 7. 12.

5. Pleaſant places, Iſa. 13. 22.

6. Stately buildings, 2 Chron. 36. 19. Amos 1. 12.

7. The High-prieſts houſe, Matth. 26. 3, 58.

Palal] Thinking, or judging. The Son of Uzai, Neh. 3. 25.

Pale] Iſa. 29. 22. Heb. White, for though the Verb be no where elſe read, yet the Nounes derived from it, are elſewhere found, and ſo ſignifie, Eſt. 1. 6. & 8. 15. Dan. 7. 9.

In Jer. 30. 6. the word properly implyeth the colour of corn blaſted, Deut. 28. 22.

The Old Latine rendreth it by a word that ſignifieth the diſeaſe commonly called the Yellow jaundies.

It comes eſpecially through the extremity of fear, Joel 2. 6.

Paleſtina] The Land of the Philiſtins, bordering upon Judea, and great adverſaries to Iſrael. Iſa. 14. 29. Rejoyce not Paleſtina.

It ſignifieth ſtrowed or covered, viz. with aſhes or duſt; or, decay put to, a double decay, or the drink of decay; or, he fell drinking.

Pallu] Marvelous, wonderfull, or hidden. The Son of Reuben, Gen. 46. 9. Of whom came the family of the Palluites, Numb. 26. 5.

Palm] The hollowneſſe of the hand, being halfe open, and halfe ſhut, Lev. 14. 15, 16.

Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands, Iſa. 49. 16. or, I have drawn thee (pourtrayed thee, as Ezek. 4. 1.) on my hands, as Pſal. 119. 48. Lam. 3. 41. An alluſion, as ſome, to the manner of thoſe that ſet ſome mark, or tye ſome ſtring upon their hand, or about ſome of their fingers, to minde them of ſome buſineſſe, that they may not forget it. See Exod. 13. 16. Prov. 6. 21. Or, as others, to the manner of builders, that uſe to draw models of thoſe ſtructures that they intend to erect.

It ſeems to point out Gods carefull providence.

In 1 Sam. 5. 4. & 2 King. 9. 35. it's taken for the whole hand, as in Joh. 18. 22. it may be for a rod, marg.

Palmer-worm] A noyſome worm, devouring the fruit of the earth, Joel 1. 4. Amos 4. 9. One of Gods great Army, Joel 2. 25. The originall גזם is by Ab. Eſra derived (ſaith Buxtorf.) of גזם, which ſignifieth, to clip, bite off, cut, or crop, for ſo doth the Palmer-worm, the vineyards, fig-trees, olive-trees, &c. Amos 4. 9. Their place of reſidence is uncertain, as alſo their food. They wander from place to place, and are therefore tearmed Palmer-worms, ſtill feeding on what's not their owne.

Palm-tree] It's upright and tall of ſtature, beareth ſweet fruits, and hath the leaves alwayes green and flouriſhing, being good for ſhadow, Pſal. 92. 12. Cant. 7. 7, 8. Jer. 10. 5. It groweth not but where ſweet waters are, and laſteth a long time. The wood cannot be preſſed down or broken by any weight. The branches hereof were anciently taken as enſignes of victory. See Joh. 12.13. Rev. 7. 9. The Original תמר ſignifieth alſo a Date-tree, ſo that we may judge the Palm and the Date tree to be one & the ſame. In the Greek it is φοῖνιξ, Joh. 12.13. Rev. 7. 9. from the Phœnix (ſaith one) becauſe it liveth ſo long. Whence Phœnicia, from the abundance of Palms there growing. And it is thus named from the colour, for the Palm, and its juice, is reddiſh. Both its leaves, branches, and fruit are uſefull in Phyſick. (Of artificiall Palm-trees, ſee in 1 King. 6. 29, 32, 35. & 7. 36. 2 Chr. 3. 5. Ezek. 40. 16, 22, 26, 31, 34, 37. & 41. 18, 20, &c.) The Elephants do much love the fruit of this tree, but the bark hereof being very hard and prickly, the fruit is not got without difficulty. The leaves of the Palm are formed like a ſword, and ſet in manner of a Pyramis, long, ſmooth, thick ſet, flexible, joyned together, fit whereof to make baskets, bending upwards towards heaven. Its root is round, and groweth deep in the ground. Its fruit is ſweet, and the riper it is, it is the fuller of moyſture; and the more it hath of the Sun, the more ſavoury. It's fruitfull if it be ſet in a lean ſandy ſoyl, hot Countrey, and not be alone, but have another ſet by it. Of theſe, the one muſt be male, from whence the winde paſſing through the female, it fructifieth, which (if the male be cut down) waxeth barren within two dayes, but if the leaves or flowers of the male be ſprinkled about it, it again fructifieth. The older it is, the better is its fruit, nor is it fruitfull, till it be an hundred yeers old. If its fruit be not fully ripe, it's not fit to be eat, but is harmfull.

There is one kinde of Palm, whereof (as it's ſaid) there's but one onely in the world, which doth not multiply, as the others do, but when through age it's quite ſpent and gone, then doth it again revive and recover of it ſelf. Whence it's ſaid that the Phœnix (which in Greek is the ſame with the Palm) taketh its name.

Palſie] A diſeaſe wherein the one halfe of the body, either the right ſide or the left, doth loſe both ſenſe and moving; or, wherein ſome part of the body, as the hand, leg, tongue, &c. is deprived of feeling, or moving, or both.

Hereof our Saviour cured one that was diſeaſed, who kept his bed, Matt. 8. 6. as Peter alſo (through the power of Chriſt) did on one who had kept his bed eight yeers, Act. 9. 33.

Palti] Deliverance, or baniſhment. The Son of Raphu, Numb. 13. 9.

Paltiel] Deliverance, or baniſhment of God. The Son of Azzan, Numb. 34. 26.

Paltite] Helez thus named, 2 Sam. 23. 26. named alſo the Pelonite, 1 Chr. 11. 27.

Pamphylia] A Province of Aſia, Act. 2. 16. The Greek word is compounded of πᾶς all, and φυλὴ a Tribe. A Nation made up of every Tribe.

Pan] A veſſell of iron, Ezek. 4. 3. or braſſe, Exod. 27. 3. Whoſe uſe was both common, 2 Sam. 13. 9. and ſacred, whether for baking or boyling, 2 Chr. 35. 13.

The word is alſo rendred a flat plate, 1 Chr. 23. 19. or ſlice, 1 Chr. 9. 31. marg.

Pangs] Such as women in childe-birth have, Iſa. 13. 8. & 21. 3. & 26. 17. So in the other places of Scripture where this word is mentioned.

Pannag] Roſen, or balſam. Some take it for the name of a Countrey, Ezek. 27. 17.

Pant] 1. To throb or beat about, through trouble or diſtemper, Pſa. 38. 10.

2. To bray, Pſal. 42. 1. marg.

3. To be out of breath, Pſal. 119. 131. It imports his great zeal towards the Word, the Metaphor being taken from thoſe that run after a thing they earneſtly deſire, till they be out of breath.

4. To wander, Iſa. 21. 4. as 29. 24. & 53. 6. or ſtagger, ch. 28. 7. or flutter to and fro, as another word like for notion to this, and in the like caſe uſed, Pſal. 38. 10.

It's ſpoken of the heart, not able for fear to keep in its proper place, and poſture, Iſa. 21. 4.

5. Earneſtly to deſire, and by all means endevour for, Amos 2. 7.

Paper] That wherein uſually any thing is committed in writing, 2 Joh. 12. Till it was found out, the leaves and bark of trees were uſed, things alſo were in leaden volumes. Of old it was made of reed, cane, or bulruſh, Iſa. 19. 7.

Paphos] Act. 13. 6. A City of Cyprus, built by Paphus, and dedicated to Venus. Here the Maidens uſed before their marriage, in the honour of Venus to proſtrate themſelves on the Sea-ſhore. Here were Elymas the Sorcerer, and Sergius Paulus, Act. 13. 7, 8.

Paps] A womans teats or dugs, Luk. 11. 27. & 23. 29.

Girt about the paps, Rev. 1. 13. that is, about the middle. As their manner was to keep keep their ſide garments from ſweeping the ground, and hindering them in going, Exod. 29. 9. Luk. 12. 35.

Parable] A ſimilitude or compariſon fetched from earthly things which be in common uſe, to help our underſtanding in ſpirituall things, Matth. 22. 21. Luk. 16. 3. Then ſpake he this parable, &c. And elſewhere often.

It ſignifies a ſong which is in the mouth of every one, Iſa. 14. 4. Numb. 21. 17.

A dark ſpeech, and (as it were) a riddle, when the truth is wrapt up in obſcure and hard words, or uttered in wiſe and Princely ſentences. Mat. 13. 13. He ſpake to them in parables. Pſal. 49. 4. I will incline my ear to a parable, and utter my dark ſaying upon the Harp. Joh. 16. 29. Now ſpeakeſt thou plainly, and not in a Parable. In good part.

A ſpeech may be a Parable or dark, either in the matter or in the manner thereof. And again, either by the ſpeakers purpoſe, or by the hearers fault; and this, either by his former ill deſert, as Matth. 13. 11, 12. or by his preſent defect and averſeneſſe, Mat. 13. 13, 14, 15.

3. Grave and ſhort ſentences and words, ſerving to direct our life and actions, Pro. 1. 1. The Parables of Solomon the Son of David.

4. Alſo, for a by-word, reproach, and fable, Pſal. 44. 14. & 69. 11. Job 17. 6. In evill part.

5. A proverb, Joh. 16. 29. See marg.

Paradiſe] That moſt pleaſant and fruitfull Garden, wherein Adam and Eve were placed in the Creation, Gen. 2. This is earthly Paradiſe.

2. The third heaven, which for the fulneſſe of pleaſure and joy, is called Paradiſe. 2 Cor. 12. 2, 4. He was taken up into Paradiſe. Luk. 23. 43. This day thou ſhalt be with me in Paradiſe. This is Celeſtial Paradiſe, Rev. 2. 7. Some to avoyd the paſſage of Chriſts ſoul with the Theeves immediately upon their death, going to heaven, have expounded (groſſely) Paradiſe to be Hell: Others have thought that Chriſt in his ſoul went firſt to heaven, and after to Hell, to triumph.

Parah] A Cow, encreaſing, or ſtirring up. A City, Joſh. 18. 23.

Paramours] Concubines, Ezek. 23. 20. Hereby are underſtood the neighbouring Nations adhering to the Ægyptians, and imitating their idolatry.

Paran] Fairneſſe, praiſe, or off-ſprings. A Wilderneſſe, Gen. 21. 21. A Mount, Deu. 33. 2.

Parcell] A part, piece, quantity, or portion, Gen. 33. 19. Ruth 4. 3.

Parched] Spoken of Corn, Ruth 2. 14. which was an uſuall food in thoſe Countreys, 1 Sam. 17. 17. 2 Sam. 17. 28. Spoken alſo of the ground, Iſa. 35. 7.

Parchments] 2 Tim. 4. 13. μεμβρανα (a Latine word) The outward skin which covereth the members, called from the place of its invention, pergamena; and from the materials thereof, being Sheep-skins, membrana; called in Engliſh, parchment, becauſe they are skins parched and dryed. It's like that Paul had writ ſome remarkable things in his parchments, for which he now ſent.

Pardon] Spoken of tranſgreſſion, Exod. 23. 21. Iniquity and ſin, Ib. 34. 9.

It's all one with to Forgive, acquit, doe away iniquity, cover, not impute ſin, heal, blot out, have mercy, remember ſin no more, &c.

Pare] To make, or dreſſe. Spoken of the nails, which being pared, are as it were fitly made, or dreſſed, Deut. 21. 12.

Parents] Father and Mother which beget and bring forth children. Eph. 6. 1. Children obey your Parents.

2. Forefathers, or Anceſtors, which were alive and are dead. Pſal. 45. 16. In ſtead of Parents (ſo Tremelius reads it) thou ſhalt have Children; that is, when Forefathers are dead, their poſterity ſhall come in their ſtead, and thus thou ſhalt alwayes continue.

Parlour] Judg. 3. 20. that is, a parlour of cooling, wherein uſually in thoſe hot Countreys they did refreſh themſelves, as we in our banqueting houſes.

Parnach] A bull ſmiting, or ſmit, or broken. The Father of Elizaphan, Numb. 34. 25.

Parosh] A flea, or gnat. The Father of Pedaiah, Neh. 3. 25. See Ezr. 2. 3. Neh. 7. 8. & 10. 14.

Parſhandatha] One of the Sons of Haman, Eſt. 9. 7.

Part] An inheritance parted, ſhared out, dealt unto one, Pſal. 16. 5. The word is generally uſed for Lands, Cities, Goods, Spoyls, that are ſhared out: it hath reference to the Law of the Prieſts which had no part among the people, for the Lord was their part and inheritance. Numb. 18. 20. The Lord is his Prieſts part and ſhare. Jer. 10. 16. & 51. 19.

2. And

2. And again, his people are called his Part, Deut. 32.6. It ſignifies alſo fellowſhip, Act. 8.21.

3. It ſignifieth Sect, Diviſion, or taking of parts, Act. 23. 9.

4. Any thing in generall, good or bad, which may be divided or diſtinguiſhed from another thing, Luk. 20. 42.

5. A company, or band, 2 King. 11.7. marg.

Fourth part] 1 King. 6. 33. that is, fourſquare, marg.

Greateſt part] 1 Chron. 12. 29. put for Multitude, marg.

In part] Not wholly nor perpetually, but partly, for a certain time, Rom. 11.25.

Lower parts of the earth] The earth which is the loweſt part of the world, being ſeated under the water as the heavyeſt and moſt maſſie Element. Eph. 4. 9. He deſcended firſt into the loweſt parts of the earth. Some expound this of the Virgins wombe, and of Chriſts incarnation therein, not amiſſe, for Chriſt is here commended for humbling himſelf in our fleſh.

Others do refer this to Chriſt his locall deſcenſion into hell, which they determine to be in the middle or belly of the earth: but the firſt expoſition is ſoundeſt, and fitteſt, as appeareth by the antitheſis or oppoſition between his aſcending on high, far above all heavens, and his deſcending into the lower parts of the earth; which plainly proveth that here is meant not the deſcenſion of his ſoul from the higher parts of the earth into hell, (as ſome would have it) but the debaſing of his Godhead for a time, from the higher parts of heaven into the earth, which is the nethermoſt part of the world, where he walked and lived amongſt men, being ſeen, felt, and heard, 1 Joh. 1.1. 2 Joh. 1. 24.

To part] 1. To deliver between, 2 Sam. 14. 6. marg.

2. To ſeparate, Ruth 1. 17.

3. To ſhare or divide into equall portions, 1 Sam. 30. 24. Pſal. 22. 18.

4. To disjoyn, Luk. 24. 51.

5. To diſtribute, Act. 2. 45.

Parting] Ezek. 21.21. Heb. Mother, marg.

Partaker] It's all one with To be united with, To eat of, To have fellowſhip with, or keep company with, to have ones portion with, Pſal. 50. 18. marg.

Partaker of other mens ſins] Either to make their ſins to be the ſins of Timothy, which ſhould by him be unworthily admitted into the function of Miniſters, whoſe faults in doctrine and life, in not teaching at all, or not teaching well and diligently, ſhall be communicated with ſuch as ordain them: or elſe it may be meant of ſuch Elders ſins, as were raſh in chooſing unworthy men, 1 Tim. 5. 22.

Parthians] Flyers for fear, or baniſhed men. The inhabitants or people of Parthia, Act. 2. 9.

Partial] One which raſhly preferreth one before another, as in Jam. 2. 4. and is not without wrangling, Jam. 3. 17. marg. and accepteth faces, Mal. 2. 9. marg.

In particular] Every one for himſelfe, according to the duty of his function. 1 Cor. 12.27. You are members in particular.

Parties] The Challenger, and whom he challengeth, Exod. 22. 9.

Partition] A wall which divided the Moſt holy place, from the Holy place, 1 King. 6. 21. or, between the outward Court of the Gentiles, and that of the people, which hindred all paſſage, ſight, and communion between them, Ezek. 43. 20. Hereunto alluſion is made by the Apoſtle, Eph. 2. 14. where it's ſaid, that Chriſt hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us.

By the Ceremonies and worſhip appointed by the Law, the Jews were divided from the Gentiles, which being taken away by Chriſt, he joyneth them both together, both in himſelf and between themſelves, and to God. Through him then the Gentiles have a free acceſſe now by the Goſpel, unto the Church, and the benefits thereof.

Partner] One in communion and fellowſhip in temporall things, lawfull, Luk. 5. 7, 10. Unlawfull, Prov. 29.24. In ſpirituall, 2 Cor. 8. 23. Philem. 17.

Partridge] A bird, whoſe fleſh ſtrengtheneth the ſtomach, and breedeth good blood, hunted after even in the mountaines, 1 Sam. 26. 20. The males in ſtead of the females do often couple together, he that hath vanquiſhed the other, thus againſt Nature abuſing his fellow. The male is ſo libidinous, that it breaketh the eggs which the female layeth, that he may ſtill enjoy her company, for the prevention whereof the female is very careful. Its own eggs being broken, ſhe taketh others out of other neſts, but the young ones which come thereof forſake her, her ſtolen goods for which ſhe hath cared ſo much, profit not, Jer. 17. 11. Its young ones being in danger of the Hunter, ſhe doth as it were offer her ſelf to be caught by him, her young ones in the mean time making an eſcape, as thereafter ſhe alſo doth. It cannot fly far from the earth, nor having few feathers, feathers, and much flesh, can continue, but speedily lighteth again. Whilest it seeketh to escape the Spar-hawke, it becometh often a prey for the Hunter. By means of a tame Partridge, store of wilde Partridges may be caught, for by the voyce of the tame Partridge, the others are intangled in the net one after another.

Parbah] Fresh, or flourishing; or after the Syrian, flying. The Father of Jehoshaphat, 1 King. 4. 17.

Parbaim] The proper name of a Countrey, where the most precious gold was had, 2 Chr. 3. 6.

Parash] Thy broken piece, or thy diminishing. The Son of Japhlet, 1 Chr. 7. 33.

Pas-dammim] A portion, or diminishing of blood. A place, 1 Chr. 11. 13.

Paseah] A passing over, or an halting. The Son of Eshton, 1 Chr. 4. 12. See Ezr. 2. 49. The Father of Jehojada, Neh. 3. 6.

Pashur] Encreasing liberty, or spreading out whiteneſſe. The Son of Malchijah, 1 Chr. 9. 12. See Ezr. 2. 38. & 10. 22. Neh. 7. 42. & 10. 3. The Son of Immer, Jer. 20. 1. The Son of Melchiah, Jer. 21. 1. & 38. 1.

Passage] The direct and neereſt way whereby to go from place to place, whether by land, as the Straits between the Hills neer Michmash, 1 Sam. 13. 23. & 14. 1, 4, 5. or water, as the Fords of Jordan, Judg. 12. 6.

Passe] The words prefixed, came, come, not; and annexed hereunto, away, by, from, not, over, toward, &c. point out the meaning.

Passe away] Goe away, Est. 4. 17. marg. Turn away, Psal. 90. 9. marg.

Passenger] A traveller by the way, whether by sea or land. One that passeth from place to place, Ezek. 39. 15. One going on his way, Prov. 9. 15.

Passeover] The Lamb slain and eaten, which is called the Passeover, becauſe it was a signe of God his passing over the houses of the Israelites, when he slew the first born of Ægypt. Exod. 12. 11. For it is the Lords Passeover. 2 Chr. 5. 1. Exod. 12. 25, 26, 27. Deut. 16. 3. Mat. 26. 17, 18. Christ eat the Passeover, &c. This is the Typical and Sacramental Passeover.

2. Christ, by whose death we escape the wrath to come. 1 Cor. 5. 7. Christ our Passeover is slain for us. This is our Spirituall paschall Lamb, who was the substance of the Jewish Passeover, and of all other legall Sacraments and Types.

In the first Passeover, three things were extraordinary: First, the sprinkling of blood on the dore posts, signified the sprinkling of Christs blood, 1 Pet. 1.

Secondly, the eating with loynes girt, staves in their hands, signified, the leaving off all uncleanneſſe, 1 Pet. 1. 13, 14.

Thirdly, their tarrying in the house til the morning, whereunto Isaiah alludes, ch. 17.

Note further, touching the Passeover, that the first and last day was an holy convocation, to signifie, that all our life, from the beginning to the end, ought to be holy, 1 Cor. 5. 7.

The Jewish Passeover was an holy action ordained of God, in the killing and eating of a Lambe, partly to the end the Jewish Church might keep in memory the benefit which God did for them in the Land of Ægypt, when he passed over their houses, and slew the first born both of man and beast, of the Ægyptians. Also, to be a Testimony of Gods good will towards them, and to be a Type of Christ the true Paschal Lamb. Moreover to gather all the partakers thereof into the fellowship of one body: and finally, to put them in minde to be thankfull and innocent in their conversation.

1. It was called the Passeover; becauſe the destroying Angel passed over all their houses, whose dore-posts were stricken with the blood thereof, and wherein the same was eaten, Exod. 12. 27. So is Christ called, becauſe Gods wrath passes over all them whose souls are sprinkled with his blood, and truly by faith feed upon him, 1 Cor. 5. 7.

2. It was killed before Israel was delivered, Exod. 12. 6. So Christ behoved to suffer, before we could be redeemed, Act. 17. 2.

3. It was killed before Moses Law, or Aaron's Sacrifices were enjoyned, To shew that by none of them, but by the true Passeover, that Lamb of God killed from the beginning, deliverance comes to mankinde, Rom. 3. 25. Heb. 9. 14.

4. It was killed, and to be killed yeerly, the first moneth of the yeer, when the day lengthening, and the Sun ascending, every thing beginneth to revive, Exod. 12. 2. To shew that by the true Passeover, not onely is our time and all other things sanctified, but that also we should in recent remembrance of that benefit of our redemption, all our dayes and yeers be thankful to our gracious Redeemer, and that by his death true life and reviving came unto mankinde, Eph. 5. 4, 20.

5. It

5. It was ſlain the 14th. day, which was the fourth day after the ſeparation thereof, Exod. 12. 6. which was then full Moon, ſhadowing, that then Chriſt ſhould ſuffer, when the fulneſſe of Ceremoniall light was in him accompliſhed, and in his death, to make a full period, ever thereafter to decay; as alſo to ſhew,

1. That inſtantly after his birth, our Paſſeover ſhould not be ſacrificed, till the appointed hour; and,

2. That as thereby they were taught to prepare themſelves to the eating thereof, ſo ſhould we to the eating of our Lamb, by true faith and repentance, 1 Cor. 11. 28.

6. In the evening the Paſſeover was kill'd, Exod. 12. 18. ſhewing thereby, that in the latter time Chriſt ſhould ſuffer; and as at night there is darkneſſe, and all at reſt; ſo when all mankinde was ſitting in darkneſſe of minde and life, and all the world at a generall outward reſt of peace, then ſhould our Saviour come and ſuffer.

As alſo the killing thereof at Even, did ſhew, how that as at Even the Sun ſetteth, ſo it was the Sun of righteouſneſſe that was to ſuffer and dye, and at his Paſſion that univerſall darkneſſe ſhould be upon the whole earth, Luk. 23. 44.

There are ſeverall other particulars (the number of the whole being 34.) ſhewing the reſemblance between Chriſt and the Paſſeover; as alſo ſome others, ſhewing their diſparity or difference: Whereof ſee Mr. Guild in his Moſes unvailed, p. 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66.

Whether Chriſt did celebrate the Paſſeover at the very ſame time, and on the very ſame day wherein the Iews did, is controverted between Baronius, who holdeth the Affirmative, and Caſaubonus, who holdeth the Negative; whereof ſee a little Tract, entituled, Johannis Cloppenburch. Amſtelodamenſis Epiſtola, ad virum Cl. D. Ludovicum de Dieu, printed 1634.

Paſſion, or ſuffering] A ſuffering, or any thing that is painful and grievous unto us.

2. The whole ſuffering and affliction of Chriſt in his body and ſoul, but eſpecially that which he ſuffered about the time of his death. 2 Pet. 1. 11. Should declare the ſufferings (or paſſions) ſhould come to him. Pathema in the Greek.

3. The ſufferings which Chriſts members endure for his ſake. Col. 1. 24. To fulfill the reſt of the paſſions of Chriſt. 1 Pet. 4. 13. Ye are partakers of Chriſts paſſions, or ſufferings.

4. Every motion of the minde being out of his due courſe, and every ſinfull affection; which are called Paſſions, becauſe they pierce the minde, and make it ſuffer grief. Rom. 7. 5. The affections (or paſſions) of ſin, &c. For the word in the Originall is Pathemata.

Paſſions] Both naturall and ſinfull infirmities. Jam. 5. 17. Elias was a man ſubject to like paſſions as we be. Act. 14. 15.

Paſt] Ecc. 3. 15. that is, Driven away. marg.

Paſtour, or Shepheard] A Shepheard, which keepeth watch over a flock of Sheep, to ſee them fed with good paſture, and kept ſafe from wilde beaſts, and all other evils, Luk. 2. 8. Gen. 47. 3. Thy ſervants are Shepheards.

2. Chriſt, the chiefe Shepheard of our ſouls, who having fed and taught his flock, in his owne perſon, did afterward give his life for his ſheep; and now being in heaven, doth continually feed them by his Miniſters, and protect them by his power. Joh. 10. 11. That good Paſtour (or Shepheard) gives his life for his ſheep. 1 Pet. 2. 25. And returned to the Paſtour and Biſhop of our ſouls, Jeſus Chriſt.

There be two works of worldly Shepheards to their flocks: 1. Feeding. 2. Cauſing them to lie down, or to reſt, Gen. 29 2. both theſe Chriſt performeth to his people, Cant. 1. 6. Pſal. 23. 1, 2. Ezek. 34. 15.

3 Every true Miniſter of Chriſt ſet over a particular flock, to rule and feed it with the healthfull Word of God, as with the green paſtures. Eph. 4. 11. Some Paſtors and Teachers. Act. 20. 20.

4. A King, that hath the overſight and government of a Kingdome, as a Shepheard of his flock. Iſa. 44. 28. I ſaid to Cyrus, Thou art my Shepheard. See Jer. 22. 22.

5. God himſelf caring for his people, and watching over them, as a Shepheard over his flock. Pſal. 23. 1. The Lord is my Shepheard.

6. The enemies of the Jews, Jer. 6. 3. & 12. 20.

7. Bad Miniſters, in name Paſtors, but not in truth, Iſa. 46. 11. Jer. 2. 8. Ezek. 34. 1, 5, 7, 8, 10. Zech. 10. 1. & 11. 8, 15, 16, 17.

Paſture] 1. The feeding place of cattel, whether the Mountains, Job 39. 8. Wilderneſſe, Pſal. 65. 12. Joel 2. 22. or elſewhere.

2. Canaan, where God placed his people, as ſheep in a paſture, Ezek. 34. 14. Hoſ. 3. 16. or, it may ſignifie his Church and ſpirituall Kingdom of Chriſt, Pſ. 74. 1. & 79. 13. & 95. 7.

3. Food, and ſupply of livelyhood corporl and ſpiritual, Pſal. 23. 2.

4. Spiritual nouriſhment under Chriſt, Joh. 10. 9.

Green

Green pasture] All things belonging to spirituall and bodily rest and refreshing Psal. 23. 2. He makes me to rest in green pastures. Spirituall good things and eternall.

Patara] White-limed, or bringing death. A City of Lysia a Province in Asia.

Pate] Psal. 7. 16. that is, crown, scalp, or top of the head.

Upon his pate, that is, abundantly and apparently in the view of all.

Pattern] 1. The form or fashion shewed of God to Moses in the Mount, after which he must make all things, as well the Tabernacle as the Instruments. Exod. 25. 9. After the pattern of the Tabernacle, so ye shall make all things. The perpetuall equity of this Law was, that there be no part of Gods worship and service taken up in the Church, but by Gods appointment. All will-worship and mens inventions are hereby condemned.

Accordingly David gave to Solomon his Son the pattern of all that he had by the Spirit, touching the building of the Temple, 1 Chr. 28. 11, 12, 13, &c. Against this, both Ahaz transgressed, and Urijah the Priest, 2 King. 16. 10.

2. The sum or number, Ezek 43. 10. marg.

3. So cleer and evident an information or demonstration of some thing or doctrine, as if it were by the pencill expressed in colours. A Metaphor taken from Painters, who first draw after a pattern; or, from a Carpenter that works by rule: Or, a form of teaching prescribed by Paul, and followed by Timothy, both in doctrine and practise, in word and deed, 2 Tim. 1. 13. 1 Tim. 1. 16.

4. Such a mark as men use in printing: a form made by ingraving, impression, or any kinde of beating, such as we see in stamps, seals, or signets. A minister must be a pattern, that is, such a thing as makes the stamp on the coyn; a pattern of good works, Tit. 2. 7.

Path] Spoken I. of God, being put for,

1. The order of life, wayes, and manners, which God prescribeth in his Word, his precepts, Psa. 25. 4. & 17. 5. & 119. 35.

2. His mercy and truth, Psal. 25. 10.

3. The clouds holding rain, Psa. 65. 11.

4. Eternall life, Psal. 16. 11.

5. The works of his providence, Psal. 77. 19.

II. Of godly men, being put for,

1. Their doing & conversation, Pr. 2. 20.

2. Their works, Job 13. 27.

3. Countenance, Job 19. 8.

4. Matters taken in hand, Pro. 3. 6.

5. Course of life, Job 33. 11.

6. Room and place to dwell in, Isa. 58. 12.

7. Their thoughts, words and deeds, Psa. 119. 105. A light to my paths.

III. Of the wicked, being put for, Their sinfull practises, Isa. 59. 7. and works, Psal. 17. 4. Prov. 7. 25.

To shew the path of life] To raise or stir up one out of the darknesse of death, that Christ by faith may live in them, who before were dead in trespasses and sins. Ps. 16. v. last. Thou shewest (or makest known) to me the paths of life.

Straight paths] Either his doctrine and Precepts wherein we walk and come to him; or his providence and works of mercy and justice, wherein he comes to us. Mar. 1. 3. Make his paths straight.

To weigh the paths of the just] To temper all things which happen to the just, well or ill, in a most just and equall sort, more evenly then with any weight or ballance. Isa. 26. 7. Thou dost weigh the paths of the just.

Pathros] A morsell of dough; a perswasion of decay; or an inlarging of distilling from the head. A Countrey, Jer. 44. 1.

Pathrusim] The same. The Son of Mizraim, Gen. 10. 14.

Patience, or forbearance] A suffering and bearing long with such as doe provoke us, waiting till they amend. Mat. 18. 29. Have patience with me and I will pay thee all.

2. The slowness of God to anger, bearing with, and sparing sinners, that they may have space of repentance. Rom. 2. 4. Despisest thou the riches of his patience? Rom. 3. 26. Through the patience of God. Psa. 103. 8, 9. 2 Pet. 3. 9.

3. Quiet and constant suffering afflictions for goodnesse. Jam. 1. 3. Let patience have her work, Heb. 10. 36. Ye have need of patience, 2 Pet. 1. 6. Luk. 8. 15.

4. Hope, expectation, or waiting, Rom. 8. 25. We doe with patience abide for it, Heb. 6. 12. 15.

5. Perseverance in wel-doing unto the end. Jam. 5. 7, 9. Be patient unto the coming of our Lord.

Patience hath these parts:

1. A receiving and sustaining of evils offered, deserved or not deserved.

2. In bearing them, to forbear to use any word or action, without any thought or affection within, tending to revenging or resisting of the evill or doer thereof: but all these are not necessary in all cases.

3. To

3. To continue this forbearing or ceſſation from revenge or puniſhment, till either the party offending doe relent, and make amends for the wrong; or elſe ſecondly, in want thereof, God ſhall by an ordinary or extraordinary means puniſh our adverſary, and remedy our wrong.

Either of which wayes ought to content us when they happen, and the hope of them to keep us in patience untill they come; for one of them will ſurely be.

Patience or forbearance is not forgiving, or acquittance: it is deferring of our right of redreſſe to another time, or referring of our revenge to another perſon, or place. It is not ſo ſtrict as juſtice, nor ſo milde as mercy; but a middle eſtate between both.

Patience in God, and in the godly, is towards ſinners, but pardon and forgiveneſſe toward repenters, who as ſinners need it, but as repenters deſire it, and ſue for it.

Patience is but a ſuſpending of anger, leſt it ſhould hurt us our ſelves, not a releaſing of the offence, where there is no repentance thereof.

Patience is that gift of God, which enableth the Chriſtian ſoul to endure croſſes quietly, and with ready ſubmiſſion to the Will of God, becauſe it is his pleaſure to have it ſo, for our tryall or chaſtiſement; and for the manifeſtation of his own power and goodneſſe, to the prayſe of his glory; and finally, for a teſtimony againſt thoſe that do trouble and vex his children.

Patience is ſpoken 1. of God, Exod. 34.6. Numb. 14. 18. Pſal. 86. 15. tearmed, The God of patience, Rom. 15.5.

2. Of Chriſt, Rev. 1. 9. & 3.10.

3. Of Men, 1. towards God, Jam. 5. 11. and 2. towards men, Rev. 2. 2, 3, 19.

Patient minde, or moderation] Quiet and ſetled minde, waiting for help from God, in due time. Phil. 4. 5. Let your patient minde be known to all men.

Be patient, Jam. 5. 7. or, be long patient, or ſuffer with long patience, marg. Forbearing, 2 Tim. 2. 24. marg.

3. Give a juſt price, Numb. 20. 19.

4. Weigh, Eſt. 3. 9. marg.

5. Give, Ezr. 4. 13. marg.

P E.

Peace] Atonement with God by Chriſt, through whom God and the elect are of enemies made friends. Hence is Chriſt called Prince of peace, Iſa. 9. 6. and Our Peace-maker, Eph. 2. 14. and to have made peace by his blood, Col. 1. 20. Rom. 5. 1. Iſa. 27. 5.

There is a diverſe peace in reſpect of the object or perſons with which, the matters in which, and the means by which peace is made and kept.

1. There is peace with God, 1 By ſatisfaction for ſins done againſt him; this is done by the ſuffering and merits of Chriſt, Eph. 2. 14. 2 By ſanctification, 1 Joh. 3. 19, 20. This is done by his holy Spirit.

2. Peace with our ſelves, or our conſciences. This is wrought by the former means.

3. Peace

3. Peace with men. 1 Agreement with the good. 2 Deliverance or ſafety from the evill.

4. That ſweet and comfortable quietneſſe and tranquillity of Conſcience, which is the immediate fruit of our atonement with God. Rom. 14. 17. The Kingdome of God is Peace, Joy, &c. Phil. 4. 7. Peace of God that paſſeth all underſtanding.

5. The mutuall concord and agreement of Chriſtian brethren. Gal. 5. 22. The fruit of the Spirit is peace. Pſal. 34. 14. Seek peace, and purſue it.

6. Proſperous and happy ſucceſſe of things, when they fall out well and bleſſedly for the beſt to us. In this ſenſe, Paul in his Apoſtolicall ſalutations, wiſheth peace unto the Churches: and the Jews one to another in their ordinary greetings. Matth. 10. 13. And let your peace come upon it. 1 Cor. 1. 3. Grace and peace. Eph. 6. 23. And often elſewhere, it is uſed in the ſame ſignification.

Note. When the Hebrews ſaluted one another, wiſhing proſperity, or asking of the welfare of others, their manner was to ſay, Is there peace? or, Peace be to you. Gen. 29. 6. & 43. 27, 28. 1 Sam. 25. 5, 6. 2 Sam. 20. 9.

7. Perfect reſt and joy, which elect ſouls ſhall have in heaven, this life being ended. Iſa. 57. 2. Peace ſhall come. Rom. 8. 6.

8. The publick tranquillity and quiet ſtate of the Church, when it is not troubled within by Schiſmes and Hereſies; or without by perſecuting Tyrants, filling all with tumults, ſlaughters, and bloody wars. Rev. 6. 4. Pſal. 122. 6. Pray for the peace of Hieruſalem. Act. 9. 31. The Churches had reſt throughout all Judea and Galilee.

9. The tranquillity of the publick weal, or politick State, when it is free from forrain and civill wars. 2 King. 20. 19. Is it not good there ſhall be peace in my dayes? Jer. 29. 7. In the peace thereof, ſhall you have peace.

10. The private agreement with all ſorts of men, good and bad; Chriſtians and Infidels. Rom. 12. 18. Have peace with all men, as much as in you is.

11. Security, when the heart free from the fear of dangers, doth falſely promiſe ſafety to it ſelf. 1 Theſſ. 5. 3. When they ſhall ſay, Peace, &c.

12. True ſafety, wealth, proſperity, and earthly felicity. 1 Sam. 25. 6. Be in peace, wealth, and proſperity. 1 Sam. 29. 7. Go in peace, Gen. 26. 29, 31.

13. A ſolemn Covenant and Society between Prince and Prince, Perſon and Perſon. Judg. 4. 17. For peace was between Jabin the King of Hazor, and between the houſe of Heber. Pſal. 41. 9. Yea, the man of my peace; that is, my familiar friend which had made a Covenant of ſociety with me.

14. Silence, by meanes whereof, many times quietneſſe and peace is procured. Prov. 17. 28. A fool when he holds his peace, is thought wiſe. Gen. 34. 5.

15. Mutuall agreement of wicked men in evill things. 2 King. 9. 22. Is all peace Jehu? What peace? Peace cometh of a word which betokeneth Perfection, and is oppoſed unto War and Sword, Pſal. 120. 7. Mat. 10. 34. Alſo unto diviſion, confuſion, and tumultuous diſorder, Luk. 12. 51. 1 Cor. 14. 33. and it denoteth generally, all proſperity, ſafety, and welfare of ſoul and body: and namely, that ſpoken of, Epheſ. 2. 14, 15.

16. All is well, 2 Sam. 18. 28. marg.

17. How one doth, Eſt. 2. 11. marg.

18. Loving kindneſſe, and mercies, Jer. 16. 5.

19. No evill to come upon one, Jerem. 23. 17.

20. Proſperity, Dan. 8. 25. marg.

Peace, peace] All manner of good things ſo far as is for the good of his people, both abundantly and conſtantly laid up, and ſurely kept for them, Iſa. 26. 3.

To anſwer peace] To accept the conditions of peace offered, and to promiſe the keeping of them. Deut. 20. 11. Offer it peace, and if it anſwer thee peace again, &c.

Chaſtiſement of peace] The ſufferings of Chriſt, procuring and meriting atonement and friendſhip with God his Father for elect ſinners. Iſa. 53. 5. The chaſtiſement of our peace was upon him.

God of peace] God to be the author and giver of peace, and the rewarder of ſuch as live in peace. Phil. 4. 7. The God of peace ſhall be with you. He is called the God of peace, both paſſively, that they may finde peace with God, and have God at peace with them; and actively, that God would preſerve them at peace and unity among themſelves. And he ſimply wiſheth not unto them peace, but the peace of God, even true peace. Laſtly, were it in mans power to attain unto peace, joy, faith, &c. then were it ſuperfluous to beg them of God by daily prayer.

To be found in peace] Either to their good, finding God moſt gentle and pacified towards them; or elſe with a peaceable and quiet conſcience waiting for his appearing, 2 Pet. 3. 14.

To goe, or return in peace] With good ſafety to paſſe to and fro: alſo, to be quiet and well, 1 Sam. 1. 17. 1 Sam. 29. 7.

Goe in peace] 1. It's a form of ſpeech uſed, when one giveth leave to another to depart, Exod. 4. 18. Judg. 18. 6. 1 Sam. 1. 17. & 20. 42. A cheerfull farewell, with well-wiſhing for proſperity, Mar. 5. 34. Act. 16. 36.

2. It's for Quietly depart, 1 Sam. 29. 7. Act. 15. 33.

3. It's for, Be thankfull with joy, Luk. 8. 48.

In 2 King. 5. 19. it doth not imply an approbation of any ſinfull intention, but onely a friendly diſmiſſion, without any reference to that which Naaman had ſaid; or, if it have relation thereunto, what can it imply but an abſolution, ſignifying, that God had pardoned his former idolatry; or a conſolation, intimating that God will bear with his frailty; or a direction, adviſing him not to trouble himſelf about bowing before an idol, but to remember his promiſe of worſhipping the Lord? Annot. Or, Grant thee thy requeſt to pardon thee; Bernard. Or, (if the words in verſ. 18. be read in the preter-tenſe) When my Maſter went into the houſe of Rimmon, the ſenſe appears to be a pardon craved for ſins paſt, not afterward to be committed. The ſame word בָּא came, is put to expreſſe the time paſt, in the Titles of the 51 & 52 Pſalms. Goodwyn in his Moſes and Aaron, p. 200.

Goſpel of peace] The word of reconciliation and atonement. Epheſ. 6. 15. Your feet ſhod with the preparation of the Goſpel of peace. Thus it is called, becauſe it worketh (as an inſtrument) atonement with God, peace with our brethren, and our owne Conſciences.

To hold peace] To reſt in the will of God. Luk. 10. 3. And he held his peace. It is uſed for concealing of grief and aſſwaging it with conſideration of Gods chaſtiſement, Gen. 34. 5. Pſal. 39. 16.

To be ſilent, Job 13. 13. marg. To be as one deaf, 1 Sam. 10. 27. marg. The voyce to be hid, Job 29. 10. marg.

Multitude of peace] Great good ſucceſſe, and abundance of proſperity. Pſ. 37. 11. They ſhall delight in the multitude of peace.

To ordain peace] To be author of peace, and of all the means whereby it is to be procured. Iſa. 26. 12. Lord thou wilt ordain peace for us.

Peace-offerings] Sacrifices of retribution or of thankſgiving. 1 Chr. 16. 1, 2. They offered Peace-offerings. Theſe reſemble that part of our ſpiritual ſervice under the Goſpel, which is called Thankſgiving or praiſe. See Heb. 13. 15.

Peace to you] Be of good comfort. Gen. 43. 23. Job 21. 9. In theſe two places Peace is oppoſed to fear.

Prince of peace] The worker and author of peace or reconcilement between God and us. Iſa. 9. 6. Prince of peace. Thus is Chriſt alone.

Son of peace] One that favoureth and embraceth the Goſpel of peace, and the reconciliation by Chriſt, loving and living in peace with others. Luk. 10. 6. If the Son of peace be there.

Sown in peace] That ſuch as being godly wiſe, doe love and live in peace, they ſhall have fruit, or profit ſutable to their juſt life, which they ſhall at laſt in the end of the world (as it were in harveſt) reap, being ever bleſſed. Jam. 3. 18. Fruit of righteouſneſſe is ſown in peace of them which make peace.

To ſpeak peace] To promiſe tranquillity, reſt, and happineſſe to ſoul and body, and to perform it. Pſal. 85. 8. He ſhall ſpeak peace to his people, and to his Saints.

2. To ſpeak and talk with one lovingly and kindely. Gen. 37. 4. They could not ſpeak peace unto him.

Way of peace] The doctrine that leads to eternall ſalvation, alſo faith it ſelf, remiſſion of ſins and repentance: by the which we are at length brought unto heaven. Luk. 1. 29. And to guide our feet in the way of peace.

2. A quiet and peaceable life, free from quarrels and contention, full of unity and good agreement. Rom. 3. 17. The way of peace they have not known.

Peaceable] Sure, quiet, Iſa. 32. 18. Faithfull, 2 Sam. 20. 19. A man of reſt, 1 Chro. 22. 9.

Peace-maker] Mat. 5. 9. One that every way indevoureth, by himſelfe, others, by word, actions, by prayer unto God, entreaty unto men, to procure peace amongſt others; who hunteth as it were after occaſions, whereby to bring it to paſſe.

Peacock] Hereof mention is made, 1 Ki. 10. 22. 2 Chr. 9. 21. & Job 39. 13. It's a Bird of divers colours, full of feathers, and moſt beautifull. It's not ignorant of the beauty of its feathers, and therefore doth often ſpread them out in the manner of a wheel, adding thereto a majeſtick and ſtately gate.

gate. This it doth upon the view of the female, and to be ſeen and praiſed; and thus alſo it preſerveth it ſelfe as under a ſhadow and covering from the Sun-beams. Herein there's like unto that which ſhineth in the moſt excellent pictures, gems and ſtars, yet more colours appear to the view of the beholder (by reaſon of the reflexion of the Sun-beams, mixt with the colours of the Peacocks feathers, and the ſhadow thereof) then indeed there are. As children when they breed teeth, ſo it languiſheth whileſt its combe is breeding. Its dung is profitable in phyſick, eſpecially againſt the Gout, but is ſeldome found, being (as it's ſaid) made away by it, out of its envy towards man: yet doth it love man, reverence him, and helpeth him when it ſeeth him hurt by other beaſts. That it may ſtill enjoy the company of the female, it ſeeketh diligently for its eggs, and having found them, deſtroyes them, which the female indevours to prevent. Others ſay, that he being more heavy then the female, ſitting on the eggs, by his weight breaks them. It's very watchfull, bewraying theeves, or any extraordinary fire. It's ſatd to have the voyce of the Devill, (its voyce is terrible) the head of a Serpent (which being combed and weak, it reſembleth) and the pace of a theef, being ſtill and without noyſe. As the trees their leaves, ſo it caſteth its feathers (whereat it's much ſadded) but as in the Spring they recover their leaves, ſo its feathers grow again. As upon the view of its feathers it's much exalted, ſo upon the view of its black feet, it's caſt down. Its fleſh can ſcarcely be boyled, nor in a long time will putrefie. Hereof tryall hath been made for above a yeer. If their young ones touch nettles, they die. It loveth the young ones, and is carefull to preſerve them from the Fox. When it aſcendeth higher then uſuall, it preſageth rain. The more females the male hath, the more increaſe ariſeth by each, which yet is but ſmall in compariſon of other fowles; whereas if there be but one, its fruit ſeldome cometh to good. Then eſpecially beginneth it to love its young ones, when it ſeeth them combed as it ſelf.

Pearl] A thing of great value and price, and called a pearl for the orient brightneſſe of it, Job 28. 18.

2. The precious Doctrine of ſalvation, or any godly admonition. Matt. 7. 6. Caſt not your pearls before ſwine.

3. The glorious and moſt happy eſtate of the Saints in heaven. Revel. ch. 21. v. 29. The twelve gates were twelve pearls.

4. Outward coſtly things, Rev. 17. 4. & 18. 12, 16.

Peculiar] The choyceſt of, and moſt precious part of a mans ſubſtance, ſevered from the reſt, and laid up for a mans ſelf, Eccl. 2. 8.

2. Gods choſen and faithfull People, ſingled from all other Nations, precious in his ſight. Tit. 2. 14. And purge us to be a peculiar people. A purchaſed people, 1 Pet. 2. 9. marg.

It is one thing to be a people, (as Turks, Indians, Perſians, and Jews be) another thing to be Gods people, or his people, Mat. 1. 21. A peculiar people, Tit. 2. 14. An holy people, 1 Pet. 2. 9. Some be ſuch by profeſſion onely, and in regard of a general vocation, whereby they are ſanctified to God, and ſeparate from Heathens which doe not ſo profeſſe. Thus in the Prophets the Iſraelites are often call'd Gods people, among whom there were many hypocrites, Iſa. 1. 3, 4, 5. But others be his people in truth, by his eſpecial calling, according to Gods purpoſe, giving them to his Son, and giving his Son for them, and to them, Joh. 6. 3. & 17. 12. We are by the judgement of charity to judge all members of the viſible Church, which yeeld externall obedience to that which they profeſſe, to be truely his children, and people of his love, 2 Theſſ. 2. 13. leaving the judgement of certainty to God alone, who knoweth his own; to whom it belongs to ſeparate the Goats from the Sheep in the end of the world.

Pedahel] The redemption of God. The Son of Ammihud, Numb. 34. 28.

Pedahzur] A ſtrong Redeemer, or a ſtone redeeming. The Father of Gamaliel, Numb. 1. 10.

Pedajah] The Lords redeeming. The Son of Jeconiah, 1 Chro. 3. 18. The Father of Joel, 1 Chr. 27. 20. The Son of Paroſh, Neh. 3. 25. One who ſtood on Ezra's left hand, Neh. 8. 4. The Son of Kolaiah, Ibid. 11. 7. A Levite, Neh. 13. 13.

Pedegree] Numb. 1. 18. Genealogie, of what Tribe, Family, Anceſtours, they came.

Peeled] Iſa. 18. 2. that is, Stripped of all. A Metaphor taken from the pulling off hair, either from head or beard, Ezr. 9. 30. Neh. 13. 25. Iſa. 50. 6.

It may be underſtood of the Æthiopians, being a peeled and beardleſſe people; for the word imports a want of hair, Lev. 13. 40, 41. little whereof is found on Æthiopian bodies, by reaſon of the heat of their Countrey.

To peep and mutter] To ſpeak with a ſlender voyce in a whiſpering ſort, as they can ſcarce be heard, not plainly aloud, and roundly, as the Lords Prophets denounced Gods minde. Iſa. 8. 19. Unto Wizzards which peep and mutter. It is a Metaphor or ſpeech borrowed from Chickens, now beginning to come out of the ſhell, and to chirp weakly; ſo the Soothſayers, as it were with an hollow voyce out of the belly, and from within their jawes, uttered, or muttered rather their Divinations.

Pekah] Opening. The Son of Remaliah, 2 King. 15. 25.

Pekahiah] The Lords opening. The Son of Manahem. Ib. 22.

Pekod] Noble, or Rulers. A Countrey, Ezek. 23. 23. Alſo, viſitation, Jer. 50. 21. marg.

Pelaiah] The miracle, or ſecret of the Lord. The Father of Zebadiah, 2 King. 23. 36. The Son of Elioenai, 1 Chr. 3. 24. One that cauſed the people to underſtand the Law, Neh. 8. 7. One that ſealed the Covenant, Ib. 10. 10.

Pelaliah] Thinking on the Lord, entreating the Lord, or the judgement of the Lord. The Son of Amzi, Neh. 11. 12.

Pelatiah] The deliverance, ſetting free, or baniſhment of the Lord. The Son of Hananiah, 1 Chron. 3. 21. The Son of Iſhi, Ib. 4. 42. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 22. The Son of Benajah, Ezek. 11. 1, 13.

Peleg] A diviſion. The Son of Eber, Gen. 10. 25. 1 Chr. 1. 19.

Pelet] Deliverance, or baniſhment. The Son of Azmaveth, 1 Chr. 12. 3. The Son of Jahdai, 1 Chr. 2. 47.

Peleth] Decay, or judging. The Father of On, Numb. 16. 1. The Son of Jonathan, 1 Chr. 2. 33.

Pelethites] The ſame. They with the Cherethites, were old, expert, ſtrong, and valiant men, which David choſe for his guard, 2 Sam. 8. 18. & 15. 18. & 20. 7. 1 King. 1. 28, 44.

Some derive them from the word Palat, which ſignifieth either to defend, or ſuch as were excellent, becauſe they were excellent men that defended the Kings perſon. But others think they were thus named, rather from their Countrey, then from their Office, and that they were Garriſon-ſouldiers, living among the Japhlethites, in the Lot of the Children of Joſeph, Joſh. 16. 3. from which (being valiant and expert ſouldiers) the King choſe his guard to attend his perſon, who thereupon gave their attendance by courſe, 2 Sam. 15. 18.

Pelican] Reckoned amongſt the unclean fowles, Lev. 11. 18. Deut. 14. 17 dwelleth in the wilderneſſe, Pſal. 102. 6. It is named Kaath, of vomiting; nor doth the name differ from the cuſtome thereof, which is to vomit up the meat, as Shel-fiſhes, by it before devoured. Some take it to be a Shovelar, which is a bird following Water-fowles that take fiſhes, holding and picking them by the heads, untill they have let go their prey. Some derive it from πελεκάω, which is to gnaw, for that it uſeth with its beak to ſtrike at and gnaw trees. In greatneſſe it is like unto the Swan, and hath great wings, but a lean body, for that its intrails are ſlippery, not retaining the food which it eateth, but quickly caſting them forth without concoction. One kinde frequenteth the waters, feeding on fiſhes; another wilderneſſes, feeding on ſerpents, &c. both delighting in ſolitary places: It's ſaid of the former, that it ſwalloweth Shel-fiſhes, which being ſodden as it were in her intrails, ſhe caſteth forth, and the ſhell opening, ſhe eateth the fiſh, letteth the ſhell alone. The latter might be therefore reputed unclean, for that it fed on venemous things. Between it and the Serpent there's a naturall antipathy, and therefore in its abſence the Serpent climbeth up into its neſt, and by its breath and biting killeth the young Pelicans; for the recovery whereof, their Dam having lamented them three dayes, with its bill pierceth its owne breaſt, and with the blood iſſuing therefrom ſprinkleth them, whereby they live again. By this means the Dam becometh ſo weak, that ſhe can neither provide for her ſelf, nor them, which they finding, are forced to fly abroad, and provide for themſelves. Of them ſome prove unthankfull, wholly neglecting their Dam; others thankful, bringing her food, who when ſtrengthened, accordingly dealeth with either ſort (as Writers affirm.) If in its abſence the Shepherds fire its neſt, it flyeth thereon, thinking by its wings to quench it; nor ceaſeth to doe thus, notwithſtanding of the heat of the fire, till it ſelf be quite burnt up therewith. One kinde of them will not feed on any thing, till it be firſt dipped or waſhed in water, and when it drinketh, doth as it were bite the water.

Pelonite] Falling, hid, or ſecret. Helez and Ahijah thus named, 1 Chron. 11. 27, 36.

Pen] Either of quill, cane, or reed, for ſuch ſuch alſo were the pens anciently in uſe, Iſa. 8. 1. Uſed by ſuch as were skilfull and ready in writing, Judg. 5. 14. Pſal. 45. 1. 3 Joh. 13. In Job 19. 24. there's mention of an iron pen, & Jer. 17. 1.

A mans pen, Iſa. 8. 1. Some underſtand this of the letter, that it ſhould not be written in ſome ſtrange character, that few could read, as that doom paſſed upon Baltaſar, Dan. 5. 8, 15. but in a plain familiar letter, in an ordinary hand, ſuch as any one might eaſily read, and that alſo ſo fair and large, that it might be read aloof off, and without any long ſtay, Hab. 2. 2. Some, of the ſtyle, to wit, that it ſhould be conceived and delivered, not in an obſcure and dark enigmatical or ſymbolical manner, as that few capacities ſhould reach it.

Penie] There were two ſorts of pence in uſe amongſt them, the common penie, which valued of ours, 7 d. ob. and the penie of the Sanctuary, which valued 1 s. 3 d. for it was anſwerable to their didrachmum, and of this laſt was the Tribute-money, Matth. 22. 19. This Didrachmum, or Half-ſhekel, was formerly paid by the Iſraelites every yeer after they were twenty yeers old, towards their Temple, Exod. 30. 13. Cæſar by taking away this money from the Temple, and changing it into a tribute for his owne coffers, did in truth take away from God that which was Gods. Hence in that queſtion propoſed unto Chriſt, Is it lawfull to give tribute unto Cæſar, or not? Chriſt anſwereth, Render unto Cæſar the things are Cæſars, and unto God the things that are Gods, Mar. 12. 16. Goodwyn, p. 326. Of the common penie, that it valued 7 d. ob. See Mat. 18. 28. marg.

Peniel] Seeing God, or the face of God. A place neer the ford Jabbok, Gen. 32. 30.

Peninnah] A precious ſtone, or our face. One of the Wives of Elkanah, 1 Sam. 1. 1, 2.

Pentecoſt] The fifieth, viz. day from the Paſſeover. A feaſt of the Jews, Act. 2. 1. & 20. 16. 1 Cor. 16. 8. called the feaſt of weeks, Deut. 16. 10. See Lev. 23. 15.

Penuel] Seeing God, or the face of God. A place, Judg. 8. 8. 1 King. 12. 25. The Father of Gedor, 1 Chr. 4. 4. The Son of Shaſhak, 1 Chr. 8. 25.

Penury] Poverty, need, ſcarcity, want, Prov. 14. 23. Luk. 21. 4.

People] The Elect given to Chriſt. Matth. 1. 21. He ſhall ſave his people from their ſins.

2. Pillars, which reſembled the people, Metonymie of the ſigne. Lev. 24. 8. Sprinkled on the people.

3. Holy Fathers, Gen. 49. 29.

4. A multitude or company of men and women, of one City, Common-wealth, Monarchy, joyned together by law, right, and communion of benefits each to other, and good turns one from another, and governed by a certain Magiſtrate. Hence, not to be a people, ſignifieth, to have no Republick, Iſa. 7. 8. and Subjects are called, The people of the King who ruleth them, Gen. 41. 40. Exo. 5. 16. 1 Sam. 15. 30. The inhabitants of a City are called the people thereof, Gen. 17. 14. & 23. 11. Exod. 22. 28. Ruth 1. 10, 15, 16. A people which we knew not before; that is, a ſtrange people, Ruth 2. 11. Every people, that is, of what ever people, Rev. 5. 9.

5. Men and women, Numb. 21. 6. 2 Sam. 22. 28. tearmed, All people, Pſal. 49. 1. and People upon the earth, Iſa. 42. 5.

6. Such as are of one family, Gen. 32. 7. & 35. 6. Hence, To be gathered unto his people, is, To be buried in the ſame Sepulchre with them of the family already dead, Gen. 25. 8.

7. Souldiers, Numb. 20. 20. Judg. 8. 5. & 9. 32, 33.

8. A multitude, Iſa. 13. 4. & 17. 12. Hence, To become a people, is, To have a numerous off-ſpring. Gen. 48. 19. He ſhall alſo become a people.

9. The Elders of the people, 1 Sam 8. 10. compared with verſ. 4. Alſo, inferiours, Iſa. 24. 2.

10. The Iſraelites or Jews, Pſal. 62. 8. Act. 7. 17.

11. The Nation of the Jews, Joh. 11. 50. & 18. 14.

12. All nations and people ſaving the Jews, or the Gentiles, Pſal. 18. 43. Ezek. 3. 6. Rom. 15. 11.

13. The people of God, Iſa. 19. 25. & 51. 16. Ezek. 36. 9. Zech. 13. 9. Heb. 4. 9. & 11. 25. which are either abſolutely tearmed, people, Luk. 2. 10. or, Gods people, Ex. 3. 7, 10. The Lords people, 2 King. 11. 17. The people of the Lord of hoſts, Zeph. 2. 10. The people of his holineſſe, Iſa. 63. 18. A people whoſe God is the Lord, Pſal. 144. 15. A willing people, Pſal. 110. 3. A peculiar people, 1 Pet. 2. v. 9.

14. The dead, or they that are departed this life, Geneſ. 25. 8, 17. & 35. 29. & 49. 33.

15. Kindred, neighbours, friends, 2 Kin. 4. 13.

16. The Romans, Dan. 9. 26.

17. The children of one parent, Deut. 9. v. 2.

18. They that one hath a ſpeciall care of, Eſt. 3. 6.

19. Dumb creatures, Prov. 30. 25.

Ye are the people, Job 12. 1. that is, ye conceive that ye are a wiſe people, and more excellent then others for knowledge, Deut. 4.6. and others are but beaſts in compariſon of you, ye think ye are a ſelect people; or, ye imagine that you three are as an whole Nation, and all the wit in the Nation is in your heads. Annot.

Gathering of the people] Obedience of both Jews and Gentiles, which ſhould be gathered to Chriſt, Gen. 49. 10.

People of heavyneſſe] ſignifies a people laden with ſin, which they heaped up by multiplying faults of all ſorts, till as an horſe under the burden, ſo they ſunk under the weight of ſin, and Gods anger procured thereby. Iſa. 1. 4. People of heavyneſſe. Pſal. 38. 4. Sin is like an heavy burthen, which preſſeth ſore, and ſuch as be covered with ſins, be a people of heavyneſſe.

Mighty people] The Jews a valiant Nation deſtroyed by Antiochus Epiphanes, Dan. 2. 24.

No people] Either to be ſtrangers from God, without a calling by the Goſpell; or to want a Kingdome and policy of their owne, being led captive, Iſa. 7. 8.

Unmercifull people] The ſervants and officers of Saul, men voyd of humanity, mercy, and kindeneſſe, yea filled with cruelty againſt David, as Saul the King and their Maſter was, (like Maſter like men) ſeeking maliciouſly, unjuſtly, and violently to oppoſe righteous and innocent David. Pſal. 43. 1. Defend my cauſe againſt the unmercifull people.

Peor] A gaping, or opening. A hill, Num. 23. 28.

Peradventure] If ſo be, or, It may be. It is a word that intimateth difficulty, and yet with ſome hope of poſſibility, Gen. 18. 24. Exod. 32. 30. 2 Tim. 2. 25.

Perazim] Breaches, or diviſions. A Mount, Iſa. 28. 21.

Perceive] Spiritually to apprehend, Deu. 29. 4. Experimentally to finde, 2 King. 4. 7. To diſcern, underſtand, Job 9. 11. & 23. 8. To have knowledge, or take notice of, Gen. 19. 33. To taſte, Prov. 13. 18. marg. To know, Joſh. 22. 31. To ſee, Joh. 4. 19. & 12. 19. Act. 8. 23. To have ſure knowledge of, Act. 10. 34. Upon due obſervation and conſideration, to take notice of, Act. 17. 22.

Perdition] Deſtruction or eternal puniſhment in hell fire. Joh. 17. 12. Childe of perdition. Here Perdition is uſed paſſively, for one deſtroyed, ſuffering Perdition to which he was appointed of God from everlaſting, to declare his Juſtice.

2. Deſtruction or downfall of other men, both in body and ſoul. 2 Theſſ. 2. 3. Even the Son of perdition. Here the word is uſed actively, for a deſtroyer, who worketh perdition to his followers, being alſo himſelfe ordained to deſtruction.

Son of perdition, man of ſin] A man that is a notorious ſinner, and ſuch an one as is markt out to perdition; as a bloody man is in Scripture named, A man of blood; and they which be markt out for hell, are called, the children of hell.

Peres] Divided, Dan. 5. 28.

Pereſh] A horſe-man, caſting out to be ſlain, or declaring. The Son of Machir by Maacah his Wife, 1 Chr. 7. 16.

Perez] A diviſion. The ſame with Pharez the Son of Judah, Gen. 38. 21. See 1 Chr. 27. 3. & Neh. 11. 4, 6.

Perez-uzzah] The diviſion or breach of Uzzah, or the diviſion of ſtrength, or of a goat. A place ſo named upon the death of Uzzah, 2 Sam. 6. 8.

Perfect] One that hath an abſolute fulneſſe of grace, when there is not the leaſt want. Phil. 3. 12. I am not already perfect. 1 Cor. 13. 10. When that which is perfect is come. Matth. 19. 21. If thou wilt be perfect. Such as have taught an abſolute perfection of an inherent grace in this life, as if men could be without ſins, as Familiſts, or keep the whole Law, as Papiſts avow, they riſe up againſt the light both of Scriptures, and their owne Conſcience, which doth witneſſe the contrary to every man.

fection, which none can reach, Phil. 3. 12. 15.

3. One that hath uprightneſſe and ſincerity, (as when perfection is ſet againſt hypocriſie) 2 King. 20.3. Hezekiah ſerved God with a perfect heart. 1 Chr. 28. 9. My ſon ſerve God with a perfect heart; that is, ſincerely, and in truth, Gen. 6.9. marg. Deut. 18.13. marg.

4. One well furniſhed with knowledge of the Word, how to perform all parts of his function in the Miniſtery. 2 Tim. 3.17. That the man of God (that is, the Miniſter) may be abſolute, being made perfect, &c.

5. One which ſo governeth his words, as no fault may be found with his ſpeech. Jam. 3. 2. If any man ſin not in word, he is a perfect man.

6. Of full age, Heb. 5. 14. marg.

7. Conſecrated, Heb. 7. 28. marg.

It's ſpoken of, and applyed, I. unto God, Mat. 5. 48. His way, Pſal. 18.30. Law, Pſa. 19.7. Will, Rom. 12. 2. Gift, Jam. 1.17. Work, Deut. 32. 4.

II. Unto things, as Weights, Deut. 25.15. Lot, 1 Sam. 14. 41. Way, Pſal. 101.2. Day, Prov. 4.18. Peace, Iſa. 26. 3. Beauty, Ezek. 16.14. and unto divers other things.

III. Unto Man, a Beleever, who is underſtood to be ſo:

1. By Chriſt, imputatively, Col. 2. 28.

2. Comparatively with wicked men, as who endevoureth to fear God, and eſchew evill, Job 1. 8. & 8. 20. & 9. 22.

3. As wanting nothing that is abſolutely neceſſary for ſalvation.

4. As being perfectly juſtified.

5. As whoſe ſanctification is accepted with God for perfection, by the benefit of the Covenant of grace, and the interceſſion of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 2. 6. Phil. 3. 15.

6. As being upright, ſincere, ſimple and plain-hearted in his life and converſation, Gen. 6. 9. & 17. 1. Deut. 18. 13. Pſal. 37. 37.

7. As carrying himſelf harmleſly towards his enemies, Pſal. 64. 4.

8. As imitating God in doing good, Mat. 5. 48.

9. As indevouring to fulfill what is wanting, and to be going forward, 2 Cor. 13. 11. Col. 4. 20.

10. As who underſtandeth the excellency of the doctrine of ſalvation in Chriſt, by the Goſpel, 1 Cor. 2. 6.

To perfect, Pſal. 138. 8. that is, Bring to paſſe.

To be perfected, Luk. 13. 32. that is, Offered for a ſacrifice. So Heb. 2. 10.

Perfect charity] That love which is unfaigned, accompliſhed in the effects and fruits of love, being [not equall] but like to that love wherewith God loveth us; which he ſhewed indeed, by giving his Son for us. 1 Joh. 4. 18 Perfect charity caſts out fear.

Faith perfect by works] Not that any mans faith is ſo abſolute and full, as hath no want, no not Abraham's, 1 Cor. 13. 9. Or that the vigour and perfection of faith did hang upon works, which fetcheth all their force and prayſe from faith: but it noteth that the declaration of faith dependeth upon works, which the more and the better they be, doe ſhew faith to be more perfect and effectuall, as a Tree is witneſſed to be the more perfect and good, when it beareth moſt excellent and ſtore of fruit. James 2. 22. By works was faith made perfect.

Perfect Law] Such a doctrine as teacheth not ſome things onely which may leave men without excuſe, as the works of God doe, Rom. 1. 20. but all things neceſſary to be known of God or our ſelves, for faith or obedience to ſalvation, Pſal. 19. 7.

Made perfect in one, Joh. 17. 23. that is, United ſincerely and truly, by our union with Chriſt, and he with his Father, as Mediatour.

Man of God made perfect, 2 Tim. 3.17. that is, be furniſhed ſo with knowledge of the Word, as he becometh able to perform all the parts of the Miniſtery.

Might perfect that which is lacking, 1 Theſſ. 3.10. that is, Supply help to make up.

Unto a perfect man, Eph. 4.13. that is, To ripe judgement (as of a full and complete man) in the knowledge of Chriſt.

Perfection] 1. That good order which by the Word of God is ſetled in any Church, when all the members thereof keep their due place and ſtanding, and perform their function duely. 2 Cor. 13. 9. This we wiſh, even your perfection.

2. The things of this world, which be moſt glorious and excellent. Pſal. 119.96. I have ſeen an end of all perfection.

3. Multitude, or full ripeneſſe, Iſa. 47. 9. They ſhall come upon thee in their perfection.

4. More knowledge of doctrine tending to perfection. Heb. 6. 1. Let us go on unto perfection.

5. Free from blame, or that all things might be in good order amongſt them, and the the members of the Church reſtored, which had been ſhaken and put out of their places. 2 Cor. 13. 9. And this alſo we wiſh, even your perfection.

6. The height or greateſt accompliſhment of a thing. Job 11. 7. Canſt thou finde out the Almighty unto perfection? Canſt thou know him and his counſels perfectly? Canſt thou tell the utmoſt he aims at in afflicting thee?

7. The moſt excellent and perfect metals. Job 28. 3. And ſearcheth out all perfection.

8. Full growth, maturity, ripeneſſe. Luk. 8. 14. And bring no fruit to perfection.

9. Juſtification, ſanctification, and conſequently ſalvation. Heb. 7. 11. If therefore perfection were by the Levitical prieſthood, &c.

There is perfection in Doctrine, Heb. 6. 1. in Faith, Jam. 2. 22. in Hope, 1 Pet. 1. 13. in Love, 1 Joh. 4. 18. in Underſtanding, 1 Cor. 14. 20. marg.

All perfection] All things or creatures, viſible, which were perfected and conſummated of God at the Creation; and which ſeem to men to have chiefeſt excellency and uſe, yet they are of ſhorteſt continuance. Pſalm 119. 96. I have ſeen an end of all perfections.

The perfection which Scripture attributeth unto the Saints, is to be underſtood 3 wayes.

1. Either of the perfection of the parts of holineſſe, the Saints being ſanctified, as in every part and power of ſoul and body, ſo to every duty concerning them in a meaſure.

2. Or elſe of ſincerity and uprightneſſe, as a perfect heart noteth a ſingle and upright heart.

3. Or comparative, with reference to ſuch as be weak.

Perform] 1. To make good, Deut. 9. 5.

2. To ſeparate, Numb. 15. 3. marg.

3. To doe, Deut. 25. 5. Pſal. 119. 112. marg.

4. To bring to paſſe, 1 Sam. 3. 12. Job 5. 12.

5. To grant and yeeld to, Eſt. 5. 8.

6. To finiſh, Phil. 1. 6. marg.

Perfume] Incenſe, Exod. 30. 35. This ſignified our prayers, as it is written, They had golden cups full of incenſe (or perfumes) which are the prayers of the Saints, Rev. 5. 8. Perfume rejoyceth the heart, Prov. 27. 9.

It was made of myrrhe, frankincenſe, and powders of the Merchant, Cant. 3. 6. or myrrhe, aloes, and cinnamon (though to an unlawfull end) Prov. 7. 17.

Didſt increaſe thy perfumes, Iſa. 7. 59. or, Haſt multiplyed thy confections, that is, Either thou haſt uſed abundance of them to prepare and fit thy ſelfe for them, or ſent abundance thereof to them, to woo and win them to thee.

Perga] Very earthly, or neer the earth. A City of Pamphilia, Act. 13. 13.

Pergamus] Height. A famous City of Aſia, to the Church whereof John wrote, Revel. 1. 11. & chap. 2. verſ. 12.

Perhaps] Act. 8. 22. 2 Cor. 2. 7. Philem. 15. See Peradventure.

Peria] A ſeparation, or diviſion, Nehem. 7. 57.

Perill] Danger or hazard, Rom. 8. 35. 2 Cor. 11. 26. as Paul was thus, ſo was the Church long before, Lam. 5. 9. κίνδυνος peril, ἀπὸ τῆς καρδίας τῶν ὀδύνων, for that it moveth grief.

Perilous times] Such times wherein it ſhall be very hard to perceive what counſel to take, and how to behave our ſelves among ſuch monſtrous men as ſhall ariſe out of the viſible Church. 2 Tim. 3. 1. Shall be perilous times.

Periſh] 1. To be conſumed, 1 Sam. 27. 1. marg.

2. To be rooted out, 2 King. 9. 6. Pſal. 10. 16.

3. To be cut off, Gen. 41. 36. marg.

4. To be ended, Eſt. 9. 28. marg.

5. To paſſe, Job 33. 18. marg. Paſſe away, Job 36. 12. marg.

6. To be made naked, Prov. 29. 18. marg.

7. To be deſtroyed, Iſa. 41. 11. Utterly waſted, Iſa. 60. 12.

8. To loſe ones life, Jonah 1. 6. Mar. 4. 38.

9. To be taken away by death, Iſa. 57. 1. Mic. 7. 2.

10. To ſtarve. Luk. 15. 7. I periſh with hunger.

11. To be damned, Rom. 2. 12. 1 Cor. 1. 18.

12. To be without being, 1 Cor. 15. 18.

Note, that this word is diverſly applyed, and ſo diverſly taken, the meaning whereof unto the conſiderate Reader will plainly appear.

Perjury] Forſwearing, or a falſe oath, when the party that ſweareth, either knoweth the matter to be falſe, or thinketh it ſo to be. 1 Tim. 1. 10. To the perjured. Matt. 5. 33. Though the matter be true, yet if he that ſweareth doe think it be falſe, or not know it certainly to be true: Perjury is committed in the Court of Conſcience. He that ſweareth by the name of God

God falſely, or doubtfully, he forſweareth.

Perizzites] Rurall, or dwelling in unwalled villages. A people, Gen. 13. 7. which God commanded to be deſtroyed, Deut. 20 12.

Permenas] Continuing. One of the ſeaven Deacons, Act. 6. 5.

To permit] To ſuffer, and not to let a thing when one might hinder it. Heb. 6. 3 If God permit. Permiſſion in God, hath two things:

1. Patience or ſuffering.
2. Might or efficacy.

God willeth whatſoever he permitteth, becauſe nothing can be, unleſſe he will have it to be. The dotage of an unwilling permiſſion is to be avoyded.

That the wicked acts of ungodly men and others are done rather by the power, then by the permiſſion of God, Auguſtine proveth both by Teſtimony of Scripture, Rom. 9. 22. Alſo, by innumerable examples, as by delivering up Achab to beleeve a lie, 1 King. 22. By driving Rehoboam to hearken to bad counſell, it came of the Lord, 1 King. 12. 15. By ſtirring up David the King to number the people, 1 Chron. 24. 2 Sam. 24. By ſpoyling Job, &c. Job 1. v. laſt. To which may be added the example of Amaziah, 2 Chr. 25. Alſo, Iſa. 63. & Ezek. 14. All which do teach, that in evill and ſinfull works, there is to be ſeen not onely Gods ſufferance in withdrawing grace, but his power, in working, directing, and ruling mens wils and actions: eſpecially beholding this in the death and paſſion of our Lord, who is ſaid to be delivered to the death by his Father, according to his decree and determinate counſell, Act. 2. & 4. Therefore he did more then ſuffer and leave the Jews to their own free-will and Satans malice, for himſelf was ſoveraigne and principall cauſe: that thereby mans redemption might be wrought. Iudas delivered Ieſus to the Iews, the Jews delivered him to Pilate, & God delivered him unto death; yet in this action, God onely without ſin, becauſe he had a good end.

Pernicious wayes] 2 Pet. 2. 2. or laſcivious, marg. Gr. Their deſtruction, that is, their doctrines that bring deſtruction, as vers. 1.

Perpetuall] 1. The duration of time to the worlds end. Gen. 9. 12. For perpetual generations.

2. Continuation of a thing ſo long as it is to be done. Exod. 30. 8. A perpetual incenſe before the Lord, throughout your generations.

3. For ever and ever. Pſal. 9. 6. Deſtructions are come to a perpetuall end.

4. A ſet ſpace of time. Perpetual deſolations, namely, for 70. yeers, Jer. 25. 9, 11.

5. Durable, without intermiſſion, or old, Ezek. 35. 5. Thou haſt had a perpetuall hatred, marg.

Perplexed] Doubtfull what to doe, at a ſtand, (ſtanding in doubt, Gal. 4. 20. marg.) One brought into ſuch ſtraits, out of which he knoweth not how to rid himſelfe, wondering, admiring, doubting, being in diſtreſſe of minde, and aſtoniſhed at his condition, Eſt. 3. 15. Luk. 9. 7.

It's ſpoken alſo metaphorically, of the herds of cattel having no paſture, Joel 1. 18.

Perplexity] Grievous judgements, wherewith men through the juſt judgement of God are intangled; great afflictions and calamities, Iſa. 22. 5. Mic. 7. 4. It is a Metaphor from man or beaſt intangled in a thicket. See Exod. 14. 3.

Perſecute] It's ſpoken I. of God, with relation 1. unto the wicked, and ſo put for perſue and overtake. Pſal. 83. 15. So perſecute them with thy tempeſt. And for to proceed againſt. Lam. 3. 66. Perſecute and deſtroy them in anger.

2. Unto the Church, and ſo put for to afflict them. Lam. 3. 43. Thou haſt perſecuted us.

II. Of the Angel of the Lord. Pſal. 35. 6. Let the Angel of the Lord perſecute them; that is, chaſe, drive, perſue them.

III. Of Man, ſignifying,

1. Eagerly to perſue and follow, not reſting, leaving, or giving over till he obtain his prey. Pſal. 7. 1. Save me from all them that perſecute me. Mat. 5. 11. Bleſſed are ye when men ſhall perſecute you.

2. To chaſe out, 1 Theſſ 2, 15. marg.

The objects of the ungodlies perſecution, are,

1. Jeſus Chriſt, both in his perſon, Joh. 5. 16. and in his members, Act. 9. 4, 5.

2. The Church of God, 1 Cor. 15. 9. Gal. 1. 13. The godly, 2 Tim. 3. 12. Whether Prophets, Mat. 5. 12. Act. 7. 52. Apoſtles, 1 Cor. 4 12. or other Saints, Act. 26. 11.

3. The way of ſalvation, and profeſſion of Chriſt. Act. 22. 4. I perſecuted this way to the death.

4. The Word of the Lord, Jer. 20. 8.

Perſecution] An obſtinate purſuing others, to hurt or deſtroy them, without giving reſt, or quietneſſe. Mat. 5. 10. Bleſſed are they which ſuffer perſecution. Gal. 4. 19. It is either by word or ſword, by deceit or violence; open or diſguiſed; for Religion or for for righteousnesse; from false Brethren, or professed enemies.

The first persecution of the Christian Church, was violent, by the Princes of the world, under divers Emperours of Rome: the second was fraudulent, by Hereticks, as Arius, Nestorius, &c. The third, both by force and fraud, to wit, when both temporall and spirituall power (as in the Pope) did meet together, against the Lord and his Christ: Augustine. Such is the nature of the Church, as it increaseth by adversities, and decreaseth by prosperity: and (as Luther writes) it multiplies by being minished, overcometh when it is overcome; being like to Christ the head, who being slain, yet was Conquerour. Add this as a second comfort to the faithfull under persecution, that Christ is persecuted in his members; who toucheth them, doth touch the apple of his eye. Christ makes the afflictions of the Church to be his owne, as the head is sensible of the pains felt by the foot.

Perseverance] The continuing in grace to the end. Perseverance may stand with many deep fals, but it keeps from falling away. Mat. 10. 22. He that persevereth (or endureth) to the end, he shall be saved. See Confirmation.

It is an errour, to hold that true beleevers may fall from saving grace, either wholly for a time, or for ever.

Persia] Breaking, dividing, a horse-hoof, or a crooked nose. A Countrey, 2 Chr. 36. 20, 22. Hence Persian, Neh. 12. 22. Persians, Est. 1. 19. The natives or inhabitants thereof.

Persis] The same. A faithfull woman, Rom. 16. 12.

Person] Some particular man or woman, Gen. 14. 21. Give me the persons, &c. Dan. 11. 2. Antiochus Epiphanes is called a vile person, for his base and furious behaviour, Epimanes rather then Epiphanes. In Gen. 36. 6. & Exod. 16. 16. For the Persons the marg. hath souls.

2. The divine essence, subsisting by it self. Heb. 1. 3. The ingraved form of his Person.

3. Outward qualities, of country, riches, friends, poverty, and such like externall circumstances. Rom. 2. 11. God is no respecter of persons. Act. 10. 34. Luk. 20. 21. God doth not measure and accept men by their riches, worship, poverty, nation, or such things: inward or outward, of body or goods.

Note. These qualities are no further blamed, then they do darken the truth, and hinder right.

4. Sight, 2 Cor. 2. 10. In the person of Christ, or in the sight of Christ, marg.

Perswade] 1. To deceive, 1 King. 22. 20. marg. Who shall perswade (or deceive) Ahab?

2. To assure. Rom. 14. 5. Let every man be fully perswaded, or fully assured, marg.

3. To seduce, or incite, 2 Chron. 32. 11. & 18. 2.

4. To pacifie. Prov. 25. 15. By long forbearing a Prince is perswaded.

5. To provoke, move, or stir up, Act. 14. 19.

6. To trust or hope for. Heb. 6. 9. We are perswaded better things of you.

7. To be fully assured, sure of, Luk. 20. 6. Rom. 8. 37.

To perswade men] To advise the hearers in Sermons, by authority of men, to beleeve men, and things which come from men, as false Apostles did, abusing the names of the true Apostles to discredit Paul, as if he had taught contrary unto them. Gal. 1. 10. Doe I perswade men?

To be perswaded] To be infallibly assured of a thing by demonstrative certainty. Rom. 8. 37. I am perswaded. This is the perswasion and certainty of faith.

2. To be probably assured of a thing, by conjecturall certainty. Heb. 6. 9. We have perswaded our selves better things of you. This is perswasion of charity, Rom. 14. 14. There is an infallible perswasion which the faithful have of themselves, and probable perswasion which they have of others.

Note. The Greek word, which is englished, I am perswaded, or I am sure, is used of things which lie in conjecturall and no certain knowledge, as well as of things whereof there is infallible and undoubted knowledge. See Rom. 15. 14. 2 Tim. 1. 5, &c. It is the argument wherewith the word is joyned, and which is added to declare the signification thereof, which restraineth the meaning to an assured knowledge, as Rom. 8. 30. For it is most true, that the faithful being justified of God, cannot be condemned.

To be fully perswaded] To do nothing with a doubtfull conscience, and staggering minde, but to be certainly within his owne minde assured, that his person doth please God, and that the thing which he doth, doth not displease God, being not contrary to his Word. Rom. 14. 5. Let every one be fully perswaded in his own minde. This full perswasion of the minde, must be had even in actions indifferent, and of a middle nature; of these one is surely to know, that whether he doth them, or omitteth them, yet his deed or omission doth not offend God. Much more ought there to be this assurance in necessary actions commanded or forbidden, moſt of all it is required in the Doctrines of Faith. What then ſhall we think of that Implicit faith of the Church of Rome, where it is held for good Chriſtian beleef, to aſſent only to that which the Church teacheth, though one be utterly ignorant what it is wch is taught of the Church? Is this to be fully perſwaded in our own minde? Alſo, how do they ſin, which for deſire of victory will defend matters, whereof they are not reſolved in their heart?

Pertain] To belong unto one, or be ones right. Thus Ziglag pertained to the Kings of Judah, 1 Sam. 27. 6. The adoption unto the Iſraelites, Rom. 9. 4. The Peace-offerings to the Lord, Lev. 7. 20. Thus ſome matters pertained to God (were accounted Eccleſiaſticall and appertaining to the Houſe of the Lord) Some things of the King, 1 Chr. 26. 30. Thus ſome things pertain to the Kingdome of God, Act. 1. 3. unto life and godlineſſe, 2 Pet. 1. 3. to this life, 1 Cor. 6. 4.

Peruda] A ſeparation, or diviſion, Ezr. 2. 55.

Perverſe] One whoſe heart is turned from the wiſdome of the Word, to follow crooked and evill counſels and wayes.

Spoken of Way, Num. 22 32. Generation, Deut. 32. 5. Rebellious woman, 1 Sam. 20. 30. Things, Job 6. 30. The perſon of a man, Job 9. 20. Lips, Prov. 4. 24. Heart, Prov. 12. 8. Tongue, Ibid. 17. 20. Spirit, Iſa. 19. 14. Nation, Phil. 2. 15. Diſputings, 1 Tim. 6. 5.

Perverſe ſpirit] A perverſe and froward minde, Iſa. 19. 14.

A ſpirit of error, or ſeducement, as the Chaldee and Greek render it; or, of giddineſſe, as the Latine. The word is plurall, and of a duplicate form, as if he had ſaid, A ſpirit of extreme perverſities. Annot.

To pervert] To put out of order, to turn upſide-down, to bring in that which ſhould be kept out. Prov. 10. 9. He that perverteth his way ſhall be known. To alter, Prov. 31. 5. marg. To reſt, Ezek. 9. 9. marg.

Peſtell] עלי, from lifting up, is properly that wherewith to pound or bray in a mortar, but thereby figuratively the harſheſt courſe which can be taken with one may be underſtood. Prov. 27. 22. Though thou ſhouldeſt bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a peſtell, yet will not his fooliſhneſſe depart from him. A fool will be beaten to death before he will leave his folly, Jer. 6. 29.

Peſtilence] An infection and deadly diſeaſe, ſent of God upon men for their ſins. Lev. 26. 25. I will ſend the Peſtilence among you. Deut. 28. 21.

A deadly inſtrument whereby God executeth his fearfull judgements, or ſigne of his moſt heavy wrath and indignation, Hab. 3. 5. It's metaphorically put for Deſtruction, Hoſ. 13. 14. Or, a deadly evil, Pſal. 91. 6. Alſo, for a moſt pernicious and wicked man, Act. 24. 5. Obſtinacy, Exod. 9. 15. Unbeleef and rebellion, Numb. 14. 2, 4, 12. Apoſtaſie, Deut. 28. 21. Contempt of the Word, Jer. 29. 15--19. Idolatry, Ezek. 5. 11, 12. (with ſuch other ſins) are the procurers hereof.

Peter] A ſtone, or rock. The ſurname of one of the Apoſtles, 1 Pet. 1. 1. 2 Pet. 1. v. 1.

Pethor] A table, after the Syriack. A City of Meſopotamia or Aram, Numb. 22. 5. & 23. 7. Deut. 23. 4.

Pethuel] A morſell of God, a perſwaſion of God, or the enlarging of God. The Father of Joel, Joel 1. 1.

Petition] An humble ſuit or requeſt put up, whether unto Man (as Bathſhebas on the behalf of Adonijah, 1 King. 2. 20. and Eſters in the behalf of her ſelf and people, Eſt. 7. 3.) or unto God by prayer, as by Hannah, 1 Sam. 1. 17, 27. and Daniel, Dan. 6. 13. See Pſal. 20. 5. 1 Joh. 5. 15.

Peulthai] My work or works. The Son of Obed-Edom, 1 Chr. 26. 5.

P H.

Phaleg] A diviſion. (It cometh of פלג, he divided, whence פלג, a river, or water divided, and פילגש, a concubine, compounded of פלג, he divided, & איש a Husband, as alienating the Husband from the Wife, and dividing him as it were into two parts, whereof ſhe challengeth one for her ſelfe.) The Son of Heber, Luk. 3. 35.

Phallu] See Pallu.

Phaltı] Deliverance, or baniſhment. The Son of Laiſh, 1 Sam. 25. 44. called Phaltiel, 2 Sam. 3. 15.

Phanuel] Seeing God, or the face of God. The Father of Anna the Propheteſſe, Luk. 2. 36.

Pharaoh] A name common to all the Kings of Ægypt, till the beginning of the Greek

Greek Monarchy, as Ptolemy was afterward: It ſignifies free, and an avenger; the former in reſpect of himſelfe, the latter in reſpect of his Subjects, whom Kings ought to judge, & to take vengeance of evil doers, Rom. 3. 4.

It ſignifieth alſo ſpreading abroad, uncovering, or making bare; or after the Syrian, vengeance, or revenging; and in the Ægyptian, a King.

There were divers of this name.

1. Gen. 12. 17.
2. Gen. 41. 1.
3. Exod. 1. 8.
4. Exod. 5. 1.
5. 1 King. 7. 8.
6. Surnamed Necho, 2 King. 23. 29.
7. Surnamed Hophra, Jer. 44. 30.

Phareż] A diviſion. The Son of Juda, Luk. 3. 33. Gen. 46. 12. Of him was the Family of the Pharezites, Numb. 26. 20.

Phariſee] There are three opinions concerning the Etymologie of this word.

The 1. of thoſe who derive it from פרש, Paraſh, expandere, explicare; either from the enlarging and laying open their Phylacteries; or from their open performance of good works in publick view of the people, as being ambitious of mans praiſe.

The 2. of them who derive it from פרש, exponere, explanare; becauſe they were of chief repute, and counted the profoundeſt Doctors for the expoſition of the Law, ſo that they were tearmed Peruſchim, quia Poreſchim, Phariſees, becauſe they were Expounders of the Law.

The 3. of ſuch as derive the name from the ſame Verb, but in the Conjugation Piel, where it ſignifieth dividere, ſeparare, to ſeparate. In this acception by the Greeks they were tearmed ἀφωρισμένοι, we may Engliſh them Separatiſts.

The particulars unto which they ſeparated, were,

1. To the ſtudy of the Law, in which reſpect they might be called ἀφωρισμένοι εἰς τὸν νόμον, ſeparated unto the Law. In alluſion unto this, the Apoſtle is thought to have ſtyled himſelfe, Rom. 1. 11. ἀφωρισμένον εἰς εὐαγγέλιον, ſeparated unto the Goſpel, when he was called from being a Phariſee, to be a Preacher of the Goſpel, and now not ſeparated to the Law, but to the Goſpel.

2. To an extraordinary ſanctity of life above other men, Luk. 18. 11.

The particulars from which they ſeparated, were,

1. Commerce with other people, Joh. 7. 49.
2. The apparell and habit of other men.
3. The cuſtomes and manners of the world.

Touching their opinions.

1. They aſcribed ſome things to fate, or deſtiny, and ſome things to mans free will.
2. They confeſſed that there were Angels and Spirits, Act. 23. 8.
3. Concerning the reſurrection of the dead, they acknowledged it, and taught, that the ſouls of evill men deceaſed, preſently departed into everlaſting puniſhment; but that the ſouls of good men paſſed by a kinde of Pythagorean μετεμψύχωσις into other good mens bodies. Hence it is thought that the different opinions concerning our Saviour did ariſe, Mat. 16. 14. as if his body had been animated by the ſoul either of John, Elias, or Jeremias.
4. They did ſtifly maintain the traditions of their Elders; namely,
   1. They would not eat untill they waſhed their hands, Mat. 15. 2.
   2. When they came from the Market they waſht, Mar. 7. 4. Luk. 11. 38.
   3. They waſhed their cups, and pots, and braſen veſſels, and tables, Mar. 7. 4.
   4. They faſted twice in the week, Luk. 18. 12.
   5. They held it unlawfull to eat with ſinners, Mat. 9. 11.
   6. They made broad their Phylacteries, and enlarged the borders of their garments, Mat. 23. 5.

Of them there were ſeaven ſorts.

1. Sichemita.
2. Truncatus.
3. Impingens.
4. Quid debeo facere, & faciam illud.
5. Mortarius.
6. Ex amore.
7. Ex timore.

Of all which, ſee Goodwyn his Moſes and Aaron, lib. 1. cap. 10. p. 44--56.

Pharoſh] Ezr. 8. 3.

Pharpar] Diminiſhed, the fructifying of fruit; or, a bull of a bull. A River of Damaſcus, 2 King. 5. 12.

Phaſeah] Neh. 7. 52.

Phebe] Cleer, or bright, or the moon. The name of a godly woman, Rom. 16. 1.

Phenice] Red, purple, or palm. A Countrey of Syria, where Tyre and Sidon are placed, Act. 11. 19. Alſo, an Haven of Candie, Act. 27. 12.

Phenicia] The ſame. Act. 21. 2.

Phibeſeth] The mouth of treading under foot, deſpite, or from the mouth. A City in Ægypt, Ezek. 30. 17.

Phicol]

Phicol] The mouth of all, or the perfection of the mouth. Chief Captain to Abimelech, Gen. 21. 22, 32.

Philadelphia] The love of the brother, or of brotherhood. A City, to the Church whereof John wrote, Rev. 1. 11. & 3. 7.

Philemon] Kissing with God. One to whom Paul wrote an Epistle, Philem. 1.

Philetus] Beloved, or amiable. An Apostate, or back-slider, 2 Tim. 2. 17.

Philip] A warriour, or warlike, or a lover of horses. An Apostle, Mat. 10. 3. Also one of the seaven Deacons, Act. 6. 5. The Evangelist, Act. 21. 8, 9. Also, the Brother of Herod the Tetrarch, Matth. 14. 3. Luk. 3. 19.

Philippi] Warlike men, or lovers of horses. A City, (so named by Philip, the Father of Alexander the great) Act. 16. 12. To the inhabitants whereof Paul wrote an Epistle, Phil. 1. 1. Who are tearmed Philippians, Phil. 4. 15.

Philistia] Palestina, the Philistines, Psal. 60. 8. & 87. 4. & 108. 9.

Philistim] Of פלש & מל, making ruine. The Son of Casluhim, the Son of Mizraim, the Son of Ham, the Son of Noah, Gen. 10. 1, 6, 14. Hence the Philistins, covered, to wit, with ashes or dust, Gen. 21. 32, 33. & 26. 1, 14, 15, 18.

Philologus] A lover of learning; or, a lover of the Word. A godly man, Rom. 16. 15.

Philosophers] Lovers of wisdome, Act. 17. 18. The learned among the Greeks were thus named. Pythagoras was the first who devised the name, because he thought that no man (but God onely) was wise.

Philosophy] The love or study of wisdome, Col. 2. 8. Where it is not simply condemned, but in some respects, namely, as it doth not contain it self within his bounds, or is not to the glory of God, or as it is vain deceit; and that,

1. When it propoundeth and teacheth devillish things, as the Philosophy of the Pagans did, as in their Magicks, when they taught the divers kinds of soothsayings, conjurings, casting of nativities, and a great part of Judicial Astrolgie.

2. When the placets and opinions of Philosophers that are false, are justified as true: as, their doctrine of the Worlds Eternity, of the Souls Mortality, the Worship of Angels.

3. When the principles of Philosophy, that in the ordinary course of Nature, are in themselves true, are abused to deny things propounded in the Gospel above Nature; as those Maximes, that Of nothing, nothing is made; and that Of privation to a habit there is no regression; and that A virgin cannot conceive, &c.

4. When the truest and best things in Philosophy are urged as necessary to salvation, and imposed as meet to be joyned with the Gospel.

Philosophy may be used not as a Mistresse, but as an Hand-maid unto Divinity. Byfield on Col. 2. 8. p. 30

Phinehas] A bold countenance. The Son of Eleazer, Exod. 6. 25. One of the Sons of Eli, 1 Sam. 1. 3.

Phlegon] Burning. The name of a man, Rom. 16. 14.

Phrygia] Of φρυγειν, broiling, or scorching by fire, or heat of the Sun. A large Countrey of the Lesser Asia, Act. 2. 10. & 16. 6.

Phurah] The Servant of Gideon, Joh. 7. 10, 11.

Phut] Africa, or Lybia. The Son of Ham, Gen. 10. 6. A Countrey, Ezek. 27. 10.

Phuvah] A pair of bellows. The Son of Issachar, Gen. 46. 13.

Phygellus] Fugitive. One that turned away from Paul, 2 Tim. 1. 15.

Phylacteries] A threed or band of blew silk in the fringes of a garment, by the beholding whereof, the memory of Gods precepts were kept and preserved; or frontlets of parchment between the eyes, as signes of remembrance. Mat. 23. 5. Make their phylacteries broad. Deut. 6. 8. They shall be as frontlets between their eyes.

In the Gospel they are called φυλακτήρια, from φυλάσσω, to conserve or keep, for by the use of them the Law was kept and preserved in memory. Hereof see Goodwyn his Moses and Aaron, p. 51, 52, 53, 54. where is shewed,

1. What they were.
2. What was written in them.
3. Whence they were so called.

Physician] One that by Art helpeth the decayes and defects of nature, curing bodily diseases by bodily medicines, Mar. 7. 26.

2. Christ Jesus, the onely Soveraign soul-Physitian, who by his blood and Spirit cureth all our spiritual sicknesses. Mat. 9. 12. The whole need not the Physician, but the sick; I come not to call the righteous, &c.

3. Embalmers of dead bodies, Genesis 50. 2.

4. Healers by words and counsell, Job 13. 3.

5. The means of help against destruction, Jer. 8. 22.

6. The Phyſicians counſell and phyſick, Mat. 9. 12. Mar. 2. 17. Luk. 5. 31.

P I.

Pick] Prov. 30. 17. Such children ſhall come to an untimely end, and be denyed buriall. See verſ. 11.

Pictures] Iſa. 2. 17. Pleaſant pictures, Heb. Pictures of deſire or delight. Hereby may be underſtood all ſuch curious pictures, as being either for ſuperſtitious uſes, or civil ornament intended, they were taken with, and took much delight in.

Or, Images framed with ſingular wit and skill, giving great delight and pleaſure to the beholders. Here by a Synecdoche, either ſhips or houſhold furniture, adorned and ſet forth with pictures is underſtood.

Piece] Part, Gen. 15. 10. An intire and ſufficient parcel, which might need no piecing, Exod. 37. 7. Numb. 10. 2. Meaſure, Neh. 3. 11. marg. This is ſpoken of a milſtone, ſilver, bread, fleſh, land, bullock, cloth, and of divers other things, eaſie to be underſtood.

To pierce] To offer violence to the body, by digging through, or opening ſome part of it. Joh. 19. 34. One of the ſouldiers pierced his ſide. Zach. 12. 10.

The Prophet Zachary in this ſpeech doth note two things; firſt, the horrible impiety of the Jews, which by their contumacy grieved God exceedingly a long time (as if they would pierce his ſoule with the arrows of their rebellions) and at length in the perſon of his Son incarnate (or made fleſh) ſpared not his ſide, but moſt cruelly pierced his very heart. Secondly, the true and ſerious repentance of many Jews (all elect ones) whoſe eyes being opened by the gracious Spirit of God, they ſhould conceive and hope well of the mercies of that God whom they had ſo grievouſly offended; being much diſpleaſed with themſelves for ſuch execrable contempt of God himſelf, with great and continuall ſorrow bewailing their ſins, and ſtriving to amendment: the accompliſhment lee in part, in Act. 2. 38.

2. To cauſe or work any extremity whatſoever. Pſal. 22. 16. They pierced my hands and my feet.

Piety] A true worſhipping of God, ſoundneſſe of doctrine, and a pure life: which things doe follow faith and hope. 1 Tim. 4. 8. Piety (or godlineſſe) is profitable to all things.

2. Naturall love towards parents and kinſfolks. 1 Tim. 5. 4. Let them learn to ſhew piety (or kindneſſe) towards their owne houſe, and to recompenſe their kindred. See Godlineſſe.

Pigeon] Lev. 12. 6. Heb. Son of a dove. Baal hatturim here noteth, that in every place he mentioneth the Turtles before the Pigeons, ſave here, the reaſon whereof he ſaith is this, becauſe ſhe brought but one. And if ſhe could finde a Dove, ſhe would not take a Turtle, becauſe the fellow of the Turtle would mourn for her mate, and would not couple her ſelf with another. Aynſworth. See Dove.

Pi-hahiroth] Exod. 14. 2. or, the mouth of Hiroth; that is, the ſtraight or paſſage between the Mountains of Hiroth, for in Num. 33. 8. the word Pi, that is, mouth, is left out of the name.

Pilate] Armed with a dart, or hair. The Governour of Judea, Matth. 27. 2. Mar. 15. 1.

Pildash] The Son of Nahor, Gen. 22. 22.

Pile] An heap of wood made for the burning of a dead body, Iſa. 30. 33. Ezek. 24. 9. He ſeems to allude to thoſe piles of wood that were uſed and ſpent there, in their cruel and inhumane Sacrifices, or in the burning of bodies, and other abominable things there, when it came to be for other purpoſes employed. Amot.

Phileha] One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 24.

Pilgrim] One that travelleth far from home in forain Countreys, without any certain or ſetled dwelling place. Gen. 47. 9. The whole time of my pilgrimage, &c.

The Patriarchs ſad dayes of their Pilgrimages, rather then of their life, becauſe of their many removings from place to place on earth, and for that we have no abiding City here, Heb. 11. 9, 13. & 13. 14.

2. Every godly perſon, which dwelleth here on earth, as touching his body, hath his deſire, love, and hope fixed in heaven, as in his proper Countrey. Heb. 11. 13. They confeſſed that they were ſtrangers and Pilgrims on the earth, Pſal. 39. 12. For Popiſh Pilgrims and Pilgrimage there is no ground and ſooting in all the Scriptures.

Pillar] Some ſtrong poſt or frame of ſtones made to ſupport and uphold ſome houſe or building; as the pillars in the Temple, and in *Solomon*s Houſe. There be pillars ſet up for monuments and remembrances, either of Gods judgements, or mens fame; as the Pillar of Salt, into which Lot's Wife was turned, and Abſalon's Pillar.

2. Teachers

2. Teachers or Miniſters of the Word, of great authority, upon whom the Church leaneth and ſtayeth for their ſound doctrine, as an houſe upon pillars. In this ſpeech Paul had regard to the building of the Temple, the weight whereof ſtood upon pillars, Gal. 2.

3. One perſon or Church, firmly and ſtedfaſtly ſetled in the eſtate of grace. Rev. 3.12. See Dict. on Revel.

4. A good Prince, and righteous Magiſtrates, as the ſtayes and ſupporters of a Common-wealth, Pſal. 75.3.

5. The pole, end, or point of the Axle-tree, whereon heaven is moved, (as the Aſtronomers teach) there be two of them. 1 Sam. 2. 8. The pillars of the earth are the Lords.

6. The reſemblance of a pillar, Gen. 19.26. That which riſeth up like a pillar, as of the Cloud, Numb. 12.3. Smoak, Judg. 20.40. Fire, Exod. 13. 21, 22.

7. Standing Images, Deut. 12.3. called Images, Exod. 23. 24. Standing Images, Lev. 26. 1.

8. The high mountains, called The pillars of heaven, Job 26. 11. becauſe they ſeem by their height to uphold the very heavens.

9. The loweſt parts of the earth, which are as the pillars to uphold the reſt, Job 9.6. 1 Sam. 2. 8. Pſal. 75. 3.

10. Very uncertaine and undoubted grounds, Prov. 9. 1.

Note. Pillars of ancient were either for a religious ſigne, as alſo Altars were, Gen. 28.18. & 25.14. Iſa. 19.19. But when the Law was given by Moſes, no Pillars might any more be ſet up, Lev. 26.1. Hoſ. 10.1. but all ſuch as Heathens had ſet up muſt be broken down, Deut. 7.5. & 12.3. Or ſometime pillars were for civill monuments, Gen. 35 20. 2 Sam. 18. 18.

Pillar of truth] The Church of Chriſt on earth. 1 Tim. 3. 15. The pillar and ground of truth, which is the Church of the living God. In this Metaphor, he borroweth his ſpeech from an old cuſtome of the Gentiles, who were wont to write their Laws in Tables, and ſo to hang them upon Pillars (as we do Proclamations on poſts) that they might be read: Hereby to teach us, that the Church is but a witneſſe and preſerver, and no rule of truth, (as Papiſts ſay) as the Pillar was not the Law, but that whereon the Law hung; ſo the true Church (leſſe the falſe Romiſh Church) is that which ſhews the truth, and upholds it by her Miniſtery, but it ſelf is not the rule of truth, for that is the holy Scriptures, which are faithfully kept by the Church, as a pillar upholdeth a building.

Pillars are for Supporters and for Monuments.

1. The Church upholdeth and maintaineth the truth.

2. Keepeth it in remembrance, by teaching it to all poſterities.

Pilled] Pulled off the bark in ſome places of the rods, Gen. 30. 37, 38.

Pillow] 1. Properly, that on which we lay our heads to ſleep, Gen. 28. 11, 18. 1 Sam. 19. 13.

2. Figuratively, A token of conſtant quietneſſe and reſt, ſuch the falſe Prophetеſſes made, to ſignifie peace and reſt to the people, Ezek. 13. 18, 19, 20.

Pilot] The Stern-man, or Governour of a ſhip, Ezek. 27. 8.

Piltai] Neh. 12. 17.

Pinacle] A turret, ſpire, or battlement of a Temple, Mat. 4. 5.

Pine away] Lev. 26. 39. or, melt away. To pine in iniquity, is, To conſume and periſh in the puniſhment for iniquity, Ezek. 33. 10. To flow out, Lam. 4.9. marg. To wither, decay, wear away, Mar. 9. 18.

Pine-tree] The Jews took of the branches hereof to make Boothes, when they kept the Feaſt of Tabernacles, Neh. 8. 15. It's in the Originall תרזה, Iſa. 41. 19. which ſome gueſſe to be ſo called from the noyſe which the branches hereof make, when they are ſhaken with the winde; and the root רזה, whence it ſeemeth to ſpring, is uſed of ſuch a noyſe as Horſes uſe to make, trampling or prancing with their feet, Judg. 5. 22. Nah. 3. 2. Others derive it from an Arabick word, that ſignifieth eternity, either becauſe it holdeth his verdure all the yeer long, or becauſe the wood or timber thereof is of long continuance, Annot. The middle or heart hereof, when it is grown fat and full of liquor, being kindled, burneth like a torch, being therefore by Interpreters rendred Tæda. There are ſeverall kindes hereof, whence cometh Roſen and Pitch, both liquid and hard. When the tree groweth over fat and oylie, it dyeth, even like to a man or beaſt that is ſtuffed or rather ſtifled in greaſe and fat. Both the leaves, bark, and fruit of this tree are uſefull in phyſick. Though it be a fat tree, yet doth it grow and thrive beſt in Mountains, and ſandy places, and groweth up the higher the more its boughs are cut off below. Through the abundance of moyſture, worms are bred betwixt the bark and the wood, which would ſoon ſpoyl the tree, if the Husband-man for the preſervation thereof did not pull off the bark. It beareth its fruit in the Winter, not in the Summer. Whileſt it is young, it muſt be often watered, elſe doth it not proſper; and its abundance of moyſture hindereth its ſpeedy growth. The longer it is kept from the rain, the longer it laſteth, yet if it be laid alwayes under water, its ſoundneſſe abideth a long time.

Pinon] A precious ſtone; or, beholding; or, the mouth of everlaſting, or the mouth of the Sun; or, after the Hebrew and Syrian, the mouth of a fiſh. A Duke, Gen. 36.41.

Pins] Exod.27.19. or, ſtakes, wherewith the hangings were faſtened to the ground, that they might not be waved to and fro with the wind; Nails which were to faſten it and the parts thereof, that it might ſtand ſure. Theſe ſignified the ſtability of the Church, and the Miniſtery of Gods Word faſtening the ſame. Ezr 9.8. Iſa. 33. 20. & 20. 23. Zech. 10. 4. Aynſworth.

A Pipe] 1. A muſicall inſtrument made to ſound by help of wind, 2 Cor. 14.7.

2. A Preacher of Gods Word blown and inſpired with the power and wiſdome of God, to call men to repentance and ſalvation: So St. Baſil interprets Matth. 11. 17. Conc. 7. in Pſal. 25.30.

Piram] A wilde Aſſe of them, the cruelty of them; or, the bull of the Mother. The King of Jarmuth, Joſh. 10. 3.

Pirathon] His breaking, or making bare; or after the Syrian, his revengements. A City, Judg. 12.15. Whence Pirathonite, an inhabitant thereof, Judg. 12. 13, 15.

Piſgah] A hill, height, or proviſion. A Mountain, Numb. 21. 20.

Piſidia] A pitch-tree, or black with pitch. A Province of Aſia the leſſe, Act. 13. 14.

Piſon] The changing greatneſſe of the mouth, or an inlarging. A River, ſo called (ſaith Aynſworth) of the multitude or increaſe of waters, Gen. 2, 11. The main river being ſuppoſed to be Euphrates, the firſt channell here noted is Piſon, or Piſchon, which the Greeks call by the name of a Kingly river. This falls into Tigris, and gives the name of Paſitigris, or Piſotigris to the concurrent ſtreams, Annot. alſo Hiſt. of the World, lib. 1. c. 3. ſect. 13. p. 58.

Piſpah] The diminiſhing of the mouth, or a mouth diminiſhed. The Son of Jether, 1 Chr. 7. 38.

Piſſe] Any that piſſeth againſt the wall, 1 Sam. 25. 22. A proverbiall ſpeech uſed by the Hebrews, ſignifying a totall extermination of an houſe, ſo as not ſo much as a dog ſhould eſcape unkilled, (1 King. 14.10. & 16.11. & 21.21. 2 King. 9.8.) Some think that by this phraſe is implyed, that he onely intended to deſtroy all the Males, but that he extended it to all Males and Females, it plainly appeareth, verſ. 34. where he ſaith that God had kept him back from hurting Abigail her ſelfe, by her wiſe and ſeaſonable counſell.

Their owne piſſe, 2 King. 18. 27. Heb. The water of their feet.

Pit] 1. Any miſchief or affliction, either ſpirituall or bodily; temporall or eternall. Pſal. 7. 15. They digged a pit, and themſelves are faln into it. Matt. 15. 14. If the blinde lead the blinde, they ſhall both fall into the pit, or ditch.

2. Any hollowneſſe in the ground, either naturall or artificiall, Iſa. 30. 14.

3. The grave or place of buriall for all dead bodies, Pſal. 30. 3.

4. Hell, the bottomleſſe pit, Rev. 20.1.

5. An originall or firſt beginning. Iſa. 51. 1. To the hole of the pit whence ye are digged, or to the hollow of the ciſtern, Jer. 2.13. to Sarah, and to her wombe, deemed as dead, and utterly diſabled from iſſue, Gen. 11. 30. & 16. 1. & 18. 11, 12. Rom. 4. 19. (for from the word here uſed hath a Woman her name in Heb. and to a Well or Ciſtern is the Wife compared, Prov. 5. 15.) untill God beyond the courſe or power of Nature, opened her wombe, as he did that hollow place in Lebi, Judg. 15. 19. and gave her power to conceive iſſue, Heb. 11. 11. Annot.

Pitch] Herewith was Noah's Ark pitched, Gen. 6. 14. Herewith the Ark, wherein Moſes was put, Exod. 2. 3. and that not only for cloſeneſſe, but for better and wholſomer ſent. This was a kinde of naturall lime or clay, faſt and clammy, like pitch.

And the ſtreams thereof ſhall be turned into pitch, &c. Iſa. 34. 9. A Rhetoricall deſcription of extreme devaſtation in way of alluſion to the deſtruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, Gen. 19. 24. Deut. 29. 23.

To pitch a tent] Reſiding, or quiet ſitting, Gen. 26. 17. It is a word uſed for pitching of a Camp or Army, Exod. 1. 9. & 18. 27. It is oppoſed to removing or journeying, Num. 1. 50, 52. Pitched, 2 Sam. 6. 17. Heb. ſtretched, marg.

Pitcher] 1. An earthen veſſel, wherewith to take up, and wherein to carry water, Gen. 24. 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 43, 45, 46. which being of a brittle ſubſtance, the work of the

Potter

Potter is not much regarded, and therefore the Church complaineth, that the precious Sons of Zion comparable to fine gold, were esteemed as earthen pitchers, Lam. 4. 2. as bottles of sherd, or earthen stuff, so Jer. 19. 1, 10. as things of no repute or worth, 2 Cor. 4. 7. See Jer. 22. 28.

2. The vein in which the blood is, Eccl. 12. 6. or, the pitcher be broken at the fountain.

Pithom] A mouthfull of them, a perfection of the mouth, or the perswasion of them. A City, Exod. 1. 11.

Pithon] A mouthfull of him, the perswasion of him, or a gift of the mouth. The Son of Micah, 1 Chr. 8. 35. & 9. 41.

To pity] To lament, Psal. 69. 20. marg. To have compassion, Ezek. 16. 5. To spare, have mercy, Jer. 13. 14. To spare, Jonah 4. 10. marg.

Pitifull] God is said to be very pitifull, πολύσπλαγχνος, Jam. 5. 11. that is, of many bowels, even as a tender Mother hath her bowels moved, when her childe is to suffer. See 1 King. 3. 26. Luk. 1. 78. Christians are required to be pitifull, εὔσπλαγχνοι, 1 Pet. 3. 8. Well of bowels, or rightly bowelled, when the heart is moved to compassion.

What things bowels of mercy import, and how to know when our bowels of mercy are right, See Byfield on 1 Pet. 3. 9. p. 683, 684.

P L.

Place] A portion of joy in the Kingdom of heaven, or a room in that Kingdome. Joh. 14. 3. I go to prepare a place for you. An Office, Gen. 40. 13. & 41. 13.

2. A portion of torment in the Kingdom of Hell, or a room there. Act. 1. 25. That he might go into his own place.

3. A Tent, House, City, or Dwelling. Gen. 18. 33. Abraham returned to his place. Gen. 19. 14.

4. Any part or portion of Land, wherein any person or other thing is resident and abiding, Gen. 13. 14.

5. Lot, state, condition, Isa. 22. 23, 25. Miserable, Job 18. 21. Psal. 37. 10. Happy, Psal. 118. 5.

6. Room or stead, Gen. 50. 19.

7. The manner and way of the grace of God to be made known under the New Covenant, Heb. 8. 7.

8. Estimation, account, Joh. 8. 37.

9. A portion or Text of Scripture, Act. 8. 32.

10. Occasion, opportunity, Eph. 4. 27.

It's also put for Standing, 2 Chr. 30. 16. marg. Stead, Hos. 1. 10. marg. A walk, Zec. 3. 7. marg. Hole, Jam. 3. 11. marg. An office, Gen. 40. 13. Seat, 1 Sam. 9. 22. Jam. 2. 3. Station, 2 Sam. 12. 16. Border, Isa. 28. 25. A City with the Countrey about, Judg. 18. 10. Way, Heb. 12. 17. marg. Thing, Eph. 1. 3. marg.

Burying place] A Sepulchre or Grave, which is in the Hebrew called Cabar, in the Germane tongue Grab, and our English Graubar, derived from it, Gen. 23. 4. A Sepulchre of ones owne was signe of right and firm possession, Isa. 22. 16. In that Abraham bought a place of buriall in the land promised him, it sheweth his faith, not only of the generall resurrection, but of his speciall possession of that Land, for which cause Jacob and Joseph would be brought thither, to be buried, Gen. 47. 28, 30. Gen. 50. 24, 25.

High places] The third heavens, the seat of the blessed, Luk. 2. 14.

2. Airy Region which is next us, where birds flie, and devils walk and range till the judgement, Eph. 6. 12. & 2. 2.

3. Places set up to worship God, contrary to the commandement, 1 King. 15. 14.

These high places were high hils, or close places shaded with trees. See Deut. 12. 3.

The places of publick assemblies for the worship of God under the Law, were at the first, onely those whersoever God by any symbole, or signification of his presence did shew, that there he would be worshipped; whereupon, such places were called The face and presence of God, Gen. 4. 14, 16. The house of God, Gen. 28. 17. and, The gate of heaven. The first setled place after the coming out of Ægypt, was the Cloud, where God shewed forth his glory visibly and sensibly, Exod. 33. 3, 7, 9. & 33. 8, 10, 11. The fixed places which God did chuse afterward, were, the Tabernacle, and Solomon's Temple; the two visible Testimonies of his presence, as it is said of the one, 1 King. 9. 3. and of the other, 1 Chro. 8. 6. Which holy places did all of them represent,

1. Christ, in whom bodily (that is, personally and substantially) the fulnesse of the Godhead dwelled, Col. 2. 9. By whom, sitting in heaven, we may go to God to worship him.

2. The whole Catholick Church of God, Eph. 2. 21. Rev. 21. 3.

3. Every particular Church, as Psalm 15. 1.

4. Every particular member; even every true Christian, as 1 Pet. 2. 5. 2 Cor. 6. 16. 2 Cor. 12. 9.

5. Even the Temple of our body thereby was figured.

Not to leave his place] To contain himself in his duty and charge, studying by all means to pacifie his offended Prince, especially by yeelding and modest submission. Eccl. 10. 4. Leave not thy place.

Plague] Any great judgement of God, sent for sin; as Famine, War, Sword, Sickneſſe, or any other judgement of God. Psal. 38. 11. My friends stand aside from my plague In this sense the ten judgements of Ægypt are called Plagues.

2. That infectious disease, commonly called the Pestilence, 2 Sam. 24. 15, 25.

Plain] A downe, or levell ground, a dale, or valley, as was that of Shinar, Gen. 11. 2. Moreh, Gen. 12. 6. Mamre, Gen. 14. 13. Jordan, Tabor, &c.

Plain] One disposed to civill society and benignity, Gen. 25. 27. It's spoken also of Places, Deut. 4. 43. Nehem. 12. 28. Path, Psal. 27. 11. The way of the righteous, Prov. 15. 19. Speeches, Mar. 7. 35.

Plainly] or, Elegantly, Isa. 32. 4. marg. or, not in proverbs, or parables, Joh. 16. 25. marg. Ib. 29. marg.

Plainneſſe] Boldneſſe, 2 Cor. 3. 12. marg.

Plaiſter] Deut. 27. 2. or, with lime or whiting, that the words of the Law might be written thereon; a memoriall of Gods benefits unto them. This word is used to signifie hypocriſie, as Paul called Ananias, a plaiſtered (or whited) wall, Act. 23. 3. and the Pharisees are likened to whited (or plaiſtered) sepulchres, wch appear beautiful outward, &c. Mat. 23. 27. See Aynsworth on Deut. 27. 2.

Plaiſter] Isa. 38. 21. Lay it for a plaiſter on the boyl, Heb. Bruiſe it upon the boil; bruiſe it upon the boil, for bruiſe it, and lay it, or lay it bruiſed upon the boyl.

Plaiting the hair] 1 Pet. 3. 3. This is by Interpreters conceived to mean all that artificiall dreſſing of the head, that imployes the hair beyond the naturall use of it, onely for vain shew. The naturall use of the hair is to be a covering; now when the hair is with curiosity, and by vain inventions turned into vain forms, by plaiting, curling, or other wayes, which we cannot name, or to fall into dangling locks, like the hair of Ruffians, the dreſſing is then vicious. Byfield on 1 Pet. 3. 3. p. 605.

Planes] Isa. 44. 13. Carpenters tooles, here used in the plurall number, because they used two sorts of Planes, a bigger and stronger, to fetch off the rugged and more rough matter first; and a leſſe and finer afterward, to smooth and poliſh the more exactly the remainder. The word cometh from a root that signifies to scrape, or pare away, Lev. 14. 41.

Planets] 2 King. 23. 5. or twelve signes, or conſtellations, marg. The Planets are those which in English are called the seaven wandring stars; because they are not so set in their orbes, as the multitude of stars are, which we commonly call fixed stars. The Hebrew word importeth such things as send down an influence, and this the seaven Planets are supposed to do most effectually. Annot. The word πλανάω, (of which word come the Planets) signifieth to seduce, or cauſe to erre, Mat. 24. 4. Mar. 13. 5. Joh. 7. 12. 1 Joh. 1. 8. & 3. 7. μὴ πλανᾶσθε, Jam. 1. 16. Wander not, after the manner of wandring stars. Now many wander so much after them, that they wander far from God.

Planks] 1 King. 6. 15. It was requiſite that the boards of the floor should be much thicker then the seiling of the walls; wherefore he provided planks for the floor.

A Plant] The people of Iſrael, which were as plants sown and set in the vineyard of the Church. Isa. 5. 2. And planted it with the best plants.

2. Any false calling, false doctrine, or worship. Matth. 15. 13. Every plant that my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted out.

3. Children. Psal. 144. 12. Thy Sons shal be as plants.

4. The plant of an hearb, or tree, Gen. 2. v. 5.

To plant] To remove and tranſlate young trees from one earth to another, that they may increaſe and fructifie. Also to create, by an Almighty commandement to cause that to be which was not before, Gen. 2. 8. To plant seed, for Put in, Ezek. 17. 5. mar.

2. To bring a people from one Countrey into another Countrey, there to place and settle them, that they may encreaſe and multiply. Psal. 44. 2. Thou hast planted them. Psa. 80. 8. Thou hast planted it. This is a terreſtriall and earthly planting.

3. To unite and joyn the elect (being taken out of the rotten stock of old Adam) unto Christ and his Church by his Spirit. Psal. 92. 13. Such as be planted in the House of the Lord. Rom. 6. 5. For if we be planted with him into the ſimilitude of his death. This is a spirituall inward planting of God himself.

4. To

4. To preach the Word plainly and easily, for the entrance of the ignorant into the knowledge of Christ. 1 Cor. 3. 6. I have planted, and Apollos hath watered. This is an outward planting, by the Ministers of God.

5. To denounce and foretell the will of God, for the continuance and prosperity of Kingdomes and people. Jer. 1. 10. I have set thee over Nations to build and to plant.

Naturall and spirituall planting or graffing agree in two things, and in other two they disagree.

1. They are alike in this, that as a cions or branch can do nothing at all toward the planting of it self; so the elect sinner can bring nothing to the incorporating himself into Christ, and toward his owne justification.

2. As the branch becomes one with the stock into which it is planted, and liveth by the same juyce or sap: so a sinner once graffed by the Spirit and faith into Christ, becomes one with him, and lives by his grace. Therefore, both Christ and his Church planted into him, are called by one name, 1 Cor. 12. 12.

But on the other side, as we graffe a good branch into a sowre barren stock: so evill branches, wicked men (being as wild olives) are planted into the body of Christ his Church, which is like a good tree.

Again, in the naturall planting, there the good branch or grist giveth sap unto the tree, which is turned into the nature of the sweet plant: but in the spirituall, the branch receiveth from the root Christ, whose grace altereth them, and makes them like himself, partakers of his godly nature.

Planted by the rivers of waters] One rooted into Christ by the grace of regeneration, that drawing from him lively juyce, and continuall moysture of the Spirit, he may be abundantly fruitfull in good works. Psal. 1. 3. He shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of waters.

Plat] 2 King. 9. 26. Portion, marg.

Plate] A thin leaf of Gold, Exo. 39. 3. Silver, Jer. 10. 9. Brasse, 1 King. 7. 30. employed to an holy use, Exod. 28. 36. & 39. 30. To an idolatrous use, Jer. 10. 9.

Platter] A kinde of large vessel, wherein they both sod meat, and brought it to the Table, (the Romans had some of incredible bignesse, as Dr. Hackwell sheweth at large in his Apologie) about the outside whereof, that it might be very clean, the Pharisees were very carefull, Mat. 23. 25. Luk. 11. 39. Thus Hypocrites make much doe about ceremonies, their own traditions, or things externall, and indifferent, but for the inward and most necessary parts of Gods worship, they are very careless. Annot. on Mat. 23. 25.

Play] Unlawfull, Idolatrously, Ex. 32. 6. 1 Cor. 10. 7.

Lawfull, 1. Civilly, as children in the streets, Zech. 8. 5. or as one on an instrument, 1 Sam. 16. 23. 2 King. 3. 13.

2. Religiously, 1 Sam. 18. 7. 1 Chr. 15. 29. Psal. 33. 3. & 68. 29.

It's put for,

1. Sporting, as children doe, Zech. 8. 5. and beasts, Job 40. 20.

2. Cheerfull moving of the body, 1 Chr. 15. 29.

3. Using a musicall instrument, 1 Sam. 16. 17.

4. To make sport with, Job 41. 5.

5. To behave ones selfe as mad, 1 Sam. 21. 15.

6. To fight, 2 Sam. 2. 14.

Plea and plea] Deut. 17. 18. that is, between judgement and judgement, cause and cause, as in 1 King. 3. 16, 17---28. or, Pleading for and against in the same cause, some accusing, and some denying.

To plead] To expostulate or quarrell, or contend and stand in strife against one. Rom. 9. 21. O man, who art thou that pleadest with God? Mich. 6. 2. He will plead with Israel. To debate a matter in many words. This is properly pleading. God pleadeth against man, but this is often time in action, as when he pleaded Davids cause against Nabal, by slaying him, 1 Sam. 25. 39. Isa. 49. 25. Psal. 35. 1. Man pleadeth against God; and this is always a contending in words.

To plead ones cause] To undertake the defence of ones cause against his enemy. Psal. 35. 1. Plead thou my cause, O Lord, &c.

Pleasant] 1. Desirable, goodly, tall, excellent, as Cedars, and the like. See Eze. 31. 8, 9, 18.

2. A desire, or lust, that is, to be desired, Gen. 3. 9.

3. Sweet, 2 Sam. 1. 23. marg.

4. A desire, Gen. 3. 6.

5. Desirable, Lam. 1. 7, 10. marg.

It's spoken of Persons, 2 Sam. 1. 23. Places, Psal. 16. 6. Things, as Land, Gen. 49. 15. Bread, Dan. 10. 3. The harp, Psal. 81. 2. Trees, Gen. 2. 9. Knowledge, Prov. 2. 10. Beasts, as the Roe, Prov. 5. 19. Words, Proverbs chap. 15. vers. 26. So of many other Things, Fields, Plants, Vessels, Houses, &c.

To please] To frame (as much as we may) our thoughts, words, and deeds, to Gods will. Col. 1. 9. That you please God in all things. When we allow that which God allowes, and hate that which God hateth; this is to please God.

2. To purpose and will to doe some things, or not to do other things. Psal. 115. 3. Our God is in heaven, he doth whatsoever he pleaseth. Psal. 135. 6. Whatsoever pleaseth the Lord, &c.

3. To seek to satisfie, and profit our selves, with a neglect of our neighbour, Rom. 15. 1.

It's spoken 1. of God, pleasing himselfe, and is put both for his Will, Isa. 55. 11. 1 Cor. 1. 21. and for his decree and purpose, Psal. 115. 3. & 135. 6.

2. Of Christ pleasing God, and is put for acceptable, Joh. 8. 29. Satisfied and fully pacified, Mat. 3. 17. & 17. 5. Luk. 3. 22.

3. Of Man, who pleaseth,

1. Himselfe, in things unlawfull, Isa. 2. 6. Lawfull, 1 Sam. 18. 20. Act. 15. 34.

2. God, 1 King. 3. 10. Prov. 16. 7. Eccl. 7. 26. which is to accept and approve, Heb. 13. 16. To be accepted and approved, Col. 1. 9. Heb. 11. 5. To be contented and satisfied, Mic. 6. 7. Mal. 1. 8. Psal. 69. 31.

3. His neighbour, and this is both unlawfull, as to flatter, and humour, Gal. 1. 10. and lawfull,

1. For to endevour to apply our selves to others weaknesses, in things lawfull, for their salvation, 1 Cor. 10. 33.

2. For to seek his good and profit, Rom. 15. 2.

To please men] To study and seek to flatter men in publick doctrine, and private actions, making this the mark and end thereof, how to claw and content men, as Paul did toward the Pharisees before his conversion: but after his calling to Christ, would not doe it, studying thence-forward, how to please God principally, or men for Gods sake. Gal. 1. 10. Or do I seek to please men?

2. To accommodate ones selfe in things indifferent, to the desire of men, observing persons, time, and place: this is charitable in the doer, and profitable to the receiver, to win him to true godlinesse, 1 Cor. 9. 19, 20, 21, 22.

3. To please truely and lawfully by the way of godlinesse, Rom. 14. 18. 1 Thess. 4. 4. Act. 6. 5. Rom. 15. 2.

To please our neighbour] To doe him a pleasure, seeking his commodity so far as may further his salvation, Rom. 15. 2.

To be pleased] To accept and approve in mercy, such duties as are done to God. Heb. 13. 16. With such sacrifices God is pleased.

To be well pleased] To be throughly satisfied, and fully pacified, in respect of a price paid unto justice for sin. Matt. 3. 17. This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. God looking upon Christ crucified and us in him, layeth aside his whole displeasure and wrath, conceived against us for sin.

Pleasure, referred to God] The most free and just decree and determination of God, touching all things. Matt. 11. 26. Even so Father, because it was thy pleasure; and not because men were worthy. All merit of works is shut out by the Doctrine of grace, rightly understood.

Pleasure, referred to men] Any manner of sinfull delight, agreeable to our corrupt nature. 2 Tim. 3. 4. Lovers of pleasure, more then of godlinesse. See 1 Tim. 5. 6.

2. Honest delights, serving for the solace and comforts of mans life. Gen. 49. 20. He shall give pleasures for a King.

Pleasure is taken diversly.

3. For a delightsome quality, in some outward object, as the cause active and conferring it, and so is without us.

4. For an inward faculty in man or other creature, apprehending or delighting in that outward object or pleasure thereof, and this is within us, but yet in the will above, and sensuall appetite beneath, &c.

5. The intention of the minde, Ezr. 5. 17.

6. Command. Psal. 103. 21. That doe his pleasure.

7. Merryment, banquets, Prov. 21. 17.

8. Kindenesse, or benefit, Act. 24. 27. & 25. 9.

Good pleasure] The free and loving purpose of God for the salvation of the elect, Eph. 1. 5. According to the good pleasure of his will. The high and first moving cause of election, to wit, his Free-love, concerning which God doth much please himself.

2. The delight and contentment which God taketh in the work of his purpose, regenerating and creating faith in his elect. 2 Thess. 1. 11. Our God fulfill all the pleasure of his goodnesse, and the work of faith, with power.

Pleasures of Gods house] Every spirituall blessing. Psal. 65. 4. Satisfied with the pleasures of thine house.

Pleasures of sin] Such delights, benefits, and commodities of this life, as be gotten and and held with ſinfull conditions. Heb. 11. 25. To enjoy the pleaſures of ſin.

Pledge] A gage or pawn whereupon ſome thing is lent, to aſſure the lender, that what he hath lent, or is by the borrower promiſed unto him, ſhall be returned and given. About this there are certain rules laid down, Exod. 22. 26. Deut. 24. 10, 11, 12, 13, 17. Complaints, Job 22. 6. & 24. 3, 9. Amos 2. 8. This was to be reſtored, Ezek. 18. 7. Upon the performance whereof bleſſings are promiſed, Ib. 9. & 33. 15. Upon the non-performance, judgements, 12, 13. But of him that would be ſurety for a ſtranger, a pledge might be taken, Prov. 20. 16. Where the words may be either thus underſtood, Truſt him not without a pawn, that cares not whom he be ſurety for; or (proverbially) Truſt him by no means, make no account of him as of a ſober man, or of credit, &c.

2. A pawn or earneſt, whereby the giver bound himſelfe to perform what he promiſed, Gen. 38. 17.

3. A token whereby to know that one is well, or pawn for victuals, and other neceſſaries, or token whereby David might goe out and in to his Brethren in the Army, without ſuſpicion of coming as a Spie, 1 Sam. 17. 18.

4. Hoſtages, Iſa. 36. 8.

Pleiades] The ſeaven ſtars, ariſing in the beginning of March, and giving the beginning to the Spring, for here in Job 9. 9. they are ſet between thoſe ſtars that begin the Winter, and thoſe that begin the Summer, & ch. 38. 31. oppoſed to Orion, that by his froſty bands bindes up the earth, as on the contrary, they ſet it at liberty to bring forth delicate fruits. The Greek word is taken ἀπὸ τῦ πλέω, from a word that ſignifies to ſail, becauſe after the rough Winter paſt, in the beginning of the Spring, Sailers uſe to put forth to ſea. Annot.

Plenteous] Spoken of yeers, Gen. 41. 34, 47. Of man abounding and multiplyed, Deut. 28. 11. & 30. 9. Gold and ſtones, 2 Chr. 1. 15. Gods mercy, Pſal. 86. 5. His redemption, Pſ. 130. 7. The ground or earth, Iſa. 30. 23. Meat, Hab. 1. 16. Harveſt, Mat. 9. 37.

Plenty] Fulneſſe, abundance, ſufficiency, no lack of any things, no ſcarceneſſe, &c. Strength, Job 22. 25. marg.

Plenty of the Gentiles] The full multitude and number of them, Rom. 11. 25. So a plenty of Shepheards, Iſa. 33. 4. for a multitude.

Plot] To practiſe, deviſe. Pſal. 37. 12. The wicked plotteth againſt the juſt.

Plough] The preaching of Chriſt, and the profeſſion of Chriſtianity. Luk. 9. 26. He that puts his hand to the plough, that is, either to preach or profeſſe Chriſt; Alſo literally, Joel 3. 10.

Plow] 1. To till and break up the ground with a plough, 1 Sam. 14. 14.

2. To work, plot, and practiſe, Job 4. 8, Hoſ. 10. 13. Injuriouſly to deale withall, Pſal. 129 3.

3. To overturn, Jer. 26. 18.

4. To labour in ones calling, as the Husband-man doth in ploughing, 1 Cor. 9. 10.

Plow-ſhare] An inſtrument which the Husband-man uſeth in tillage, Iſa. 2. 4. Joel 3. 10.

Pluck] To caſt, Job 29. 17. marg. To bring forth, Pſal. 25. 15. marg.

Plummet] The plummet of the houſe of Ahab, 2 King. 21. 13. Hereby is meant the utter deſtruction thereof, as ch. 10. 11. I will lay righteouſneſſe to the plummet. Iſa. 28. 17. or, by levell. The word ſignifieth, the weight that hangeth at the lines end to keep it even, 2 King. 21. 13. Judgement and juſtice, by line and levell, for neither judgement without juſtice, nor juſtice without judgement; as neither any uſe of the line in ſuch caſe without the levell, no more then of the level without the line. Stone of tin, Zech. 4. 10. marg.

Plunge] Job 9. 31. Put me into the filth, over head and ears, and ſtain me all over, as Dyers colour their cloth, Ezek. 23. 15.

P O.

Pocherethzebaim] The baniſhing of the mouth of a Doe, or the cutting off the mouth of warfare. A City, Ezr. 2. 57. or, the baniſhing of the mouth of drunkenneſſe, Neh. 7. 59.

Poet] One that writeth of divers matters in verſe, as Songs, Rymes, and ſuch like; as Aratus, a Greek, Act. 17. 28. Menander, 1 Cor. 15. 33. Epimenides, Tit. 1. 12.

Point] The ſharp top of a thing, Jer. 17. 1. Glittering, or fear, Ezek. 21. 15. marg.

Point of death, Joh. 4. 47. Dying, ready to die.

In one point, Jam. 2. 10. Any one particular of the Law, any one ſin wherein a man alloweth himſelf.

Poiſon. See Poyſon.

Pole] Numb. 21. 8. or ſigne. The Original Nes, ſignifieth an Enſigne, or banner lifted up on high, and is here by the Greek and Chaldee tranſlated a ſigne, meaning a pole, or pertch, pertch, which is uſually ſet up for a ſigne or ſignification of ſome thing. Aynſw.

Policy] Counſell or advice, either good or evill. Prov. 21. 30. There is no policy, or counſel againſt the Lord.

Poliſhed] Pſal. 144. 12. Cut, hewn, carved, Lam. 4. 7. Made ſmooth, ſlick, cleer.

Polls] Numb. 1. 2. or their ſkuls, that is, as the Greek tranſlateth, their heads, meaning the particular perſons. So in Ex. 38. 26. Man by man. 1 Chr. 23. 3.

To pollute, or defile] To make one Morally unclean and ſinfull, Mat. 15. 18.

2. To make one Ceremonially unclean, by touching the dead carkaſſe of a man, or beaſt, Lev. 21. Hag. 2. 14.

3. To pronounce any thing to be unclean, and to forbid ſome creatures as unclean, by ſignification, as God did under the Law, Lev. 9. 3, 4. or by nature, as the Manichees and Marcionites did of old: or by precept, as the Pope now doth pronounce ſome meats unclean, and ſo forbids them to ſome men at all times, and to all men at ſome times, as Lent, &c. for religion and greater holineſſe. Act. 10. 15. What God hath cleanſed do not thou pollute.

4. To tread under foot, Ezek. 16. 6. marg.

Pollution] Spoken of a menſtruous Woman, Ezek. 22. 10. Of Idols, Act. 15. 20. Of corruptions in the world, 2 Pet. 2. 20.

Pollux] He with Caſtor, are ſaid to be two Twins whom Jupiter begat on Leda, in the form of a Swan; who when they came to age, ſcoured the Sea of Pyrates, and therefore were by the Painims accounted gods of the Sea.

Pomegranate] 1. Artificiall, Exod. 28. 33, 34. 1 King. 7. 18, 20, 42. 2 Ki. 25. 17. Jer. 52. 22.

2. Naturall, Num. 13. 23. & 20. 5. 1 Sam. 14. 2. The Pomegranates being a ſweet and ſavoury fruit, ſignifie the Prieſts life and converſation, the fruit of his profeſſion, of good reliſh and acceptation to good people. Annot. on Exod. 28. 34.

The tree it ſelf is hard and knotty, ſtretching out more in breadth then in height. The fruit hath a hard rinde or pill, but within hath a fleſhy ſubſtance, wherein are many kernels, which though it nouriſh little, yet is medicinable, as are the bark, juyce, bloſſomes, and ſeeds thereof. It cannot abide cold. Such of the trees as bear ſingle flowers are fruitfull, ſuch as bear double, barren.

3. Myſtical, Cant. 4. 13. & 6. 11. & 7. 12.

Pomels] 2 Chron. 4. 12, 13. or, bowles, 1 King. 7. 41.

Pomp] 1. Noyſe, or tumult, Iſa. 5. 14. Such as is uſuall in warlike conflicts, Iſa. 25. 25. Hoſ. 10. 4. Amos 2. 2. as the like alſo in diſorderly feaſting and revellings, eſpecially where wine hath got the upper hand, chap. 24. 8. Jerem. 48. 45. & 51. 38, 39.

2. Ones ſtate and bravery, wherein he prideth himſelf, Iſa. 14. 11. See Iſa. 13. 11. The glory, power, and ſtrength of a land, Ezek. 32. 12. & 33. 28.

Great pomp, Act. 25. 23. that is, in a Princely manner, and great ſtate, μετὰ πολλῆς φαντασίας, with great oſtentation, preparation, ambition, &c. The words ſignifie, With great fantaſie, or vain ſhew. Their great pomp was but a fancie.

To ponder] To weigh and conſider a thing in our minde, before we doe agree and conſent to it. Luk. 2. 19. Mary pondered theſe ſayings in her heart.

Ponds] Stewes to keep fiſh in, either for ſale, or to make uſe of otherwiſe when they pleaſe, Iſa. 19. 10.

Pontius] A hand, or of the ſea. One ſurnamed Pilate, a Governour of the Jews, Mat. 27. 2.

Pontus] The ſea. A Countrey of Aſia, 1 Pet. 1. 1.

Pool] A gathering of waters, Exod. 7. 19. marg. And that ordinarily by means of the rain, Pſal. 84. 6. Whereof there were divers, as of Gibeon, 2 Sam. 2. 13. Hebron, 2 Sam. 4. 12. Samaria, 1 King. 22. 38. Thoſe made by Solomon, Eccl. 2. 6. That made by Hezekiah, 2 King. 20. 20. The Kings pool, Neh. 2. 14. The pool of Siloah, Neh. 3. 15. The pool of Bethesda, Joh. 5. 2. Of thoſe ſome might be to breed fiſhes in, as this laſt, for the cure of the diſeaſed; and others to furniſh water to the inhabitants, and water the ground, Eccl. 2. 6.

Poor] Such as are needy, though they be not utterly deſtitute. Pſal. 72. 2. Do juſtice unto the poor and needy.

2. Such as have extreme want of earthly things, even unto beggery. Matt. 26. 11. The poor ye ſhall have alwayes with you. Luk. 16. 29. There was a certain begger. Alſo, weak, and ſick, Pſal. 41. 1. marg.

3. The godly, being afflicted, who put their truſt in no worldly thing, but cleave to God in all their trouble and calamity. Pſal. 9. 12. He forgets not the complaint of the poor. & 10. 14. The poor commits himſelf unto thee. v. 18. Judge the poor, O Lord; that is, ſuch as feel ſeel their afflictions, and fly to thee onely for ſuccour, being forſaken of the world, as godly perſons commonly be, for their well-doing, hated, deſpiſed, and caſt off. Such as are ſpiritually poor, dejected for their ſins, and the juſt condemnation of them, perceiving alſo a want of true Juſtice, which is in Chriſt; and of all heavenly and ſaving graces, Iſa. 11.4. Mat. 5.3. & 11.5. Iſa. 61.1. Pſal. 22.26. Job 36.6. marg.

4. All men, both rich and poor, but eſpecially the needy. Exod. 22.25. If thou lend money to the poor with thee.

5. Such as want the gifts of grace, as true wiſdome, the fear of God, repentance and faith, &c. in this life, and ſalvation in the next, Prov. 29.13. Rev. 3.17.

6. Such as are humble or low in the opinion of themſelves, and their eſtates or gifts, whether great or little, many or few, Luk. 6. 20. Mat. 5.3. Pſal. 86.1.

Thus there are both corporall poor (which are indeed very poor, or poor, but not in extremity, or in a low eſtate, or which hypocritically make themſelves ſo, Pro. 13.7.) and ſpirituall poor, both the ungodly deſtitute of ſpirituall riches, Jer. 5.4. Rev. 3.17. and the godly, who are poor in their owne eyes, Mat. 5.3.

To grinde the face of the poor] To make them ſad, either by cruell exacting of their labours, as the Task-maſters in Ægypt, or by forſaking their juſt cauſe in judgement, and pronouncing ſentence againſt them, as the wicked Judges did in Jeruſalem, in Iſaiah his time. Iſa. 3.15. What mean ye to grinde the faces of the poor? See Iſa. 1.23. This alſo is the meaning of that other phraſe, in the ſame verſe, of beating the poor in pieces (as a ſtone is beaten into ſmall powder) by exaction and oppreſſion, in publique judgement eſpecially.

Poor in ſpirit] Such as being tamed by their worldly poverty, or other miſeries, and having a lively feeling of their ſpirituall poverty, and wants, are humbled and made lowly thereby. Matt. 5.2. Bleſſed are the poor in ſpirit, that is, the humble-hearted.

Poor of this world] Such as lack worldly goods, being needy, and in the Worlds judgement, of all men moſt vile and abject. Jam. 1.5. God hath choſen the poor of this world. See God judgeth not as the world doth.

To remember the poor] To take care for the relief of the needy Saints, and to that end, to make collections through the Churches for them; which becauſe it is a fruit, and conſequently of remembrance; therefore, ſuch care for the poor is called remembring them, as Gal. 2.9. That we ſhould remember the poor.

Spoil of the poor] Goods, whereof the poor were ſpoyled by oppreſſors, or goods taken away by ſpoyl. Iſa. 3.14. The ſpoyl of the poor, &c.

Thy poor] Such godly poor as religiouſly worſhip God, committing themſelves wholly to his protection. Pſal. 72.2. He ſhall judge thy poor with equity.

Pope of Rome] A monſtrous perſon, neither man nor woman, God nor Devil; but partaking in a devilliſh and brutiſh nature; being a man of ſin, wholly compounded of impiety and iniquity; the Son of perdition, himſelfe appointed to deſtruction, and thirſting after the deſtruction and ruine of others, whom he deſires to lead (with himſelf) unto the pit of perdition; being the head of that univerſall Apoſtaſie and falling from the Faith and Religion of Chriſt, which he impugneth and reſiſteth (in a moſt diſguiſed ſort) under the title of the Vicar of Chriſt, and by pretence of defending the holy Catholick Faith and Church; yet being (indeed) the main adverſary of Chriſt ſitting in the Temple of God as God, exerciſing tyranny over mens conſciences, uſurping to be Judge of the Scriptures, and Lord of the Princes of the earth, to depoſe them at his will, 2 Theſſ. 2.3, 4, 7, 8. Rev. 17.1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7. & 18.2, 3.

Poplar] Of the rods hereof Jacob made uſe, in laying them pilled in the troughs of waters, when the flocks came to drink, Gen. 30.37. It is called green, not in reſpect of colour, but of tenderneſſe and moyſture, being young, and not hard and dry by growth or age. The Iſraelites did abuſe them to idolatrous uſes, Hoſ. 4.13. The bark, leaves, young buds, with oyntment made of the buds, are all profitable in Phyſick. It's a ſoft and tender tree, whoſe leaves are on the one ſide white, on the other, of a blackiſh colour, ſeeming in the evening not to be of the ſame colour whereof they were in the morning. The leaſt blaſt of wind makes the leaves ſhake and tremble. From its root many twigs ſpring forth yeerly.

Populous] Full, or abounding with people, Deut. 26.5. Nouriſhing, Nah. 3.8. marg.

Poratha] One of the Sons of Haman, Eſt. 9.8.

Porch] An entry into an houſe, Judg. 3.23. The Temple had a ſtately one added to the open end thereof, 1 King. 6.3. So, before the houſe of Lebanon, for the greater grace thereof, through which they entred into the houſe, 1 King. 7. 6. which had many pillars in it, by which it's probable there were upper ſtories therein ſupported thereby. There was another before the Kings palace, verſ. 7. where the Kings were wont to ſit, hear, and determine cauſes. In 1 Chr. 28. 11. the Porch is ſynecdochically put for the whole Temple. That mentioned in Ezek. 40. 48. was not that called Solomon's Porch, wherein Jeſus walked, Joh. 10 23. and wherein the people ran together to Peter and John, and the Creeple healed by them, Act. 3. 11. and wherein the Apoſtles and the people were all with one accord, Act. 5. 12. That muſt be ſome porch of the Outward Court, for into this, the people, or the Apoſtles, or our Saviour himſelf, never entred, as not being of the Tribe of Levi, and of Aaron's line, who were onely to enter into it. Thoſe mentioned Joh. 5. 2. ſeem to have been made to ſhelter ſick and lame men repairing to that place, and watching for moving of the water, which being ſuddain, at no fixed time, they could not have been able to attend, had they had no cover to defend them from the weather, and place to reſt in. The word στοὰ there uſed, (whence the Stoicks had their name) ſignifieth, a private place to walk in, a walk.

Solomons porch, Joh. 10. 23. that is, that part of the Temple which was built again, after the pattern of that porch which Solomon builded.

Porter] A dore-keeper, which hath authority to admit and let in and out of the houſe where his charge is, being Civill, 2 Sam. 18. 26. Eccleſiaſticall, 1 Chr. 9. 21. & 2 Chr. 23. 4, 19.

2. The holy Ghoſt, by whom the doctrine of Chriſt (that dore) doth finde entrance into the faithfull, to the lightening of ſound knowledge of God and his Word, Joh. 10. 3.

Portion] A ſhare or part in lands or goods. Luk. 15. 12. Give me the portion of the goods that fall to me.

2. God himſelf, who is the life and portion of his people. Pſal. 16. 5. The Lord is the portion of my inheritance.

3. Ordinance, Neh. 11. 23. marg.

4. Such things as belong to one, Eſt. 2. 9. See Lot.

Portius] cometh either of porcus, a hog, or of πόρκος, a fiſhers net, ſo πόρκος ſhould be the ſame with πορκεὺς, a fiſher. The Governour of Judea, Act. 24. 27.

To poſſeſſe] To hold ſomething as our owne. 1 Cor. 7. 30. And they that buy, as if they poſſeſſed not. Mat. 10. Poſſeſſe no gold in your girdles. To inherit, Deut. 12 2. marg.

2. To be conſtant. Luk. 21. 19. Poſſeſſe your ſouls in patience; that is, Be conſtant in patience. 1 Theſſ. 4. 4. Poſſeſſe your veſſels in holineſſe; that is, Keep ſo conſtantly, and with continuance.

3. To be content with that which one hath, as if he had all things, and lacked nothing. 1 Cor. 6. 10. Having nothing, and yet poſſeſſing all things.

4. Fully to enjoy or inherit by deſert. Mar. 10. 17. What ſhall I do to poſſeſſe eternall life? The man which put this queſtion, dreamed of deſerving heaven by works; therefore Chriſt fitting his anſwer accordingly, ſendeth him to Moſes Law, not to himſelf.

To poſſeſſe the Mount of Eſau] To have the borders and bounds of the Church of God enlarged in receiving into the boſome thereof the Gentiles, when they and the Jews ſhall be made one people through the Goſpel, Obad. 19. 20.

Poſſeſſion] Lands, which men hold and keep by ſome proper right which they have in them, Act. 4. 32, 34, 37. & 5. 1.

2. The Sacrifices offered up unto God, which were the Levites poſſeſſion. Eze. 44. 28. For I am their poſſeſſion.

3. Buſineſſe, 1 Sam. 25. 2. marg.

4. Cattell, 1 Chr. 28. 1. marg.

5. Lands, houſes, and habitations, 1 Chr. 7. 28.

6. Rule, or dominion, Gen. 36. 43. Pſ. 2. 8.

7. Riches, whether in lands, goods, ſervants, or cattel, Eccl. 2. 7. Mat. 19. 22.

8. A dwelling place, Act. 7. 5.

9. The Land of Canaan, and the Kingdomes which God gave Iſrael, Act. 7. 45.

10. Enjoyment of lands, and other means, for maintenance, Ezek. 44. 28.

11. Heaven, Eph. 1. 14.

To give a poſſeſſion] To make ſale of it, or to give it for a juſt price. Gen. 23. 4. Give me a poſſeſſion to bury my dead in.

Poſſeſſour of heaven and earth] The moſt juſt Owner, Lord, and diſpoſer of heaven and earth, and all things in them, by right of creation and preſervation. Gen. 14, 19, 22. The great poſſeſſour of heaven and earth.

By Poſſeſſours in Zech. 11. 5. may be underſtood ſuch as had any right over the people of God; whether by purchaſe, conqueſt of war, or otherwiſe. And by Poſſeſſours of lands, or houſes, in Acts ch. 4. verſ. 34. ſuch may be underſtood as were

Owners

Owners thereof, or had them in their hands.

Possible] 1. That which may be done, though it never be done. Mat. 19. 26. With God all things are possible.

2. That which may be effected, Mar. 9. 23. Rom. 12. 18. or, for the effecting whereof there was probability, Act. 20. 16.

3. Convenient and necessary, Gal. 4. 15.

4. Standing with Gods will and decree, Mat. 26. 39.

Not possible, or impossible] Some thing which cannot be done, no not of God himselfe, in respect of his decree and revealed will, though it might be done in respect of his absolute power. Heb. 6. 4. It is not possible that they which were once enlightened, if they fall, &c.

2. That which can never be done by any humane strength, Mat. 19. 26.

Post] A part (in probability) of that frame of wood, or building, wherewith the Tabernacle was encompassed, to preserve it from being hurt by the weather: For otherwise the Tabernacle made by Moses had neither gates nor posts, but onely an hanging or curtain in the entry of it, Exod. 28. 36. Annot. on 1 Sam. 1. 9. A dore-post, Deu. 6. 9. or, of a gate, Judg. 16. 3.

Post] A speedy Messenger, Est. 3. 13, 15. & 8. 10, 14. Job 9. 25. 2 Chron. 36. 6, 10. Jer. 51. 31.

Posterity] The generation following, Ps. 109. 13. People that should be born, Psal. 22. 31. Off-spring, Job 27. 14. Seed, Psal. 25. 13. Children, Psal. 78. 6.

Pot] A vessell of earth, or other metall, for uses in a family, 2 King. 4. 38. Eccl. 7. v. 6.

2. A mortall man, frail as an earthen pot, Jer. 18. 6. Rom. 9. 21. The power of God over man his creature, is greater then of a Potter over his pot; for God made the matter whereof man was made, so did not the Potter; therefore, great cause why man should not reason against God.

3. Calamities, and great affliction. Psal. 68. 13. Though you have lyen among the pots. It is a Metaphor from Kitchin and Scullion boyes, which in time of war follow the Camp, where to defend themselves from wind and weather, (the injuries of the air) they lie down between their Chimney-stuffe, on the hearth stones, and smoaking rusty pots, which all to besmut and black them. To this sense is the place of Ezek. 40. 43. to be interpreted.

4. Slavery, and base drudgery, Psal. 81. 6.

5. Jerusalem, Ezek. 24. 3. 6.

6. A measure of the same quantity with the Log, containing six eggs, that is, half a pinte, or a pinte and an half, Mar. 7. 4. marg.

Onely Potentate] God the Father being compared with Christ, as he is incarnate, so as the Godhead of Christ, and Spirit is not excluded by this word [Onely] neither here nor elsewhere, 1 Tim. 6. 15, 16. Joh. 17. 3.

Potiphar] is in the African tongue, a bull; in the Syrian, Hebrew, and Chaldee, a fat bull, or the fructifying of fatnesse. An Officer of Pharaoh, Gen. 37. 36. & 39. 1.

Potiphera] Heb. & Syr. scattering abroad fatnesse, or the making bare of fatnesse, or the revengement of fatnesse. The Father of Joseph's Wife, Priest, or Prince of On, Gen. 41. 45.

Pot-sheard] A piece of an earthen vessel, Job 2. 8. Fraile, and brittle man, Isa. 45. 9.

Pottage] Broth, wherein hearbs are boyled, 2 King. 4. 38. That which Jacob sold unto Esau was red, Gen. 25. 30. which might be by some hearbs, as Lentiles, whereof they were made, Ib. 34. or by somewhat put therein, which might give them that colour, as Saffron. The word red is doubled, because the pottage was red, as the good good, Judg. 11. 25. emphatically signifieth very good, and naught naught, Prov. 20. 14. very naught.

Potter] One who working in clay maketh pots, Isa. 41. 25. Jer. 18. 2--6. God our Maker, Isa. 64. 8. Rom. 9. 21.

Poverty] Lack, want of things necessary, need, scarcity, Prov. 30. 8. This cometh through sluggishnesse, Prov. 6. 11. & 20. 13. & 24. 34. & 24. 34. Miserableness, Prov. 11. 24. Refusall of instruction, Pr. 13. 18. Drunkennesse and gluttony, Prov. 23. 21. Following after vain persons, Prov. 28. 19. Hasting to be rich, Ib. 22. The effect wherof is destruction, Pro. 10. 15. One may be outwardly poor, yet spiritually rich, rich towards God, Rev. 2. 9.

Pound] 1. The name of a measure and weight, containing twelve ounces, or twelve and an half, Joh. 12. 3. & 19. 39.

2. A sum of money, which in gold weighed one hundred shekels, 1 King. 10. 17. comp. with 2 Chr. 9. 16. Whereof the value was 75. l. In silver it weighed sixty shekels, Ezek. 45. 12. So that it valued 7 l.--10 s. Goodwyn, p. 329. As mina, by the interposition of [i] cometh of the Greek μνᾶ, so doth μνᾶ, of the Hebrew מנה.

Pourtrap] To describe, write, expresse, draw out, resemble, counterfait, Ezek. 4. 1. To carve or paint, Ezek. 8. 10. To be set forth in lively colours, Ezek. 23. 14.

Powder] Small dust. Deut. 28. 24. The rain of thy land, powder; that is, In stead of rain, your air shall be filled with dust, which the wind and other things raise in the time of drought.

Ground it to powder, Exod. 32. 20. that is, Till it was small, even as dust, that they might drink thereof, and so it might be abolished.

Grinde to powder, Matth. 21. 44. that is, Break him in pieces; so as chaffe useth to be scattered with the wind. Some understand this both of temporall and eternall destruction.

There's mention made of the powder of the Merchants, Cant. 3. 6.

Power] I. Divine might, whereby God can doe, and doth all things whatsoever he hath purposed to doe, and hindereth whatsoever he will not have done. Matth. 6. 13. Thine is the Kingdome, Power, and Glory. See Almighty.

There are 7 degrees of Power to perfect any thing, D. Andrews in 2 Cor. 3. 5.

1 To think.
2 To understand.
3 To will or desire.
4 To speak of it, or for it.
5 To begin work, or to attempt it.
6 To work it.
7 To finish or accomplish it. All these may be in us, but none of us.

1 Not finishing, Rom. 7. 8.
2 Not doing, Joh. 15. 5. Rom. 7. 17. Isa. 26. 12.
3 Not beginning to doe, Isa. 37. 3. Phil. 1. v. 6.
4 Not to speak, Prov. 16. 1.
5 Not to will, Phil. 2. 13.
6 Not to understand, Rom. 8. 7. 1 Cor. 2. 14.
7 Not to think, 2 Cor. 3. 5. Psa. 94. 11.

II. Absolute right and authority to do a thing. Mat. 9. 6. The Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins; that is, he which is the Son of man (being God) hath this power.

III. The effectuall force of the holy Spirit, working mightily in the hearts of the elect, both for their conversion from sin to grace, and confirmation in grace. Eph. 1. 19 According to the working of his mighty power. 2 Thess. 1. 11.

IV. Prerogative or dignity, 1 Cor. 9. 5. Joh. 1. 12. To so many as received him, he gave power to be the Sons of God; that is, the right and priviledge of Sons: that it cannot be meant of Free-will, is plain, by vers. 13.

V. A mighty instrument of Gods power. Rom. 1. 16. The Gospell is the power of God to salvation. 1 Cor. 1. 18. To us that are saved it is the power of God. A means of the saving power of God. Metalepsis.

VI. Inward strength of a renewed soul, whereby it is able to resist evill, and to doe good. 2 Tim. 1. 7. God hath given to us the Spirit of power.

VII. That most excellent strength and agility, wherewith the bodies of the elect shal be endued after the resurrection. 1 Cor. 15. 43. They shall be raised again in power.

VIII. Signes, and wondrous works, done by the mighty hand and power of God. 1 Cor. 12. 10. Effects of his power, called Power, by a Metonymie.

IX. Such persons, as have the gift and power to doe miracles, and works of wonder. 1 Cor. 12. 28. He hath ordained powers; that is, some to do miracles.

X. A lawful Magistrate, enabled of God with authority and might, to execute his judgements. Rom. 13. 1. Let every soul be subject to the higher powers. Also, it signifies the authority it self, and publick right of Governors, Joh. 9. 10, 11.

XI. A veil or covering, which women did wear, as a token of that power which their husbands had over them; and of their subjection thereunto. 1 Cor. 11. 10. For this cause a woman ought to have power upon her head; that is, a signe of power.

XII. Extraordinary strength, given of God to some persons, therewith either to do great good, or greater harm. Luk. 9. 1. He gave them power over all devils. Act. 1. 8. Rev. 9. 3. Unto the Locusts was given power, as the Scorpions of the earth have power.

XIII. Wicked or good Angels, which are of exceeding strength, and have leave and commission of God, to doe mighty things; and therefore are called Powers. Col. 1. 16. By him were created powers, principalities. Eph. 6. 12. We wrestle against principalities and powers. Devils are called Powers in the plurall number, to teach that they be mighty and many; and Power, Eph. 2. 2. in the singular number, to shew these many to be but one corporation or Army, ready with joynt force, and one minde, to conspire and fight against the faithfull to destroy them; yet so as they do wholly and for ever prevaile against gainſt none, ſave ſuch as be addicted to diſobedience, Eph. 2. 2. See Col. 2. 35. where evill Spirits are called Powers.

This power is naturall to the Spirits good and bad, being Gods gift to them by creation, and their property by poſſeſſion, and is in it ſelfe, and of it ſelf good; but the abuſe of it to evill, is not naturall to the Devils, but accidentall, and is later then their creation.

The power of Angels, good or bad, is twofold:

1. Within them, or naturall, called δύναμις, potentia, ſtrength.

2. Without them, or accidentall, called ἐξουσία, poteſtas, (i.e.) authority, leave, liberty or commiſſion: without this (which God granteth or denyeth as he pleaſeth) the former cannot work. But the former God never taketh from them, as being part of their created properties.

XIV. Excellent and ſingular gifts of the Spirit. Act. 6. 8. Stephen full of faith and power, did ſignes and miracles, &c.

XV. Kingdomes and Nations, which have great power. Luk. 4. 6. All this power will I give thee.

It's put alſo for Might, Deut. 8. 17. Hand, Ib. 32. 36. marg. Job 5. 20. marg. Subſtance, 1 Sam. 9. 1. marg. Strength, Job 26 2. Dominion, 2 Chr. 32 9. marg. Arm, Ezek. 22. 6. marg. Palm of the hand, Hab. 2. 9. marg. Liberty, 1 Cor. 8. 9. marg. & 9. 5. It's ſpoken of God, 1 Pet. 1. 5. Whoſe power is great, Pſal. 147. 5. Mighty, Luk. 9. 43. Eternall, Rom. 1. 20. Exceeding, Eph. 1. 19. Glorious, Col. 1. 11. Divine, 2 Pet. 1. 3. Of Chriſt, Mat. 9. 6. Who is the power and wiſdome of God, 1 Cor. 1. 24. Of the holy Ghoſt, Luk. 1. 35. & 4. 14. Of Angels, 2 Pet. 2. 11. Great men, Eſt. 1. 3. Deut. 4. 30. The holy people, Dan. 12. 7. Prophets, Luk. 1. 17. Apoſtles, Mat. 10. 1. World, Luk. 4. 32. Rom. 1. 16. Godlineſſe, 2 Tim. 3. 5. Endleſſe life, Heb. 7. 16. Gods works, Pſal. 111. 6. Mans hand, Prov. 3. 27. Mans tongue, Prov. 18. 21. The flame, Iſa. 47. 14. Lions, Dan. 6. 27. The grave, Hoſ. 13. 14. Satan, Act. 26. 18. Darkneſſe, Col. 1. 13

All power] Univerſall power over every thing, in heaven and earth, without exception of any. Mat. 28. 18. All power is given unto me. This power, the Father (as God) gives; the Son (as Mediatour) receives it. Alſo, power of ſundry kindes, or divers, 2 Theſ. 2. 9.

In power, and in the holy Ghoſt] That ſtrength and virtue which the holy Ghoſt hath miniſtred, and namely, the aſſurance and cheerfulneſſe of heart, 1 Theſſ. 1. 5.

Power of God] The moſt mighty and powerfull God. Mat. 26. 64. Sitting at the right hand of the power of God.

2. That notable virtue and might given to the Apoſtles; not onely to work miracles, but alſo to tame and bridle the wicked. 2 Cor. 6. 7. By the power of God. Chriſt is called the power and wiſdome of God, both by efficacy and eſſence, 1 Cor. 1. 24.

Powers of heaben] The heavens or celeſtiall orbs and ſpheres, being exceeding firm and ſtrong creatures, and exerciſing great ſtrength upon theſe inferiour earthly bodies. Mat. 24. 29. And the powers of heaven ſhall be ſhaken

Power of his glory] Glorious power, ſo called, for the manner of ſtrengthening and delivering the Saints by weak or no means: alſo, for the event or end of their upholding and preſervation, which is his praiſe and glory, Col. 1 11.

Power of the holy people] Not the ſtrength wherewith the Jews, Gods people, ſhall infeſt and hurt others; but paſſively, the power by which they ſhall be grievouſly hurt and wronged. Dan. 12. 7. To ſcatter the power of the holy people. Such a paſſive conſtruction is found, Gen 16. 15. My wrong (not, which I doe, but which) is done to me.

Powre] is, To empty more or leſſe out of one thing, into or upon another, and that of all liquid things, as Oyl, Lev. 14. 18. 2 King. 9. 6. Blood, Lev. 17. 13. Water, Numb. 24. 7. Rain, Job 36. 27. It's ſpoken alſo of Aſhes, Lev. 4. 12. Money, Joh. 2. 15.

Figuratively, it's taken for very large, abundant, and muchneſſe of that whereof it is ſpoken; as, of Gods indignation, fury, wrath, anger, Pſal. 69. 24. & 79. 6. Jer. 10. 25. & 44. 6. Of his gift of his Spirit, Joel 2. 28. Zech. 12. 10. Act. 2. 17, 18. Of his grace, Pſal. 45. 2. Of his temporall bleſſings, Mal. 3. 10. Of mans ſoul and heart in prayer, Pſal. 42. 4. & 62. 8. Lam. 2. 19. So of curſe, deep ſleep, contempt, &c. It's put alſo for, To belch, or bubble, Prov. 15. 1. marg.

To powre out] To give and beſtow very liberally and frankly. As in Iſa. 53. 12. He powred out his ſoul to death. Act. 2. 17. I will powre out my Spirit upon all fleſh. Joel 2. 28. Zach. 12. 10.

Poyſon] Spoken of Serpents, Deut. 32. 24. Dragons, Ib. 33. Aſpes, Job 20. 16. Adders, Pſal. 143. 3. Put for corrupt doctrine, and ungracious works, Deut. 32. 33. and for the malice and miſchievous words of the wicked, Pſal. 58. 4. Rom. 3. 13. James 3. v. 8.

Poyſon of Aſps] Malicious and bitter words, caſt out againſt ſuch as be abſent, to their great hurt. Rom. 3. 13. The poyſon of Aſps is under their lips.

Poyſon of Dragons] The wicked ungracious works of ungodly men, which are as unpleaſant to God, as the poyſon of Dragons to men. Deut. 32. 33. Their wine is the poyſon of Dragons.

P R.

Practiſe] Applyed to miſchief, 1 Sam. 23. 9. Wicked works, Pſal. 141. 4. or, practiſes in wickedneſſe, Hypocriſie, Iſa. 32. 6. Iniquity and evill, Mic. 2. 1. Spoken of the little horn, Dan. 8. 9, 12. and King, Ibid. 23, 24.

Praiſe] A confeſſion and due acknowledgement of the great and manifold excellencies and perfections that be in God. Pſal. 136. 1. Praiſe the Lord, becauſe he is good, for his mercies indure for ever. Pſal. 117. 1, 2. & 103. 1, 2, 3.

2. Commendation, and ſpeaking forth the good things that be in other men. Prov. 27. 2. Let another man praiſe thee.

3. The matter, argument, and occaſion of praiſe, Exod. 15. 2. The Lord is my ſtrength and praiſe, Pſal. 118. 14.

4. Protection and defence; as when it is ſet againſt revenge and puniſhment, Rom. 13. 3. 1 Pet. 2. 14.

5. Incouragement, 1 Pet. 2. 14.

6. Thankſgiving, Pſal. 100. the Title.

7. Virtue, 1 Pet. 2. 9. marg.

8. Honour, Pſal. 71. 8.

To praiſe] To ſhew forth, Pſal. 9. 1. Declare his doings, Ib. 11. Magnifie, Pſ. 69. 30. Glorifie, Pſal. 86. 12. Exalt, Pſal. 118. 28. Celebrate, Iſa. 38. 18.

The object hereof muſt not be the wicked, Prov. 28. 4. nor our ſelves, Prov. 27. 2. but God, Pſal. 104. 35. who is to be praiſed, as of Angels, Pſal. 148. 2. and Men, Pſa. 107. 8, 15, 21, 31. So of every thing that hath breath, Pſal. 150. 6. and is to be praiſed alwayes, Ib. 145. 2. with gladneſſe, 2 Chron. 29. 30. and not onely outwardly, by muſicall inſtruments, Pſal. 150. 3, 4, 5. and ſonge, Ib. 28. 7. the voyce of joy and praiſe, Ibid. 42. 4. with the mouth and lips, Ib. 51. 15. but inwardly alſo, with the ſoul, Ib. 104. 35. with the whole heart, Ib. 138. 1. and that both with underſtanding, Ib. 47. 7. and uprightneſſe, Ib. 119. 7.

To praiſe their gods] To yeeld and give unto their Idols the honour of their victory, and to offer ſome part of their feaſt to their honour, as their manner was, Dan. 5. 4. This was one cauſe that Daniel, ch. 1. 8. refuſed to feed on the meat of the Kings Table, for that a part of it had been conſecrated to their gods, and ſome of their meats were forbidden by Moſes, as unclean.

Prancings] Judg. 5. 22. that is, tramplings, or plungings, marg.

Prating-fool] One that ſhews the folly of his heart by irregular ſpeech, Prov. 10. 8. A vain talker, one that chatteth (as birds) he knoweth not what; one that ſpeaketh glorioufly, or with oſtentation, but to no purpoſe, whoſe words (pot-like) boyl or bubble out of his mouth. See 3 Joh. 10.

To pray] To deſire ſome lawful and needfull thing of God alone, with truſt to have it, for the merit of Chriſt onely. Act. 10. 9. Peter went up upon the houſe to pray. Matt. 6. 9. After this manner pray ye. Act. 12. 12. Mar. 11. 24.

2. To crave ſomething with the voyce onely, without faith in Chriſt. Luk. 18. 10. They went up into the Temple to pray, verſ. 11. This is Vocall prayer onely, and the former is both Vocall and Mentall. This diſtinction is grounded on Rom. 10. 1.

3. To worſhip God. A Synecdoche of part for the whole. Luk. 19. 46. A houſe of Prayer.

4. To conceive a form of prayer wherein to go before the people, as the Teacher doth in the publick Aſſembly.

5. Alſo to partake in the publick prayer, 1 Cor. 11. 4, 5.

6. To crave ſomething with the minde onely, Exod. 14. 15.

7. To pray for the confuſion of the wicked, in reſpect of their perſons, and not in reſpect of their ſins, policies, and power, (which it is lawfull to doe) ſeemeth to be rather a propheſie of the godly, in what ſtate the wicked (their enemies) ſhould be in time (God ſo revealing it to his ſervants) than any prayer that their enemies might be ſo. See Pſalm 107. 9. and compare it with Act. 1. 26. See St. Auguſtine upon Pſal. 35.

This is to call upon, Gen. 12. 8. Intreat, Gen. 25. 22. Cry to the Lord, Exod. 2. 23. Beſeech the Lord, Exod. 32. 11. Powre out the ſoul, 1 Sam. 1. 15. Lift up prayer, 2 Ki. 19. 4. Make ſupplication, Job 8. 5. Lift up the the ſoul, Pſal. 25. 1. Seek the Lord, Ib. 27. 8. Make interceſſion, Jer. 7. 16. Make requeſt, Phil. 4. 6.

Inſtant in prayer] One earneſt and conſtant (though he be not heard at firſt) in calling upon God on all occaſions, continuing till he be heard, Rom. 12. 12. Luk. 18. 1. 2 Theſſ. 5. 17.

Prayer] The whole ſervice of God, and every part of it. Matth. 21. 13. An houſe of prayer.

2. That one part of his worſhip, called Prayer and Petition. Jam. 5. 15. Prayer of Faith. Prayer cometh of a word in the Hebrew, which ſignifieth Appeal, Interpellation, Interceſſion, whereby we referre the cauſe of our ſelves, or others, unto God as Judge, calling upon him, appealing to him for right, preſenting our ſelves and our cauſe unto him, as to one which hath power to determine cauſes, and to whom appeals may be made.

It's a work of the beleeving ſoul, deſiring of God alone, things lawfull and needfull: with confidence to obtain them, through the alone mediation of Chriſt, to the praiſe of the mercy, truth, and power of God.

Prayer is either private, or publick; for our ſelves, or others; for the having of good things, or removing things evill. Whence ariſeth the difference, and divers kindes of Prayers, mentioned, 1 Tim. 2. 2. Let ſupplications and prayers, interceſſions and giving of thanks be made for all men.

It's put for ſecret ſpeech, Iſa. 26. 16. marg. Hereof the Lord onely (as of praiſe) is the object, Pſal. 50. 15. Nor muſt we pray for our ſelves onely, we muſt for others alſo, Jam. 5. 16. and that fervently, Col. 4. 12. ſincerely, Pſal. 17. 1. boldly, Nehem. 4. 16. conſtantly, Col. 4. 2. with faith, Jam. 5. 15 Not without repentance, Pſal. 66. 18. Jer. 36. 7.

This is both Mental, and Vocal, Ejaculatory, and Occaſional; every way uſeful, and accordingly ſucceſſeful, as for the pardon of ſin, 1 Joh. 5. 16. the procuring of health, Jam. 5. 15. ſtrength, Judg. 16. 28. children, Gen. 25. 21. victory, Exod. 7. 12. wiſdome, Jam. 1. 7. and ſo in other particulars.

To preach] To declare the will of God by voyce, for the inſtruction of the Church, Mar. 1. 49. He preached in their Synagogues. The Greek word [kerux] ſignifieth an Ambaſſadour, which publiſheth and ſpreads abroad the minde and meſſage of God, touching mans duty and ſalvation, Rom. 10. 14.

Preaching is an action of the Miniſter of the Word, ſoundly interpreting and opening the ſenſe of the Scriptures, by the Scriptures; with application of them unto the uſe of the Church, by Doctrine, Exhortation, Reproofe, Convincing, and Comfort. Mar. 2. 2. He preached the Word to them. Luk. 4. 18, 19, 20, 21. He took up the Book, and read, and ſaid, This day is the Scripture fulfilled in your ears. Alſo, 1 Cor. 14. 3. He that propheſieth; that is, Preacheth, ſpeaketh to men to edifying, to exhortation, to comfort. See Neh. 8. 8. And he read in the book of the Law, and gave the ſenſe according to Scripture. (Thus Tremelius tranſlates it out of the Hebrew.) Act. 9. 20, 22. He preached Chriſt, confirming that Jeſus was the Chriſt; that is to ſay, He compared Scripture with Scripture, conferring them together, as cunning Cralts-men, which joyn all parts together, to make them agree one with another. This is preaching in the ordinary phraſe of the Scripture. Indeed, every declaration of Gods will, either by afflictions, bleſſings, readings, and creatures, or otherwiſe, may generally and improperly be called Preaching.

As the matter hereof muſt be the Goſpel, Mar. 16. 15. The Word, Act. 13. 5. Jeſus Chriſt, Act. 17. 3. The Faith, Gal. 1. 23. The baptiſme of repentance, Luk. 3. 3. The glad tydings of the Kingdome of God, Luk. 8. 1. The things concerning the Kingdome of God, Act. 8. 12. The way of God in truth, Mat. 22. 16. His knowledge, 2 Cor. 2. 14. The reſurrection from the dead, Act. 2. 4. The forgiveneſſe of ſins, Ibid. 13. 38. Juſtification by beleeving, Ib. 39. Peace by Jeſus Chriſt Eph. 2. 17. What we ought to doe, Act. 10. 6. Repentance towards God, and faith towards our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, Act. 20. 21. All the counſell of God, Ib. 27. And the end ſhould be, To turn men from vanities to the living God, Act. 14 15. Save them, Ib. 11. 14. Open their eyes, to turn them from darkneſſe to light, &c. Ib. 26. 18. that they may ſeek after the Lord, Ib. 15. 17. repent and turn, that they may doe works meet for repentance, Ib. 26. 20. So for the manner, it muſt be ſincerely. We muſt not ſpeak ſmooth things, propheſie deceits, Iſa. 30. 10. Steal the word from our neighbour, Jer. 23. 30. Uſe, or ſmooth our tongues, Jer. 23. 31. marg. Propheſie lies in the name of the Lord, Ib. 25. Propheſie of wine, or of ſtrong drink, Mic. 2. 11. Walk with the wind, and lie falſly, Ib. marg. Corrupt, or deal deceitfully with the Word of God, 2 Cor. 2. 17. marg. Handle the Word of God deceitfully, 2 Cor. 4. 2. But as of ſincerity, but as of God, in the ſight of God. We muſt ſpeak in Chriſt, 2 Cor. 2. 17. We muſt ſpeak as the Oracles of God, 1 Pet. 4. 11. We muſt rightly divide the Word, 2 Tim. 2. 15. We muſt keep back nothing that is profitable unto our people, Act. 20. 20. We muſt ſpeak the Word faithfully, Jer. 23. 28. yea, we muſt cry aloud, not ſpare, lift up our voyce like a trumpet, and ſhew our people their tranſgreſſion, their ſins, Iſa. 58. 1. We muſt not hold our peace, nor reſt, Iſa. 62. 1. We muſt prepare the way for the people, &c. Ib. 10.

Preacher] One who ſoundly teacheth the doctrine of Chriſt, 1 Tim. 2. 7. 2 Tim. 1. 11. The word διδάσκαλος properly ſignifieth, a Teacher of Letters, Manners, Arts; but in a ſpeciall manner is applyed to Preachers, as Teachers of the Art of Arts, or of that one thing that is of abſolute neceſſity, needfull indeed to be learned. One that as an Herald or Cryer (ſo κήρυξ ſignifieth) proclaimeth Gods will, 2 Pet. 2. 7.

The Word preached, Gr. The Word of hearing, Heb. 4. 2. marg.

Precepts] Rules, Commiſſions, or Charges, becauſe they are committed unto men, with charge carefully to keep them, according to that in Pſal. 119. 4. Alſo, they come of another word, which ſignifieth to viſit, becauſe God threatned to viſit or puniſh the tranſgreſſors of them, as Exod. 20. 5. & 32. 34.

1. Good precepts of Gods appointment and ſending, Ezekiel 18. 9, 17, &c. and 20. 16.

2. Evill precepts of evil mens deviſing and ſending, and of Gods ſuffering, Ezek. 28. 25. Mat. 15. 9.

Precious] Sometime bright and glorious, Job 31. 26. Zach. 14. 6. Alſo, that which is honorable, and of great eſteem, Pſa. 36. 7. Alſo, that which is dear or hardly to be attained and effected, as Pſalm 49. 8. & 139. 16. Hence it ſignifieth alſo that which is rare and incomprehenſible: Alſo, that which is ſparingly, and not eaſily to be had, 1 Sam. 3. 1. Deſirable, Ezr. 8. 27. marg.

It's put alſo for honour, 1 Pet. 2. 7. marg. Excellent, Pſal. 36. 7. marg. Invaluable, 1 Pet. 1. 19. Much ſet by, 1 Sam. 18. 30. marg. Grace, Prov. 17. 8. marg. Freedome, Ezek. 27. 20. marg. Deſire, Dan. 11. 8. marg.

To predeſtinate] To determine and appoint before, moſt firmly, ſome perſons to be ſaved by Chriſt, Rom. 8. 29.

It's ſpoken alſo of things; and that either in a good part, 1 Cor. 2. 7. or, of the Decree and providence of God, about the moſt ſinfull actions of men, Act. 4. 28.

Predeſtination] The fore-appointment of every thing to certain ends, Act. 4. 28.

2. The fore-ordaining of ſome perſons, to obtain eternall life by Chriſt. Rom. 8. 30. Whom he predeſtinated, them he called.

I. An act of God immanent, and from eternity; alſo called, his purpoſe, decree, determination, will, counſell.

And this both of perſons to things, and of things to perſons, viz.

1. The means leading to the end, and one means leading to another.

2. The end it ſelf.

3. An execution of the former act, or an act tranſient and immanent, as Wiſd. 19. 4.

Predeſtination is a generall word, and twofold.

1. Poſitive or Affirmative, which is called Election. See Election.

2. Privative or Negative, which is called Reprobation or Rejection. See Reprobation, &c.

This latter is ſo called in reſpect not of the latter part and act thereof, (which ſeems to be Poſitive to pain) but of the former part thereof, viz. of the means thereof, and this per Synecdochen partis pro toto.

Predeſtination is a moſt righteous decree of God, freely, according to his owne good pleaſure (without any reſpect of fore-ſeen faith or works, as moving cauſes) ordaining from all eternity, out of the whole lump of loſt mankinde, a certain number, to obtain eternal life in heaven by Chriſt (having firſt called, juſtified, and ſanctified them) unto the praiſe of his glorious grace, Rom. 8. 28, 29, 30. Eph. 1. 5, 6, 7.

Or, according to Peter Martyr.

Predeſtination is the moſt wiſe purpoſe of God, whereby he hath before all eternity conſtantly decreed, to call thoſe whom he hath loved in Chriſt, to the adoption of his children, to juſtification by faith, and at the length to glory through good works, that they may be made like unto the image of the Son of God, and that in them ſhould be declared the glory and mercy of the Creator.

Whereas Election looks onely to the purpoſe of Gods chooſing, and to the oppoſite member, to wit, Reprobation; between which and Election, there is a mutuall and neceſſary reference, the one alwayes including or implying the other: for where there is an election of ſome, there is a refuſing of others, and on the contrary; yet Predeſtination reſpecteth both the execution of Gods purpoſe, with the whole progreſſe of middle cauſes leading unto the end, as Eph. 1. 5, 10. Rom. 8. 29. Act. 22. 14. and alſo the ends themſelves, both life eternall of the elect, as the neareſt end, and the glory of Gods mercy, as the utmoſt end, Rom. 9. 23. Eph. 1. 6, 11, 14. So as Predeſtination is of larger extent then Election, though in Scripture it is not found to concern any other, ſave the elect. But Scholaſtical Writers make it the generall both to Election and Reprobation, as a decree of God, which is touching the ends of both, which be without end. So as Predeſtination is largely taken, containing both the decrees, and ſtrictly, being ſubordinate to the purpoſe of Election.

Preferre] 1. To change, Eſther 2. 9. marg.

2. Make to aſcend, Pſal. 137. 6. Aynſworth.

3. Put in an higher place, and have in an higher eſteem and account, Dan. 6. 3.

4. Prevent, Rom. 12. 10.

5. Prejudice, 1 Tim. 5. 21.

Preheminence] Chief power and dominion, lawfully conferred by God the Father, upon Chriſt the Mediatour, that he as King may rule his Church outwardly, by his own laws and officers, and inwardly by his Spirit and grace. Col. 1. 18. That he might have the preheminence. Here it is uſed in good part.

He is firſt in time, as before all things; firſt in order, to be reckoned and admired in the Church; firſt in the dignity of perſon, he excels in both natures, all that is in the Church, or ever was; firſt in degree, Joh. 1. 5. firſt in government, Mat. 20. 27. firſt in acceptation with God, Mat. 17. 5. firſt effectively, as the cauſe of all the reſpect, order, and excellency in others, he being the root out of which ſprings all the glory in the Church. Byfield on Col. 1. 18. p. 125.

2. Primacy and ſoveraignty over others, ambitiouſly affected, and unlawfully held and exerciſed. 3 Joh. 9. Which loveth to have the preheminence. It is here put in the worſt part, for uſurped power and tyranny.

Premeditate] To deviſe and caſt with ones ſelf, ſtudy, or muſe on a thing, Mar. 13. 11.

Preparation] Proviſion, 1 Chron. 22. 5. Diſpoſing, Prov. 16. 1. The day that was before any ſolemn feaſt, Matt. 27. 62. Mar. 15. 42. wherein they provided all neceſſaries for the feaſt, Luk. 23. 54. Annot. or wherein they prepared themſelves for the ſolemnity, Joh. 19. 14. Annot.

With the preparation of the Goſpel of peace, Eph. 6. 15. that is, with being ever ready and prepared to profeſſe the faith, and to give an account of that hope that is in us, Rom. 10. 10. 1 Pet. 3. 15.

Prepare] To make a thing ready beforehand. Mat. 26. 17. Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee? 1 Chr. 29. 19. To build the houſe which I have prepared. Mat. 20. 23.

2. To apply or fit the right cauſes to their effect. Rom. 9. 22, 23. What if God willing to ſhew his wrath, and to make his power known, indured with much ſuffering the veſſels of wrath fitted to deſtruction.

3. To obſerve the right properties or circumſtances belonging to any act, ſubject, object, place or time. 2 Tim. 4. 6. For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand. Luk. 3. 4. As it is written in the book of the words of Iſaiah the Prophet, ſaying, The voyce of one crying in the wilderneſſe, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths ſtraight. Mat. 22. 4. Again he ſent forth other ſervants, ſaying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready; come unto the marriage. Luk. 22. 9, 12, 13. Joh. 14. 2, 3.

What preparation of men to Gods ſervice, and by what meanes: See Malach. 3. 1, 2, 3.

Preparation of men to remiſſion of ſins, and to ſalvation, what and whereby it is: See Luk. 1. 16, 17. & 3. 3, 4, 5, 6. Mat. 11. 10. Act. 2. 38. & 3. 19. Rom. 8. 30.

To fit effectually and mightily the elect of God unto that bleſſedneſſe which they were appointed unto from everlaſting, Rom. 9. 23. Veſſels of mercy which he hath prepared to glory: and to make meet the Reprobates, unto that wretchedneſſe before, Rom. 9. 22. Veſſels of wrath prepared to deſtruction. Or thus more briefly; to purpoſe and make meet heaven for the elect, and the elect for it. Mat. 25. 34, 41. Prepared for you, &c.

Both indeed are prepared and fitted one for the other; yet as Hell is prepared for the wicked, by God himſelf, Iſa. 30. 33. and not by the wicked themſelves; ſo the wicked are prepared for hell, by the wicked themſelves and not by God. Tit. 3. 11. Knowing, that he that is ſuch, is ſubverted, and ſinneth, being condemned of himſelf.

Alſo, Hell for the Reprobate, and them for it. Prepared for the Devil and his Angels. Rom. 9. 22, 23.

4. To

4. To make us meet or fit, either for doing good duties, or ſuffering afflictions, 1 Chron. 26. 18. Prepare their hearts unto thee.

5. To make ready ſome things which belong either to Gods ſervice, or to the ſervice of Saints. 2 Cor. 9. 2. Achaia was prepared a year agoe. Joh. 19. 42. Becauſe of the Jews Preparation day.

6. To fix. My heart is fixed, Pſal. 57. 7. or, prepared, marg.

7. To appoint. For whom it is prepared of my Father, Mat. 20. 23.

8. To tie, or binde, 1 King 18. 44. marg.

9. To ſtabliſh. Prepare their heart unto thee, 1 Chr. 29. 18. marg.

10. To eſtabliſh, 2 Chr. 27. 6. marg.

11. To be ready, Joſh. 4. 13. marg.

10. To fit, Heb. 10. 5. marg.

Presbyterie] The elderſhip; or, the company of the Elders who laid hands upon Timothie, when he was ordained, 1 Tim. 4 14. For though he was ordained by St. Paul, 2 Tim. 1. 6. yet this ordination was performed in the aſſembly of the Elders, and with the laying on of their hands alſo.

Some take it for the office and function of a Presbyter; but the word πρεσβυτέριον, is never taken in the Scripture for the Office of a Presbyter, but for the Company of Elders. But ſuppoſe it were ſo taken, how harſh would it be to take it ſo here? How harſh this phraſe, The laying on of the hands of the office of a Presbyter? See Cameron in his Myroth. Evang. on the place.

Preſcribe] To appoint, Iſa. 10. 1. Limit, Ezr. 7. 22.

Preſence] There is a double preſence, one ſpirituall, another locall; one in reſpect of place, another in reſpect of agreement in will and purpoſe, 1 Cor. 5. 3. As Paul being abſent from the Church of Corinth, as touching place, yet did concurre with them in purpoſe, touching the excommunicating that inceſtuous perſon: ſo Chriſt who is not preſent in the ſacred Supper locally, is yet ſpiritually preſent to faith.

See Face, God, dwell in God, One, Union, To walk, &c.

1. The being of ſome perſon, or ſome thing, in ſome place, or with ſome perſon; this is two-fold:

1. Spirituall, which we call Common.

2. Corporall, which we call Conjunctive. See Near, Nigh.

2. The place or tokens of ones preſence, as Pſal. 95. 2. Let us come before his preſence with thankſgiving, and make a joyfull noyſe unto him with Pſalms.

It's put alſo for the perſon, Exod. 33. 14. The ſight and beholding, 1 Sam. 18. 11. Perſonall, or bodily ſight, 2 King. 3. 14. Face, 2 King. 13. 23. marg. Being, Pſal. 139. 7. Company, Prov. 14 7. Before, Dan. 2. 27. Act. 3. 13. Ready at command, Luk. 1. 19. Being with, Phil. 2. 12.

Preſent] To God, Pſal. 68. 29. & 76. 11. To Man; Judg. 3. 15. 1 King. 10. 25. Meat-offering, Judg. 6. 18 marg. Bleſſing, 1 Sam. 30. 26. marg. Tribute, 2 King. 17. 3. mar. Precious things, 2 Chr. 32. 23. marg.

Preſent] Found, Eſt. 1. 5. marg. That which is at hand to be found, 1 Sam. 25. 3. Numbered, muſtered, and victualled, 1 King. 20. 27. Come together, Act. 11. 18. Bodily in a place, 2 Cor. 11. 9. & 13. 2, 10.

Spiritually: So man in minde and ſpirit, 1 Cor. 5. 3. So Chriſt, Matth. 18. 10. & 28. 20.

To preſent] To offer, Matth. 2. 11. marg.

Preſently] As on the day, 1 Sam. 2. 16. marg.

To preſerve] To keep one free and ſafe, from taking hurt by any enemies, or dangers. Pſal. 16. 16. Preſerve me O Lord, for I truſt in thee.

2. To ſuſtain and uphold all things in their being. Job 7. 20. O thou preſerver of men. Pſal. 36. 6. He preſerveth both man and beaſt. Neh. 9. 6. Thou preſerveſt them all. This is generall preſervation.

3. To keep conſtantly the faithfull, unto the poſſeſſion of eternall life. 1 Pet. 1. 8. Preſerved, or kept through the power of God by faith, unto eternall life. This is ſpeciall preſervation.

4. To reſerve, Pſal. 79. 11. marg. Preſerve you a poſterity, Gen. 45. 7. that is, put for you a remnant, marg.

Preſidents] Such as Darius ſet over his hundred and twenty Princes, that unto them the Princes might give accounts, Dan. 6. v. 2.

Preaſſe] A throng, or confuſed multitude of people, Mar. 2. 8. Luk. 8. 19.

Preſſe] To ruſh, Mar. 3. 10. marg. To throng, Luk. 8. 45. [the Original ἀποθλίβω, ſignifieth, ſuch a cruſhing, as is with mil ſtones] To be inſtant, urge, conſtrain, Gen. 19. 3. To wring out, Gen. 40. 11. To bruiſe, Eze. 23. 3. Eagerly to perſue and follow, to follow as one that would not leave till he had that which he followed, Phil. 3. 14. To break in by force, Luk. 16. 16.

Preſſed

Preſſed in Spirit, Act. 18. 5. that is, he had an extraordinary and vehement motion, by a divine inſpiration.

Preſſe] The preſſe is full, Joel 3. 13. that is, wickedneſſe is come to the height.

To preſume] Either to take too much upon us, out of a vain confidence in our ſelves; or to take too much heart and boldneſſe to us. Pſal. 73. 8. They talk preſumptuouſly. 1 Cor. 4. 6. Let none preſume above that is written.

Preſumption is a vice, whereby many men, in regard of Gods bleſſings and patience towards them, have their hearts too much lifted up in vain confidence of their owne ſufficiency, and Gods goodneſſe, waxing ſecure, haughty, and careleſſe in the courſe of their lives, without any fear of ſin, or Gods judgements for them.

Preſumptuous ſins] Sins of contumacy, which come from a ſtubborn and malicious heart. Pſal. 19. 13. Keep me from preſumptuous ſin.

Preſumptuouſly] With an high hand, Numb. 15. 30. marg.

Of pretence] Upon a fair ſhew and colour, or colourable cauſe, without ſincerity, cloaking the ambition and envy which boyled inwardly, with pretence of Chriſt, and preaching him, Phil. 1. 18.

Pretorium] The Governours houſe, or Common-hall, Mat. 27. 27. marg. Judgement-hall, Act. 23. 35. The palace, or Cæſar's Court, Phil. 1. 13. marg.

Prevail] To be heavy, Judg. 1. 35. marg. To be ſtrong, Judg. 6. 2. marg. To be lifted up, Gen. 7. 20. To be ſtronger, Ibid. 49. 26. To vanquiſh, or overcome, Num. 22. 6.

Prevent] To come before it's expected, lookt for, ſought after. Spoken of the knees, Job 3. 12. The ſnares of death, Pſal. 18. 5. Enemies, Ib. 18. The days of affliction, Job 30. 27. God, Pſa. 59. 10. his tender mercies, Pſal. 79. 8. Prayer, Ib. 88. 13. Eyes, Ib. 119. 148. Evill, Amos 9. 10. and of ſome other things.

Prey] Booty, ſpoyl, Gen. 49. 9. Captive, Numb. 14. 3. A mocking, or deſpiſing, Nehem. 4. 4. Recompence, Eſt. 3. 13. Food, Job 4. 11. Ravine, or pillage, Job 24. 5.

Eat of the prey, Numb. 23. 24. that is, killed his enemies. Ainſworth.

His life ſhall be unto him for a prey, Jer. 21. 9. A proverbial form of ſpeech, importing as much as he ſhall ſave, or gain his life; his life ſhal be to him as ſome booty gotten in fight, in regard of the joy he may have of it, ſay ſome; or in regard of the atchievement and poſſeſſion of it, as others rather; his life ſeeming to be as it were new acquired, and gotten again to him, and himſelf repoſſeſſed of that, which ſeemed in a manner utterly loſt before, as 2 Cor. 7. 8, 9. Heb. 11. 17, 18. Annot.

Price] 1. The value of any thing to be bought and ſold, Lev. 25. 16, 50. Act. 4. 34.

2. The money, or money-worth received, Deut. 23. 18.

3. A rate or ſumme ſet down, 2 Chron. 1. 16.

4. The worth of a thing, Job 28. 13. Prov. 31. 10.

5. The means for obtaining, Prov. 17. 16.

6. That which is given for a thing, Matt. 27. 6.

7. Reward, 1 Cor. 9. 24. Phil. 3. 14.

8. Eſteem, 1 Pet. 3. 4.

Price of high calling] Eternal life, which is freely given as a reward or price propounded of God, who calleth his to glory, Phil. 3. 14. 1 Cor. 6. 24.

Price of Redemption] Satisfaction or payment made to the juſtice of God, for the hurt done to it by the ſins of the elect; that ſo they may be redeemed and ſet free. 1 Tim. 2. 6. He gave himſelfe a price of redemption.

Note, that he gave not his body, or blood onely, but himſelf, even the whole manhood to be the price, the onely al-ſufficient price to God for ſin: Adieu then to all Popiſh ſatisfactions, and to the opinion of his ſole-bodily ſufferings.

Prick] A ſharp piece of wood, a pole, ſtake, or ſharp thing, which pricketh one as he goeth through buſhes or thick places.

2. The ſharp and piercing wrath and power of God, which ſhall ſtrike the wicked quite through their body and ſouls, Act. 9. 5. Yea, the very word or ſpeech thereof, is as the point of a ſharp ſword going to the heart of men, Heb. 4. 12. Act. 2. 37. Matt. 25. 41.

3. Chriſts members defended by him, to the hurt of ſuch as doe perſecute them, Act. 9. v. 5.

Prick in the fleſh] Inbred corruption, or naturall concupiſcence, which ſticketh faſt in us, as it were, a prick moleſting and vexing us by evill motions, as the fleſh is galled and pained with a prick or ſharp ſtub ſticking in it. 2 Cor. 12. 7. There was given unto me a prick in the fleſh. A Metaphor. Beza extends extends the ſenſe to outward contumelies and injuries of all ſorts, which vext the Apoſtle as pricks, or thorns. See the like phraſe, Numb. 33. 55. Joſh. 23. 13. Judg. 2. 3. Or, ſome inward violent temptation injected by Satan.

Pricked in heart] Perſons ſtricken with great grief, and ſoul-ſorrow, in the ſenſe of Gods diſpleaſure for ſin, as if their hearts had been pricked through with a ſword. Act. 2. 37. And being pricked in heart, they ſaid, &c.

Pride] Haughtineſſe or loftineſſe of mind, being puft up and ſwoln with a high conceit of our own excellency, to the contempt of God, and the diſdain of men. Pro. 16. 18. Pride goeth before a fall, &c. 1 Cor. 4. 6. Swell not one againſt another. Luk. 18. 9.

It's put for the proud perſon that is ready to ſet his foot upon another with great contempt, Pſal. 36. 11. That which maketh proud, Job 41. 15.

Pride, as a chaine] The arrogancy of wicked men, glorying in their pride, as one would glory in a chain of gold, Pſal. 73. 6.

Pride of life] Vain boaſting, and arrogancy, wherein they pleaſe and delight themſelves, which doe abound in the things of this life. John 2. 16. And the pride of life.

Pride of heart] The lifting up, 2 Chr. 32. 26. marg.

Prieſt] I. A ſacrificing perſon, ordained of God, not onely to teach the people, and pray for them; but alſo to offer up outward and bodily ſacrifices for his owne ſins, and the ſins of the people, Levit. 5. 2, 4, 5. Such were the Prieſts of the Law, and Old Teſtament; Legall and Leviticall Prieſts. The offering up of the Prayers for the people (as well as Sacrifices) ſignifieth,

1. Chriſts interceſſion and prayers for his Church, Joh. 17. Heb. 5. 7.

2. Our right of praying to God in his name, Heb. 13. 15.

And whereas Sacrifices offered by prayer of the Prieſts under the Law, and before, were acceptable to God, as Gen. 4. 4. it ſignifies,

1. That Chriſt his offering himſelfe to his Father, was a ſweet ſmelling oblation, Eph. 5. 2.

2. That we through Chriſts oblation are accepted of God, Heb. 10. 10.

3. That our obedience, or reaſonable ſervice is pleaſing to him, Mal. 3. 4. Rom. 12. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 5.

4. That the Miniſters Oblation of thoſe which are called to the Faith by the work of the holy Ghoſt thorough their Miniſtery, was pleaſing to God, as Paul witneſſeth, Rom. 15. 16. The firſt Prieſts which taught the people, and offered ſacrifices, were all the firſt born, as it was commanded, Exod. 24. 5. Of them underſtand, Exod. 19. 22. They figured Chriſt the firſt-born among many brethren, Rom. 8. 29. and ſecondly, the Church, the firſt-born of them which are written in heaven. Afterward, upon the giving of the Law, the Tribe of Levi ſucceeded in their place, Numb. 3. 8. & 8. 19.

Whereas the Prieſts were forbid to marry an Harlot, one polluted or divorced, and to drink ſtrong wine for the time they entred into the Tabernacle, Lev. 21. 7. & 10. 9. This ſignif. that both Miniſters Wives and Children muſt be ſober. See 1 Tim. 3. 4. & 5. 23.

II. A ſacrificing perſon, eſpecially ordained of God, that by the ſacrifice of himſelf, once offered by himſelf; and alſo, by his interceſſion, he might reconcile unto, and keep in favour with God, for ever, all beleeving ſinners. Such a Prieſt is Chriſt onely, being the alone Prieſt of the New Teſtament, properly ſo called. Heb. 7. 17. Thou art a Prieſt for ever, after the order of Melchiſedech. Alſo verſ. 23, 24, 25, &c. See ch. 10. from v. 5. unto the 15. Theſe two ſignifications of Prieſt, be proper.

III. Every faithfull Chriſtian, man or woman, of what calling ſoever, enabled by the authority and commandement of God, to offer up themſelves, and their good works, as ſpirituall ſacrifices acceptable to God through Chriſt, 1 Pet. 2. 5. Rev. 1. 6. He made us Kings and Prieſts to God. Rom. 12. 1. Heb. 13. 15, 16. This is an improper figurative ſenſe of the word, by reſemblance and likeneſſe.

4. A man of great dignity, a chief Ruler or Officer. Exod. 2. 15. And the Prieſt of Midian had ſeaven daughters. Gen. 41. 45. The daughters of Potipherah the Prieſt, or Prince of On. Exod. 18. 1. Jethro the Prieſt of Midian.

Note. The manner of thoſe times and places were, that one man was both Prieſt and Prince, as Melchiſedech.

The Hebrew [Cohen] which we Engliſh a Prieſt or Sacrificer, is the name of the Kings chief Officer, as in 2 Sam. 8. 28. Davids Sons were Cohens, that is, chief Rulers, which is expounded in 1 Chr. 18. 17. to be the firſt or the chief at the Kings hand.

It

It hath the name of Miniſtration, Iſa. 61. 6, 10. and was a title ſpecially given to Aaron and his Sons that miniſtred to God in the Sanctuary, Exod. 28. 3, 4, 41.

V. The firſt-born of the male children, whom God did conſecrate and ſet apart to do the office of Prieſts, in adminiſtring holy things, until Aaron and his Sons were ſanctified to that end. Exod. 19. 22. And the Prieſts alſo he ſanctified. Exod. 13. 2. Sanctifie to me the firſt-born, &c.

In every Legall and Legitimate Sacrifice, there muſt be (beſides the Sacrifice) a Prieſt, an Altar, and Fire: As the Sacrifice was a figure both of Chriſt our eternall Sacrifice, Eph. 5. 2. Heb. 10. 5, 6, 7, 10. and of our ſelves (whom the Apoſtle calleth living Sacrifices) through him, Rom. 12. 1. So the Prieſt fig. and figured Chriſt to be that onely Prieſt which can draw neer unto God, Heb. 5. 6, 10. Jer. 30. 12. Alſo, that by Chriſt alone wee draw neer to God, and are Prieſts in and through Chriſt, Exod. 19. 6. 1 Pet. 2. 5, 9. Rev. 1. 8. Laſtly, it figured the Miniſtery in the time of the Goſpel, Iſa. 66. 21. Now the Altar, whoſe property it was to ſanctifie the gift, it figured, firſt, Chriſt who was his owne Altar, and ſanctified himſelf, Joh. 17. 19. Heb. 9. 14. Secondly, that we have Chriſt for our Altar, Heb. 13. 10. Rev. 8. 3. The Fire ſignif. the conſecrating of our Saviour by ſuffering, and the burning him up with the ſenſe of his Fathers wrath, Heb. 13. 11, 12. Alſo, the conſuming of our luſts, and an holy zeal and fervency. To which purpoſe it is inforced, Mar. 9. 49. And laſtly, fiery afflictions of Gods children, 1 Pet. 4. 12. Whereas this fire came down from heaven, and was ever to be cheriſhed, it ſig. Chriſt to be appointed of God our ſacrifice, and that our zeal ought never to go out.

Note. Chief Prieſts ſometime ſig. ſuch as were chief in every order and rank of Prieſts, who were many, and ſerved by courſes and turns in the Temple. See Mat. 27. 3. Mar. 14. 53. Luk. 1. 5, 8, 9. Of the diviſion of the Prieſts into their orders, See 1 Chron. ch. 24. whole.

Prieſts were either I. in the Church; namely,

1. Patriarchall, being the firſt-born and the principal of the families, Numb. 3. 12, 41, 45. & 8. 16, 17.

2. Moſaicall, Levitical, or Aaronicall, Numb. 18. 1, 7, 22. Exod. 28. 1. 1 Chron. 6. 49. Of whom there were High-prieſts, 1 Chr. 6. 49 15, 50, 53. Chief Prieſts, who were the High-prieſts Sons, Numb. 20. 26. Ordinary Prieſts of the ſame line, Lev. 6. 29. Joſh. 3. 6. who were divided in 24 courſes, 1 Chr. 24. 5, &c.

3. Judaicall, or of the Tribe of Judah, Melchiſedech, Gen. 14. 18. Heb. 7. 1. Jeſus Chriſt, Heb. 7. 14. & 3. 1. & 4. 14.

4. Spirituall, even all true Chriſtians in Chriſt, Rev. 1. 6. & 5. 10. & 20. 6.

II. Out of the Church:

1. Diabolicall, Heathen Idolaters, as 1 Sam. 5. 5. 2 King. 10. 21. Jer. 48. 7. & 49. 3. Act. 14. 13.

2. Apoſtaticall, 2 King. 10. 11, 19. & 11. 18. 1 King. 12. 31, 32. & 13. 3, 32, 33. 2 King. 17. 32.

High-prieſt] The chief amongſt and over the Prieſts of the Law, who was ever but one onely, and in a ſpeciall manner was a figure of Chriſt, both in his garments, publick works and actions; and alſo in his eminent place, Chriſt being chief among the Paſtors, as Aaron was among the Prieſts, Heb. 5. 1, 2, 3. unto the verſ. 10. For every High-prieſt is taken from among men, 1 Pet. 1. 25. Heb. 9. 11.

The difference between a Prieſt properly and improperly taken, is this. The former hath an externall and bodily Sacrifice, to give and offer unto God, as Chriſt did give his owne body, and the Prieſts of the Law, the bodies of beaſts. The latter offereth Spiritual ſacrifices onely; as their prayers, praiſe, obedience, almes, and all other good works and duties of their calling, which every Chriſtian (as well as a Miniſter) is bound to offer. The Popiſh prieſthood is an imaginary and blaſphemous fiction, having no ground, neither any colour and ſhew of ground and proof in the whole book of God.

Royall Prieſthood] 1 Pet. 2. 9. Chriſtians are both Kings and Prieſts, but both with difference from other men of either of thoſe callings. They are Kings, not Civill onely, but Sacred Kings: They are Prieſts, not common or typicall Prieſts, but royall. The one word tels their dignity to which they are ordained, the other their office in reſpect of God. Being a Royal prieſthood, it is better then the Levitical prieſthood, which was not after the order of Melchiſedech. It imports ſeparation and conſecration to God, alſo neerneſſe and conſtancy of communion with him. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2. 9. p. 318. & 321.

Prince] 1. God, Dan. 8. 12.

2. Jeſus Chriſt, Iſa. 9. 6. Dan. 8. 25. Act. 5. 31. Rev. 1. 5. tearmed, the Prince (or Author) of life, Act. 3. 15. marg.

3. The

3. The Romane Emperour, Dan. 10.26.

4. Men of principal gifts, chief and choyce persons, Eccl. 10. 7. as Captains, Isa. 10. 8. Counsellours, Isa. 19. 11. A principall Ruler, Hos. 3. 4. Kings, 1 King. 11. 34. The Heads of Houses and Tribes, Numb. 7. 2. Noble-men, Jer. 51. 59. One taking authority over another, Exod. 2. 14. One great in dignity, Job 21. 28. One greatly blessed of God, Gen. 23. 6. The chief mans Son in a Countrey, Gen. 34. 2.

5. Angels, Dan. 10. 30.

6. The chief Devil, Mat. 9. 34. Joh. 12. 31. Eph. 2. 2.

Princes] The true beleevers, the children of the Church, a Queen, and Christs spouse. Psal. 45. 16. Whom thou mayst make Princes in all lands.

Chief of Princes] An Angel so called, in comparison with earthly Princes, Dan. 10. 13.

2. Men of principall gifts, chief and choyce persons. Eccles. 10 7. Princes walking, &c.

3. Captains, Isa. 10. 8.

4. Counsellours, Isa. 19. 11. Eph. 2. 16.

Prince of God] 1. A mighty Prince, an holy Ruler, preferr'd and advanced of God, Gen. 23. 6. In that sense Abimelech confessed that God was with Abraham, Gen. 21. 22. Things that excell are said to be of God, Psal. 36. 7.

2. A man singularly loved, and exceedingly blessed of God. Gen. 23. 6. Thou art a Prince of God, or a mighty Prince, an holy Ruler; as things that excell are said to be of God, Psal. 36. 7, 8, 11. Gen. 30. 2. or one whose counsell was an Oracle.

Prince of the host] God in a special manner ruling over his people, Dan. 8. 11, 25. His people the Jews, are called the host of heaven, Dan. 8. 10.

Prince of peace] Procurer, ground, and cause of peace, which also causeth his Subjects to continue in peace and quietness. Such a one is Christ, and he onely. Isa. 9. 6. Prince of peace.

Princesse] A Queen or Wife of a King, 1 King. 11. 3. A chief City, Lam. 1. 1.

Principall] 1. The chief, head, most excellent, Exod. 30. 23.

2. The summe, head, or thing it selfe, Lev. 6. 5. that is, every whit of it, Numb. 5. 7.

3. The chief, 1 Chr. 24. 31.

4. The first, Prov. 4. 7.

5. Choycest, Isa. 16. 8.

6. Prince, Mic. 5. 5.

7. A Captain of a Band, a Ruler or Colonel of a thousand men, Act. 25. 23.

Principall of the flock, Jer. 25. 34. that is, either the Master, Shepherds, Grandees, and chief Governours, or the greatest and wealthiest among the people, Ezek. 34. 16, 18. for in publick calamities, the meaner and poorer sort of people usually scape best, the corks swim, when the plummets sink. See 2 King. 24. 14. & 25. 12. Annot.

Principall houshold, 1 Chron. 24. 6. that is, House of the Father or Family.

The principall Scribe of the hoste, 2 Ki. 25. 19. that is, Scribe of the Captain of the hoste, marg.

Principalities] Jer. 13. 18. Heb. pillows. The word cometh from a root that signifieth an head, and is used in a plurall form alwayes, but in a singular notion, for a pillow, or bolster, or ought that supplyeth the place of such, Gen. 28. 11, 18. 1 Sam. 19. 13, 16. & 26. 7, 11, 12, 16. and the Jewish Doctors here expound it as our Version yeeldeth it, Your Kingdome, or Kingly State : but some late Writers, Your Head-attires, which may be not improbable, the head being the place whereon the Ensigne or royalty is usually worne, Psal. 21. 3. Annot.

Those who have primary and plenary power under God, and by their proper power and command, administer within their severall Dominions, as Kings and chief Governours in free States, Tit. 3. 1. Where there is a Metonymie of the Adjunct. It is not said, Let them be subject to Princes, as those that have power from them ; but to principalities and powers ; as though he had said, Let them not look so much to the men exercising rule and power, as unto the power and ordinance it self. Taylor on Tit. 3. 1 p. 343, 344.

By principality in Col. 2. 10. Mr. Byfield understandeth the Angels, who in themselves are principalities, for their excellency of nature and estate, p. 43.

Principles] Heb. 5. 12. It is an allusion unto Children, who are first taught their letters, before they can be taught to spell or to read perfectly : Herein their great negligence is taxed, in as much as they were yet to learn their Catechism, the A. B. C. as it were of the doctrine of Christ, the word of the beginning of Christ, Heb. 6. 1. marg. Where the first principles of Christian Religion are compared unto the foundation of a building, on which the more perfect knowledge of the Mysteries of the Gospel was to be built. Annot.

Print] Nor print any marks upon you, Lev. 19. 28. that is, the writing of an impression, which the Chaldee translateth, Ingraven works ; the Greek letters printed or marked. The Hebrews open it thus, The print of a mark ſpoken of in the Law, was when one did cut upon his fleſh, and filled the cut place with ſtibium, or with ink, or ſome other colours; and this was the cuſtome of the Heathens, that they marked themſelves unto Idolatry, &c. Aynſworth on Lev. 19. 28.

Thou ſetteſt a print, &c. Job 13. 27. or engraveſt thy ſelf. Thou not onely doſt as it were ſet a watch on me, or ſtand aloof off to obſerve me, but alſo followeſt me ſtep by ſtep; as Hunters follow wilde beaſts in the ſnow by their footſteps. Some take it, of obſerving all his ſinfull actions. But it's rather meant of wayes of eſcaping. Annot.

Printed] Job 19. 23. or, drawn out; that is, written in great and capitall letters, that every man might read them, Hab. 2. 2. written in a large and laſting hand, as laws, and publick records uſed to be written, Iſa. 30. 8. Annot.

Priſcilla] (called alſo P*riſca*, 2 Tim. 4. 19. Ancient. The Wife of Aquila, Act. 18. 2. Sometimes he is placed before her, Act. 18. 26. 1 Cor. 16. 19. Sometimes ſhe before him, Rom. 16. 3. 2 Tim. 4. 19.

Priſon] A place of reſtraint to keep and puniſh malefactors in, Gen. 40. 3. The houſe of the Wards, Jer. 52. 11. marg.

2. Hell, a place where the damned are puniſhed with eternall bondage and torment, 1 Pet. 3. 19.

3. The grave, Iſa. 53. 8.

4. A very baſe condition, Eccl. 4. 14.

5. A cave, wherein as a priſon David was, Pſal. 142. 7.

6. Spirituall thraldome, Iſa. 42. 7.

7. Violent and forcible reſtraint, Rev. 20. 7.

Priſoner] cometh of an Hebrew word, which is, bound, or reſtrained of liberty.

Such as be in bonds, Gen. 39. 22. Pſal. 69. 33. Captives, Numb. 21. 1. Iſa. 20. 4. The dead in grave, Job 3. 18.

His priſoner] One impriſoned for Chriſt, or for the teſtimony of Jeſus, 2 Tim. 1. 8.

Private] No Propheſie of the Scripture is of any private interpretation, 2 Pet. 1. 20. that is, Such as ariſeth out of mans own brains, and not out of the Scripture it ſelf. The expoſition of the prophetical predictions of the holy Scriptures, may not be framed and ruled according to the private conceit of the Reader, but by the gracious revelation of the holy Ghoſt, and thoſe meet helps which God hath ordinarily left unto his Church.

Privately] Apart, or aſunder from others, Mat. 24. 3. Mar. 6. 32.

Privy] Secret, Deut. 23. 1. Ezek. 21. 14. Conſcious, and conſenting unto, 1 King. 2. 44. Act. 5. 2.

Privily] Craftily, Judg. 9. 31. marg. Cloſely, unawares, 1 Sam. 24. 4. Hide themſelves, Pſal. 10. 8. marg. In darkneſſe, Pſal. 11. 2. marg. Without the knowledge of any, Mat. 1. 19.

Privily to bring in] To bring them in under-hand, by goodly pretences, and colourable ſhews, by faigned and fair gloſing words, hiding ſo much as may be the iniquity and impiety contained in them, 2 Pet. 2. They ſhall privily bring in damnable hereſies. In the ſame ſenſe it is written of ſuch as broach doctrines of devils, that they ſpeak lies in hypocriſie, that is, coloured with the fair pretence of piety and Religion. Thus do Popiſh hereticks, doing all by the name, authority, and power of Chriſt, and the Apoſtolick Catholich Church, carrying all in a myſtery. Rev. 17. 5. In a myſtery of iniquity. 2 Theſſ. 2. 7.

To prize] To eſteem, or value, Zech. 11. 13.

To proceed] To iſſue or flow out, after an admirable and unconceivable manner. Joh. 16. 26. The Spirit which proceedeth from the Father.

2. To come forth, Joh. 8. 43. This is meant of Chriſts incarnation: the former of the emanation of the Spirit.

3. To come in the fleſh, or to aſſume the nature of man, by the appointment of God. Joh. 8. 42. I proceeded forth, &c.

4. To go out, Luk. 4. 22.

5. To iſſue, or ſpring, 2 Sam. 7. 12.

6. To add, Job 40. 5. & 36. 1. Iſa. 29. 14.

7. To go on, Jer. 9. 3.

8. To come, Mat. 15. 19.

9. To go forwards, 2 Tim. 3. 9.

Proceſſe of time] Gen. 4. 3. that is, At the end of dayes, marg. Gen. 38. 12. that is, the dayes were multiplyed, marg.

Proclaim] To declare, publiſh, make known, Lev. 23. 2. Judg. 7. 3. Publickly to acknowledge, Prov. 20. 6. As an Herald to deliver a matter in open place, in the hearing of a multitude, that many may take notice of it, Luk. 12. 3.

Proclamation] Voyce, 2 Chr. 24. 9. marg. Ezr. 1. 1. marg.

Procure] To doe, Jer. 26. 19. & 2. 17. & 4. 18. To purchaſe, acquire, obtain, Pro. 11. 27.

Produce] To cauſe to come neer, Iſa. 41. 21.

Profeſſe] To declare, ſhew openly, Deut.

26. 3. To tell plainly and boldly, Matt. 7. 23. To say or affirm, Rom. 1. 22. Tit. 1. 16.

Profession] An action of a Christian, plainly and openly (when fit occasion serveth) declaring and uttering with his mouth, that which he beleeveth and hopeth for in his heart concerning Christ and salvation by him. 1 Tim. 6. 12. And hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. There may be a profession made before men with the mouth, when the truth of it is not to be found in the heart before God. Tit. 1. 16. They professe to know God, when in their works they denyed him.

2. The doctrine of the Gospel which we do professe. Heb. 3. 1. Consider the High-priest of our profession, Christ Jesus.

3. A way, or Sect. Mat. 23. 15. To make one of your profession.

4. Confession, 1 Tim. 6. 13. marg.

Professed a good profession, 1 Tim. 6 12. Either he understandeth the solemne vow Timothy had made in his Baptisme, or at his Ordination, wholly to dedicate himselfe unto, and imploy his uttermost endevours to the service of God, Annot.

Profit] Lucre, gain, advantage, commodity, benefit, Gen. 25. 32. & 37. 26. Prov. 14. 23. Excellency, superabundance, Rom. 3. 1.

Profitable] Something which is beneficial, commodious and helpfull, Heb. 13. 17. Or else that which is of necessity needfull, which we cannot be without, and be well, 2 Tim. 3. 16. The revealed will of God is as needfull unto mens souls, as milk to babes, as meat to strong, as the light of the Sun to the men of this world, as physick unto the sick, &c.

A thing may be profitable or helpfull, two wayes.

1. To the essence of a thing. So are faith and godlinesse to a Christian.

2. To the efficacy of another. So charity to faith.

3. To the effecting of another thing in our selves. So godlinesse to glory, 1 Tim. 4. v. 8.

4. To the honour or outward good of another.

In the 3 former senses, Man cannot be profitable to his Maker, as Job 22. 2, 3. & 35. 6, 7. Psalm 16. 2. But in this latter sense he may, Psal. 50. 23. Matt. 5. 16. Or, we may safely say, that though it be Scripture, and go true, that Job's friends said so to him, yet it is not true and according to Scripture, which they said, as may appear by Gods owne words to them, Job 42. 7, 8.

Profound] Hos. 5. 2. Deep, and deeply rooted in their owne devices; or, who sought deep and secret hidden lurking places for to work their mischief, having deeply engaged themselves, and made great progresse that way. Annot.

Progenitors] Gen. 49. 26. or Parents, Isaac, Abraham, &c. The Greek saith, of the mountains; for horai reading (with other vowels) harei; and respecting (it may be) Moses blessing, which hath Harerei mountaines, Deut. 35. 15. Aynsworth.

Prognosticators] Monethly Prognosticators, Isa. 47. 13. such as give notice, instruct, or make to know things concerning the Moneths. Those that take upon them to tell before-hand, the occurrents of each Moneth, as our Prognosticators also doe. Annot.

Prolong] To lengthen, Deut. 4. 40. To add, Psal. 61. 6. marg. Prov. 10. 27. marg.

It's spoken 1. of life and dayes, Deut. 4. 26. & 5. 33. Job 6. 11. Psal. 61. 6. Isa. 13. 22. Dan. 7. 12.

2. Of the perfection of riches. Job 15. 29. Neither shall he prolong (Heb. stretch out) the perfection thereof upon the earth; that is, he shall not come to any great degree of riches, God will blast him, before he get a large estate.

3. Of a State or Kingdome, Prov. 28. 2.

Promise] A word, passed from man to man, for performance of some lawfull things; as in contracts, bargains, marriages, and other affairs of common life. This is a civill promise: Such Laban made to Jacob, for giving his Daughter; Saul to David, David to Jonathan.

2. Our word passed and given unto God, for some duty which we will doe unto his honour. Psal. 66. 13, 14. I will pay thee my vows which my lips have promised. Num. 30. 3. He shall not break his promise. This is a religious or holy promise, called a vow in Scripture. See Vow.

3. The Word of God given or plighted unto men, for the performance of some good, or for removing some evill, spiritually or bodily. Psal. 119. 130. How sweet are thy promises unto my mouth? And vers. 38, 49, 50. This is a divine promise, which is twofold, Legall and Evangelicall. Also Gods purpose, Numb. 14. 34. marg.

4. The thing promised, to wit, the inheritance of heaven, or life everlasting. Gal. 3. 22. That the promise by the faith of Christ. Metonymie.

The

The promiſe of God to men is taken 2 wayes.

1. Generally, for the prediction of any matter, good or evill, as 2 Pet. 3. 4, 9.

2. Specially, for the foretelling and offer of ſome good thing.

Good things were purpoſed by God toward men before all time, promiſed in time, and ſhall be performed in the end, and after and beyond all times. So Gods promiſe putteth us in minde of Gods love of old in electing us, his truth now in aſſuring us, his power hereafter in doing that which he hath both purpoſed and promiſed.

Howſoever the Law, by reaſon of the condition annexed of perfect fulfilling it, be contrary to the free promiſe of life, yet the Law doth not aboliſh and quite take away the promiſe of grace, but ſerveth as an helper and ſervant thereunto; for by diſcovering the danger and damnation through ſin, it driveth afflicted ſinners to Chriſt, who is their onely remedy, and in whom alone Abraham and his ſpirituall poſterity, finde righteouſneſſe and life eternall, which is the thing promiſed.

Both Legall and Evangelicall promiſes are either generall or indefinite, propounded to all, Exod. 20. 6. Joh. 3. 16, 17, 18. Or particular, directed to ſome kinde of perſons, few or one, Exod. 20. 12. Mat. 9. 2. Beſide innumerable other promiſes on both ſorts.

Gods promiſe is twofold.

1. Legall, when he paſſeth his word for the giving of eternall life, and other temporall good things, upon condition of fulfilling the Law, Lev. 18. 5. Eph. 6. 1. This is the firſt commandement with promiſe. Gal. 3. 12. Do this and live.

2. Evangelicall, when he paſſeth his word for the giving of Chriſt, and together with him, remiſſion of ſins, righteouſneſſe, and eternall life; as alſo the bleſſings of this life, upon condition of beleeving the Goſpel. Rom. 1. 2. Which he promiſed before by his Prophets. And Rom. 4. 26. That the promiſe might be ſure to all the ſeed; that is, to ſuch as walk in the ſteps of Abraham's faith. Gal. 3. 14. That we might receive the promiſe of the Spirit through faith. This latter promiſe is called the promiſe of Grace, becauſe it is freely given, and freely performed. Alſo Gal. 3. 14. it is called the promiſe of the Spirit, becauſe the Spirit is both the Authour and Applyer of it.

Moreover, the things promiſed, come from the Spirit. This promiſe is alſo called the word of faith, Rom. 10. 8. becauſe the word of this promiſe is made with condition of faith, which is the onely inſtrument to apprehend and receive it. Laſtly, it is tearmed the promiſe of Chriſt, becauſe he is the tearm and end of it.

And finally, better promiſes, not for kind or number, but for largeneſſe or extent, Heb. 8. 6.

Of promiſes, there are ſome,

1. Divine, made of God, 2 Cor. 1. 20. Gal. 3. 18. and thoſe abſolute or conditionall; abſolute, as ſpirituall, and celeſtiall: conditionall, as corporall and worldly promiſes, concerning health, ſtrength, riches, children, &c.

2. Chriſtian, made by Chriſt in his owne perſon, whereof the Goſpell affordeth ſtore.

3. Spirituall promiſes, made of a godly man to God.

4. Humane, of man unto man; whereof ſome are lawfull, ſome unlawfull.

By promiſe] By virtue of Gods word given to Abraham, touching a Son to be born by Sarah his Wife, Gal. 4. 23. Gen. 17. 19.

Hence Canaan is called the Land of Promiſe, becauſe it was enjoyed by virtue of Gods free promiſe, and not by deſert of the Jews.

To promote] To reſtore to former honour and dignity, Dan. 3. 30. To advance unto higher, Numb. 22. 17. To make to proſper, Dan. 3. 30. marg.

Promotion] Pſal. 75. 6. Exaltation, Pro. 4. 8. Vid. Honour.

Pronounce] To declare, manifeſt, judge or give ſentence, Lev. 13. 3, 13, 37. To utter diſtinctly, Judg. 12. 6. To ſpeak, Jer. 11. 17.

Proof] An undoubted ſigne, Act. 1. 3. as to ſpeak, walk, eat, drink, are of life; the ſeeing and handling of Chriſt, that he had a true and naturall body. The prints in his feet, hands, and ſide after his reſurrection, that that was the very body which was crucified, and whoſe ſide was pierced. The blood and water coming out of his ſide, pierced with a ſpear, a certain ſigne of the wounding of his vitals, and death. Experience, 2 Cor. 2. 9.

Proper] 1. That which is a mans owne: ſo as the right of that particular thing belongeth to him alone, and is oppoſed to that which is common, 1 Cor. 7. 2, 4, 7. 2 Pet. 1. 20. See Owne.

2. That which is true and reall, and is oppoſed to figurative, equivocall.

3. It is ſometime taken for elegant, or fine. So ſome tranſlate the word, Heb. 11. 23.

Prophane] An unholy perſon, which refuſeth heavenly things, for enjoying of earthly. As Eſau caſt away his birthright for a meſſe of pottage, and therefore in Heb. 12. 6. he is called a prophane perſon for his labour.

2. Common, or ſomething appointed to common uſe, as prophane hands, prophane authors, prophane meats, put for common, or ſerving to common uſe, Mar. 7. 2. Act. 10. 14, 15.

It's applyed to perſons, Lev. 21. 14. Ezek. 21. 25. A City, Ib. 28. 16. A place, Ib. 42. 20. Old wives fables, 1 Tim. 4. 7. Bablings, Ib. 6. 20.

To prophane] To pollute or proſtitute, Lev. 18. 21. To defile, Lev. 21. 4, 9. Not to ſanctifie, or keep holy, Neh. 13. 17.

Prophaneneſſe] Hypocriſie, Jer. 23. 15. marg.

Prophecie] Prediction, or foretelling, 2 Chr. 9. 29. Mat. 13. 14.

2. The word or doctrine written by the Prophets. 2 Pet. 1. 20, 21. No Propheſie is of private interpretation, &c.

3. Alſo, Expoſitions of Prophetical books, coming from the holy Ghoſt, 1 Theſ. 5. 20.

4. A good and godly ſpeech and doctrine ſet down, Prov. 30. 1. & 31. 1.

5. The act of propheſying, Ezr. 6. 14.

Spirit of prophecie] A gift proceeding from the holy Spirit, enabling men to foretell things to come. 1 Cor. 12. 10. To another propheſie, by the ſame Spirit. See v. 8, 9.

To prophecie] To foreſhew ſomething that afterwards ſhould be fulfilled. Act. 21. 9. He had foure daughters Virgins, which did propheſie. Here the word (Propheſie) is taken in a ſtrict ſenſe, as alſo elſewhere very often.

2. To expound and apply the Scriptures to the edification of the Church. 1 Theſſ. 5. 20. Deſpiſe not propheſying. 1 Cor. 14. 3, 24. Here the word is taken in a large ſenſe, for declaring the myſteries of God.

3. To be preſent at the publick Miniſtery, and partake in the doctrine thereof. 1 Cor. 11. 5. She that prayeth or propheſieth with her head bare. Here it is uſed in the largeſt ſignification.

4. To ſing Pſalms and Hymnes to praiſe and thank God, 1 Sam. 19. 20, 21. & 10. 5. Luk. 1. 67.

5. To ſpeak (being terrified) they know not what, 1 Sam. 18. 10. with 16. 14.

6. To tell, Mat. 26. 68. Luk. 22. 64.

Prophet] One which telleth or ſpeaketh before, what things ſhall afterwards come to paſſe. This is the generall ſignification of the word [Prophet].

2. An extraordinary Miniſter of the Old Teſtament, ordained for the inſtruction of the Church, by interpreting and applying the Law, and foreſhewing the ſufferings and glory of Chriſt. Act. 3. 24. All the Prophets have foretold of theſe dayes. And 10. 43. To him give all the Prophets witneſſe. 1 Pet. 1. 10, 11. Such Prophets were Iſaiah, Jeremiah, &c. Joh. 7. 40. Deut. 18. 15. Here it is meant of Chriſt himſelf.

A Prophet is one that from the inward counſell of God uttereth Oracles: ſuch an one was wont to be called a Seer, 1 Sam. 9. 9. Amos 7. 12.

A Prophet in Hebrew and Greek, is named of ſpeaking, uttering, interpreting words and oracles which come from God, Exod. 7. 1. 1 Cor. 14. 29. Alſo, of ſeeing and receiving them by viſion, ſuch were named Seers, as 1 Sam. 9. 9.

3. A perſon under the New Teſtament, endued with a ſpecial gift to foretell things to come, for the behoof, either of the whole Church, or ſome members of it. In this ſenſe Agabus is called a Prophet, becauſe he forewarned the Church of a famine, Act. 11. 27. and Paul of his bonds, Act. 21. 10. Alſo, the daughters of Philip were ſuch Prophets.

4. One that interpreteth the Scriptures of the Prophets with a ſingular dexterity and readineſſe, beſides the prediction or foretelling future events. Eph. 4. 11. He gave ſome to be Prophets. 1 Cor. 12. 28. He ordained ſome Prophets. Theſe were men that not onely ſignified what things ſhould come, but excelled alſo in expounding Propheſies concerning Chriſt. In this ſenſe Chriſt is called a Prophet, Act. 3. 22. And not onely for declaring the will of God, touching things to come, Rom. 12. 6. 1 Cor. 14. 23.

5. All thoſe holy men of God, who be the Pen-men of the holy Scriptures, for the common uſe of the Church to the worlds end. Luk. 13. 28. All the Prophets ſhall ſit down in the Kingdome of God. 2 Pet. 1. 19. We have a moſt ſure word of the Prophets. Alſo one who arrogateth to himſelfe the gift and name of a Prophet, but is not, Deut. 13. 1.

6. Every true Miniſter of the Goſpel, endued with wiſdome to interpret and apply the the Scriptures. 1 Cor. 14. 32. The ſpirits of the Prophets, &c. Any Teacher and Doctor, Luk. 4. 14.

7. The writings, books, or ſayings of the Prophets. Rom. 3. 21. Having witneſſe from the Law and the Prophets. Luk. 16. 31.

8. A Soothſayer, or Teller of fortunes. Tit. 1. 12. One of your own Prophets.

9. The oracles and prediction of the Prophet, Matt. 11. 13.

10. Chriſt, Deut. 18. 15, 18. Luk. 7. 16.

11. Moſes, Hoſ. 12. 13.

12. The holy Patriarchs, Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, Pſal. 105. 15.

13. One a ſpeaker for another, as his mouth, Exod. 7. 1.

14. An Heathen Poet, Tit. 1. 12.

15. Prophets in the opinion of men, Jer. 29. 15.

16. Apoſtles and Apoſtolicall Teachers in the Primitive Church, Matth. 23. 34, 37. raiſed up among the Jews, 1 Theſſ. 2. 15. and elſewhere afterwards, Rev. 18. 20.

17. The doctrine of the Prophets, and their Prophetical predictions, Mat. 5. 17.

As of Prophets, there were ſome true, and ſent of God, 2 Chron. 24. 19. Jer. 1. 5. in whom was his Spirit, Nehem. 9. 39. So there were falſe Prophets, 2 Pet. 2. 1. whom God did not ſend, Jer. 23. 21. & 14. 14.

Children of the Prophets] Such as were inſtructed and taught by the Prophets, their Scholars, being begotten anew by their doctrine. 2 King. 2. 3, 5. The children of the Prophets that were at Jericho.

2. The people of the Jews, for whoſe inſtruction the Prophets were eſpecially appointed. Act. 3. 25. Ye are the children of the Prophets.

To deceive a Prophet] To cauſe and make the event of his prediction and fore-telling, to fall out otherwiſe then the evill Prophet had fore-ſpoken, that ſo he might be known (howſoever he boaſted of the Spirit, to be a counterfeit and deceiver, by his fore-ſhewing things which never happened. Ezek. 14. 9. If the Prophet be deceived when he hath ſpoken a thing, I the Lord have deceived him. Some do expound theſe words in this ſenſe, that God ſhould uſe falſe Prophets as inſtrument to beguile ſuch as for their former wickedneſſe deſerve to be given up to errour; and thus God dealt with Achab, 1 King. 22. 22. and threatneth the like puniſhment to the followers of Antichriſt, 2 Theſſ. 2. 11. This expoſition, though it be ſound and orthodox, yet the firſt is more plain and fit, as better agreeing with the ſimplicity of the words, which ſpeak of deceiving the Prophet, not others by the Prophet. This interpretation both Peter Martyr liketh better, and Junius in his note upon this place, doth incline thereunto.

A Prophet like to me] Such a Prophet as I am, reſembling me in nature and office, being a man and a Mediatour, as I Moſes am, though more excellent, and in a more ſingular ſort; I as a Servant, he as a Son and Lord of his Church, as Heb. 3. Deut. 18. 15, 18, 19. He ſhall raiſe y u a Prophet like mee. This text is applyed to Chriſt, Act. 3. 22. & 7. 37. The ſcope of all theſe Texts is, that Chriſt may be ſhewn to the Church to be the ſole Mediator of men, promiſed by Moſes, exhibited when Peter ſpake. Moſes hereof as a Type, ſerving for his time, to be a mean between God and the people, which through infirmity could not endure the Majeſty of God ſpeaking; but Chriſt (as truth of this type) ordained an everlaſting Mediatour; whoſe 1 Divine calling, 2 Fidelity in execution of it, 3 Authority in teaching, and 4 Event moſt dreadfull to ſuch as obey him not, are briefly compriſed in verſ. 18, 19. That all this belongs properly to Chriſt alone by application of Peter and Stephen, and by the common ſilence of the Jews, is more then plain.

More then a Prophet] None among the Prophets to be greater then the Baptiſt, becauſe he came immediately before Chriſt, preparing his way, and pointing him out as it were with the finger, Matth. 11. 8, 10. 11. Joh. 1. 15, 29, 39. In this ſenſe is Joſeph ſaid to prevaile above his brethren, Gen. 49. 26. becauſe the bleſſings promiſed him by Jacob were ſooner to be fulfilled, and more largely communicated with his poſterity, alſo Joſeph was to have a double portion.

Sons of the Prophets] Such as be trained up in the Schooles or Colledges of the Prophets, to the knowledge and ſtudy of the Scripture. 2 King. 2. 7. Fifty men of the Sons of the Prophets. Amos 7. 14. I was no Prophet, nor was I a Prophets Son.

A Propheteſſe] A woman endued with the gift of Propheſie, and which doth foretell things future. Act. 21. 9. He had four daughters Propheteſſes, or which did propheſie.

2. One which is the onely Wife of a Prophet, as Iſaiah his Wife. Iſa. 8. 3. I went to the Propheteſſe: as with us the Maiors Wife is uſually called Maioreſſe; and in Germany, a Doctors or Rectors wife is tearmed Doctoreſſe and Rectoreſſe.

Propitiation] An agreement or atonement between God and Man, by the man Christ, represented by the Propitiatory or Mercy-seat, 1 Joh. 2. 2. & 1 Joh. 4. 10. Rom. 3. 25.

Proportion] Nakednesse, 1 King. 7. 36. The proportion of every thing is best discerned, when it is naked. In this place is meant a plain, cleer, and fit resemblance, Annot. Job 41. 12. Comely proportion, The grace of his disposition, or lovely proportion of his parts, that are not some great, some little, but all suitable one to another. Annot.

Proportion of faith, Rom. 12. 6. that is, The measure of that knowledge of heavenly mysteries revealed in Scripture, and given unto him. Annot.

Proselyte] One converted from the Heathenish Religion unto the Jewish Religion, Act. 2. 10. Act. 13. 43. Many of the Jews and Proselytes that feared God.

Note. It is observed by the learned, that the Hebrew word which signifies Proselyte, is as much as, extracted or drawn forth, because such were esteemed to be drawn out of hell, as was made a Convert to their Religion. A Proselyte was made by observation of three ceremonies, if they were men, to wit,

1 Circumcision,
2 Washing,
3 Oblation:

But if women, then by two:

1 Washing,
2 Oblation.

Sometime Proselyte signifies more largely any stranger, or more strictly any convert to the Jewish Religion. It is written of the Pharisees in Matt. 23. that they make such the children of hell more then themselves, by burthening their consciences with their own traditions, and not onely with Moses law.

Prospect] The face, or outside, Ezek. 40. 44, 45, 46. & 42. 15. & 43. 4.

To prosper] 1. To have a commodious and good journey, Rom. 1. 10.

2. To increase in wealth by Gods blessing, and to be more able to relieve the poor, 1 Cor. 16. 3.

3. To have good successe in all affairs of this worldly life, which is like unto a journey. 3 Joh. 2. That thou prosperest.

4. To enjoy peace and reconciliation with God, and tranquillity of conscience thereby. 3 Joh. 2. As thy soul prospereth.

5. To do wisely, Joh. 1. 7. marg. 1 King. 2. 3. marg.

6. Going, to goe and be heard, Judg. 4. 24. marg.

7. To behave ones self wisely, 1 Sam. 18. 5. marg.

8. To be right, Eccl. 11. 6. marg.

9. To deal prudently, Isa. 52. 13. marg.

Prosperity] Good successe in the affairs of our soul and body. Psal. 1. 3. Whatsoever he doth shall prosper. Prov. 28. 13. He that hideth his sins shall not prosper.

2. Wealth, and abundance of earthly benefits. Psal. 73. 3. When I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

3. Rest and peace. Psal. 30. 9. I said in my prosperity.

4. Setled strength, Psal. 30. 6. marg.

5. Good, Lam. 3. 17. marg. Zech. 1. 17. marg.

Prosperous] Lucky, fortunate, good, happy. Of peace, Zech. 8. 12. marg. The originall word in Job 8. 6. in the first signification of it, is peaceable; now because prosperity follows peace, as ruine follows war; therefore the word at the second hand signifies prosperous. Annot.

It's spoken of Persons, Gen. 39. 2. Ways, Josh. 1. 8. Isa. 48. 15. Journey, Gen. 24. 21. Rom. 1. 10.

Prostitute] To profane, Levit. 19. 29. marg.

Protection] An hiding, Deut. 32. 38. marg.

Protest] A Court tearm, as in a contestation and plea at Law, shewing the matter spoken of to be of more then ordinary weight and concernment. Annot. on Zech. 3. v. 6.

Protesting, protest] That he did very earnestly and solemnly protest, even with oath, Gen. 43. 3. & 42. 15.

Proud] One who is haughty, Prov. 21. 24. who lifteth up, and magnifieth himself, Dan. 5. 23. & 11. 36. who is puft up, Col. 2. 18. who thinketh himself to be something when he is nothing, Gal. 6. 3. Thus in speech, Psal. 12. 3. heart, Psal. 101. 5. spirit, Eccl. 7. 8. look, Prov. 6. 17. gesture, Isa. 3. 5, 16. deed, Psal. 31. 23.

It's put for Great, Ps. 12. 3. marg. Haughty, Prov. 6. 17. marg. Fool, 1 Tim. 6. 4. marg. Pride, Job 26. 12. marg.

To prove] To examine, search and try himself, whether he be in Christ. 2 Cor. 13. 5. Prove your selves. This is our proving of our selves.

2. To sift us, by some affliction, that we may know our owne hearts. Deut. 8. 2. To humble thee, and to prove thee.

3. To

3. To look neerly into ones cauſe, and to take knowledge and defence of it. Pſa. 26. 2. Prove me, O Lord, and try me. This is Gods proving us.

4. To diſcern with judgement thoſe things which are good, or according to a ſound judgement, uprightly to think, and cheerfully to follow what is good and pleaſing unto Almighty God. Rom. 12. 2. Prove what the good will of God is. This proving contains more then a naked knowledge and generall allowance, even in acknowledging, diſcerning, approving with ſincere love, and earneſt deſire to conform our ſelves unto the good will and pleaſure of God.

5. To charge, Rom. 3. 9. marg.

6. To finde true, Eccl. 7. 23.

7. To put to the tryall, 2 Cor. 8. 8. Make experience, Dan. 1. 14. or an eſſay of, 1 Sam. 17. 39.

8. To manifeſt by argument and reaſoning, Act. 9. 22.

9. To come to the underſtanding of, Rom. 12. 2.

10. To be throughly known, Gen. 42. 15, 16.

11. To judge, Job 9. 20.

12. To juſtifie, or make good, Act. 24. 13.

13. After examination to judge for it, 1 Tim. 3. 10.

14. To finde by tryal, 2 Cor. 8. 22.

Provender] Proviſion or fodder for beaſts, (as oats, peaſe, beans, &c.) Gen. 24. 25, 33. & 42. 27. The word uſed in Iſa. 30. 24. hath in it a notion of commixtion, or confuſion; as Babel coming from the ſame root hath; and Provender is ſo tearmed, becauſe it conſiſted commonly of divers ſorts of corn or pulſe mingled together, as in our horſe-bread, or of the grain not ſevered as yet from the chaff. Annot.

Proverb] A word, ſpeech, or ſentence, gravely, pithily, and wiſely uttered in few words, ſuch as every man may remember, and ought to be in every mans mouth, as a glaſſe of our life, and whole converſation, Prov. 1. 1. Thus expounded in the ſixt ver. Theſe are alſo called Ænigmata, that is, dark ſentences, Pſalm 49. 5. and Parables.

2. A common by-word, or a word of reproach and infamy, a talking ſtock. Deut. 28. Thou ſhalt be a proverb and by-word to all Nations.

3. Inſtruction, Prov. 1. 6.

4. A ſimilitude, Joh. 16. 25.

To provide] To have a forecaſt in the affairs of this life, as how to maintain our charge. 1 Tim. 5. 8. If there be any that provideth not for his own. Alſo ſee Rom. 13. 14.

2. To forethink what things we may lawfully and juſtly doe. Rom. 12. 7. Provide (or procure) honeſt things before men.

3. To fore-appoint and give a good iſſue in perplexed and troubleſome caſes. Gen. 22. 8. God will provide, &c. & v. 14. In the Mount will the Lord provide, or ſee.

4. To foreſee, Heb. 11. 40. marg.

Providence is not onely Gods foreknowledge of things to come, and his wiſe appointment beforehand, how every thing in the world ſhall be; but his powerfull and moſt juſt diſcerning and diſpoſing of all things and perſons, according to that his externall and unchangeable knowledge and will; whereby all things that have been, have been; and all things that are, are; and all things that ſhall be, ſhall be; for ſuch ends as himſelf hath purpoſed from everlaſting. Mat. 10. 29. Act. 2. 23. & 4. 28.

Province] ἐπαρχία. A Countrey ſubdued by force of Arms, and kept under juriſdiction by a Lieutenant ſent thither with commiſſion to govern a charge; from ἔπαρχος, a Lieutenant, or Preſident; ὁ ἐπ' ἀρχῆς, one with command, Act. 23. 34. & 25. 1.

Proviſion] Food, Gen. 42. 25. Bread, 1 King. 4. 22. marg. Victuals, and other neceſſaries, Ib. 7.

Provocation] Anger, 2 King. 23. 26. mar. Contention, Pſal. 95. 8.

To provoke] To give God occaſion of anger or puniſhment by ſome ſin obſtinately committed. Pſal. 106. 26. They provoked him to anger with their inventions. Deut. 32. 19.

2. To move or to ſtir up ones care, Rom. 11. 18. If by any means I might provoke them of my fleſh; that is, make the Jews my kinſmen, carefull to ſeek after Chriſt in his word.

3. To anger, 1 Sam. 1. 6. marg.

4. To rebell againſt, Pſal. 78. 40. marg.

Prudence] Subtilty, Prov. 8. 12. marg. Naturall, in and about earthly things, 2 Chr. 2. 12. Spirituall, in and about heavenly things, Eph. 1. 8.

Prudent] A man of much ſagacity and depth of judgement, able ſo to bolt out the truth of things difficult and abſtruſe; and ſo deem of, and gueſſe ſhrewdly at the conſequences and events of affairs, that he may ſeem to have a ſpirit of divination in him. So the word is taken, Prov. 16. 10. and an inſtance of it we may ſee in Solomon, 1 King. 3. 16, 28. Annot. on Iſa. 3. 3.

Some are thus really, which is, both after the the world, Mat. 11. 25. 1 Cor. 1. 19. and after the Spirit, 1 Sam. 16. 18. Others, but in opinion, Prov. 3. 7. & 26. 12. & 28. 11. Iſa. 5. 21.

Prune] To cut off the ſuperfluous branches from a tree, which ſpend its ſap, and hinder the fructifying thereof, Lev. 25. 3. Iſa. 5. 6. Joh. 15. 2.

P S.

Pſalm] A Song made of ſhort verſes and ſentences, where many ſuperfluous words are cut off. Pſal. 3. In the title a Pſalm of David: it cometh of an Hebrew word, which hath the ſignification of pruning, or cutting off ſuperfluous twigs.

There be three kinde of Songs mentioned in Gods book, namely, in the Pſalterie:

1 A Pſalme.
2 An Hymne, or Praiſe.
3 A Song, or Lay.

The Apoſtle mentioneth all three together, Eph. 5. 19.

This word is put for the Book of Pſalms, Luk. 24. 44.

Pſalmiſt] 2 Sam. 23. 1. David thus called, not onely for that he did indite Pſalms and ſpiritual Hymnes, ſinging them for his owne comfort and ſolace, but alſo publiſhed them for the ſervice of God in the Church, and withall appointed the Singers, and muſick of inſtruments, and the tunes fitting for them, 1 Chron. 16. 4, 5. Amos 6. 4.

Pſalterie] Pſal. 33. 2. or Lute, or Viol, in Hebr. Nebel; an inſtrument ſo called of the form, which (as ſeemeth) was with a round hollow bulk, much like a Bottle, (for Nebel is alſo a Bottle, or Pitcher, 1 Sam. 10. 3. Lam. 4. 2.) Aynſworth.

P T.

Ptolemais] A warlike woman, derived of πτολεμος, war; poetically for πολεμος: Or, it taketh the name from Ptolemeus, which ſignifieth, warlike, martiall. A Maritine City of Judea, neer Mount Carmel, Act. 21. 7.

P U.

Puah] A mouth, corner; or, buſh of hair. The Son of Iſſachar, Gen. 46. 13. Of whom the family of the Puaites, Numb. 26. 23. A Midwife, Exod. 1. 14. The Son of Dodo, Judg. 1. 10.

Publican] One who bought (in great) the Emperours tribute, Matthew 21. 31. Mat. 9. 9, 11. Why eateth your Maſter with Publicans and ſinners? Theſe Publicans were held of the Jews for the vileſt men that lived, in two reſpects.

Firſt, becauſe they were ſervants to the Romans, whoſe yoke the Jews could not abide.

Secondly, becauſe they exacted more then their due, for their own advantage.

Every Province had his ſeverall ſociety or company of Publicans, every ſociety his diſtinct Governour; in which reſpect it is, that Zacheus is called by the Evangeliſt, ἀρχελωνης, the chief Receiver of the tribute, or the chief Publican, Luk. 19. 2. And all the Provinciall Governours in theſe ſeverall Societies, had one chief Maſter reſiding at Rome, unto whom the other ſubordinate Governours gave up their accounts. Of them, one Sabinus, for his honeſt managing of that office, in an honorable remembrance thereof, had certain images erected, with this ſuperſcription, τοις πιστοις τελωνησιν, for the faithfull Publican. Goodwyn his Moſes and Aaron, p. 7, 8.

Publick] 1. That which is open or manifeſt to many, either for place or manner: ſo a perſon is for place, a matter for manner.

2. That is common or ordinary.

Publiſh] To proclaim, Deut. 32. 3. Solemnly with joy and thankſgiving to make known, 1 Sam. 31. 9. To cauſe to hear, Pſal. 26. 7. Jerem. 50. 2. To preach, Act. 10. 37.

Publius] Common. The chief man of Melita, Act. 28. 7, 8.

Pudens] Shamefac'd. A mans name, 2 Tim. 4. 21.

Puffe] To enſnare, Pſal. 12. 5. marg. To deſie, ſet at nought, domineer over, as if he could overthrow them with his breath; be angry.

Puffed up, 1 Cor. 5. 2. that is, Proud. Pride in the ſoul is like a tumour or ſwelling in the body; and what is pride, but a wind? a wind to fill, and a wind to torment: Or, one hoven and ſwollen by arrogancy and pride, 1 Cor. 4. 6, 18. & 1 Cor. 8. 1. & 1 Cor. 5. 2. 1 Cor. 13. 4. In theſe places pride is likened either to ſmoak, to note their high vaniſhing thoughts like ſmoak; or to a bladder blown full of winde; or to a tumour or ſwelling of a belly, by the Tympany, or Dropſie; even ſuch a thing is pride in the heart of an arrogant man.

Puhites]

Pubites] Deceiving, a mouthfull, or breadth. A family descended of Shobal, 1 Chr. 2. 53.

Pul] Decay, or a bean. A King of Assyria, 2 King. 15. 19. A Countrey, Isa. 66. 19.

Pull] To cause to come, Gen. 8. 9. marg. To bring in, Ib. 19. 10. To bring forth, Psal. 31. 4. The words down, in, off, out, up, &c. annexed hereunto, point out the meaning.

Pulled away the shoulder, Zech. 7. 11. that is, Gave a backsliding shoulder, marg.

Pulpit] Of wood, Nehem. 8. 4. that is, Tower of wood.

Pulse] Pease, beans, &c. Dan. 1. 12.

To punish] To chastise, and correct, as a Father doth his children, for their humbling and amendment. Psal. 73. 14. Daily have I been punished, and chastised every morning.

2. To take vengeance upon sinners, as a Judg upon Malefactors. Gen. 4. 13. My punishment is greater then I can bear. Thus Tremelius readeth it.

3. To visit upon, Isa. 10. 12. marg. & 24. 21. Jer. 23. 34. marg. Hos. 4. 9. marg.

It's in effect the same with, To visit, Jer. 23. 2. To finde out, Numb. 32. 23. To repay, Deut. 7. 10. To take hold of judgement, and to render vengeance, Deut. 32. 41. To bring his way upon his owne head, 2 King. 8. 32. To cut short, 2 King. 10. 32. To cut off, Psal. 101. 8.

Punishment] The censure of excommunication, or delivering up to Satan, 2 Cor. 2. 6. Iniquity, Gen. 4. 13. marg. Lam. 4. 6. mar. Ib. 22. marg. Sin, Zech. 14. 19. marg.

There's an outward punishment on the body, estate, &c. inflicted sometime immediately, by God; sometimes mediately, by instruments, Angels, Men, other creatures. There's also an inward and spiritual, which is most fearfull.

Punites] Beholding, or my face. A family descended of Puah, Numb. 26. 23.

Punon] A precious stone, or beholding. A place, Numb. 33. 42.

Pur, and Purim] Lot, or lots. They are Persian words. The Heathen used to cast lots to finde fit and seasonable times (as they thought) for effecting such things as they desired to be effected with good successe, Est. 3. 7. Annot.

To purchase] To obtain a thing by laying down the due price of it, Gen. 49. 32.

2. To obtain the inheritances of the Church and of heaven, by merit, Act. 20. 28. Eph. 1. 14. This is proper unto Christ, who alone hath power to merit with God, which neither Angels nor men can doe.

Pure] Unmixed, cleer, or like it self, as wine without water, silver without drosse.

2. Without mixture or sin, either more or lesse; according to that whereof it is affirmed. Thus it is written of God, that he is pure. Psal. 51. 4. Thou art pure when thou judgest. Psal. 19. 8 The commandement of the Lord is pure. Psal. 18. 30. & 119. 140. Pro. 30. 5. For God and his Word are without all mixture of sin and iniquity. Also we read of a pure heart, 1 Tim. 1. 4. Mat. 5. 8. Blessed are the pure in heart. Whereby is meant, a heart partly freed from the mixture of sin, and endeouring stil to be more free. Lastly, we read of pure Religion, and pure Doctrine, Jam. 1. 27. when it is free from Errour, Idolatry, and Hypocrisie: Also, of pure Prayers, and of pure Hands lifted up, when our prayers are unmixed with wrath and doubting, Job 16. 17. 1 Tim. 2. 8. Jam. 1. 27. See 1 Tim. 4. 12. Also, without all desert or flattering, Psal. 12. 7. 1 Pet. 2. 2.

3. Tryed, or refined, Psal. 119. 140. mar.

4. Clean, Prov. 30. 12.

5. Cleer and free, Act. 20. 26.

6. Lawfull to be used, Rom. 14. 20. Tit. 1. 15.

7. Undefiled, innocent, not partaking with, 1 Tim. 5. 22.

8. A true beleever, Tit. 1. 15.

Purely] Isa. 1. 25. Throughly. Heb. according to purity, or by purity. Purity, for purifying matter. Annot.

Pureness] It signifies an exact cleanness, such as is in gold purged from drosse; or in garments cleansed with sope; such is in a good man, that makes conscience of avoyding all kinds of sin, Job 22. 30. Annot.

To purge] To make clean without guilt, by free forgiveness of sin, through the blood of Christ. Psal. 51. 7. Purge me with hyssop. The property of Hyssop is to purge, whereunto Christ his blood is compared.

2. To make clean and free our hearts from corruption of sin, (that it reign not) by grace of sanctification. Tit. 2. 14. And purge us to be a peculiar people.

3. To cast out the filth of sin, by our own best indevours. Jam. 4. 8. Purge your heart you sinners.

4. To cast offensive sinners out of the Church, by excommunication. 1 Cor. 5. 7. Purge out the old leaven.

5. To make clean from ceremoniall pollution and uncleanness. Lev. 12. 7. So shall she be purged from the issue of her blood.

6. To take away, 2 Chr. 34. 3.

7. To consecrate, Ezek. 43. 20, 26.

8. To

8. To cut off ſuperfluities, Joh. 15.2.
9. To juſtifie, Heb. 10.2.
10. To empty, Mar. 7.19.
Purged from his old ſins, 2 Pet. 1.9. namely, ſacramentally by Baptiſme, openly alſo profeſſing a renunciation of them.

To purge droſſe and tin] To ſeparate and to caſt out by plagues, the Idolaters, Hypocrites, and other wicked men, mixed with the elect and godly, as droſſe with ſilver. Iſa. 1.25. I will purge away thy droſſe, and take away thy Tin.

To purge iniquity] By affliction to bring unto repentance, as men are reſtored to health by medicines, Iſa. 27.9. See Dan. 11.35.

Purgatory] A place under the earth, deviſed by Popery, for purging of ſin, by torments equall to hell pains in meaſure, ſuffered of ſouls which die in mortall ſin, or in veniall without abſolution, to endure to the laſt Judgement. This was dreamed of by Plato and Virgil, but defended for belly and lucres ſake by doting, couſening Romaniſts.

Purification] The uncleanneſſe wherein men are born, and the remedy they have by Chriſt, Lev. 12.4. in conſcience of this naturall corruption (and not of any particular ſin in the conception of Chriſt) Mary the Virgin ſubmitted her ſelf to this Law, and to the oblation appointed, Luk. 2.22.

It's either Legall or Ceremoniall, Numb. 19.9,17. Nehem. 12.45. Luk. 2.22. Act. 21.26. or Civill, ſuch as was uſed for the uſe of great perſonages, Eſt. 2.3, 9,12.

According to the purification of the Sanctuary, 2 Chron. 30.19. that is, Such means of purifying perſons as are preſcribed and enjoyned to ſuch as come to Gods holy place.

Purity] Unmixedneſſe with ſin, as far as our frailty will ſuffer. 2 Cor. 6.6. By purity.

To purifie] To make clean and pure, that which before was foul and defiled. This was done, either by the blood of Goats, Buls, and Beaſts, Heb. 9.14. Or by faith in the blood of Chriſt, which makes us perfectly pure by imputation, and imperfectly pure by ſanctification. Act. 15.9. After that by faith he had purified their hearts.

It's all one in effect with, To waſh away, Pſal. 51.7. To purge, take away, Iſa. 27.9. To make white, Dan. 12.10. To purifie, Mal. 3.3.

Purloin] Tit. 2.10. The word ſignifieth, To detain any thing to ones ſelf that belongs not to him, and to put it apart to his owne uſe. It is the ſame word, whereby the fraud of Ananias is ſet forth, who kept back part of the price of a poſſeſſion which he ſold, Act. 5.2,3.

Purple] Exod. 25.4. So we call it of the Gr. Porphura, the name of a Shel-fiſh, called the Purple; it is like an Oyſter, and hath in it a liquor, which is uſed to make the Purple dye of great eſteem, as Pliny ſheweth in his Nat. Hiſt. lib. 9. c. 36. The Hebrew is Argaman (and as Ezra writeth it, after the Chal. manner Argevan, Ezr. 2.2,7,14) from whence it ſeemeth the Gr. have borrowed Amorgis, the name of an hearb or reed, which is uſed to dye Purple. This is a Princely colour, and uſed both for Civill and Religious honour, Eſt. 8.15. Jer. 10.9. Dan. 5.7,29. Luk. 16.19. Rev. 18.12. Aynſworth on Exod. 25.4.

To be like purple, or ſcarlet] Properly to be of deep dye, or red and bloody hue: but figuratively it ſignifies the ſins of the Iews to be not light and ſmall ones, but capitall and very hainous; ſuch as did inhere and ſtick hard to them, and had greatly infected them with horrible wickedneſſe. Iſa. 1.18. If your ſins be as Scarlet, or as Crimſon and purple. It is thus named in Latine, of a kind of ſhell-fiſh called Purpura, of whoſe blood or juyce, this colour or dye is made: of the Greeks it is called Dibaphon, which is as much as a double tincture, or twice dyed, and by the Hebrews it is tearmed uſually in Scripture, Tolahhar, of a little worm ſpringing out of a grain or kernell, by the blood whereof, this Purple colour is ſaid to be made.

Purpoſe] A firm thought or determination of our minde, touching ſomething which we mean to doe. Eccl. 3.1. A time for every purpoſe under heaven. Prov. 16.9.

2. The decree of God touching the eternall eſtate of all reaſonable creatures. Rom. 9.11. That the purpoſe of God might remain according to election.

3. The decree of God touching the endleſſe ſalvation of the elect. Rom. 8.28. To them that are called of his purpoſe.

In Gods purpoſe of election, there be two acts not to be ſeparated, yet by our conſideration to be diſtinguiſhed; one whereby he did eternally love them, and know them as his owne before others. The ſecond act whereby he ſetteth them apart, and fore-ordaineth them unto glory, by ſuch means as he hath appointed. The former hath no moving or impulsive cause, but his owne good pleasure and will. The other is with respect unto the Mediatour, in whom he chooseth them to grace, and directeth them to salvation, as being the foundation of the execution of Gods purpose, both touching the beginning, middle, and end of it, Rom. 5. 1, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11. Rom. 8. 2, 17, 34. & 3. 24, 25. 2 Cor. 5. 14. Eph. 1. 4, 5, 9, 10, 11. 2 Tim. 2. 10.

for-

4. Work, Job 33. 17. marg.

5. Foundation, Isa. 19. 10. marg.

6. The thoughts of ones heart, Job 17. 11.

It's 1. Divine, concerning things both earthly, Isa. 14. 24, 27. & 46. 11. Jer. 4. 28. & 49. 20. being sometime changeable, Jer. 26. 3. & 36. 3. sometimes unchangeable, Jer. 51. 29. Isa. 46. 11. and spirituall, or heavenly, Rom. 8. 28. & 9. 11. being eternall, and so immutable, Eph. 3. 11.

2. Humane; Good, Psal. 17. 3. Dan. 1. 8. Rom. 1. 13. Bad, Jer. 49 30. Dan. 6. 17. Act. 27. 43. both which may be broken off and disappointed, Prov. 15. 22. Isa. 7. 6, 7.

To purpose] Heb. To say, 1 King. 5. 5. marg.

To purpose in himself] That God the Father decreed the salvation of a certain number in his Son, who as he is Mediatour is a subordinate cause to the good pleasure of God; and further, that the fountain and first ground of his eternall purpose, is not to be found out of God himself, either in the merits of men present or foreseen, or in ought else whatsoever. Eph. 1. 9. Which he hath purposed in himself.

Purse] Luk. 10. 4. Βαλάντιον, ἀπὸ τοῦ βάλλειν, which signifieth, to cast, or to put in, for that money is therein put and kept, Mat. 10. 9. The word is ζώνη, which chiefly signifieth a souldiers belt, or a marriage girdle; the souldiers belt was lined within in the inside, where when they went to war they did put their money.

Let us all have one purse, Prov. 1. 14. equally share in the spoyl that we shall take.

Pursue] 1. Diligently and earnestly to follow after one to harm him. Exod. 15. 9. The enemy said, I will pursue. Deut. 19. 6. Lest the avenger of blood pursue.

2. To seek after a thing; or, for the obtaining thereof with great earnestnesse. Psa. 34. 14. Seek peace, and pursue it. Prov. 19. 7. He pursueth them with words, yet are they wanting to him. This is to follow after, Phil. 3. 12.

3. To have a pursuit, 1 King. 18. 27. mar.

Purtenance] Exod. 12. 9. that is, the inward. The Lamb was to be rosted all and whole, not cut into pieces.

Push] Spoken of an Oxe, Exod. 21. 29, 32, 36. In Deut. 33. 17. the word in Chaldee is, to kill. So in Psal. 44. 5. Aynsworth.

In Dan 8. 4. it's applyed to the Ramme; namely, to the Kings of Media and Persia, Ib. 20. Pushing Westward, and Northward, and Southward. And in Dan. 11. 40. it's spoken of the King of the South.

Put] The hinge of a gate, or hook wherein a dore hangeth. A people of Affrica, Nah. 3. 9.

To put] To place, Gen. 2. 8, 15. To binde, Exod. 29. 9. marg. To thrust, Deut. 33. 14. marg. To joyn, 1 Sam. 2. 36. marg. To give, Heb. 8. 10. marg.

Put down] To cause to cease, 2 King. 23. 5. marg. To remove, 2 Chron. 36. 3. marg.

Put from] Act. 13. 46. that is, To reject and make light of with hatred.

Put off] Isa. 47. 11. that is, Expiate, marg.

To put off the body of sin] To mortifie corrupt and sinfull nature, which is called a body here, Col. 2. 11. & Rom. 6. 6. called also the old man, Col. 3. 9.

To put off the old man, &c.] To repent soundly. Col. 3. 8. Put off all these, &c. This phrase or form of speech, is borrowed from garments, which being old and ragged, are abhorr'd and put off, with a meaning to use them no more. So, when a sinner truly turneth to God, he leaveth his sins with hatred of them, and grief of heart for the offence of God by them. This phrase is all one with casting off, Rom. 13. 14. and laying aside, Jam. 1. 21. with departing from sin, 2 Tim. 2. 19. with mortifying and destroying our earthly members, the old man, Rom. 6. 6. Col. 3. 5.

Put on the Lord Jesus] Rom. 13. 14. that is, Apply his merits unto you by faith, and shew it by sanctification. By baptisme we put him on, Gal. 3. 27. beleeving, and being born anew.

Put on the new man] Eph. 4. 24. Col. 3. 10. that is, Shew your selves conformable to Christs image, Rom. 8. 29. As new creatures, Gal. 6. 15. created to good works to walk therein, Eph. 2. 10. after godly wisdome, in holinesse and righteousnesse, in which Gods image doth consist with uprightnesse, Eccl. 7. 29.

Put in order] 2 Sam. 17. 23. that is, Give charge, marg.

Put out] To pluck off, Deut. 7. 22. mar.

To

To bore out, Judg. ch. 16. v. 21. marg.

Put together] To gather, Gen. 42. 17. marg.

Put up] To binde up, 2 King. 12. 10. marg.

Put upon] Make to ride, 2 King. 13. 16. marg.

Puteoli] A City of Campania, ſo called (as Feſtus conjecktureth) a putore, from the ſtink or ill ſavour of hot water, or from the multitude of Wels or Pits, Paſor Lex.

Putiel] Affrick of God, or in Syr. & Heb. the fatneſſe of God. His Daughter was the Mother of Phinehas, the Son of Eleazer, Exod. 6. 25.

Putrifying ſores] Iſa. 1. 6. Heb. Moiſt, that is, either green hurts, (as a green jawbone, Judg. 15. 15.) new hurts, lately made, or as other matter; moyſt with matter, ſuch as old feſtred ſores uſe to be. Annot.

P Y.

Pygard] Deut. 14. 5. So called after the Greek tranſlation. The Hebrew word Diſhon uſed onely in this place, is variouſly underſtood.

Some take it for a wilde beaſt, whoſe horn turns inward toward his head; ſome for a kinde of Eagle; ſome for an Unicorn; ſome for a wilde beaſt like to a Fallow-deer, or Roe-buck: but though to us it be not perfectly underſtood (as the names of many living creatures, hearbs, and ſtones are not;) yet thoſe to whom the precept or prohibition of ſuch things was given, had the right underſtanding of them (with the rule whether it were a command, or a caveat) if not in particular, yet by the generall notes. Annot.

The Chaldee calleth it Rema, of highneſſe. Aynſworth.

Q U.

Quaile] Herewith the Lord fed the Iſraelites, luſting after fleſh, and doubting that the Lord could not provide fleſh for them in the Wilderneſſe, Pſal. 78. 18, 19. Exod. 16. 13. Numb. 11. 31, 32. The abundance of them was miraculous, for it is ſaid, that God rained fleſh upon them, as duſt; and feathered fowles as the ſand of the Seas, Pſ. 78. 27. and with theſe they filled their greedy luſt; (feeding themſelves without fear, as Jude v. 12.) though the Lord had threatned to puniſh them, verſ. 20. Their carriage towards their young ones, is the ſame in effect with the Hens. To avoyd the ſnares of the Hunters, they remove them from one place to another. They are ſaid to lay ſixteen eggs, and four times every yeer to bring forth young ones; twice with us, and twice in thoſe Countreys whither they go about harveſt, and that their firſt brood breedeth before their departure; ſo that it's ſaid of Hunters, that he that in the beginning of the Spring killeth one Quaile, killeth an hundred. They neither build their neſts on trees, nor abide thereon, but have their abode on the ground. Though (being weighty) they cannot flie well, yet they can run very ſwiftly. And being to remove, the Matrix becometh a Captain or Leader among them. So the Glottis (having a long tongue) alſo the Cynchramus, and Otus. They feed on Hellebore, which is poyſon unto others. They are very luſtfull, and very fearfull. Whileſt they flye they make a noyſe, eſpecially when the South wind bloweth, whereby being moyſt, they are made leſſe able to flye, at which time the Hunters do eſpecially ſeek after them. Therefore God to ſhew his power, even by the South wind brought a multitude of them, Pſal. 78. 26, 27. Being weary through long flying, they are often caught by Mariners in their ſhips. Though they be fearful, yet are they earneſt in flight. When the Sun and Moon riſe, they utter an an harſh and diſmall ſound, as if they were angry with both. Having drunk of a cleer ſpring, they puddle therein with their beaks and feet, till it become muddy, and fill it with duſt alſo, that others may not drink thereof.

Quake] Applyed unto creatures without life; as, the Earth, 1 Sam. 14. 15. Joel 2. 10. Mat. 27. 51. Mount Sinai, Exod. 19. 18. the Mountains, Neh. 1. 5.

Unto men, Ezek. 12. 18. Dan. 10. 7. Heb. 12. 21. implying, a ſhaking of the body with great fear and dread.

Quantity] Iſa. 22. 24. Size. Thoſe of meaner parts, and leſſe eſteem.

Quarrell] Strife, or controverſie between man and man. Col. 3. 13. If any man have a quarrell to another.

2. An action or controverſie between God and us. Mich. 6. 2. The Lord hath a quarrell againſt his people.

To have a quarrell, Mar. 6. 19. or, inward grudge, marg. or complaint, Col. 3. 13. marg.

Quarries] Judg. 3. 19. or, graven Images, marg.

Quarter] Part, Gen. 19. 4. Border, Joſh. 18. 14. Paſſage, Iſa. 47. 15. End, coaſt, Iſa. 56. 11. Wind, Deut. 22. 12. marg.

Quartus] the fourth. One that ſaluted the Romans, Rom. 16. 32.

Quaternion] The number of foure. Act. 12. 4.

Queen] A woman marryed to a King, as Bathſheba to David, Jezabel to Achab; alſo the Mother or Grand-mother to a King, Dan. 5. 10. His Wife, Neh. 2. 6. marg.

2. The true Church, eſpouſed unto Chriſt the King of his people, as to an Husband. Pſal. 45. 9. Upon thy right hand doth ſtand the Queen.

3. The falſe Antichriſtian Church, boaſting of her might, riches, and pomp. Rev. 18. 7. I ſit being a Queen, I am no widow.

The Queen of heaven] The work of heaven (ſo Tremelius tranſlates it out of the Hebrew) or Heavenly and Celeſtial things: as the Sun, Moon, Stars, and other heavenly bodies. Jer. 7. 18. To make cakes to the Queen of heaven. The frame of heaven, Jer. 44. 17. marg.

To quench] Either ſomewhat to ſlake the heat of the fire, or elſe wholly to put it out.

2. To loſe ſome fruits and effects of the Spirit, and to abate the working of grace; as if one ſhould ſomewhat ſlake the heat, and leſſen the light of the fire. 1 Theſ. 5. 19. Quench not the Spirit. Thus the godly by their ſecurity, Quench the Spirit.

3. To loſe wholly the grace of the Spirit, which once he had; as if one ſhould put out fire with water. Thus the wicked by their obſtinacy in ſin, Quench the Spirit, as Saul and Judas did. 1 Theſſ. 5. 19. Quench not the Spirit. And thus a godly perſon can never Quench the Spirit, for the Spirit abideth in them for ever, Joh. 14. & 1 Joh. 3. The ſeed of God remaineth in them. Of this ſeed, Peter ſaith, it is immortall, 1 Pet. verſ. laſt. Alſo Chriſt maketh requeſt for beleevers, and is never denyed, Joh. 11. 42.

4. To break, Pſal. 104. 11. marg.

It's applyed to a Coal, 2 Sam. 14. 7. Light, 2 Sam. 21. 17. Fire, Iſa. 66. 24. Heb. 11. 34. Thirſt, Pſal. 104. 11. The Spirit, 1 Theſſ. 5. 19. Satans fiery darts, Eph. 6. 16. Gods wrath, Amos 5. 6. Smoaking flax, Matt. 12. 20.

Queſtion] A demand, or asking; which when it is of things neceſſary to be known, out of a deſire to learn, it is good; otherwiſe, it is either vain or fooliſh. 2 Tim. 3. 23. Fooliſh queſtions, &c. Matt. 22. 46. It ſignifies contentions and quarrels about things not needfull to be known, 1 Tim. 1. 4.

Alſo, a thing, Mar. 11. 29. marg. Word, 1 King. 10. 3. marg.

Of Queſtions there are ſeverall ſorts; Religious, Deut. 6. 20. Blaſphemous, Joh. 8. 48. Curious, Luk. 13. 23. Fooliſh and unlearned, 2 Tim. 2. 23. Tit. 3. 9. Hard, 1 King. 10. 2. Captious, Mar. 12. 14, 75. Hypocriticall, Matt. 2. 7. Accuſatory, Neh. 2. 19. Eſt. 7. 8. Deliberative, Eſt. 6. 6. Luk. 16. 3, 5, 7. Incitative, 2 Sam. 11. 10. & 12. 22, 23. Reprehenſive, 1 Sam. 1. 14. Affirmative, Numb. 12. 2, 12. & ch. 23. v. 19. & ch. 24. v. 12, 13. Negative, Neh. 6. 3. Numb. 23. 8. Of diſdain, Gen. 37. 8. Exod. 3. 14. & 5. 2. Of inquiry, Joſh. 9. 8. Judg. 8. 18. Of complaint, Gen. 42. 28. & 44. 34. Of doubting and unbeleef, Numb. 11. 22. 2 King. 7. 19.

Quick] Lively, living: Applyed to Fleſh, Lev. 13. 10, 24. Living perſons, Pſal. 55. 15. & 124. 3. The underſtanding, Iſa. 11. 3. The Word of God, Heb. 4. 12.

To quicken] To give life to the dead, Rom. 4. 17.

2. To put the life of grace in a ſoul dead in treſpaſſes and ſins; when one ſpiritually dead is made to live to God by the life of faith. Eph. 2. 1, 5. You hath he quickened, which were dead in treſpaſſes and ſins.

3. To put heart and comfort by deliverance into ſuch as have grief and fear through great dangers. Pſal. 119. 149, 154. Quicken according to thy Word.

4. To give life, 2 Cor. 3. 6. marg.

5. To revive and cheer up that which is dying, Pſal. 119. 50.

To quicken together] To conjoyne and couple both elect Jews and Gentiles, in Chriſt their common head, by one Spirit of faith, wherein conſiſteth ſpirituall life, enabling them to live unto God, being before dead in ſins. Eph. 2. 5. When we were dead in ſins, he hath quickened us together in Chriſt.

Quickning Spirit] The body of the man Chriſt, which is called Spirit, in reſpect of the quality and condition which now it hath, being ſpirituall and moſt glorious; and it is tearmed Quickning, becauſe it is united perſonally to the vivifying Word; alſo becauſe by the death of his body he hath gotten life to the world, Joh. 1. 14. & 6. 5. But eſpecially for his divine Spirit, or Divinity, which it ſelf is life, and giveth life or quickning to all that live. See Joh. 5. 21, 26. 1 Cor. 15. 45. And the laſt Adam was made a quickning Spirit. As Adam is called a living ſoul, becauſe of the ſoul, which is the beſt part in him, quickening and making his body to live: ſo Chriſt the latter Adam is ſaid to be a quickning Spirit, by reaſon of that moſt excellent nature (often noted in Scripture by the Spirit) which dwelleth in him bodily, Col. 2. 9.

Quickly] put for, With all haſte, Gen. 18. 6. A ſhort ſpace of time, Exod. 32. 8. Deut. 9. 12. Diligently, greatly, 1 Sam. 20. 19. marg. Eaſily, Eccl. 4. 12. Without delay or lingering, Luk. 16. 9.

Quick-ſands] Act. 27. 17. Certain vaſt banks or mountains of ſands in the ſea, which ſwallow up ſhips that ſtick faſt, and ſit upon them a little time, as Goodwyn Sands will. Annot.

Quiet] Reſt, 2 Chr. 20. 30. Not to be angry, Ezek. 16. 42. Silent, Judg. 16. 2. marg. It's to be at eaſe wholly, Job 21. 23. at reſt, Iſa. 14. 7. in reſt, Jer. 30. 10. in peace, Jer. 43. 12.

A quiet ſpirit, 1 Pet. 3. 4. Unto the conſtituting of true meekneſſe and quietneſſe of ſpirit, is requiſite,

1. Freedome from the evils that diſquiet and moleſt the ſpirits of men; (as anger, worldly ſorrow, diſtruſtfull cares, raſh zeal and fierceneſſe, inordinate ſtriving and wilfulneſſe, contention and evill ſpeaking, all inordinate deſires, and reigning heart-ſins) with inconſtancy and levity of minde.

2. A kinde of peaceable contentment.

3. A gentle behaviour in caſe of wrongs or faults, from or in others (as by hearing them, not rendring evill for evill, being ready to forgive, and not provoked to anger.)

4. A harmleſſe and innocent behaviour.

5. The fixing of the heart by truſting upon God, and living without care.

6. Lowlyneſſe of minde.

7. Silence from many words, from vain and raſh ſpeeches, eſpecially provoking tearms.

8. Retiredneſſe.

9. Tractableneſſe. Byfield on 1 Pet. 3. 4. p. 613, 614.

Quietly] Peaceably, 2 Sam. 3. 27. marg.

Quietneſſe] It's the daughter of Piety, the mother of Peace, the ſiſter of Patience, the companion of Truth, the friend of Equity, the ſcholar of Humility, the nurſe of Plenty, and the garden of Proſperity. It's the ornament of a Familie, the honour of a City, the muniment of a Common-wealth, the ſtaffe of Policy, and the very badge of Chriſtianity. Without it the conſcience can have no comfort, the minde no content, plenty no pleaſure, proſperity no prop, adverſity no ſalve, learning can have no glory, nor any virtue can be praiſe-worthy, whoſe very name is lovely, and nature heavenly. Which as excellent, ſo is it of abſolute neceſſity. It's a peaceable diſpoſition of the whole man, not troubled, nor troubleſome, abſtaining from whatſoever might diſturb either it ſelf or others. It's both inward and outward. Outward, 1. Oeconomical, between the Husband and Wife, Parents and Children, Maſters and Servants. 2. Political, between Nation and Nation. 3 Civill, between Magiſtrate and Subject, Paſtor and People, Neighbour and Neighbour; being both active and paſſive Of all which and much more, ſee the Practiſe of Quietneſſe, by G. W.

Quit] Freed, diſcharged, Exo. 21. 19, 28. Quit your ſelves like men, 1 Sam. 4. 9. Heb. Be men, marg.

Quite] Altogether, fully, wholly, Gen. 31. 15. Exod. 23. 24. Hab. 3. 9.

Quiver] It's put 1. for a houſe in which children be, Pſal. 127. 5. 2. That wherein arrows are put, Lam. 3. 13. 3. The Quiver it ſelf, and the arrows within it, Iſa. 22. 6. 4. Safe protection, Iſa. 49. 2. 5. Deſtroying means, Jer. 5. 16.

To quiver] Hab. 3. 16. To pant, beat, move, quake, tremble, and ſhake for fear. To be diſmayed, abaſhed, troubled.

Raamah] A breaking. The Son of Cuſh, Gen. 10. 7.

Raamiah] Thunder of the Lord, evill from the Lord; or, a fellow; or, the herd from the Lord. One that returned with Zerubbabel, Neh. 7. 7.

Rabbah] Much, great, a chiding, or a fighting againſt. A City of Judah, Joſh. 13. 25. Another of the Ammonites, 2 Sam. 11. 1.

Rabbi] One that is above others, and in ſtead of a number, Mat. 23. 7. Rabbi, Rabbi. A proud ſwelling title, wherein the Phariſees gloryed very much.

This word [Rabbi] by the notation thereof, ſignifieth one which is in ſtead of many, or equall to many for his excellency, whether it be one that excelleth in nobility of birth, or in virtuous and valiant exployts or acts, or in learning and knowledge. In this laſt ſignification the holy Evangeliſts doe every where uſe it, and by Interpreters it is rendred in Latine and Engliſh, Doctor, or Maſter. In Mat. 23. 7, 8. Chriſt challengeth this title as peculiar to himſelf, checking the ambitious Phariſees becauſe they affected this name.

The Hebrews write, that Rabbi is a more excellent title then Rab, and Rabban more excellent then Rabbi; and the ſimple name without any title, as Haggi, Zachari, Malachi, was more excellent then Rabban. Goodwyn p. 35.

Rabbith] A City, Joſh. 19. 20.

Rabboni] Maſter. Thus Chriſt called, Joh. 20. 16.

Rabmag] Diſſolving the multitude, or melting. One of the King of Babylon's Princes, Jer. 39. 3, 13.

Rab-ſaris] Maſter, or ſet over the Eunuches. One of the King of Babylon's Princes, 2 King. 18. 17.

Rabſhakeh] Maſter, or ſet over the drinkers, the kiſſe of the Maſter, drinking much; or, a great ſack. One ſent by the King of Aſſyria againſt Jeruſalem, 2 King. 18. 17.

Race] The courſe of Chriſtianity and godlineſſe. Heb. 12. 1. Let us run the race. Alſo, the courſe that one runneth, 1 Cor. 9. 24.

Racha] Some unperfect or broken ſpeech, bewraying an angry and feſtered minde, as Piſh in our Engliſh tongue. Mat. 5. 22. Whoſoever ſhall ſay to his brother, Racha. Howſoever ſome fetch Racha from the Hebrew word Rach, which ſignifies to ſpit; and others from Ric, which is in Engliſh light-headed, or empty, upon whom we care not to ſpit, or to uſe ſome light geſture before him in contempt; yet the beſt expoſition is to interpret it of ſome unperfect and unſeemly geſture and behaviour, which may be in the countenance, or mouth, by mowes, or words, as Tuſh, Fie; or in making an unſeemly noyſe, Eph. 4. 13. or in ſcoffing, Gal. 4. 29.

One by comparing together, Judg. 9. 4. 2 Sam. 6. 20. 2 Chr. 13. 7. Prov. 12. 11. yeeldeth this Hebrew emphaſis of the word ריק, namely, that He is one of that kind of Knaves who wholly ſpend their time in idleneſſe, chooſing and deſiring the exerciſe of war, or ſuch kind of life, that they may whore, ſpoyl, kill; who in publick are aſhamed of no baſeneſſe, but goe on unto the utmoſt degree of raſhneſſe, who will do any thing for money, being voyd of faith and honeſty, unworthy of the familiarity and ſociety of honeſt men, notoriouſly wicked, of whom there is no hope of amendment, at the mentioning of whom, honeſt men ſhould ſpit. So ריק ſignifieth. Gloſſ. Philol. ſac. p. 299, 300.

Rabbal] To whiſper; an Apothecary; or Factor. A City, 1 Sam. 30. 29.

Rachel] A ſheep. The Daughter of Laban, whom he gave Jacob to Wife, Gen. 29. 10, 28. The Benjamitiſh women who came of Rachel, Jer. 31. 15. Mat. 2. 18. Rachel weeping for her children, namely, led away into captivity, as making account never to ſee them, or to have them delivered again, or by the appointment of Herod moſt barbarouſly ſlaughtered. Both the Prophet and Evangeliſt do hereby imply, what Rachel in likelyhood would have done had ſhe been ſurviving at either of thoſe calamities, which thoſe of her iſſue ſuſtained. Annot.

Raddai] Ruling, or coming down. The Son of Jeſſe, 1 Chr. 2. 14.

Rafter] That which beareth up the roof, or galleries, Cant. 1. 17. marg.

Ragua] Heb. רעו, or רעח, a friend, 2 Sam. 15. 37. or רע, a neighbour, a friend, Prov. 17. 17. The Son of Phaleg, Luk. 3. 35.

Rage] Choler, wrath, fury, anger, 2 Ki. 5. 12. The raiſing up of ones ſelf in a raging manner, 2 King. 19. 28. Iſa. 37. 28, 29. Outrage, ſurpaſſing indignation, Pſ. 7. 6.

To rage] To aſſemble tumultuouſly, Pſ. 2. 1. marg. The word φρυάσσω, in Act. 4. 25. denoteth pride, rage, and fierceneſſe, as of horſes that neigh, and ruſh to the battel, beſtirring themſelves as if they were wood, or mad, Jer. 46. 9.

This is ſpoken of the enemies of the Church, Pſal. 2. 1. Of the Iſraelites, with relation unto the Jews, 2 Chron. 28. 9. and as of thoſe, and other perſons. So of Chariots, Jer. 46. 9. Nah. 2. 4. Sea, Pſal. 89. 9. Jonah 1. 15. The water, Luk. 8. 24. Strong drink, Prov. 20. 1.

Rags] 1. Old, worn, caſt clouts or cloaths, whether linnen or woollen, Jer. 38. 11.

2. Extreme poverty, or beggery, Prov. 23. 21.

3. Mans righteouſneſſe, Iſa. 64. 6.

Raguel] The ſhepherd of God, a friend of God, or the breaking aſunder of God. The Father of Hobab, Numb. 10. 29.

Rahab] Proud, ſtrong, broad, enlarged; or, a ſtreet. The Mother of Booz, Mat. 1. 5. Ægypt, Pſal. 89. 10. marg. So called (as moſt think) from the pride and ſtrength thereof, which the word Rahab ſignifieth.

Rahab] Mercy, or compaſſion; or, after the Syrian, a friend. The Son of Shema, 1 Chr. 2. 44.

To raign] To command with power, as King; and with readyneſſe to be obeyed. Thus David raigned in Iſrael, Joſiah in Juda, 1 King. 11. 42.

2. To command and rule in the ſoul, without oppoſition or reſiſtance. Rom. 6. 12. Let not ſin raign in your mortall bodies. Sin is ſaid to raign, when the luſts and motions of ſin be readily obeyed, as one would obey the Law and command of a King. Thus ſin raigneth.

Death is ſaid to raign, becauſe it exerciſeth over all mankind, that power which through ſinne it hath gotten. Rom. 5. 14. Death raigned from Adam to Moſes. Thus Death raigned.

Grace is ſaid to raign, when the righteouſneſſe of Chriſt, being freely imputed, his Spirit raigns in our hearts, and we be governed by the motions and impulſions thereof; ſo as now ſin cannot condemne us to death; not rule over us, as it did before grace, which hath quit the beleevers from the raign of ſin and death. Rom. 5. 21. So might grace raign by righteouſneſſe, to eternal life. Thus Grace raigneth.

3. To govern and diſpoſe all things in heaven and earth, according to his royall decrees. Thus God raigns over the world. Pſal. 93. 1. The Lord raigns, and is cloathed in Majeſty. The whole Pſalm throughout.

4. To govern and rule the faithfull by the Word and holy Spirit. Thus Chriſt raigneth over his Church. Pſal. 97. 1. The Lord raigneth, let the earth rejoyce.

5. To begin to raign, 1 Kin. 15. 25. marg. 2 King. 8. 16. marg.

6. To reſtrain in, 1 Sam. 9. 17. marg.

This is alſo ſpoken of Chriſts members, found Chriſtians, Rom. 5. 17. 2 Tim. 2. 12. Rom. 5. 10. & 20. 4, 6. & 22. 5.

Rail] To fly upon, 1 Sam. 25. 14. mar. The word βλασφημέω, in Mar. 15. 29. & Luk. 23. 39. is in 1 Cor. 4. 13. rendred to defame; and in Jude ve. 8. to ſpeak evill of; and in Rom. 3. 8. wrongfully to blame, ſlanderouſly to report of. The word λοιδορέω (whence λοίδορος, a Railer, 1 Cor. 5. 11.) is, to riſe in a mans face with many bitter words; to revile, 1 Pet. 2. 23. Of λαὸς, people, & δέρω, to beat; or, λόγος ὡς δόρυ πλήττων, whoſe ſpeeches wound as a ſpear.

Railer] An evill ſpeaker, which upbraideth others with their true faults, in a reproachfull manner; or elſe caſteth upon them falſe crimes to defame them. 1 Cor. 6. 10. Extortioners, Railers.

Raiment, or cloathing] That which covereth the body, and defends it againſt heat and cold, called garments. 1 Tim. 6. 8. Having food and rayment. The uſe whereof is comelineſſe and warmth.

2. All things needful for this preſent life, to ſuſtain it well. Iſa. 3. 6. Thou haſt cloathing, (or raiment) be thou our Ruler.

Some was of purple, Judg. 8. 26. Some of needle-work, Pſal. 45. 14. Some of Camels hair, Mat. 3. 4.

To rain] To pour down water plentifully out of the clouds, to refreſh the earth withall, Deut. 28. 12.

2. To give plentifully. Pſal. 78. 24. He rained downe Manna. Verſ. 27. He rained down fleſh; that is, he gave it liberally, like rain.

Rain] The fruitfulneſſe of the earth, follows moderate ſeaſonable rain. Matt. 5. 45. He ſendeth rain on the juſt and unjuſt; or ſhowers, Pſ. 72. 6. or, waters, Job 5. 10.

2. The

2. The doctrine of the Word, which falling upon the conſciences of men, doth refreſh and make them fruitfull, as rain doth the graſſe. Deut. 32. 2. My doctrine ſhall drop as the rain.

This God hath decreed, Job 28. 26. prepareth, Pſal. 147. 8. giveth, Job 5. 10. Iſa. 30. 23. and upon occaſion withholdeth, Amos 4. 7. It's alſo given both in mercy, Pſ. 68. 9. and in judgement, Prov. 28. 3. Ezek. 38. 22. Ezr. 10. 9.

It's ſpoken of Bread, Exod. 16. 4. Gods fury, Job 20. 23. Snares, Pſ. 11. 6. Righteouſneſſe, Hoſ. 10. 12. Brimſtone and fire, Gen. 19. 24. Hail, Exod. 9. 22. Manna, Pſa. 78. 24. Fleſh, Id. 27.

Twice in a yeer there fell ſtore of rain in Iſrael, in the beginning of the yeer, about September or October; and half a yeer after, which was in Abib, or March, which Eccleſiaſtically began the yeer unto Iſrael, whereupon it is called the latter rain in the firſt moneth, Joel 2. 23. The firſt rain fell after the ſowing of their corn, that it might take rooting in the earth: the latter rain was a little before harveſt, that the ear might be full. Aynſworth on Deut. 11. 14. See Hoſ. 6. 3. Zech. 10. 1. Jer. 5. 24.

A plentifull rain] The bleſſings of God abundantly beſtowed on the Iſraelites in Canaan, which is here called the Inheritance of God, becauſe it was Gods free gift to the people of the Jews, Pſal. 68. 10.

Not to rain] To ſend ſcarcity of earthly bleſſings, Iſa. 5. 6.

Rain-bow] called a Bow for the likeneſſe, and Rain-bow, becauſe it is in the cloud in the day of rain; and Gods bow, for the wonderfulneſſe thereof, and for the Sacramental ſigne by his ſpecial ordinance; which therefore the Heathen Poets called Thaumantias, as being the work of the wonderfull God. Aynſworth on Gen. 9. 13.

To raiſe] To lift up, or ſet up ſomething which is down or faln.

2. To make a body which is dead, and faln into the grave, to live and riſe again. Act. 2. 24, 32. Whom God hath raiſed up. Joh. 6. 40. I will raiſe them up at the laſt day.

3. To make a ſoule which is ſpiritually dead, to live unto God, and to ariſe unto a new and godly life, in hope of eternal life, Rom. 6. 4. Eph. 2. 5.

4. To reſtore and lift up ſuch as be faln into calamities. Pſal. 113. 7. He raiſes the needy out of the duſt. 1 Sam. 2. 6.

5. To receive, Exod. 23. 1. marg.

6. To give and beſtow, Deut. 18. 15, 18.

7. To beget, Deut. 25. 7.

8. To ordain and appoint, Exod. 9. 16.

9. To hold up and keep in remembrance, Ruth 4. 5.

10. To make to ſtand, Pſal. 107. 25. marg.

11. To awake, or ſtir up, Cant. 8. 5.

12. To build, Iſa. 23. 13.

Raiſer of Taxes] Seleucus Philopator, who was exceeding covetous, and moſt outragiouſly and greedily ſpoyled his Subjects. Dan. 11. 20. He was poyſoned by one Heliodorus.

Raiſins] Preſſed grapes, צמוקים of צמק, to be withered, or dryed up. They are very comfortable, 1 Sam. 30. 12. and have been given for the relief of them that have been faint, or in want, 1 Sam. 25. 18. 2 Sam. 16. 1.

Rakem] Void, vain, or divers pictures. The Son of Shereſh, 1 Chr. 7. 16.

Rakkath] Emptyneſſe, ſpittle, or time. A City, Joſh. 19. 35.

Rakkon] A City, Joſh. 19. 46.

Ram] High, or caſting away. The Son of Hezron, Ruth 4. 19.

Ram] When he is angry he beateth the ground with his foot. The elder it groweth, by a kinde of naturall wiſdome it forſaketh the younger, and maketh choyce of the elder Ewes or females. There is no beaſt that ſo much participateth with the nature of the Sun, for from the autumnall equinox unto the vernall, as the Sun keepeth the right hand of the Hemiſphere, ſo doth the Ram lie upon the right ſide; and in the Summer ſeaſon, as the Sun keepeth the other hand of the Hemiſphere, ſo doth the Ram lie upon his other ſide. It was reckoned among the clean beaſts, and appointed to be uſed for a Sacrifice, Exod. 29. 15, 16, &c. Lev. 5. 15, &c. Numb. 5. 8. Hereunto the Perſian Empire is compared, Dan. 8. 3.

Of battering Rams, wherewith to beat down walls, See Ezek. 4. 2. & 21. 22.

Rama, or Ramah] High, or caſt away. A City, Joſh. 18. 25. A Countrey, 1 Sam. 19. 23. Mat. 2. 18.

Ramath] High, or caſt away. A City, Joſh. 19. 8.

Ramathaim] The ſame. A City, 1 Sam. 1. v. 1.

Ramathite] Lofty, exalted, or caſt away. A Citizen of Ramath, 1 Chr. 27. 27.

Ramiah] Exaltation of the Lord. Of the Sons of Paroſh, Ezr. 10. 25.

Ramoth] Seeing, or beholding death. A City, 1 Chr. 37. Of the Sons of Bani, Ezr. 10. 29. One City of this name was ſituate in Gilead, and accordingly called Ramoth in Gilead, Deut. 4. 34. or, Ramoth Gilead, 1 Kin. 22. 3.

Rampart] A fence, Lam. 2. 8. Nah. 3. 8.

Range] Job 39. 8. The choyceſt things that grow in the mountains, or things that grow in unknown places, that none can finde out but himſelfe, the wilde aſſe. It comes from a word that ſignifies to ſearch, and intimates that he ranges up and down the hils, and feeds on what he likes. Annot.

To range] To wander or goe from one place to another, Prov. 28. 15.

Ranges] Ranks and orders of men that were ſet to defend the King, 11. 8.

Rank] Fat, full, Gen. 41. 5. marg. & 22. Place or order, 1 Chron. 12. 33. Joel 2. v. 7.

Ranſome] Satisfaction made, or price made for ſetting free, or to purchaſe liberty to a Captive taken in war, or otherwiſe, and detained by the enemy as priſoner, till he be ranſomed.

2. The ſatisfaction which Chriſt by his whole obedience to the Law, namely by humbling and ſubmitting himſelfe to the death of the Croſſe, made to the Juſtice of God, detaining the elect ſinners as Captives in the hand of their enemies, Satan, Sin, Death, and Hell. 1 Tim. 2. 6. Who gave himſelf a ranſome for us all. By a Synecdoche the Scripture calleth this Ranſome, the death, blood, and oblation of Chriſt, becauſe in his ſacrifice and bloodſhed on the Croſſe, was the accompliſhment of his obedience and ſatisfaction for us, ſithence without ſhedding of blood there is no forgiveneſſe of ſin, Heb. 9. 22. Rom. 3. 25. Eph. 1. 7. 1 Pet. 2. 14.

3. An atonement, Job 33. 24. marg.

Rapha] Releaſe, medicine, phyſick, a recreating, or a Giant. The Son of Benjamin, 1 Chr. 8. 2. The Son of Binea, Ib. 37.

Raphu] The ſame. The Father of Palti, Numb. 13. 9.

Rapine] A greedy and violent affection of taking & pulling from others that which is theirs. Luk. 11. 39. Full of rapine, or ravening.

2. Something which is taken or pulled from others by force and violence, Iſa. 3. 4. Rapine is in their houſes; that is, ſpoil, Iſa. 62. 10.

Rare] Dan. 2. 11. Chald. precious, for precious things are rare. Annot.

Raſe] To make bare, Pſal. 137. 7. marg.

Raſh] Haſty, Iſa. 32. 4. marg.

Raſor] A ſharp inſtrument wherewith hair is ſhaven, and clean cut off by the ſtumps, Judg. 16. 17. 1 Sam. 1. 11.

2. A fierce and cruel enemy, which deſtroyes and cuts down all, as a ſharp Raſor ſhaves and cuts all bare. Iſa. 7. 20. In that day the Lord ſhall ſhave with a Raſor, &c. This is meant by the King of Aſſyria, by whom God would plague Judah, as it is expounded in that Text.

Some think this Raſor to have been Tiglath-pileſer, who afflicted Ahaz by denying help to him, 2 Chr. 28. 20, 21. Some refer this to many Kings, who one after another afflicted the men of Judah, as Senacherib under Hezekiah, Eſar-haddon under Manaſſes, 2 King. 18. 19. 2 Chr. 33. Others, as Piſcator, will have this calamity here threatned, to have been inflicted by Nebuchadnezzar, who (like a ſharp Raſor) cut very deep, leaving nothing in the whole Kingdome without hurt; with his huge Army overrunning all, deſtroying King Joakim and Jehojakin, carrying away moſt precious ſpoyls, and a number of Captives into Babylon; taking in the City under Zedekiah, whoſe eyes they put out, and having fettered him in bands of ſteel, led him away to Babylon, killing his children, burning the Temple and City, &c. as it is declared in 2 King. 24. & 25. Thus by him, all the Ornaments of the Common-wealth from head to beard, all perſons from the higheſt to the loweſt, were waſted and taken away. After which time, there ſhould be great ſcarcity of men, and wildeneſſe of the Countrey; ſee Iſa. 7. 21, 22, 23, &c.

3. A malicious tongue, which ſecretly woundeth and cutteth ones name, as a Raſor ones fleſh. Pſal. 52. 2. Thy tongue is like a ſharp Raſor, which cutteth deceitfully.

Rate] A certain rate every day; that is, the portion of a day in his day, Ex. 16. 4. marg.

Rather] See More.

1. A word or note of diverſity or difference in quantity, Luk. 11. 28.

2. A word of contrariety or oppoſition, put by a Liptote for not, the contrary, Joh. 3. 19.

Rattle] To make a noyſe. The Quiver rat-

ith againſt him, Job 39. 23. that is, the arrows out of the quiver being ſent with great force, come ſinging as it were againſt him, for the ſtring drawn home cauſeth a great noyſe. Annot.

Raben] An unclean fowle, Lev. 11. 15. which uſually hath its abode in deſert places Iſa. 34. 11. for whom God provideth food, Job 37. 21. As for its young ones, whom it bringeth forth, feedeth not, Pſ. 147. 7. Who being ſent forth by Noah out of the Ark, returned no more, Gen. 8. 7. It's in colour black, Cant. 5. 11. It's at perpetuall variance with the Kite, or Glead. When its young ones are able to fly, it driveth them out of the neſt, to ſhift for themſelves elſewhere. Though of a ravening nature, yet at Gods command it fed Elijah, 1 King. 17. 4, 6. It was of old conſecrated to the Sun, as which by its heat maketh mens bodies black, or tawny. It feedeth on carion, ſtealeth away things, and hideth them, and can imitate any mans voyce. It's very cunning, as by putting little ſtones into a veſſel wherein ſome water is, that by degrees it may aſcend; By flying on high with an oyſter, or ſhell-fiſh, and letting the ſame fall upon a rock or ſtone, &c. may appear. They love fertile grounds, not barren, and may be tearmed, Purgers of lands, as by whom the worms are devoured. In the Summer they are very thirſty, yet being againſt their health, they abſtain therefrom for divers dayes together. Their croaking is ſaid to be a ſigne of rain.

Two or three Colliers going to work, a Crow having ſnatched ſomewhat from one of them, the others went on, and were ſmothered in the pit, before their fellows return from the purſuit of the Raven.

To rabin] Applyed to the enemies of David and Chriſt, Pſal. 22. 13. to falſe Prophets, Ezek. 22. 27. Mat. 7. 15. to the Scribes and Phariſees, Luk. 11. 39. who herein were as Lions and Wolves, who are properly ſaid to raven, Ezek. 22. 25. Mat. 7. 15. Gen. 49. 27. as who tear their prey, the Lion filling his den therewith, Nah. 2. 12.

Ravith] To force; which may be underſtood both ſpiritually, Cant. 4. 9. Thou haſt raviſhed my heart, or taken away my heart, marg. and corporally; in a good ſenſe, when one is taken with the love of his Wife. Pro. 5. 19. And be thou raviſht alwayes with her love. Heb. Erre thou alwayes in her love, marg. In a bad, when one luſting after a Woman, forcibly deflowreth her, Prov. 5. 20. Lam. 5. 11.

Raw] Lev. 13. 15. living. The Greek tranſlate ſound or whole. Aynſworth.

That raw whereof the Law warneth us (Exod. 12. 9.) is fleſh whereon the fire hath begun to work, and it is roaſted a little, but not fit for man to eat as yet. Aynſworth.

Raw, not ſodden, 1 Sam. 2. 15.

R E.

Reach] To ſhoot through, Exod. 26. 28. Of this word, the barre here mentioned hath the name in Hebrew, which ſignifieth flying, or ſpeedy paſſing through. Aynſworth.

To be, Exod. 28. 42. marg.

By the words annexed hereunto the meaning may be known.

To read] To recite diſtinctly the ſyllables and words of Scripture. Reading is nothing elſe, but ſuch a recitall and ſpeaking forth the letters and ſyllables. Luk. 4. 6. He took the book and read. Act. 15. 21. Moſes in every Synagogue hath ſuch as read him. 1 Tim. 4. 13. Attend to reading. Reading is not the Word of God, but an action about it: neither is it Preaching in the proper acception.

There's private reading, being lawfull for all; The Prince, Deut. 17. 19. The people, Eph. 3. 4. Strangers, Act. 8. 28. There's alſo publick reading, which was ſometime by the Prince, Joſh. 8. 34, 35. 2 King. 23. 2. 2 Chr. 34. 30. but commonly by Eccleſiaſticall perſons, Neh. 8. 3, 8, 18. & 9. 3. & 13. 1. Col. 4. 16. 1 Theſſ. 5. 27.

Readineſſe] προθυμία, Act. 17. 11. & 2 Cor. 8. 11. but in v. 12. it's rendred a willing mind, & v. 19. a ready mind, & ch. 9. 2. forwardneſſe.

Ready] Fit, prepared, Exod. 19. 11. Furniſhed, well appointed, Numb. 32. 17. Neer, Eccl. 5. 1. Convenient, 2 Sam. 18. 22. marg.

To be ready] 1. Well diſpoſed and inclined, Tit. 3. 1. 1 Pet. 5. 2.

2. Neer at hand, 1 Pet. 1. 5. & 4. 5.

3. Ably furniſhed, 1 Pet. 3. 15.

To make ready] To binde, 2 Ki. 9. 21. mar.

Reajah] The viſion of the Lord. The Son of Shobal, 1 Chr. 4. 2. The Son of Micah, 1 Chr. 5. 5. See Ezr. 2. 47. & Neh. 7. 50.

Realm] Kingdome, 2 Chr. 20. 30. Many Kingdomes, as Perſia, Media, Babylonia, &c. Ezr. 7. 13, 23. Dan. 6. 3.

To reap] To gather the fruits of the earth, as corn, hay, &c. Jam. 5. 4. Lev. 23. 10.

To take ſuch gains and fruits of our work, as the nature of the work is, good or evill, Gal.

Gal. 6. 8, 9. 2 Cor. 9. 6. Prov. He that ſoweth iniquity, ſhall reap affliction.

3. To receive profit, or reward, Mat. 25. 21. Gal. 6. 9.

To reap corruption] To receive for his reward, the fading corruptible things of this world, and eternall deſtruction in the end. Gal. 6. 8. Shall of the fleſh reap corruption.

Reapers] Harveſt-men, 2 King. 4. 18. Angels, Mat. 13. 39.

Rear] To erect, raiſe, ſet, or build up. Spoken of the Tabernacle, Exod. 40. 17. Images, Lev. 26. 1. A pillar, 2 Sam. 18. 18. The Temple, Joh. 2. 20. An Altar unto the Lord, 2 Sam. 24. 18. Altars for Baal and Baalim, 1 King. 16. 32. 2 King. 21. 3. 2 Chr. 33. 3.

Reaſon] That faculty and power of the ſoul, whereby we debate and diſcourſe of things and objects, that we may be able ſoundly to judge of that which we rightly underſtand.

2. The uſe of this faculty, to wit, diſcretion. Act. 25. 27. Me thinks it is againſt reaſon; that is, againſt diſcretion, or very abſurd.

3. The cauſe and ground of a thing. 1 Pet. 3. 15. To them which ask of you a reaſon of that hope which is in you.

Reaſonable ſervice] The ſpiritual ſacrifice of a Chriſtian, offering not the bodies of beaſts, which have no reaſon (as they were wont to doe under the Law) but himſelf wholly (being a reaſonable creature) as a ſacrifice unto God, his Creator and Redeemer (which is a moſt reaſonable thing) to doe him ſervice and obedience in all things, according to his revealed will (which is a very reaſonable rule) Rom. 12. 1. Which is your reaſonable ſervice of God.

Or, That for which we are able to give a ſound and intelligible reaſon, 1 Pet. 2. 5.

Reaſoning] An evill diſcourſe or diſputing againſt God, or his Word. Phil. 2. 14. Let all things be done without reaſonings. Matth. 15. 19. Out of the heart come evill reaſonings.

Reaſons] Underſtandings, Job 32. 11. marg.

Reba] The fourth, or lying by. A King of Midian, Numb. 31. 8. Joſh. 13. 21.

Rebekah] Fed, blunt contention, or contention hindred. The Daughter of Bethuel, Gen. 22. 23. given in marriage to Iſaac, Gen. 24. 67.

To rebel] To fight or make war againſt his lawfull Soveraigne, as Abſolon rebelled againſt his Father David; or to caſt off the yoke of a lawfull Governour, as Corah and Abiram, Numb. 16. 1, 2.

2. To ſtrive or riſe up againſt the government of the Spirit, in the minde of a regenerate man. Rom. 7. 23. A law in my members, rebelling againſt the law of my minde. Thus ſin rebelleth againſt grace.

In the Old Teſtament, Rebellion cometh of an Hebrew word [Marah] which ſignifieth bitterneſſe properly, and is applyed to Apoſtaſie, Rebellion, and Diſobedience, Deut. 1. 16. & 21. 20. Joſh. 1. 18. Pſal. 5. 10. Becauſe Rebellion is a thing diſtaſtfull to God, as bitter things be to our Palate: alſo, becauſe it provokes unto bitterneſſe and wrath, exaſperating God.

Rebell. To tranſgreſſe, Iſa. 43. 27. (for diſobedience and tranſgreſſion is as rebellion, 1 Sam. 15. 22, 23.) To fall away, 1 Ki. 12. 19. marg. Not to ſerve, 2 King. 18. 7. To refuſe, Iſa. 1. 20. To revolt, Jer. 29. 32. marg. To walk in a way that's not good, after ones own thoughts, Iſa. 65. 2. It's in effect the ſame with, To break the yoke, Jer. 5. 5. To be ſtiff-necked and hard-hearted, 2 Chr. 36. 13. To withdraw the ſhoulder, and harden the neck, Neh. 9. 29. To go on frowardly in the way of his heart, Iſa. 57. 17. To turn the back, and not the face, Jer. 2. 27. To profeſſe not to hear, not to obey, Jer. 22. 21. To reſiſt, Act. 7. 51.

Rebellion] An unlawfull action of Subjects, unlawfully riſing in arms againſt their lawfull Soveraigne.

2. Every ſin, great and little; which in ſome ſort is a Rebellion, becauſe we all owe allegiance to God by the Law of our Creation, and have vowed it in our Baptiſme: and alſo have ſo many means againſt ſin, as unleſſe we purpoſe to rebell, we could never ſo commit it. Iſa. 59. 12, 13. We have ſpoken of cruelty and rebellion.

3. Thoſe ſins which are more grievous and groſſe, being committed through infirmity, upon no great temptation, as it was in David, Pſal. 25. 7. Remember not the ſins of my youth, nor my rebellions.

4. Obſtinacy and ſtiffeneſſe in groſſe ſins. Deut. 21. 27. I know thy rebellion, and thy ſtiffe neck. Deut. 9. 24. Jer. 3. 22. Return, and I will heal your rebellions.

Ther's rebellion againſt the Lord, Numb. 14. 9. againſt his Word, Pſal. 105. 28. againſt his Spirit, Iſa. 63. 10. againſt an earthly King, Gen. 14. 4. 1 King. 12. 19. 2 King. 1. 1. 2 Chr. 36. 13.

To rebuke, or reprobe] To blame privately or publickly for ſome fault, either done done, or ſuppoſed to be done. Matt. 19. 13. And the Diſciples rebuked them. 1 Tim. 5. 20.

2. With authority and power to check, curb, and reſtrain; as in all places where Chriſt is ſaid to Rebuke the unclean ſpirits, and to bid them go out, &c.

3. To convince the conſcience of men, either of the truth to be beleeved, or of ſome ſin committed, or error maintained: which in the reprobate is done without converſion, but with a true change of heart in the elect; and is by the Miniſter and Word inſtrumentally, by the Spirit efficiently and powerfully, Iſa. 2. 4. 2 Tim. 4. 2. & 2 Tim. 3. 16. See 1 Cor. 14. 24. The Spirit reproveth not as it is in the Preachers heart, but as it manifeſteth it ſelfe, and evidenceth his power in their preaching.

4. By an honeſt and holy life, to make manifeſt and lay open the evill life of others. Eph. 5. 11. But rather reprove them.

Privately to reprove ſuch as ſin privately. Prov. 24. 28. & 28. 23. He that rebukes one ſhall finde more favour at the laſt. Matth. 18 15.

6. To cenſure by publick reproof ſuch as ſin before others. 1 Tim. 5. 10. Such as ſin, rebuke openly.

7. To put one to ſome great ſhame by ſome judgement from God. Pſa. 6. 1. Rebuke me not in thine anger. Jude v. 9. The Lord rebuke thee Satan.

When God doth rebuke with rough ſevere words, then commonly follows confuſion: hence it is often put for Deſtruction, Pſal. 9. 5. & 80. 16. & 119. 21. & 68.

8. To warne, admoniſh, or advertiſe, as Joh. 16. 8, 9, 10. that is, To certifie the world

1. Of the ſin of the wicked, in not beleeving Chriſt the righteous.

2. Of the righteouſneſſe or innocency of Chriſt, proved by his exaltation to heaven.

3. Of the judgement or condemnation of the Devil, as the cauſe of the Jews infidelity, and the enemy of Chriſts integrity.

9. To take away, Mal. 3. 11.

10. To cure, and heal, Luk. 4. 39.

11. To put to ſilence, and cauſe to hold their peace, Luk. 19. 39.

12. To correct, Hoſ. 5. 2. marg.

Recall] This I recall to my mind. Heb. make to return to my heart, Lam. 3. 21. marg.

To receive] To take a thing with our hand, being given us, or offered of another, 1 Sam. 10. 4.

2. To underſtand and yeeld generall aſſent unto the Doctrine of the Word. Mat. 13. 20. Heb. 10. 26. After they have received the truth.

3. To beleeve the Word and promiſes of Chriſt, with particular application, Joh. 1. 12. Gal. 3. 14. By faith we receive, &c. Chriſt is received, when his Word, Perſon, Office, Benefits, Miniſters, or other members be received.

4. To beſtow ſome kindneſſe or entertainment upon the godly. Mat. 10. 40, 41. He that receiveth a Prophet, &c. Luk. 10. 38. Rom. 16. 2.

5. To joyn or take one to us with charitable affection, Phil. 12. 17. Rom. 14. 1. Him that is weak in the faith, receive unto you.

The word [Receive] ſignifieth theſe four things:

1. That we ſhould lovingly take to us the weak in knowledge, not caſting them off.

2. By ſound and milde inſtruction to ſeek to reſtore them.

3. By patience to bear with them, abſtaining from ſubtle and crabbed diſputations, which are above their capacities.

4. To heal and cure their infirmities tenderly.

6. To be made partakers of ſuch good things as we do ask in prayers, Mat. 7. 8.

7. To take one to be of his family, a member of his Church, a childe by adoption, one of Gods people, having been a ſtranger from God, as the Gentiles were, untill they were converted to Chriſt. Rom. 14. 3. God hath received him. God aſſumeth and receives ſome into the inward Covenant, that being by faith engraffed in his Son, he may love them as children, forgive them their ſins, ſanctifie them, and everlaſtingly ſave them: but he taketh others into the externall Conant onely, that they may profeſſe God, and partake in his Doctrine and Sacraments, outwardly, without being regenerate by Chriſt: but Charity wils us to hope well, and ſpeak well of all which do bear the name of Chriſt, and live well after their profeſſion. Not to receive, is to reject and forſake, 2 Theſ. 2. 10. Reprobates periſh juſtly, becauſe they care not for the truth offered.

8. To contain. 2 Chr. 7. 7. Was not able to receive the burnt-offerings.

9. To accept of. Job 2. 10. And ſhall we not receive evill?

10. To admit in, and lay up. Job 22. 22. Receive, I pray thee, the Law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.

11. To

11. To be rewarded. Mat. 10. 41. Shall receive a Prophets reward.

12. To have. Mat. 21. 22. Beleeving ye ſhall receive.

13. To be endued with. Act. 1. 8. Ye ſhall receive power.

14. To weigh upon the hand, 2 Sam. 18. 12. marg.

15. To take unto ones ſelf, Joh. 3. 27. marg.

16. To ſuffer, 2 Cor. 11. 16. marg.

17. To give, Rev. 13. 16. marg.

Receive graciouſly; or, give good, Hoſ. 14. 2. marg.

Receiver, Heb. Weigher. Iſa. 33. 18. marg.

Receipt, for the place of receipt, Mar. 2. 14.

Rechab] Rider, riding, or a Cart drawn with four horſes. The Father of Jonadab, 2 Ki. 10. 15. (whence the Rechabites, Jer. 35. 6.) The Son of Rimmon, 2 Sam. 4. 2.

Rechah] A place, 1 Chr. 4. 12.

Reckon] 1. To give or take account, Mat. 18. 24.

2. To ſet, put, propound to ones ſelf, or think within ones ſelf. Iſa. 38. 13. I reckoned untill morning.

3. To conclude, collect, and gather, as by reaſon and argument, Rom. 6. 11. & 8. 18. It is a Metaphor from ſuch as caſting account finde the true totall ſumme; as if he ſhould ſay, I have caſt the croſſe, with all the encumbrances of it.

4. To eſteem, number, repute, Luk. 22. 37.

Recommend] To deliver, or give up, Act. 14. 26. & 15. 40. where the word is taken in a good ſenſe, as elſewhere often in a bad.

Recompenſe] A due and juſt requital for former evill merits. Rom. 1. 27. They received in themſelves ſuch recompenſe of their errour as was meet. Rom. 11. 9. In both theſe places Paul ſpeaketh of that judgement of God, by which ſin is puniſhed with ſin; 1 In the Gentiles, abuſing their natural knowledge. 2 In the Jews, abuſing their revealed knowledge, for which they received increaſe of ſpirituall blindeneſſe and ſin for a recompenſe, whereof God is directly Authour, but not as it is a ſin, whereof men themſelves be authors.

2. Reward freely given unto good works, Luk. 14. 14.

3. Reward rendred of debt, or for ſome former merits, Rom. 11. 35.

To recompenſe] To give, Ezek. 7. 3. marg. To make amends, Lev. 9. 15. To requite, Judg. 1. 7. To reward, Rev. 18. 6. To doe as done unto, Obad. 15.

To reconcile] To reſtore all former love, concord, and familiarity that was wont to be; (all hatred and diſcord ſet apart) Matth. 5. 24. Goe, be reconciled to thy Brother; that is, of enemies be made friends in truth.

2. To take to grace and favour, ſuch as were enemies through ſin. 2 Cor. 5. 19. God was in Chriſt reconciling the world to himſelf. God is reconciled to man, when forgiving his ſins unto him, he takes him unto his favour. Man is reconciled unto God, when beleeving the forgiveneſſe of his ſins, he accepts the love and favour of God, and forbeareth (what he can) to offend him, Col. 1. 20. & 2 Cor. 5. 20.

3. To make atonement, Numb. 16. 46. & 31. 50. Gather in one, Eph. 1. 10. Make nigh, Eph. 2. 13. Make peace, Col. 1. 20.

Reconciliation] An agreement of parties which were at variance, as God and the elect were through ſin, till of enemies they became friends, through the atonement made in the blood of Chriſt, and received by faith. 2 Cor. 5. 19. And hath committed to us the word of reconciliation.

To the making of Reconciliation three things are required in him who ſhall be the Mediator of it.

1. That he make interceſſion for him that hath grieved the party offended.

2. That he ſatisfie the offended party for the wrong done.

3. To provide the offender ſhall offend no more: All this Chriſt doth.

Day of reconciliation] A time ſet apart of the Jews, once a year, by Gods appointment, to ſeek atonement for ſins by prayer and faſting. Levit. 23. 27. The tenth of the ſeaventh moneth, ſhall be a day of Reconciliation.

Miniſtery of reconciliation] The Miniſtery of the Goſpel, announcing and declaring atonement with God, by free forgiveneſſe of ſins, and Juſtification offered unto us by Chriſt. 2 Cor. 5. 18. And hath given to us the Miniſtery of reconciliation.

Word of reconciliation] Meſſage or doctrine of atonement. 2 Cor. 5. 19. The Word of reconciliation.

Record] 1. Witneſſe, Job 16. 19. Act. 20. 26. Deut. 30. 19.

2. A memoriall or remembrance, Ezr. 6. 2. or book of Chronicles, wherein memorable acts are written, Ezr. 4. 15.

3. Teſtimony. Job 1. 19. This is the record of John.

To record] To make a memoriall, Exod. 20. 24. To bear witneſſe, Iſa. 8. 2.

Recorder] Remembrancer, or Writer of Chronicles, 2 Sam. 8. 16. marg.

Recover] 1. To gather in, 2 King. 5. 3. marg.

2. To take away, Hoſ. 2. 9. marg.

3. To awake, 2 Tim. 2. 26. marg.

4. To go up, Jer. 8. 22. marg.

5. To get again, 1 Sam. 30. 8, 18, 19.

6. To regain, 2 Chr. 13. 20.

7. To renew, Pſal. 39. 13.

8. To get, buy, purchaſe, Iſa. 11. 11.

9. To be healed, or cured, 2 King. 1. 2.

Recount] To take a view of, ſhew, rehearſe, or tell by name, Nah. 2. 5.

Red] A ſigne of the cholerick, cruell, bloody diſpoſition found in Eſau himſelfe, and his poſterity, Gen. 27. 40, 41. Obadiah 1. 10. Ezek. 25. 12. So the cruell perſecuting Dragon was of a red colour, Rev. 12. 3.

Red Sea] Exod. 10. 19. In the Hebrew it is the Sea of bulruſhes, (or weedy, Jer. 49. 21. marg.) The Greek and Latine uſe to render it the red Sea; ſo called (as ſome think) becauſe the water is red; ſome, becauſe it ſeemeth red, by reaſon of the red ſand, or gravell; or, from red mountains neer unto it; but it is rather thought by the moſt judicious, that it is ſo called from a King who had his Dominion neer unto it, whoſe name was Erythras (Erythros in Greek ſignifying red) which may be Edom, that is, Eſau the red Son of Iſaac. Annot.

Hereof ſee alſo the Hiſt. of the world, lib. 2. c. 3. ſect. 8. p. 260.

Red, or porphyrie, Eſt. 1. 6. marg.

To redeem] To buy again ſomething which he had once ſold, by giving back the price unto him that bought it, Lev. 27. 20. & 25. 4. Alſo, to give the true valuation of a thing, Exod. 13. 13, 15. Lev. 27.

2. To pull out of Captivity with a ſtrong hand, and without any ranſome, ſuch as are violently held priſoners by their enemies. Thus God redeemed Iſrael out of Ægypt, Deut. 32. 6. Is not he thy Father, and thy Redeemer?

3. To free the elect from the tyranny of Satan, by a price and ranſome given and paid to Gods judgement. Luk. 1. 68. Bleſſed be the Lord God, becauſe he hath redeemed his people. Tit. 2. 14. Thus is Chriſt our Redeemer.

4. To deliver ſome one out of an outward trouble and danger. Pſal. 25. 22. Redeem Iſrael out of all his troubles.

5. To recover by diligence ſomething loſt by our own ſloth. Eph. 5. 16. Redeem the time. It is a Metaphor or ſpeech borrowed from worldly Merchants, who diligently obſerve their occaſions and ſeaſons, buying their commodities whileſt the Mart and Market holdeth, preferring a little gain before great delights and delicacies; ſo godly Chriſtians (like wiſe Merchants) do prefer a little increaſe in godlineſſe, before all worldly profits and pleaſures. Contrary to this Redeeming of the time it is to let time and opportunities ſlip and ſlide away, either without doing any thing (like unthriſts) or not doing our own things, but the things of other men (like buſie bodies.) Whereas provident men will not let ſlip ſeaſons, though it be with ſome loſſe. This phraſe alſo ſignifieth to gain time by waſting it til occaſions be paſt, Dan. 2. 8.

Redeemer] A deliverer, or one that payeth a ranſome to ſet free ſuch as are bound. Pſal. 19. 14. O God my ſtrength and my Redeemer.

This word [Redeemer] is of large uſe, for one that redeemeth things ſold and morgaged, Levit. 25. but applyed to redemption and deliverance from danger, Pſal. 69. 19. from violence, Pſal. 72, 13. from corruption, Pſal. 103. 4. from the enemies hand, Pſ. 116. 10. from death, Hoſ. 13. 14. and from all evill, Gen. 48. 16. And in ſpeciall, a Redeemer is one that challengeth or redeemeth any perſon or thing before alienated, and reſtoreth it to the firſt eſtate by right of kindred, 1 King. 16. 11. Ruth 3. 9, 12, 13. & 4. 1, 3, &c. Therefore is this title given to God and Chriſt, who is our Redeemer, and allyed to us as concerning the fleſh, Iſa. 43. 14. & 44. 6. & 47. 4. 1 Theſſ. 1. 10. Heb. 2. 14, 15.

Note further, that Moſes (who by the calling of God redeemed the people from a bodily and temporall thraldome under Pharaoh) bare the perſon, and is the figure of Chriſt, who wrought redemption from ſpirituall and eternall captivity: whereunto it cometh that Moſes prayer was alwayes heard, whatſoever he prayed, or whatſoever he asked. See Act. 7. 35.

Redemption] The freedome of ſinners both from the guilt and power of ſin, by forgiveneſſe and ſanctification, as touching the beginning and firſt act of our Redemption. Eph. 1. 7. By whom we have redemption.

2. The whole work of a ſinners ſalvation, comprehending all things that belong unto it.

it. Heb. 9. 12. And obtained eternall redemption for us. Our whole redemption, from the first act to the last, is wholly from the mercy of God in Christ, and not at all from our selves, nor any part of it.

Or thus:

1. There is a redemption of man from the causes of sin, Gal. 1. 4. This is grace.

2. A redemption from sin it self, Tit. 2. 14. Psal. 130. 8. This is godlinesse, or righteousnesse.

3. There is a redemption from enemies and evils, (i.) from misery of all sorts, Luk. 1. 68, 74. bodily and ghostly, earthly and hellish, temporall and eternall, 1 Cor. 1. 30.

It's put also for Jesus Christ, 1 Cor. 1. 30.

There's Redemption, 1. Corporall, Psal. 111. 9. & 130. 7.

2. Ceremoniall, Exod. 13. 13, 15. & 30. 12. Numb. 18. 15, 16.

3. Politicall, of persons, Ex. 21. 8. Lands, and houses, Lev. 25. 24, 31.

4. Spirituall, Luk. 1. 68. & 2. 18. Rom. 2. 24. From the guilt of sin, Rom. 3. 24. Eph. 1. 7. The power of sin, Rom. 6. 6, 7, 11, 18. The punishment, 1 Thess. 1. 10.

Eternall, Luk. 21. 28. Eph. 1. 14. & 4. 10. Heb. 9. 12.

Redemption of our bodies] Either deliverance from our body, by death, that our soul may be received into heaven; or rather, that perfect consummation of our blisse, when our bodies shall be delivered from the grave at the last day. Rom. 8. 13. Looking for the redemption of our bodies.

Scripture speaks of a twofold redemption or deliverance.

One whereby the elect of God are freed from bondage of sin and death, by the price of Christs blood payed to the righteous judgement of God: hereof Paul in Eph. 1. 7. Another whereby the same elect are put in full possession of their redemption at the last and great day, when they shall be wholly freed from all remainder of sin and corruption of the grave. The former redemption is past, as touching the actuall payment of the ransome, and the unperfect application of it here unto beleevers; the latter being to come is yet hoped for, and when it cometh, it shall be the consummation of the former. Hereof we read in Luk. 21. 28. Rom. 8. 23. Eph. 4. 30.

Reed] A rush or kinde of straw, shaken with every puffe of wind.

2. An unconstant man, wavering with the wind. Matt. 11. 7. A reed shaken with the wind.

3. An helper or friend, which doth rather hurt then help such as use him. 2 King. 18. 27. Thou trustest on this broken staffe of reed.

4. A stalk or rod of reed, Matth. 27. 29, 30.

5. Infirm and weak, Isa. 42. 3. or such as have some good in them, Mat. 12. 20.

Reed bruised] Infirm and weak beleevers, which Christ did not contemne, but mercifully beare withall, and support. Matth. 12. 10. A bruised reed he shall not break.

Reelaiah] A shepherd to the Lord, or a companion to the Lord himselfe. One who returned with Zerubbabel, Ezr. 2. 2.

Reel] To stagger, or be moved exceedingly, Psal. 107. 27. Isa. 24. 20.

Refine] To purge or purifie.

Spoken of Gold, 1 Chr. 28. 18. Silver, Ib. 29. 4. Wine, Isa. 25. 6. The two former are refined by melting one of them; whatsoever drosse matter is mixed with them. The latter, by drawing it clear and clean off from the lees, that being the thing wherein its purity consisteth.

Reformation] Framing again, or bringing back of persons and things disordered and out of course, unto their first form and state wherein they were set, either by Gods creation, or institution and ordinance. Psal. 50. 17. Seeing thou hatest to be reformed. Heb. 9. 10. Untill the time of reformation. This time of reformation (or correction) is the time when Legall ceremonies and shadows were to cease and fade; it took the beginning upon Christ his first shewing himself in the flesh, and had further progresse by his death and resurrection: but thorough perfection, when he ascended to heaven, which was the consummation of the Old Testament, and the full initiation of the New.

Reformed] Lev. 26. 23. that is, chastised, nurtured, restrained.

Refrain] 1. To withhold, Gen. 45. 1.
2. To bridle, Eſt. 5. 10. Prov. 10. 19.
3. To keep back, Pſal. 119. 101.
4. To forbear, or be far from, Eccl. 3. 5. marg.

To refreſh] To give reſt, or make freſh again, after ſome bodily or ſpirituall decay and wearineſſe. Pſal. 60. 9. Thou didſt refreſh thy land when it was weary.
2. To breath, Job 32. 20. marg.
3. To take reſt, Exod. 23. 12.
4. To take care of ones ſelf, Act. 27. 3.
5. (By meat and drink) to ſtrengthen ones ſelf, 1 King. 13. 7.

Refreſhing] That moſt comfortable reſt and repoſe which the elect ſhall have at their reſurrection for ever, after all their labour and miſeries of this life. Act. 3. 19. When the time of refreſhing ſhall come from the preſence of the Lord.

Refuge] A place to fly unto for ſuccour and defence in dangers; or an high Tower or fort to reſiſt the enemy, Jer. 48. 1. wherein men be protected, and eſcape the enemy, Deut. 2. 36.
2. The defence and protection of God, who is our beſt refuge. Pſal. 59. 16. Thou art my refuge in the time of trouble. Pſal. 32. 7.
3. An high place, Pſal. 9. 9. marg.

There were Cities of refuge which God allowed, whither they were to fly, which caſually or by chance kill'ed any, Deut. 4. 41, 43. Joſh. 20. 7. where being guiltleſſe, in reſpect of their intention, they were in ſafety. The wayes leading hereunto were made fit and prepared, all ſtumbling blocks and obſtacles being removed out of them, that nothing might hinder him that fled thither. At the partitions of them they ſet up in writing, Refuge, Refuge, that the manſlayer might know and turn thitherward. See Goodwyn's Moſes and Aaron, p. 95. 96.

Refuſe] Corrupt, lean, in a languiſhing pining condition, 1 Sam. 15. 9. Such baſe droſſie ſtuff as cometh away from metal and oar, in the melting and trying of it, Lam. 3. 45. Sweepings, traſh, of no value or reputation, Amos 8. 6.

To refuſe] It's in effect the ſame with diſallow, diſobey, caſt away, reject, ſet at nought, Exod. 4. 23. Prov. 8. 33. Jer. 8. 5. Hoſ. 11. 5. Zech. 7. 11. The word ἀρνέομαι, is tranſlated in Act. 7. 35. & Heb. 11. 24. refuſe, but in Matth. 10. 33. deny. The word παραιτέομαι in Act. 25. 11. & 1 Tim. 4. 7. & Heb. 12. 25. tranſlated refuſe, is rendred in Luk. 14. 18, 19. to have excuſed, in 2 Tim. 2. 23. to avoyd, in Tit. 3. 10. to reject. The word ἀπόβλητον, rendred refuſed, in 1 Tim. 4. 4. imports a caſting or hurling away with diſlike.

Regard] 1. To ſet ones heart unto, Ex. 9. 21. marg.
2. To lay to heart, 1 Sam. 25. 25. marg.
3. To attend, or attention, 1 King. 18. 29. marg.
4. To delight in, Iſa. 13. 17.
5. To conſider, Iſa. 18. 4. marg.
6. To obſerve, Rom. 14. 6. marg.

To regard no God] To be impious, without reverence of any God, true or falſe; and inhumane alſo, without equity or honeſty, Dan. 11. 36, 37. Theſe two verſes contain a plain and full deſcription (not of Antichriſt, except in a figure and type, but) of Antiochus Epiphanes, King of Syria, a monſter among men, and moſt cruell godleſſe perſon, the great and grand enemy of Gods worſhip, and the Jews his people: a type of the man of Sin, the Son of Perdition, that ſingular Antichriſt, who magnifieth himſelfe above all that is called God, 2 Theſſ. 2.

Regem] Stoning, ſtoned, or purple. The Son of Jahdai, 1 Chr. 2. 47.

Regem-melech] Stoning the King, a Counſellour of the King; or, the purple of the Counſellour. One ſent unto the Houſe of God to pray before the Lord, Zech. 7. 2.

To be regenerate] To be born again by the Spirit, that we may be the children of God. Joſh. 3. 3. Unleſſe a man be born again, he cannot enter into the Kingdome of God.

One whom the Lord hath waſhed, Iſa. 4. 4. whom he hath formed for himſelf, Iſa. 43. 21. in whom he hath put a new Spirit, Ez. 11. 19. beſtowed on him a pure language, Zeph. 3. 9. purified and purged him as gold and ſilver, Mal. 3. 3. who is pure in heart, Matth. 5. 8. born of God, Joh. 1. 13. clean through the Word, Joh. 15. 3. led by the Spirit, Rom. 8. 14. transformed by the renewing of his minde, Rom. 12. 2. A new lump, 1 Cor. 5. 7. A new creature, 2 Cor. 5. 17. One that is Chriſts, Gal. 5. 24. light in the Lord, Eph. 5. 8. riſen with Chriſt, Col. 2. 12. a new born babe, 1 Pet. 2. 2.

Regeneration] New-birth, after we be once born naturally, to be born again ſpiritually. Tit. 3. 5. By the laver of regeneration, or by the waſhing of new-birth.

2. The day and time of the laſt judgement, when our whole Nature, being perfectly reſtored, both body and ſoul, ſhall enjoy the heavenly inheritance. Matth. 19. 28. You which have followed me, ſhall in the regeneration ſit upon thrones, &c.

Regeneration is commonly put and uſed by Divines, for Sanctification and Renovation; and then it imports and ſignifies as much as the reformation of a Man, which conſiſts in the mortification of ſin, and newneſſe of life. Whereas if we ſpeak exactly, and as the thing is, this renewing of our nature is but an effect and fruit of our regeneration, which properly is our incorporation and ingrafting into Jeſus Chriſt by faith, whereby we have our ſpiritual beeing of Children in the Kingdome of grace, as by carnal generation we have naturall beeing in the Kingdome of this world. See Joh. 1. 12, 13, 14. Regeneration may therefore thus be defined.

It is a work or act of Gods wonderfull power, begetting the elect again to himſelfe, by the Miniſtery of the Word, through the Spirit, that of the children of wrath (by the deſert of ſin) they might be made by grace, (through faith in Chriſt) the Sons and Daughters of God. Jam. 1. 18. Of his owne will begat he us by the Word of truth. Tit. 3. 4, 5, 6. Therefore, the confounding of Regeneration with Sanctification, I take to be an overſight: but I judge it a groſſe errour to think our ſelves to have any ſtroke in our new birth, ſo much as to aſſent to it; till of unwilling we be made willing.

Region] A Countrey or Province, Act. 13. 49. & 16. 6. The ſtate of dark ignorance, called, The ſhadow of death, Matth. 4. 16.

Regions] Fields, or Corn in the field properly: but by a Metaphor, the people which being docible and ready to learn the Goſpel of Chriſt, are therefore ſaid to be white unto the harveſt, Joh. 4. 35.

Regiſter] A publick record, wherein the genealogie of the Prieſts was ſet down, Ezr. 2. 62. Neh. 7. 5, 64.

Rehabiah] The breadth, or ſtreet of the Lord. The Son of Eliezer, 1 Chr. 23. 17.

Rehearſe] To declare, publiſh, tell, make known, Judg. 5. 11. ἐξηγέομαι, in Act. 11. 4. tranſlated rehearſe, ſignifieth, to conduct, and direct, and lead a man as it were by the hand to the finding out of ſomething that was hid before. In Joh. 1. 18. it's rendred, declare. So in Act. 10. 8. & 15. 12, 14. & 21. 19.

Rehob] Breadth, a dilating, or a ſtreet. A City, Joſh. 21. 31. A King of Zobah, 2 Sam. 8. 3. A Levite that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 11.

Rehoboam] Dilating the people, the breadth of the people; a ſavour, or ſavouring with the people. The Son of Solomon, 1 King. 11. 43.

Rehoboth] Breadth, roomth, largeneſſe, or ſtreets. A City, Gen. 10. 11. A Well, Gen. 26. 22.

Rehum] Pitifull, pityed, godly; or after the Syrian, a friend. One that returned with Zerubbabel, Ezr. 2. 2. Artaxerxes his Chancellour, Ezr. 4. 8. The Son of Bani, Neh. 3. 17. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 25.

Rei] A companion, a ſhepherd, evill; or, my breaking aſunder. One that did not conſpire with Adonijah, 1 King. 1. 8.

Reject] To forſake, Jer. 7. 29. To loath, Jer. 14. 19. To fruſtrate, Mar. 7. 9. marg. To diſallow, deſpiſe, diſobey, caſt from, put away, &c.

Reign] See Raign.

Reins] 1. Thoſe in mans body which are ſo called; or the Kidneys.

2. The whole man, Job 19. 27.

3. The affections of the heart, Pſal. 7. 9. & 26. 2. Prov. 23. 16. Jer. 11. 20.

4. The thoughts and deſires, Pſal. 73. 21. Jer. 12. 2. and moſt ſecret parts within, Pſ. 139. 13. Lam. 3. 13.

5. Loyns, Iſa. 11. 5.

6. Secret inſpiration of God, Pſal. 16. 7.

Rejoyce] To take comfort and be made glad, by the opinion, preſence, or hope of ſome good thing; earthly or heavenly. 1 Theſſ. 5. 16. Rejoyce evermore. Luk. 1. 58. They rejoyced with her. It ſignifieth open and manifeſt joy, outward gladneſſe as well as inward, Pſal. 3. 10.

2. To ſing, Pſal. 65. 8. marg.

3. To praiſe or ſing, Deut. 32. 43. mar.

4. To ſhout for joy, Joh. 8. 21. marg.

5. To glory, 1 Theſſ. 2. 19.

It's in effect the ſame with, To delight, be glad, joy, clap hands, goe forth with tabrets, take pleaſure in, liſt up ones ſelfe, be joyfull, &c.

It's 1. unlawfull, as, to rejoyce in evill.

2. Good and lawfull. Spoken of God, of Jeſus Chriſt, of the godly and righteous Saints.

To rejoyce in Chriſt] To reſt wholly in him and his ſufferings, with full comfort and contentment of minde, Gal. 6. 14. Phil. 4. 4. Rejoyce in the Lord. Whereas not godly alone, but hypocrites and ungodly rejoyce in Chriſt preached, as Mat. 13. 20. Mar. 6. 20. Herod heard John gladly. There is a fivefold difference.

1. In the antecedent: the godly they mourn for ſin before they finde joy in Chriſt, Iſa. 61. 2. Matt. 3. 4. & 11. 28.

2. In the matter, which is the Lord Chriſt, and and peace with God through him, Rom. 5. 1. 11. Phil. 4. 4. Thus the Samaritans, thus the Eunuch rejoyced, Act. 8.

Thirdly, in the meaſure, which is greater then ever they or other worldlings took in worldly things. For it is unſpeakable and glorious, 1 Pet. 18. Such as paſſeth underſtanding, Eph. 3. 9. Fulneſſe of joy, Joh. 15. Full joy, 1 Joh. 3. 4, 5.

Fourthly, in the concomitants, righteouſneſſe, peace, love, and a good conſcience, Rom. 14. 17. 2 Cor. 1. 12.

Fiftly, in the continuance, for it abideth ever; the world cannot take it away from the godly, who keep their joy in perſecution, poverty, &c. Rom. 5. 3. Act. 5. 41. 1 Pet. 4. 13. Heb. 10. 34.

To rejoyce in himſelf] To finde matter (not eſpying other mens faults, but) in his owne graces and holineſſe, of being glad and glorying; not before God (as if he had goodneſſe of his owne without God) but before men, to the praiſe of God the author of his graces, and to the example of others. Gal. 6. 4. He ſhall have rejoycing in himſelf alone. This is far from the fleſhly and corrupt brags of proud Juſticiaries, Phariſees, Pelagians, and Papiſts, which aſcribe their faith and converſion to God in whole or in part, to the naturall power of Free-will, or juſtification to the merit of works. All ſuch glorying and boaſting is carnall and devilliſh: alſo too highly to think of our ſelves, and to deſpiſe others.

To rejoyce the heart] To make the ſoul merry and cheerful in proſperity and adverſity, Pſal. 19. 8.

Rehem] Void, vain, or divers pictures. A King of Midian, Numb. 31. 8. A City, Joſh. 18. 27. The Son of Hebron, 1 Chron. 2. 43.

Releaſe] A remiſſion, or intermiſſion, called in Hebrew Shemittah, in Greek Apheſis, that is, forgiveneſſe, or remiſſion; the word which the New Teſtament uſeth for forgiveneſſe of ſins, Mar. 1. 4. Mat. 26. 28. Whereof this releaſe of debts was a ſhadow. Aynſworth on Deut. 15. 1.

In Eſt 2. 18. it ſignifieth reſt, marg.

To releaſe] To forgive, remit, acquit, Deut. 15. 2. To forgive, pardon, diſcharge, abſolve, diſmiſſe, let looſe, Matth. 27. 15. Mar. 15. 9, 11.

Relie] To repoſe or place truſt in one, 2 Chr. 13. 18. & 16. 7, 8.

Relief] Act. 11. 29. that is, Service, Rom. 15. 31. Miniſtery, 1 Cor. 16. 15. Miniſtring, 2 Cor. 9. 1. Miniſtration, Ib. 13. (in all thoſe places is the word διακονία) namely a Collection for the help of the poor Saints.

Relieve] 1. To ſtrengthen, Lev. 25. 35. marg. or, To take hold on him, and ſo confirm his weak hands; that is, as the Greek tranſlateth, help him. Aynſworth.

2. To ſet upright, or make to continue ſure, Pſal. 146. 9.

3. To righten, or do right, Iſa. 1. 17. marg.

4. To make come (or fetch it) again, namely, the ſoul when it is fainting, Lam. 1. 11. marg.

5. To aid, help, or ſuccour, fully and plentifully (for ſo ἐπαρκέω ſignifieth) 1 Tim. 5. 10, 16.

Religion] Godlineſſe, even that inward piety of the heart, whereby God is truely acknowledged and feared, witneſſed by the fruits of charity to men-ward. Jam. 1. 27. Pure Religion, and undefiled is this.

2. The outward lawfull worſhip and ſervice of God, preſcribed in his Word, and profeſſed by men. Jam. 1. 26. That mans Religion is vain.

3. The doctrine which teacheth Religion, Act. 25. 19.

4. The whole Jewiſh externall worſhip of God, as it was corrupted by the tradition of the Phariſees. Act. 26. 5. I lived a Phariſee, after the perfect Sect of our Religion.

5. Superſtition. Col. 2. 18. By the religion of Angels. Verſ. 32. In voluntary Religion.

Religious] A worſhipper of God outwardly. Jam. 1. 26. If any man among you ſeem religious.

2. A true worſhipper of God, or a godly perſon. Act. 10. 5. A religious or devout man, one that feareth God.

3. A perſon devoted to Religion, and ſtudious to know better the way of Gods worſhip. Act. 2. 5. There were dwelling at Jeruſalem, Jews, Religious men.

4. Superſtitious and hypocritical perſons, which would ſeem to be lovers of Religion, and be not. Act. 13. 50. They ſtirred up certain religious or devout women againſt Paul.

Remainder] That which remaineth, or the ſurpluſage, Exod. 29. 34. Lev. 6. 16. One alive, 2 Sam. 14. 7.

Remain] To ſtand, 2 King. 13. 6. marg. To watch, Job 21. 32. marg. It's in effect the ſame with, To ſtay, tarry, abide, continue, reſt, &c.

Remaining] A portion of time which is behinde, how little ſoever. 1 Pet. 4. 2. That time which remaineth.

2. Conſtant, continuing and abiding for ever. John 16. 15. And that your fruit remain.

Remaliah] The exaltation or greatneſſe of the Lord; or caſt away from the Lord. The Father of Pekah, 2 King. 15. 25, 27.

Remedy] Healing, 2 Chr. 36. 16. marg. Recovery, Prov. 6. 15.

To remember] Either to call to minde ſomething paſt, or to keep in minde ſomething for the time to come. Exod. 20. 8. Remember thou keep holy the Sabbath. Matth. 26. 75. Then Peter remembred the words of the Lord.

2. To make mention with liking, to praiſe, commend, and celebrate a thing. Pſa. 105. 5. Remember the wondrous things that he hath done. Pſal. 6. 5. In death there is none remembers thee. Iſa. 26. 8. Eccleſ. 12. 1. Remember thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth; that is, worſhip and prayſe him, Eccleſ. 9. 15.

3. To truſt or put confidence in another. Pſal. 20. 7. Some truſt in horſes, but we remember thee, O Lord. In this ſenſe we are commanded to eat the Lords Supper, in remembrance of his death and paſſion: For we are warned thereby, and ſtirred up, both to call to minde his ſufferings, and truſt in them for ſalvation, 1 Cor. 11. 25.

4. To think or muſe upon, Pſal. 63. 6. or conſider, Mat. 16. 9. Act. 20. 31. 1 Theſ. 2. v. 9.

5. To keep in minde, Luk. 17. 32. Joh. 15. 20. or, be mindfull of, Gal. 2. 10.

6. To call to an account, 3 Joh. v. 10.

7. To eſteem, or make an account of, Eccl. 9. 15.

To remember, as it is referred to God] To care for one, to deliver, ſuccour, and ſave him: God remembred Abraham, or thought upon him, Gen. 19. 29. Alſo in Luk. 23. 41. Lord remember me when thou comeſt into thy Kingdome. Heb. 13. 4. And in all places of the Pſalms, where the Prophet prayeth to be remembred, it hath this meaning, to be bleſſed, cared for, helped, and comforted. If we ſpeak properly, there falls into God no forgetfulneſſe, but as men uſe to help ſuch as they remember and think upon; ſo the helps, bleſſings, and comforts, which God doth afford to his people, ſhews and makes it known that he remembers them. 1 Sam. 1. 19, 20. And the Lord remembred Hannah.

Note. God is ſaid to remember Noah, Gen. 8. 1. not that God can forget, but that he declared his divine goodneſs & power, whereby Noah might know that he was not forgot.

2. To puniſh or correct ſin. Pſal. 25. 7. Remember not the ſins of my youth; that is, remember them not to puniſh me for them. Jer. 31. 34. I will not remember your iniquities.

3. Graciouſly to accept, and favourably to fulfill. Pſal. 20. 3. Let him remember all thy burnt-offerings.

Remembrance] A calling to minde, or keeping in minde. This is the proper ſignification.

2. Memory, good name, and report. Eccl. 9. 5. Their remembrance is forgotten. Exod. 17. 14.

3. Having in minde, with faith and love. 1 Cor. 11. 25. Do this in remembrance of me: Remembring the mercy and benefit which by my death is given to you: this is ſpoken of a thankfull remembrance.

4. The memoriall, Pſal. 97. 12. marg.

5. Mention, Phil. 1. 3. marg.

Remeth] Highly, or caſt away. A City, Joſh. 19. 21.

Remiſſion of ſins] Forgiveneſſe of ſins, when both the guilt and puniſhment are freely pardoned, for Chriſt alone, to ſuch as beleeve in him. Act. 10. 43. All that beleeve in him, ſhall receive remiſſion of their ſins. Theſe are our ſpiritual debts, which being wholly pardoned by Chriſt onely, what place is there for Popiſh ſatisfaction?

2. All the merits and benefits of Chriſt, by a Synecdoche of a part for the whole. Mat. 26. 28. Which is ſhed for many for the remiſſion of ſins. Under this one benefit is comprehended the whole maſſe of his merits.

Remiſſion of ſins is ſometime in Scripture placed after repentance, as Luk. 24. 47. Act. 3. 19. & 26. 18. becauſe it followeth not in nature, but in our ſenſe. For we firſt feel in us a contrite heart, afflicted with grief for the offence of God; and then are erected and comforted with the ſenſe of Gods merciſull pardon by Chriſt. Secondly, becauſe repentance muſt be taught before remiſſion of ſins, which men thirſt not for, nor eagerly deſire it till their hearts be penitent and wounded with ſenſe of ſin, Act. 2. 37. And this is the reaſon alſo why repentance is ſometime mentioned before faith (the root and fountain of repentance) namely, for that the preaching of the Law goeth before to humble ſinners, and prepare them to the deſire of grace, and to repentance, Mar. 1. 15.

To remit, or forgive] To forgive, or not to require the payment or debt of ſin, at our hand. Joh. 20. 23. They are remitted. Thus God alone remitteth authoritatively, by by his own right: and thus no creature remitteth.

2. To declare and pronounce ſin to be forgiven to ſuch as ſhew their faith by true repentance. Joh. 20. 23. Whoſe ſins ye remit. Thus Miniſters are ſaid to remit declaratively, as witneſſes onely.

3. To put wrong done us out of our remembrance. Mar. 18. 21. And I ſhall forgive or remit him. Thus one man forgives another.

4. To receive an excommunicate perſon into the Church upon repentance. 2 Cor. 2. 7. Ye ought rather to forgive him. & verſ. 10. Thus the Church forgives ſcandalous livers. See Forgiveneſſe.

Remmon] A Pomegranate apple, or high. A City, Joſh. 19. 7.

Remmon-methoar] A pomegranate apple, or high, which is drawn. A place, Joſh. 19. 13. marg.

Remnant] Certain perſons reſerved out of a great number or maſſe of people. Rom. 9. 17. Though Iſrael were as the ſand of the Sea, yet but a remnant ſhall be ſaved. Iſa. 10. 20, 21. As a remnant of cloth left of an whole web or piece.

The eſcaping that remaineth, 2 King. 19. 30. marg.

2. Excellency, Job 22. 20. marg.

To remove] To put a thing out of his due place. Prov. 23. 10. Remove not the ancient bounds.

2. To deſtroy and to confound. Pſal. 15. 5. He that doth theſe things ſhall never be removed.

Cloth to be removed] That mans own beſt righteouſneſſe deſerveth to be removed out of the ſight of God, as a contagious or filthy cloth deſerveth to be removed from the ſight of men. Iſa. 64. 6. As a cloth of removing. So Tremelius readeth.

Remphan] Act. 7. 43. That which the Prophet Amos calleth Chiun, Amos 5. 26. Stephen here nameth Remphan. Moſt probable it was Moloch, or Saturn; now Saturn among the Ægyptians (where the 70 tranſlated) was called Ῥομφὰν. Annot.

Mr. Goodwyn in his Moſes and Aaron, p. 184. underſtandeth Hercules, (or רפאים, Rephaim in the Holy tongue ſignifieth Giants) by which he underſtandeth the Planet of the Sun, ſaying, that there are Etymologiſts which derive Hercules his name from the Hebrew, חאיר כל, Heircol, Illuminating or enlightening all things; and that the Greek Etymologie holds correſpondence with the Hebrew (Heracles, what is it elſe but Ἥρας κλέος, that is, the glory of the air? and what other glory is there of the air, but the illumination of the Sun?) and both ſignifie that univerſal light which flowed from the Sun, as water from a fountain. And that Porphyrie interpreteth Hercules his twelve labours, ſo often mentioned by the Poets, to be nothing elſe but the twelve ſignes of the Zodiack, through which the Sun paſſeth yeerly.

Rend] The rending of ones garment was a ſigne of ſorrow, Gen. 37. 34. It was done ſtanding, 2 Sam. 13. 31. and that the forepart thereof, not behinde, or in the ſides, nor beneath (ſave the High-prieſt, who did rend beneath) and that on the upper garment onely, and thereof an hand-breadth. This was uſed for the death of the Prince, or of the Father of the Synedrion, or of the multitude of the Congregation, as David and the men with him did for Saul, and for Jonathan, and for the people of the Lord, 2 Sam. 1. 11, 12. Alſo, when they heard the name of God blaſphemed, Iſa. 36. 22. For the burning of the book of the Law, Jer. 36. 23, 24. and for the Cities of Judah, and for Jeruſalem, and for the Sanctuary deſtroyed, Jer. 41. 5. Aynſworth on Lev. 10. 6.

It ſignifieth, 1. To tear, Gen. 37. 33. Pſ. 7. 2. Judg. 14. 6.

2. To take away by violent means, 1 Sam. 15. 28. 1 King. 11. 11.

3. To cleave aſunder, 1 King. 13. 4, 5.

4. To be broken aſunder, Ezek. 30. 16.

5. To crack the skin, Jer. 4. 30.

6. To ſhake and pull as it were in pieces, Mar. 9. 26.

7. To be divided, Luk. 23. 45.

To render] To give ſomething back where he had it. Pſal. 116. 12. What ſhall I render to the Lord for all his benefits toward me? that is, by way of thankfulneſſe to return unto his praiſe, all thoſe graces and good bleſſings which we receive of him, Mat. 22. 21. Rom. 13. 7.

2. To requite or recompenſe, or to doe one like for like, Pſal. 94. 2.

Note. There be four ſorts of recompenſes or retributions.

1 Of good for good.
2 Of evill for good.
3 Of good for evill.
4 Of evill for evill.

The laſt ſheweth a wicked man, the ſecond a very wicked and ungracious perſon. The firſt an honeſt man, the third a true Chriſtian endued with the ſpirit of Charity, Rom. 12. v. laſt.

Renew] 1. To confirm, ratifie, and eſtabliſh, 1 Sam. 11. 14.

2. To bring one after another, Job 10. 17.

3. To change, Job 29. 20. marg. & Iſa. 40. 31. marg.

4. To make more ſtedfaſt, Pſal. 51. 10.

5. To repair and cleanſe, 2 Chr. 15. 8.

6. To make freſh and lively, Pſa. 103. 5.

7. To make new, Pſal. 104. 30.

8. To alter into a better condition, Lam. 5. 21.

9. To be ſtrengthened, 2 Cor. 4. 16.

10. To recover, turn again, Heb. 6. 6.

Renewed in knowledge, Col. 3. 10. The knowledge of the faithfull in this life, even after calling needs daily to be renewed, for ſin makes a breach both in the heart and minde. And Satan plants daily temptations and objects againſt the doctrine of God, againſt which the minde needs new ſtore of proviſion, out of the Word, for defence. And our affections are wonderfull apt to loſe ſenſe and feeling, and then there is no other way to recover ſenſe, but by renewing contemplation. And beſides, in as much as faith and repentance muſt be daily renewed, therefore alſo muſt examination of life, and meditation of Gods promiſe and grace, be renewed alſo. Finally, we know but in part, and ſucceſſively; and therefore ought continually to be growing and adding to the meaſure of the knowledge received. Byfield on Col. 3. 10. p. 67.

Renewing] That work of the Spirit, whereby the elect, of the enemies of God, children of his wrath, ungodly, and ſinners, they are become the Children of God, Citizens with the Saints, heirs and coheirs with Chriſt; being made partakers through faith, of Chriſt his righteouſneſſe, and his ſufferings, unto perfect reconciliation with God. This is the firſt work of Grace, and is the ſame with ingraffing into Chriſt, or regeneration, Joh. 3. 3, 4, 5, 6, &c.

2. The reſtoring of our corrupt Nature to our firſt image, when Satans image, conſiſting of ignorance and ſin, being defaced and blotted out; in ſtead thereof there is printed in our breaſts, Gods image, conſiſting in true righteouſneſſe, holineſſe, and knowledge. Tit. 3. 4, 5. By the renewing of the holy Ghoſt. Col. 3. 10. Put on the new man, which after God is ereated in knowledge. Eph. 4. 24. This is an effect of the former Renewing, as a ſecond work of Grace, yet done at the ſame time.

3. The refreſhing and ſtrengthening of that which is ſomewhat decaying and blemiſhed, by our daily ſlips, ſtains, and falls. Pſal. 51. 10. Renew a right ſpirit within me. Rom. 12. 2. Be renewed in the ſpirit of your mind. 2 Cor. 4. 16. The inner man is renewed daily. This third grace is the proceeding of the ſecond work of Grace, untill it be fully perfected.

1. Referred to God:

(i.) taken Actively for that work of Gods Spirit, upon and in man. Effectio ſed nondum ut effectum.

This is referred unto God as his meer work, Joh. 15. 4, 5. Act. 16. 14. Rom. 8. 9, 10, 11.

2. As referred to Man:

(i.) Taken paſſively for a grace in Man received of God, and by which he is apt to receive goodneſſe. Ut effectum ſpiritus S. & non tantum effectio.

This is referred unto man as his new eſtate received of God, but now entertained and poſſeſſed by mans owne ſelfe. Which is the firſt degree of mans duty, and is but meerly paſſive, or to ſuffer God to work upon us this cure of our corruptions. See Jam. 1. 21. Heb. 13. 22. Act. 9. 6. & 26. 19. Gal. 1. 16. Act. 16. 14.

The ſecond duty or degree of it, is to be active alſo, or to uſe the graces and gifts of God by him offered and given, and by us received, as workers together with God, under God, and for God, 1 Cor. 15. 10.

Renewing of the holy Ghoſt, Tit. 3. 5. It's ſo called, not that it is not wrought as well by the other perſons, being a work without themſelves; for the Father reneweth as being the foundation and fountain, not of the Deity alone, but of all divine actions and good things whatſoever; and the Son reneweth as the Mediatour and Meriter of it; but it is here aſcribed to the holy Ghoſt, becauſe he is the immediate and next Applyer of it to the conſcience, and therefore is ſaid more properly to renew; and this he doth ordinarily work by means. Taylor on Tit. 3. 5. p. 650.

Renewing of our minde] The altering and changing from evill to good, of the two principall Faculties of the Soul, Underſtanding and Will. Rom. 12. Be transformed by the renewing of your minde. Not onely then the inferiour parts, but even the principall powers be corrupt with blindneſſe, unbeleef and ſin. For nothing needeth renewing, but what was firſt corrupt, old and decayed.

Alſo

Alſo note, that this Renewing, is called ſometime the newneſſe of life, from the effects which ſhew themſelves in the life, as Rom. 6.4. Sometime, the newneſſe of Spirit, from the efficient cauſe, which is the Spirit, as Rom. 7.6. Sometime the Renewing of the minde, from the place and ſubject where this renovation beginneth; as Eph. 4. 23.

Renounce] To reject, refuſe, forſake, 2 Cor. 4.2.

Renown, or Name] Men of renown, or renowned, are thoſe who are named again, whoſe names are iterated, who are often mentioned, or much ſpoken of; as are ſuch perſons, who are either notable or notorious for any eminent difference from ordinary men. Annot. on Gen. 6.4.

Thus Tyrus is tearmed a renowned City, as being very famous, Ezek. 26. 17. Thus alſo the Church or Common-wealth of Judah, Ezek. 16.14, 15.

Rent] Iſa. 3.24. Renting of garments for extremity of grief, Jer. 41. 5. or rags; having no whole garment to put on. It comes of a word that ſignifies to cut downe, Iſa. 10.34. or, to cut aſunder, Iſa.29.1. Some therfore expound it of their garments, by the enemy cut ſhort in ſcorn, to the diſcovery of their ſhame, as 2 Sam. 10. 4. & Iſa. 20. 4. Others render it looſneſſe, diſſolution; oppoſed to girding, and the word it comes from ſeems ſo to ſignifie, Job 19. 26. Their rags; ſuch as they ſhall have ſhall in a ſlattenly manner hang looſe about thoſe that were ſo curious in girding and fitting their garments to their bodies before; as it is wont to be with thoſe who either being in a ſad and forlorn condition, are wholly regardleſſe of themſelves; or whoſe apparell is ſo tattered and torn, and by reaſon thereof ſo unuſeful that they hold it not worthy of any regard, nor would ſtand them in any ſtead, were they never ſo carefull to gird it unto them. Annot. The Original ῥῆγμα, in Mat.9.16. tranſlated rent, that is, the tearing, properly ſignifieth a ſection in a ſolid body, but by a Metaphor is applyed to diverſity of opinions, and ſignifieth both diviſion and diſſenſion, Joh. 7. 43. ſchiſme, 1 Cor. 11. 18. marg.

Renting of garments] Some great indignation and heavyneſſe conceived for ſome horrible crime done, or ſuppoſed to be done, or ſome great and extraordinary calamity and judgement preſent or imminent. Matt. 26. 62. They rent their cloaths, ſaying, He hath ſpoken blaſphemy. Act. 14. 14. When they heard that, they rent their cloaths. Gen.37.34. Jacob rent his cloaths, and ſorrowed for his Son a long ſeaſon. 2 King. 22. 19. A ſigne of ſorrow and renting the heart with grief.

To rent the heart] To endeavour by Prayer, Meditation, and Faſting, to bring the heart to an unfaigned and deep ſorrow and mourning, for the offence of a moſt gracious God by our grievous ſins. Joel 2. 13. Rent your hearts, &c.

To rent a Kingdome] To take away and deprive one of his Kingdome. 1 Sam.15.28. The Lord hath rent the Kingdome of Iſrael from thee this day.

To repair] To build up, and raiſe that which is fallen down. Amos 9. 11. I will repair or build up the decayed Tabernacle of David.

2. To cloſe, 1 King. 11. 27. marg.
3. To revive, 1 Chr. 11. 8. marg.
4. To renew, 2 Chr. 24. 4. marg.
5. To found, 2 Chr. 24. 27. marg.
6. To ſet up, Ezr. 9. 9. marg.
7. To mend, 2 Chr. 34. 10.

Repairer of the breach, Iſa. 58. 12. that is, The maker up of the breach that God had made in the wall or fence of their City and State, for their ſins. Annot.

To repay] To pay back again, or to pay a man with his own money (as we uſe to ſay) Rom. 12. 18. I will repay, ſaith the Lord. This is to mete ſinners in their owne meaſure. To requite, Philem. 19.

Repeat] To rip up injuries forgotten, or not to be mentioned, Prov. 17. 9.

To repent, referred to men] To be wiſe after the fact, and to come to our ſelves again. 2 Cor. 7. 8. I repent not, though I did repent. Luk. 15.17. And he came to himſelf. Mat.21.19. Yet afterward he repented.

2. To wiſh with grief, ſomething which is done, to be undone, in regard of the hurt that comes of it. Matt. 27. 2. Judas repented, &c.

3. To change the minde being ſorry for ſin (as it is ſin and the offence of God) with purpoſe of amendment. Act. 8. 22. Repent that thy wickedneſſe may be done away. & 17. 30. Now he warneth every man every where to repent.

4. To repair and refreſh Grace, being decayed by negligence or ſecurity. Rev. 2. 5. Repent and doe thy firſt works.

5. To be ſorry, Luk. 17.34. 2 Cor.7. 8.

6. To be amended and reformed, Mat.3.2. Act. 17. 30. Ezek. 14. 6. Rev. 2.5.

7. Greatly to humble ones ſelfe, Job 42. 6.

This is to circumciſe the foreskin of the heart, Deut. 10. 16. to lament after God,

1 Sam.

1 Sam. 7. 2. to know the plague of a mans owne heart, 1 King. 8. 38. to seek God, Job 8. 5. to put sin far away, Job 11. 14. to sow in tears, Psal. 126. 5. to confesse and forsake sin, Prov. 28. 13. to wash and be clean, and put away the evill of our doings, Isa. 1. 16. to return unto the Lord, Isa. 55. 7. to be of a contrite and humble spirit, Isa. 57. 15. not to walk any more after the imagination of our evill heart, Jer. 3. 17. to break up the fallow ground, and circumcise our selves to the Lord, Jer. 4. 3, 4. to wash our heart from sin, Ib. 14. to be ashamed that we have committed abomination, Jer. 6. 15. to be made clean, Jer. 13. 27. to search and try our wayes, and turn again unto the Lord, Lam. 3. 40. to loath our selves for the evils which we have committed, Ezek. 6. 9. to be ashamed and confounded for our owne wayes, Ezek. 36. 32. to return to our first Husband, Hos. 2. 7. to prepare our selves to meet God, Amos 4. 12. to rent our hearts and not our garments, and turn unto the Lord our God, Joel 2. 13. to consider our wayes, Hag. 1. 7. to be pricked in our hearts, Act. 2. 27. to come to our selves, Luk. 15. 17. to clense our selves from all filthinesse, 2 Cor. 7. 1. to arise from the dead, Eph. 5. 14. to clense our hands, and purifie our hearts, Jam. 4. 8. to be afflicted, and mourn, and weep, Ibid. 9. In Act. 17. 30. there's this duty required, to repent; the persons charged herewith, all men; the place where it is charged on them, and ought to be performed by them, every where; the manner how it's prescribed, by way of commandement; the person commanding it, God; the time, now. Now God commandeth all men every where to repent.

Referred to God] 1. To alter ones purpose and counsell. Thus God is said not to repent. 1 Sam. 15. 29. The eternity of Israel cannot repent; for God never alters his purpose.

2. To undoe that which was once done. Thus is God said to repent after the manner of men, who repenting themselves of that was done, they doe undoe, and afterward overthrow their first work. Gen. 6. 6. God repented that he had made man.

He is said to repent, when he doth not what he threateneth, Exod. 32. 12. Jonah 3. 9, 10. Amos 7. 3. or what he promiseth, Jer. 18. 10. Where note, that such his threatnings and promises are conditionall, and so upon the non-performance of the condition, alterable.

Repentance] Any change of minde or purpose in any matter whatsoever. Heb. 12. 17. Esau found no place for repentance; that is, could not move Isaac to change his minde touching the blessing given away to Jacob. Rom. 11. 29. Without repentance; that is, without change and alteration, God still continuing his saving gifts to the elect, even for ever.

2. A great grief of minde, thorough the sense of Gods wrath threatned to sin, without any true hatred of sin. This is a Legall repentance, Mat. 27. 2.

3. The whole change of a sinner in mind, will, and actions, from evill to good, at his first conversion. Act. 11. 18. Hath God given the Gentiles repentance to life? This is an Evangelicall repentance, and comprehends faith under it, Matt. 3. 8, 11. This repentance is wholly the work of Gods grace: for in that we are willing to turn to God, it is becaus grace of unwilling hath made us willing.

4. A reparation of our spirituall decayes, by a turning from some particular sins, after our first conversion. 2 Cor. 7. 10. Godly sorrow brings forth repentance, not to be repented of. This is the progresse of Evangelicall repentance.

Repentance is a very sore displeasure which man hath in his heart for his sins (even because they are the breach of Gods holy Laws, and the offence of God his most mercifull Father) which engendreth in him a true hatred against sin, and a setled desire to live better in time to come, ordering his life by the Will of God, revealed in his Word.

There are severall sorts of repentance.

1. A late repentance, such as that's of most on their death-bed, or bed of sickneſse, which for the most part is unsound.

2. A desperate repentance, such as that of Judas, Cain, Pharaoh, Ahab, which is not with any true hatred or detestation of their sins, but onely in regard of the punishment due thereunto.

3. A faigned repentance, such as that's of those who outwardly make shew of their sorrow for sin, &c. but secretly continue therein.

4. A compelled repentance, such as that's of malefactors, who at their deaths being called upon by the company then present to repent, acknowledge their fault, like unto Simon of Cyren, who against his will bare the Crosse of Christ.

5. An indiscreet repentance, such as that's of the superstitious, which conceit, that by much watching, fasting, going on long pilgrimages, scourging their naked bodies, &c. they they ſhall be acceptable to God, their ſins ſo purged and done away, as if they had never been committed.

6. An inconſtant repentance, ſuch as that's of thoſe, who notwithſtanding of their pretending repentance, and abſtinence from ſin for a time, will not forſake their evill courſes, but with the dog return unto their vomit, and with the ſow that was waſhen to their wallowing in the mire.

7. An imperfect repentance, ſuch as that's of thoſe which haply are grieved for ſome one or more ſins by them committed, who in the mean time give themſelves over to others as bad.

8. An Evangelicall repentance, already deſcribed. Of all thoſe this onely is acceptable, being a repentance unto life, repentance not to be repented of.

Repetitions] Uſe not vain repetition, Mat. 6. 7. The Originall is βαττολογέω, ſpeak not vain things, babble not the ſame things, prate not, be not talkative, ſpeak not much, uſe not many words. The Syriack ſignifieth, to bubble as water out of a narrow mouthed bottle. It ſignifieth to inculcate the ſame things again and again. It is derived of Battus a Poet, an egregious babbler. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Rephah] The releaſing of the ſnare. The Son of Beriah, 1 Chr. 7. 25.

Raphael] The phyſick or medicine of God. The Son of Shemajah, 1 Chr. 26. 7.

Replenish] To fill, Geneſ. 1. 28. To haunt, and enrich, Iſa. 23. 2. To ſupply with all manner of good and matter of comfort to their fill to the utmoſt of their deſire, Jer. 31. 25. To increaſe in fame and riches, Ezek. 26. 2.

Reply] To anſwer again, or diſpute, Rom. 9. 20. marg.

Report] Fame, rumour, good or evill, true or falſe, 1 Sam. 2. 24.

2. Hearing or Doctrine heard from the Prophets and Apoſtles, Iſa. 53. 8. Rom. 10. 16.

Evill report] Wicked carriage, which cauſed evill report of them, Gen. 37. 2. or infamy, their infamous carriage, which cauſed ill report of them, Exod. 23. 1. Tale, rumour, hearing, or hearſay, Prov. 15. 30. Hearing, Iſa. 53. 1. Rom. 10. 16. Doctrine or preaching, Act. 7. 3. Teſtimony, 2 Chr. 9. 7. Word or ſayings.

There's a true report, 1 King. 10. 6. 2 Chr. 9. 5. and a falſe report, Exod. 23. 1. An evill report, Numb. 13. 32. & 14. 37. and a good report, Prov. 15. 30. Act. 10. 22. An honeſt report, Act. 6. 3. and a report not good, 2 Sam. 2. 24.

Reproach] Sterility in women, Gen. 30. 23.

2. Sin, evill diſgrace, Gen. 34. 14.

3. Shame, Ruth 2. 15. marg.

4. A great diſhonor, or diſgrace, 1 Sa. 11. 2.

5. Abuſive contempt, 1 Sam. 25. 29.

6. A ſcoff and deriſion, Neh. 2. 17.

7. Blaſphemy, Pſal. 44. 16. & 74. 10.

8. Reproof, Pſal. 119. 42. marg.

9. A reviling, Iſa. 51. 7. Zeph. 2. 8.

10. Infamie, 1 Tim. 3. 7.

11. Injury or contumely both in word and deed, and that in a petulant and inſolent manner, 2 Cor. 12. 10.

12. A rebuke, taunt, railing, ſcoffing, Rom. 15. 3.

Reprobate] 1. A refuſed one, or one caſt out and rejected: alſo one, not being found ſuch an one as he ought to be. 1 Cor. 9. 27. Leſt I be found a reprobate, or be reproved; that is, not ſuch as I ſhould be, by living otherwiſe then I teach and profeſſe.

Reprobation is the moſt wiſe purpoſe of God, whereby he hath before all eternity (for his owne Wills ſake) conſtantly decreed without any injuſtice, not to have mercy on thoſe Angels and men whom he hath not loved, but hath paſſed them over when he did chuſe others; that by their juſt condemnation he might declare his wrath towards ſin, to the glory of his Juſtice, Rom. 9. 10, 11, 18, 22, 23.

In the decree of Reprobation, there be two acts to be conſidered by us; viz. a purpoſe of not ſhewing mercy, and of not chuſing, of not calling, juſtifying, &c. This is privative, or negative, or abſolute reprobation, having no cauſe impulſive without God, Eph. 1. 11. Prov. 16. 4. Jer. 6 30. The ſecond act is a purpoſe of condemning, or an ordination to pain, even eternall and moſt juſt damnation. This is poſitive, affirmative, or reſpective reprobation, which reſpecteth ſin originall or actuall (as the meritorious cauſe of deſtruction.) But note further, that this ordination to pain (which is the second act of Reprobation) is either simple, whereby this or that man (as Cain or Judas) were ordained to pain: or comparative, whereby Cain rather then Abel, and Judas rather then Peter, be ordained: of this latter the Will of God is the sole cause, but the soveraign cause of both; yet in the former not without relation to sin as a mean of the pain. Note yet further, that what place Christ (in whose obedience and suffering we are chosen, Eph. 1. 4.) hath in the election of saved persons; that place sin hath in the reprobation of the wicked; in which it is no efficient, that is Gods will, but a materiall cause of their condemnation.]

2. Unapproved, or without proof; unsound, not sound or approved Christians, but hypocrites, 2 Cor. 13. 5.

3. Vain, voyd of judgement to discern, Rom. 1. 28.

4. Altogether unfashionable, and fitlesse, Tit. 1. 16.

Note: this word in 1 Cor. 9. 27. doth signifie reprobate, as the word is opposed to the elect; for Paul was elect, and knew himself so to be, and therefore could not become a reprobate, but reproved, reprovable, or unapproved. So the word is taken, 2 Cor. 13. 7. Heb. 6. 8. for it is opposed to the word δόκιμος, which signifieth approved, and therefore not so much to be referred to the person of Paul, as to his Ministery, lest his Ministery should be rejected, and himself be worthy to be reproved. Leigh Crit. Sac.

It's applyed to silver, Jer. 6. 30. (refuse, marg.) to men out of the Church, Rom. 1. 28. to false Teachers creeping into the Church, 2 Tim. 3. 8. to evill livers professing God, Tit. 1. 16.

Reprobate minde] A minde destitute and voyd of judgement and common reason, to discern between good and evill. Rom. 1. 28. Delivered into a reprobate minde.

Reprobate to good works] Counterfeit and unsincere professors, which know not how to do or go about any good work. Tit. 1. 16. And to every good work reprobate.

To reprove, or rebuke] To check and censure by words a sinner, by some sinfull deed or speech; either privately, as in Prov. 27. 5. or openly, for some publick scandall, 1 Tim. 5. 20.

2. To manifest the evill conversation by our holy and honest life. Eph. 5. 11. Reprove them rather.

3. To argue, Isa. 11. 4. mar. Hab. 2. 1. mar.

4. To discover, Eph. 5. 13. marg.

5. To convince, Job 16. 8. marg.

6. To make manifest, Joh. 3. 21.

Reputation] Had in reputation, Act. 5. 34. that is, highly reputed, esteemed of, precious, honorable.

To them which were of reputation; Gal. 2. 2. that is, To those which were in chief account; viz. Peter, James, and John, who were such as they seemed to be.

Made himself of no reputation, Phil. 2. 7. that is, Emptyed himself, evacuated himself, humbled and abased himself, devested himself of his robes of majesty and glory, and brought himself as it were to nothing.

Hold such in reputation, Phil. 2. 29. that is, Honour such.

Request] A demand, Judg. 8. 24. Word or desire, 2 Sam. 14. 15, 22. A petition, Ezr. 7. 6. The deprecation of some evill, Est. 4. 8. That which one asketh or desireth importunately, Job 6. 8. A supplication for things needfull, Rom. 1. 10. The asking for of such things, whether corporall or spirituall, temporall or eternall, whereof we stand in need. See Heb. 5. 7. and Nuns cometh of חסר, to stand in need, be in want.

Require] To seek out, and consequently punish, Gen. 9. 5. To ask, Deut. 10. 12. To require by punishment, or take vengeance on one, Deut. 18. 19. To call to account, and thereupon inflict deserved punishment, Josh. 22. 23. To lay a charge on one, 2 Sam. 3. 13. Earnestly to seek after, 1 Cor. 1. 22. Luk. 11. 50. To exact or look for at ones hands, 1 Cor. 4. 2. To chuse, 2 Sam. 19. 38. mar.

Requite] Rendring to render, Gen. 50. 15. To reward, recompense, Deut. 32. 6. 2 Sam. 2. 6. To enquire, Psal. 10. 13. To repay, Psal. 41. 10. To recompense, or pay what one oweth, 1 Tim. 5. 4. To do according to kindnesse, Gen. 21. 33. Deserving, Judg. 9. 16.

The Lord will requite good for his cursing this day, 2 Sam. 16. 2. that is, turn his cursings into blessings, when by his fatherly chastisement he hath humbled me, and fitted me for them.

Rereward] The gathering host, the last of all the Camp, Josh. 6. 9. marg. The Lords carefull heed over his people, Isa. 52. 12. & 58. 8. To this David alludeth, Psal. 27. 10.

Rescue] To save, Deut. 28. 31. To deliver out of imminent danger, 1 Sam. 14. 45. & 30. 18. To return, Psal. 35. 17.

To resemble] To compare, or liken to, to make comparison, Luk. 13. 18. to be according to the form of a thing, Judg. 8. 18. marg.

Resen] A bridle. A City, Gen. 10. 12.

To reserve] To leave, or cause to remain. Rom. 11. 4. I have reserved to my self, &c.

2. To

2. To be ſet apart in Gods eternal counſell, to be delivered unto the cuſtody and ſafe keeping of Chriſt, Jude v. 1.

3. To have in ſtore, Gen. 27. 36.

4. To be left, or remain, Numb. 18. 9.

5. To be kept back, or kept out of common calamities, or ſpared, Job 21. 30.

6. To lay up, Job 38. 23.

7. To be carefully kept, Act. 25. 21.

8. To be delivered unto ſafe cuſtody for judgement, 2 Pet. 2. 4. Jude v. 6.

7. To appoint, Ib. 13.

Reſidue] That which is left, or remaineth, Exod. 10. 5. The reſt, Neh. 11. 20. The remainder, Iſa. 44. 17. Excellency, Mal. 2. 15. Other, or the reſt, Mar. 16. 13. Act. 15. 17.

To reſiſt] To withſtand, to ſtand up againſt, or in order to ſet againſt, as they which do rank themſelves in battle array. This is either by men againſt men, Rom. 13. 2. or by God againſt men, Jam. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 5. 5.

To reſiſt. 1. Abſolutely good, to reſiſt ſin and Satan in our ſelves and others, Jam. 4. 7. Luk. 9. 29.

2. Abſolutely evill, to reſiſt God and goodneſſe, Act. 6. 10 & 7. 51.

3. Indifferent, or reſpectively good or evill.

1. Good to repell ſome injuries, of ſome perſons abuſing our patience, at ſome time when we well and quietly may; from ſome perſons not able to defend themſelves.

2. Evill, and forbidden, Matth. 5. 39. viz. 1 To private perſons, or men in their owne cauſes. 2 To them alſo by others help, if they that are Magiſtrates be adverſaries, either to our Religion, as 1 Cor. 6. 12. or to our perſons, or to goodneſſe. 3 In a time of publick perſecution, when right cannot be had, &c.

Reſolve] Luk. 16. 4. I am reſolved what to doe; that is, know what courſe to take: like and approve what I have purpoſed to do, which I will alſo put in execution.

Reſort] To aſſemble, Neh. 4. 20. To enter, Pſal. 71. 3. To preſent ones ſelf, 2 Chr. 11. 13. marg. To come, Mar. 2. 13. To meet together, Joh. 18. 20.

Reſpect] It's ſpoken both of God, Gen. 4. 4. Exod. 2. 25. Lev. 26. 9. 1 King. 8. 28. 2 King. 13. 23. Pſal. 119. 6. Pſal. 138. 6. and of Man: lawfull, Pſal. 119. 6, 15, 117. Iſa. 17. 7. Heb. 11. 26. Sinfull, Lev. 19. 15. Deut. 1. 17. Prov. 24. 23. Jam. 2. 3. Iſa. 17. 8. As God doth not preferre one before another, for ſome qualities, whether riches or poverty, 2 Sam. 14. 14. 2 Chron. 19. 17. Act. 10. 34. So man ought not, Lev. 19. 15.

To have reſpect to one, &c.] To caſt a favourable eye upon one, and to declare that favour by ſome outward viſible ſigne, as God did in the act of Abel's ſacrifice, which he ſhewed himſelf well pleaſed withall, either by fire ſent from heaven to conſume it, as was done to the ſacrifice of Aaron, Lev. 9. verſ. laſt; of David, 1 Chr. 21. 26. of Solomon, 2 Chr. 7. 1. of Kings, 1 Ki. 18. 38. Or by ſome other wayes God gave witneſſe to his gifts, as the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Heb. 11. 4. See Gen. 4. 4. God had reſpect to Abel, and his gifts. Firſt to his perſon, then to his gifts; works make not acceptable.

2. To know, Exod. 2. 25. marg.

3. To relye with confidence upon God. Iſa. 17. 7. In that day a man ſhall look to his Maker, and have reſpect to the holy one of Iſrael. This word [reſpect] being attributed to the Creatures, ſignifieth Confidence; but it ſignifieth Benevolence, being affirmed of the Creator.

Reſpect of perſons] The preferring of one before another, for ſome outward qualities, as riches, poverty, &c. Jam. 2. 1. Have not the faith of Chriſt in reſpect of perſons. Deut. 16. 9. See Acception of perſons.

Reſpite] A breathing, reſpiration, refreſhing, Exod. 8. 15. A certain time wherein to adviſe and reſolve what to do, 1 Sam. 11. 3.

Reſt, as it is referred to men] A ceaſing from labour or work of minde or body.

2. A ceaſing from bodily labors, and a refreſhing after wearineſſe by ſleep. Pſal. 104. The day for man to labour: alſo, he hath given the night for man to reſt in. Luk. 9. He called them to reſt a while. This is naturall reſt. Pſal. 127. 2. He will give reſt to his beloved. Mat. 8. 20. Reſt hath two things; firſt, a ceſſation from work; ſecondly, a refreſhing of our wearyed members.

3. A ceaſing from outward works of our worldly calling for a certain time, to fit us for Gods ſervice. Thus the Jews Seaventh day, and our Lords day with us, is a day of reſt: Commandement the fourth. This is Ceremoniall reſt.

4. A ceaſing from diſobedience to God, and the works of ſin. Heb. 4. 3. We which have beleeved, do enter into reſt. Alſo v. 10, 11. When an elect ſoul ceaſeth from the works of corrupt nature. This is ſpirituall reſt.

5. A perfect ceaſing, and full freedome from from all ſins, ſorrows, and miſeries. Rev. 14. 13. They that dye in the Lord reſt from their labors. This is eternall reſt.

6. Peace and quietneſſe of a good conſcience, under ſure hope of eternall reſt. Matth. 11. 29. And ye ſhall finde reſt to your ſouls.

7. The quietneſſe of the minde, being freed from all worldly cares and fears of enemies and dangers. Pſal. 116.5,6. Take thy reſt, O my ſoul, for God, &c.

8. The Doctrine of God, whereupon we ought to ſtay and reſt our ſelves. Iſa. 28. 12. This is the reſt, &c.

9. A place of quiet and conſtant abode. Pſal. 132. 8. Pſal. 95. 11. So was Canaan to Gods people, and Jeruſalem to the Ark, Pſal. 132. 14.

10. A ceaſing from Tillage and Husbandry. Thus the ground is ſaid to reſt. Lev. 25. 5, 6. A yeer of reſt to the Land.

11. Eaſe and idleneſſe. Gen. 49. 15. He ſhall ſee that reſt is good. Thus the wicked reſt.

12. The Church and Houſe of God, wherein Chriſt reſteth by his love and grace. Pſal. 132.13. Iſa. 1.11. And his reſt ſhall be glorious. The Papiſts which tranſlate, This his Sepulchre ſhall be glorious, to prove the adoration and religious worſhip of our Saviours Sepulchre, deal both ignorantly and ſuperſtitiouſly therein.

13. Keeping of a Sabbath, Heb. 4. 9. mar.

14. A releaſe, Eſt. 2. 18. marg.

15. Peace or health, Pſal. 38. 3. marg.

16. A lying ſtill, Lev. 25. 4, 5. and relaxation from labors, Exod. 35. 2.

17. Freedome from Wars, Judg. 3. 11. & 5. 31.

18. An husband, Ruth 1. 9. & 3. 1.

To reſt] 1. To dwell, Pſal. 16. 9. marg. Reſt in hope; that is, Dwell confidently.

2. To be ſilent, Pſal. 37. 7. marg. Reſt in the Lord; that is, Be ſilent to the Lord.

3. To ceaſe. Turn from him that he may reſt, Heb. ceaſe, Job 14. 6. marg.

4. To lean. And the people reſted themſelves, Heb. leaned, 2 Chr. 32. 8. marg.

5. To ceaſe labouring, and refreſh ones ſelf by ſleep, or ſitting quietly, Cant. 1. 7. Iſa. 28. 12.

6. To make a neſt, Iſa 34. 14.

7. To abide and continue, Iſa. 51. 4. Ezek. 5. 13.

8. To be free from all evill, Iſa. 57. 2. all ſorows and troubles, Rev 14. 13.

9. To be quiet, Jer. 30. 10.

10. To dwel in an abiding place, Jer. 31. 2.

11. To ceaſe, and be at an end, Ezek. 16. 42.

12. To be with continuance, Ezek. 44. 30.

13. To lie in the grave, Act. 2. 26.

To reſt in hope; that is, To dwell confidently, Pſal. 16. 9. marg.

Reſt not; that is, have no reſt, Rev. 4. 8. marg.

Cauſe to reſt upon him; that is, lay upon him, Iſa. 30. 32. marg.

Reſtitution, or reſtoring] The ſetting in joynt again, or placing in good eſtate, that which was once broken down and decayed, Gen. 40. 21. And he reſtored the chief Butler. In this ſignification, God is ſaid in Scripture to reſtore his people: and thus are we commanded to reſtore ſuch as ſin by infirmity. Gal. 6 1. Ye that are ſpirituall reſtore ſuch an one. This ſhall be perfectly done at the laſt day, when every thing now corrupted) ſhall have due perfection and proportion.

2. A giving again that which one had before loſt. Pſa. 51. 12. Reſtore to me the joy of thy ſalvation.

3. Returning that which is not a mans owne to the proper owner. Luk. 19. 8. I will reſtore fourfold. Ezek. 18. 7. If he reſtore the pledge, &c.

Reſtitution, or exchange, Job 20. 14.

Reſtore] 1. To deliver back, Gen. 20. 14.

2. To ſet again in the firſt ſtate, Gen. 40. 13.

3. To return, Deut. 28. 31. marg.

4. To recover, 2 King. 14. 25.

5. To make payment, Pſal. 69. 4. Ezek. 18. 7.

6. To make good the loſſe, corporally, 2 Sam. 12. 6. Exod. 22. 1, 4. Spiritually, Pſa. 51. 12.

8. To fulfill, Mat. 17. 11.

9. To inſtruct, and thereby to raiſe and ſet upright again. Gal. 6.1. Reſtore ſuch a one, καταρτίζετε, ſet him in joynt again. The phraſe is borrowed from Chirurgeons, who being to deal with a broken joynt will handle the ſame very tenderly; ſo ſetting it that it may be as ſtrong and ſound as ever it was.

10. To bring again, Ezr. 6. 5.

11. To raiſe up from death, 2 King. 8. 1.

Reſtrain] To hold in, ſtay or ſtop, Gen. 8. 2. To be cut off, Gen. 11. 6. To cloſe up (according to the Greek) Gen. 16. 2. To withhold or keep back, Gen. 36. 6. To frown upon, 1 Sam. 3. 13. marg. To deny a thing unto others, and appropriate it unto ones ſelf, Job 15. 8. To gird (namely with ioyful-

joyfulneſſe that they may ſing praiſes unto thee) or (if we refer it to the hot rage of the wicked) to gird or binde from attempting further evill, Pſal. 76. 10.

Reſts] Narrowed reſts, 1 King. 6. 6. Heb. Narrowings, or rebatements. At the floor of the middle chambers, there was a rebatement in the wall, a cubit thick; and at the floor of the higheſt chambers, ſuch another rebatement. On theſe rebatements the beams of the chambers were laid. Annot.

Reſurrection] An action of divine power, quickning dead bodies, and raiſing them to life. 1 Cor. 15. 12. How doe ſome ſay there is no reſurrection? This is the ſecond reſurrection.

2. Reſtoring dead ſouls to the life of grace, that they may live to God, being moved by his Spirit. Rev. 20. 6. Bleſſed are they that have part in the firſt reſurrection. Joh. 5. 25. This is the firſt reſurrection.

3. The raiſer up of the dead. Joh. 11. 25. I am the reſurrection and the life.

4. Redemption by Chriſts death going before, and for life everlaſting which follows after, Phil. 3. 10.

There's a ſpirituall reſurrection, Rev. 20. 6. and a corporall reſurrection, Act. 24. 15. Speciall, of ſome raiſed from death, both in the Old and New Teſtament. Generall, at the laſt day, which ſhall be both of the juſt and unjuſt, Act. 24. 15. This reſurrection of the body was denyed by the Sadduces, Mat. 22. 23. denyed alſo by ſome Chriſtians, 1 Cor. 15. 12. It was derided by the Athenian Philoſophers, Act. 17. 32. and ſome taught, that it is paſt already, 2 Tim. 2. 8.

Reſurrection of condemnation] Such a reſurrection, as hath condemnation and eternall death to follow it. Joh. 5. 29. Others ſhall ariſe to the reſurrection of condemnation.

Reſurrection from the dead] The whole mediation of Chriſt in his Incarnation, Nativity, Life, Suffering, Death, Buriall, his remaining in the grave under the power of Death, Aſcenſion, return to judgement, Rom. 10. 9. And raiſed him from the dead. Alſo it ſignifieth life eternall, which follows the generall reſurrection, Phil. 3. 11.

The Reſurrection of Chriſt from the dead, is not onely a witneſſe of our being juſtified by Chriſt the Conquerour of ſin and death; but through faith it is the reall cauſe of our Juſtification, as his death was the cauſe of the remiſſion of ſins, Rom. 4. 25.

Reſurrection and life] Chriſt to be the author and worker of the reſurrection of the ſoul from ſin, and of the bodies from the grave, and of both from death ſpiritual and temporal, and to ſet and keep them in ſtate of life, Joh. 11. 25. That he ſpeaketh here of ſpiritual life alſo, is clear by the words next following.

Reſurrection of life] Such a reſurrection as hath eternall life following it, Joh. 5. 29. Which life, becauſe it belongs onely to the juſt, it is therefore called the Reſurrection of the Juſt. Luk. 14. 14. At the reſurrection of the juſt.

Retain] To keep with one, Judg. 7. 8. To detain, Judg. 19. 4. To continue ſtill in maintaining, Job 2. 9. To hold or apprehend, Prov. 3. 18. To receive, Prov. 4. 4. To keep or preſerve, Prov. 11. 16. To ſhut in, or keep from going away, Eccl. 8. 8. To continue, Mic. 7. 18. To hold faſt, as by a ſtrong hand, Joh. 20. 23.

To retain God in their knowledge, Rom. 1. 28. or, To acknowledge him, marg.

I retained no ſtrength, Dan. 10. 8. His ſpirits were diſperſt and ſpent, his nerves and ſinews enfeebled, the joynts of his loynes looſed, the blood running to the heart, to maintain and ſtrengthen it, left all the other parts cold and liveleſſe. Annot.

Retire] To turn from, Judg. 20. 39. To withdraw ones ſelfe, 2 Sam. 11. 15. To depart, or be ſcattered, 2 Sam. 20. 22. marg. To ſtrengthen ones ſelf, or (rather) to get away, Jer. 4. 6. See marg.

To return] To come back again, after one is departed or gone out of the way.

2. To repent, as when a ſinner which hath erred from the wayes of Gods commandements, doth come again by unfaigned repentance. Act. 3. 19. Return and repent, &c. Ezek. 18. 32. Thus ſinners return to God. Iſa. 10. 21.

3. To yeeld or give conſent to the minde or deſire of another. Jer. 15. 9. Doe not return to them, but let them return unto thee. Thus the people return to their Miniſter.

4. To ſhew freſh ſignes of favour, after ſome judgements for ſins. Pſal. 61. 20. Thou wilt return. Pſal. 40. 13. Joel 2. 14. Who knoweth if God will return? Thus God returneth to us.

5. To take poſſeſſion of, Lev. 25. 28.

6. To depart away, 1 Sam. 29. 4. Luk. 23. 48.

7. To die, Gen. 3. 19. Pſal. 104. 29. Act. 13. 34.

8. To relate, Exod. 19. 8.

9. To yeeld to others, Jer. 15. 9.

10. To iterate, Prov. 26. 11. marg.

Reu] His ſhepherd, a companion, a friend; evill, or a breaking aſunder. The Son of Peleg, Gen. 11. 18. called Rehu, in 1 Chr. 1. 25.

Reuben] Seeing his Son, the viſion of his Son, or the Son of viſion. The Son of Jacob by Leah, Gen. 29. 32. Of him came the Families of the Reubenites, Numb. 26. 7. who in Judg. 5. 15, 16. are tearmed Reuben, For the diviſions of Reuben, &c.

To reveal] To make us underſtand any part of divine truth, which we knew not before. Phil. 3. 15. God ſhall reveal the ſame unto them.

2. To open a ſecret committed to us. Prov. 20. 19. Revealeth or diſcovereth ſecrets.

3. To propound and hold forth a thing to be ſeen and looked upon clearly and manifeſtly. Thus is righteouſneſſe and ſalvation revealed in the Goſpel. Rom. 1. 17. Thereby is revealed the righteouſneſſe of God. Hereby is diſcerned and ſevered the Goſpel from Philoſophy, which teacheth things known by nature, or comprehenſible by reaſon: Alſo, from the Law and Books of Moſes, which taught this righteouſneſſe darkly and afar off, in ſhews and ſhadows, not plainly, as the Goſpel doth: which ſo manifeſteth this righteouſneſſe, as it giveth and exhibiteth it to the beleevers, to whom it is ſo made known by the Goſpel, as it is hid from ſuch as periſh, 2 Cor. 4. 3.

Two wayes is the Juſtice of God revealed by the Goſpel.

1. Becauſe it effectually teacheth, that that righteouſneſſe whereby the ſinner is made able to ſtand before the judgement of the moſt righteous God, is not a performance and obſervance of the Law, of Works, of Ceremonies, but a free acceptation of a ſinner to mercy, and an imputation of righteouſneſſe through Chriſt his merit.

2. Becauſe it ſheweth the way and mean how this righteouſneſſe is obtained, to wit, onely by faith.

4. To witneſſe by examples, and by experiment or daily proof to declare. Rom. 1. 18. Wrath revealed from heaven. For although Gods vengeance againſt ſinners be manifeſted ſundry wayes; as by naturall light accuſing, Rom. 2. By the Law ſhewing and working wrath, Rom. 4. By the Goſpel, which hath a comminatory voyce (Joh. 3. laſt) againſt unbeleevers, as well as a conſolatory unto beleevers: yet here is meant the ſhewing of Gods wrath by daily experience, as the ſtories of thoſe times when Paul wrote, and the reſt of this Chapter plainly and cleerly convince it.

5. To open the ear, 2 Sam. 7. 27. marg. It's all one with, To ſhew, open, bring to light, make known, &c.

Rebel] A ſhepherd of God, the friend of God, or the breaking aſunder of God. The Son of Eſau by Bathſhemath his Wife, Gen. 36. 4. The Father in law of Moſes, Exod. 2. 18. The Son of Ibnijah, 1 Chr. 9. 8.

Revelation] An uncovering or opening ſomething that is hid, and ſecret. Rev. 1. The Revelation of John the Divine; that is, which was ſhewed to him. How do ſome teach, that this book is ſo hard that it cannot be underſtood? if the holy Spirit have entituled it the Revelation, that is, a declaration, or a thing revealed, immediately from Chriſt, as to Paul, Eph. 3. 3. or mediately by others, as to John by an Angel, Rev. 1. 1.

2. Manifeſtation or opening, Rom. 16. 25.

3. The gift of interpretation, 1 Cor. 14. 6. 26.

4. An extraordinary information, either by Gods immediate voyce, or by viſion or dream, or inward inſpiration, Gal. 1. 12. & 2. 2. Eph. 3. 3.

5. An ordinary teaching by the Spirit in the preaching of the Word, Eph. 1. 17.

6. Appearing, Tit. 1. 13. 1 Pet. 1. 13.

The day of revelation] A time of declaration appointed in Gods counſell, for the manifeſting of dark things, which be hid and kept cloſe, Rom. 2. 5.

The revelation of Jeſus Chriſt] That propheſie which Jeſus Chriſt hath opened unto us out of the boſome of the Father, by the miniſtery of the Angels. Rev. 1. 1. The revelation of Jeſus Chriſt.

2. His declaring himſelf unto us to be our Redeemer by his Word and Spirit, even in this life. 1 Pet. 1. 13. Truſt perfectly in the grace brought you in the revelation of Jeſus Chriſt. This is ordinary, as here; or extraordinary, as Gal. 1. 12.

3. The glorious appearing of Jeſus Chriſt at the laſt day, 1 Pet. 1. 13. Tit. 2. 13.

To be revealed] Not now by ſtealth, under hand, and in ſecret, as at firſt, but openly to ſhew himſelf in his Doctrine and Government, to be that adverſary of God, even that ſingular Antichriſt, 2 Theſſ. 2. 8.

To reveal Chriſt in us] To open the eyes of our minde by the Spirit, that we may ſee him to be the onely Saviour, and to be our Saviour. Gal. 1. 15. It pleaſed God to reveal his Son in me.

Revellings] Gal. 5. 21. 1 Pet. 4. 3. Luxurious feaſting and banqueting, wherein men take take liberty unto all lascivious and riotous behaviour; so called, as some think, because such feasting and riotous feeding breeds κῶμα (the word by which revelling is expressed is κῶμος) heavy sleep, that men are even buried in sleep caused by good cheer. It signifieth Excesse of belly-cheer in riotous feasts. And because in such feasting oftentimes there is musick, the Syrian Translator (it may be) rendred it in Rom. 13. 13. not in musick, meaning, vain and filthy Songs, and petulant behaviour, for κωμάζειν signifieth, to sing basely at the cup. From hence the Heathen called their god of wantonnesse and revelling κῶμος, and hereby were signified those pastimes that they used in their festivities as Saturnalia, in honour of their heathen gods, like to which be our Whitson-Ales, Mummings, &c. This was likewise that abominable Idol of Moab, Chemosh, so called from some filthy behaviour used or seen in the worship of that Idol. Leigh. Crit. Sac. in the word κῶμος.

To revenge, or avenge] To punish sin, commonly with some judgements like and proportionable to the sin it self. Psa. 94. 1. Revenge thy selfe O God; or, O God the Avenger. God revengeth either immediately from himself, or by means of Magistrates, Angels, men, or other creatures, Rom. 13. 4.

2. To requite an injury done us, out of some hate against our person. Rom. 12. 19. Revenge not your selves; that is, Recompense not evill for evill, Rom. 12. 17. See Ezek. 25. 12, 15.

Revenue] Or, strength, Ezr. 4. 13. marg. Increase, Prov. 8. 19. Rents or profit, Prov. 15. 9. All kind of encrease of grain fruits, and the like, Isa. 23. 13. The little good which cometh of all their labours, Jerem. 12. 13.

Reverence] An holy fear of the heart towards God, witnessed by all seemly behaviour, gesture, attire, countenance, attention, and such like. Psal. 2. 11. Serve the Lord with reverence. Mal. 1. 8. Heb. 12. 28. That we may please him with reverence.

2. All comely behaviour towards men, which is meet for their gifts and places. As Solomon did reverence to Bathsheba his Mother: Abraham to the Rulers of Sichem. Matth. 21. 37. They will reverence my Son. Gen. 33. 7. They drew neer, and did reverence. Heb. 13. 9. And we gave them reverence.

Reverse] To turn it away; or after the Chaldee, Turn my blessing from them, Num. 23. 20. To revoke, abrogate, put away, Est. 8. 5.

Revile] To curse, ban, or blaspheme, to speak evill or dishonorably, Exod. 22. 28. Spitefully to taunt, Isa. 51. 7. To reproach, and miscall, Mat. 5. 11. To raile, 1 Cor. 4. 12.

Revive] To become lively, or stirred up, Gen. 45. 27. To become strong and vigorous, Judg. 15. 19. To live again, or to have life restored, 1 King. 17. 22. To put life into that which was dead, Nehem. 4. 2. To restore unto ones former happy condition, Psal. 85. 6. To keep alive, Ps. 138. 7. To quicken, to make to live, Isa. 57. 15. To preserve, Hab. 3. 2. marg.

To revive] is properly to stir up fire which is buryed under ashes, which word Paul useth figuratively for stirring up the gift of God, 2 Tim. 1. 6. It also signifieth strengthening the heart, being weak and wavering through doubt and unbeleef, Gen. 45. 27.

Reumah] High, or elevated, the Concubine of Nahor, Gen. 22. 24.

Revolt] To rebell, against man, 2 King. 8. 20, 22. 2 Chr. 21. 10. against God, Isa. 1. 5. & 31. 6.

Reward] A just recompense given unto labourers at the end of their work, as the labourers. Matth. 20. 8. Received their wages in the even.

2. A free recompense, given of mercy unto the godly after all their labours and travels in the service of God (as labourers use to be rewarded at the end of the day, when their work is done) Matth. 6. 6. Shall reward thee openly. Matth. 10. 41. This is far from Popish merit and deserving, by worthinesse of the work done. We teach reward by favour from God, not by desert of our owne work. That which Christ in Matth. 6. 1. calls reward, in Luk. 6. 32. is called in the Greek Charis, that is, Grace, which we translate Thanks.

3. An evill done of ones owne accord, Gen. 50. 15.

4. A free gift, 1 King. 13. 7. tearmed, a free, Dan. 2. 6. marg. & Dan. 5. 17. marg.

5. Gifts of bribery, Deut. 16. 17. Psal. 15. 5.

6. The end and punishment, Psal. 91. 8. Luk. 23. 41.

7. A good end and issue, Prov. 24. 14.

8. That which is desired, Mat. 6. 2.

To reward bounteously] From God to his people, a plentifull giving of good things in stead of the evill which they deserve, as Psalme 116. 7. & 119. 17. & 142. 8. & 103. 2, 16. also, 13. 6. But from men to men it signifies recompensing evill for good, as Pſal. 7. 5. Or evill for evill, Pſal. 137. 8.

Reward is named of a word in Hebrew [Ghnekeb] which ſignifieth the heel or foot ſtool, and figuratively is uſed for the end of a thing (as head for the beginning, Pſal. 119. 160.) and ſo for the ſucceſſe, event, and recompenſe that followeth thereupon, Pſal. 12. 19. Prov. 23. 18.

Note. Reward is the end of the work, and is given when the work is ended.

Reward of the inheritance] The heavenly inheritance given in ſtead of a reward, not of debt but of favour: for an inheritance belongs to Sons; and is due by grace of adoption, not by merit of work. Col. 3. 24. See Rom 8. 17. Matt. 25. 34. A Metaphor; for as a reward is given after the labour is ended (whence reward is in Hebrew ſignified by two words, whereof one importeth an heel, the other an extremity or end) ſo after our labour in the Lord is finiſhed, heavenly happineſſe is beſtowed on the Sons of God. Peter in Epiſt. 1. ch. 1. 9. uſeth (Telos, or end) in the ſame ſenſe.

To reward, according to works] That God will reward him in whom he ſhall finde the undoubted ſigne and mark of the perfect righteouſneſſe which he hath by faith in Chriſt, Mar. 16. 27. for this word [according] is a note of order, and of the manner of being, rather then of the cauſe thereof.

Rezeph] A pavement, a ſtretching out, a burning coal, or a fiery ſtone. A City, 2 King. 19. 12. The Son of Ephraim, 1 Chr. 7. 25.

Reziah] The Son of Ulla, 1 Chr. 7. 39.

Rezin] Affection, a runner, or Poſt-meſſenger. A King of Syria, 2 King. 15. 37. See Ezr. 2. 48.

Rezon] Small, lean, ſecret; a Secretary, or a Prince. The Son of Eliadah, 1 King. 11. 23.

R H.

Rhegium] A breaking. A City, Act. 28. 13.

Rhesa] Affection, a meeting; or a head. The Son of Zorobabel, Luk. 3. 27.

Rhoda] A roſe. A maid, Act. 12. 13.

Rhodes] The ſame. An Iſle (now in poſſeſſion of the Turks) Act. 21. 1.

R I.

Rib] Womans originall, Gen. 2. 21. not a bare bone, but a rib with fleſh on it. Whether Adam had one more for this purpoſe, or a new rib put in its place, or the fleſh ſo hardened that a new one was needleſſe, is both uncertain, and the knowledge thereof unneceſſary. Womans originall was not ſo high as the head, nor ſo low as the foot, becauſe ſhe was neither to be her Husbands Miſtreſſe, nor his Slave, but betwixt both; and it was neer unto the heart, that his authority might reliſh more of loving reſpect, then of rigorous power, and that her obſervance of him might be rather heartily then grudgingly performed. Annot.

Ribband] Numb. 15. 38. or a thred, or lace.

Ribai] Strife, encreaſed, chiding, or multiplying. The Father of Ittai, 2 Sam. 23. 29.

Riblah] A ſcolding, greatneſſe to him, chiding confirmed, or chiding flowing downward. A City of Syria, 2 King. 23. 33. & 25. 6, 20, 21.

Rich] One that aboundeth in earthly bleſſings. 1 Tim. 6. 17. Warn them that be rich, &c.

2. One that aboundeth in ſpiritual good things. 1 Cor. 1. 5. Ye are rich, &c. Eccleſ. 10. 6. The rich ſate in the low place. That is, men ſtored with all kinde of wiſdome: and [poor] for him which is voyd of wiſdome, Prov. 26. 13.

3. Such as by their riches are puſt up, and preſume too much upon themſelves, that they have good ſtore of goodneſſe and grace, when they have little or none at all. Rev. 3. 17. I am rich. Luk. 1. 53. He ſendeth the rich empty away. Alſo proud tyrants, Jam. 2. 6.

4. Such as put their truſt in their owne goods. Matt. 19. 24. Luk. 6. 24. Then for a rich man to enter into heaven.

5. The exceeding great force or plenty of any thing, as in the examples following.

Of temporall rich men:

1. Some are rich in opinion and not in deed, Eccl. Some man maketh himſelf rich when he is poor.

2. Some are poor in opinion, but rich in deed.

3. All are rich and poor comparatively, or reſpectively, and ſo no man is rich in compariſon of a richer, nor poor in reſpect of a poorer perſon.

4. Some have enough, 1 To ſatisfie themſelves, and for outward neceſſities. 2 For inward deſire. 3 To help others, and theſe are rich indeed even temporally.

Again, men are rich in temporalities two wayes:

1. Jure Dominii, by the right which God hath hath in the world, and they in God, Rom. 4. 13. or Jure poli, the right of godlineſſe.

2. Jure Dominii, jure fori, vel jure civili, by the way of poſſeſſion, inheritance, giſt, purchaſe, labour, &c. Vid. Conc. Dr. Hall in 1 Tim. 6. 17.

6. Men of worth, Eccl. 10. 6. And the rich ſit in low places. And Curſe not the rich in thy bed-chamber, Ib. 20.

To the rich in his deaths] Chriſt by the wicked Jews expoſed and given up to Pontius Pilate, upon this condition, that if any fault were in killing him, his blood ſhould be required of them and their children: therefore is it [deaths, not death] in the originall text, Iſa. 53. 9. Matth. 27. 25. The people (viz. the Jews) expoſed his grave to the wicked, (viz. the Gentiles) and to the rich upon their deaths. Thus Junius reads and expoundeth it.

Rich in faith] Such as have a great meaſure and portion of faith, by which they are made partakers of Chriſt his riches. Jam. 2. 5. That they ſhould be rich in faith.

The godly are not choſen being then at their election rich in faith, or becauſe God did foreſee that they would beleeve: for as love followeth faith in order of cauſes, ſo faith is an effect of Gods eternall election, whereupon, as the foundation, depends both faith, and the right of inheritance, and all graces of the Spirit. See Rom. 8. 30. & Eph. 1. 4. 1 Pet. 1. 2. 2 Theſſ. 2. 13.

Rich in God] One that wholly reſteth upon Gods goodneſſe, being plentifully furniſhed with faith, hope, love, fear, and other graces. Luk. 12. 21. So it is with every one who is rich to himſelf, and not rich to God; that is, in reſpect of God.

Rich grace, and rich mercy] Moſt abundant or plentifull grace and mercy. Eph. 2. 4. According to his rich grace. Eph. 1. 7.

Rich to himſelf] One that dependeth not upon Gods providence, but upon his owne wiſdome and wealth, caring for, and ſtoring onely ſuch things as belong to this life, Luk. 12. 21.

Rich in knowledge] Such as have a great meaſure of underſtanding in Heavenly things. 1 Cor. 1. 5. Ye are rich in all knowledge.

Rich in this world] Such as abound in things appertaining to this life. 1 Tim. 6. 16. Charge them that be rich in this world.

Rich in good works] Such as be full of good works, abundantly doing good to others. 1 Tim. 6. 18. And be rich in good works.

Riches] Store of worldly goods heaped together. Luk. 12. 15. Mans life is not in his riches. 1 Tim. 6. 17. Truſt not in thy riches.

2. The merits and graces of Chriſt. Eph. 3. 8. That I ſhould preach the unſearchable riches of Chriſt.

3. The knowledge of the Goſpel unto life eternall, Rom. 11. 12.

4. Strength, Prov. 27. 24. marg.

Riches of Gods bounty] A plentiful large abundance of his bounty and goodneſſe. Rom. 2. 4. Doſt thou deſpiſe the riches of his bounty?

Riches of iniquity] Worldly goods, kept or ſpent and uſed wickedly. Luk. 16. 9. Make you friends with the riches of iniquity.

Note. They are called unjuſt or evil riches, not becauſe they were unjuſtly gotten, (for then Chriſt would have commanded them to be reſtored) but becauſe they be ordinarily enticements to iniquity.

Riches of the world] The plentifull converſion of the Gentiles by the preaching of the Apoſtles; together with the manifold graces of the Spirit, whereby they were inriched to God-ward. Rom. 11. 12. If the fall of them be the riches of the world.

Uncertain riches] Unſtable, fleeting, and inconſtant riches, 1 Tim. 6. 17.

Unſearchable riches] The moſt precious benefits of Jeſus Chriſt, the worthineſſe and depths whereof, no humane wit can finde out. Eph. 3. 8. Unſearchable riches of Chriſt.

Rid] 1. To deliver, Gen. 37. 22. Exod. 6. v. 6.

2. To deſtroy, or cauſe to ceaſe, Lev. 26. 6.

3. To releaſe, Pſal. 144. 7, 11.

Riddance] Zeph. 1. 18. A full finiſhing or ending, utter deſtruction.

Riddle] Some dark and hidden ſaying or queſtion, not eaſie to be underſtood of us without an interpretation. Judg. 14. 12. I will put forth a Riddle unto you. See Parable.

Ride] 1. To ſit as one riding, 2 Sam. 16. 2.

2. To conquer and triumph, Deut. 32. 13. Iſa. 58. 14. Pſal. 45. 4. & 66. 12.

3. To be of honourable eſteem, Hoſ. 10. 11.

This is ſpoken of God, for ſpeedy coming to help, Deut. 33. 26. Pſal. 68. 34. Or, to ſet upon an enemy, Iſa. 19. 1.

Alſo of Man, riding on a charet, Gen. 41. 43. an Aſſe, Judg. 5. 10. a Mule,

1 King. 1. 44. a Horſe, Jer. 6. 23. Amos 2. 15.

To ride upon ſwift clouds] To ſet upon the Ægyptians ſuddenly and ſpeedily, with terrour to them. Which ſeemeth to have relation to the manner of that Countrey of Ægypt, where there were but few clouds or rain ſeen (their Land being watered with the overflowing of Nilus) ſo as it was reckoned ominous, and cauſe of fear to ſee a cloud, Iſa. 19. 1. Pſal. 18. 10, 11, &c.

Ridge] The Land which lyeth between two furrowes, whereon the corn groweth, Pſal. 65. 10.

Rifle] To rob, ſpoyl, ranſack, Zech. 14. 2.

Right] Either that which is not wrong, but juſt; or that which is not crooked, but ſtraight; like a way which leadeth right on without turning; ſo is the Word of God, therefore a plain and eaſie way, Pſal. 19. 8. Prov. 8. 8, 9. Ib. 82. 3.

It's applyed to Way, Gen. 24. 48. Matter, 2 Sam. 15. 3. Pillar, 1 King. 7. 21. Heart, 2 King. 10. 15. Corner, Ib. 11. 11. Things, Ibid. 17. 9. Judgements, Neh. 9. 13. Words, Job 6. 25. Statutes, Pſal. 19. 8. Scepter, Pſal. 45. 6. Spirit, Pſal. 51. 10. Precepts, Pſal. 119. 128. Paths, Prov. 4. 11. Thoughts, Prov. 12. 5. Work, Prov. 20. 11. Anſwer, Prov. 24. 26. Seed, Jer. 2. 21. Force, Jer. 23. 10. Minde, Mar. 5. 15.

Right, Deut. 21. 17. Heb. judgement; which may be underſtood in reſpect of the Judgement or Law of the Lord. Aynſworth.

Right hand] Taken properly, Gen. 48. 13. Figuratively, as it's ſpoken I. of God, ſignifying,

1. The place of honour, delights, joyes, Pſal. 16. 11.

2. The full exaltation of dignity, honor, glory, in authority and government, Pſal. 110. 1. Mat. 26. 64.

3. Strength and power, Pſal. 17. 7. & 20. 6. & 45. 4.

4. Gods Word with power, Iſa. 48. 13.

5. God himſelf, Iſa. 62. 8.

6. Preſent aid and aſſiſtance, Pſal. 74. 11. Lam. 2. 3.

II. Of Man; ſignifying his beſt endevours, Pſal. 16. 8. & 109. 10. and that which may be moſt uſefull for gain, Mat. 5. 30.

Righteous] One that giveth to every one that which is his owne.

2. One juſt, perfectly, and infinitely of himſelf, and in himſelf; doing alwayes that which is righteous unto others. Pſal. 11. 7. The righteous God loveth righteouſneſſe. And, Dan. 9. 7.

2. Equall, rightfull. Thus the Judgements and Laws of God, are called righteous. Pſal. 119. 7. Thy righteous judgements. Deut. 4. 8. Laws ſo righteous.

3. One accounted righteous by imputation of Chriſts righteouſneſſe unto him. Pſa. 32. 11. Be glad ye righteous.

4. One that performeth juſt and righteous works in his owne perſon, though unperfectly. 1 Joh. 3. 7. He that doth righteouſneſſe is righteous. Gen. 7. 1. For thee have I ſeen righteous before me. Luk. 1. 6.

5. One that is juſt in his owne opinion, an hypocrite, who thinks himſelfe juſt. Matt. 9. 13. Chriſt came not to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

6. One that is leſſe faulty and blame-worthy then another. Gen. 38. 26. She is more righteous then I.

7. One which ſuffereth injury without any cauſe given on his part, 2 Sam. 4. 11. See Exod. 1. 13.

Note. Not onely he is righteous, that never did ſin, but he alſo who endevoureth not to ſin, and repenteth it being done; and doth, and endevoureth to do things not to be repented of. Whoſe righteouſneſſe is not onely privative, but poſitive alſo, (i.) and not onely ceaſeth to do evill, but ceaſeth not to do good alſo; in whom grace is predominant over ſin, and ſo Righteouſneſſe giveth him the denomination, as being more in him then ſin. Having as well the infuſed righteouſneſſe of Chriſts Spirit in him, as the imputed, Ezek. 18. 5. Iſa. 1. 16, 17. Rom. 8. 12. 1 Joh. 3. 7.

It's put alſo for Righteouſneſſe, Pſal. 119. 138. marg.

A righteous Nation] Either the Family, or Kingdome of Abimelech to be innocent in that cauſe, Gen. 20. 6, 9, 17.

Righteouſneſſe] The Divine eſſence, or God himſelf, who is righteouſneſſe it ſelfe; and the Authour of all righteouſneſſe in others. Jerem. 23. 6. Jehovah our righteouſneſſe.

2. Our whole Juſtification, which is our deliverance from guilt and puniſhment of all ſin; and our being accounted righteous, by the righteouſneſſe of Chriſt imputed to us. 1 Cor. 1. 30. Chriſt is made unto us righteouſneſſe.

There is a glorifying righteouſneſs of men in the world to come, and it is both perfect and inherent. In this life there is a juſtifying righteouſneſſe, which is not had but by faith, faith, (such as Abraham had:) it is perfect, but not inherent in us; it sticketh in Christs manhood (as the subject) and is ours by imputation, Rom. 4. 4, 5, 6, 7, &c. Lastly, there is a righteousnesse of sanctification, or sanctifying righteousnesse in this world also, which cannot be had, except we work (as Abraham did:) this is inherent, but not perfect, growing daily by degrees unto perfection, Jam. 2. 21, 22. More briefly thus; there is a righteousnesse in heaven, both perfect and inherent: a righteousnesse on earth, either perfect, but not inherent, which is Justification; or inherent, but not perfect, which is Sanctification.

3. The fidelity or truth of God, in keeping his promise. Psal. 4. 1. O God of my righteousnesse, & 15. 14. My tongue shall sing of thy righteousnesse. 2 Pet. 1. 1. Isa. 45. 19. Ps. 36. 7. 1 Joh. 9.

4. The benefits and protections of God, which declare him to be righteous and just of his Word Psal. 24. 5. He shall receive righteousnesse from the God of his salvation. Here it may signifie the reward and fruit of righteousnesse, even eternall life in heaven. Also the mercy, goodnesse, grace, and clemency of God, pardoning of sins, justifying, regenerating, saving, and procuring other benefits as effects of his mercy, Psal. 31. 2. & 71. 35. 24. 1 Sam. 7. 12.

5. The perfect conformity of Christ his humane nature and life unto the will of his Father, which is called the righteousnesse of Christ, because it was in him as the proper subject: and the righteousnesse of Faith, because faith is the onely instrument to apprehend and receive it: and the righteousnesse of God, because onely it can satisfie and answer the rigour of Gods righteous Law. Rom. 3. 21, 22. The righteousnesse of God is manifest without the Law, and it is our Justification before God.

6. The thorough conformity and agreement (in some part and measure) of our will and actions, unto the whole just Law of God. Rom. 6. 18, 19. Being free from sin, ye are made the servants of righteousnesse, &c.

7. That just and upright dealing which is between man and man. Luk. 1. 75. To serve God in righteousnesse and true holinesse. And in all places where the word righteousnesse is joyned with holinesse and godlinesse. Also, it signifies Almesdeeds, a chief part of righteousnesse, as Isa. 58. 8. Dan. 4. 24. 2 Cor. 9. 9.

8. Righteousnesse of Works and Faith, Rom. 9. 30. They followed not righteousnesse, yet attained righteousnesse; that is, the blind Ethnicks and Gentiles were far from seeking or once desiring the righteousnesse of works, for their life was ungodly and unrighteous, as Paul chargeth them, Rom. 1 20, 21, &c. Yea, and that in an high degree, as he accused them, Rom. 1. 25, 26, &c. Even so extremely evill and lewd were they, as to patronize and favour evill doers, Rom. 1. 32. against the light of conscience; and yet like hypocrites affected praise of honesty by condemning others for such faults as they were guilty of, Rom. 2. 1. Nevertheless, these unjust and wicked Gentiles, that lacked the righteousnesse of Moses Law, which stands in working, they did get a righteousnesse before God, by believing in Jesus Christ, who was made Justice to them of God his Father, accounting his justice theirs by faith.

9. The just and right distribution of punishment and rewards, by publick Governours, also by God himself, Rom. 1. 23. 2 Thess. 1. 5. Psal. 72. 2. Then shall he judge thy people with righteousnesse. Act. 17. 31. He will judge the world with righteousnesse; that is, most righteously punishing the wicked, and rewarding the godly.

10. All righteous persons, 2 Pet. 3. 13. and all righteous or lawfull Ordinances, Matt. 3. 15.

11. The manifestation of our righteousnesse, Deut. 6. 25.

12. Any thing within or without man, that may be liked of, or commended, Deut. 9. 4, 5.

13. A work of mercy, and almesdeeds, Deut. 24. 13. Isa. 58. 8.

14. Harmless and innocent dealing, 1 Sam. 26. 33.

15. The State of a Common-wealth rightly constituted, Isa. 48. 18.

16. The equity of his cause, 1 King. 8. 32.

17. Just dealing, Job 27. 6. and a just action, Psal. 106. 31.

18. All duties of the second Table, Luk. 1. 75. Eph. 4. 24.

19. That which is opposite to all sinfull courses, 1 Cor. 15. 34.

20. Christ, or doctrine of the Gospel, teaching righteousnesse by Christ, Heb. 5. 13.

21. Eternall life, Gal. 4. 5.

There's a Civill, a Legall, and an Evangelicall righteousnesse. This last being inherent in Christ through Impuration, becometh ours, and manifesteth its fruit in our Sanctification.

Breast-plate of righteousnesse] Not a righteous breast-plate, as if it were an Hebraisme, but a breast-plate which is righteousnesse, by apposition. Eph. 6. 14. Having on the breast-plate of righteousnesse; that is to say, the study and indevour of keeping a good conscience, and of leading an holy life, which is to the soul of a righteous man, as a strong breast-plate is unto the body of a Souldier, to keep off blowes.

In which righteousnesse dwels] That in the world restored at the judgement of the quick and dead, shall be place for righteousnesse onely, whereas now it is full of iniquity of all sorts. 2 Pet. 3. 13. New heavens, and new earth, in which dwelleth righteousnesse. This some understand of the righteousnesse of Christ, according to that in Phil. 3. 9. Others of righteous persons, whereof the new heaven and earth shall be a palace for habitation, it being heaven whersoever Christ shall be; and the Saints must follow the Lamb whersoever he goeth.

Hope of righteousnesse] Eternall life by the promise of God offered to the righteous, and given onely to such as be justified by faith. Gal. 5. 5. Wait for the hope of righteousnesse. Here is a double Metonymie: first of the adjunct, hope being put for the thing hoped for; as Rom. 8. 24. Secondly, of the efficient cause; for hope as an effect springeth out of the righteousnesse of faith, as the cause, which is here tearmed the hope of righteousnesse.

Righteousnesse of faith. 1. True sanctification in us, and of us by the Spirit of Christ, Rom. 10. 6.

2. True satisfaction for us to God, by imputation of Christs merits to us, Rom. 1. 17. both of them to be beleeved by us, and by beleef to be received into us, and therefore is said to be of faith, Rom. 10. 6.

Justice or righteousnesse of God] The perfect fulfilling of the Law by Christ, which is every ones righteousnesse that doth beleeve, even to the full satisfying of Gods strict justice, Rom. 10. 3, 4.

Righteousnesse of the Law] That perfect uprightnesse in nature and actions, which is commanded in the Law of Moses; and was at first written in mans heart by the Law of Nature. Rom. 8. 4. That righteousnesse.

To learn righteousnesse] To profit in true righteousnesse and holinesse, by means of Gods chastisements. Isa. 26. 9, 10. The people will learn righteousnesse, when thy judgements are in the earth. Chastisements are as a bitter root which bring forth in the godly through the working of the holy Ghost) most sweet fruit of a just life. See Heb. 12. 11. as in Manasses, David, Psal. 116.

Sun of righteousnesse] Christ Jesus the Saviour of his Church, justifying and absolving the elect from their unrighteousnesse when they first beleeve in him; and executing the justice of God upon the wicked, which refuse and contemne him whom the Father sent. Mal. 4. 2. The Sun of righteousnesse shall arise. See vers. 1.

Right hand of God] The infinite strength and power whereby God works all things effectually, Psal. 118 16. The right hand of the Lord hath brought many things to passe.

2. Help and succour proceeding from his power. Rev. 1. 17. He laid his right hand upon me, and said, Fear not. Psal. 138 7. & 139. 10.

3. The high and exceeding great glory of God the Father, Ps. 110. 1. Sit on my right hand; that is, in heavenly glory fully manifested. So in Act. 2. 34. Matt. 26. 64. Act. 7. 56. Heb. 1. 3. Eph. 1. 20.

4. Everlasting joy and blisse in the life to come. Mat. 25. 33. He shall set the sheep on his right hand.

Right and left hand of Christ] The highest and greatest worldly preferment, which Christ as King can give to his chief favourites and servants. Matt. 20. 21. Grant that these my Sons may sit one at thy right hand, &c. The woman that made this request, did think Christ to be an earthly King; and therefore desired for her Sons (not a tyrannical government, which had been unnaturall for her to ask, unfit for Christ to give, and unprofitable for her Sons to receive) but the highest lawfull dignities under Christ: such as Joseph had under Pharaoh in Ægypt, and Daniel under Darius in Babylon. It is a fault in the Rhemists, who think Heathenish tyranny forbidden here, which the other Apostles would have pityed, not disdained, Mar. 10. 41.

2. The chiefest glory and blisse in the Kingdome of heaven. Matt. 20. 23. To sit on my right hand, and on my left, shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father. These words teach plainly two things:

1. That there shall be differences and degrees of glory in heaven.

2. That they are prepared and appointed of God in his eternall purpose.

3. Throughly, at all hands, or on every side,

Rigour] Exod. 1. 13, 14. or fierceneſſe, force, hardneſſe, cruelty. The Iſraelites were not to rule over their ſervants with rigour, as the Ægyptians ruled over them, Levit. 25. 43.

The Hebrews deſcribe it thus. What is rigorous ſervice? It is ſervice which is not determined, and ſervice whereof there is no need, but the Maſters purpoſe is to make him work, and onely that he ſhould not ceaſe, &c. But it extendeth further, even to all over-much labour above that which is meet, and they are able; as the Greek here tranſlateth, Thou ſhalt not rack him (or afflict, torment him) with labour, beating if their work be not done, Exod. 1. 14. & 5. 7, 8, 14. and threatning with hard words, &c. Eph. 9. 6. Aynſworth on Lev. 25. 42.

Rimmon] A Pomegranate-apple, or exalted. A City, Joſh. 15. 32. An Idol of the Syrians. It is derived from a root that implyeth exaltation, for they exalted their Idol into the room of a god, 2 King. 5. 18. A rock, Judg. 21. 13. The Father of Rechab and Baanah, 2 Sam. 4. 2.

Rimmon-parez] The name of a place or manſion, Numb. 33. 19, 20.

Ring] Some of braſſe, appointed for the uſe of the Altar of Burnt-offering, Exod. 27. 4. Some of gold for the Ark, Exod. 25. 12, 14, 15. for the Table of the Tabernacle, Ib. 26, 27. for the Breaſt-plate, Exod. 28. 23. and for the Altar to burn incenſe upon, Exo. 30. 4. Some of ſilver, whereunto Ahaſuerus his hangings were faſtened, Eſt. 1. 6. They were alſo uſed as an ornament unto the fingers, Jam. 2. 2. and were a ſigne of one of worth or authority, Gen. 41. 42. and to give them a ſigne of love, Luk. 15. 22. Herewith Ahaſuerus ſealed his Decrees, Eſt. 3. 10, 12. & 8. 2, 8.

King-leader] Πρωτοστάτης, a Military word. The Captain of the Vaunt-guard, or he that goes next before the Standard. He that leads on the reſt, Act. 24. 5.

King-ſtraked] Such of Labans ſheep as had ſpots on their legs, where ſheep are uſually bound, when they are led unto the ſlaughter, or to be ſhorn, Gen. 30. 35.

Rinnah] A ſong, or rejoycing. The Son of Simeon, 1 Chr. 4. 20.

Rinſe] To waſh, Lev. 15. 11.

Riot] Tit. 1. 6. 1 Pet. 4. 4. The word ἀσωτία ſignifieth two things.

1. Exceſſe in expences, oppoſite to Frugality: And,

2. Exceſſe in delights, (whether it be in meats, or drinks, or the like) oppoſite unto Temperance; and it ſignifieth theſe vices in an extremity. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Rip] To divide, or cleave aſunder, 2 Kin. 8. 12.

Ripe] Spoken of Grapes, Gen. 40. 10. Fruits, Exod. 22. 29. Figs, Jer. 24. 2. Harveſt, Joel 3. 13. Ripe or dryed, Rev. 14. 15. marg.

Riphath] Medicine, or releaſe. The Son of Gomer, Gen. 10. 3.

Riſe] To ſtand upright, Pſal. 20. 8. To go forth, Gen. 19. 23. marg. To be exalted, Prov. 28. 12. To ſhine, Mat. 5. 45. To ariſe, awake, Mat. 26. 46.

To riſe up againſt, Eccl. 10. 4. To be moved to diſpleaſure.

To riſe up before, Lev. 19. 32. To honour.

Riſſah] A ſprinkling upon, or the dropping of an houſe. A place, or manſion, Numb. 33. 21.

Rites] Statutes and Ordinances preſcribed, which the Greek tranſlate, the law thereof, Numb. 9. 3.

Rithmah] A juniper tree, a ſound, or noyſe. A manſion or place, Numb. 33. 18.

River] A brook, or courſe of water, iſſuing out of the Sea, or ſome great water.

2. The whole people of God, dwelling in Jeruſalem and Jury. Pſal. 46. 5. There is a river, whoſe ſtreams ſhall make glad the City of God.

3. The promiſes of the Word, whereof the faithfull drink to their full content and refreſhing. Pſal. 23. 3. He leadeth me by the pleaſant rivers, or ſtill waters.

4. Abundance, Job 26. 6 Plentiful, Pſa. 36. 8.

5. The clouds of heaven, Pſal. 65. 9.

6. Plentifulneſſe of grace, Joh. 7. 38.

7. Brook, Joſh. 17. 9. marg.

8. Valley, 2 Sam. 24. 5 marg.

9. Euphrates, 1 Chr. 19. 16. marg.

10. Bottome or dale, Ezek. 36. 4. marg.

River of God] Store and plenty of rain, ſent of God. Pſal. 65. 9. The river of God is full of water.

Rizpah] Stretched out. The Daughter of Ajah, and Concubine of Saul, 2 Sam. 3. 7. & 21. 8, 10, 11.

R O.

Roar] To make an hideous noyſe. Spoken of Waters, Pſal. 46. 3. The Sea, Pſal. 96. 11. Lions, Iſa. 5. 29. Bears, Iſa. 59. 11. Men, Pſal. 38. 8. Jer. 50. 42. The Lord, Jer.

Jer. 25. 30. Joel 3. 16. The devill, who is very terrible in his temptations and aſſaults, 1 Pet. 5. 8.

Roaring] 1. The fearfull voyce of a Lyon, Iſa. 31. 4.

2. The murmuring noyſe of the Sea waves, and great waters, Luk. 21. 25.

3. A vehement cry of one in torment, Job 3. 24. Pſal. 22. 1. & 32. 3.

To rob, or ſpoyl] To take ſomething from others by violence. Matt. 27. 44. Between two robbers. So it is in the original Greek text. Luk. 10. 30. They robbed him of his raiment.

2. To take ſomething from others which is theirs, by the conſent of the owners, at the appointment of God. Exod. 13. 22. Thou ſhalt rob or ſpoyl the Ægyptians.

Rob] Violently to oppreſſe and pluck by force, Lev. 19. 13. To devoure, Lev. 26. 22. To ſteal, 1 Sam. 23. 1. To take away from, deprive of, 2 Sam. 17. 8. To ſpoyle, 2 Cor. 11. 8.

Robber] 1. Such as violently taketh from others, Judg. 9. 25. A burgler, Ezek. 7. 22. marg.

2. An hunter, or fowler, Job 18. 9.

3. An ungodly, wicked, and unjuſt man, Job 12. 6. Jer. 7. 11.

Robbers of the people] Certain obſtinate contemners of God, from whoſe fear and obedience they were carried by the ſubtilty of Philopator, but were overthrown by Antiochus. Dan. 11. 14. The robbers of thy people.

Robbery] That which is unjuſtly come by, and ſo gotten from others, Iſa. 61. 8. Spoyl, Amos 3. 10. marg. Injuriouſly derogating from another, Phil. 2. 6.

Robe] Exod. 28. 31. in Hebrew Meeil; in Greek Hypodutes, that is, an under-clothing. It was a long garment worn next under the Ephod. Aynſworth.

Courtly ornaments, 1 Sam. 18. 4. & 24. 4. A linnen Ephod, 1 Chr. 15. 27. A coat or mantle, Job 29. 14. Virgins had peculiar robes, 2 Sam. 13. 18. Kings, 2 Chron. 18. 29. Princes, Ezek. 26. 16. The Scribes, Luk. 20. 46.

The beſt robe, Luk. 15. 22. The robe of Chriſts righteouſneſſe.

The robe of righteouſneſſe, Iſa. 61. 10. Chriſt who is our righteouſneſſe, Jer. 23. 6. 1 Cor. 1. 30. or, his righteouſneſſe to us, and made ours, Phil. 3. 9. Or inherent righteouſneſſe exerciſed, and diſcovering it ſelf in the lives of Gods people, Pſal. 132. 9. Epheſ. 6. 14. Rev. 19. 8. Or Gods beneficence and bounty, with the fruits of it, conferred upon his Church, his Spouſe, in a juſt, that is, in a full, ample, large, and liberall manner and meaſure, Luk. 6. 38. Annot.

Rock] A ſtrong defenced place of ſtone, ſerving for ſafety againſt enemies and dangers. 1 Sam. 14. 4. There was a ſharp rock on the one ſide. Alſo, a firm and ſafe eſtate, Pſal. 40. 3.

2. The mighty help and defence of God. Pſal. 18. 1. Thou art my rock; that is, ſuccour and defence. In common dangers men did fly unto rocks for ſafety.

3. Chriſt Jeſus, who is called a Rock in two reſpects.

1. Becauſe we have from him our ſoul-refreſhing; as water guſht out in the wilderneſſe, to refreſh the people being thirſty. 1 Cor. 10. 4. The rock that followed them was Chriſt.

2. Becauſe he alone ſtrongly ſuſtains and beareth up his Church, built upon him by faith, as a houſe upon a rock. Mat. 16. 18. Upon this rock will I build my Church. The Papiſts, which expound this not of Chriſt beleeved on, and confeſſed by Peter, but of the perſon of Peter, they deal reproachfully with Chriſt by lifting the creature and ſervant of Chriſt, into the room & place of his Creator and Lord. Alſo falſely with the text, which ſaith not [upon this Peter] but [upon this rock] that is, not upon thee Peter, but upon my ſelf (as Auguſtine expoundeth it.) Laſtly, they offer wrong, and deal injuriouſly with the Church, to build it upon ſo feeble, frail, and weak a rock as Peter, who failed more often then any of his fellow Apoſtles (Judas excepted.)

Add unto all this, that the gates of hell prevailed againſt the particular faith of Peter, and that there was a Church before Peter either was born, or did beleeve; and that ſundry Popes, (Peters Succeſſors, as Romaniſts ſay) were Apoſtates from the faith, and Atheiſts; therefore unfit to be the Head and Rock of the Church. Wherefore by the Rock muſt be meant, either Chriſt, or the generall Faith which Peter confeſſed, as the Scriptures, Fathers, Greek and Latine, yea and the Popiſh Writers, even Bellarmine and Baronius are forced to affirm. Finally, whereas there is no argument to be drawn from Metaphors and Allegories, except the Scriptures elſewhere ſpeak the ſame thing in plain words; and the Scriptures no where plainly writeth that Peter is Head of the Church, therefore it is not to be concluded from this Metaphor.

4. Such comfortable ſuccour as godly Princes

Princes do afford to good men, oppreſſed by the wicked. Iſa. 32. 2. As the ſhadow of a great rock in a weary Land.

5. Abraham and Sarah, of whom the Iſraelites were begotten and born. Iſa. 51. 1. Look to the rock whence you are hewn, &c. An allegory from a quarry of ſtones, very fitting to the argument of the Prophet, which is, to comfort the Church, being ſore afflicted and brought almoſt to nothing: for which purpoſe, the people ſo waſted are willed to look back upon their Parents and Progenitors, Abraham and Sarah, who in their old age and barrenneſſe did bring forth a Son by virtue of Gods promiſe. So the Church in their extreme diſtreſſe, ſhould feel the ſame virtue for their deliverance and ſafety. See verſ. 2, 3. thus expounding it.

6. Unfruitfull and ſtony hearted hearers, Luk. 8. 13.

7. A ſure and immoveable foundation, Mat. 7. 25.

8. A ſafe place, Numb. 24. 21.

9. A moſt barren and unfruitfull place, Job 29. 6. Pſal. 81. 16.

10. Flint, Job 28. 9. marg.

11. Strong place, Judg. 6. 26. marg.

How rocks repreſent Chriſt, the nature of ſin, Gods elect, rocky hearts, and ungodly men, with ſundry other things. See Rocks improved, by Mr. Prynne.

Upon this rock I will build my Church, Mat. 16. 18. For the underſtanding of this ſo much controverted place, ſee Cameron Myroth. Evang. where it is handled at large.

Rock of ages] A perpetuall never failing rock, Iſa. 26. 4.

Rod] A little twig or wand which was wont to be carryed before Princes and Rulers as a ſigne of their authority and dignity. This is a Civill rod.

2. Correction, diſcipline, puniſhment. 1 Cor. 4. 21. Shall I come to you with a rod? This is an Eccleſiaſticall rod.

3. Afflictions, wherewith God chaſteneth his Children for their amendment. Pſal. 89. 32. I will viſit their tranſgreſſions with a rod. Job 21. 9. This is a Divine rod, which is either for ruling or correcting, Ezek. 20. 37. Mich. 7. 14. Pſ. 89. 33. And for the rebellious God hath an iron rod, Pſal. 2. 9. Lam. 3. 1.

4. That which one is beaten with, Prov. 13. 24.

5. Power, Pſal. 2. 9.

6. The Preaching of the Word and Goſpel, Pſal. 110. 1, Iſa. 11. 4.

7. Government and authority, Pſa. 125. 3. Iſa. 14. 29.

8. The Kings of Aſſyria, Iſa. 10. 5, 15. and of Babylon, Lam. 3. 1.

9. A pearch or pole to meaſure with, Jer. 10. 16.

10. Junius tranſlates rod, tribus.

11. Kingly ſtate and dignity, Jer. 48. 17.

12. A Governour, Ezek. 19. 11, 14.

Rod of anger] The King of Aſſyria, whom God would uſe (as a Father a rod) in chaſtiſing his people, Iſa. 10. 5.

Rod and Staffe] Hard and cruell government, Iſa. 14. 5, 20.

Rod of Gods power] The preaching of the Word, whereby God is mighty and powerfull among his people. Pſal. 110. 2. Thou ſhalt ſend the Rod of thy power. See Scepter.

The Rod and Staffe of God] The direction of Gods Spirit and Word, leading and reſtraining us: or (as ſome think) the providence of God in his Word, corrections and deliverances. Pſal. 23. 4. Thy rod and thy ſtaffe comfort me.

Roe] is a ſwift beaſt, 1 Chron. 12. 8. often perſued by the Hunters, whom by its ſwiftneſſe it endevoureth to eſcape, Pro. 6. 5. Iſa. 13. 14. Hereunto is a Wife compared, Prov. 5. 19.

Roe-buck] Reckoned among the clean beaſts, Deut. 11. 15. Made uſe of by Solomon for his houſhold proviſion, 1 King. 4. 23. They ſee as well in the night as in the day. Being perſued by dogs, they hang on rocks, ready to fall, yet have no harm, whereby they deceive the dogs. When they are chaſed, they deſire to run againſt the wind, becauſe the coldneſſe of the air refreſheth them in their courſe, and therefore Hunters place their dogs with the wind. They are often taken by the counterfeiting of their voyce, which the Hunter doth by taking a leaf and hiſſing upon it. They are very fearfull.

Rogelim] A foot, foot-man, ſearching out, a ſearcher out, an accuſer; or after the Syrian, cuſtome. A City, 2 Sam. 17. 27.

Rohgah] Filled, drunken with talk, or filled with ſeparation. The Son of Shamer, 1 Chr. 7. 34.

Roll] 1. To take away, Gen. 29. 8. Mar. 16. 3.

2. To turn over and over a ſtone, Joſh. 10. 18. Prov. 26. 27.

3. To wrap round, Iſa. 34. 4.

4. To tumble, Mic. 1. 10. Jer. 51. 25.

I have rolled away the reproach of Ægypt, Joſh. 5. 9.

1. I have freed you from that ſhame and diſhonour which did lye upon you, whileſt you you were bound ſlaves in the Land of Ægypt.

2. The Ægyptians reproaches which they caſt upon the Iſraelites, whileſt they were in the Wilderneſſe, as if there they ſhould have been conſumed.

3. The wicked Religion of Ægypt, with which they were infected and corrupted by living and converſing with them.

4. The reproach which did lye upon the Ægyptians themſelves being out of the Covenant.

5. The reproach which the Iſraelites had contracted in Ægypt, when as living among them they imitated their evill manners, and were tainted with their ſuperſtitious and falſe worſhip. Annot.

6. Their deſire to return into Ægypt, Num. 14. 4. which occaſioned their parents to neglect circumciſion, which was a reproach unto them.

A rolling thing. Thiſtle-down, Iſa. 17. 13. marg.

Rolls] Chald. Books, Ezr. 6. 1. marg.

Romanti-ezer] Exalting aid, or I have exalted my palace. The Son of Heman, 1 Chr. 25. 4.

Romane] 1. One ſo by Nation, Act. 25. 16. & 28. 17. Joh. 11. 48.

2. One that had the priviledge of a Romane, and under the Law and protection of the Romanes, Act. 16. 21, 38. & 22. 25. & 23. 27.

Rome] Prevailing, mighty, ſtrong, exalted, or high. A City, Act. 2. 10. & 18. 2.

Roof] Or Rafter, or Beam, that is, Houſe made with rafters, a part being put for the whole. So the Greek hath, under the roof of my rafters, but the Chaldee ſaith, of my habitation, Gen. 19. 8. Aynſworth.

Their roofs were ſo made that they might walk thereon, Joſh. 2. 5. Judg. 17. 26. 2 Sam. 11. 2. having battlements about, for fear of falling, Deut. 22. 8. Hereon Idolaters burnt incenſe, Jer. 19. 13. & 32. 29.

This is alſo ſpoken of the Mouth, Job 29. 10. Pſal. 137. 6.

Room] 1. A place to be in, Gen. 24. 23.

2. In ſtead of, 2 Sam. 19. 13. 1 King. 2. 35.

3. Space to go in and out, Pſal. 31. 8.

4. A ſeat, Luk. 14. 8.

5. An office, Act. 24. 27.

6. A neſt, Gen. 6. 14. marg.

Root] That whereby hearbs and plants are firmly faſtened to the earth.

2. Stedfaſtneſſe, or conſtant and unmovable ſtableneſſe. Matt. 13. 6. Becauſe it had no root. Col. 2. 7. Rooted and built in Chriſt; that is, firmly ſetled and faſtened unto him by faith, as a tree by the roots.

3. The beginning and cauſe of a thing. 1 Tim. 6. 10. Deſire of money the root of evill.

4. Chriſt, Iſa. 11. 10. Alſo Parents, Iſa. 14. 30. Dan. 11. 7.

5. Strength, Iſa. 14. 30.

6. That which is left to ſprout forth, Iſa. 14. 29.

7. Some originall ſin or evill, as hereſie, or other miſchief, which as a root ſpreadeth forth, Heb. 12. 15.

8. The ſtock whence one cometh, Rev. 5. v. 5.

9. Proſperity, Iſa. 5. 24.

10. Remainder, 2 Chr. 7. 20.

11. Foundation, Job 28. 9.

Root and bud] Parents and children, old, young, firm and infirm among the people, with all the ornaments and adjuments publick and private, it ſhould all be overthrown without recovery, as a tree rotten at root, which cannot grow any more; ſo ſhould all Iſrael and Judah be in the day of the Lords wrath, Iſa. 5. 24. Their root ſhall be rottenneſſe, and bud ſhall be duſt, &c.

Root of bitterneſſe] Some hereſie, or grievous ſin, which (like a bitter root) bringeth forth bitter fruits of defilement in the Conſcience, and diſquiet to the Church. Heb. 12. 15. Let no root of bitterneſſe ſpring up.

Root and bloſſome] Either Parents as root, and Children as flowers; or all their proſperity and felicity to come to nothing. Iſa. 5. 24. Their root ſhall be rottenneſſe.

Root of Jeſſe] Chriſt Jeſus, who according to the fleſh came of David the Son of Jeſſe. Iſa. 11. 1. A graffe ſhall grow out of the root of Jeſſe.

To root out] To pluck up, Prov. 2. 22. marg.

Ropes] Uſed for binding, Judg. 16. 11. Drawing, 2 Sam. 17. 13. for ſhips and boats, Act. 27. 32.

The putting of ropes upon their heads, was to move compaſſion and procure pity, 1 King. 20. 31.

Roſe] The ſeverall kindes hereof, with their ſeverall uſes in phyſick, are known unto many every where. But of this in the Dictionary on the Canticles.

Roſh] A head, or top, or the beginning. The Son of Benjamin, Gen. 46. 21.

Roſt] The Paſchall Lamb was to be roſt with fire, Exod. 12. 8. ſignifying thereby the agony of Chriſt in the garden, and the wrath of of his Father, which he indured for our ſins. Ahab and Zedekiah two falſe Prophets were by the King of Babylon roſted in the fire, Jer. 29. 22.

Rot] To fall, Numb. 5. 21. marg. To be ſpoken of with diſdain and diſgrace, Prov. 10. 7. To conſume, Iſa. 40. 20.

Rottenneſſe] Incurableneſſe, Iſa. 5. 24. A worm, or that which cauſeth putrefaction and rottenneſſe, Hoſ. 5. 22.

Rough] Strong, Deut. 21. 4. Stiffe, or boiſterous, Iſa. 27. 8. Rugged with hils, clods, ſtones, or other eminencies, Iſa. 40. 4. Gliſtering, Jer. 51. 27. Chald. or with ſtings or prickles, according to the Latine. Of hair, Zech. 13. 4. marg.

Roughly] Hardly, 1 King. 12. 13. marg. See Gen. 42. 7.

Roul] Such materials then in uſe (correſpondent to thoſe now in uſe with us) which being fitted for writing, and written in, might be rolled up, and unrolled, as occaſion was to make uſe of it, Jer. 8. 1. The ſheets were either glewed or ſowed up ſheet after ſheet, the head of the ſheet following to the tail of the foregoing, as our long Inventories oft are, and ſo rolled up, the whole body of it, from the head of the firſt ſheet to the end of the laſt. See Annot. on Jer. 36. 2.

Round] Lev. 19. 27. Cut round, compaſſe, make a roundneſſe of the hair. Some take this to be a compaſſing the head with a garland, as was in uſe among them that celebrated the feaſts of Bacchus; or ſome ſingular cutting of one corner of the head round, in the manner of a circle, (as the Ægyptians (it may be) had their crownes ſhaven) or elſe in the manner of a half-moon; or of criſping or curling round the hair in ſome corners of the head, &c. Annot.

Round. Spoken of Manna, Exod. 16. 14. The molten Sea, 1 King. 7. 23. The laver, Ib. 31. The compaſſe in the top of the baſe, Ib. 35. The top of the throne, 1 Ki. 10. 19. A goblet, Cant. 7. 2.

Round about] To be compaſſed, Pſal. 88. 17.

Rouſe] To provoke. Gen. 49. 9. Who ſhall rouſe him up? His enemies ſhall ſo fear him, that they will not dare to rouſe or provoke him.

Row] An order or rank, Exod. 28. 17, 18, 19, 20. 1 King. 6. 36.

To row] Spoken of Mariners or Watermen, who with their oars force forward with violence their ſhips or boats, Mar. 6. 48. To dig, Jonah 1. 13. marg.

Royall prieſthood] Such as by Chriſt the High-prieſt and King of his Church, are made Kings and Prieſts unto God, 1 Pet. 2. 9. Rev. 1. 6. Exod. 19. 6.

Royall City, Joſh. 10. 2. City of the Kingdome, marg.

Seed royall, 2 King. 25. 25. Seed of the Kingdome, marg.

Royall wine, Eſt. 1. 7. Wine of the Kingdome, marg.

R V.

Rub] As the Diſciples did the ears of corn, Luk. 6. 1.

Rubbiſh] An heap of duſt, Neh. 4. 2, 10.

Rubies] A precious ſtone of a red colour, as appears, Lam. 4. 7. whoſe clear and vegetous redneſſe inclineth rather to the colour of blood, then of fire. Annot. Some render the word pearls, ſome carbuncles; and ſome other would have it corall. Ibid.

Rudder-bands] The Rudder is that piece of timber, which hanging at the Stern-poſt of the ſhip, is as a bridle to direct the courſe; this they had bound when they would drive (Act. 27. 15.) or let the ſhip go whither wind and tide would carry her; but now becauſe they would have it to direct the ſhip, that they might with the beſt advantage for their lives run her aſhore, they looſe it again. Annot. Act. 27. 40.

Ruddy] Of a freſh complexion, In the due mixture of white and red, 1 Sam. 16. 12. Spoken of Chriſt, Cant. 5. 10. Of the Nazarites, Lam. 4. 7.

Rude] ἰδιώτης, 2 Cor. 11. 6. (whence cometh our Engliſh word Idiot) plain, and ordinary, as who did apply himſelf to vulgar capacities. St. Paul lacked not that kind of eloquence, which was meet for an Apoſtle of Chriſt, and fit for the Goſpel, but he willingly wanted that painted kind of ſpeech, and affected ſtrains, which the falſe Apoſtles ſo much bragg'd of.

Rudiments] The firſt beginnings in any ſcience, which be firſt to be learned, Heb. 6. 1.

2. The Jewiſh Ceremonies and Rites, or any other externall humane obſervations, urged with an opinion of merit, neceſſity of ſalvation, and as parts of Gods ſervice. Galat. 4. 9. Weak and beggerly Rudiments. Col. 2. 8.

The whole Law of Moſes (eſpecially the Ceremoniall) hath the name of Elements or Rudiments given to it, becauſe it was like unto Rudiments, inſomuch as God intended and meant thereby to call the world to a more full knowledge of himſelf, as by beginnings and principles we are brought to more exact knowledge of Arts and Sciences. For the promiſes under the Law were very dark, covered with Ceremonies, (as with a veil or curtain drawn before them) ſhewing and pointing at Chriſt afar off. At a word, the whole diſcipline and government of Moſaicall Law, was very rude, agreeing to ſuch as were rude, until the time that the holy Spirit ſhould be poured out with full horn (as it were) upon the body of the Church, gathered of Jews and Gentiles, as was propheſied, Joel 2. 28, 29. and promiſed by Chriſt, Joh. 7. 39.

Moſaical or Legal Ceremonies are tearmed weak and beggerly, being conſidered in themſelves apart from Chriſt, and by the falſe opinion of the ſeduced Galatians, who by attributing grace, holineſſe, and merit unto them, ſhewed plainly how poor and needy they were. For to turn and fall from Chriſt to any Ceremonies, or to any good works whatſoever, though proceeding from faith, as if any ſalvation in whole or in part were derived from them) it is to follow emptyneſſe and beggery in ſtead of the fulneſſe of Chriſts riches, in whom all the treaſures of life be hid.

Rue] An hearb well known, and experimentally found available againſt poyſon, peſtilence, and ſundry diſeaſes. Hereof tithe was paid, Luk. 11. 42.

Rufus] Red. The Son of Simon a Cyrenian, Mar. 15. 21. One of whom Paul maketh mention, Rom. 16. 13.

Ru-hamah] Having obtained mercy, Hoſ. 2. 1. marg.

Ruine] 1. The cauſe of ruine, 2 Chron. 28. 23.

2. Deſtruction, Prov. 24. 22. Iſa. 23. 13.

3. A moſt poor eſtate, Iſa. 3. 6.

4. Utter overthrow, Iſa. 25. 2.

5. Decaying, and faln downe, Amos 9. 11. Act. 15. 16.

6. Such a fall, as is an overthrow and deſtruction, Luk. 6. 49.

Rule] Government, Divine or Humane, Civil or Eccleſiaſtical; as Rulers ſignifieth any Governour, and to rule is to govern. 1 Tim. 5. 17. Elders that rule well. Rom. 12. 8. He that ruleth with diligence. Exod. 22. 28. Thou ſhalt not ſpeak evill of the Ruler of thy people. Exod. 18. 21. Appoint ſuch to be Rulers over thouſands. 1 Tim. 3. 5. ſignifieth one that governeth wiſely, cauſeth every one in the family to do his duty.

2. The direction of the Word of God, as a rule to go and work by. Gal. 6. 16. As many as walk according to this rule (or canon.) Hence the Scriptures are called Canonical, becauſe they contain and give a perfect rule of faith and manners unto the Church, which is bound obediently to walk according to this rule, and to give teſtimony to it, and not by her authority to over-rule it, and the ſenſe of it, as the Romaniſts do, and profeſſe to do without bluſhing.

3. Line, 2 Cor. 10. 13. marg.

To rule] is given to God, Dan. 4. 26. Chriſt, Pſal. 110. 2. Princes and Nobles, Pro. 8. 16. Iſa. 32. 1. Paſtors, Heb. 13. 7. an Husband, Gen. 3. 16. an Elder brother, Gen. 4. 7.

It ſignifieth alſo, To be armed, Kiſſe, Gen. 41. 40. marg.

Ruler] A Prince, 2 Sam. 8. 18. marg. A Governour, Joh. 2. 9. A Judge, Act. 7. 27. A deliverer, Act. 7. 35.

There's a Civill Ruler, 2 Sam. 23. 2. (whether ſupreme or ſubordinate, 1 Pet. 2. 13, 14.) an Eccleſiaſticall, Act. 13. 15. A Spirituall, Eph. 6. 12.

Rumah] High, exalted, or caſt away. A City, 2 King. 23. 36.

Rumble] Jer. 47. 3. Chariots were then much uſed in war and fight, Exod. 14. 7, 25. Judg. 4. 3. Of the noyſe of whoſe wheels the Prophets meaning is here, as Iſa. 5. 28. of their ſwiftneſſe.

Rumor] Fame, voyce, or report, Iſa. 37. 7. Luk. 7. 17.

Rump] That part of a beaſt that joyneth unto the back-bone, or upper part of the tail, Lev. 3. 9.

To run] With great ſpeed and celerity to paſſe through a race, until they come unto the goal. 1 Cor. 9. 24. They which run in a race, run all.

2. To keep and hold on the race of Chriſtianity with diligence and conſtancy, until we come to the end of it. 1 Cor. 9. 24. So run, that ye may attain. Heb. 12. 1. Run the race that is ſet before thee.

3. To break, Pſal. 18. 29. marg.

4. To make haſte, Prov. 1. 16. 2 King. 4. 22.

5. Eagerly in affection to be carried after, 1 Pet. 4. 4.

6. To paſſe without let, Pſal. 147. 15.

7. To labour with earneſtneſſe, Gal. 2. 2.

8. Speedily to go forward, Gal. 5. 7.

Not in him that willeth, nor in him that runneth] That in the matter of our election, and thoſe things which depend thereon for perfect ſalvation in heaven, to wit, our calling, ling, juſtification, adoption, ſanctification: in theſe things nothing at all is to be attributed, either to our willing, that is, to freewill, deſires, affections, and endevour of the heart; or to running, that is, to our outward actions, labours, ſtudy, and working, but all wholly to be attributed unto the mercy of God. Therefore Pelagians and Papiſts are hereby fully confuted. For the Apoſtle aſcribing our election (and ſalvation depending thereon) all wholly to Gods free mercy, and denying it to come by willing and running, by our deſires or endevours, doth thereby overthrow all ſtrength of nature, to prepare and make fit for grace, or to accept it being offered; and all merits of works done after grace. For if Election, or Calling, or Juſtification, &c. come of Works, they come not at all of Mercy, Rom. 11. 6.

To run in vain] To labour in preaching the Goſpel, (which is elegantly likened to a race) without fruit or benefit, Gal. 2. 2.

To run well] Through the belief and knowledge of the Goſpel to ſtrive mightily, and with good courage to attain eternall life as a promiſed reward. Gal. 5. 7. Ye did run well.

Ruſh] Job 8. 11. The word is tranſlated a bull-ruſh, Exod. 2. 3. Iſa. 18. 2. It hath the name from drinking, becauſe ruſhes and flags cannot ſubſiſt without moyſture. It ſeems to be ſome bigger and ſtronger matter then our ruſhes; becauſe veſſels to keep children out of the water, and paſſengers to go by Sea were made of it, as appears in the places quoted. Annot.

It's put figuratively, for the poorer, baſer, and meaner ſort of people, Iſa. 9. 14. Annot.

Ruſh and branch, Iſa. 19. 15. A proverbial ſpeech for Weak and Strong, as by Head and Tail, High and Low are underſtood. Annot.

To ruſh] To break in with rage, or ruſtle, break in with much noyſe, being tumultuous, outragious, Iſa. 17. 13. As an inundation of waters, with much violence breaking in, and overthrowing all before it, Jer. 8. 6. as a company aſſigned to aſſault a fortreſſe, Act. 19. 28.

Ruſt] Any thing that by ruſt or fretting doth eat into and conſume metall, or any other creature, Mat. 6. 19. It's obſervable that from gold and ſilver hoorded up, proceedeth that whereby in time the ſame is ſpoiled and corrupted. See Jam. 5. 3.

Ruth] Watered, filled, or made drunken. The Wife of Mahlon, Ruth 1. 4. then of Boaz, Ruth 4. 1, 2, &c.

R Y.

Rye] Exod. 9. 35. The grain called Zea, or Spelt, in Hebrew Cuſſemeth. Hereof there's mention alſo in Iſa. 28. 25. The Hebrew Doctors count it a kind of Wheat. Aynſworth.

Sabbath] A day of reſt, or a time ſet apart for holy reſt. Exod. 20. 10. Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Mar. 2. 27. Sabbath was made for man. The ſeaventh day from the Creation was the Sabbath of the Jew, as a type and token of ſpiritual reſt. But Jewiſh Rites being aboliſhed in the death of Chriſt, which brake down the partition wall: now we Chriſtians have the firſt day of the week for our Sabbath, in remembrance of Chriſt his reſurrection that day, Act. 20. 7. 1 Cor. 16. 2. The Jewiſh Sabbath was abrogate by the authority of God, and not of the Church, without Scripture, as Papiſts faign and imagine.

2. The whole week, by a Synecdoche of a part for the whole. Luk. 24. 1. In the firſt day of the Sabbath. Alſo 18. 12 I faſt twice every Sabbath, that is, every week. So our Tranſlation reads it, but the Greek word ſignifies Sabbath.

Note. Sabbath is a word in the Hebrew, which ſignifieth to reſt, not for idleneſſe, or any worſe imployments, but becauſe of the vacation to Divine and religious duties, for practiſe whereof the ſeaventh day was ſequeſtred from the reſt, and ſanctified to God, as our Lords day now is.

Beſides this day, the Jews had ſundry Feaſts, as Eaſter, Pentecoſt, &c. whereon becauſe they ceaſed from their ſervile works, and kept an holy convocation the firſt day, and the laſt, hence they were called Sabbaths, as Lev. 26. 2. No ground for Popiſh feaſts. The ſeaventh yeer alſo was Sabbatical, becauſe of reſt from tillage, Lev. 25. 2.

This word [Sabbath] is named of ceſſation and reſt from our owne works, wills, wayes, and words, Exod. 20. 10. Iſa. 58. 13 Heb. 4. 10. which day was the ſeaventh day from the Creation, wherein God reſted from all his work, and bleſſed and ſanctified it, and commanded it to be kept holy to him, Gen. 2. 2, 3. Exod. 20. 8. which was a token of his mercy unto us, and ſanctification of his Church, Neh. 9. 14. Exod. 31. 13, 14. This day was ſanctified by an holy convocation or aſſembly of the people, Lev. 23. 3. by offering of ſacrifices, Numb. 28. 9, 10. by ſinging of Pſalms, as the title of Pſal. 92. doth ſhew with the Chronicles, 2 Chr. 29. 26, 27. by reading and expounding Scriptures, Act. 13. 15. & 15. 22. by praying, Act. 16. 13. by diſputing, conferring, meditating of Gods Word and Works, and doing works of mercy to ſuch as have need, Act. 17. 2. & 18. 4. Mat. 12. 2, 7, 8, 11, 12.

Note. The Sacrifices and accuſtomed Rites of the Sabbath are mentioned, Numb. 28. & Lev. 23. & 24. where we may read the Offerings once daily uſed in the week, were doubled on the Sabbath, and the Shew-bread renewed.

The Sabbath Ceremonial among the Jews was of three ſorts:

1. The ſeaventh day, or the laſt day of ſeaven dayes, a Sabbath of Dayes.

2. A Sabbath of Weeks, or the ſeaventh week.

3. A Sabbath of Years, or the ſeaventh year.

1. The ſeaventh day of the worlds Creation, called the Lords Sabbath, becauſe he ceaſed that day from Creating, Hebr. 4. 4. Gen. 2. 2.

2. The like of that firſt ſeaventh day, or every ſeaventh day of the week, reckoned from that day, which was the firſt of the world. This is the Lords Sabbath by inſtitution, but the Jews by obſervation, Exod. 20. 10.

3. A day of reſt to Chriſtians from ſervile labour to ſerve God. This is the like to that which was the firſt of the worlds Creation, but is the end of every week or ſeaven dayes to Chriſtians, and is their Sabbath, conſecrated hereto by our Saviours reſurrection on that day.

4. Any feſtivall day, either upon the Sabbath, or elſe any other day of the week, Luk. 6. 1.

5. The whole week before or after the Sabbath, by reaſon of the ſanctification by that which went before, or our preparation to that which followed after, Luk. 18. 12. & 24. 1.

6. The reſting and ceaſing of men regenerate from ſinfull works, in the courſe of our whole life, which is our ſpiritual Sabbath, Exod. 31. 13. Heb. 4. 5, 6.

7. The reſting and freedome of the godly in heaven eternally from all miſery, fear, danger, or labour; this is that eternall Sabbath, of which, and the former of ſix ſorts, all the other ſorts were but types for inſtruction, Exod. 31. 13. Heb. 4. 5, 6, 8, 9, 11. Iſa. 66. 23.

The Sabbath is diſtinguiſhed from all other Sabbaths by [He] demonſtrative, Haſabbath; and it's called a Sabbath of Sabbaths, Exod. 31. 15. an excellent Sabbath. The Jews comparing this with other Sabbaths, call it the Queen, and the other Sabbaths, as Paſcha, Pentecoſt, and Feaſt of Tabernacles, but Concubines; and the dayes between the firſt great day of the feaſt, and the laſt day of it, they compare them to Hand-maids. This Sabbath exceeds all other Sabbaths, and they take their denomination from it; as the Feaſt of Expiation, Lev. 16. 21. So the ſeaventh years reſt, and the Jubilee, the fifty years reſt are called Sabbaths; and the whole week is ſo called, Lev. 23. 15. Luk. 18. 12. The Sabbath unto the Jews was a pledge of all the benefits which they were to receive from Chriſt to come. In the Allegorical ſignification, their Sabbath ſignified to them Chriſt reſting in the grave; in the Tropological, it ſignified their reſting from their ſervile works, and the works of the fleſh; and in the Anagogical, it ſignified to them their eternall reſt; but unto us under the Goſpel, it is an arbitrary, not a deſtinate type, for all types are ceaſed now to us.

The Sabbath differed from all other Feaſts and Sabbaths.

1. It had ſtill a preparation going before it, called παρασκευή, or pervigilium Sabbathi, the watch before the Sabbath; and albeit mention be made of the preparation to the Paſſeover, Joh. 19. 14. yet it was becauſe the Sabbath and Paſſeover fell both together, and the preparation was in reſpect of the Sabbath, not the Feſtivall day, this was called a great Sabbath.

2. They uſed to transferre the Feſtivall dayes to the Sabbath, but it ſtood immovable.

3. The Sacrifices of all their Feaſts gave way to the Sabbath.

4. The

4. The Sabbath had a double Sacrifice appointed for it, whereas the Feast dayes had their owne particular Sacrifices.

5. The Sabbath was kept in the Wildernesse, Num. 9.5. but the Feasts were not kept in the Captivity.

6. The whole week took the denomination from the Sabbath. Luk. 18. 12. I fast twice in the Sabbath, in the week. So Act. 13. 42. the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached unto them, εἰς μεταξὺ σαββάτου, in the middle of the week. It differed from the Week-dayes, for in it they came to hear the Scriptures read and expounded, Mar. 1. 21. Luk. 4. 31. Act. 14. 15. & 15. 21. but in the Week-days they met but occasionally, as Act. 17. 10. Isa. 58. 2. They seek me daily to know my wayes, but the Sabbath was the appointed time to seek. Weems on the 4th. Commandement.

To break the Sabbath] To offend against the ordinances of God, concerning the Sabbath, by doing some servile and forbidden work. Neh. 13. 17. Why break ye the Sabbath day?

2. To do some outward bodily work, commanded of God. Mat. 12. 5. The Priests on the Sabbath day do break the Sabbath in the Temple, and yet are blamelesse; that is, they do a bodily work in killing Beasts for Sacrifice, which though it break the rest of the day, yet is not against the holinesse of the day.

Sabbath dayes journey, was as far as they might travell on the Sabbath day. They measured their journey two wayes: the first was their common measure, and it was called [Ciberath haaretz] dieta terræ, Gen. 35. 16. i. e. as much ground as a man might go from Morning till Breakfast, or from Breakfast till Dinner; so far was it betwixt Bethlem and Rama: the second measure was the measure for the Sabbath, which was as far as betwixt the uttermost Tent and the Tabernacle, 2000 cubits, Josh. 3. 4. This they called [Teberim Sabbath] terminus Sabbathi, and [Mil] miliare, an Italian mile; but when they came to Canaan, they might go as far as betwixt their houses and the Synagogue; every mans house was not so neer as Mount Olivet was to Jerusalem, Ibid.

Sabbath of the Lord] A day of rest, appointed to be kept holy to the Lord, being spent in his service. Exod. 20. 10. It is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God.

To sanctifie the Sabbath] Either to ordain the Sabbath unto holy uses, or to apply it unto such uses as it is ordained for. In the former sense God doth sanctifie the Sabbath, and we do sanctifie it in the latter. Exod. 20. 11. God sanctified it.

To sanctifie the Sabbath. It is sanctified by God and Man.

God sanctifieth it (Ezek. 20. 12.) two wayes:

1. By sanctifying man to keep it holy.

2. He separates it from a profane to a religious use. Time properly is not sanctified, and it is called holy onely improperly, because it is the measure of holy actions. This is Sanctificatio constitutiva, which belongs onely to God, for he made the Sabbath.

Man sanctifieth it two wayes:

1. In judgement, accounting it not a common, but a day holy to the Lord, Act. 10. 15.

2. In use and practise, that it be used as a day holy to the Lord. The use of it is set down, Isa. 58. 13. Andrews upon the fourth Commandement.

From Sabbath to Sabbath] Everlasting, without intermission or ceasing of time, even so long as the blessed rest of heaven doth continue. Isa. 66. 23. From Sabbath to Sabbath shall all flesh worship me, saith Jehovah.

Second Sabbath] The latter solemn day of a Jewish Feast, wherein they rested from bodily labors, and kept a publick Assembly, as was used to be done upon the Sabbath day. Luk. 6. 1. It came to passe on a second Sabbath day. Lev. 23. 3. Deut. 16. 8

The Ceremonial observation for the Sabbath, was double.

First, a precise and strict rest on that day, not so much as to dresse meat; which signified a rest from sin in this life, Exod. 31. 13. Heb. 4. 5, 6. and an everlasting rest in heaven, as in the Hebrews.

The other observation, that no fire should be kindled on that day, which signifieth, that Gods children in the Kingdome of God shal be freed from all the fire and scorching heat of affliction, Exod. 35. 3.

Sabdi] A dowrie, or flowing with abundance. 1 Chr. 8. 19. He was over David's vineyards, 1 Chr. 27. 27.

Sabeans] Leading into captivity, or going about, or drunken men, or old men. A people, Isa. 45. 14. Job 1. 15.

Sabtah] A going about, or compasse. Gen. 10. 7.

Sabtecha] The cause of smiting. Gen. 10. 7. & 1 Chr. 1. 9.

Sacar] A price, or wares, or drunkennesse, 1 Chr. 11. 35. & 26. 4.

Sackbut] A musical instrument threeſquare, having ſtrings of an unequal length, of a lowd ſound. It was uſed in the Idolatry of the Gentiles, Dan. 3. 5, 7, 10, 15.

Sack] The uſe is to carry Corn, or other ware, Gen. 42. 7. & 44. 1. and Victuals, Joſh. 9. 4.

Sackcloth] A courſe cloth uſed by the Prophets, with a girdle of leather, 2 King. 1. 8. Mat. 3. 4. Wherein the falſe Prophets did imitate them, that they might get the greater reſpect, and more eaſily deceive, Zech. 13. 4. It was a ſigne of grief and miſery, Iſa. 15. 3. & 22. 12. Jer. 4. 8. & 6. 26. Lam. 2. 10. Joel 1. 8. Rev. 11. 3. 2. Of humiliation both before men, 1 King. 20. 31, 32. and alſo before God, 1 King. 21. 27, 29. It was uſed in Faſting, Iſa. 58. 5. Neh. 9. 1. Eſt. 4. 3. Jon. 3. 5, 6, 8. It was made of Black goats hair, therefore it was a ſymbole of calamity; and when God threatens great miſeries & afflictions, he is ſaid to cloath the heavens with blackneſſe, and make ſackcloth their covering, Iſa. 50. 3. & Rev. 6. 12. at the pouring out of the ſixth Vial, the Sun is ſaid to become black as ſackcloth of hair.

Sacrament] is a viſible ſigne and ſeal of an inviſible grace.

Or more largely thus:

It is an ordinance of God, in the right uſe whereof, the partaker hath aſſurance of his being in the Covenant of grace, and ſalvation by Chriſt.

Of ſuch Sacraments there be two onely under the New Teſtament, Baptiſme and the Lords Supper. The former being a Seal of our entrance into the Covenant; the other a Seal of our continuance in the Covenant, Mat. 26. 26, 27 Alſo ch. 28. 18, 19. 1 Cor. 10. 1, 2, 3. 1 Cor. 12. 13. The ſeaven Sacraments of Papiſts are too many by five, which either lack an outward ſigne, or inſtitution by Chriſt, or be no Seals of ſaving grace.

Touching the true Sacraments inſtituted by Chriſt himſelf, this is to be obſerved, that a lively Faith ſaveth without them, (ſo there be no contempt and careleſſe neglect:) but the Sacrament cannot ſave without faith, Mar. 16. 16. For that which begetteth anew, and juſtifieth, is not the Sacrament of Faith, (which is common to Reprobates and unbeleevers, with the elect and beleeving Chriſtians) but the faith of the Sacrament apprehending Chriſt, the thing repreſented, that is the Sacrament; not becauſe it is done, but becauſe it is beleeved, therefore it regenerateth and ſtrengtheneth.

Sacrament is conſidered, 1. In the abſtract onely, as ſignes. In this ſenſe the reprobate do receive holy Seals and Sacraments; otherwiſe they could not be ſaid to profane the holy things of God; and ſo they may be Sacraments, and work no grace either by themſelves, or from God.

2. They are conſidered in concreto, according to all which they include in their uſe, viz. as they conſiſt of the ſigne and the thing ſignified, the inſtitution of God, and the promiſe of grace; in this ſenſe the Sacraments are not efficient cauſes of grace, but onely material cauſes containing grace, as the veſſel doth the phyſick: So 1 Pet. 3. 19. Baptiſme is ſaid to ſave, as the Phyſicians glaſſe cureth diſeaſes, they have a power to obtain grace, being uſed in faith and ſincere prayer; this to ſpeak accurately, is rather about the Sacrament, then from it.

Again, Sacraments are conſidered,

1. As Signes.
2. As religious Seals.
3. As inſtruments by which faith works.
4. As means uſed by us, out of conſcience and obedience to God, who hath commanded us to uſe them.

1. As Signes, they are objective and morall cauſes, exciting the minde, as the Word doth in a morall way. They repreſent Chriſt, and him crucified; and this they have common with the Word, Gal. 3. 1.

2. As Seals, Rom. 4. 11. they have no reall or phyſicall action in or from them, onely they declare that the grace ſignified doth belong to the worthy receiver, but add nothing to him. Yet they ſo declare, as that the Receiver is aſſured of the grace ſignified.

3. As Inſtruments, faith is ſtirred up and wakened to lay hold upon Chriſt, and the benefits of his death and paſſion; and for this cauſe there is a reall exhibition of the thing ſignified, and the Sacrament is an Exhibitive ſeal.

4. As they are uſed in obedience to God; they profit if we beleeve, and not otherwiſe; and this way uſed, our aſſurance groweth, faith increaſeth, and a further degree of communion with Chriſt is confirmed. Rutherford Due right of Preſb. p. 111, 112, 113, 114.

The uſe of them is threefold.

1. To repreſent and ſeal up our communion with Chriſt and his Church, 1 Cor. 12. 13. & 10. 16. Gal. 3. 27.

2. To diſtinguiſh us from Infidels, Turks, and Jews, 1 Cor. 11. As often as we eat the fleſh of Chriſt, and drink his blood in the Sacrament, we ſhould ſhew forth his death till he he come, both in outward action, and inward thoughts; hence Circumcision and consequently Baptisme, is called a Seal of the righteousnesse of faith, Rom. 4. 11. The use of a Seal being not onely to certifie and confirme our selves in the assurance of the benefit sealed, but also that others seeing the Seal, may know what benefits we enjoy.

3. To be monuments to put us in minde of our duty; as Baptisme, that we ought to die to sin, and live to righteousnesse, Rom 6. the Lords Supper, that we might remember and shew forth the Lords death, 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25.

Sacrifice] A sacred action, wherein the faithfull Jews did voluntarily worship God by offering some outward thing unto his glory, thereby to testifie his chief dignity and dominion over them, and their servitude and submission unto him. Such sacrifices were either Propitiatory, to procure favour and pardon after some sin; or Gratulatory, to give thanks and praise after some benefit. Psal. 50. 8. I will not reprove thee for my Sacrifices. & 51. 16. Lev. 3. 4. & 4. 2. This is Legal sacrifice, and typical; Christ Jesus being the truth and substance, who in the offering of himself once upon the Crosse, hath fully appeased Gods wrath. The word [Sacrifice] signifieth slaughtering and killing, as cattle were killed for sacrifice to God, figuring mans mortification or dying to sin, Psal. 51. 19.

2. The whole Legall worship, Eccl. 5. 1. Hos. 4. 19.

3. Our whole spiritual service, and Christian duties of all sorts, within our general and special callings. Psal. 51. 17. The Sacrifices of God are a contrite spirit, &c. 1 Pet. 2. 5. Heb. 13. 15. This is Evangelicall sacrifice. But touching Papisticall sacrifice of the Masse, wherein Christ is said to be corporally offered by the Priest for the sins both of quick and dead, the Scripture is altogether mute and dumbe, save to cry out against it.

4. The thing it self that by the Jews, or by the Priests, for them was offered up to God, as Beasts, Birds, &c. not themselves, Heb. 9. 9.

5. The thing it self, or matter offered up by Christians as an Eucharistical or Gratulatory sacrifice; these sacrifices are Men themselves, not Beasts, &c. Rom. 12 1.

6. The thing it self which Christ offered to God his Father for us. This was no creature, but himself concerning his humanity, Heb. 9. 12, 14, 23, 26. & 10. 10, 12, 26.

Sacrifices of the Law (not Sacraments of the Gospel) were never appointed of God to any such end, as to take sin away, (which is the peculiar office of Christ, Joh. 1. 29. 1 Tim. 1. 15.) but partly to discern the people of whom Christ must come from all other. 2. To try their obedience, and keep them from will-worship. 3. To be representations to remember them of redemption to come, by that onely true meritorious sacrifice of Christ himself, and to nourish their faith in the promise of that redemption of his.

There be two main causes why the Sacrifices wch God himself commanded, are so often by the Prophets condemned in the Jews.

First, because they performed their outward unreasonable oblations, without the inward and reasonable; as we may see in Isa. 1. & 58. & Psal. 50.

The second cause is, for that they did think by their Sacrifices, not onely to cloak and hide their hypocrisie and wickednes, as Jer. 7. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, &c. but also to give a price to God for their sins, Mat. 6. 6.

The Jews in their Sacrifices offered Beasts and Birds; the Beasts were the Ram, the Lamb, the Bullock and the Goat; the Birds were the Turtle, the Pigeon, and the Sparrow. In the Sacrifice of Leprosie, the beasts were to be without blemish, as it must not be lame, blinde, nor sick, Lev. 26. 16. They might offer nothing that was defective, or redundant in any member, Lev. 21. 25. & 22. 23. The beast might not be sacrificed untill it was eight dayes old, Lev. 22. 27. nor if it had lyen with one of another kind, Lev. 19. 19. nor if it had killed a man, Ex. 20. 28. or if it were the price of a Whore, or of a Dog, Deut. 23. Every Sacrifice when it was offered to the Lord, was changed from the use in which it was before; and there was a destruction of the thing offered, living things were killed, liquid things were poured out, and solid things were bruised and burnt, as corn. That which was living was cut downe through the chainbone of the back; whereunto the Apostle alludes, Hebrews 4. 13. and Christ, Matt. 24. 51. Every Sacrifice was salted with salt, Lev. 2. 13. So Mar. 9. 49. every Sacrifice must be salted with fire; the comparison betwixt the fire and the salt, is in eating out the corruption; and if they will not be this way salted, the Lord will salt them with another sort of fire, even the fire of his wrath. They might have no leaven in their Sacrifices, Lev. 2. 11. except in some few offerings ferings of Thankſgiving, Lev. 7. 13. but in all other Sacrifices, he forbiddeth both honey and leaven, becauſe honey fermenteth as leaven. This leaven figured ſin of all ſorts, both in doctrine and manners, Luk. 12. 1. Mat. 16. 6. 1 Cor. 5. 8.

A Sacrifice differeth from a Sacrament, in that a Sacrifice giveth unto God, but in a Sacrament we receive from God.

Sacrifice of the Gentiles] The converſion of the Gentiles unto the faith of Chriſt, by the ſound and diligent preaching of the Goſpel, Rom. 15. 16.

Miniſters have a Prieſthood, and offer Sacrifices, but improperly, by a Metaphor or ſimilitude to the Legall oblations, where bodies of beaſts were offered, here in the Goſpel the ſouls of Chriſtians, by killing of their inward vices; there in the Law the knife was materiall, here the knife is ſpirituall, the Goſpel and the preaching of it is the Oblation.

Let not the Papiſts complain of us, that we lack Sacrifices and Oblations; for we have ſuch as Scripture every where commendeth, and God himſelf hath preſcribed, whereby God is truly worſhipped, and men ſaved; whereas their Sacrifice of the Maſſe is not once mentioned in Scripture, and is joyned with horrible Idolatry, and cruell murthering of ſouls.

Sacrifices for God] Sacrifices of Peace, or for Thankſgiving, Exod. 18. 12. which word of Peace is ſometime added, as Exod. 24. 5. And Jethro with Iſraelites keeping now a banquet before the Lord; it is to be meant of Peace-offerings. See Lev. 7. 15.

Sacrifices of joy] Joyful ſacrifices offered with gladneſſe, Pſal. 27. 6.

Living Sacrifices] Our ſelves, even our bodies and ſouls, being conſecrate and given unto God. Rom. 12. 1. That ye offer up your bodies a living ſacrifice.

Sacrifice of righteouſneſſe] A lawfull, due, or righteous Sacrifice, ſuch as God himſelf requireth, done in faith, according to the intendment of the Law, and with an upright heart. Pſal. 4. 5. Offer the Sacrifices, &c.

To ſacrifice] To kill beaſts for ſacrifice, that he might give thanks for tydings of Joſeph, and conſult with God about his going into Ægypt, Gen. 46. 1.

To ſacrifice unto Nets] To aſcribe Divine power unto our ſelves, and to the inſtruments of our life. Hab. 1. 16. Therefore they ſacrifice to their net. This is by putting confidence of our hearts in means, depending upon ſecond cauſes, God being neglected.

Sacriledge] An uſurping to our ſelves by fraud and covetouſneſſe holy things, which are dedicated unto God, either by vow or courſe. Rom. 2. 22. Thou committeſt Sacriledge.

Sacriledge is coloured theft, under ſome pretence of Law; it is ſpoken againſt, Mat. 3. 8. It is a robbing of God, Ibid. An unnaturall ſin, ſeeing he is our Father, his Church our Mother. It was ſeverely puniſhed, Act. 5. 5. Mal. 3. 9. Joſh. 7. 25, 26.

Saddle] Luk. 15. 9. or thing to ride with, as the word generally ſignifieth, Aynſworth. Whereof Abraham, Gen. 2. 3. Balaam, Num. 22. 21. The Levite, and his Concubine, Judg. 19. 10. Achitophel, 2 Sam. 17. 23. Shimei, 1 King. 2. 40. The old Prophet in Bethel, 1 King. 13. 13. The man of God who came out of Judah to Bethel, Ib. 23. The Shunamite, 2 King. 4. 24. made uſe to ride with; as Ziba to carry thereon ſuch proviſion as he brought unto David, 2 Sam. 16. 1.

Sadduces] Juſt man, Syr. cut, or ſchiſmes. A Sect among the Jews, ſo called from Sadoc their firſt founder, he lived under Antigonus Socheus, who ſucceeded Simeon the juſt; he was Antigonus his Scholar, and brought up in the doctrine of the Phariſees, but afterward fell from him, and broaches the hereſie of the Sadduces.

Their errors were,

1. They rejected the Scripture, except the 5 Books of Moſes, therefore Chriſt confutes them out of theſe books concerning the Reſurrection, Matth. 22. 32. compared with Exod. 3. 6.

2. They denyed any reward for good good works, or puniſhment for evil, in the world to come; wherefore Paul in his owne defence, cryed out, of the hope, i. e. of the reward expected, and of the Reſurrection from the dead, I am called in queſtion, Act. 23. 6.

3. They denyed the Reſurrection, Act. 23. 8. Mat. 22. 23. Luk. 20. 27.

4. They denyed Angels and Spirits, Act. 23. 8. Goodwyn Moſes and Aaron, p. 57, 58.

Sadneſſe] is a paſſion of the ſoul, 1 King. 21. 5. Ezek. 13. 22. It manifeſts it ſelf in the countenance, Gen. 40. 6, 7. Neh. 2. 1, 2, 3. Mat. 6. 16. It hath divers branches.

1. Pity, which is a grief for the evil that befals others, as if it befel our ſelves.

2. Envy, which is a ſadneſſe that we conceive for the good which befalleth others, wiſhing it were our own.

3. Hea-

3. Heavyneſſe, which grieves the minde, when it ſees no way to eſcape.

4. Repentance, which is a ſadneſſe for by-paſt ſins.

5. Zeal, which is a ſadneſſe ariſing from the diſhonour of that which we have loſt.

The object is, that which is unpleaſant, Dan. 6. 14. Mat. 17. 23. & 26. 22. & 19. 22. 1 Theſſ. 4. 13. as,

1. Affliction, Heb. 12. 11. Jam. 5. 13. 1 Pet. 1. 6. 1 Sam. 1. 7, 8. Neh. 2. 1, 2, 3. Mat. 26. 37, 38.

2. Sin, as our own, 2 Cor. 2. 5, 7. and of others, Mat. 18. 31. Mar. 3. 5, 20. & 9. 2, 3.

The effects of it are, 1. It dryeth up the bones, Prov. 17. 22.

2. Dejects the countenance, 1 Sam. 1, 8, 18. Neh. 2. 2, 3.

3. It takes away ſleep, Dan. 6. 18.

4. It often brings men into deſpair, as Cain, Saul, and Judas.

5. If it be ſanctified, it worketh repentance unto ſalvation, 2 Cor. 7. 10.

Sadoc] Juſt, or juſtified. The Father of Achim, Mat. 1. 14.

Safeguard] 1 Sam. 22. 23. A ſure and ſafe condition under protection, free from danger.

Safety] is taken, I. for proſperity and outward happineſſe, Prov. 3. 23. Job 11. 18. Iſa. 14. 30. Hoſ. 2. 18. And ſo it is taken,

1. For the abundance of outward bleſſings that God giveth unto the wicked, Job 24. 23.

2. For externall peace, Lev. 25. 18, 19. Jer. 49. 31. Ezek. 34. 25.

II. For freedome and immunity from fear, Pſal. 78. 53. Lev. 25. 18, 19. Job 11. 18. And thus it is taken,

1. In an evill part, when it ariſeth from a falſe confidence; as,

1 They that fear not an enemy, truſting to their owne ſtrength and wiſdome, which commonly hath an evil ſucceſſe, Judg. 8. 11. & 18. 7, 10, 27. Jer. 49. 31. Ezek. 30. 9. Dan. 5. 1, 30, 31.

2 They that are puft up with their own gifts, thinking themſelves free from danger, and reſting in their owne condition, become careleſſe; ſo that they are expoſed to the aſſaults of Satan, and eaſily fall into ſin; which happens both to hypocrites, and the faithfull, Pſal. 30. 7. compared with the buſineſſe of Uriah, Mat. 26. 33, 34, 35. This ſhould be ſhak'd off, Prov. 28. 14. 1 Cor. 10. 12. The remedy to cure it, See Eph. 6. 11. 1 Pet. 5. 8.

2. Thoſe who being drunk with outward benefits, think they ſhall never have a change, Iſa. 47. 8. Rev. 18. 7. Amos 6. 1. Luk. 17. 26, 27, 28. 1 Theſſ. 5. 3. Luk. 12. 18, 19, 20. and they who fear not the wrath and judgements of God againſt ſin, and therefore continue and ſleep in it, either being voyd of the fear of God, Jude v. 12. or perſwading themſelves, that God ſees them not, Gen. 4. 9. Pſ. 10. 11. & 64. 5. & 73. 10. Jer. 12. 4. Lam. 3. 36.

Or, 2. In a good part, for an immunity from fear, ariſing from a holy confidence in God and his promiſes, Pſa. 4. 9. & 16. 9. 1 Joh. 3. 19.

3. For protection, Pſ. 22. 9. Iſa. 32. 18.

IV. For that that makes us ſafe, Heb. 6. 19. Phil. 3. 1.

Safety is either of the body or the ſoul.

That of the Body conſiſts in three things.

1. Integrity. The loſſe of a member is contrary to it.

2. In the ſafety of the ſenſe, when we are at eaſe; ſtriking and wounding is contrary to it.

3. In ſafety, and freedome from fear; as on the contrary, to binde one, or ſhut him up is prejudicial to ſafety; ſo that the body is ſafe when it receiveth no dammage.

The ſafety of the Soul likewiſe conſiſts in three things.

1. Lovingneſſe; contrary to this is Hatred, with all his crue and retinue.

2. Joy; againſt which cometh that, as when a man is ſo dealt with, that he falleth in ἀκηδίαν, in torporem animæ, into a drowſineſſe of the ſoul, that he taketh no delight in any good thing; or if he fall into Envy.

3. Peace, Gal. 5. 22. and that either,

1. Within himſelfe, in his thoughts; this ſafety is prejudged by Scandals.

2. Or outward, between him and others; and this is broken or prejudged by Contention and ſtrife.

This ſafety of the Soul is called εὐθυμία, tranquillity, and he that cometh againſt this tranquillity, is an enemy to the ſafety thereof: Whereas Eſau matcheth himſelf againſt the conſent of his Parents; Rebekah ſaith, I am weary of my life, Gen. 27. 46. becauſe of the diſquietneſſe and vexation with the Hittites: This Job calls the bitterneſſe of the ſoul, Job 10. 1. This is moſt plain, Gen. 45. 27. for there Jacob's ſoul being dead by Joſeph's death, Simeon's impriſonment, and Benjamin's departure; it is ſaid, that when news came that Joſeph was alive, the ſpirit of Jacob revived within him; as if before by torments it had been dead: When any grief cometh to one, we call it the killing of the ſoul; and it cometh neer unto it, Prov. 17. 22. where it is ſaid, A broken ſpirit dryeth the bones; and indeed it is the very diminiſhing of naturall heat, and ſhortning of this life; and ſo contrary both to the ſ. f ty of the ſoul, and the body. Andrews Com. p 732, 733.

Saffron] Cant. 4. 14. An hearb, which flowreth (before its leaves are ſprung out of the ground) in September, and after that it bringeth forth its graſſie leaves, which do laſt untill May; but in Summer neither flowers nor leaves are to be found. The root onely remaineth alive, growing under ground, and bringing forth other ſmall roots. It's very cordial, and profitable againſt many diſeaſes.

He ſaid] A word uttered, Mat. 9. 4.

2. A word conceived, Pſal. 141.

3. An uncreated and effectual word, Gen. 1. 3. Joh. 1. 2.

Sail] The cloth that is ſpread out about the maſts of ſhips, to receive the wind, Iſa. 23. 33. Act. 27. 17. Ezek. 27. 7.

To ſail] is alwayes taken properly. The efficient cauſe is God, who taught Noah to make the Ark, Gen. 6. 14. and conſequently the uſe of it, it may be gathered, Pſa. 104. 26. For he orders it, Pſal. 107. from verſ. 24. to 31. The effect is riches, Deut. 33. 19. 1 Kin. 9. 26, 27, 28. The end is,

1. For Merchandiſe, Iſa. 2. 16. & 23. 1.

2. For Fiſhing, Mat. 4. 21, 22.

3. For War, Dan. 11. 40.

4. For ſafety, Gen. 6. 14. Heb. 11. 7.

Saint, or Saints] An holy one, or a perſon called to holineſſe, ſuch is every faithfull perſon, having the perfect holineſſe of Chriſt, put upon him by imputation of faith, and the quality of imperfect holineſſe poured into his heart by the Spirit of ſanctification. Pſal. 16 2. To the Saints which are in earth. Pſal. 132. 12. All godly beleeving Jews, Dan. 7 18. Eph. 1. 1.

2. The holy Angels. Deut. 33. 2. He commeth with thouſands of his Saints; that is, with innumerable Angels. One Angel in Daniel, ch. 9. 13.

3. The whole body of a particular viſible Church, conſiſting of good and evill, of private and publick perſons, ſet apart to adminiſter holy things, and all profeſſing holineſſe, Phil. 1. 1. Eph. 1. 17. 1 Cor. 1. 2. Saints by calling.

Neceſſity of the Saints] The uſes of poor beleevers. Rom. 12. 13. Communicate to the neceſſity of the Saints. The meaning is not, that we ſhould ſtay from giving, till extreme want of the poor do urge us unto it; but our love is to prevent that, by communicating to their behoovefull uſes. This communicating implyeth theſe things:

1. That the needy Saints have a fellowſhip and intereſt both in our goods, as touching the uſe, (every mans property reſerved intire) and alſo in our affections, becauſe we are bound to relieve them with a fellow-feeling of their wants.

2. That the rich givers are reciprocally and mutually to be made partakers of the fruit which cometh through the prayers of the faithfull poor, as they are partakers of the goods of their Brethren.

Again, the former words have three ſpeciall motives unto Chriſtian liberality toward the poor Saints.

Firſt, the compaſſion of neceſſity.

Secondly, the love of ſanctity, or holineſſe.

Thirdly, the fruit and benefit of the communion of Saints.

To which, if we add three more:

1. The ſtraight commandement of God, often repeated.

2. The precious and manifold promiſes made unto merciſulneſſe in almeſ-giving.

3. The examples of the godly which have ſhewed themſelves liberal, yea bountiful even beyond ability ſometime, Act. 2. & 4. 2 Cor. 8. 3. Then ye have a ſixfold cord to draw you to this duty.

For the perfecting of the Saints] Their reſtoring to that happineſſe by the Word of grace, being before out of happineſſe by corruption of nature, Eph. 4. 10, 11. The Greek word in the text ſignifies two things.

1. To reſtore and ſet things fallen in the proper place, as Gal. 1. 16.

2. To be more and more perfect and ſtabliſhed in that eſtate, 1 Cor. 1. 10.

The words καταρτίζειν & καταρτισμὸς ſignifie,

1. To mend or ſow that which is rent, Mar. 1. 19.

2. To reſtore and make whole, and to ſet in its owne place. A Metaphor taken from Phyſicians, who ſet members out of joynt into their naturall place, whereunto the Apoſtle alludes, Gal. 6. 1.

3. To form and joyn in one body, thus the Apoſtle ſpeaks of the reprobate, Rom. 9. 22. A Metaphor taken from Potters, who uſe to frame their pots into divers forms, according to their ſeverall uſes appointed by them; thus the Apoſtle 1 Cor. 1. 10. while he exhorts the Saints unto concord and unity, unity, earneſtly beſeeches them, that they would all ſpeak the ſame thing, and that there be no diviſions among them, but that they be κατηρτισμένοι, i. e. perfectly joyned together, and united in the ſame minde; like the whole conſiſting of ſeverall parts, fitly agreeing among themſelves: unto this laſt ſignification the perfection of the Saints is moſt agreeable. So that it is nothing elſe but their ſpirituall compaction and conjunction, both with Chriſt by faith, and their conformity unto his image, being joyned among themſelves mutually, by the bond of love, not onely in affection, but likewiſe judgement, concerning things eſpecially belonging to faith, and religion, whereby true peace is entertained and nouriſhed among them.

This perfection is brought to paſſe two wayes:

1. By the acceſſion of new members unto the head by faith, and unto the body by love.

2. By the progreſſe and growth in grace, of theſe who are already joyned to the head, and the reſt of the body, Eph. 2. 21. Bodius on the Epheſ. p. 511. 2. 512. 1.

Sake] For mans ſake, Gen. 8. 21. The Greek ſaith, for mens works. It's a word often uſed, and in moſt places is all one in effect with for, or becauſe.

Sala] Luk. 3. 35. All things that may be thrown with the hand, be it ſtone, wood, or iron. A dart; the Hebrew שלח ſignifieth alſo a ſword, weapon, 2 Chr. 35. 5. marg. Of שלח, he caſt, hurle, or ſling. The Son of Arphaxad, called alſo Salah, Gen. 10. 14. & Shelah, 1 Chr. 1. 18.

Salamis] Moved, broken in pieces, or flitting. An Ille of Cyprus, Act. 13. 5.

Salathiel] In the Hebrew, שאלתיאל, that is, I have beſought God, requeſted of God; aſked, or lent of God. The Son of Jeconiah, 1 Chr. 3. 17. The Father of Zorobabel, Mat. 1. 12.

Salca, or Salchah] The basket, or lifting up. A City, Joſh. 12. 5. & 13. 11. Deut. 3. 10. 1 Chr. 5. 11.

Sale] Lev. 25. 27. or ſelling.

Salem] Peace, or peaceable. The City of Melchiſedech Gen. 14. 18. afterwards called Jeruſalem, becauſe there Gods providence was ſeen. Abraham named the place Jehovah-Jireh, Gen. 22. 14. which Jireh put to the former name Salem, maketh it Jeruſalem, where peace is ſeen. See Pſal. 76. 2. Heb. 7. 1, 2.

Salim] Foxes, fiſts, or path-wayes. A place neer which John baptized, Joh. 3. 23.

Sallai] An exaltation, or treading under foot, Neh. 11. 8. & 12. 20.

Sallu] The ſame. 1 Chr. 9. 7.

Sallum] Peaceable, or a peace maker; perfect; or, giving again. The Son of Joſia, 1 Chro. 3. 15.

Salma] Peace, perfection, retribution; or, a garment, 1 Chr. 2. 11, 51, 54.

Salmanaſar] Perfect in binding, peace, retribution; taken away. 2 King. 17. 5. The King of Aſſyria, he carried the Iſraelites into Captivity, Ib. & 18. 9. He is called Shalman, Hoſ. 10. 14. He waſted Betharbel, Ib.

Salmon] A peace-maker, Ruth 4. 20. Luk. 3. 32.

Salmone] A flowing, commotion, or breaking in pieces. A Hill in Candie, Act. 27 7.

Salome] Peace, perfect. Mar. 15. 40. & 16. 1.

Salomon] Peaceable. The Son of David by Bathſheba, Mat. 1. 6. 2 Sam. 12. 24. as was promiſed, 2 Sam. 7. 11, 12. 1 Chron. 22. 9, 10. He is put to the Prophet Nathan's government, 2 Sam. 12. 25. loved of God, Ib. 24. He loveth God, 1 King. 3. 3. God promiſeth him to perform his promiſe if he walk in his wayes, 1 King. 6. 12. He reigns after David, 1 King. 1. 13. David giveth him precepts, 1 King. 2. 3. He craveth wiſdome of God, 1 King. 3. 5, 9. Marryeth Pharaoh's Daughter, 1 King. 3. 1. His ſentence on the Harlots, 1 King. 3. 16. The number of his Songs and Proverbs, 1 King. 4. 32. His Princes and Rulers, Ib. 2. Purveyance of his victuals, 16. 22. Horſes, Ib. 26. Books, Ib. 33. 34. Peace in his daves, Ib. 24. 25. Wiſdome, Ib. 29. 30, 31. Workmen, 1 Ki. 5. 13. Form of the Temple which he built, 1 King. 16. 2. to 11. Sendeth to Hiram for Trees and Workmen, 2 Chron. 2. 3, to 11. He brought into the Temple the things that David had dedicated, 1 King. 7. 51. Prayer, 1 King. 8. 23. God willeth him to walk before him in perfectneſſe of heart, 1 King. 9. 4. His gifts to Hiram, 1 King. 9. 11. and Hiram's to him, 2 Chr. 8. 2. His riches, Ib. 1. 14. Why called Salomon, 1 Chron. 22. 9. God appears to him, 1 King. 9. 2. The Queen of Sheba comes to hear his wiſdome, 1 King. 10. 1, to 14. Exceedeth all in riches and wiſdome, Ibid. 23. Becomes an Idolater, 1 King. 11. 1, to 11. His enemies, Ib. 14. His death, Ib. 43.

Salt] A creature, whoſe property is ſharpneſſe, and the effect, to kill corruption.

1. The doctrine of the Word, becauſe it ſeaſoneth, not onely the corrupt manners and and converſations of men, but the rotten heart within, even corrupt reaſon and will, that all may become ſavoury to God. Mat. 5.13. Ye are the ſalt of the earth. Miniſters are ſo called in reſpect of their Doctrine, Mar.9.49. Chriſtians muſt be ſeaſoned with the Word,ere they can conſecrate themſelves to God, to be a pleaſant ſacrifice to him.

3. Godly wiſdome, which ſeaſoneth our communication (as ſalt doth meat) Col.4.9. Let your ſpeech be powdered with ſalt.

4. Chriſt,by whom all that beleeve in him are made ſavoury and pleaſing to God. Lev. 2.13. Upon all thine offerings thou ſhalt bring ſalt.

Salt, it was uſed in the Ceremonial worſhip, Lev. 2. 13. Eſdr. 6. 9. & 7. 22. to ſignifie the incorruptibility and eternity of Gods covenant; a ſymbole whereof were the Sacrifices; or, to ſignifie our flying corruption both in doctrine and manners. It was uſed for infants newly born, to drie up the redundant humours, Ezek. 16. 4. Eliſha by it cureth the naughty waters, 2 King. 2. 20, 21, 22. It makes the ground barren, Job 39. 9. Pſal. 107. 34. Jer. 17. 6.

The Covenant of ſalt] A firm, ſure, and uncorruptible Covenant, which laſts for ever. Numb. 18. 19. It is a perpetuall Covenant of ſalt to the Lord.

To be ſalted with fire and ſalt] That neither the perſons of men, nor their actions can reliſh well, and be pleaſing to God, till by fire and ſalt; that is, the incorruptible Word, and wholeſome Doctrine therein contained, they be ſeaſoned and changed, (ſinfull corruptions, ſoul-putrefactions, infidelity and ſin being eaten out, and in part conſumed. Mar. 9. 49. All men ſhall be ſalted with fire, and every Sacrifice ſhall be ſalted with fire. Here is an alluſion to the Leviticall Law and Cuſtome.

To ſow ſalt] To make the ground barren, or unapt to bring forth any thing,by caſting ſalt upon it. Judg.9.45. He deſtroyed the City, and ſowed ſalt in it.

Salu] An exaltation, or treading under foot. The Father of Zimri, Numb. 25.14.

Salvation] Outward ſafety, victory and deliverance from outward dangers and enemies. Exod. 14. 13. Behold the ſalvation of the Lord. Pſal. 3. 8. & 51. 12. The joy of his ſalvation. This is a large ſignification; as Pſal. 12. 1. & 98. 1. & 118. 15. Gen. 49. 18. The Tribe of Dan in two reſpects had need of Gods deliverance.

1 For their inheritance, Judg. 1. 34. Joſh. 19. 47.

2 For religion, Judg. 18.

2. The ſtate of bleſſed and happy life, as touching the entrance into it,when we begin firſt to beleeve and repent. Luk. 19. 9. This day ſalvation is come to thine houſe. Epheſ. 2. 8. Luk. 1. 77. As there is no other Saviour but Jeſus, ſo our ſalvation in whole, and every part, is from the merit of his own ſufferings and works, done in his owne ſelf.

3 The perfection of bleſſed and happy life, as our glorification in heaven. Hereof there are two degrees:

The firſt is, at the time of our death, when the ſoul being looſed from the body is carryed by elect Angels into the third heavens, Luk. 16. 22.

The ſecond degree is at the day of the reſurrection, when our whole perſon, body and ſoul, ſhall be received up into heaven with Chriſt, into everlaſting bliſſe. Heb. 1. 14. Which ſhall be the heirs of ſalvation. Rom. 5. 10. & 13. 11.

4. Our bleſſed life, both as touching the entrance and perfection, the beginning and end of it (even our full happineſſe) Heb. 2.3. If we neglect ſo great ſalvation. Rom. 5. 10. 2 Theſſ. 2. 15. No part of this ſalvation is merited by Works of grace, which we doe, but from Chriſts works in his owne perſon.

5. The author of ſalvation. Pſal. 27. 1. The Lord is my ſalvation. Iſa. 12. 2. & 17. 10.

6. The perſon of him who is our alone Saviour. Luk. 2. 30. Mine eye hath ſeen thy ſalvation; that is, him which by thy decree bringeth, worketh, and giveth ſalvation, or the perſon appointed to be our Saviour.

Salvation taken ſpiritually, is more then life ſimply,for God liveth,yet he is not ſaved: It is then ſuch a life as miſerable forlorn man obtaineth;therefore the holy Ghoſt calleth that happineſſe that a man ſhould have obtained by keeping the Law, life, not ſalvation; but the happineſſe we get by the Goſpel, ſalvation; it is called both Gods and ours; Gods, Pſal. 70. 5. & 21. 2. becauſe it comes from God; but chiefly it is called Ours, becauſe we are partakers of it by Chriſt.

Helmet of ſalvation] Either that Saviour Jeſus himſelfe, or that ſalvation and deliverance which Jeſus purchaſed from ſin and death, to be as an Helmet on our head to defend us againſt ſpiritual aſſaults. Eph. 6. 17. And take the Helmet of ſalvation, &c.

Helmet of ſalvation. Hope, 1 Theſſ. 5.8. So called by a Metonymie of the Effect, becauſe it bringeth ſalvation to them that wear it, for we are ſaved by hope, Rom. 8. 24.

Salvation of the Jews] The oracles of life, and Covenant of ſalvation, not onely to have been committed unto, but to have been derived to other people of the world from the Jews, of whom came Christ also, in knowledge of whom ſtands all true ſalvation, Joh. 4. 22. See Iſa. 5. 3. & Pſal. 110. 2. Luk. 24. 47. Rom. 9. 5.

to

Salbation prepared] It is prepared, 1. By pre-ordination, Mat. 25. 34.

2. By creation, when the Lord made the heaven of heavens, Pro. 8. 27.

3. By the ſending of Chriſt, Joh. 3. 16. Heb. 5. 7, 8, 9. Eph. 1. 14.

4. By regeneration, 1 Pet. 1. 3.

5. By juſtification, Luk. 1. 77. Rev. 19. 7, 8. Eph. 1. 5, 6.

6. By our reſurrection. Biſield on Pet. p. 49.

Salbation ready to be rebealed] It is revealed to the godly, Joh. 17. 6. By the Word, 2 Tim. 3. 15. and the Spirit, 1 Cor. 2. 10.

It is revealed, I. in this life,

1. By negation; for we know there ſhal be no ſin, nor ſorrow, nor temptation in heaven.

2. In reſpect of aſſurance by faith and hope.

3. In reſpect of the firſt fruits of it, and beginnings in ſaving graces.

II. At the laſt day, 3 wayes:

1. By the voyce of Chriſt, Mat. 25. 34.

2. God will perfect and enlarge the underſtanding of the elect, to a full conceiving of the worth of heavenly joys.

3. In the poſſeſſion of it, Ib.

To work out ſalbation] To go forward diligently, and conſtantly to perſevere in the courſe of ſalvation, wherein they were now ſetled. Phil. 2. 12. Work out, or make an end of your ſalvation, &c. Papiſts do think to have help from this Text, to uphold their rotten building of Free-will in matters of ſalvation, as if it were a forcible efficient cauſe of ſalvation, or a partner of it ſelfe with the holy Ghoſt in doing good works. Whereas this is but an exhortation to ſhew what we ought to doe, not to declare what we are able to doe. Moreover, albeit it is we which will, when we do will; and we which doe, when we doe doe; yet ſeeing it is written in verſ. 13. that God worketh both will and deed, therefore Free-will of it own force worketh nothing, willeth nothing towards the pleaſing of God, and attaining of ſalvation, but ſo far as God doth make it able to will, and to work.

Note. There be ſundry things which accompany ſalvation, Heb. 6. to witneſſe it to us: As ſuffering of afflictions, and good works, which be not grounds and cauſes of our ſalvation, as the free promiſe of God, the merit of Chriſts paſſion and death, the Spirit of faith. The Papiſts do unskilfully confound theſe things. Alſo we are further to note, that Salvation, when it ſignifieth the firſt entry thereunto, namely, the remiſſion of ſins, and juſtification, with newneſſe of life, then good works are not neceſſarily required thereunto; becauſe ones ſins muſt be forgiven ere good works can be done: but when Salvation is put for Eternall life hereafter to be poſſeſſed in heaven, then good works are needfull (not as a meritorious cauſe, but) as a mean and way wherein to walk thither.

To ſalute] To wiſh and pray from God with hearty good will for the health and ſalvation of others. It is the ſame with Greet, Rom. 16. 6, 7, 8, &c. We ought to be careſull for the ſafety even of ſuch as be far diſtant from us.

Salute] is referred I. to Angels towards Men, Judg 6. 12. Luk. 1. 28.

II. To Men towards Men; which is done,

1. Sincerely, and that,

1. Face to face, by words, Mat. 10. 12. Luk. 10. 5.

2. By a kiſſe, Rom. 16. 16. 1 Cor. 16. 20. 2 Cor. 13. 12. 1 Theſſ. 5. 26. 1 Pet. 5. 14.

3. By letters, 1 Cor. 16. 21. Rom. 16. 16, 21, 22, 23. Phil. 4. 21, 22. Col. 4. 10, 11, 12, 13.

2. Faignedly and deceitfully, Mat. 27. 29. Mar. 15. 18. 2 Sam. 20 9.

Salutation ought not to be neglected, for

1. It is commanded, Mat. 10. 12.

2. The Apoſtles and other Saints have uſed it.

3. It is a ſigne of love.

It is taken improperly for conference; hence that of the Prophet, 2 King. 4. 29. Salute one by the way, i. e. make haſte, delay not, Luk. 10. 4. For otherwiſe, Salutations which are teſtimonies of love and curteſie, are not forbidden. 2 Metonymicall, 1 To embrace familiarly, and friendly, Act. 18. 21. & 25. 13. 2 Sam. 8. 10. 2 To honour one. So the Phariſees loved ſalutations in the Markets, Mat. 23. 7. Mar. 12. 38. Luk. 11. 43.

Salute. To ask one of peace, 1 Sam. 10. 4. marg. To bleſſe, 1 Sam. 13. 10. marg. To ask how one doth, 1 Sam. 30 21. marg. To congratulate, 1 Chr. 18. 10. marg.

Samaria] A keeping an adamant ſtone, a briar, or the dregs thereof. A Countrey and City of Syria, between Judea and Middle Galilee, 1 King. 13. 32. Isa. 7. 9. It was built by Omri King of Israel, who bought the hill thereof from Shemer, 1 King 16. 24. It was the chief City of the Kingdome of Israel, 1 King. 20. 34. for there the Kings dwelt.

It is taken for the inhabitants thereof, 1 Ki. 13. 32. Jer. 23. 13. Ezek. 16. 46, 53, 55. & 23. 4, 5.

Samaritans] Keepers, marvellous hard, thorny places, or dregs. Citizens of Samaria, a rascall kinde of people gathered together of strangers, they corrupted the worship of God, mingling it with their Heathenish Rites, 2 King. v. 25. to 35. They were accounted profane by the Jews, who would have no fellowship with them, Joh. 4. 9. and therefore there was great enmity between them, Luk. 9. 52, 53. & Joseph. lib. 2. of the Jewish War, cap. 11. They were full of superstition, and gave divine honor to many things besides the Lord, 1 King. 17. 29. as to Images, Ib. 41. They were ever the chief enemies of the re-edifying the Temple and holy City, Ezr. 4. 4, 5. Neh. 6. 12, 14. They would not receive the Word of God, Luk. 9. 52, 53. but afterwards they did, Act. 8. 2, 5, to 14 Simon Magus bewitched them, Act. 8. 9.

Same] Hath relation unto the persons, Gen. 5. 29. & 19. 37. & 24. 14. Places, Gen. 10. 12. & 14. 8. & 23. 2. & 48. 7. Things (of what kinde soever) before spoken of.

Samgar Nebo] Pepper of a stranger prophesying, Jer. 39. 3.

Samlah] A King of Edom, Gen. 36. 36.

Samos] Full of gravell. An Island in the Ægean Sea, Act. 20. 15.

Samo-thracia] Full of gravell. An Island belonging to Thracia; so called, because the Samians and Thracians inhabited there, Act. 16. 11.

Samson] There the second time; because he appeared the second time to his Father, Judg. 13. 24. The Son of Manoah took a Wife of the Philistines, Judg. 14. 2. He is deceived by Delilah, Judg. 16. 4. governed Israel 20. years, Judg. 15. 20. commended, Heb. 11. 32.

Samuel] Heard of God. Because his Mother sought him of God, and he heard her, 1 Sam. 1. 20. Offered to God by his Mother, 1 Sam. 1. 22. Acceptable to God and men, Ib. 2. 26. A faithfull Prophet, Ibid. 3. 20. The Lord sent him to deliver the people, Ib. 12. 11. The Lord hears his prayer for the people, Ib. 7. 9. Judgeth Israel, v. 15. Builds an Altar, v. 17. He is commended, Heb. 11. 32, 33. He anointeth Saul, 1 Sam. 10. 1. and mourns for him, 1 Sam. 15. 11, 35. Heweth Agag in pieces, Ibid. 33. Annoynts David, Ibid. 16. 1, 2. He dyeth, and is lamented, 1 Sam. 24. 1.

Sanballat] A bramble hid in secret. Neh. 2. 10. & 13. 28.

Sanctification] A freedome from the tyranny of sin, into the liberty of holinesse, begun here, and daily to be encreased till we be perfect. 1 Cor. 1. 30. Christ is made to us of God sanctification.

2. The separation of things or persons from common or profane use, that they may remain holy unto the Lord for a time, or for ever. This belongs to the Priests, Levites, and Ceremonies of the Law, &c. This is Ceremonial Sanctification, whereof in Exod. and Levit. 11. 43, 44.

3. The whole work of grace, whereby sinners of the children of wrath, and bond-slaves of Satan, are consecrated and dedicated unto God, (being purged and cleansed in the blood of Christ, that they may become his children and true worshippers. In this sense, it comprehends regeneration, reconciliation, justification, and adoption. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Elect unto sanctification. This is universall Sanctification, comprehending the whole work of grace.

4. That peculiar work of the Spirit, creating in the Elect (converted souls) that new quality of holinesse, whereby they can in some measure truely hate their owne sins, with firm purpose to leave them, and love Gods Law, with resolution to do it in some good measure. 1 Cor. 6. 11. Justified and sanctified. 2 Thess. 2. 13. Through the sanctification of the Spirit. This is Sanctification particular, and inherent, and peculiar to the elect, who by it are brought to Salvation. This Sanctification hath two parts, Mortification of sin, and vivification of the spirit, or new man, Col. 3. 5, 11. Eph. 2. 4. Rom. 8. 12, 13, 14. It is begun here, and perfected in heaven.

In holy Scripture divers names be given to Sanctification: it is named, Sanctification of the Spirit, 1 Pet. 1. 2. 2 Thess. 2. 13. Regeneration and renewing of the holy Ghost, Joh. 3. 3. Tit. 3. 5. in respect of God the efficient and chief worker: but in respect of elect sinners, in whom this grace is wrought, it is named Repentance, Newnesse of life, Obedience, Righteousnesse, Holinesse, Act. 26. 18, 30. Luk. 24. 47. Rom. 6. 16, 18, 22. Lastly, in respect of God and men together, it is styled, Conversion, Act. 15. 3. Being converted of God, we are also commanded and said in Scripture to convert our selves, and to sanctifie our selves, Jer. 35. 15. 1 Joh. 3. 3.

Sanctification is so necessarily joyned unto Justification, as yet it is a grace divers from the grace of Justification.

1. Justification is an absolution of a sinner from the guilt of sin and death; whereas Sanctification is an alteration of qualities from evill to good.

2. Justification consists in remission of sins and imputation of justice for the obedience of Christ; Sanctification is a renovation of nature.

3. Justification is perfect in this life, so is not Sanctification.

4. Justification is in nature before Sanctification, but not in order of time.

5. The perfect purity of Christs humane nature, reckoned unto beleevers by free imputation of faith. 1 Cor. 1. 30. Christ is made unto us sanctification. This is Sanctification imputed.

6. The work of generall Illumination and Reformation. Heb. 10. 29. Wherewith he was sanctified. This is externall Sanctification, common to Reprobation.

Spirit of Sanctification] Both the work of killing our corrupt Nature, and raising it up to holinesse; and the authour of this work, to wit, the holy Spirit. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Elect unto sanctification of the Spirit; that is, unto that Sanctification which the Spirit worketh, setting us apart from the wicked world, and dedicating us to God, which is one end of election, as touching us; but not the last, which is our salvation in heaven, and Gods glory, Eph. 1. 12.

To sanctifie, referred to God] To appoint and separate a thing from a common to an holy or religious use. Com. 4. Exod. 20. 11. God sanctified the Sabbath. Thus Priests under the Law, Ceremonies, Temple, and Vessels were sanctified, Mat. 23. 17.

Note. To give these graces to men, whereby they may be made holy: this is to sanctifie men.

2. To make holy, by putting holinesse morall into one [illegible] of unclean, making us clean. 1 Thess. 5. vers. 23. The God of peace sanctifie you throughout. But ye are sanctified. 1 Cor. 6. 11. Jude v. 1. Joh. 17. 19. Eph. 5. 26.

3. To blesse something to us in the ordinary use, 1 Tim. 4. 4.

4. To cleanse and purifie both ceremonially and spiritually. Exod. 19. 10. Go to the people, and sanctifie them to day and to morrow; that is, let them perform outward and ceremoniall pureneſſe, to admonish and stir up to inward use.

God is said to sanctifie himselfe, when he will declare his glory, and vindicate his honour from the blasphemies of the wicked, Numb. 20. 13. Ezek. 36. 23.

He sanctifieth himself in the Wicked, by pouring his heavy judgements upon them for their sins, Lev. 10. 3. Isa. 5. 16. Ezek. 28. 22. And in the Elect, by restoring his worship unto them, Ezek. 20. 41. or by his gracious deliverances, Ezek. 28. 25. & 39. 27.

Referred to men] To acknowledge holy. Matth. 6. 9. Sanctified be thy name, or hallowed; when we acknowledge something to be holy, which before was so in it self, Lev. 10. 3. Isa. 5. 16.

2. To apply to such holy and divine use as God appointed. Command. 4. Exod. 20. 8. Sanctifie ye my Sabbath; that is, imploy it to the holy uses for which I have ordained it.

3. To separate and set apart one to do the office of Mediator, and to endow him with sufficient authority and gifts, John 10. 36.

4. To offer himselfe freely unto his Father, an holy and expiatory sacrifice; by merit thereof to purchase for his elect people remission of sins, perfect righteousnesse, and the holy Ghost, that they might become holy both by imputing to them his holy oblation and by sanctification or holinesse infused into their hearts, to will and work things pleasing to God. Joh. 17. 29. For their sakes do I sanctifie my self.

5. To procure, offer, and give glory to the holy name of God, Num. 20. 12. Deut. 32. 51.

6. To be acknowledged and worshipped as one most holy, Lev. 10. 3. & 22. 32.

7. To perfect holinesse begun, more and more renewing unto holinesse such as be already cleansed by the Spirit. Joh. 17. 17. Sanctifie them with thy truth.

To Sanctifie, four manner of wayes (for the most part) is used in Scripture.

1. To confesse and celebrate that to be holy, which in it self is first holy, Mat. 6. 9. and whersoever God is said to be sanctified.

2. To make holy some persons, being impure before, 1 Pet. 1. 2. and whersoever the elect are said to be sanctified.

3. To separate and select some things or persons from a common use, unto an holy use; as the Tabernacle, Temple, Priests, Altars, Sacrifices, &c. under the Law of Moses

4. To intend and apply a thing to divine and sacred works, or to keep an holy vacation and rest. In this and the former sense is the seaventh day said to be sanctified, as Gen. 2. 3. Command. 4.

To sanctifie the Lord] To worship and glorifie the holy God by filial fear and confidence in his promises, Isa. 8. 13.

Sanctified ones] Medes and Persians ordained and set apart to execute his holy judgements against the Babylonians. Isa. 13. 3. I have commanded my sanctified ones. See vers. 17.

Sanctuary] The holy of holyest, or the most holy place of the Tabernacle, wherein God gave visible tokens of his presence. Psa. 20. 2. Lord send thine help from the Sanctuary. In Dan. 8. 13. it also signifieth the worship of God.

2. The holy Assemblies of Gods people, and the wholesome doctrine taught there. Psal. 73. 17. Untill I went into the Sanctuary of God. Also a place of safety and defence, Isa. 8. 14.

It is taken for the powerfull protection of God, Isa. 8. 14. Ezek. 11. 16. Also, for heaven, whereof that on earth is a shadow, and it is expressed by that which is within the vail, Heb. 6. 19. and by the holy of holies, Heb. 9. 8, 12. & 10. 19.

Sand] is heavy, whereunto Affliction is compared, Job 6. 3. and the wrath of a fool, because of the troublesomnesse of it, Prov. 27. 3. It cannot be numbred, therefore great multitudes and abundance are compared to it, Gen. 22. 17. & 32. 12. & 41. 49. It cannot be measured, Jer. 33. 22. It is sliding, so that a house built upon it cannot stand, Mat. 7. 26. 27.

Sandale] A kinde of shooe that covereth onely the sole of the foot, and defendeth it from bruising or pricking, Mar. 6. 9. Act. 12. 8.

Sanacherib] The bramble of destruction. King of Assur, who threatned Hezekiah, and blasphemed God, 2 King. 18. 13. Isa. 38. 4. His Army is destroyed by an Angell, and himself slain by his owne children, 2 King. 19. 35.

Sanhedrin] signifieth, the Judges, or seaventy Senators of the great City at Jerusalem, called in the New Testament, Elders, Matth. 16. 21. Jews might appeal from all inferiour Courts to this, but from this there lay no appeal: Four kindes of death were in their power, stoning, burning, sword, strangling. They fasted all that day when they condemned any to death.

Sansanna] A bramble. A City, Josh. 15. 31.

Sap] The trees of the Lord are full of sap, Psal. 104. 16. that is, filled, or satisfied, to wit, with the rain before mentioned.

Saph] A basen to wash ones feet in, a standing cup, a threshold, a post, an end, a bulrush, or the sea, 2 Sam. 21. 18. 1 Chr. 20. 4.

Saphir] Mic. 1. 11. Thou inhabitant of Saphir; or, thou that dwelleſt fairly. marg.

Saphire] A precious stone, Exod. 24. 10. Rev. 21. 19. Found in the earth, Job 28. 6. The use of it is for ornament; it was placed in the breast-plate of the High-priest, Exod. 28. 18. & 39. 1. It was used by Kings, Ezek. 28. 13. The Church is compared to it, Cant. 5. 14. It is in the foundation of new Jerusalem, Rev. 21. 19.

The colour is blew, shining with golden sparkles. It was seen under the feet of God, Exod. 24. 10. The throne of God appeared to Ezekiel like a Saphire. To shew his glorious presence, ch. 1. 26. & 10. 1. It is most precious, Job 28. 16.

Saphira] Declaring or numbring; or after the Syrian, fair. The Wife of Ananias, Act. 5. v. 1.

Sarah] A Lady, or Princesse. Daughter of Asher, Numb. 26. 46. Also Abraham's Wife, her name was changed from Sarai, Gen. 17. 15. God promiseth her a childe, being old, Ib. 19. & 18. 10. and had one accordingly, Gen. 21. 1, to 8. She would not have Ismael heir with Isaac, Gen. 21. 10. Dieth, Gen. 23. 2. Commended, Heb. 11. 11. She is the free woman, Gal. 4. 21. Is very respective to her Husband, calling him Lord, Gen. 18. 12. 1 Pet. 3. 6. She is taken into Pharaoh's Court for her beauty, and after delivered, Gen. 12. 15. She gave Hagar to her Husband, by whom he had Ismael, Gen. 16. 1.

Sarah, and Agar] Not these two women alone, (in type) whereof one was the Mother of Isaac, the free childe, and heir, the other of Ismael the bond-childe: but the two Covenants (in truth) both the Evangelicall Covenant or promise of Grace, which begetteth free children of the heavenly Jerusalem: also, the Legall Covenant, which begetteth servants, such as were many in earthly Jerusalem, bond-men to Satan, by refusing the righteousnesse of God thorough unbeleef, Gal. 4. 22, 23, 24, &c. Such as will be justified by Works alone, or added to Christ, are signified by Agar: and by Sarah, such as wil be saved only by Grace, and without Works.

Saraias, or Saraiah] The Son of Kenaz, 1 Chr. 4. 13. One that came up with Zerubbabel, Ezr. 2. 2.

Saraph] One that had dominion in Moab, 1 Chr. 4. 22.

Sarsechim] One of the King of Babylon's Princes, Jer. 39. 1.

Sardine] The same with Sardius. A precious stone, Rev. 4. 3.

Sardis] The Prince of pleasantnesse, the song of joy; Syr. a Dyers fat. A City of Asia, wherein there was a flourishing Church, Rev. 1. 11. & 3. 1.

Sardites] The taking away of dissension. A kindred descended of Sered, Numb. 26. 26.

Sardius] A precious stone, Exod. 28. 20. Jeb 28. 16. Ezek. 28. 13. Rev. 4. 3. & 21. 20. It is of a red fiery colour, and represents the justice of God, in regard whereof he is unto the wicked a consuming fire: yet it is observed, Plin. 37. book, ch. 7. that it is dulled with oyl, which makes it relent of the redness; so is the justice of God mitigated with his mercy, for it rejoyceth against judgement, Jam. 2. 13. Cowper, Rev. p. 841. a. It hath an attractive virtue to draw wood unto it, as the load-stone doth iron. It cheers up the heart. It is fit to make a Seal of, for the wax doth not stick to it. Zanch. Of the works of God, p. 396.

Sardonix] A precious stone, Gen. 2. 12. Exod. 25. 7. & 28. 9. Rev. 21. 20. It is of a red colour, yet some are found distinguished with black and white, which are the best; they are found in India and Arabia, it causeth shamefac'dnesse, and chastity, Ib.

Sarepta] A Goldsmiths-shop, where metals use to be melted and tryed. The name of a City, Luk. 4 26. See Pasor.

Sargon] Taking away a defence, a garden; or, after the Syrian, a net. A King of Assyria, Isa. 20. 1.

Sarid] Left, or remaining; or, the hand of a Prince; or, a song of the hand. A City, Josh. 19. 10.

Saron] The plain field of him, or his song. A fertile Countrey, lying between Mount Tabor and the Sea of Tiberias, stretching forth from Cesarea to Joppa, 1 Chr. 16. 15. Act. 9. 35. It was fruitfull, pleasant, and abounded with roses, as may appear, Cant. 2. 1. Hence Isa. 35. 2 the excellency of Saron.

Sarsechim] A setting before of coverings. One of Nebuchadnezzar's Princes, Jerem. 39. 3.

Saruh] Palm-trees, or a twig cut off, Luk. 3. 35. Gen. 11. 20.

Satan] Contrary, an adversary, or enemy. His enmity is against God. 2 Good men. 3 Good actions.

I. Against God:

1. In his decrees and good purposes in restoring the elect to eternall life by Christ.

2. In the means appointed for the execution of these decrees, as the Word and truth of God, which he laboureth to turn into a lye, Gen. 3. 5. and the preaching of it, 1 Thes. 2. 18. He hates, resists, and disgraces the graces of faith, hope, and love, wherein are the beginnings of salvation.

II. He is an adversary to all good men, because of the image and way of God, in regard whereof we are of another Kingdom contrary unto his.

III. He is an adversary to all good things and actions; he watches to slay all good motions in the wombe that they shal no sooner be conceived then abortive; he is an adversary to each good action, either to hinder it (if he can) by hindering us from attempting good, or atchieving it, by hindering us from feeling the sweetnesse of godlinesse, so as having no pleasure in it, it may go on heavily, by making us soon weary; or if he cannot hinder, to corrupt and deprave it, that if he cannot make it evill, yet he may make it seem so. See Tailor on Revel. 12. p. 405, 406.

Satan. A speciall adversary to God and man. 1 Cor. 5. 5. To deliver him to Satan. Job 1. 6. One of the names of the Devil.

2. Any person that doth any way hurt or hinder another in the course of piety, or is moved by the instigation of the Devil; as, Mat. 16. 23. Then he turned back, and said unto Peter, Get thee behinde me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me, because thou understandest not the things that are of God, &c.

3. Both Satan and his limbs. Rom. 16. 20. The God of Peace shall tread Satan under your feet shortly.

Satan to enter into Judas] signifies, not that Satan entred into his body to possesse and torment it, but that the devill got more power over his soul to prick him on to work the treason which he had purposed, Joh. 13. 27 & 30. compared.

To give a man to Satan] To give him over to be out of the Church in the Kingdome of Satan, and to be ruled by his spirit; and not to be possessed in their bodies by the devil, as Papists expound it, 1 Cor. 5. 5. As to be in the Church, is to be governed by Christs Spirit.

Satiate] notes abundance, and it is taken in a good part, for the abundance of Gods mercies of all ſorts, Jer. 31. 14, 25. 2. In an evill part, Jer. 46. 10.

Satisfaction] A work done by virtue and merit, whereby Gods wrath againſt the ſinner or the elect, is fully and ſufficiently appeaſed. This work is Chriſts oblation of himſelf upon the Croſſe. Col. 1. 20. To reconcile all things to himſelf, and peace made by that blood of his Croſſe. Here is the truth of Chriſts ſatisfaction, though the Word be wanting.

2. An amends made privately unto our neighbour, for ſome wrong done him in word or deed: or publickly to the Church, by confeſſion voluntarily made of ſome ſcandall, after the example of David, Pſa. 51.

Satisfie] ſignifieth, 1. To refreſh, Job 38. 27.

2. To comfort, Pſal. 90. 14. Iſa. 58. 10.

3. To relieve the poor abundantly, Pſal. 132. 15.

4. To delight and content, Prov. 5. 19.

5. To preſerve, Prov. 6. 30.

6. To provide ſufficiency, Mar. 8. 4.

7. To be revenged, Exod. 15. 9.

8. To fulfill, Pſal. 145. 16.

9. To gratifie, Mar. 15. 15.

Satyres] Gods of the Woods, having heads of a Man, and bodies of a Goat; light and nimble, active and full of motions, skipping, leaping, and running round.

2. Certain deformed Birds, called by Latines, Aſiones, Night-birds, like Owles, or Horn-courts, apiſhly counterfeiting the motions and dancing of Satyres. Iſa. 13. 21. And Satyres ſhall dance there.

There are of Satyres theſe ſorts.

1. Naturall, which are thought to be a kinde of Apes.

2. Unnaturall, by humane copulation with Goats.

3. Supernatural or diabolical, by the illuſion of Devils, or rather the Devils themſelves in thoſe ſhapes, Iſa. 13.

4. Poetical, or imaginary, faigned by Poets to be gods of the Woods.

5. Speeches or writings made to taxe the vices of men, ſo called either becauſe they were wont to be ſung with ridiculous or apiſh geſtures, or rather becauſe they did diſcover the apiſh behaviours of men.

To ſave] To deliver from the guilt and condemnation of our ſins. Act. 4. 12. No name whereby to be ſaved. Thus onely Chriſt ſaveth us. Mat. 1. 21. He ſhall ſave his people from their ſins.

2. To preſerve us againſt ſome bodily hurt. Matth. 14. 30. Save Lord, or I periſh. Pſal. 6. 4. Save me for thy mercies ſake. Thus God ſaveth, as the author of our preſervation.

3. To ſerve the providence of God, as a means in the preſervation of others; either ſpiritually or bodily. 1 Tim. 4. 16. So ſhalt thou ſave thy ſelfe, and them that hear thee. Jam. 5. 20. Saveth a ſoul. Exod. 2. 17. He ſaved, that is, delivered them. Thus Miniſters by preaching, Magiſtrates by protecting, Chriſtians by admoniſhing, doe ſave, as Inſtruments under God, who for their ſervice herein, honoureth them with the title belonging to himſelf.

Save] ſignifieth, 1. To help, Joſh. 10. 6, Judg. 12. 2. 2 King. 6. 26, 27.

2. To deliver, and that,

I. From temporal evil, Judg. 2. 16. 1 Sam. 14. 6. & 17. 47.

II. From ſpiritual evil, in which ſenſe it is ſpoken,

1. Of God, ſaving us from our ſpiritual enemies, Luk. 1. 74. From the contagion of ſin, Jer. 17. 14. and from eternal death, Heb. 5. 7.

2. Of Chriſt, who hath promiſed to ſave, is ſufficient to doe it, Iſa. 63. 1. Heb. 7. 25. and for that end came into world, Matth. 1. 21.

3. Of the Word of God inſtrumentally, Jam. 1. 21.

4. Of Faith, which ſaveth alſo inſtrumentally, Luk. 7. 50. Jam. 2. 14.

5. Of Baptiſme, ſacramentally, 1 Pet. 3. 21.

6. To Men, who by good counſell, holy exhortations, good example, convert others to the faith, and bring them to repentance, that they may obtain eternall life, Rom. 11. 14. 1 Cor. 7. 16. & 9. 22. Jam. 5. 20. Jude v. 23. but eſpecially to Miniſters, who by the preaching of the Goſpel bring men to communion with God and Chriſt, 1 Joh. 1. 4. who are therefore called Saviours, 1 Tim. 4. 16.

3. It ſignifieth to obtain eternall life, Mat. 10. 22. & 19. 25. Joh. 3. 17. & 5. 34. Joel 2. 32.

4. To be converted to the faith, Rom. 10. 1. & 11. 26. 1 Theſſ. 2. 16.

5. To preſerve, Gen. 47. 25. Exod. 1. 17.

To ſave life] To regard ones life more then Chriſt, ſo as he will not put his life in jeopardy for Chriſt. Luk. 9. 24. He that will ſave his life, ſhall loſe it.

To be ſaved in childe-bearing] That it ſhall not hinder a womans ſalvation eternal; for

(for that in bearing of children, ſhe feels temporall ſorrow and great pain for a time: which may ſeem to be an argument of Gods anger) ſo ſhe remain in the true faith, expreſſed by love, and an holy ſober converſation. 1 Tim. 2.15. She ſhall be ſaved in childebearing, if they continue in faith, and love, and holineſſe, with modeſty. Becauſe Paul ſpeaks not of one faithfull woman alone, but of the whole kinde, and ſo many of that ſex as are beleevers, therefore he uſeth the plurall number [they] having begun in the ſingular, [ſhee] by a figure named Syntheſis, as Turba ruunt. Pars in fruſta ſecant.

To be ſaved by grace] To be delivered from guilt and puniſhment of ſin, both temporall and eternall, by the free gift of God, freely giving his Son to be our Savi freely, accounting his merits unto beleevers, and freely working faith, by which the promiſe of ſalvation is received and retained. Eph. 2. 8. For by grace are ye ſaved.

Note here, that to be ſaved by Grace, by Chriſt, by Faith, are well coherent together: alſo to be ſaved by the Goſpel, by Preaching; for the former declare ſoveraign and main, and theſe are the inſtrumentall means, and ſubordinate cauſes of ſalvation: but to be ſaved by our works, or of our ſelves, is ſo contrary to Grace, Chriſt, Faith, as to joyn them together in cauſes of our ſalvation, is moſt abſurd.

Note further, that to be ſaved by Grace, and by Faith, do imply two things.

1. That we do embrace Chriſt unto ſalvation, cometh not from our ſelves, or by our working; but by beleeving, which we have of Gods free gift.

2. Such as once embrace Chriſt by faith, are thereby fully juſtified in him; therefore have gotten full right unto the heavenly inheritance, although as yet they want the full poſſeſſion. The end of Gods counſell in this free ſalvation of the elect, is to ſtrip them wholly of all matter of boaſting and glorying in themſelves, that the whole praiſe and honour might remain intire to himſelf alone, Eph. 2. 9. Therefore Popiſh Sophiſters, which ſay that no works are excluded from Juſtification, but either Ceremoniall or Civill, ſuch as be done before faith; and do in part attribute ſalvation unto the merits of works done after grace, ſhew themſelves ignorantly inconſiderate, and deſirous of vain-glory; enemies alſo unto Gods grace and glory, and far from being the true Catholick Church: denying ſuch a fundamentall Catholick Doctrine, as free ſalvation, by the alone merit of Jeſus Chriſt, through Faith, without our owne Works done, either before or after Grace.

To the underſtanding of this queſtion, Whether we be ſaved by Grace? the anſwer muſt be affirmative: but we muſt firſt conſider two ſorts of matters from which we are ſaved by Chriſt.

1. Malum culpæ, or ſin.

2. Malum pœnæ, or miſery.

Secondly, we muſt conſider two ſorts of grace, according to thoſe matters.

1. Of Regeneration, Matth. 21. 2 Tim. 1. 9. Tit. 3. 5.

2. Of Remiſſion, or Juſtification, Act. 4. 12.

To be ſaved by Works, how far to be denyed, and how far granted, See Works, and Juſtice, Grace, Freely.

We are ſaved by Grace, as many as be ſaved at all: becauſe,

1. The outward means are freely ours, and given us, Eph. 4. 8, &c. Rom. 10. 15.

2. The inward motions of godlineſſe, and outward work thereof, is freely wrought for us and in us by the Spirit of God, Rom. 12. 3. Eph. 2 10. & 4. 7. Phil. 2. 13. 2 Pet. 1. 3, 4. Tit. 2. 11, 12.

3. The price of our Redemption was freely beſtowed on us, Joh. 3. 16. 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19.

4. The Kingdome of heaven is freely prepared and fitted for us, Joh. 14. 2.

But yet not ſo ſaved freely, or by grace, but that,

1 Being called and ſpoken to, we muſt hear.

2 Hearing we muſt come.

3 Being come, we muſt work both againſt all ſins, and the cauſes of them, and alſo do many great and hard duties.

4. And ſuffer much evill for his ſake that ſuffered for us.

Save] put for Except, Gen. 14. 24. Num. 14. 30. Joſh. 11. 13.

Saveh] The Kings dale. A valley not far from Jeruſalem, where Abſalom ſet up his pillar, Gen. 14. 17. 2 Sam. 18. 18.

Saviour] A perſon, which both by merit and efficacy maketh and keepeth us ſafe from ſpiritual enemies. Luk. 2. 11. To you is born a Saviour. Such is Chriſt onely, a Saviour from ſin, hell, and deſtruction, by ſuch things as he ſuffered and did in his owne perſon, not by works of grace in us, as Papiſts teach.

A Saviour is he, which not onely hath perfectly deſerved ſalvation by his bloodſhed,

ſhed, and given it effectually, by ſhedding his holy Spirit into the hearts of the elect; but doth alſo for time to come, conſtantly maintain, and for ever continue and preſerve it, as the naturall head doth diſtill and derive untill death, ſenſe, motion, and life into the naturall body. A Saviour by merit, and a Saviour by efficacy, is Jeſus Chriſt, hence called an eternal Redeemer, Heb. 9. 12. and Author of everlaſting life, or eternall ſalvation, Heb. 5. 9.

This title is attributed to God the Father:

1 Becauſe he hath ſent his Son for our ſalvation.

2 And by him hath reconciled the elect unto himſelf.

3 And giveth the holy Ghoſt into the hearts of his children.

2. One which by his proper power maketh ſafe from outward evils and enemies. 1 Tim. 4. 10. God the Saviour of all men. But the faithfull he preſerveth from all evils, both now and for ever.

3. Captains and Governours, which are called [Saviours] becauſe they are Gods inſtruments to ſave from outward dangers. Judg. 3. 9. God raiſed up a Saviour to the children of Iſrael. Others are ſaid to do that which it pleaſeth God to do by them.

4. Miniſters of the Word, which are inſtruments of eternall ſalvation, by calling men unto it. 1 Tim. 4. 16. So ſhalt thou ſave thy ſelf and others. Thus, that is attributed to the Inſtrument which is proper to the principall Agent, Obad. 21.

5. An Husband, upon whom (under God) dependeth the ſafety and good eſtate of the wife, Eph. 5. 23.

Chriſt is a Saviour, 1. by Redemption, Eph. 1. 7. Luk. 1. 74.

2. Protection, Iſa. 26. 1.

3. By Proviſion; for the Church and every member thereof is furniſhed by him, who is the head.

4. Direction, by his Word and Spirit leading her through this wilderneſſe. Baine on Eph. p. 642.

Saul] Asked, lent, a grave, or hell. The Son of Kiſh, 1 Sam. 9. 2. The firſt King of Iſrael, 1 Sam. 10. 1. Commandeth to kill David, 1 Sam. 19. 1. Chargeth his ſervants with conſpiring againſt him, Ibid. 22. 7, 8. Goeth to Keylah to fight with David, Ibid. 23. 8. In purſuing David he was invaded by the Philiſtines, Ib. 27. 28. He is delivered into David's hands, Ib. 24. 2. & 26. 2. Seeketh counſell at a Witch, Ib. 28. 3. Slayeth himſelf, Ib. 31. 4. His head is carryed into the Land of the Philiſtines, Ib. v. 9. David mourneth for him, 2 Sam. 1. 4. Why he dyed, 1 Chr. 10. 13. The men of Jabeſh Gilead bury his bones, and faſt ſeaven dayes, 1 Sam. 31. 13. They are commended by David, 2 Sam. 2. 5. His houſe waxeth weaker, and David's ſtronger, Ib. 3. 1. God took away his mercy from him, Ib. 7. 15. Seaven of his Sons hanged, and why, Ibid. 21. 1, to 11. David buryed his and Jonathan's bones, Ib. 21. 13, 14.

Savour] The ſmell, either good, Exod. 5. 21. or bad, Eccl. 10. 1.

1. It is taken for the naturall virtue of a thing, Mat. 5. 13.

2. For fame, Exod. 5. 21.

3 The ſenſe and feeling of the grace of Chriſt, Cant. 1. 2.

Savour of death] A deadly ſavour, killing ſpiritually with the ſent of it. 2 Cor. 2. 16. The ſavour of death to death. Thus is the Goſpel to the Reprobate, through their owne default, becauſe they are diſobedient unto the truth, 1 Pet. 2. 7.

Savour of life] A lively quickening ſavour, giving life, and keeping alive to God. 2 Cor. 2. 16. The ſavour of life to life. Thus the Goſpel to the Elect beleever.

Savour of reſt] An acceptable Sacrifice, appeaſing Gods anger. Gen. 8. 21. And the Lord ſmelled a ſavour of reſt.

So it was not for the Sacrifice, or any act, or rite done, but for the merit of Chriſt his Sacrifice, ſignified by Noah's Sacrifice.

Sweet ſavour] A pleaſing, grateful, and delightful ſavour, to wit, the Goſpel. 2 Cor. 2. 15. A ſweet ſavour to God.

2. The obedience and moſt holy paſſion of Chriſt, Eph. 5. 2.

To ſavour the things of the Spirit, and fleſh] To minde, think, love, and practiſe good things, pleaſing to God. And to ſavour the thinks of the fleſh, ſignifies, To think, affect, and follow earthly, ſinfull things, agreeable to corrupt nature. Rom. 8. 5. Savour the things of the Spirit.

Savoury] Delightful pleaſant meat, Gen. 27. 4, 9, 14, 17, 31.

Saw] Iſa. 10. 15. A Carpenters tool, which hath both its action from him, and his power to act, as the Aſſyrians King had of God.

To ſaw] Spoken of Stones, 1 King. 7. 9. Of the Ammonites, who were put under, and cut with Saws, 2 Sam. 12. 31. 1 Chr. 20. 3. Of the Martyrs, Heb. 11. 37.

Sauſha] A rejoycing, or the lifting up of vanity, 1 Chr. 18. 16. David's Scribe.

To say] 1. To promiſe, Luk. 23. 43.

2. To affirm and pronounce, Mat. 18. 3. and elſewhere often.

3. To think in the heart, or intend and will a thing, Exod. 2. 14. Gen. 27. 41. Act. 7. 28. 2 Sam. 21. 26. Alſo to decree and command that heaven and earth ſhould be created, Gen. 1. 3. Pſal. 148. 5.

Say] is taken, 1. For to ſpeak with the mouth, Gen. 11. 3.

2. To think, Pſal. 14. 1. Gen. 17. 17.

3. To decree, and appoint, Deut. 17. 14.

4. To judge, and declare the opinion, Jer. 3. 1.

5. To conſent, and approve, Job 34. 4. Iſa. 8. 12.

6. To command, Mat. 16. 6. & 23. 3.

7. To handle, and treat of a thing, Heb. 9. 5. 1 Cor. 15. 50.

8. To diſcourſe and teach, Mat. 23. 3.

9. To expound, Heb. 5. 11. Act. 1. 3. Rev. 17. 7. Deut. 17. 14.

10. To complain unto, or bemoan, Pſal. 50. 12.

11. To admoniſh, Col. 4. 17.

12. To declare openly, Pſal. 40. 8. Iſa. 3. 10. Mat. 10. 27.

13. To acknowledge, Iſa. 42. 17. Jer. 2. 27.

14. To praiſe, Pſal. 40. 11.

15. To boaſt, 2 King. 18. 20. Jer. 2. 23, 35. Act. 8. 9.

16. To promiſe, Gen. 18. 10, 19. Num. 10. 29. Joh. 16. 26.

17. To contradict, 2 Sam. 16. 10. Iſa. 45. 9, 10. Rom. 9. 20.

18. To anſwer, Gen. 22. 7, 8, 11. Joſh. 24. 19, 21.

19. To affirm, 2 King. 18. 30, 32. Matth. 3. 9. 2 Tim. 2. 18.

It is referred unto God, and it is taken not onely the ſeverall wayes before ſpoken, but likewiſe it ſignifieth alſo, to effect the thing he ſpeaketh, Gen. 1. toto cap.

2. Unto the holy Ghoſt, Gen. 8. 29. & 10. 19. & 13. 2. and that either when the Spirit ſpeaks unto the heart by his inward motions, or in the Scripture, or by the mouths of godly men, 2 Pet. 1. 21. Matth. 22. 43. Mar. 12. 36.

3. To the Scripture, Mat. 26. 54. Mar. 15. 28. Joh. 7. 38, 42.

4. To the Angels; both good, in their apparitions unto men, and bad, Gen. 3. 14. Job 1. 9. & 2. 4.

5. To Serpents, Gen. 3. 1, 4.

6. To Balaam's Aſſe, Numb. 23. 30.

7. To the Horſe, Job 39. 38.

8. To the Whale, Gen. 40. 22.

9. To the members of the body, 1 Cor. 12. 15, 16, 21.

10. To Trees and Plants, Judg. 9. 8. & 10. 14.

11. To liveleſſe creatures, Job 28. 14, 22. & 38. 35. Rom. 9. 20.

12. To Death, Job 28. 22. and to the dead, Iſa. 14. 10. Luk. 16. 24.

To ſay. 1. Barely to ſpeak ſomething.

2. To command, Rom. 12. 3. Gen. 1. 3. where it ſignifieth, and throughout that chapt. to command with efficacy. Dictum, factum.

3. To reveal, 1 Tim. 4. 1.

4. To object, Jam. 2. 18.

Saying] A ſentence or ſpeech, Mar. 9. 32. Luk. 9. 45. Prov. 23. 9.

7. For commandement, Rom. 13. 9.

S C.

Scab] is a ſore in the skin of man or beaſt. It excluded from being a Prieſt unto God, Lev. 21. 20. and the beaſt from being offered in Sacrifice, Lev. 22. 22. It is a great affliction, Job 2. 7. It is threatned as a great judgement upon impenitent ſinners, Deut. 28. 27. Iſa. 3. 17. It is accompanyed with itching, Job 2. 7, 8.

Scabbard] A caſe or covering of a ſword, Jer. 47. 6.

Scaffold] A pulpit or high ſeat, wherein Solomon ſtood when he bleſſed the people, and kneeled in prayer unto God, 2 Chr. 6. 13. It is called a Scaffold, becauſe it was erected higher then the ground, whereon the people ſtood.

Scales] belong to fiſhes, though not to all. They with the fins put a difference between the unclean and the clean, Lev. 11. 9, 10, 11, 12. They arm the fiſh againſt injuries, Job 41. 15.

Improperly, they are put for the ſtrength of a people, Ezek. 29. 4. Where the Lord alludeth to the hardneſſe of the ſcales that are upon the Crocodile, called, The great Dragon of the river Nilus, Ib. 3.

2. By similitude, the films or skins that fel from the eyes of Paul are called ſcales, Act. 9. 18.

There are Scales alſo to weigh withall, Iſa. 40. 12.

To ſcale] To climbe up by a Ladder. It is put for to vanquiſh and overcome, Prov. 21. 22.

Scalp] Pſal. 68. 22. Hairy ſcalp. Heb. the crowne (or ſcalp) of hair, meaning, open and inevitable judgements on the chiefeſt and moſt fierce enemies. Aynſworth.

Scandall] Every occaſion of ſin, taken or given. See Offence. Whatſoever hindereth us in our Chriſtian courſe, is a ſcandall or ſtone to ſtumble at.

A ſcandall is either paſſive, which is called a ſcandall taken, (acceptum Scandalum) when one by his owne fault ſtumbleth and is hindered in his Chriſtian courſe: or it is active, which Divines doe call (Scandalum datum) an offence given, when by ſome evil example in word or deed, or by indiſcreet and uncharitable uſe of things indifferent, a Chriſtian is either quite turned from the Faith, or hath his Conſcience troubled, and is much hurt as touching his ſalvation. Scandalum (ſaith Tertullian) non eſt bonæ rei, ſed rei malæ exemplum, ædificans ad delictum, bonæ autem res neminem ſcandalizant præter malas mentes. Good things offend none but ſuch as have ill mindes; but things which be evill, becauſe they build up and provoke to ſin, therefore they give a juſt offence.

Sin, when it appears in word or act, is a ſtumbling block, or an offence. Their wicked imaginations are not ſcandalous, for they appear not as ſtones and blocks do, at which men ſtumble.

They be weak Chriſtians onely which properly take hurt by offences, as weak men, which have feeble legs, ſtumble and ſlip at ſtones or blocks. Therefore as care muſt be had, not to put a ſtone before ſuch to cauſe them to fall, and a curſe belongs to ſuch as doe it by Moſes Law, Deut. 27. ſo there is great reſpect to be had of weak Chriſtians, not to miniſter to them an offence; and woe to him who doth it, Mat. 18. Strong Chriſtians are not otherwiſe ſcandalized and offended, then becauſe they be vexed and grieved with the unrighteous converſation of the wicked.

Between Offence and Scandall there may ſeem to be this difference, that the former ſignifies a leſſer hurt, when one ſtumbles but falls not, is grieved and troubled, but not utterly diſcouraged: the latter ſignifies a greater hurt, when one ſo ſtumbleth, as he takes a fall, and halts upon it, being quite diſcouraged in the way of godlineſſe.

Scandall is that whereby one is violently forced forward, and overturned; which cometh to paſſe divers wayes; as either by ſtriking the foot ignorantly againſt a ſtone, or ſome ſuch thing, or if the foot be taken in a grin, or net; or if it be pierced and thruſt through, either with thorn, or ſharp inſtrument; therefore it hath divers words to expreſſe it: Sometimes it is expreſſed by προσκομμα, i. e. any thing againſt which the foot ſtriketh and ſtumbleth; ſometimes it is expreſſed by παγὶς, a grin, or ſnare; ſometimes by σκωλον, which ſignifieth a ſtake ſharpened at the end: Therefore it is not Scandall wherewith any one is hurt, but hurt ignorantly; and it is twofold.

1. Bodily, when the body is hurt ignorantly by any outward thing.

2. Of the Minde, which is when the minde is dejected through errour, whereinto it is brought: it is twofold.

For 1. either the joy and peace of the minde is hindered, ſo that the party thus offended, cannot be cheerfull in the work of godlineſſe (whereof the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Ro. 14. 15. to wit, when the minde is grieved and eſtranged, which cannot be without ſin, therefore it is ſaid that the party thus grieved is deſtroyed, i. e. as far as in him lay that gave the offence.)

Or, 2. when one is brought to ſin through evill example. They differ, in that the firſt ſinneth not by imitation, but the other doth.

The errour in every Scandall, proceeds either from his fault to whom the ſcandall is given, and then it is a ſcandall taken; thus Chriſt was a ſcandall to the Jews, who beleeved Chriſt ſhould be an earthly King in great pomp and glory. Sometime it comes from his fault who objects the ſcandall, and then it is a ſcandall given; which cometh to paſſe, by exhortation unto ſin, 2 by evill example, 3 by abuſing Chriſtian liberty; and this is that whereof the Apoſtle ſo much ſpeaks of in his Epiſtles.

Moreover, Scandall is either in it ſelf ſo, whether ſins follow or not; Or, 2. ſuch as whereupon ſin followeth: for the godly have often ſcandall given, when yet they ſin not, but there is hardly any given to the wicked, whereupon they ſin not, as Balac by the counſel of Balaam caſt a ſtumbling block before the Iſraelites, yet Phinehas did not ſin upon it, but upon it followed the ruine of many Hypocrites.

The

The ſcandall whereupon ſin followeth, is is twofold; for the thing is either in it ſelf neceſſary, or lawfull but not neceſſary; the firſt ſort we muſt not ſhun, becauſe we muſt not do evill that good may come of it; and there is nothing in it ſelf neceſſary, but it is alſo in it ſelf good, and it is evil to leave a good thing undone; wherefore, although the world ſhould periſh, yet we muſt leave nothing undone that may advance Gods glory. But in things lawfull yet not neceſſary, the caſe is otherwiſe; for if by the uſing of ſuch either the glory of God be impaired, or the peace of the Church or Common-wealth be diſturbed, we ought to abſtain from them. Cameron com. 2. 335, 336, 337.

The efficient cauſe of Scandall in generall is Satan; and in particular, both of ſcandal taken by the wicked, who take all things in the worſt part; and of ſcandall given, for he occupies the hearts of the wicked, that they will noe beleeve, Gal. 3. 1.

The inſtrumentall cauſes are,

1. Men raiſed up by Satan, who either hinder the piety of others, or are offended at it.

2. Carnall reaſon, 1 Cor. 18. 23.

3. Private hatred, whereby it cometh to paſſe, that the wicked will not receive the truth, out of meer hatred to the profeſſors of it. Thus the Phariſees hated Chriſt.

4. The gain that the wicked get by defending falſe doctrine, and oppoſing the truth, Act. 19. 23, to 29.

5. Vain-glory, and an opinion of ſelf-worthineſſe.

The end is either in reſpect of Satan, to eſtabliſh error and oppoſe the truth, that his Kingdome may advanced in the ruine of the wicked; or in reſpect of God, that the elect may be tryed, and made manifeſt, 1 Cor. 11. 19.

Scant] It is ſpoken of ſmall meaſure, Mich. 6. 10.

Scape Goat] Chriſt Jeſus, whereof it was a ſigne. Lev. 16. 8, 10. And the other for the Scape Goat.

Scarce] ſignifieth Hardly, 1 Pet. 4. 18.

2. With much adoe, Act. 14. 18.

Scarlet] is a red colour, of a deep dye, bright and ſhining, which can hardly be taken out; it is very beautifull, in reſpect whereof the Church is compared, Cant. 4. 3. In reſpect of the redneſſe and deepneſſe of the colour, reſembling blood, our filthy ſins are compared, Iſa. 1. 18. comp. with 15. which are ſo deeply rooted into the ſoul, that none can take them away but God, by the blood of Chriſt. It was a ſigne to the Iſraelites of Rachabs houſe, whereby when Jericho was deſtroyed, ſhe was ſaved. The Midwife tyed a threed of Scarlet about the hand of Zara, in the travel of Thamar, Gen. 38. 28, 30. It was uſed for ornament, both in the Tabernacle, Exod. 25. 4. & 26. 1, 31, 36. & 27. 16. Numb. 4. 8. and alſo in the Temple, 2 Chr. 3. 14. It was worne by great ones, for ornament and beauty, Lam. 4. 5. In which reſpect the Spouſe is compared to it, Cant. 7. 5. It was uſed in the Prieſts cloaths, Exod. 28. 5, 6, 8, 15, 33. and by the Chaldean Men of War, Nah. 2. 3. The Souldiers clothed Chriſt with it in deriſion, becauſe he was called a King, Mat. 27. 28. The Whore is clothed with Scarlet, Rev. 17. 3, 4. to ſet forth her magnificence, but hypocriſie; for Antichriſt is ſpecious in the ſight of the world, filling the eyes with ſhews, but deceiving the mind with impoſtures; or, to ſignifie her cruelty, who is drunk with the blood of the Saints, Rev. 17. 6.

The uſe of it is, 1. Common, for ornament.

2. Holy; for it was uſed in the Prieſts robes, Tabernacle, and Temple, in Legall Purifications, Heb. 9. 19. Numb. 19. 6. Lev. 14. 4.

3. Profane, for the ornament of the Whore.

Scatter] is taken properly, Exod. 32. 20. Iſa. 28. 25. Thus God ſcatters the hoarfroſt, Pſal. 147. 15.

2. It is uſed by God as a puniſhment of ſin, Lev. 26. 33. Deut. 4. 27. who both threatens it, Deut. 28. 64. 1 King. 14. 15. & 22. 17. and inflicteth it, Gen. 11. 19. 2 Sam. 18. 8.

It is ſpoken of the faithfull, Act. 8. 1, 4. & 11. 19, 20. and of the ſheep of Chriſt, Mat. 26. 31. Mar. 14. 27. Joh. 16. 32.

It is put, 1. For great judgements, Iſa. 30. 30.

2. To diſſolve, Job 37. 11.

3. To conquer, overcome, and deſtroy, Pſal. 68. 1. Hab. 3. 14. Pſal. 89. 11. & 144. 5.

4. To be liberal to the poor, Pſal. 112. 8. Prov. 11. 24. 2 Cor. 9. 9.

5. To confound and bring to nothing the counſels of the proud, Luk. 1. 51.

6. To commit idolatry here and there in ſundry places, Jer. 3. 13.

Scepter] A little Wand or Rod, which Princes were wont to bear in their hands, as a ſigne of their government, Eſt. 5. 2.

2. Kingdome or Government. Gen. 49. 10.

The

The Scepter ſhall not depart from Judah. Pſal. 45. 9. A Metonymie of the ſigne, put for the thing ſignified. It ſignifies cruell and hard government, Iſa. 14. 5. Alſo chaſtiſement, Job 21. 9.

Note. By Scepter in this place of Geneſis, two things be implyed: one is the Tribe of Judah, that it ſhall continue diſtinct till Chriſts comming, the other ten being ſcattered and confuſed by the Captivity, 2 King. 17. The other thing is the power of Government, which ſhould be in this Tribe: for Scepter ſometime ſo meaneth, and it is manifeſt by the ſacred Story, that after the coming of Chriſt, even till his death, and preaching of him by the Apoſtles, ſome power in civill and religious cauſes remained in Judah howſoever ſupreme power in capitall matters were taken away, Joh 18. 31.

Scepter of his mouth] The preaching of the Goſpel, whereby the ungodly are ſpiritually killed, and the faithfull ſpiritually quickened, and mightily directed. Iſa. 11. 14. He ſhall ſmite the earth with the Scepter or Rod of his mouth.

Scepter of righteouſneſſe] A juſt government, full of righteous Ordinances, being duely and rightly executed, Heb. 1. 8. Such is the Government and Kingdome of Chriſt: wherein be ordained righteous Laws and Statutes, for the well ruling of his people.

Sceba] Set in order. A Jew, whoſe 7. Sons were Exorciſts, and wounded by Satan, Act. 19. 14.

Schiſme] A rent, diviſion, breach, or cutting off.

2. A diviſion in the Church, or a rent amongſt Chriſtians. 1 Cor. 1. 10, 11, 12. That there be no diſſenſions among you. In the originall Greek text, the word [ſchiſme] is expreſt; which imports a ſeparation from the ſociety of the Church, about externall things.

Schiſme is a diſſenſion or ſeparation, when one or more ſeparate and rent themſelves from the outward fellowſhip of the faithfull, cutting aſunder the peace and unity of the Church, upon ſome diſlike of ſome Rites and Orders, therein lawfully received and obſerved; or elſe upon different opinions about their Teachers. As Hereſie is a departing from the Communion of the Church in reſpect of Doctrine; ſo Schiſme is a cutting off ones ſelf for externall things. An example hereof we have, 1 Cor. 1. 10, 11, 12. Every one of you ſays, I am Paul's, I am Apollo's, I am Cephas, and I am Chriſts.

Note. Schiſme is affirmed of diviſion in Doctrine. See Joh. 7. 43.

Schiſme is an unjuſt and raſh diviſion made in the Church.

It hath its beginning from Satan, the firſt Schiſmatick. Jude v. 6. who by his temptations, often prevails with men to depart from God, as with Adam in Paradiſe.

2. From the members of Satan, who love to fiſh in troubled waters, although all be not by the ſame reaſons; for ſome make rents and diviſions in the Church through hatred, as the Donatiſts; ſome through ambition and deſire of rule, thus the Papacie encreaſed by great Schiſmes, the Biſhops of Rome threw down them of Alexandria, Jeruſalem, and Conſtantinople; and the Romaniſts themſelves raiſed many Schiſmes about the Popedome, as between Gregorie 12. and Benedict: others ſeparate out of ignorance, as the multitude, concerning Chriſt raiſe a diviſion, Joh. 7. 43, 52. others out of a vain admiration of their owne worth, and perſwaſion of holineſſe, as the Anabaptiſts and Browniſts.

Schoole] The place where Scholars are taught, ſuch places the Jews had different from their Synagogues, Act. 19. 8, 9, 10. & 22. 3. Theſe Schooles were in every City and Province, and were built upon hills, Judg. 7. 1. There is mention of the Hill Moreh, i. e. the Hill of the Teacher: when the Maſters taught, they were ſaid to give. Pr 9. 9. The Scholars when they learned any thing were ſaid to receive, Prov. 4. 10. Hence that of the Apoſtle, 1 Tim. 1. 15. This is a true ſaying, and by all means worthy to be received, (i. e.) learned. Goodwyn Moſes and Aaron. p. 89.

A Schoolmaſter] The Ceremoniall Law of Moſes to be an Inſtructer of Gods people, teaching by the death of the Sacrifices, their own guilt and deſert: Alſo, that their whole juſtification did lie in the obedience of Chriſt unto the death of the Croſſe, whereof the Legall Sacrifices were types and ſignes. Gal. 3. 24. The Law was our School maſter to bring us to Chriſt. Theſe laſt words [of bringing to Chriſt] confirm our ſignification of Schoolemaſters to be good and fit. Ceremoniall Law bringeth to Chriſt by figure and repreſentation; the Morall Law doth the ſame by condemnation, (known experimentally) even as a diſeaſe found and felt driveth to the Phyſician.

School-maſter] One that teacheth little children children the first rudiments or elements.

Metaphorically, 1. The Ministers of the Gospel are the School-masters and Instructers of the Church, 1 Cor. 4. 15.

2. The Law is our School-master leading to Christ, Gal. 3. 24, 29.

1 Because it points out and shadows forth unto us Christ, by bodily rudiments of Ceremonies and Sacrifices.

2 Because the Law, especially Moral, urgeth and compelleth us to go to Christ, for it shews us our sins, and that without remedy it shews the damnation that is due unto us; and by this means it makes us despair of salvation in respect of our selves, and to seek it in Christ. It is then our School-master not by plain teaching, but by stripes and correction.

Science] Knowledge in humane learning, Dan. 1. 4.

2. Vain knowledge, opposite to the simplicity of the Gospel, 1 Tim. 6. 20.

Scorch] To burn with heat, Mar. 4. 6. Matth. 13. 6. To be cruelly plagued, Rev. 16. 8, 9.

Scorn] The conditions and qualities of such are,

1. To take pleasure in scorning, Prov. 1. 22.

2. To hate them that rebuke him, Pro. 9. 8.

3. Not to indure reproof, Pro. 13. 1.

4. To bring others into snare, Prov. 29. 8

5. To be proud, Prov. 21. 24.

6. To be contentious and reproachfull, Prov. 22. 10.

7. To make his reprover ashamed, Prov. 9. 8. He is threatned with judgements, Pro. 9. 12. & 19. 29. Isa. 29. 20. and inflicted upon him.

For, 1. though he seek wisdome, he shal not finde it, Prov. 14. 6.

2. Men abominate him, Prov. 24. 9.

3. God scorneth him, Prov. 3. 34.

Scorner] One that scoffeth or flouteth at the infirmities and miseries, or at the graces and good acts of others. Such were they which scorned Christ and his Apostles. Luk. 8. 53. And they laughed him to scorn. Mat. 27. 39, 40. Act. 2. 13.

2. A contemptuous proud person, presuming of his wit, that by it he will compasse any thing, without such means as God hath appointed. Prov. 14. 6. A scorner seeketh wisdome, and findeth it not.

3. A malicious incorrigible person, which makes a mock of the Word of God, proudly scorning all good counsel: such Christ calleth Dogs and Swine. Psal. 1. 1. Nor sit in the seat of the scornfull. Prov. 9. 8. Rebuke not a scorner. In Psal. 1. 1. there be three gradations to be well marked.

1. Of sins; Counsel, Way, and Seat.

2. Of actions; Walk, Stand, Sit.

3. Of persons; Ungodly, Sinners, Scorners.

The word in the Originll importeth proud mockers, Prov. 3. 34.

Scorpion] A vile and venemous creature, which hath a mortall and deadly sting. Rev. 9. 5. As the Scorpion when he hath stung a man.

2. Hereticks and Hypocrites; especially the Disciples of Antichrist, which (like Scorpions) privily and deadly sting and wound mens consciences with the venome of their false poysoned doctrine. Rev. 9. 3. Unto them was given power, as the Scorpions of the earth have power.

Scorpion. The place where they breed is under stones, and in the rifts of walls, but especially in the Wildernesse, Deut. 8. 15. called the Scorpions of the earth, Rev. 9. 3. It is a venemous creature, the sting of it is deadly and tormenting. It lyeth in the tail, which alwayes moveth, and suddenly stingeth, when no such thing is suspected, for it hath a flattering countenance.

It is put, 1. for venemous and hurtfull meat, Luk. 11. 12.

2. For great evills and dangers, Luk. 10. 19.

3. For a cruell and Scorpion-like people, Ezek. 2. 6.

4. For oppression and tyranny, 1 King. 12. 11.

It is put also for the Antichristian hereticks, who resemble it.

1. The Scorpion looks as if it would not offend, it flattereth with the face, but stingeth with the tail, which is in a continuall motion, ready to hurt. So these hereticks in appearance are courteous, and affable, full of humanity, but with fair speeches, and flattering lips they deceive the hearts of the simple, Rom. 16 18.

2. With the tail it licks the dust of the earth. So they minde earthly things, Phil. 3. 19.

3. The sting is not felt at the first. So heresie is not felt at the first, but is plausible, until the conscience be awaked.

4. It is a figure of their letchery, which the Ægyptians were wont to paint in the form of a Scorpion. Comp. p. 962. a.

Scour] To rub, and cleanse, Lev. 6. 28.

Scourge] Properly a rod or whip to correct or beat men or beasts withall, but figuratively, any instrument of Gods wrath, as he used an Angel to scourge the Assyrians; of whom in one night were slain an hundred fourscore thousand. Isa. 10. 26. The Lord shall stir up a scourge. Thus the King of Ashur in this tenth Chapter is tearmed a Rod, Staff, Axe, and Saw, being an organ of Gods anger against Israel and Judah.

The chastisements and fatherly correction of God, Heb. 12. 6. Prov. 3. 12.

It is put for slandering and back-biting, Job 5. 21. For grievous vexation, Josh. 23. 13.

Scrabble] The gesture of David when he faigned himself mad, 1 Sam. 21. 13.

Scrape] To rub by reason of itch and scabs, Job 2. 8. It was used to the walls of the house infected with the plague, Lev. 14. 4. It is put for to despoyl, and make poor, Ezek. 26. 4.

Scribe] One skilful in the Law of Moses, able to interpret it rightly, to the instruction of the Church in godlinesse. Neh. 8. 4 Ezra the Scribe stood on a pulpit of wood.

2. One, which pretended much skill and ability to interpret the Law of Moses, yet corrupted it with many glosses, and false interpretations. Matth. 23. 2, 3. The Scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses Chair. See Matth. 5. throughout.

3. Every one that expoundeth or declareth the Will of God; whether Apostle, Evangelist, Prophet, &c. Mat. 13. 5, 6. Every Scribe taught to the Kingdome of heaven. The Secretaries of Princes and publick Notaries, were of old called Scribes, 2 Ki. 12. 11.

Scribe is a name of Office, not a Sect. There are divers sorts of them.

1. Such as were occupyed in making Contracts, and writing Deeds and Instruments: whereof mention seems to be made, Ezek. 9. 2, 3. Jer. 32. 11. 1 Chr 2. 55. Whereunto the Psalmist alludeth, Psal. 45. 2.

2. Such as attended the King as his Secretaries, called the Kings Scribes, 2 Sam. 8. 17. & 20. 25. 2 King. 18. 18. & 12. 10. Of these there were two sorts, one daily attending the King, the other took an account of the Army, 2 Chr. 26. 11.

The 3. sort were such as belonged to the Church, and were Expounders of the Law, Luk. 7. 30. called Doctors of the Law, Ib. 5. 17. and they might be indifferently of any Tribe; they clave to the written Word, and when they accuse Christ, it is with a breach of the Law, whereas the Pharisees was with a breach of Tradition.

Screech-owle] Isa. 34. 14. or Night-raven. Our margent, Night-monster. Some of the Jewish Doctors would have it to be a Chamelion, that liveth by the ayr. Others of them, an evill spirit, that haunteth waste places, Mat. 12. 43. But the doting Talmudists tell us that it is the name of Adam's first Wife, made of the same mould with him before Evah, who because she would not be ruled by him, ran away from him, and became an evill spirit, &c. It seems by the name to be some Night-bird. Annot.

Scrip] See Wallet.

Scripture] Any written thing, or written book.

2. The Word, inspired of God, written for the perfect and perpetuall instruction of the Church, in godlinesse, by the Prophets and Apostles, the Pen-men of the holy Ghost. 2 Tim. 3. 16, 17. The whole Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable to teach, &c.

1 Doctrine is of all truth pertaining to salvation.

2 Reproof is a confutation of errors.

3 Correction, is reprehension of vices, and dehortation from them.

4 Instruction, is exhortation to all virtues, with the sweet promises of God, the better to allure thereunto.

Whatsoever belongs to Faith or Manners, is sufficiently taught in holy Canonicall Scripture, where all things be plain which be necessary.

Papists do wrongfully charge Scripture with imperfection and darkneſse, to make way for their unwritten Verities and Traditions, and to drive the people from it. All divine saving truth, is sufficiently taught in the Scriptures of the Old & New Testament. I adore the fulnesse of Scripture, saith one learned Father. Scriptures were given the Church, not onely for sufficiency unto salvation, but for the fulnesse of faith, Phil. 3. 1. 1 Joh. 1. 4.

3. Some one particular book of Scripture, to wit, the books of Moses. Gal. 3. 22. But the Scripture hath concluded all under sin. A Synecdoche.

4. Some one sentence or saying, either propheſie, testimony, or decree of God, cited out of the Scripture. Joh. 10. 35. If he called them Gods, to whom the Word of God was given, and the Scripture cannot be broken. A Synecdoche. Joh. 17. 12.

5. Gods speaking in the Scripture. Gal. 3. 8. For the Scripture saith to Pharaoh. Comp. Gal. 5. 22. Scripture hath concluded all under sin; with Rom. 11. 32. God hath shut up all in unbeleef. Gal. 4. 30.

6. The Books of the Old Testament, Moses, the Prophets, and the Psalms, Joh. 5. 39.

Of the Scripture, there is a fourfold use mentioned in behalf of the Christian hearer, Rom. 15. 4. whereof one is contemplative, as a fountain and foundation of the rest, to wit, Doctrine, the mother of Faith; the other three uses be practick, tending to life and manners, to wit, 1 Patience, 2 Consolation, 3 Hope; which is named last, because though it immediately spring out of faith, yet it indureth last, even till salvation hoped for, be attained. Let all Christians study thus to use Scripture. But in 2 Tim. 3. 16, 17. in behalf of the Christian Teachers there be four other uses reckoned up.

1. Teaching the truth of the Word.
2. Improving or conviction of heresies.
3. Correction of vices.
4. Instruction in a righteous life.

It doth also belong to a Preacher to strengthen the hope of Gods children, touching happinesse in heaven, by the consolation of Scriptures. Let all Gods Ministers study to put the Scriptures to these uses in their Sermons, as the nature of their Text will bear.

Scriptures are necessary for the Church two wayes:

First, absolutely unto the being of the Church, as daily bread, which our life cannot lack; or as Instruments which the Goldsmith must needs have.

2. They are necessary, that is, profitable and commodious for well-being (as riches to our life) for they are exceedingly behoovefull unto faith, Joh. 20. 31. Matth. 22. 29. unto doctrine, Rom. 15. 4. unto patience, comfort, hope, Rom. 15. 5. Also to those other four purposes mentioned, 2 Tim. 16. 17.

Scripture. The Books of the Old and New Testament are so called by an excellency which they have above all other Books: For,

1. They contain the whole Will of God necessary to be known for our salvation.

2. They were inspired by the holy Ghost, 2 Tim. 3. 17. 2 Pet. 1. 21.

3. They contain a wisdome far above all the wisdome of the world, 1 Cor. 6 7.

4. They were penned by the most excellent of men, for wisdome and holinesse, as Moses, David, Solomon, the Prophets, Apostles, and Evangelists.

5. They are most perfect, pure, deep, and immutable, containing all things necessary for faith and good manners, 2 Tim. 3. 17, 18. Mat. 5. 24. 1 Pet. 1. 23.

6. No Scripture but this brings such glory to God, nor can convert a soul, Heb. 4. 12, 13. Psal. 19. 8. onely this ministreth solid comfort, Psal. 19. 11. and maketh wise to salvation, Psal. 119. 14, 15, 27.

7. All these books agree in one harmony as if all were written by one man, although they were written by divers men in divers ages. Byfield on Pet. 272.

Scrowle] See Book, Volume.

Scull] The brain-pan, 2 King. 9. 35 Judg. 9. 53. It is the name of a place where Malefactors were punished, and Christ crucified, Luk. 23. 33. Matt. 27. 3. Mar. 15. 22. Joh. 19. 17.

Scum] The filthy excrement floating upon the top of the water, or of a boyling pot. It signifieth the filthy sins of Jerusalem, Ezek. 24. 6, 11, 12.

Scurvy] It is a scurf or dry scaul, or mangie, very itching, enforcing to scratch. It made a man uncapable to discharge the office of the Priest, or to sacrifice to the Lord, and the beast infected with it unclean, Lev. 21. 19. & 22. 22.

Scythians] Tanners, or coblers. A people, Col. 3. 11.

S E.

Sea] The gathering of the Waters into one heap. Gen. 1. 10. And he called the gathering together of the Waters, Seas.

2. A Lake. Joh. 6. 1, 18. Sea of Galilee, and of Tiberias. Also the River Nilus in Ægypt. Isa. 19. 5. The Hebrews call a Sea every great collection of waters.

3. This present world, which is like a Sea, for the unstable and unquiet condition thereof. Revel. 21. 1. And there was no more a Sea.

It is also taken for a large vessel, 1 King. 7. 23, 24, 25. 2 King. 16. 17. Jer. 27. 19. & 52. 17, 20.

2. For the multitude of the Gentiles converted to Christ, Isa. 60. 5. & 66. 19. or the multitude of the faithfull, Rev. 8. 8, 9. and for the multitude following Antichrist, Rev. 16. 3.

3. For a great Army, Jer. 51. 42. Ezek. 26. 3 1.

4. For a fierce and cruell man, Job 7. 12.

5. For out of sight, and remembrance, Mic. 7. 19. Isa. 38. 17.

6. For turbulent commotions on earth, Dan. 7. 2, 3, 17.

Sea of glaſſe] This brittle inconſtant eſtate of the world, mixed with troubles and afflictions, through the cruelty of wicked men. Rev. 15. 1. I ſaw as it were a glaſſe Sea, mingled with fire. See the word Sea in the Dictionary of the Revelation.

A great Sea] The Earth is called great, for the largeneſſe and amplitude; and a Sea, for the turbulent and manifold commotions (as waves) ſtriking and beating one againſt another, to the diſtrubing of the whole government of the earth. Dan. 7. 2. Upon the great Sea: compare this with verſ. 17. where it is expounded of the earth, as alſo verſ. 3.

To paſſe through the Sea] That by Chriſt and his mediation (who is the way, and the life) the Iſraelites were to go through all difficulties by faith unto everlaſting life, Exod. 14. 31. 1 Cor. 10. 12.

Seal] An inſtrument wherewith Bonds or Letters be ſealed and ratified, alſo whereby things true and authentick are ſevered from the reſt.

2. Some outward holy thing, or work done by the appointment of God, for confirmation of weak faith. Thus Sacraments are called Seals. Rom. 4. 11. He received the Seal of Circumciſion.

Such of the Jews, as untill the death and reſurrection of our Lord, did uſe Circumciſion as a Seal of the righteouſneſſe of faith, are never reproved therefore in the Apoſtolicall writings, (for this uſe was appointed of God:) but when the Jews after the inſtitution of Baptiſme and Aſcenſion of our Lord, would ſtill continue circumciſion as not aboliſhed, attributing to it power of Juſtifying, joyning it with Chriſt in the cauſe and merit of ſalvation, and thereby binding themſelves for attainment of eternal life unto the obſervation of the whole moral Law; they were worthily taxed by Paul, for aboliſhers and makers voyd of the grace of God, and of the death and righteouſneſſe of Chriſt; as in Gal. 5. 2, 3, 4. and elſewhere, in that and other of his Epiſtles.

3. Some inward work of the Spirit, by his ſecret, powerful, and evident inſpiration and witneſſe, aſſuring every elect beleever of his owne adoption and ſalvation by Chriſt, Eph. 1. 13. Ye were ſealed with the holy Spirit of promiſe. & 4. 30.

4. The firm ſtableneſſe of Gods free predeſtination to life. 2 Timothy, chap. 2. verſ. 19. The foundation of God remaineth ſure, and hath this ſeal; God knoweth who are his.

5. The Grace of true Sanctification wrought in us, as the print of the holy Ghoſts work in us, is the ſeal or aſſurance of our redemption to come, Epheſ. 4. 30. & 1. 13.

6. That which covereth and keepeth ſecret and cloſe a thing from the ſight and knowledge of any man, Rev. 5. 1.

7. The teſtimony or aſſent of one given to a thing, Joh. 3. 33.

8. The reſtraint put on an enemy, Rev. 20. 3.

Having this ſeal] Being endowed with theſe two ſanctified affections:

1. Faith, whereby one apprehends Gods love in Chriſt towards himſelf, (God knoweth who be his.)

2. An earneſt deſire of godlineſſe, (Let him depart from iniquity.) 2 Tim. 2. 19. Having the ſeal.

Note, that in the compariſon of our Sanctification with ſealing, there are theſe ſeven circumſtances of likeneſſe.

1. The letter written, or casket filled with treaſure is every good Chriſtian, 2 Cor. 3. 23. Heb. 10. 16. 2 Cor. 4. 7.

2. The wax appointed to be ſealed and annexed to the letter or veſſel, is the relenting heart of man, apt to take any impreſſion, Pſal. 22. 14.

3. The Sealer, or perſon appointed to ſeal us, is the holy Ghoſt, Epheſ. 1. 13. & 4. 30.

4. The Seal it ſelfe is the Word of God, which being applyed to the heart, can affect it with the liking and likeneſſe of it ſelf.

5. The ſealing, or impreſſion active, is the act of applying the Word of God (whether precept or promiſe) by the holy Ghoſt within, and Miniſter without, to the Hearer.

6. The print, or impreſſion paſſive, or image of the ſeal left in the wax, is the knowledge, faith, and love of that truth, righteouſneſſe and happineſſe, which God originally hath in himſelfe, and his Word from him; and now man hath the true pattern thereof in himſelf, Eph. 4. 23, 24. 2 Tim. 2. 19.

The uſe or end of this ſealing, is the ſecreſie and ſafety of the thing ſealed (as a priviledged thing) from the eyes of curioſity, and hands of violence, wherewith ſtrangers or enemies would abuſe it. So are the Children of God paſt the cenſure of the wicked world, 1 Cor. 2. 15. & 4. 3. and preſerved as precious things, for Gods owne uſe to be with him in heaven, 2 Tim. 2. 20, 21. Free from the malice and might of men, of devils, and from the ſtroke of Gods juſtice. Mat. 16. 18. And I ſay unto thee that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church: and the gates of Hell ſhall not prevaile againſt it. Ezek. 9. 4.

To ſeal one] To put a mark upon one, for difference ſake, and to diſtinguiſh one from all other men. Joh. 6. 27. Him hath God the Father ſealed. It is one uſe of a Seal to put difference between things which be authentical and warrantable, and which be not. The Seal ſet upon Chriſt (for diſtinguiſhing him from all other men) is the holy Ghoſt, given him above meaſure, Joh. 3. 34.

Seal of the Spirit] An inward grace or work of the Spirit, aſſuring to every regenerate childe of God, his own adoption, 2 Cor. 1. 22. Papiſts fooliſhly expound this of the outward Seal of Baptiſme.

Seam] Joh. 19. 23. It was foretold, that Lots were to be caſt upon Chriſts veſture, Pſ. 22. 18. That this might be effected, it was through Gods providence, that his coat was without ſeam, woven from the top thorowout, which therefore without ſpoyling could not be rent or cut.

To ſearch] Diligently to look into a thing, to underſtand or finde it out; as the woman did ſearch her loſt groat. Luk. 15. 8. and as offenders muſt ſearch their ſins. Lam. 3. 40. Let us ſearch and try our wayes. 1 King. 20. 33. Gen. 30. 23.

2. To know a thing perfectly and exactly. 1 Chro. 28. 9. The Lord ſearcheth all hearts. This is a ſpeech borrowed from men, who are ſaid throughly to know what they diligently ſearch.

Alſo, it ſignifies a curious ſearching or finding out by ſoothſaying, or divination, Gen. 44. 6, 15.

To ſearch the Scriptures] To look into them carefully, with an earneſt deſire and indevour to try and finde out the truth contained in them, Joh. 5. 39. Act. 17. 11.

Seared] Burnt with a hot Iron, till it be cut off.

2. Extinct, and utterly put out, as the horns of a beaſt uſe to be burnt off with a ſearing Iron. 1 Tim. 4. 2. And have their conſciences ſeared or burned with a hot Iron; that is, his Conſcience is cut off, ſo as he hath none at all.

Season] A fit and convenient time or occaſion of doing things, Rom. 13. 11. See Opportunity.

Season. To reliſh with ſalt, Lev. 2. 13. It is applyed to our ſpeech, which is ſeaſoned by a holy wiſdome proceeding from the Spirit of God, whereby the heart is filled with good thoughts, and the tongue directed to utter ſuch words as are for the glory of God, and the edification of our Brethren.

Out of ſeaſon] Signifieth an unfit time to do a thing in.

1. In deed.

2. In the opinion of ſome partial perſon, but not in deed, 2 Tim. 4. 2.

3. In compariſon of a fitter time, yet ſo as the ſame is lawful, and the actions done in it. Elſe it ſhould not be enjoyned ſo ſtrictly, 2 Tim. 4. 2.

And this [Out of ſeaſon] being underſtood of Preaching, in caſe of neceſſity, (which cometh diverſly, as Act. 20. 7, 38. Heb. 3. 7. Eccleſ. 11. 4, 6. Act. 20. 29, 30.) may be divers in reſpect of a better ſeaſon; as,

1. Not upon the Sabbath, but elſe.

2. Not by day, but by night, as Act. 20. 7, 8.

3. More often then once in a day, Eccleſ. 11. 4, 6.

4. Beyond the compaſſe of one hour.

And this may be done alſo in regard of Place, as Philip to preach in the Charet: Chriſt in the way to Emaus: and Paul to pray on the Sea-ſhore.

5. When there are ſmall means and little hope of ſucceſſe by our labours, Eccl. 11. 6.

Season, and a time] A certain determined time, which the providence of God had ſo fixed for the four Monarchies, as by no art or force could be altered. Dan. 7. 12. Their lives were prolonged for a ſeaſon, and a ſet time; that is, their Kingdomes were temporary, and not eternall, as the Kingdome of the Meſſiah, which is deſcribed, Dan. 7. 13, 14.

Seat] A place to ſit in. Mat. 23. 6. They love upper ſeats, 1 Sam. 20. 25. Job 29. 7. This ſometime noteth authority.

2. A Chair to teach out of. Mat. 23. 2. They ſit in Moſes Chair. Alſo an Aſſembly, Pſa. 1. 1. & 107. 32.

3. The glorious ſtate of beleevers, partaking with Chriſt in his Dominion and Rule. Luk. 22. 30. And ſit on ſeats, and judge the twelve Tribes of Iſrael.

4. The deſperate, malicious and incorrigible contempt of Gods Word. Pſal. 1. 1. Nor ſit in the ſeat of the ſcornfull.

7. An habitation, Pſal. 104. 4, 7. & 132. 13.

Seat. Is put for a place of Juſtice, Job 29 7.

2. For a place of ſpecial abode, Job 23. 3.

3. For authority and dignity, Luk. 1. 52. Eſt. 3. 1. Rev. 13. 2.

4. For wickedneſſe and oppreſſion, Amos 6. v. 3.

Seaze] To lay hold upon, to poſſeſſe, Jer. 49. 24. Mat. 21. 31. It is put for, To deſtroy, Joſh. 8 7. Pſal. 55. 15. To expel, Job 3. 6.

Seba] (called Siba, 1 Chr. 1. 9.) Captivity, or compaſſing about; or after the Syrian, an old man. The Son of Cuſh, Gen. 10. 7. A Countrey, Pſal. 72. 10. Iſa. 43. 3.

Sebat] A Scepter, or Rod. The name of a moneth, containing part of January, and part of February, Zech. 1. 7.

Secacah] A little ſhadow, a covering, a defence. A City, Joſh. 15. 61.

Sechaniah] The habitation of the Lord. The Father of Shemajah, 1 Chr. 3. 22.

Sechu] A defence, a bough; or, ſaying nothing. A City, 1 Sam. 19. 22.

Second] The next in order to the firſt, as of Time, Dayes, Yeers, &c. Gen. 47. 18. Joh. 21. 16.

Second time] Once again work for the defence of his Church diſperſed, as aforeſaid out of Ægypt, Iſa. 11. 11.

Secret] Things hid from the underſtanding of all men, and known onely to God. Deut. 29. 29. Secret things belong to God. Thus Gods Counſels and Decrees are called Secrets, till events declare them. This word ſometime noteth the ſecret favour and providence of God, as well as the myſtery of Faith, Job 29. 4.

2. Dark things, or the things of Chriſt, being hid from naturall men, and hard to be underſtood without ſpecial illumination of the holy Ghoſt. Pſal. 25. 14. The ſecret of the Lord is revealed to them that fear him. Matth. 13 11. Thus is the Goſpel a Secret. See Myſtery, Rom. 16. 25. 1 Cor. 2. 7. 1 Tim. 3. 9, 16. Epheſ. 3. 3, 4, 9. Col. 1. 26, 27. Job 29. 4.

3. Things kept cloſe from the knowledge of all others, whereof our ſelves onely are privy. Eccl. 12. 14. He will judge every ſecret thing. Rom. 2. 16. Thus our own thoughts and purpoſes are ſecrets, even ſometime to our ſelves, Pſal. 19.

4. Such tydings as few do know, and ought not to be made common to many, but kept private. Prov. 20. 19. He that diſcovers a ſecret, &c. Judg. 3. 19. I have a ſecret errand to thee, O King. Thus infirmities and counſels, our own or others, are called Secrets, as Gen. 49. 6. Jer. 15. 17.

5. The Councell or Aſſembly of evill doers; that is, the malignant Church, Gen. 49. 6. Jer. 15. 17. Pſal. 64. 2. From the ſecret of evill doers, hide me. On the contrary, the holy Church is called the Secret or Myſtery of the righteous. Pſal. 111. 1. I will confeſſe Jehovah in the ſecret of the righteous.

6. Counſel, both Gods, Jer. 23. 18, 22. and Mens, Gen. 49. 6.

Note. Three ſecret things which the Lord is ſaid to diſcover:

1. The myſteries of Religion, as the Trinity, the Incarnation of Chriſt, the Life to come.

2. The ſecrets of mens hearts, 1 Cor. 2. 11.

3. Things to come.

Numberer of ſecrets] Chriſt Jeſus, who hath all the hidden things of God numbered before him, and perfectly known as at his fingers end, in which reſpect he is called the wiſdome of God; and alſo entituled his Word, or the Speaker, one who ſpeaketh, becauſe he teacheth and inſtructeth Angels and Men in the Church, thoſe ſecrets of his Father. Dan. 8. 13. And I heard a Speaker; the Numberer of Secrets, In Hebr. Pſalmony.

Secret ſins] Such ſins as a man underſtandeth not to be ſins, Pſal. 19. 12.

Secretly] is, 1. Privately, 1 Sam. 18. 22. Jer. 31. 17.

2. Deceitfully, Deut. 27 29. 1 Sam. 23. 9. Pſal. 10. 9.

3. Safely, Pſal. 31. 20.

4. Of ones own head, unwitting to another, 1 Sam. 18. 22.

5. Things hidden, and not known before, 1 Cor. 14. 25.

6. A thing that may or ought to be kept cloſe, Prov. 11. 13.

Sect] A faction, ſtudy, or courſe of life, ſingled and choſen out to be followed of us. Act. 5. 17. Which was of the Sect of the Sadduces. Here it is taken in ill part.

A form of Doctrine. Act. 28. 22. We know that this Sect is every where ſpoken againſt: that is, the Doctrine of the Goſpel, is generally ſpoken againſt: here uſed in good part.

Secundus] Second. One of Paul's Companions, Act. 20. 4.

Security] is twofold:

1. Carnall, when men live without the fear of God. Of this is ſpoken, Prov. 28. 14. Mat. 12. 44. It is twofold:

1 In the wicked, which conſiſts in a totall want of any reverence of God, which begets begets a contempt and ſtupid careleſneſſe and ſenſeleſneſſe of the anger and judgements of God; ſuch are called fools, Prov. 3.7.

2 In the godly, who are infected with this carnall ſecurity but in part, being but partly regenerate, in reſpect whereof the fear of God is cold and languiſhing, eſpecially in proſperity, Pſal. 30.7.

2. There is a ſecurity of Faith, whereby we doubt not of, but are ſure of the promiſes of God, as if we had them in poſſeſſion. This breeds peace of conſcience, 1 Joh.3.19 and joy of heart, Pſal. 4.8, 9. & 16.9.

Sedition] Contention and ſtrife, with oppoſition againſt the lawfull command of the Magiſtrates, Luk. 23. 25. Paul was falſely accuſed of it, Act. 24. 5. It is a work of the fleſh, Gal. 5. 20.

Seduce] To turn out of the way commanded by God, Deut.13. 5, 16. as in Manaſſes, 2 King. 21. 9. Ezek. 13. 10. To deceive, Iſa. 19. 13. It is the property of falſe Teachers, Mar.13.22, 1 Joh. 2.26. Rev. 2. 20. Such are foretold, 1 Tim.4.1. They wax worſe and worſe, 2 Tim. 3. 13.

To ſee] To behold with bodily eyes any object. Alſo, to ſee a thing with conſideration and obſervation. Mat. 22.11. The King came in to ſee the gueſts. Pſal. 46. 8. Come and ſee the works of God.

2. To hear. Rev. 1. 12. I turned to ſee the voyce that ſpake. Alſo, by Propheticall revelation to receive a thing from God, Iſa. 2. v. 1.

3. To know, or to underſtand, Exo. 24. 10. They ſaw the God of Iſrael; that is, they knew that he was preſent with them by ſome viſible ſignes of his preſence. Joh. 9. 41. But you ſay, we ſee; that is, we know, 3 Joh. 1. 11.

This phraſe of [Seeing God] in the Goſpel of John, ch. 1. 18. ſignifieth a full and moſt cleer knowledge of God the Redeemer; ſuch a knowledge as none had of God, before Chriſt was manifeſted in the fleſh. Indeed the Gentiles in ſome manner knew God the Creator afore, by the light of Nature: alſo the Jews knew him as a Redeemer, by the Word of promiſes, and by Legall Sacrifices, but very obſcurely as in ſhadows, (like the appearing of the Sun through the clouds) but til Chriſt was incarnate, perſpicuouſly and perfectly, none knew him, as now Chriſt hath made him known by his aſſumption of our nature, wherein God is come neer to us, and by his doctrine moſt fully opening all the Counſels of the Father, Mat. 11. 27. Heb. 1. 1.

4. To beleeve in Chriſt. Joh. 6.4. This is the will of my Father, that every one that ſees the Son, and beleeves in him, &c.

5. To ſee with the eye, to know with underſtanding, to beleeve with the heart, Matt. 13. 11.

6. To have the perfect and immediate enjoying or fruition of the glorious preſence of God in heaven. Mat. 5. 8. Bleſſed are the pure in heart, for they ſhall ſee God. 1 Cor.13. 12. Joh. 3. 36.

7. To live. Gen. 16. 13. Have I not ſeen? after God ſaw me. A Synecdoche. The Jews when they ſaw any viſion of God, feared death, becauſe they were privy to their own unworthineſſe, Judg. 13. 22. & 6. 12.

8. To know a thing with approbation and love to it. Joh. 14. 6, 7. He that ſees the Son, ſees the Father; that is, he which knows the Son, approves and imbraces him for the true God, &c. Gen. 1. 4. God ſaw the light, that is, knew, loved, and approved it.

9. To take heed, or beware, or carefully look to our ſelves. Mat. 9. 30. See that no man know it. Rev. 22. 9. See thou do it not. Mat. 27. 3. See thou to that. To attend and conſider, as Iſa. 26. 11. Alſo, to know by viſion and revelation divine, Iſa. 13. 1.

10. To try or feel by experience. Pſ. 77. 16. The waters ſaw thee, and fled. Pſal. 90. 15. According to the yeers which we have ſeen evill. Joh. 8. 51. Iſa. 26. 11. But they ſhall ſee; that is, feel and prove.

Referred to God] 1. To take knowledge of men and their doings; to bleſſe, proſper, and help them, if they be good; to puniſh and deſtroy them, if they be evil. Gen. 31. 12. I have ſeen all that Laban hath done. Exod. 3. 7.

It ſignifieth, 1. To approve, Gen. 1. 4, 10, 12. He ſaw his creatures, i. e. he approved of them: In this ſenſe he ſaw the works of Niniveh, Jon. 3. 10.

2. To have pity, and ſo to help and deliver, 2 King. 19. 16. Iſa. 37. 17. & 63. 15. Lam. 3. 50.

3. To diſlike, and ſo to puniſh, Gen. 6. 5. & 31. 12. Exod. 3. 7.

In ſeeing to ſee] Surely to ſee, Exod. 3. 7. Gods ſeeing and hearing, implyed a merciful regard, and pitying of their miſeries, Pſal. 106. 44, 45. Gen. 29. 32.

Seeing, they not ſee] Such a knowledge of Gods revealed Will in his Word, as is without uſe and profit to ſuch as have it, Mat. 13. 14. Act. 28. 27. Iſa. 6. 9. Ye ſhall ſee, and not ſee.

Seed] That thin fluent ſubſtance in mans body, body, which is the matter of generation, Gen. 38. 9.

2. A Son or Daughter. Gen. 38. 9. To raiſe up ſeed to thy Brother. Rom. 1. 3. Of the ſeed of David; that is, his Son, of his family and ſtock.

3. Poſterity, as Nephews or Neeces, or Childrens Children. Pſal. 37. His ſeed ſhall inherit the Land. & Pſa. 112. 1. His ſeed ſhall be mighty upon earth. Pſal. 22. 24, 31. & 37. 25. Gen. 17. 7, 10.

A ſeed of evill doers] An evil poſterity, doing evill things diſpleaſing to God: or evill children of evill parents; evill by nature, and by imitation of their evill progenitors, (not Abraham and Iſaac, but) ſuch as be mentioned, Pſal 78. 8. Iſa. 1. 4. A ſeed of evill dyers.

Godly ſeed] The ſeed of God, or ſuch a poſterity and iſſue, as God will allow of, and bleſſe. Malac. 2. 15. Becauſe he ſought a godly ſeed.

To mingle themſelves with the ſeed of men] To make leagues and covenants for mutuall defence, and to contract marriages for the better ſtrengthening of themſelves by great alliance, and all in vain, Dan. 2. 43.

Seed of Abraham] The whole poſterity of Abraham, in which many bad were mixed with good. Rom 9. 7. Which are the ſeed of Abraham.

2. The faithfull onely, whether Jews or Gentiles, which walked in the ſteps of the faith of their Father Abraham, Rom. 4. 13, 16.

3. Chriſt, which came of Abraham according to the fleſh: and was ſpecially promiſed to Abraham that he ſhould come. In thy ſeed ſhall all the Nations of the Earth be bleſſed. Gal. 3. 16. Gen. 12. 3.

Note. Seed of Abraham, either carnall onely, as they which boaſted to come of him after the fleſh Mat. 3. Joh. 8. or carnal and ſpirituall too, as the beleeving Jews; or onely ſpirituall, as the Gentiles, which had the ſame faith with Abraham; or Chriſt the bleſſed ſeed, who came out of Abraham's loyns. See Matth. 1. & Rom. 4. & 9. & Gal. 3.

Till the ſeed came] Till by the preaching of Chriſt, when two peoples (Jews and Gentiles) were made one full Seed compact of both (the partition wall of Ceremonies being broken down) Gal. 3. 19. Thus explained by Eph. 2. 14. In the Text of Gal. neither Chriſt alone without his myſticall body the Church, nor the Catholick Church without Chriſt the Head, but both joyntly together are meant by Seed: as likewiſe verſ. 16. the word [Seed] being put collectively for the whole body, conſiſting of head and members, as the word [Chriſt] is, 1 Cor. 12. 12.

Thy ſeed] Thy Son according to the fleſh, though not after the promiſe, as Iſaac was, Gen. 21. 13.

Seed in Scripture ſignifieth, either properly that which begetteth ſome other like thing, as Gen. 1. Or figuratively, that which is begotten. In this latter ſenſe [Seed] is ſpoken, either collectively of many, of more then one, as Gen. 17. to Abraham: I will be thy God, and the God of thy ſeed. And again, To thee and to thy ſeed will I give this Land. Again, I will multiply thee and thy ſeed. Alſo Gen. 3. 15. Between thy ſeed, and the woman ſeed. Or elſe individually and ſingularly, for one alone, for one and no more, Gen. 4. 25. of Seth: God hath appointed me another ſeed: and of Chriſt alone, and no other, Gen. 3. 15. It (that is, Chriſt the ſingular ſeed of the woman) ſhall bruiſe his head; that is, Satans power. This promiſe thus expounded of Chriſt, that ſpecial ſeed, by Gen. 12. 3. & 49. 10. Gal. 3. 16. 1 Chr. 17. 11. I will raiſe up thy ſeed after thee; that is, Chriſt, for Solomon was now born. In Iſa. 9. 6. this ſeed is promiſed to be born of a Virgin: See the accompliſhment of that promiſe touching victory over Satan by the ſeed of the woman applyed to Chriſt, in Rom. 16. 20. Heb. 2. 14. 1 Joh. 3. 8. 1 Cor. 15. 54. Joh. 14. 30. Luk. 10. 18. Joh. 12. 31. Apoc. 20. 2.

Seed] Some kinde of grain wherewith the earth is ſown. Gen. 47. 19. And give us ſeed.

2. The Word of God. Luk. 8. 11. The ſeed is the Word; which is caſt into the heart by the Miniſter, as ſeed is into the ground by the Husband-man.

3. The promiſe of ſalvation by Chriſt, being received into the heart by the ſpirit and faith. 1 Pet. 1. 23. Begotten of immortall ſeed; that is, of the Word of God. 1 Joh. 3. 9. His ſeed abides in them; that is, the virtue of the holy Ghoſt working faith and holineſſe by the Word preached.

4. Bread, or ſome other thing diſtributed to the relief of the poor. Eccl. 11. 1, 6. In the morning ſow thy ſeed.

5. A remnant, or few, in compariſon of the reſt, as Seed-corn to the whole heap, Rom. 9. 29. Iſa. 1. 9.

6. The holy Ghoſt in Rom. 9. 29. & Iſa. 1. 9.

1.9. uſeth a Metaphor, borrowing his ſpeech from Husband men, who ſpend the greateſt part of their corn in bread and other food, reſerving a ſmall portion for ſeed, which is the choyceſt and beſt portion, proving fruitfull: ſo would God deal with the Iſraelites, viz. innumerable, as ſtars, or as the ſand, yet a few of them onely ſhould be delivered out of Babylon, and afterward out of Satans power; which few ſhould be of great price, full of good fruit, converting many to Chriſt, as the Apoſtles did. This ſmall number preſerved, Amos likened to a ſheep devoured of a Lyon, whereof the ſhepheard can ſave but a leg or an ear. Micah, to a few cluſters left after the gathering of grapes: and Iſaiah to a cottage left in a vineyard; all which, the Apoſtle Paul, looking unto the ſpiritual redemption, expreſſed thus in Rom. 11.6. The remnant ſhall be ſaved, according to the election of grace.

Seeds of dive s kindes, or mingled ſeed] Hypocriſie in the Doctrine or worſhip of God, or in manners, and life; when falſe Doctrine is mixed with true, and mans inventions with Gods worſhip; and curioſity with honeſt ſimplicity. Lev. 19. 19. Deut. 22. 9 Thou ſhalt not ſow thy vineyard with divers kinds of ſeed. See 2 Cor. 6. 14, 15, 16, 17.

Seeking] An action of a man that deſireth to finde ſomething which he lacketh, as Saul did ſeek his Fathers Aſſes, 1 Sam. 9. 3, 4. and the woman ſought her loſt groat, Luk. 15. 8.

2. The action of a godly perſon, ſpringing from an earneſt deſire of having ſome excellent and needfull grace, which is abſent and wanting to him, either in whole, or in part; in ſubſtance, or in degree. Thus we are commanded to Seek the Kingdome of heaven, Matt 6. 33. to Seek wiſdome, Prov. 2. 4. to Seek God and his face, Pſal. 27. 10. Iſa. 55 6. Alſo to Seek Chriſt, &c. For theſe things are ſtill wanting unto the godly, who have them not in ſuch a meaſure as they would and ſhould.

Note. Seeking either by prayer, as Pſal. 34 4 or by keeping Gods Commandements, 2 Chr. 14. 4.

3. Praying, or asking by prayer. Matth. 7. 7. Seek and you ſhall finde.

4. An action of Gods love, towards ſuch as have forſaken him, Luk. 19.10.

This action of our ſeeking hath theſe degrees.

1. The feeling of the want of ſome excellent and needful thing.

2. An earneſt deſire of finding.

3. A diligent uſe of all good means, whereby to attain it; as prayer, reading, hearing, &c.

4. Conſtancy untill we finde.

5. A love of the thing found.

6. A care to keep, and loathneſſe to loſe it. This whole action is ſhadowed in the example of Mary, in ſeeking up of Jeſus, Luk. 2. 44, 45, &c.

3. To employ the wit or minde to ſtudy, and all the ſenſes to ſearch out a thing, together with the meanes, place, time and uſe thereof, Matt. 7. 7. and it is more then aſking, which is but a deſire of the heart, and ſpeech of the mouth.

Seeking, referred to God] doth containe theſe five ſeverall things.

Firſt, that we are either loſt (as all are before their converſion) or ſtragled from him (as every converted perſon is, more or leſſe; at one time or other.) Luk. 19. 10. Luk. 15. 3, 4, &c.

2. A deſire and care in God, to recover us, and to bring us back to himſelf (as an Hen is carefull to gather her Chickens.) Mat. 23. 37. How often, &c.

3. The offering and continuing unto us means, that he may finde us; to wit, his Word, Miniſters, bleſſings, corrections, motions of his Spirit, checks of our conſcience, admonitions of the godly: By all which, we are ſought up and called to him, as through the whole Scripture manifeſtly appeareth.

4. His great love towards us, being found and recovered. This is expreſſed in the Father of the loſt Son, Luk. 15. 22.

5. Care to keep us ſtill, with unwillingneſſe to loſe us again. Joh. 10. 28. None ſhal take them out of my hands. All theſe things are ſhadowed out unto us, in him that ſought his loſt ſheep, Luk. 15. 2, 3, 4, 5, &c.

Seeking (as it is affirmed of hypocrites and wicked men) is nothing elſe but the making of a ſhew, as if they felt a want of God, and his good gifts, and were deſirous to finde them; when in truth, they ſeek not him for himſelf, but for ſome other thing, as their owne eaſe and commodities, &c. Or they ſeek other things more then him, or before him, as worldlings; or ſeek him amiſſe, not in his Word, as hereticks; or not in all his Word, as hypocrites ſeek him: or laſtly, they ſeek him too late, when he is not to be found, as the five fooliſh Virgins did, and all ſecure Chriſtians doe. Of theſe and ſuch like Seekers, it is written, Prov.

1. 20. They ſhall ſeek me early, and ſhall not finde me.

Not to ſeek his owne will] To hate and leave undone what pleaſeth our corrupt will, that we may do the pleaſure of God, ceaſing from our owne works, to fulfill works by him commanded. Iſa. 58. 13. Not ſeeking thine owne will. Thus godly perſons do not ſeek their owne pleaſure.

2. Not onely to do what pleaſeth himſelf, but joyntly to do his owne will, and his Fathers too. Joh. 5. 30. I ſeek not mine owne will, but my Fathers will; that is, not mine owne will apart, or ſeparate and divided from my Fathers pleaſure. For Chriſt as the Son of God, had one ſelfe ſame Will with his Father, as they were but one and the ſame God; and his will as the Son of man, though differing in faculty and power (being a finite created Will) from his divine Will, yet one with it, as touching conſent and agreement, even then when it ſeemed moſt to diſſent: as in Matth. 26. 33. Chriſt ſhunned death, not with a corrupt Will, as we doe, but with a meer naturall affection without ſin, ſuch as God had put into his humane nature, which by perſonal union was ſanctified

To ſeek God] To ask counſell at his Word, concerning both Civill affairs, and things to be done in Religion. Exod. 18. 15. The people come to mee to ſeek God. See Face.

To ſeek our owne things] To be given immoderately to our owne profit; being wholly occupyed in caring for our owne commodities, forgetting and neglecting the benefit of others altogether. 1 Cor. 13. 5. Charity ſeeks not her owne things. Charity breedeth a care of our Neighbours good.

Seem] To be, 1 King. 21. 2. marg. Shew, Nah. 2. 4. marg. Think, Luk. 8. 18. marg.

Seer] A Prophet, to whom God did make known himſelf and things ſecret, by viſions. 1 Sam. 9. 9. He that is a Prophet, was in old time called a Seer, Num. 12. 6.

Seethe] To boyl, Exod. 16. 23. A Kid, Exod. 23. 19. Fleſh, Exod. 29. 31. Pottage, 2 King. 4. 38. Bones, Ezek. 24. 5.

Seething pot, Jer. 1. 13. Heb. A pot blown up, and ſo made to boyl, Job 41. 20. A reſemblance of Jeruſalem, and of the grievous condition of the inhabitants thereof, which they ſhould be in, during the ſiege of the City, Ezek. 11. 3, 7. & 24. 3, 5. Amot.

Segub] Made ſtrong, or exalted. 1 King. 16. 34.

Seir] Briſtled, hairy, a Kid; or a Devill, or tempeſt. A Hill, Gen. 14. 16. A Countrey, Gen. 32. 3. A mans name, Gen. 36. 20. 2 Chr. 1. 38.

Seirath] The ſame. A place, Judg. 3. 26.

Seiſe] To drive out of ones poſſeſſion, Joſh. 8. 7. To exact ones due, as a Creditor on his Debtor, Pſ. 55. 15. To take hold on, Jer. 49. 24. To poſſeſſe and keep, Mat. 21. 38.

Sela] A rock. Iſa. 61. 1. or Selah. A City, 2 King. 14. 7.

Selah] Elevation, or lifting up, whether of the minde to mark, or of the voyce to ſtrain it, or of both, Pſal. 3. 2. & 21. 2. and often elſewhere.

This word for the matter imports an aſſeveration of a thing ſo to be; 2. and an admiration thereat. For the manner, it is a note of ſinging high, and therefore is uſed onely in Songs and Pſalms, and that in the end of a verſe commonly, excepting ſome few places, Pſal. 55. 19. & 57. 3. Hab. 3. 2, 9. where it is ſet in the midſt.

The Chaldee Paraphraſt, and ſome other Hebrews have turned it [for ever] and Junius ſomewhere rendreth it [plain] to note evidence; ſomewhere [Maxime] and [Summe] to note excellency, as Pſal. 3. 2. & 21. 2.

Selah-hammahlekoth] The rock of diviſions. A place, 1 Sam. 23. 28.

Seled] Affliction. Syr. warning, or reſting. 1 Chr. 2. 30. The Son of Nadab.

Seleucia] Troubled, broken in pieces. A City built by Seleucus Nicanor, 1 Maccab. 11. 8. through which Paul wandred, Act. 13. 14.

Selfe] Ones perſon, ſoul, and body. Mat. 22. 39. Love thy Neighbour as thy ſelfe; that is, ſo well, but not ſo much.

2. Ones Wife. Eph. 5. 18. He that loveth his Wife, loveth himſelf.

3. Our reaſon and will, as it is corrupted with ſin, which cleaves ſo cloſe to us, and we make ſo much of it, as if it were our own ſelf. Luk. 9. 23. Let him deny himſelf. It is the ſame with Eph. 4. 22.

4. The mercies of God, or his truth and juſtice. Iſa. 43. 25. I will put out his iniquity from my ſelfe. 2 Tim. 2. 13. He cannot deny himſelfe. His Mercy and Juſtice be himſelf.

Selvedge] Spoken of the border, edge, or uttermoſt ſide of a curtain, Exod. 26. 4. & 36. 11.

To ſell] To depart from ſome commodity, in reſpect of a due price that is given us for it.

Sell] Divers things may not be ſold; as,

1. Men, Joel 3. 3. Deut. 21. 14. This ſin is threatned, Amos 2. 6. Joel 3. 3.

2. Blood,

2. Blood, Numb. 35. 32.

3. Chaſtity, Deut. 23. 18.

4. Juſtice, Act. 24. 26.

5. The Souls of Men, Matth. 16. 26. This is the ſin of falſe Teachers, 2 Pet. 2. 3.

6. Things that were types of Chriſt, and his grace, this was Eſau's ſin, Gen. 25. 34.

7. The gifts of the holy Ghoſt, this was the ſin of Gehazi, 1 King. 5. and Simon Magus, Act. 8. 19, 20.

8. Chriſt himſelfe: This was Judas his ſin, Mat. 26. 15. In reſpect of the manner, it muſt not be with violence and oppreſſion, Lev. 25. 14, 17, 21, 27, 50, 51, 52. Nor on the Sabbath day, Neh. 10. 31.

It is ſpoken of God, delivering his people over into the hands of their enemies, Deut. 32. 30. Judg. 2. 14. & 3. 8. & 10. 7. 1 Sam. 12. 7.

2. Of Man, in reſpect of himſelf; who,

1 Is ſold under ſin; i. e. ſubject unto his corruptions, though he wraſtleth againſt them, Rom. 7. 14.

2 Unto ſin, when he is given over altogether to doe wickedneſſe, like a ſlave, 1 Ki. 21. 20.

2. In reſpect of others; and then it ſignifieth,

1 To bring into bondage and ſervitude, Nah. 3. 4. Zech. 11. 5.

2 To expoſe others to a prey, which is the ſin of corrupt Judges, ſelling juſtice, and perverting judgement for a bribe, Amos 2. v. 6.

To ſell all we have] To pull our hearts from the things we poſſeſſe, and to be ready indeed to make ſale of them, when Gods glory, and the neceſſity of our Neighbour requires it: Mar. 10. 21. Sell all thou haſt, and give it to the poor. Act. 2. 45. & 4. 34.

2. Willingly to depart from and forſake all our ſins, both of Nature and Action, open and ſecret; and all our pleaſures and profits too, which we cannot hold without ſin. Matt. 13. 44. He ſelleth all that he hath, and buyeth the field where the treaſure was hid.

To ſell the truth] To make ſleight reckoning of it, as men commonly doe of thoſe things which they ſell. Prov. 23. 23. Buy the truth, but ſell it not.

Semachiah] Cleaving, or joyned to the Lord 1 Chr. 26. 7.

Semaiah] The Son of Shechaniah, 1 Chr. 3. 22. See Shemajah.

Semei] Hearing, or obeying. Luk. 3. 26.

Senaah] A bramble, an enemy. A City, Neh. 3. 3.

Senate] The Senators, or ſuch as belonged to the Councell, Act. 5. 21. The word γερουσία, comes of γέρων, an old man; which ſeemeth to import, that onely ſuch are meet to be Senators.

To ſend] To appoint and put forth (of favour) any perſon unto ſome publick function, furniſhing him with gifts and authority thereunto. Thus God ſent his Son to do the office of a Mediatour. Gal. 4. 4. God ſent his Son born of a woman. Alſo, thus he ſendeth Miniſters to preach the Goſpel. Rom. 10. 15. How can they preach unleſſe they be ſent? Jer. 14. 14. I have not ſent them. Jer. 23. 21.

Note, that Chriſt (as God) did exiſt and had being, ere he took fleſh of the Virgin, being God from everlaſting, begotten of his Fathers ſubſtance, to whom he is coeternal, and in time ſent into the world, to take our Nature: which confuteth Arrius, Servetus, Socinus, and others, who aſcribe unto Chriſt a temporary created Godhead, making of him a God by Office, not by Nature and Eſſence.

2. To chooſe, aſſigne, or appoint to this end that they be ſent, Joh. 17. 18.

3. To appoint a perſon (in wrath) unto ſome publick function, for the which he is not fitted of God: after this ſort God ſendeth forth fooliſh Shepheards, and unjuſt Princes, for the puniſhment of ſinners, Iſa. 10. 6. I will ſend him to a diſſembling Nation, &c.

4. To fulfill ſome promiſed good thing, or ſome threatned evill. Thus it is written, that God ſends his Spirit. Joh. 16. 7. If I depart, I will ſend him unto you. Thus God is ſaid to ſend the Sword or Famine, &c. Amos 8. 11. I will ſend a Famine, &c. 2 Sam. 24. The Lord ſent a peſtilence.

5. To commit ſomething over unto others of truſt and charge. Act. 11. 30. They ſent it by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

6. To direct and diſpoſe ſome perſons, by a ſecret providence to doe ſomething for ſome ſuch end as by them was never forethought of. Thus God is ſaid to have ſent Joſeph into Ægypt, Gen. 45. 7. and Saul to Samuel, 1 Sam. 9. 16.

Send] Sometimes ſignifieth to Declare, Joh. 11. 3. Act. 10. 36. Rev. 1. 1, 11. Hence to ſend word to one, is, To ſignifie, and make known, Judg. 11. 28. Prov. 26. 6. Sometimes to Command, Pſal. 105. 20. So God is ſaid to ſend his word to any, whom he commandeth to obſerve the ſame, Mal. 1. 4. Pſal. 107. 19. & 147. 5. Sometimes to Conſult with, or ask

ask counſell, Prov. 22. 21. Alſo to implore help, Hoſ. 5. 13. Sometimes to deſtroy, and caſt away, Joel 3. 13. Rev. 4. 15, 16, 18, 19. Sometimes to condemne eternally, Rev. 14. 19. and ſometimes to let alone, not to meddle with, Act. 5. 38. Sometimes to give leave, permit, Mar. 5. 12. & 8. 3. Sometimes to direct by a ſecret providence, Gen. 45. 5. 1 Sam. 9. 16. Sometime to force away, 2 Sam. 13. 16.

To ſend the holy Ghoſt] ſignifies 2 things.

1. To cauſe the holy Ghoſt to be preſent by ſome miraculous viſible manner, as when he came down upon Chriſt, Matt. 3. 16. and upon the Apoſtles, Act. 2. 3. See Act. 18. John. 15. 26. Hereof underſtand that in Joh. 7. 36. Hereof underſtand that in Joh. 7. 36. This kind of ſending was neceſſary to found the Primitive Church with ſignes and wonders, ſtrange and open, to convict Infidels, that all was done by God himſelf.

2. To convey the Spirit inviſibly into the hearts of the Elect, to make them new men, ſecretly and mightily inſpiring them with new thoughts, motions, and affections, that they may lead a new life, which is the work of the holy Ghoſt purifying the heart. Act. 15. 8, 9.

To ſend the ſword] To make or cauſe to come the calamity of War, bloody ſtrife, and debate. Mat. 10. 34. I come not to ſend peace, but a Sword. Neither Chriſt, or his coming, nor the Goſpel preached, have any ſuch end propounded properly, as to cauſe deadly diſſenſion and Warre (for Chriſt and his Doctrine in their owne nature, and of themſelves tend to peace, and effect peace and atonement between God and men, and amongſt men mutually one to another) but thoſe words in Matthew ſhew what event doth follow the coming of Chriſt and his Goſpell accidentally, through the fault of ungodly unbeleevers, who had rather ſtrive to death againſt their neareſt of kindred and blood, then to leave their hereſies, ſuperſtitions, and wickedneſſe, that they might imbrace the truth of Gods Word; as lamentable experience in all times and places of Europe, hath abundantly proved, and whereof this Iſland in our memory hath given tryal.

To be ſent] in the ordinary and proper ſignification, noteth an inferiour eſtate to the ſender; as in Act. 8. 14. but not ſo alwayes, as in the ſending of the Son by the Father, and of the holy Ghoſt by them both.

Seneh] A rock. 1 Sam. 14. 4.

Senir] A ſleeping candle, or the proſpering of a candle, or of a Teacher. A Hill, 1 Chro. 5. 23. called Hermon: Sirion, Deut. 3. 8, 9.

Sennacherib] See Sanacherib.

Senſe] The meaning, Neh. 8. 8.

Senſes] Judgement and ability to diſcern, Heb. 5. 14.

Senſuall] Carnall, fleſhly, Jam. 3. 15. Jude v. 19.

Sent] The ſmell, Hoſ. 14. 7.

2. It ſignifieth the virtue and force in a thing, Job 14. 9.

3. Manners and converſation, Jerem. 48. 11.

Sentence] Judgement. 2 Cor. 1. 9. For we received the ſentence of death.

2. A ſaying, or ſpeech, Dan. 5. 12. & 8. 23.

3. A judgement in controverſie, Deut. 17. 9, 10.

4. The meaning, Ib. 10.

It ſignifies ſometimes opinion, Act. 15. 19.

Senuah] as Senaah, Neh. 11. 9. The Father of Judah.

Seoʒim] Gates, eſtimation, hairs of the head, tempeſt, devils, hairy, or goats. 1 Chr. 24. 8.

To ſeparate] ſignifieth,

1. To diſtinguiſh things different by due diſcretion, Jer. 15. 19. Matth. 25. 32. See Judge, Numb. 16.

2. To ſanctifie and diſtinguiſh by grace, to prefer to ſome good eſtate, 1 Cor. 4. 7. 1 King. 8. 53.

3. To caſt off or away, to be deſtroyed, or to deprive of ſome good, Rom. 8. 35. 1 Cor. 5. 13.

4. To free from ſome evil, 2 Cor. 6. 17.

Separate. To divide and part company, Gen. 13. 9. It ſignifieth to remove away from, Gen. 49. 26. To abſtain, Numb. 6. 3. Lev. 22. 2. To ſet apart to the work of the Lord, Numb. 8. 14. Act. 13. 2. To forſake the communion of the Church, Jude v. 19. To excommunicate, Luk. 6. 22. To ſcatter, Deut. 32. 8. To diſregard and contemne, Prov. 19. 4. To betake unto, Hoſ. 4. 14. To worſhip, Hoſ. 9. 10.

Sephar] A book, a Scribe, a declaring, a number. A Mount of India, Gen. 10. 30.

Sepharad] A book deſcending, or ruling, the perfection of going down. A Countrey, Obad. 1. 20.

Sepharbaim] The ſame with Sephar. A Haven, or City, 2 King. 17. 24.

Shepharbites] The ſame. The Citizens of Shepharvaim, who burnt their children in the fire to their Idols, 2 King. 17. 31.

Sepulchre] A grave, or burying place, Gen.

Gen. 23. 6. 1 Sam. 10. 2. 2 Sam. 21. 14. It cometh from a word in Hebrew that ſignifieth to aſk, for it alwayes looks for more bodies to be conſumed, and is never ſatisfied, Prov. 27. 20. & 30. 16.

It is taken for the lowermoſt parts of the earth, Deut. 32. 22. Job 11. 8. For the bowels of the earth, Job 26. 2. For death, Pſal. 49. 15. Job 24. 19. Eccl. 9. 10.

To build and garniſh the ſepulchre of the Prophets, Mat. 23. 29. Luk. 11. 47. is to honor their memory.

Painted ſepulchre, is ſpoken of hypocrites, Mat. 23. 27.

Serah] Savouring, the miſtreſſe of ſavour, or the ſong of ſavour. The Son of Aſher, Gen. 46. 17.

Seraiah] My Prince of the Lord, or my Song of the Lord, 2 Sam. 8. 17.

Seraphims] Elect and good Angels from heaven, burning like fire, for the purging of the godly, by the calling of God, and the conſuming of the wicked like fire. Iſa. 6. 2. Seraphims ſtood by him. The ſerpents which ſtung the people in the Wilderneſs, be called by the ſame name, and Preſteres in Greek, Incenſores.

Seraphims] Iſa. 6. 2. or, Seraphs. Are glorious ſpirits: ſo tearmed, from a word that ſignifies to fire, or to burn, becauſe they are (as ſome think) of a fiery nature, or ſubſtance, or in regard of their fervency of love unto God, or in regard of their agility. And becauſe the word is the ſame with that whereby thoſe fiery ſerpents are deſigned that were ſent to ſting with fiery torment and inflamation, thoſe mutinous and rebellious ones in the Wilderneſſe, Num. 21. 6. ſome thence ſuppoſe they are here ſo called, becauſe they were to be Executioners of Gods fiery wrath, on theſe obſtinate and refractary wretches, againſt whom an heavy doom is here in the words following denounced. Annot.

Sered] Syr. A Dyers fat. Gen. 46. 14.

Sergeant] Act. 16. 35, 36. ῥαβδοῦχος, of ῥάβδος a rod, and ἔχω to have; becauſe Sergeants carryed a bundle of rods before the Magiſtrates, wherewith to chaſtiſe Malefactors at the chief Officers command.

Sergius] A net. A wiſe man, ſurnamed Paul, he deſireth to hear Paul and Barnabas, and beleeves the Goſpel, Act. 13. 7, 12.

Serpent] A creature ſo called, being full of venome and ſubtilty, of all other creatures, moſt contrary and dangerous to mankind, whereof there be ſundry kinds. Gen. 3. 1.

2. Satan, for his deep wilineſſe and craft likened to a Serpent. Rev. 12. 9. That old Serpent. To the wilyneſſe of his nature, (being exceeding crafty) Satan hath joyned the experience of ſome 6000. years; therefore called an old Serpent, Gen. 3. 13, 15. O be watchfull and pray. It ſignifieth, both Satan and Serpents.

3. A very wicked perſon, ſtuffed with the poyſon of malice, and armed with policy and purpoſe to doe evill to others, Mat. 23. 33.

4. A good Chriſtian, uſing a godly diſcretion to avoyd the evils intended againſt him by others, and (as the Serpent is cunning to ſave his head) ſo he to ſave his ſoul by his faith in Chriſt, Mat. 10. 16.

Serpent. Satan is ſo called,

1. Becauſe he conveyed himſelf in the Serpent, when he tempted Evah.

2. Becauſe of his Serpentine diſpoſition,

1 In reſpect of his malice, both in the fountain and ſtream; for of his own nature his poyſon is alwayes ready, as in a fountain; and in his effects it runneth continually, as in full ſtreams; both againſt Chriſt, and all his members for his ſake.

2 In reſpect of his winding, by his ſly flattery and ſubtilty, he never ceaſeth to hinder us of our paradiſe.

3. He is a Serpent in reſpect of his Serpentine conditions, he and his Angels are accurſed of God above all his creatures.

The wiſdome of the Serpent, which we are to ſtate after, conſiſteth in divers particulars.

1. As every yeer he caſteth his old skin, ſo we ſhould daily caſt off the old man.

2. He reneweth his ſight, ſo ſhould we be renewed in the Spirit of our minde.

3. He reneweth it by looking upon the ſennell, ſo ſhould we come to the means of grace, the preaching of the Word, that our eyes may be opened.

4. He ſhunneth the company of men, whom he knoweth to be his adverſaries, ſo ſhould we refrain from the company of the wicked.

5. He hideth himſelf where the breath of the Hart cannot reach him, ſo ſhould we beware to entertain the evil motions of Satan.

6. He is carefull to defend his head, ſo ſhould we be careful of the faith and glory of Chriſt our head.

7. He ſtoppeth his ears that he be not charmed, ſo ſhould we beware of men, and their flattering allurements unto ſin, Mat. 10. 17.

Serpents root] Uzziah King of Judah, Father of Hezekiah, who like a Serpent did bite and vex the Philiſtins, and his Son Hezekiah more grievouſly, like a Cockatrice, Iſa. 14. 29.

wiſe as Serpents] Such as be provident and circumſpect (as Serpents be) to ſee to themſelves, that they be not circumvented by craſty ones of this world. Mat. 10. 16. Be wiſe as Serpents.

Servant] A bondman, one conquered in wars, or bought for money, and in that regard bound to ſerve him by whom his life was preſerved. 2 King. 5. 2. The Aramites had gone out in Bonds, and taken a little Maid of Iſrael, and ſhee ſerved Naamans wife. Exod. 21. 2. If thou buy an Hebrew ſervant. Eph. 6. 5. Col. 4. 1.

Note. As ſervitude came in with a curſe, and implyeth a ſpirituall curſe, Gen. 9. 25. So Soveraignty ſomewhere is a ſpirituall bleſſing, Gen. 27. 29. See Gen. 25. 23. & Rom. 9. 12.

2. Every faithfull perſon, being bought and redeemed from the bondage of ſin, and Satan, to ſerve and obey God in righteouſneſſe and true holineſſe. Rom. 6. 22. And made ſervants to God. Luk. 1. 74, 75. Being delivered from our enemies, we ſhould ſerve him without fear in righteouſneſſe and holineſſe of truth.

3. One that ſerveth and obeyeth God, not onely in the common profeſſion of godlineſſe, but in ſome particular function and calling. Thus Paul calleth himſelf the ſervant of God. Rom. 1. 1. Paul a ſervant of Jeſus Chriſt. In this ſenſe alſo, Chriſt is termed the Servant of his Father, to execute his will (as Mediatour) in working mans redemption. Iſa. 53. 11. My righteous ſervant.

4. One whom God doth uſe as an inſtrument and means to effect and perform his wil in the work of ſome particular mercy, or ſome particular judgement. Thus may Cyrus be called the Servant of God, his Shepheard and anointed, Iſa. 44. laſt. & 45. 1.

5. Every creature of God obeying his will, as a Servant obeyeth the will of his Maſter. Pſal. 119. 91. For all are thy ſervants.

6. One, that is in bondage under the Ceremonies of Moſes Law. Gal. 4. 7. Thou art no more a Servant, but a Son. Such an one was ſo ſervant to the Law, as to a Tutor, yet was free by the Spirit of Adoption. One that is a vile ſlave, and ſubject to others, Gen. 9. 26, 27.

7. One which is of a baſe minde, having mean or no gifts, being a man of no worth or reſpect for good qualities. Eccl. 10. 7. I have ſeen ſervants on horſes.

8. One of inferiour condition, and low degree. Eccleſ. 10. 7. Princes walk as Servants.

9. One, which ſerveth and miniſtreth to the Church in the duties of Charity, Rom. 16. 1.

10. One that addicteth himſelf to ſerve and pleaſe the appetites of evill men, and to compoſe himſelf wholly to their evill examples and beheſts, without regard of God or godlineſſe, 1 Cor. 7. 23.

11. One that bindeth himſelf to ſerve another in all good and lawfull matters, and in thoſe which are alſo indifferent, not onely with body but with the minde alſo. Eph. 6. 5, 6.

Servants] were either by birth ſo, or made.

So by birth, were thoſe born of Handmaids, though the Father had been free: hereunto David alludeth, Pſal. 116. 16. I am the Son of thy Hand-maid; i. e. my Mother dwelt within thy houſe, and was within the Covenant, and I was born within thy houſe, and belong to thee. When both the Parents were free, then the Childe was free. Hereunto Paul alludes, Phil. 3. 5.

Made. Servants were ſo either by the law of Nations, or Civill law. The firſt way were theſe taken in War. Chriſt alludeth to this form, Luk. 4. 18. calling miſerable ſinners, Captives. And the Apoſtle, 2 Pet. 2. 19. By the Civil law, were ſuch as ſold themſelves to be ſlaves. Hereunto the holy Ghoſt alludeth, 1 King. 21. 25.

Servants in reſpect of their imployment, were of 4. ſorts among the Jew.

1. Thoſe who had the greateſt charge in the houſe, as Eliezer in Abraham's houſe; ſuch a one was Herod's ſteward, Luk. 8. 3. Theſe were ſaid to ſtand before their Maſter, 1 King. 10. 8. Hereunto the Angel alludeth, Luk. 1. 19. it imports their readyneſſe to ſerve him. Of ſuch Chriſt ſpeaks, Matth. 24. 45.

2. Theſe who had an inferiour ſort of ſervice; ſuch was Eliſha, who powred water upon the hands of Elijah.

A 3. ſort were theſe who were more ſervile, as Cooks and Bakers, 1 Sam. 8.

The 4. were thoſe who were ſet to the baſeſt ſort of ſervice, as to grinde in the Mannill, Exod. 11. 5. Such are ſaid to ſit behinde the Mill, becauſe they thruſt the Mill before them, as they wrought; they were Captives, who in the day did grinde in the Mill, and in the night were ſhut up in a pit or dungeon, and the dore was ſhut with a millſtone. Iſaiah alludeth to this, ch. 47. 2. This ſervice among the Greeks was called δουλεία μύλη, it is called duſt, becauſe they ſerved in the duſt.

This

This word now is appropriate to Church-service.

They had likewise their Mercenary servants, which was more ease. The time of this service lasted but 3 years, Deut. 15. 18. Isa. 16. 14. Job alludeth to this sort, Job 7. 1. Weems Morall law, p. 57, 58, 59.

A fellow-servant to one] To be a creature as well as he, Rev. 19. 20. & 22. 9

Servant of righteousnesse] One who obeyeth God in doing righteous works commanded in his Law. Rom. 6. 18. Ye are made the servants of righteousnes; that is, ye live righteously. Such are called the Servants of God, to teach, that God is served, when righteous works are done and performed.

Servant of Servants] A most vile and perpetuall servant, for ever enthralled to his Brethren, Gen. 9. 25. See Exod. 26. 33. Ezr. 7. 12. Deut. 10. 17.

Servant of sin] One who of his own accord readily obeyeth the desires and motions of sin. Rom. 6. 20. For when ye were the servants of sin; that is, when ye lived in sin, doing that willingly which it commanded.

To serve] To submit our selves to obey such who are Lords over us, and bought us with their money. Exod. 21. 6. And he shall serve him for ever. This is done willingly or unwillingly.

2. To obey and doe the revealed will of God, in the generall calling of a Christian. Heb. 12. 28. Let us have grace, that we may serve God. This is our service of God, in respect of our common vocation, as we are Christians.

3. To be obedient unto God, by doing readily and constantly the duty of some publick calling, to the honour of God, and the good of his people. Rom. 1. 9. Whom I serve in the Gospel of his Son. Act. 13 36. After he had served his time. Mat 20. 28. This is our service of God, in respect of a particular function, 1 Chr. 28. 9

4. To yeeld our selves unto God, by the inward obedience of the conscience, witnessed by the outward gesture of the body, in kneeling, bowing, lifting up eyes and hands to him, as to one that hath absolute power over us, and knowledge of us. Matth. 4. 10. Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serve. Exod. 20. 5. Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor serve them. This is our religious service of God in his publick worship.

5. To stick unto, and to follow the true God, and his true worship, forsaking all strange gods, or strange worship of the true God. Josh. 24. 15. I and my house will serve the Lord.

To serve. To be altogether addicted to a person, or a thing. Thus we must not serve Mammon, Mat. 6. 24. Luk. 16. 3. nor the belly, Rom. 16. 18. nor wine, Tit. 2. 3. nor our lusts, Tit. 3. 3. nor men, in matters of Religion, 1 Cor. 7. 23. nor the hosts of heaven, Act. 7. 42. nor strange gods, Jer. 5. 19. nor any creature, Rom. 1. 25. But we must serve God, Exod. 3. 12. Luk. 1. 74. and Christ, Rom. 16. 18. Act. 20. 19. and that with fear, Psal. 2. 11. with joy and gladnesse, Psal. 100. 2. With one consent, Zeph. 3. 9. Without fear (servile) Luk. 1. 74. In the Spirit, Rom. 1. 9. Joh. 4. 24. In newnesse of life, Rom. 7. 6. Constantly, Rev. 7. 15. Act. 26. 7. Sincerely, Josh. 24. 14. which we ought to shew forth, by seeking none but him, Deut. 6. 3. 1 Cor. 7. 23. In obeying him in all things, in the advancement of his glory, 1 Cor. 10. 31.

It is taken for to apply ones self unto the humour of another, 1 Cor. 9. 19. To be milde and gentle, 1 King. 12. 7. 2 Chron. 10. 7. To submit wholly to the lust of another: Hence we are said to make God a servant to us, when we sin grievously against him, Isa. 43. 24. To obey, and that both lawfully, Rom. 7. 25. and sinfully, Ib. & 6. 6, 17, 20. Joh. 8. 34. to exercise the works of charity, Gal. 5. 13.

To serve at the Altar] To perform the whole Office of the Levitical Priest, whereof Oblations or Sacrifices (being a chief part) are put for the whole, by a Synecdoche. 1 Cor. 9. 13. They which serve (or wait) at the Altar, are partakers of the Altar.

To serve for a Wife] With much patience, poverty, meeknesse, and hard conditions to get him a Wife, as Jacob did. Hos. 12. 12. Gen. 29. 20. & 31. 40, 41.

Note this, that whereas men used of their substance to give dowries, Gen. 34. 11. Ex. 22. 7. Jacob out of his poverty, having nothing to give, Gen. 32. 10. giveth his service to his Uncle for a Wife (which service was hard to him) as David with perill of his life gave 100. foreskins of the Philistins in stead of a dowry, 1 Sam. 18. 23, 25, 27. This of Jacob may be mysticall, and applyed to Christ, whose Spouse is beautifull, Cant. 4. 1, 7. and made him to serve. See Isa. 43. 24.

To serve the Lord] To do all things according to the will of God, with an earnest desire therein to glorifie God, making h's praiſe the utmoſt mark of our obedience to his word. Rom. 12. 11. Serving the Lord. If we ſtretch the ſenſe of this precept yet further, hereby to ſignifie unto us, that we ought to ſerve not Men, but God: and that the Lord ruleth over great and ſmal, then we have a more full meaning.

Such as do interpret the words [Serving the time] intend not thereby, that as Neutrals, and Temporizers, we ſhould change our Religion and behaviour, as times doe change, but either to watch the opportunity and ſeaſons of doing good things; or to obſerve what is fitteſt to be done, according to the circumſtance of time, fitting our ſelves thereunto, yet without turning from truth and honeſty, either to the right hand, or to the left: or to conſider how ſhort our time is, uſing this world as if we did not uſe it, 1 Cor. 7. Or patiently to bear adverſities, at what time they befall us. But the firſt reading hath far more Greek Copies, and authorities of more learned Writers, old and new, to confirm and countenance it, as Beza and Pareus do write upon the place.

To ſerve luſts] To obey wicked motions, by conſenting unto them, or practiſing them. Tit. 3. 3. Serving divers luſts and pleaſures.

To ſerve our neighbour] To apply our ſelves cheerfully and diligently, to do him all the good we can. Gal. 5. 13. Serve one another through love.

To ſerve riches] To love riches, obeying the covetous deſire thereof, Mat. 6. 24. Ye cannot ſerve God and riches.

Serug] A bough, or plant. The Father of Nahor, Gen. 11. 22.

Service] Buſineſſe, labour, and indevour about the good and welfare of others. Rom. 12. 11. Not ſlothfull to do ſervice.

2. Divine religious worſhip given to Idols. Gal. 4. 8. Ye did ſervice to them who were no gods.

Here is overthrown that Popiſh diſtinction of Latria (a worſhip due to God alone) and Doulia (a worſhip peculiar to Saints:) ſeeing the worſhip of Idols is here called [Doulia] which word is alſo elſewhere applyed to ſignifie the worſhip of God, Rom. 12. 11. and eleven times in the Scripture beſides. Latria is attributed to God 19. times in the New Teſtament, and the Greek Interpreters have given it 9. times unto God in the Old Teſtament, Doulia 27. times, as learned Pareus in his Lectures on the Romans, ch. 12. v. 1. hath obſerved.

3. Subjection and obedience, ſuch as Servants do owe unto their bodily Maſters, Epheſ. 6. 7. where in Greek the word is [Doulia.]

4. Miniſtration of alms, or relief unto the poor Saints at Jeruſalem, Rom. 15. 31. comp. with v. 25.

5. Divine, ſpiritual, and inward worſhip, by mortification of ſinful luſts. Rom. 12. 1. Service of God.

Serbile] Ordinary and common labour, Lev. 23. 7, 8, 21. Numb. 28. 18, 25.

Serbitude] Bondage, Lam. 1. 3. The ground of it is ſin. The firſt Servant was a diſobedient Son, Gen. 9. 25.

There is a ſervitude of the Body, and a ſervitude of the Minde. Both are,

1. Naturall.
2. Politicall.
3. Of the Conſcience.

Naturall, of the mind, is the ignorance and weakneſſe of it, yet without ſin.

Of the body, is ſickneſſe, and whatſoever belongeth to it, and death; from this Chriſt hath not freed us in this life, onely he hath turned them into a bleſſing, Rom. 8. 28.

Politicall is threefold: 1 Civill, 2 Filial, 3 Servile.

Civill, is of the Subject unto the Magiſtrate.

Filiall, of the Childe to the Parents.

Servile, of the Servant to his Maſter: Chriſt hath not freed us from this in this life, for his Grace is neither repugnant to Nature, nor Humane right, yet he cauſeth that we abide under it willingly, not by compulſion.

The ſervitude of the Conſcience conſiſteth in divers particulars.

1. That none dare confide and truſt in God, but that at the remembrance of ſin, the Conſcience is terrified, this is called the fear of death, not onely corporall, but eternall; from this the godly are freed in this life, and this freedome is their happineſſe, that notwithſtanding our ſins, yet we dare truſt our ſelves to God. This is called liberty and boldneſſe, 2 Cor. 3. 17. and the ſpirit of adoption, Rom. 8. 15.

2. In that man by nature gives way to his owne luſt, neglecting God; and if at any time he be awaked out of ſin, to ſerve God, yet it is either out of hope of reward, or fear of puniſhment. This the Apoſtle ſpeaks of Rom. 7. & Gal. 4. From this the godly are freed, Rom. 8. 2. They that are Chriſts are Sons, and ſerve not God like Mercenary ſervants. This Chriſt doth, by ſetting before our eyes the horror of ſin, the wrath of God, and then the love of God in Chriſt, and hope of eternal life. This is but begun in this life.

3. In that the worſhip of God is tyed either to certain Ceremonies (though commanded) or certain Perſons, or certain Times, or certain Places; or unto the uſing of, or abſtaining from certain things in themſelves, neither good nor evill. From this Chriſt hath freed us altogether in this life.

4. In that the promiſes of Grace were ſhadowed out in ceremonies, types, and figures, which were a vail caſt over them. So that they were but obſcurely diſcerned. Chriſt hath freed us from this, Col. 2. 14. So that now we behold his glory with open face, 2 Cor. 3. 18.

5. In that we are terrified by every thing, except in proſperity, whereby we are exceedingly lifted up. From this Chriſt hath freed us, by ſetting before our eyes a certain hope of immortality, ſince he hath opened the way to us by his blood, not onely by example, but by ſatisfaction alſo; which is ratified with God by his reſurrection from the dead.

Set] hath divers ſignifications, according unto that whereto it is applyed; as,

1. To impoſe, Gen. 4. 15.
2. To place, Gen. 6. 16. & 9. 13.
3. To fix ſtedfaſtly, Gen. 44. 21.
4. To appoint, Exod. 1. 11.
5. To prefixe, Gen. 17. 21.
6. To apply, Exod. 7. 23.
7. To compaſſe, Exod. 19. 23.
8. To ſtretch, Exod. 23. 31.
9. To be altogether bent, Exod. 32. 12.
10. To order, Exod. 40. 4.
11. To exalt, or lift up, Numb. 21. 8.
12. To go on, Numb. 22. 1.
13. To propound, or lay open, Deut. 4. v. 8.
14. To be pleaſed with, Deut. 7. 7.
15. To put, Deut. 14. 24. To burn, Jam. 3. 6.

To ſet the Sockets] Exod. 40. 18. The ſtability of the Church and members thereof, grounded and ſtabliſhed by Faith in Chriſt, Iſa. 33. 20. and 14. 32. 1 Tim. 3. 15.

Seth] Set, or put, Gen. 4. 25. 1 Chr. 1. 1. The Son of Adam.

Sethur] Hid, or deſtroying. The Son of Michael, Numb. 13. 13.

Setter] A Preacher, Act. 17. 18.

Settle] To make ſtedfaſt, 1 Pet. 5. 10. To appoint, 1 Chr. 17. 14. To be confident, Jer. 48. 11. Zeph. 1. 12.

Seven] ſignifies, Many times, Gen. 33. 3. & 1 Sam. 2. 5. Prov. 26. 25.

Seven. Many times, or often; a certain number put for an uncertain. Matth. 18. 21. Forgive him unto ſeven times. Iſa. 4. 1. Prov. 24. 16. 1 King. 2. 5. Iſa. 3. 4.

Seven eyes] The moſt perfect providence of God. Zech. 3. 9. Seven eyes ſhall be upon one ſtone.

Seven fold] Not in the ſeventh generation and age, either of Cain, or as the Hebrews fable, that Lamech being blinde, by chance hurling a ſtone or bat, did kill him: nor the ſeventh generation of him that killed Cain, as if Gods vengeance ſhould ſo long tarry upon his family that ſlew Cain: but extreme and ſevere puniſhment, to be inflicted on that perſon whoſoever killed Cain. Gen. 4. 15. Vengeance ſhall be taken on him ſevenfold.

Alſo it ſignifies often, even ſo often as one offended by theft, let him reſtore according to the law in Exod. 22. 1. Prov. 6. 31. Pſal. 12. 7.

To ſeven and eight] To ſo many as can be, let us do good, Eccl. 11. 2.

Seven heads] Either ſeven forms of Government, wherewith Rome was governed; or the ſeven hils with which that City was compaſſed. Revel. 17. 9. The ſeven Heads are ſeven Mountains. They are alſo ſeven Kings.

Seven ſpirits] The manifold graces of the Spirit: (as ſome do judge) the innumerable Angels of God, which are as a guard to wait about his Throne, Rev. 1. 4.

Seven ſtars] The ſeverall Miniſters of the Churches, which for their lightſome doctrine and life, are likened unto Stars. Rev. 1. 20. See Stars.

Seven weeks] Forty nine yeers, wherein the Jews returned from Captivity of Babylon, in the dayes of Darius, and Artaxerxes, they reſtored City and Temple, and proſpered. Dan. 9. 25. Shall be ſeven weeks. The 62. weeks mentioned in this verſe contain 434. years, which began in 32. yeer of the reign of Artaxerxes at the revocation of Nehemiah to the Kingdome, Neh. 13. 6. and determined ſeven yeers before the deſtruction of City and Temple, which is ſignified by one week, verſ. 27.

Seventh day] was conſecrated for the Sabbath and worſhip of God, Exod. 20. 10. On it he reſted from the Creation, Ib. 11. Gen. 2. 3. Manna fell not this day, Ibid. 16. 25.

The ſeventh yeer is a yeer of freedome, Ex. 21. 2. The ſeventh day he called to Moſes out of the cloud, Exod. 24.16. The ſeventh moneth a holy convocation the firſt day, Lev. 23. 24.

Seventy ſeven times] Continually, and alwayes. Mat.18.22, 23. I ſay unto thee ſeventy times ſeven times; that is, ſo often as one treſpaſſeth againſt us, and repents, ſo often are we bound to forgive him.

Sever] To except, or free, Exod. 8. 22. To diſtinguiſh, Exod. 9. 4. To ſet apart, Lev. 20. 26. Deut. 40. 41. To divide, Judg. 4. 11. Mat. 13. 49. To chooſe, or appoint, Ezek. 39. 14.

Severall] Apart, 2 King. 15. 5. 2 Chr. 26. 21. Particular, 2 Chr. 11. 12. & 28. 25. Mat. 25. 15.

Severity] The extreme rigour of God, puniſhing his enemies preciſely, even to the utmoſt, in moſt exact juſtice. Rom. 11. 21. Severity on them that fell.

Severity. A ſort of diſtributive juſtice, whereby Malefactors are puniſhed according to the ſtrictneſſe of the Law.

It is attributed to God, Rom. 11. 22. To Magiſtrates, Exod. 21. 12. To Miniſters, againſt obſtinate ſinners, 2 Cor. 7. 8. & 13. 2, 10. Tit. 2. 15. Jude v. 23. Act. 5. 5, 6, 10.

S H.

Shaalabbin] The underſtanding, or Son of a Fox, or of one looking back. A City, Joſh. 19. 42.

Shaalbim] Looking back upon the Harts; a fiſt, or Fox in the Sea. A place, Judg. 1. 35. 1 King. 4. 9.

Shaalbonite] The Son of a Fox, or the path of underſtanding. 2 Sam. 23. 32. 1 Chro. 11. 33.

Shaaph] Flying, or thinking. 1 Chr. 2. 47, 49.

Shaaraim] as Seorim. A City, 1 Chr. 4. 31.

Shaashgaz] Which maketh a paſſing over, regarding, or preſſing; a fleece of wool, Eſt. 2. 14.

Shabbethai] My reſt. A Levite, Ezr. 10. 15. Neh. 8. 7. & 11. 16.

Shachia] The protection of the Lord. The Son of Shaharaim, 2 Chr. 8. 10.

Shade] Pſal. 121. 5. Protection, comfort, and refreſhing from heat.

Shadow] A cool place, ſerving for bodily refreſhing in time of great heat.

2. A refreſhing or comfort from God, after, or in ſome hot affliction or great danger, as the ſhadow is comfortable to the Traveller in time of extreme heat, Pſal. 91. 1. Thus is God a Shadow, in reſpect of his protection and deliverances, Iſa. 25. 4. & 4. 6. Numb. 14. 9. Pſal. 109. 31.

3. Such inſtruments as God uſeth, to give comfort and refreſhing by, to troubled and afflicted perſons. Lam. 4. 20. Under his ſhadow ſhall we be preſerved. Thus good Kings, and godly Rulers are Shadows.

4. This whole world, and the things thereof, Pſal. 39. 6. & 73. 20. Rom. 12. 2. 1 Cor. 7. 31. 1 Joh. 2. 17. Being but as ſhadows of heavenly and true happineſſe.

5. The life of man, Pſal. 102. 11. & 109. 23. & 144. 4. Eccleſ. 6. & 8. 12.

Shadow is taken for a repreſentation or ſetting forth of another thing, as a Painter makes firſt an obſcure draught of the body, which afterward he will fully and clearly form. Thus the Ceremonial law was a ſhadow of the benefits of the Goſpel, and of the Kingdome of Heaven, Heb. 8. 5. & 10. 1. Col. 2. 17.

The ſhadow of death] Extreme ſpirituall affliction, through temptation and ſin. Pſal. 23. 4. Though I walk through the valley of the ſhadow of death; that is, the very eſtate of death.

It is a Metaphor, taken from the Sepulchre and ſuch as be buried, who have not the leaſt ſparkle of light; it noteth extreme calamity both bodily and ſpiritual. See Iſa. 9. 2. Ezek. 37. 12. Matt. 4. 15.

2. Worldly troubles and calamities, through the cruelty of malicious enemies. Jer. 13. 16. Whileſt you look for life, he turns it into the ſhadow of death and darkneſſe.

3. Moſt ſecret naughtyneſſe, Job 12. 22. Alſo fear and terror, Job 24. 17. and dreadfull darkneſſe, Job 10. 21, 22.

The light and comfort of the Goſpel is ſpiritually oppoſed unto ſhadow of death. Matt. 4. 16.

A ſhadow from heat] Gods protection of his people from violence and cruelty of their enemies, to be comfortable as a ſhadow is in time of drought and heat, Iſa. 25. 4.

The ſhadow of my roof] Mine houſe, therein to take his reſt ſafely. Gen. 19. 8. Seeing they are come under the ſhadow of my roof.

Shadrach] A little tender dug, a fine field. Dan. 1. 7.

Shaft] The body of the golden candleſtick, Exod. 25. 31. Numb. 8. 4. An arrow, Iſa. 49. 2.

Shageh] Ignorant, comprehending; or touching ſoftly, 1 Chr. 11. 34.

Shaharaim] Black, troublous, or going early. 1 Chr. 8. 8.

Shahazimah] A City, Joſh. 19. 22.

Shake]

Shake] To cast out, Neh. 5. 13. To be affraid, Job 4. 14. To mock, Psal. 22. 7. To be weakned, Psal. 69. 23. To trouble, Isa. 2. 21. To boast, Isa. 10. 15. To signifie, Isa. 13. 2. To threaten, Isa. 10. 32. To rouse up, Isa. 52. 2. To move with admiration, Hag. 2. 7, 8. To strike a reverence into men, Heb. 12. 26.

To shake earth] To move men unto great admiration and astonishment, as it happened at the publishing of the Law. Heb. 12. 26. Whose voyce then shook the earth. A Metonymie.

To shake heaven and earth] To move with admiration both men and Angels, as it came to passe at the publishing of the Gospel, through the powerfull might of the Spirit. Heb. 12. 26. I will shake Earth and Heaven. See 1 Pet. 1. 12. Act. 2. 7. Metonymie.

2. To move Heaven and Earth, and the Creatures therein, to execute and testifie the wrath and punishment Divine upon the Babylonians, for their malice, pride, and cruelty. Isa. 13. 13. I will shake the heavens, &c. The wrath that should fall on them, is specified and illustrated in vers. 14, 15. Fiercely pursued they should be, and none (not the neerest of kindred) should rescue them.

To be shaken in minde] To be tossed and moved to and fro, with thoughts of doubts, as a ship with waves in a tempest. 2 Thes. 2. 2. That ye be not soon shaken in minde; that is, from the faith of Christ which ye know in your minde.

Things shaken, and not shaken] The whole Ceremonial Law abolished; and the eternal Kingdom & Priesthood of Christ, Heb. 12. 27.

Shaking] is, 1. Naturall, as in Earthquakes, Mat. 27. 54. & 11. 7.

2. Civill, Mat. 24. 6. Isa. 14. 16.

3. Spiritual, when God breaks in upon the spirits of men, Act. 2. 37. & 16. 29.

As the shaking of an Olive leaf] That but a few men should be reserved from the violence and fury of the enemy, even as when the Olive is beaten, but a few berries remain, and scarce a cluster of Grapes left at the inning of the vintage. Isa. 34. 13. Shall be as the shaking of the Olive, &c.

Shalem] Peace. A City, Gen. 33. 18.

Shalechеth] 1 Chr. 26. 19.

Shalim] Foxes, fists, or path-wayes. A Land, 1 Sam. 9. 4.

Shalisha] Three, or principall. A Land, 1 Sam. 9. 4.

Shallum] Peaceable, or a peace-maker, or perfect. 2 King. 15. 10. & 22. 14.

Shalmai] My garment. Neh. 7. 41.

Shalman] as Shallum. Hos. 10. 14.

Shalmaneser] See Salmanasar.

Sama] Hearing, or obeying. 1 Chr. 11. 44.

Shamble] The place where meat is sold, 1 Cor. 10. 25.

Shame] An affection which springeth by reason of some civil dishonesty or filthinesse, appearing in the countenance by blushing. Gen. 12. vers. last, & 3. They were naked, and without shame. This is a Shame of face, or naturall shame; and it is either of fear that we should do dishonestly, or of grief that we have done dishonestly.

2. Trouble and perturbation of minde and conscience, being grieved and cast down at the remembrance of sin against God, Rom. 6. 21. This is shame of Conscience, which in wicked men is an evill affection, and part of the torment of Hell: but in the godly it is a good affection, a signe and fruit of their repentance. Jer. 31. 19. Ephraim smote his thigh, and was ashamed. 1 Cor. 15. 34. 2 Thes. 3. 14.

3. Making voyd, or forgoing that we hope for, whereof followeth shame. Rom. 5. 5. Hope maketh not ashamed; that is, doth not deceive, and frustrate us, so as we need to be ashamed.

4. Punishment or judgement from God, which makes the sinner ashamed. Jer. 13. 26. That my shame may appear.

Shame is put for great confusion and reproach, 1 Sam. 20. 30. Job 8. 22. Psa. 35. 26. Luk. 14. 9. Act. 5. 41.

2. For injury and wrong, Prov. 9. 7.

3. For the thing whereof we ought to be ashamed, and which will bring us into disgrace, Hos. 9. 10. Isa. 30. 3.

4. For great affliction and calamity, Ezek. 36. 6, 7, 15.

5. For unseemly, 1 Cor. 11. 14.

6. To be a mocking stock, Heb. 6. 6.

7. For reproof, 1 Cor. 6. 5. & 15. 34.

8. For the secrets of Nature, Isa. 47. 3. Mic. 1. 11. Num. 3. 5.

To be ashamed] is taken, 1. for to Blush. It is figuratively spoken of the Moon, when her light being compared with the glory of the Lord, seems to be none at all, Isa. 24. 23.

2. To acknowledge our unworthinesse, Ezr. 9. 6.

3. For to account a thing to turn to our shame and disgrace, Ezr. 8. 22. Mar. 8. 38. Job 6. 20. Rom. 1. 16. In this respect God is not ashamed to be called, The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Heb. 11. 16.

4. To be brought into great disgrace and ignominy, ignominy, Iſa. 54. 4. Jer. 50. 12. 1 Joh. 2. 28. as, to be convinced of a lye, 2 Cor. 7. 14. & 9. 4. & 10. 8. Or, ſo to be confounded, that we have nothing to anſwer an adverſary, Luk. 13. 17. or to object againſt him, 1 Pet. 3. 16.

5. To be fruſtrate, and diſappointed of our hope, Pſal. 26. 6. & 35. 3, 25. & 40. 14. Iſa. 28. 16. 1 Pet. 2. 6.

6. To be driven into amazement, or wonder, Act. 2. 6.

7. To be brought into a ſtraight, without either hope, or help, 2 Cor. 4. 8, 9.

8. To periſh utterly, or damned for ever, Dan. 12. 2.

Secondly, ſometimes it is taken in a good ſenſe; as,

1. In repentance for ſin, Ezek. 36. 32. Jer. 31. 19. Ezek. 16. 61. 2 Theſſ. 3. 14. Not to be aſhamed in this caſe is a great ſin, Jer. 6. 15.

2. When God, or Religion, or the godly, are diſgraced, Pſal. 44. 15, 16. Jer. 51. 51.

3. When profeſſors of the truth do erre through indiſcretion, or give offence, or live in any grievous ſin, Iſa. 29. 22, 23. Ezr. 9. 6, 7.

To put to ſhame] ſignifieth,

1. To diſgrace, 2 Sam. 19. 5. Prov. 10. 5. & 17. 2. & 19. 26.

2. To fruſtrate, and diſappoint, Pſ. 44. 8. & 53. 6. Prov. 13. 6. Iſa. 30. 5. Rom. 5. 5.

3. To contemne and deride as a vaine thing, or to hinder from taking effect, Pſal. 14. 6.

4. To rebuke, and chide, Ruth 2. 15, 16.

follow

follow mee. Sheep by effectuall Calling.

4. The elect Gentiles, not yet gathered into the fold of the visible Church. Joh. 10. 13. I have other sheep that are not of this fold. Sheep of Gods purpose and election.

Note. The elect before their conversion, resemble sheep in their evill quality of straying, and unaptnesse to return to the fold: but after their effectual calling, in three other good qualities they are like sheep:

1 In obedience.

2 In patience, and meekenesse.

3 In fruitfulnesse, Isa. 53. 6, 7. Joh. 20. 27.

5. A people innocent and harmlesse. 2 Sam. 24. 7. These Sheep, what have they done?

Shekel] Weight: whence our word Scele or Scale to weigh with cometh: It is usually put for a summe of money, and is in worth our English shilling, if it be a common Shekel; the Shekel of the Sanctuary was in quantity two shillings: It weighed 20 Gerahs, and every Gerah 20 grains of Barley by the Jews record, Exod. 30. 13. & 38. 25, 26. Gen. 23. 15, 16.

There were two sorts, Ponderalis and Numeralis. At the first it was weighed, Josh. 7. 20. It was also stamped and numbred. At the first it was stamped with the print of a Lamb, but after the Tabernacle was erected, it had Aaron's Rod upon the one side, and the Pot of Manna on the other. When silver is alone, we must understand Shekels, as Mat. 26. 15. So Hos. 3. 2. Gen. 20. 16. It was divided in parts, as the Half shekel, which every one in Israel paid to the Lord when they went up to Jerusalem; because, 1 All held their life equally from God.

2 Because all were redeemed alike by Christ.

3 Because the Lord accepteth of us half-pay for the whole; and though our service be very imperfect, yet the Lord giveth us the whole Shekel, Mat. 20. He gave them who came at the sixth hour, and nineth hour, both a penny alike. This was the tribute the Pharisees sought of Christ, Mat. 17. last verse. Weems observ. Nat. & Mor. p. 143.

Shew-bread] was twelve loaves ſet upon a Table of Shittim wood, Exod. 25. 23, 30. It was continually ſet before the Lord. They were made of fine flowre; they repreſented the twelve Tribes of Iſrael: They ſtood alwayes before the Lord, called therefore panis facierum, or propoſitionis, to ſignifie that the Church is alwayes the object of the eye of God; they were renewed every Sabbath, Lev. 24. 8. to ſignifie the renewing of the graces of God to his Church. None might eat of it but the prieſts, who ſerved in their courſe that week, and their Sons, Lev. 24. 9. So long as they did eat of it, they were not to company with their Wives, Exod. 19. 14. This abſtinence 1 Sam. 21. is called a clean way; therefore when David in neceſſity came to eat of it, the Prieſts told him that he might not eat of it, if the mens veſſels were not ſanctified; which is nothing elſe but if they had companyed with their wives; and by veſſels is meant the body, ſo called 1 Theſſ. 4. 4. That this is the meaning, is clear by David's anſwer, that they had abſtained from women theſe three dayes, 1 Sam. 21. 6, 7.

Shomer] An adamant ſtone; a keeper; or, dregs. 2 King. 12. 21. 1 Chr. 7. 32.

Shooes] That part of our cloathing which covers and defends our feet from ſtones, thorns, and other injuries which they are ſubject unto. Exod. 3. Put off thy ſhooes.

2. The Goſpel of peace and atonement, which (being believed in) prepareth and armeth the feet, or the affections of a Chriſtian ſoul, to go through all difficulties of their way, being many and ſharp. Cant. 7.1. How beautifull are thy goings with ſhooes? Eph.6.15. Your feet ſhod with the preparation of the Goſpel of peace.

Shooe is taken for a thing of ſmall value, Amos 2. 6. & 8. 6.

To caſt the ſhooe over a Countrey, is, To ſubdue that Countrey, and poſſeſſe it, and to uſe the inhabitants thereof with contumely and diſgrace, Pſal. 60. 10.

Pull off the ſhooes, Deut. 25. 9. This was twofold:

1. Religious, as Exod. 3. 5. Joſh. 5. 13.
2. Civill, which was twofold:

The firſt ſerved for the ſolemnity of their contracts.

The ſecond was for a puniſhment and diſgrace, Deut. 25. 9. and it differed from the other for confirmation.

1 In diſgrace the woman her ſelf pulled off the ſhooe of him that refuſed to raiſe up ſeed to his Brother; but in the other, the man looſed his owne ſhooe, and pull'd it off.

2 When the man pull'd off his ſhooe, it was no diſgrace, but it was to ſecure his right; if he ſold the Land, it was a token he was willing to part with his right; if he bought, it was a ſigne of his poſſeſſion.

3 The diſgracefull pulling off was by command, but the other was by cuſtome, Ruth 4. 7.

4 That of diſgrace was pulled off from the naturall Brother, if he refuſed to raiſe up ſeed; but that of confirmation was pulled off by any who made a contract in token of poſſeſſion. The Lord alludeth to this, Pſal. 60. 8.

5 That of diſgrace was given to no body, but that of contract was given to him who bought the Land.

6 The former was pulled off againſt his will; but in contract they deſired him that ſold the Land to pull it off, and he did it willingly.

7 The firſt was pulled off before the Judge, but the latter before any ſufficient witneſſe.

8 When they pulled off the ſhooe in diſgrace, they ſpit in his face; but in the latter no ſuch diſgrace was offered.

9 In the former, when the woman pulled off the ſhooe, ſhe uſed theſe words, So ſhall it be done to the man who refuſeth to build his Brothers houſe, Deut. 25. 9. But no ſuch words were uſed in the latter.

10 He that refuſed to raiſe up ſeed to his Brother, his houſe was called domus diſcalceati in Iſrael; but there followed no ſuch diſgrace to him who pulled off his ſhooe in contract. Weem's Jud. Law, p. 119, 120.

Putting off ſhooes] Giving up ones right to another, Deut. 25. 9. Ruth 4. 7. Alſo it was a ſigne of mourning and humiliation, Ezek. 24. 14, 23: and conſequently of ſanctification before God, putting off uncleanneſſe, as the change of other garments ſignified, Ex. 35. & 19. 10. Gen. 35. 2.

Shooe-latchet] The tie of the ſhooe, Joh. 1. 27.

2. The leaſt good thing belonging to one, Gen. 14. 23. Iſa. 5. 27.

Looſe the ſhooe-latchet. To do the meaneſt ſervice, Mat. 3. 11. Mar. 1. 7. Act. 13. 25.

Shoot] To caſt arrows and darts, Gen. 21. 16. It was much uſed in the war, 1 Sam. 31. 3. 1 King. 22. 34. eſpecially in beſieging of Towns, 2 King. 19. 32. Iſa. 37. 33. It is ſpoken of God ſending out his judgements againſt the wicked, Pſal. 144. 6. & 64. 7. and to men, in reſpect of whom it is put for to oppreſſe, and perſecute, Pſal. 11. 2. & 64. 3, 4.

2. To mock by ſhooting out the lip, Pſal. 22. 7.

Shophach] Pouring, or vain vial. 1 Chr. 19. 16.

Shophan] A conie, hid; or, laid up; wearing; or, a breaking. A City, Numb. 32. 35.

Shoze] The ſide, bank, coaſt, or land lying by the Sea, or Rivers of waters, Joſh. 15. 2. Mar. 13. 2. Joh. 21. 4.

Shozt] is put, 1. for a ſmall time, Job 20. 5. Pſal. 89. 47. 1 Cor. 7. 29. 1 Theſſ. 2. 17.

2. For weak, or not able, Numb. 11. 23. Iſa. 50. 2. & 59. 1.

3. To deſtroy, 2 King. 10. 32. To miſſe or to be deprived of, Rom. 3. 23. To cut off, or conſume, Rom. 9. 28.

Shoſhannim] Pſal. 45. the title. A lilly, as ſome think, becauſe this Pſalm (as they ſay) was to be ſung in the Spring time, when the lillies flouriſhed. Others more probably, that Shoſhannim was the beginning of ſome Song, unto whoſe tune this Pſalm was to be ſung. But moſt probably, they who derive the word from another word, which ſignifieth ſix, which may be applyed either to the lilly, that hath ſix leaves; or, to a muſicall inſtrument that hath ſix ſtrings. So called from the Lilly of ſo many leaves. Rivet. Pſal. 45. Præf.

Shobell] An inſtrument to take away aſhes, or any filth, Exod. 27. 3. Such Hiram made alſo in Solomon's Temple, 1 King. 7. 40, 45. Alſo, an inſtrument, wherewith to winnow corn, Iſa. 30. 24.

Shoulder] is taken for the whole Countrey, Iſa. 11. 14.

2. For that part of the garment made for the ſhoulder, Exod. 28. 12. The uſe of the ſhoulder is to bear burthens, Gen. 21. 14. & 24. 15. Iſa. 49. 22.

Hence, To carry upon the ſhoulder, is, To endure with patience, Job 31. 36.

To dwell between the ſhoulders of God, is, To be ſecure and ſafe, Deut. 33. 12.

With one ſhoulder, is, With one conſent, Zeph. 3. 9.

To pull away the ſhoulder, is, To rebell againſt God, Neh. 9. 29. Zech. 7. 11.

To bow the ſhoulder, is, Willingly to ſubmit and undergoe the burthen, Gen. 49. 15.

To lay heavy burthens upon the ſhoulder, is, To oppreſſe, Mat. 23. 4. Luk. 11. 46.

To free the ſhoulder from the burthen, is, To deliver from oppreſſion, Pſal. 81. 6.

To fly upon the ſhoulder, is, To riſe up againſt, and offer violence, Iſa. 11. 14.

Shoulders] ſignifies ſtrength, power, and might to adminiſter an office Eccleſiaſticall and Divine, Iſa. 9. 6. Or Civil and Humane, Ib. 22. 21.

Shout] A voyce of joy, Exod. 32. 18. Numb. 23. 21. 1 Sam. 4. 5. Pſal. 47. 1. The voyce of an enemy in war, to terrifie their adverſaries, Jer. 50. 15. & 51. 14. Of lamentation, Lam. 3. 8. Of applauding, Act. 12. 22. The terrible voyce of the Judge at the laſt day, 1 Theſſ. 4. 16.

Shower] is, 1. profitable, Ezek. 34. 26. Pſal. 65. 10. Gods Word compared hereunto, Deut. 32. 2.

2. Hurtfull, Ezek. 13. 11, 13.

Shread] To cut in pieces, 2 King. 4. 39.

Shrink] Gen. 32. 32. That ſhrank, or that was removed, or forgat his place. The Greek tranſlateth, the ſinew that was benummed. Aynſworth.

Shrine] Act. 19. 24. Silver ſhrines of Diana, or ſilver Temples, as the Syriack interpreteth; which were medals of ſilver, with the form of their Idol Diana's Temple, impreſſed or wrought thereon; little ſilver Chappels repreſenting the form of the Epheſian Temple, with the Image of Diana enſhrined. Eraſmus.

Shrowd] Ezek. 31. 3. A Grove, or Wood.

Shrub] Gen. 21, 15. Shrubs, or Trees, as the Chaldee expounds it. The Greek ſaith, under a Fir-tree. Aynſworth.

Shua] Crying, or ſaving. Gen. 38. 2.

Shuah] Speaking, praying, a pit, a ditch, or a ſwimming. Gen. 25. 2. The Son of Abraham. The Brother of Chelub, 1 Chr. 4. 11.

Shual] A fox, path-way, or little fiſt. 1 Sam. 1. 3, 17.

Shubael] The returning, captivity; or, ſeal of God. 1 Chr. 24. 20. & 25. 20.

Shubam] The talking or thinking of thoſe things, a pit, or humiliation of thoſe things; or, a ſwimming or budding forth of thoſe things. Num. 26. 42. When the Shuhamites. Ib.

Shubite] Of the poſterity of Shuah, the Son of Abraham by Keturah, Job 2. 11.

Shulamite] Peaceable, or perfect. Cant. 6. 13. (the feminine of Solomon) whereby the Church is to be underſtood.

Shumathite] Renowned, or comfortleſſe, or aſtonyed. 1 Chr. 2. 53.

Shun] To reject, avoyd, flee from, 2 Tim. 2. 16.

Shunem] The ſleeping of them, a changing or vain ſleeping of them. A City, Joſh. 19. 18. 1 Sam. 28. 4. A City. Hence Shunamite.

Shuni] Changed, or ſleeping. Gen. 46. 16. Numb. 26. 15. Whence Shunites, Ib.

Shupham] Wearing out thoſe, or the beard or lip of thoſe. The Son of Benjamin. Of him came the Shuphamites, Numb. 26. 39.

Shushan] A lilly, or roſe; or joyfulneſſe. The chief City of Perſia, Neh. 1. 1. Dan 8. 2.

Shut] is put, 1. for To withhold, Deut. 15. 7. 1 Joh. 3. 17.

2. To make barren, 1 Sam. 1. 6.

3. To cover, Pſal. 69. 15.

4. To impriſon, Jer. 36. 5. Luk. 3. 20, 2 King. 17. 4. Act. 26. 10.

5. To reſtrain, 2 Chr. 7. 13.

6. Not to hear, Lam. 3. 8.

7. To be deſolate, Iſa. 24. 10.

8. To keep ſecret, Dan. 8. 26. & 12. 4, 9.

9. To be kept in ſubjection, Gal. 3 23.

To ſhut up in unbeleef] To hold all men from their birth faſt bound in the fetters of naturall blindneſſe and infidelity (as it were in a cloſe priſon) till the mercy of God let them looſe by an effectuall calling to Chriſt. Rom. 11. 32. He hath ſhut up all men in unbeleef. God doth not work this by pouring unbeleef into any mans heart (then ſhould he be authour of ſin) nor by bare permiſſion, only ſuffering men to fall into unbeleef, and to lye therein; neither yet alone by convicting them of infidelity through the testimony of the Law, by which cometh the knowledge of unbeleef and sin: but as a just Judge punishing their naturall blindnesse by giving them unto Satan, to be carried headlong to greater actuall blindnesse and unbeleef, as he punished Pharaoh, Ahab, the members of Antichrist, the Jews, Rom. 11. 8. 2 Thess. 2. 11. Exod. 8. 15, &c.

To shut up the kingdome of heaven] To keep men from hearing and receiving the Word preached, whereby the dore of the Kingdome of heaven is set open unto us. Mat. 23. 13. Because you shut up the Kingdome of heaven before men.

To shut up the words] To confirm the words to the godly alone, hiding them from others. Dan 8 26. & 12. 4. & Isa. 8. 16. That is, lock them up, and keep as under seal close the doctrine from Gods enemies, and reveal it to the beleevers.

Shuthelah] A plant, or greennesse, or moyst drink. Of whom the Shuthalthites, Numb. 26. 35. 1 Chr. 7. 20, 21.

Shuttle] It passeth swiftly and suddenly from the one side of the web to the other, and is used proverbially to set out swiftnesse, Job 7. 6.

S I.

Sia] Moving Ezr. 2. 44. Neh. 7. 47.

Sibbecai] A bough, or off-spring; or, a cottage. 1 Chr. 11. 29. & 27. 11.

Sibmah] Overmuch, captivity, or hoarsenesse, or sitting. A City, Josh. 13. 19. Isa. 16. 9.

Sibraim] A place, Ezek. 27 16.

Sichem] See Shechem.

Sick] One that lacks bodily health, either in whole, or in part. Luk. 9. 1, 2. His sick servants. Phil. 2. 27. He was sick neer to death.

2. Sinners which do feel their sins with grief, and desire of a remedy from Christ. Mat. 9. 12. The whole need not the Physician, but the sick, vers. 13. For I am not come to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

Sickenesse] is 1. Bodily, of man generally, Gen. 48. 1. 2 Sam 12. 15. Dan. 8. 27. 1 Cor. 11. 33. Or of Women in particular, Lev. 20. 18.

2. Mentall, Prov. 13. 12.

3. Sinfull, 2 Sam. 13. 2.

4. Spirituall; which is twofold:

1 The earnest and longing desire the Church hath to the enjoying of Christ, Cant. 2. 5. & 5. 8.

2 The infirmities of the soul, which Christ came to heal, Matthew 8. vers. 17.

The efficient cause of sickenesse is God, Psal. 38. 6. Lev. 26. 16. Deut. 28. 27, 35, 59, 60, 61.

The meritorious cause is sin, Ib.

The instrumentall cause is, 1 Satan, who sometimes is permitted by God, Job 1. 2.

2 Intemperance, as drunkennesse, incontinency.

The end is, 1. To punish the wicked, 1 Sam. 5. 6, 9.

2. To try the patience and constancy of the godly, as in Job, Hezekiah.

3. To manifest the glory of God, Joh. 9. 2, 3. & 11. 4.

Sickenesse] Ill disposition of the body. Joh. 11. 4. The sickenesse is not to death.

2. The infirmities of the soul. Mat. 8. 27. He bare our sicknesses.

3. Pains and punishments of Christ equivalent and answerable to the sin which we had committed, and to the sickenesse, or miseries which we deserved, and without his sufferings our selves had suffered. For it must be held, that Christ having no inherent sin of his own, but the imputed sin of others, he had no manner of bodily disease or hurt, as naturall, but onely that which was forced on him, as wounds, stripes and death, Mat. 8. 17. See this interpretation confirmed, Isa. 53. 4, 5, 6. See Infirmity. Or we may say, it signifieth Christs care of curing our sickenesse and sin, by his suffering and satisfying for us.

Sickle] An instrument used to cut down corn, Deut. 16. 9. & 23. 25. Mar. 4. 29.

It is put for the judgements of God, whereby the wicked are cut down, Joel 3. 13. Rev. 14. 16.

Siddim] The laboured field. A vale, Gen. 14. 3.

Side] Part of a thing, Josh. 8. 33. Gen. 6. 16.

2. It is put for a party, Exod. 32. 26. 2 Ki. 9. 32. Psal. 124. 1.

3. The bank, Dan. 10. 4.

4. The shoar, Act. 16. 13.

Sidon] See Zidon.

Siege] A compassing about, and shutting in of an enemy in time of war, 1 Ki. 15. 27. Deut. 20. 19.

It is taken for oppression and straights, Deut. 28. 55, 57. For the bulwark and defensive place, 2 Chron. 32. 10. and for the judgements of God against the wicked, Isa. 29. 3. Mic. 5. 1.

Siele] To cover the inside of the roof of a house with boards or plaister, 2 Chr. 3. 5.

Ezek.

Ezek. 41.16. It is taken for ſtately, and magnificent, Hag. 1. 4. and for a pretence to cover ſin, Jer. 22. 14.

Sift] is ſpoken of God, in his anger, and it ſignifieth,

1. To ſcatter, Amos 9. 9.

2. To conſume, Iſa. 30. 28.

To ſift as wheat] By temptations to aſſault and exagitate, endevouring by malicious diligence and ſubtilty to ſhake faith out of the heart (as wheat out of a ſive) that nothing may remain but the bran of unbeleef and wickedneſſe. Luk. 22. 31. Satan hath deſired to ſift (or winnow) you. God doth ſift and winnow, to purge and cleanſe the heart (as a good Husband-man the Corn,) but Satan doth it to deſtroy and to tread the Corn under foot like ravening fowles and vultures. Thus in one act Satan is unjuſt, and God moſt juſt, becauſe they had not one end.

Sigh] A teſtification of grief by groaning.

It is ſpoken 1. of Chriſt, who ſighed,

1 For the miſeries of men, Mar. 7. 34. and for the ſins of men, Mar. 8. 2.

2. It is ſpoken of men; who ſigh,

1 For themſelves and others in reſpect of ſin, Ezek. 9. 4. and of miſery, Lam. 1. 4, 11, 21, 22. Job 3. 24. Pſal. 12. 5. & 31. 10. & 79. 11.

Sight] is taken 1. for the ſenſe of ſeeing, Mar. 10. 51, 52.

2. For ſaving knowledge, Luk. 4. 18.

3. A ſpectacle, Luk. 23. 48.

4. A wonderful viſion, Exod. 3. 3.

5. The glorious ſight of God in heaven, 1 Joh. 3. 2. 2 Cor. 5. 7.

6. In the preſence, 2 Cor. 7. 12. & 8. 21.

7. The knowledge of God, Heb. 4. 13.

2. The chiefeſt and choyceſt perſons in a Kingdome, as Princes, Rulers, and Prieſts. Iſa. 1. 22, 23. Thy ſilver turned to droſſe, thy Princes are rebellious.

Silver. A metall well known; it is the meaſure whereby the worth of any thing is eſteemed, and the price wherewith it is bought, Gen. 23. 15, 16. Deut. 22. 29. 2 Sam. 24. 24. 2 King. 6. 25. It is put for gain, Judg. 5. 19.

2. For riches, Hoſ. 9. 6. Iſa. 2. 7. Job 27. 16. It was uſed for the Tabernacle, Ex. 35. 5, 24. and the Temple, 1 Chr. 29. 4. It is found in the veins of the earth, Job 28. 1. The beſt was brought from Tharſis, Jer. 10. 9. It is purged from the droſſe by fire, Pſal. 12. 6. & 66. 10. In which reſpect the Word of God is compared to it, as being free from all imperfection, Ib. and the tongue, i. e. the doctrine of godly men, Prov. 10.20. & 8. 19. Contrary to this is reprobate ſilver, whereunto the wicked Jews are compared, by reaſon of their ſins, Jer. 6. 30. Iſa. 1. 22. Ezek. 22. 18, 19.

Not to regard ſilver] Neither to crave it of the Babylonians, nor to receive it, being offered by them as a ranſome for their life, but to kill all they meet with. Iſa. 13. 17. They ſhall not regard ſilver, &c.

Silverings] Iſa. 7. 23. A thouſand Silverings. Heb. A thouſand of ſilver; that is, ſo many ſhekels, for that is uſually underſtood where the coyn or weight is not expreſſed, as 2 Sam. 18. 11, 12. Matth. 26. 15. The Shekel then being in weight and value about one Half-crown; the ſumme that ſuch vineyards (being of the beſt ſort) were yeerly let for, came to about One hundred twenty and five pounds. Annot.

Simeon] Hearing, or obedient. Jacob's ſecond Son by Leah, Gen. 29. 33. He and Levi kill the Sechemites, Gen. 34. 25. and are reproved for it by Jacob, Gen. 49. 5, 6, 7. He is left for a pledge in Ægypt, Gen. 42. 24. and delivered, Gen. 43. 23. His children, Gen. 46. 10. portion, Joſh. 19. 1, to 10. Alſo, a juſt man, who was aſſured by the Holy Ghoſt he ſhould not die untill he ſaw Chriſt, Luk. 2. 25, to 36. Alſo, a Prophet called Niger, Act. 13. 1.

Similitude] Likeneſſe, when one thing is declared by another like it; as Mat. 20. 1.

2. Form, together with truth of the thing. Rom. 8. 2. Made in the ſimilitude of ſinfull fleſh.

Here

Here is meant a true humane nature, made unto the form of our nature.

Simon] Hearing, or obeying. An Apoſtle, Mat. 4. 18. Alſo a Leper, who received Chriſt into his houſe, Mat. 26. 6. Luk. 7. 40. Another whom the Jews compelled to bear the Croſſe of Chriſt, Mat. 27. 32. Alſo a Conjurer, Act. 8. 9, to 25. A Tanner, Act. 9. 43. & 10. 6. A Canaanite, Mat. 10. 4.

Simple] One endowed with a very mean and ſlender wit and capacity. Prov. 9. 1. Who is ſimple, let him come hither, and he that is deſtitute of wiſdome, &c. Pſal. 19. 7. Giveth wiſdome to the ſimple.

It ſignifies not onely ſuch as be fooliſh and unwiſe, as all men naturally be, but ſuch as ſee and acknowledge the ſame, and be ready to ſubmit unto the Word, as the elect do at their converſion, 1 Cor. 3. 18.

Alſo, Simple ſignifies fooliſh ignorant perſons, being without any mixture of grace or heavenly wiſdome in them, Prov. 1. 22.

One that hath a plain heart, voyd of wiles and wrinkles, having not the wit and skill to contrive any miſchief or harm to others. Rom. 16. 19. As concerning evill, be ſimple.

This word (Simple) in the Hebrew meaneth one that is eaſily perſwaded and ſinticed, one credulous and light of belief, Prov. 14. 15. Conſequently it is uſed for unskilfull, and applyed ſometime to evil perſons, Prov. 9. 6. & 21. 3. Sometime to the good, as Pſal. 116. 6. The Greek often doth tranſlate it a babe, and ſo Chriſt calleth ſuch, Mat. 11. 25.

Simplicity] Signifies theſe 4. things.

1. Faithfulneſſe without deceit, not couſening the needy.

2. Humility without pride, not ſeeking our owne praiſe.

3. Gentleneſſe without fierceneſſe, not giving the poor ill language.

4. Uprightneſſe without reſpect of perſons, not preferring one before another, where neceſſity is equal. Rom. 12. 8. Let him give with ſimplicity. This word is here ſet againſt fraud, covetouſneſſe, moroſity, vainglory, malignity, partiality, and curioſity, by fiſhing and examining the poor too narrowly, ſeeking pretences and excuſes, as if they had no need.

Sin] A dart, or armour, or coldneſſe. A Wilderneſſe, Exod. 16. 1. Numb. 33. 11.

Sin] See Sinne.

Sina] (as Sin) A mountain, Gal. 4. 25. where the Angel of the Lord appeared to Moſes, Act. 7. 30. where God gave the Law, Exod. 19. 20. & 20. 1. Whereunto the Apoſtle alludes, Gal. 4. 24. and Heb. 12. 18. It is called a holy Mountain, Pſal. 68. 16. and the mountain of God, Exod. 3. 1. & 4. 27. & 24. 13.

Sinai) A bramble; Syr. enmity. A Wilderneſſe, Exod. 16. 1. Deut. 32. 2.

Sinew) is put improperly for obſtinacy and hardneſſe of heart, Iſa. 48. 4.

Since) hath relation from the time preſent unto that going before, about which any thing is then ſpoken, Gen. 44. 28.

It ſignifieth alſo as much as ſeeing, or becauſe, Gen. 46. 30.

Sincere) That which is pure, and without mixture. See Pure.

Sincere faith) Unfaigned faith, which is without mixture of hypocriſie. 1 Tim. 1. 4, 5. Pure heart, good conſcience, ſincere faith, unfaigned.

Sincere milk) The doctrine of the Word, as it is unmixed with errors, traditions, and hereſies. 1 Pet. 2. 1. Deſire the ſincere milk of the Word; that is, ſuch as there is no deceit in it.

Not ſincerely) Without a ſincere and pure minde, though the matter of their doctrine were pure, Phil. 1. 16.

Sincerity) Truth or uprightneſſe, without counterfeiting. 1 Cor. 5. 8. Keep the feaſt of unleavened bread with ſincerity. 1 Cor. 16. v. laſt.

2. Immortality, incorruption, or life eternall. Eph. 6. 24.

Sing) is ſpoken of Birds, Cant. 2. 12.

2. Of Men, who by it teſtifie the inward joy of the heart, Jer. 31. 7. Pſal. 5. 11. & 33. 1. & 63. 8.

Hence it is taken, 1 for great gladneſſe, Prov. 25. 20. Gen. 31. 27. Exod. 15. 1. and was uſed in Feaſts, Iſa. 24. 8, 9. in Marriages. Of this ſort is the 45 Pſalm, and Solomon's Song, after Victory, Exod. 15. 1, 2, 3, 21. Judg. 5. 1 Sam 18. 6, 7. 2 Sam. 22. 1.

2. For joy and pleaſure, Pſal. 119. 54.

3. To praiſe, Judg. 5. 3. 1 Chr. 16. 9, 23. Hence God is ſaid to be our Song, becauſe our praiſes ought to be of him, Exod. 15. 2. Pſal. 118. 14. Iſa. 12. 2.

3. To deride and mock, Pſal. 69. 13. Job 30. 9.

The effect is, it puts away ſadneſſe, Prov. 25. 20. 1 Sam. 16. 24.

There are ſeverall ſorts recorded in Scripture: as,

1. The Song of Songs; i. e. the moſt excellent Song, as containing the marriage between Chriſt and his Church.

2. A

2. A new Song; i.e. Singular and exquiſite, deſerving to be renewed, becauſe of the benefits of God daily renewed to us, Pſal. 33.3. & 40.4. & 96.1. Rev.5.9.

3. Dolefull, 2 Sam. 1.19. & 3.35, 36. 2 Chr. 35.25.

4. A holy Song, ſuch are all the Songs of Praiſe and Thankſgiving throughout the Word. Theſe holy Songs were to be ſung unto God, Exod. 15.21. Judg. 5.3. Pſ. 81.1. The matter was to be the praiſes of God, Pſal. 47.6. 2 Chr. 20.22. The manner was with a loud voyce, Pſal. 81.1. with gladneſſe, Jer. 31.7. making melody in our hearts, Eph. 5.19. with the ſpirit and underſtanding, 1 Cor. 14.15. with grace in the heart, Col. 3.16. The place was the Houſe of God, Iſa. 38.20. and elſewhere, Exod. 15.1. 2 Chr. 20.22. The time was at the receiving bleſſing from God, and at the overthrow of the enemies of the Church, Jer. 51.48. 1 Sam. 14.6.

To ſing as an Harlot] That the Merchants of Tyre ſhould with fair ſpeeches and praiſe of their merchandiſe and ware draw another to bargain with, and buy of them, as Harlots for their lucre do entice with their pleaſant Songs, young men to come in to them, Iſa. 23.15.

Singers] were, 1. Holy, who were diſtinguiſhed in certain ranks:

The firſt called the chief, Hab. 2.19. Neh. 12.46. 1 Chro. 15.17. & 16.41. and the maſter of the Songs, 1 Chr. 15.22.

The ſecond rank is mentioned, 1 Chr. 16.5.12, & 35.15. Ezr. 2.41.

2. Common, 2 Sam. 19.35.

Single] True, or without guile: it is the ſame with ſincere.

Single life] An unmarryed life, or life of ſuch as live out of marriage; which none ſtand bound to doe, unleſſe they can forbear by ſpecial gift, 1 Cor. 7.

Singleneſſe of heart, Col. 3.22. This may be conſidered:

1. As it is oppoſed to hypocriſie; and ſo a ſingle-hearted man is no hypocrite.

2. As it is oppoſed to fleſhly wiſdom, 1 Cor. 1.12. and ſo a ſingle-hearted man is open and plain in all his dealings.

3. As it is oppoſed to a double heart, or a wavering heart, a divided heart; and that as well in matter of worſhip, 2 King. 17.33. as in matters of the world, Matth. 6.21, 22, 23, 24.

4. As it is oppoſed to ſpirituall pride; a ſingle heart is an humble heart, Job 9.15, 16.

5. As it is oppoſed to perturbation and diſquietneſſe of the heart, Phil. 1.10. 2 Cor. 1.12. Act. 2.46.

6. As it is oppoſed to offenſiveneſs, and ſo the ſingle-hearted man is neither offenſive by wrongs, nor by ſcandals, &c. Byfield p. 131, 132, 133.

Singular] That which is not common and ordinary, but peculiar and proper to a godly perſon. Matt. 5.47. What ſingular thing do yee? Here it is taken in good part: but in the evil part it is put for one conceited and peeviſh, bent to his owne way and will, without reaſon.

2. That which is excellent and precious. 1 Theſſ. 5.13. That ye have them in ſingular love for their work ſake.

Sinim] The South Countrey. Iſa. 49.12.

Sinite] A people deſcended from Canaan, 1 Chr. 1.15.

Sink] Improperly, it is taken for, To be in great affliction, Pſal. 69.2, 14.

2. To periſh and be deſtroyed, Jer. 51.64.

3. To keep well in remembrance, Luk. 9.44.

Sin] The tranſgreſſion of Gods Law. 1 Joh. 3.4. Sin is the tranſgreſſion of the Law. The word in Hebrew which is tranſlated ſin, ſignifieth properly miſdoing, or miſſing of the mark or way: as in Judg. 20.16. Men could ſling ſtones at an hairs breadth, and not ſin; that is, not miſſe. Alſo Prov. 19.2. He that is haſty with his foot, ſinneth; that is, miſſeth, or ſwerveth. In Religion Gods Law is our mark or way, from which when we ſwerve, we ſin: therefore Sin is defined to be tranſgreſſion of the Law, or unlawfulneſſe, 1 Joh. 3.4.

2. The guilt of ſin, making us ſubject unto, and worthy of puniſhment. Rom. 5.12. By one man ſin entred into the world, in whom all have ſinned.

3. The puniſhment due to ſin. Gen. 4.13. Sin lyeth at the dore: and, My ſin is greater then I can bear, verſ. 13. Iſa. 24.20. 1 Pet. 2.24.

4. Both guilt and puniſhment. Gen. 26.10. Thou ſhouldſt have brought ſin upon us. Pſal. 32.1. Bleſſed is the man whoſe ſin is covered. Matt. 9.2.

5. Originall corruption, or the pravity and naughtineſſe of our corrupt nature, being prone to all evil. Rom. 6.11, 12. Let not ſin reign. Rom. 7.8. And ſo throughout that chap. Pſal. 51.5. Rom. 3.9, 23.

6. Actuall ſin, when evill thoughts are conſented unto, and performed in outward deeds.

deeds. Jam. 1. 15. Luſt when it hath conceived, bringeth forth ſin.

7. Any ſinfull act or deed. Rom. 5. 12. By ſin death entred. Alſo, falſe doctrine, or error in doctrine. Joh. 8. 46. By a Synecd.

8. A continual courſe of ſinning, or a conſtant ſervice of ſin, Rom. 5. 15. & 6. 15. Shall we ſin that grace may abound? Alſo, Rom. 6. 1. Shall we continue in ſin?

9. A ſacrifice offered to make atonement for ſin. 2 Cor. 5. 21. He hath made him to be ſin for us. Exod. 29. 14. & 30. 10. Pſ. 40. 6. and often elſewhere, it ſignifieth unbelief, as the Mother ſin, Joh. 16. 19.

10. It ſignifieth falſe doctrine, Joh. 8. 46.

11. Infidelity, the root of ſin; and therefore ſin, Joh. 16. 9.

12. Error, untruth, falſity, Joh. 8. 46.

13. A ſin extraordinarily great, or made greater by circumſtance, Joh. 15. 22, 24. or a greater meaſure of ſin, Jam. 4. 17.

14. The remiſſion of ſin, Rom. 5. 16.

15. A bribe or gift given by a wicked people to buy out the puniſhment of ſin, Hoſ. 4. 3.

The cauſes of ſin] God is no way to be reckoned among the cauſes of ſin, he is cauſa defectiva, or rather negativa, non effectiva peccati; or rather, defectus Dei in nobis, eſt cauſa effectus mali in nobis.

The cauſes of Sin 1 Without us, are reduced to three. The devill, the world, and the fleſh.

2 Within us, (which is reducible to the fleſh) there are three in general:

1 Ignorance, 2 Infirmity, 3 Evil will; or as Ariſtotle hath it: 1 Ignorantia, 2 Paſſio vel infirmitas, 3 Electio ſeu deliberatio. Vel, 1 Non noſſe, 2 Non poſſe, 3 Non velle bonum: quæ 3. privativæ ſunt. Poſitivæ vero ſunt cauſæ externi peccati hæc 3. interna. 1 Cogitare malum, 2 Velle, 3 Poſſe.

Sin againſt the holy Ghoſt, is a general denyal and oppugning of the truth, and all Religion, of which the underſtanding and conſcience by the illumination of the Spirit are perſwaded and convicted, proceeding from an obſtinate will, and purpoſed malice againſt God and his truth.

It is committed of two ſorts of men.

1. Of thoſe who have made profeſſion of the truth, and afterwards become Apoſtates from all Religion, condemning, blaſpheming, and perſecuting as hereticall and impious, that truth which before they profeſſed, and of which they were perſwaded. Thus did Hymeneus and Alexander ſin, 1 Tim. 1. 20.

2. Thoſe who never were profeſſors of the truth, yet whoſe Conſciences are convicted of that truth which they doe oppugne, as the Scribes and Phariſees, Matt. 12. 24, 31.

Sin-offering] was a Sacrifice offered for the expiation of ſin, and it was of Bullocks, Lev. 4. 8. & 8. 2. Goats, Lev. 4. 24. & 10. 16. Young calf, Lev. 9. 2, 8. Kid, Lev. 9. 3. Numb. 29. 5. Lamb, Lev. 4. 33. Turtle-dove, Levit. 12. 6. Fine flower, Ibid. 5. 21.

There were two ſorts of Sin-offering.

1. Thoſe whoſe blood was not carryed into the Holy place, and ſprinkled ſeaven times before the veil, upon the golden Altar, but only upon the braſen Altar; and of theſe the High-prieſt might eat, therefore they are ſaid to eat the ſins of the people, Hoſ. 4. 8. i. e. the Sacrifice for ſin. Thus Moſes was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, for not eating the Sin-offering; which what it was he explaineth, Lev. 10. 18.

But the Sin-offering whoſe blood was carryed within the Holy place, the fleſh of it was carryed without the Camp, and burnt, and the Prieſts might not eat of that, Lev. 6. 30.

The carying of it without the Camp, had an Allegorical, Tropological, and Anagogical application.

The Allegorical was, that Chriſt ſhould ſuffer without the Gate of Jeruſalem.

The Tropological, the Apoſtle maketh, Heb. 13. 11. where he proves, that the Jews ſtanding to the Ceremonial law, cannot receive any benefit by Chriſt, becauſe the people got nothing of that which was burnt without the Gate, and Chriſt the Sin-offering was burnt without the Gate.

The Anagogical application was, That here we have no permanent City, Heb. 13. 14.

They were commanded to lay their hand upon the head of the Sin-offering, Levit. 4. to ſignifie, That they laid over their ſins upon the beaſt, which was a type of Chriſt, who was made (ſhame) an offering for ſin, Iſa. 53. 10. and ſin for us, 1 Cor. 5. 21. Weems Cer. law, p. 66, 67.

Sin to death] The blaſphemy of the holy Spirit, which is capital, without all recovery. 1 Joh. 5. 16. There is a ſin to death, for which ye ſhall not pray. See Blaſphemy.

Note. Sin to death, is not a ſin which is committed in the hour of death, but which undoubtedly bringeth death: like to the phraſe, Numb. 18. 22. but that which Moſes ſpeaketh of, is a bodily death; in S. John is car-

ryed to the death of the ſoul, and that which is eternall.

Not to have ſin] Not to have ſo great a ſin, as contempt of Chriſt and his doctrine. Joh. 15. 22. Not to have had ſin.

Sin to lie at the doore] Three things.

1. That his ſin how cloſely ſoever done, yet ſhould be made manifeſt, as things which lie before the dore, where all men go in and out.

2. That howſoever his conſcience might ſleep and be quiet after his bloody ſin, yet as a ſleeping dog lying at the dore, being awaked by ſuch as tread on him, doth bite and vex, ſo ſhould horrour and biting of conſcience continually moleſt him.

3. That the puniſhment of his murthering ſin ſhould be ready at hand to take hold of him, ſo as he ſhould not eſcape, though his pain for a time were deferred. The pain due to Hypocrites, is like a Ban-dog at the dore, which is eaſily irritated and provoked to fly in a mans face, and to tear his fleſh; ſo the deſtruction of ſinners ſhall quickly and certainly arreſt and ſeiſe on them. Gen. 4.7. Sin lyeth at the dore.

To looſe ſins] To aſſure a repentant ſinner for forgiveneſſe by applying the promiſes of mercy in the publick Miniſtery. Matth. 16. 19. Whatſoever thou ſhalt looſe, &c. The Papiſts doe build their Indulgences upon this Looſing, and their Tyranny on Binding.

To ſin] To break or tranſgreſſe ſome Commandements of God, 1 Joh. 1. 8, 9, 10. Alſo, to offend publickly, 1 Tim. 5. 20.

Thirdly, to follow ſin with pleaſure, not ſtudying to live holily. 1 Joh. 2. 1. That ye ſin not.

To ſin againſt one] To give him occaſion of ſin by our evil example, in word or deed. Matt. 18. 15. If thy Brother ſin, or treſpaſſe againſt thee.

To commit ſin] Willingly, with the whole will, to fulfill the deſires of luſt and ſin. 1 Joh. 3. 8. He that committeth ſin is of the Devill.

To continue in ſin, to live in ſin, to commit ſin, and to ſin, (ſometime) to ſerve ſin, to obey ſin, be Synonyma, or of one ſignification and force, being ſpoken of unregenerate and impenitent ſinners, who in all things be ruled by their own ſinful motions, though not without the check of conſcience and reaſon; yet without any godly ſorrow, or hatred of their ſins.

To deſtroy ſin] To beat and keep down the power of ſin, that it reign not. Rom. 6. 6. That the body of ſin might be deſtroyed.

2. To teach, that elect perſons juſtified by faith, are ſanctified by the Spirit to be able to kill the rage of ſin, as they are freed from guilt and puniſhment of it. Gal. 2. 18. If I build again the things (that is, Sins) which I have deſtroyed. To build Sin, is to teach that grace hath abounded, that men may live in ſin: To deſtroy ſin, is quite contrary, to teach, that ſuch as are juſtified by grace, may not ſerve ſin.

To have cloak for ſin] To have ſomething to plead for excuſe, John 15. 22.

Not to ſin] To endevour the cleanſing our ſelves from ſin, following holineſſe of life, 1 Joh. 3. 6. Sinneth not.

To ſin no more] To increaſe our care and indevour againſt our ſins, that the force of them may be weakened, and their number leſſened, and occaſions avoyded. Joh. 5. 14. Go, and ſin no more; that is, reſiſt and ſtrive againſt thy ſins, that they be not ſuch, nor ſo many as have been. It is a comparative ſpeech.

To walk in ſin] To live ſecurely in a ſinfull courſe, Eph. 2. 2.

Sinner] Every man being ſubject to ſin, and to the tranſgreſſion of the Law. Luk. 18. 13. God be mercifull to me a ſinner. Thus all men be ſinners. Rom. 5. 8. When we were ſinners.

2. The Gentiles, which be ſtrangers from the Covenant of God. Gal. 2. 15. And not ſinners of the Gentiles. Thus Heathens only be Sinners. In this reſpect, they which be born of God, be ſaid not to ſin, 1 Joh. 3. v. 9.

3. One that liveth in ſin, and maketh a trade of ſinning, having ſin reigning and raging in him. Joh. 9. 31. God heareth not ſinners. Matth. 11. 19. Pſal. 51. 13. Pſal. 1. 1. That ſtandeth not in the way of ſinners. Rom. 5. 7, 8. Thus wicked men onely are ſinners. Which name is uſually given to ſuch as be given to ſin, and have the courſe of their life ſinfull; therefore Solomon oppoſeth good men and ſinners, Eccl. 9. 2.

4. One wounded with a ſenſe and feeling of ſin, hungring after Gods mercies in Chriſt. Mat. 9. 13. I came to call ſinners to repentance. Thus the godly be ſinners.

Sinners of the Gentiles] Such as from their progenitors and birth were ſtrangers from God his Covenant, being not born of Gods people, but of Aliens from the Common-wealth (or Church) of Iſrael: as all the Gentiles were before the Reſurrection of our Lord: Otherwiſe, even the Jews were born in ſin, and by nature the children of Gods wrath as well as others. Gal. 2. 15. Not ſinners of the Gentiles.

To be a ſinner to one] To be guilty as a violator of his faith and promiſe, and to be puniſhed accordingly, Gen. 43. 9.

Sinners in the ſight of the Lord] Such as ſin openly, declaring their ſins impudently, without any reverence of divine Majeſty, or of men in earth. Gen. 23. 13. They were great ſinners in the ſight of the Lord. Thus Tremelius reads it. See Gen. 6. 11. Corrupt in the ſight of God; that is, impudent offenders.

Sinfull Nation] A people addicted and given to ſin, daily ſinning out of an habit, (not in ſome few acts) whereby they are wholly diſpoſed to ſin, and can do nothing but ſin. Iſa. 1. 4. A ſinfull Nation.

Sion, or Mount Sion] An hill in the City of Jeruſalem, whereupon the Temple was built. Earthly Sion, as a type and figure of another Sion, Pſalm 125. 1. Sion was the name of an high mountain in Jeruſalem, on the top whereof was a ſtrong Fort, which the Heathen Jebuſites kept by force from Iſrael untill David's dayes, Joſh. 15. 63. 2 Sam. 5. 6, 7. but he took it from them, fortified, and called it David's City, 1 Chr. 11. 4, 5, 7. Neer unto this was Mount Moriah, whereon Solomon did build the Temple, 2 Chron. 3. 1. whereupon Jeruſalem was called the Holy City, Neh. 1. 18. Iſa. 51. 1. & 48. 2. Matth. 4. 5. and Sion is named the Lords holy mountain, which he loved, and where he would dwell, and from which the Law ſhould come forth; therefore was it a figure of Chriſt his Church, Joel 3. 17. Pſal. 78. 60. Iſa. 2. 3. Pſal. 132. 13, 14. vide Zion.

2. The viſible Church of God here on earth. Pſal. 51. 20. Be favourable to Sion. & 129. 5. As many as hear ill will to Sion. Before the coming of Chriſt, the viſible Church was onely among the Jews, and was ſignified by Sion as the moſt excellent place: where the Iſraelitiſh Church did uſe to aſſemble to worſhip God, Iſa. 39. 20.

3. The Celeſtial City, heavenly Sion, moſt excellent for glory, and permanent for ſtableneſſe, like to a Mountain which is high and firm, Rev. 14. 1.

4. The company of beleevers here on earth, of what Countrey ſoever, Joel 2. 22.

Daughter of Sion] The Church which was wont to be aſſembled in the Temple built upon Mount Sion, Job 12. 15.

2. The women which dwelt in Jeruſalem, where Mount Sion was ſeated, whether ſingle or marryed, Iſa. chap. 3. verſ. 16.

Sipmoth] A place, 1 Sam. 30. 28.

Sippai] A threſhold, a water-pot, a ſilver cup; or, an end. 2 Sam. 21. 18. 1 Chron. 20. 4.

Sir] A term of reverence given to Teachers, and men of authority and wealth. John 12. 21. Sir, we would fain ſee Jeſus. Thus Sarah called Abraham, Sir, or Lord, 1 Pet. 3. 5.

Sirtes] Perillous places in the Sea, like unto whirl-pools. Act. 27. 17. Fearing leſt they ſhould have faln into Syrtes.

Siſamai] A horſe; or, ſwallow of waters, or a moat of waters. 1 Chr. 2. 40.

Siſara] Seeing, a ſwallow, or moth, or horſe. Ezr. 2. 53. Neh. 7. 55.

Siſera] The ſame. Judg. 4. 2.

Siſter] A Daughter of the ſame Father; ſo was Mary to Martha and Lazarus. John 11. 1. And her Siſter Martha. A Siſter by nature.

Note. See Gen. 26. 7. A Siſter ſignifies a Neece, as a Nephew is meant by a Brother. See Geneſ. 13. 8. & 20. 2, 12. She was not Abraham's naturall Siſter, nor of halfe blood, as ſome doe think, but his Brother Haran's Daughter, Siſter unto Lot, called alſo Iſcah, Siſter unto Milcah, Gen. 11. 29.

2. A Kinſwoman, ſo was Sarah to Abraham. Gen. 12. 10. Say thou art my Siſter. Alſo, Matth. 13. 56. His Siſters, are they not with us? A Siſter by affinity and conſanguinity.

3. Every true Chriſtian that doth the will of God. Mat. 12. 50. He that doth the will of my Father is my Brother and Siſter. A Siſter by profeſſion, 1 Cor. 9. 5. One of the ſame Religion.

4. Any thing that is dear unto us, and to which we are neerly joyned in love and affection. Prov. 7. 4. Say unto wiſdome, Thou art my Siſter. A Siſter by affection of love.

5. The Church, to be gathered out of the Gentiles. Cant. 8. 8. We have a little Siſter. A Siſter by ſpiritual union with Chriſt.

Siſter is taken in an evill ſenſe for thoſe that are alike wickedly given, Ezek. 16. 45, 48, 49, 50, 55, 56, 61.

A Siſter a woman] A Siſter a wife, 1 Cor. 9. 5. The word Woman being placed after a Siſter (as it is in all Greek Copies and the Syrian Paraphraſe) muſt ſignifie a Wife, or elſe there were in the Apoſtles ſpeech an abſurdity.

Not to take a wife to her Siſter] Not to take one Wife to another, or not to have at once two Wives. This ſentence condemneth Bigamie, and Polygamie, having two or more Wives together. Lev. 18.18. Neither ſhalt thou take a Wife to her Siſter to vex her.

That it is the true meaning of theſe words (as I have rendred it) may appear by theſe following reaſons.

1. Becauſe marriage with our Wives Siſter is by proportion forbid in v. 16. of this chap.

2. To wreſt the reaſons added here unto any purpoſe ſave Monogamy, or having one Woman for Wife at once, were violence to the Text.

3. Becauſe elſewhere in ſome other place the ſecond Wife (when the firſt was living) is tearmed a Vexer or Provoker, (angens ſeu æmula) 1 Sam. 1. 6.

4. If having of more Wives then one at once, be not prohibited in this Text, it ſhould be no where in Scripture forbid, ſave to the King, Deut. 17. 16.

Laſtly, Chriſt, Mat. 19. 5. Paul, 1 Cor. 6. 16. & 7.1. Alſo Mal. 2.15. & Chalde Paraph. on Ruth 4. 6. be moſt faithfull Interpreters of this Law.

To ſit] To reſt after labour. John 4. 6. Jeſus being weary ſate thus upon the Well.

2. To have dominion and rule (whereof Sitting is a token) Matth. 19. 28. And ſit upon ſeats, and judge the twelve Tribes of Iſrael. Rev. 20. 4.

Sit] is a geſture Common and Sacred, or Religious.

Common, as in reſt, Geneſ. 18. 11. & 19. 1. Exod. 2. 15. John 4. 6. At table, Gen. 37. 25. 1 Sam. 20. 24. Matth. 9. 10. In judgement, Ruth 4. 1, 2. Exod. 18. 13. Act. 6. 15. & 25. 17. On the throne, 1 King. 2. 12, 19. & 16. 11. Eſt. 1. 2. In ſadneſſe and grief, Ezr. 9. 1, 4. Job 2. 8, 13. In teaching, Mat. 23. 2. & 26. 55. Luk. 4. 20. and hearing, Luk. 10. 39. Act. 13. 14.

Religious, as at prayer, 2 Sam. 7. 18. 1 Chr. 17. 16. In humiliation, Judg. 20. 26. Neh. 1. 4. Jonah 3. 6. In receiving of the Sacrament, Mat. 26. 20. Mar. 14. 18. Luk. 22. 14. John 13. 12.

To ſit in the duſt] To fall from high eſtate and degree, to the loweſt and pooreſt condition. Iſa. 47. 1. Come down and ſit in the duſt.

To ſit in heavenly places] To poſſeſſe heaven in Chriſt our head, and by hope to look to poſſeſſe it in their owne perſons. Eph. 2. 6. And hath made us ſit in heavenly places.

2. To be a co-partner and fellow of Gods ſoveraignty and power, Epheſ. 1. verſ. 20.

To ſit at the right hand of God] To partake with God, in the fulneſſe of his Glory, Majeſty and Rule, over all Creatures, as Chriſt onely doth, Pſalm 110. 1. Eph. 1. 20. And ſet him at his right hand in heavenly places.

Chriſt as touching his divine eſſence and majeſty is in Heaven, but not locally ſhut up and encloſed there, onely becauſe it is there moſt eminent and apparent: whereas his humanity is in heaven, as in the proper place, ſo as he is not here in earth; elſe were his body an imaginary, and no true God, which ſtill holdeth naturall properties (though it have caſt off natural infirmities) and then his aſcenſion were a fiction, and no true and reall action.

2. To have part in the bleſſedneſſe and glory of heaven, with God, by his free mercy. Mat. 20. 23. To ſit on my right hand ſhall be given, &c. Mat. 25. 32. To them on the right hand.

3. To continue, dwell, and abide, Pſ. 2. 4. & 132. 14, 101, 6, 7.

4. To company and have familiarity with one, Pſal. 26. 4, 5.

To ſit in the Temple of God] To rule and command in the Conſcience or the Church, where God alone ought to ſit as chief Ruler. 2 Theſſ. 2. 4. He ſits as God in the Temple of God.

Sitnah] Hatred, ſpiteſulneſſe, as Ezek. in the former verſe ſignifies contention or ſtrife, Gen. 26. 20. Of this word the Devil hath his name Satan.

Situation] Coaſt, or climate, Pſal. 48. 2. Aynſworth.

Siuan] The name of the third moneth, which in part anſwers to our May, Eſt. 8. 9.

Six troubles] Sundry and many afflictions, from all which God will deliver the upright man. Job 5. 19. He ſhall deliver thee in ſix troubles.

Size] Meaſure, Exod. 36. 9, 15.

S K.

Skall] Lev. 13. 30. in Hebrew Nethek, which is a name peculiar to the leprie on the head or beard, not on other places; and it hath the name of breaking, or plucking up. And ſo the Greek alſo nameth it Thrauſma, a broken ſore. Aynſworth.

Skarlet] A colour ſo named, Gen. 38. 28. Coſtly rayment, 2 Sam. 1. 24. The dye of it keeping its colour, Iſa. 1. 18.

Skar] To terrifie, Job 7. 14.

Skie]

Skie] The heaven, Job 37. 18. Heb. 11. 12. The clouds, Psal. 18. 11. Psal. 77. 17. Isa. 45. 8.

Skill] is great knowledge and experience in any science or art, Exod. 31. 3. & 35. 31. 1 Chr. 22. 15. & 28. 21.

Skin] The outward covering of the flesh, Lev. 13. 2. Job 10. 11. The body, Job 16. 15. For the colour or hew, Jer. 13. 23. Any thing that is dear unto us, Mich. 3. 2, 3.

Skip] To leap and dance, a signe of joy, and cheerfulnesse, Psalm 29. 6. & 114. 4. Cant. 2. 8.

Skirt] The outermost part of the garment, 1 Sam. 15. 27. A covering, or mantle, Ruth 3. 9. That which is open and manifest, Lam. 1. 9. Filthinesse, Nah. 3. 5. The marriage-bed, Deut. 27. 20. Covering of shame, and filthinesse, Ezek. 16. 8.

Skull] The brain-pan, κρανίον, quasi κεφαλή, an helmet, or heed peece, as which it doth resemble, Mat. 27. 33. Mar. 15. 22.

S L.

Slack] One that lingereth and puts off to do a thing, beyond the appointed and due time. 2 Pet. 3. 9. God is not slack; that is, he is not one that neglecteth his season, to come later then he should. God is not such a slack one.

Slander] is a malicious defamation of a man behinde his back. It is condemned, Lev. 19. 16. Psal. 50. 20. Ezek. 22. 9. Rom. 1. 29. It ariseth from hatred and envy; for back-biters slander others, either because they hate them as their enemies, or envy them as their betters. In both respects it is reckoned among the murthers of the Tongue, and for that cause the Tongue of such is worthily said to be set on fire from hell, Jam. 3. and is compared to a Bow, a Sword, a Razor, an Aspe; for those who smite with their tongue, they bend it, as it were a bow of lies, Jer. 9. 3. out of which they shoot bitter words, as arrows, Psal. 120. 3, & 64. 3, 4. wherewith they shoot at the upright in secret, they shoot at him suddenly, and fear not; they whet their tongue like a sword, Prov. 12. 18. and pronounce words like a piercing sword; yea, their words are swords, Psal. 55. 21. It is like a sharp razor, and the poyson of Asps is under their lips, Psal. 52. 2. & 140. 3. Their tongue is a fire, a world of wickednesse, an unruly evill, full of deadly poyson, Jam. 3. 6, 8. No sin maketh a man so like the Devil as this, for from hence he hath his name διάβολος, which is a common name to him, with all slanderers.

The way to avoyd this sin, is,

1 To fly curiosity in other mens affairs, security, neglecting our owne, 1 Pet. 4. 15. 1 Tim. 5. 13.

2. To be conversant in judging our selves.

3. To observe our owne wayes, and to keep our mouth as it were with a bridle, Psa. 39. 1. and because we cannot do it our selves, to pray to God to do it for us, Psal. 141. 3.

To slander] To raise and give out an evil report of others, to their reproach. Ps. 15. 3. He that slandereth not with his tongue. Ps. 50. 20. One may slander his Neighbour in speaking the truth of him, if it be done with a minde to disgrace and hurt his name, by discovering his faults.

Slabe] There were two sorts of Slaves, Slaves bought with money, and Slaves born in the house. Annot. on Jer. 2. 14.

In Revel. 18. 13. they are called Σώματα, bodies, because (as Epiphanius observes) their Masters commandements reach onely to their bodies.

Slaughter] put for, 1. Destruction by the sword, Judg. 11. 33. 1 Sam. 4. 10.

2. To be killed for meat, as Sheep, Psal. 44. 22. and Oxen, Prov. 7. 22. Jer. 11. 19.

3. Death, and killing, Act. 9. 1.

4. The slain beasts for Sacrifices, Jam. 5. 5.

Slay] To kill, Gen. 27. 41. 1 Sam. 15. 3. Act. 5. 30.

2. To bring to ruine, Prov. 1. 32. To vex and torment, Job 5. 2. To hate and envy, 1 Joh. 3. 15. To bite deadly, so as death followeth, Job 20. 16. To afflict, and heavily punish, Psal. 78. 34. To condemn and convince one to be guilty of death eternall, by reason of sin, Rom. 7. 11. In this respect the Law is called a killing letter, to deceive, and by deceiving to bring into great fear and despair, Ezek. 13. 19, 22. To expiate and take away sin by the blood of Christ, Eph. 2 16.

To slay a slaughter, or to kill beasts] Either to offer Sacrifices or to make a feast, which is the general meaning of this phrase, as Gen. 31. 54. 1 King. 1. 9. Num. 22. 40.

Sleep] The binding of the senses, to give the body rest after labour. Est. 6. 1. His sleep went from him. Psal. 3. 5. I slept, and rose again, Psal. 4. 8. This is naturall sleep, which is the rest of the body in the bed.

2. Sin, ruling and over-ruling in mens hearts, which makes the soul secure and senseless of God, as if it were asleep. Rom. 13. 11. It is now time we should arise from sleep. Eph. 5. 14. Awake thou that sleepest. This is ſpiritual ſleep, which is the reſt of the ſoul in ſin.

4. Negligence and careleſneſſe, more or leſſe. Matt. 13.35. While men ſlept. Mat.25.5. While they ſlept. This is alſo the ſleep of the Chriſtian ſoul, overtaken with ſome ſecurity, through abundance of peace and pleaſures. It is a ſleep of eaſe, ſecurity and proſperity.

Death, or diſſolution of the ſoul from the body, Dan. 12. 2. Act. 7. 60. & 13. 36. Joh. 11. 11, 14. 1 Cor. 11. 30. 1 Theſ. 4. 14. And ſome ſleep. This is mortall ſleep, the reſt of the body in the grave. It ſignifies quietneſſe and reſt of mind, voyd of carking care, Pſal. 127. 2.

Sleep. Tranquillity and quietneſſe in proſperity, Pſal. 127. 2. Ezek. 34. 25. Contempt and neglect in time of affliction.

It is ſpoken by way of deriſion of the Idols of Baal, 1 King. 18. 28. and of God, who ſeems to ſleep, neglecting to hear the prayers of his ſervants, and delaying to help them, Pſal. 44. 24. & 78. 65.

It is put for confidence and ſecurity, by reaſon of the protection of God, Pſal. 4. 8. & 3. 5.

To ſleep] To reſt.

2 To ſin, and live ſecurely.

3 To dye. Thus men ſleep, as before is ſhewed.

2. To be ſlow, and put off long to help one out of trouble. Pſalm 44. 23. Why ſleepeſt thou, O Lord? Thus God is ſaid to ſleep.

Sleight of men] The cunning and craftineſſe of corrupt Teachers and Hereticks, like unto that ſleight and cogging whereby Dice-players uſe to deceive ſuch as they play withall. Eph. 4. 14. By the ſleight of men Mr. Beza judgeth that the Apoſtle here doth borrow his ſpeech from Gameſters and Dice-players, yet he referreth it unto the uncertain caſes, whereby both falſe Teachers, and their followers are unconſtantly toſſed, finding no ſtay for their minde to reſt on: like boats toſſed up and down with waves, and like to the uncertain caſts at Dice, and doubtfull event of Dice-players, who are ever unſure what chance they ſhall have, or what will be the iſſue of their game: even ſo unſtable and reſtleſſe are falſe Teachers.

Slide] To make defection from God, and his truth, Jer. 8. 5. Hoſ. 4. 16.

2. To fall into great calamity, Deut. 32. 35.

3. To loſe hope and confidence, Pſa. 26. 1. To miſcarry, Pſal. 37. 31.

Slime] A tough morter uſed in the building of walls, and for daubing, to keep out water, or hold in any liquor, Gen. 11. 3. & 14. 10. Exod. 2. 3.

Sling] A certain inſtrument for throwing ſtones in the time of war, Judg. 20. 15. 1 Sam. 17. 40, 50. Prov. 26. 8. Hence ſling-ſtones are put for all ſorts of Warlike engines, Zech. 9. 15. and to ſling is put for to ſubdue, and deſtroy, 1 Sam. 25. 29. Jer. 10. 18.

To ſlip] To fail in ſome duty towards God, or our neighbour, or our ſelf. Pſ. 73. 2. My foot had welnigh ſlipt.

Slip] To ſtumble and fall. It is put for to fall into calamity, 2 Sam. 22. 37. Pſal. 18. 37.

2. To commit a fault, Job 12. 5.

3. To fall off, Deut. 19. 5.

4. To ſin, Pſal. 38. 16.

5. To forget, Heb. 2. 1.

6. To go away privately, 1 Sam. 19. 10.

7. A Slip is a Tree or Plant, Iſa. 17. 10.

Slippery] is taken for that which is uncertain and unſtable, Jer. 23. 12. Pſal. 73. 18. & 35. 6.

Slothfull] One that is idle and lazie. The properties of ſuch are:

1. They are unprofitable, Mat. 25. 26, 30.

2. Voyd of underſtanding, Prov. 24. 30.

Snare. For a Law binding the conſcience, 1 Cor. 7. 35. For power and command, 2 Tim. 2. 26. For great danger, Pſal. 124. 7. Prov. 29. 8.

Fear, pit, and ſnare] All manner of evils, fearful, and dangerous, the fear thereof is worſe then the thing feared: ſudden and unlooked for miſchief, as the falling into a pit, whereof one is not aware: and ſuch calamities out of which a man ſhall not eſcape, as there is no getting out of a ſnare. Iſa. 24. 17. Fear, and the pit, and the ſnare are put upon thee, &c.

Snatch] Iſa. 9. 20. Heb. Cut, or out away, or cut off, as ch. 53. 5. rend, or take away by force, as Hab. 3. 16. as ſome, knaw; becauſe of eating the ſpeech off. Annot.

Snoyt] Snorting of his Horſes, Jer. 8. 16. Neighing is that noyſe properly which Horſes make when they are frollick, or when they look after the Mare, or miſſe ſome of their company that they uſe to keep with; and this proceedeth by the mouth; but ſnorting, (which the Rabbins expreſſe by a word that ſignifieth neeſing) is the noyſe which they make when they are held in, or chafed; ſo called, becauſe it paſſeth through the Noſtrils, Job 39. 20. The glory of his noſtrils is terrible, or of his ſnorting, as ſome there render it. Annot.

Snout] Prov. 11. 22. A Swines ſnout; that is, noſe.

Snow] The efficient cauſe is God, Job 37. 6. Pſal. 147. 16. & 148. 8.

Sodi] My ſecret. Numb. 13. 11.

Sodom] Their ſecret, a heel, or morter. A City of Syria, Gen. 10. 29. deſtroyed with fire and brimſtone from heaven, Ibid. 19. 24. They were great ſinners, Ib. 13. 13. & 19. 5. In which reſpect wicked men are compared to them, Iſa. 1. 10. & 3. 9. Ezek. 16. 48, 49. It is put for Myſticall Babylon, becauſe of the greatneſſe and likeneſſe of their ſins, Rev. 11. 8. They that commit the like ſin are called Sodomites, Deut. 23. 17. 1 King. 14. 24. & 15. 12. 2 King. 27. 7.

Soft] is applyed 1 To the heart, and it ſignifieth, tender, melting, and flexible, Job 23. 16. & 41. 3.

2. To words, and then it ſignifieth,

1 Gentle and pleaſing, Prov. 15. 1. & 25. 15.

2 Flattering and deceitfull, Pſal. 55. 21.

3. To cloaths, and then it ſignifieth, delicate, and gorgeous, Mat. 11. 8.

Softly] ſignifieth 1 Slowly, 1 King. 21. 27. Iſa. 8. 6. A token of grief, Ibid. & Iſa. 38. 15.

3. Privately and quietly, Judg. 4. 21.

Sojourner, or Fozainer] Properly one that dwels in a ſtrange Countrey, and hath no poſſeſſion of his own there, as Abraham, Gen. 23. 4. Alſo, Heb. 11. 13, 14, 15. But by a figure every one of Gods people be ſo, though they have poſſeſſions: ſo David acknowledgeth, 1 Chr. 29. 16. Pſal. 39. 13. and the Law taught men ſo much, Lev. 25. 23. and the Goſpel teacheth us the ſame for our eſtate on earth, 1 Pet. 2. 11. for here we have no abiding City, but look for one above, Heb. 11. & 13.

Thus ſaith Baſil, that ſojourning is our temporary abode, ſignifying not a ſetled life, but our tranſlating and paſſing on to a better, Pſal. 15. 1.

Soil] Ezek. 17. 8. Heb. field.

Solace] To delight, make merry, or frolick, Prov. 7. 18.

Sold] That which paſſeth over to the poſſeſſion of another; who with his money hath purchaſed the property and uſe of it. Act. 5. 1. Sold a poſſeſſion.

Sold under ſin] A bond-man, or one in bondage to ſin, as a ſlave bought with money, is bound to his Lord: Regenerate perſons are ſuch in part. Rom. 7. 14. I am carnall, ſold under ſin. But the wicked are ſuch wholly. 1 King. 20. 21. Thou haſt ſold thy ſelf to do wickedneſſe. Ahab was a voluntary bond-man unto ſin, fulfilling the luſts of it with greedineſſe. Paul was unvoluntary, being forced to doe the will of ſin; for he did the evill which he hated, and would not have done, becauſe he was regenerate in part. Rom. 7. 15, 16.

Sole] This word hath every where either foot or feet joyned therewith. It's the loweſt part of Man, or any other creature that hath feet, and that which is next the ground. Spoken of the Dove which Noah ſent out, Gen. 8. 9. The Hebrew word in Iſa. 1. 6. ſignifies bending, or hollow; and it is applyed ſometime to the foot, as here the ſole, Deut. 2. 5. & 11. 24. Sometimes to the hand, the palm, Lev. 14. 15, 18, 19. Sometimes to the thigh, the hollow, wherein the Hucklebone reſteth, Geneſ. 32. 25, 32. Annot. on Iſa. 1. 6.

Solemne] ſignifieth, 1. Merry, and joyfull, Pſal. 92. 3.

2. Publick and glorious, Iſa. 30. 29 Ezek. 46. 11.

Solemnly] Vehemently, Geneſ. 43. 3. 1 Sam. 8. 9.

Solitary] Quiet, Job 3. 7. Sad, Job 30. 3. Afflicted, Pſal. 68. 6. Deſolate, Iſa. 35. 1. Lam. 1. 1. Private, and not frequented, Mar. 1. 35. Pſal. 104. 4. Mic. 7. 14.

Solomon] See Salomon.

Some] The greater number, or more part. Rom. 3. 3. What though ſome did not beleeve?

Something] is put 1 For ſpeech, Luk. 11. 54. Act. 23. 18.

2. For a certain thing, as Alms, and the like, Act. 3. 5. John 13. 29.

3. For ſome great matter, or great eſteem, Gal. 6. 3.

4. For accuſation, Rev. 2. 4.

Song of his beloved] A Song purpoſely made and written by the Prophet unto the honour of Chriſt, the Husband and Bridegroom of the Church, whoſe friends the Prophets were eſpecially, Iſa. 5. 1. John 3. 29. & 15. 14.

Song of degrees] A Song of aſcenſions, or of heights; that is, a Pſalm to be ſung with an high voyce, as the Levites are ſaid to praiſe God with a great voyce on high, 2 Chron. 20. 19. Or, this phraſe and title noteth the excellency of the Song, for grave pithy ſentences.

Sundry other wayes is this title underſtood, as of the ſtairs or ſteps, which (by degrees) went up into the houſe of the Lord, whereon the Singers ſhould ſtand: or for coming up from Babylon, Ezr. 7. 9. Fifteen Pſalms together are thus entituled, from the 120. unto the 135.

Spiritual ſongs] Such Songs or Ditties as are not like carnall Songs of Drunkards, but ſpirituall for the matter, as well as for the affection of the Singers. Epheſ. 5. 19. With Pſalms, Hymnes, and ſpirituall Songs. Pſalms be ſuch holy things, as beſide the voyce, are ſung with the inſtrument, as Harp, Lute, &c. Hymnes be Songs, containing the laud and prayſe of God onely, and are either ſung by voyce alone, or by inſtrument alſo. Songs containe (beſide praiſes of God) doctrines, propheſies, exhortations, Thankſgiving.

The uſe of muſick is to be allowed even publickly in Churches, ſo as theſe three Apoſtolical conditions be well obſerved:

1. That men ſing with the heart.

2. Spiritually.

3. To the Lord; that is, to edification in godlineſſe, and unto Gods glory.

Therefore Popiſh abuſe of Muſick to the hinderance of edification, ſhutting out Sermons by long confuſed chaunting, and in a ſtrange tongue, cannot be defended by this place of Paul.

In Iſa. 12. 2. & Exod. 15. 2. Song is put for matter and argument of Song.

Son] Any man-childe begotten in lawfull marriage: as Iſaac to Abraham, Gen. 22. 8. My Son.

2. A Nephew, or a Grand-childe, Gen. 46. 7. Gen. 31. 43. Theſe Sons are my Sons. 2 Sam. 19. 24. Mephiboſheth the Son of Saul.

3. One that lineally deſcendeth from the loyns of another. Mat. 1. 1 The Son of David, that is, one of his poſterity

4. A childe, either Son or Daughter. Rom. 8. 17. That we are the Sons (or children) of God. Alſo v. 18. Rev. 21. 7. And he ſhall be my Son.

5. One ſpiritually begotten by the preaching of the Goſpel. Tit. 1. 3. Titus my naturall Son. 1 Tim. 1. 2, 3. So every true Chriſtian may be called the Son of his Paſtor, which begot him to God.

It noteth three things:

1 The age of Titus, a young man.

2 Paul's fatherly affection.

3 The effect of the Goſpel, regenerating Titus and Timothy.

6. One that hath the affection of a Son, and ſubmitteth himſelf to another, as a Son to his Father. Phil. 3. 22. He hath been with me, as a Son with his Father. Prov. 3. 1, Hearken my Son. So is every good Subject a Son to his Ruler, Joſh. 7 19. Alſo Chriſt the Son of God, and Mary, Iſa. 9 6.

7. Some moſt excellent creature of God, as an Angell, or ſome other. Cant. 2. 3. So is my beloved among the Sons.

8. A Succeſſor, one who ſucceedeth or cometh after another in government. Thus it is written that Jehojakim begat Jechoniah, and his Brethren, Matth. 1. 11. A legall, and not a naturall Son. Joſeph in Luk. 3. 23. is named the Son of Heli, that is, his Son in law; law; for the kindred of Christ on the Mothers side, is by Luke rehearsed by ascending to Adam.

9. One which is so called Ironice in derision, because he falsly boasted to be a Son, when he was not. Luk. 16.25. Son, remember that thou, &c.

10. One of the Kings stock and family, Matth. 17.26.

In Mat. 17.26. where Christ saith, that the Sons or children are free from tribute: if it be meant of sacred Tribute due to the Temple, then it did belong to Christ as Lord of the Temple: if it be taken of civill Tribute, wch the Romans as Lords of Jury by conquest did challenge, even this also did rather belong to Christ, then to the Romans, because he was the Son of David, of the Kings linage and race.

The cause why the Tribute is laid down for Peter alone, and not for any of the rest of the Apostles, was not to commend a mystery of Peter's supremacy, as chief in power over the rest, this is a Popish fancy; but for that St. Peter had a house and family in that City wherein Christ abode, so had not the rest. Moreover, paying of Tribute was a token not of Superiority, but of Subjection. Lastly, it should be considered how unlike unto Peter, the Pope of Rome (his faigned Successor) is, for he exacteth Tributes of Kings and People, but payeth none. Thus the weapons which Popery hath to defend it self, do rather fight against it, then ought maintain it.

Son of David] Christ, who was promised to David, and was to come out of his loynes, linage, and stock, as Matth. 20. 31. and often elsewhere. Christ first promised to come of Adam, then of Abraham, then of Isaac, then of Judah, lastly of David, whose person and Kingdome was a type and figure of Christ and his Kingdome, so Psalm 2. throughout.

Eldest Son] among the Jews got the double portion:

1 Because he was his Fathers strength, Deut. 21.17. Psal. 78. 51. & 105. 36. He was begotten in his Fathers strength. Hereunto Job alludes, ch. 8.13. The first-born of death, is a strong death. So he was the most honourable; hence that allusion, Heb. 12.23.

2. To keep the family in its owne dignity, and the Tribes distinguished.

3. Because he was a type of Christ, who is the first-born among many brethren, and was anoynted with the oyl of gladnesse above his fellows. P. 45.7.

Son of God] One begotten of the substance of God, by an unsearchable and eternall generation. Matth. 3. 17. This is my well beloved Son. Joh. 1.14. As the glory of the onely begotten Son of God. This is a Son by Nature, and thus Christ alone is the Son of God, according to his Divine Nature: other be Sons by adoption and favour. Arians deny this, most falsly and impudently.

2. The man Christ, or the Manhood of Christ, which is the Son of God by the grace of personall union, being united unseparably to the Person of the Son of God. Luk. 1. 35. That holy thing which is born of thee shall be called the Son of God. A Son by grace of Personall union.

3. One that is taken of favour to be a Son, being by nature a Childe of wrath, John 1. 12. Gal. 4. 5. Rom. 8. 14. As many as are led by the Spirit, they are the Sons of God. Thus every true beleever is a Son by grace of Adoption.

4. One framed and made after the Image of God, in perfect righteousnesse and holinesse. Luk. 3. vers. last, Adam the Son of God. Thus Adam was the Son of God, a Son by Creation. In this sense also, the Angels are the Sons of God, Psal. 89. 6.

5. One that comes of godly Parents; and is a worshipper of the true God outwardly, though not in truth. Gen. 6. 1. The Sons of God saw, &c. This is a Son by profession onely.

Creatures are the Sons of God commonly, the Saints be his Sons specially, but Christ is his Son singularly.

God hath given his Son] That God most freely out of his favour and eternall mercy (without all respect of our works and merits) hath bestowed his Son upon us, to be our Saviour. Rom. 8.32. God spared not his Son, but gave him for us.

Note. Son is called Branch in Scripture, Gen. 49. 22. because he springs from his Father, as a branch from a tree; and so young, small, and tender branches are called Daughters, Gen. 49.22.

Like the Son of God] One of excellent and as it were Divine favour and beauty. Dan. 3. 25. Like the Son of God; that is, as an Angell; for Angels were called the Sons of God; thus our Geneva note, but the former is better: The latter seemeth right by vers. 28.

One like the Son of Man] One in the figure of Christ, God and man in one Person. Dan. 10. 13. One like the Son of Man came from the clouds, &c. This coming from the Clouds, ſignifieth his Godhead; and his Manhood is ſignified by his name [the Son of Man:] he is ſaid to come to the Ancient of dayes, when he aſcended to his Father, at whoſe right hand ſitting, he received glory, dominion, and a Kingdome everlaſting, not periſhing and fading like the earthly Kingdomes, verſ. 14.

Son of man] Chriſt is ſo called.

1. Not to manifeſt that he was not a mere ſhow, for none doubted in the time of his fleſh, of the truth of his humanity; yea, many thought him nothing elſe.

Nor 2. to commend his love to us (albeit his Incarnation was a great argument of his love) for none or few of the multitude beleeved him to be God, wherefore this title could not commend unto them his love.

Nor yet 3. to ſignifie that he was the Son of Adam, for none doubted of it, ſince they knew him to be born among them; but to allude unto Dan. 7. 13. (whereunto that of Mat. 16. 27. is parallel) where he calls the Meſſias the Son of man, that ſo he might intimate unto them that he was he of whom Daniel ſpake, even the Meſſias; and this title is given unto him by Daniel, not onely becauſe he was the Son of man, but becauſe he was the moſt eminent and excellent among the Sons of men, by reaſon of his office of Mediator, and ſingular graces wherewith he was endowed above all the Sons of men. So that this title includes both his office and his nature; neither doth he ever take unto himſelf this title by way of contempt, but ever to recommend his Perſon, and to purchaſe to himſelfe authority. That place Matt. 8. 20. is objected to prove the contrary; but the meaning is, that although I be that great Son of man ſpoken of by Daniel, and have ſo great an office as to be the Mediator, yet I have not whereupon to lean my head; nor doth that Joh. 12. 34. make any thing againſt it, for Chriſt there ſpeaks not of himſelf, but the Jews deriding him for aſſuming unto himſelf that title, and calling himſelf by the name of the Son of man, as being too glorious and honourable for him. Camero tom. 2. 153, 154, 155.

Son of man:

1. A vain and wicked perſon, by God in contempt ſo called, becauſe he boaſteth of his pedegree, which is but man, Pſal. 4. 2.

2. A godly and gracious perſon, ſuch as God called the Prophets, Ezek. 2. 1, 3, 6, 8. So called of God in love, becauſe God reckoneth of and delighteth in ſuch a one, as a Father in his own Son.

3. Chriſt Jeſus himſelf, who ſo calleth himſelf, Matth. 16. 13. To ſhew 1 his true love to men: and 2 to ſhew his true humanity, both of them for us to beleeve. 3 His true humility, for us to follow.

4. To ſhew that he is deſcended of them in whom he was promiſed.

5. To honour them of whom he is deſcended.

Son younger] Gen. 9. 24. ſignifies not Canaan, as Theodoret thinketh, but Cham the Father of Canaan, who is called younger, not in manners, as Ambroſe, nor comparatively, in regard of Sem (as Pererius) nor for that he loſt his elderſhip by ſin, (as Chryſoſtome writeth) but in years; for he was born after Japhet and Shem, who is named firſt, as Gen. 5. 32, 6, 10. to note his dignity, being the Childe of God, Type of Chriſt, and Father of holy things, &c.

Sons of Death] Perſons appointed to die, or worthy to die, Pſal. 79. 11. 1 Sam. 20. 31. Deut. 25. 2. Pſal. 102. 21. And Son of perdition, 2 Theſſ. 2. 3,

This word Son in Scripture, beſide other ſignifications, is put for every young thing, as for a young Vine, Pſ. 80. 15. and for young Lambs, Pſal. 114. 4, 6. It is Sons in the Hebrew, & 147. 9. Sons in the Original, which we tranſlate young Ravens.

Sons of God] Gen. 6. 2. are nothing elſe but the Sons of the godly then living, of the poſterity of Seth; as by the Daughters of men are underſtood the wicked, of the poſterity of Cain, whoſe unequall marriages filled the world ſo full of wickedneſſe, as that God deſtroyed them with a flood.

Sons of men] The poſterity of Cain, ſo called, for that they ſavoured more the things of men then the things of God; and were more induſtrious in humane inventions then religious devotions.

Sons of my people] Citizens.

Soon] is put 1. for Early, Exod. 2. 18.

2. Quickly, Deut. 4. 26. Jer. 32. 22.

3. Suddenly, Pſal. 57. 2.

Soothſayers] Certain Diviners or Magicians, which by obſervation of the ſtars, take upon them to foretell the events of humane matters. Iſa. 2. 6. They are Scothſayers.

Some derive this word of Huanan, which ſignifies a Cloud, becauſe theſe kinde of men by the chattering and flight of birds in the clouds and air, do mark what things will happen unto men. Others fetch it from the word Haaſin, (an eye) to ſignifie Aſtrologers, which obſerve ſeaſonable times for doing of matters, without either divine or naturall turall cauſe: ſee the puniſhment appointed to ſuch, Levit. 20. 6. The greatneſſe of the pain ſhews it to be no light crime.

Sop] Joh. 13. 26. or morſell of bread. Chriſt gave this ſigne (as Chryſoſtome conjectureth) to remember him of the Table and Bread whereof he did partake, that he might not betray him, and rage againſt his feeder. Annot.

Sopater] Keeping his Father without danger, or the health of the Father. Act. 20. 4.

Sophereth] A Scribe, ſhewing, or numbring. Ezr. 2. 55.

Sope] Jer. 2. 22. A kinde of hearb, ſay ſome, which Fullers much uſe, being of the ſame nature and efficacy with Nitre and Sope, which ſeemeth to be Sope-wort. Others ſuppoſe it to be a kinde of mould, ſuch as we call Fullers-earth. And one of the Jewiſh Maſters would have it to be Allum, which was of much uſe with Fullers for the ſcouring of cloaths, Mal. 3. 2. It is here called [borith] from a word that ſignifieth to cleanſe, and puriſie. Annot.

Sorcerer] See Witch.

Sore] A boyl, Lev. 13. 42. Any diſeaſe, Deut. 28. 59. Great calamity, Rev. 16. 11. Sin, Iſa. 1. 6.

It's alſo put for Greatly, very much, Gen. 19. 9.

Sorek] A vine, a vineyard, hiſſing. A river, Judg. 16. 4.

Sorow] A naturall affection, whereby the heart is grieved, in reſpect of ſome evill thing which troubleth us. Gen. 37. 34. And ſorrowed for his Son a long ſeaſon. Gen. 42. 38. Ye ſhall bring my gray head with ſorrow to the grave. This is a naturall ſorrow.

2. A grief ariſing out of the fear of puniſhment, breeding deſperation unto death. 2 Cor. 7. 10. Worldly ſorrow cauſeth death. This is worldly ſorrow. Alſo it ſignifieth ſin, which bringeth ſorrow, Eccleſ. chap. 11. verſ. 10.

3. The grief and diſpleaſure of minde, which we feel for offending God our merciſull Father, by our ſins. 2 Cor. 7. 10. Godly ſorrow cauſeth repentance to life. This is godly ſorrow.

4. Miſery, which is cauſe of ſorrow. Rev. 21. 4. No more crying, nor ſorrow. A Metonymie of the effect for the cauſe.

Note that Sorrow is diverſly named, according to the diverſity of the matters whereon it is ſet.

1. Being ſet on, or exerciſed in evils that are our owne, it is called generally Repentance: the ſorrow for our miſery or puniſhment is called Attrition; for our fault, Contrition.

2. Sorrow for anothers evils, is called Commiſeration, or pity and mercy.

3. Sorrow for, or at the good of another, is called Envy.

Sorrow of death] A death full of ſorrow, both of body and minde. Act. 2. 24. He looſed the ſorrows of death. Deadly ſorrows, ſuch as a Woman is tormented with in her travail: theſe were looſed by Chriſts victory over, and deliverance from death, which for a time held down Chriſt, as one oppreſſed by thoſe deadly ſorrows.

Sorry] To be carefull, ſhew care, take thought as for fear of ſome evill or danger to come, Pſal. 38. 18. To take to heart, be affected with, mourne, bemoane, Iſa. 51. 19.

Sort] is put 1. for kinde, Ezek. 39. 4. & 44. 3.

2. Manner, Dan. 3. 29. 1 John 6.

Soſipater] as Sopater. Paul's Kinſman, Rom. 16. 21.

Soſthenes] A mighty or ſtrong Saviour. The chief Ruler of the Jews Synagogue, Act. 18. 17.

Sotai] A concluſion, impleading, or bending. Ezr. 2. 55.

Sottiſh] Fooliſh, without underſtanding, Jer. 4. 22.

Sought] is put for endevoured, Exod. 2. 15. Deſired, Ib. 4. 19. To purpoſe and intend, Numb. 35. 23. To ſearch, Lev. 10. 16. 1 Sam. 10. 21. Found out, 1 Sam. 13. 14. To have recourſe unto, 1 King. 10. 24. To worſhip, love, and pray to God, 2 Chron. 14. 7. & 15. 15. & 17. 4. To delight in, Pſal. 119. 94.

Soul] That ſpiritual and beſt part of man (which is diſtinguiſhed from the Body) whereby we underſtand and diſcourſe of things. Gen. 2. 7. Mat. 10. 28. Which is able to deſtroy body and ſoul.

2. The whole man, conſiſting of body and ſoul. Rom. 13. 1. Let every ſoul be ſubject, &c. Ezek. 18. 20. The ſoul that ſinneth ſhall die: by a Synecdoche of the part for the whole, Gen. 46. 26, 27. & 27. 4. Alſo 1 Pet. 1. 9. & 1 Pet. 2. v. laſt. Biſhop of your ſouls. Deut. 4. 15. Luk. 12. 19. Gen. 14. 21. Pſal. 107. 9. 1 Pet. 3. 20. Act. 7. 10. Prov. 27. 7. & 15. 15. Jam. 1. 21. Pſal. 19. 7.

Note, that the Soul is named, becauſe

1 Therein properly is the Image of God.

2 It is firſt converted.

3 And firſt glorified.

3. The

3. The will and affections, whereof the Soul is the ſeat. Luk. 1. 46, 47. My ſoul doth magnifie the Lord. 1 Sam. 18. 1. The ſoul of Jonathan was knit to the ſoul of David. 1 Theſſ. 5. 23. Gen. 34. 8. A Synecdoche of the whole for a part, Heb. 4. 12.

4. Life. Pſal. 16. 10. Thou wilt not leave my ſoul in hell; that is, ſuffer my life to be alwayes oppreſt with death. Pſal. 7. 2. Leſt he devour my ſoul. And often elſewhere in the Pſalms Soul is put for Life, for a man perſon and ſelf; by a Metonymie of the cauſe: the Soul being cauſe of Life, Job 2. 6. Mat. 2. 20. Prov. 12. 10. 1 King. 19. 10. Pſal. 63. 10. Exod. 4. 19. Gen. 12. 13. & 14. 21. & 27. 4, 5. & 44. 30.

5. The breath which men breath in and out. Act. 20. 10. His ſoul is in him.

It ſignifieth alſo the corps of a perſon deceaſed, Lev. 21. 1, 11. Numb. 5. 1. Alſo 9. 10.

Soul in Greek hath the name of breathing, and reſpiring, and therefore ſometime is uſed for the breath, Job 41. 12. It is the vitall ſpirit that all quick things move by; therefore beaſts, birds, fiſhes, and creeping things, are called in Geneſ. 1. 20, 24. Living ſouls. And this Soul is ſometime called the Blood, becauſe it is in the blood of quick things, Gen. 9. 4. Lev. 17. 11. It is alſo often put for the Life of the creatures, ſo for ones ſelf, perſon, and whole man.

6. God himſelf. Prov. 16. 16. Yea, his ſoul abhorreth ſeaven.

7. A ſenſible and reaſonable creature, ſuch as man is, Gen. 2. 7.

Soul (in the Hebrew and Greek tongue) is often found to ſignifie the carcaſſe or dead body of a man; alſo any living thing, as in Lev. 19. 28. & 21. 11. Rev. 16. 3.

Soul is taken alſo for the Stomach, Iſa. 29. 8.

Soul and fleſh] Chief Governour and Captain, which be the ſoul and life of an Army: Alſo the common Souldiers, which be as the body thereof, Iſa. 10. 18.

To lift up the ſoul] ſignifies, To deſire, and covet, as Pſal. 24. 4. & Jer. 22. 27. or to behold a thing diligently and attentively, Pſal. 123. 2.

To ſmite in ſoul] ſignifieth, To ſmite one dead, ſo as to take away life, Gen. 37. 21. The like phraſe in Jer. 40. 14. Deut. 19. 6, 11. in Numb. 35. 11, 15. it is ſaid, Smite a ſoul: and in Lev. 24. 17, 18. where Soul is put for life of man or beaſt, and ſmiting is uſed for killing, Gen. 4. 15.

Souldier] One that fighteth in war againſt a worldly enemy. Act. 10. 7. Luk. 7. 8. I have ſouldiers under me.

2. A ſpirituall Warriour under Chriſt, againſt ſin and Satan. 2 Tim. 2. 3, 4. Suffer affliction as the Souldier of Jeſus Chriſt. Such is every Chriſtian, but eſpecially the Miniſters of Chriſt.

Sound] The voyce of man, or any muſicall or warlike inſtrument. It is put for the preaching of the Word, Pſal. 19. 4. 1 Theſſ. 1. 18.

To ſound] To make a noyſe with trumpet, or ſuch like inſtruments. It is put for to Ask, 1 Sam. 20. 12. To try and ſearch, Act. 27. 28.

Sound] Upright, Pſal. 119. 80. Whole, or in health, Pſal. 38. 3. Iſa. 1. 6. True, Pro. 2. 7. & 3. 21. 2 Tim. 4. 3. Free from error, Tit. 2. 1, 2.

South] Dry and barren places, through the extreme heat of the Sun, in ſuch Regions as lye South, being parched and ſcorched with the great ardent heat of the Sun, and the rivers dryed up, and all left deſert and deſolate; ſuch were Gods people in their captivity, and therefore deliverance was as welcome and gratefull to them, as to ſee Rivers run freſhly in deſert waſte Countreys, and as eaſie to God as to ſend ſtore of waters into dry ſoyl. Pſal. 126. 4. As the ſtreams in the South.

To ſow] To ſcatter ſeed in the earth, that it may grow and bring forth fruit. Mat. 13. 3. The Sower went out to ſow.

2. To diſperſe worldly goods among the poor. 2 Cor. 9. 6. He that ſoweth ſparingly ſhall reap ſparingly.

3. To diſtribute the Word by preaching. Luk. 8. 5. And as he ſowed, &c.

4. To bury a dead body, 1 Cor. 15. 42, 43. Burial places be the ſeed-plots which will yeeld a joyfull harveſt at the Reſurrection.

5. To caſt forth, Prov. 6. 14. marg.

6. To work or cauſe, Ib. 19.

7. To beſtow, Mat. 25. 24.

8. To declare, Joh. 4. 36.

9. To practiſe, Gal. 6 7.

10. To become ſerviceable, Ib. 8.

The word ῥαπίζω, in Mar. 2. 21. ſignifieth to piece one thing to another.

To ſow iniquity] To performe and doe wicked works with diligence and pleaſure. Prov. 22. 8. He that ſows iniquity ſhall reap affliction.

To ſow, and to reap] To declare the promiſes concerning Chriſt to come, and exhort men to beleeve in the Meſſiah, which ſhould ſhould be ſent into the world: thus the Prophets did like Seed-men: alſo to perſwade men to receive this promiſed Meſſiah, being already come and given to the world: thus did the Apoſtles collect into the Chriſtian Church, and gather to Chriſt (like reapers) ſuch as by the ſeed of the Prophets doctrine had been entred into ſome knowledge of Chriſt. John 4.36,37,38. That both he which ſoweth, and he which reapeth may rejoyce together. Such as were ſomewhat inſtructed about Chriſt, by the doctrine of the Prophets, were brought to maturity and ripeneſſe by the more cleer and ful manifeſtation of Chriſt by the Apoſtles, who as they were much holpen by the precedent labours of the Prophets, who had plowed, broken up, and ſowed the field to their hands: ſo now the Miniſters of Chriſt in this age are greatly furthered by the labors of the Apoſtles; we reap what they ſowed.

Note further, the Apoſtles to be called Reapers in reſpect of the Jews, but Sowers or Seed-men, in reſpect of the Gentiles, who had never before heard the Goſpel and name of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 9. 11. 1 Cor. 3. 6. Rom. 15. 10.

To ſow to the ſpirit] To do good works by the help and aid of the Spirit; or to bring forth the fruits of the Spirit. Gal. 6. 8. If ye ſow to the Spirit; that is, if ye do wiſely and carefully give your ſelves to ſpiritual exerciſes, that ye may bring forth fruits of the Spirit, to which end you are to ſpare no coſt upon your Teachers.

To ſow in tears] To ſerve God through afflictions and heavineſſe. Pſal. 126. 5. They which ſow with tears do reap with joy.

Sower] An Husbandman, which ſoweth and manureth his ground.

2. A Miniſter who diſperſeth the ſeed of the Word. Mat. 13. 7. The Sower went out to Sow.

Sowre] Improperly is put for Sin, Jer. 31. 29. Ezek. 18. 2.

S P.

Space] A diſtance of place, Gen. 32. 16. Ezek. 40. 12. A time, definite, Act. 13. 20, 21. & 19. 10, 34. indefinite, Act. 7. 34. Rev. 2. 21. & 17. 10.

Spain] The furtheſt Countrey of Europe, towards the Weſt, comprehending the Kingdoms of Arragon, Caſtile, &c. It ſignifieth rare, that is, precious, or barren. Rom. 15. 24, 28.

Span] Three hands breadth, or twelve inches. Annot. on 1 Sam. 17. 4.

To ſpan] Iſa. 48. 13. To mete out, as a Workman doth his work, in meting whereof, he maketh uſe eſpecially of his right hand.

Span-long] A ſhort time, or ſmall continuance. Pſal. 139. 6. Thou haſt made my days as a hand-breadth, or ſpan-long.

To ſpare] To forbear ſuch as have ſinned with offence to others, not cenſuring them. 2 Cor. 13. 2. If I come, I will not ſpare. Thus man ſpareth man.

2. To hold back correction from ſinners. Lam. 3. 42. Thou haſt not ſpared. Thus God ſpareth man.

Spark] Job 18. 5 The ſpark of his fire ſhal not ſhine. He doth not ſay the flame, but the ſpark, intimating a totall deſtruction of their proſperity; as a fire is quite out, when not ſo much as one ſpark appears, 2 Sam. 14. 7. Annot.

Sparrow] A Bird well known, whereof mention is made, Pſal. 84. 3. & 102. 7. Mat. 10. 29, 31. Luk. 12. 6, 7. It's very wary and circumſpect in avoyding nets and grins wherewith it might be caught. It loveth its owne kinde, and taketh on if any of them be caught. It keepeth its neſt very clean; and there buildeth, where its young ones may be moſt ſafe. It loveth the company of men. The male is jealous over the female, and will fight for it. It riſeth betimes in the morning, and finding where proviſion of food is to be had, inviteth (as it were) the reſt to partake thereof. It feedeth its young ones with gnats, ants, flies, and the like. It's an enemy unto the Swallow, whoſe eggs it breaketh. It's very luſtfull, and liveth but a ſhort while, the male (as it's ſaid) but one yeer. Upon the view hereof, building in Churches or Temples, we may make this uſe for our own inſtruction. That for us there can be nothing more ſweet, comfortable, deſirable, then to frequent the publick Aſſemblies. And conſidering that Gods providence reacheth even unto a Sparrow, Mat. 10. 29. How carefull is he (will he be) of us redeemed by the blood of his own Son?

To ſpeak] To utter ſome word with our mouth, thereby to expreſſe the inward thought. Gen. 34. 2. And he ſpake kindly to the Maid.

2. To declare, witneſſe, and ſignifie ones minde by another. Pſal. 62. 12. God ſpake once or twice. Jerem. 10. 1. Exod. 20. 1. God ſpake theſe words, &c. Thus God ſpeaks by his Angels, Miniſters, Word, Works, and Signes.

God ſpeaks not Grammaticall words, onely (bare ſounds) but true ſubſiſting things.

things. That which with us the ſpeech ſoundeth, the ſame with God is a ſubſtantial thing: It was Light, Sun, Moon, Earth, Sea, Fiſhes, Peter, Paul, &c. when God ſpake and ſaid, Let them be. Our Grammar is to give names to things already created. God his Grammar is to create and make to be, what he doth once name or ſpeak of. If he ſay, Receive thy ſight, beleeve, repent; the blinde ſee, the infidell beleeveth, the ſinner turneth. Therefore Gods ſpeech is not naked words, but reall eſſentiall things.

3. To utter ſome weighty thing with deliberation. Pſ. 49. 3. My mouth ſhal ſpeak of wiſdom.

4. To preach. Act. 14. 1. He ſo ſpake, as many beleeved. Act. 11. 20. They ſpake to the Grecians, and preached the Lord Jeſus.

5. To confeſſe with our tongue before men, what we beleeve with our heart before God. Pſal. 116. 26. I beleeved, therefore I ſpake. 2 Cor. 4. 13. We beleeved, therefore we ſpake. It is uſed alſo for confeſſion of ſin, and acknowledgment of fear and infirmitie, Gen. 45. 15. Exod. 19. 19.

6. To entreat or pray to God for our ſelves or others. 1 Sam. 1. 12, 13. For Anna ſpake in her heart. & v. 19. Of the abundance of my grief have I ſpoken hitherto.

7. To think or muſe upon a thing. The thought of the heart is an inward ſpeech; and the word of the mouth, is as a thought outward, or uttered. Mar. 5. 28. For ſhe ſaid, If I may but touch, &c. Mat. 9. 3. They ſaid (or ſpake) within themſelves.

8. To work and effect ſomething. Heb. 12. 24. The blood of Chriſt ſpeaketh better things.

9. To bid, enjoyn, and command as an Apoſtle; by the authority which Chriſt hath given me. Rom. 12. 3. For I ſay.

10. To declare and make plain ſomething which was ſaid before. Gal. 4. 1. Now I ſay, &c. that is, what I did ſpeak before of Moſes Law, being our Schoolmaſter to Chriſt, I do thus underſtand and deſire more to manifeſt unto you by a new name, and a new ſimilitude of a Tutor or Governor.

Speak] is put ſometimes for To agree in in one, 1 Cor. 1. 10.

2. To threaten, 1 King. 22. 23. 2 Chron. 18. 22. Jer. 11. 17.

3. To promiſe, 1 King. 8. 15. 2 Chron. 23. 3. Pſal. 60. 8. Numb. 23. 19.

4. To boaſt, Exod. 32. 12. Pſal. 73. 8. Iſa. 9. 17. Mic. 7. 3.

5. To witneſſe, Prov. 21. 28.

6. To anſwer, Prov. 15. 28. & 24. 26.

7. To ask counſell, Numb. 7. 89.

8. To contend, Pſal. 127. 5.

9. To comfort, Job 33. 24. Hoſ. 2. 14. Ruth 2. 13.

10. To decree and purpoſe, 1 King. 22. 23. 2 Chr. 18. 22. Jer. 11. 17.

11. To give beeing, Pſal. 33. 9.

To ſpeak of himſelfe] To be Authour of that which he ſpeaketh; ſuch an one will glory in his owne invention, as if he ſee more then another, John 7. 18.

To ſpeak not of himſelfe] In the doctrine of ſalvation, to teach nothing but what his Father had before ſpoken in the Scriptures of the Law and the Prophets. Joh. 14. 10. I ſpeak not of my ſelfe. In like ſenſe it is written by the holy Ghoſt, that he ſhall ſpeak nothing of himſelf, John 16. 13. Becauſe he ſhould teach nothing to the Chriſtian Church after Chriſts aſcenſion, but what Chriſt himſelf had firſt taught in the Scriptures of the Evangeliſts and Prophets; therefore Chriſt ſaith, He ſhall receive of mine, and ſhew to you. How honeſtly then doth the Church of Rome pretend to ſpeak by the Spirit, when ſhe ſpeaks contrary to Chriſt?

To ſpeak, or judge] To reprehend, accuſe, condemne, puniſh, Joh. 8. 26.

To ſpeak things earthly and heavenly] To teach the doctrine of the Goſpell by compariſons taken from earthly things, ſuch as be beſt known unto us, & not nakedly and barely in a ſublime and lofty ſtyle. Joh. 3. 12. If I ſpeak unto you earthly things, &c. Here is no compariſon of the things themſelves, for Chriſt alwayes taught things divine and heavenly, which belong to the Kingdome of God; but of the manner of teaching theſe things, which in Chriſt was done familiarly in our owne word and phraſe, by ſimilitudes taken from matters wherewith we are beſt acquainted: whereas he had been able to have fetcht reſemblances from the height above, and depth below, yet he took them from things terrene, and in common uſe, as water, wind, fire, ſalt, ſeed, plough, leaven, &c. A good pattern for Teachers; for Chriſts form of teaching was beſt, fitteſt to breed underſtanding and belief.

Thou ſayeſt, or ſpeakeſt it] It is ſo, or I am he: Compare Mat. 26. 64. with Mar. 14. 62. Thus Chriſt gave example of modeſty, how to anſwer when without arrogancy we cannot ſpeak directly.

He ſaith, or ſpeaketh in Oſee] Rom. 9. 25. God ſpake by the mouth of Oſee the Prophet; as it is written, that God ſpake in the mouth of all his holy Prophets, Luk. 1. 70. & in Matth. 22. 43. David in ſpirit called him him Lord. It is then the Spirit ſpeaketh in the Prophets and Apoſtles. Rom. 9. 25. For he ſaith in Oſee. See the like, Rom. 9. 15, 17. Gal. 3. 22. Rom. 11. 32. Mark then that Scriptures are of divine authority, and doe not receive their authority from the Church, whoſe office is, faithfully to interpret them, and to preſerve them from corruption. Secondly, that they have a voyce, and are able to judge and determine controverſies, not being dumb, as Jeſuites cavill.

Spear] is an inſtrument of war, 1 Sam. 13. 19. 22. 2 King. 11. 10. and in particular ſuch an inſtrument as Kings uſed, and that a ſigne of their Kingly authority, as Saul uſed not onely his ſpear in the Wars, and in his Camp, 1 Sam. 26. 7, 11, 12, 16. 2 Sam. 1. 6. 10. but alſo at home in time of peace, 1 Sam. 18. 10. & 19. 9. & 20. 33.

Improperly it is taken for all kinde of weapons, 1 Sam. 17. 47. & 21. 8. Job 39. 26. & 41. 17. Hence by Spear-men are underſtood Souldiers, 1 Chr. 12. 34.

2. For backbiting and ſlandering which pierceth like a ſpear, Pſal. 57. 11.

3. Thunder, Hab. 3. 11.

Special] Peculiar, choſen, Deut. 7. 6.

2. Extraordinary, Act. 19. 11.

Specially] is a diſcretive particle, diſtinguiſhing between perſon and perſon, thing and thing, office and office, where ever it is found, Pſal. 31. 11. 1 Tim. 4. 10. & 5. 17. Tit. 1. 10. Philem. v. 16.

Speckled] Spotted with divers colours. It is ſpoken of Sheep, and ſmall cattel, Gen. 30. 32, 33. of Horſes, Zech. 1. 8. of the High-places, Ezek. 16. 16. to Birds, Jer. 12. 9. where by ſpeckled is meant the divers ſorts of Idolatries and abomination wherewith the Jews were defiled, and in regard whereof, God threatens deſtruction unto them.

Spectacle] A gazing ſtock, 1 Cor. 4. 9. It is ſpoken of the godly, in regard of that ignominy and diſgrace put upon them by the wicked, Heb. 10. 33. An alluſion unto men condemned, to be brought into the theatre to fight with beaſts, and devoured by them.

Speech] Language, Gen. 11. 4.

It is put, 1. For report, Deut. 22. 14, 17.

2. For doctrine, Deut. 32. 2.

3. Counſell, Job 29. 22.

4. For the preaching of the Goſpel, 1 Cor. 2. 4.

5. A proverb, Jer. 31. 23.

Our ſpeech ought to be gracious, Col. 4. 6. Sound, Tit. 2. 8.

Speechleſſe] Dumb, Luk. 1. 22.

2. Confounded, having nothing to ſay in defence, Mat. 22. 12.

Speed] Succeſſe, good or ill. 2 John 10. Neither bid him good ſpeed.

Speed. Succeſſe, Judg. 5. 30. Gen. 24. 12. It is ſometime a word of Salutation, 2 Joh. 10. 11.

It ſignifieth alſo Quick, and in haſte, 2 Sam. 25. 14. 1 King. 22. 18.

Spend] Conſume.

It is ſpoken of Time, and it is to paſſe away, Job 21. 13. Pſal. 90. 9.

2. Of goods; in an evill ſenſe, To waſte prodigally, Prov. 21. 10. & 29. 3.

2. In a good part, Luk. 10. 35.

3. Of life; and then it is to conſume and pine away, Pſal. 31. 10.

It is put for, To be deſtroyed, 2 Cor. 12. 15.

Spew] To empty the ſtomach by the mouth, Jonah 2. 11.

2. It is put for, To reject out of the fellowſhip of Chriſt, Rev. 3. 16.

It is referred to evill gotten goods; and then it is to be deprived of them; or, to be forced to make reſtitution, Job 20. 15.

2. It is referred to the Land, and then it is, To be cut off and deſtroyed by Gods juſt judgement, Lev. 18. 25, 28.

To ſpew] To diſtaſte, loath, and deteſt: or, with loathing to reject one. Rev. 3. 16. I ſhall ſpew thee out of my mouth. A ſpeech borrowed from a ſtomach evill affected, which perbreaks and caſteth up that thing which offends it, and is loathſome to it.

Spewing] hath for its ſubject, 1. Drunkards, Iſa. 22. 8. Jer. 25. 27. & 48. 26. and Dogs, whereunto the Apoſtle alludes, 2 Pet. 2. 22. Prov. 26. 11.

It is moſt filthy, and therefore diſtaſteful; hence it ſignifieth the ſhame the wicked ſhall be brought unto, Iſa. 28. 8. Hab. 2. 16.

Spice] A part of the preſent which Joſeph's Brethren carryed down unto him, Gen. 43. 11. Uſed for the anoynting oyl, Exod. 25. 6. for the preſervation of fleſh, Ezek. 24. 10. for the anoynting of the dead, Mar. 16. 1. Joh. 19. 40. To mix with wine, Cant. 8. 2. A ſpecial kinde of merchandiſe, carried on Camels to be ſold, 1 King. 10. 2, 15. Gen. 37. 25. Ezek. 27. 22. Herewith the Queen of Sheba preſented Solomon, 1 King. 10. 2. 2 Chr. 9. 1. So others, 1 Kin. 10. 10. Treaſured by Hezekiah among his moſt precious things, 2 King. 20. 13. 2 Chr. 32. 27. Of Spices, ſome are principall, Exod. 30. 23. They are alſo ſweet, Exod. 37. 29. odoriferous, Cant. 4. 10.

Spices] The graces and fruits of the Spirit, mentioned in Gal. 5. which for their comfortable taſte and delight, are likened unto Spices. Cant. 4. 16. That the Spices may flow out.

Spider] One of thoſe four things which are little upon the earth, but are exceeding wiſe, Prov. 30. 24, 28.

There are divers kindes of them, whereof ſome are bigger, ſome leſſer. Some hunt Flyes, others Worms, &c. Some are of an aſhen colour, ſome green, black, mixed. Some weave their webs higher, ſome lower; finer, or courſer; in corners of walls, on hedges, on the ground. They creep about every where, and (unleſſe prevented) by their eggs and dung ſpoyl victuals. Their eggs are numerous, which if any be loſt, the Spider will ſearch out, and carry it to the right place. Its bite is ſo ſmall that it can ſcarcely be ſeen, which yet is very dangerous, and often deadly. They are laborious and skilfull in their work, repairing their broken webs, ſpinning, weaving others. Their young ones are no ſooner brought forth but they are taught to work. Who may not admire the fineneſſe of their thread, and the multitude of the circles of their webs compaſſing the center? As alſo that ſhe can from on high let her ſelf down, and by her thread alſo aſcend up again, without breaking the thread? They have lurking places, diſtant from their webs, wherein they watch for the Flies. The matter of their web is within their ſmall bodies, whereof though they ſpin never ſo much they have ſtill ſtore. But it ceaſing, they die. No ſooner is the Flie caught in its web but it ſetteth upon her, ſucketh its moyſture, caſting away the reſt; nor goeth it about to hunt till it have made an end of its former prey, and repaired its broken web.

Of the prudence, juſtice, fortitude, temperance, diligence, cleanneſſe, &c. of this little creature, See Inſectorum Theatrum, p. 226, 227, &c.

Spiders web] A vain or trifling thing, which is of no value or ſtrength. Iſa. 59. 5. And weave the Spiders web.

Spie] is diligently to inquire, view, and ſearch out.

It is uſed in War, Numb. 13. 3. Deut. 1. 22. Numb. 13. 29. and by falſe Brethren, Gal. 2. 4. Not out of a minde to learn, but for advantage ſake.

To ſpie is either lawfull, when in a juſt War we enquire into the counſels of our enemies, Numb. 13. 1.

Unlawfull, when men prie into any thing to finde fault: Thus Hypocrites ſpie faults in the perſons and lives of men, that they may have ſomewhat to diſgrace them, Matth. 7. 4. Thus Atheiſts ſpie into the Scriptures, that they may confute it.

This we muſt take heed of, and apply the eye of the minde to a better uſe; as,

1. We are to ſpie out our own ſins and corruptions, Lam. 3. 40.

2. We are to ſpie out our ſpirituall enemies, that we may finde out the temptations of the fleſh, the world, and the devill.

3. We muſt be as Spies ſearching the Scriptures, Joh. 5. 39. that we may underſtand the Will of God, and finde comfort to our ſouls. Perkins.

Spikenard] Hereof ſee in the Dictionary on the Canticles.

Spil] is applyed to the ſeed of generation, Gen. 38. 9. and to the life of man, which being loſt, is irrecoverable, 2 Sam. 14. 14.

Spin] Exod. 35. 25. Of the virtuous woman it is ſaid, She layeth her hands to the ſpindle, and her hands hold the diſtaffe, Prov. 31. 19. So for the building of Gods ſpiritual Tabernacle, there were women that laboured in the Goſpel, Phil. 4. 3. that laboured much in the Lord, Rom. 16. 3, 6, 12. Contrary were they that wove hangings for the grove, 2 King. 23. 7. Aynſworth.

Spindle] Prov. 31. 19. It is certain, that time was, when even Kings Daughters were not aſhamed to employ themſelves about their ſpindle and diſtaffe, as the virtuous woman here doth. Annot.

Spirit] The winde or air, breathing or blowing upon us with might, and ſecretly. John 3. 8. The wind (or Spirit) bloweth where it liſteth.

2. The whole eſſence of the Godhead, as it is common to all the three Perſons, John 4. 24. God is a Spirit. Rom. 1. 5. 1 Tim. 3. verſ. laſt. 1 Pet. 3. 18. Heb. 9. 4. Joh. 6. 63. Here the Spirit ſignifieth the divinity of Chriſt, and conſubſtantiall eſſence with his Father: but in the latter end of this verſe it ſignifieth the manner how to eat Chriſt his fleſh, to wit, by the Spirit given into our hearts; and namely by faith, which is the firſt fruits of the hearts of Gods children: The word life which is joyned to Spirit, noteth out the end of ſuch ſpirituall feeding, namely, that they might not alwayes here (as they imagin'd) live, but a life indeed everlaſting in the heavens.

3. The third Perſon in the Trinity. 1 Joh. 5, 6. This Spirit is truth; & verſ. 7. In- ſpiring all good things in our hearts. Matth. 28. 19.

The third Perſon in Trinity is called Spirit, either being breathed (as it were) and proceeding from the Father and the Son, who breath and move our hearts by it: or by a Metonymie of the effect; or becauſe he breatheth where he liſteth; or becauſe he ſtirreth up ſpirituall motions in the hearts of beleevers, purifying and quickning them, Luk. 1. 35. Or becauſe he is a ſpiritual, inviſible, and incorporeal eſſence. Alſo he is called [Holy] becauſe he is ſo, by nature moſt holy. Secondly, by effect, the Sanctifier and Worker of all holineſſe in the creature.

Again, he is called a Perſon, becauſe whatſoever belongeth to a perſon, as to underſtand, to will, to give, to call, to doe, to ſubſiſt of himſelf, doth agree to the Spirit, who appeared in viſible ſhape, Luke 3. 22. Act. 2. 3. Gave the Apoſtles ſundry tongues, Act. 2. 11. Hath will and power to work and beſtow in the Church the gift of Tongues, of interpreting Tongues, of Miracles, of Faith, of Healing, of Propheſie, &c. 1 Cor. 12. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. which cannot be attributed to any quality or motion created.

Laſtly, it is called the third Perſon, not in order of time, or dignity of nature, but in order and manner of ſubſiſting, Mat. 5. 7.

4. The gifts and graces of the Spirit. Luk. 1. 15. John was filled with the Spirit. Alſo Act. 6. 5. & 2. 18. 1 Cor. 14. 32. Gal. 3. 2. Received you the Spirit? And elſewhere often. A Metonymie of the cauſe for the effect, 2 King. 2. 9. Numb. 11. 17.

5. The work of the Spirit; to wit, the new quality of holineſſe, created by the Spirit in the hearts of the elect. Gal. 5. 17. The fleſh luſts againſt the Spirit. Alſo v. 25. If we live in the Spirit, let us walk in the Spirit. Rom. 8. 1. This is a ſupreme work of the Spirit, peculiar to the elect. Alſo it ſignifieth the virtue of the Spirit or divine power quickning the fleſh and manhood of Chriſt, and all beleevers which ſpiritually feed on his fleſh by faith, John 6. 83. It is the Spirit which quickneth, the fleſh (by it ſelf or alone, without the operation of the holy Ghoſt) &c. In the latter end of this verſe, Spirit ſignifieth the organ or inſtrument whereby the Spirit giveth life, alſo ſpirituall.

6. An excellent and moſt ſingular efficacy and working of the Spirit unto the ſanctification of Chriſts humane nature, filling it with holineſſe above meaſure. Rom. 8. 2. The Law of the Spirit which is in Chriſt Jeſus; that is, the work of perfect holineſſe wrought in the manhood of Chriſt, by his owne lively quickning Spirit, which is like a Law, mightily governing and moderating.

7. The ſpiritual works of the Goſpel, being ſet againſt the carnall ſhadowiſh Ceremonies of Moſes Law. Gal. 3. 3. That after you have begun in the Spirit.

8. An inferiour work of the Spirit; generally, and ſleightly enlightening and reforming the Reprobate. 1 Sam. 10. 10. The Spirit of God came upon him. 1 Theſſ. 5. 19. Quench not the Spirit. Heb. 6. 4. And were made partakers of the holy Ghoſt. This is an inferiour work of the Spirit, common to the elect, with many reprobates.

9. The motions of the minde ſtirred up by the Spirit. Pſal. 51. 11. Renew a right Spirit within me. Rom. 8. 14. Luk. 9. 55. Judg. 3. 10. And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him; that is, he was ſtirred up or moved by the Spirit to doe that he did.

10. Good or wicked inſtinction or inſpiration of the Spirit. Matt. 22. 43. How did David in the Spirit? Act. 28. 25. Luke 21. 26. It was declared to him by the holy Ghoſt. 1 Cor. 14. 14, 15, 16. Eph. 2. 2.

11. That which is ſpirituall or pure. Joh. 3. 6. That which is born of the Spirit, is Spirit; that is, clean, holy, and pure, like to the cauſe whereof it ſpringeth.

12. Revelation of the Spirit. 1 Cor. 2, 12. By the Spirit we know what things are given us of God. For the Spirit reveals the hidden things of God, verſe 10. Alſo revelation pretended to come from the Spirit, 2 Theſſ. 2. 2.

13. An holy Angel. Heb. 1. 14. Are they not all miniſtring Spirits? Alſo it ſignifies a wicked Angel, to wit, the Devil. Luk. 11, 26. He took ſeven other Spirits.

14. The ſoul of man. Luk. 23. 46. Father, into thy hands I commend my ſpirit. 1 Pet. 3. 19. And preached to the ſpirits that are in priſon; that is, to the ſouls which were in the priſon of Hell, now at this time, when Peter wrote this Epiſtle; but were alive at what time the Son of God did preach unto them by his ſervant Noah. For in Hell there is no place of preaching, or repentance.

From this place of Peter the Papiſts gather that Jeſus Chriſt after his death deſcended into Hell in his Soul, by his preaching to deliver from thence ſuch as were ſhut up in that part of Hell called Limbus Patrum, as in a priſon; alſo to releaſe divers out of the pains of Purgatory. This Collection, howſoever backed by antiquity and authority of ſome of the Fathers (as St. Auguſtine namely) yet it is erroneous and falſe, as will appear by theſe reaſons following.

For firſt, here is (in Peter) no mention of Chriſt his Soul, or of his deſcending, but of his Spirit; whereby cannot be meant his Soul, becauſe the Apoſtle ſpeaks of the Spirit of Chriſt, whereby he was quickened and raiſed up from the dead, verſ. 18. But that Spirit which raiſed Jeſus from the dead, was his divine power and Godhead, or divine nature, here ſet againſt his fleſh, which ſignifieth his humane nature. Indeed none is reſtored from death to life, but his ſoul muſt be joyned to his body, yet can the ſoul no more conjoyn it ſelf to the body, then at firſt it could create it ſelf. Wherefore that which made Chriſt alive again, was not his humane ſoul, but his divine power, as it is written. Him God raiſed up, Act. 2. Alſo Rom. 1. 4.

Again, what ſenſe is there to reſtrain Chriſt his preaching in Hell unto the dayes of Noah? Were they onely in Limbus or Purgatory?

Thirdly, this Text of Peter doth ſpeak of diſobedient Souls, not of godly ones.

Fourthly, here is no one ſyllable at all of their deliverance; and truth is, they of whom Peter ſpake, are kept yet in the priſon of Hell for their obſtinacy.

Fiftly, in all the Scriptures Priſon is not found to ſignifie a place to contain the godly in.

Sixtly and laſtly, all that is written by Peter, is no more but that Chriſt of old time, went and preached through his Spirit or Godhead, by Noah his ſervant, to the Spirits or Souls which are now in Hell, but were alive at what time Noah did preach unto them. This ſenſe of the place is ſo clear, as divers Popiſh Divines doe yeeld to it. Tho. Aquinas rejecting their opinion, which ſay, Chriſt preached in Hell, telleth us, it is better expounded of the Operation of Chriſt his Godhead, from the beginning of the world. Of this mind are the ordinary Gloſs, Lyranus and Andradius too, as learned Reinolds affirmeth. Beda alſo, with Athanaſius, interpret this Text of Chriſt his preaching to them who were unbeleevers, before the flood, as Dr. Fulke writeth in his anſwer to the the Rhemiſts, on this Text.

16. That high and noble faculty of mans Soul, called the Underſtanding or Minde, with the moſt inward cogitations thereof. Luk. 1. 47. My ſpirit rejoyceth. Rom. 12. 2. Be renewed in the ſpirit of your minde. 1 Theſſ. 5. 23. 1 Cor. 2. 11. And in all places where Spirit and Soul are mentioned together. An unregenerate perſon hath but a Soul and a Body; but a ſpirituall man born from above, hath a Spirit, Soul, and Body. Not that any new part is added to the ſoul of a new born childe of God, but a new ſpiritual quality is wrought in it, John 3. 6.

17. Purpoſe, thought, will, and conſent. 1 Cor. 5. 3. But preſent in ſpirit. Alſo v. 4.

18. With all the heart, or with a true affection. Rom. 1. 9. Whom I ſerve in my ſpirit; that is, cheerfully, and with a good will, not for gain, or vain-glory, but from his heart, Matth. 5. 3. It is put for opinion or affection.

19. The conſcience ſanctified and renewed by the Spirit. Rom. 8. 16. Gods ſpirit beareth witneſſe with our ſpirit; that is, to our ſanctified conſcience.

20. The dreams and devices of men, covered and cloaked with pretence of ſpirituall revelation. 2 Theſſ. 2. 2. Not be troubled, neither by Spirit, nor Word.

21. The ſpirituall and ſincere worſhip of God, voyd of carnall ceremonies and hypocriſie. Joh. 4. 24. Muſt worſhip him in ſpirit and truth. Phil. 3. 3.

22. The Goſpel. 2 Cor. 3. 6. Hath made us able Miniſters of the Spirit.

23. One that pretendeth to have the gift of the Spirit to doe the office of a Prophet and Teacher, yet indeed hath it not. 1 John 4. 1. Beleeve not every Spirit.

24. Doctrine, delivered by him, which is endued with the gift of the Spirit, for inſtruction of the Church. 1 John 4. 2. Every ſpirit which confeſſeth that Jeſus is come in the fleſh, is of God. Here is meant both doctrine and perſon that brings it.

25. Spiritual exerciſes of Prayer, Meditation, Hearing, &c. Gal. 6. 8. He that ſows to the Spirit; that is, he that exerciſeth himſelf in ſpiritual duties.

26. Skill of working in Gold, Silver, Iron, and Braſſe. Exod. 31. 3. Whom I filled with the Spirit of God.

27. Livelyneſſe, quickneſſe, and greater zeal of godlineſſe then in other men, to the end they may be examples to lead others in the way, 1 Tim. 4. 12.

28. A ſtrange tongue by the gift of the Spirit, 1 Cor. 14. 15. They doe erre which interpret this either of voyce, or breath, or blinde intentions.

Spirit is grieved, 1. When men do enough to grieve him, were he a ſubject capable of grief.

to

2. When he is diſpleaſed: To diſlike a thing is the formality of ſorrow, and the principall part of it, of which the Spirit of God is capable, and therefore may juſtly be ſaid to be grieved, when he hath occaſion of grief.

There are two things in all the paſſions of the minde.

1 A materiall part, and that is the alteration which by the paſſion is cauſed in the body.

2 There is a formall part, which is nothing but the nature of the paſſion, abſtracted from the changes which it maketh in the body; ſo the formall part of grief is a diſpleaſure taken at the preſence of any thing apprehended to be evill, the Spirit is capable of the nature or principall things of which the affections doe conſiſt; and ſo of that which is principall in, or eſſentiall unto grief, i. e. diſlike. God doth truely diſlike mens miſeries, becauſe they are contrary to the good of the creature; but eſpecially his ſins, becauſe they are repugnant to his Laws, and nature; therefore he may be ſaid not improperly to be grieved when ſin is committed.

3. When he carries himſelf after the manner of a man in heavyneſſe; as the parts of a man are aſcribed to God, becauſe he doth all things that a man doth with theſe parts. So are the affections aſcribed unto him by way of ſimilitude and likeneſſe of the effects, becauſe when the occaſion is offered, he doth ſuch things as men in ſuch paſſions are wont to doe; as, if he be in heavyneſſe, he withdraweth himſelf from company; but if anger be mixed with it (as that of Chriſt, Mar. 3.5.) he withdraweth his courteſie and ſpeech from ſuch as are the occaſion of his grief; all which the Spirit doth as he hath occaſion, hiding his face from the Soul, and ſuſpending his gracious operations there; leaving men to themſelves, and the wayes of their owne heart, in which they have delighted to walk; and when he doth ſo, he may be ſaid to be grieved.

Spirit of adoption] An effect of the holy Spirit, to wit, a witneſſing unto the beleevers that God hath adopted them, and taken them for his children. Rom. 8. 15. Ye have received the Spirit of adoption; that is, the Spirit which witneſſeth unto you your adoption to be Gods children.

To begin in the Spirit] By the ſpirituall efficacy of the Goſpel to enter upon the ſervice and pleaſing of God; ſuch as had done thus, were not to look for perfection by outward ceremonies, and naturall ſtrength, endevouring to keep the Law. Gal. 3. 3. Having begun in the Spirit, &c.

To be born after the Spirit] To be born into this elementary world, by the virtue of Gods promiſe, and after a ſpiritual manner, and not by ordinary courſe of nature. Gal. 4. 29. Perſecuted him that was born after the Spirit; that is, Iſaac, and the children of the true Church.

Born of the Spirit] One regenerate and born into the Chriſtian world by the holy Spirit, the author of our new birth. Joh. 3. 6. That which is born of the Spirit.

Earneſt of the Spirit] See Zeal, and Earneſt.

Spirit of fear] An effect of the Spirit, to wit, fear and terror wrought in the hearts of men by the holy Spirit, in the miniſtery and preaching of the Law, revealing our ſins and Gods wrath due unto them. Rom. 8. 15. Ye have not received the Spirit of fear again. 2 Tim. 1. 7. This is the work of the Spirit in unregenerate men.

Thus the Spirit of a ſound minde, the Spirit of wiſdome and meeknеſſe, the Spirit of knowledge, the Spirit of grace and prayer, the Spirit of propheſie, ſignifie ſeverall effects, works, and gifts, together with the authour and cauſe, which is the holy Spirit infuſing them; and on the other ſide, the Spirit of Pride, Covetouſneſſe, Fury, Uncleanneſſe, and the like, do ſignifie theſe vices, and the Devil that wicked ſpirit the author of them.

Fervent in the Spirit] A Chriſtian Soul made earneſt in Duties of Chriſtianity, through the powerable motion of the holy Spirit, ſtirring us up to vehement and zealous endevours. Rom. 12. 11. Fervent in ſpirit. When as any matter concerning Gods glory, or the ſalvation of our ſelves and others is in hand, we may not then behave our ſelves ſlothfully, or coldly, Rev. 3. 16.

Filled with the Spirit] is to feel the preſence and grace of the Spirit in the heart, in an excellent and extraordinary meaſure, Eph. 5. 18. which is brought to paſſe by uſing theſe means, whereby the preſence of the Spirit is obtained and entertained, to wit, by flying ſin, which grieves him, and being conſtant in mortification, prayer, faſting, meditation, and examination of our life and conſcience, and the like pious exerciſes, Bol. Eph. 5. 18.

Spirit of the gods] A divine force and virtue. Gen. 41. 37. In whom is the ſpirit of the Gods.

Spirit of Grace] The work of the Spirit, making the elect partakers of that grace which Chriſt hath purchaſed. Zech. 12. 10. And I will pour upon the houſe of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, the Spirit of grace.

To grow, or be ſtrengthened in Spirit] By little and little (as other children) to attain the uſe of reaſon, that he might be like us. Luk. 2. 40. He was ſtrengthened in the Spirit. Eſa. 7. 15.

Holy Spirit] That Spirit of God, which in himſelf is moſt holy, and worker of holineſſe in all others. Eph. 1. 13. Ye were ſealed with the holy Spirit.

In Spirit] Spiritually, not in carnall rites, Phil. 3. 3.

In the Spirit] By ſuch prayers as proceed from the Spirit, and the moſt inward parts of the ſoul, as Rom. 8. 26, 27. Eph. 6. 18.

To be led by the Spirit] To follow the direction of the Spirit, having his good motions for the guide and governour of our whole life. Rom. 8. 14. They that are led by the Spirit are the Sons of God.

Note. The Spirit is ſaid in holy Scripture, as Judg. 6. 14. & 14. 6. to come upon one, when he doth ſome noble, rare, and worthy act, even as the wicked ſpirit is ſaid to enter into Judas when he did ſome notable and exceſſive wickedneſſe, Joh. 13. 17.

To live in the Spirit] To be quickened (having been dead in ſins) with the Spirit to Godward, to be able in ſome meaſure to pleaſe him by an holy life. Gal. 5. 2. If ye live in the Spirit. Whereas ſome uſe to demand whether the Spirit be in the faithful onely, as touching his gift and operation, or alſo by his eſſence and ſubſtance; I do judge, that ſeeing he never leaveth his own gifts, but is ever preſent with his owne works, to preſerve and continue them, it is ſaid, he doth continue with the faithfull for ever, therefore his own Perſon not his graces alone, is with and in the godly.

Spirit luſting againſt the fleſh] See Luſt.

Meaning of the Spirit] Inward ſighs, and earneſt deſires proceeding from the inſtinct of the Spirit. Rom. 8. 27. Know the meaning of the Spirit.

Miniſtring of the Spirit] The preaching of the Goſpel, whereby God giveth his quickning Spirit, working the life of grace in the elect. 2 Cor. 3. 8. How ſhall not the Miniſtery of the Spirit be glorious?

Newneſſe of the Spirit] Such a new life as becomes them whom the Spirit hath renewed; or a new and holy life wrought by the Spirit of God. Rom. 7. 6. That we ſhould ſerve God in newneſſe of Spirit.

One body, and one ſpirit] Our being conjoyned into a moſt ſtraight corporation by one Spirit knitting many members in one. Epheſ. 4. 4. There is one body, and one Spirit. That which is one, may not be divided by hatred, diſcord, ſchiſme, hereſie.

This word [Spirit] when it is oppoſed unto the [Fleſh] it ſignifieth one quality, to wit, the grace of regeneration, or whatſoever is in man renewed by the holy Ghoſt: Gal. 5. 17. and when it is ſet againſt the Letter, it ſignifieth another quality, to wit, the operation and efficacy of the holy Ghoſt, ingraving and writing in mens hearts the Doctrine of the Goſpel and Law, 2 Cor. 3. 6. and ſometime it noteth the virtue, truth, and end of ſome outward ſigne which ſevered from ſuch end, is called the letter, Rom. 2. 27.

Spirit prayeth] That it teacheth or cauſeth the faithfull to pray, ſuggeſting good deſires and motions, and ſtirring up affiance and fervency in calling on God, Rom. 8. 27.

Spirit of promiſe] That Spirit which brings not the Law to terrifie us, but the promiſe of free adoption to confirm and comfort us, and by his ſpecial gifts to ſeal up the promiſe in our mindes. Eph. 1. 13. The holy Spirit of promiſe.

God promiſed his Spirit, Joel 2. 28. Iſa. 44. 3. and eternall life promiſed, is aſſured to the faithfull by the Spirit; thence called Spirit of Promiſe.

Promiſe of the Spirit] The Spirit promiſed, or the bleſſing of a ſpirituall life, which cometh to beleevers by promiſe and free gift of God. Gal. 3. 14. That we might receive the promiſe of the Spirit.

To receive the Spirit] To feel the efficacy and power of the Spirit working in us, faith, hope, love, joy, fear, grief, and ſuch like graces and affections. Rom. 8. 14. Ye have not received the ſpirit of bondage, but ye have received the Spirit of adoption.

To ſend the Spirit] Not to remove the holy Spirit from heaven to earth, in reſpect of his divine eſſence, (which being infinite and fulfilling all places, therefore doth not change place) but to work effectually and forcibly (as Kings effect matters by their Legats) by the decree of God in the hearts of the Elect, to gather them to Chriſt out of the world, and to endow their hearts with full confidence in him, giving thereby witneſſe witneſſe to their ſpirits, that they be children of God. Gal. 4. 6. God hath ſent forth the Spirit of his Son, &c. Seeing it is here called both the Spirit of the Father, and of the Son, and it is ſaid to be ſent out from both, in Joh. 14. & 16. therefore raſhly did the Arians teach the inequality of the Father, and of Chriſt, as touching the Godhead, which is hereby proved to be equally belonging to them both, becauſe the Son as well as the Father ſendeth the Spirit, who is ſaid to be the Spirit of them both.

Spirit of ſlumber] A minde ſenſeleſſe altogether in matters of ſalvation (like to one in an heavy ſleep or lethargy) who is not to be awaked out of the ſleep of ſin, with any prickings of the Word. Rom. 11. 8. I will give them the Spirit of ſlumber.

The word [Spirit] though it ſignifie the Minde, as Ezr. 1. 1. yet here it ſignifieth ſomewhat more, namely, the evill ſpirit Satan, ſent of God into the mindes of the reprobate Jews, to harden them in their unbeleef, till they became paſt feeling. And note it generally, that where good or bad Epithets are added to this word [Spirit] they doe imply the effects and works of Gods grace, inclining the godly to good things; or of his wrath, inclining and diſpoſing (as a righteous Judge) the wicked to evill things.

Spirit of the Son] Not the giving of the holy Ghoſt to the Son, but the breathing and proceeding of the Spirit from the eſſence of the Son, as well as from the Father; alſo that the Son giveth the Spirit, Joh. 16. 7, 14.

Spirit of ſoothſaying] Such an evil ſpirit as can tell things paſt, and gueſſe at things to come. Act. 16. 16. Having a ſpirit of ſoothſaying, or divination.

Sword of the Spirit] The Word of God, which is a ſpirituall Sword, to defend us, and offend Satan. Eph. 6. 17. Take to you the ſword of the Spirit.

Through the Spirit] Through faith wrought in the Elect by the grace and virtue of the holy Ghoſt, or by the holy Ghoſt begetting faith. Gal. 4. 5. We through the Spirit, &c.

Spirit of truth] The holy Spirit being himſelf moſt true, even truth it ſelf, alſo the Author and Teacher of truth to all others. Joh. 15. 17. Even the Spirit of truth.

Unclean Spirit] A wicked Angel or a Devil, unclean in himſelf, and author of uncleanneſſe in others, Matth. 10. 1. Luk. 9. 1. And give them power againſt unclean ſpirits.

To walk after the Spirit] To be led by the Spirit, when we follow (in ordering our lives) the good motion thereof Rom. 8. 10. Which walk after the Spirit. Gal. 5. 25.

Spirit of wiſdome and revelation] The gift of wiſdome, and a more large meaſure of the knowledge of the Goſpel, through the revelation of Spirit, Eph. 1. 17.

To worſhip in Spirit] To give and offer unto God a ſpirituall ſervice, agreeable to his nature, being himſelf a Spirit. Joh. 4. 23. The true worſhippers ſhall worſhip the Father in Spirit.

Note. Here is meant that the worſhip of God under the Goſpel, ſhould eſpecially conſiſt in the minde and heart of man, and not ſo much in bodily ſervices, as in waſhings, anoyntings, garments, place, times; as it was under the Law, as appeareth by the next verſe. As by worſhip in truth is meant that it ſhould not be in ſignes and ſhadows, as under the Law. Hereby, it is not Chriſts meaning to ſhut forth all ſervices bodily, as kneeling, lifting up of hands, nor earthly means of his worſhip, who appointed Water, Bread and Wine; but that corporall ſervices now ſhould be fewer.

Spirits] The moſt inward and ſecret conceptions and thoughts of the ſoul. 1 Cor. 12, 10. To another, diſcerning of ſpirits.

Evill ſpirits] Fury, rage, and madneſſe, ſtirred by ſome devill ſent of God, to vex wicked Saul for his diſobedience, 1 Sam. 16. 14.

Spirits of the Prophets] The Doctrine which the Prophets bring in through the inſpiration of the holy Spirit. 1 Cor. 14 32. The ſpirits of the Prophets are ſubject to the Prophets.

Spirituall] That which is moſt pure, being given not to our bodies onely, but to our very ſpirits, and ſecret thoughts. Rom. 7. 14. The Law is ſpirituall.

2. Perſons endued with a great meaſure of godly knowledge, and ſpirituall graces. 1 Cor. 3. 1. I cannot ſpeak unto you as unto ſpirituall.

3. One mightily ruled and governed by the Spirit. Gal. 6. 1. You that are ſpirituall reſtore ſuch an one.

4. One that hath the true ſenſe and interpretation of the Word in his heart, by which he can try all Doctrines. 1 Cor. 2. 16. The ſpirituall man diſcerneth all things. The Papiſts appropriate this term [Spirituall] to the Clergy, which of all other men are moſt carnall every way.

Note. Paul calleth him a ſpirituall man here, which which hath the ſenſe and mind of God in the Scripture, taught by the Spirit; and ſuch an one as he is to be judged of no man, ſo far as he is ſpirituall, no more then God himſelf, whoſe mind he hath, 1 Cor. 2. 15.

Spirituall meat] Manna in the Wilderneſſe, which was food not onely for the belly, but repreſented our true ſoul-food, even Chriſt, which is the bread that came down from heaven, whereof he that eateth ſhall live for ever: this bread or meat promiſed to the Fathers, now exhibited to us, received and eaten by the ſpirit and faith, was figured in Manna; therefore called the ſpiritual meat, 1 Cor. 10. 3, 4.

Spiritual ſlumber] Spiritual ſlumber and blindneſſe, cauſed by the wicked ſpirit. Iſa. 29. 10. The Lord hath covered you with the ſpirit of ſlumber.

Spiritual things] The matter of Doctrine, and the words whereby it is delivered and taught, both being ſpirituall and heavenly. 1 Cor. 2. 13. Comparing ſpirituall things with ſpirituall things.

Spirituallp] By the virtue and ſpecial enlightning of the Spirit. 1 Cor. 2. 24. Becauſe they are ſpiritually diſcerned.

Spit] To ſpit in the face, is a ſigne of extreme contempt and diſgrace, Numb. 12. 14. Deut. 25. 9. Mat. 26. 67. Mar. 10. 34. Job 30. 10. Chriſt ſpit upon the clay and anoynted the eyes of the blinde man, Mar. 7. 33. & 8. 23. Joh. 9. 6. to make the glory of his power the more conſpicuous, that the faith of the blinde man might be tryed.

Spite] is taken for reproach and diſgrace, joyned with malice, Mat. 22. 6. Luk. 18 32. for cruelty and oppreſſion, Pſa. 10. 14.

Spoones] Exod. 25. 29. To put frankincenſe in, and to take it out of the diſhes, when it was to be burned upon the Altar of incenſe. Annot.

Sport] Delight and pleaſure in ſin, 2 Pet. 2. 13. Prov. 10. 22. Iſa. 57. 4.

Sporting] Some token or ſign of marriage-love. Gen. 26. 8. He ſaw Iſaac ſporting with Rebecca.

Note. It is the word whereof Iſaac himſelf had his name, Gen. 17. 17. & 21. 6. and it ſignifies, laughing, playing, rejoycing. Salomon ſaith, Rejoyce with the wife of thy youth, Prov. 5. 18, 19.

Spot] is taken for ſin, which defileth the ſoul; in this reſpect Chriſt is ſaid to be without ſpot, 1 Pet. 1. 19. and the Tongue is ſaid to defile the whole man, Jam. 3. 6. Sometimes it is put for wicked men, whoſe company defile and diſgrace the godly, and their actions, 2 Pet. 2. 13. Jude v. 12.

Without ſpot] That after the reſurrection (as now there is none by imputation ſo, in the body of the Church, ſhall not ſtick the leaſt ſin nor ſtain of old Adam, not ſo much as is a ſmall ſpot in a garment, or a wrinkle in the face, becauſe all ſhall be moſt pure and glorious, there being a celeſtial brightneſſe in the Church triumphant, with bleſſed immortality, and moſt perfect knowledge of God, accompanyed with perfect holineſſe. Eph. 5. 27. Not having ſpot or wrinkle.

Spouſe] Properly, is the Wife of a Husband, Hoſ. 4. 14.

It is put for the Church, who is maryed unto Jeſus Chriſt, Cant. 4. 8, 9, 11. & 5. 1.

To ſtabliſh] To ſet up, or rear a thing or a perſon which is weak and unable to ſtand up without ſupport. Rom. 14. 4. He ſhall be eſtabliſhed; that is, made to ſtand, or held up, that he do not fall down flat and periſh. Rom. 10. 3. Going about to ſtabliſh their own righteouſneſſe. Juſticiaries, which attribute righteouſneſſe to their own works, doe like little children, which make babbies of clouts, and ſet them up on their feet, though they can by no means ſtand. So in vain do Merit-mongers, Phariſees heretofore, and Papiſts now, ſeek to rear up their righteouſneſſe of works, which cannot poſſibly ſtand before the moſt ſevere Judge of the world, no more then a bed-rid perſon, or dead carcaſſe, or puppet, can be erected and cauſed to ſtand upon their feet.

2. To continue in ſtrength and firm eſtate, ſomething already lifted up, and wel ſetled, Pſal. 90. 71. Stabliſh the thing, O Lord, which thou haſt wrought.

It is put for, To tread under foot with indignation, 2 Sam. 22. 43. It is a geſture uſed by the Conquerour towards his conquered enemies, Dan. 8. 7, 10.

2. Of grief for calamity to come, Ezek. 6. 11.

3. A note of inſulting over and rejoycing at the afflictions of the godly, Ezek. 6. 11.

By the ſtamping of Horſes, is meant, The great judgements of God againſt the wicked, Jer. 47. 3.

Stanched] Luk. 8. 44. was ſtopped, ſtayed, ceaſed to run.

Stand] ſignifieth, To ſerve, Pſal. 135. 2.

2. To be judged before a Judge, Exod. 17. 14. Pſal. 1. 5.

3. To abide or dwell continually, Pſal. 24. 3. & 15. 1.

4. To proſper and be in a good condition, Dan. 11. 2.

To ſtand, namely in the ſpirituall warfare, imports three things.

1. As the ſtanding is an upright and perpendicular geſture, ſo muſt the Souldiers of Chriſt be upright in heart, not inclining to the right hand, or the left.

2. As every Souldier muſt ſtand in rank and file, ſo muſt we have our particular callings, wherein we are to cary our ſelves with all righteouſneſſe.

3. As they are to continue in their ſtanding, untill they receive the word of Command to remove: ſo muſt we continue in our ſtation, not caſting our ſelves into unneceſſary dangers, nor pulling any croſſe upon us which God doth not lay on.

It ſignifieth, To be eſtabliſhed, Iſa. 32. 8. To endure, Job 8. 15, To be ſilent, Joſ. 10. 12. all in the marg.

To ſtand before the Lord] To make prayer to him, Jer. 15. 1. Mark 11. 25. So the Chaldee tranſlateth, Geneſ. 18. 22. & 19. 27.

To ſtand, or fall to the Lord] To do any thing well and rightly, or otherwiſe, and withall to be approved or diſproved of the Lord for ſuch deeds done rightly, or otherwiſe. Rom. 14. 4. To his own Lord he ſtandeth or falleth; that is, his Lord onely hath dominion over him, and his work to judg it, to accept or condemne: therefore it is a ſawcy preſumption for any Chriſtian to judge the actions of another, in things of an indifferent nature.

By ſtanding or falling, ſome underſtand the profit or danger of our actions; but the former expoſition is to be preferred, becauſe of our doings (be they done rightly or not) there cometh neither commodity nor loſſe unto the Lord.

To ſtand in grace] To perſevere and continue in the ſtate of grace. Rom. 5. 2. In which grace we ſtand. They erre, who think beleevers and juſtified perſons can fall, either wholly for a time, or finally for ever, from the grace of Reconciliation with God. It is one thing to ſtand; that is, firmly firmly to beleeve (such fall not away:) another to think we stand, that is, to have opinion of faith, which may and do fall from God.

To stand in the liberty of Christ] To settle the affections of our heart fast in our Christian liberty, as it were in a station, wherein Christ our Captain hath placed us. Gal. 5.1. Stand fast in the liberty.

Standard] is the Colours born in time war, or incamping: Thus every Tribe had their severall Standards, Numb. 1.52. & 2.2. & 10.14. It is used for distinction sake of one Troop from another, the encouraging of the Souldiers, and a signe of victory, Joh. 8.18, 26.

It is put for the Preaching of the Gospel, or Christ preached in the Gospel, Isa. 49.22. and for the calling of Gods people together, Isa. 62.10.

Standing] Continuing, Psal. 33.11. & 111.3. Ministring, Psal. 134.1. Dan. 1.4. Also, taking effect, or being performed, Isa. 8.10.

Star] A bright creature set in the firmament, to adorn it, and give light to us here below, Gen. 1.15. Job 25.5. & 38.31.

2. A Minister of the Gospel, shining as a star by his pure and clear doctrine, and good life. Rev. 1.20. The seaven Stars are the Angels of the seaven Churches.

3. Worldly Princes excelling in dignity, Dan. 8.10.

Or it signifies, as Junius thinks, the chief Professors, whereof some were driven by the cruelty of Antiochus Epiphanes to forsake the Faith, and others put to death and torment, because they did stick to their Religion, as the Mother with her seaven Children. See Revelations.

Day star] The cleer Doctrine of the Gospel. 2 Pet. 1.19. The day-star arise in your hearts. How then do the Papists well to keep the Scriptures from the people of God, under pretence of obscurity and darkness?

Day-star] Either the more cleer knowledge of Christ by the preaching of the Gospel, which (in comparison of the dark shadows, Legall and Propheticall writings) was a Morning-star, bringing a fuller manifestation of the truth of God, then did the Prophets, whose predictions yet being accomplished, were as a light in a dark place. 2 Pet. 1.19. Till the Day-star, &c.

Or, it signifies Christ himself now exhibited, who is called the light, and brought heavenly light into the world, Joh. 1.4, 5, 9. as the Day-star giveth elementary light. Peter saith Day-star, rather then Sun, because the full knowledge of Christ is deferred till his second coming, we knowing now but in part.

Stars of God] Most beautifull, bright, and glorious stars. Isa. 14.12. Above the Stars of God.

To make a nest among the stars] Proudly to presume of safety, as if they were out of reach and gun-shot, being amongst stars, far above mens heads. Obad. 4. Make thy nest above the stars.

To shine as the stars] To be clothed with heavenly glory. Dan. 12.3. And they that turn many unto righteousnesse shall shine as the stars for ever and ever.

Wandring stars] An unstable man, or one of an unconstant minde. Jude v. 13. They are wandring stars.

Wandring stars are false Teachers, Jude v. 13.

Stare] To look greedily upon one, and with delight and pleasure at the calamities of our neighbour. So the word Psal. 22.17. signifieth. Rivet. in locum.

State] Condition and welfare, Gen. 43.7. Psal. 39.5. Prov. 27.23.

It is put for prosperity, Isa. 22.19. Psal. 39.5. for a miserable condition, Mat. 12.45. for pomp and glory, Est. 1.7. hand, Est. 1.7. marg.

Station] Isa. 22.19. I will drive thee from the station; that is, depose thee from thy dignity, thrust thee out of thine office, wherein thou thinkest that thou standest so fast. Thou supposest thy self so surely seated, that thou canst not be stirred. But they cannot stand, whom God drives, Jer. 46.14.15.

There is in the word Station a notion of firm setling and consisting; whence a pillar hath its name; notwithstanding which, as he conceiveth it, God telleth him that he would not move him onely, but remove him. Annot.

Stature] Improperly is taken for the excellency of the Church, Cant. 7.7.

2. For the pride of great ones, Isa. 10.33. Ezek. 31.3, 5.

3. For the measure of knowledge and grace we attain unto in Christ, Eph. 4.13. Age, Luk. 2.52. Measure, 1 Chron. 11.23. marg.

Statutes] The Word of God, because he hath appointed us to walk in it, and to frame all our thoughts, affections, words and works by it; and because all statutes, decrees, decrees, conſtitutions of Church and Kingdomes ought to be ordered by it, Pſalm 19. 8.

To ſtay] To remain or abide, Gen. 19. 17. Exod. 9. 28. To delay, Joſh. 10. 19. To wait, Ruth 1. 13. To leave off, 2 Sam. 24. 16. To ſtop, Job 38. 37. To hinder, Pro. 28. 17. To hold up, Exod. 17. 12. To withhold, 1 Sam. 24. 7. To comfort, Cant. 2. 5. To truſt, Iſa. 10. 20. & 26. 3. & 30. 12.

Stayes] 1 King. 10. 19. Heb. hands. He means ſuch ſhort rails on each ſide, as being faſtened to a chair, we call elbows, which are for him that ſits thereon to reſt his arms thereon. Annot.

Stead] In the place of, Geneſ. 4. 25. & 22. 13. It is taken for to be a pledge, Gen. 44. 33.

Steal] applyed to the Word, is, To adulterate and corrupt the ſenſe thereof, as falſe Teachers do, Jer. 23. 30. called therefore theeves, Joh. 10. 1, 8. becauſe cunningly they ſeduce and draw away the mindes of men from the truth.

To ſteal] To convey himſe'f away without the knowledge and conſent of Laban, Gen. 31. 20.

Steadfaſt] ſignifieth to be upright and conſtant, Pſ. 78. 8, 37. 1 Cor. 7. 37. & 15. 58.

2. Perpetuall and ſure, Dan. 6. 26. Heb. 2. 2. & 6. 19. Strengthened, Ruth 1. 18. marg.

Steadfaſtly] Conſtantly, 1 Pet. 5. 9.

2. Firmly, Ruth 1. 18. Earneſtly, attentively, 2 King. 8. 11. Luk. 9. 51. Act. 1. 10.

Steel] (or braſſe) which is obſerved to be ſtronger then iron, Jer. 15. 12. Of which their bows were made then, as the heads of our Croſſe-bows are now. Annot. on Job 20. 24.

Steep place [A downright pitch or fall, Mic. 1. 4. Matth. 8. 32. Mar. 5. 13. Luk. 8. 33.

Steep places] Ezek. 38. 20. or Towers, or Stairs. All means whereby a man may think to ſave himſelf ſhall fail. Annot.

Stem of Jeſſe] The royall Family of David Son of Jeſſe: now deprived of Kingly power and authority, and brought to poverty, as in Joſeph and Mary, both of this Family, and both needy perſons, appeareth. Iſa. 11. 1. A rod of the Stem of Jeſſe. Mar. 6. 3, 4. Luk. 2. 24. In this 1. verſe of Iſa. 11. the nativity and Perſon of Chriſt, in 2. & 3. his manifold graces; in the other three verſes his office and Kingly adminiſtration be deſcribed.

Step] There is but one ſtep between me and death, 1 Sam. 20. 3. that is, I am in extreme and imminent danger of death; like a man that is upon the brink of a gulf, and within one ſtep of falling in. Annot.

If my ſtep hath turned out of the way, Job 31. 7. that is, If at any time I have gone out of the juſt way of treading to get gain unrighteouſly. Annot.

This word is applyed, 1. To God, being put for his precepts, Job 23. 11. Pſ. 85. 13.

2. To Chriſt, for his holy imitable actions, 1 Pet. 2. 21.

3. To Men, for the courſes they take, Job 31. 4. Prov. 4. 12. Their goings, or journeyings, Pſ. 17. 11. Their good purpoſes and endevours, Pſ. 37. 31. Their affections, Pſal. 73. 2. Their deviſes and practiſes, Prov. 5. 5. Their life and converſation, Pſal. 37. 23. & 56. 6. Their actions and doings, Job 18. 7. & 31. 37. Rom. 4. 12. 2 Cor. 12. 18. Their ſtraitneſſes or difficulties, Pſal. 18. 36.

Stephanas] A crown. One whoſe houſhold Paul baptized, 1 Cor. 1. 16. & 16. 15.

Stern] The hindeck, tail, or caſtle of a ſhip, Act. 27. 29.

Stephen] as Stephanas. A Deacon full of faith and the holy Ghoſt, Act. 6. 5, 8. & 7. 1.

Steward] An Officer in a great family, put in truſt with diſpenſing and laying out of his Maſters goods. Luk. 16. 1. A certain man had a ſteward, &c.

2. Every Chriſtian which hath received a calling and gifts from God, but eſpecially the Miniſters of the Goſpel, truſted with the Myſteries of Chriſt to diſpoſe and diſpenſe them to the people. Luk. 16. 2. For thou mayſt be no longer Steward, & 12. 42. Who is a faithfull Steward, and wiſe?

Stick] is taken for the enemies of God, Iſa. 18. 5.

Stiffe-necked] Obſtinate, inflexible, that will not yeeld.

It is ſpoken of the wicked, Exod. 32. 9. Jer. 17. 23. Exod. 33. 3, 5. A Metaphor from wilde and untamed bullocks, not acquainted with the yoke.

It ſignifieth, Proud, Pſal. 75. 5.

Still] Quiet, Exod. 15. 16.

It is put for continually, Job 24. 10. Job 2. 3, 9. & 3. 13.

2. For idle and ſlothfull, Judg. 18. 9. 1 King. 22. 3.

3. Patient, Pſal. 4. 4. & 46. 10. To make quiet by judgements, Pſal. 8. 2. Silent from talking, 1 King. 22. 3. marg.

Sting] Improperly it is taken for, Hurtful and dangerous, Prov. 23. 32.

2. For

2. For ſin, 1 Cor. 15. 55, 56.
3. False doctrine, Rev. 9. 10.

To ſtir] put for, To trouble, Pſal. 39. 2. marg.

To ſtir up] To foſter and keep burning the fire of Gods grace, which Satan and the fleſh goe about to put out and quench. 2 Tim. 1. 6. That thou ſtir up the gift of God which is in thee. Hag. 1. 14. A Metaphor from a ſparkle hid in the aſhes, and by gentle blaſts quickned.

2. To bring one into the world, advance him to authority, and to harden him in his ſin, as a puniſhment of his former luſts. Rom. 9. 17. For this ſame purpoſe have I ſtirred thee up.

Stock] is put for kindred, Lev. 25. 47.

2. For an Idol, Iſa. 44. 19. Jer. 2. 27. Linage, Act. 13. 26. Phil. 3. 5. and for the eſtate of men, Iſa. 40. 24.

Stocks] An uſuall kinde of puniſhment for men to be put in the Stocks, either to ſhame them for ſome evill done, or to keep them ſafe for greater puniſhment, Prov. 7. 22. But this hath been inflicted on the innocent, Jer. 20. 2.

Thou putteſt my feet in the Stocks, Job 13. 27. that is, Thou keepeſt me in on every ſide with pain, as a Priſoner in the Stocks, and art reſolved to keep me ſo till thou haſt made an end of me. Annot.

Stoicks] A ſort of Philoſophers, who diſpute againſt Paul, and deny the Reſurrection, Act. 17. 18.

Stomach] 1 Tim. 5. 23. The ventricle, which is the receptacle of the meat we eat, and where it is firſt digeſted; or, the pipe whereby the meat goeth down into the ventricle, beginning at the roots of the tongue, in the lower part of the jaws behinde larinx, to which is knit the Meat-pipe.

Stomacher] Iſa. 3. 24. Some would have it a filken Swathing band, ſuch as they uſed to wear about their breaſts; others, a fine upper garment, of fine linnen or ſilk. Some, a girdle made of twiſt-ſilk or thread, becauſe it hath all the letters of a word that ſignifieth twiſt, Exod. 28. 28. and a cord, or line, Ezek. 40. 3. and ſome kinde of wearing cloth made of ſuch; but rendred a bracelet, Gen. 38. 18. Annot.

Stone] A creature ſo called, being ſtrong, hard, and ſtiffe, whereof there be many kindes.

2. Hardneſſe of heart, or a ſtiffe and unyeelding heart. Ezek. 36. 26. I will take from you your hearts of ſtone.

3. Chriſt, which is likened to a Stone, becauſe he bears up the whole building of the Church, and joyns together Jews and Gentiles, as two wals in one, Gen. 49. 24. Iſa. 28. 16. Hence he is called the Head-ſtone, or the Corner-ſtone, Mat. 21. 42. And becauſe this ſtone is not ſet up by Man, but ſent by God, therefore he is ſaid to be a Stone cut out of the Mountains without hands, Dan. 2. 45. And becauſe unbeleevers refuſe to be laid upon this Stone, and ſo periſh; therefore it is called a A ſtone of offence, Iſa. 8. 14, 15. 1 Pet. 2. 8. A ſtone to ſtumble at, and a rock of offence. Moreover, becauſe he is of exceeding great value and excellency, thence he is called an elect and precious Stone. 1 Pet. 2. 6. Behold, I put in Sion a chief Corner-ſtone, elect and precious. Whereunto add this, that he is tearmed a living Stone, becauſe by his everliving virtue, he preſerves in life of grace all the faithfull, till he bring them to the life of glory. 1 Pet. 2. 4. To whom we come as to a living Stone. Laſtly, becauſe the moſt perfect providence of God watcheth over the Church, and every faithfull perſon built upon this Stone: therefore it is ſaid, that ſeaven eyes ſhall be upon it. Zech. 3. 9. Upon one Stone ſhall be ſeaven eyes. Zech. 4. 10.

Stone] God is called the Shepherd and Stone of Iſrael, Gen. 49. 24.

Chriſt is ſaid to be a Stone three wayes.

1. A Stone of refuge; for in Chriſt men may reſt againſt all the ſurges and waves of temptations and afflictions in the Sea of this world, Pſal. 18.

2. He is a ſtumbling Stone, Iſa. 8. 14. Rom. 9. 33. 1 Pet. 2. 6. becauſe wicked men take occaſion by the doctrine of Chriſt, to fall into ſin.

3. He is a foundation Stone, upon which the Church is built, this Stone was cut out of the Mountain without hands, Dan. 2. 45. that hard Stone of which the Prophet Zachary ſpeaks, ch. 4. 7, 10.

Choſen ſtone] Chriſt is a choſen Stone, Iſa. 42. 1. & 43. 10. & 49. 2. Mat. 12. 18.

1. In reſpect of Gods decree from all eternity, unto the office of a Mediatour, 1 Pet. 1. 20.

2. In reſpect of his peculiar calling, being ſanctified from the wombe unto his office, Iſa. 49. 1.

3. By his inauguration unto the execution of his office, by Baptiſme, the Holy Ghoſt deſcending upon him, and the voyce from heaven, Mat. 3.

4. By his approbation, for he was mightily declared to be the Son of God, by the glory done to him by God, notwithſtanding the ſcorns and oppoſitions of the world, Iſa. 49. 7.

Stone diſallowed] is ſpoken of Chriſt, whom the greateſt part of the world regarded not. The Gentiles knew him not, and the Jews received him not, though he was admirable in his life, doctrine, and miracles; See John 1. 12. Iſa. 53. & 49. 8. and ſo he is ſtill of the whole world: the Pagans know him not, the Jews renounce him, the Turk receives him but as a Prophet, the Papiſts receive him but in part, and the wicked deny him in their lives.

Stone of Iſrael] God, who was the ſtrength and refuge of Iſraels people. Gen. 49. 24. By the Stone of Iſrael.

To Stone] was a capitall puniſhment among the Jews upon Maleſactors: Thoſe whom they uſed to Stone were, He that lay with his Mother in law, or Daughter in law, Deut. 22. 24. or if a woman bowed down to a beaſt, Lev. 20. 16. So the Blaſphemer, Lev. 24. 14. and Idolater, Deut. 17. 5. So, he who offered his ſeed to Molech, Lev. 20. 2. He that had the ſpirit of Divination, or was a Wizard, Lev. 20. 27. He that profaned the Sabbath, He that curſed his Father and Mother, Lev. 20. 9. So the diſobedient ſon was ſtoned to death, Deut. 21. 21. He that perſwaded or enticed others to Idolatry, Deut. 13. 1. All theſe were ſtoned to death.

Stones] Both wicked men and godly men are called Stones in Scripture.

1. The wicked; by reaſon,

1 Of their inſenſibleneſſe, as the heart of Nabal was like a Stone.

2 Their ſilent amazement, when iniquity ſhall ſtop their mouth; thus they were as ſtill as a Stone, Exod. 15. 16.

3 For their ſinking down under Gods judgements; ſo the Ægyptians ſank into the Sea like a Stone, Exod. 15. 6.

4 If they be within the viſible Church, then the are like the Stones of the houſe that had the Leproſie.

The godly are Stones,

1. To grave upon, having the Law written in their hearts.

2. Becauſe of their ſtrength and unmovableneſſe in all the ſtorms of life.

3. For continuance and durableneſſe.

4. They are Stones for the Lords building:

1 In reſpect of the manner of their calling into the Church, being digged out of the quarry of mankinde; being in themſelves but Stones of darkneſſe.

2 In reſpect of their union with Chriſt and Chriſtians in one body; they are like the Stones of the houſe compact among themſelves, and upon the foundation.

Lively ſtones] All true beleevers which by the doctrine of the Goſpel, are quickned with the life of God, being founded upon Chriſt the Head-ſtone. 1 Pet. 2. 5. As lively Stones are made a ſpirituall Houſe.

White Stones] A Stone of this colour, given in old time to witneſſe the acquitting or abſolution of one from ſome crime unjuſtly laid to him.

2. Abſolution of ſinners, which do beleeve in Chriſt, from guilt and puniſhment of all their ſins. Rev. 2. 17. I will give him a white Stone.

Stony] is referred to Places, Pſal. 141. 1.

2. To unprofitable ground, Matth. 13. 5. Mar. 4. 5.

3. To the heart, Ezek. 11. 19. for the inſenſibleneſſe and hardneſſe thereof. See Hard.

Stool] A peculiar round ſeat for women in travell, Exod. 1. 16. The Hebrew word is not uſed elſewhere but in Jer. 18. 3. for a wheel or frame which Potters work upon. Aynſworth.

A ſeat whereon to ſit, 2 King. 4. 10.

Stop] To ſtay, 1 King. 18. 44. To cloſe up, 2 King. 3. 19. 2 Chr. 32. 3. To bar up, Pſal. 35. 3. To put to ſilence, Pſal. 107. 42. Job 5. 16. Rom. 3. 19. Tit. 1. 11. To hinder, 2 Cor. 11. 10. Gen. 2. 15, 18. To repair, Neh. 4. 7.

Store] Proviſion, Gen. 41. 36. That which is left, Lev. 25. 22. & 26. 10. Abundance, 1 King. 10. 10. 1 Chr. 29. 16. 2 Chr. 11. 11. Neh. 5. 18.

To ſtore up] To decree, Deut. 32. 34. To encreaſe, Amos 3. 10. To reſerve and lay aſide, 1 Cor. 16. 2. To provide for the time to come, 1 Tim. 6. 19.

Storehouſe] Barn, Deut. 28. 8. Treaſury, Neh. 13. 12. marg.

Stork] Lev. 11. 19. In Hebrew Chaſidah, which ſignifieth kindneſſe, ſuch as the young Storks are ſaid to ſhew unto their Dams, whom they feed in their age; or becauſe it ſheweth kindneſſe unto her fellows in food. The Scripture noteth this bird for her wings and flying, Job 39. 13. marg. Zech. 5. 9. It is a fowle much like a Crane, white, but her wings partly black. She buildeth on high Fir-trees, Pſal. 104. 17. It keepeth much about waters, and feedeth on Fiſhes, Snakes, Frogs, and the like. They depart out of the Countrey towards the end of Summer, no man knoweth whither, and come again at the Spring; whereupon the Prophet ſaith, The Stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times, Jer. 8. 7. No man ſeeth them either going or coming, but when they are come, and that is a ſigne that Winter is paſt. Aynſworth on Lev. 11. 19.

It's ſaid of them, that a certain ſeaſon of the yeer they have a publick meeting, whereunto if any come not in time, they are chaſtiſed, torn in pieces by the reſt. They being deſtroyers of Serpents, the Theſſalians enacted that it ſhould be no leſſe capitall to kill a Stork then to kill a Man. Being wounded, they apply the hearb Cunila (Savory, Marjoram, or Penyroyall) unto the wound, and are cured. The male during the life of the female, coupleth with no other; but if he finde that the female hath been coupled to another, he forſaketh her. Finding that it hath eaten too much, by drinking Sea-water it eaſeth it ſelf. What would be poyſon unto others (Serpents) is wholſome food unto them. It keepeth ſtill to the ſame neſt which it hath formerly built. In their flight, to avoyd confuſion, each is to keep in order to its owne place. In the places where they build, they uſually leave one of their number, (from whom the feathers are pluckt off) as a tribute unto the Owner of the houſe or ground, in token of their thankfulneſſe. It's ſaid of them, that by a leaf of the Plain-tree, which it putteth in its neſt, its young ones are preſerved from the Bat or Owle, whom the ſaid leaves ſtupefie.

Storm] A forcible ſhowre of rain and wind, darkening the clouds, and bearing down things before it, Pſal. 107. 25. Nah. 1. 3. Job 22. 18. & 27. 21.

Straight gate] The way to heaven is ſo called, Mat. 7. 14.

1. Becauſe there is but one way, viz. Jeſus Chriſt, by whoſe merits we muſt be juſtified, that we may be the heirs of eternall life.

2. It is not known to naturall reaſon.

3. Few enter into it, for moſt men follow their ſins, which excludes them out of heaven.

4. It is unpleaſing to the fleſh.

5. It is repugnant to our affections, which muſt be laid aſide.

Straight of times, or troublous times] That for the ſpace of 62. weeks of yeers, (which is 434. yeers) great calamities ſhould come upon, and continually preſſe and vex the Jews in Jeruſalem, which did begin upon the departure or return of Nehemiah to the King of Babylon, Dan. 9. 25. Even in troublous times. Of theſe times fore-ſpake Nehemiah, chap. 13. 6. but Ezekiel more fully in chap. 38. & 39. And by the Books of Ezra, Nehemiah, and Maccabees, it appears to have fallen out as Daniel here propheſied, and elſewhere.

2. Of another Nation, kindred, and Religion, 1 King. 11. 1. Ezr. 10. 2, 11, 17, 44. Neh. 13. 27.

3. For alienation of heart and affection, Job 19. 3.

4. Loathſome, Ibid. 17.

5. Great and wonderfull, Job 31. 3.

6. Improper, not naturall nor delightſome, Iſa. 28. 21.

7. Unknown, Ezek. 3. 6.

8. Falſe, Heb. 13. 9.

Stranger] One that is not a Jew, but of ſome other Nation. Matt. 27. 7. To bury ſtrangers in. Iſa. 14. 1. It ſignifies elect Gentiles.

2. One that comes to us from another Countrey, though he be a Jew. Heb. 13. 2. Be not forgetfull to entertain Strangers.

3. A woman that is not a mans own wife. Prov. 5. 20. Why ſhouldeſt thou imbrace the boſome of a ſtranger?

4. One that uſeth this world as if he uſed it not, ſetting his minde upon his Countrey, which is above. 1 Pet. 2. 11. I beſeech you as Pilgrims and Strangers. Heb. 11. 13. Confeſſed they were Strangers and Pilgrims upon earth.

5. Uncircumciſed Gentiles, who had nothing to do with the Covenant of Salvation by Chriſt. Eph. 2. 12. And were Strangers from the Covenant of Promiſe.

6. One which is not of the Kings ſtock and family, Mat. 17. 25, 26.

7. One which loſeth his dignity and liberty, paſſing into the power of another, Obad. v. 12.

8. Every infidel and profane perſon, Joh. 3. 17. Rev. 21. 27.

9. A wicked perſon, who having a good profeſſion like ours, and otherwiſe neer us, yet is of ſtrange ill manners, and uſeth us as if he were a ſtranger or enemy. So the Ziphims (being Iſraelites) were to David, Pſal. 54. 3. A ſtranger to humanity.

10. A ſinfull luſt, 2 Sam. 13. 4. A ſtranger to reaſon and to chaſtity.

Stranger] There were two ſorts of Strangers among the Jews.

1. Advena juſtitiæ.

2. Advena portæ.

Advena juſtitiæ, was a Proſelyte, one converted to the truth, and he was either an inhabitant, who was converted, and had lived long among them; the LXX. tranſlate him παροικον, a pariſhioner: or he that was newly converted; the LXX. tranſlate him προσηλυτον, a Proſelyte; ſuch Proſelytes were Arauna the Jebuſite, Uriah the Hittite, and ſuch others. David maketh mention of theſe Strangers, Pſal. 135. 19, 20. Bleſſe the Lord, O houſe of Iſrael. Bleſſe the Lord, O houſe of Aaron; Bleſſe the Lord, ye that fear the Lord; i. e. All Strangers converted, and Proſelytes, who were joyned to the houſe of Iſrael and Aaron. Iſa. 65. 3. Let not the Stranger ſay, The Lord hath ſeparated me. Theſe might eat the Paſſeover with the Iſraelites, Exod. 13. 48.

The other ſort were Advena portæ, ſuch as dwelt among them occaſionally, but were not converted, they were bound to reſt from their labours upon the Sabbath, that they ſhould not give offence to the people of God; ſuch were that mixed multitude that came out of Ægypt, Exod. 12. 38. Num. 11. 4. Weems.

A man may be ſaid to be a Stranger in five reſpects.

1. Of his abſence from his friends and native ſoyl: So Abraham was a Stranger in Canaan.

2. In reſpect of the want of the favour and grace of God: So wicked men are Strangers from the Covenant of Promiſe, the Commonwealth of Iſrael, and life of God, Epheſ. 2. 12. & 4. 17.

3. In reſpect of the contempt of the world: So the wicked account Gods children Strangers, Pſal. 69. 8.

4. Some make themſelves Strangers by a wilfull retyring, and diſcontentment for croſſes that befall them, 1 Pet. 4. 12.

5. In reſpect of abſence from heavenly Canaan, and the troubleſome condition of this world; in which reſpect the elect are Strangers. Byfield Pet. p. 3, 4.

A Stranger and Sojournor] One that was born in another Countrey, and hath no poſſeſſion of his owne in that ſtrange place where he dwelleth. This is the proper ſignification, Gen. 23. 4. Heb. 11. 13.

Children of Strangers] Either children which are begotten in marriage with Infidels, or (which is better) the rites, cuſtomes, inventions and manners of Strangers, which are called Children by ſimilitude. Iſa. 2. 6. They reſt in the children of Strangers.

Strangle] To kill, Nah. 2. 12.

It is put for any kinde of death, Job 7. 15.

It was a capitall puniſhment among the Jews, who uſed to ſtrangle,

1. Such as ſtole a man in Iſrael, Deut. 24. 7.

2. Any old man who hearkened not to the voyce of the Synedrion.

3. A falſe Prophet, and he that lay with another mans Wife.

4. He who defiled the Prieſts Daughter.

The Jews ſay, whereſoever this puniſhment is ſet down, Let his blood be upon his own head, it is to be underſtood of Stoning; but where the phraſe is found, Let him die the death, and the puniſhment not ſet down in particular, then it is to be underſtood of Strangling: But it holdeth not, for it is ſaid, Exod. 21. 12. He that ſmiteth a man, that he die, ſhall ſurely be put to death: So it is ſaid, The Adulterer ſhall die the death, yet he was not Strangled, but Stoned, Eze. 16. 40. Joh. 8. 45.

The Romans changed this Strangling into Crucifying. Weems Judic. Law. p. 152.

Straw] was uſed, 1. For brick, Exod. 5. 7, 10, 13.

2. For fodder, Iſa. 65. 25. 1 King. 4. 28.

It is put, 1. For a thing of no ſtrength, Iſa. 41. 27.

2. For a thing contemptible, Iſa. 25. 10.

Stream] is put, 1. For the wrath of God, Iſa. 30. 28.

2. Powerfull Armies deſtroying all before them, Jer. 47. 2.

3. For hoſtile violence, 2 Sam. 22. 5. Pſ. 18. 5. & 124. 4.

4. For the glory of the Church, Iſa. 66. 12.

5. For the defence and protection of the Lord, Iſa. 33. 21.

6. For the flouriſhing of the Church, Iſa. 35. 6.

Street] is put, 1. For the houſe floore, 2 Chr. 29. 4. Ezr. 10. 9.

2. For the high-way without the Town, Zech. 10. 5. & Mat. 22. & Luk. 10. 10.

3. For the way within the Town, Gen. 19. 2. Prov. 7. 12. Eſt. 4. 6. & 6. 9.

4. For a Town, Dan. 9. 25. Luk. 13. 26.

Strength] Strong praiſe, Pſal. 8. 2. & 29. 1. & 86. 7. & 118. 14.

2. Kingdome, Pſal. 20. 6. Alſo the Ark of God, Pſal. 78. 61.

3. Naturall and vitall juyce, which makes things ſtrong, Geneſ. 9. 12. Pſal. 22. 16. & 33. 76. Joſh. 14. 15. Gen. 4. 3.

Strength] is applyed to God, Exod. 15. 13. 1 Chr. 16. 28. Pſal. 21. 10, 14. & 29. 1.

2. To Chriſt, Pſal. 99. 4 Epheſ. 6. 10. 2 Theſſ. 1. 9. Rev. 1. 6. He is the ſtronger one that caſts out Satan.

3. To Angels, Pſal. 103. 20. & 78. 25. 2 Pet. 2. 11.

4. To Men; and then it is put,

1 For his naturall ſtrength, Judg. 16. v. 5, 19.

2 Spirituall ſtrength, Col. 1. 11. This ſtrength hath two offices: one to undergoe, and withſtand evil, 1 Pet. 5. 9. The other is, to doe that which belongs to a man to doe, Deut. 6. 5. Both the one and the other cometh from God, Phil. 4. 13. Col. 1. 11. who is therefore called the ſtrength of his people, Exod. 15. 2.

5. It is referred to a virtuous woman, Prov. 31. 17, 26.

It is put for, Great praiſe, Pſal. 8. 2. for, A powerful Army, Judg. 5. 21. for, The naturall virtue of a thing, 1 King. 18. 8. for, Vigour, and flouriſhing, Job 21. 23. for, The Ark of God, Pſal. 78. 61. & 132. 8. Becauſe it was a ſigne of the preſence of God, and out of it, as it were out of his Seat, he wrought powerfully againſt his enemies, for God himſelf, who is called our ſtrength, and the ſtrength of Iſrael, 1 Sam. 15. 29.

Strengthen] is put, 1. for, To comfort, Job 16. 5. & 4. 3.

2. To encourage, Deut. 3. 28.

3. To fortifie, 1 King. 20. 22.

4. To confirm and ſettle, 1 Chron. 1. 1. & 12. 1. To enable, Nehem. 6. 9. To make bold, in evill part, Pſal. 52. 7. To repair, or recover, Rev. 3. 2.

Stretch] is put, 1. for, To boaſt, 2 Cor. 10. 14.

2. To be ſecure, Amos 6. 4.

3. To open, and lay out, Rom. 10. 21.

4. To be proud, Iſa. 3. 16.

The various ſignifications may eaſily be found by the words that are joyned with it.

Strife] Contention is lawfull againſt an enemy in a juſt War, and an adverſary in a juſt cauſe at the Bar.

It is unlawfull, in reſpect of the matter, when men ſtrive for things they ought not to ſtrive for; as the Diſciples, for primacy, Luk. 22. or in trifling matters, without forgiving, forbearing, or ſuffering, 1 Cor. 6. 7. In reſpect of the manner, when men wilfully defend their own private cauſes, without any regard of right or wrong; ſo that often they oppugne truth, or juſtice, or both.

Strike] is put, 1. for, To ſprinkle, Exod. 12. 7, 22.

2. To cut off, and kill, Deut. 21. 44.

3. To lay on the hand ſoftly, 2 King. 5. 11.

4. To pierce through, Job 20. 24. Prov. 7. 23.

5. To beat, Mar. 14. 65.

6. To be ſurety, Job 17. 3. Prov. 22. 26. & 6. 1. To puniſh, Iſa. 1. 5. Jer. 5. 3.

7. To afflict, & make miſerable, Iſa. 53. 4, 8.

String] Applyed to Arrows, Pſal. 11. 2. & 21. 12. the Tongue, Mar. 7. 35. Muſicall inſtruments, Pſal. 33. 2. & 92. 3. & 144. 9. Iſa. 38. 10. Hab. 3. 19.

Strip] is referred, 1. To God, and it ſignifieth His judgements, Hoſ. 2. 3.

2. To Men; which is done, either by himſelfe, voluntarily, Iſa. 32. 11. Exod. 33. 6.

Or ſecondly, by others; which is done by command, Numb. 20. 26. and by force, Luk. 10. 30. Mat. 27. 28.

It is put for, The overthrows of a people, Ezek. 16. 39. & 23. 26. and for, The humbling and abaſing of a man, Job 19. 9.

Stripes, referred to God] is taken for, His Fatherly corrections, 2 Sam. 7. 14. Pſ. 89. 32. and, The puniſhments of the wicked, Luk. 12. 47, 48.

2. It is referred to Chriſt paſſively, and it ſignifieth, His ſufferings for our ſins, Iſa. 53. 5. 1 Pet. 2. 24.

3. It is referred to Man, paſſively,

1 For wounds, Act. 16. 33. and,

2 For afflictions, 2 Cor. 6. 5. & 11. 23.

Strive] is taken, 1. In a good ſenſe, when we ſtrive for good; in a good manner, againſt evill for good.

When 1. we ſtrive to enter in at the ſtrait-gate, Mat. 7. 13, 14. Luk. 13. 24.

2. To preach the Goſpel, Rom. 15. 20.

3. By prayer with God, Rom. 15. 30.

4. For the Faith, Phil. 1. 27. Jude v. 2.

For the manner, it is good when we ſtrive according to the work of God in us.

The thing againſt which we are to ſtrive, is Sin, Heb. 12. 4.

2. In an evill part; as, when we ſtrive,

1 Againſt God, Iſa. 45. 9. Jer. 50. 24.

2 Againſt his Miniſters, Hoſ. 4. 4.

3 Againſt the godly man, Pſal. 35. 1.

4 Againſt the Church, Iſa. 41. 11.

5 About unprofitable things, Tit. 3. 9. 2 Tim. 2. 14.

We read of four ſingular Strivings, between God and the Devil.

1. About Job; which he did,

1 That he might get glory to Job.

2 That by his example the Church might learn patience, Jam. 5. 11.

The 2. was betwixt Michael the Archangel, and the Devil, about the Body of Moſes, Jude v. 9. Here the Lord fruſtrates the Devill of his end, which was, to have Moſes body worſhipped, and preſerveth his body, burying it himſelf, where the Devill knew not.

The 3. was about Joſhua the High-prieſt, Zech. 3. 1, 2. where the Lord defends Joſhua, puts new apparell upon him, and ſetteth a crown of gold upon his head, but rebukes Satan.

The 4. is about Peter's faith, Luk. 22. 31. Wherein although the Devill gave his faith a ſhrewd blow, and made him deny his Maſter thrice, yet Chriſt ſaved him by his interceſſion: By all theſe we ſee the truth of that of the Apoſtle, 1 Cor. 10. 13.

Stroke] Hand, Job 23. 2. marg.

Strong] Powerfull, Exod. 6. 1. Joſh. 23. 9. A lyon, Judg. 14. 14. Great, 2 Sam. 15. 12. Grievous, Job 33. 19. Firm, and ſure, Pſal. 30. 7. & 31. 2. Vehement, Cant. 8. 6. Courage, Ezek. 3. 8. Haggai 2. 4. 1 Cor. 16. 13. Great, Heb. 6. 18. Loud, Rev. 18. 2.

Struggled together] Bruiſed one another by ſtruggling, Gen. 25. 22. This did preſage the contrariety that ſhould be between Eſau and Jacob; alſo, between the children of this world, and of God.

Stubble] is a thing, 1. Of no worth, Job 13. 25.

2. Of no ſtrength, Job 41. 19.

3. Eaſily ſcattered with the wind, Job 21. 18. Pſal. 83. 13.

4. Quickly burnt, Joel 2. 5.

In all which reſpects the wicked are compared to it, Pſal. 83. 14. Iſa. 40. 24. Mal. 4. 1. Nah. 1. 10.

It is put for falſe Doctrine, that cannot endure the tryal of the fire of Gods Word, 1 Cor. 3. 12.

Stubborn] Perverſe, revolting, refractary, that turneth away from God, and his Law; and it implyeth the affection of the heart, as Jer. 5. 23. and the carriage and action as an untamed Heifer, Hoſ. 4. 16. Neh. 9. 29. And ſo the Apoſtle tranſlateth it into Greek by two words, diſobadiem (or unperſwaded) and gainſaying, Rom. 10. 21. from Iſa. 65. 2. Ayſworth on Deut. 21. 18.

Stubbornneſſe] is either, 1. Againſt God, by ſins committed with a high hand, and out of preſumption, Pſal. 19. 14. and unbeleef, Rom. 11. 30, 32.

Or, 2. Againſt Man, which is condemned, Prov. 21. 24. and this is both againſt Parents, which was puniſhed with death among the Jews, Deut. 21. 18, 20. and againſt the Magiſtrate, which was puniſhed, Judg. 21. 5, 8.

Study] is put, 1. for, To meditate and think upon, Prov. 15. 28.

2. To plot and conſpire, Prov. 24. 2.

3. To

3. To labour, and ſtrive, 1 Theſſ. 4. 11. 2 Tim. 2. 15.

4. To read, Eccl. 12. 12. marg.

Stuffe] Houſhold goods, Gen. 31. 37.

2. Corn, 1 Sam. 10. 22.

To ſtumble] Properly, To trip, as men do uſually in the night, to the danger of falling, Joh. 11. 10.

Figuratively, To ſin of ignorance and infirmity, as the Saints doe, Jam. 3. 2.

Stumble] is put alſo, 1. for, To erre, Iſa. 59. 10.

2. To fall into calamity and danger, Iſa. 8. 15. Jer. 6. 21. 1 Pet. 2. 8.

Hence Not to offend the foot againſt a ſtone, is, To be preſerved from calamity and danger.

Stumbling-block] 1. A natural or artificial impediment in ones way.

2. Any ſin, inward or outward, as that which hindreth our confidence in our prayer to God, and his mercy towards us, Ezek. 14. 32. Alſo hindreth the power of Gods Word, and mans converſion.

Stump] 1 Sa. 5. 4. Only the ſtump of Dagon was left; that is, the fiſhy part was chiefly left, from the middle downward; for, though ſome other parts remained, as the arms, ſhoulders, and breaſt, yet they were diſmembred from the head and hands, and battered and broken with the fall. Annot.

It's ſpoken of a Tree, Dan. 4. 15. and applyed unto Nebuchadnezzar, Ibid. 26. when God dealeth heavily with great ſinners, yet there is ſome mercy, he leaveth a ſtump in the ground. Annot. on. Dan. 4. 15.

S U.

Suah] Rooting up, or treading under foot. 1 Chr. 7. 36. The Son of Zophah.

Subdue] is put for, To rule over, Gen. 1. 28.

2. To vanquiſh and overcome, Dan. 7. 24.

3. To be brought under the obedience of God, Phil. 3. 21. and under the feet of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 15. 28.

4. To take away the ſtrength of ſin, Mic. 7. 19.

5. To trample under foot the wicked and Satan, Rom. 16. 20. Mal. 4. 3.

Subject] is ſpoken of all Creatures, as they are ſubject unto God, or unto themſelves.

In reſpect of God, they are either unwillingly ſubject, as the Devils, and wicked men, Luk. 10. 17, 20. Heb. 2. 8. or willingly, as the godly.

The ſubjection of the Creatures unto one another, is either good, and lawfull; or evill, and unlawfull.

Of the firſt ſort is, The ſubjection of Children unto their Parents, Luk. 2. 51. The Subject unto the Higher power, Rom. 13. 1. 5. Wives unto their Husbands, Eph. 5. 24. Servants unto their Maſters, 1 Pet. 2. 18. or, one mutually unto another, 1 Pet. 5. 5.

Of the other ſort is, The ſubjection unto Ordinances, Col. 2. 20. to Bondage, Heb. 2. 15. and, to Sin, and Satan.

Subjection, or Submiſſion] The placing and ſetting one thing under another in a due order, as the water under the earth, and earth under the air, the air under the firmament, and this under the third heaven, Children under Fathers, Servants under Maſters, Subjects under Princes, &c.

2. That obedience that all creatures yeeld unto their Soveraigne Chriſt, either voluntarily or unvoluntarily. Epheſ. 1. 22. He hath made all things ſubject under his feet. Phil. 2. 10. That in the name of Jeſus every knee ſhall bow.

3. Reverence and obedience towards God. Heb. 12. 9. Be in ſubjection to the Father of ſpirits.

4. The willing obedience yeelded in word or deed, by doing and ſuffering, from inferiours towards their ſuperiours, Rom. 23. 1. Epheſ. 22. Wives ſubmit your ſelves to your Husbands.

5. Inordinate and prepoſterous yeelding unto the wicked deſires of others, or to the bondage of ſuch things, as ought not to rule over our conſciences. Gal. 2. 5. To whom we gave no place by ſubjection. 1 Cor. 6. 12. I will not be brought under the power of any thing.

To ſubmit] To yeeld obedience to all lawfull Governors, with a willing acknowledgement of their juſt authority over us. Col. 3. 18. Wives ſubmit your ſelves to your Husbands.

To ſerve one another through love for Gods ſake. Eph. 5. 21. Submitting your ſelves one to another in the fear of God.

Suborn] Act. 6. 11. Then they ſuborned men, &c. that is, They inſtructed falſe witneſſes what they ſhould ſay againſt Steven. Annot.

Subſcribe] To teſtifie and confirm by writing the name unto a deed or inſtrument, Jer. 32. 10, 12, 44.

It is put for, To give up ones ſelf unto Chriſt, Iſa. 44. 5.

Subſtance] is taken, 1. For a living creature, Gen. 7. 23.

2. For

2. For riches, Geneſ. 13. 6. & 15. 14. 2 Chr. 32. 29. Job 1. 3. Pſal. 17. 24.

3. For man himſelf, Pſal. 139. 15.

4. For grace, Prov. 8. 21. Heb. 10. 34.

5. For faith, Heb. 11. 1.

6. For naturall ſtrength, and vigour, Iſa. 6. 13.

Subtill] Gen. 3. 1. that is, prudent and crafty. Prudent (or wiſe) to ſave and help it ſelf; whereupon it is ſaid, Be wiſe as Serpents, Mat. 10. 16. Crafty, to deceive others; as Paul ſaith, The Serpent by his craftineſſe beguiled Eve, 2 Cor. 11. 3. by which two words the Scriptures do expreſſe the Hebrew here uſed, which often is taken in the good part oppoſed to ſimplicity and folly, Prov. 1. 4. & 8. 5. & 14. 15, 18. & 22. 3.

Subtilty] A ſingular wit, or natural policy, wherewith Serpents were indued at their creation. Gen. 3. 1. And the Serpent was more ſubtle then any beaſt of the field; that is, more provident and wiſe: for Subtilty here is taken in good part, becauſe the Serpent was thus made of God, and God made every thing good, but Satan abuſed this good quality to a bad end.

2. Craft and wicked wylineſſe, whereby men are made fit to deceive others. Act. 13. 10. O full of all ſubtilty and miſchief. Here the word [Subtilty] is taken in ill part, for guile and deceit.

As it ſeemeth alſo to be uſed for guile, Gen. 27. 35. where the indirect means which Jacob uſed are blamed, for none ſhould doe evill that good may come.

Subvert] To ſeduce aud draw away from the truth, Tit. 1. 11. Act. 15. 24. To be obſtinately bent againſt the truth, Tit 3. 11.

Subverted] One quite overturned in his judgement, as an houſe, whoſe foundation is turned upward, hardly to be built again: ſo an Hereticks caſe is very deſperate, as being damned of himſelfe, oppugning and withſtanding the truth againſt the light of his owne conſcience, being bent to his errour obſtinately, to maintain it, and wilfully to ſtand in it: wherefore, worthy after admonition and publique conviction to be rejected; and by excommunication cut off by the cenſure of the Church. Tit. 3. 10, 11. He that is ſuch, is ſubverted, being condemned of himſelf.

Suburbs] The buildings and ſtreets without and adjoyning unto the walls of a City. They were three thouſand cubits every way from the wall of the City and outward. Aynſworth on Lev. 25. 34. The firſt thouſand are the Suburb, and the two thouſand which they meaſured without the Suburbs, were for fields and vineyards: Idem on Numb. 35. 4.

Succeed] To come into the place of another, Deut. 2. 12, 21. & 25. 6. & 12. 29. & 19. 1. Inherit, Deut. 2. 12. Poſſeſſe, Ib. 12. 29. marg.

Note, that Succeſſion is 1. Naturall, by propagation from Father to Son, generation to generation. The Church dependeth not upon ſuch a Succeſſion, it being the prerogative of the obſtinate Jews, that they are the Succeſſors of the Patriarchs and Prohhets, in reſpect of carnall generation, yet they are not the true Church.

2. Politicall, in reſpect of place and authority, one ſucceeding another in order, and without interruption; the Church is not tyed to this Succeſſion.

3. There is a Succeſſion of Truth and Piety, which is requiſite for the Church; to have the ſame minde and opinion, is to have the ſame Seat; not to have the ſame opinion, is to be contrary in reſpect of the Seat; the Succeſſion of the Seat hath but the name of Succeſſion, the Succeſſion of Opinion hath the truth of it; ſaid Nazianzen. Cameron. prejudices of the Church, c. 25.

Succoth] Tabernacles or Tents. A City Gen. 33. 17. Gen. 12. 37. Judg. 8. 6. Pſal. 60. 6.

Succoth-benoth] The Tabernacles or anoyntings of Daughters. An Idol, 2 King. 17. 30.

Succour] To help and relieve, 2 Sam. 18. 3. & 21. 17. Rom. 16. 2.

It is put for ſpirituall comfort, 2 Cor. 6. 2. Heb. 2. 18.

Such] A word of likeneſſe and equality. The ſeverall acceptations of it are eaſily known by the words that it is joyned with.

Suchathites] A family of the Scribes, 1 Chr. 2. 55.

Suck] is taken for, To abound with all bleſſing ſpirituall and temporall, Deut. 32. 13, 14. As, defence and protection, Iſa. 60. 16. and to be partaker of comfort in every eſtate, Iſa. 66. 12. and of riches and wealth, Deut. 33. 19.

2. To be in great calamity and affliction, by reaſon of the judgements of God, Ezek. 23. 34. Pſal. 75. 9. Iſa. 51. 17. Job 20. 16. Ezek. 33. 34.

Suddenly] is put for, Preſently, by and by, Job 5. 3. Jer. 4. 20. Mal. 3. 1.

2. for, Unexpectedly, Act. 2. 2. & 9. 3. & 16. 26. & 22. 6. Thus ſhall Chriſt come at the day, Mar. 13. 36. and deſtruction upon the wicked, 1 Theſſ. 5. 1, 2, 3.

3. for, Quickly and diligently, 2 Chron. 29.36. In a moment, Jer. 4.20. marg.

To ſuffer] To give leave to do a thing, or not to hinder when one may. Luk. 9.59. Suffer me firſt to goe bury my Father. 1 Cor. 10. 13. Pſal. 105. 14.

2. To endure paine with patience. 2 Tim. 2,3. Suffer affliction as a good Souldier, &c.

To ſuffer with Chriſt] Either to be a companion with Chriſt in ſuffering, or to endure patiently painfull things for his ſake. Rom. 8. 18. If ſo be ye ſuffer with me.

To ſuffer in the fleſh] To die a painful death, according to his humane nature. 1 Pet. 4. 1. For as much as Chriſt hath ſuffered in the fleſh.

2. To mortifie our ſinfull corruption, which is ſo painful a thing, as may well be called a ſuffering. 1 Pet. 4. 1. He that hath ſuffered in the fleſh, hath ceaſed from ſin. By degrees we ought to crucifie our corrupt nature, till it be utterly aboliſhed.

To ſuffer for the Kingdome of God] Not to think to demerit heavenly felicity by ſuffering affliction, but to endure under hope to enjoy it at the length, becauſe affliction is the way unto the Kingdome, 2 Theſſ. 1. 5.

Not to ſuffer] To forbid or interdict, 1 Tim. 2. 12.

To ſuffer violence] To preſſe upon the heavenly treaſure with earneſt and zealous affection, ſtirred up by the preaching of the Goſpel, which both offereth this Celeſtiall treaſure, and forcibly through the Spirit, cauſeth the hearts of the elect to receive it by faith. Mat. 11. 12. The Kingdome of heaven ſuffereth violence. See Luk. 16. 16.

Suffered] Endured, as a Nurſe beareth her childe, Act. 13. 18. marg.

Sufferings of Chriſt] All the painfull and reproachfull afflictions which Chriſt felt in his own perſon for our Redemption; or which his members, to wit, the faithfull, do feel for exerciſe and tryall of their faith, patience, and love. Col. 1. 24. Fulfill the reſt of the ſufferings (or) afflictions of Chriſt. 1 Pet. 1. 11. See Paſſion and Affliction.

Suffice] is, 1. To fill the belly, Numb. 11. 22.

2. To be enough, Deut. 3. 26. 1 Ki. 20. 10.

3. To be contented, Joh. 14. 8.

4. To be more then enough, 1 Pet. 4. 3. Mar. 10. 25. 2 Cor. 12. 9.

Sufficiency] is put, 1. For plenty, Job 20. 22.

2. Ability, 2 Cor. 3. 5. & 9. 8.

Suit] An order of garment, Judg. 17. 10.

2. A cauſe or controverſie, 2 Sam. 15. 4.

3. A requeſt, Job 11. 19.

Sukkiims] Oynting, or oynted; covered, or ſhadowed. A people of Africa, 2 Chr. 12. 3.

Summe] ſignifieth, 1. A price, Exod. 21. 30.

2. The number, Exod. 30. 12. Numb. 4. 2, 22. & 26. 2.

3. A compend or drawing up to one head, Heb. 8. 1. Eccleſ. 12. 12. Or, it may ſignifie the principall and chief part.

4. A collection. So the ſumme of Gods thoughts are ſo many, that if we ſhould reckon them, our memory ſhould be overwhelmed, Pſal. 139. 17.

Summer] The hotteſt ſeaſon in the yeer. Gen. 8. 22. And Summer and Winter.

2. Opportunity, and fit time to doe things in. Prov. 6. 8. Prepareth her meat in Summer.

Drought in Summer] Extreme dryneſſe. Pſal. 32. 4. My moyſture was conſumed into the drought of Summer.

Sumptuouſly] Luk. 16. 19. Gorgeouſly, ſolemnly, magnifically, in great ſtate.

Sunder] To disjoyn, or make a ſeparation between, Job 41. 17.

Sundry] Sundry times, πολυμερῶς. It ſignifies the degrees and increaſings of Propheticall doctrine, by many pieces, not intirely, Heb. 1. 1.

Sun] That great Light, which giveth light by day, a moſt pure, bright, and glorious creature. Gen. 1. 16. The Sun to rule the day. In Hebrew it cometh of a word which ſignifieth a Miniſter, or Servant, Deut. 4. 19.

2. Chriſt Jeſus, the Sun and Light of the world. John 1. 5. And that Light ſhineth in darkneſſe.

3. The bright and glorious preſence of God. Rev. 21. 23. This City hath no need of the Sun, for the glory of God did light it, or was Sun to it.

4. Worldly proſperity. Job 31. 26. I did not regard the ſhining of the Sun.

5. The inward beauty and purity of the Church of God. Cant. 6. 9. Pure as the Sun.

Sun] Light, Job 31. 26. marg.

It is put for Chriſt, Pſal. 84. 11. Mal. 4. 3. who is fitly compared to it, both in reſpect of the properties within it, and effects without.

The properties within it, are,

1. There is but one Sun, and ſo but one Sun of righteouſneſſe, the onely begotten Son of his Father, Joh. 1. 14.

2. The Sun is not onely Light, but a fountain of light; ſo is Chriſt, light in his his essence, a heavenly Light, the Light of the world, and in him there is no darkneſſe, Rev. 1. 16. 1 John 1. 5.

3. The Sun is a pure creature looking upon all, yet from the filthyeſt contracts no uncleanneſſe; ſo Chriſt is purity it ſelf, before whoſe eyes are all things naked, yet he contracted no ſtain of ſin, by his converſing among ſinners.

4. The Sun is powerfull, by the warmth and heat thereof, reaching all creatures; ſo Chriſt by his Spirit and grace is preſent with his Church and every member thereof unto the end of the world.

5. The Sun is a communicative creature; ſo Chriſt inlighteneth every one that cometh into the world, John 1. 9.

The effects without, are,

1. The Sun driveth away darkneſſe; ſo Chriſt drives away darkneſſe of ignorance, and the night of miſery, with the black and thick miſt of our ſins, and bringeth the light of knowledge, and day of grace.

2. The Sun gives direction by his light, unto all the actions of our Naturall and Civill life; ſo Chriſt by his wiſdome and Spirit directeth his members in all the wayes of ſpirituall and eternall life.

3. The Sun is the moſt comfortable creature in the world, warming and refreſhing all living creatures; ſo is Chriſt the life of the Church, and quickeneth the elect, dead in ſins unto eternall life, he warmeth them with the beams of his love, and comforteth them by his gracious aſpect.

4. The Sun maketh the ſeveral ſeaſons of the yeer; ſo hath Chriſt in his power all times and ſeaſons, as the ſeed time of grace here, and the Harveſt of glory hereafter; he appointeth the Summer of proſperity, and bringeth upon his Church the Winter of affliction, ſo that all the viciſſitudes and changes are appointed and directed by his wiſdome, Dan. 2. 21. Taylor on Rev. p. 33, 34.

Sun and Moon confounded, &c.] That ſuch ſhall be the glory of Chriſt his Kingdome, when the Jews ſhall be called by the Goſpell toward the end of the world, as in compariſon thereof Sun and Moon ſhall loſe their light. Iſa. 24. 23. The Moon ſhall be aſhamed, and the Sun confounded. Or haply by Sun and Moon may be meant the Churches of the Gentiles, who ſhall bluſh to ſee their zeal and piety eclipſed, by a far more excellent ſhining light ſet up amongſt the Jews.

To behold the Sun] To reſt and ſatisfie a mans ſelf in the ſweet pleaſures of this life voyd of care, and without conſideration, either of mortality, (called here the dayes of darkneſſe) or of the worlds vanity, Eccl. 11. 7, 8.

Sun, Moon, Light, not darkened] When he was yet in his young flouriſhing age, and in proſperity, which by the Light is noted often in Scripture, as adverſity and all kinde of miſery is ſignified by darkneſſe, Eccleſ. 12. 2.

Sun not to fall down] Quickly to expell the immoderate affections of anger, ere it be night, Eph. 4. 26.

Supererogation] A work of counſel done by perfect ones, being more then they were bound unto, by any precept of the Law of God. [Popiſh.]

Superſcription] A title written over ones head, ſhewing the cauſe of his death. Luk. 23. 38. This ſuperſcription was written over him.

2. A title engraven in coyn, to ſhew whoſe it is. Matth. 22. 21. Whoſe Image or Superſcription is this?

Superfluity of naughtyneſſe] Abundance of wicked and corrupt affections, Jam. 1. 27.

Superfluous] That which is more then enough, or exceeds the juſt proportion in number, quantity, or quality, Lev. 21. 18. & 22. 23.

It is put for, Needleſſe, to no purpoſe, 2 Cor. 9. 1.

Superſtition] A form of divine worſhip deviſed by men, beſide or beyond the commandement of God, breeding in the followers of it, a ſervile fear. Act. 17. 22. I perceive you are in all things too ſuperſtitious.

2. True Religion, reproached and ſlandered with the name of Superſtition. Act. 25. 19. About ſome words of their ſuperſtition. Thus the Heathen man tearmed the Religion of Moſes.

Superſtition] The Atheiſt is like hard ground, where no corn groweth; the Superſtitious exceeds in his worſhip, and runs as far into the other extremity; Chriſt ſuffered between two Theeves, ſo Truth ſuffers between Atheiſm and Superſtition. The Heathen hold a multitude of Gods, denying the Unity; the Jew holds the Unity, and denyes the Trinity. It exceeds in worſhip, offering more to God then he requires at their hands, Iſa. 1. 12. And as the Lord forbids men to be too juſt, Eccl. 7. 16. So he will not have men exceed this way, and run into Superſtition. It is the Mother of ignorance.

John 4. Ye worship ye know not what. The companion of it is Hypocriſie; and the Daughters of it are Wil-worſhip and Idolatry. It is found more in women then in men, Act. 13. 50. and more in the ignorant then learned. It is like Wine that runs into the head, and maketh giddy; but true Religion is like Wine that runs to the heart, and chears it. It is hardly rooted out, and findes no comfort in Religion, as the religious doe. The Church to the religious is a place of pleaſure, to the ſuperſtitious a place of torment, therefore their Idols are called terriculamenta, and tormina, Jer. 50. 38. Weems degem. Son, p. 17, 18.

To ſup with Chriſt] To communicate in all the ſpirituall delicates of Chriſt (as they which ſup together, partake in bodily food) Rev. 3. 20. He ſhall ſup with me.

Chriſt ſupping with us] His chearing and delighting himſelf with his own graces and gifts of his Spirit, beſtowed upon us (as one that eateth ſweet and pleaſant meat.) Rev. 3. 23. I will come and ſup with him.

Sup up] To conſume, Hab. 1. 9. where the Jews are threatned with the Caldeans, who ſhall ſup up, i. e. conſume their goods, as the Eaſt wind doth the fruits and hearbs of the ground.

Supper] is taken for the preaching of the Goſpel, Luk. 14. 16. which is called a Supper, becauſe it is reſerved after the Law, unto the laſt age of the world. It is called great,

1. Becauſe Chriſt (who prepares it) is is great, even King of Kings, and Lord of Lords.

2. Becauſe of the great cheer prepared in it, even Chriſt himſelf, and his merits, with the graces of the Spirit.

3. Becauſe of the great number that are invited to it, and ſhall be partakers of it, to wit, not onely the 144000 of the 12. Tribes, but innumerable others, of all Tongues, Kindreds, and Languages; for, many ſhall come from the Eaſt and Weſt, and ſit down with Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, in the Kingdome of heaven.

4. Becauſe of the greatneſſe of perſons invited, being all Kings and Prieſts unto God, Rev. 1. 6, 7.

5. Becauſe of the excellency of the end, to wit, the marriage of the elect unto Jeſus Chriſt, in judgement, mercy, and truth for ever, Hoſ. 2. 19.

It is put for the Glory of the Saints in Heaven, Revel. 19. 19. and for the great Wrath of God in the deſtruction of the wicked, Revelation chap. 19. verſ. 17, 18.

Supper of the Lord] The Sacrament of Bread and Wine ordained by the Lord. 1 Cor. 11. 20. This is not to eat the Lords Supper.

This Sacrament is called a Supper, becauſe Chriſt ordained it at his laſt Supper. Secondly, becauſe it is a ſpirituall banquet, or Soul-feaſt. Mat. 26. 26. And as they did eat Jeſus took the bread, &c. It is tearmed (by a part) breaking of bread, Act. 20. 7. & 2. 42.

The Lords Supper had ſundry names given it by old Writers, who called it Synaxis, alſo Love, and Euchariſt, of the end and uſe, which is thankſgiving; alſo a Sacrifice, not propitiatory, (for that is Chriſt onely, dying on the Croſſe) but gratulatory, as a remembrance of Chriſt crucified: alſo Oblation, of the offering of bread and wine, which the Church made toward the celebration: alſo Miſſa, either of things ſent by the rich, for the uſe of the poor; or of ſending away the Catechumeni, or diſmiſſing of the whole Aſſembly: What help is here for ſetting up the Maſſe, from this word Miſſa eſt?

Supplant] To circumvent and decceive, Gen. 27. 36. Jer. 9. 4. A Metaphor taken from Wreſtling, wherein the weakeſt Wreſtler uſeth deceit with his feet, or otherwiſe, to trip up his adverſary.

Supple] Ezek. 16. 4. To ſupple thee; or, when I looked upon thee, marg.

Supplication] A humble entreating.

It is proper to them that are poor and contemptible, Prov. 18. 23.

It is commonly put in Scripture for the humble prayers of the godly, put up to God in behalf of themſelves and others, Epheſ. 6. 18. In reſpect whereof, they are called Gods Suppliants, Zeph. 3. 10.

Supply] To relieve in time of neceſſity, 2 Cor. 8. 12. & 11. 9. & 9. 12.

It is put for, To furniſh with ſpirituall graces, Phil. 4. 19. for, The help and aſſiſtance of the Spirit, turning the ſinfull actions of the wicked unto the good of the godly, Phil. 1. 19.

Sometime it is put for, The preaching of the Goſpel in the abſence of the proper Miniſter, Phil. 2. 30.

Support] To relieve the neceſſities, and be careſull of the Saints, bearing their burthens, and ſupplying their wants, both with temporal and ſpiritual benefits, Act. 20. 35. 1 Theſſ. 5. 14.

Suppoſe] To think, or be of opinion,

2 Sam. 13. 32. To beleeve, Luk. 7. 43. To be perſwaded, Joh. 21. 25. 2 Cor. 11. 5. 1 Pet. 5. 12. To intend a thing, Phil. 1. 16.

Supreme] 1 Pet. 2. 13. The Superiour, chief Magiſtrate, one that hath above the having of other men, in matter of authority and ſupremacy.

Supremacy] That high and ſoveraigne power and authority which Kings and Princes have under and from God immediately, and chief and ſupreme Governours over all perſons, and in all cauſes temporall and eccleſiaſticall, according to the Word of God, as good cuſtomes of ſeverall Countreys where they raign. This doth that man of ſin moſt falſly claim to himſelf, by virtue of ſucceſſion to Peter the Apoſtle, who was ſubject to ſecular power in his life and death.

Sur] A giving back, or rebellion. This was the Eaſt gate, called the gate of the foundation, 2 Chr. 23. 5. The higher gate, 2 King. 15. 35. by reaſon of the fairneſſe and height of it, and the new gate, Jer. 36. 10. after Jotham had new built it, 2 Chr. 27. 3. Annot. on 2 King. 11. 6.

Sure] Certain, firm, and conſtant. 2 Pet. 1. 19. We have a moſt ſure word of the Prophets. verſ. 10. Make your election ſure; that is, firm to your ſelves, Phil. 19. 7.

Note. The Word of God ſure in it ſelf, it is ſurer being confirmed with an oath, therefore will not fail and deceive any which rely upon it, Numb. 29. 19. Amos 8. 7. Heb. 6. 13.

Sure] To be made over and confirmed, Gen. 23. 17, 20.

It is put for, To be confident of, Exod. 3. 19. To be perſwaded, or take for granted, Numb. 32. 23. 1 Sam. 20. 7. 2 Sam. 1. 10. for, Firm and permanent, 1 Sam. 2. 35. & 25. 28. Certain, Job 24. 22. Faithful, everlaſting, Pſal. 19. 7. & 93. 5. & 111. 7.

Surety] One that undertaketh for the debt of another man. Prov. 6. 1. If thou be Surety for thy neighbour.

2. Chriſt, who undertook to anſwer the debt of our ſins to Gods Juſtice, by his obedience to death. Heb. 7. 22. Jeſus is made ſurety.

Surety is expreſſed in Scripture by ſtriking of hands, Prov. 6. 1. Job 17. 3. Raſh ſuretyſhip forbidden, Prov. 6. 4. otherwiſe it is lawfull, being upon good grounds: Thus Reuben was Surety to his Father for Benjamin, and Paul for Oneſimus: So Chriſt is our ſurety, both by ſpeaking for us by his daily interceſſion; unto this David alludes, Pſalm 119. 122. And alſo, by paying all our debts.

It is put for Certainty, or of a truth, Gen. 15. 13. Act. 12. 11.

Surfetting] An overcharging the ſtomach with meat or drink.

It is forbidden, Luk. 21. 34. It makes us forget the coming of Chriſt to judgement, Ibid.

Surmiſings] Suſpicions, ſuppoſitions, falſe concluſions.

It is taken in evill part, 1 Tim. 6. 4. Examples are in 1 Sam. 1. 3. Judg. 15. 2. 1 Sam. 22. 8. 2 Sam. 10. 3. Jerem. 43. 2. Act. 28. 4.

Surname] A name added unto the proper name for diſtinctions ſake: Examples of ſuch are in Act. 10. 5. & 11. 13. & 12. 12, 25. Mar. 3. 16, 17. Luk. 22. 3. Act. 1. 23. & 10. 18. & 15. 22.

Thus it is propheſied of the Gentiles, that they ſhall ſurname themſelves by the name of Iſrael, Iſa. 44. 5. and God himſelfe contented to be called, the God of Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, Heb. 11. 16. and all Chriſtians are called ſo by the name of Chriſt, Jam. 2. 7. 1 Pet. 1. 17.

Surpriſe] To lay hold upon, and poſſeſſe a City or ſtrong hold unawares, Jer. 48. 41. & 51. 41. To be ſuddenly amazed and affrighted, Iſa. 33. 14.

Suſanchites] One of the Nations which the King of Aſſyria placed in the Land of Iſrael, and joyned with the reſt againſt the people of God, Ezr. 4. 9.

Suſanna] A lilly, roſe; or joyfulneſſe. A woman that followed Chriſt, Luk. 8. 3.

Suſi] A horſe, ſwallow, or moth. The Father of Gaddi, Numb. 13. 11.

Suſpicion] It is denyed of Charity, 1 Cor. 13. 5. and forbidden, 1 Tim. 6. 4.

Three things concurre to make up ſuſpicion.

1. That he who ſuſpects be more inclinable to the worſt ſenſe of a thing.

2. That he do it out of a ſelf-love, and hatred of his neighbour, in reſpect whereof there ariſeth joy in the heart, if that which was ſuſpected, be found ſo; which the Apoſtle obſerved, 1 Cor. 13. 6. where he ſaith, that Charity rejoyceth not in unrighteouſneſſe, but rejoyceth in the truth; i. e. if any be found guilty, Charity from hence ſeeks not matter of joy, but of grief rather; and if he that was ſuſpected of wickedneſſe, be found innocent, it rejoyceth.

It is required that he who ſuſpects have no probable ground of his ſuſpicion. It differs from Credulity, in that it is an infirmity of the minde and underſtanding, rather then a ſin in the converſation; for he is ſaid to be credulous, not who incontinent is moſt inclinable to the better part, but he that doth it upon a ſudden, without deliberation: To beleeve all things, is the mean between theſe two. This is ſpoken of Charity affirmatively, 1 Cor. 13. 5, 6. and he is ſaid to beleeve all things, who is moſt inclined to the better part, chiefly, when he hath no ground to the contrary. Cameron. tom. 3. p. 78, 79.

Suſpicion is a fruit of luſt, 1 Tim. 6. 4. and the firſt beginnings of it ought to be ſuppreſſed. The firſt uſe of it was, to procure our ſafety, and preſerve our ſouls; in reſpect whereof, it is better to be ſollicitouſly fearfull, then ſecurely improvident, as Paul ſuſpected the worſt, and yet a truth, Act. 27. 30. and when that which is given us for the help of our ſelves and others, is turned to the hurt of our ſelves and others, this muſt be a great ſin. We muſt avoyd Suſpicion, otherwiſe every thing will cauſe us to make this concluſion that the Barbarians made of Paul, Sure he is a Murtherer. Andrews Com. p. 851.

Suſtain] To provide all manner of maintenance, Gen. 27. 37. 1 King. 17. 9. Neh. 9. 21.

To ſuſtain, or ſuppoꝛt] To bear or hold up a thing, as a prop or ſhore, or keep it from falling, Pſal. 3. 5.

2. To uphold one, either that he take not a fall by ſin and calamity, or that he take no hurt by ſuch fals. Pſal. 3. 4. The Lord ſuſtained me. Pſal. 23. 1, 3.

3. To hold or lift up one that is falling, Act. 20. 35. Luk. 1. 54.

S W.

Swadling-band] is the girdle wherewith the clothes are made faſt about the Infant newly born, Ezek. 16. 4. Luk. 2. 7.

It is put for darkneſſe, Job 38. 9.

Swallow] Is carefull to provide a place wherein to build, and skilfull in building her neſt, Pſal. 84. 3. If it want clay or mud wherewith to build, it wetteth it ſelfe with water, and then rolling in the duſt, maketh mud. It keepeth its neſt clean, and teacheth its young ones ſo to doe. It knoweth its time of coming, which is in the Spring, Jer. 8. 7. It feedeth all its young ones alike, not giving more to one then to another. In the Summer we have its company, but in the Winter it's gone. It's very ſwift, and taketh its food whileſt it flyeth. It's ſubject to diſeaſes in the eyes, whereof it cureth it ſelf by applying Cellenden. In ſtead of ſinging it chattereth, Iſa. 38. 14. It's ſaid to depart from ruinous houſes. It's not harmfull to other birds. There's a certain kinde of Cantharides, which would deſtroy its young ones, but by putting garleck in its neſt among them, they are preſerved. As it's naturall for the Swallow to fly, ſo cauſeleſſe curſing is not to be regarded, Prov. 26. 2.

To ſwallow] To deſtroy, or aboliſh, Pſal. 21. 9. Will ſwallow them in his anger. See Pſal. 35. 25. & 52. 16. & 55. 10. Pſa. 27. 2, & 124. 3.

Note. The Scripture uſeth to note out the Tyger-like cruelty of Church enemies, by this Metaphor of Swallowing up, drawn from the likeneſſe of great Whales, or other great beaſts which ſwallow things at once.

To ſwallow] To help and aſſiſt, Rev. 12. 16. It is put for, To enjoy quietly, Job 20. 18. It is to ſup up, Obad. 1. 6. It ſignifieth alſo, To want words to expreſſe ones grief, Job 6. 3.

Swan] Hereof mention is made, Lev. 11. 18. & Deut. 14. 16. where it's reckoned among the unclean fowles. It's very meek and gentle. It loveth pleaſant places neer rivers. Is not harmfull, is fruitfull in increaſe, and loveth its young ones dearly. It ſeldome or never diveth under the water, as ſome other Water fowles doe. Its chiefeſt ſtrength is in the wings. It feedeth ſometimes on Nettles, to keep under and extinguiſh its luſt. It's an enemy to the Eagle, yet beginneth not the fight, but ſtandeth on its owne defence. At ſometimes one Swan devoureth another. It hath broad feet, whereon it ſtandeth firmly. It preſageth its own death by ſinging, and being aged and neer unto death it ſingeth the more ſweetly. They feed one another. Being weighty in body, it flyeth ſeldome. It's white of colour, but hath a blackiſh fleſh, which is ill of digeſtion.

Swarm] A company of Flies, Exod. 8. 21, 22, 24, 29, 31. Bees, Judg. 14. 8.

Swarve] To rove and erre from the right mark, like unskilfull Shooters, 1 Tim. 1. 6. & 6. 21. 2 Tim. 2. 18.

To ſwear] To uſe the name of God in an Oath, to witneſſe ſome matter in controverſie, for the ending of ſtrife. This may be done either vainly and falſely, or reverently rently and truly. Mat. 5. 34. Swear not at all. Zach. 5. 3. Deut. 10. 20. Eccl. 9. 1.

2. To worſhip and ſerve God, whereof lawfull Swearing is a part. Deut. 6. 13. Thou ſhalt ſwear by my name. Synecdoche.

3. To make confeſſion, or ſolemn profeſſion by mouth, that God is onely ſearcher of hearts, to acknowledge him as the witneſſe and rewarder of truth, but as a ſevere and juſt revenger of falſehood and perjury, Iſa. 45. 23. Rom. 14. 11. The latter place expounds the former; and albeit, that Propheſie of Iſaiah cited and interpreted by Paul, be in part fulfilled now in this life, (for the wicked are forced ſometime to confeſſe Chriſt to be a juſt and righteous God, whom the faithful willingly acknowledge to be ſo) yet it ſhall not be fully accompliſhed, untill Chriſt come in the Clouds, and all appear before him, when, will they, nill they, they ſhall be driven to acknowledge him their Judge. Now becauſe none can be the univerſall Judge of the world, ſave he which is eſſentially God, therefore Paul aptly citeth that Text out of Iſaiah, to prove that the glory of the Godhead doth belong to Chriſt, to whom all muſt give an account, and before whom all knees muſt bow.

Note: that Swearing is alwayes expreſſed in Hebrew in the form paſſive, becauſe it is with a paſſion of minde, and is occaſioned or offered by another.

It hath alſo the ſignification of ſeaven, becauſe it is confirmed by the ſeaven; that is, many witneſſes, Gen. 21. 31. ſeaven a myſticall number, Gen. 2. 2.

Swear] That a Chriſtian may ſwear lawfully, when called unto it by the Magiſtrate, he muſt look,

1 To the object, that he ſwear by the Lord alone; for ſeeing we deifie and make that our God we ſwear by, therefore we forſake the true God, if we ſwear by that which is no God; and ſo provoke the Lord not onely to execute his judgements on us, but alſo upon the Countrey wherein we live, Jer. 5. 7.

2 In reſpect of the manner, that he ſwear in Truth, Judgement, and Righteouſneſſe, Jer. 4. 2.

In truth, that he may ſay with the Apoſtle, I ſpeak the truth in Chriſt, I lye not, my conſcience bearing me witneſſe in the holy Ghoſt, Rom. 9. 1.

In judgement; i. e. adviſedly, and upon neceſſary occaſion.

In righteouſneſſe, promiſing nothing by Oath, but what is lawfull and juſt.

3 In reſpect of the end; that God may be glorified, our duty diſcharged, controverſies appeaſed, our Brethren ſatisfied, and our innocency cleared. Downam Pſal. 15. p. 144, 145.

To ſwear by the Lord] To call upon the Name of the Lord, as a witneſſe and Judge againſt us, if we doe not deal and ſpeak truly, Joſh. 2. 12.

To ſwear unto the Lord] By ſolemn oath, to binde our ſelves wholly unto God, to ſerve him onely with a pure heart. 2 Chron. 14. 15. And they ſware unto the Lord. Alſo v. 15. Iſa. 19. 18.

To ſwear by Malcham] To halt between the ſervice of the God and Idols. Zeph. 1. v. 5.

To ſwear in Truth, Judgement, and Righteouſneſſe] To take an Oath neither falſly to confirm a lie, nor breaking what is truly affirmed or promiſed; not lightly and vainly, without good ground, and juſt cauſe, concerning Gods glory, our neighbours good ſpiritual or bodily, or our own name, when truth without an oath cannot be known; nor lewdly and wickedly, againſt religion, or right, as Herod's and the Jews oath, Mar. 6. Act. 23. Jer. 4. 2. Thou ſhalt ſwear in truth, &c.

Sweat of face] Great labour and hard pains, ſuch as cauſe ſweat and wearineſſe. Gen. 3. 19. Thou ſhalt eat thy bread in the ſweat of thy face.

Sweep] ſignifieth, 1. To oppreſſe and rob, Prov. 28. 3.

2. To deſtroy, Iſa. 14. 23. & 28. 17.

Sweet] Gratefull, acceptable. Lev. 1. 9. An offering of ſweet odours unto the Lord. Here it is taken in good part.

2. Pleaſant and delightful. Thus is wickedneſſe ſweet unto the mouth of a wicked man, Job 20. 12. (Here it is taken in ill part) and Gods Statutes to the ſoul of a righteous man, Pſal. 19. 10.

Sweet Cinamon] It is the bark of a Tree, uſed for ſweet odours, and ſignifies ſpirituall grace, Prov. 7. 17. Cant. 4. 14. Exod. 30. 23.

Swelling] is put for Emulation and Indignation, 2 Cor. 12. 20.

2. For proud, boaſting, 2 Pet. 2. 18. Jude v. 16.

3. For troubleſome, and dangerous, Jer. 12. 5.

4. For the neer approaching of Gods judgements, Iſa. 30. 13.

Swept] is put, 1. For utterly deſtroyed, Judg. 5. 21. Jer. 46. 15.

2. For

2. For voyd of grace, Mat. 12. 44. Luk. 11. 25.

Swift [is applyed properly, 1. To things without life, as the Weavers Shuttle, whereunto the life of man is compared, Job 7. v. 6.

2. To living Creatures, as the Dromedary, which is ſwift, not ſo much in reſpect of the courſe, as the raging luſt that is in it; whereunto the Jews are compared, that ran to Idolatry as it were with a raging deſire, Jer. 2. 2, 3. And it is applyed to a Poſt; whereunto the life of man is compared, Job 9. 25.

2. Improperly, it is ſpoken of them that go about a buſineſſe without delay; and thus it is applyed,

1. To God, who is ſaid to come ſwiftly againſt the enemies of the Church to be revenged on them, Joel 3. 4.

2. Of Men; and that,

1 In a good part, when he is ready to do any good, Mat. 28. 7. as, To hear the Word, Jam. 1. 19. To worſhip God, Pſal. 68. 32. and, to fulfill his Word, Deut. 9. 12.

2 In an evill part; when it is uſed in the committing iniquity; as, in the going aſide from God, Exod. 32. 8. and when the feet are ſwift to ſhed innocent blood, Rom. 3. 15. Iſa. 59. 7.

Swiftly] Speedily, Joel 3. 4. Continually, Zech. 8. 21. Wearineſſe, Dan. 9. 21. marg.

Swim] is properly ſpoken both of fiſhes and other creatures which ſwim, as alſo of every thing that floats upon the water, as Iſa. 25. 11. God is compared to one ſpreading out the hands to ſwim, when he cometh to puniſh his enemies.

Improperly, it is ſpoken of thoſe who are in great grief, in reſpect whereof they ſhed abundance of tears, Pſal. 6. 7. and of the Land of Ægypt, which is overflowed with Nilus, Ezek. 32. 6.

Swine] Reckoned amongſt the unclean beaſts, Lev. 11. 7. Deut. 14. 8. forbid to be eat, Iſa. 66. 16. They feed on huſks, Lev. 15. 16. To look after them, a baſe employment, Luk. 15. 15. The Devils untill Chriſt gave them leave, had no power to enter into the Swine, Mar. 5. 12. Hereunto ſuch are compared, who regard no more the precious promiſes of the Goſpel, then Swine doe pearls, Mat. 7. 6. They love to wallow in the mire, 2 Pet. 2. 24. are not offended with the ſmell of carion, &c. ſo dull is their ſenſe of Smelling. They are ravenous, nor abſtain they at ſometimes from the fleſh of their owne kinde. Inwardly they reſemble very neer the inward parts of a man. In what night ſoever a wilde Hog or Sow farroweth, there will be no ſtorm, or rain. By the firſt farrow of the Sow, it may be known how fruitfull ſhe will be, ſhe ever offereth her foremoſt dug to the Pig which is firſt farrowed: and if any of her Pigs be taken from her and killed, the dugs which they ſuck preſently dry up, the milk returning backward. If its head be held upward, it cryeth not, as being alwayes accuſtomed to look downward. Sweet ſavours are very hurtful to them. If they lye long wallowing in the mire, or if they feed more greedily then they are accuſtomed to doe, or leap and dance, they preſage foul weather. They are hurtful in rooting and turning up the earth. There is no beaſt leſſe profitable, being alive, then a Hog, and yet at his latter end he payeth his Maſter for his keeping. They feed of the fruits of the Tree, but look not up to the Tree that beareth them. When they wax fat, they feel not the bitings of the Mice feeding on their fat. They ſleep much, eſpecially in the Summer, nor can they abide the cold of the Winter. Their milk, dung, fleſh, &c. are all uſeful in phyſick. If they loſe their eyes, they quickly dye. They are of a very hot and moyſt nature; whence it cometh to paſſe that they often prove meaſely. When any one of them is hurt, or maketh a noyſe, all the reſt come about it to help it, or (if need be) fight for it. They are ſtill grunting, nor ceaſe therefrom even whileſt they are feeding. They caſt not their hair as other beaſts do. For the moſt part they are either feeding, or ſleeping, or wallowing.

Swine] Obſtinate and deſperate ſinners, which ſcorn and deride the Word of admonition, rowling and tumbling with pleaſure, in the mire of their old, filthy, and rotten converſation. Mat. 7. 6. Caſt not pearls before Swine.

Swoon] Lam. 2. 11, 12. The children ſwoon, or faint and go away for want of food. Heb. are covered or overwhelmed, a miſt or cloud coming before the eyes of thoſe that are fainting or ſwooning, which taketh away their ſight.

Sword] A ſharp inſtrument of iron, made for defence and offence. Luk. 22. 49. Shall we ſmite with the ſword?

2. The Word of God. Epheſ. 6. 17. The ſword of the Spirit, &c. Heb. 4. 12. For the Word of God is lively, and mighty in operation, and ſharper then any two-edged Sword.

3. An inſtrument of Juſtice, or enſigne of publick authority. Rom. 13. 3. They bear not the Sword in vain. Alſo the power to draw out the ſword to puniſh offenders.

4. The judgement of War. Lev. 26. 25. I will ſend a ſword.

5. The ſharp juſtice and vengeance of God hewing down Sinners. Deut. 32. 41, 43. I will whet my glittering ſword, and my ſword ſhall eat their fleſh.

6. Death executed by the Sword. Exod. 18. 1. And delivered me from the ſword of Pharaoh.

7. Bloody war, ſtrife, and deadly contention, Mat. 10. 34.

Sword] Wicked men whom God uſeth to afflict his people, Pſa. 17. 13. Grief and vexation of Spirit, Luk. 2. 35. Cruel and ſlanderous tongues and words, Pſal. 59. 7. & 57. 4. Every thing contrary to peace, Matt. 10. 34.

It is put for drought, Deut. 28. 22. marg.

Two-edged ſword] Metaphorically is put for the lips of a Whore, Prov. 5. 4.

2. For the Word of Chriſt, Heb. 4. 12. Rev. 1. 16. & 2. 12. For it hath a twofold operation, one upon the wicked, another in the elect; it wounds the wicked at the heart, and bringeth them to eternall death, Iſa. 11. 4. Herewith he ſhall conſume Antichriſt, 2 Theſſ. 2. 8. viſit Leviathan, and ſlay the Dragon; i. e. the greateſt enemies of the Church, Iſa. 27. 1.

In killing of the wicked, Chriſt hath a threefold action with this ſword.

1. He revealeth unto them their ſins; as, hypocriſie, pride, and rebellion againſt both Tables.

2. He revealeth the wrath of God, which is the curſe of the Law due unto him; in which reſpect it is a killing letter, 2 Cor. 3. v. 6.

3. He wakeneth the guilty conſcience, and ſharpeneth the ſting thereof, and terrifieth him at the hearing of the Word, as in Felix, Act. 24. 25. and Belſhazzer, Dan. 4. 6.

Theſe are wrought in the wicked without any apprehenſion of mercy, or reformation of life.

The ſecond work of this Two-edged Sword is in the Elect; in whom it hath ſundry works, all tending to their ſubjection.

1. It woundeth to the quick the corruption of their nature, ſo as it ſhall never recover again. This is done in Converſion.

2. After Converſion it pareth away the remnant of unbelief, doubting, and other ſins that be in the Elect; for every branch that bringeth forth fruit in Chriſt, the Father pruneth it, that it may bring forth more fruit, Joh. 15.

3. It ſerveth to keep the godly in awe and ſubjection unto God.

4. It ſerveth for our defence and victory in all temptation, Eph. 6. 17. With it Chriſt defended himſelf againſt Satan, Mat. 4.

A flaming ſword] A Sword of fire, or like a flame of fire, or rather by a Synecdoche of the part for the whole, many fiery Swords held in the hands of the Cherubs or Angels, ſhaking and turning them to and fro in terrible manner, to affright Adam and Eve, that they ſhould be afeard to enter again into Paradiſe, out of which God for ever had in juſtice driven them, Gen. 3. 24.

To live by the Sword] To lead a reſtleſſe life, being driven to maintain his owne by War. Gen. 27. 42. He ſhall live by the Sword.

2. With wars and troubles to defend his Countrey, and not with peace, as Jacob did, Gen. 25. 40. Deut. 33. 27, 28. Sword is oppoſed to Peace, Matth. 10. 34.

S Y.

Sycamine] Luk. 17. 6. A kinde of Mulberry-tree. Some call it the Ægyptian Fig-tree.

Sycamore] A Tree growing in Ægypt, Pſal. 78. 44. and Paleſtine, and Judea, Luk. 19. 4. having leaves broad like the Mulberry-tree, and producing a fruit, Amos 7. 14. like a Fig, without little grains or ſeeds; not upon the branches, but coming out of and adhering to the body of the Tree; which ripen not except it be pared off with the nails or knife, ſaith Diaſcorides, c. 167. It is very frequent in thoſe Countreys where it uſeth to grow, and of a ſmall price, 1 King. 10. 27. 2 Chr. 1. 15. & 9. 27. Iſa. 9. 9. yet neceſſary for the life of man, by reaſon of the fruit thereof, Amos 7. 14. and therefore the conſuming of them is a great judgement for the ſins of men, Pſal. 78. 44.

Sychar] A concluſion, or finiſhing. A City, Joh. 4. 5.

Syene] Ezek. 29. 10. Heb. Seveneh. It hath been, and is commonly thought, by reaſon of the likelyneſſe of the name, that it was the City of Syene, ſtanding upon the South confines of Ægypt, in Thebais, where there might be ſome Tower, to mark the defect

defect of ſhadows, in the very day of the Summer ſolſtice; as there was a Well alſo to that purpoſe, as ſome write. Annot.

Synagogue] ſignifieth, To gather together, and is applyed to all things whereof there may be a collection, as Pſal. 82. unto the aſſembly of Judges. But commonly they are Houſes dedicated to the worſhip of God, wherein it was uſuall to pray, preach, and diſpute, but not to ſacrifice. The Temple was the great Cathedrall, the Synagogue was the Pariſh Churches.

It is probable they began when the Tribes were ſetled in the Land, the Temple being too far diſtant for them that dwelt in remote places; they were in David's time, Pſa. 78. 4. In Jeruſalem were 480 of them; partly for Jews, partly for Strangers: one of which was called, The Synagogue of the Libertines, Act. 6.9. Out of the City there were many in other places of the Countrey, as in Galilee, Mat. 4. 23. Damaſcus, Act. 9. 2. Salamis, Ib. 13. 5, Antioch, Ib. 13. 14.

They had many inſcriptions; over the gate was written that of Pſal. 118. 20. This is the gate of the Lord, the righteous ſhall enter into it. Upon the walls, Remember thy Creator. To enter into the Houſe of the Lord without humility, and prayer, and without attention, is like a body without a ſoul, and ſuch like.

In them the Scribes ordinarily taught, but not onely they, for Chriſt himſelf taught in them. He that gave liberty to preach, was called The Ruler of the Synagogue. There was alſo a Miniſter who gave the Book unto the Preacher, and received it again after the text was read, Luk. 4. 20. Goodwyn Moſes and Aaron. p. 86.

They were ordered in moſt things after the manner of the Temple; as,

1. In their ſituation they ſtood in the higheſt place of the Town; for which they alleadged Prov. 8. 2.

2. As in the Temple there was a High-prieſt, and his Sagan, or ſecond Prieſt; ſo they had the chief Ruler, and a ſecond Ruler.

3. In the Temple the Court of the Prieſts was diſtinguiſhed from the Court of Iſrael; which again was diſtinguiſhed into the Court for the Men, and Court for the Women. So in the Synagogues, the Teachers ſat by themſelves, and the Men by themſelves, in ranks one above another. Whereunto the Apoſtle ſeems to allude, Jam. 2. 2, 3. The Women ſat by themſelves, Zech. 12. 12.

4. They had an Ark in them wherein they kept the Book of God, and the peoples faces were towards it.

5. As no man might carry through the Temple any veſſel or burthen, Mar. 11.16. ſo no man might carry through the Synagogue any burthen or veſſel; and there was great devotion required of them who went into the Synagogue to worſhip. Weems Chriſt. Syn. p. 110.

Caſt out of the Synagogue] Whereof mention is made, Joh. 9. 22. & 12. 42. & 16. 2. is, To be excommunicate from Church Aſſemblies; which appears,

1. Becauſe the cauſe was matter of Scandall in point of Religion, either truely, or ſuppoſed ſo to be, John 9. 22. & 12. 42.

2. The Aſſembly was Spirituall, as we may gather, Mat. 10. 17. Act. 13. 15.

3. The Communion was Spirituall, therefore the Excommunication muſt be ſuch.

4. The end was Spirituall, to glorifie God, Iſa. 66. 5. Joh. 16. 2. Gilleſpie Aarons Rod, p. 60, 61.

Synedzion] The place where the Court of the Jews ſat.

There were two ſorts of theſe Synedria among the Jews, the great Councell and the leſſer; the great was called Sanhedrin Gedolah; and the leſſer, Sanhedrin Ketanuah: the great Court ſat in Jeruſalem onely; the leſſer, in other places alſo, and they were called κείσεις, judicia. Unto the ſitting of the great Court at Jeruſalem, Chriſt alludes, Matthew 23. 37. A Prophet might not dye out of Jeruſalem; the great Synedrium onely judged of a Prophet.

But afterwards this great Synedrium was divided into five parts, by Gabinus the Proconſul of Syria: Whereof one was placed at Jeruſalem, another at Gadara, the third in Amathus toward the Red Sea, the fourth in Jericho; and the fifth he placed in Sephra in Galilee.

Of theſe Councels Chriſt means, Matth. 10. 17.

The number that ſat in this great Councel were 72. Six out of every Tribe; but for making the number round, they were called Seventy.

There were two Preſidents in this Councell; the firſt was choſen in reſpect of his power, dignity, and wiſdome, and was called Princeps, Pater conſeſſus, the Father of the Aſſembly: upon his right hand ſat he who was greateſt among the Seventy, and was called Pater consistorii; the rest sat according to their dignity and age next unto the Prince, and they sat in a circuit, or half-moon, that both Presidents might see them.

The great Synedrium sat every day, except the Sabbath, and Festivall dayes, and then the little Synedrium sat but from the Morning Sacrifice, untill the sixt hour, i.e. our twelve: but the great one sat from the Morning Sacrifice untill the Evening Sacrifice, i.e. three a clock in the afternoon. The matters which they judged were of greatest weight; as, To judge of a false Prophet, when to make Wars, to appoint Magistrates for inferiour Cities, for cutting off a Tribe, and punishing the High-priest, and the like. The High-priests sat with the Judges, and did interpret their Sentence; which whoso disobeyed, was to die the death, Deut. 17. 9, 12.

In the lesser Judicatory they might not judge of a capitall crime, unlesse they were Twenty three, a full number; so they judged of a beast that had killed a man, or lyen with the woman, to be put to death, Lev. 20. 26. Weems jud. Law, p. 61.

Syntiche] Coming; or, telling a Tale. Phil. 4. 2.

Syracuse] Drawing violently. A City of Sicilia, Act. 28. 12.

Syria] (called Aram, from Aram the Son of Sem) signifieth, high, descending; or, the slander of them. A Countrey in Asia, having on the East the River Euphrates, on the West the Mediterranean Sea, on the South Palestine, and on the North Cilicia, and other parts of Asia the lesse. It was divided into certain Countreys; as Syria of Damascus, 1 Chron. 18. 5, 6. Syria Zoba, and Rechob, 2 Sam. 10. 6, 8. and Syrophenicia, Mar. 7. 26. The Syrians of Damascus were vanquished by David, and their Countrey made tributary to him, 2 Sam. 8. 5, to 9. A small Army of them overcame Judah, because they forsook God, 2 Chr. 24. 23, 24. Aiding the Ammonites against Israel, were slain by Joab, 1 Sam. 10. 6, to 15. They took a little maid of the Land of Israel that served Naaman's Wife, 2 King. 5. 2. Elisha told the Israelites that the Syrians would assault them, if they went whither they were determined, 2 King. 6. 9. Besieging Samaria, they were chased away by God, 2 King. 7. 6. The Israelites in subjection to the Syrians, 2 King. 13. 3. are promised to be delivered by Joash, 2 King. 13. 17. Hence Syriack, Dan. 2. 4. and Syrian, Gen. 25. 20. and Syrians, 2 Sam. 8. 5.

Syrion] Deut. 3. 9. This Mount had five names, Hermon, Shirion, Shenir, and Sion, Deut. 4. 48. and Hor, Numb. 34. 7. That divers people called it by divers names, and because of divers parts of this Mountain. This in Psal. 26. 6. is by the Chaldee Paraph. there expounded, the Mount that bringeth forth fruits. Aynsworth.

Syrophenician] Redness, or purple; drawn, or drawing unto it. An inhabitant of Syrophenicia, Mar. 7. 26.

T A.

Taanah] Breaking asunder, or humbling thee, or answering to thee. A City, Josh. 12. 21. Judg. 5. 19. 1 King. 4. 12.

Taanath-shiloth] Dissolving, or breaking a fig-tree, a little fig-tree of abundance, or peace. A place, Josh. 16. 6.

Tabaoth] Rings, circles, drowned; a good time, or a good hour. Neh. 7 46.

Tabbath] Good, or goodnesse. A place, Judg. 7. 22.

Tabeol, or Tabeel] Good God. One whose Son the Kings of Syria and Israel purposed to make King over Judea, in the place of Achaz, Isa. 7. 6. What Countrey-man he was is not certain.

Another of that name was an Accuser of the Jews, Ezr. 4. 7.

Taberah] A burning. A place, Numb. 11. 3. Dan. 9. 22.

A Tabernacle] Properly signifies a Tent in war, and the flitting habitation of warfaring men; or a military mansion, and portable house, which hath no fixed and setled place and seat.

Tabernacle] A place purposely built and appointed under the Law, therein to do sacrifice, and to serve God openly, as afterward was done in the Temple, and as we now use to do in our Churches. It was made like a Tent, to remove to and fro as occasion required; it had in it but one room, called the Holyest of all, wherein the High-priest entred entred once a yeer: and another room, called the Holy place. Heb. 9. 2, 3, 4. For the first Tabernacle was made, wherein was the Candlestick: and after the second veil was the Tabernacle, which is called the Holyest of all. This was the publick Tabernacle, for publick uses of divine service.

The Tabernacle set up, and put together by joynts, figured the mysticall body of Christ; to wit, his Church knit and coupled together by joynts, by the power of Christ, working within them inwardly, as Eph. 4. 16.

2. A place or Tent to dwel in. Mat. 17. 4. Make us here three Tabernacles. Psal. 132. 3. This was a private Tabernacle for private use of humane life.

3. Christs humane Nature, which is the true incorruptible Tabernacle, conceived by the holy Ghost, not made with hands, wherein the Son of God dwelt substantially. Heb. 9. 11. & 8. 2. And is a Minister of the Sanctuary, and of the true Tabernacle which the Lord pitcht, and not man.

4. Our naturall body, wherein our soul dwelleth for a time as in a frail brittle Tabernacle. 2 Cor 5. 1. When our earthly Tabernacles be dissolved. 2 Pet. 1. 13.

5. Heaven, which is appointed to be the everlasting Tabernacle and habitation for the Saints to dwell in. Rev. 21. 3. Behold the Tabernacle of God is with men, he will dwell with them. Psal. 104. 2. Luk. 16. 9.

6. The visible Militant Church, way-faring as a Pilgrim here upon earth. Psal. 15. 1. Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? The Church is called a Tabernacle, because of many mutations and changes it is subject unto, and because it hath here no abiding place.

Tabernacle was the first place commanded for the worship of God, and was a type of heaven, Psal. 15. 1. and when they could not have access to the Tabernacle, they thought themselves like the wandring Arabians, that knew not God, nor his worship. Psal. 120. 5. Woe is me that I sojourn so long, dwelling as in the Tents of Kedar.

This Tabernacle was divided into three parts,

1 The holyest of all.

2 The holy place: And,

3 The Court of the people.

The holyest of all, typified Heaven.

The Court of the Priests, signified the Old Law; where they entred in, and offered Sacrifice for themselves and the people.

And the Court of the people, signified the Church here below.

The people might not come into the holyest of all, but Isa. 56. 7. My House shall be called a House of Prayer; he applyeth this both to the Jews and Gentiles, which Christ applyed onely to the Jews in the Temple of Jerusalem; and the Prophet speaketh in the antitype, as Christ speaketh in the type.

The Proselytes might not come into the Court of the Israelites, they stood but in Atrio gentium, in the Court of the people: but the Prophet foretelleth that the Gentiles shal have as free access unto the House of God, as the Jews; because his House is the House of Prayer; and this Solomon foretold, 1 King. 8. 41. If a Stranger come from a far Countrey, to call upon thy Name, then hear thou in heaven; i. e. Grant that they may have as free access to thee, as the Jews have.

There was no light in the holyest, the signification whereof is in Rev. 21. 22. The glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. It was not covered above, to signifie that the Church here hath more of the light of nature then of grace.

It is put for any place of habitation, either of the godly, or the wicked, Jer. 4. 20. Psalm 84. 11. & 50. 1. for a whole Kingdome, or Countrey, Psal. 87. 2. Jer. 30. 18. Mal. 2. 12.

2. For a particular house, wherein any body dwelleth, Judg. 19. 9. & 20. 8. Job 5. 24. & 8. 22.

3. For the inhabitants of a Countrey, Psal. 83. 7. & 87. 2. or, for the indwellers of any house, Psal. 91. 10. and their posterity and riches, Psal. 49. 12.

It is put for the Celestiall sphere, wherein the Sun moves, Psal. 19. 5.

Tabernacles] The severall places where the Tabernacle was fixed, Psal. 43. 3. Though the Tabernacle was but one, yet (till Solomon built the Temple) it had sundry stations and places of residence, wherein Gods ordinary worship was exercised and preserved. At first, in the City of Kiriath-jearim, whence David carried it into his City, 1 Chron. 15. & 16. In the reign of Saul, the place was at Nob, 1 Sam. 21. 2, 3. where many Priests did abide to minister unto the Lord. Another place was at Giboen, in the first dayes of Solomon's reign, 1 King. 3. 4, 5. Lastly, the Temple being built, the Ark (being a visible token of Gods most holy presence) did there rest a long time. This multiplicity of places caused the Prophet in the plurall number to say, Lead me to thy Tabernacles.

Tabernacle of Congregation] That part of the Tabernacle where the people reſorted and gathered together at an appointed time; or elſe whither God reſorted to ſpeak with Moſes and his Succeſſors, Exod. 27. 21. Numbers 7. 8, 9. When Moſes ſhould enter into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, to talk with God. This part was called the Sanctuary.

Note. It was the place where God met with his people, Exod. 25. 22. & 30. 36. Elſewhere it is named the Tent of the Teſtimony, or Tabernacle of Witneſſe, Numb. 9. 15. & 17. 7. Act. 7. 44. Rev. 15. 5. becauſe the Tables of Teſtimony were kept in the Ark therein. The covering of the Tabernacle with a Tent, ſignifieth Gods Church by his providence protected and covered, Exod. 26. 7.

Tabernacle of David] The Kingdome and Church of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, which is as a Tabernacle or place of refuge to the godly, howſoever it be contemptible in the eyes of the world. Amos 6. 11. In that day I will raiſe up the Tabernacle of David, which is fallen.

Feaſt of Tabernacles] That feaſt, at which the Jews dwelt ſeaven dayes in Tents, to put them in remembrance, that God made their Fathers to dwell in Tents, when he brought them out of Ægypt, and that here they had no abiding place. John 7. 2. Now the Feaſt of Tabernacles drew neer. Levit. 23. 34.

Feaſt of Tabernacles was kept ſeaven dayes, Levit. 32. 34. The laſt day was the greateſt day of the Feaſt. Joh. 7. 37. this day they kept Feſtum lætitiæ legis, the Feaſt of the joy of the Law, becauſe they ended the reading of the Law this day. Upon this day, Chriſt who is the end of the Law ſtood up: and whereas the Jews delighted much in eating and drinking this day, Jeſus Chriſt called all thoſe to him who thirſt, Joh. 7. 37.

Upon the firſt day of the Feaſt they offered thirteen young Bullocks, two Rams, and fourteen Lambs of the firſt year. The ſecond day, twelve. The third day, eleven. The fourth day, ten. The fift day nine. The ſixt day, eight. And upon the ſeaventh day, but ſeaven Bullocks. So that though it was the greateſt day of the Feaſt, yet it had but the leaſt offering; which ſignified unto them, that the Lord was to aboliſh theſe Sacrifices, and bring in a perfect Sacrifice in place of them, Jeſus Chriſt once offered for all.

At this Feaſt they held up branches, and ſo they held them up to Chriſt before the Paſſeover; and they ſang Hoſanna, which was a ſolemn ſort of Prayer, Salve quæſo nunc, Save now I beſeech thee; and they wiſh not onely peace to him on earth, but alſo in heaven; then the ſhout of a King was amongſt them, Numb. 23. 21. Weems Ceremon. Law, p. 97, 98.

Tabitha] A Roe-buck. A godly woman, Act. 9. 36.

Table] A frame of wood, made to eat meat upon.

2. All earthly benefits, ſerving for neceſſity, or honeſt delight and ornament. Pſal. 23. 5. Thou haſt prepared a Table for me. Pſal. 69. 22.

Becauſe men come to the Table, there to be merry, and to be refreſhed, alſo do furniſh their Table with the beſt meats and delicates; therefore (by a Synecdoche) Table ſignifieth all acceptable, pleaſing, proſperous, and happy things, even whatſoever uſeth to give contentment to our minde, be they bleſſings ſpirituall, as Scriptures, Sacrifices, Temples, &c. or temporal, as Health, Strength, Riches, Friends, Proſperity, Peace, publick State, Laws, Magiſtracy, Credit, &c. All which (though good in themſelves, and good unto good men; yet to the wicked, which be without Chriſt, and Gods enemies) they be all turned to their hurt and deſtruction: which Paul ſetteth forth by three ſimilitudes:

1. Of a ſnare made to take birds when they ſeek their food.

2. Of a trap or net, wherein wilde beaſts are caught.

3. Of a ſtone or block, whereat blinde men, drunkards, and heedleſſe perſons uſe to ſtumble and to fall: So all healthfull things ſhall prove hurtfull to malicious ſinners, as it happened unto the obſtinate Jews.

3. That which is upon the Table, (Bread and Wine) alſo that which is repreſented thereby, Chriſt and his benefits, 1 Cor. 10. 21.

Table is put for Heart, wherein the Word of God ought to be written, and kept, Prov. 3. 3.

2. For the worſhip of God; where Iſa. 28. 8. it is ſaid, Their Table is full of vomiting; the meaning is, that they have defiled the pure worſhip of God by their ſinful lives, and falſe doctrin; and have made it filthy in the ſight of men. See Mat. 1. 7, 12.

3. It ſignifieth a Bed, Mar. 7. 4. marg.

Table of Devils] Fellowſhip with Devils, by being preſent at the Sacrifices offered unto Idols. 1 Cor. 10. 20, 21. These things that the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to Devils. Ye cannot be partakers of the Lords Table, and the Table of Devils.

To eat and to drink at Christs Table] To communicate and have fellowship with Christ in heavenly joyes. Luk. 22. 30. That ye may drink at my Table, in my Kingdome.

The Table of the Lord] The company of Gods people assembled to partake in the Lords Supper. 1 Cor. 10. 21. Ye cannot partake of the Lords Table; that is, ye cannot have society and fellowship with Christ and his members in the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, if you partake of the Table of Devils.

What reason have Papists to scoffe at our Communion-Tables, seeing Scriptures bear out this name? Have not we cause rather to abhor their sacrificing Altars?

To serve Tables] To take charge and care of the poor Saints, to provide for them by distribution of the Church goods or almes, for their needfull sustenance at their eating together, as Act. 2. 46. & 6. 2. And serve Tables.

Table of Shittim wood] The standing Table of Wood and Sacraments, where God keepeth open house (as one would say) to refresh and feast his people in Christ, Exod. 25. 23. & 26. 35. To this figure alludeth Solomon, Prov. 9. 2. and David, Psal. 36. 9. & 65. 5. Also Christ, Rev. 3. 20.

2. It represented the fulnesse of joy that is in Gods presence, and the pleasures which are at his right hand for evermore, Psal. 16. 11. Which he hath prepared for the elect, That they might eat with him, Luke 22. 16.

To sit, or be at Table] To partake or have society with others in eating and drinking. John 13. 28. But none of them that were at the Table, knew for what cause he spake it unto him.

To spread, or prepare a Table] To make liberal provision of meat and drink, and of other necessaries for this life. Psal. 78. 19. Can God prepare a Table in the Wildernesse?

2. To set in due order Dishes upon the Table, Isa. 21. 5.

Tables of testimony] The two stones (as two Tables) wherein the Law was written, which bare testimony of Gods will. Exod. 32. 15. And Moses returning, descended from the Mountain, with the two Tables of testimony in his hand.

Tablet] A jewel worn by the Israelites, and other people, for ornament, Exod. 35. 22. Numb. 31. 20.

It signifieth the house of the Soul, Isa. 3. 20. marg.

Tabor] A housing; or purity. A high Mountain in the middle of Galilee, Joh. 19. 22. Judg. 4. 6. Psal. 8. 12. whereon Christ was transfigured, Matth. 17. 1. Mar. 9. 2. Luk. 9. 28. Also, a City, 1 Chr. 6. 77.

Tabrea] The Son of Micah, 1 Chr. 9. 41.

Tabret] A musicall instrument; the use of it was to testifie joy and gladnesse, Gen. 31. 27. Hence To be adorned with a Tabret, is exceedingly to rejoyce for a prosperous condition, Jer. 31. 4. and the joy of the Tabret is said to cease, by Isa. 24. 8. when he would describe great calamity and sorrow.

It was used principally, 1. After victory, Exod. 15. 20. Judg. 11. 34. 1 Sam. 18. 6. Psal. 68. 26.

2. In feasts, Isa. 5. 12.

3. In dancings, 1 Sam. 18. 6. Job 21. 12.

4. To delight Kings and great men, Ezek. 28. 13. Nah. 2. 7.

5. In praising of God, Exod. 15. 20. 1 Sam. 10. 5. 2 Sam. 6. 5. Psal. 68. 26. & 81. 3. & 149. 3.

Tabrimon] A good Pomegranate apple; or, high goodnesse; or, navil prepared, numbred, or rewarded. 1 King. 15. 18. The Father of Benhadad.

Taches] Hooks, or clasps, or latchets (both of gold, and brasse) for the use of the Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 6, 11.

Tachmonite] 2 Sam. 23. 8. or, Josheb-basshebet the Tachmonite, head of the three, marg.

Tackling] The ropes and furniture of a Ship, whereby she is fitted for sailing, and preserved both in storm and harbour. Hence by loosing the tacklings, is meant, the destruction of the wicked, Isa. 33. 23.

Tadmor] Confession, praise of bitternesse, or myrrhe of confession, or praise. A City, 2 Chr. 8. 4. 1 King. 9. 18.

Taban] Beseeching, mercifull, full of grace; or, pitching Tents. The Son of Telah, 1 Chr. 7. 25. Of him came the Tahanites, Numb. 26. 35.

Tahapanes] The cover of confidence, or hidden confidence. A City, Jer. 2. 16.

Tahath] Fear, or under; or, after the Syrian, a going down, Numb. 33. 26. The Son of Assir, 1 Chr. 6. 24. The Son of Eladah, 1 Chr. 7. 20.

Tahpenes] Hidden temptation, or flight, or a covered banner. The Wife of Pharaoh, 1 King. 11. 19, 20.

Tahrea]

Tabrea] Anger, or wicked contention; or, contention of the Shepherd. The Son of Micah, 1 Chr. 9. 41.

Tabtim Hodshi] Nether-land newly inhabited. 2 Sam. 24. 6. marg.

Tail] The hindermoſt part of the beaſt, or other creature, Exod. 4. 4. Job 40. 17.

It is put for baſe and contemptible, Deut. 28. 13.

2. For a falſe Prophet, Iſa. 9. 15.

3. For the Rear of an Army, Iſa. 7. 4.

Tail of the Dragon] Rev. 12. 4. The baſe arts ands means whereby he puls down the ſtars from heaven; as,

1. Force and tyranny; for the Dragon hath more force in his Tail, then in his Jaws.

2. Flattery and inſinuation.

3. Poyſon and infection, with hereſie and opinions againſt the truth. Taylor on Rev. 12. p. 227, 228.

To take] Not onely to receive a thing of another; but ſometime to give a thing to one, Gen. 24. 22. As taking in Pſal. 68. 19. is expounded giving, Eph. 4. 8. Exod. 18. 12. & 25. 2.

Take] is put for, 1. To apprehend, 1 King. 18. 40.

2. To ſurpriſe, Jer. 48. 41.

3. Yeeld, 2 Theſſ. 1. 8.

4. To bear, Joh. 1. 29.

5. Give, Deut. 1. 13.

6. To ſpoyl, Deut. 20. 14.

7. Put, Judg. 4. 21. poſſeſſe, impoveriſh, Judg. 14. 15. marg.

8. To labour, Iſa. 5. 2.

9. To chooſe, 1 Tim. 5. 9.

To take the armor of God] To put on all our ſpirituall harneſſe, fitting it cloſe unto our hearts, and uſing it for our defence and ſafety againſt ſin and Satan. Epheſ. 6. 11, 13. For this cauſe take to you the whole armor of God.

Take away] Pluck out, root out, Pſal. 25. 5. Cauſe to periſh, Jer. 25. 10. Add no more, Hoſ. 1. 6.

To take away ſin] Sometime, to aboliſh all inſtruments and means of ſin, namely, of falſe worſhip and Idolatry. Iſa. 27. 9. To take away ſin; that is, the ſtones of the Altars, Images, and Groves, as it follows in that verſe.

Sometime, to deliver (not onely from temporall captivity or calamity, brought for ſin upon the Jews) but from guilt and eternall puniſhment by free remiſſion; and from the tyranny of ſin by ſanctification of the Spirit, Iſa. 27. 9. Rom. 11. 26, 27. This promiſe was made not to Gentiles, but peculiarly to the Jews, as appears by the two words of Sion and Jacob, in verſ. 26. of Rom. 11. Not to ſome or a few Jews, but to the whole people; not for their deliverance from Babylon, and that by Chriſt the deliverer of the Jews, (Ipſo propinquitatis jure) coming of them according to the fleſh. But as yet we ſee not this people ſo delivered and converted to Chriſt; therefore they muſt be delivered and ſaved by him before the end of the world; to which purpoſe Paul citeth that Text of Iſa. 27. 9. Whereas John 1. 29. the Baptiſt ſaith of Chriſt in the preſent time, that he taketh away, (purging ſin by his blood, and aboliſhing it at length by his Spirit) it is to ſignifie a continual act; for the force of Chriſt his death, to expiate and extirpate ſin out of mans nature, is perpetual: and mentioning [Sin] in the ſingular number, he chiefly meaneth that (peccatum peccans) originall corruption, the root of all, together yet with all the fruits thereof, which are uſually called [Sins] in the plural number. Laſtly, under [World] he comprehendeth both Jews and Gentiles, as it is written, 1 Joh. 2. 2. Finally, the Baptiſt propoundeth him to his Diſciples, as a Lamb and Sacrifice even before his ſufferings and death, betimes to pluck out that common error of the Jews, wherewith even Chriſts owne Diſciples were infected, that the Meſſiah ſhould be an earthly King, to rule with outward pomp and glory, Act. 1. 6.

Taken captive] Taken alive, 2 Tim. 2. 26. marg.

To take the cup of Salvation] To offer and give unto God the Sacrifice of praiſe and thankſgiving, and afterward he would make a ſolemne feaſt to the people in remembrance of his manifold deliverances, according to the cuſtome of the Law when they took ſome part of the Sacrifice to make a banquet, in token of rejoycing when they rendred ſolemne thankſgiving unto God, Pſalm 116. 13. See 1 Chron. 16. 1, 2, 3.

To take the Foxes] To remove, or take out of the way whatſoever hurteth the Church in doctrine or manners. Cant. 2. 15. Take the foxes.

To take heed] To be wary or watchfull for the preventing of ſome ſin or danger, Eph. 5. 15. Luk. 12. 28. Take heed and beware of Covetouſneſſe.

Take hold] Overtake, Zech. 1. 6. marg.

To take hold of Gods arm, or ſtrength] By true repentance and acknowledgement of of him, with hearty prayer for pardon, to hold God (as it were) by the arm, and ſtay him from ſtriking. Iſa. 27. 5. Let him take hold of my ſtrength.

To take in ill part] To wreſt words and actions to an ill purpoſe, when they might be taken well. Rom. 1. 29. Taking all things in evill part.

Take off] Lift up, Hoſ. 11. 14.

To take to one] To propheſie or ſay, that he was like to a man who had taken to him ſuch a woman, and ſuch children, Hoſ. 1. 2. This was done in type, not in truth.

Alſo to take ſignifies to give, Geneſ. 24. 22. and taking, Pſal. 68. 19. is expounded given, Eph. 4. 8.

Take out] Deliver, Amos 3. 12. Cloſe up, Job 24. 24. marg.

To take thought] To vex and diſquiet the heart with fear and grief. Luk. 12. 15, 26. Why take you thought for the remnant?

To take in vain] To abuſe a thing, by uſing it raſhly, or to wicked purpoſe. Exod. 20. 7. Thou ſhalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; that is, either lightly, or wickedly.

Take up] Gather, Pſal. 27. 10. marg.

To take up the cloud, or to let it abide] To reſt, or to go on at the voyce of Chriſt, as the Iſraelites journeyed, or lay ſtill, as the cloud abode on the Tabernacle, or was taken up, Numb. 9. 16, 17. Thus expounded, John 10, 3, 4.

Tale] Summe, number, 1 Sam. 18. 27. 1 Chr. 9. 28.

It is put for a Fable, not to be beleeved, Luk. 24. 11.

2. For a thing of no continuance, Pſal. 90. 9.

3. For ſlander, and back-biting, Ezek. 22. 9. Meditation, Pſal. 90. 9. marg.

Tale-bearer] One that goeth about (as a Pedler with wares) with reports and tales, Lev. 19. 16. Prov. 20. 19.

Tale-bearer] A Slanderer, Prov. 11. 13. A Whiſperer, Prov. 18. 8. Men of ſlanders, Ezek. 22 9. marg.

It is forbidden, Lev. 19. 16. where it is compared to a Pedler. So likewiſe Pſal. 50. 20. it is condemned as a notable crime, which God will not ſuffer to goe unpuniſhed.

It is reckoned among the ſins of them given up to a reprobate ſenſe, Rom. 1. 29, 30. and threatned of God, Ezek. 22. 9.

Talent] A certain piece of gold, which weighed 60 pound, as the common Talent did; or 120 pound, as did the Talent of the Temple, 2 Sam. 12. 30. Exodus 25. 39. Of a Talent of pure gold thou ſhalt make it.

2. A free and frank gift of God, beſtowed on men, in a certain portion and meaſure, to be uſed to his owne glory, and the profit of others. Matth. 25. 25. And to one he gave five Talents. There is no man but hath ſome Talent committed to him, whereof he muſt make uſe here, and account hereafter.

Talent was the greateſt weight among the Jews. It conſiſted of three thouſand ſhekels, as may be gathered out of Exod. 38. 24, 25, 26, 27. where it is ſaid, that 603550 did pay every one of them half a ſhekel: the ſum came to 100 talents, & 1775 ſhekels; the 600000 men came to 100 Talents, and the 3550 came to 1775 ſhekels, two men to one ſhekel. Now if 600000 men pay 100 Talents, then 6000 men pay 1 Talent; therefore a Talent containeth 3000 ſhekels: where it is ſaid 2 King. 12, 30. that David took their Kings crown from off his head, (the weight thereof was a Talent of gold, with the precious ſtones) and it was ſet on David's head, may ſeem ſtrange; who was not able to carry a Talent (being 125 pound weight) upon his head. It is cleered by 1 Chr. 20. 2. where it ſaid, David took the crown of Milcom from off his head; which was an Idol, 1 King. 11. 5. having upon his head a crown, weighing a Talent. Now David brake this crown, and purged it by fire, and changed it into another form, neither did he put all the Talent into it, but that which was competent. Weems Nat. and Mor. Obſer. p. 141.

Talitha-cumi] Damoſell ariſe. This was ſpoke to the Daughter of Jairus, Mark 5. 41.

Talk] Expreſſion of the mind by words.

It is put for, Meditation, 1 King. 8. 27. marg.

2. A reaſoning of the caſe, Jer. 12. 1. mar.

In an evill part; it is Unprofitable, Job 15. 3.

2. Superfluous, Prov. 14. 23.

3. Proud, 1 Sam. 2. 3.

4. Deceitfull, Job 13. 7.

Tall] Of high ſtature, Deut. 2. 10, 21.

Talmai] A furrow, or delaying waters, or the aſſembling together of waters. A Giant, Numb. 13. 23. Joſh. 15. 14. The King of Geſhur, 2 Sam. 3. 3.

Talmon] Dew prepared. A Porter, 1 Chr. 9. 17. Ezr. 1. 42.

Tamah] Blotting out; or, ſhaving, Neh. 7. 55.

Tamar] A Palm-tree. Gen. 38. 6. The Daughter of David, 2 Sam. 13. to 23. Alſo a City, Ezek. 47. 19. Alſo the Wife of Er, Gen. 38. 6.

Tame] is ſpoken, 1. Of unreaſonable creatures, Jam. 3. 7.

2. Of men that are poſſeſſed with the devil, Mar. 5. 4.

3. Of the tongue, Jam. 3. 8.

Tammuz] Conſumed, or a fire. An Idol worſhipped by the Jews, Ezek. 8. 14. which is (as Jerome ſaith) Adonis, and Adonis is generally interpreted the Sun, from the Hebrew Adon, ſignifying Dominus, for he is the Lord or Prince of the Planets: our June was by the Hebrews called Tammuz. Concerning this Adonis, whom the Ancients call Oſiris, here are two things remarkable: the loſſe, and finding of him again; as there was great lamentation at his loſſe, ſo there was great joy at his finding. By his loſſe, is to be underſtood, the departure of the Sun; by his finding, his return. Now he ſeemeth to depart twice in the yeer:

1. When he is in the Tropick of Cancer.

2. When he is in the Tropick of Capricorn.

Anſwerable unto theſe two departures, there are two returns ſucceeding; which are as it were the findings or new appearings of the Sun. Hence the Adonia were celebrated by the Iews in the moneth of June, when the Sun was furtheſt Northward.

Of this Ezekiel is thought to have ſpoken, ch. 8. 14.

Some Jews ſay, their Tammuz was an Idol, whoſe eyes they filled with lead, which being molten by the means of fire put under it, the Image it ſelf ſeemed to weep. Goodwyn Moſes and Aaron, p. 185, 186.

Tanhumeth] Conſolation. The Father of Seraiah, Jer. 40. 8.

Tanner] One that dreſſeth and fitteth Hides, for Boots, Shooes, &c. Such a one was Simon, with whom Peter lodged, Act. 9. 43.

Tapeſtry] Clothes wrought with pictures of divers colours, uſed for Coverlets, Prov. 7. 16. & 31. 22.

Taphath] A diſtilling from the head. 1 Kin. 4. 11. The Daughter of Solomon.

Tappuah] An apple, a ſwelling in the body; or, a tying. A City, Joſh. 12. 17. & 15. 34. & 16. 8. The Son of Hebron, 1 Chr. 2. 43.

Tarah] A bear, a wretch, or baniſhed man. A manſion, Numb. 33. 27.

Taralah] The ſearching out of ſlander, or the ſearching out of ſtrength, or the Turtle bird of ſlander or ſtrength. A City, Joſh. 18. 27.

Tarea] Howling, doing evill; or, the chamber of guiltfull dealing, or the chamber of a companion; Syr. chauce, or earthly, or leſſer. The Son of Micah, 1 Chr. 8. 35.

Tares] A kinde of grain in the Eaſt-Countreys, ſo like to Wheat (whiles it is in the blade) as hardly the one can be diſcerned from the other, being alſo a very hurtful thing.

2. The children of this world, but eſpecially Hypocrites. Matth. 13. 38. The Tares are the children of the wicked one.

3. All offences in manners and doctrine, being ſo coloured and diſguiſed, as hardly can virtues be known from vices, and errors from truth. Mat. 13. 25. And ſowed tares among the Wheat.

Falſe doctrine when it is diſguiſed, is fitly ſignified by Tares, both becauſe it is the root and ſeed of wicked men: Alſo, for that it doth beſot the minde, as Tares (being taken in drink or bread) do make giddy the brain.

Tares, ζιζάνια, quaſi σπουδάνιον, ſaith Varinus, quia amat triticum, illud ut umbra corpus ſequitur, imitatur, & ſimul areſcit, ac ſi eſſet de tritici genere; i. e. becauſe it loveth the wheat, and imitates it as the ſhadow imitateth the body, and groweth up with it, as if it were of the ſame kinde with the wheat. Mat. 13. 25, 26, 27, 29, 30, 36, 38, 40. It ſhould not be tranſlated tares, or fitches, but evill ſeed.

It is that which we call blaſted corn, or the deaf ears, which grew up with the good corn, which cannot be diſcerned from it until the Harveſt, and then it proveth naught; for fitches and tares may preſently be diſcerned and pulled up. His enemy came and ſowed tares, v. 25. i. e. corrupted that ſeed which ſeemed to be good ſeed. Leigh Crit. Sacr. in the word ζιζάνια.

Target] A defenſive weapon to keep off the blows of an enemy, 1 Sam. 17. 6. 1 Chr. 14. 8.

It ſignifieth a Gorget, which is that peece of the armour that defendeth the neck, 1 Sam. 17. 6. marg.

Tarpelai] Theeves diligent and painfull; Syr. and Heb. the hill of wonder, the keeper of decay, or the leaf of labour. A people, Ezr. 4. v. 9.

Tarry] is put, 1. for, To lodge, Gen. 19. 2.

2. To abide with, and remain, Gen. 27. 44.

3. To

3. To delay, Gen. 45. 9.
4. To ſtay and continue, Exod. 12. 39. & 24. 14.
5. To forſlow, Judg. 5. 28.
6. To dwell, and have fellowſhip, Pſal. 101. 7.
7. To guard, 1 Sam. 30. 24.

It is put for, To eſtabliſh, Pſal. 101. 7. marg. To be ſtill, 1 Sam. 14. 9. marg.

Tarſhis] One of the ſeaven Princes of Perſia, Eſt. 1. 14.

Tarſhiſh] The Ocean, or main Sea. Pſal. 48. 9. Break the ſhips of Tarſhiſh.

Tarſhiſh was the name of the Son of Javan, the Son of Japhet, the Son of Noah, Gen. 10. 4. Of whom, Tarſus a City of Cicilia in Syria, had the name, Gen. 21. 34. From whence they went by ſhipping into far Countreys, Africa, Judea, Ophir, &c. 1 King. 22. 48. & 10. 22. Hereupon that Sea was called Tarſhiſh, and generally the name is applyed to every Ocean.

It ſignifieth a beholding of the ſword, a ſearching out of marble, the Turtle bird of the ſword, a Jaſper ſtone; or, the Sea.

Tarſus] Winged. A City in Cilicia, where Paul was born, Act. 29. 31.

Task-maſters] Exod. 1. 11. Heb. Princes of tasks, or of tributes; that is, Commiſſaries to exact of Iſrael tasks, and ſervile works, as the Greek tranſlateth, Maſters over works; the Chaldee calleth them, Rulers, evill doers. Aynſworth.

To taſte] To take ſome ſlender tryall of meats or drinks, how good they be, before we receive them into our bodies, Job 35. 5. Mat. 27. 34.

2. Slightly to know and beleeve generally the doctrine and promiſe of Chriſt, as a man that taſteth of a cup, and drinks not; or as a Cook, who taſteth the meat, and eateth it not: or laſtly, as a ſick man, who doth taſte meat, which he doth pirk back, or caſt up again. Heb. 6. 4, 5. For it is impoſſible that they which were once inlightened, and have taſted of the heavenly gift.

3. To take experience of a thing, having indeed tryed it. Pſal. 34. 9. Taſte and ſee how good the Lord is. 1 Pet. 2. 3. It ſignifies that joy which they have which earneſtly imbrace Chriſt, out of knowledge of him.

4. To eat a little, 1 Sam. 14. 24, 29, 43. Luk. 14. 34.
5. To reliſh, 2 Sam. 19. 35.
6. To drink, Dan. 5. 2.
7. To die, Heb. 2. 9.

To taſte death] To die, or to feel death. Mat. 16. 28. There be ſome here that ſhall not taſte of death.

Tatler] One that ſpeaks fooliſhly and raſhly of things they underſtand not, or concern them not, 1 Tim. 5. 13. To be ſuch is proper unto fools, Eccleſ. 5. 3. & 10. 14. and Infidels, Mat. 6. 7.

Tatnai] Rewarding. Governour on this ſide the River, Ezr. 5. 3.

Tabern] A place where men meet, to talk, be merry, and refreſh themſelves with wine. There ſtood three ſuch about a days journey from Rome, Act. 28. 15.

Taunt] To be a by-word in every bodies mouth, and a laughing ſtock, Jer. 24. 9. Ezek. 5. 15. Hab. 2. 6.

To tax] To lay on a certain rate or ſum of money, Exod. 21. 30. 2 King. 23. 35.

It is put for, To value, or eſteem worthy of, Job 28. 16, 17. and, To inroll, Luk. 2. 1, 3, 5.

T E.

To teach] To cauſe to learn; which God doth effectually, by inlightening the heart unto knowledge and faith of the Word; and men inſtrumentally, by interpreting the the Word, and by lively voyce familiarly propounding inſtructions to the outward ear. Jer. 31. 34. They ſhall be all taught of God. Pſal. 119. 26. Teach me thy ſtatutes. Act. 20. 21. Matt. 28. 9. Go teach all Nations.

Teaching is by publick and private perſons; by words, works, ſignes, and creatures, &c. Galat. 6. 6 Even by afflictions alſo.

Note. Teaching hath in it Interpretation, Doctrine and Application. See Luk. 4. 18. Act. 8. 32, 33. Pſal. 94. 12. Gods Law teacheth both cheerfully to bear the Croſſe; and how to profit by them to amendment, as alſo from whom they come, to what end, and for what cauſe.

To teach is performed 4 wayes.

I. By precept, Pſal. 119. 31.

II. By example, Prov. 24. 32.

III. By experience, Gen. 37. 27.

IV. By ſuffering, Heb. 5. 8. Judg. 8.16.

In reſpect of all theſe, Chriſt is the moſt perfect Teacher.

1. Concerning Precept, Mar. 4. 34. He expounds every parable privately.

2. By Example, Joh. 13. 15.

3. By Experience, he taught them practiſe.

1 In increaſing in knowledge, Matth. 17. 13.

2 In caſting out ſpirits, Mat. 10. 1.

4. By his Suffering; and,

1 As he ſuffered by reproof, ſo he taught by reproof, Mat. 15. 16. & 16. 12. in their ignorance of the Leaven: and ver. 23. he reproved Peter for his counſell: & Mar. 10. 14. for keeping children from him: and thus they learned by reprehenſion. So Pro. 17. 16. Sharp words to the wiſe are better then whips to the fool.

He taught alſo by Stripes, when it was needfull, Joh. 2. 15, 16. when they made the Houſe of God dens for theeves.

It ſignifieth ſometimes, Really to effect that which is taught. In which reſpect it is proper onely to God. Thus he is ſaid to teach us the good wayes wherein we ought to walk, 1 King. 8. 36. 2 Chr. 6. 27. Pſal. 25. 45. Iſa. 2. 3. Mic. 4. 2. Thus it is to be underſtood, 2 Sam. 22. 35. Pſal. 18. 35. & 144. 1. This is the teaching of the holy Ghoſt, Joh. 14. 26. 1 Joh. 2. 27. Hence the faithful are ſaid to be taught of God, Iſa. 54. 13. Jer. 31. 34. Joh. 6. 45. 1 Theſſ. 4. 9. i. e. are really made ſuch as they are taught to be.

2. It ſignifieth, To accuſtome unto, Jer. 9. 5, 14, 20.

3. To admoniſh, Jer. 32. 33. Mar. 8. 31. & 9. 31.

4. To counſell and adviſe, Rev. 2. 14. Job 8. 10.

5. To ſuggeſt, and inſpire, Luk. 12. 12. Mat. 10. 10, 20.

6. To give notice, and ſignifie. Thus the wicked are ſaid to teach with their fingers, Pro. 6. 13.

7. To prove and demonſtrate, Hab. 2. 19.

8. To whet, or ſharpen, Deut. 6. 7. marg.

Teacher] A publick Miniſter, which by wholeſome doctrine inſtructeth the Church, beating down errors. Epheſ. 4. 11. He gave ſome to be Teachers.

Such as by private inſtruction help others to know the things of God. Tit. 2. 3. Teachers of honeſt things. Thus Parents, and Maſters, and common Chriſtians are Teachers: the former by publick, the latter by private authority.

Tear] To rent aſunder, or pull in pieces, Hoſ. 13. 8. Deut. 33. 20.

It is put for, To puniſh, Judg. 8. 7.

2. To deſtroy, Pſal. 7. 2. & 50. 22. Jer. 15. 3. Amos 1. 11.

3. To vex and afflict, Pſal. 35. 15. To threſh, Judg. 8. 7. marg.

Tear] A water iſſuing out of the eye, from the moyſtneſſe of the brain, as witneſſe of ſome inward grief. Pſal. 6. 6. I water my couch with tears. And 42. 3. My tears are, &c.

2. Sorrow and afflictions, the cauſe of tears. Revel. 21. 4. All tears ſhall be wiped from their eyes. Pſalm 126. 5. If ye ſow in tears, &c.

Tears] See Weep.

To wipe of all tears off all faces] To remove all inward heavyneſſe, and outward calamities which cauſeth tears, Iſa. 25. 8. This to be fulfilled in the reſtitution of the the Jews to the Kingdome of Chriſt, when Turks and Popiſh rout being rooted out and ſubdued, there ſhould be no power and tyrant to oppreſſe the truth of the Goſpel, and the profeſſors of it, as it was wont to be under Antichriſt and the Turk. See Rev. 21. 4.

Teats] To lament the teats, Iſa. 32. 12. is, To be grieved for the loſſe of plenty and proſperity, formerly enjoyed.

To bruiſe the teats of virginity, Ezek. 23. 3, 21. is, To commit ſpiritual whoredome in the worſhipping of Idols. See Breaſts, Paps.

Tebah] A Cook. Gen. 22. 24. The Son of Nahor.

Tebaliah] The baptiſme of the Lord; or, goodneſſe to the Lord himſelf. 1 Chr. 26. 11.

Tebeth] Good, or goodneſſe. A moneth, Eſt. 2. 16. It began the eleventh of our December, and it was the beginning of Winter. It it ſuppoſed to have his notation from טבח, Tebah, a Fallow-deer, or a Doe; becauſe in this moneth Does (eſpecially if they be barren) are moſt ſeaſonable for meat. Annot.

Tedious] To be wearyſome to the hearer by unneceſſary talk, not concerning the matter, Act. 24. 4.

Teeth] are thoſe white bones within the gumme, Prov. 10. 26.

It is put, 1. For the mouth, Num. 11. 23.

2. The power, wrath, and fury of the wicked, Pſal. 3. 7. & 58. 6. Joel 1. 6.

3. The

3. The ſlanders and falſe accuſations of the wicked, Pſal. 57. 4. Prov. 30. 14.

To bite with the teeth, is, To devour, Mic. 3. v. 5.

To break the teeth, is, To take away the power and means of hurt, Pſ. 3. 7. & 58. 62. To afflict, Lam. 3. 16.

Broken tooth. Vain confidence, Prov. 25. 19.

Cleanneſſe of teeth, is underſtood of great famine, Amos 4. 6.

To gnaſh with the teeth. By this phraſe is underſtood:

1. The rage and fury of the wicked, Act. 7. 54.

2. The pain that men are in in this life, Mar. 9. 18,

3. The eternall torment in hell, Matth. 8. 12. & 13. 42, 50. & 22. 13. & 24. 51. & 25. 30.

Teeth ſet on edge, ſignifieth, Puniſhment, Jer. 31. 29, 30.

Teeth white with milk, ſignifieth, Abundance and proſperity, Gen. 49. 12.

Tebaphnehes] A motion, or moved. A City, Ezek. 30. 18.

Tehinnah] A beſeeching, mercifull prayer, or very thankfull, or favour. 1 Chr. 4. 12. The Son of Eſhton.

As a Teile tree, or an Oak] That as theſe trees which loſe their leaf and beauty in Winter, yet keeping their ſubſtance in the root, do flouriſh again in the Spring, when the Sun draweth out the ſap into the branches: ſo ſhould that people of Judah be, though ſpoyled of their honour and glory, being carried captive into Babylon, yet in the holy ſeed, a ſubſtance ſhould remain, the elect reſerved, when the reprobates were faln like leaves from a tree in the Autumne. Iſa. 6. 3. As a Teile, and as an Oak, ſhall the holy ſeed be.

Tekel] Dan. 5. 25. Thou art weighed in the ballances. Ib. 27.

Tekoa] A pipe, a moyſe, faſtening. The name of a man, 1 Chr. 2. 24. & 4. 5. Of a Town ſix miles from Jeruſalem, 2 Sam. 14. 2. Amos 1. 1. the inhabitant is called a Tekoite, 1 Chr. 11. 28.

Tement] South, perfect. The Son of Aſhur by Naarah, 1 Chr. 4. 6.

Temperance] is a virtue, teaching us to moderate our appetite in the uſe of pleaſures, gifts, and creatures of God, that we may be the better fitted for Chriſtian duties, and our particular calling. It ought to be carefully followed after by all, 2 Pet. 1. 6. 1 Cor. 9, 25. eſpecially by Magiſtrates, Act. 24. 25. and Miniſters, Tit. 1. 8. It is a fruit of the Spirit, Gal. 5. 23.

For the better practiſing of this virtue; we muſt,

1. Uſe moderation in meat and drink; i. e. to eat and drink with abſtinence; which is to take leſſe (and not more) then nature deſires, for thereby we are the more fitted for Gods ſervice, and ſuch a meaſure onely God doth allow.

2. We muſt moderate the appetite in apparel, which is done when it is according to our ſex, faſhion of our Countrey, and our ability.

3. We muſt uſe moderation in getting goods; which is to be contented with food and rayment for our ſelves and families, 1 Tim. 6. 8. The King himſelfe muſt not multiply his gold, though he hath more need of it then any private man, Deut. 17.17.

4. We muſt uſe moderation in ſpending our goods, not in prodigality, and waſting, eſpecially when the family lacketh at home. Perkins 2. vol. p. 340. 1. col. 6.

Temper] To mix together, Exod. 29. 2. & 30. 35. Ezek. 46. 14.

It is put for, To order and proportion, 1 Cor. 12. 24.

It ſignifieth, To ſalt, Exod. 30. 35. marg.

Tempeſt] A vehement wind, or ſtorm of rain or hail, Iſa. 28. 2. Jonah 1. 4, 12. Mat. 8. 24. Act. 27. 18, 20.

It is put for the heavy judgements of God, both upon the godly for their tryall, Job 9. 17. and upon the wicked for their deſtruction, Pſal. 11. 6. & 55. 8. & 83. 15.

Temple] A houſe built for divine worſhip, ſuch was the Temple of Jeruſalem. It was divided in 3 parts. The Court of Iſrael: The Court of the Prieſts, and Gods Court. In reſpect of theſe three Courts Jeremy thrice repeats the words, The Temple of the Lord, Jer. 7. 4. Within the Holyeſt of all ſtood the Ark, 1 King. 8. 9. In it the Lord did ſhew himſelf in his glory to the Prieſt, once in the year. It was was called χρηματιστήριον, becauſe it was neceſſary for him to goe in there to conſult with the Lord for the people.

When the Prieſt entred into the Holyeſt, he carried with him blood, incenſe, and ſmoak; he darkened the Holyeſt of all with the ſmoak, for no man ſhall ſee the Lord and live, Exod. 33. 20.

It differed from our Temples, which are but loci ut loci, but it was locus ut ſic; i. e. in ſuch a reſpect: it was a place, for it was a mean of Gods worſhip, a part of their Ceremonial worſhip, and a type of the body of Chriſt, Joh. 2. 19. Therefore they were bound to ſet their faces towards it when they prayed; our Temples are only loci ut loci, only a place; they are not a part of the worſhip of God, nor types of the body of Chriſt, nor are we bound in prayer to ſet our faces towards them; they are called places of prayer, onely becauſe the Saints meet there, and if the meeting of the Saints were not in them, they were but like other common places; the Temple of Jeruſalem ſanctified the meeting of the Saints, but the meeting of the Saints ſanctifies our Temples; they might not buy nor ſell in the Temple of Jeruſalem, becauſe it was the Houſe of prayer; the morall reaſon obliges us now, no man may buy nor ſell in our Temples, becauſe they are the Houſes of prayer. Weems Chriſt. Syn. p. 103. & 110.

It is put for the body of Chriſt, Joh. 2. 19. becauſe in it, as in a Temple, the Godhead dwels bodily, Col. 2. 9. and becauſe it was ſignified by the Temple of Jeruſalem.

2. It is put for Heaven, the place of happineſſe, Rev. 7. 15.

3. For the Tabernacle, 1 Sam. 1. 9. & 3. 3. 2 Sam. 22. 7. 2 Sam. 22. 7. Pſa. 18. 7.

4. For the Church both diſtributively conſidered in the particular members thereof, 1 Cor. 6. 19. and collectively, in reſpect of the whole, Eph. 2. 21. 1 Cor. 3. 16. Rev. 11. 1.

Temple of Idols] An houſe erected for the ſervice of Idols. 1 Cor. 8. 10. Sit at Table in the Idols Temple.

Temporall] 2 Cor. 4. 18. that which dureth but a while, as the Originall πρόσκαιρος is rendred, Mat. 13. 21. endureth but a time, Mar. 5. 17.

To tempt] To make proof of a thing by queſtion, or otherwiſe, for knowledge ſake; for that is the end of temptation, to gain knowledge thereby.

2. To make tryall and proof of our faith, patience, and love towards God. Gen. 22. 1. God tempted Abraham. This temptation is commonly by proſperity or affliction: and the end of it is to make it known to our ſelves what is in us, either good or bad. Deut. 8. 2. Tempting thee, that he might know what is in thy heart; that is, make it known to thy ſelfe, for the all-ſeeing God cannot be ignorant what is in us. Thus God is ſaid to tempt.

3. To ſift us by ſubtil ſuggeſtions, that all grace may be ſhaken out of our hearts, and nothing leſt but the Bran or Chaffe of corruption. 1 Theſſ. 3. 5. Leſt the Tempter had tempted you in any ſort. Thus Satan tempteth, not to try, but to deſtroy.

4. To intice and move one to ſin, Jam. 1. 14. And every man is tempted when he is drawn aſide of his owne concupiſcence. Thus Luſt tempteth; but God tempteth not thus, Gal. 6. 1.

5. To make tryall of Gods power and juſtice, whether he can and will help or hurt. Exod. 17. 2. Wherefore do you tempt the Lord? Thus men tempt God through diſtruſt.

6. To forſake the ordinary means of our good, preſuming too much upon Gods help. Mat. 4. 7. Thou ſhalt not tempt the Lord thy God. Thus men tempt God by curioſity and preſumption, to try whether God will uſe any way to ſuccour them, other then is appointed: When men will not beleeve that God can help them without a miracle, Iſa. 7. 12. Deut. 6. 16. Luk. 11. 16.

7. To

7. To ſeek matter and occaſion againſt other men, for which to reprehend and accuſe them. Mat. 16. 1. Then came the Phariſees to tempt him. Thus Man tempteth Man, by captious and by ſubtle queſtions.

Note. Tempting by the Originall word in the Hebrew ſignifies lifting up as for a ſigne, or aſſaying of ſomething, as God tempteth men, when he requireth ſome great or high experiment of their faith, love, obedience, as Gen. 22. 1. Exod. 15. 26. Deut. 8. 2. & 13. 3. And the end of Gods temptation is alwayes to doe us good in the end, Deut. 18. 16. 1 Cor. 10. 13. Whereas the temptation of Satan, Matth. 4. 1, 4. and of our owne corruption, Jam. 1. 13. alwayes tendeth to evill, being a ſoliciting of us to ſin.

It's ſpoken, 1. Of God tempting Man, Gen. 22. 1.

2. Of Man tempting God, Exod. 17. 2. Mal. 3. 15. Chriſt, Mat. 22. 18. Mar. 12. 15. the holy Ghoſt, Act. 5. 9.

3. Of Satan tempting Man, 1 Cor. 7. 5. and Jeſus Chriſt, Mat. 4. 1, 3.

4. Of our owne fleſh, Jam. 1. 13.

Temptation] Probation, tryal, or proof of any thing or perſon, to get the true knowledge of it, for knowledge is the end of Temptation.

2. Afflictions and croſſes, by which men are tryed. Jam. 1. 2, 14. Count it exeeeding joy when ye fall into ſundry temptations. This is Temptation of probation, ſerving to manifeſt what is in us, unto our ſelves and others.

3. Inward ſuggeſtions of Satan, or outward proſperity of life, as baits and ſnares to catch us. Matthew 6. 13. Lead us not into temptation. Matthew 26. 41. Pray leſt ye fall into temptation. Luke 4. 13. When he had ended his temptation; that is, temptation to perdition.

4. Scandall upon the taking of Chriſt, Mat. 26. 41.

5. Perſecution and trouble for Religion, Luk. 8. 13.

To fall into temptation] To be overcome, when through weakneſſe we yeeld unto wicked motions and affections, and unto occaſions of evill. Matt. 26. 41. Leſt ye fall into temptation, for the fleſh is weak.

Humane temptation] Some tryal, wherein doth appear great weakneſſe, ſuch as accompanies the nature of man. 1 Cor. 10. 13. No temptation hath taken you, but ſuch as is humane, or which pertaineth unto men. The meaning is, that the Chriſtians of Corinth, which for fear of giving offence to their idolatrous Neighbours, went into their Temples of Idols, there to eat meat ſacrificed to Idols, had herein ſhewed themſelves men, yeelding to humane frailty; and therefore it behoved them to be more conſtant afterwards, that God might be with them in all temptations that ſhould befall them, for the time to come.

To lead into temptation] To put or bring one in the power of Satan the Tempter, delivering him as a juſt Judge, to the will and pleaſure of the Devill, to be carryed captive of him. Mat. 6. 13. Lead us not into temptation, God puts one in the power of Satan, as a Judge doth put a Malefactor over unto the Hang-man.

The Tempter] The Devil by his wicked ſuggeſtions proving and ſeeking whom he may deſtroy. 1 Theſſ. 3. 5. Leſt the Tempter had tempted you in any ſort. 1 Pet. 5. 8. Mat. 4. 3. Then the Tempter came to him.

Ten] ſignifies many, a diſtinct number, uſed for an indefinite, Joh. 19 3. Lev. 26. 26. Numb. 14. 22. Gen. 30. 7.

Ten dayes] A certain ſpace of time (very ſhort) wherein God would afflict his Church. Rev. 2. 10. And ye ſhall have tribulation ten dayes. Gen. 31. 7. Numb. 14. 22. Job 13. 3. Ten times put for oftentimes. A finite number for an indefinite number.

Ten horns] Many Kings and Provinces, which did give their authority, power, and force (meant by the Horns, wherein lyeth the ſtrength of Beaſts) to erect, enlarge, and eſtabliſh the tyranny of Eccleſiaſticall Rome. Rev. 17. 12, 13. And the ten Horns which thou ſaweſt are ten Kings.

Ten Virgins] The viſible Church, conſiſting of wiſe and fooliſh; that is, godly, and wicked. Mat. 25. 1. Then the Kingdome of Heaven ſhall be likened unto ten Virgins.

Tenth] ſignifies a remnant left of a far greater number; or a very few of many. Iſa. 6. 17. In it ſhall be a tenth. Amos 5. 3.

Tend] To lead and direct, Prov. 10. 16. & 11. 19. & 19. 23.

Tender] is put, 1. for weak, Gen. 33. 19.

2. For delicately brought up; ſpoken of them who were never uſed to a hard kinde of life, and cannot endure the leaſt hurt, Deut. 28. 56.

3. Dearly beloved, Prov. 4, 3. Dan. 1. 9.

4. Pitifull hearted, Eph. 4. 32.

5. It is referred to the heart, which is ſaid to be tender, when it cannot endure the leaſt ſin againſt God, but is grieved for it, 2 Chr. 34. 27.

Tender mercies] Moſt inward feeling and affectionate compaſſions, like unto motherly pitifulneſſe and kindeneſſe, which is hard to tell how tender and great it is. Luk. 1. 78. The tender mercies of our God.

Tenons] Exod. 26. 17. called in Hebrew, hands, for that they held faſt in the mortaiſes of the ſockets. Aynſworth.

Tenour] Rule, order, Gen. 43. 7.

2. Preſcript, ſumme, form, Exod. 34. 27. It ſignifieth the mouth, Gen. 43. 7. marg.

Tent] A place to dwell in, ſo made, as it might be removed and carryed to and fro. Num. 5. 3. Gen. 4. 20. Jubal was the Father of ſuch as dwelt in tents. Exod. 18. 17. See Tabernacle.

God cauſed an habitation to be made in the wilderneſſe, wherein he dwelt among men, Exod. 26. Pſal. 78. 60. That manſion made of ten Curtains he called a Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 2. Pſal. 26. 8. Over this other Curtains were made, and caſt as a covering, called a tent or covering, Exod. 6. 2, 7. Hereupon the whole place is ſometime called a Tent, and ſometime a Tabernacle, Pſal. 15. 1. To this Tent (till the Temple was built by Solomon) all Gods people were wont to come to worſhip, Lev. 17. 4, 5. Deut. 12. 5, 6. It was a moveable place, and ſo diſſered from an houſe or ſetled habitation, 2 Sam. 7. 6. 1 Chron. 17. 5. yet for the uſe was ſometime called an Houſe.

Tent] Movable, as thoſe in the Wilderneſſe, Numb. 9. 20, 22. & 16. 26. and in time of War, 2 Sam. 11. 11. 2 King. 7. 16. and in travelling, Ezr. 8. 15.

Unmovable, ſetled places to dwell in, 2 Sam. 20. 1. 1 King. 12. 16. 2 King. 13. 5. & 14. 12.

It's alſo put for the Covering of the Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 7, 11.

A Tenth] The ſmall number of the Jews, which ſhall be ſaved from ſpiritual and bodily calamity, which are called the Tenth, becauſe for their paucity and fewneſſe; alſo becauſe they are ſacred and holy to God, as the Tenths were, Lev. 27. Iſa. 6. 13. Yet in it ſhall be a Tenth.

To live in Tents] To exerciſe the trade of a Shepheard. Gen. 25. 27. Jacob dwelt in Tents.

2. To look unto houſhold affairs, that they be well governed. Gen. 4. 20. Jubal was the Father of thoſe which dwell (or live) in Tents.

Tents of Shem] The viſible and publick meeting of the Church of God, (which was in families untill the birth of Enoch, Gen. 4. 26. and after in great aſſemblies) Gen. 9. 26, 27. To dwel in the Tents of Shem. He ſpeaks after the cuſtome of thoſe times, which was to dwell in Tents like Pilgrims, which had no permanent City, but looked for one in Heaven.

Tents of wickedneſſe] A place without the Church of God, wherein dwels no goodneſſe nor holineſſe. Pſal. 84. 10. Then to dwell in the Tents of wickedneſſe; that is, among Infidels and wicked men.

Terah] Smelling, breathing; or, driving away. The Father of Abraham, Gen. 11. 26. 1 Chr. 1. 26. Joſh. 24. 2.

Teraphim] Images, or forms, Judg. 17. 5. Hoſ. 3. 4. It ſignifieth,

1. In generall, the compleat image of a man, 1 Sam. 19. 13.

2. An idol made for mens private uſe, in their own houſe, which were (as it were) their houſhold gods, Gen. 31. 30. Judg. 17. 5. They are called gods, becauſe of the worſhip exhibited to them. Hence cometh σεβάνειν, to worſhip.

The manner of their making (as Elias in Thisbi tels) was, they took a childe uncircumciſed, whoſe head they pinched off with their nails, which they ſeaſoned with ſalt and ſpices, and put a little plate of gold under the tongue, and writ upon it the name of an unclean ſpirit, which they worſhipped.

The uſe of theſe Images, was to conſult with them with as Oracles, concerning things for the preſent unknown, or future, to come. To this purpoſe they were made by Aſtrologers, under certain conſtellations, capable of heavenly influences, whereby they were enabled to ſpeak, Zech 10. 2. And one reaſon why Rachel ſtole her Fathers Images was, that he ſhould not conſult with them, to know what way Jacob took in his flight. Goodwyn Moſes and Aaron. lib. 4. c. 9.

Concerning the Teraphim that Michol kept in her houſe; Note, that it is taken three wayes in Scripture.

1. Univocè, for the Teraphims which the Magicians uſed, Gen. 31. 19.

2. Analogicè, for the Idols which the Idolaters worſhipped, Judg. 18. 14. & 17. 5. Theſe were not like Laban's Teraphim, but were ſo called by way of Analogie; for the worſhipping of Idols is the worſhipping of devils, 1 Cor. 10. 21.

3. Æquivocè, ſuch was that of Mical, 1 Sam. 19. 13. made only to the form of a man, for it is not likely that David who had a care to purge his houſe of all abominations, Pſal.

101. would have ſuffered his houſe to be polluted with Teraphim, either in the firſt or ſecond ſenſe. Weems Degen. Sons. p. 88.

Teraphims] Gen. 31.19. were Images in the ſhape of men, as may be gathered, 1 Sam. 19. 13, 16. And that they were images and repreſentations uſed in divine worſhip; See for that Judg. 17.5. & 18.14, 17, 20. Hoſ. 3.4. And by Ezek. 31. 21. Zach. 10. 2. It ſeemeth that Idolaters conſulted with their gods by them, and had Oracles.

Tereſh] as Terah. Eſt. 2.21. One of Ahaſuerus his Chamberlains.

Termed] Iſa. 62. 4. called, named. Heb. It ſhall not be ſaid any more to thee, Forſaken.

Terreſtrial] 1 Cor. 15. 40. Earthly, as the Originall ἐπίγεια, is rendred, Joh. 3.12. 2 Cor. 5.1. Phil. 3.19. Jam. 3.15.

Terrible] is ſpoken of things or perſons cauſing fear and terrour: As,

1. Of ſuch things as are of a horrible aſpect; either in ſleep, Dan. 2.31. or awake, as Satyres, which in part are like a Man, partly like a Goat, and partly like an Ape; they love waſte and deſolate places, Iſa. 34.14. Jer. 50.39. Iſa. 13.22.

2. As are of a great power, ſtrength, and cruelty; as the fourth beaſt in Daniel's viſion, Dan. 7.17. Thus the Caldeans are ſaid to be a terrible Nation, becauſe of their ſtrength and cruelty, Hab. 1.7.

3. As are of great courage, and admirable fortitude, Cant. 6.4, 10. Job 15.24. Joel 2. v. 5.

It is ſpoken of Gods Name, Pſal. 111.9. Exod. 15.11. Neh. 1.5. Pſal. 96.4. becauſe he is to be reverenced and had in great admiration; and of the Works of God, becauſe of the greatneſſe and wonderfulneſſe of them, which he works either for the ſalvation of his people or deſtruction of his enemies, Pſal. 65.6. Deut. 34.12. but above all at the Red Sea, Pſal. 106.22.

It is alſo applyed to the Works of Chriſt, for the greatneſſe and wonderfulneſſe of them in the work of our Redemption, Pſal. 45.5.

It ſignifieth ſcornfull, watchfull for iniquity, Iſa. 29.20. marg. and haſty, Hab. 1.7. marg.

Terrour] A great fear, and aſtoniſhment, Gen. 35.5. Lev. 26.16.

It is put for the cauſe ſtriking terrour: as,

1. Afflictions and calamities, Pſal. 73.19. & 78.33. Deut. 4.34. Pſal. 55.6. & 86.16.

2. The laſt judgement, 2 Cor. 5.10.

3. Wrath and indignation, Prov. 20.2.

Secondly, for the effect it ſelf, Phil. 1.28. 2 Theſſ. 2.2.

In which reſpect it is put for horrour and quaking, Pſal. 55.4.

2. For amazement and aſtoniſhment, Joſh. 2.9. Pſal. 91.5. Jer. 20.4.

The cauſes of it are,

1. God, 2 Chr. 14.14. who puts it into all creatures, Gen. 9.2. In Abraham, Gen. 15.12. Canaanites, Exod. 23.17. Deut. 2.25. and into the wicked for their ſins, Exod. 15. 15, 16, 17. Lev. 26.16. Deut. 32.25.

2. Great dangers, Pſal. 55.5. 1 Sam. 25. 37. 2 King. 19.26.

3. Things unuſuall, and unheard of; as the wonderfull Works God worketh in favour of his Church, Exod. 15.14, 15, 16. Extraordinary teſtimonies of the anger and wrath of God, Dan. 5.5, 6, 9.

4. The horrible judgements of God upon ſinners, Job 31.34. & 9.34.

5. Death, called the King of terrours, Job 18.14. Pſal. 55.4.

The effects are,

1. Torment of minde, Lev. 26.16.

2. Fleeing away, Deut. 28.65. Pſal. 48. 6, 7. 2 King. 7.5.

3. Change of the countenance, Ezek. 27. 35. Iſa. 13.8.

4. Weakening of the ſtrength of the body, 1 Sam. 28.20. Dan. 10.8.

5. Horrour, and trembling, Dan. 5.5, 6, 9.

6. Deſtruction, and death, Pſal. 88.16. & 73.19.

Tertius] The third. The name of a man, Rom. 16.22.

Tertullus] Declaring falſe things, a lyer; or, wondrous. An Oratour againſt Paul, Act. 24. 1, 2, 10.

Teſtament] That which we commonly call a mans Will, and appointment for the beſtowing of his goods amongſt his children, or kindred and friends. Gal. 3.15. Though it be but a mans Teſtament. Heb. 9. 15, 17.

2. An appointment or agreement between God and Man, touching free ſalvation by faith in Chriſt. Mat. 26.28. For this is my blood of the New Teſtament. This is called a Teſtament, becauſe it was ratified and confirmed by the death and bloud-ſhed of him, who made the Covenant or agreement with us; to wit, of Chriſt, and containeth (as it were) his laſt Will written dow.

3. The Book or Tables wherein the Teſtament is written, 2 Cor. 3.14.

New Teſtament] The Covenant of God, in regard of the diſpenſation of it under the Goſpel, by Chriſt, towards Chriſtian people, without ſuch Types and Propheſies. Alſo, with few Ceremonies, and with much more cleerneſſe, and fuller revelation of the truth, and more plentiful graces of the Spirit, to endure alwayes new, and the ſame to the end of the world, Jer. 31. 33,34. Act. 2. 17,18. This divers manner of adminiſtration, and delivery of the Covenant or Teſtament, cauſeth it, that being but one in ſubſtance, (to wit, ſalvation by faith in Chriſt) yet it is called Old and New Teſtament, as if it were two, Heb. 8. 9,10. See Covenant.

Old Teſtament] The agreement or covenant of God, which is called [Old] in regard of the firſt diſpenſation of it by Moſes, toward the Jews, in many figures and ſhadows of Rites and Sacrifices, and with other obſcure and dark revelations by Propheſies; which diſpenſation is now ended. Heb. 8. 13. In that he ſaith, a New Teſtament, he hath abrogated the Old.

Two Teſtaments] Two types, and figures to ſhadow forth in ſome ſort, and to repreſent the two Covenants of Grace and Works. Gal. 4. 22. For theſe are the two Teſtaments, the one, &c. Agar which with her Son Iſmael was abiding in Arabia, doth repreſent the Legal Covenant, (or of the Law) which was publiſhed in Sinai a Mountain of Arabia; and ſtriketh the hearts of ſinners with ſervile fear, becauſe none can keep it, and it threatneth eternall death to all that break it. Therefore, ſuch as truſted in the Ceremonies and Works of the Law, done by their owne ſtrength, are lyable to the curſe, and caſt out of the family or Church of God, (as Agar and Iſmael out of Abraham's houſe) that they never enjoy the inheritance of the life which is eternall. But Sarah, who not by naturall ſtrength that ſhe lacked, but by virtue of Gods promiſe, bore Iſaac of Abraham; ſhe repreſents the Evangelical Covenant, or promiſe of grace, wherein ſuch as freely be begotten of the Spirit, doe put their truſt, and are thereby juſtified and become inheritours of heaven, as Iſaac the Son of the promiſe, enjoyed his Fathers inheritance. Theſe two Covenants being weighed in the ballance of falſe Apoſtles, who aſcribed part of ſalvation to the works of the Law; or of the Phariſees, who imbraced the Law in ſtead of Chriſt; then theſe Covenants are not onely two, but flat contrary to themſelves: whence ariſeth the concluſion ſet downe by the Apoſtle. Gal. 5. 2, 4. Chriſt profiteth you nothing; ye are faln from grace, if you be juſtified by the Law, &c.

New Teſtament hath commonly one of theſe three acceptions.

1. Reconciliation of all elect ſinners with God, through the blood of Chriſt.

2. The doctrine which teacheth agreement, either by voyce or writing.

3. The Cup in the Lords Supper, which ſealeth this reconcilement, Mat. 26. 26,27. 2 Cor. 3. 6.

In Teſtaments divine and humane, there be exrmples of unproper and figurative ſpeeches. See Gen. 17. 11,12. Matth. 26. 26,27. Gen. 49. Deut. 33. 2 Sam. 23. 1 King. 2. 1. Mat. 2. Tob. 4.

Teſtator] Heb. 9. 16, 17. He that maketh a Teſtament.

To teſtifie] To bear witneſſe of any perſon or thing, by word or work. 1 Joh. 5. 9. Which he teſtified of his Son.

Teſtifie] is put for, To condemn, Deut. 31. 21. Job 15. 6. Pſal. 50. 7.

2. To declare, 1 Theſſ. 4. 6. Luk. 16. 28.

3. To avouch, and affirm, Joh. 3. 11. & 4. 44. & 13. 21.

4. To adjure, Eph. 4. 17.

5. To deſire earneſtly in teaching the truth, Act. 2. 40.

Teſtimony] The whole Scripture or Word of God. Pſal. 19. 7. The teſtimony of the Lord is ſure, and giveth wiſdome unto the ſimple. The Word of God is called a Teſtimony, becauſe it containeth Articles of the Teſtament, or Covenant, both on Gods part, and ours, witneſſing his good will to us, and our duty to him; what good he means us, and what duty we ſhould doe to him. Sometime this word [Teſtimony] ſignifies Doctrine, agreeable to the Word, 2 Theſſ. 1. 10. Gods Law hath this name, not for the former reaſon onely, but alſo for the conteſtation and earneſt charge concerning it: And alſo, becauſe it teſtifieth the wiſdome, power, and goodneſſe of God more plentifully then the book of Gods works doe, Pſal. 19. 7.

2. The word of precepts and commandements, which are witneſſes of Gods will, what he would have us doe. Pſal. 119. 2. Bleſſed are they which keep his teſtimonies. Pſal. 25. 9.

3. The Ark, becauſe the Teſtimonies were kept in it. Exod. 16. 34. Aaron laid it before the Teſtimony. Numb. 7. 89. Exod. 25. 21. Alſo it ſignifieth the Tabernacle wherein the Ark was.

4. A good report from others, witneſſing well, well, 2 Tim. 1. 8. Act. 16. 2. Either Christ, or his Gospel, which testifieth of him, 1 Tim. 2. 6.

5. The two Tables of Stone, wherein the Law was written. Exod. 40. 20. And he took and put the Testimony in the Ark. Exod. 25. 16, 21. & 31. 18.

Ark of testimony] A Chest, wherein were put the two Tables of Stone, containing the Law, which is the Testimony of his will. Exod. 30. 6. After thou shalt set it before the vail, that is neer the Ark of the Testimony. Also God did there use to give his people visible testimonies of his presence. The putting of the Testimony or two Tables of the Covenant into the Ark, Exod. 25. 21. this signified that Christ was the end of the Law, Rom. 10. 4. And had testimony from it, Rom. 3. 21, 22, 23. And that God will not accept of any our obedience of the Law, unless the blemishes of our sins, and the wants of our obedience be hid and purged by Christ, whereupon he is called the propitiation of our sins, 1 Joh. 2. 2. Whereas without the Ark (yet before it) were put and set a golden pot, Heb. 9. 4. which had the hidden Manna, Exod. 16. 33, 34. and Aaron's Rod which had budded, Numb. 17. 8, 10. The former signifieth the glory of eternall life hidden in Christ, as Rev. 2. 18. The latter, that they were daily to be destroyed for their rebellions, unless they were forgiven and covered by Christ.

To binde the testimony] To wrap and fold up the volume and roul, wherein was written, as vers. 2, 3. the testimony of God touching his defence of Judah, against the two Kings of Syria and Israel, lest it should be any more in the sight of a people which made but a mock and scorn at it, Isa. 8. 16.

Testimony of Jesus Christ] is the Gospel of Christ, Rev. 1. 9. & 12. 17. It is so called,

1. Because it is revealed by Christ, in regard whereof he is called the faithfull witnesse, Rev. 1. 5. and none could open the book but he, Rev. 4. 9.

2. The subject of it is Christ, or the doctrine of faith and salvation wrought by Christ alone, Rom. 1. 2.

3. It was testified unto by Christ; not only revealing it by his divine doctrine, but also by his holy life, mighty miracles, faithfull profession before the Jews, Pharisees, Pontius Pilate, the whole Councel, and by his innocent death.

4. Because the end of it is onely Christ, it aims at his glory, Act. 2. vers. 36.

To have the testimony of Jesus Christ] is,

1. To preach the Gospel. So John bare record of the testimony of Christ, Rev. 1. 2. & 14. 10.

2. To professe the Gospel to uphold and maintain it, to give witnesse unto it, and to hold it in life and death, as in Rev. 20. 4. it is said of the Martyrs.

Tetrarch] A Governour of the fourth part of a Realm. Luk. 3. 1. Mat. 14. 1.

Teyle-tree] Isa. 6. 13. or a line-tree. A tree of goodly leaves, and spreading branches, fit to make Bowers of. And this and the Oke (as some suppose) are here made choyce of; because the one in regard of its fairnesse, the other in regard of its firmnesse, might be unlikely to lose their goodly verdure in Winter. Annot. See Teile-tree.

T H.

Thaddeus] Praising, or confessing. Surname of Lebbeus, one of the Apostles of Christ, Mat. 10. 3. Mar. 3. 18.

Thahath] Hasting. The Son of Nahor, by his Concubine Reumah, Gen. 22. 24.

Thamah] Blotting out, shaving, wiping away; or after the Syrian, smiting. Ezr. 2. 53.

To thank] To acknowledge a benefit, and to recompense a gift freely given. Luk. 17. 9. Doth he thank that servant? In thankfulnesse unto men, there must be truth in confessing a kindnesse received, and justice in requiting it as we may.

Thanks] As it is spoken of Christ, is put sometimes for his ordinary blessing and sanctifying the creatures and gifts of God, Luk. 24. 30.

2. For the Sacramentall blessing, whereby he did consecrate the Bread and Wine in the last Supper, to set forth his suffering, Luk. 22. 17, 19. Mar. 14. 23. Mat. 26. 27.

3. For his miraculous blessing, whereby a few loaves and small fishes were multiplyed to serve great multitudes of people, Mat. 15. 36. Luk. 17. 16. Joh. 6. 10, 23.

Thanksgiving] An acknowledging and confessing with gladnesse, of the benefits and deliverances of God, both towards our selves and others, to the praise of his name. 1 Tim. 2. 2. Let supplication, and prayer, and thanksgiving be made for all men. 1 Thess. 1. 4.

Thanksgiving hath in it,

1. Remembrance of the good done to us.

2. Mention of it.

3. Con-

3. Confeſſing God to be the authour and giver of it.

4. Cheerfulneſſe, being glad of an occaſion to praiſe him, and doing it gladly, with joy.

Thanksgiving is put ſometime generally, for the whole worſhip of God, Rom. 1.21. more eſpecially, for praiſe, 1 Cor. 15.57. 2 Cor. 8.16. and for that gladneſſe and joy we conceive of the benefits of God, Pſal. 92.5. & 147.7.

It is expreſſed in Scripture, by the voyce of thanksgiving, Pſal. 26.7. Jonah 2.10. by the calves of our lips, Hoſ. 14.3. by the ſacrifice of praiſe, Pſal. 116.17.

The object of it is threefold.

1. He to whom we give thanks, to wit, God, Luk. 18.11. Rom. 6.17, & 14.6. 1 Theſſ. 1.2. and Chriſt, 1 Tim. 1.12.

2. Thoſe for whom we give thanks; as generally, for all men, 1 Tim. 2.1. and ſpecially, for the faithfull, Rom. 1.8. Col. 1.3. Eph. 1.16.

3. The things for which we give thanks, to wit generally, for all things, Epheſ. 5.20. More particularly,

1 For the bleſſings of God, ſpirituall, as willing hearts to the works of piety, 1 Chr. 29.13,14. for morall bleſſings, as wiſdome and knowledge, Dan. 2.23. for ſaving graces, Rom. 1.8. & 16.4. 1 Cor. 1.4. Eph. 1.16.

2 For the judgements of God upon the wicked, Pſal. 9.1,2,3.

3 For the enlarging of Chriſts Kingdome, Rev. 11.17.

4 For our deliverance from the body of death, Rom. 7.25. 1 Cor. 15.57.

5 For temporall deliverances, Exod. 15.1,2, &c. 2 Sam. 22.50. 1 Chr. 6.35.

6 For Chriſt, Luk. 2.38. For the deliverance of Gods Miniſters, 2 Cor. 1.11. For a bleſſing upon the Miniſtery, 2 Cor. 2.14.

The properties of it are,

1. It ſhould be in the name of Chriſt, Eph. 5.20. Rom. 1.8.

2. Continually, 1 Cor. 1.4. Eph. 1.16. Col. 1.3.

3. From the heart, Pſal. 9.1. & 103.1,2.

Thara] Luk. 3.34. The Son of Nahor; ſome render it, ſmelling well, or breathing, from רוח, or ריח.

Tharſhiſh] A beholding of the ſword, a ſearching out of marble, the Turtle bird of the ſword, a Jaſper ſtone; or, the ſea. The Son of Bilhan, 1 Chr. 7.10. Alſo a Countrey, from whence Solomon's Navy once in three yeers brought gold, and ſilver, &c. 1 King. 10.22. Tharſhiſh might then be taken in as large an extent as India is now. To Tarſhiſh it was a long voyage, as now it is to the Eaſt-Indies. Annot.

That] The excellency of ſome particular perſon or thing, good or evill, as That light, That Son of God, That Lamb of God, That Life, That Antichriſt, &c. That notable adverſary of Chriſt. 2 Theſſ. 2.3. That man of ſin; that is, that moſt notorious ſinner, exceeding all other in ſin.

Oftentime [That] is read without any emphaſis, onely to note ſome ordinary thing, or ſome perſon. See Rom. 9.10,11. & Phil. 1.6,9,10. where both the matter and end is meant.

Note further of (That or The) it ſometime hath the force of noting ſome ſpeciall thing; as ſometime it is demonſtrative, and otherwhile hath no power at all, but aboundeth.

This particle (That) doth often ſignifie the impulſive or finall cauſe of Gods counſels and works, or of mens purpoſes, and doings, as Rom. 2.4. & 9.23. & 11.32. & 9.17. In theſe places the end or mark propounded unto the actions of God, are pointed at. Alſo Rom. 10.1. That they might be ſaved. Not the event, but the end and ſcope at which Paul his prayers aimed, is declared: but ſometime that noteth the ſcope of Gods purpoſe, and the event, and what falleth out, or followeth of ſome foregoing matter, by the courſe of Gods providence, as Rom. 11.11. Have they ſtumbled that they ſhould fall? & Rom. 11.31. That they alſo may obtain mercy. Of theſe Texts the meaning is, that the Gentiles being called to Chriſt, this event by Gods appointment wil follow of it at the length, even the vocation of the Jews, being provoked to deſire and ſeek the like grace by emulation of the beleeving Gentiles. Laſtly, even the means leading to the end, are in this particle [That] deſigned, as Eph. 1.4. Choſen that we ſhould be holy. If this obſervation be well heeded, it will help to the due interpretation of many places of Scripture, and give light to many weighty matters.

Theatre] A place where the people flocked together to behold Playes and Shews, exhibited unto them, Act. 19.29,31.

Thebez] An egge, a ſilken garment; or after the Syrian, flax. A City, where Abimelech was ſlain, Judg. 9.50. 2 Sam. 11.21.

Thee] Thy face, Gen. 19.21. marg.

In thee] ſignifies, In thy ſeed, Gen. 12.3. compared compared with Gen. 22. 18. And in thy ſeed ſhall all Nations, &c. that is, in Chriſt by faith, Gal. 3. 8. & 16. So then Abraham is not onely a form or pattern of eternal bleſſedneſſe (conſiſting in remiſſion of ſins, deliverance from Satan, regeneration, juſtification, ſanctification, and glorification) but a cauſe of it, not in and from himſelf, but by and from his ſeed included in his loynes, and by none other ſeed of his then Chriſt, who dying, freed all beleevers from the curſe of the Law, Gal. 3. 13, 14.

With thee] Before thee, 1 Sam. 29. 8. marg.

Theef] One that taketh to himſelfe the goods of other men, without the privity of the Owner. Prov. 6. 30. Men do not deſpiſe a theef which ſtealeth to ſatisfie his ſoul.

2. One that dealeth unrighteouſly in his own Temporall goods, or Spirituall gifts; by keeping in and hiding them from ſuch, to whom we owe them by virtue of our calling: or, one who behaves himſelf unjuſtly in other mens goods, impairing them, either by deceit or violence, as Joh. 12. 6. 1 Cor. 6. 10. Theeves, extortioners.

3. A Seducer, which by corrupt gloſſes, and falſe interpretations, ſteals from the Church of God the true meaning and doctrine of the Scripture; ſo ſpoyling ſouls, as Theeves ſpoyl mens bodies. Joh. 10. 8. All which came before me are theeves, &c. Hoſ. 6. 9.

4. Hypocrites, which under ſhew of piety ſeek their owne gain, with the loſſe of others. Matth. 22. 13. Ye have made it a den of theeves.

Note. Theeves be ſuch as enter not by lawfull calling, or which teach lyes, and not Chriſt.

As a theef] Suddenly, as Theeves uſe to doe, coming at ſuch an hour as they are not looked for. 1 Theſſ. 5. 24. As a theef in the night. This pertaineth to the wicked, not unto the godly, who are watchfull continually, looking and preparing for that great day. See Mat. 24. 42, 43, 44. Luk. 12. 39, 40. & 21. 34, 35.

Theft, or ſtealing] The with-holding of that which is another mans, againſt the owners will; the drawing unto us other mens goods by injury, or not diſtributing that which is our owne when need requires. Hoſ. 4. 2. By ſwearing, and lying, killing and ſtealing. Exod. 20. 15. Thou ſhalt not ſteal. All manner of wrong done to our ſelves in reſpect of our own ſubſtance, or to the ſubſtance of others, is ſtealing.

Theft] according to the time, is either night-theft, or day-theft; if the Theef came to ſteal in the night, then he might be killed ſafely, but not ſo in the day time, Exod. 22. 2, 3.

According to the object, Theft in holy things is Sacrilege, Act. 5. 2. If the Theef rob the Common-wealth, it is called peculatus; if he ſteal Cattel, it is called abigeatus; ſuch were the Caldeans who robbed Job; ſuch were the Saracens, becauſe they lived by robbery and excurſions; they were called Saraceus, from Sarack, excurrere, which cometh from rik, vacuum eſſe. If the Theef had ſtoln a Man, it was called plagium, and he was to die the death, Exod. 21. 16.

According to the manner; it is either publick or ſecret theft.

Publick, is either by Land or Sea.

By Land, when it is committed with an open and high hand; the higheſt ſort of theſe are murthering theeves, who kill that they may rob; ſuch were thoſe that lay betwixt Jeruſalem and Jericho, Luk. 10. 30. Theſe reſemble moſt the devil, aſhmodeus, who had his name a [ſhadad] vaſtare, who ſpoyleth and ſpareth none.

Theft by Sea is called Piracie. Rev. 2. 12. Woe be to the earth, and to the Sea, for the devill is come down to you, having great wrath. Theſe ſpirits are the devils Factors, who trouble the Sea; ſuch were the Barks of the Iſle Pharos among the Ægean Iſlands, who came out ſecretly like Mice of the Iſle of Pharos, to rob; and Lemnunculi, little Barks of the Iſle Lemnos; unto theſe Job alludes, Job 9. 26.

Again, Theft in reſpect of the manner, is either violent or fraudulent oppreſſion, Lev. 19. 13.

By violence, it is called gazal, to pluck a thing out of ones hand.

By fraud, is called [gnaſhak] both are forbidden, Luk. 3. 14. This cometh of covetouſneſſe, Mic. 2. 2.

Violent oppreſſors are called Hunters in Scriptures, Gen. 10. 8. & Prov. 12. 27.

Fraudulent theft is when men caſt a cloak or ſome pretence upon their theft, which is done divers wayes.

1. Under colour of Religion, Mat. 21. 13. Joh. 2. 19.

2. Under pretence of Charity, Mar. 12. 5, 6.

3. Under pretence of Merchandiſe, Hoſ. 12. 7. Ezek. 17. 4.

4. Under pretence of Law; ſuch was the theft of Zacheus the Publican, Luk. 19. 9.

5. Unde-

5. Under fair pretences, as thoſe who took out the ſeeling of the Houſe of God, and ſeeled their own houſes, Jer. 22.14. and that it might not be known, they painted it over with Vermilion.

6. When mens ſenſes are deluded by ſleight, as when Coggers with the Dice win mens money from them; to this the Apoſtle alludes, Eph. 4.14. This is called ſtellionatus, cozenage: So when the ſimple are overmatched by the crafty, this is called πανουργία. In all ſorts of bargaining, the will ſhould have the full conſent; now when the underſtanding is blinded, which determineth the will, then the will cannot give the cleer and expreſſe conſent; as in violent theft the ſtronger overmatcheth the weaker, ſo in covered theft, the crafty overmatcheth the ſimpler.

7. Uſury is a ſort of fraudulent theft. See more of this in Uſury. Weems Morall Law. p. 187.

The cauſe of theft, are generall, the malice of the heart, Matth. 15. 12. particular, are,

1. Poverty, Prov. 30 9.

2. Idleneſſe, Eph. 4. 28.

3. Prodigality, which cauſeth poverty, and that cauſeth theft, as we ſee in the prodigall, and by daily experience.

4. Covetouſneſſe, 1 Tim. 6. 9, 10.

The effects are, I. In reſpect of the Theef,

1 Pollution, Mat. 15.20. Mar. 7.20.

2 Pleaſure, Prov. 9. 17.

3 Shame and confuſion; whereunto the Prophet alludes, Jer. 2. 26. & 48. 27. Prov. 6. 30.

4 Puniſhment from Men, 1 Pet. 4. 13. Gen. 43. 18. Exod. 22. 4, 7, 9. 2 Sam. 12.6. Luk. 19. 8. from God, 1 Tim. 1.10. In this life, Zech. 5. 3, 4. In the life to come, 1 Cor. 6. 10.

II. In reſpect of them from whom the goods are ſtolne, as the cry is ſent after them, Judg. 18. 23. and many curſes and imprecations, Prov. 29. 24. Judg. 17. 2.

The remedies to cure this ſore, are,

1. To purge the heart from malice and covetouſneſſe, Matth. 15. 20. compared with the verſes before.

2. Every one is to labour with his owne hands, Eph. 4. 28.

3. To beware of prodigall waſting.

Theebes] One of them, Matth. 27. 44. Luk. 23. 39, 40. This change of number is often in the Hebrew: as Gen. 19. 29, 46, 23, 7. 1 Sam. 9. 2. 2 Chron. 6. 14. Gen. 21. 7. Zach. 9. Mat. 21. 5, 7. Mar. 11. 17.

Thelaſar] Taking away, or heaping up. A Region of Syria, 2 King. 19, 12.

Them, and Themſelves] have relation unto the perſons, places, and things then ſpoken of.

Then] That a thing is ſo, or ſeeing it is ſo. Rom. 6. 1. Alſo 7. v. 7. What ſhall we ſay then?

2. Some certain time wherein ſomething was done. Mat. 4. 1. Then was Jeſus led aſide. And elſewhere often it is thus taken, for to note a certain time.

3. Therefore; and it is a note of an inference or concluſion, gathered from ſome premiſes. Rom. 8. 1. Now then there is no condemnation.

4. And, Gen. 34. 16.

Thence] hath relation unto the place then ſpoken of.

Thenceforth] hath relation unto the time following that which then is.

Theophilus] A friend of God, or lover of God. A godly man, to whom Luke dedicated his Goſpel, and Acts of the Apoſtles, Luk. 1. 3. Act. 1. 1.

There] pointeth out the place ſpoken of.

Therefore] An inference of what went before, not ever immediately, but ſome former verſes, as Exod. 1. 20, 17.

Sometime a precedent cauſe of that which is inferred, Rom. 8. 1. & 3. 28. & 2. 1. In theſe and ſuch like places, this particle is argumentative, and inferreth the effect from the cauſe.

2. The end, order, and ſequel of a matter, 2 King. 22. 19, 20. Gen. 22. 16. Phil. 2. 9. Rom. 4. 19. Therefore (or to this end) Chriſt dyed, &c. Here is noted onely the conſequent, or what in order did follow the humiliation and death of Chriſt, to wit, his exaltation, and manifeſtation of his God-head; alſo his dominion over his Church, as is plainly to be ſeen by Luk. 24.46. 1 Pet. 1. 11. They do erre then, which would by theſe and ſuch places conclude, that Chriſt merited in his obedience and paſſion, ſomething to and for himſelf, to whom all good was due, even from the time of his union: when his manhood at his conception, was knit unſeparably unto the Perſon of the Son of God, then was he Lord of all, even as man, and had right to eternall glory. Alſo the Scripture cleerly proveth, that whatſoever Chriſt did or ſuffered, was for us, not for himſelfe; for that had obſcured his grace toward his members, if he had come to deſerve ought for himſelf.

More then these] More then his Ship, Nets, and other things, Joh. 21. 15.

Thessalonica] The other victory of God. A City of Macedonia, where Paul preached the Gospel, and to whom he wrote an Epistle, Act. 17. 1, 11. 1 Thess. 1. 1.

Theudas] Flowing with water. Act. 5. 36.

Thick] signifieth,

1. Dark, Exod. 16. 9, 16.
2. Great, or big, Ezek. 6. 13. & 20. 28.
3. Hard, Hab. 2. 6.
4. Rich, and mighty, Deut. 32. 15.
5. Cruel, 1 King. 12. 10. 2 Chr. 10. 10.

Thicket] is put for, The place of habitation, Jer. 4. 7.

2. For obstinate sinners, Isa. 9. 18. & 10. 34.

Thigh] To come out of the thigh, Gen. 46. 26. The thigh here is put for the member of generation, which for modesties sake is expressed by the Hebrews, by the thigh, and other parts of the body: as,

1. They call it the feet, Isa. 7. 20. So she shall eat that which cometh out between the feet. So they call it the navel, Job 40. 16.

2. They are said to come out of Jacobs thigh, because the Father is the active principle of generation, and not the Mother.

The thigh is put sometime to signifie, the chief and principal men, Ezek. 24. 4.

To gird the sword upon the thigh, is, To be prepared to War, Psal. 45. 3.

To put the hand under ones thigh] Subjection and great fidelity to him who gave the oath, by him who took it, Gen. 47. 29. & Gen. 24. 2. The Hebrews referre this to the mystery of circumcision, which was in a part of the thigh: others (as Augustine) referre it to the Messiah or Christ, who was come out of Abraham's loyns or thigh. See Gen. 46. 26.

To strike upon the thigh, is, To be sore grieved, and to lament, whereof that was a signe Jer. 31. 19. Ezek. 21. 12.

To write upon the thigh, Rev. 19. 16. is, To endure to posterity. Marlorat.

Thin] To be made thin, is, To be brought very low, Isa. 17. 4.

Thing] Some reall substance or quality, either good or evill. Ephes. 1. 11. Which doth work all things after the counsell of his Will.

2. Some word spoken of God, touching that which was after to be done. Luk. 1. 37. With God nothing shall be unpossible. In the Greek Text it is read, No word shall be impossible.

3. The doctrine of the Gospel. Act. 17. 32. We will hear thee again of this thing.

4. Elect men and women, Eph. 1. 10. Col. 1. 20. Rev. 21. 27. No unclean thing, that is, person.

Great things] Very precious and excellent benefits, as freedome from all those evils which the Captivity in Babylon brought with it, liberty of body, goods, countrey, and conscience, being restored to the pure worship of God in his Temple, restitution of City and Temple, &c. Psal. 126. 2, 3. These were great things, not only for the matter of the benefits, but for the manner of bestowing them, which was incredible and unwonted, as v. 1. and for the persons who were the receivers, being wormes and miserable sinners, lesse then the least thing, and worse then the worst thing.

In all good things] Of all his goods and substance, according to his owne ability, and the necessity of the Teacher, Gal. 6. 6.

These things] The sins and punishments of the Israelites living in the Wildernesse, 1 Cor. 10. 6.

Think] is put for, To remember, and be carefull of, Gen. 40. 14. Neh. 5. 19.

2. To lust, Job 31. 1.

3. To make account, Joh. 16. 2.

4. To boast or esteem, Ro. 12. 3. 1 Cor. 4. 6.

5. Meditate, Psal. 4. 8.

To think any thing] To conceive or have in our mindes a good thought, pertaining to salvation. 2 Cor. 3. 5. Not that we are sufficient of our selves to think any thing, as of our selves: Where then is the naturall power of Will, to choose and embrace good things, seeing we lack power and will to think well?

2. To judge, and certainly determine. 1 Cor. 7. vers. last. I think I have the Spirit of God.

3. To make our thoughts known by boasting and glorying. Mat. 3 9. Think not to say in your hearts.

4. To devise or imagine, 1 Cor. 13. 5.

To think soberly] That all Christians must be modestly minded, not to take more upon them than they have graces and calling to answer and discharge, Rom. 12. 3

Thirst] is put for, Great affliction, Deut. 28. 48. Psal. 69. 21. Isa. 44. 3. Isa. 65. 13. Isa. 41. 17. Amos 8. 13. Hos. 2. 3.

Thirst] To desire drink, out of a feeling of the want thereof, by some naturall drought or drynesse. Joh. 19. 28. I thirst.

2. Very earnestly to desire & long for Christ and his spirituall graces, out of a sense of our sins and miseries, Mat. 5. 6. Joh. 7. 37. If any man thirſt, &c. Iſa. 55.1. Ho, every one that thirſteth, come.

Lo thirſt no more] To finde all contentment and ſatisfaction to our ſelves in Chriſt onely, without ſeeking further for it, then in him alone. Joh. 6. 35. He that beleeveth in me, ſhall thirſt no more.

This] hath relation unto the matter or buſineſſe then ſpoken of.

Thiſtle] bringeth not forth good fruit, as the Fig, Mat. 7. 16. Luk. 6 44.

2. They are hurtfull to the ground, Gen. 3. 18. Heb. 6. 8. Hence to produce thiſtle in ſtead of corn, is a great puniſhment, Job 31.40.

It is put for one of no power or ſtrength, 2 King 14. 9. 2 Chr. 25. 18.

Thither] hath relation unto a particular place named.

Thomas] A twin; or, deepneſſe, without a bottome, Joſ. 11. 16. & 20. 24. An Apoſtle of Chriſt, called Didymus, who exhorted the Apoſtles to die couragiouſly, Joh. 11.16. He asked Chriſt the way to the Father, Joh. 14. 5. He would not beleeve Chriſts reſurrection, untill he put his finger into his ſide, Joh. 20. 24, to 30.

Thong] A ſcourge or whip of leather, Act. 22.25.

Thorn] is put, 1. For a thing of no ſtrength, Job 41. 2.

2. For the wicked, who are like thorns,

1 Becauſe of their unprofitableneſſe in any goodneſſe, Mat. 7. 16. Luk. 6. 44.

2 For their perſecuting and hurting the Church, Cant. 2. 2. Ezek. 28. 24. Mic. 7. 4. Joſh. 23. 13.

3. For great difficulties and impediments, Hoſ. 2. 6. Job 5. 5.

4. For the riches and the cares of this life, Mat. 13 7. Mar. 4. 7. Luk. 8. 7. Hence, to ſow among thorns is, to preach the Word unto worldly and carnall hearts, Jer. 4. 4.

6. For a thing ſuddenly vaniſhing, Pſalm 58. 9. & 118. 12. Eccl. 7. 6.

6. For afflictions, 2 Cor. 12. 7.

Thorny ground] An heart ſtuffed with the cares of this world, which choak the ſeed of the Word, as thorns choak the Corn ſpringing out of the ground. Matth. 13. 22. That which fell amongſt thorns, or thorny ground.

Through all, and in you all] The ſupreme government over the whole Church, and reaching or paſſing through unto every member thereof, together with the moſt neer conjunction, which the faithful have with God by Chriſt: all which he doth violate, whoſoever violateth Chriſtian charity and peace. Eph. 4. 6. Which is above you all, and through all, and in you all.

Through bearing of Children] That in this condition of bearing, bringing forth, and bringing up Children (which by Gods owne ſentence, Gen. 3. hath much bitter ſorrow, and pain joyned with it, as a fruit of the firſt ſin) yet there is this comfort left unto women to ſweeten this miſery and eaſe their heavy burthen, that it ſhall not hinder their ſalvation; if under ſuch weight and puniſhment, like beleeving perſons, their faith ſhine forth, reſting on Gods promiſes, and ſhewing it by love to others, and by holy and modeſt behaviour in themſelves. 1 Tim. 2. 15. Through bearing of children ſhe ſhall be ſav d, if they, &c. This relative particle [they] muſt be referred (as to the antecedent) not to Children, but to Women, of whoſe duty he ſpeaketh generally, (it being uſuall in Scriptures to change one number and perſon into another.)

Through, or by, in the Doctrine of Juſtification] The chief efficient cauſe, to wit, the grace and free favour of God. Rom. 3. 24. We are juſtified freely, by (or through) his grace.

2. The outward meritorious cauſe, to wit, Chriſt Jeſus our Redeemer. Rom. 3. 24. Through the redemption which is in Chriſt. Eph. 1. 17. Through his blood.

3. The inward inſtrumental cauſe, to wit, our faith. Rom. 3. 28. We are juſtified through Faith, without the works of the Law. Verſ. 25. Through faith in his blood.

4. The ſignes and fruits of our juſtification, to wit, good works. Jam. 2. 22. Was not Abraham juſtified through works?

Through him] By his adminiſtration or powerfull government. Rom. 11. 36. Through him are all things.

Through the Law] By the works of the Law, as they are done by us; or upon condition of fulfilling the Law by our owne ſtrength, Rom. 4. 13.

Thou] Whoſoever thou art, without difference of ſex, condition, Nation, &c. Gen. 20. 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, &c. Rom. 10. 10. If thou beleeve, &c. Gal. 4. 7. Thou art no more a Servant, &c. And the like is often elſewhere, to teach that the commandements and promiſes of God belong not onely to the whole company of beleevers, and congregation of Gods people generally, but particularly to every one without exception. Which meeteth with that corruption too too common, to put and poſt off from our ſelves to others,

others, things commonly and universally spoken.

Thou] Thy selfe and thy succession, Dan. 2. 3. Jer. 27. 7.

Though] Albeit, if, notwithstanding, &c.

Thought] The least motion and stirring of our minde; which when it is by the holy Ghost made agreeable to Gods word, then it is a good thought, but if the motion be from our corrupt heart, and be disagreeable from the Word, then it is an evill thought, whatsoever good pretence it have. Mat. 15. 19. For out of the heart comes evill thoughts.

2. Our counsels, touching matters to be done, or not done. Psal. 146. 4. Then his thoughts perish.

3. The grief of an afflicted minde. Psa. 94. 14. Amidst the thoughts of my heart, thy comforts have refreshed my soul.

4. Reasoning inwardly in the soul. Luk. 9. 46, 47. When Jesus saw the thoughts of their hearts.

5. Purpose joyned with indevour. Gen. 50. 20. When you thought to do me evill.

6. Carking, or immoderate care, or care with anxiety. Matth. 10. 19. Take no thought what ye shall speak.

Referred to God] 1. The will, counsell, purpose, or decree of God, touching all things which we will doe, or not doe. Psal 33. 11. The thoughts of his heart shall stand for ever. It doth sometime signifie Gods disposition, when his purpose is executed and brought unto effect. As Gen. 50. 20 But God thought, &c. So Tremelius translated it.

Thought is put sometimes for corrupt reason, 2 Cor. 10. 5.

2. For the conscience, Rom. 2. 15.

3. Opinion, Job 12. 5.

4. For desire and endevour, 1 Chron. 29. 18.

5. Hope, 1 Sam. 18. 25.

6. For a plot and conspiracie, Act. 8. 22. Prov. 15. 22.

7. The grief of an afflicted minde, Psal. 94. 14.

It is put for, Word, Deut. 15. 9. marg. for Possessions, Job 17. 11. marg.

Thousand yeers] The space of ten hunded yeers.

2. An exceeding large space of time, a finite number being put for an indefinite Ps. 90. 4. A thousand yeers is but as yesterday, when it is past. 2 Pet. 3 8. A thousand yeers as one day.

Threatning] A denunciation of some Judgement, temporall or eternall, from God.

2. Hard and cruel speeches from one man to another. Act. 4. 17. Let us threaten and charge them. 1 Pet. 2. 23. When he suffered, he threatned not.

Threatnings are either to prevent sin, or to withdraw from sin. They are either of Man, Act. 4 29. & 9. 1. Eph. 6. 9. or from God, of wch throughout the whole Scriptures, whereof many in the Old Testament are set downe prophetically, as some also in the Revelation. Those in the Epistles of Paul, James, and Peter, are set down for the most part, not in form of denuntiations, but rather of declarations.

Three] is put, 1. For a determinate and certain number, Gen. 6. 10. & 7. 13.

2. For an indefinite number, Amos 1. 3, 6, 9, 13. & 2. 1, 5. Rev. 11. 9, 11.

To three] To beat Corn out of the husk with the strokes of a flail, or other instrument made for that purpose, Lev. 26. 5. 1 Cor. 9. 10. Thus men thresh wheat, &c.

2. To punish Gods enemies with plagues and calamities, as it were with sore strokes of Gods revenging hand. Isa. 25. 10. Moab shall be threshed. Thus God thresheth in anger.

3. To exercise Gods people with chastisements and corrections for sin, sifting and trying them, as when Corn is beating out of the husk by threshing. Isa. 21. 10. O thou whom I do thresh, or O thou my threshing. Thus God thresheth in mercy.

4. To execute extreme cruelty towards Gods Church. Amos 1. 3. They have threshed Gilead with instruments of iron. Such instruments were wont to be applyed for punishing obstinate Rebels. 2 Sam. 12. 31. Thus Tyrants thresh the godly.

To three the mountains] To destroy and afflict grievously, even strong and mighty enemies. Isa. 41. 15. Thou shalt thresh the mountains, and bring them to powder.

Threshing-floore] is, The place where Corn is used to be threshed.

2. It is put for the Corn it self, Numb. 15. 20. & 18. 30.

3. The wicked ripe for judgement, Jer. 51. 33.

Threshold] The groundsill of a dore or gate, Judg. 19. 27. 1 King. 14. 17.

2. For the whole house. Hence to leap upon the threshold, is, To enter violently into the house to rob, Zeph. 1. 9.

3. For inventions and traditions of men, Ezek. 43. 8.

It is put for, Treasuries, Assemblies, Neh. 12. 25. marg. Storehouse, Neh. 13. 12. mar.

Throat] is the instrument of speech, Psa. 115. 7.

It is put for the ſpeech it ſelf, Pſa. 5. 10. Rom. 3. 13. and for the appetite, Prov. 23. 2.

Throne] A high ſeat, full of majeſty and glory, fit for earthly Kings or Judges: As 1 King. 10. 18. Then the King made a great throne of Ivory, and the throne had ſix ſteps. Alſo, it ſignifieth Kingdoms and Dominions, Dan. 7. 9.

2. Some viſible token or repreſentation of Gods power and majeſty. Rev. 4. 9. They gave honour to him that ſate on the throne. A Metaphor, Iſa. 6. 1. which is applyed unto Chriſt, Joh. 12. 20, 39.

Throne is referred, I. To God, and ſo it is taken,

1. For Heaven, Iſa. 66. 1.
2. His juſtice, Pſal. 9. 4.
3. For his mercy, Heb. 4. 16.

II. To Chriſt, and it ſignifieth, His great glory and dominion, Rev. 3. 21. Mat. 19. 28. Luk. 22. 30. Rev. 20. 11.

III. To the faithfull, Revel. 3. 21. & 4. 4.

It is put, 1. for Kingdome and Dominion, Act. 2. 30. Luk. 1. 32. Heb. 1. 8. Pſal. 45. 6.

2. For glory and dignity, Luk. 1. 52.
3. For Angels, Col. 1. 16.
4. For government, Pſal. 122. 4.

Throng] To ſtrain, ſtraiten, preſſe, or weigh down, Mar. 3. 9. & 5. 24. Luk. 8. 42, 45.

Throughly] ſignifieth, 1. Exactly, Job 6. 1, 2. Mat. 3. 12.

2. Altogether, Jer. 6. 9.
3. Sincerely, Jer. 7. 5.
4. Sufficiently, plentifully, 2 Tim. 3. 17.
5. Fully, in every thing, 2 Cor. 11. 6.

Throw down] To overturn, Judg. 2. 2. To deſtroy, Judg. 6. 25. To caſt headlong, 2 King. 9. 33. To root out, Jer. 1. 10. & 31. 28. To contribute, Mar. 12. 42.

Thruſt] To periſh, Ezek. 34. 21. marg. To afflict, Pſal. 118. 3.

Thruſt out] To expell, Exod. 11. 1.

2. To cauſe to erre, Deut. 13. 5.
3. To deprive, 1 Sam. 11. 2.
4. Exclude, Luk. 13. 28.

Thruſt through] To pierce, Deut. 15. 17. To kill, Judg. 9. 54. 1 Sam. 31. 4. 2 Sam. 18. 14.

Thumb] Exod. 29. 20. And upon the thumb of their right hand. That their work and adminiſtration might alſo be ſanctified by the blood of Chriſt, and acceptable to God, Deut. 33. 11. Act. 5. 12. Adonibezek having cut off the thumbs of threeſcore and ten Kings, was himſelf at the length ſo ſerved, Judg. 1. 6, 7.

Thummim] Truth, or perfection, Exod. 28. 30. Lev. 8. 8. Numb. 27. 21.

It is alwayes joyned with Urim, except in two places, Exod. 17. 21. & 1 Sam. 28. 8. They ſeem to be two precious ſtones given by the Lord himſelfe, to be ſet into the Breaſt-plate: for Exod. 28. 30. the Lord ſaith not, Thou ſhalt make Urim and Thummim, as he had ſaid of the reſt of the Breaſt-plate, but he ſaith, Thou ſhalt put in the Urim and Thummim.

The manner how the Lord revealed himſelf to the High-prieſt by Urim and Thummim, was, when the Prieſt had put on the Breaſt-plate, it was a ſigne to him, that the Lord would inſpire him what to anſwer. Weems Chriſt. Syn. 25, 26.

Urim and Thummim were not two, but one and the ſame thing, and therefore ſometime they are called by one and the ſame name, Numb. 27. 21. 1 Sam. 28. 6.

2. The ſtones in the High-prieſts Breaſt-plate are called the Urim and the Thummim, Exod. 28. 30.

3. The anſwer that God gave was not by any appearance in the ſtones, but it was given by the mouth of the Prieſt, Numb. 27. 21.

4. The Prieſt when he was to receive the anſwer, was to have the Ephod on, 1 Sam. 23. 9.

5. The Prieſt when he was to receive an anſwer, was to ſtand before the Ark, Judg. 20. 27, 28.

The manner then of Inquiring was thus: The things to be inquired muſt be of weight and generality; for the ſtones repreſented the judgement of all the people, Exod. 28. 30. therefore the Inquiry by them muſt be generall; ſuch was that queſtion at Shiloh, Judg. 1. 2. Who ſhall firſt ſet upon the Canaanites? and ſuch was that of all Iſrael, Shall I goe up againſt my Brother Benjamin, Judg. 20. 23.

When ſuch a ſcruple was to be reſolved, it was told the High-prieſt what he ſhould ask: So David wiſhed Abimelech the High-prieſt at Nob, to inquire whether his journey ſhould proſper, 1 Sam. 22. 10. So did the Danites to the idolatrous faigned High-prieſt, Judg. 18. 5.

The Prieſt thus knowing what to ask, put on the Ephod, and Breaſt-plate, which hung inſeparably at it: this do David's words mean, when he ſaith to Abiathar the Prieſt, Bring hither the Ephod, 1 Sam. 23. 9. and for this it was that Abiathar made ſure of the

Ephod

Ephod when he fled from Nob, 1 Sam. 23. 6.

Without the Stones on his Breaſt, the Prieſt inquired not; for the Stones repreſented Iſrael, and when the Prieſt brought them before the Lord, he brought (as it were) Iſrael and their matters before him; and to go without theſe, was to go without his errand. If Saul's conſcience could have told him of no other cauſe why God would not anſwer him, (as it might many,) yet he might ſee this to be one reaſon, viz. Becauſe though he had the Ark neer him, yet he had neither the High-prieſt, nor Ephod; and ſeeing his croſſe in this, that he could not be anſwered, his Conſcience might tell him what he did when he ſlew the Prieſts of the Lord.

When the Prieſt knew what to inquire about, and put on theſe habiliments, he went and ſtood before the Ark of the Lord, and enquired about the matter, and the Lord anſwered him from off the Propitiatory, from between the Cherubims, and ſo the Prieſt anſwered the people.

Now there was ſome difference in the Prieſts manner of Inquiring, according to the ſituation of the Ark, when the Tabernacle was up, the Prieſt went into the Holy place, and ſtood cloſe by the veil, which parted the Holy from the Moſt holy, and there inquired, and God from between the Cherubims, gave him an anſwer. But when diſtant from the Tabernacle, travelling up and down, then did the Prieſt in his robes ſtand before the Ark, as it ſtood covered with the Curtains, and inquired, and the anſwer was given him in behalf of Iſrael, whom God ſaw on his breaſt: for this reaſon the Stones, for whoſe ſake the perfect light of reſolution was given, are called, the perfect light of Urim and Thummim; and the anſwer given from the Prieſts mouth, is called, the anſwer by Urim and Thummim.

David once inquired of the Prieſt, having the Ephod, but wanting the Ark, and God anſwered him, and ſhewed him, that God was not bound to means; on the contrary, Saul once inquired of the Ark, wanting the Ephod, and God anſwered him not, ſhewing him how God honoured his Prieſts, whom Saul had diſhonoured, even to the Sword. Lightfoot Gleanings out of Exodus, p. 55, 56, 57.

Thunder] A great noyſe and ſound cauſed in the clouds, by the breaking out of hot and dry exhalations, beating againſt the edge of the cloud. Pſal. 18. 13. The Lord thundered in the heaven. Exod. 19. 16. There were thunderings and lightnings. Thunder is a witneſſe of Gods power, and ſerveth to ſtrike terrour and fear into men, that the godly may be humbled, and the better ſubdued unto God; and the wicked confounded, and left without excuſe.

Thunder is put for the fearful and horrible judgements that God poureth on the wicked, Iſa. 29. 6.

2. For the perſecutions that the wicked uſe againſt the godly, Rev. 8. 5.

It is put for the Voyce of God, Exod. 9. 28. marg.

Thunder is either naturall, or ſpiritual, which is the Word of God; between them there is a great ſimilitude.

1. Naturall thunder, is called, the Voyce of God; and ſo is ſpirituall thunder, but with this difference; the natural is not a diſtinct voice, it ſheweth that there is a God, but not diſtinctly who and what this God is; the one is a voyce in the air, the other in the Sanctuary. Pſal. 29. 9. In the Temple every one ſpeaketh of his glory.

2. They are like in ſubtilty; naturall thunder will break the bones, and not the fleſh, and pierce very ſubtilly; but the ſpirituall far ſurpaſſeth it, for it will divide between the marrow and the bones, Heb. 3. 12.

3. Naturall thunder, maketh the Hindes to calve, it renteth the rocks, and breaketh the hardeſt things that reſiſt it, but not the ſofteſt: ſo the Word of the Lord reſiſteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble, Jam. 4. 6.

The Lord was wont to reveal himſelf to his people in the thunder, Pſal. 81. 7. Exod. 19. 16. and with it he uſually foretold them ſomething to come. Joh. 12. 29. when the Father ſaid to his Son, I have glorified it, and will glorifie it again. verſ. 28. ſome that ſtood by ſaid, It thunders; others ſaid, It was an Angell ſpake to him; the reaſon was, becauſe the revelation was uſually in thunder; and John in all the revelations made to him, joyneth thunder with the revelation, as ch. 4. 5. & 6. 1. & 10. 3.

Therefore, becauſe the two thunders go together, the Hebrews call them, tomim, gemelli, twins. The Chriſtian Jews who obſerve that propheſie and thunder went uſually together, when they hear it thunder, they ask of the other Jews, What is the cauſe they hear no voyce, nor Angel ſpeaking to them, of their Meſſias to come? and theſe wretches, when they hear it thunder, light candles, hoping to hear that comfortable voice of their Meſſias, whom they expect ſo long. Weems Mor. Law, p. 11, 12.

Thus] signifieth ſometimes the matter, Numb. 23. 5. ſometimes the manner, as Gen. 25. 22. Eſt. 6. 9.

Timbrel] A muſicall inſtrument uſed in the Levitical ſervice, for the praiſing of God, Pſal. 81. 2. & 149. 3. & 150. 4. and at other times, Exod. 15. 20. Job 21. 12.

Time] Some certain ſpace, as hour, day, week, yeer, &c. Dan. 2. 21. He changeth the times and ſeaſons. And let his portion be among the beaſts, till ſeaven times paſſe over him; that is, ſeaven yeers, Exod. 2. 23. Dan. 4. 16. & 11. 13. Seaven Times for ſeaven yeers.

2. Term, period, and ſhutting up of ones life. Pſalm. 31. 15. My times are in thy hands, O Lord.

3. Opportunity, or fit and convenient ſeaſon for to doe things in. John 7. 6. My time is not yet come. Act. 1. 7. The times and ſeaſons.

4. The whole term or ſpace which a man liveth. Pſal. 90. 20. The time of our life is threeſcore yeers and ten, &c.

To change times] To be the authour of the alteration of Eſtates and Kingdomes, which continue ſo long as God appoints, Dan. 2. 21.

Due time] The time appointed by God, that maketh moſt for the advancement of his owne glory, the comfort of his ſervants, and confuſion of his enemies, 1 Pet. 5. 6.

Evill time] is ſo, by reaſon of,

1 Temptation, Luk. 8. 13. Eph. 6. 13.

2 Affliction, Mic. 2. 3. Eccl. 9. 12. Iſa. 33. 2.

3 In reſpect of ſin, particularly of falſe doctrine, 1 Tim. 4. 1. 2 Tim. 3. 1.

Fulneſſe of time] is, The time determined by God, for the performance of a thing; ſo that it could not be ſooner, nor delayed longer, Gal. 4. 4. Eph. 1. 10.

To obſerve times] To place Religion, pleaſing of God, merit of ſalvation, in keeping Holy-dayes, Moneths, Years, Times, preſcribed in Moſes, as though after the death and aſcenſion of our Lord (whereat their date expired) they were ſtill in force, contrary to that which Paul hath taught the Galatians, ch. 4. 10. Ye obſerve Times and Years.

Obſerve times] This is done 4 wayes.

1. Naturally, according to the courſe of the Sun and Moon, Gen. 1. 14. Thus day followeth night, and night day: thus the four ſeaſons of the yeer follow each other by turns.

2. Civilly, in Husbandry, for planting, ſowing, reaping; for Houſhold affairs, and the affairs of the Common-wealth.

3. Eccleſiaſtically, when men come together for for Orders ſake, for the worſhip of God; as in dayes of Humiliation and Thankſgiving. Whereof we have an example, Eſt. 9. 26. and the feaſt of Dedication; whereat it ſeems Chriſt was preſent, Joh. 10. 22.

4. Superſtitiouſly; which is either Jewiſh, when ſet dayes are obſerved with opinion that we are bound in Conſcience to obſerve them, and place Religion in the obſervation thereof. Or Heatheniſh, when times are obſerved in reſpect of good or bad ſucceſſe. Theſe two laſt are unlawful, Gal. 4. 10. Deut. 18. 10, 14.

Time is redeemed] when we apprehend wiſely all the occaſions and opportunities wch the Lord preſents unto us for his glory, and the good of our ſelves and others, not ſuffering it to be ſtolen from us, and loſt by any cares and thoughts of the world; and whereas we have loſt much time, we are therefore to double our diligence, and do the more good in time to come, Eph. 5. 16. Col. 4. 5

Time of refreſhing] is the laſt day, when the Saints ſhall be reſtored to life, poſſeſſe their purchaſed inheritance, and have all tears wiped away from their eyes, Act. 3. 19. 21.

Time, and times, and part of time] Three years and ten dayes. Dan. 7. 25. And they ſhall be given into his hands, untill a time, and times, and the dividing (or part of) time. See Mat. 4. 52.

Timeus] Polluted, of the root טמא. The Father of blinde Bartimeus, Mar. 10. 46.

Tirſhatha] Diſſolving the foundation; beholding drink, or Butler; or, the foundation of the Turtle bird. The ſurname of Nehemiah, Ezr. 2. 63. Neh. 10. 1.

Tirzah] Pleaſing well. Zelophehad's Daughter, Numb. 26. 33. & 27. 1. Alſo a City, 1 King. 14. 17. & 16. 17.

Tiſhbite] Taking captive, turning, ſitting, or dwelling. The ſurname of Eliah. It comes of Theſhbona, a City of Manaſſeh, on the Eaſt ſide of Jordan, neer Mount Gilead, 1 King. 17. 1.

Tithes] The tenth part of our goods, Deut. 14. 28. Heb. 7. 8. Men that did receive tithes.

Tithes were a tenth part of all one had offered to God, and to his ſervice, which Jacob vowed to doe, Gen. 28. 22. and Abraham paid to Melchiſedeck, Gen. 14. 20. Hereof ſome part at leaſt were offered in Sacrifice, Numb. 18. 24. A ſhadow and figure, as other oblations were, figuring Chriſt. The equity is out of our goods to miniſter ſufficiency to Paſtors and poor, Gal. 6. 6. 1 Cor. 9. 11. Tithes (as firſt-fruits of Corn and Cattle) the ſanctifying of the reſt to their uſe, Deut. 26. 15, 26.15. and ſecondly, a thankful remembrance of Gods benefits, Gen. 28. 22.

Tithes was paid unto God as a ſigne of homage and thankfulneſſe unto him, Gen. 14. 20. & 28. 22. and when they were kept back from the Prieſts, God complained that he was robbed, Mal. 3. 8. The paying of them was an honouring of God, Prov. 3. 9. Hence the Apoſtle, Heb. 7. 7, 8. comp. with ver. 4. proveth the ſuperiority of Melchiſedec and his Prieſthood above Abraham, and the Prieſthood of Levi, becauſe Abraham and Levi in his loyns paid tithe unto him, as the leſſer unto the greater.

The enemies of Tithes (or rather of the Miniſtery of the Goſpel, denying all ſet maintenance for them) will be hardly put to it, to prove that ever God loſt his ſuperiority, or hath given it away, and that conſequently homage is not ſtill due unto God.

And ſeeing the Prieſthood of Chriſt is greater then that of Aaron, and hath never yet reſigned nor loſt that ſuperiority, it is unjuſt to deprive Chriſt of the ſigne of his ſuperiority, in taking the tithe from the Miniſters of the Goſpel, who have as neer a relation unto Chriſt, as the Prieſts under the Law had unto God; comp. Mal. 3. 8. with Luk. 10. 6. & 2 Cor. 5. 18, 19, 20. and ſo much the more deſerve a better maintenance, by how much more excellent their Miniſtery is then that of the Law.

It is an unjuſt thing to leave them to the meer benevolence of the people, alledging the practiſe of the Primitive Church; for their zeal and love to the Goſpel was ſo hot, that they were ready to part with all they had for the maintenance of it. But the zeal of theſe latter dayes (if any at all) is ſo cold, that moſt men will not part with a nutſhel unto the Miniſters of Chriſt, for all their pains and labour, but what they are forced unto.

Tittle] The Greek word κεραία, ſignifieth properly, a line bent crooked, or the top of a horn. So that Mat. 5. 18. & Luk. 16. 17. where it is uſed, it ſignifieth the bending or bowing that is in the top of ſome Hebrew letters: Or, according to ſome, by tittle is meant, the Hebrew vowels, the meaning is, that not ſo much as the leaſt part of a letter of the Law ſhould periſh; which is not to be properly taken, for it hath been, and may be that ſome of the Hebrew letters in the Old Teſtament ſhould be changed, as may appear by the divers readings in ſundry Copies, for that may be without the loſſe of any ſentence; but his meaning is, that not the leaſt parcell or ſentence of the Law ſhall paſſe away, making parts in the Law, to be like tittles in the Alphabet.

Tittle, Mat. 5. 18. One jot, or one tittle. Not the leaſt letter, or particle of a letter. A proverbiall ſpeech, ſignifying that exact obedience is due to the Moral law, to the worlds end. Annot.

It is put for affliction and trouble, Gen. 41. 51.

Token] is, 1. Of confirmation, as the rainbow, Gen. 9. 12, 13. and Circumciſion to confirm the Covenant made with Abraham, Gen. 17. 11.

2. For remembrance, Exod. 12. 14. & 13. 16.

3. For example, Job 21. 29.

4. For a witneſſe, Numb. 17. 10.

5. For an argument or demonſtration, Phil. 1. 28. 2 Theſſ. 1. 5.

6. For ſubſcription, 2 Theſſ. 3. 17.

7. For evidence, Deut. 22. 15, 17.

8. For the loving mercy of God, Pſal. 86. 17.

9. For the notable and wonderful works of God, Pſal. 65. 8. & 135. 9.

10. For the conſtellations of heaven, Iſa. 44. 25.

Tola] A worm. The Son of Iſſachar, Gen. 46. 13. 1 Chron. 7. 1. The Son of Puah, Judg. 10. 1.

Tolad] Nativity, or generation. A City, 1 Chr. 4. 29.

Tolaites] Little worms. A family deſcended of Tola, Numb. 26. 23.

Tolerable] Mat. 10. 15. To be ſuffered, indured. Groſſe ſinners that never heard the Goſpel, are not in ſo bad a condition, as they that refuſe it.

Toll] Ezr. 4. 13. Toll uſeth to be taken for Cattel, Cart-loads of commodities, or other things that uſe to paſſe through the gates of a City. Annot.

Tombe] A grave. It is called a tombe; or as the word in Greek ſignifieth, a monument, becauſe it putteth us in minde of him that is dead, and of our own condition, which is to be like his, Mat. 27. 6. Mar. 5. 2.

It is put for a heap, Job 21. 32. marg. See Sepulchre.

Tongs] 1 King. 7. 49. They were to take coals to burn the incenſe of the golden Altar. Annot. Iſa. 6. 6. It comes from a word here uſed that ſignifies to take; as if he had ſaid, he took with the taking inſtruments; or the takers. Annot.

Tongue] The principall inſtrument of ſpeech. Pſa. 45. 1. My tongue is the pen of a ready Writer. Jam. 3. 5. The tongue is a little member.

2. Speech it ſelf. Jam. 3. 6. The tongue is fire. Jer. 18. 18. Smite him with the tongue. A Metonymie of the cauſe for the effect.

3. Strange language, or the gift of ſpeaking with a ſtrange language. 1 Cor. 14. 2. He that ſpeaketh a tongue. 1 Cor. 13. 8.

Tongue is a moſt honourable member, therefore it is called Mans glory, Gen. 49. 6. Pſal. 16. 9. & 30. 12.

1. Becauſe by it he excels all other creatures.

2. By it he glorifieth God, in preaching, and converting ſouls, and in praiſing God for his bleſſings.

A man hath but one tongue, and two ears, to teach him to be ſwift to hear, and ſlow to ſpeak, Jam. 1. 19.

2. To teach him not to be of a double tongue, which God hates, Prov. 8. 13.

Before the fall the Tongue was like the pen of a ready writer, Pſal. 45. 1. and uttered faithfully thoſe things which the heart indited; but ſince the fall, it is a world of iniquity, and defileth the whole body, and ſetteth on fire the courſe of nature, and is ſet on fire of hell, Jam. 3. 6.

It is put, 1. For Nations, Iſa. 66. 18. Dan. 3. 4, 7, 29. Phil. 2. 11. Rev. 5. 9.

2. For men, Prov. 6. 16. The lying tongue is put for the Lyer himſelf.

Deceitfull tongue] A tongue uttering crafty and guileful words. Pſal. 52. 4. Thou loveſt all words that may deſtroy, O deceitful tongue; that is, a man ſpeaking deceit with his tongue.

Double tongued] Such as ſay one thing ſitting, and another thing ſtanding, Lyers, which vary in their reports, 1 Tim. 3. 8.

Tongue of fire] A flame which is like a tongue in form, and in effect, for it licketh up as a Tongue doth; ſo Gods wrath ſhall conſume the wicked, Iſa. 5. 24.

Tongue imagineth miſchief] The tongue to be the inſtrument to utter that miſchief which the heart hath thought and imagined. Pſal. 52. 2. Thy tongue imagineth miſchief.

Tongue of the learned] That ſingular skill which Chriſt had in his own perſon, above meaſure, and which he gave to his Miniſters (according to meaſure) that they might know how to comfort and pacifie afflicted conſciences. Iſa. 50. 4. The Lord hath given me a tongue of the learned.

Tongues of men and Angels] Such an excellent faculty of ſpeech, as might not onely become men, but even the Angels, if they could ſpeak: yet were it nothing worth, unleſſe it be imployed (through love) unto the edification of others. 1 Cor. 13. 1. If I ſhould ſpeak with the tongue of Men and Angels, and had not love, I were as ſounding Braſſe, and tinkling Cymball. An Hyperbole.

To divide the tongue] is, To hinder the conſent of the wicked, in plotting and conſulting againſt the godly, Pſal. 55. 9.

To ſmite with the tongue] To utter malicious and ſlanderous words, which hurt a mans name (as blowes or ſtroaks hurt a mans body.) Jer. 18. 18. Let us ſmite him with the tongue. Metaphor.

To whet the tongue] is, To be taken up with backbiting and ſlander, for the killing of the good name of others, Pſal. 64. 4.

The tongue is the meſſenger of the minde, the character of a man, the buttery of reaſon, the former of words, and receiver of taſtes; and though it be a little fire, it can kindle a great matter, and boaſt great things.

The diſeaſe of the tongue is a fierce malady, and he that is affected with it, can either never hold his peace, or never ſpeak well, for it is an unruly evill, full of deadly poyſon, which maketh it ſo poyſonous, that it is both poyſoned, and poyſoneth others. It is paralytick to all good and furious to all evil. It defileth the whole body, and hurteth thoſe that hear it.

Tool] See Inſtrument.

Top] is put for the higheſt part of any Mountain, Tree, &c. Gen. 11. 4. Exod. 17. 9.

2. For the end, Lam. 2. 19.

3. Pride, Ezek. 31. 10.

4. For that which is publick, Mat. 10. 27. Luk. 12. 3.

5. For the divinity of Chriſt, Gen. 28. 12.

Topaz] A precious ſtone, of a greeniſh colour, ſoft, that it may be poliſhed with a Whetſtone; ſome, and the beſt, are like gold, both are good againſt the flux of blood, and the lunatique ſickneſſe, Zanchy de operibus Dei, p. 394.

It was put in the Breaſt-plate of Aaron, Exod. 28. 17. & 39. 10. By it is figured the glory of the triumphant Church, Rev. 21. 20. Thoſe in Æthiopia are moſt precious, Job 28. 19.

Tophel] Decay, or fooliſhneſſe. A place, Deut. 1. 1.

Tophet] A large and wide place neer unto Jeruſalem, where Jewiſh Idolaters (after the manner of the Ammonites) burned their children, and offered them up unto the Idol Moloch, ſet up in this Tophet, being in the Valley of Hinnon: as we may read, 2 Kin. 23. 10. Jer. 7. 31. alſo Jer. 19. 2. 2 Chr. 28. 3. King Achas burnt his children in Tophet.

2. A place appointed for deſtruction, where God would give a famous overthrow openly, in the ſight and knowledge of his Church, unto the fierce and mighty King of Babylon, for his exceeding cruelty againſt the people of God. Iſa. 30. 33. Tophet is prepared of old. Whereas ſome expound this of Hell, it is not properly a deſcription of Hell, but by alluſion: for Tophet carryeth a deſcription of Hell, in 3 things.

1 For the ampleneſſe or largeneſſe of the place.

2 And the horrible crying of burned and tormented children.

3 Alſo, for the ſharpneſſe of the pains.

Tophet] A timbrell, or tabret; becauſe when the children were offered up by their parents to Moloch, and burned, the parents beat upon Tabrets, that the cry of the children ſhould not pierce their ears.

It was polluted by Joſiah, 2 King. 23. 10. when he appointed it a place to caſt out all the filth of the City, that there ſhould be no more idolatry committed. Jeremy foretelleth, Jer. 19. 6, 11. that it ſhould be called The valley of ſlaughter, by reaſon of the great number of the Jews that ſhould be killed in it.

Torch] The uſe is, to give light in the dark.

It is put for the Church deſtroying her enemies, Zech. 12. 6.

Torment] The pain that Malefactors ſuffer in their puniſhment inflicted upon them.

It

It is put for the juſt judgement of God upon the whore of Babylon, Rev. 18. 7, 10, 15. And,

2. For the pain of the damned in hell, which is called, the place of their torment, Luk. 16. 28.

3. For any grievous pain or grief, Rev. 9. 5.

4. For the ſting of conſcience that torments the wicked, at the preaching of Gods faithfull Miniſters, Rev. 11. 10.

Tozn] See Tear.

It is put for, To be afflicted of God, Hoſ. 6. 1, 2. Broken, 1 King. 13. 26, 28. marg.

Tortoiſe] Lev. 11. 29. The Greek tranſlateth it, the land Crocodile. In Hebrew, Tſab, ſo called of the ſhell that covereth it, for Tſab is alſo uſed for a Coach, or covered Wagon, Numb. 7. 3. Of this creature Sol. Jarchi ſaith, it is like a Frog. Aynſworth.

It's ſaid that their fleſh moderately eaten doth burthen the ſtomach, but being eat in great meaſure, comforts the ſame. It goeth very ſlowly, nor will it come forth of its ſhell as long as it conceiveth there's any danger. They lay their eggs in the ſand, wherewith it covereth them, ſetting marks whereby to know the place. Againſt Serpents and Vipers, they uſe the hearb Origan, or wilde Marjoram.

It's written of the Sea-Tortoiſes in India, that they are ſo big, as that with one of them a dwelling cottage may be covered. Alſo, that in one of them they may row on the water, as in a boat. Nor is there either buckler or ſhield ſo ſtrong as their ſhell, upon which the wheel of a Cart loaden may paſſe over, and yet not break it. It never caſteth its coat; is an enemy to the Partridge and Ape.

The Land-female-Tortoiſe is unwilling to copulation, becauſe it muſt lie on the back, and cannot riſe without help, which the Male doth often leave ſo lying, whereby it becometh a prey to Kites. Their eyes are moſt clear and ſplendent. They feed in the night, and with their mouths cruſh the hardeſt things.

Torture] Heb. 11. 35. were tortured, namely by being beaten with cudgels unto death. It hath its denomination from τύμπανον, which ſignifieth a drum uſually, and hence ſome have parallel'd this torture with that among the Romans, tearmed Equuleus, as if the perſon thus tortured were racked and ſtretched out in manner of a Drum-head; but it ſignifieth alſo a Drum-ſtick, and thence cometh the puniſhment to be tearmed Tympaniſmus, that is, a tabring or beating one to death with cudgels, as if it were with Drum-ſticks. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Toſſe] is ſpoken of the Sea, Jer. 5. 22. Mat. 14. 24.

It is put for, To be grievouſly afflicted, Iſa. 22. 18. Iſa. 54. 11.

2. For the uncertainty of riches, Prov. 21. 6.

3. For inconſtant in the doctrine of faith, Epheſ. 4. 14. and grace of faith, Jam. 1. v. 6.

4. For unquiet, and diſcontented, Job 7. v. 4.

Tottering] Ready to fall.

It is put for the uncertain condition of the wicked, Pſal. 62. 3.

8. To move and perſwade, 1 Sam. 10. 26.

9. To invade and oppreſſe, Jer. 12. 14.

10. To approach and draw neer, Exod. 19. 16. Numb. 16. 26.

11. To arrive, Act. 27. 3.

Blood toucheth blood, Hoſ. 4. 2. is ſpoken of the frequency of ſins, which follow thick one upon another.

Touch the earth that it melt, Amos 9. 5. is, To pour down judgements upon the inhatants thereof for ſin.

To touch the Mountains, Pſal. 144. 5. is, To humble and abaſe the proud.

The ſoul is ſaid not to touch, when it abhors and hates, Job 6. 7.

To touch an unclean thing, is, To have fellowſhip with ſin and ſinners, Iſa. 65. 5.

To touch a Woman] To lye with her, Gen. 20. 6. 1 Cor. 7. Alſo, to hurt, or do injury; injury, Gen. 36. 11, 29. Josh. 9. 19. Ruth 2. 9. Job 1. 11. Psal. 105. 15. Zach. 2. 8.

Low] Unto it the wicked are compared, because of their inability to resist the judgements of God, Isa. 1. 31. & chap. 43. vers. 17.

Towards] In, 1 King. 8. 29. mar. 2 Chr. 6. 20. marg. With, Jer. 12. 3. marg.

Towel] Joh. 13. 4, 5. A linnen cloth, wherewith our Saviour girded himself, when he washed his Disciples feet, and wherewith being washen, he wiped them.

Tower] is put, 1. For proud and lofty men, Isa. 2. 15. & 30. 25.

2. For the protection of God, 2 Sam. 22. 3. 51. Psal. 18. 2. & 61. 3. & 144. 2. Pro. 18. 10.

It is put for a Corner, Zeph. 3. 6. marg. and Secret place, 2 King. ch. 5. 24. marg. To sit upon the Tower, Hab. 2. 1. is, To depend upon God.

Town] A great Borough, or Village, 1 Sam. 27. 5. Mat. 10. 11.

Town-clerk] Act. 19. 35. The Syriack and Arabick Translations render it, a chief man of the City. The Ethiopick, as the Vulgar, the Scribe. Some say that his office was to keep the publick Records, and when need was, to read them. But the Asiarchæ at this time exhibiting the Olympicks at Ephesus, to the honour of Diana, this Γραμματεὺς, was a principall Officer chosen by the people themselves, to register the Victors names, the time and stile of Rewards, &c. who therefore was the likelyest man to appease this tumult. Gregorie's Notes p. 42, &c.

T R.

Trachonitis] Stony, or cruel. A Region of Syria, Luk. 3. 1.

To trade] To traffick and exercise merchandise by Land, Gen. 34. 10. and Sea, Rev. 18. 17.

It is put for, The increasing of our gifts and graces, Matth. 25. 16. Luk. 19. 15, 13. This is better then that of gold, Prov. 3. 14.

Tradition] A doctrine, first delivered from God by speech, and written down afterwards in his book, for the use of the Church. 1 Cor. 11. 2. And keep the Ordinances (or Traditions) for so it is in the Originall. This is a written Tradition, we are bound to beleeve this absolutely. Of such Paul speaks, 2 Thess. 2. 15. & 3. 6.

2. An humane ordinance, not written in the Word, but delivered from man to man. Matth. 15. 2. The tradition of the Elders.

Tradition so taken, is either good or evill, according to the subject, matter, and intention of men. This is an unwritten Tradition. This we must beleeve conditionally, as it agreeth with the Word; but Popish superstitions contrary to the Word, are to be abhorred of us.

Tradition of the Fathers] Such ordinances as his Ancestors had received from God, and imbraced; of the which, Paul was an earnest maintainer and follower, even while he was a Pharisee, but without repentance and faith in Christ, Phil. 3. 6. Gal. 1. 14. Being zealous of the Tradition of their Fathers.

Treffick] Gen. 42. 34. Buy and sell.

Train] signifieth, 1. A company to wait and attend upon, 1 King. 10. 2.

2. The glory of God, Isa. 6. 1.

3. To instruct and accustome, Prov. 22. 6. Gen. 14. 14.

Traitour] One that betrayeth another, so did Judas our Saviour, Luk. 6. 16. Such the Apostle foretold would be in the last dayes, 2 Tim. 3. 4.

Trample] signifieth, 1. To overcome and subdue, Psal. 91. 13.

2. To destroy, Isa. 63. 3.

3. To contemne and despise, Mat. 7. 6.

Trance] The Greek word ἔκστασις signifieth, a falling from the former estate and condition. Hence Synecdochically, being referred to the mind, it signifieth that consternation and astonishment that happeneth unto it, when it is led out of it self from sensible things, to the contemplation of spiritual. It is a kinde of revelation, whereby God revealeth himself to his servants; and it is twofold.

1. A divine trance, when the servants of God were taken up in spirit, separate as it were from the body, and out of the body, that they might see some heavenly mysteries revealed unto them. Peter was in such a trance, Act. 10. 10. & 11. 5. and Paul, Act. 22. 17. John was in a higher trance, when he was taken up in the spirit on the Lords day, and saw so many heavenly visions of those things that should befall the Church afterwards, Rev. 4. 2. but Paul was in the highest of all, when he was taken up into the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 1, 2.

2. Diabolicall, which is that trance of Witches and Sorcerers, when they lie dead and senseless for a time, and their souls seem to be out of their body, yet the union betwixt the soul and the body is not dissolved, as they beleeve, but the act of vivification tion onely is ſuſpended onely for a time. Weems 4. deg. Sons, p. 72,73.

Tranquillity] is put for, Proſperity, Dan. 4. 27.

2. Errour, Ibid. marg.

Tranſferre] To change into another form, 1 Cor. 4.6.

Tranſfigure] ſignifieth likewiſe to change into another ſhape, and is ſpoken of Chriſt, Mat. 17.2. who was tranſfigured not in reſpect of his ſubſtance, but glorious condition, for a time.

Tranſform] To change.

It is taken in a good part, Rom. 12.2. and in an evill, 2 Cor. 11. 13, 14, 15.

Tranſgreſſion] That which goes beyond, and exceeds due bounds and limits.

2. Every ſin, ſmall and great. 1 Joh. 3. 4. Tranſgreſſion of the Law is ſin. Heb. 2, 2. Sin is called Tranſgreſſion, becauſe it exceeds the bounds and marks which God by his Law hath appointed unto us, for the moderating of our deſires and actions.

3. The wickedneſſe of the Jews betraying and denying Chriſt before Pilate, and delivering him to be crucified, Iſa. 53. 8. Act. 2. 2. & 3. 13.

Becauſe of tranſgreſſions] To ſhew and manifeſt our ſins, and in the ſight and feeling thereof to be driven to look unto Chriſt, to be ſaved by his onely grace, and no otherwiſe. Gal. 3.19. It was added becauſe of tranſgreſſions.

Tranſlate] ſignifieth, 1. To take from one and give to another, 2 Sam. 3.10.

2. To change, 1 from ſin to grace, Col. 1.13. 2 from miſery to happineſſe and glory, Heb. 11. 5.

Tranſlated] Taken away from the converſation of men, without ſenſe of death, removed whole into heaven, as Enoch and Elias were. Heb. 11. 5. By faith Enoch was tranſlated. Gen. 5. 24. God took him. Which phraſe, though it be ſometime applyed to the reception of the ſoul, as Ezek. 24. 16. Jonas 4. 3. yet it is fitted in Scripture to the aſſumption of the whole man from hence to heaven. I ſee no more abſurdity why the bodies of ſome may not be received into heaven before Chriſt, then the ſouls of all the Saints which departed before his death. For whereas Chriſt is called the firſt fruits of them that ſleep, it will not prove that Chriſt did firſt of all other in body aſcend to heaven, but that his reſurrection is the cauſe of ours to eternal life; as the bleſſing and uſe of the reſidue of fruits did depend upon the benediction of the firſt fruits. That place in the Hebrews will teach onely this, that by his fleſh crucified, he merited and purchaſed the opening of heaven to all that ever entred; not that his body came there before all other bodies. Sure it is, that both Moſes and Elias were alive in Mount Tabor, the tranſlating of whoſe bodies was a comfortable pledge to all the holy Fathers of the future reſurrection of all the faithfull. If their bodies which roſe at the reſurrection of Chriſt were taken up into heaven before his own Aſcenſion, Why not thoſe of Enoch, Elias, and Moſes?

Tranſparent] Rev. 21.21. as it were tranſparent glaſſe, that is clear, bright, and ſo ſhining that one may ſee through.

Tranſubſtantiation] A change of one ſubſtance into another, as of Bread into the body of Chriſt, of Wine into the blood of Chriſt, according to that monſtrous doctrine of Popery, and contrary to the wholeſome words of Chriſt, which teach Sacraments to be not the things themſelves, whereof they be but pledges and ſeals.

Trap] See Snare, Scandall.

Trabail] Journeying or paſſing on foot, or by horſe, from place to place.

2. The pain of childe-birth. 1 Theſſ. 5.3. As travail upon a woman with childe.

3. Troubles, dangers, and evils, which happen in ones journey. Exod. 18.8. He told all the travail that happened unto them.

Trabail] is put, 1. For labour and toyl about the things of the world, Eccl. 4. 4, 6.

2. For the inward ſufferings of Chriſt, Iſa. 53. 11. and of the Church, Lam. 3. 5.

3. Metaphorically, for the earneſt deſire of the creature to be freed from bondage, Rom. 8. 22.

4. For the earneſt indevour of the wicked to commit ſin, Job 17. 20. Pſalm 7. 14.

To trabail in birth again] To ſeek, and with great grief of heart (like to that of Women with travail) to labour and ſtrive to recover or revoke the Galatians to that truth of the Goſpel, from which they were faln, ſince their firſt birth by Paul his preaching, Gal. 4. 19. A Metaphor from Women great with childe.

Not to trabail] To be deprived of all her people, wherein ſhe abounded.

Traberſe] is put for, The great pains that the wicked take in Idolatry, Jer. 2. 23.

Treacherous] is put, 1. For deceitfull, 2 King. 19. 23. Iſa. 24. 16.

2. Perfidious in breaking the Covenant of God, Jer. 3. 7, 8, 10, 11. & 9. 2.

3. Contemptible, Mal. 2. 10, 11, 14.

Tread] is put, 1. for, To enjoy and poſſeſſe, Deut. 11. 24, 25.

2. To preſſe out, Job 24. 11.

3. To abaſe and humble, Job 40. 12.

4. To deſtroy, Pſal. 7. 5. & 60. 12.

5. To overcome and ſubdue, Pſal. 44. 5. & 91. 13.

6. To appear before God in worſhipping him, Iſa. 1. 12.

7. To paſture and feed, Iſa. 7. 25.

8. To afflict and trouble with judgements for ſin, Iſa. 22. 5.

9. To oppreſſe, Amos 5. 11.

Treaſon] Zimri branded herewith, 1 Kin. 16. 29. But though Athaliah cryed Treaſon, treaſon, 2 King. 11. 14. yet what was done againſt her was no treaſon, ſhe being guilty of much blood, and but an Uſurper, whom the Jews were not bound to obey as their Soveraigne.

Treaſure] Some earthly thing of price, which men make great account of, and therefore lay it up till afterward. Mat. 6. 19, 20. Lay not up treaſure for your ſelf in earth. Mat. 13. 44. An earthly treaſure.

2. The wholeſome precious doctrine of the Word. 2 Cor. 4. 7. We have this treaſure in earthly veſſels. Metaphor. An heavenly treaſure.

3. Everlaſting life, with the graces and good works that lead thither, and ſhall be there freely rewarded. Matthew 6. 20. Lay up treaſures for your ſelves in heaven. When Chriſtians do carefully imploy their graces, ſtudying to abound in good works, they doe herein treaſure and hoord up joyes, in life which is heavenly and everlaſting.

Treaſure is put, 1. for, The people of God, Exod. 19. 5.

2. Abundance of Gods bleſſings, Deut. 28. 12. Pſal. 17. 14.

3. Riches, Prov. 15. 6. & 21. 20.

4. The graces of the Spirit, for their excellency, Iſa. 33. 6.

5. For abundance of knowledge, Matth. 13. 52.

6. For the wiſdome and knowledge of Chriſt, Col. 2. 3.

7. The affections, Matth. 12. 35. Luk. 6. 45.

8. For the place where the treaſure is put, Prov. 8. 21. Iſa. 10. 13. & 39. 24.

Good, and evill treaſures] The abundance either of graces or vices, ſtored up in the hearts of men good and evill, to be vented and uttered by their tongues. Luk. 6. 46. A good man out of the good treaſure of his heart bringeth forth good things, &c.

To treaſure up] To gather together into one heap. Rom. 2. 5. Te treaſure up vengeance againſt the day of vengeance. The meaning is, that wicked men by continuing in ſin, heap and ſtore up puniſhment, even as worldly men do heap up and gather treaſure.

Treaſury] That part of the Temple, wherein oblations and gifts for the Widows, fatherleſſe, and other poor, were laid up, and kept, John 8. 20. & Luke 21. 1. Mark 12. 41.

Treatiſe] Act. 1. 1. that is, the Goſpel by St. Luke, as wherein thoſe things are recorded that Jeſus began both to doe and teach.

Tree] A plant grown up to a great height and meaſure.

2. Every perſon, man or woman, good or bad. Matthew 3. 10. Every man that bringeth not forth good fruit. Metaphor. Ezek. 17. 24. A good man is reſembled to a good tree, and a bad man to a bad tree, Mat. 7. 17.

3. Souldiers of the King of Aſſur, Iſa. 10. 19.

Tree of Life] That happy life that Adam received of God by Creation, wherein he was to be confirmed, by eating the tree of Life, which was appointed to be a Sacrament thereof. Gen. 2. 9. And the tree of Life in the middle of the garden.

2. Chriſt Jeſus, who himſelf is the eternall life, and from whom the faithful receive it. Rev. 22. 2. Was the tree of Life.

Tree of knowledge of good and evil] The miſerable experience of good loſt, and of evil which ſhould come upon Adam and Eve, and all mankinde, by breaking Gods commandement in eating of that tree which was forbidden them to eat of. Gen. 2. 9. The tree of knowledge of good and evill.

To plant a tree] A plot of trees, Gen. 2. 33. It is uſuall to put one for many: as Gen. 3. 2. & 4. 20. Pſal. 78. 2. & 95. 8. & 1 King. 10. 22. 2 King. 10. 11. Gen. 21. 25.

Tree planted by the Rivers, &c.] A faithfull perſon, ingraffed into Chriſt, to be made one with him by regeneration, and to become fruitfull in good works. Pſal. 1. 3. He ſhall be like to a tree planted by the Rivers of water.

Corrupt trees] Ungodly perſons, that are unfruitfull and good for nothing, like to rotten and dead trees. Jude v. 12. Corrupt trees, and without fruit. Such as the Fig-tree was, Matth. 21.

Many trees] A multitude of people to be refreshed with the ſpirituall water of the Word. Ezek. 47. 7. At the brink of the River were very many trees.

Trees of Righteouſneſſe] Righteous men and women, who being juſtified by faith in Chriſt, doe righteouſly, and bring forth much good fruit. Iſa. 61. 3. They may be called the trees of righteouſneſſe.

Note. As good trees bring forth fruit as an ornament to it ſelfe, and commodious to others; ſo beleeving perſons are fruitful to many.

Note. As all men generally are compared to trees, ſo Princes and great men are ſet forth by high and tall trees, Ezek. 17. 12. & 31. 1.

Tremble] is ſpoken, 1. Of things without life, as Mount Sinai, Exod. 19. 18. the earth, Pſal. 114. 7.

2. Of living creatures, and it is a ſhaking of the body, joyned with fear, Mar. 5. 33. Luk. 8 47. Act. 16. 19.

It is put for great fear, in reſpect of danger, or affliction, or any wonderfull thing that cometh beyond the expectation, Exod. 15. 15. Iſa. 33. 14. Pſal. 55. 6. & 48. 7.

2. For that Son-like fear wrought in the heart by the Word, Iſa. 66. 2.

Fear and trembling] Not that perplexed fear and horror of damnation, which wicked men have; but the awe of ſinning againſt God, and reverend dread of his Majeſty, which holdeth the godly alwayes converſant in good works, till they come to the end of their race, and attain the goal of ſalvation. Phil. 2. 12. Work out (or make an end of) your ſalvation, with fear and with trembling.

Hence there is no help at all for the Papiſts, againſt the infallible certainty of Salvation by faith, which doth well admit (a companion and a fruit) a godly fear and trembling at ſin, (a fear of humility:) but quite ſhutteth out that ſervile fear of being damned, (a fear of diſtruſt.) See 1 Joh. 4. 1. Perfect love caſts out fear.

Fear and trembling, according to the uſe of Scripture, ſignifie nothing elſe but humility and modeſty of minde; nor are theſe words joyned together ever found in any other ſenſe, which will appear in five places, where onely they are found; at,

1. Pſal. 2. 11. wherewe are bid, Rejoyce in God with trembling: the word ſignifieth, to leap for joy, whereunto fear is an enemy, being not without care and anxiety of minde, but humility and modeſty of minde agree well with this Joy.

II. 1 Cor. 2. 3. Paul was among the Corinthians in great weakneſſe, with fear and trembling; yet he had no cauſe to tremble in reſpect of the Corinthians, from whom he feared nothing, but onely compareth his humility and meekneſſe, with the pride of the falſe Apoſtles.

III. Eph. 6. 5. where obedience with fear and trembling is recommended to Servants, who are not to ſerve with a ſlaviſh fear, doing nothing but by compulſion, but to ſerve them humbly and uprightly, in ſimplicity of heart.

IV. Phil. 2. 13. where we are to work out our ſalvation with fear and trembling; that is, with all humility, not with a doubtful fear, the words going before, and following after, confirm it; he had ſaid before that Chriſt, notwithſtanding the excellency of his gifts, yet took upon him the form a Servant, humbling himſelf unto the death of the Croſſe, and having run his courſe, obtained the crown: So ſhould we work out our ſalvation with fear and trembling; now theſe cannot ſtick together, if fear and trembling be any thing elſe then humility, the words following evidence the ſame; for it is ſaid, God worketh in us both to will and to doe; which being ſo, there is no cauſe of doubtfull fear, but great cauſe of humility.

V. Rom. 11. 20. the Apoſtle oppoſeth trembling to pride, but there is no reaſon why fear (properly ſo called) ſhould be oppoſed to pride, ſeeing nothing is ſo proud as the devill and wicked men, and yet nothing more fearfull. Camero tom. 2. p. 101, 102, 103.

Trench] A ditch, or water-courſe, 1 Ki. 18. 32, 35.

It is put for a tent, 1 Sam. 26 5.

2. A fortification caſt up by an enemy, about a beſieged City, Luk. 19. 43.

3. A place of carriage, 1 Sam. 17. 20. & 26. 5. marg.

Treſpaſſe] An hurt done to our neighbour, in his eſtate, name, or perſon, Numb. 5. 6. Lev. 6. 24. Mat. 6. 15. If you do not forgive men their treſpaſſes.

2. Any ſin or offence either againſt God or man. Mat. 16. 15. Neither will your Father forgive you your treſpaſſes.

This word [treſpaſſe] according to the Hebrew word, ſignifieth ſeditions, iniquities, defections done purpoſely and diſloyally, and therefore be hainous and criminal; it is more then ſin, as may be gathered by Gen.

31. 36. Exod. 34. 7. & Job 34. 37. He addeth treſpaſſe to ſin, Pſal. 5. 10.

Treſpaſſe] The Greek word παράπτωμα, ſignifieth properly, the very act of falling.

It is put, 1. for Original ſin, Epheſ. 2. 1. Rom. 5. 17.

2. Actuall, Mat. 6. 14, 15. Mar. 11. 25, 26. It differs from ſin as the cauſe from the effect. Leigh Crit. Sacr. 429.

Treſpaſſe-offering] was a ſacrifice for ſins of Omiſſion or Ignorance, Lev. 5. 15.

The Hebrew word ſignifieth, blindfolded with a cloak: theſe ſins the Apoſtle calls ἀγνοήματα, errors done of ignorance. Heb. 9. 7.

This Sacrifice was offered for ſins done of ignorance, but not for ſins done ignorantly; between which this is the difference, ſins of ignorance proceeded meerly of ignorance; ſins done ignorantly, were ſuch, as whereof ignorance was not the cauſe of them, as when one in drunkenneſſe killeth a man, he doth it ignorantly, but not of ignorance, becauſe he was wilfully drunk, which drew on his ignorance; here his drunkenneſſe and ignorance were joyned together, as the cauſe and the effect.

Trial of faith] Afflictions which are ſent of God, for trial and proof of our faith, as gold is tryed in fire. 1 Pet. 1. 7. The trial of your faith being much more precious then gold. Job 23. 10.

Fiery trial] Moſt ſharp, bitter, and grievous afflictions. 1 Pet. 4 12. Think it not ſtrange concerning the fiery trial

Tribe] Either ſtrictly one of the twelve Tribes of Iſrael, Mat. 19 28. Luk. 2. 36. Act. 13. 31. Phil. 3. 5. and elſewhere often: or more largely for all people diſperſed in divers parts under heaven, as the Iſraelites were diſtributed into twelve Tribes, Rev. 7. 11. & 14. 6. & Matth. 24. 30. and often elſewhere.

Tribes] The poſterity of the twelve Sons of Iſrael, Pſal. 78. 55. Theſe were called [Tribes] after the Romane name, where at firſt the whole multitude was divided into three parts, thereof called Tribes: but the Hebrew name ſignifies ſtaves, or rods, as growing out of one ſtock or tree: and theſe Tribes were 12. Numb. 13. 3, 5, 16.

Twelve Tribes of Iſrael] The heads and authors of the twelve Tribes and kindreds which came of Iſrael, Gen. 49. 28. Alſo Gen. 35. 22. & 49. 16.

Tribulation] A temporal affliction in this life, either inward to the ſoul, or outward to the body. Rom. 5. 4. We rejoyce in tribulation. This ſometime happeneth for triall, ſometime is a forerunner of hell.

2. Part of that eternall pain and torment reſerved for the wicked in hell. Rom. 2. Tribulation and anguiſh ſhall be upon the ſoul of every man that doth evill.

Tribute] A ſum of money paid unto Princes (for their better maintenance) according to the proportion of mens ſubſtance. Rom. 13. 6. For this cauſe ye pay tribute.

Howſoever the two Greek words, Phoros and Telos, uſed by the Apoſtle, and Engliſhed by our Tranſlators, tribute, and cuſtome, be confounded by ſome learned men, as Synonyma and equivalent, or of one ſignification and force, yet being here by a particle disjunctive diſtinguiſhed, I judge with other judicious Expoſitors, that they ſignifie two kindes of payments, one laid upon the perſon, which is properly Telos, or poll money (cuſtome here) becauſe men were taxed by the poll, and paid man by man, as Matthew chap. 17. verſ. 25. The other laid upon mens ſubſtance, movable, as Merchandiſe; or unmoveable, as Lands, that is Phoros, (Tribute) becauſe men were wont to bring it into the Kings Treaſure, or becauſe it was paid of commodities brought in.

Thus with us there be two kindes of payments, the firſt called Subſidies, Tenths, Fifteens, laid upon men according to ability: The ſecond is Impoſt, or Cuſtome, due for Traffick, ariſing by Exportation, and Importation.

Note further, that amongſt the Romans, Tribute was paid to the Quæſtores, or publick Treaſurers: Cuſtome to Publicans, or Cuſtomers: Fear was due to Officers of Juſtice, as Judges, Preſidents, Serjeants, &c. Honour to the Emperour, or King, 1 Pet. 2. 17.

The Jews paid a threefold tribute to the Lord.

The firſt was called, Argentum animarum, Exod. 30. 2. which every one paid for the redemption of his life.

The ſecond was Argentum tranſeuntis, which they paid to the Lord when they were numbred by the head, 2 King. 12. 5.

The third was that Half ſhekel, which they offered freely to the Lord; this had Aarons rod upon the one ſide, and the pot of Manna upon the other; and when they were under the Romans, or captives under any other forain Princes, the Maſters of their Synagogues uſed to gather of them this Half ſhekel yearly, and ſend it to Jeruſalem to the High-prieſt; this was not the penny which Cæſar craved of them, for it had Cæſar's image and ſuperſcription upon it, neither would the Lord have bidden den them, give that to Cæsar which was due to God. This didrachma, or tribute, which they paid to Cæsar, was as much in value as the Half shekel; and Christ himself, though he was free, and the Kings Son, yet he paid it for himself, and for Peter, Mat. 17. 27. And Mary, when Christ was in her wombe, went to Bethlehem to pay this tribute to Cæsar, Luke 2. 5.

This penny which Cæsar exacted of the Jews, was but denarius (denarius, didrachma, and numisma were all one.) This denarius was the ordinary hire of a Workman for a day, Mat. 20. 2. and the daily wages of a Souldier, as Tacitus saith. Weems Jud. Law, p. 51, 52.

To try] To search, examine, and prove every thing, to finde out what is good, what evill; what true, what false; that we may imbrace the one, and eschew the other. 1 Thess. 5. 21. Try all things. 1 Joh. 4. 1. Try the spirits.

2. To look into one neerly, to take knowledge of him, and his cause. Psal. 26. 2. Prove me, try me, O Lord.

Try] is referred, I. To God trying Men; which is done divers wayes:

1 By observing their wayes, and so it is nothing else but, to take notice of them, and their estates, Psal. 139. 1, 2, 3.

2 By his blessings, Exod. 16. 4.

3 By the power of his Word, Mal. 3. 2. Heb. 4. 12.

4 By praise and applause, Prov. 27. 21.

5 By false Prophets, Deut. 13. 1.

6 By afflictions and tentations, and that in fury, Ezek. 22. 21, 22. or in mercy, 1 Pet. 1. 7. which is done likewise divers wayes.

1 By sending many crosses one upon another, and of long continuance, Dan. 11. 33, 35. and in Job's case.

2 By sending upon them the spirit of strange and unwonted terrors, Exod. 20. 20.

3 By smiting eminent men with strange and unexpected judgements, Dan. 11. 34.

4 By delaying or withholding expected favours, Deut. 8. 2.

5 By giving but a little help, Dan 11. 34.

6 By leaving men to themselves, and withdrawing from them the special working of his Spirit, 2 Chr. 32. 31.

7 By suffering the godly to fall into the miseries that the wicked do; yea, sometimes by making their condition as the beasts of the field, Eccles. 3. 17, 18, 19.

II. To Men, trying themselves, both in respect of their faith, 2 Cor. 13. 5. and their lives:

1 Daily, Psal. 119. 51. Lam. 3. 40.

2 More specially before the receiving of the Lords Supper, 1 Cor. 11. 28, 31.

3. Trying the spirits, 1 Joh. 4. 1.

Tried] One upon trial found faithfull, Jam. 1. 12.

Tried] Referred to Christ, Isa. 28. 16. is by Peter (1 Pet. 2. 4.) expounded chosen.

It is referred to the Word of God, both actively trying the Doctrines that men build upon the foundation, 1 Cor. 3. 13. and the hearts of men, Heb. 4. 12. and passively, Psal. 12. 6. & 18. 130. which is said to be tryed as silver, because it hath in it no falshood, nor deceit, but by experience is found true and constant; both in the threatnings, promises, and predictions of it.

Trim] is, to deck and adorn, 2 Sam. 19. 24.

It is put for, To direct ones course, or to set forth ones self, Jer. 2. 33. and, to prepare and make ready, Mat. 25 7.

Trinity] The distinction of the Persons, in the unity of the God-head; one and the self-same God in Essence, being for Subsistence three; to wit, the Father, the Son, and the holy Ghost. 1 Joh. 5. 7. And these three are one.

How three, remaining three, may yet be one; and one abiding one, be three; and all this at once: this is a mysterie, rather to be religiously adored, then curiously searched into, requiring rather faith to beleeve, then reason to comprehend and judge it.

Triumph] is, To rejoyce after victory, Exod. 15. 1, 21.

It is taken, 1. In a good part, as it is referred,

1 To Christ, Col. 2. 15.

2 To the faithfull, in respect of their temporall victories, Exod. 15. 1, 21. and spirituall, 2 Cor. 2. 14.

2. In an evill part, thus the wicked triumph over the godly, 1 Sam. 1. 20. Psa. 25. 2. & 94. 3. Job 20. 5.

It is put for, To praise God, Psal. 47. 1. To rejoyce in the works of God, Psal. 92. 2. and praise of God, Psal. 106. 47.

Troas] Bored through. A City of Asia the lesse, 2 Cor. 2. 12. 2 Tim. 4 13 Act. 16. 8.

Trogpllium] A buttery, pantry, or place to keep victuals. A City in the Ile of Samos, Act. 20. 15.

Trophimus] Nourished, or brought up. A Companion of Paul's, Act. 20. 4. & 21. 29. 2 Tim. 4. 20.

Trouble] is put, as it is referred to men, for outward afflictions, 2 Chr. 15. 4. & 29. 8. Psal. 60. 11. and for inward distresse of minde, Psal. 143. 11.

To trouble] To drive or thrust one from his own station or seat, and thereby disquiet him.

It further signifies, with disquietnesse of minde, danger to be destroyed, Gen. 34. 30. So Achan troubled Israel, and was himselfe destroyed, Josh. 6. 18. & 7. 25. Pro. 15. 6, 27. where it is opposed to life.

2. To transport and carry Christian professors from that inward tranquillity and rest which they finde by staying upon Christ alone, by preaching of the Law, and joyning the observation of it with Christ, as necessary to salvation: whereupon ariseth restlesse fear in mens Consciences, troubled with privity and sense of their owne guilt and transgression. Gal. 5. 12. They were cut off which trouble you. To be the cause through the sin of Idolatry, of judgements, drought, and famine upon the Land, to the great disquiet thereof. 1 King. 18. 17, 18. Art thou he which troublest Israel? &c.

To trouble, as it is referred to Men, signifieth,

1. To damnifie and hinder from receiving a benefit, 1 Sam. 14. 29. 1 King. 19. 17.

2. To be cruel, Prov. 11. 17.

3. To bring under the wrath of God, Jos. 6. 18. & 7. 25.

4. To cast into great anxiety and care, Gen. 34. 30. 2 King. 6. 11.

As it is referred to God, it signifieth, to destroy and punish, Josh. 7. 25. Exod. 14. 24.

Troubled] is put, 1. for, Confounded, Gen. 45. 3.

2. Hindered, Ezr. 4. 4.

3. Afraid, Job 23. 15.

4. Grieved, Jer. 31. 20. Lam. 1. 20.

5. Persecuted. 2 Cor. 4. 8. 2 Thess. 1. 7.

6. Wearied, Psal. 38. 6. marg.

7. Answered, Zech. 10. 2. mar.

8. Terrified, Genes. 45. 3. marg. 1 Sam. 16. 14.

Trough] There were two sorts, one wherein to put water, Gen. 24. 20. Exod. 2. 16. Another wherein to knead their dough, Exod. 8. 3. & 12. 34.

Troup] is put, 1. For prosperity, Gen. 30. 11.

2. For an Army, Genes. 49. 19. 1 Sam. 30. 8.

3. A company, 2 Sam. 2. 25.

4. A multitude of Idols, Isa. 65. 11. and robbers, Hos. 6. 9.

5. Temptations and afflictions, Job 19. 12.

6. The creatures of God, both for their multitude, comely order, and readinesse as Souldiers to obey Gods command, Amos 9. v. 6.

Trow] Luk. 17. 9. I trow not. I think not. He doth not.

Truce-breakers] The Greek word ἄσπονδος, signifieth, implacable, Rom. 1. 13. without fidelity; such as being offended, will never be reconciled, 2 Tim. 3. 3.

True] That which is perfect, faithfull, sound, and sure, not counterfeit nor false. Psal. 119. 151. Thy Commandements are true. Rom. 3. 4. Let God be true, &c. Also, one which is faithfull, John 8. 26. 2 Tim. 2. 11.

2. That which is most excellent in that kinde, with which no other can be compared for worthinesse. Joh. 1. 9. This is that true light. Joh. 6. 32. also 15. 1.

In which places [True] is not set against False, but is a note of difference, to distinguish degrees and kindes of things, signifying as much as truely divine and heavenly, far exceeding other things so named.

This word (True, or Truth) is contrary sometime to that which is counterfeit and false, and sometime to that which is a shadow, as Joh. 1. 17.

3. True is as much as naturall, not made, as Joh. 7. 13. Know thee the onely true God, &c. In all these senses Christ is the true light.

True is put for that which is most excellent. Thus Christ is said to be the true light, because of himself, and originally he is light, others onely by participation from him, Joh. 1. 9. So the true bread; i. e. the most excellent bread, Joh. 6. 32. and the true vine, Joh. 15. 1. having that perpetual sap of grace within himself, which he continually administers unto the faithfull, whereby they flourish, and bring forth the works of holinesse and righteousnesse.

2. Thus that true light, 1 Joh. 2. 8. is that most excellent knowledge of God and his Gospel, far surmounting the knowledge of the Law, and creatures.

Truely] Sincerely, and uprightly, without lies and deceit. Matt. 22. 16. Thou teachest the way of God, truely; that is true doctrine for the matter. 1 Joh. 1. 6. They lie, and doe not truely; that is, they play the hypocrites.

Trumpet] An hollow instrument of Silver, Brasse, or some other metall, giving a great sound through the breath of a mans mouth, wherewith publick Magistrates are wont to proclaim their Laws in the time of peace, Dan. 4. 2, 3, 4. after the example of God,

God. Exod. 19. 16. And the ſound of the trumpet exceeding loud. Alſo Captains were wont to encourage their Souldiers in the time of war, after the example of Gideon, Judg. 7. 18. And hypocriticall Phariſees did call the poor together to receive their almes. Mat. 6. 2. When thou giveſt thine almes, make not a trumpet to be blown before thee. This is a material trumpet, whereof we read in Scripture of three good uſes, and of one abuſe.

2. The Prophets, Apoſtles, and Miniſters of the Word, which are commanded to publiſh the meſſage and minde of Chriſt to his people, with great vehemency of voyce. Iſa. 58. 1. Cry aloud, ſpare not, lift up thy voyce like a Trumpet. Rev. 8. 2. And to them were given ſeaven trumpets. This is by ſome expounded of the Miniſters of the Goſpel, whereof there was a type and figure under the Law in the Silver trumpets, by the noyſe whereof the people of God were called to the publick aſſemblies on earth, as now by the Preachers of the Word they are called unto the Kingdome of heaven. Numb. 10. 2. Make two trumpets of ſilver, for the aſſembling of the Congregation. An immaterial and heavenly trumpet, whereof there is direct uſe for ſalvation; alſo that notable ſhrill ſound of the voyce of God, ſhaking all, and piercing the dead which have long lain in the duſt, that they may live again, 1 Cor. 15. 52. 1 Theſſ. 4. 16 Joh. 5. 28.

Note here, that fervour, zeal, and courage ought to be in the Miniſters of the Word, in reproving, admoniſhing, comforting, and ſtirring them up to ſpirituall warfare, was figured in the Trumpets.

The trumpet of God] A moſt mighty noyſe (like to the noyſe of a trumpet) made of God extraordinarily, for the quickning or raiſing up of the dead. 1 Theſſ. 4. 16 The Lord ſhall come with the trumpet of God. 1 Cor. 15. 52. The trump ſhall blow, and the dead ſhall riſe. This is expounded to be the voyce of Chriſt himſelf, Joh. 5. 28. All that are in the grave ſhall hear his voyce.

To blow a trumpet before us] To ſeek fame and renown of men, by doing of good things. Matth. 6. 2. When thou giveſt thine almes, thou ſhalt not make a trumpet to be blown before thee.

To blow the great trumpet] Either literally the Edict of Cyrus, to permit the Jews to return into their Countrey at the end of their Captivity in Babylon.

Or ſpiritually, the mighty ſound of the Goſpel, coming into all the parts to call unto Chriſt out of all Countreys his elect, both of Gentiles and Jews. Iſa. 27. 13. It ſhall come to paſſe, the great trumpet ſhall blow: which ſhall be one of the laſt ſignes which ſhal go before Chriſts coming to judgment, as in Matt. 24.

There was among the Jews a feaſt of leſſe ſolemnity, called [Blowing of trumpets:] it began the firſt day of the ſeaventh moneth, and was celebrated with blowing of trumpets.

The ſignification of it was the ſpirituall joy and gladneſſe which all our life long we are to have by the coming of Chriſt, praiſing God for it with Ode, and Hymnes: for thus the Prophet Iſaiah expoundeth it, Iſa. 52. 8, 9. & 35. 10. See Levit. 23. 24, 25.

Not to blow a trumpet before us] To doe the works of mercy, and all other good works as ſecretly as we can, without ſeeking any vain-glory from man, or receiving it being proffered. Matthew 6. 2. When thou giveſt thine almes, make not a trumpet to be blown before thee. There is the ſame meaning of that [Let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doth.]

Truſt] The credit which one of us puts in another, in our mutuall worldly dealings. Prov. 31. 11. The heart of her Husband truſts in her. This is a civill truſt.

2. The affiance and confidence of our hearts, relying upon the merciſull and true promiſes, and moſt powerfull, wiſe, and good providence of God, both for the removing and keeping from us evill things, and for the giving and beſtowing good things. Pſal. 37. 3. Truſt thou in the Lord, & 34. 22. None that truſts in him ſhall periſh. 1 Tim. 6. 17. This truſt is religious, and cannot be put in any creature without Idolatry. Hence we are forbidden to truſt in riches, in the arm of fleſh, in Princes, or in any Son of man, no not in Chriſt as man, or in any our good works, although proceeding from grace.

3. The matter and object of our truſt, or he in whom our truſt is to be fixed. Pſ. 40. 4. Bleſſed is the man which makes the Lord his truſt.

Truſt] is put for, To hope well, Luk. 24. 21.

2. To be perſwaded, Heb. 13. 18.

3. To ſtay on, Iſa. 26. 3.

4. To ſtrengthen ones ſelf, Pſal. 52. 7. marg.

5. To roll, himſelf, Pſal. 22. 8. marg.

Truth] The moſt perfect eſſence of any thing, or the moſt abſolute perfection it ſelfe

Phrase

God is Truth i.e. Perfect Essence incapable of Increase or Diminution.

ſelfe of any matter. John 18. 38. What is truth?

2. The moſt perfect divine eſſence, which is truth it ſelfe, and the Authour of all truth in his creatures. Pſal. 31. 5. Thou haſt redeemed me, O Lord God of truth. Joh. 14. 6. I am the truth, &c. Exod. 34. 6.

3. The conſtancy of God, in keeping his promiſes. Rom. 3. 7. If the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie.

The word [truth] is taken in this ſenſe in all places of Scripture, where mercy and Truth are matched and mentioned together, Pſalm 111. 2. & 43. 3. and often elſewhere.

4. The ſubſtance and body of that that was ſhadowed under the Ceremonies of Moſes Law. John 4. 23. The true worſhippers ſhall worſhip the Father in truth. Alſo the imple tion and performance of promiſes and pro pheſies concerning mans redemption, John 1. 14.

Note. The word is Truth, both becauſe from the beginning to the ending it is wholly true: and alſo it is a rule of all truth, which is according to godlineſſe. Tit. 1. 1.

5. The whole Word of God, both Law & Goſpel, which is called [the truth] becauſe it containeth the firm and ſu e doctrine, which teacheth the true way how to attain eternall ſalvation. Joh. 17. 17. Thy Word is truth. Joh. 8. 31, 32. Col. 1. 5. Whereof you have heard before by the Word of truth, which is the Goſpel. Gal. 5. 7.

The doctrines of falſe Apoſtles, teaching righteouſneſſe to come by the Works of the Law: alſo the opinions of all ſorts of Hereticks, and whatſoever Precepts and Traditions of men, in the cauſe of Religion and S lvation, (being not grounded on the Word of truth) are to be held for meer fables, yea for lies and falſhood.

6. Chriſt and his doctrine. 2 Joh. 1. But alſo all that have known the truth. 1 Tim. 2. 4. This is the mean whereby ſalvation cometh to men.

7. The true underſtanding of things neceſſary to ſalvation. John 17. 17. Sanctifie them with thy truth.

8. That light of Nature left in man ſince his fall, to help him to know God ſo far as to leave him without excuſe (but not ſo far as is needfull to ſalvation,) Rom. 1. 18. Which with-hold the truth in unrighteouſneſſe Rom 2. 8.

9. True Religion, taught and contained in the Goſpel. Gal. 3. 1. Who hath bewitched you, that you ſhuld not obey the truth? Titus 1. 1.

10. Integrity of life, or uprightneſſe and ſincerity, voyd of deceit and counterfeiting. 1 Cor. 5. 8. With the unleavened bread of ſincerity and truth. Eph. 4. 24. Iſa. 38. 3. I have walked before thee in truth.

11. Juſtice or righteouſneſſe, as it is contrary to iniquity. 1 Cor. 13. 6. It rejoyceth not in iniquity, but in truth. Pſal. 51. 6. Thou loveſt truth in the inward parts. It is a part of the image of God. See Eph. 4. 24. Joh. 3. 21. & 3 Joh. 12. Truth ſignifieth juſt deeds truely and uprightly done.

12. Fidelity and faithfulneſſe between man and man, in keeping juſt covenants, promiſes, and bargains. Jer. 5. 1, 3. O Lord are not thine eyes ſet upon truth?

13. A juſt and true ſentence pronounced by a Magiſtrate in caſes of juſtice. Pro. 20. 28. Mercy and truth preſerve the King.

14. Plainneſſe and ſimplicity of ſpeech, when things are uttered as they be, without fraud and falſhood. Pſal. 15. 2. He that ſpeaketh the truth from his heart. Eph. 4. 25. Speak truth one to another.

15. Moſt true, and far from all deceit. Pſal. 19. 9. The judgements of the Lord are truth.

16. In deed, and in good earneſt; when the inward beleef and obedience of the heart doth anſwer the outward profeſſion. Eph. 4. 21. And have been taught in him as the truth is in Jeſus; that is, the true and ſincere inſtruction in Chriſt. Alſo Phil. 1. 18.

Truth ſignifieth ſincerity from the heart, with aſſent of the minde, as one truly purpoſeth.

According to truth] Not after appearance and ſhews, as men do judge. 1 Sam. 16 7. Neither unjuſtly, and partially. but righteouſly and equally, as becometh the Judge of the world, and the ſearcher of hearts. Rom. 2. 2. The judgement of God is according unto truth.

To do truth] To deal truely and ſincerely, leading an honeſt life, voyd of all craft and deceiving. Joh. 3. 21. He that doth truth comes to the light.

Full of truth] One full of the very ſubſtance of truth; to wit, Chriſt, being the perfection and accompliſhment of all Legall ceremonies. Joh. 1. 14. Full of grace and truth.

Girdle of truth] The true doctrine of the Goſpel, which is unto the ſoul to ſtrengthen it, as a girdle is unto the body of a Souldier in war. Eph. 6. 14. Your loyns girt about with truth.

Paul that holy Apoſtle, hath very elegantly gantly described the complete armour of a Christian Souldier, alotting his Loyns the (Doctrine of Truth) for a Girdle, his Breast (a good Conscience) for a Breastplate; his Legs and Feet (a prompt and ready mind to confesse and preach the Gospel of peace and atonement with God) as bootes and shooes; confidence in Christ (as a Shield) in the left hand; and in the right hand, the Word of God for a Sword: and finally, the hope of salvation by Christ, for an Helmet to cover the head.

Thus the whole man is armed throughout at all points (none being allowed the back, teaching thereby unto us, that a Christian is never to think of saving himself by flight) against all the temptations of the spirituall enemies to be made able to withstand and overcome them through the power of Jesus Christ, their Generall and grand Captain: from whom both the weapons themselves, and the skill with agility to use them aright, also the successe and victory after the combate, must be begged by faithfull and earnest prayer. See Ephes. 6. from vers. 14. till 20.

Truth of the Gospel] The true and sincere doctrine of the Gospel. Gal. 2. 5. That the truth of the Gospel might continue in you.

To hold the truth in unrighteousnesse] To suppresse the light of knowledge naturally shining in mens hearts, forcibly keeping it back from shewing it selfe in words and deeds, as it desires to do. Rom. 1.18. Wrath of God is revealed from heaven upon men which hold the truth in unrighteousnesse.

Of a truth] is a word of Asseveration, 1 Sam. 21. 5. Luk. 12. 4.

2. For certainly, and really, Job 9. 2. Luk. 4. 25.

3. Sincerely, 1 Cor. 14.25.

Rightly to divide the Word of truth] Skilfully and very wisely to distribute and apply the Gospel (which is by excellency the Word of truth) unto the capacities and uses of the hearers. 2 Tim. 2. 15. Rightly dividing the Word of truth. It is a Metaphor taken from the Rite of the Levitical Priests, whose use what it was, see Lev. 1. 15, 17. To cleave the Bird with the wings in even parts, which signifieth both the death of Christ, without breaking any bone, and the skill which should be in Ministers, to cut the Word.

To tell the whole truth] To declare and lay open the whole matter, as it was done. Mar. 5. 23. She told him the whole truth.

To walk in truth] To live uprightly, without hypocrisie. 1 King. 2. 4. That they walk before me in truth.

Word of truth] The Gospel, preached and published by the true Ministers thereof, being the onely saving truth. 2 Cor. 6 7. By the Word of truth. Col. 1. 5. Whereof ye have heard by the Word of truth; that is, the Gospel, Eph. 1. 13.

Words of truth] Words worthy to be received for their certainty; being for use, like goads to incite us to our duty, being slothfull; and as nails, to contain us in our duty, Eccl. 12. 11.

To worship God in truth] To serve God with an inward pure worship, and without such Ceremonies as were under the Law. Joh. 4. 24. And will be worshipped in spirit and truth.

Tryphena, and Tryphosa] Delicious, or delicate. Two godly women, Rom. 16. 12.

T V.

Tubal] Born, or brought, worldly, or confusion, or slander. Japhet's Son, Gen. 10. 2. 1 Chr. 1. 5.

Tubal-Cain] Worldly possession, a birds nest of the world, confusion, or imitating slander. The first Smith, Gen. 4. 22.

Tumult] A great noyse of people in their rage, Mat. 27. 24.

2. Confusion, & quarrelling, Act. 12. 18.

3. Uproar and confusion, Mat. 26. 5.

4. For sedition, Hos. 10. 14.

To turn] To call one back that erreth, into the right way. Jam. 5. 19. He that turneth a sinner, saveth a soul. Thus Ministers and Christians turn one another.

2. To endevour our selves to leave the by-path of sin, and to turn to God by repentance. Act. 3. 19 Turn, that your sins may be put away. Thus are men said to turn themselves. Jonas 3. 10. They turned from their evill wayes.

3. To change mans heart from evill to good, by putting into it the grace of repentance. Jer. 31. 18. Turn us, O Lord, and we will return. Thus God alone turneth Sinners, Act. 26. 18. 2 Cor. 3. 16. When their heart shall be turned to the Lord.

4. To give some mercy after some judgement, as if God did turn and cannot his minde. Psal. 80. 7. Turn us again. Lam. 3 21. Jonas 3. 9. In these and many other places, the word [turn] signifies, to restore such as be in calamity, shewing some new favour after some affliction.

Turn again] is put for, To be dissolved

ved into the first matter, Job 34. vers. 17.

2. To be restored unto the former condition, Exod. 4. 7.

3. To repent, Jer. 25. 5.

Turn against] To overthrow and destroy, Psal. 81. 14.

Turn aside] Out of the way, Judg. 19. 15.

2. To draw neer, and approach, Ruth 4. 1. Exod. 3. 4.

3. To sin against God, Exod. 32. 8.

5. To fall from the faith of the Gospel, 1 Tim. 1. 6.

Turn away] To remove, Jer. 18. 20.

It is put for, To pervert and seduce, Act. 13. 8.

2. To forsake, Jer. 32. 40.

Turn back] is put for, To be destroyed, Psal. 129. 5. & 35. 4.

2. To forsake the commandements of God, 2 Chr. 29. 6. 1 Sam. 15. 1.

3. To fly from, Psal. 44. 10.

4. To hinder, and disappoint, Isa. 14. 27.

5. To invade, Jer. 49. 8.

Turn from] To alter, Psal. 132. 11.

2. To forsake, Prov. 4. 15.

3. To remove, and free from, Psa. 30. 11.

Turning] is put for, Defection from good, Prov. 1. 32.

2. For inconstancy, Jam. 1. 17.

3. Destroying, 2 Pet. 2. 6.

Turtle] A Bird so called, being of Doves the least, a lovely, delightfull, harmlesse, simple, and chaste fowle. Jer. 8. 7. Even the Turtle and the Swallow observe their times. The Prophet hereby accuseth the Jews of great blockishnesse, having lesse understanding in heavenly matters, then Birds and Beasts, in discerning their seasons of heat, cold, &c.

2. The Church of God in earth, being like a Turtle. Psal. 74. 19. Give not the soul of thy Turtle, &c. A Metaphor. As the Turtle, so the true Church of God on earth is small, weak, unarmed, exposed to many dangers from beastly ravenous men; yet remaineth meek and innocent, both by imputed and inherent innocency, whereby she is still amiable to Christ her husband, and all her children, though hated and persecuted of the world.

It was to be offered up unto the Lord, Lev. 1. 14 & 5. 7. & 12 6. & 14. 22, 30. If either male or female die, the other continueth chaste, maketh choyce of no other. The female after the death of the male loveth solitarinesse. It will not light upon any filthy thing, nor upon a dead carion. Its voyce is not at all times one and the same. In the Summer it's seen and heard, not in the Winter. It's fruitfull, loving to its own kinde, entertaining peace with other Birds. In the Winter it casteth the feathers, which again grow against the Spring.

Tutors] are they who have power given unto them over one free born, that in regard of his age is not able to defend and guide himself; in which sense Tutors are appointed by parents unto their children for a certain time, Gal. 4. 2.

T W.

Twelve hours in the day] That the artificial day in Judea by their custome consisted of twelve unequall hours, which in Winter were shorter, and in Summer longer, but all the yeer long but twelve hours a day, Joh. 11. 9. In the equinoctial it is so in this Island, not so in the rest of the yeer, as there it usually was.

Twice] is put, 1. For a definite number, Numb. 20. 11. 1 Sam. 18. 11.

2. For indefinite number, and it signifieth Often, Job 33. 14. Psal. 62. 11.

Twig] Ezek. 17. 4. Bough, or branch. He cropt off the top of his young twigs. Nebuchadnezzar led away, or carried captive with Jehoiachin the chief of the Kingdome.

Twilight] Between light and dark.

It is taken sometimes for the evening, Pro. 7. 9. Job 24. 15. Sometime, for the morning, 1 Sam. 30. 17. 2 King. 7. 5, 7.

Twinkling] 1 Cor. 15. 52. In the twinkling of an eye. Hereby is signified the shortest space of time, since there is nothing more swift then the motion of the eye.

Twins] Two born at one birth, spoken of reasonable creatures, Gen. 25. 24. & 38. 27. of unreasonable, Cant. 4. 2, 5. & 7. 3.

Two] The least number, consisting of Two Unities, or Two ones. Luk. 10. 1. He sent them out two by two.

2. Many joyned together in society. Eccl. 4. 9. Two are better then one; that is, society is better then a solitary life, though this be especially meant of marriage society.

They two shall be one] The strait and most neer conjunction between Man and Wife, by the band of marriage, which maketh Two to be (as it were) one person. Matth. 19. 5. They two, shall be one flesh.

Two Witnesses] A competent or sufficient number of witnesses, to testifie any truth, Humane or Divine, Civill or Religious. Deut. 19. 15. In the mouth of two witnesses shal the matter be established. Rev. 11. 3. I will give power

power to my two witneſſes. Which the Rhemiſts doe falſly expound of Enoch and Eliah, preaching and ſtriving againſt Antichriſt, and by him to be martyred, &c. All meer forgeries, without warrant of Scripture. Whereas by two is meant a few, yet ſufficient to call the elect, and convince others.

T Y.

Tychicus] Caſuall, or happening. Paul's fellow Servant, Act. 20. 4. Eph. 6. 21. Col. 4. 7. 2 Tim. 4. 12. Tit. 3. 12.

Tyrannus] Ruling, or a Prince. One in whoſe Schoole Paul diſputed, Act. 19. 9.

Type] Properly ſignifieth a mark or impreſſion, Joh. 20. 21.

It is 2. the ſumme or heads of any letter or ſpeech, Act. 23. 25.

3. A form, Rom. 6. 17.

4. An example, 1 Cor. 10. 6.

1 Of admonition and caution, Ib.

2 Of imitation, Phil. 3. 17. 1 Theſſ. 1. 7.

5. A ſhadow of good things to come, Col. 2. 17. Heb. 10. 1.

Tyrus, or Tyre] A breaking with a flail, or ſiege, or ſtrength, or a rock. A ſtrong City by Libanus, the Citizens called Tyrians, 1 Sam. 5. 11. Jer. 25. 22. It was built by the Zidonians, therefore called the Daughter of Zidon, Iſa. 23. 12.

V A.

Vagabonds] Such Companions, as doe nothing but walk the ſtreets; which commonly be called the Raſcals and Dung-hill knaves of all Townes and Cities. Act. 17. 5. The Jews took unto them certain vagabonds. Alſo unſtable men, who have no certain dwelling for the body, or quietneſſe of minde, being full of fear and trembling, Gen. 4. 12. Pſal. 109. 10.

Vaiezatha] Sprinkling the chamber. Heb. and Syr. woe olive trees. The Son of Haman, Eſt. 9. 9.

Vail] A certain cloth hanged before the light, to hide it from our eyes, and put upon womens heads for a Covert, in token of ſubjection to their husbands. Gen. 24. 65. So ſhe took a vail and covered her.

Note. The covering of a womans face or eyes with a vail, was a ſigne of womanly modeſty and ſhamefaſtneſſe: as alſo of ſubjection or reverence to her Husband, alſo of his power over his Wife, Gen. 21. 16. & 24. 65. 1 Cor. 11. 10.

2. A coſtly and precious hanging, made of purple and blew ſilk, ſcarlet, and fine twined linnen, &c. whereby the Moſt holy place was divided and ſeparated from the Holy place. Exod. 26. 31, 32, 33. And the vail ſhall make you a ſeparation from the Holy place, and the Moſt holy place. This was the Vail that rent in twain at the death of Chriſt, to ſhew the determination and end of the whole Leviticall and Ceremoniall Law, as one ſaith. In morte Chriſti omnia legalia terminantur. A bodily, materiall, and typicall vail.

This Vail was a figure of the fleſh of Chriſt, which covered his Godhead, and whereby Chriſt dedicated us a way to Heaven, as it is expounded, Hebr. 10. It was repleniſhed with Cherubims, to figure the multitude of Angels ſerving Chriſt, even as he is man, and by him as man aſcending and deſcending, Iſa. 6. Joh. 1. 51. Alſo to ſignifie the manifold graces of the Spirit, and heavenly affections which Chriſt had in humane nature, and which he communicateth with his, by his Word and Spirit: likewiſe the heavenly myſteries which are in Moſes Law, rightly underſtood.

3. Blindneſſe, and hardneſſe of heart. 2 Cor. 3. 16. When their hearts ſhall be turned to the Lord, the vail ſhall be taken away. As the Vail kept from looking upon the things which were in the Holy of holies: ſo hardneſſe of heart, and unbeleef, kept the Jewes from acknowledging and ſubmitting themſelves to Chriſt. A ſpirituall Vail.

4. The defence and preſervation, which Husbands owe unto and afford their Wives, againſt the injuries of others. Gen. 20. 16. He is the Vail of thine eyes to all that are with thee, and to all others. A Metaphor. A civil Vail.

5. A ſheet, apron, or cloak, Ruth 3. 15.

6. Chriſts fleſh. Heb. 10. 20. Through the vail, that is to ſay, his fleſh.

Vanging bail] Exod. 26. 36. This hung as a dore of the entry of the Tabernacle, through which the Prieſts of the Law went or paſſed every day to miniſter in the Holy Holy place, but the people might not, Heb. 9.6, 9, 10.

Vain] Something which is not firm and constant, but subject to decay, being of a perishing and vanishing condition. Psa. 108. 12. Vain is the help of man.

2. That which misseth of his end, or deceived of his expectation, Rom. 1.21.

3. Unprofitable and needlesse, of no use, and to no purpose. Psal. 127. 1. Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it.

4. Wind, vain knowledge. Heb. knowledge of wind. Job 15. 2. marg.

In vain] Rashly, wiehout reason, counsell, or due cause. Rom. 13. 4. Beareth not the sword in vain. Magistrates, having their authority from God, do not bear the sword without reason, and when they put difference (in the use of the sword) they do not bear it without counsel and cause : also if their punishments amend the offenders, terrifie the beholders, to fear others from doing evill, then it is not borne in vain in regard of successe.

2. Without fruit or profit, to no purpose or end. Gal. 3. 4. Have ye suffered so many things in vain? And elsewhere often, as Gal. 4. 11. 1 Thess. 2. 1.

3. Either to no purpose, upon idle respects, or to wicked purpose, to confirm lies and wickednesse, Exod. 20. 7.

Vain words] A word of lips, Isa. 36. 5. marg.

Vale] See Valley.

Valiant] Stout, hardy, couragious. A Son of valour, 1 Sam. 18. 17. marg. 2 Chron. 28. 6. marg.

Like a valiant man] Like many people, Isa. 10. 13. marg.

Valley] A plain, bottom, dale, champian, low countrey.

Valley] The efficient cause is God, whose power extendeth to the Valley as well as the Hils, 1 King. 20. 28.

It is put for an obstacle and impediment unto the Kingdome of Christ, Isa. 40. 4. Luk. 3. 5. where every Valley that is depressed and rough is said to be exalted and made smooth; i.e. all obstacles shal be removed that hinder the deliverance of Gods people.

Valley of Berachah, 2 Chron. 20. 26. is so called because of the thanksgiving offered to God for the victory obtained by Jehosaphat, against the enemies of God; and therefore it is also called The valley of Jehosaphat, Joel 3. 2, 12. which some take appellatively, for any place where God executeth his judgements upon his enemies.

Valley of death] Psal. 23. 4. is, To be as it were in the midst of death, or in greatest danger of death, as the Valleys are in the midst of the Hills.

Valley Hinnom] A very low place on the East and South part of Jerusalem, so called of the Son of Hinnom : This Valley grew so execrable by the pollution thereof, by slaughter and buriall, as Hell was thereof called Gehenna : 1. for the lowness, 2. for the fire which the wicked feel there, 3. for the filth cast there, 2 King. 23. 10. Jer. 7. 31, 32, 33. where it is called Tophet of the timbrels which the bloody Priests used at the sacrificing of children, that the cryes of the dying childe might not move the parents to compassion.

Valley of tears] Spoken of them who are in extreme misery and affliction, Ps. 84. 6. The Hebrews observe that when the word Valley is joyned to an other word, it increaseth the signification of the word, as in the three former words, (judgement, death, and tears) may appear; whereby is meant exceeding great judgements, danger, and affliction.

Valour] Courage, stoutnesse, applyed commonly to great warriours, as Gideon, Judg. 6. 12. to Jephtah, Judg. 11. 1. David, 1 Sam. 16. 18. and his Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 8. It ought to be in men especially for the truth, Jer. 9. 2. both in Ministers of the Word, 2 Chr. 26. 17. Act. 4. 19. & 13. 10. & 17. 17. 1 King. 18. 15, 18, 40. & 22. 14, 19. & 2 King. 11. 4. & 3. 13. and professors, Dan. 3. 12, 16, 17. Mar. 15. 43. Act. 7. 52.

Value] To esteem of, Isa. 53. 3. 1 King. 10. 21.

It signifieth, To tax, or set a price, Job 28. 17, 19. where wisdome is said to be of greater worth then that gold and precious stones can be a sufficient price to purchase it. So Mat. 27. 9. out of Zech. 11. 13. Christ is said to be valued at 30 pieces of silver, because that was the price set and agreed upon between Judas and the Priests, to betray him.

Vaniah] Nourishment, or weapons of the Lord. Ezr. 10. 35. The Son of Bani.

Vanish] To consume away, Job 6. 17. Heb. to be cut off, marg. & 20. 7. To fly suddenly away, Prov. 23. 5. As the dew, Hos. 6. 4. To decay, fade, and wax old, Heb. 8. 8. To be of no use, 1 Cor. 13. 8. To come to nothing, 1 Cor. 2. 6. To abolish and doe away, 1 Cor. 13. 10, 11. 2 Cor. 3. 7, 13, 14. 2 Thess. 2. 8. 2 Tim. 1. 10. Hence things that that perish ſuddenly, are ſaid to vaniſh like ſmoak. To ceaſe to be ſeen, Luk. 24.31.marg.

Vanity] A thing of no force, uſe, or continuance. 1 Sam. 12. 23. Why will you follow vanity which profiteth not, nor can deliver? In this ſenſe Idols are often called Vanity, Jon. 2. 8. Pſal. 71. 7. Rom. 8. 20. The creature is ſubject to vanity; that is, to a vaniſhing and fleeting eſtate.

Vanity of Vanities] Moſt vain, and exceeding full of vanity. Eccleſ. 1. 2. Vanity of vanities, (ſaith the Preacher.) In the Hebrew phraſe, two poſitives be equivalent to the ſuperlative: as, Servant of Servants, Vanity of Vanities, ſignifies moſt ſervile, moſt vain.

Vain-glory] The opinion, praiſe, or applauſe of hearers and beholders. Gal. 5.26. Be not deſirous of vain-glory. When any ſay and doe things for this end, to win and gain eſtimation and commendations from men, then they ſhew themſelves men-pleaſers, and deſirous of vain-glory: for it is againſt all reaſon and wiſdome to ſeek our owne praiſe, and thereof cometh no fruit but ſhame.

Vain Idols] Things of nought, of no force or profit. Pſal. 96.5. Their Gods be vain Idols. The Apoſtle openeth this word, 1 Cor. 8. 4. We know (ſaith he) that an Idoll is nothing in the world. Elim and Elohim in Hebrew, are Gods of ſtrength and power, ſo called, Gen. 1. 1. Pſal. 82. 1. Elilim be Idols of no ſtrength, without power: ſo they are called, 2 Chr. 13. 9. as unable to help, and unprofitable, Jer. 10. 5. Iſa. 44. 9, 10. And as the name of God is often joyned with things, to ſhew their excellency, Pſal. 36.7. ſo of Idols, to ſhew their vanity, Job 13. 4. Zach. 11.7. Jer. 14.14.

Vanity of minde] Vanity is taken 6 wayes, all agreeable to the minde.

1. It ſignifieth unprofitable, without fruit, Eccl. 2. 23. & 3. 9. Mal. 3. 14. So doth the Apoſtle ſhew the vanity of the converſation of carnall men, Rom. 6. 21. What fruit had ye of theſe things whereof now ye are aſhamed? the end whereof is death.

2. It ſignifieth empty, without any ſubſtance; as emptineſſe is oppoſed to that which is full, or heavy, or true. As,

1 To fulneſſe; ſo promiſes not fulfilled are ſaid to be vain promiſes. Job (ch. 7. 3.) calleth the time of his life moneths of vanity; that is, empty of ſolid joy, peace, or comfort. And Pſal. 2.1. The Gentiles imagine vain things; i. e. empty, without reaſon or ſucceſſe. In which ſenſe, whatſoever occupyeth the hearts and hands of wicked men, or with whatſoever they are occupyed, may juſtly be ſaid to be vain, as having no ſolidity, but a peace, ſecurity and joy, altogether falſe, yeelding a ſeeming contentment for ſome ſmal time; like the hungry man dreaming that he is eating, but when he awaketh, his ſtomach is empty. Iſa. 29. 8.

2 As it is oppoſite to gravity; as light and inconſtant men, are called vain men; in which ſenſe the Prophet calleth Idolaters and their Idols, vain, light things, like the wind, Iſa. 41. 29.

3 As it is oppoſite to truth; as deceitful men, and lyers, are called vain men. Pſal. 4. 3. men are ſaid to hunt after vanity, and follow after lies; where vanity is expounded by lies. Hence Deut. 32. 21. Idols are ſaid to be vain, becauſe they are falſe and faigned, not being ſuch as they appear to be, but onely in the fooliſh and perverſe opinion of men: And this Vanity alſo raigneth in the minde of carnall men, becauſe it is averſe from the truth, and ready to embrace falſhood and lyes.

3. It ſignifieth, to be fruſtrate and diſappointed of the end, which is the proper ſignification of the Greek word; in this ſenſe the Scripture calleth that vain, which diſappointeth us of our end, and feeds our expectation with a vain hope; whereunto Evah ſeems to have alluded, in the naming of her ſecond Son Abel; i. e. vanity, becauſe ſhe thought her firſt Son Cain to be the promiſed ſeed that ſhould tread down the head of the Serpent; but by the wickedneſſe of his life perceiving it not poſſible for him to be the man ſhe expected, upon her next Son ſhe impoſed a name, to intimate her being deceived of her hope. So Pſal. 33.17. the horſe is ſaid to be a vain thing. And Pſal. 60.19. the help of man is vain; i. e. a deceitful ſafeguard, a lying help, onely feeding the expectation with a vain hope. So 1 Cor. 15.17. If Chriſt be not riſen (ſaith the Apoſtle) then our hope is vain; i. e. deceitful and falſe, as being yet in our ſins; in this ſenſe the hope and confidence of every unregenerate man, may juſtly be called vain, becauſe it ſhall deceive and diſappoint him at the laſt, when he ſtandeth in moſt need of help and comfort.

4. It ſignifieth brittle, weak, and obnoxious to change; whence we uſe to ſay a thing is vaniſhed to nothing. So Job ſpeaks of his friends, ch. 27. 12. Why are ye thus altogether vain; i. e. why do ye urge ſo many idle and frivolous reaſons againſt me, which come to nothing. In this ſenſe vain hath two degrees:

1 The vanity of change.
2 Of corruption.
The first ending in the last, and being a preparation thereunto.

Of the first Job speaks, ch. 6. 16. comparing the friendship of men to snow and ice, which being melted with the heat of the Sun, vanish, and are changed into another form, that they shall not be known to be the thing they were.

Of the last the Apostle speaketh, Rom. 8. 20. The creature is subject unto vanity, i. e. corruption, as himself immediately after expounds it. So Psal. 144. 4. Man is said to be like unto vanity, because his dayes passe as a shadow, and are consumed. In which sense the Preacher calleth all things under the Sun vanity; whereunto the LXX. had respect, translating the word smoak, then the which there is nothing more vanishing, seeing like unto a Tower it riseth aloft, as if it would reach unto heaven, but being scattered with the least blast of wind, it vanisheth and consumeth away; such are all things in this world that doe possesse the minde and thoughts of carnall men, 1 John 2. 14, 15, 17.

5. It signifieth iniquity. Psal. 119. 37. Turn away my eyes that they behold not vanity, saith the Psalmist; i. e. iniquity, and the deceitfulnesse of sin, whereby I may be ensnared, and led away from the truth. So Psal. 94. 11. The thoughts of man are said to be vain; i. e. onely evill continually, Gen. 6. Hence Isa. 5. 18. the wicked are said to draw iniquity with the cords of vanity, i. e. with a will, mind, and affections altogether corrupt, although by the cords of vanity, may be understood the objects of sinfull lusts, because they provoke unto sin, and nourish it.

6. It signifieth foolishnesse and solidity, joyned with ignorance and blindnesse. So Job 11. 12 Vain man would be wise (saith Zophar) though he be born like a wilde Asses Colt; i. e. foolish man, voyd of wisdome and knowledge.

This kinde of Vanity is also attributed to the minde, Tit. 3. 3. where describing the miserable condition of the Gentiles without Christ, saith, they are foolish. Bodius Ephes. p. 537, 538.

Vapor] A dewy mist, as the smoak of a seething pot.

2. The frailty of mans life, being of short continuance, and suddenly extinct and put out, like a vapor. Jam. 4. 14. It is even a vapor that appears for a little time.

Vapor] Properly, an exhalation hot and moyst, arising out of the water into the air. Improperly, it is put for the judgements of God, or tokens thereof, Joel 2. 30. Act. 2. 19.

The efficient cause is God, Psal. 135. 7. Jerem. 10. 13. The effect is rain, 1 King. 18. 44. Prov. 25. 14. The end is to praise God, Psal. 148. 8.

Variablenesse] Inconstancy, subject to change, Jam. 1. 17.

Variance] Evil strife in affections, words, scolding, brawling; yea, all unjust striving, quarrelling, Gal. 5. 20.

Vashni] Second, changed, a tooth, or my year. 1 Chr. 6. 28. The Son of Samuel.

Vashti] Drinking, doubling, putting, or hemp. Ahashueroth his Wife, Est. 1. 9.

Vaunt] To boast, Judg. 7. 2. To be rash, 1 Cor. 13. 4. marg.

V C.

Vcall] The name of a man, Prov. 30. 1. He was (as some think) the Disciple of Agur, or some wise man, who used to converse with him, that he might learn wisdome of him.

It cometh from a word that signifieth to be able, which is by some attributed to Christ; and in the same place Ithiel, the strong God is with me, that the godly might be put in minde of their sanctification wrought by the presence and power of Christ. Junius and Trem. upon Prov. 30. 1.

V E.

Vehement] Fierce, Cant. 8. 6. Obstinate, Luk. 23. 10. Zealous, ardent, Mar. 14. 31. Strong, Jon. 4. 8. Luk. 6. 48.

Vein] Job 28. 1. There is a vein for the silver, or a mine; Heb. a coming forth; that is, either a place where it puts forth it self into veins, or a way to bring it out of the earth. Annot.

Vel] Desiring God. Of the Sons of Bani, Ezr. 10. 34.

Vengeance] Law, and divine right. Act. 28. 4. Vengeance hath not suffered him to live.

2. Punishment inflicted and taken upon the wicked for their wickednesse. Rom. 12. 19. Vengeance is mine. Rom. 13. 3. To take vengeance on them which do evill.

Vengeance is spoken, 1 Of man.
2 Of God.

Of man, Prov. 6. 34. Judg. 14. 4. who is often so eager after it, as he will be contented to lose his owne life, if so be he can take vengeance of his enemies, Judg. 16. 28. 30.

It

It is 1. unlawful, and ſo the deſire of it is condemned in Lamech, Gen. 4. 24. in Abner, 2 Sam. 3. 9. Joab, verſ. 27, 30. Eſau, Gen. 27. 41, 42. And the fact, Gen. 34. 25, 26. 1 Sam. 22. 16. Lam. 3. 60. It ought not to be ſought after, Lev. 19. 18. for it belongeth to God, who will repay, Deut. 32. 35. Rom. 12. 19. Heb. 10. 30. It is therefore to be left to God, Gen. 50. 9. 1 Sam. 11. 13. 2 Chro. 24. 22. 1 Pet. 2. 21. who will take vengeance though we hold our tongue, 1 Sam. 25. 38, 39. compared with 32, 33, 34, & 35, verſ. This is the comfort of the godly in their oppreſſions by the wicked, 1 Sam. 24. 13, 14, 16. It ought to be abſtained from, eſpecially by the Miniſters of the Goſpel, Luk. 9. 54, 55. who notwithſtanding may commit their cauſe unto God, deſiring him to take vengeance upon the deſperate and cruell enemies of his truth and ſervants, Jer. 11. 19, 20. & 15. 15. & 17. 18. & 18. 18. 2 Tim. 4. 14, 15.

2. Lawfull, as that, 1 Of David, for the abuſe done to his meſſengers, 2 Sam. 10. 7. 1 Chr. 19. 8.

2 Of the Magiſtrates upon Malefactors, 1 Pet. 2. 14. Rom. 13. 4.

3 Of the people of God upon his enemies, Judg. 15. 7. 1 Sam. 14. 24.

4 Of the Miniſters of the Goſpel upon obſtinate ſinners, 2 Cor. 10. 6. viz. by Excommunication, Mat. 18. 18.

5 Upon our ſelves, by refraining from ſin, and the occaſions thereof, which is a fruit of true repentance, 2 Cor. 7. 11.

Secondly of God, inflicting his ſevere judgements upon impenitent ſinners, 2 Theſ. 1. 8. 2 Sam. 22. 48. In doing whereof the Lord is ſaid to comfort himſelf, Ezek. 5. 13. & 16. 42. & 21. 22. and to revenge the blood of his ſervants, Deuter. 32. 43. his Covenant, Lev. 26. 25. For all which, the Lord is ſaid to have a day of vengeance, Iſa. 61. 2. & 63. 4. Jer. 46. 10. & 51. 6. Luk. 21. 22. In reſpect whereof he is called a God of vengeance, Pſal. 94. 1. Heb. 10. 30.

Taking vengeance] Heb. by revenging revengement; Ezek. 25. 12. marg.

Venison] The wilde beaſt taken in hunting, or the meat made of the fleſh thereof, Gen. 25. 28. & 27. verſ. 3, 5, 7, 19, 25, 31, 33.

Venome] The properties of it are,

1. It is Cruel, Deut. 32. 33.
2. Deadly, Jam. 3. 8.
3. Hot, Pſal. 140. 3.

It is put, 1. For the judgement of God upon the wicked, Job 20. 16. For the malice of wicked men againſt God, and their Neighbour, Deut. 32. 33. Pſal. 58. 5.

2. For their ſlanderings and back-bitings, Pſal. 140. 3. Jam. 3. 8. Which God threatneth to puniſh, Hoſ. 7. 16.

Vent] To let out, to open, Job 32. 19. marg.

At a venture] In ſimplicity, 1 King. 22. 34. marg. Hap hazard, uncertain, by chance, 1 King. 21. 34. 2 Chron. 18. 33. 2 Sam. 1. 6. This is ſpoken in reſpect of ſecond cauſes; for in reſpect of the firſt cauſe there is no chance, but all things are by him determined, and ruled by his providence.

Verified] Tryed, found to be true, Gen. 42. 20. To bring to paſſe, 1 King. 8. 26. 2 Chr. 6. 17.

Verily] A note of Affirmation, 2 King. 4. 14. of Confidence, and aſſurance, Pſal. 37. 3. & 58. 11. & 66. 19. of Aſſeveration, Pſal. 73. 13. Mat. 5. 26. In great matters, hardly to be beleeved, yet neceſſary to be beleeved and embraced, Matt. 5. 26. & 6. 2. & 8 10. of Reſolution, Act. 16. 37. 1 Cor. 5. 3. & 9. 18. It is often doubled by Chriſt in the Evangeliſts, to confirm the truth of his doctrine, Joh. 1. 51. & 3. 3. & 5. 19.

Verity] Truth, Pſal. 111. 7. It is put for Sincerity, 1 Tim. 2. 7.

Vermilion] A red earth that Painters uſe, Jer. 22. 14. Where it is put for coloured Theft, or Sacriledge.

It is uſed by Idolaters, to make their Idols appear beautifull, that the beholder may be the ſooner induced to Idolatry, Ezek. 23. 14.

Vertue] The naturall vigour and ſtrength which is put into every creature, for ſuch uſe as it is appointed unto of God; as the virtue of Hearbs, Plants, &c.

2. Power and might, or the effect of power. Luk. 8. 46. Vertue is gone out of me; that is, there is ſome healthfull effect wrought by my power.

3. Godlineſſe, honeſty of life, and good manners. Phil. 4. 8. If there be any vertue, &c. 2 Pet. 1. 3. Called to vertue.

4. Chriſtian valour, courage, and fortitude, (as Virtus is derived of Vir) 2 Pet. 1. 6. Joyn to your faith vertue.

5. Excellencies and perfections of God, 1 Pet. 1. 2.

Vertuous] Diligent, induſtrious, Ruth 3. 11,

It is ſpoken of the careſulneſſe and diligence of a good Woman, about her houſhold affairs, Prov. 31. 29.

In very deed] A word of Asseveration, 1 Sam. 25. 34. Truely, really, in earnest, 1 Sam. 26. 4. In effect, 2 Chr. 6. 18.

Vessell] Any instrument of use in an house, for the good of this life. 2 Tim. 2. 20. In a great house are vessels of wood, and of earth. These serving to common use, were profane instruments. Mar. 11. 16. Neither would he suffer them to carry vessels through the Temple. In Gen. 24. 53. it signifies all things for use or ornament.

2. Naturall Instruments, which receive and contain the matter of generation. 1 Sam. 21. And the vessels of the young men were holy. 1 Thess. 4. 4. That you know how to keep your vessels in holinesse and honour. A Metaphor.

3. Wives, which howsoever they be the weaker sex, yet are Instruments of great and manifold use. 1 Pet. 3. 7, 8. Giving honour unto the woman, as unto the weaker vessel. A Metaphor.

Vessel is put for the Ministers of the Gospel. Thus Paul is a chosen vessel to bear the Name of Christ among the Gentiles, and Kings, and people of Israel, Act. 9. 15. And in generall, any man or woman that God appoints to do any work, or to be his instruments either publickly or privately. Thus all men in respect of the work God requires of them, are Vessels, 2 Tim. 2. 20, 21.

Vessels of earth] Frail and brittle men, subject to mortality. 2 Cor. 4. 7. We have this treasure in earthen vessels.

Vessels meet for the Lords use] are such as abstain from the fellowship of the wicked, and purge themselves from their corruptions, 2 Tim. 2. 20, 21.

Vessels of mercy] Elect and chosen ones, ordained to mercy, even to obtain honour and salvation in heaven, through Christ. Rom. 9. 23. That he might shew the riches of his glory upon the vessels of mercy. These be also called vessels of honour, v. 21.

Poured from vessel to vessel] is, To suffer a change, from prosperity to adversity, Jer. 48. 11.

Vessel unprofitable] Empty, wherein there is no pleasure, is spoken of them who are brought into a contemptible and miserable condition, Jer. 51. 34. Psal. 31. 15. Jer. 22. 28. & 48. 38. Hos. 8. 8.

Weaker vessell] Women are so called, 1 Pet. 3. 7.

1. Because they are weaker in judgement, and more subject to passion then men, which is the cause why Satan assaulted Eve rather then Adam, Genesis 3. 1. They are more easily deceived then men.

3. Because of their insufficiency for the greatest imployments in Church or Common-wealth.

2. They cannot so wel shift for themselves as men, their desire is naturally subject to men, in respect of depending upon them for provision and protection, Gen. 3.

4. They are apter to perturbations, and not so constant nor stable in heart, as men.

5. They are more prone to pride, and vanity in apparell, then men; for all the directions in Scripture (especially in the New Testament) concerning apparel, are rather given to Women then Men, 1 Tim. 2. 9. 1 Pet. 3. 3.

6. The Scripture ascribeth the sin and corruption of mankinde to that sex, rather then to the other, 1 Tim. 2. 14. Job 15. 14. & 25. 4. Psal. 51. 4, 5.

7. Experience sheweth that where they are wicked, they are far worse then men; Jesabel was worse then Achab, Herodias then Herod. Solomon speaks this from his experience, Eccl. 7. 28.

Vessels of wrath] Persons, men and women prepared to destruction. Rom. 9. 22. What if God would, to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, suffer with long patience the vessels of wrath prepared to destruction? These are also called vessels made to dishonour, vers. 21.

Vestments] Garments used by Idolatrous Priests in their Idolatrous worship, 2 King. 10. 22.

Vestry] A place where the Priests cloaths are kept, 2 King. 10. 22.

Vesture] Cloaths, of Christ dipt in blood, notes his victory over his enemies, Rev. 19. 13.

To have a name, King of Kings, &c. written upon the vesture, signifieth, that the divine power and majesty of Christ, shall be conspicuous unto all, insomuch that all shall openly acknowledge him, and worship him.

To vex] Most grievously to torture ones minde, as a body set upon the Rack to be tormented, 2 Pet. 2. 7, 8.

2. To provoke and anger one with bad words and ill usage, Levit. 18. 18. & Psal. 6. 10.

Vex] To oppresse, Exod. 22. 21. To persecute and destroy, Numb. 25. 17. To procure judgements from God, Ibid. 18.

It is spoken of men vexing men, Exod. 22. 21. Lev. 18, 18. Numb. 25. 17. Isa. 7. 6.

1 Himſelf, 2 Sam. 12, 18.
2 The Church, Act. 12. 1.
3 The Spirit of God, Iſa. 63. 10.

Of God vexing man, Pſal. 2. 5. 2 Chron. 15. 6. Ezek. 32. 9.

Vexation] is put for, Great afflictions and judgements, Deut. 7. 23. Iſa. 22. 5. Ezek. 7. 7. Deut. 28. 20.

V I.

Vial] A veſſel narrow at the bottom, and wide above, wherein incenſe was offered up to God, Rev. 5. 8. The matter is gold, Ibid. In reſpect of the form, it repreſents the heart, which is narrow and pointed at the lower end, but wider above, to ſignifie, that it ſhould be open towards God and heaven, but cloſed towards the world.

In reſpect of the matter, it ſignifieth that the heart which praiſes God ſhould be holy and pure, and that ſuch hearts are honorable in the ſight of God; for a veſſel of gold, and a veſſel of honour, are put for the ſame, 2 Tim. 2. 20, 21.

It is put for the prayers of the Saints, Rev. 5. 8. by a double Metonymie,

1 Of the continent for the t hing contained.
2 Of the ſigne for the thing ſignified.

Vials of the wrath of God] ſignifie, the Judgements of God, Rev. 15. 7. & 16. 1, 2, 3, 4.

1. Becauſe they are the means and inſtruments whereby God executes his judgements upon the wicked, even as is a veſſel out of the which wine is poured to be drunk.

2. Becauſe God pours out his judgements in a certain meaſure, ſuch as himſelf hath determined.

3. Becauſe the judgements of God are juſt, free from any blot or injuſtice, as the gold whereof the Vial is made is pure and free from droſſe.

Victory] is taken, I. Properly, for that victory obtained againſt common enemies in war.

It is ſometime expreſſed by the word battle, Eccl. 9. 11. By a Metonymie of the antecedent for the conſequent, by ſaving, Judg. 7. 2. deliverance, Ibid. 15. 18.

The efficient firſt cauſe is God, Joſh. 14. 12. 1 Sam. 7. 11, 13. & 14. 45.

For 1. it is obtained by prayers put up unto him, 1 King. 8. 44. 45. 2 Chr. 6. 34, 35. Exod. 17. 11.

2. By a holy, and ſtrong confidence in his name, 1 Sam. 14. 6, 10, 12. compared with 13. & 17. 37, 45, 46. 2 Chron. 13. 11, 12. & 14. 11, 12. & 20. 15, 17, 18, 20. & 32. 8.

3. Becauſe a few men, without ſtrength, often obtain the victory againſt multitudes, exceeding in ſtrength, and all warlike furniture, Gen. 14. 14, 15, 16, 19, 20. Judg. 7. 2, 7. 1 Sam. 14. 6, 13. & 17. 45, 46, 47, 50. Pſal. 33. 16, 17. & 147. 10. Prov. 21. 31. So that the battle is not alwayes given to the ſtrong, Eccleſ. 9. 11.

4. The victory is promiſed and given of God as a great benefit, Geneſ. 22. 17. Exod. 23. 27. Levit. 26. 7, 8. Deut. 11. 23. & 28. 7.

5. Becauſe we are commanded to aſcribe it to God, Judg. 15. 8. 1 Sam. 7. 12. & 11. 13. 2 Sam. 5. 20. and to praiſe him, and give him thanks for it, Geneſ. 14. 19, 20. Exod. 15. 1. to 21. Judg. 5. 2. 2 Chron. 20. 26.

6. Becauſe they that truſt to themſelves are often diſappointed of their hope, Exod. 15. 9, 10. Judg. 5. 28, 29, 30. 1 Sam. 17. 44, 49, 51. 1 King. 20. 3, 10, 18. Wherefore men ſhould not triumph before the victory, 1 King. 20. 11.

The parties that obtain this victory, are,

1. The Church againſt her enemies, Exod. 17. 11. Numb. 31. 49, 50. Joſh. 10. 11. Judg. 7. 21.

2. The enemies againſt the Church, Deut. 32. 30. Joſh. 7. 4, 5. Judg. 3. 12, 13. 1 Sam. 4. 2, 10. 2 King. 23. 29. 2 Chron. 35. 21. Pſal. 44. 10, 11. and that either,

1 Becauſe of the juſt judgement of God for the ſins of his people, as appeareth by the mentioned places. Or then,

2 For the tryall of his people, and the purging them from their ſins, Dan. 8. 10. & 11. 35.

3. The Church one againſt another, Judg. 20. 35. 2 Chr. 13. 16. Iſa. 10. 13.

4. The enemies of the Church one againſt another, 2 King. 24. 7. 1 King. 1. 16, 22.

II. It is taken improperly, for the victory of Chriſt againſt the devil, the world, ſin, and death, Joh. 16. 33. Rev. 3. 21. & 5. 5. & 6. 2. according to the promiſe, Gen. 3. 15. Col. 2. 15. Heb. 2. 14. 1 Joh. 3. 8.

2. For the victory that the faithfull obtain againſt the devil, world, and the fleſh; againſt Hereticks, falſe Teachers, and Antichriſt, Rom. 8. 36. 1 Cor. 15. 54, 55. Iſa. 25. 8. Hoſ. 13. 14. 1 Joh. 3. 13, 14. & 4. 4. & 5. 4, 5. Rev. 2. 7, 11, 17. & 3. 5, 21. & 21. 7.

Faith is our victory, 1 Joh. 5. 4. not for the worthineſſe of it; but,

1 By entring us into the Covenant of God, and eſpouſing us to Chriſt; for it makes Chriſt, and all his victory ours.

2 By drawing virtue from Chriſt, as the branch from the root.

3 By receiving as by a hand, all from God, and Chriſt; eſpecially, the promiſe, preſence, and graces of the Spirit, which makes us invincible.

To bring forth judgement unto victory, is, To place righteouſneſſe in the world, againſt all the ſtriving and impediments caſt in by Satan to the hindering thereof. Calvin upon Mat. 12. 20.

Victual] Meat and drink, Gen. 14. 11.

It is put for all neceſſaries for the life. Synecdoche. Pſal. 132. 15. Joſh. 1. 11. & 9. 11. Mat. 14. 15. Luk. 9. 12.

View] To ſpie, Joſh. 2. 1. To ſearch and conſider, Joſh. 7. 2. Nehem. 2. 13. Ezr. 8. 15.

Vigilant] Watchfull. Which both Biſhops muſt be, 1 Tim. 3. 2. and all other Chriſtians, 1 Pet. 5. 8.

Vile] That which is of no worth or price, being contrary to precious: as vile Sacrifice.

2. Baſe, rotten, corruptible, being ſet againſt glorious. Phil. 3. 21. Our vile bodies ſhall be like his glorious body, &c.

3. It ſignifieth any niggardly perſon; becauſe all ſuch be vile, ſprung from the dunghill, and grubbing the dung, Iſa. 32. 5.

Vile] Abominable wickedneſſe, Judg. 19. 24. Hateful, 1 Sam. 3. 13. Humble, 2 Sam. 6. 22. Deſpiſed, contemptible, Job 18. 3. Loathſome, by reaſon of ſin, Job 40. 4. Wicked, Pſal. 15. 4. Iſa. 32. 5, 6. Rom. 1. 26. Poor, Jam. 2. 2.

Vileſt thing exalted] Vice and wickedneſſe is by wicked men extolled to the clouds. Pſal. 12. 9. When the vileſt thing is exalted. Some refer this to the perſon, and make this ſenſe, that when evill and lewd men are lifted up to authority, then do the ungodly ſwarm like Bees, and walk ſecurely: which is true, but ſeemeth not fit to this place.

Vilely] Diſgraceſully, diſhonourably, 1 Sam. 1. 21.

Village] For one or more houſes built together in the Countrey, Gen. 25. 16. Lev. 25. 31. 1 Sam. 6. 18.

2. For a place not frequented, Pſal. 10. 8 For a City, Judg. 10. 4.

Villanie] Sinfull words, either filthy, fooliſh, or blaſphemous, Iſa. 32. 6. Abominable actions, Jer. 29. 23.

Vine] A Tree or Plant bearing grapes, whereof Wine is made.

2. A Countrey abounding with Vines and Paſture. Gen. 49. 11. He ſhall binde his Aſſes Foal to the vine.

3. Chriſt, who is like a Vine, reſembling it in property, giving life of grace to all his members, as a Vine gives juyce and life to all his branches. Joh. 15. 1. I am the true Vine. A Metaphor.

4. Particular men and women, which bring forth fruit (as grapes) according as the perſons are good or bad. Deut. 32. 33. Their vine excels the vine of Sodom, &c.

5. The viſible Church. Pſa. 80 9. Thou haſt brought a vine out, &c. Ver. 14. Viſit this vine. Iſa. 5. 1, 2, 3.

In the deſcription of the Jewiſh Church, by the ſimilitude of a vine, all things belonging to the defence and proſperity of a Church (by the like in a Vine) are elegantly ſet down, and in natural order.

1 There is choyce of ground, or place, [Canaan.]

2 Gods protection for a fence, or wall.

3 Caſting out Canaanites, and Idols, with Idolatry, to anſwer the caſting out of ſtones.

4 Holy laws and diſcipline, like to choyſe branches, or ſelected vines.

5 The City of Jeruſalem, wherein (as in a Tower) Prieſts, Prophets, and Judges watched to preſerve from hurt.

6 Their Doctrines and Exhortations (as a Wine-preſſe) to bring out all kindes of duties as ſweet juyce.

7 And pleaſant fruit, like grapes.

All this the Lord to have done to this people, appears by Hoſ. 11. 1. Pſa. 80. 9, 10, 11. Iſa. 1. 2. and that without ſuch an example, Pſal. 157. 10. Deut. 8. 5.

Empty vine] The wicked Iſraelites, who reſting from afflictions, gathered ſtrength to bring forth new wickedneſſe, in ſtead of being better by their corrections: even as Vines after grapes be gathered, being empty, renew their ſtrength to bring forth more grapes next yeer. Hoſ. 10. 1. Iſrael is an empty Vine.

Vine-dreſſer] He that labours in the vineyard, Luk. 13. 7. They had Overſeers, 1 Chr. 27. 27. were of the loweſt of the people, 2 King. 25. 12. Jer. 52. 16. In the Captivity of Babylon they were left behinde. They howle and weep for the ſcarſity of Wine, Joel 1. 11.

Improperly, for the Gentiles converted to Chriſt, Iſa. 61. 5.

2. For the Miniſters of the Goſpel, Luk. 13.7.

Vinegar] A ſharp, ſowre, tart liquor, made of Wine. Matth. 27. 48. And preſently when one of them running had filled a Sponge with vinegar.

2. Any bitterneſſe or grievous affliction of body or ſoul. Pſal. 69. 21. In my thirſt they gave me vinegar to drink. Spoken of ſuch as vexed the afflicted.

Vinegar] A ſharp drink made of Wine, Beer, or other ſtrong drink; they uſed to dip their morſels in it, Ruth 2. 14. yet it was unlawfull for the Nazarites to drink of it, Numb. 6. 3.

The properties of it is,

1. That it is ſowre and ſharp.

2. It is troubleſome to the teeth, and duls them, Prov. 10. 26.

It diſſolves Nitre, and therefore compared to a Song that putteth away ſadneſſe, Prov. 25. 20.

Vine-tree] is the baſeſt ſort of wood, good for nothing (if unfruitfull) but to be burnt, Ezek. 15. 2,3.

It is put for the fruit thereof, Num. 6. 4.

Vineyard] The viſible Church in earth, like a Vineyard in many reſpects; as for ſpreading, fruitfulneſſe, manner of husbandry, expoſition to danger, &c. Iſa. 5. 12. Pſal. 80. 15. Behold and viſit this Vine.

2. Alſo the Common-wealth, Iſa. 3. 14.

Vineyard is put for the fruit thereof, Cant. 1. 6. 1 Sam. 8. 15.

2. For the riches we poſſeſſe, Iſa. 3. 14.

3. For the people of the Jews, Jer. 2. 21. & 12. 10. Mat. 20. 1.

To plant a vineyard] To exerciſe Husbandry, ſowing of Wheat, dreſſing Vines, or doing what elſe is to be done in the fields, for nouriſhing a family, Gen. 9. 30.

Vineyard of red wine] The people or Church of the Jews brought back to their owne Countrey, and there planted, which God ſhall keep by his protection, as a wall, and water it by his Word, as by dew, making it bring forth good works, for their excellency like to red wine, which is the beſt and moſt generous wine, ſuch as abounded in that Region. Iſa. 27. 2, 3. A vineyard of red wine.

In theſe five things chiefly the Church is likened to a Vineyard.

1. Becauſe the Church is planted, and grows not of it ſelf, as neither doth a Vine, 1 Cor. 3. 6, 7.

2. The Church being very weak, is yet very fruitfull, by the power of God, like the Vine, Ezek. 15. 3. Judg. 9. 13. 2 Cor. 12. 9.

3. Men are called into the Church, (as into a Vineyard) at divers times, Mat. 20.

4. The Church is troubled with enemies, as Vineyards with Foxes and wilde beaſts, Pſal. 80. & 74.

Laſtly, a Vine remaineth a Vine, though it have ſuperfluous branches; ſo doth the Church.

Vintage] The time of gathering, or the act of gathering grapes.

2. Many overcome in battle or fight. Judg. 8. 2. Are not the gleanings of the Ephraimites better then the vintage of the Abiezerites?

Viol] A muſicall inſtrument, Iſa. 5. 12. Amos 6. 5. uſed with the Harp, Tabret, and Pipe, Ibid. It was to ſtir up mirth, Iſa. 14. 11. after victories, 2 Chr. 20. 28. in feaſts, Amos 6. 5. in praiſing of God, 1 Sam. 10. 5. 2 Sam. 6. 5. 1 King. 10. 12. and by Idolaters in their idolatrous worſhip, Amos 5. 23.

Violate] To pollute, Act. 21. 28. Profane, Neh. 13. 18. To tranſgreſſe, Ezek. 22. 26.

Violence] Force, Lev. 6. 2.

2. For great ſins of all ſorts, Gen. 6. 11. Particularly, for injury and oppreſſion, Pſa. 11. 5. & 55. 9. & 72. 14. & 73. 6. Prov. 4. 17. For the fury of an enemy, Jer. 6. 7. & 20. 8. For the puniſhment of oppreſſors, Prov. 13. 2.

It is put for goods gotten by violence, Amos 3. 10. Naturall ſtrength, Heb. 11. 34.

Violent] Such as be made to beleeve, by the forcible working of the Spirit, cauſing them zealouſly to continue in the faith, Mat. 11. 12. Luk. 16. 16.

Violent] One injurious unto others, from ſuch the Lord delivers his ſervants, 2 Sam. 22. 49. and preſerves them, Pſal. 18. 49. & 140. 2, 5. The godly pray againſt them, Ib. 12. They ſhall be puniſhed by God, Job 27. 13. Pſal. 11. 5. They ought not to be envyed, nor their wayes followed, Pro. 3. 31. They are deceitfull, and draw others into wickedneſſe, Prov. 16. 29.

Violently] By force, Gen. 21. 25. Lev. 6. 4. Job 20. 19. Lam. 2. 6. Headlong, Mat. 8. 32. Mar. 5. 13. Luk. 8. 33.

Viper] A poyſonful creature ſo called, which is brought forth very violently with the death of the Dam, by gnawing out her bowels.

2. Cruel, unnatural, and ungrateful men, which wrong their Parents, Teachers, and Benefactors, &c. Mat. 3. 7. O generation of Vipers!

Viper]

Viper] A kind of Serpent very venemous, Act. 28. 3, 4. It killeth with the tongue, Job 20. 16.

It is put for that which is dangerous and deadly, Isa. 30. 6. & 59 5. For wicked men, Mat. 3. 7. & 12. 34. & 23. 33.

Viper] It conceiveth at the mouth, and the Ancients are all of opinion, that in the act of copulation the female biteth off the males head, which the young ones revenge at their birth, by breaking in sunder the belly of their Dam. But later Writers affirm, that they conceive without the death of any of them, and that the female bringeth forth above twenty at one time. Mans fasting spittle is death unto them; so is Garleek, unlesse they eat Rue. Nor can it abide the Yew-tree, or Mustard-seed. They love no other creatures, but their owne kinde. It's said that they have no ears, and that their passage for egestion exceedeth not the eye of a Needle. They are insatiable of Wine, which when they have drunk, they may be easily taken without harm. Being angry, they thrust forth their venome more fully, and thereby it worketh more deadly. Their biting is deadly, yet could the Lord preserve Paul therefrom, Act. 28 3. They only amongst Serpents build in the earth, others do in hollow rocks or trees. The Scythians dip their Arrow heads with the venome hereof, mixed with mans blood, that they whom they wound may die. It's more to be feared though it do but hisse, then the Lyon, though it roar. When it coupleth with the Lamprey, it layeth aside its poyson, which afterward it gathereth up again. It's said to delight in Balsam, which yet is a remedy against poyson. (Hereticks and false Teachers abuse the Scriptures, but are foiled thereby).

Though the Viper be so poysonous, yet it is used by Physicians as the choycest Antidote against poyson.

Virgin] One that keepeth her self chaste in a single life. 1 Cor. 7. 37. And hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his Virgin. The High-Priest must marry a Virgin onely, Levit. 21. 14. One not defiled with either corporall or spirituall adultery, Rev. 14. 3, 4.

The reason why the High-priest might marry none but a Virgin, was to signifie thereby, that the Church is to be presented to Christ, as a Virgin without spot, 2 Cor. 11. 2.

2. One who keeps himself to Christ, by pure beleef, and uncorrupt doctrine; either person or particular Church. 2 Cor. 11. 2. To present you as a pure virgin to Christ. Thus every godly person is a Virgin.

3. Sometime some one notable and singular woman unknown to a man, namely, Mary the Mother of Christ, promised in Paradise, prophesied of by Isaiah, ch. 7. 14. See Matthew 1. 22. & Luke 1. 30, & 48. And sometime a young Woman touched by a Man, and yet reputed still a Virgin, and so by her selfe avouched impudently, Prov. 30. 19.

Virgin is put, 4. For a Widow who is a young woman, Joel 1. 8.

When young men is joyned with it, it signifieth the inhabitants of a place, Isa. 23. 4. Zech. 9. 17.

5. It signifieth the professors of the Gospel in generall, Mat. 25. 1, 7.

6. A whole City, or Nation, 2 Kin. 19. 21. Isa. 37. 22. Jer. 14. 17. Amos 5. 2. especially such as flourish in wealth and honour, and that have not been subdued nor brought under by other people, Isa. 23. 12. & 47. 1. Jer. 46. 11.

7. The elect, who (Rev. 14. 4.) are said to follow the Lamb whersoever he goeth, whereas the rest of the world follow the Beast. They follow the Lamb in two respects.

1 Of information, they know his voyce, and will not follow a stranger, Joh. 10. 4, 5.

2. In respect of conforming themselves to his Will; if he forbid, they forbear; if he threaten, they tremble; if he go to the Mountain to teach, they go to hear him; if to the prison, or banishment, or to Mount Calvary to suffer, they go with him; they follow him in his Crosse here, and shall follow him in glory hereafter.

Their duty is, 1. To praise God, Psal. 148. 12, 13, 14. especially for his singular blessings bestowed upon his people, Psal. 68. 25. Zech. 9. 17.

2. To care for the things of the Lord, that they may be holy both in body and spirit, 1 Cor. 7. 34. and to be pure, 2 Cor. 11. 2.

3. To resist the temptations of wicked men, 2 Sam. 13. 11, 12, 13. Genesis 39. 7, 8, 9.

Visage] The Countenance.

It is spoken of Christ, in his sufferings, Isa. 52. 14.

2. Of the Church in her suffering, Lam. 4. 8.

3. Of Nebuchadnezzar in his anger, Dan. 3. 9. See Countenance.

Visible] signifieth all the visible creatures, Col. 1, 16.

For stacing the controversie concerning the visibility or invisibility of the Church, consider these following distinctions.

A thing is visible either with the eyes of the minde, or of the body.

Visible with the eyes of the minde, is either confusedly visible (as we doubt not but there are elect vessels of mercy in the world, though we know not certainly in particular who they are) or distinctly, as we not onely know that there is a God, but we know distinctly who this true God is.

Visible by the eyes of the body, is either immediately, and of it self visible; as colour, figure, and light, though in a diverse respect: or then by accident; thus we see a man, for we see him not as he is a man, though none in his right wits will deny he sees a man: this comes to passe when we see with the eyes of the body such marks of things, as from thence the mind conceives another thing: or when the marks of such things which the minde onely conceives, incurre into the senses, then are we said to see that outwardly which the minde onely takes up of it self, and because the lineaments of a mans body, agree to no other creature, and these lineaments are discerned by the eye, Man also is said to be seen with the eyes of the body; but because these marks are of two sorts, for they are either such as cannot be separate from the thing whereof they are marks, or such as can be separate, either seldome, or for the most part. Hence this visibility begets not alwayes a like certain knowledge; for if the marks be such as cannot be separate from the thing we see, then the knowledge is most certain; if they may onely be seldome separated, then the knowledge is lesse certain; but if they may be separate for the most part, the knowledge is very uncertain.

These things being thus premised,

First it is not to be denyed, but the Church is visible by the eyes of the minde; and if at any time it be not all visible, (as in Elias time) it comes to passe from the weaknesse of faith, yet Elias doubted not but God had his Church in heaven; therefore it is to be granted, yea affirmed, that the Universall Church, both that which is in heaven, and that which is in earth, is visible by the eyes of the minde; but what is this way visible, is not incontinent, distinctly so; as for example, we know that in every Nation there be men of a meek and quiet spirit, as in France or Germany, yet it may fall out, that we know not distinctly and in particular, what men in these Countreys are so, this way. It is not to be denyed, but many members of the Church are distinctly visible to the eye of the minde; as those unto whom God gives testimony in Scripture, Abraham, Job, David, and others: Therefore the Church this way in the whole will be confusedly visible; and in respect of certain members, distinctly visible, but with the eyes of the minde, not of the body; therefore we are said to beleeve the Catholick Church, but not to see it; for the Catholick Church is the Communion of Saints, which cannot be discerned with bodily eyes: This communion is in two things, either with the head, 1 Joh. 1. (if we say we have fellowship with him, to wit, with Christ, and the Father through him, and so with the holy Ghost; for the Apostle Paul makes mention also of that communion) or among our selves, (as it is in the same chap.) that is, communion which being invisible to the eyes of the body, is yet visible to the eyes of the minde; for neither length of time, nor distance of place, can interrupt this communion.

As to that visibility which ariseth from the marks that incurre in the senses, the case is otherwise; for it is to be granted that the Church is visible, yet not simply, but onely in some respect, in some manner, at some time, and to some persons onely; therefore it is not to be denyed,

1 But the Church in some respect is visible with the eyes of the body; as if we understand that part which is militant in earth, and so understand it to be visible not in the whole, but in the particular Churches, or particular members of the particular Churches.

2 It is also in some manner visible with the eyes of the body (by the eyes of the body, is to be understood, every sense whereby the marks of the Church may be perceived) but it is to be denyed that any part of the Church is visible of it self, onely it is so by accident, because those things that incurre into the senses, are not of that nature, as to be necessarily of the essence of the Church, or necessarily to flow from the essence of it.

Again, it is to be denyed that the Church can be distinctly seen with the eyes of the body, but to be granted that it may be seen confusedly; i. e. those things are outwardly discerned, whereby we may gather that God hath a Church in this or that place; but those things are not seen, whereby we may gather this or that man to be a true member of the Church; the reason is, because all the outward marks of the Church, are common to the godly and hypocrites.

Moreover it is to be denyed that it can be diſtinctly and certainly known, which is the true Church, and the true members thereof; but yet it is to be granted that it may be diſtinctly and probably known; this knowledge commonly is called the judgement of charity; for when marks are obvious to the eye, whereby we may probably gather that this or that man belongeth to the Church, that ſuch and ſuch are the true (or faithfull) Paſtors of the Church; here is diſtinct knowledge; for ſo we not onely know that there are true members, and true Paſtors, but alſo we know this or that man for ſuch; but this is opinion rather then certain knowledge. Hence the more illuſtrious, or obſcure the notes of a true Paſtor, or member of a true Church be, the more certain or uncertain, is the judgement of charity.

Hitherto is to be referred that diſtinction of the Church, in viſible and inviſible, which tendeth not to this (as Bellarmine calumniates, lib. 3. cap. 2. of The Militant Church) to make two Churches, the one viſible, the other inviſible, (which were very abſurd, ſeeing the parts of the Diviſion are oftentimes coincident; for the ſame Church which in ſome reſpect is viſible, in another reſpect is inviſible) but this diſtinction is onely of the name, not of the thing; i. e. ſometimes the Church takes the denomination from thoſe things which are inviſible, and which conſtitute the eſſence thereof, and ſo it is called inviſible; ſometimes it takes the denomination from externall things, wch are obvious to the ſenſes, and then it is called viſible: and becauſe theſe externall things are common to hypocrites, hence it is that the name of the Church is aſcribed unto hypocrites, to wit, in ſo far onely as the Church hath her denomination from externall things.

3 It is not to be denyed but ſometimes the Church is viſible with the eyes of the body yea and that almoſt all wayes, to wit, confuſedly, not diſtinctly, or diſtinctly, in certain members, but yet that viſibility begets not an infallible and certain knowledge; yea, it is not to be denyed but that ſhee is almoſt alwayes viſible this way; the reaſon is, becauſe God ever hath a Church upon earth, for Chriſt cannot be a head if he have not a body, yea and a part of this body upon earth, which continueth onely that the Church may continue; and ſeeing the Church is both begotten and nouriſhed by the Word, it is neceſſary that the Word be in the Church, which cannot be, except it be preached; and that cannot be, but that there muſt alſo be ſomething incurring in the ſenſes, therefore almoſt ever the Church is viſible; we add almoſt, becauſe God can by the inſtinct of his Spirit, without the Word, teach his people; but this is extraordinary; and men may alſo at home privately read the Scripture, in time of great perſecution, but this alſo is extraordinary and rare. Yet it is to be obſerved that this viſibility is not alwayes alike clear, but even as the Word is more or leſſe clearly and purely preached; ſo is the viſibility of the Church more or leſſe clear.

Laſtly, the Church is viſible unto ſome perſons, yet it is not neceſſary that it be viſible to all and every one; ſo Elias thought himſelf onely left, yet it may be that the reſt of the faithfull who bowed not to Baal, held communion among themſelves, and were known to one another. This (to ſpeak ſo) inviſibility of the Church, in regard whereof the members are not known to ſome, ariſeth from perſecution, a generall depravation of the truth, and idolatry; whereby it cometh to paſſe that the true worſhip of God is not retained, ſo much as in outward profeſſion.

This then is the ſtate of the Queſtion:

Whether or no the Church militant upon earth, if not in the whole, yet in its parts, be viſible of it ſelf, and primarily, diſtinctly, and alwayes, and certainly, and to ſome. The Papiſts affirm it. Wee deny it. Cameron of the Viſibility of the Church.

Viſion] An extraordinary action of God, manifeſting himſelf and his Will to his Prophets to be ſeen and throughly known of them. Numb. 12. 6. If there be a Prophet of the Lord among you, I will be known to him in viſion, &c. Viſions and Dreams ſignifies all kind of Propheſie, Dan. 1. 17.

2. An ordinary action of the Prophets and Miniſters, declaring the minde of God to the people, that they may ſee and know it. Prov. 29. 18. When viſion faileth, the people periſh.

A Doctrine revealed from God immediately, ſometime by ſignes and ſights, as to Daniel and Ezekiel; and ſometime by word, without viſible repreſentations, as to Abraham, Gen. 15. 1. To Iſa. 2. 1. It is therefore called a viſion, becauſe God revealed things to his Prophets ſo evidently, and delivered them with ſuch certainty, as though they had preſently ſeen before their eyes the things which they foretold. Hence Prophets which had ſuch viſions and clear revelations be called Seers, as 1 Sam. 9 9. For the meaning of this word Viſion, ſee further in Numb. 24. 24.

Viſion]

Viſion] The viſions whereby God of old appeared to men, in reſpect of the end thereof, are twofold.

1. Whereby God appeared unto men in their ſleep, that he might inform them of his Will, or of things ſecret, or to come, Job 7. 14.

2. Whereby he appeared unto men awake; and ſo it is one of the wayes whereby God was wont to manifeſt himſelf unto men, affecting their minde with certain externall objects, and ſenſible ſhapes and apparitions; in this reſpect God manifeſted himſelf to his Prophets both in the Old Teſtament, and in the New.

1. In the Old Teſtament to his Prophets, Gen. 15. 1. & 46. 2. Exod. 3. 2, 3. Act. 7. 30, 31. 1 Sam. 3. 15. Pſal. 89. 20. 2 Sam. 7. 7. Iſa. 6. 1. Jer. 24. 1, 2, 3. Ezek. 1. 1, 4. Dan. 2. 19. Amos 7. 1, 4, 7. Zech. 3. 1. Hence they were called Seers.

Note, that this Prophetical Viſion did not alwayes ariſe from an externall cauſe, and therefore the ſervants of the Lord ſee in the night as well as in the day, ſo that onely they ſee the thing that is ſeen. Act. 23. 11. The Lord ſtood by Paul, encouraging him; the Viſion was not from an externall ſhape, and therefore Luke notes it expreſly, that it fell out in the night; not that God left heaven to manifeſt himſelf to Paul upon earth; but to ſignifie, that Paul in the night was ſo affected, as if he did ſee God preſent before him.

So Act. 7. Stephen ſaw the glory of God, and Chriſt ſtanding at his right hand, verſ. 55, 56. doubtleſſe Stephen in the mean time was in the Synedrie when he beheld this ſpectacle, and therefore he could not ſee the heaven opened, (for he ſaw not the heaven) nor did Chriſt appear to the eyes of his body.

So Eliſha (2 King. 6. 17.) ſaw companies of horſes and chariots of fire, which his ſervant did not ſee (but upon the prayer of Eliſha:) which could not be, if that viſion had been from an externall ſhape. Cameron upon Rev. 18. 4.

The falſe Prophets alſo did boaſt of theſe Viſions, ſo that viſion by way of conceſſion is attributed unto them, Zech. 13. 4. which notwithſtanding are called but viſions of falſehood, Jer. 14. 14. of vanity, Ezek. 12. 24. & 13. 6, 7. the viſion of their owne heart, deviſed by their owne brains, Jer. 23. 16. therefore they are ſaid to follow their owne ſpirits, when they have ſeen nothing, Ezek. 13. 3.

Theſe Viſions were alſo afforded to other perſons then Prophets; as to Hagar, Gen. 16. 13. Eliphaz, Job 4. 13. Nebuchadnezzar, Dan. 2. 28. & 4. 5.

2. In the New Teſtament, in the beginning of the Goſpel ſuch Viſions were frequent, Act. 9. 3. & 22. 6. & 10. 3, 11, 12, 19. & 11. 5, 6. 2 Cor. 12. 1. Rev. 1. 12. & 4. 2. & 5. 1.

Theſe Viſions have their denomination ſometimes from God, the authour of them, 2 Sam. 7. 17. 1 Chr. 17. 15. Lam. 2. 9. and are called, the viſion of God, 2 Chron. 26. 5. Ezek. 1. 1. & 8. 3. of the Almighty, Numb. 24. 4, 16. of the Lord, 2 Cor. 12. 1.

Sometimes in reſpect of the ſubject, they take their denomination from him by whom they are ſeen, Dan. 7. 2.

It is ſometimes put for a cleer revelation of the Goſpel, Joel 2. 28. Sometimes for a ſpectre or deceitfull apparition, Job 20. 8. whereunto vain hope is compared, Iſa. 29. 7. Sometime for a ſpectacle, or the thing ſeen, Heb. 12. 21. Mat. 17. 3.

To Viſit] To performe ſome promiſed good thing. Gen. 21. 1. God viſited Sarah: Luk. 1. 68. Hath viſited his people, &c. that is, ſent the Redeemer promiſed, Jer. 29. 10. Gen. 50. 24.

Note. This word Viſit, ſignifies remembrance, providence, care, and performance of that which was ſpoken, be it good, as Gen. 50. 24. Exod. 3. 16. or evill, and ſo it meaneth puniſhment, Numb. 16. 29. Pſa. 89. 33.

2. To fulfill ſome threatned evill, Exod. 20. 5. I will viſit the ſins of the Fathers upon the children. Gods viſiting us, is either by benefits or judgements, Iſa. 26. 14. & 10. 3. Viſitation for deſolation.

3. To look into, and view throughly the eſtate of the flock, and charges under us, Act. 7. 13. Thus the Apoſtles viſited Churches.

4. To pray God, Iſa. 26. 16. ſo expounded in the ſame verſe.

Viſit] Properly, is often to ſee one, by going to, or meeting with him, in teſtimony of love, honour, or care, 1 Sam. 15. 35. Gen. 37. 14. Exod. 2. 11. & 4. 18. Act. 7. 23. Judg. 15. 1.

Improperly, it is taken, I. In good part.

1 In reſpect of men, where it ſignifieth, To be carefull of, to relieve and help them we viſit, Jam. 1. 27.

2 It is taken for that viſitation whereby men viſit God; which is, To remember, God, to implore his help, and to turn us unto him, Iſa. 26. 16. To be carefull to frequent frequent the aſſemblies of his ſervants, Pſal. 27. 4.

Or in reſpect of God, who viſits in mercy, when he doth good, in beſtowing his bleſſings temporall or ſpirituall, Geneſ. 21. 1. 1 Sam. 2. 21. Pſal. 65. 10. Pſal. 106. 4. Luk. 1. 68, 78. & 19. 44. 1 Pet. 2. 12. or delivering his ſervants from their miſeries, Gen. 50. 24, 25. Exod. 3. 16. & 4. 31. Pſa. 80. 14, 15.

II. It is taken in evill part.

God is ſaid to viſit in his wrath, when he poureth down his judgements upon the wicked, Gen. 28. 21. Exod. 20. 5. This is expreſſed in Scripture by Gods remembring ſin, Jer. 14. 10. To puniſh it, Iſa. 10. 12. Hoſ. 12, 2. Jer. 44. 13. To take vengeance for the ſame, Jer. 5. 9, 29. & 9. 9. & 23. 12. To ſwallow up alive, Numb. 16. 29. This is called, The day of calamity, Jer. 46. 21. The yeer of viſitation, Jer. 11. 23. & 23. 12. Hoſ. 9. 7. The time of viſitation, Jer. 6. 15. & 8 12. & 10. 15. In which ſenſe not to be viſited with any evill, is not to be afflicted, but to lead a quiet and happy life, Prov. 19. 23.

To viſit fatherleſſe and widowes] To exerciſe all works of mercy, noted by this here named, becauſe therein ſhineth free charity; for who will look for recompence from ſuch afflicted miſerable people? Jam. 1. 27. A Synecdoche.

To viſit Sarah] To give her ſtrength to conceive and bring forth, being barren and old, according to Gods promiſe, contrary to the order of nature, Gen. 21. 7. To viſit, is taken in good part, as here, and Exod. 4. 31. & Gen. 50. 25.

V L.

Ulai] A River (Dan. 8. 2, 16.) in Perſia.

Ulam] A porch, gallery, ſtrength, or fooliſhneſſe of them. Mens names. The Father of Bedan, 1 Chron. 7. 17. The Son of Eſhek, Ibid. 8. 39.

Ulla] Lifting up, a ſacrifice killed on the Altar, an infant, a little one, or a leaf. 1 Chr. 7. 39. The Father of Arah.

V M.

Ummah] Darkened, covered, his people, or with him. A City, Joſh. 29. 30.

V N.

Unable] Weak, without ſtrength of body or minde, Exod. 18. 18. 2 Cor. 3. 5.

There are 7 degrees to be conſidered for the effecting of any thing for the which we are by nature unable, the higheſt degree is the accompliſhing of it: our inability to this is expreſt, Rom. 7. 8. Phil. 2. 13. This we finde true by experience in evil things; as in Joſeph's Brethren, who purpoſed to hurt him, but were not able to accompliſh their purpoſe, for God turned their wicked purpoſes to good, Gen. 50. 20. So in Paul going to Damaſcus, to perſecute the Church, Act. 9. 9. Thus the wiſe man ſheweth, Eccl. 9. 13.

2. We are no more able to doe then we are to effect, Joh. 15. 4, 5. Jer. 10. 23. If man be not able to order his ſteps, he will be much leſſe able to hold out to the end; therefore God muſt order and direct them, Prov. 16. 9. Thus Paul profeſſeth, Rom. 7. 17. God muſt work our works in us. Iſa. 26. 12.

3. We are unable to begin to practiſe that which is good, though we have purpoſed the ſame in our hearts, Iſa. 37. 3. The children are come to the birth, and there is no ſtrength to deliver. So Phil. 1. 6.

4. We are unable to ſpeak that which is good, Prov. 16. 1. And experience tels, that often, though we be prepared by ſtudy and meditation to pray or preach, yet we are not able to deliver the ſame words ſo prepared.

5. We are unable to will, Phil. 2. 14.

6. To underſtand, 1 Cor. 2. 13. Rom. 8. 7.

7. We are unable to think well, 2 Cor. 5. 3. for our thoughts are evil continually, Geneſ. 6. 8. and vain, Pſal. 94. 1 Cor. 3. 19, 20.

Unaccuſtomed] Not uſed, or tryed, 1 Sam. 17. 39. Not tamed, Jer. 31. 18.

Unadviſedly] Raſhly, fooliſhly, Pſal. 106. 33. It is dangerous, Eccl. 10. 8, 9, 10, 11. Example in Uzzah, 2 Sam. 6. 7. Rehoboam, 1 King. 12. 8.

Unawares] Privately, Gen. 31. 20. Ignorantly, Numb. 35. 11. Deut. 4. 42. Joſh. 20. 3. Suddenly, unexpectedly, Luk. 21. 34. Not perceived, Gal. 2. 4. Jude v. 4.

Unbelief] A privation and utter want of faith, when Gods promiſes are wholly diſtruſted. Heb. 3. 12. An heart of unbeleef. This is totall unbelief, the next is partiall, or but in part.

2. Infirmity and weakneſſe of faith.

Mark

Mark ch. 9. verſ. 24. Lord help my unbelief.

3. Perfidiouſneſſe and rebellion againſt God. Rom. 3. 3. Shall their unbelief make the faith of God of none effect? Alſo eſtate of uncredulity, 1 Tim. 1. 13.

Unbelief is, 1. Negative, when one hath not heard the Goſpel, and therefore believeth not: Thus one may want the ſaving habit of faith, and yet be free from the deadly habit of incredulity. It is both a ſin, and a puniſhment of ſin, and excludes from the Kingdome of heaven; for not to have heard of Chriſt is not ſufficient to excuſe unbelief, ſeeing often it is through mens own fault, God juſtly puniſhing their ſin, by denying them the preaching of the Goſpel: ignorance therefore excuſes not them who are capable of faith, ſeeing ignorance in Adam (in whom all have ſinned) was voluntary, and all ought to know and believe.

2. Poſitive, is when one having the Word of God, and Goſpel of Chriſt preached, yet believes not, at leaſt with confidence, and therefore he is guilty both of the want of faith, and habit of unbelief.

It is either univerſall or particular.

Univerſall, is when one rejects the whole Word of God, as Epicures, who account it a fable.

Particular, is when one believes not certain heads of faith, as that Chriſt is now bodily in the heavens, &c.

The fruits of unbelief are,

1. It makes men obſtinate and hard hearted, ſo that they will not eaſily leave their opinions, and thinks every thing impoſſible and abſurd that is repugnant to them, Mat. 28. 17. Some even when they ſee Chriſt after his reſurrection, yet doubt of the ſame, and will not beleeve, as Thomas, Joh. 20.

2. It ſo excludes Chriſt, that his benefits can take no place, as Chriſt could not doe miracles in his owne Countrey, becauſe of their unbelief, Mat. 13. 58. Mar. 6. 6.

3. Often it breeds confuſion, and diſableth men to do that which otherwiſe they would have been able, if they had believed, Mat. 17. 16. Mar. 9. 18.

4. It hath often corporall puniſhment attending it, Luk. 1. 20. & 19. 44.

5. It deprives of the promiſes of God, making them of none effect. Pſal. 45. 11. as, The Iſraelites periſhed in the wilderneſſe, and did not enter into the Land of promiſe, becauſe of their unbeleef. Heb. 3. 19.

6. It brings on and aggravates the judgements of God, Job. 16. 8, 9.

7. It cut off the Jews from the Covenant of God, and from being the people of God, Rom. 11. 20.

8. Becauſe of unbeleef, the wrath of God is daily declared againſt, and cometh upon the children of diſobedience, Col. 3. 6.

9. They have their part in the Lake that burns with fire and brimſtone, Rev. 21. 8.

Unbelief is ſaid, not to make the promiſe of God of none effect, Rom. 3. 3, 4. Not that ſuch ſhall enjoy the promiſes of God, notwithſtanding of their wickedneſſe; but the Apoſtles driſt is to keep the Gentiles humble, ſhewing that the Gentiles may with better reaſon be caſt off, then the Jews were, for the Jews had the Promiſes, and the Teſtament, and the Fathers, and Chriſt according to the fleſh; yet when they believed not, he caſt them off, and gathered a Church to himſelf out of the Gentiles, whom he graffed into the true Olive, having cut off the naturall branches; and therefore he may much more cut off the Gentiles, and reſume the Jews, if the Gentiles continue in unbelief.

Unbeleeber, or Infidel] An unconverted idolatrous Gentile. 2 Cor. 6. 14. Be not unequally yoaked with the Infidels.

2. A Chriſtian whoſe heart is hardened by unbelief. 2 Cor. 4. 4. Blinded the mindes of Infidels.

Unblameable, or without blame and reproof, or unrebukable] An upright perſon, whoſe life cannot be noted and charged with any reigning ſin, after his calling. Luk. 1. 6. Both were juſt before God, and unblamable, or without reproof. Such are the Saints in this life, by inherent righteouſneſſe, Eph. 1. 4.

2. A perſon that cannot be charged with ought that is amiſſe in him, being voyd of all faults. Eph. 5. 27. A glorious Church, not having ſpot or wrinkle: but that it ſhould be holy and unblameable. Such the Saints are now, by imputed righteouſneſſe, and ſuch they ſhall be in heaven, by proper and perſonall holineſſe.

Uncertain] is, 1. Doubtfull, Joh. 13. 22.

2. It ſignifieth indiſtinct, which cannnot be known, 1 Cor. 14. 8.

3. Unſtable, changeable; thus riches are uncertain, 1 Tim. 6. 17.

Unchangeable] 1. God is of himſelf, and eſſentially unchangeable, Pſal. 92. 9. & 102. 13, 25, 27, 28. Lam. 5. 19. In reſpect of his counſell, Heb. 6. 17. Pſal. 33. 11. Iſa. 46. 9. In reſpect of his Word, Numb. 23. 19. and that both in regard of his promiſes, wiſes, Pſal. 89.35. his oath, Heb. 16.8. and his threatnings.

The new heaven and new earth ſhall be unchangeable, ſo alſo our bodies after the reſurrection being made conformable to the body of Chriſt, Phil. 3, 21. But this is by the free gift of God.

Uncircumciſed] Perſons in whom the whole corruption of mans nature is unreformed, but powerfully breaketh out in thoughts, words, looks, deeds, and ſenſes. Act. 7. 51. Ye ſtiff-necked, and of uncircumciſed hearts and ears. Theſe Jews were circumciſed outwardly, yet becauſe their hearts were not renewed, they were inwardly uncircumciſed.

2. Gentiles which had not the foreskin of their fleſh cut off. Eph. 2. 11. Ye being in times paſt Gentiles in the fleſh, called uncircumciſion. 1 Sam. 17. 26. Who is this uncircumciſed Philiſtin? This is the proper ſignification of the word uncircumciſed.

Uncircumciſed lips] ſignifieth, Polluted lips, as he that was not circumciſed was accounted unclean, Iſa. 6. 5.

Some expound it ſtuttering, that is, not eloquent or ready of ſpeech; they that are thus, pronounce many ſuperfluous ſyllables, which like a foreskin ought to be cut off, that the ſpeech may be pure and neat.

It is referred to the fruit of the earth, which was to be accounted unclean the firſt three yeers, and not to be eaten, Lev. 19. 23.

Uncircumciſion] The Gentiles, even all people which were not Jews. Rom. 3. 30. And uncircumciſion, through faith. Eph. 2. 11. That is, a profane people without God, ſtrangers from the Covenant of ſalvation.

2. The skin of the ſecret parts, with the eſtate and condition of uncircumciſed men. Rom. 2. 25. Thy circumciſion is made uncircumciſion.

Uncle] Ones Fathers or Mothers Brother, Lev. 10. 4. 1 Sam. 10. 14. 1 Chr. 27. 32.

Unclean] Such perſons or things as are ceremoniouſly polluted by touching a dead carkaſſe of man or beaſts, &c. Hag. 2. 14. If he that is polluted touch any of theſe things, ſhall it be unclean? Levit. 13. 46. He ſhall be polluted, for he is unclean. Act. 10. 14. Any thing which is polluted, or unclean; that is, which may not be eaten, being forbidden by the Law.

Of this prohibition of ſome meats as unclean, in reſpect of uſe, there were ſundry cauſes:

1 Was Civill, to invite the Jews by this means to obedience.

2 Morall, to teach them temperance.

3 Phyſicall, to maintain health, and eſcape diſeaſes, by a promiſcuous uſe of meats, which would breed ſickneſſes.

4 Ceremonial, to diſtinguiſh the Jews from all the Gentiles, which obſerve no ſuch difference.

5 Myſticall, to put them in minde of ſpirituall uncleanneſſe, to avoyd it, and to follow holineſſe in body and ſoul, and to inſtruct them concerning Chriſt: who being come, and crucified, hath aboliſhed this Moſaical Law, which yet after Chriſt his aſcenſion was of force for a time, till the weak beleeving Jews might be taught what liberty the Goſpel had brought them.

Of uncleanneſſe about Meats, there be ſundry ſorts:

1 Phyſicall or naturall in meats, which are enemies to naturall health, as venemous Serpents, &c.

2 That which ſin brought upon all creatures, being accurſed to man for diſobedience of our firſt parents, Gen. 3.

3 Morall, when meats become polluted to us by the vice of intemperancy, or by diſobedience to Civill laws, appointing reſtraints of meats to civill ends. For to the unclean all things are unclean, Titus 1. ver. laſt.

The 4 is, ſcrupulous uncleanneſſe, as when the weak Chriſtians at Corinth made ſcruple if they might eat of things offered to Idols, 1 Cor. 8.

5 Superſtitious uncleanneſſe, when there is choyce of meats made at certain times for Religion ſake, as in Popery.

The 6 and laſt is, Ceremonious uncleanneſſe, ſuch as was under Moſes Law, which forbad the uſe of many meats, for ſuch cauſes as before is laid down.

2. Such as are ſpiritually defiled with ſin, either totally, as the wicked, which ſtill, (like hogs in the mire) wallow in the filthineſs of ſin: or in part onely, not having the corruption of their ſin wholly purged out, as the godly. Iſa. 64. 6. We have all been as an unclean thing.

Unclean Spirits] The Devill, who is himſelf moſt unclean and foul; alſo he inſpireth uncleanneſſe into others. Matth. 10. 1. And gave them power againſt uncleane ſpirits.

2. The vices of covetouſneſſe, drunkenneſſe, infidelity, whoredome, hypocriſie, &c. by which the devill holds poſſeſſion of mens heart. Mat. 12. 43. When the unclean ſpirit is gone out of a man. Metonymie of the cauſe for the effect.

Three unclean ſpirits] A ſtrong number of the Ambaſſadours of Satan. Rev. 16.13. And I ſaw three unclean ſpirits like frogs, come out of the mouth of the Dragon.

As an unclean thing] That even the holieſt men on earth are (through remaining ſins) like a leprous perſon, who for his uncleanneſſe deſerved to be ſeparate from the company of other men; ſo are they become worthy for ſin to be ſhut out from the company of God and his Angels, Iſa. 64. 7.

Uncleanneſſe] Generally all ſins whatſoever, which make unclean both our ſelves and every thing we touch; but particularly, ſuch ſins as tend unto our wicked pleaſure and commodity, Rom. 6. 19. Zach. 13. 1. For ſin, and for uncleanneſſe; that is, for ſin which is it ſelf unclean, and maketh us unclean.

Whereas ſuch as were defiled with any Legall uncleanneſſe, (as by touching a dead carkaſſe, &c.) muſt be thrown out of the Camp till they had cleanſed themſelves, Numb. 5. 23. Lev. 15. 31. this figured two things.

1 That our ſins give juſt cauſe unto God to caſt us out from his preſence and glory, Rev. 21. 27.

2 That evill doers are to be ſeparated from the publick aſſemblies and company of the faithfull, for a time, till repentance, by ſuſpenſion and excommunication. Compare 1 Cor. 5. 13. with Numb. 5. 2.

Unclothed] is ſpoken of Death, whereby the ſoul is ſtript of the body, 2 Cor. 5. 4.

Uncomely] Not decent, unfitting, 1 Cor. 7. 36. Unhoneſt, unſeemly, 1 Cor. 12. 23.

Uncondemned] Not found guilty, not examined, not convinced, Act. 16. 37. comp. with verſ. 22. & 22. 25.

Uncorruptneſſe] Free from errour, Tit. 2. v. 7.

Uncover] To make bare, Iſa. 32. 11. To leave naked, Exod. 31. 5. 2 Chr. 29. 19. To lay open, Prov. 13. 16. To have carnall copulation, Levit. 2. 18, 19. & 18. 8. To expoſe to ſhame and diſgrace, Jer. 13. 26. Hoſ. 2. 3.

Unction] The holy Ghoſt, 1 Joh. 2. 20.

Undefiled] Clean, without ſpot, free from ſin, Heb. 7. 26. Sincere, Pſal. 119. 1. Perfect, 1 Pet. 1. 4. Where our heavenly inheritance is ſaid to be undefiled:

1. Becauſe we ſhall live ſeparate from all polluted things, as the devill, hell, and ſin.

2. Whe ſhall be joyned to God, that undefiled eſſence, the fountain of all holineſſe.

3. We ſhall enjoy the fellowſhip of unſpotted Angels, and bleſſed ſouls, after an undefiled manner, with all purity, concord, and quietneſſe.

4. We ſhall be clothed with perfection of nature, being made like unto Chriſt both in ſoul and body; in ſoul, Gods image in undefiled graces, being perfected without mixture, either of defects or corruptions; and our body ſhall be made like the glorious body of Chriſt, Phil. 3. 22. without death, ſhame, weakneſſe, or any imperfection.

5. Our ſervice ſhall be pure and undefiled, for we ſhall praiſe God day and night, without either weakneſſe or wearineſſe, Rev. 7. 15.

Under] is taken, 1. In reſpect of place, Deut. 4. 11. 2 Sam. 22. 37. Revel. 5. 13. Hence theſe phraſes, under heaven, under the ſun, under the earth, &c. Judg. 1. 7. Mar. 7. 28.

2. In reſpect of condition and ſtate, power and dominion. Hence theſe and the like ſpeeches, to have ſervants under one, to be tread under foot, to be under ſin, Rom. 3. 9. To be concluded under ſin; i. e. to be guilty, Gal. 3. 22. To be ſold under ſin, Rom. 7. 14. To be under the elements of the world; i. e. to be kept in bondage under the Ceremonies of the Law, Gal. 4. 3. To be under a curſe; i. e. guilty of it, Gal. 3 10, 11.

3. In reſpect of protection and defence, Pſal. 17. 8. Cant. 2. 3. Matth. 23. 37. Gal. 3. 23.

4. It is put for, In. Hence under the lips, tongne, is, in the lips, and tongue, Pſal. 140. 4. Rom. 3. 13.

Under grace] One to whom ſin is graciouſly pardoned by the merit of Chriſt, and who is alſo freed from the dominion and ſtrength of ſin, by the aid of Gods grace and Spirit. Rom. 6. 14. Ye are under grace.

Under the hand of God] One chaſtened and judged for ſin, to his humbling, Judg. 2. 15.

2. One that is defended by the great power and providence of God. 1 Pet 5. 6. Humble your ſelves under the hand of God.

Under hope] One not without hope; or one who hopeth well in reſpect of Gods power and promiſe. Rom. 4. 18. Who A-braham above hope, believed under hope. Under hope, in reſpect of God; above hop, in reſpect of man.

Under the Law] One ſubject to the doctrine, inſtruction and government of the Law, Rom. 3. 6, 9. Gal. 3. 23. We were kept under the Law. Alſo one ſubject to the burthen of Legall Rites and Ceremonies, Gal. 4. 5.

2. One ſubject to the curſe, rigour, and compulſion of the Law, and as it is the ſtrength of ſin; and not to be under the Law, is to be freed from all theſe by faith in Chriſt, and his ſanctifying Spirit, Rom. 6. 14. For ye are not under the Law, but under grace.

Under his thighes] By this ſigne either ſubjection; or for a further myſtery of the Covenant of Circumciſion: or rather of Chriſt the promiſed ſeed, who was to come out of Abraham's loyns or thigh, Gen. 24. 2. & 47. 29.

Under Tutors] A childe in his nonage, being under the tuition of a Governour or Guardian. Gal. 4. 2. But is under Tutors and Governours.

2. One ſubject to the Regiment of the Ceremonial Law (as to a Tutor) Gal. 4. 2.

Under the unjuſt] Before the unjuſt, in their Courts, and at their Judgement ſeat. 1 Cor. 6. 1. Dare any of you having buſineſſe againſt another, be judged under the unjuſt?

To underſtand] To perceive with the eyes of the minde, ſomething unknown afore, Dan. 10. 1.

2. To obſerve and conſider in his minde, the afflictions of the Church under the King of Perſia. Dan. 12. 10. Thou ſetteſt thy heart to underſtand.

Underſtanding] That naturall faculty of the ſoul, whereby it knoweth things, and is able to diſcern them, and diſcourſe of them. Luk. 24. 45. Naturall underſtanding.

2. The gift of heavenly knowledge enabling us to ſee the truth of Gods words, or more cleerly and fully to ſee it. Pſa. 119. 34. Give me underſtanding, &c. Prov. 3. 13. & 4. 5, &c. This is active ſpirituall underſtanding, whereby we do underſtand others when they ſpeak of heavenly things.

3. Interpretation to make others underſtand what is prayed for or uttered in a ſtrange tongue. 1 Cor. 14. 15. I will pray with underſtanding. This is paſſive ſpiritual underſtanding, whereby ſome are made fit to underſtand our ſpeeches.

4. Meaning, ſenſe, matter of that which is prayed for in a ſtrange tongue. 1 Cor. 14. 14. My underſtanding is without fruit; that is, when I utter a prayer in an unknown tongue the hearer hath no benefit, becauſe he knoweth not the meaning. Popiſh Latine prayers before an Engliſh unlearned people, be unfruitfull, contrary to the canons and rules of the Apoſtle, alſo to the practiſe of the primitive Church, yea againſt common reaſon: (for how ſhall any man ſay Amen, to that which they know not; or ask of God, what they underſtand not?) Laſtly, repugnant they be to nature, for how ſhall one prepare to battail upon an uncertain ſound? When men underſtand not one another, then they be Barbarians, or rather Babylonians one to another, according to that of the Poet; Barbarus hic ego ſum, quia non intelligor ulli.

A people of no underſtanding] Obſtinate people and blockiſh, voyd of wiſdome, and ſuch as will not learn, no not by rods and puniſhments. Iſa. 27. 11. For it is a people of no underſtanding.

Note. As by a foole, the Scripture for the moſt part meaneth the wicked; ſo by a man of underſtanding, every one that is godly, is meant, Prov. 8. 9.

Undertake] To promiſe faithfully, or become bound, Eſt. 9. 23. To protect and uphold, Iſa. 38. 4.

Undoe] To periſh, Numb. 21. 29. To relieve, Iſa. 58. 6. To afflict and deſtroy, Zeph. 3. 19. Not to accompliſh or perform, Joſh. 11. 15. Mat. 23. 25.

Unequall] Unmeet, 2 Cor. 4. 16. Unrighteous.

Unfaigned] Upright, ſincere, without diſſimulation and hypocriſie, 1 Tim. 1. 5. 2 Tim. 1. 5. 2 Cor. 6. 6. 1 Pet. 1. 22.

Unfaithfull] Deceitfull, Pſal. 78. 57. Prov. 25. 19.

Unfruitfull] Unprofitable, Tit. 3. 14. Barren, Mat. 13. 22. Evill, Eph. 5. 11.

Ungird] Gen. 24. 32. He ungirded his camels. Did looſe, or unlooſen their girths. He, to wit, Laban, whereby we ſee the gentle entertainment of ſtrangers, uſed by the better ſort of people in thoſe times; which example may ſerve either for imitation or conviction of future ages. Annot.

Ungodly] Every ſinner that is unregenerate, whether he be elect or reprobate. Rom. 4. 5. & 5. 6. Chriſt dyed for the ungodly. Such we are all from our birth, even the Infant new born.

2. A perſon of yeers, who is a wicked liver, in whom birth-ſin ſtill reigneth. Pſa. 1. v. laſt. The way of the ungodly ſhall periſh. Jude v. 15. To rebuke all the ungodly men of all their wicked deeds.

Ungodlineſſe] Wickedneſſe or ſin, immediately done againſt God, in the breach of the firſt Table. Tit. 2. 11. Teach us to deny ungodlineſſe and worldly luſts. Rom. 1. 18.

to

All ungodlineſſe] All kinde of ungodlineſſe, or ungodlineſſe of all ſorts: for ungodlineſſe hath ſundry parts and branches: as Ignorance, Infidelity, Superſtition, Idolatry, Hypocriſie, Contempt of God, Profanation of his name and Sabbaths, &c. Rom. 1. 18. The wrath of God is revealed from heaven againſt all ungodlineſſe.

As unrighteouſneſſe noteth all manner of ſins committed againſt the ſecond, ſo ungodlineſſe ſignifies all ſorts of ſins committed againſt the firſt Table.

Unholy] Profane, Lev 10.10. 1 Tim. 1.9. Without ſanctification, 2 Tim. 3. 2. Common, Heb. 10. 29.

Unicorn] A beaſt, fierce, wilde, and untameable, Job 39. 12, 13, 14, 15. It is very ſtrong, Ibid. Hence powerfull men are compared to them, Iſa. 34. 7. and God himſelf, in reſpect of his powerfull protection, Num. 23.22. & 24 8. And becauſe his ſtrength is in the horn; therefore by the horn of the Unicorn, is ſignified, the power both of the godly, Deut. 33.17. Pſa. 92.10. and alſo of wicked tyrants, and cruel perſecutors of the godly, Pſal. 22.21.

Naturaliſts write of the Unicorn's horn, that of all other it is moſt firm and ſolid.

2 Moſt pleaſant: And,

3 Moſt profitable, as being a ſoveraign preſervative againſt all poyſon: The beaſts of the field (as they record) attend till the Unicorn dip his horn in the water, then they come and drink.

Thus the Kingdome of Chriſt may be fitly compared unto it, for of all other it is the moſt firm and durable, the moſt beautifull, and moſt profitable; for he hath changed the bitter waters, and made them ſweet; neither is there any thing ſo deadly which his horn healeth not, and makes it to ſerve for the ſalvation of his owne.

The Unicorns horn groweth out of its forehead between the eye-lids, and is neither light, nor hollow, nor ſmooth, like other horns, but hard as iron, rough as any file, reſolved into many plights, ſharper then any dart, ſtraight, and not crooked, every where black, except at the point. It caſteth the horn as the Hart. This horn being ſet upon the Table of Kings amongſt their junkets, and banquets, doth bewray if therein there be any poyſon, by a certain ſweat which cometh over it. It's a beaſt which cannot be tamed, fighting both with its mouth by biting, and heels by kicking. It's gentle to ſtrange beaſts, but fighteth eſpecially with his own kinde, yea with the female, unleſſe in time of copulation. Running againſt the Lyon (who in the mean time runneth behinde a tree) he runneth his horn into the tree, whereunto being therewith faſtened, he is killed. It reverenceth Virgins and Maidens. Having ſharpened its horn by rubbing it againſt a rock, and ſo prepared it ſelfe for fight, it endevoureth eſpecially to pierce its adverſaries belly, as knowing it to be ſoft and weak.

Unicorns horns] The Devils Angels, Principalities, Powers, worldly Governors, Princes of the darkneſſe of this world, as Epheſ. 6. 12. They be called, Pſal. 22. 21. And from the horns of the Unicorn. The Unicorn is ſo fierce and wilde, that he will not be tamed, Job 39. 12, 13. His ſtrength and pride is in his horn. See Pſal. 92. 11. Numb. 23.22. Deut. 33.17. Iſa 34. 7.

Union] of the Elect with Chriſt, is expreſſed by his dwelling and abiding in us, and ours in him, by being partakers of the divine nature, 2 Pet. 1. 5. putting on of Chriſt, Gal. 3.27. Rom. 13. v. laſt.

The ſubject of this union are the faithfull onely, Epheſ. 3. 17. who are noted by the love of Chriſt, Joh. 14. 23. and their perſeverance unto the end, Heb. 3. 14.

The efficient cauſe is the holy Ghoſt, Rom. 8. 9. 1 Cor. 12. 13. 1 Joh. 4. 13.

The externall inſtrumentall cauſe is the word of the Goſpel, Joh. 15 7. 1 Joh. 1. 2, 3, 4. and the Sacraments of Baptiſme, Gal. 3. 27. and the Lords Supper, 1 Cor. 10. 16.

The internall is faith, Joh. 6. 35, 40, 47, 56. Eph. 3. 17.

The property of it is, that it is indiſſoluble, Rom. 8. 34, 35, 36, 37.

The effect is eternall life, Joh. 6. 54, 57.

By virtue of this union, the faithfull are partakers,

1 Of the divine nature, 2 Pet. 1. 5.

2 Of the offices of Chriſt, 1 Pet. 2 5, 9. Rev. 1. 6. & 5. 10.

3 Of the benefits of Chriſt; as, his righteouſneſſe, ſanctification, redemption, and glory, Joh. 15. 1. 1 Cor. 1. 30. Rom. 8. 17.

Union of two Natures] An action of God the Father, by the ſecret and mighty work of the Spirit, joyning the manhood unto the Perſon of the Son, unſeparably, at the inſtant of his conception. Luk. 1. 31. Loe thou ſhalt conceive in thy wombe, and bear a Son, and ſhalt call his name Jeſus. Rom. 1. 4. Concerning his Son Jeſus, which was born of the ſeed of David.

Unite] To joyn together things that are divided. Thus the heart is ſaid to be united to God, when it is free from divers thoughts, cares, and affections, that diſtract it from him and his ſervice, ſo that we cleave to him, and worſhip him onely. Pſal. 86. 10. Not to be united unto the aſſembly of the wicked, is not to communicate with, nor approve of their wicked counſels and actions, Gen. 49. 6.

Unity of faith] is not onely one faith common to all the faithfull, who agree in one and the ſame faith, looking for the ſame ſalvation, by the ſame Mediator and means: but alſo that perfect communion of Saints, which was at the firſt begotten by faith, and in which at the laſt ſhall end that unity of faith; for that perfect communion in the life to come, deſerveth beſt the name of unity of faith (although faith ſhall be changed into ſight) becauſe it had its beginning from faith, and faith leadeth unto it. Boyd. Eph. 4. 13.

This unity ought to be ſought after by all Chriſtians, 1 Cor. 1. 10. 2 Cor. 13. 11. Phil. 2. 2. Rom. 15. 5. It was the glory of the firſt Chriſtian Church, Act. 4. 32. becauſe,

1 It is a ſpecial bond of our union with Chriſt, and to break it, is to cut aſunder the veins and ſinews of the myſtical body, 1 Cor. 1. 10.

2 It is juſt and comely. We have but one Father, one Baptiſme, one Spirit, one Hope, and therefore ſhould have but one Faith, Eph. 4. 3, 4, 5.

3 Becauſe of the good effects of it: As,

1 It will make us fitter to praiſe God, Rom. 15. 5.

2 It will make us eat our meat with more gladneſſe and ſingleneſſe of heart, Act. 2. 46.

3 It is a great advantage for the converſion of others, Act. 2. 47. And it will be a ſigne to us that we are true Chriſtians, and that we have found true comfort in Chriſt, that we have fellowſhip by the Spirit in the body of Chriſt, and that we have right bowels and mercy to others, Phil. 2. 1, 2.

4 Becauſe of the evill effects of diſſenſion; as,

1 It breeds confuſion in the Churches, 1 Cor. 14. 32, 33.

2 Diviſion, and ſchiſme, 1 Cor. 1. 10.

3 It diſquieteth the hearts of weak Chriſtians: in which reſpect Paul wiſheth they were cut off that trouble the Galatians, chap. 5.

4 It ſubverts often the ſoul, Act. 15. 24. Eph. 4. 14. 2 Tim. 2. 14, 16, 17.

5 It drives men often into divers acts of hypocriſie, or paſſion, or pride, or ſuch vices as are contrary to ſingleneſſe of heart, Act. 2. 46.

6 It breeds new cenſuring, the authors of new opinions cenſuring others, as if in rejecting their opinions, they were not ſpirituall enough, but carnally minded, and that they were far behinde them in knowledge and other graces, as may be gathered out of 1 Cor. 14. 36, 37. Thus the falſe Teachers vilified Paul and the Apoſtles.

Helps to it, are, 1 Prayer, Rom. 15. 5.

2 Avoyd doubtfull diſputations, Rom. 14. 1.

3 To have reſpect to the peace of the Church; for if we would keep the unity of the Spirit, we muſt reſpect the bond of peace, Eph. 4. 3. Rom. 14. 19. 1 Cor. 14. 33.

4 Labour to know the truth, and to be fully perſwaded of truths neceſſary to ſalvation, 2 Tim. 1. 13.

5 People ſhould reſpect ſuch Miniſters as have begotten them in Chriſt, 1 Cor. 4. 15, 16. & 11. 1, 2, 4, 5. Phil. 3. 15, 17.

6 The weak in judgement ſhould be helped forward, the feeble minded ſhould be comforted, leſt they become a prey to deceivers, 1 Theſſ. 5. 14.

7 They that cauſe diviſion, ſhould be marked, and avoyded, Rom. 16. 17, 18.

Unity of ſpirit] Godly agreement, both in Religion and affection, whereof the holy Spirit is the bond and authour. Epheſ. 4. 3. Indevouring to keep the unity of the Spirit.

Unjuſt, or unrighteous] An Infidel or Pagan. 1 Cor. 6. 1, 6. Before the unjuſt.

2. A ſinner voyd of all righteouſneſſe, even from his birth. 1 Pet. 3. 18. He dyed, the juſt for the unjuſt. Unjuſt by nature.

3. One who being of yeers, doth lead his life unrighteouſly, doing wrong to others in their dignity, perſon, wife, ſubſtance, or name. 1 Cor. 6. 9. The unjuſt (or unrighteous) ſhall not inherit the Kingdome of heaven. Unjuſt both by nature and action.

Unknown] One which is hid from us, or of whom we are ignorant. Act. 17. 13. To the unknown God. Gal. 1. 21.

2. One obſcure and unrenowned, or that careth not to be renowned and famous. 1 Cor. 6. 6. As unknown, yet known.

Unknown] Whereof there is no knowledge, Act. 17. 23. That is not underſtood, 1 Cor. 14. 4, 13, 14, 19, 27. A ſtranger, 2 Cor. 6. 9. Gal. 1. 22.

Unlade] Act. 21. 3. To disburthen, take out the lading, or burden.

Unlawfull] is taken, 1. Ceremonially, Act. 10. 28. Morally, 2 Pet. 2. 8.

Unlearned] One that is voyd of learning; a vulgar or unlettered perſon. Act. 4. 13. 1 Cor. 14. 23. There come in they that are unlearned.

Unleavened] Properly, bread without leaven, Deut. 16. 3. It was either common, Gen. 19. 3. Joſh. 5. 11. 1 Sam. 28. 24, 25. or holy, Exod. 29. 2, 23. 2 King. 23. 9. Lev. 2. 4. or ſpirituall, 1 Cor. 5. 7. Now it is indifferent.

Unleſſe] is in effect the ſame with Except.

Unlooſe] Mar. 1. 7. To looſe, untie.

Unmarried] 1 Cor. 7. 8. A ſingle perſon, one not married.

Unmercifull] One without pity, compaſſion, or that ſhuts up the bowels of compaſſion, and denyeth all outward help in time of diſtreſſe. It is accompanyed with many other ſins, Rom. 1. 31.

The properties of ſuch are,

1 To oppreſſe, 2 Sam. 12. 6.

2 To be voyd of the love of God, 1 Joh. 3. 17.

3 He is without the fear of God, Job 6. 14.

4 Perſecution, Amos 1. 11.

5 He deſireth evil in the hurt of his neighbour, Prov. 21. 10.

God will puniſh ſuch, Amos 1. 11, 13. in this life, Judg. 8. 15, 16. comp. with v. 5. and in the life to come, Luk. 16. 23, 24, 25. Mat. 25. 41.

Unmindfull] Forgetfull, Jam. 1. 24, 25. Unthankfull, Deut. 32. 18.

There is a twofold unmindfulneſſe; one in the minde, another in the affection. Of this, Pſal. 106. 21. As a Swearer will have God in his mouth often, and ſwears by him at every word, yet he forgets God; for if he remembred that the name of God were a good name, he would love it; if a great name, he would fear it; if a glorious name, he would reverence it: but of all this he is unmindfull, even when he remembers him, and ſpeaks of him.

Unmoveable] That cannot be removed out of the place, Act. 27. 41. Stedfaſt, conſtant, 1 Cor. 15. 58.

Unni] An anſwer, ſong, afflicted, or poor. 1 Chr. 15. 18, 20. Neh. 12. 9.

Unoccupied] Judg. 5. 6. Not frequented, there being no commerce, nor intercourſe of trading, men not daring to travel to and fro about their buſineſſe, for fear of enemies and robbers. See Lev. 26. 22. 2 Chr. 15. 5. Iſa. 33. 1. Lam. 1. 4. Annot.

Unperfect] Not fully formed, but is wanting both in parts and degrees, Pſal. 139. 16.

Unpoſſible] That cannot be done, Matt. 17. 20. Heb. 6. 4, 18. Without ſtrength, Rom. 8. 3.

In reſpect of Man it is twofold:

1 As it flows from the weakneſſe of nature: As it is unpoſſible for an infant to ſpeak as well, or be as ſtrong as a man; things this way unpoſſible God doth not exact of us, as not beſeeming his goodneſſe and juſtice. This is in man without ſin.

2. That which flows from the perverſneſſe of nature: As it is unpoſſible to make a drunkard ſober; a whore, chaſte; or to keep man from ſinning: to exact of us the abſtinence from ſuch things, is agreeable to the juſtice of God, who once gave us a nature perfect. This is a ſinful unpoſſibility, and ſuch as man hath impoſed upon himſelf.

Unprepared] Unready, 2 Cor. 9. 4.

Unprofitable] is referred, I. To things.

It ſignifieth Barren, bringing no fruit, Luk. 13. 7.

2. Without edification, Tit. 3. 9.

3. Inſufficient to produce any effect, as the Ceremoniall Law to expiate ſin, Heb. 7. 13.

4. Pernicious, hurtfull. Thus Idols are to Idolaters, Jer. 2. 8. & 16. 19. So that is unprofitable to us, which bringeth great dammage, Heb. 13. 17.

II. It is referred to perſons; thus an unprofitable man is one of no worth, wicked; thus are all men by nature, Rom. 3. 12. Pſal. 14. 3. The Hebrew ſignifieth ſtinking, rotten, becauſe ſuch things are rejected as unprofitable, and hurtfull.

It is one that is ſlothfull and laſie, Matth. 25. 26, 30. or falſe, Philem. v. 11. One is unprofitable in regard of God becauſe he can not merit any thing at his hands, Luk. 17. 10.

Unpuniſhed] Eſcape, Prov. 19. 5. Innocent, Prov. 11. 21. Jer. 25. 29. Abſolved, Jer. 49. 12.

Unquenchable] Mat. 3. 12. Luk. 3. 17. that can never be quenched, as the place is inacceſſible, whither there is no coming.

Unreaſonable] Unjuſt, againſt reaſon, Act. 25. 27. Abſurd, perverſe, 2 Theſſ. 3. 2.

Unrebukable] 1 Tim. 6. 14. Againſt whom there is no juſt exception, who cannot deſervedly be found fault with for any crime, who is free even of the ſmalleſt offences.

Unreprobeable] Col. 1. 22. Without fault. This word notes the externall uprightneſſe rightneſſe, or Chriſtian perfection of life. See Byfield on Col. 1. 22.

It properly ſignifieth one who hath done nothing for which he may be called in queſtion; to whom no crime can juſtly be objected.

The word ſignifieth not one who is without fault, infirmity, or ſin; but ſuch a one as no man can juſtly call into queſtion, or taint with any infamy.

Unrighteous] All ſins done to the hurt or wrong of God and man, Joh. 3. 10. Alſo the ſins of the ſecond Table, Tit. 2. 11. Rom. 1. 25. Laſtly, it ſignifies falſhood, deceit, lyes in doctrine, Joh. 7. 18.

Unrighteouſneſſe] The violation and breach of the ſecond Table of the Law. Rom. 1. 18. And unrighteouſneſſe.

2. Perfidiouſneſſe of unbeleevers. Rom. 3. 5. If our unrighteouſneſſe commend, &c.

3. Falſhood, error, lyes, which be called unrighteouſneſſe, becauſe lyes in doctrine rob God of his due, Joh. 7. 18.

Unripe] Job 15. 33. He ſhall ſhake off his unripe grape. The wicked mans wealth, which like an unripe grape is not yet come to perfection. Annot.

Unruly] Without government, Titus 1. 6. Offenſive and ſcandalous, that will not be kept within bounds, 1 Theſſ. 5. 14. Falſe Teachers and deceivers, Tit. 1. 10. that cannot be tamed, Jam. 3. 8.

Unſatiable] Ezek. 16. 28. That cannot be filled, contented, or ever have enough. It noteth the horrible idolatry of the Jews, and how exceedingly they were addicted thereunto.

Unſavory] Without taſte, Job 6. 6. Fooliſh, without wiſdome or reaſon, Job 1. 22.

Unſearchable, and paſt finding] That which is not to be known, being untraceable (the paſſage of an Arrow in the air, or of a Ship in the Sea) not to be inquired into; but rather to be adored and religiouſly admired. Rom. 11. 33. How unſearchable are his judgements? &c.

This place makes not againſt the ſober ſearching of Gods revealed Word, which belongs to us, and to our children, Deut. 29. v. laſt; but checks the bold preſumption of ſuch as curiouſly ſearch that part of Gods minde, which he hath reſerved in his owne knowledge and power; as who be elect, and how many; and who be reprobates, and why he would rather elect Peter, Jacob, &c. then Judas, or Eſau; and advance Joſeph and David, rather then any of their brethren; and why the world was made no ſooner, nor continue longer, with ſuch like unprofitable queſtions; touching which, that counſel of Auguſtine would be followed; What you underſtand not (ſaith he) marvail at with me, but curiouſly inquire not after them: there is a learned ignorance, and there is an odious preſumptuous knowledge.

Unſearchable riches of Chriſt] The treaſure of wiſdome and knowledge hid in Chriſt, Col. 2. 13. or the riches of the glorious inheritance of the Saints, Eph. 1. 19.

Theſe riches are inſearchable in three reſpects:

1. In reſpect of us.
2. Of the things themſelves.
3. In reſpect of their cauſe and principle.

As to us, ſo far is the knowledge of theſe things from our underſtanding and thoughts, that except God had revealed them unto us by his Son, they had never come into our minde; ſeeing as the Apoſtle ſpeaks, 1 Cor. 2. 9. The eye hath not ſeen, nor the ear heard, nor the heart conceived thoſe things that God hath prepared for them that love him.

2. If we reſpect the things themſelves, they are incomprehenſible, infinite, and eternall, tranſcending all finite capacity and knowledge; for theſe riches are not earthly, nor viſible with the eye of the body, but altogether heavenly, inviſible, and to be ſeen onely with the eye of the minde, and of faith.

3. If we reſpect the cauſe and fountain from whence theſe riches flow unto us, and wherein from eternity they lay hid, they come from the ſecret counſell and decree of God, according to the good pleaſure of his will, Eph. 1. 4. So alſo the free love and mercy of God, which is the moving cauſe of ſalvation and eternall life, in reſpect either of the greatneſſe of cauſes, or height, or breadth, or length, or deepneſſe, exceeds humane capacity and underſtanding.

Juſtly therefore are theſe riches ſaid to be unſearchable, albeit they be in ſome meaſure revealed to us in the Goſpel by the Spirit of God, who is given to the faithfull, that they may know the things of God in Jeſus Chriſt, 2 Cor. 2. 12. and who hath revealed them ſo far to us, as is ſufficient for our condition in this life, reſerving in the mean time the full viſion and fruition of them for the life to come. Bodius Eph. 3. 8.

Unſeemly] Filthy, Rom. 1. 27. Unmannerly, 1 Cor. 13. 5.

Unshod] Jer. 2. 25. To go bare-foot, and bare-leg'd, without hose or shooes.

Unskilfull] Rude, without knowledge, Heb. 5. 13.

It is spoken of them that have made but smal progresse in the doctrine of the Gospel and knowledge of the mysteries of salvation.

Unspeakable] That which cannot be expressed.

Things in Scripture may be said to be unspeakable, 3. wayes.

1. In respect of the smalnesse of the thing, Rom. 8. 26. The groans and sighes that the faithfull have in their hearts in the time of great affliction, are so weak and small that they cannot utter them, yea hardly discern them. Perkins Grain of mustard seed. Conclus 3.

2. In respect of the worth and excellency, man is not able to speak of things, 1 Cor. 2. 9. 2 Cor. 9. 15.

3. For want of either power or authority to reveal, 2 Cor. 12. 4. where the things seen by Paul in the third heaven, are said to be unspeakable; either becaus he was not able to expresse them in fitting words, (as most Interpreters:) or becaus it was not lawfull for him to reveal them, as not tending for the use and profit of the Church in this life: as Cameron Myrothec. 2 Cor. 12. 4.

Unspotted] Without offence, unblamable, Jam. 1. 27.

Unstable] Light, soon moved, Gen. 49. 4. It implyeth both the sudden light affection of minde, which carryed him to evill, and his sudden downfall from his dignity; the word alwayes used in ill part, Judg. 9. 4. Jer. 23. 32. Zeph. 3. 4.

Unstopped] Isa. 35. 5. The ears of the deaf shall be unstopped. They shall now listen to the Word of God, speaking in his Book, and by his Messengers, that had no list to hearken unto either before. fulfilled in Christs time, both corporally, Mat. 11. 5. Mar. 7. 32. and spiritually, Act. 2. 37, 41. & 8. 6, 14. & 13 42, 48. & 16. 14. Annot.

Untaken away] 2 Cor. 3. 14. and not removed, not done away. There is a vail hanging over (not the Gospel, but) the hearts of the Jews, by a malicious and wilfull obduration. Annot.

Untempered] Unmixed.

It is spoken of false Teachers, who without any ground or warrant from God and his Word, preach pleasant things to impenitent sinners, which is like a wall built with sand, having no lime, which cannot stand, Ezek. 13. 10, 11, 14, 15.

Unthankfull] Luk. 6. 35. 2 Tim. 3. 2. Some are in part onely so; some are altogether so; faigned, restrained, and forced thankfulnesse, is a kind of unthankfulnesse; some do faign to be thankfull, who have no such thing in the heart; some are ashamed to publish their thankfulnesse, blushing that any should know that they are obliged debters; some are forced by shame, fear, necessity, or imitation to be thankfull; some are meerly unthankfull; as,

1. He who acknowledgeth not within himself the benefit and greatnesse of it.

2. He that professeth it not before others, or dissembleth it, or denyeth it.

3. He that endevours not to requite it as he may.

4. He that altogether forgetteth it: But,

5. Most of all he that requiteth good with evill.

The causes of it are,

I. The benefit either unworthy; or if worthy, yet unworthily given: as,

1. When it is wrung from the giver by importunity; he thinketh he hath bought it at a dear rate, as with the price of his prayers.

2. If the receiver have gotten it with vexation, long delayes, and wearisome hopes.

3. If the giver give it with anger, ill will, or ambition, disdainfully.

4. With upbraiding, reproaching, or by occation.

5. Or if he know the benefit to be hurtfull.

6. If the giver corrupt his benefit with subsequent injuries, so that often the injury overcometh the gift. Or,

7. If the giver repent the giving of his gift. Or,

8. If he boast of it, casting it in the receivers teeth.

II. The forgetfulnesse of the giver or his benefit, maketh the receiver unthankful, the benefit living in their hands, but dying in the memory, 2 Chr. 24. 22. Gen. 40. 23. Psal. 106. 21. Hos. 8. 14. 1 Sam. 12. 9. Isa. 1. 3. & 5. 4. Jerem. 2. 5, 6, 8. Psal. 79. 42.

There are many sorts of unthankful men: some deny the benefit, some dissemble it, some requite it not, but most unthankfull are they that forget it; shame, honesty, and occasion may remedy the former, but nothing can amend the last, when men will willingly forget.

III. Igno-

III. Ignorance of himſelf and duty, thinking himſelf worthier then he is, prizing himſelf at a high rate, and the benefit at a ſmall rate; or when he is ignorant of the giver, not knowing his kindneſſe, wiſdome, and power, and collecteth them not out of the benefit. The Gentiles when they knew God, glorified him not as God, neither were they thankfull, becauſe they became vain in their thoughts, and their fooliſh hearts were full of darkneſſe.

IV. Miſconſtruction and ſuſpicion of the givers affection, when the benefit is beheld wherein it may ſeem deficient, but not wherein it may profit the receiver, or wherein he deſerveth it not.

V. Hardheartedneſſe, ſo that no benefit can mollifie and win, who are ſo inflexible, that no benefit can make them kinde, Iſa. 5.4. Rom. 2. 4, 5.

VI. An evill conſcience; for as there is nothing more forcible to make a man thankfull, then a good conſcience; ſo nothing is of greater force to make him unmindfull of his duty, then an ill conſcience, that is either blinded, aſleep, dead, or cauterized.

VII. Self-love, when men are too much admirers of themſelves & their merit, thinking they have deſerved more; ſuch as love none ſo much as themſelves, no not their benefactors as they ſhould, 2 Tim. 3. 2.

VIII. Avarice, which never can be ſatisfied, thinking all that is received nothing, if it get not more, accounting it an injury if any thing be withheld that it deſireth; greedineſſe of things deſired, makes us forgetfull of benefits received, and avarice is ever unthankfull.

IX. Envy, which is full of compariſons, diſdaining that others ſhould be preferred or equalized to the receiver in receiving gifts; he alwayes ſorroweth, and none can both envy a man, and give him thanks.

X. Ambition, and pride; ſuch men remember not their owne baſeneſſe, nor conſidereth his preſent eſtate under the benefit, which once he moſt deſired; he beholdeth not where he was, whence he came, where he is, but where and what he would be. Hezekiah's pride ſuffered him not to be thankfull to God for his health reſtored, 2 Chro. 32. 24, 25, 26. Thus God complaineth of Iſrael, Hoſ. 13. 6.

XI. The corruption of nature, whereby we are more ſenſible of evill then good, the pain of one finger is more felt then the health of the whole body, injuries make a deeper impreſſion in the minde then benefits, they that are of a perverſe diſpoſition, are neither overcome nor changed with benefits.

Untill] A certain and appointed time. Gen. 49. 10. Untill Shiloh come. Rom. 11. 15. Untill the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled. Here and elſewhere it doth note a determinate time, with an excluſion and ſhutting out of ſucceeding time.

2. Infinite, without end or ceaſing, where there is no time following. 2 Sam. 6. 23. Michol had no childe untill her death; that is, ſhe never had any. Matth. 28. 20. I am with you alwayes, untill the end of the world; that is, for ever, Pſal. 101. 1. & 123. 2. In which of theſe two ſignifications, we ſhould underſtand that in Matth. 1. v. laſt, Untill ſhe had brought forth her firſt begotten Son; as it is doubtfull among Divines, ſo it is not needfull for us to know, being no Article of our faith, nor any branch of the Moral Law; yet it is commonly received (as I take it) that Mary was a Virgin before the birth, in the birth, and ever after the birth; but not by the vow of perpetuall Virginity, whereof there is no ground in all Scripture.

Untimely] Which cometh before the time, and is imperfect.

It is ſpoken of the birth, Job 3. 16. Pſal. 58. 8. Eccleſ. 6. 3. Of fruit, Revel. 6. 13.

Untoward] Perverſe, wicked, Act. 2. 40.

Unwalled] Spoken of Towns, Deut. 3. 5. Eſt. 9. 19. Of villages, Ezek. 38. 11. By which laſt Judea is meant, which was deſtroyed, and not yet built again. Annot.

Unwaſhen] Mat. 15. 20. Defiled, or common, Mar. 7. 2. marg. So the Phariſees held unwaſhen hands to be, nor would eat with ſuch, ſuppoſing themſelves defiled, by touching of that which was not ſacred, or common. Annot.

Unwiſe] Such as either wholly want the knowledge of the Word, or having it, do not ſubmit themſelves to be ruled by it. Eph. 5. 17. Be not unwiſe.

2. An unlettered and ignorant man. Rom. 1. 14. A debtor to the wiſe and unwiſe.

Unwittingly] Lev. 22. 14. In ignorance, or through unadviſed error. Aynſw.

Unworthy] is taken, 1. As it is oppoſed to merit, Gen. 32. 10. 2 Sam. 7. 8, 21. & 23. 25. Matth. 3. 11. & 8. 8. Luk. 15. 19, 20, 21.

2. Unto decency, Heb. 11. 38. and conveniency, Act. 13. 46.

Unworthily] Unmeetly, or otherwiſe then is beſeeming, without due reverence and regard. 1 Cor. 11. 27. He that eateth the bread of the Lord unworthily.

There

There be two degrees of ſuch as eat and drink unworthily.

1. Of ſuch as be full and whole unworthy: when men receive the Sacramentall bread & wine, having no faith, no converſion or repentance, but lye altogether in corruption of nature: theſe by eating and drinking, encreaſe their condemnation.

2. Of ſuch as having true faith and repentance, but not then actuall, when they came to receive, being negligent to conſider themſelves and that whole action unto due preparation in ſincerity of faith, applying the remiſſion of ſins promiſed in Chriſt, of repentance, and renewed purpoſe in all things to live to God; of deſire after the grace of Jeſus Chriſt, for ſtrengthening their hearts, and increaſe of holineſſe. Theſe endanger themſelves to preſent plagues, 1 Cor. 11. 19, 30.

V O.

Vocation] The common calling of Chriſtianity. Eph. 4. 1. Walk worthy of the vocation whereunto you are called. This is a generall Vocation, whereby the elect are called to be faithfull and holy, as God is holy.

2. The particular calling and courſe of life, wherein every Chriſtian liveth; as a Magiſtrate or Miniſter, Captain, Souldier, &c. 1 Cor. 7. 29. Let every man abide in the ſame vocation whereunto he was called. This is our ſpecial calling.

Vocation] is either common and generall; or ſpecial and effectuall.

By the firſt all indifferently good and bad, elect and reprobate, are outwardly invited by the Miniſtery of the Goſpel, to imbrace the benefit of redemption wrought by Chriſt; which notwithſtanding is ineffectuall to the reprobate, who refuſe to come to the Supper of the great King, and contemne theſe ineſtimable benefits therein offered.

The ſpeciall and effectuall is proper to the elect, Mat. 22. 3, 8. Rom. 8. 30. Act. 13. 48. Joh. 6. 45. It is wrought by the Spirit of God, opening our deaf ears, enlightening our blinde minde, inclining our wills, and ſanctifying our affections; that we may attentively hear, truely underſtand, and heartily imbrace the Goſpel preached unto us, Act. 16. 14.

The parts of it are,

1. Our ſeparation from the world, whereof we were Citizens and members, that from henceforth we ſhould be of Gods houſe and family, Joh. 15. 19. Eph. 2. 19. And thus the Lord calls us when we think not of him, Iſa. 65. 1. when we were dead in ſins, Eph. 2. 1, 3, 12. when we were deſperate ſinners, 1 Cor. 6. 11. walking after the luſt of the Gentiles, 1 Pet. 4. 3. and wandring ſheep, Iſa. 53. 6.

The 2. part is that reciprocall donation, whereby God the Father giveth Chriſt his onely Son effectually to all the elect, to be their head, Redeemer and Saviour; and alſo whereby he giveth his elect to Chriſt, to become his members, Iſa. 9. 6. Joh. 3. 16. Rom. 8. 32. Joh. 17. 6. Joh. 10. 29.

This donation is altogether ſpirituall, after a heavenly manner; for the means whereby it is brought to paſſe on Gods part, is his holy Spirit; and on our part, a lively Faith.

The 3. part is the union and communion which is between Chriſt and the elect, which followeth upon this donation, whereby Chriſt and they are myſtically coupled together in one body, he becoming their head, and they becoming his members. Of this ſpeaketh the Scripture, Epheſ. 4. 15, 16. & 5. 30. Joh. 15. 1. Eph. 2. 20. 21, 22. 1 Joh. 4. 13. Joh. 6. 54.

The means on Gods part are,

1. The preaching of the Word, which is made effectual by the holy Spirit;

1 To mollifie our hard hearts, and to humble us, by ſetting before us our ſins, and the curſe due to them. And after we ſee our inability of working our owne ſalvation, we are brought out of our ſelves, to ſee our ſalvation in Jeſus Chriſt, applying him and his merits unto us, by a true and lively faith, which is done by the preaching of the Goſpel.

The means on our part, is the ſaving hearing of the Word, whereby our hearts being mollified, and we humbled, are brought out of our ſelves, to ſeek ſalvation onely in Chriſt, and to rely upon him for the ſame.

Heavenly vocation] A calling from heaven, tending to heaven, glory, and bliſſe, and requiring a heavenly converſation, led according to the Laws of heaven. Heb. 3. 1. Partakers of the heavenly vocation.

To make our vocation ſure] To labour to give to our ſelves a ſure, and to others an evident teſtimony that we have the true faith, whence good works doe ariſe and ſpring, 2 Pet. 1. 16.

Voice] The ſpeech of one calling us to him, him, or calling unto one. Act. 9. 7. Hearing his voice, but they ſaw no man. A naturall created voice.

2. The Doctrine of Chriſt, uttered by his owne, or by the voice of the Apoſtles, Prophets and Miniſters. Pſalm 95. 7. If ye will hear his voice. Joh. 20. 27. My ſheep hear my voice. & Joh. 5. 15. A ſpirituall voice, or voice of doctrine. It alſo ſignifieth the ſtatutes and commandements of the Law. Exod. 19. 5. If ye will hear my voice.

3. An exceeding great terrible ſound of words, made of God at the delivery of the Law. Hebrews 12. 26. Whoſe voice then ſhook the earth. An uncreated ſupernatural voice.

4. The dreadfull noiſe of thunder. Pſal. 29. 3. The voice of the Lord is above the waters; the God of glory makes it to thunder. Alſo v. 4, 5. Voice of thunder. See Job 38. 1. Thus God appearing as a Judge did ſpeak unto Adam, as Gen. 3. 8.

5. A mighty, loud, and unexpreſſible noyſe, by ſpeech or words, which Chriſt ſhall utter at his coming for the raiſing of the dead. Joh. 5. 28. The hour ſhall come, in which all that are in the graves ſhall hear his voice. An extraordinary ſupernatural voice. This is that Trumpe mentioned 1 Theſ. 4. 16. 1 Cor. 15. 52.

6. Words of counſel and advice. Exod. 18. 14. Moſes obeyed the voice of his Father.

7. The fame and rumour of a thing, Gen. 55. 16.

Voice] There is a Propheticall voice, Rev. 15. 4. and it is twofold.

1. Such as ariſeth from an external ſound, but having no phyſicall cauſe, by this voyce Samuel was awaked, 1 Sam. 3. 4. No queſtion he heard a ſound, but ſuch as came not from nature.

2. There is another that cometh from no externall ſound (as that Rev. 18. 4.) but from a certain affection of the ears, beſide nature; for as in great ſickneſſes the organs of the ſenſes are ſo affected, as that we ſeem to hear ſuch ſounds which extrinſecally are not; ſo may the ſame come to paſſe in propheſying, but with this difference, that ſuch a diſpoſition in the ears of the Prophets is no diſeaſe, but cometh from God, therefore it comes to them that are in health: Now between theſe two kindes of Prophetical voices, the difference is, that as oft as the Prophets hear an externall ſound, others that are preſent hear the ſame; but when it cometh as it were immediately from God, not extrinſecally, then the Prophet alone heareth it.

To change the voice] To uſe words more milde and gentle. Gal. 4. 20. I deſire to change my voice. Paul was forced to write ſomewhat roughly and ſharply, as chap. 3. 1. now he wiſheth that he might ſpeak as a Mother to her children, with ſoft and loving words, which he calleth the changing of his voice, occaſioned by the change of their mindes and lives.

Voice of a Cryer] John the Baptiſt, by his voice and preaching, proclaiming the yeer of an eternall Jubilee, of exceeding joy and eternall redemption by Chriſt. Joh. 1. 23. I am the voice of him that cryeth, &c. Becauſe John the Baptiſt was thought to begin his Miniſtery in the year of Jubilee, which is the fiftieth yeer, and was wont to be proclaimed by the voice of a Cryer, and the ſound of a Trumpet, that every man might return to his poſſeſſion, and every man to his owne family, Levit. 25. 10. Hence it is moſt likely, was John the Baptiſt called the voice of a Cryer, as he that firſt proclaimed the coming of the Meſſiah, by whom an eternall Jubilee and Liberty from Satan and Sin was purchaſed and beſtowed on his people.

To give the voice] To utter a loud and high ſpeech, to cry, to make a noyſe by thundring, Pſal. 18. 13. & 46. 6. & 68. 33. & Jer. 2. 14. Numb. 14. 1. 2 Chron. 24. 9. Heb. 3. 10.

To give forth his voice] To cry aloud, Gen. 42. 5. It is an Hebrew manner of ſpeaking, often uſed, as Numb. 14. 1. 2 Chr. 24. 9. Pſal. 46. 7. & 68. 34. & 77. 18.

To hear the voice of Chriſt] To beleeve with the heart the doctrine of Chriſt, concerning eternall life by his merits. Joh. 5. 25. The dead ſhall hear the voice. Joh. 10. 24. My ſheep hear my voice.

2. To feel the force and power of his mighty word, and commanding the dead to live and ariſe, Joh. 5. 28.

Void] Altogether without, Gen. 1. 2. To fruſtrate and diſappoint, Numb. 30. 12, 13, 15. Deſtitute, Deut. 32. 28. Prov. 7. 7. Empty, 1 King. 22. 10. 2 Chr. 18. 9. Clear of, free from, Act. 24. 16. Deſolate, Nah. 2. 10.

Volume] A book, Luk. 3. 4. Act. 1. 20. It is put for the book of the Word of God, Pſal. 40. 8. Rivet upon the place.

Voluntary] Willing, is referred,

I. To Perſons; and that,

In a good ſenſe, Exod. 35. 22. 2 Chr. 29. 31.

29.31. 1 Chr.28.21. 2 Cor.8.3. Pſal. 110.3.

II. To things, as to Sacrifices, Lev.22.18, 20,21,23. Lev.7.16. Pſal.54.7.

It ſignifieth ſometimes liberall, Pſal.68.10. plentifull rain. In the Hebrew it is rain of willingneſſe, ſo called, becauſe (as ſome would have it) it cometh from the good will of God; or as others, becauſe of the great quantity of it, as liberall men uſe not to give ſparingly; or becauſe of the ſeaſonableneſſe and fruitfulneſſe of the ſame.

Vomit] is ſpoken, 1. of God, who cannot endure them that are not zealous in his ſervice, Rev. 3.16.

2. Of the Land, weary with the inhabitants becauſe of their ſins, which is by the juſt judgement of God upon impenitent ſinners, Lev. 18.25.

3. Of one who is grieved for eating the meat of the covetous, Prov. 23.8.

4. Of the covetous man, who ſhall come to poverty, Job 20.15.

5. To them that are deluded with errors, Iſa. 19.14. and return to their ſin after repentance, Prov. 26.11. 2 Pet. 2.22. and who ſhall be made by God a laughing ſtock to others, Jer. 48.26.

6. To the Whale, Jon. 2.10.

Vophſi] A thing broken, or parched, a portion, a diminiſhing, or diminiſhed. The Father of Nabbi, Numb. 13.14.

Vow] A wiſh, or deſire.

2. An holy promiſe made unto God of Thankfulneſſe for his benefits, either by words or praiſe, or by offering ſomething to his ſervice. Pſal. 50.14. Pay thy vows to the Lord. Eccl. 5.5. Deut. 23.21. When thou haſt vowed a vow to the Lord, be not ſlack to pay it.

Alſo it ſignifieth prayer and invocation, Pſal.116.14. Vows were made to God with Prayer, Gen. 28.20. and paid with Thankſgiving, Pſal. 61.5. and by Law their payment was required, Deut. 23.23. Eccl. 5.5. Pſal. 76.12. and there were Sacrifices for Vows, Lev. 7.16.

3. Some gift freely promiſed by Vow, and offered unto God. Lev. 7.16. If the Sacrifice of his offering be a Vow.

A vow is a teſtification of a willing promiſe, made devoutly and properly unto God, of ſome lawfull things which do belong unto God, and being in our owne power, unto the ſervice and honour of his name. Such a vow is either Legall, appertaining to the Law; or Evangelicall, pertaining to the Goſpel; and this latter, is either generall to all Chriſtians, as that of our Baptiſme; or elſe particular and ſpeciall, as when we binde our ſelves to a greater endevour to leave ſome ſin, or to do ſome duty, Pſal. 116.18. Eccl. 5.4.

The vows of perpetuall chaſtity in ſingle life, they are unlawfull, as not being in our owne power, nor required of God; much more unlawfull are the promiſes and vows of maſſacring innocent Chriſtians, and killing lawfull Kings, under pretence of advancing the holy Catholick faith, as they falſely call their Romiſh Idolatrous religion.

Vow is a deliberate promiſe made to God of ſome good thing to be performed, if it be not diſanulled by a Superiour, Deut. 23.23. For the making of a vow, the deſire and purpoſe are not ſufficient, except he that voweth have a minde to obliege himſelf; which mentall obligation is ſufficient without word or writ.

2. It muſt be done deliberately, for a ſudden paſſion maketh not a Vow.

3. It muſt be of good things, for a man may not vow that which is evill in it ſelf, Act. 20.12.

Some vows are of evill things to an evill end, ſome are of good things in an evill manner, ſome are of good things in a good manner.

The firſt ought neither to be made nor kept.

The ſecond may be made, and ought to be kept in reſpect of the matter, but not in reſpect of the end; as, we may vow to give almes, but not to be ſeen of men.

The third may be made, and ought to be kept.

We muſt not vow that which will hinder a greater good, Joh. 13.8. So we muſt not vow that which is not in our power; a man may not vow abſtinence from his Wife, becauſe he hath not power over his owne body, 1 Cor. 7.4. other things he may without her conſent, becauſe he is her head. We may not vow that which is abſolutely neceſſary, as to die; nor a trifle, as to lift a ſtraw.

4. A vow muſt have the conſent of the Superiour, otherwiſe it is null.

We may vow now under the Goſpel ſuch things as are neceſſary for ſome other things, but are free in themſelves.

He that is drunk may vow abſtinence from ſtrong drink:

1 If he reſtraine it not to one certain day.

2 If he put no holineſſe in it; for the Kingdom of heaven is not in meat and drink, Rom. 14. 17.

3 If he place not merit in it.

4 If it take not away his Chriſtian liberty, but onely reſtrain the uſe of his liberty. This way to vow, is to make a fence to the commandement of God.

A vow is a ſtrait obligation to binde us to God. Pſal. 56. 12. My vows are upon me; i. e. I am bound to do it.

The Hebrews uſe the prepoſition upon for the duties which we are to perform to any. Neh. 6. 10. they are ſaid to be holden with their vow; it muſt be performed; Shillem is called a Sacrifice of Thankſgiving, becauſe when men are in danger, they vow; and when they are freed, they perform the vow: the word cometh from another word that ſignifieth to render, and then from a word ſignifying peace, becauſe when a man payeth his vows to the Lord, he getteth peace to his minde.

Voyage] Act. 27. 10. Journey by Sea, or ſailing, as the word is rendred, verſ. 9. In ch. 21. 7. it is rendred courſe.

V P.

Up] put for riſe up, Geneſ. 19. 44. & 44. 4. Exod. 32. 1. Riſen, Judg. 8. 13. & 9. 33.

Up and down] Here and there, hither and thither, Job 1. 7. Pſal. 59. 15.

To go up] To vaniſh away, Exod. 16. 14. Jer. 48. 15.

Made up] Aſcended. Neh. 4. 7. marg.

Upbraid] is either juſt; as when benefits are objected to unthankfull men, or ſins to wicked men, Geneſ. 42. 22. Mar. 16. 14. Mat. 11. 20. Iſa. 3. 13. & 57. 4. Ezek. 16. 14.

Or, 2. unjuſt, and wicked, Exod. 2. 14. Act. 7. 28. Judg. 8. 6, 7, 15. 1 Sam. 1. 6. 2 King. 19. 4, 16, 22, 23. Pſal. 35. 6, 7.

Uphaz] Pure gold. A place, Jer. 10. 9. Dan. 10. 5.

Upharſin] They divided. One of the words of the hand-writing on the wall, Dan. 5. 25.

Uphold] To keep a thing from falling or periſhing. To preſerve.

It is ſpoken of God, who preſerves every good thing for us, and us for them, Pſa. 16. 5. 1 Pet. 1. 5.

2. Upholdeth in affliction,

1 By laying no more upon us then we are able to bear, 1 Cor. 10. 13.

2 By comforting us in affliction, by his preſence, Iſa. 43. 1, 2. his Spirit, 2 Cor. 1. 4. Rom. 5. 4, 5. or protecting from the evil of affliction, Dan. 5. The three Children, and Daniel in the Den, Dan. 6. 4. By delivering, Pſal. 5. 13, 14.

3. He upholdeth us in grace by his Word, Job 4. 4. his Spirit, Pſal. 51. 12. by his prayer and interceſſion, Joh. 17. Thus he upheld Peter, by praying for him, that his faith ſhould not fail.

Upon] Againſt, Iſa. 6. 17.

Uppermoſt] is 1. taken in reſpect of ſight and place, Iſa. 17. 6, 9. Lev. 13. 45. Deut. 24. 6. Joſh. 15. 19.

2. In reſpect of dignity and honour, 2 Chr. 32. 33. Matth. 23. 6. Mar. 12. 39. Luk. 11. 43.

Upright] One godly ſincere, when the heart is right both towards God and men, ſtudying to doe all duties in ſoundneſſe and truth, for the pleaſing of God, and not for by-reſpects. Gen. 6. 9. Noah was upright in his time. This is generall uprightneſſe, belonging to the whole life of man, and cannot be but in Gods children.

2. One innocent, in ſome one particular caſe and matter. Gen. 20. 5. With an upright minde have I done this. This is ſpeciall uprightneſſe in ſome one thing, and may be in the wicked ones. Alſo one which maketh ſhew of equity and right, Dan. 11. 17.

Upright] The Hebrew word Thamim is uſually tranſlated perfect, not to ſignifie one altogether freed from ſin, and endowed to righteouſneſſe, for ſo it would agree with none living, Prov. 20. 9. 1 Joh. 1. 8. Eccl. 7. 22. Jam. 3. 2. but to ſignifie him who in the purpoſe and deſire of his heart, is free from hypocriſie, diſſimulation, and guile; for Noah, Jacob, Job, and others are ſaid to be upright, or perfect men, who notwithſtanding had their ſins; wherefore he is ſaid to be upright, that is free from diſſimulation; either as it is referred to God, and ſo it ſignifieth ſincere, or void of hypocriſie; or as it is referred towards men, and ſo it ſignifieth ſimple, or void of guile.

As it is referred to God, it is expreſſed in Scripture,

1 By walking with or before God, Gen. 17. 1. Upright actions are ſaid to be done before the Lord, Luk. 1. 73, 74. 2 Cor. 12. 19. & 2. 19. Act. 10. 33.

2 To walk with a right foot, neither covertly treading awry with Peter, Gal. 2. 14. nor openly halting with the Iſraelites, 1 King. 18. 21.

3 It is ſaid to be voyd of hypocriſie and doubling. Thus the things that are upright, are ſaid to be unfaigned, 1 Chr. 12. 33. comp.

with

with verſ. 38. On the other ſide, diſſemblers are ſaid to ſpeak with a heart and a heart, Pſal. 12. 2. and are called double minded men, Jam. 1. 8.

4. It is commended to us under ſincerity and truth; ſincerity being oppoſed to mixture, and truth to falſhood, 1 Cor. 5. 8. Sincere is that which is without mixture, as honey without wax, bread without leaven; and truth is that which God requireth in the inward parts, Pſal. 51. 6. Joh. 4. 24. Pſal. 145. 18.

Uprising] Pſal. 139. 2. Our riſing out of our beds in the morning, our riſing up from our ſeats. Neither our actions, thoughts, nor any part of our life can be hid from God.

Uproar] A great noyſe made by a confuſed multitude, with ſhouting, crying, and clapping of hands, Matth. 27. 24. Act. 21. 34.

2. A brawling and ſcolding contention, raiſed by a confuſed multitude, Act. 12. 18. A commotion of diſcontented people, Mat. 26. 5. Mar. 14. 2. Luk. 22. 6. A ſedition which is ſometimes raiſed by the juſt judgement of God, for the ſins of the people, Hoſ. 10. 14.

2 Or by the preaching of the Goſpel (accidentally) Act. 19. 23. & 20. 1.

Upside down] To bring things into a confuſion, Act. 17. 6.

It is referred to God, and it ſignifieth that confuſion brought upon impenitent ſinners, through his juſt judgement, 2 King. 21. 13. Pſal. 146. 9.

Upward] 1. Referred to time, and it ſignifieth the progreſſe or order of time, from the time paſt, to the future, Numb. 3. 15. 2 Chr. 31. 16.

2. To place, Judg. 1. 36. Job 5. 7.

V R.

Ur] Fire, or light. A City, Gen. 11. 28.

Urban] Civill, courteous. Paul's fellow-helper, Rom. 16. 9.

Urge] To provoke, Luk. 11. 53. To force by perſwaſion, Gen. 33. 11. To preſſe ſore upon by words, Judg. 16. 16. & 14. 17. To be earneſt, Exod. 12. 33. Dan. 3. 22.

Uri] My light, or fire. Mens names, Exod. 31. 2. 1 Chr. 2. 20. 1 King. 4. 19. Ezr. 10. 24.

Urijah, alſo Uriah, and Urias] The fire of the Lord. Mens names, 2 Sam. 11. 3, 6, 7. & 12. 9. Ezr. 8. 33. Nehem. 3. 4. Iſa. 8. 2. Jer. 26. 10. 2 King. 16. 11. The husband of Bathſheba, Mat. 1. 16. According to the ſignification of his name he was full of the light of reaſon and underſtanding (which is called the light of God, Joh. 1. 14.) whereof he gave a proof when he was ſent back from Rabbah of the Ammonites, by Joab to David; he anſwered him ſo wiſely, and carried himſelf ſo diſcreetly, that David could not effect the buſineſſe for which he ſent for him, whether through the quickneſſe of reaſon he ſuſpected more then he durſt utter, or whether Joab gave him private advertiſement, is uncertain. The Lord brought to light after his death, by the Prophet Nathan, two great wrongs David had done him, 2 Sam. 12.

Uriel] Light, or fire of God. 2 Chron. 13. 2.

Urim and Thummim] A light of the knowledge of Chriſt by the Word, together with perfection of virtue and holy manners. Exod. 28. 30. Thou ſhalt put in the Breaſtplate of Judgement, the Urim and the Thummim. Who made this Urim and Thummim, what it was, and of what it was made, is very hard, if not unpoſſible to finde out. Certainly it is not reckoned among the things wrought by Art, but was given of God to Moſes alone, to put in the holy pectorall, as Lev. 8. 8. and written of Chriſt, Col. 2. 3. Dan. 8. 13.

V S.

Us] The three perſons of the holy Trinity, as Gen. 1. 26. Let us make. & 3. 22. Like one of us; that is, like the three Perſons, either as the Father in power, or the Son in wiſdome, or the Spirit in holineſſe: alſo Iſa. 6. 8. Who will go for us? that is, to ſerve us in this buſineſſe.

The plurall number noteth plurality of Perſons in the diverſe manner of being; as the word of ſingular number, I (whom ſhall I ſend) noteth the unity of eſſence, or oneneſſe of being, common to all three Perſons.

2. The people of God, the multitude of true beleevers, as Iſa. 6. 9. Luk. 2. 10, 11. 1 Joh. 2. 2. and often elſewhere.

Use] Work, Lev. 7. 24. Uſing or handling, 2 Sam. 1. 18. Satisfying or fulfilling ones luſt, Rom. 1. 26, 27. Cuſtome, Pſal. 119. 132. marg. Habit, or perfection, Heb. 5. 14. marg. Works of charity, and beneficence, Tit. 3. 14.

Use] is put, 1. For ſervice, Lev. 7. 14. Eph. 4. 39. 2 Tim. 2. 21. Tit. 3. 14.

2. For cuſtome, Jer. 31. 23. Ezek. 16. 44. Judg. 14. 13. Jer. 2. 24.

3. For imployment, 1 Chro. 12. 2. Jer. 23. 31. Gal. 5. 13.

4. To ſhew forth, 2 Cor. 1. 17. & 3. 12.

5. To diſcharge, or exerciſe, 1 Tim. 3. 10. To feed upon, Heb. 5. 13. For neceſſary, Act. 20. 34. Tit. 3. 14.

To uſe] To employ, Lev. 7. 24. To accuſtome, Numb. 15. 39. To make uſe of, Jer. 46. 11. To ſmooth, Jer. 23. 31. marg. To miniſter, 1 Tim. 3. 13. marg.

Uſurp] To exerciſe juriſdiction unjuſtly, 1 Tim. 2. 12.

Uſury] Biting (in the Hebrew tongue) becauſe the gain which is taken for Money or Wares, in reſpect of lending, doth gnaw, bite, and wring him that giveth it; eſpecially if he be a poor man, and bringeth home a bit or morſell from the rich man. Pſ. 15. 5. He that lendeth not his money upon uſury. The word Uſury is never uſed in good ſenſe or part by the Scripture; where alſo no Uſury is to be found but one, to wit, a biting and gnawing Uſury; which is never practiſed without hurt either to rich or poor; to private perſons, or publick Weal.

Uſury is any increaſe or vantage, for loan of money, or other things impoſed or laid by the lender upon the borrower, onely in conſideration of the lending, Ezek. 18. 5, 6. Deut. 23. 19, 20.

Or more briefly thus: Uſury is a certain gain above the principall, exacted upon Covenant for the uſe of money, or other things lent. Exod. 22. 25. Thou ſhalt not impoſe uſury upon him. Thus it is in the Hebrew Text.

Unto Uſury theſe 5 things are neceſſarily required.

1. A principall, as wares, or ſumme of money.

2. Lending.

3. Gain.

4. A chief purpoſe by lending to increaſe our ſtock.

5. A covenant for that end.

As the very deſire and expectation of gain, for lending onely, is mentall and intentionable Uſury: ſo the impoſing, or by covenant before-hand, agreeing for increaſe above the principal, is of the nature of actual Uſury.

In all theſe three Caſes, there is no impoſition of increaſe, that is, no fore-covenant, binding abſolutely the borrower to pay again with the ſtock.

There are three caſes wherein increaſe may be taken by a lender without danger of Uſury.

1. When the borrower having by lawfull means made ſome great gain by money freely lent, both by way of thankfulneſſe, out of the voluntary motion of his owne heart, returns ſomething above the principal unto the lender, by whoſe means he had ſuch ableſſing.

2. When it may be duely and apparently proved, without pretence and colluſion, that the borrower by holding back the money lent him, after the day agreed upon for payment, without the leave of the lender, doth hereby become a direct and effectuall cauſe of hinderance to the lender, either by damage ariſing to him, or by forgoing ſome commodity which he might well have made with his money, had it come home at the appointed time.

3. When the lender is content to hazzard the principall, and to bear part of the loſſe, if any fall to the borrower, without his owne default. Here he may lawfully take part of the gain which cometh by good means; yea, he may juſtly make a covenant and agreement for his ſhare in ſuch a gain.

Utterance] ſignifieth, 1. Ability to ſpeak and expreſſe ones minde well, Act. 2. 4. 1 Cor. 1. 5. 2 Cor. 8. 7.

2. The matter to be uttered, Epheſ. 6. 19. Jer. 1. 9. Pſal. 68. 12.

3. Liberty and boldneſſe to utter the Word, Eph. 6. 19. Col. 4. 3. 2 Tim. 1. 7, 8. All are promiſed by Chriſt unto his ſervants in the day of tryal, Luk. 21. 15.

Utterly] Altogether, Exod. 17. 14. Deut. 2. 34. Judg. 1. 17.

V V.

Vulture] Lev. 11. 14. In Heb. here Daah, of flying, but in Deut. 14. 13. Roah, of ſeeing, for the Vulture eſpyeth and ſmelleth her prey from far, and flyeth with violence, being an heavy fowle; feedeth on carkaſes, and buildeth her neſt on high rocks. Aynſw.

It's

It's ſaid that the Vulture conceiveth of the wind, none having at any time ſeen a male. Its ſaid to draw blood from its thigh, whereof its young ones ſuck; on whom it beſtoweth an hundred and twenty dayes, to bring them up. It preyeth not on any living thing. Having lived an hundred yeers, its bill becomes ſo hard and crooked that it cannot feed. It preyeth from noon till night, reſteth from ſun-riſing till noon. It attendeth Armies, preſaging death and dead corps. Sweet oyntments kill it. It preferreth ſtinking places where carion is, to the moſt pleaſant and delicate meadows. It's an enemy unto Serpents, from the bitings whereof they are free, that carry a Vultures heart along with them. It's ſaid to ſmell a carion or dead corps fifty miles off; on which it ſuddenly deſcendeth, but cannot eaſily (by reaſon of it's heavy body) fly upward. Having fed, it carrieth the reſt of the prey to its young ones. It's feathers being ſet on fire, make that the Serpents come out of their lurking places.

II. Improperly, for a recompenſe of our labour, given of free grace, and ſo it hath no relation to merit, Matt. 5. 46. Rom. 4. 4. Thus God promiſeth and giveth wages for our wel-doing in this life, and that to come, Ruth 2. 12. Prov. 11. 18. & 24. 14. Mat. 5. 12. & 10. 41, 42. But eſpecially eternall life, which by alluſion is called ſo; becauſe as the Work-man longeth for, and receiveth his wages when his work is done; ſo the godly both long for, Phil. 1. 23. Tit. 2. 13. Rev. 22. 20. and receive it, when they have finiſhed their courſe, 2 Tim. 4. 7, 8.

It is put for the bleſſing of God, Pſ. 127. 3. Gen. 15. 1.

It is put for the fruit of our labour, whether done or not, Zech. 8. 10. Thus the reward of men or beaſts is ſaid to be none, when they work in vain, God withholding his bleſſing.

It is put for true praiſe and glory, 1 Cor. 9. 17, 18. So for vain-glory, Mat. 6. 2, 5. For gift or contribution, 2 Cor. 11. 8.

Wages of unrighteouſneſſe] Unrighteous gain, as eyes of adultery for adulterous eyes: an uſual thing with the Hebrews, to put the epithet for a ſubſtantive, and the contrary; or Wages, that is, gain gotten by iniquity; as Balaam purchaſed money by ſin for covetouſneſſe ſake, profaning the gift of Propheſie, and being authour of that moſt filthy proſtitution of the Moabites, 2 Pet. 2. 14, 15.

Wagon] A frame of timber appointed for carriage, 1 Sam. 6. 7. 2 Sam. 6. 3. and treading out of corn, Iſa. 28. 27, 28. Amos 2. 13. Three ſorts:

1 Common, Gen. 45. 27.

2 Military, Ezek. 23. 24.

3 For holy uſe, Numb. 7. 3, 6, 7, 8.

See Chariot.

Wail] Properly, is a teſtifying the grief of the minde by crying, howling, ſtriking upon the breaſt, or wringing of the hands, Luk. 23. 27. Pſal. 55. 2.

There are divers ſorts of wailing;

1. Worldly, Amos 5. 16.

2. Antichriſtian, for the deſtruction of Babylon, Rev. 18. 15, 18.

3. Godly, Jer. 9. 10.

4. Artificiall, or diſſembling, Jerem. 9. 17, 18.

5. Helliſh, Mat. 13. 42.

It is put for grievous affliction, Pſa. 30. 11. wherefore wailing is joyned with faſting, Joel 2. 13. and in the time of heavy calamities, Eſt. 4. 3. Iſa. 22. 12. Jer. 48. 38.

Wait, waiting] To attend, Numb. 3. 10. To ſerve, Numb. 8. 24. 1 Cor. 9. 13. Act. 10. 7. To depend upon, Pſal. 104. 27. & 145. 15. To ſtay, looking for, Hab. 2. 3. Gal. 5. 5. Luk. 2. 25. To be ready, Mar. 3. 5. To deſire earneſtly, Rom. 8. 19, 25. To be ſilent, Job 32. 4. To tarry for, 1 Sam. 10. 8. 1 Cor. 11. 33. To eſteem of one ſo as to be guided by his counſell, Job 29. 21. To think upon, Mat. 24. 50. Luk. 12. 46. To hope and truſt in God, Pſal. 40. 1. & 25. 3. becauſe of his power, Iſa. 51. 1. becauſe of his help, Pſal. 33. 20. To fear, Luk. 21. 26. Heb. 10. 27.

It is referred to men; waiting,

1 Upon God; which muſt be done with confidence, Lam. 3. 26. with patience, Rom. 8. 25. Pſal. 40. 1. continually, Hoſ. 12. 6.

2 For Chriſt; for his firſt coming, Mat. 11. 3. Luk. 2. 25, 38. For his ſecond coming, Phil. 3. 20. Tit. 2. 13. For his mercy, Heb. 11. 10. For life eternall by him, Tit. 2. 13.

3 For the holy Ghoſt, Act. 1. 4.

To God waiting upon men, to be gracious, Iſa. 30. 18. For repentance, 1 Pet. 3. 30.

To Chriſt, waiting till his enemies become his footſtool, Heb. 10. 13.

Waiting] Abiding with patience and expectation of help from God. Pſal. 40. 1. I waited patiently upon the Lord.

2. Vehement and continuall looking for ſomething. Rom. 8. 19. The creature waiteth when the Sons of God ſhall be revealed.

3. Gods patience, expecting long the repentance of a ſinner.

Lay wait] Referred to men, laying wait for a Wife, Judg. 20. 21. for a Whore, Job 31. 9. Prov. 7. 12. for his neighbour, to hurt him, Mic. 2. 7. Hoſ. 7. 6. to take his life, Geneſ. 27. 42. 1 Sam. 18. 15, 16, 17. 1 King. 19. 1, 10, 14. Act. 9. 24, 25, 26. 2 Cor. 11. 26. his goods, Prov. 24. 15. To deceive by falſe doctrine, Eph. 4. 14. for his enemies, Jerem. 51. 12. Joſh. 8. 12, 15. Judg. 9. 27. & 16. 9, 12. for Chriſt, Matthew 26. 4. Mar. 14. 1. Luk. 6. 7.

& 11. 54. & 19. 47. & ch. 20. v. 20.

To the devill, Eph. 6. 11. See Snare.

Wake] To ariſe out of bed, Luk. 11. 8. To trouble, Cant. 2. 7. & 3. 5. & 8. 4. To implore help, Cant. 8. 5. Matt. 8. 26. To ſtir up, Joel 3. 9. 12. To uſe all diligence in doing a thing; as, to praiſe God for deliverance, Judg. 5. 12. To repent, Eph. 5. 14. Rom. 13. 11.

It is ſpoken of thoſe whom God ſuddenly raiſeth up, for the doing any work of moment, Hab. 2. 7.

It is put for the reſurrection from the dead, Dan. 12. 2. For deliverance from affliction, Iſa. 26. 19. For comfort after deliverance, Iſa. 51. 17. & 52. 1.

It is referred to God, and then it is put for the manifeſtation of his power in deſtroying the wicked, Job 8. 6. Pſal. 73. 20. Zach. 2. 13. Hence the godly call upon God to awake, Pſal. 35. 23. & 44. 23. & 59. 6. Whereby they deſire God to come ſpeedily to their help. Thus Idolaters call in vain, to their Idols, Hab. 2. 19. To make obedient to heavenly doctrine, Iſa. 50. 4. To afflict, Pſal. 77. 4. Thou keepeſt my lids from waking, that is, becauſe of my trouble.

To wake, or ſleep] To live or die, 1 Theſ. 5. 10. like that in Rom. 14. 8. Otherwhere to ſleep, is to be ſecure; and to wake, is to be watchfull, as 1 Theſſ. 5. 6.

Walk] ſignifieth, to live, becauſe walking is one of the principall actions of life, Mar. 5. 42. Hence, to walk under the ſun, Eccl. 4. 15. and in the earth, Iſa. 42. 5. ſignifie, men living in this world.

To the devill, Job 1. 7. Mat. 12. 43.

To things without life; to Waters, Pſal. 105. 41. Fountains, Pſal. 104. 10. Ships, verſ. 26. Of the Ark in the flood, Gen. 7. 18.

To the tongue, Pſal. 73. 9. When the wicked boldly reproach the godly.

To righteouſneſſe, Pſal. 85. 13. When men ſo love it, as that they are contented to be ruled by it.

There is a miraculous walking, as that of Chriſt upon the water, Matth. 14. 25, 26. Mar. 6. 48, 49. Of Peter, Matth. 14. 28, 29. Through the fire, as the three Children, Dan. 3. 25.

To walk in Chriſt, is, To be conſtant in his Goſpel, Col. 2. 6.

To walk in the counſell] Either to do as wicked men adviſe and ſuggeſt, as did Ahaziah, 2 Chron. 22. 3, 4, 5. Or by imitation to doe like unto others before: as did Iſrael, Mic. 6. 16. But in every reſpect the counſell of the Wicked ſhould be far from us, Pſal. 1. 1. Job 21. 16. & 22. 18.

To walk in the dark] To live without the the bright ſhining light of Gods Word, 1 Jo. 2. 11.

To walk in the ſight of the eyes] To accuſtome himſelfe to pleaſe his minde and ſenſe in every thing, without conſidering how vain a thing youth is, whether ye reſpect beginning or end of it, Eccl. 11. 10. & 2. 1.

To walk by faith] To live and paſſe over our dayes here, in beleef of ſuch things as are promiſed in the Word, and not yet performed, but by hope looked for. 2 Cor. 5. 7. We walk by faith, not by ſight.

To walk through the fire and water] is, To be in great affliction, Iſa. 43. 2, 3.

To walk after the fleſh] To ſet and order the courſe of our life after our corrupt reaſon and affections, following them as our guides. Rom. 8. 1. Which walk not after the fleſh.

To walk in the fleſh] To be weak and feeble, like unto other men. 2 Cor. 19. 3. Though we walk in the fleſh, yet we do not war after the fleſh.

Not to walk with a right foot] is, To diſſemble, Gal. 2. 14.

To walk after God] is, To follow him as a guide, to worſhip him in faith and repentance, 1 King. 14. 8. Hoſ. 11. 10.

To walk in the name of God] is, To worſhip him, to follow conſtantly the doctrine of ſalvation revealed by him, and to perſevere in his obedience, Mic. 4. 5.

Sometime it ſignifieth, to be wholly under the guiding of God, Zech. 10. 12.

To walk in the wayes of God] is, To live according to the rule of his Word, Pſ. 119. 1.

To walk with God] To live a godly life through the continuall meditation of Gods preſence, whom we have to be witneſſe of all: even our moſt inward thoughts. Gen. 5. 24. Henoch walked with God.

We be, or walk with God, 2 wayes.

1. When we deſire to pleaſe him, and depend upon him, becauſe we are perſwaded that he ſeeth us, and careth for us.

2. When we are held back by a ſecret bridle of his grace, we little thinking of him, Pſal. 73. 23.

Note. He walketh with God, who doth the duty of his calling in uprightneſſe, embraceth his promiſes by faith: thus Henoch, Abraham, &c.

To walk after a mans owne heart] is, To live as he pleaſeth, to follow a Religion, not which God preſcribeth, but what himſelf inventeth, Eccl. 11. 9. Act. 14. 16.

To walk after Idols, or other gods] is, To worſhip them, to be defiled with, and altogether addicted to Idolatry, Deut. 4. 3. & 6. 14. & 8. 19. 1 Pet. 4. 3.

To walk through the breadth of a Land] is, To have it poſſeſſed wholly at the pleaſure of the enemy, Hab. 1. 6.

To walk according to man] To live and do after the manner of other men, which have not the Spirit of Chriſt. 1 Cor. 3. 3. Are ye not carnall, do ye walk according to man? This in part may befall them who are godly, and be led by the Spirit of God, becauſe the beſt men, who be moſt ſpiritual, do know but in part, being ſubject both to weakneſſe in judgement, and perverſeneſſe in affections.

To walk in ſin] is, To ſin wittingly, willingly, and with delight to lead the life in ſin, Pſal. 68. 21. Eph. 2. 1.

To walk after the Spirit] To order and diſpoſe our converſation according unto the motions and affections ſtirred up in us by the holy Spirit, or to live in newneſſe of life, Rom. 8. 1. See Spirit.

To walk in the ſame ſpirit] is, To agree together, and to be of one minde in Religion, or to be under the government of the ſame Spirit, 2 Cor. 12. 18.

To walk upon the ſtones of fire] Ezek. 28. 14. is, To aſſume power over the thunder; but according to others, it is to be converſant among precious ſtones; that is, to be in great glory and honour.

To walk upright] is, To be free from bondage, Lev. 26. 13.

To walk uprightly] Properly, to goe forward in ones way with a right foot; but figuratively to live in the profeſſion of the Goſpel, without halting or leaning to both ſides, as Peter did halt between Jews and Gentiles, Gal. 2. 17.

Or, to order our converſation aright, without hypocriſie or guile, as Hezekiah, Joſiah, and David, are ſaid to have walked uprightly, Luk. 1. 6. A Metaphor.

To walk in the way of the people] Not to approve and imbrace the counſels and purpoſes of the people of Judah, forſaking the Lords defence, and flying through diſtruſt in God unto unbeleevers, Aſſyrians for aid. Iſa. 8. 12. I ſhould not walk in the way of the people. This way he calleth a confederacy in verſ. 13. the more to terrifie them from it.

To walk worthy of our vocation] is, To walk holily, denying ungodlineſſe and worldly luſts, and living godly, and righteouſly, and ſoberly in this preſent world, Tit. 2. 12.

Walking] A motion of the body, going forward from one place to another. Mar. 16. 12. As they walked into the Countrey.

2. The

2. The whole courſe or progreſſe of a mans life, from ſtep to ſtep, till he come to the end of his race: it concerneth both faith and manners, Pſal. 119. 1. Gen. 5.24. Heb 11. 5, 6. 2 Pet. 2. 10. Jude v. 11. It is applyed to thoſe which take a good or bad courſe. Pſal. 1. 1. Bleſſed is the man that doth not walk in the counſell of the ungodly. Pſal. 128.1 Lev. 26.26. But walk againſt me ſtubbornly.

3. The proceeding of Gods providence either for our good or evill. Levit. 26. 28. Then I will walk ſtubbornly in mine anger againſt you. And v. 12. I will walk among you, and be your God.

4. The preſence of God. Gen. 3. 8. When they heard the voyce of the Lord walking in the garden.

Wall] Some frame of wood or ſtone, reared and built either for diviſion of places, or defence of perſons.

2. The cauſe of diviſion which was between the Jews and Gentiles by the Ceremoniall Law. Eph. 2. 14. And hath broken the ſtop of the partition wall; that is, the Law of Ceremonies, which did divide between the Jews and Gentiles, as a Wall is divided between one mans houſe and another.

3. Safeguard and defence afforded from one man to another. 1 Sam. 25. 16. They were as a wall to us by night and day.

4. The ſurety and ſtrength of a politicall eſtate, as good Laws, execution of Juſtice, good education of children, Magiſtrates, riches, &c. Pſal. 51. 18. Build up the walls of Jeruſalem.

5. A ſpirituall City, conſiſting of Jews and Gentiles (as the inhabitants) Cant. 8. 10. I am a wall. By a Synecdoche and Metaphor.

Wall] It is put for the inhabitants within the City, Lam. 2. 18. or the City it ſelf, Nah. 2. 5. Joel 2. 9. For the Church of Chriſt, Iſa. 56. 5. conſiſting of the Gentiles, Cant. 8. 9, 10. For the proſperous eſtate and condition of the Church and Commonwealth, Iſa. 60. 18. In this ſenſe David prayeth for the walls of Jeruſalem, Pſal. 51. 20.

It is aſcribed to the Church triumphant, becauſe of her ſafety, Revel. 21. 12. and to the Militant, Iſa. 26. 1.

Put for Safety, 1 Sam. 25. 16. For the Lords protection, Zech. 2. 5. For ſtrength and courage, Jer. 15. 20. For ſalvation, Iſa. 26. 1. For any great impediment or lying in the way, Pſa. 18. 30. For great and powerfull men, Iſa. 2. 15.

To break down wall and hedge] To deprive his people of defence of all ſorts, both ſpiritual and corporall, ſignified by the wall which was of ſtone and inward, and hedge which was of thorn and outward. Iſa. 5. 5. The hedge and wall is broken down.

To be without walls] is ſometimes meant, The multitude of the members of the Church throughout the world, Zech. 2 4.

Violence and miſchief is ſaid to go about the walls, when ſin reigneth every where, compaſſing men like a wall; inſomuch that the godly are provoked to ſin by the wicked, Pſal. 55. 11.

Wallet] is a little bag uſed by Shepherds to carry their meat in, 1 Sam. 17. 40, 49. and by Travellers.

It is forbidden by Chriſt unto his Apoſtles, when he ſent them out to preach to the loſt Sheep of Iſrael, Mat. 10. 40. And to the 70. Diſciples, Luk. 10. 4. that they might be the readier for their journey, and that they might rely upon the providence of Chriſt for them.

It is put by a Synecdoche for all things neceſſary for life, Luk. 22. 36. Where Chriſt foretelling them of great dangers and afflictions, bids them take their Wallet; yea, before they want, to buy one. See Scrip.

Wallow, wallowing] In the duſt. Spoken of them that weep becauſe of Gods judgements, Jer. 25. 34.

It is ſpoken of men ready to die by reaſon of their wounds, 2 Sam. 20. 12.

It is ſpoken of men poſſeſſed by Satan, Mar. 9. 20. of great ſlaughter, Iſa. 9 5. of men expoſed by God to ſcorn, Jer. 48. 26. of men falling from the truth to error, and to a cuſtome of ſinning after repentance, 2 Pet. 2. 22.

It's put for our pollution by originall ſin, Ezek. 16. 6.

Wander, wanderer, wandring] To travel up and down, having no certain place of abode, as Hagar, through the deſert, Gen. 21. 14. and Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, 1 Chr. 16. 20. Pſal. 105. 13.

It is ſometimes a puniſhment for ſin, as Numb. 14. 33, 34. Iſa. 16. 2. threatned againſt the contemners of the Word, Amos 8. 12. Sometimes an affliction to try our patience, Heb. 11. 37. and to bring ſinners home to God, Amos 4. 8.

It is put for baniſhment, Iſa. 16. 2, 3.

It ſignifieth to be in great want, Pſal. 109. 10. Heb. 11. 37. and ſo it is ſpoken of the covetous, who want even in their abundance, Job 15. 23. It is put for ſinning againſt God, Hoſ. 7. 13. Jer. 14. 10.

Want] is ſpoken of all outward things belonging to this life, Deut. 28. 48, 57. Luk. 15. 14. as, of Meat, Job 30. 3 Prov. 13. 25. Amos 4. 6. of Drink, Joh. 2. 3. Clothing, Job 31. 19. of Shelter, Job 24. 8.

It is ſudden and irreſiſtible, Prov. 6. 11.

It is ſpoken alſo of the wants of the minde, as of Wiſdome, Prov. 10. 21. of Judgement, Prov. 13. 23. & 9. 4. & 28. 16.

It is ſpoken of Poſterity, Jer. 33. 17, 18. & 35. 19. to People, Prov. 14. 28.

It is put for Lightneſſe, Dan. 5. 27.

It is referred to the Church, whoſe wants are,

1 Of neceſſity.
2 Occaſionall.
3 Contracted.

Of neceſſity are theſe: When God withdraweth the means, that the Church cannot have them; as in the Wilderneſſe the people had neither Wine nor Oyl to joyn with the Sacrifices, yet it was accepted, becauſe the want was of neceſſity. And in the ſecond Temple the Prieſts wanted Urim and Thummim, and the holy oyl, yet he and his Sacrifice was accepted.

Occaſionall wants are, when men for the time cannot have their defects ſupplyed, Lev. 10. 16. ad finem. When Eleazar and Ithamar ſhould have eaten the Sin-offering in the Holy place, they forgot it, and ſuffered it to burn, by reaſon of grief for Nadab and Abihu, Aaron defendeth them, and ſaith, Such things have befaln me this day, and no marvell that both I and my Sons ſhould have forgotten to eat the Sin-offering in the Holy place. If we being in our ſins, ſhould have taken upon us to purge the ſins of the people; ſhould it have been accepted in the ſight of the Lord? Moſes accepteth of this occaſionall want, becauſe they were in great grief, it was no marvell they forgot to eat it.

Contracted wants are theſe, wherein a man is brought through his owne default; as, a man drinking untill hee be drunk, and then ſtagger and fall. Such wants are not excuſeable. Weems upon the Ceremonial Law, p. 233, 234.

Wanton, wantonneſſe] The open profeſſion and oſtentation of incontinency.

It conſiſteth in things belonging to the body, and the body it ſelf.

In things belonging to the body: it is ſhewed in Apparell, Zeph. 1. 8. in Dyet, Jer. 5. 8. Exod. 32. 6.

In the body it ſelf, as in the Eye, 2 Pet. 2. 14. in the Tongue, Eph. 4. 29. & 5. 4. Pro. 6. 13. in Dancing, Mar. 6, 22.

It is put for caſting off the yoke of Chriſt, when we live not to him, but give looſe reins to our luſts, 1 Tim. 5. 6. So σπαταλεω uſed by Paul in that place, ſignifieth.

It is common to rich men, Jam. 5. 5. A work of the fleſh, Gal. 5. 19. Eph. 4. 19. It defileth the ſoul, Mar. 7. 22. It is condemned, Rom. 13. 13. Gal. 5. 19. Eph. 5. 4. and puniſhed, as in Sodom, 2 Pet. 2. 7.

Wantonneſſe] Rankneſſe in bodily luſts, effeminate living in letchery. 1 Pet. 4. 4. In wantonneſſe.

Wantons] Effeminate perſons given to ribauldry and luſt, and delighting in ſoft and delicious things. 1 Cor. 6. 10. Wantons.

Ward] A priſon, Gen. 40. 7. & 41. 10. Hence Lev. 24. 12. the Blaſphemer is put in Ward, that is, impriſoned.

Wards] are Civill, Neh. 13. 13. & 12. 24. Military, 1 Sam. 10. 5. Eccleſiaſticall, 2 Chr. 35. 2. 1 Chron. 12. 29. called The Ward of God, verſ. 45.

It is put for a Watch, Act. 12. 10.

Ward-robe-keeper] 2 King. 22. 14. 2 Chr. 34. 22.

Ware] Merchandiſe, Nehem. 10. 31. & 13. 16.

Ware, beware] To take heed, to doe, or leave undone that about which we are, Mar. 13. 33. 2 Pet. 3. 17.

We ought to beware of our ſelves, Gen. 31. 24. Deut. 4. 15. Exod. 23, 21. of our Souls, Joſh. 23. 11. Jerem. 17. 21. of our Spirits, Mal. 2. 15. of Men, that we take no hurt by them, Matth. 10. 17. of falſe Teachers, Mat. 7. 15. Warfare] Condition of ſuch as live and ſerve in the Wars. 1 Cor. 9. 9. Who goes to warfare?

2. The courſe and condition of a mans whole life, being ſubject to outward and inward battails and conflicts, Job 7. 1. marg.

3. The condition of the Miniſters of God, in regard of the ſtrong oppoſition and reſiſtance made againſt them by Satan and wicked men. 2 Cor. 10. 4. The weapons of our warfare, 2 Tim. 2. 3.

Warfare] Iſa. 40. 2. Her warfare is accompliſhed; the ſet time of her ſervice, or ſervitude is expired, fulfilled. See Job 7. 1. Annot.

There's

There's a ſpirituall warfare, 2 Cor. 10. 4. 1 Tim. 1. 18. as there's a warfare againſt enemies, 1 Cor. 9. 7.

To war a good warfare] To ſtrive for defence of the Goſpel againſt falſe-Teachers, and perſecution of the world, 1 Tim. 1. 18. 2 Tim. 4. 7.

Warm, warmneſſe] is cauſed by the fire, Mar. 14. 54, 67. Joh. 18. 18. The Sun which warmeth the Eggs of the Oſtritch, Job 39. 14, 19. By clothes, 1 Kin. 1. 1. Sometime this virtue is taken from them, by God, as a puniſhment of ſin, Hag. 1. 6. Sometimes becauſe of the want of radicall heat, 1 King. 1. 1. By company with another, verſ. 2. Eccl. 4. 11.

It ſignifieth ſometimes to clothe the poor, Joh. 31. 20. Sometimes to vaniſh away, Job 6. 17. To reſtore to life, 2 Kin. 4. 34. For great judgements, Iſa. 47. 14. Hag. 1. 6.

It is ſpoken of Idolaters, Iſa. 44. 15, 16. and of uncharitable men, Jam. 2. 16.

Warn, warning] To admoniſh to beware of ſin, 2 Chr. 19. 10. Ezek. 3. 18. 1 Cor. 4. 14. To charge, 1 Theſſ. 5. 14. To foretel danger, Ezek. 33. 3. Matt. 3. 7. It is to be done in wiſdome, Col. 1. 28.

It is uſed about evill, Ezek. 33. 9. Matt. 3. v. 7.

It is ſpoken of God warning man, Heb. 11. 7. by a Dream, Mat. 2. 22. By an Angel, Act. 10. 22.

Of man warning man, as the Prophets, Ezek. 3. 18, 19, 21. the Apoſtles, Act. 20. 31. 1 Cor. 4. 14. Col. 1. 28. The duty of ordinary Teachers, and Hearers, 1 Theſſ. 5. 14.

Warp] Lev. 13. 48. The threds that run along the Weavers Loom, with whith the woof is mixed, or wov n

Warre] Battle and fight, between two Princes and their people. Eccl. 3. 8. A time of War, and a time of peace. Luk. 14. Worldly War, which is lawfull or unlawfull, according as the occaſion is.

2. The conflict and ſtrife of godly Miniſters with the world to ſubdue it unto Chriſt. 2 Cor. 10. 3. Yet we do not warre after the fleſh. A ſpirituall Warre, ſimply and alwayes lawfull.

3. Taking part, and fighting for our own unlawfull luſts. Jam. 4. 2. Ye fight, and warre, and get nothing. This is a carnall warre, alway and ſimply unlawfull.

This word [Warre] in the Hebr. tongue, hath his name of cutting, biting, devouring, for Warres devoure and conſume many. Hence the Sword is ſaid to have a mouth, that is, an edge, Job 1. 15. Heb. 11. 34. and to eat, that is, to kill and conſume, 2 Sam. 11. 25.

Warre in Scripture is threefold:

Spirituall, Jam. 4. 1. 2 Cor. 10. 3. Eph. 6. 13. 1 Cor. 16. 13.

Worldly, Gen. 14. 2. Judg. 11. 5.

Carnall, Jam. 4. 2.

The parties warring are,

God againſt Man, Exod. 17. 16. who is a man of warre, Exod. 15. 3. His hoſts are, good Angels, Gen. 32. 2. Luk. 2. 13. 2 Ki. 19. 37. 2 Chron. 32. 21. bad Angels, Pſal. 78. 49. Judg. 9. 23. Creatures, Judg. 5. 20. Exod. 9. 23, 24, 34. 1 Sam. 7. 10. Joſh. 10. 11. Joel 2. 25. Men, Joel 2. 11. Iſa. 10. 5. & 13. 4, 5.

Man againſt God, as the wicked who reſiſt the truth of God, Act. 5. 39. nd the Spirit of God, Act. 7. 51. and the Son of God, Pſal. 2. 1, 2.

Man againſt man, as the enemies of the Church one againſt another, 2 Chr. 15. 6. & 20. 23. 1 Sam. 14. 20. Judg. 7. 22. The wicked againſt the Church, 2 Chron. 14. 9. Exod. 14. 8, 9. Numb. 21. 1. Joſh. 11. 19, 20.

The parties in the ſpirituall warfare againſt the ſoul, are,

1 God, who wars againſt it, either in earneſt, and in truth, by the threatnings and rebukes of his Word, Iſa. 11. 4. and by torments of conſcience upon wicked men, as againſt Cain and Judas. Sometimes in ſhew onely, againſt his Servants, as by outward croſſes againſt Job, ch. 10. 17. or by deſertion, as againſt David, Pſal. 13. 12. & 22. 1. In which reſpect God is like a Captain training his Souldiers to fight.

The world warreth by proſperity, and adverſity, by perſecution; for it lyeth continually in evill, 1 Joh. 5. 19.

The Devil by his temptations, illuſions, and fiery darts, Eph. 6. 16.

The fleſh, 1 Pet. 2. 11. by luſting againſt the Spirit, Gal. 5. 17.

It is put ſometime for great affliction, Job 38. 23. For an Army, 1 Sam. 14. 23. For private jarring, and contentions, Pſal. 120. 7. Mat. 10. 34. By reproaching and reviling words, Pſal. 140. 2, 3.

It is called Gods warre, when the wicked fight againſt God, to deſtroy his glory, Act. 5. 39. or when the godly warre for the glory of God, Exod. 17. 16. 1 Sam. 17. 47. 2 Chr. 20. 15. or when it is carried on by the providence, conduct, and power of God, 1 Chr. 5. 21. in regard whereof there is a book of the Wars of the Lord, Numb. 21. 4.

Warre after the flesh] To strive and fight, (not as men do) with such strength as may be resisted either by craft or force, but with divine and invincible Weapons, which cannot be matched with humane power and policy. 2 Cor. 10. 3, 4. We warre not after the flesh, for the weapons of our warfare are mighty through the power of God, &c.

Warriour] One valiant, strong, and apt for warre, 1 Sam. 16. 18. 1 King. 9. 22. 2 King. 24. 16. Mighty men, helpers of the War.

It is spoken of God, Exod. 15. 3. to signifie his power to destroy his enemies, Isa. 42. 13. Hence God is said to fight for his people, Deut. 4. 34. as, at the red Sea, Exod. 14. 24, 25.

They are the strength of the Commonwealth, 2 Chro. 13. 3. & 17. 13. Therefore when God will punish a Nation, he taketh away the Warriour, Isa. 3. 2. Nebuchadnezzar to weaken the Jews, took away all the mighty men of warre, 2 King. 24. 16. They are carefully sought after against the coming of the enemy, Nah. 2. 5. They run and climbe the Walls, and keep their order, Joel 2. 7, 8. They stir up their courage against the enemy being ready to fight, Isa. 42. 13.

Wash] To purge and make clean, Gen. 18. 4. Exod. 2. 5. Isa. 4. 4. Act. 22. 16. Luk. 5. 2. Jer. 2. 22. Act. 16. 35.

Divers sorts:

Naturall, for common washing of hands, feet, body, or cloaths, Gen. 43. 24. Ezek. 16. 4. Exod. 2. 5. Ruth 3. 3.

Ceremoniall, Exod. 29. 17. Lev. 1. 13. Heb. 9. 10. Numb. 19. 7.

Miraculous, 2 King. 5. 10, 13. Joh. 9. 7. 11.

Morall, Psal. 26. 6. & 73. 13.

Spirituall, Psal. 51. 2, 7. Isa. 1. 16. Tit. 3. 5. Ezek. 16. 9.

Superstitious, Mat. 15. 2. Mar. 7. 3, 4.

Sacramentall, Act. 22. 16. Tit. 3. 5.

It is put for, To reform, Prov. 30. 12.

It was used towards Infants, Ezek. 16. 4, 9. the Dead, Act. 9. 37. in hope of resurrection, whereunto allusion is made by Paul, according to the learned Beza, 1 Cor. 15. 29. in the consecration of the Priests, Exod. 29. 4. & 40. 13. Lev. 8. 6. Numb. 8. 7. Applyed to the hands under the Law before they entred into the Temple:

1 To signifie our uncleanness, and that there was need of washing before we present our selves before God; whereunto allusion is made, Psal. 26. 6. where, To wash the hands in innocency, is, To study holiness.

2. To declare innocency in shedding of blood, Deut. 21. 6, 7. Mat. 27. 24.

To wash ones cloaths] That even the least sins are to be purged by Christ, and that we must strive to be sanctified throughout, Lev. 11. 28. compared with vers. 44, 45. which hath the reason of the Law.

The Jews washed their cloaths in testimony of Sanctification, Exod. 19. 10, 14. Numb. 8. 7, 21. and in testimony of gladness; as appeareth by comparing 1 Sam. 19, 24.

To wash ones feet] To endevour the continuall purging of our selves from our daily sins. Joh. 13. 10. Needs not, save to wash his feet. See Feet.

2. To shew forth the works of mercy and Christian love. 1 Tim. 5. 10. If she have washed the Saints feet. A Synecdoche, part for the whole.

To wash the feet in the blood of the wicked] is, To rejoyce at the revenge God taketh of the wicked, Psal. 58. 11.

To wash his garments in wine] Gen. 49. 11. It is a figurative promise of Wine to be as plentifull as Water, that he may wash his cloaths in it: or of a glorious victory that Judah and Christ should have over their enemies. See Isa. 63. 1, 2, 3. & Rev. 19. 13.

To wash ones hands] To live purely, or to lead a pure conversation amongst men. Psal. 26. 6. & 73. 13. I wash my hands in innocency. Job 9. 30. Hands being the chief instrument of action, are put for outward doings towards men, which when they are upright, then our hands are washed. A Metaphor and Synecdoche; and is as much as Purge the heart and works from impurity and uncleanness.

To wash with nitre] is, To seek a cloke for sin, Jer. 2. 22.

The Whore washeth her self, to allure her Lovers, Ezek. 23. 40.

Washing] Ceremonious cleansing from Legall pollution and uncleanness, through the touching of dead corps, &c. Exo. 19. 10. Let them wash their cloaths. Exod. 30. 18. A laver to wash.

2. Justification or remission of sins, being cleansed and forgiven in the merits of Christ his blood. Psal. 51. 7. Wash me, and I shall be whiter then snow.

3. Sanctification, or newness of life, through the work of the Spirit. Psal. 51. 2.

Wash

Wash me from my sins. This washing and the former, are Gods proper work.

4. Serious repentance for daily and particular slips and spots. Isa. 1.16. Wash you, make you clean. This washing is our indevour to make our selves clean.

Of these four Washings, the first is Legall, the three last Evangelicall. The second of Justification. The third of Sanctification. The fourth of daily repentance.

Washing of regeneration] Regeneration or renewing of the holy Ghost, to be as a laver or washing, purging and cleansing the soul, both to remission of sin, and repentance from sin, whereof washing in baptisme is a Seal. Tit. 3.5. By the washing of regeneration. It is like that phrase in Rom. 4.11.

Under the Law, such as entred in and came for to serve God, must be cleansed by changing their cloaths, and washing themselves. See Gen. 35.2, 3. Exod. 19.20. & 11. Job 1.5. This is called Sanctifying; and thereby were signified unto us two things.

1. That all men are by nature unclean and unholy, nothing pure can come from them till they be sanctified by faith in Christ, Tit. 1.15. Hag. 2.11, 12, 13.

2. That if we come to Gods service, before we have prepared our selves duely by faith and repentance, and have renounced all our wickednesse, inward and outward, our worship is hatefull to God, as Isa. 66.3, 4.

Washpot] A vessell for base servile use, as to wash the feet. Hence to become a Wash-pot, is to be brought into most ignominious slavery, and so to be despised and contumeliously used, Psal. 60.8. & 108.9.

Waste] Empty, without inhabitants, Deut. 32.10. Spent, 1 King. 17.14. Not to frequent, Isa. 33.8. To die, Num. 14.33. To be dryed up, Ib. 19.5. To persecute the Church, Gal. 1.13.

Waster] Any person, or thing that doth destroy, Isa. 54.16. A Prodigall, Spend-thrift, Prov. 18.19.

To watch] To keep ones self awake, to shake off naturall sleep. Luk. 2.8. Keeping watch by night. Matth. 26.40. Could ye not watch with me one hour? This is a bodily watching.

2. To shake off security, as one would shake off sleep, taking all good heed and care lest Satan or sin deceive us, and overcome us. Matthew 25.13. Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day, &c. 1 Pet. 5.8. Watch, and be sober. Matthew chap. 26. vers. 41. 1 Thess. 5.4. This is a spirituall watching.

3. To lay in wait, observing how to accuse and hurt others. Thus the Pharisees watched Christ, and the wicked watch the righteous. Luk. 11.54. Laying wait for him, or watching him. This is Diabolicall watching.

Watch] Put for a certain time of the night, wherein the Watchmen in Armies and Cities watched by turns, Mat. 24.43. For of old the night was divided in certain spaces, called Watches, Luk. 2.8. which is sometimes put for the whole night, divided in certain Watches, Psal. 63.7. and for a very short time, Psal. 90.4.

At first the night was divided into three Watches.

The first began at the evening twi-light, and continueth untill midnight, and is noted by that time wherein deep sleep falleth upon men, Job 4.13. called the first of the watches, Lam. 2.19.

The second continued from midnight untill Cock-crow, called the middle watch, Judg. 7.19.

The third continued untill the rising of the Sun, called the morning watch, Exod. 14.24. 1 Sam. 11.11.

Afterward the night was divided in foure watches, whereof mention is made in Scripture.

The first, Lam. 2.19.
The second, Luk. 13.38.
The third, Ibid.
The fourth, Mat. 14.25. Mar. 6.48.

It's put also for to be grievously afflicted, Psal. 102.7. & 77.4. The Apostle reckoneth it among his afflictions, that he was in watchings often, 2 Cor. 6.6. & 11.27. To have an eye unto, and espy, as a Witnesse between two, Gen. 31.49.

It is spoken of God, and then it signifieth his carefulnesse to execute that speedily which he hath propounded to himself, either in judgement, or mercy, Jer. 31.26. & 44.27. Dan. 9.14.

Of man; and then it signifieth sometimes to keep a thing delivered into his custody, Ezr. 8.29. To hunt after iniquity, Ibid. 29.20.

Of Beasts, and then it signifieth, To destroy, Jer. 5.6.

Watch-man] One who in the night keepeth watch in a City or Army, to warn others of dangers, if any be. A Civill Watch-man.

2. Gods Prophets and carefull Ministers of Christ, which warn the people of spirituall dangers and enemies. Ezek. 3. 17. Isa. 52. 8. The voyce of thy Watch-men shall be heard. A religious faithfull Watch-man. An Angel is thus called, Dan. 4. 10. because they with great diligence watch to do the will of God.

3. Careless guides, which are Watch-men in name, but not in truth. Isa. 56. 10. Their Watch-men are all blinde. A wretchlesse and secure Watch-man. Thus in derision the Idumeans called, Isa. 21. 11.

4. An Angell of God, ever ready to do his will, Dan. 4. 20.

Watchfulnesse] An earnest care and bending of the minde, to live every day as one would live upon his dying, or upon his judgement day, which may fall out to be every day for ought that we know. This is true Christian watchfulnesse.

Watch-tower] An high and eminent place, as Castle, Tower, or Hil; whence one may see any enemy or danger a far off; whereunto God alludeth, Jer. 6. 27. & Hab. 2. 1. Whereby is meant the lifting up of the mind to God, waiting patiently what he will say to comfort a troubled spirit.

Water] An element cold and moyst, contrary to Fire. Psal. 65. 9. The river of God is full of water. Joh. 13. 5. Poured water into the bason.

2. Afflictions and troubles which threaten dangers, as waters do threaten drowning. Rev. 12. 15. The Serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman. Psal. 69. 1. The waters are entred even into my soul. Often in the Psalms and elsewhere it is so used. Here is the phrase in the Gospel, of being baptiz'd with Christs baptisme; that is, dipped and plunged into afflictions as he was. Matt. 20. 22. Are ye able to be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with?

3. Several Countreys and Nations, which are the gathering of many people into one place, as the Sea is the gathering together of many waters. Rev. 17. 1. The great whore sits upon many waters; that is, hath rule and power over many Nations and People.

4. The true doctrine of the Word, and the holy Spirit, with his saving grace. Isa. 55. 1. Every one that thirsteth, come unto the waters. Ezek. 36. 15. I will poure clean water upon you. Joel 2. 28. I will poure out my Spirit, &c.

5. Justification by Christ, when his perfect righteousnesse is imputed to such as beleeve. 1 Joh. 5. 6. This is that Jesus Christ that came by water and blood.

6. The efficacy of the holy Ghost, cleansing the soul, as water doth the body, Joh. 3. 5.

7. Abundance of tears. Jer. 9. 1. O that my head were full of water, and mine eyes a fountain of tears.

8. Jacob, of whom (as from a fountain) the Israelites did descend and come. Isa. 48. 1. Which came out of the waters of Judah. Deut. 33. 28. The fountain of Jacob.

9. All kinde of drink. Exod. 23. 25. He shall blesse thy water.

10. The clouds, which are the waters above, Gen. 1. 5, 6. Psal. 104. 2. Job 21. 8. Psal. 18. 11. & 147. 8. Jer. 10. 13.

For the temporall estate, Prov. 5. 15. For posterity, Numb. 24. 7. For adultery, Prov. 9. 17.

It is used for drink, Hos. 2. 5. 1 Sam. 25. 11. To wash, 2 King. 2. 11. To cure diseases, 2 King. 5. 10. For the Sacrifices, Numb. 5. 17. Josh. 9. 21, 23, 27. 1 King. 18. 34, 35.

It is used in Baptisme, to represent the purging of sin by the blood of Christ.

It maketh fruitfull the earth, Num. 24. 7. Isa. 32. 20. Thus it is a great blessing of God, Joel 3. 18. and trees, Job 14. 9. It refresheth, Luk. 16. 24. purgeth, Numb. 21. 33. corrupteth wine being mixed with it, Isa. 1. 22. Weareth the stones, Job 14. 19. Fortifieth Townes. At the appointment of God destroyeth the wicked, Psal. 106. 11. Exod. 14. as in the flood, and Red sea.

Bitter waters] Numb. 5. 18. are so called from the effect, because the Woman that drank them, if she were guilty, was bitterly tormented, for her belly swelled, and her thigh rotted. Whereunto David alludeth, Psal. 109. 8. Let cursing come into his bowels like water.

Cast bread on the waters] Doing good while we may to all men, communicating out of our beneficence to their wants, upon assurance it shall be watered and made fruitfull by the blessing of God, as upon that hope Husbandmen do till and sow their moyst grounds, Eccl. 11. 1. See Prov. 19. 17. & Isa. 58. 6, 7, 8. & Luk. 6. 38.

Waters breaking out] signifieth the spirituall graces of the Gospel communicated with the afflicted, Isa. 35. 6.

Waters of a full cup] Many and bitter afflictions. Psal. 73. 10. Waters of a full cup wrung to them; that is, a great portion of sharp troubles.

Deep waters] The Sea. Psal. 107. 23 And occupy by the great waters, and see his wonders in the deep.

2 The

2. The hidden drifts and counſels of mans heart. Prov. 20. 5. The counſell in the heart of man is deep waters.

3. Moſt grievous dangers, and great afflictions. Pſal. 42. 7. One deep calls another deep, &c. Pſal. 69. 2. I am come into deep waters.

4. Great plenty and ſtore of moſt pure water. Ezek. 34. 18. And to have drunk of the deep waters.

Earth ſtanding out of the water] The element of earth, which before the ſeparation from the water was drowned and overwhelmed, as in a great gulfe, did by the Word of God as exiſt at firſt, ſo now appear and become dry land, (the waters being gathered into the Sea, as it were a channel) which if the Shore and dry land be conſidered, ſeemeth lower then the earth, as impoſed upon it as higher and above it: the waters which indeed being the lighter element, be aloft, and more eminent then the earth, as the maſſieſt and heavyeſt element. 2 Pet. 3. 5. And the earth ſtanding out of the waters, and by the waters.

Fountain of living waters] God himſelf, the authour and giver of true life, and of all things that belong thereunto. Jer. 2. 13. They have forſaken me the fountain of living water.

Living waters, or waters of life] Springing and running waters. Gen. 26. 19. And found there a Well of living waters.

2. The benefits of Chriſt communicated to the faithfull unto eternall life, by the force of the holy Spirit. Joh. 4. 10. And he would have given thee water of life. The regenerating grace of the Spirit, working to the juſtifying and ſanctifying of elect ſinners, is fitly likened to Waters, to Rivers, to Fountains, Joel 3. 18. Iſa. 43. 3. Zech. 13. 1. in 4 reſpects:

1 Becauſe (like water) it purgeth uncleanneſſe, by certifying the conſcience of forgiveneſſe of ſin by the blood of Chriſt.

2 It refreſheth the conſcience, by ſhedding the love of God abroad in the heart, and cooleth the boyling heat of carnal luſt.

3 It maketh fruitfull to good works.

4 It quencheth the thirſt of worldly pleaſures of ſinners: alſo ſatisfieth the thirſt of heavenly water, and ſpirituall gifts.

Now it is compared to lively or living water, partly for the effect, becauſe it brings to eternall life ſuch as do drink in this water, and be partakers of the renewing grace; and partly for that it is like to water (not ſtanding in Ponds, Ciſterns, &c. which is dead, and moveth not, but unto water) ſpringing and flowing out continually (this being the life of water, to move and iſſue out of the fountain) by this ſaving grace of the Spirit, alwayes worketh ſtill, moving them to further progreſſe in piety, and leading them from grace to grace, and from ſtrength to ſtrength, as water cometh out of a Spring, freſh and freſh.

Waters of Shiloah] Properly waters which came from a Fountain at the root of Mount Sion, and ran through Jeruſalem with a ſtill and quiet courſe, without great noyſe: therefore in Neh. 2. called the Dragon or Serpents Well, becauſe it creepeth gently as a Serpent.

But figuratively it noteth the promiſe of help to the men of Jeruſalem, againſt the King of Syria and Iſrael, from Gods power alone (without the hiring of forces from forain power) to repell their enemies. Iſa. 8. 6. The waters of Shiloah, which run ſo ſoftly. See Pſal. 46. 4.

Still waters] Pleaſant and refreſhing waters. Pſal. 23. 2. He leadeth me by the ſtill waters.

Waters ſtrong and mighty] The potent and plentifull Army of the Aſſyrians, compared to the river Euphrates, and oppoſed to the waters of Shiloah, Iſa. 8. 7.

Swelling waters] Moſt mighty, cruell, and fierce perſecutors and enemies. Pſa. 124. 5. Then had the ſwelling waters gone over our ſouls. Worldly Kingdomes threaten calamities to Gods Church and people, as great waters threaten inundations. See Iſa. 8. 7. the like Metaphor.

Waters wearing the ſtone] ſignifieth the afflictions and judgements whereby God ſubdueth hard-hearted ſinners, Job 4 19.

Water witneſſing upon the earth] 1 Joh. 5. 7. is, The knowledge of the Goſpel, preached by Chriſt the great Prophet of the Church; whereof he is ſaid to be full, as the waters cover the Sea, Iſa. 11. 9. Zanchius.

Water-courſe] is taken properly, 1 Kin. 18. 32, 35, 38. 2 King. 18. 7. Iſa. 7. 3. & 37. 2. 2 King. 20. 20. The rain coming from Heaven, cauſing inundations, Job 38. 25.

Water-flood] Extreme perils, and deep dangers, Pſal. 69. 15. Rev. 12. 15.

Water-pot] A veſſel to draw water, Gen. 14. 15, 16, 17. Joh. 4. 28. or to hold water, 1 King. 18. 34. Joh. 2. 6, 7.

Wabes] The variable ſtirring and ſwelling of great waters, moved and tumbled to and fro ragingly, with the violence of the wind. Mat. 8. 24. Covered with waves.

2. Unſtable men, of unconſtant mindes. Jam. 1. 6. He that wavereth like a wave of the Sea, ſhall receive nothing.

3. Grievous afflictions ſucceeding one another (like waves) and putting men in danger. Pſal. 42. 7. All thy waves are gone over me.

4. Ungodly cruell men, which devoure and deſtroy like mercileſſe waves. Jude v. 13. They are the raging waves of the Sea.

Powerfull Armies, Pſal. 93. 4. Ezek. 2. 3. Violence of an Army, Jer. 51. 42.

Wavering] The unſetled ſteadyneſſe of unbeleevers. Jam. 1. 6. He that wavereth is like a wave of the Sea; that is, he is of an unſetled and unſteddy minde, doubting of the power or will of God, as Abraham did not, Rom. 4. 20.

Wax] The ſudden deſtruction of the wicked, how mighty ſoever, Pſal. 68. 2. & 97. 4. Mich. 1. 4.

The heart melting like wax, Pſal. 22. 14. is, To be exceedingly troubled through great affliction.

Way] That path wherein men goe and travell from place to place. Luk. 10. 31. There came down a Prieſt the ſame way.

2. Converſation, or courſe of life. Prov. 21. 1. Every mans way is clean in his owne eye. Prov. 21. 8. Bleſſed are they which are pright in their way. It is put for Religion, as well as for courſe of life, Pſal. 25. 4. Act. 19. 28.

3. A good converſation or godly life. Pſal. 1. 6. God knoweth the way of the righteous. Matth. 7. 14. Narrow is the way that leadeth to life. This is called by ſundry names; as, way of righteouſneſſe, way of wiſdome, way of the Lord, good and right way, way of light, &c.

4. An evill converſation. Pſal. 1. 1. Nor ſtand in the way of ſinners. And verſ. 6. The way of the wicked ſhall periſh. This Way alſo, hath ſundry names and additions in Scripture; as, evill way, broad way, way of wickedneſſe, and ſuch like.

5. Godly profeſſion or Doctrine of Chriſt. Act. 19. 9. Speaking evill of the way of God. The Doctrine of the Goſpel is as a way to lead us unto God: (ſo we beleeve it.)

6. The work which men are to doe, either in Religion or common life. Exod. 18. 20. Shew them the way; that is, the work.

7. The Commandements of God, which are (as the way) to lead us unto our Countrey above, (ſo we walk in them) Rom. 3. 12. They are all gone out of the way. Pſa. 119. 1. Bleſſed are they that are upright in their way, and walk in the Law of the Lord.

8. Chriſt, by whom alone (as the true way) even in this life we come to God to be one with him. Joh. 14. 6. I am the way, no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. It ſignifies an example, Iſa. 10. 25.

9. Cuſtome. Joſh. 23. 14. I doe enter into the way of all the earth. 1 King. 2. 2. that is to ſay, I dye ſhortly after the cuſtome of all other men.

10. A journey, Gen. 30. 36. & 31. 23. and often elſewhere, Gen. 24. 40, 42, 48.

Footſtep or marks left by men or beaſt, Jer. 2. 23. Prov. 30. 18, 19. The worſhip of God, Act. 9. 2, 19, 23. & 22. 4. & 24. 14. 23. So by the way of righteouſneſſe, 2 Pet. 2. 21. of truth, Pſal. 119. 30. 2 Pet. 2. 2. of ſalvation, Act. 16. 17. is ſignified, the true Religion, the right of any, Amos 2. 7. the miſerable condition of a man, Pſal. 102. 23. the means whereby any thing is obtained, Rev. 16. 12.

So Chriſt is the way to the Father, Joh. 14. 6. the manner whereby we come to heaven, Joh. 14. 4, 5. In which reſpect we are ſaid to have a new way to heaven, Heb. 9. 9. in reſpect of the cleer manifeſtation of Chriſt under the Goſpel.

Way of Cain] Such a courſe of life as Cain lived, being an hypocrite to God, unnaturall and cruel to his Brother, full of perverſeneſſe and wickedneſſe againſt God and Men. Jude v. 13. The way of Cain.

Wayes of darkneſſe] Wicked and crooked wayes, or wayes of ſin. Prov. 2. 13. To walk in the wayes of darkneſſe.

Gods wayes] The deep and unſearchable counſels of God. Rom. 11. 33. His wayes are paſt finding out.

2. His works of mercy and judgement, his bleſſings or puniſhments. Pſal. 145. 17. The Lord is righteous in all his wayes. This is the way of Gods providence, whereby he comes to us.

3. The Word of God in the promiſes and precepts thereof. Pſal. 51. 15. I will teach ſinners thy way. Pſal. 25. 4. This is the way whereby we go to God.

It is put for Doctrine and Commandements of God, in Iſa. 2. 3.

Good way] Every duty or good work, as a ſtep of our way to heaven. Prov. 2. 9. Every good path, or way.

An

An high-way for his people] A passage or entrance unto Christ by the Gospel preached. Isa. 11. 16. There shall be an high-way; that is, as God sometime to his people coming out of Ægypts bondage, made a passage for them into Canaan by the Red Sea, and Jordan divided: so shall he do in the spirituall deliverance, by Christ he shall make a way for them to come to Celestial Canaan, all obstacles and hinderances removed.

Wayes of judgement] Approved and righteous wayes, such as can abide the tryall of the light. Prov. 2. 8. That they may keep the ways of Judgement. These also in v. 13. are called the wayes of Righteousnesse.

To wait for God in the way of his judgements] Patiently to look for, and depend upon Gods promise for their restoring, whilest they walked in the midst of great calamities by the Babylonians or other enemies. Isa. 26. 8. In the way of thy judgements, O Lord, have we waited for thee.

The way of man] The successe or event of a mans purposes or actions. Jer. 10, 23. The way of man is not in himself.

To go out of the way] To turn aside, and play the Apostate from God, his Law, and worship, unto Idolatry. Rom. 3. 12. They are all gone out of the way.

The way of peace] A peaceable quiet life. Rom. 3. 17. And the way of peace they have not known.

To come in the way of righteousnesse] To lead a righteous life, being of upright life, and good conversation. Mat. 11. 32. For John came in the way of righteousnesse.

To make straight the way of the Lord] The heart of man, being naturally like rough, unsmooth, and uneven way, and therefore had need to be subdued, and made plain by repentance, and that sorrow which is according to God, that he might delight to enter into it, and to dwell in it. Joh. 1. 23. Make straight the way of the Lord.

Their way] The event and successe of their course of life. Psal. 49. 13. This their way uttereth their foolishnesse.

Way of truth] The true and right way, Gen. 24. 48.

The way of the strange woman] is that whereby men are led on to commit whoredome, Prov. 7. 25.

W E.

Weak] One who is made feeble, and brought low with sickness. Psal. 6. 2. Have mercy on me Lord, for I am weak, & 38. 8. Bodily weakness.

2. One of little faith and knowledge. Rom. 4. 19. & 14. 1. He that is weak in the faith, receive unto you. Spiritual weakness in part, and in some one point touching the use of things indifferent.

3. One who wants all strength bodily and spirituall. 1 Cor. 15. 43. It is sown in weakness. Rom. 5. 6. When we were yet weak, or of no strength. This is spirituall weakness totally, unto which all men from their birth be subject.

Weak conscience] is, Want of sound judgement in things indifferent, Rom. 14. 1, 2. 1 Cor. 8. 7, 9, 11.

Weak flesh] Corruption of nature, which makes us weak either to do good, or to resist evil. Mat. 26. 41. The flesh is weak. Metonymie of the cause.

Weak heart] Want of power to resist sin, Ezek. 16. 30.

Weak knees] is of such who are fearfull and dejected in minde; or as others, who are sluggish in the way of godlinesse, Heb. 12. 12.

Wealth] All wherein a mans power and strength consisteth, Gen. 34. 29. not onely strength in body, but help by others, 1 Sam. 10. 26. and riches, which many make their strength, and whereby men are enabled to do great things, Prov. 10. 15. yet indeed are gotten by the power of God, Deut. 8. 17, 18. Ps. 62. 12. & 73. 12.

Wealth] Abundance of all outward blessings, Gen. 34. 29. Zech. 14. 4. Prosperity, Ibid. 21. 13. & 31. 25. Confidence, Prov. 18. 11. Gain, Act. 19. 25. Fertile, Psa. 66. 12.

Weaned] Spoken of Infants newly taken from the Mothers breasts, 1 Sam. 1. 22. Humble, Psal. 131. 2. Without help and spirituall wisdome, Isa. 11. 8. & 28. 9. Quiet and contented with the will of God, Psal. 131. 2.

Note. Some observe upon 1 Sam. 1. 3. that the Jews had a threefold Weaning of their Children.

1. When they were weaned from their Mothers milk at three yeers old.

2. From his tender age, and care of his Dry Nurse, at seaven yeers old.

The 3. from his Childish manners, at twelve yeers old. Weems from Petrus Comestor.

Weaned childe] One of a lowly and humble minde. Psal. 131. I am in my self as one that is weaned.

Note: that Weaning in the Hebr. tongue signifieth an exchange of one thing for another, and so in weaning from milk to strong meat, Gen. 21. 8. As weaning importeth a growth in ſtrength of nature, ſo it is in the faithfull a ſigne of growth in grace and underſtanding, 1 Cor. 3. 1, 2. Heb. 5. 13, 14. and of abſtaining from worldly pleaſures, Pſal. 131. 2.

Weapons] Inſtruments of war.

2. All the faculties of ſoul or body, fighting either for ſin in a man unregenerate, or againſt ſin in one regenerate. Rom. 6. 12. Neither give your members as weapons of unrighteouſneſſe to ſin, but give your members as weapons of righteouſneſſe to God.

3. Preaching of the Word, prayer, patience in ſuffering, &c. 2 Cor. 10. 3. The weapons of our warfare are mighty through God.

All inſtruments for every Art whaſoever. So there are for hunting, Gen. 27. 3. Deu. 23. 13.

Put for Strength, Eccl. 9. 18. comp. with verſ. 16. For great evill, Job 20. 24. where it is ſaid that the wicked flying from the weapon of iron, the bow of ſteel ſhall ſtrike him through; that is, when he flyeth from one evill, he ſhall fall into another greater.

Wear] To be clothed, to put on apparel, Deut. 22. 5, 11. Eſt. 6. 8. Jam. 2. 3. To leſſen, Job 14. 19. To be tormented; thus Chriſt did wear a crown of thorns. To deſtroy, Dan. 7. 25.

Wear away] Exod. 18. 18. To fade away. A ſimilitude from the leaf of a tree, which fadeth for want of moyſture: So the care of judging ſo great a people, would weary and wear him out. This Moſes himſelfe acknowledged, Deut. 1. 9, 12. Aynſw.

Weary] One made faint with labour and travell. Joh. 4. 6. He thus ſate on the well weary. Bodily wearineſſe.

2. A ſoul faint, and burdened with the load of ſin, being as deſirous of eaſe by forgiveneſſe, as a weary man is of reſt after great labour. Matt. 11. 28. Come unto me all ye that are weary Spiritual wearineſſe.

3. Slack, careleſſe, and fainting in weldoing, Gal. 6. 9. Carnall wearineſſe.

Afflicted with ſickneſſe, Iſa. 28. 12. Poor and needy, Job 22. 7. Not to prevail, Jer. 4. 31. To be inſtant in prayer, Pſa. 69. 3.

It is ſpoken of God, who is weary with our hypocriticall ſervice, Iſa. 1. 14. with our unbelief, Iſa. 7. 13. with our iniquities, Iſa. 43. 24. with our evill words, Mal. 2. 17. Of the Prophets, Jer. 6. 11. & 20. 9.

To vex, and moleſt, Mic. 6. 3. 2 Cor. 6. 9. & 11. 23, 27.

Weaſel] Lev. 11. 29. in Hebr. Choled, in Chald. Chulda, of running haſtily from place to place. Aynſw. If white, their skins are very precious. They are enemies to Moles, Mice, Rats, and no friends to Poultrey. They do not engender nor couple in their hinder parts (as it's ſaid) like other four-footed beaſts, but at their ears, and bring forth their young ones at their mouth (reſembling fooliſh men, who utter all they hear.) They forſake houſes that are ready to fall, foreſeeing their downfall. By eating Rue they overcome Serpents, and reſtore to life their young ones after they are dead. They have a poyſon in them which killeth the Cockatrice. They will play with Hares till they have wearyed them, and then kill them. The female carryeth her young ones daily from one place to another, leſt (her neſt being found) any ſhould catch them. Their hinder parts the Serpent cannot abide. When provoked to anger, they ſmell badly, & bite worſe then a Dog. Their gall is good againſt Aſps, and their fleſh againſt poyſon. There's a kinde of them whoſe dung is of a good ſmell, and which will neither eat the Eggs, nor kill the Poultry belonging to the houſe where it haunts. Its privities are ſaid to be of bone. Though ſmall, yet have they great ſubtilty to compaſſe their prey.

Weather] Fair weather, Job 37. 22. Heb. gold. Shining and bright things in Scripture are compared to gold, as Oyle, Zech. 4. 12. So here the bright beams of the Sun. Annot. Εὐδία, Mat. 16. 2. The good conſtitution of the air. Foul weather, Ib. 3. χειμών, a tempeſt, παρὰ τὸ χέειν, from pouring out, for that it poureth out much rain.

Weave] To labour in vain, as, Iſa. 59. 5. To weave the Spiders web.

Wedding garment] Chriſt Jeſus himſelf, whom we put on by faith. Mat. 22. 11. Which had not on the Wedding garment. Gal. 3. 27. The Papiſts do erre, in judging love and good works to be this Wedding garments.

The righteouſneſſe of Chriſt, Pſal. 132. 9, 16. Graces of the Spirit, Col. 3. 12, 14. Glory after this life, Rev. 6. 11.

Wedge] Joſh. 7. 21. Wedge of gold. The Original word לשון, ſignifieth a tongue, which is metaphorically applyed unto divers things, as, a bay, in Joſh. 15. 2. marg. is called a tongue; a flame of fire, Iſa. 5. 24. marg. the tongue of fire. So here a wedge, as having the reſemblance of a tongue.

Wedlock] Ezek. 16. 38. Break wedlock; Play the Adultereſſe, or commit adultery.

Weeds] Jonah 2. 5. The weeds which the fiſh had ſwallowed; or ſo deep was I in the the bottome of the Sea, as if the weeds that grew there had been wrapped about my head. Annot.

Week] The ſpace of ſeven dayes. 1 Cor. 16. 1. Every firſt day of the week.

2. The number of ſeven yeers. Thus ſeventy weeks in Lev. 25. 8. ſignifies ſeventy times ſeven yeers. Alſo Dan. 9. 25.

The 70 weeks in Daniel, contain the ſpace of time between the ſecond yeer of Darius Nothus, and the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, which happened the ſecond yeer of Veſpaſian, ſome 36 yeers after the Paſſion of our Lord. The whole number is 490 yeers, accounting 92 yeers to the end of the Perſian Monarchy, and 6. yeers of Alexander the Great his Kingdome, and after that 89 till the Paſſion of Chriſt, after which there were 36 before Jeruſalem was laid waſte: of which put together, ariſeth 70 weeks of yeers. In this time toward the end of it, and ſo forward, Chriſt by his Propheticall preaching the Goſpel, and his Sacerdotall function, in purchaſing eternall redemption by his death (aboliſhing by the one the miniſtery of the letter, death, and condemnation, 2 Cor. 3. and by his Prieſthood (putting an end to all Legall and viſible anointing) hath covered and purged ſins, and conferred everlaſting righteouſneſſe upon all beleevers in his name, Dan. 9. 24, 25.

Week divers. I. Of dayes, in number 7, which is twofold.

1 Of the Jews, beginning where that of the Chriſtians endeth, viz. Sunday.

2 Of the Chriſtians, which endeth where that of the Jews beginneth.

II. A week of weeks, or ſeven weeks, which with addition of one day, make 50 dayes: In the end of this was the week or feaſt,

1 Of Pentecoſt, 1 for the Jews, Deu. 16. 2 For the Chriſtians.

2 At another time the feaſt of Propitiation, when the High-prieſt alone after ſeven weeks preparation and collection of the fruits, &c. entred into the Sanctum Sanctorum.

This prefigured Chriſts entrance into heaven for us, and the peoples ſtanding without, our expectation of his return to judgement.

III. A week of moneths, for the common people had the firſt, third, and ſeventh moneth appointed to them for divers Ceremonies to be performed by them.

IV. A week of yeers, viz. ſeven. This was the yeer of Jubilee for the Earth, and Tillers of it, for every ſeventh yeer it reſted.

V. A week of weeks of yeers, at ſeven times ſeven yeers: This was of 2 ſorts:

1 Ordinary, containing 49 yeers in all. The end of this was the great yeer of Jubilee for redemption of land, and remiſſion of debts.

2 Extraordinary, called Propheticall, or Daniel's weeks, which ſignifying Chriſts firſt and ſecond coming, though they contained ſeven yeers a peece, yet their account differed in ſhortneſſe, as it is ſaid to Daniel, The 70 weeks are ſhortned upon thy people. This ſhortening is made by reckoning the yeers after 12 Moones, Annos Lunares, which contain each of them 354 dayes. Not after 13 Lunations or New Moones to the yeer, which do make the yeerly courſe of the Sun, containing full 364. For the Moneths called Emboliſmi menſes, or Superaugentes, which grow of the yeerly dayes of the Epact, were not added every third or fourth yeer, but left till the number of 12, and ſo put in for a whole yeer: which being left out, and reckoning from the twentyeth yeer of Artaxerxes (when Jeruſalem began to be rebuilded) to the birth of Chriſt, theſe 70 weeks of yeers Lunary, make up the number of 490, which maketh juſt with the Hiſtory of both times; whereas of Solary yeers, according to the courſe of the Sun, the number of yeers from the one time, to the other, is leſſe, viz. 475. See Iſidore Origin. vel Etym. lib. 6. c. 17.

Note, that the Yeer of the Hebrews muſt be reckoned by the courſe of the Moon.

Weep] To be afflicted, 1 Cor. 7. 30. Ro. 12. 15. To grieve, Ibid. Weep with them that weep. The pains of hell, Mat. 13. 42 & 22. 13. To faſt, becauſe it is commonly uſed in faſting, Zech. 7. 3, 5. To call upon God, Deut. 1. 45. 2 King. 22. 19.

Cauſes of weeping are,

1. Afflictions which we ſuffer our ſelves, 2 Sam. 1. 24. Luk. 23. 28. Jam. 4 9. Gen. 27. 38. Lam. 1. 2, 7, 16. or which our neighbours ſuffer, 2 King. 8. 12. Neh. 1. 4. Jer. 9. 1. Act. 21. 16.

2. For our ſins, as Peter, Mat. 26. 75. Mary Magdalen, Luk. 7. 38. and the ſins of others, as Moſes and others, Numb. 25. 6. Paul, Act. 20. 19, 31.

Weigh] is, To direct and guide, Iſa. 26. 7. For the care of God, 1 Sam. 2. 3. For his wiſdome and power, Iſa. 40. 12. For his decree and determination, Dan. 5. 27. For his certain certain knowledge, Prov. 16.2. for the diligent conſideration of man, Jbb 6.2. & 31.6. To make payment, Jer. 32.9. Zech. 11.12. To oppreſſe, Pſal. 58.2. To weigh violence: ſpoken of the wicked, alluding to the ballance wherewith Juſtice was pictured.

Weight] Common, divers ſorts, great and ſmall, Deut. 25.13. Prov. 20.10. Unjuſt condemned, Prov. 20.23. Juſt commended, Lev. 19.36. Prov. 11.1.

To eat by weight, is, To be pinched with famine, Ezek. 4.16.

To caſt off the weight that hangeth ſo faſt upon, Heb. 12.1. is, To renounce our carnal pleaſures, and worldly cares, that we be not hindered in our courſe to heaven.

Eternall weight of glory] 2 Cor. 4.17. is, that happineſſe promiſed to the godly after this life.

Weighty] Of great worth, neceſſary.

Spoken of Mercy and Judgement, Matth. 23.23. Powerfull, with ſpirituall arguments, 2 Cor. 10.10.

Applyed to the Church, it ſignifieth, that ſhe is invincible, Zech. 12.3.

Well-beloved] A word expreſſing the love of the Church to Chriſt, Cant. 1.13. and of Miniſters to the Church, 1 Pet. 2.11.

Well-doing] More particularly, liberall diſtributing to the Teachers of the Goſpell, and the poor Saints: or more generally, the doing of good works of all kindes, both toward God and Men, even the whole practiſe of godlineſſe. Gal. 6.9. Be not weary of wel-doing. The verſe following theſe words ſheweth that they be meant of merciful communicating and giving to all needy Chriſtians, and painfull Miniſters.

Welfare] Good health, Gen. 43.27. Good, Neh. 2.10. Pſal. 69.22.

Well] ſignifies Ill, by an Irony. Mar. 7.9.

W H.

Whale] is ſaid to praiſe God, Pſa. 148.7. becauſe thereby men are ſtirred to his praiſe, and ready at Gods command to execute his judgement againſt ſinners, Jon. 2.1.

It is taken for Tyrants, and cruel mighty enemies of the Church, Pſal. 74.13. Iſa. 27.1. Ezek. 32.2.

Whale] This is one of the greateſt wonders of the Lord in the deep, whereon himſelf ſo much inſiſteth, (Job 41.12.) that he will not conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion. There are ſeverall kindes hereof, but the Bay Whale is the moſt ſimple and uſefull, the greater, and fatter, and more eaſily taken. His head is the third part of him, his mouth (O helliſh wide!) ſixteen foot in the opening, and yet out of that belly of hell, yeelding much to the ornaments of our Womens backs; the Whale-bones or finnes being no other then the rough and inner part of the mouth, cloſing in the ſhutting thereof, as the fingers of both hands within each other. He hath no teeth, his meat he ſucketh. His tongue is monſtrous great, of deformed form like a wool-ſack, about eight tun weight, the one part thereof uſed to this purpoſe, yeelding from ſix to eleven Hogs-heads of oyl. His food is graſſe and weeds of the ſea, and a kinde of waterworme, like a Beetle, whereof the finnes in his mouth hang full, and ſometimes little Birds, all which ſtriking the water with his Tayle, and making an Eddie, he gapes and receiveth into his mouth. This great head hath little eyes, like Apples, very little bigger then the eyes of an Oxe, and a little throat, not greater then for a mans fiſt to enter, and that with huge bones on each ſide, not admitting it to ſtretch wider. [But were this ſo, which our Authour affirmeth from an eye-witneſſe, that which ſwallowed Jonah was not of this kinde, nor thoſe of whom it's ſaid, that when there is a tempeſt they ſwallow up their youngs, whom when the tempeſt is over, they caſt out again.] His body is round fourteen or ſixteen foot thick; his piſſe hangs from him as a beaſts. In generation they draw to ſhallow waters neer the ſhore, and in the act, joyn belly to belly, as is alſo ſaid of the Elephant. In their ingendring ſeaſon, much of that matter floateth on the water, [which ſome hold to be the Sperma ceti] They have but one young at a time, which is brought forth as in beaſts, about the bigneſſe (but longer) of a Hogſhead. The female hath two breaſts and teats, with white milk in them, not bigger then a mans head, wherewith ſhe ſuckleth the young, whereof ſhe (as the Mors alſo) is very tender. Purcas Pilgri. libr. 8. cap. 3. p. 923.

The Ancients mention ſome of incredible length and bigneſſe. If heaps of ſand be any hinderance to its young ones, it taketh into its mouth ſtore of water, which being poured out again on the ſand, their young ones are cleered therefrom. Againſt this Giant of Nature, the Sword-fiſh (whoſe ſword groweth upright out of his neck like a bone, four or five inches broad, and about a yard long, with prickles on both ſides) and the Threſher, (who hath a broad and thick taile) hold a naturall conſpiracie; the one on the top of the water, threſhing him upon the head with violent blows, that ſound as a peece of Ordnance, and may be heard two leagues, forcing him to hide his head in his Mothers lap, which yet betrayeth him there to the Sword-fiſh, who is ready to receive him on his naturall blade, and ſtaineth the Sea with his blood. The Whale hath no remedy, but with bellowing groans, heard further then the Threſher's blowes, to ſeek to the ſhore, and there embayed to make his part good without danger of an underminer; otherwiſe becoming a prey to theſe his adverſaries. Purcas Pilg. lib. 9. c. 13. p. 1085.

According to the common opinion of Authors, every kind of Whale hath a ſmal little fiſh, long & white, which alwayes goeth along therewith, at no time departeth therefrom, but as a Pilot or guide going before them, directeth them to avoyd ſuch and ſuch ſhallow places, &c. whereby they might might be endangered; and therefore Fiſhers, that the Whale may be their prey, endevour the deſtruction of this little fiſh.

What] Sometime it is put without an interrogation, Eſt. 8. 1. Sometimes with an interrogation, and then it is,

1 A note of correction, 1 King. 14. 14.

2 A note of inference, Rom. 3. 8. 1 Cor. 14. 15, 26.

3 A note of readineſſe to hear, Act. 10. 4.

4 A note of our advice and counſell, Act 21. 22.

5 A note of admiration, Mar. 1. 27.

6 A note of undervaluing, and light account, 1 King. 9. 13. Pſal. 8. 5.

What haſt thou to do with me, ſignifieth,

1 Wherein have I offended thee, Judg. 11. 12. 1 King. 17. 18. 2 Chr. 35. 21. A word of expoſtulation, Joel 3. 4.

2 Thou oughteſt to take care of thy own affairs, and not to meddle with mine, Mat. 8. 29. Mar. 5. 7. Luk. 4. 34. 2 Sam. 16. 10. And ſo it is a note of indignation and chiding. Or, He hath no power, nor authority over me. Joh. 4. 2.

4 To have no fellowſhip with, Hoſ. 14. 8. Joſ. 22. 24.

What haſt thou here? Iſa. 22. 16. Meant of one obſcure in birth, yet growing proud of his advancement, thinking never to fall from his dignity.

Whatſoeber] Hath relation unto perſons, places, time, things, &c.

Wheat] A precious grain whereof bread is made for the ſtrengthening of mans heart. 1 Cor. 15. 35. Bare corn of Wheat, or ſome other.

It was uſed in the Leviticall worſhip, 1 Chr. 21. 23. Eſdr. 6. 9. & 7. 22.

2. All elect and faithfull perſons, which are fruitfull in good works. Mat. 13. 12. The wheat he will gather into his Barn.

3. It is put for the doctrine of ſalvation, Mat. 13. from verſ. 25. to 31.

Wheel] An inſtrument of wood or iron, turning round, ſerving either for work or puniſhment.

2. Puniſhment it ſelf inflicted upon Malefactors. Prov. 28. 26. A righteous King will turn the wheel upon the ungodly.

3. The whole maſſe and body of all things under heaven, ſubject to continuall change and mutation. Ezek. 1. 15. There appeared a wheel unto me upon the earth, by the beaſts, having four faces.

Continuall troubles unto deſtruction, Pſal. 83. 14.

It is alſo put for the Scull, Eccl. 12. 6.

Whelp] The young ones of a Bear, 2 Sam. 17. 8. Bitch, or Lyons, Nah. 2. 11, 12. The progeny of great men, Ezek. 19. 2, 3, 5.

When] 1. A conjunction cauſal, as much as Becauſe, Foraſmuch, Heb. 5. 12.

2. An adverb of time:

1 Generall. 2 Particular, or oppoſed to the generall, 1 Pet. 1. 11. Mat. 2. 1.

Whence be is] From what place, of what Family and Countrey, Job 7. 27.

1. To be ſent of God, furniſhed with his Spirit and power, by his commandement and authority doing miracles & teaching doctrin, Joh. 9. 29. It is alſo put for, How? Joh. 1. 48.

Where] An adverb of Place.

It ſignifieth, What is become of? 2 King. 2. 14. Pſal. 42. 3. & 79. 10. & 89. 49.

Where art thou?] Not ignorance or doubting in what place, where the party ſought for it, or what he will anſwer when he appeareth; but a ſecret reprehenſion of the caſe they be in, and of the fact they have done, and withall a citation or ſummoning of him to give his anſwer, that he may feel his offence, and be awakened with ſenſe of his ſin. Gen. 3. 9. Adam, where art thou? The ſame is to be thought of Gods queſtion to Cain, Gen. 4. 9. God is not as man, that he ſhould need by enquiry to learn things which he knoweth not.

Wherefore] A conſequent or that which follows as an effect of ſome foregoing cauſe. Rom. 1. 24. Wherefore alſo God gave them up, &c. Here it is an illative particle.

2. A cauſe or reaſon of ſomething. Rom. 1. 21. Wherefore (or becauſe) when, &c.

Wherefore] Properly is a word asking or giving a reaſon of a thing done or not done.

Improperly, a word of admiration, extolling a benefit received out of meer favour, Ruth 2. 10. or a word of accuſation, or expoſtulation, Pſal. 2. 1. & 68. 17. 2 Chr. 25. 15.

Whet] To ſharpen any iron inſtrument or weapon, Eccl. 10. 10. To make ready, Pſal. 7. 12. To ſlander and backbite, Pſ. 64. 3. To inſtinct and ſtir up, Prov. 27. 17. To look angerly, Job 16. 9.

To whet the ſword] To prepare and make ready ſome great judgement. Pſal. 7. 12. He hath whet his ſword.

Whetting their teeth] Indignation or wrath of the wicked. Pſal. 112. 10. The wicked whets his teeth at the righteous.

While] 1. The time of all the whole continuance of ſomething, Mat. 5. 25. 1 Cor. 8. 13.

2. The time before ſomething doe begin. This ſenſe is improper.

It is put for When, Pſal. 7. 2. Mat. 27. 63. In the mean time, Luk. 24. 51.

Whip] A puniſhment uſed to be inflicted upon upon malefactors, Deut. 25. 2,3. by the Jews. They had reſpect,

1 To the offence committed.
2 To the perſon to be whipt.
3 To the Whip.

The offence: For an ordinary offence they might not exceed 40 ſtripes, but they might diminiſh the ſtripes if the perſon were of a weak body; for a double offence they were not to exceed, but yet to give the full 40 all at once. If he had a ſtrong body that committed the double, he got the full 40 all at one time. If he had a ſtrong body, and committed a ſingle offence, then he got not the full number. If he had a weak body, and committed a double offence, he got the full number, but at two ſeverall times.

They conſidered how many ſtripes the offender might bear, and accordingly he received a proportionable number of ſtripes.

When they whipped Paul, 2 Cor. 11. 24. and gave him 39 ſtripes at three ſeveral tmes;

1 It ſeems he hath been of a ſtrong body.

2 It was for three ſeverall offences (as they thought) for if the offender had thrice committed the ſelf-ſame fault, then he was no more beaten, but ſhut up within a narrow wall, wherein he might neither ſit nor ſtand, and there was fed with the bread of affliction, and a ſmall quantity of water, 1 Ki. 22. 27.

The offender was bowed downe when he was beaten, Deut. 25.2. He who whipt him ſtood upon a ſtone, and let out or in the whip, by drawing up or down the knot upon it; when the knot was drawn up, the thongs ſpread further, and gave the ſmarter blow. When he ſtood behinde him, then he whipt him upon the breaſt, or belly, and gave him three blows at a time. When he ſtood before him, he laſhed him upon the ſhoulders, and gave him three blows upon each ſhoulder.

There ſtood three Judges by:

The firſt repeated theſe words of the Law, Deut. 28.58. If thou obey not all theſe things, then the Lord ſhall multiply thy plagues. The ſecond numbred the ſtripes, & the third ſaid, Lay on.

Whipping among them was no diſgrace, as among Chriſtians, but onely a civill mulct, or fine: Therefore the Lord ſaid, that thy Brother ſhould not ſeem vile in thine eyes, Deut. 25.3. wherefore they did it not in ſcorn, but in compaſſion they looked upon him, and received him again as a Brother, and were ready to cover their offence, and would not upbraid him for it afterwards.

As they fitted the whip to the perſon, according to his ſtrength; ſo the Lord will lay no more upon us then we are able to bear, 1 Cor. 10. 13, 14.

As the Iudge numbred the ſtripes, ſo the Lord numbreth all the afflictions of his children.

As they were not vile in the eyes of the Judges, ſo the Lord, notwithſtanding of his afflicting of us, yet eſteemeth of us as Sons.

As they were ſtill accounted as Brethren, when they were whipt, ſo ſhould we account thoſe who are afflicted, and the Lords hand upon them, to be ſtill our Brethren. Weems jud. Law, c. 36.

Whirle-wind] A ſtrong and ſudden blaſt, turning things circularly, Job 37.9. Pr. 1.27.

2. The firſt cauſe is God, Iſa. 29. 6. Pſal. 83.15. Jer. 23. 19. & 30. 13.

3. The end is the glory of God, Pſal. 18.8. It is called upon to praiſe God, becauſe it ſtirs up men to doe it.

It ſerveth firſt to execute Gods judgements upon the wicked, as may be gathered both out of Job 7. 19. Pſal. 83. 16. Zech. 7.14. As alſo becauſe it is ſet down in Scripture as a ſymbol of Gods glorious and fearfull preſence, Job 38.1. & 40. 1. Nah. 1.3.

Secondly, to conferre the bleſſings of God upon the godly; as, Elias aſcended into heaven in a whirlewind, 2 King. 2.11.

It ſignifieth the ſwift and ſudden judgements of God, Iſa. 5.28. & 66. 15. Jer. 4.13. Iſa. 41. 16. Zech. 7. 14. Job 27. 20. & 9. 17. Mighty enemies, deſtroying all before them, Iſa. 28.2. Ezek. 1.4. Dan. 11.40. Vaniſhing ſpeedily, Prov. 10. 25. Hoſ. 8.7.

Whiſper] Secretly to backbite our neighbour.

It is contrary to Charity, and is condemned, 2 Cor. 12. 20.

It is put for, To reſiſt and take in evill part the doctrine and admonitions of Paſtors, Iſa. 29. 24. Secretly to conſpire, Pſal. 41.7.

It breedeth ſtrife and contentions among friends, Prov. 16. 28. & 26. 20.

Whit] All, Deut. 13.9. Joh. 7.23. & 13.10.

2. Nothing, or not at all, 2 Cor. 11.5.

White] A colour bright, and lightſome, contrary to black.

2. That which is pure, without blemiſh; or glorious, without infirmity. Rev. 3.18. White rayment. Mat. 28. 3. His rayment white as ſnow. It is uſuall in Scripture by White to ſignifie Purity and Glory. See Rayment, and Robe.

3. Ripe and ready to be cut down, and carryed into the Barn. Joh. 4. 25. They are white already to the harveſt.

4. For Sanctification, Rev. 3.4. and Justification by the blood of Christ, Rev. 7. 14.

It is put for Abundance, Gen. 49.12. for Hypocrisie, Act. 23.3.

White stone] was used to be given to Wrestlers, as Beza, and to them that were absolved in judgement. Whereunto Christ alludeth, Rev. 2.17. To him that overcometh, he promiseth a white stone, in token of his victory and absolution from sin.

It was also used for Lots. Hence Beza (Act. 1.26.) turneth the word συγκατψηφίσθη.

Who] A word of humility, Exod. 3.11. Of extolling and magnifying, Exod. 15.11. Of insulting and pride, Exod. 5.2.

Who hath known] None, or no creature, Angels or Men, but God himself, till events declare it; or, Who hath been, &c. that is, None at all, Rom. 11.34.

Interrogations or Questions in holy Scriptures, sometimes have the force of a denyal, and denying more strongly then a plain negation would do, as in the former text: Also Rom. 3.3. & 4.1. & 10.6,7. Heb. 1.13. Also they sometime affirm a matter with more vehemency, as Gen. 13.9. & 20.5. Exod. 14.12. Josh. 19. & 10.13. Judg. 4.6. 1 Sam. 20.37. 1 King. 12.41. Sometime they carry the virtue of an earnest reprehension, as Rom. 2.4. & 14.10. And lastly, they shew forth in him who asketh the question, a detestation and loathing of something, Rom. 6.1. They are found finally to serve sometime for the engendring and working of shame, as Rom. 2.21.

2. A challenge of one, or a triumphing over him, Rom. 8.31, 33, 34. 1 Pet. 3.13.

3. By the figure Communicatio, an appealing to the conscience of the party, Rom. 6.2. 1 Cor. 6.9.

Note further, that in a question, this word [Who] is put sometime for a few, as Psal. 15.1. & 25.12. Isa. 53.1. and sometime for None at all, as Rom. 10.6. 1 Sam. 2.21.

Whole] signifieth, 1. All the parts of a thing, Jam. 3.6. Eccl. 12.13. or powers thereof, Psal. 9.1. & 119.10.

2. The full number Absolutely, Matth. 8. v. 32.

2 Conditionally, 1 Joh. 2.2.

3. The greatest part, Luk. 23.1, 48, 49. Mat. 8.34. 1 Joh. 5.6.

4. The perfection of a thing; as consisting in the union of all the parts together; which perfection is dissolved, when any of the parts is broken and dissolved from the rest, as Jam. 2.11. This is the totum legis, or totalitas legis, not tota lex.

5. Bodily health, or the due and right constitution of the body, Psal. 38.7. Joh. 5.10, 11, 12.

6. The spirituall health of the Soul, consisting of innocency, and many other graces of God, and a good conscience.

7. The good estate of both these parts together, Joh. 7.23.

8. The onely imagination of holinesse, or spirituall health, without the thing it selfe, Mat. 9.12.

The whole man] All that wherein men use to busie themselves (being that one necessary thing, Luk. 10.) and without which the whole man is nothing but vanity. Eccl. 12.13. For this is the whole of man.

Wholesome] Sound or healthful, making spiritually sound, or bringing health to the soul. 1 Tim. 6.3. And consents not to the wholesome words of Christ. Tit. 2.1. Wholesome Doctrine.

Whore] An unchaste woman, taking money for the use of her body. Deut. 23.17, 18. There shall be no Whore of the Daughter of Israel, nor any hire of a Whore brought into the House of God.

Note. The Hebrew word which is Englished Whore, and cometh of a word which signifieth holinesse, and is given unto Whores in a contrary meaning, for the common Whore is most unholy, and unchaste; yet it may be such abominations were committed under pretext of Religion and holinesse. For in the Apostasie of Israel, houses of such unclean persons, were in the House of God, 2 King. 23.7. and they sacrificed with such Whores, Hos. 4.14.

2. The Synagogue of Antichrist, or the Romish Church, as it standeth now corrupt with horrible Idolatry and Heresie, obstinately maintained. Revel. 17.1. I will shew thee the condemnation of the great Whore. No more blushing at her spirituall whoredome, then a common strumpet at her bodily fornication.

To go a whoring] To fix our affection upon the creatures (more then the Creator) and especially to put our trust and confidence im worldly men, and worldly things. Psal. 73.27. Thou destroyest all them that go a whoring from thee. All confidence in the creature, is a spirituall whoredome.

2. To fall in love with idols, and to worship contrary to our faith plight with God, Ezek. 16.

To play the whore] To exercise merchandise, chandiſe, Ezek. 23. 17. To confide and truſt in, Ezek. 16. 26, 28, 29. To murmur and rebel againſt God, Numb. 14. 33.

Whoredome] The uncleanneſſe of ſuch as make their bodies common for money. Deut. 21. 23.

2. Generally, uncleanneſſe about generation, Heb. 13. 14. Hoſ. 4. 11. Whoredome and new wine doth take away the heart.

3. Idolatry, in the worſhip of ſtrange gods, or in the ſtrange worſhip of the true God. Rev. 17. 5. That Mother of whoredome. Ezek. 16. 25. And multiplyed thy whoredome. Ver. 17. And madeſt to thy ſelf Images of men, and didſt commit whoredome with them.

Generall defection from God, becauſe our conjunction with Chriſt, is compared to a marriage, therefore our defection from him, and his worſhip, is underſtood by Whoredome, Hoſ. 5. 3. & Jude v. 7, 8.

The ſubject of Whoredome is,

1 Generall, to wit, all thoſe who are given to whoredom, and are ſaid to have a whoriſh heart Ezek. 6. 9. Such are,

1 The Gentiles, Rom. 1. 29. 1 Theſſ. 4. 4, 5. Act. 15. 20, 29. & 21. 25. where the Apoſtles and Elders command the beleeving Gentiles to abſtain from fornication, becauſe among them that knew not God, it was held for a thing indifferent.

2 The Ægyptians.

3 Babylon.

2 The ſpeciall ſubject is either the whole body. Hence is the sinning againſt the body, 1 Cor. 6. 18. or the parts, as the Eye, 2 Pet. 2. 14.

The cauſe is, the corruption of our nature. Hence Whoredome is reckoned among the ſins of the fleſh, Gal. 5. 19. and is ſaid to come out of the heart, Mat. 15. 19. Mar. 7. 21.

The effects of Whoredome are,

1 That it defileth the man, Lev. 21. 9. Mat. 15. 20. Mar. 7. 21, 23.

2 It hurts the good name both of the Whoremongers, Prov. 5. 9. and their Families, Lev. 21. 9. and of their Children, Joh. 8. 41.

3 Conſumeth the eſtate, Job 31. 12. Prov. 5. 10. & 6. 26. & 23. 27. Luk. 15. 13. 30.

4 Conſumeth the ſtrength of the body, Prov. 5. 11. & 31. 3. Hence it is that Whoremongers are ſaid in a ſpeciall manner to ſin againſt the body, 1 Cor. 6. 18. Where the Apoſtle alludeth to that he had ſaid, the faithfull are members of Chriſt, and he that is joyned to a Whore, is a member of the Whore. For although other ſins cut off from Chriſt, yet they make not the body the member of another; but he that is joyned to a Whore, and becometh one with her, ſinneth againſt his own body, becauſe he maketh it the member of a Whore: And this ſin doth more weaken the body, both becauſe of it owne nature, it doth more conſume it, and alſo breedeth more diſeaſes then other ſins.

5 It taketh away the minde, Hoſ. 4. 11.

For 1 Whoremongers run themſelves raſhly into many dangers, Judg. 16. 1.

2 Ignorantly they run into ruine, Pro. 7. 22, 23. & 9. 18.

3 Caſting off all ſhame they draw others into the ſame ſin, Prov. 7. 13. Geneſ. 39. 12. 2 Sam. 13. 11.

4 They will not be reclaimed, Gen. 39. 10.

5 They think it enough to hide their ſin from men, not conſidering Gods all-ſeeing eye, Job 24. 15. or becauſe they deceive themſelves, and ſuffer others to it, thinking that whoredome will not bring upon them the wrath of God, 1 Cor. 6. 11, Eph. 5. 6. Hence the Whoremonger is called a fool, Prov. 7. 7.

W I.

Wicked] Referred to perſons, and ſo every naturall man, who is not regenerate. Rom. 4. 5. Juſtifieth the wicked.

2. All impenitent perſons, who keep on in a ſinfull courſe, without returning to God. Pſal. 15. 13. I will teach thy wayes unto the wicked. Pſal. 1. 1. & 112. 10. The wicked ſhall ſee it. Alſo for one who doth wrong, Exod. 2. 13.

3. Referred to perſons; it ſometimes noteth one that is condemned as a wicked one, and reputed to be ſo, yet indeed may be otherwiſe, and is ſo, Job 27. 7 Pſal. 50. 21. Iſa. 53. 12. Mar. 15. 28. Luk. 21. 37.

4. It ſignifieth that principal evil perſon, the Devil, who is the Prince and Captain over evil Angels, and evil men, 1 Joh. 2. 13, 14. & 3. 12. & 5. 18.

5. [Per enallagen temporis] One that hath been, now but is not wicked, Rom. 4. 5, 6, 8.

II. Referred to actions, that which is ungodly, or againſt God. Jude v. 15. Of all their wicked deeds which they have ungodly committed.

Theſe wicked men, according to the Originall word in the Hebrew, ſignifies reſtleſneſſe, turbulent, unjuſt, ungracious; therefore they be likened to the raging ſea, Iſa. 57.

20, 21. And becauſe for ſome of their wicked deeds, ſome of them are often brought forth to judgement, and condemned; therefore is this name often given to condemned perſons, Pſa. 109. 7. Job 27. 7. and to juſtifie or make juſt, is to abſolve in judgement, or to acquit, Pſal. 82. 2, 3. So to make or to pronounce wicked, is to condemne, Deut. 25. 1. Pſal. 37. 33. & 64. 11.

Of wicked men, ſome are within the Church, or profeſſe true Religion. Others are without, 1 Cor. 5. 12, 13. The firſt ſort may be cenſured and puniſhed by the Church, not the other.

The wicked if they be few, the Church may ſeparate them from the good, 1 Cor. 5. 13. But if they be many and whole Aſſemblies, we muſt then ſeparate our ſelves from them, 2 Cor. 6. 17.

Mr. Richard Hooker Expoſ. upon Hab. 1. 4.

3. That wicked perſon the Devil, Eph. 6. 12.

Wicked one] The devil, Mat. 13. 19. who is eminently wicked, as being full of wickedneſſe in himſelf, the Authour of much in others; and one that takes delight in it, both in himſelf and others.

Wickedneſſe] An ungodly work. Gen. 39. 9. How can I do this great wickedneſſe? Act. 8. 22.

2. A courſe of iniquity continued without repentance, Dan. 6. 5. We have done wickedly. Pſal. 125. 3. Leſt the righteous put out their hands to wickedneſſe. Pſal. 52. 1. Why doſt thou boaſt thy ſelf in thy wickedneſſe?

Spirituall wickedneſſe] A ſpirit of a wicked and wily nature, as crafty as powerfull. Eph. 6. 12. Againſt ſpirituall wickedneſſe, for wicked ſpirits, an Hebraiſme. It diſtinguiſheth theſe unclean from the other holy and bleſſed ſpirits.

To work wickedneſſe] three things concurre:

1 A purpoſe to do it.
2 A delight in doing, Prov. 14. 9.
3 A continuance in it.

Which three in Gods children never concurre; for in ſins done in them by the old man, the new man maketh his exceptions and proteſtations againſt them: It is not I, ſayes he; and ſo far is he from delighting in them, that rather his ſoul is grieved with them; as Lot dwelling among the Sodomites, was vexed by hearing and ſeeing their unrighteous deeds; they are rather ſufferers of ſin againſt their wills, then actors of it with their wills; like men ſpiritually oppreſſed by the power of their enemy, for which they ſigh and cry unto God, O miſerable man that I am, who will deliver me from this body of death? And in this ſenſe it is that the Apoſtle ſaith, 1 Jo. 3. He who is born of God, ſinneth not. Cowper on Pſal. 119. 3.

Wide] Spoken of Kingdoms, Gen. 34. 21. Judg. 18. 10. and the Sea.

Wide gate] The way of the world, becauſe it is pleaſant to the fleſh, and followed by the greateſt part of men, Mat. 7. 13.

Widow] A woman whoſe Husband is dead, is to be pityed, and cared for, Jam. 1. 27. Job 24. 21. & 29. 13. & 31. 16. Not to be afflicted, Exod. 22. 22. Deut. 24. 17. Job 24. 3. Pſal. 94. 6. They ought to truſt in God, Jer. 49. 11. 2 King. 4. 1, 7.

2. It ſignifieth ſuch as being dead unto the world, lead a godly life. Such are widows indeed, and are worthy of honour, 1 Tim. 5. v. 3.

It is put for one in great miſery and affliction, Iſa. 47. 9. & 54. 4. For one humble and deſpiſed, Prov. 15. 25. For a City deſolate, without inhabitants, Lam. 1. 1. Iſa. 47. 8. For any deſtitute of help, counſel, and protection; ſuch as Widows commonly be, who lie open to the oppreſſion and injuries of the wicked.

The word that the Hebrews expreſſe a Widow by, ſignifieth dumbe, for Widows often are not able, and dare not ſpeak and plead for themſelves.

The duty of Widows is either,

I. Generall, that they lead a godly life, 1 Tim. 5. 7.

Examples of ſuch are, She of Sarepta, 1 King. 17. 9, 10. Naomi, Ruth 1. Woman of Tekoah, 2 Sam 14. 5. Dorcas, Act. 9. 36. The poor Widow, Mar. 12. 43. Phebe, Rom. 16. 1. Anna the Propheteſſe, Luk. 2. 36. Lydia, Act. 16. 14.

Or, II. Speciall.

1 Towards their dead Husbands, to lament them, and it is a juſt judgment of God upon the wicked, that they are not lamented by their Widows, Job 27. 15. Pſal. 78. 64.

2 To bring up their Children, 1 Tim. 5. 10. Ruth 4. 16. In the Word of God, 2 Tim. 1. 5. and 3. 15. and to lament them, Luk. 7. 13.

3 To receive the Church, Act. 12, 12. Luk. 10. 38, 39, 40, 41, 42.

4 To be hoſpitable, 1 Tim. 5. 10. 1 Ki. 17. 9.

5 To be charitable to the poor, Act. 9. 36, 39. Mar. 12. 42. Luk. 21. 2. Hence in the Primitive Church they had Widows to look look to the ſick and the poor, Act. 6. 1. How they ought to be qualified, See 1 Tim. 5. 9, 10.

Duties which are to be performed unto them, are either,

I. Generall, reſpecting all men; as,

1 Not to oppreſſe them, Exod. 22.22. Deut. 27. 19. Pſal. 94. 6. Iſa. 10.2. Jerem. 7. 6. & 22. 3. Ezek. 22. 7. Matth. 23. 14. Mar. 12. 40. By taking a pawn from them, Job 24. 10. eſpecially their cloaths, Deut. 24. 17.

2 They are to do good unto them, Deu. 14. 29. & 16. 11. & 24. 19, 20, 21, 22. Luk. 7. 12, 13, 14. eſpecially the Widows of godly men, 2 King. 4. 1. or who themſelves being deſtitute, are godly, 1 Tim. 5. 3, 5, 16.

II. More eſpecially,

1 The duty of Children is to be careſull of them, Ruth 4. 15. 1 Tim. 5. 4, 16. Joh. 19. 26. and to honour them, 1 Ki. 2. 19.

2 Of Friends alſo, to be careſull of them; wherefore it is a great judgement of God, when he not onely deſtroyeth the wicked, but alſo cauſeth that their friends ſhall forſake and neglect them, Jer. 49. 11. comp. with v. 10.

3 Of Miniſters, who ought to be careſul that godly Widows be maintained by the Church, 1 Tim. 5. 3, 4, 16.

4 Of Judges, who ought to protect them. Hence Judges are condemned that wil not hear the cauſe of the Widow, Iſa. 1. 23. Luk. 18. 3, 4, 5. and they are commended who patiently hear the cauſe of the Widow, 2 Sam. 14. 4. 2 King. 8. 3.

Conſidered in reſpect of God, when they are forſaken of men he hath a ſpeciall care of them, Exod. 22. 22, 23, 24. Deut. 10. 18. Pſa. 68. 6. and 146. 9. Yet ſometimes for the ſins of the people the Lord leaveth them, Iſa. 9. 16, 17.

Wiers] Exod. 39. 3. or threds of thoſe plates of gold.

Wife] A marryed woman, or the Church being marryed to Chriſt. Eph. 5. 33. The Husband is the Wives head, as Chriſt is the head of the Church, &c. Here the marryed woman is called a Wife explicitly, or expreſſely; the Church is ſo called implicitly, and by conſequence. 3 One which is a Concubine, not a full or firſt, but half and ſecondary Wife, Gen. 16. 3. compared with Gen. 25. 1. 1 Chro. 6. 32. Keturah is called Abraham's Concubine, who in Gen. 25. 1. is tearmed his Wife.

The uſe of a Wife is to be a help to her Husband, Gen. 2. 18, 20.

This help is in three things.

1. Religion, 1 Pet. 3. 7. Example in Priſcilla and Aquila, Act. 18.

2. In his labours, for a fooliſh woman overthrows her houſe, Prov. 14. 1. but a virtuous woman is a fruitfull vine, Pſal. 128. 1.

3. In his griefs. Ezek. 24. 16. She is the delight of his eyes. Prov. 5. 19. His Hinde, or Roe.

To bear children, 1 Tim. 2. 15. & 5. 14. Prov. 31. 10, 11. To be fruitfull is commended, and a bleſſing of God, Pſal. 128. 3.

The duty of a Wife is either

1. Abſolute: or,

2. Relative.

I. Abſolute. 1 To govern her houſe, 1 Tim. 5. 14. Prov. 31. 10, 11.

2 To flee exceſſe, 1 Tim. 2. 9, 10. 1 Pet. 3. 3, 5.

3 Profeſſe godlineſſe, and exerciſe good works, Ibid.

4 To procure the good of the Church, Eſt. 7. 3, 4. comp. chap. 4. verſ. 8, 13, 14, 15, 16.

II. Relative, in reſpect of her Husband, that ſhe be ſubject to him, Eph. 5. 22, 24. Col. 3. 18. Tit. 2. 5. 1 Pet. 3. 1, 5.

1 In her heart, acknowledging in her minde that her Husband is and ought to be her head and governour, and that ſhe is inferiour to him, as ſhe is a Wife; and this is the fountain of outward ſubjection, without the which it is either forced or diſſembling. Hereunto the Apoſtle hath reſpect. Eph. 5. 33. Let the Wife reverence her Husband.

2 Being careſull to conform her ſelfe unto him in things lawfull and indifferent, 1 Cor. 7. 34.

3 In performing theſe duties, ſhe oweth unto him principally to love him, and be a comfort to him in all eſtates.

To take a Wife] To give or marry one to a Wife, Gen. 21. 21. & 24. 3.

Wilde] It is ſpoken of Men, and it ſignifieth, fierce, headſtrong, not ſubject to Laws, an enemy to all, Gen. 16. 12.

Wilde olive] ſignifieth the Gentiles graffed in Chriſt, Rom. 11. 24.

Wilderneſſe] A waſte and deſert place, not inhabited. Pſal. 95. 8. As in the Wilderneſſe. Pſal. 107. 33, 35. Matthew 15. 33. Whence ſhall we have ſo much bread in the wilderneſſe?

In our Engliſh tongue Wilderneſſe ſignifieth a place where men go wilde, or go aſtray, or wander, as Agar did, Gen. 21. 14. and ſo in Job 12. 24. Pſal. 107. 4, 40. In Hebrew it is called Midbar, as being a place without order, not for men, but for beaſts to be in.

2. A Countrey full of Hils, Mountains, and Forreſts, like to a Wilderneſſe. Matth. 3. 1. He preached in the wilderneſſe of Judea. This Wilderneſſe had ſome Inhabitants; Zachary dwelt there, Luk. 1. 40. Alſo Joab his houſe was there, 1 King. 2. 34. And there are ſix Townes being in this Wilderneſſe, rehearſed in Joſh. 15. 61. Therefore from hence there is no ground for Popiſh Hermites that live in ſolitary places.

3. The Countrey of Heathen and Pagan people, which were voyd of grace, and barren in good works (as a Wilderneſſe.) Iſa. 35. 1. The wilderneſſe ſhall rejoyce, & 41. 18. I will make the wilderneſſe as a pool of water. A Metaphor.

4. A perſon or thing unprofitable and unpleaſant, ſuch as the Jews thought God to be toward them, Jer. 2. 31. but was not ſuch as evill men are, bringing no good to others, but much hurt (like bryers and thorns) and having ill manners, (as wilde beaſts) within them, and receiving as little good from others, Jer. 9. 12. 13. Iſa. 5. 6. Heb. 6. 8.

Wilderneſſe] It is put for great affliction, Hoſ. 2. 3, 14. Ezek. 20. 35. For this world, Cant. 3. 6. & 8. 5. where the Spouſe is ſaid to aſcend out of the deſert; that is, to leave the world, and corruptions thereof, and to ſet the heart upon Chriſt. For a moſt troubleſome and unpleaſant place, Iſa. 40. 3. For a place waſted and deſolate by war, Joel 2. 3. & 3. 19.

Wiles] is taken ſometimes in a good ſenſe, for a witty and diligent prudence, 2 Sam. 14. 2. Prov. 1. 4. & 8. 5, 12. & 12. 16. Mat. 10. 16. Rom. 16. 19. 2 Cor. 12. 16. Gen. 4. 2. Joſh. 8. 4. Judg. 7. 16, 17, 18. 1 King. 3. 25. Act. 23. 6, 7.

2. Sometimes it is taken in evill part, for fraudulent craftyneſſe and guile, which is condemned, Pſal. 15. 3. Prov. 12. 5. 1 Theſ. 4. 6. eſpecially in Miniſters, 2 Cor. 4. 2. In this ſenſe it is attributed to the Devill, Eph. 6. 11. and to Idolaters, Numb. 25. 18.

It is aſcribed unto beaſts, as the Serpent, Gen. 3. 1.

Will] A faculty of mans ſoul, moving and inclining it ſelf freely to chooſe ſuch things as it doth imbrace, or to eſchew freely ſuch things as it doth refuſe.

Or more briefly thus:

Will is that faculty of our ſoul, whereby we will and nill things.

It is of the nature of Will, to will freely whatſoever it wills; for the Will cannot be compell'd. It is unable (till it be changed by grace) to move it ſelf toward God, and to will any good thing pleaſing unto him. Simply to will any thing, is of Nature; but to will well, is of Grace. Our Will being free in reſpect of ſinfull acts, but bound in reſpect of good works, till it be ſet free by Chriſt. Joh. 8. 36. If the Son therefore ſhall make you free, you ſhall be free indeed. Joh. 15. 3. Without me ye can do nothing. Therefore the Popiſh doctrine of Free-will to that which is good, is to be abhorred as contrary to the Scripture, and the doctrine of the Church of God. Aug. Voluntas libera, quia liberata, libera ad peccatum, ſerva ad juſtitiam.

When grace is offered, we may refuſe it, if we will; and if we will, we may receive it. This is Popiſh divinity.

2. Motions and purpoſes to good, or good affections. Phil. 2. 13. God worketh in you the will, and the deed. Theſe be the effects of a renewed Will, 2 Cor. 8. 9. Rom. 7. 15, 16.

3. Wicked deſires and luſts, flowing out of corrupt nature. Eph. 2. 3. In fulfilling the will of the fleſh. Joh. 1. 13. Theſe be the fruits of an unregenerate Will. Metonymie.

4. Naturall inclination of any creature. Rom. 8. 20. Not of its own will.

5. Thoughts and endevour of the heart. Rom. 9. 16. It is not him that willeth.

It is taken for the permiſſion of God, Rom. 1. 10. & 15. 32. Act. 18. 21. If God will; that is, If he permit, 1 Cor. 4, 19. Jam. 4. 15.

Chriſt hath a twofold Will. Divine, Mat. 11. 27. & 23. 37. Luk. 13. 34. and humane, Matth. 26. 39. Mar. 14. 36. & 3. 13.

The Will of the Devil is his pleaſure, 2 Tim. 2. 26.

Will of God] The purpoſe and decree of God touching all things. Epheſ. 1. 11. After the counſell of his will. Rom. 9. 15, 18. Whom he will, he hardeneth. This is the will of his good pleaſure, which is ſecret till events declare it. That which God willeth, 1 Theſſ. 4. 3.

2. The Word of God, promiſing or commanding. Matth. 7. 21. He that doth my Fathers will. Rom. 12. 2. This is his revealed or ſignified Will, which is known by the Word, as our Will is manifeſted by our ſpeech.

3. The preaching of this Word for the converſion of ſinners, Joh. 4. 34.

The Will of God ſignifieth ſometime the power whereby God willeth any thing, Rom. 9. 19. and ſometime the things which he willeth, Rom. 12. 2.

Now

Now theſe things willed of God, have 3 excellent properties.

1 The revealed Will of God is good, becauſe it commands good onely, and makes us good, and leads us to the everlaſting good, even heavenly bleſſedneſſe.

3 It is acceptable, becauſe nothing is pleaſing to God, which is not agreeable to his Will; and that doth highly pleaſe him, which accordeth to his Law and Goſpel.

3 Perfect, becauſe it containeth all things belonging to perfection, ſo as we need neither rules of Philoſophy, nor decrees of Popes, nor traditions of Church, for the ſalvation of our ſouls, and ordering of our lives; the Scripture alone (which is a moſt abſolute witneſſe of Gods Will) is ſufficient to make men perfect toward God, 2 Tim. 3. 16, 17.

Will of God is taken,

1 For the eſſentiall attributes of God, to incline toward ſome thing; this is called Voluntas.

2 For the act of this attribute; that is called Volitio.

3 For the object of that Act, which is called Volitum; yet is called Gods will alſo, 1 Theſſ. 4. 3. Iſa. 62.4. This is diverſe, but is reduced to two ſorts.

Firſt, for himſelf, 4 things.

1 To do good to others.

1 Of Grace.

2 Of Glory.

2 To ſuffer evil of others, not for ever, but for a while; not as if he willed the ſin, but he ſuffers others to do; but that he may either ſhew judgement on the impenitent, or mercy on the penitent.

3 To receive honour of the good.

4 To do juſtice on the wicked.

Secondly, for others.

1 Active, or what his creature ſhould do, which ſurely is not to ſin, 1 Theſſ. 4. 3. Rom. 2. 17.

2 Paſſive, or what man, &c. ſhall have; either grace and glory, as the good; or dereliction and damnation, as the wicked, Joh. 6. 39. 1 Tim. 2. 4. 1 Pet. 3. 9.

To will] To pray, ask, or crave a thing, Mar. 10. 35. Joh. 17. 24. In this place to Will, is (vox non præcipientis, ſed optantis) of one who wiſheth, not of one who commandeth; for Chriſt did in that laſt prayer put on the perſon of an Interceſſour to his Father.

2. To command with authority, Joh. 21. 23. If I will, &c.

3. To deſire, or affect to do ſomething, good or evill, Phil. 2. 13. Joh. 8. 44. The works of your Father ye will doe.

Wilfully] Spoken of ſuch ſins as are committed not of ignorance, or infirmity, but willingly, of ſet purpoſe, out of a hard heart, and of ſet malice; ſuch is the ſin againſt the holy Ghoſt, Heb. 10. 26. and the ſin of murther, mentioned, Exod. 21. 14. Such ſins proceed immediately from the will.

Willing] Which is not forced nor compelled.

It ſignifieth Cheerfull, and ready, 1 Chro. 29. 6, 9. Judg. 5. 2, 9. Matthew 26. 41. Deſirous, Matth. 1. 19. Mar. 15. 15. Luk. 23. 20.

Willingly] It ſignifieth ſometimes Without the help of any, Act. 12. 10.

2. Sometimes Naturally, Mar. 4. 28. Lev. 25. 5. 2 King. 19. 29.

3. It is put for naturall propenſion, Rom. 8. 20.

Willow] delighteth in wateriſh places, Pſal. 137. 2. called the Willow of the brooks, Job 40. 22. Iſa. 15. 7.

The uſe of it is either common, for ſhade, Pſal. 137. 1, 2. Job 40. 17. or holy, Lev. 23. 40.

To grow up as a Willow, is, To proſper, Ezek. 17. 5. and to be in great honour and glory, Iſa. 44. 4.

Will-worſhip] is ſuch a one as is not commanded by God, but invented by men, urged by Impoſtors and falſe Teachers. It is pleaſing to corrupt nature. It is twofold:

1. When the Creature is worſhipped. This is by all condemned.

2. When the true God is worſhipped not after his owne but mans Will. This is praiſed by many, as giving to God his owne, and ſomething more; which is nothing elſe but to go a whoring after our owne inventions, Pſal. 106. 39. It is condemned, Col. 2. 23. & 1 Sam. 15. 23.

Wimples] Iſa. 3. 22. It is rendred a veil, Ruth 3. 15. Some would have it an apron. Annot.

Wind] The moving of the air to and fro, which if it be temperate, it refreſheth with his blaſts; if violent, it proves troubleſome and dangerous. Act. 2. 22. As of a ruſhing and mighty wind. Gen. 3. 8. Mat. 8. 26. He rebuked the winds.

2. The mighty and powerfull working of Gods Spirit, quickning or reviving our hearts to God-ward. Joh. 3. 8. The wind bloweth where it liſteth. Act. 2. 2.

3. The doctrine of the Gospel, and the preaching thereof. Rev. 7. 1. Holding the wind that it should not blow upon the earth.

4. All manner of temptations. Mat. 7. 27. The winds blow, &c.

5. Parts and quarters of the World. Jer. 49. 32. I will scatter them into all winds.

6. Pride or elevation of the minde, Mic. 2. 11.

7. Vain and unconstant opinions and doctrines, Ephes. 4. 14.

[Which are compared to winde.

1. The wind is a subtle body. So these are subtle, but without substance of truth.

2. It is uncertain, now blowing in one corner, now in another, now lowd, now again all hush and silent; so doctrines of error are uncertain, now making a great noyse; suddenly vanishing.

3. The winde carryeth about chaff, down, and stubble, and such light things, but houses well builded stand still: so the doctrine of false Teachers carry unstable persons; but he that is rooted in faith and humility, knowing his misery, and the grace of God in Christ, will not be moved with them.]

8. The sins of men drying up the graces of God in them, and making them like stubble, and so casting them upon the displeasure of God, and driving them from his favour, and it from them, Isa 64 6. Hos. 8. 7.

9. The power of God joyned with his wrath, or God himselfe, as one most able to punish, and withall justly offended with the wicked, who as stubble cannot stand against this winde, Psal. 1. 4. & 68. 2. Isa. 17. 13. & 57. 13.

10. Some judgement of God, or instrument of that judgement sent upon men for their sins, Hos. 13. 15.

11. Ill successe, or the unprofitablenesse of a foolish attempt or wickednesse offered, Isa. 26. 18.

12. A powerfull enemy carrying all before him, Jer. 4. 12. & 49. 36.

13. For Gods Angels, Psal. 104. 4. Heb. 1. 7. Because they are Gods messengers, swift like the winde.

The cause of the wind, is God, he creates it, Amos 4. 13. prepareth it, Jon. 4. 8. appointeth it, Psal. 107. 25. by his power. Bringeth it in, Psal. 78. 26. bringeth it out of his treasure, Psal. 135. 5. governeth it, Exod. 14. 21. Job 38. 24.

The use is, 1. To praise God, Ps. 148. 7. for it is a testimony of the glorious power of God, Ps. 78. 25. and of the presence of God, when he cometh either to bestow his blessings, Gen. 8. 1. Exod. 10. 19. & 14. 21. Numb. 11. 31. Psal. 78. 25. or to punish, Exod 10. 13. Job 1. 19. Jon. 4. 8.

2. To make things grow and prosper, Rev. 7. 1, 3.

3. To cleanse, Jer. 4. 11.

4. To sail, Act. 27. 7.

5. To bring rain, 1 King. 18. 45. 2 King. 3. 17. Prov. 25. 23.

6. To dry up the waters, Gen. 8. 1.

7. To temper heat, Jer 14 6.

To bring forth wind] To be able to doe nothing, to profit nothing by all their owne cares, counsels, and endevours. Isa. 26. 18. We have as it were brought forth wind.

Wind of doctrine] Mens devices, which carry away unstable men, as a boat is carried away with the wind. Eph. 4. 14. With every wind of doctrine.

In the day of the East wind] The time wherein God would sweep away, and root out his enemies, never to be planted again, (as the Jews, which were but removed to be taken up, and planted anew, and to grow again,) Isa. 27. 8. In the day of the East wind. A Metaphor from the violence of the East-winde, which at a certain time bloweth strongly, and beareth all down before it: such would Gods visitation be toward the wicked enemies of his people.

Foure winds] 1. The winds or severall agitations of the air in divers parts of the world.

2. The four severall parts or quarters of the world, Mat. 24. 31.

3. Ministring spirits, or Angels sent of God, (by whose providence all humane affairs be governed, and namely, the affairs of the Church) to stir up such tempests and tumults, as the four beasts (that is, the four Kingdomes here spoken of) should be exagitated and tossed. Dan. 7. 2. I saw four winds of the heaven strive, &c.

To hold the winds] To stop and hinder the passage and course of heavenly doctrine. Rev. 7. 1. Holding the wind that it should not blow upon the earth.

To observe the winds] To invent and make vain and idle excuses to keep us back from doing good to others, till it be too late: as ill Husband-men, which standing foolishly upon the winde and weather, foreslow their season; whereas trusting upon Gods providence, that which is fit to be done, should be performed, Eccles. 12. 14.

To

To sow the wind] To busie and bestir our selves in things that profit not, as Idolaters doe, who must reap according as they sow. Hos. 8. 7. They have sown the wind, or to the wind.

To walk in the wind] To be a rash and unfaithfull Teacher. Mic. 2. 11. If a man walk in the wind.

Winding] Spoken of Stairs, which went up from the bottome to the uppermost story, and so by them they had a passage into all the three stories, 1 King. 6. 8. Annot.

Winding about] Ezek. 41. 7. Went round, marg.

Windows] The clouds; it noteth great plenty of rain, and of other things, accor- to the matter spoken of. See Genes. 7. 11. & 8. 2. Psal. 78. 23. Isa. 25. 18. Malach. 3. 10.

Windows] is the place that letteth in light to a house, Gen. 8. 6. 1 King. 6. 4. & 7. 4.

Sometimes is put for the whole house, Isa. 60. 8.

2. For the Gospel, giving light to the Ceremonies. Enoch Clapham on Cant. 2. 9.

3. For the clouds, Gen 7. 11.

4. For the eyes, Eccl. 12. 3.

To come up into the windows] signifieth,

1. To come with violence irresistible, Jer. 9. 21.

2. With privacy, and secrecy, Joel 2. 9.

The opening of the windows of heaven] signifieth Abundance,

1. Of rain, Gen. 7. 11.

3. Of food, 2 King. 7. 2.

3. Of Gods blessings, Mal. 3. 10.

4. Of judgements, Isa. 24. 18. So a window is said to be opened to sin, when sin goeth unpunished.

To stop the windows of heaven] is, To cause the rain to cease, Gen. 8. 2.

Wine] The fruit of the Vine, or the juyce of the grapes. 1 Tim. 5. 23. Drink a little wine for thy stomach. Matth. 26. 29. I will not drink henceforth of the fruit of this Vine.

2. The commodities and necessary relief of mans life, Isa. 24. 7, 8.

3. Sacramentall wine, or wine materially like naturall wine, but in consecration, destination, institution and signification, it is a Sacrament, Matth. 26. 29. Mar. 14 24, 25.

4. The blood of Christ shed to death, rejoycing the faithfull soul, as the wine doth the heart. Matth. 26. 28. For this wine is the blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many. See Mar. 14. 24, 25. A Metonymie.

4. The comfortable doctrine of free salvation, by faith in the blood-shed of Christ. Cant. 2. 4. He brought me into the cellar of wine. A Metaphor.

5. The graces and fruits of the Spirit, which are sweet and delightful as wine. Isa. 55. 1. Come buy wine and milk without money. A Metaphor.

6. Gluttony, or excesse in eating and drinking. Hos. 4. 11. Wine taketh away the heart of man. Here it is taken in ill part.

7. Sleep, caused by drinking too much wine, Gen. 9. 24.

8. Ungodly and unrighteous works, as the bitter fruit of impenitent and obstinate sinners. Deut. 32. 33. Their wine is the poyson of Dragons, and the cruell gall of Asps. It is also taken in ill part here.

9. It is put for the fury of oppressors, Jer. 51. 7.

Corn and Wine] These two are the stay and comfort of mans life, Gen. 27. 28. Psa. 104. 5. and they signifie heavenly blessings that God sends upon his people, Ps. 65. 10. 14. Zach. 9. 17.

Wine mixed with water] The chief Rulers and Governours of the people, to have been corrupted and perverted. Isa. 1. 22. Thy wine is mixed with water.

Wine mourneth] The commodities, pleasures, and joys of the Land to be taken away; private griefs to abound, and publick merriments to cease. Isa. 24. 7, 8. Wine mourneth, &c.

Wine of violence] Wine gotten by oppression and extremity, or violence. Pr. 4. 17. And they drink the wine of violence.

Wine of whoredome] signifieth Idolatry, Rev. 7. 2. & 14. 8. & 18. 3. Because it is spirituall drunkennesse; for as wine is sweet, and taketh away the minde, being immoderately taken: so is Idolatry, pleasing unto corrupt nature, and men run a madding after it, which depriveth them of a sound minde.

Note. That Wine is not put for Idolatry, but with an adjunct; as, the wine of fornication, in the places before cited.

To drink wine] To fare liberally. Job 1. 13. Were eating and drinking wine in their elder Brothers house. Here it is used in good part.

2. To have the heart cheared with godly joy. Zach. 7. 10. Their hearts shall rejoyce as one that drinketh wine. Here also it is taken in good part.

3. To

3. To play the glutton and drunkard. Iſa. 5. 22. Woe be to them that are mighty to drink wine. Here it is taken in ill part.

To drink the wine of giddineſſe] To trouble and aſtoniſh the minde, (as men are troubled with exceſſive drinking of new wine.) Pſal. 60. 3. Thou haſt made us drink of the wine of giddineſſe.

Not to be drunken with wine] That men ought not to abuſe ſo good a thing as wine is, by taking it immoderately, till it cauſe diſſoluteneſſe of life and manners, full of filthyneſſe. Epheſ. 5. 18. Be not drunken with wine. Unto bodily drunkenneſſe by too great abundance of wine, there is here oppoſed a ſpirituall drunkenneſſe, or repletion (Be filled with the Spirit) which breedeth inward ſpirituall joy, teſtified in the private and publick prayſes of God, by Pſalms, Hymnes, and ſpirituall Songs, Eph. 5. 19.

Given to wine] One which ſitteth by the Wine, and is not eaſily pulled from it, 1 Tim. 3. 3. Tit. 1. 7. An immoderate drinker of Wine. In Tit. 2. 3. the word there ſignifies (in the Originall) Servant to wine, or Cup-ſlaves, bond men of drunkenneſſe.

To be brought into the houſe of Wine] is, To be made a member of the Church, Cant. 2. 4.

Red with wine] Plenty of fruits, Gen. 49. 11. for the drinking of much wine maketh red eyes, Prov. 23. 29, 30. Alſo the plenty of ſpirituall gifts by Chriſt is meant, Prov. 9. 1, 2. Iſa. 25. 6. 55. 1.

Wine-preſſe] An inſtrument to preſſe the wine out of the grapes, Judg. 7. 25. Hag. 2. 16. It is uſed to be in the vineyard, Iſa. 5. 1. Mat. 21. 23. It is ſaid to be ful, Joel 3. 13. to ſignifie the ripeneſſe of ſin, and that God will come to puniſh.

It is put for the affliction of the Church, Lam. 1. 5 and the Paſſion of Chriſt, Iſa. 63. 2.

Wing] That part of a Bird wherewith it flyeth, and under which it hideth her young. Mat. 23. 37. As a Hen gathered her young under her wings.

2. The protection of Almighty God, under which his people be (as it were) hid and kept ſafe. Pſal. 91. 14. He will cover thee under his wing. Pſal. 17. 8. Hide mè under the ſhadow of thy wings. Ruth 2. 12. Under whoſe wings thou art come to truſt.

3. The great readineſſe of the Angels, performing the Will of God with all ſpeed and celerity. Iſa. 6. 2. Every one had ſix wings.

4. The defence which Princes, Rulers, Magiſtrates and Husbands, &c. do afford unto their inferiours. Ruth 3. 9. Spread the wing of thy garment over thine handmaid.

5. The glorious hopes of the Saints in earth, is like ſilver wings; and their love of God, and zeal of his glory, like feathers of gold, Pſal. 68. 13.

6. Great Armies, Dan. 9. 27. Iſa. 8. 8. Jer. 48. 40, 41. & 49. 22. In which places to ſpread the wing upon a City or Countrey, is ſpoken of enemies violently breaking in upon, and ſubduing them wholly unto themſelves. So Nebuchadnezzar is compared to the wings of a great Eagle, becauſe of his numerous and powerfull Armies, Ezek. 17. 7.

The means of the Churches eſcape from danger, Rev. 12. 14 becauſe, as the Bird by the wings flyeth ſwiftly from danger, and ſaveth the life: ſo the Lord by theſe means foreſeen and appointed by himſelf, worketh a ſwift eſcape, and ſpeedy ſafety in the preſent perils of his Church.

2. As the Bird hideth her young under her wings, Mat. 23. 37. So by and under theſe means the Lord hideth his Church, as under the wings of his providence, where ſhe lyeth ſafe till the danger be over, Pſal. 91. 8.

Eagles wings] See Eagles.

Wings of a great Eagle are given to the Church, Rev. 12. 14.

1. To expreſſe the love of God; for as the Eagle out of love to her young ones, fluttereth, and ſteereth them out of the neſt, as to a ſafer place, when ſhe feareth danger: ſo the Lord for the love of his Church, in danger, urgeth her out of her reſt, and leads her into a ſafer place in the Wilderneſſe; as Chriſt of Judea, and Iſrael out of Ægypt.

2. As the Eagle, having gotten her young ones forth, when they begin to fly, ſupports them, leſt they ſhould fall: ſo the Lord ſupports his Church in her danger, from falling, carefully ſeeing to her that ſhe take no hurt, Deut. 32. 11. Pſal. 37. 24.

3. As an Eagle hath ſtrong wings, agil and able to carry her in a ſtrong flight, far from danger: ſo the Lord in the needs of his Church provides ſome great and powerfull means, and by them ſets his Church beyond all reach of danger and hurt.

4. As the Eagle flyeth aloft in the air, beyond all ſight of men: ſo the Lord draweth his Church neer unto him, from out of the ſight of men; and the neerer him, the further from danger. Taylor on Rev. 12. 14.

Health

Healthy in his wings] That Christ with his justice clothing and covering his elect, should perfectly heal their sins, which are spirituall diseases. Mal. 4.2. With health in his wings.

To pluck wings] To take away and spoil the Babylonish Kingdome of all ornaments, regions, and riches; which was done by Darius and Cyrus, as Jeremy foretold, chap. 50. vers. 21, &c. and Daniel saw in a vision. Chap. 7. vers. 4. I beheld till the wings were pluckt off.

To take wings] Speedily and suddenly to depart and fly away. Prov. 23.5. Riches take unto them wings. Prosopopeia.

To walk upon the wings of the wind] To use great celerity and speed in executing his works of judgement and mercy. Psal. 104.3. He walketh upon the wings of the wind. Psalm 18.10. He came flying upon the wings of the wind.

Winks with the eye] 1. A signe of pride and wantonnesse, Isa. 3. 16.

2. Of wickednesse, Prov. 6. 13. & 10.10.

3. Of mocking, Psal. 35. 19.

It is applyed to God, and then it signifieth his not taking notice of, his patience and long-suffering, Act. 17.30.

It is likewise in Scripture a note of soliciting others unto wickednesse, Prov. 10.10.

To winne] To gain, or to get worldly things by our labour. Mat. 16.26. What shall it profit a man, though he winne the whole world, and lose his soul?

To gain a soul to God. 1 Cor. 9.22. That I may win the weak. 1 Pet. 3.1.

To gain Christ, who is all in all, Phil. 3.8.

Winnow] To clean corn, Ruth 3.2. Isa. 30. 24. To be tempted of Satan, Luk. 22.31.

Winter] That cold part of the yeer between Harvest and the Spring. It signifieth generally evil weather, Prov. 20.4.

It is put for the threatnings of the Law; for what Winter is to the fruits of the earth, that is the Law to carnall men. Clapham Cant. 2.11. Or our condition before conversion. Gifford upon the place.

Wipe] To purge from sin and misery, Ezek. 16. 9. To dissemble, Prov. 30.20. To destroy, 2 King. 21.13. To renounce fellowship and communion, Luk. 10.11. To forget, Nh. 13. 14.

To wipe all teares] To deliver perfectly and fully from tears, and all sins, sorrows, and miseries, the cause of tears. Revelat. 21.5. I will wipe tears from your eyes.

Wise] One prudent and circumspect, who can fore-cast dangers and evils to prevent them. Mat. 10.16. Be wise as Serpents.

2. Every godly person which feareth God, and obeyeth his Word. Prov. 10. 1. A wise Son maketh a glad Father. & 9. 9, 10. Give admonition to the wise. Eph. 5. 15. Prov. 17.10.

There be three sorts of wise men.

1. Such as of themselves see what is right, and can follow it.

2. Such as swerve through weaknesse, yet can direct themselves in the way.

3. They who can hearken to good counsell.

4. One which swelleth, and is puft up with opinion of wisdome. 2 Cor. 11.19. Because that ye are wise. An Ironie. Isa. 5.21. Pro. 3.7. Rom. 12.16.

5. Astronomers and Priests of the Persians. Mat. 2.1. There came wise men from the East; that is, such as were learned in the Sciences of this world, Rom. 14.

6. One subtle and crafty. Exod. 1. 10. Let us work wisely. 2 Sam. 14. 2. And brought thence a wise woman, and said to her.

7. A cunning Artificer. Exod. 28. 3. & 35. 10. And all the wise hearted among you shall come.

8. Sorcerers and Magicians. Exod. 7. 11. Pharaoh called forth the wise men. Gen. 41.8.

The learned of all Nations were called wise men, even among the Jews, Matth. 23. 34. Among the Greeks they were called Lovers of wisdome.

Wise to that which is good] One furnished with knowledge and wisdome, to imbrace good, and eschew evil, to bewray and beware the deceit, both of sin and of false Prophets. Rom. 16. 29. I would have you wise to that which is good.

To be wise for thy self] To apply thy wisdome for thine owne good and benefit. Prov. 9. 12. Thou shalt be wise for thy self; that is to say, make use of thy Wisdome: not for others onely, but the right direction of thine owne wayes.

Wise of salvation] A true beleever, who by the eye of faith doth behold and know Jesus to be the Christ, and his owne Saviour. 2 Tim. 3. 15. Which is able to make thee wise to salvation through faith.

To be wise according to sobriety] To think of our selves and our gifts modestly, not using our gifts proudly with disdain of others, but humbly, considering whence we have our gifts, to what end, on condition of giving an account of them, and with great imperfections. Rom. 12. 3. Be wise (or understand) unto sobriety. The word, Wisdome or Understanding, doth import here both both the knowledge of Universals in things Humane and Divine, what is true and good in them; and that discretion which is about particulars, as to choose what is best and fittest for time, place, persons, and other circumstances. Paul would have all tempered with humility and lowly conceit of our selves, without any over-weaning opinion, as though we saw all things, and knew more then indeed we doe.

Note further, that these words Wisdome and Wise) are in Scripture often used properly for that prudence and discretion, which is a grace of the Spirit, and a part of Gods Image, helping men to discern things, and to guide their actions circumspectly; but sometime they are taken improperly for craft and wilinesse; also for vain opinion of wisdome, for carnall and worldly understanding, as Rom. 8.7. & 12.16. 1 Cor. 3.19. 1 Cor. 17.26,27. Likewise the word foolishnesse is taken properly, and in ill part, for a want and deprivation of true godly wisdom, and sometime that is called foolishnes which men account so, 1 Cor. 1.25,27. This is the manner of holy Scripture, not seldome to speak of things as they seem to be, and are esteemed of men, and not as they are indeed. Thus the fruitlesse knowledge of hypocrisie is by St. James called Faith, ch.2. 14. And Christ calleth such righteous, as were so reputed onely, as in Luk.15.

Wise steward] A Minister of Christ, having skill to fit and give every one within his charge, his due portion of food agreeable to his strength and age; milk to whom milk, and strong meat to whom strong meat belongs. Luk.12.42. Who is a faithfull steward, and wise?

Wisdome] The Divine essence, beholding and infinitely knowing himselfe and all things else, which he most wisely disposeth, being Authour of wisdome in all others. Psal. 145. 5. His wisdome is infinite. 1 Tim. 1.16. To God onely wise.

2. Christ Jesus (as God) by whom the counsell of God touching mans salvation, is declared. Prov. 8.12. I am wisdome.

3. The most perfect knowledge, which Christ (as Man) hath of the will of his Father, imputed to the faithfull, to cover their ignorance of God. 1 Cor. 1.30. He is made unto us of God wisdome.

4. The Scriptures or Word of God written, which are called Wisdome, because they teach true Wisdome, and lead us to God, the Fountaine of true Wisdome. Luk. ch. 11. 49. Therefore said the wisdome of God, I will send them Prophets.

5. The knowledge of faith, whereby the elect see and behold God to be their Father in Christ. This is the chief Wisdome. Eph. 1.8. He hath abounded towards us in all wisdome. 2 Tim. 3.15.

6. The doctrine of the Gospel. 1 Cor. 2. 6,7. We speak the wisdome of God in a mystery.

7. The sound understanding and knowledge of the Word, to make men wise to salvation, Psal. 19.7. 2 Tim. 3.14. Prov. 4.5,7. Get wisdome, get understanding. Prov. 14.6. A scorner seeks wisdome, and findeth it not. Also the understanding of that particular truth, concerning the suffering of afflictions, wherefore they be sent, and what fruit is to be taken by them, Jam. 1.5.

8. The godlinesse or the sincere fear of God, wherein consists a great part of wisdome. Prov. 10. 21. The fooles shall die for want of wisdom. Also vers. 13. 23. Prov. 1.7. Fools despise wisdome. Psal.90.13. We may apply our hearts to wisdome.

9. Prudence and discretion, enabling men to perceive what is fit to be done, according to the circumstances of time, place, persons, manners, and end of doing. Eccl. 2. 13, 14. I saw that there is profit in wisdome, for the wise mans eyes are in his head. Knowledge directs us to see what is to be done, and what not to be done; but Wisdome directs us how to do things duely, conveniently, and fitly; Knowledge is of generals, Wisdome of particulars.

10. That gift whereby a publick person, Prince, or Counsellour, is enabled to advise soundly and readily, of matters of State and Common-wealth. 1 King. 3. 28. And they saw the wisdome of God was in him to do justice. Prov. 21.30. There is no wisdome, nor understanding, nor counsell against the Lord. Achitophel had this kinde of wisdome as well as Solomon State-wisdome or policy.

11. Humane learning, or skill of profane Arts and Sciences. Act. 7. 22. Learned in all the wisdome of the Ægyptians. This Wisdome also is common both to good and bad.

12. Humane perswasions, 1 Cor. 1.12.

13. Affection, lust, desire, or study. Rom. 8.6. Wisdome of the flesh is death; that is, lust of sin leadeth to death.

Wisdome, Sanctification, Redemption] Things inherent in the faithfull, by the gift of God in Christ; namely the true knowledge of God, holy behaviour, and freedome from all miseries of body and soul, to everlasting blessednesse; as Justification or righteousnesse teouſneſſe in our perfect juſtice before God without us, being inherent in the perſon of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 1.30.

Wiſdome which is from above] Heavenly prudence which cometh from God (not of the world or Satan) and is known and expreſſed by theſe properties:

1. Pure, not mixt with temerity and malice.

2. Peaceable, ſtudious of concord, and making it between others.

3. Gentle, not bitter and ſowre, but facile and courteous.

4. Eaſie to be intreated, and to be obſequious to the honeſt command or requeſt of others.

5. Full of mercy, not fierce, cruell, and rigorous, but pitifull towards the infirmities of others.

6. Full of good works, doing much good out of a zeal of Gods glory, and charity toward men.

7. Without partiality, not putting ſuch difference between perſons as is contrary to the faith of Chriſt.

Laſtly, without hypocriſie, unfaignedly, in a godly ſimplicity, loving God and the Brethren.

In all wiſdome] In all ſorts and kindes of heavenly wiſdome. Eph. 1. 8. He hath abounded (that is, abundantly ſhed his grace on us) toward us in all wiſdome. Celeſtiall and divine wiſdome is divers and manifold, 1 Cor. 13. 2. Alſo the myſteries of the Kingdome are many and ſundry, 1 Tim. 3. 16.

Earthly wiſdome] Such wiſdome as earthly minded men have, when they learn not from God, but from the devil. Jam. 3. 15. This wiſdome deſcends not from above, but is earthly, ſenſuall, and deviliſh.

Wiſdome of the fleſh] Such wiſdome as unregenerate men are endued withall, whoſe wit and reaſon, as well as their will and affections, ſavours onely of earthly things. Rom. 8. 6, 7. The wiſdome of the fleſh is death.

Wiſdome faileth a fool by the way] That he cannot hide his folly, but by ſpeech, countenance, geſture, and in any other ſignes, even in the ſtreets, and as he travelleth, doth bewray it, Eccl. 10. 3.

Wiſdome of God] Singular and excellent wiſdome. 1 King. 3. 28. The wiſdome of God was in them.

Hid wiſdome] The Goſpel which is hid from all naturall men. 1 Cor. 2. 7. We ſpeak the hid wiſdome.

Meekneſſe of wiſdome] Such wiſdome as maketh meek and is joyned with meekneſſe. Jam. 3. 13. Let him ſhew his works, with meekneſſe of wiſdome.

To ſeek after wiſdome] To look for, and hang upon reaſons and arguments, ſuch as humane wiſdome do afford, to perſwade us of the truth of the Goſpel, which we ought to beleeve ſimply becauſe of God, which ſpeaks it without argumentation, or humane perſwaſion. 1 Cor. 1. 22. The Greeks ſeek after wiſdome.

To ſit in the ſeat of wiſdome] To be a chief Counſellour of eſtate unto any King. 2 Sam. 23. 8. He that ſate in the ſeat of wiſdome.

Spirit of wiſdome] That lively faith, whereby we embrace Chriſt, offered in the Goſpel, by the gift and working of the Spirit. Epheſ. 1. 17. Might give unto you the Spirit of wiſdome; that is, of true and lively faith, which maketh wiſe to ſalvation.

2. Great cunning and skill to do the work of the Tabernacle, through the gift of Gods Spirit. Exod. 28. 3. Whom I have filled with the Spirit of wiſdome.

Wiſdome and ſtrength is mine] Chriſt (the wiſdome of God) to be moſt prudent in taking counſell, and moſt mighty in effecting and performing his moſt wiſe device. Prov. 8. 14. Wiſdome and ſtrength is mine.

Treaſures of wiſdome] Exceeding great plenty and ſtore of heavenly and divine knowledge. Col. 3. 1. In whom are hid all the treaſures of wiſdome and knowledge.

Wiſdome of words] Affected eloquence, or pompous and painted ſpeech, whereby carnal men uſe to ſhew forth their carnall wiſdome. 1 Cor. 1. 17. Not with wiſdome of words. 1 Cor. 1. 2, 4. Excellency of words, and words of mans wiſdome.

Wiſdome of the world] Such underſtanding of divine things as men may attain to, by virtue of naturall wit, without revelation of the Spirit. 1 Cor. 2. 6. We ſpeak not the wiſdome of this world; that is, the knowledge of things pertaining unto this world.

Wiſe-hearted] Exod. 28. 3. Skilful Artificers. Annot.

Wiſely] Exod. 1. 10. Subtilly, as in Act. 7. 19. Politickly, 2 Chr. 11. 23. Learnedly, expertly, cunningly, Pſal. 58. 5. Prudently, Pſal. 64. 9. Underſtandingly, deliberately, Pro. 16. 20. Wittily, Luk. 16. 8.

To wiſh] To deſire and long for, Act. 27. 29. Job 29. 2. Act. 29. 26. To pray for,

3 Joh.

3 Joh. 1. To curſe, Pſal. 109. 17. To ask, 2 Sam. 19.38.

Wiſt] being joyned with Not, ſignifieth Not to perceive, know, take notice of.

With] 1 ſignifieth the cauſe or help of a matter, and is as much as By, Matth. 3. 11. Joh. 19. 24.

2. The company or fellowſhip of one thing with another, and is as Together, Joh. 18. 1. & 17. 14. 2 Cor. 13. 13. Gen. 5. 24. Joh. 1. 6.

3. The object or part, or party whereto a thing is given or directed, and is as much as to ſay, Unto, Rom. 8. 16.

4. The likeneſſe of one thing with another, Pſal. 37. 20.

Wits] Pſal. 107. 27. Are at their wits end. All their wiſdome is ſwallowed up. Aynſw.

A Witch] One which conjectureth by the clouds at things to come, giving too much to obſervation of times and dayes. Lev. 19. 26. Ye ſhall uſe no witchcraft, nor obſerve times.

2. One that exerciſeth deviliſh Arts, ſuch as be named in Deut. 18. 10. Levit. 19. 26. Exod. 22. 18. Thou ſhalt not ſuffer a Witch to live.

Moſes mentioned a Witch (though he mean all Soothſayers,) firſt, becauſe women through weakneſſe of their ſex, are moſt prone to theſe wicked Arts. Secondly, to ſhew that Magicians are ſuch execrable offenders, as God will not ſpare, no not the weakeſt.

Witch] Not to be ſought unto, Lev. 20. 27. 1 Chr. 10. 13. For,

1. It is to have commerce with the devil.

2. It is a ſigne of one in a woſull eſtate: He is,

1 An unbeliever; if the Word had prevailed to heal his infidelity, he would not ſeek to Witches, faith makes no haſte.

2 He is one that rejects the Word; therefore God gives him over to open contempt of him, as Pharaoh and Saul.

3 He is one whoſe ſin and judgement is ripe; as in Saul, Pharaoh, and Manaſſes.

4 The help that is gotten from them is not comparable to the hurt. The devil ſeldome cures the body, but he kils the ſoul.

5 Never did one religious man in Scripture ſeek to them. Taylor on Revel. 12. p. 507, 508.

Witch craft] Condemned, Exod. 22. 18. Lev. 20. 27. A work of the fleſh, Gal. 5. 20. Threatned by God, Mal. 3. 5.

It is put for deceitfull, 2 King. 9. 22. Nah. 3. 4. Iſa. 57. 3. for idolatry and ſuperſtition, Rev. 18. 23.

Withdraw] 1. To leave off, 1 Sam. 14. 19. Job 9. 13.

2. To take off, Job 13. 21.

3. To divert, and put off, Job 33. 17.

4. To forbear company, Prov. 25. 17.

5. To be darkened, Joel 2. 10.

6. To perſwade, Deut. 13. 13.

7. To abſent, Cant. 5. 6. Hoſ. 5. 6.

Wither] To dry up, to fall away, and decay, Pſal. 1. 3. & 37. 2. Periſh, Iſa. 19. 6, 7. & 15. 6. To be grievouſly afflicted, Pſal. 102. 10. Joel 1. 12.

To decay in grace, 1. In judgement, in falling from the truth once received; as Demas and the Galatians, chap. 1. 6. Hymeneus and Philetus, 2 Tim. 2. 18.

2. In affection, falling from the firſt-love, and the zeal of Gods worſhip once profeſſed, Rev. 2. 4.

3. In practiſe. Gal. 5. 7. They run well. But ſome thing letted them, and caſt them back.

4. In practiſe; neglecting the means which ſhould preſerve their gifts and greenneſſe; as, the Word, Sacraments, and Prayer.

It is dangerous: 1. In reſpect of God, unto whom they are moſt hatefull; ſtyled therefore Dogs and Swine, 2 Pet. 2. 20.

2. In reſpect of the Church, they bring ſcandall to the weak, and the ſcorn of the wicked upon themſelves and all profeſſors; they wound the hearts of Gods children, who by them are made vile to the world.

3. In reſpect of the ſin it ſelfe, relapſes are more dangerous then the firſt diſeaſes: Satan comes with ſeaven more ſpirits worſe then himſelf.

4. In reſpect of the judgement that overtakes this ſin, Mat. 7. 27. & 25. 28.

Withs] Green withs, Judg. 16. 7. Heb. moiſt, or with new cords. Annot.

Withhold] To be ſparing and covetous, Prov. 11. 24. To hinder, Gen. 20. 6. To deprive, Gen. 30. 2. Prov. 23. 13. To deny, Job 31. 16. To abſtain, Prov. 3. 27. To contain from ſpeaking, Job 4. 2. To keep back, Pſal. 40. 11. To be darkened, Job 38. 15.

Within] Properly, 1 King. 6. 30.

2. From the heart, Mar. 7. 21, 23. In the heart, Mat. 23. 25, 26, 27. To be a member of the Church, 1 Cor. 5. 12. In the minde and conſcience, 2 Cor. 7. 5.

Without] 1. The ſituation of a place or thing in reſpect of place, Mat. 26. 69. 1 Cor. 5. 12, 13.

2. The

2. The want of help or means to doe a thing, Joh. 15. 5. Luk. 22. 35.

3. Freedome or deliverance from ſome evill, 1 Cor. 7. 32. Eph. 5. 27.

4. Solitarineſſe or lack of ſome perſon whoſe company we deſire.

Without] 1. Applyed to a place, 1 King. 7. 9. Mar. 3. 31, 32.

2. It ſignifieth to be a ſtranger, Deut. 25. 5. To be free from, Joh. 8. 7. To be a ſtranger unto Chriſt, Mar. 4. 11. To be ſhut out of heaven, Luk. 13. 25. Not to be within the viſible Church, 1 Cor. 5. 12, 13. For outward, 2 Cor. 7. 5. To want, 2 Chr. 2. 30, 32. & 15. 3. Deſolate, Iſa. 5. 9. Jer. 4. 7. Empty, 2 Pet. 2. 17.

Without repentance] See Gifts & Repentance.

Without Father or Mother] Heb. 7. 3. See Father, and Melchiſedech.

Without works] Rom. 4. 6. See One Faith.

To withſtand] To reprove Peter for his hypocriſie, Gal. 2. 11.

Withſtand] To reſiſt, oppoſe, not to ſubmit to God, Job 9. 4. To overcome and prevail, Eccleſ. 4. 8. Jam. 4. 6. 2 Chro. 20. 12. Dan. 8. 4, 7. & 11. 16. Luk. 15. 21. To reprove, Gal. 2. 11. To contradict and hinder, 2 Tim. 4. 15.

Witneſſe] One called to teſtifie a truth in any matter, 1 Joh. 5. 8, 9. Joh. 8. 18. I bear witneſſe of my ſelf. One witneſſe was allowed ſufficient in cauſe of Religion, Deut. 19. 16, 17. Two were required in Civil caſes, Deut. 19. 15.

2. The true record and teſtimony that God beareth of Chriſt, and Chriſt of himſelf. 1 Joh. 5. 9. This is the witneſſe of God which he teſtified of his Son. Joh. 8. 14, 18.

3. The record which Gods Spirit and a ſanctified Conſcience do bear to the godly, of their owne adoption. Rom. 8. 16. The ſame Spirit it bears witneſſe with our ſpirit, that we are the Sons of God.

The true Miniſters of God, who by their doctrine, lives, and deaths, do bear witneſſe unto the doctrine of Chriſt. Joh. 15. 27. Ye ſhall bear witneſſe alſo. Rev. 11. 3.

Witneſſe] is put for the judgements of God, Job 10. 17. & 16. 8. Sometimes for a ſigne of a Covenant between men, Gen. 31. 48. 52.

Eye-witneſſe] is certain of the thing he doth witneſſe, and is commended, Job 15. 17. Luk. 1. 2. Joh. 3. 11. So the Ear-witneſſe, Prov. 21. 28.

To witneſſe againſt one] So to bear evidence againſt their ſin before God, the Supreme Judge, as there needed no other witneſſe to convict them of extreme wickedneſſe, but their impudent countenance. Iſa. 3. 9. The ſhew of their countenance witneſſeth againſt them.

To witneſſe againſt ones ſelf] is ſpoken of thoſe who have willingly bound themſelves to the performance of a thing, and do promiſe the doing thereof, do acknowledge themſelves worthy of great puniſhment, if they perform it not. Thus Joſhua took the Iſraelites to witneſſe that they had choſen the Lord to be their God, Joſh. 24. 22.

Falſe witneſſe] One, who in the record and witneſſe which he bears, doth utter lies, or conceals a neceſſary truth. Prov. 14. 5. But a falſe witneſſe will ſpeak lyes. Prov. 12. 17. But a falſe witneſſe ſpeaketh deceit.

2. One which wreſteth the words ſpoken by another man, unto a contrary meaning. Matth. 26. 60, 61. At the laſt came two witneſſes.

Faithfull witneſſe] One which plainly and ſincerely doth utter the whole needfull truth, eſchewing deceit and falſhood. Prov. 14. 5. A faithfull witneſſe will not lie. This is a Civil witneſſe.

2. Chriſt Jeſus, who beareth a true teſtimony of his Fathers will. Rev. 3. 14. The faithfull and true witneſſe. This is a Divine witneſſe.

3. Meet men of ſufficient authority to bear teſtimony unto the name which Iſaiah the Prophet ſhould give to his young Son, and of the cauſe why ſuch a name was impoſed. Iſa. 8. 2. And I took unto me faithfull witneſſes.

It was the manner of the Jews to impoſe names upon Children at the Circumciſion, as we doe now at our Baptiſme; and an ancient cuſtome it hath been, namely, in times of perſecution (ſuch as Iſaiah was like to fall into, when the Aſſyrians ſhould come and ſpoyl both Iſraelites, Syrians, or Aramites, whereof read in 2 King. 16. 9.) to uſe witneſſes of their acceſſe to the Church, of Baptiſme, and of their name then given. Such were called of Latins, Compatres & Commatres, of Greeks Enguetai, in Engliſh Suretics, Godfathers, &c.

4. The Sun, and all other the lights of heaven, Pſal. 89. 37. And this name is given them, becauſe they do truely witneſſe and declare to the world the wiſdome, power, goodneſſe and righteouſneſſe of God, Pſal. 19. 1, 2, 3, 4. & 97. 6.

To be witneſs of a thing] is, To have experience, to be partaker of the thing witneſſed, 1 Pet. 5. 1. Peter is ſaid to be a witneſſe of the ſufferings of Chriſt; becauſe he ſuffered for the Name of Chriſt, and was preſent alſo where Chriſt ſuffered.

When God is ſaid to be a witneſſe of ſin privately committed; it ſignifieth that not onely he is privy to them, but alſo that he will puniſh them, Jer. 29. 23. Mic. 1. 2. and that ſuddenly, Mal. 3. 5.

Thus he is a witneſſe between Covenanters, to puniſh the breach thereof; between the Husband and the Wife, to puniſh the offender, Mal. 2. 14.

Senſeleſſe and unreaſonable creatures are cited for witneſſes, to argue the ſtupidity and hardneſſe of mens heart, who ſtop their ears at the admonitions and reproofs of God.

Witty] Pro. 8. 12. that is, Skilfull.

Wittingly] Gen. 48. 14. Guiding his hands wittingly, that is, prudently, wiſely; the Greek tranſlateth, changing hands. Aynſworth. Heb. making his hands to underſtand; feeling with his hands which was the ſuller and bigger, &c. Annot.

Wizard] (Deut. 18. 11.) is the ſame with the Diviner, who taketh upon him to foretel things to come, without any ground of reaſon, or divine revelation. Annot. Cunning or skilfull, ſo named of their knowledge which they pretend to have. Aynſworth on Lev. 19. 31. In Hebr. Jidgnoni, ſo named of his knowledge or cunning; and ſo the Greek Verſion in other places calleth him Gnoſtes, of knowledge, a Prognoſticator: But here in Deut. 18. 11. Teratoſcopos, he that obſerveth wonders. The Chald. giveth him a name of remembrance, Zecuru. The Hebrews deſcribe him thus, that he put in his mouth the bone of a bird called Judvangh, and burned incenſe, and did other works, untill he fell down as with ſhame (or modeſty) and ſpake with his mouth things that were to come to paſſe. Aynſworth on Deut. 18. 11. Wizards, or cunning men, as ſome call them; the word is not amiſſe ſo rendred. For it comes of a word that ſignifies to know, to have skill, or cunning, 1 Sam. 16. 16. Iſa. 29. 11, 12. They were ſo termed, becauſe they pretended much skill and cunning in diſcloſing of hidden matters, and foretelling future events. This with the former that have familiar ſpirits, are found commonly joyned together in Scripture, as well in Hiſtoricall relations, as in Legal prohibitions, Lev. 19. 31. & 20. 27. Deut. 18. 11. 1 Sam. 28. 3, 9. 2 King. 21. 10. & 23. 24. 2 Chr. 33. 6. Annot. on Iſa. 8. 19.

W O.

Woe] The threatning or denouncing of Judgements. Ezek. 2. 10. There was a woe written therein.

2. The judgements threatned, either temporall or eternall. Mat. 23. 23, 25. Woe unto you Scribes and Phariſees, hypocrites. 1 Cor. 9. 16. Woe to me, if I preach not. Jude v. 11.

3. Sorrow of heart in regard of ſome ſin committed, and judgement deſerved. Lam. 5. 16. Woe now unto us that we have ſinned.

Woefull day] A time of calamity and ſorrow, Jer. 17. 16.

Wolfe] A cruell and ſavage beaſt, delighting in ſlaughter, blood, and devouring.

2. Unregenerate men, which be of a fierce and crnel diſpoſition, like Wolves. Iſa. 11. 9. The Wolfe and the Lambe ſhall feed together. Alſo ch. 65. 25.

3. A falſe Prophet or hereticall Teacher, which with his errors and lies, ſeeks greedily how to deſtroy ſouls. Act. 20. 9. Wolves ſhall come in among you.

4. A valiant and terrible Captain, marching and dividing his prey among his Souldiers, as a Wolfe amongſt his Whelps and young ones. Gen. 49. 27. Benjamin is a ravening Wolfe.

5. A Tyrant, or cruell perſecutor. Joh. 10. 12. Seeth the Wolfe coming, and flyeth.

Wolfe] They ſeldome howle till they are oppreſſed with famine. They ſmell and ſee excellently. They devour hair, bones, fleſh, and render them whole in their excrements, who therefore never grow fat. They cannot abide any man to look upon them while they eat, but being filled, they are meek, till hunger again ſeiſe on them, which is eſpecially in the evening. They eat a kind of earth, called Argilla (Potters clay) whereby their teeth are ſharpened, and their bellies weigh heavy, that ſo they may hang faſt at the throtes of thoſe beaſts which they kill, after which they vomit it. The remainder of their meat they alwayes cover in the earth; and if there be many of them hunting together, they equally divide the prey; yea, if plentifull, by howling call others then abſent to partake with them. They rather prey upon beaſts then men. When they would feed on Goats, they take the green leaves and ſmall boughs of Oſiers in their mouths, wherewith they know the Goats are delighted, that ſo they may draw them therewith, as with a bait, to devour them. They eat Swine out of the water, becauſe of the heat of their fleſh. In the abſence of the Shepherd and his Dog, they enter into the Fold, and kill all therein before they begin to eat of any. They ſeiſe on the lips of a Calf, pulling it forward, the Calf in the mean time drawing backwards, whereby the Calf being wearyed, and pulling hard, the Wolfe lets it goe, and it falling on the back, he ſatisfieth his hunger on its belly. When they ſee an Oxe in the mire, by barking they weary him till he be dead, then one takes him by the tayl and pulleth him, a ſecond Wolf pulleth the tayl of the firſt, a third of the ſecond, &c. thereby tormenting and ſtretching their own bodies, biting their tayls, mutually pinching and ſtraining every joynt, till they have compaſſed their deſire. In time of great famin, when they can get no meat, they deſtroy one another; for when they meet together, bemoaning themſelves each to other, as it were by conſent, they run round in a Circle, and the firſt which (through giddineſſe, not able to ſtand) falleth to the ground, is ſtraightway devoured by the reſidue. They fear ſtones throwing, fire, the ſound of bels, Sea-crabs, the ſinging of men, or women. They are at enmity with all beaſts. They are ſubject to a diſeaſe, which conſumeth all the fleſh of their body, if they feed not every day on freſh meat. They take revenge eſpecially on them by whom they have been hurt. When they ſet upon horned beaſts, they invade them behind, or on the back. When upon Sheep, they make choyce of a dark cloudy day, that they may eſcape the more freely. And to the intent that their treading may not be heard, they lick the bottome of the ſoles of their feet, whereby they make no noyſe among the dry leaves, and if going along they chance to break a ſtick, and ſo againſt their minde make a noyſe, then preſently they bite their foot, as if it were guilty of the offence. They are very fearfull, not daring to do any thing, but for their belly, and not then neither, but upon a ſingular advantage. The female bringeth forth one the firſt yeer, two the ſecond, &c. till nine yeers. If the young one lap as a Dog, ſhe rejecteth it; if it ſuck the water as the Swine, or bite as a Bear, ſhe nouriſheth it. It's reported that there are Wolves in Italy, who when they look upon a man, cauſe him to be ſilent, and that he cannot ſpeak. If a Mare tread in a Wolves footſtep, ſhe caſteth her Colt. Being to ſwim over deep rivers increaſed by rain, they hold one anothers tayls in their mouths, and ſo orderly paſſe over. It's ſaid that ſuch Colts as have been bitten by them have proved the more couragious, and fuller of metall. If they can meet with no prey, they prey on the very earth. What they tread on, dyeth. To deceive the Shepherd and his Dog, they faign at ſome time the voyces of men, and barking of Dogs. When they intend to ſet on a Sheepfold, they go againſt the wind, to prevent the Dogs ſmelling them. They hunt not neer the places where their young ones are. There's a wonderfull antipathy between them and Sheep, as whileſt alive, ſo even when dead. That ſheepskin proveth louſie, which hath been bitten by the Wolfe, and thoſe conſume which are laid with Wolves-skins, and Drum-heads of Wolves-skins break thoſe which are made of Sheep-skins; nor in muſical inſtruments wil the ſtrings made of their guts make an harmonious ſound. To conclude, it's recorded that by a Wolfe, Gelon of Syracuſa, then a Scholar at School, was thus preſerved. The Wolfe entring the School, ſeiſed on Gelon's Writing tables, and haſted to be gone, Gelon for the recovery thereof, purſueth after it, and in the mean time the School-houſe fell down, whereby both School-maſter and Scholars periſhed, Gelon alone being preſerved.

Wolfe and Lamb do dwell together] The admirable peace and agreement which Chriſt by his mighty grace ſhould work in the dayes of the Goſpel; when men as fierce, cruell, and ſavage as Wolves, ſhall be meekned, and quietly live with men of loweſt and leaſt account. Iſa. 11. 6. The Wolfe ſhall dwell with the Lamb, and the Leopard with the Kid, &c. The Prophet by way of alluſion unto the concord and agreement of ſavage and harmfull beaſts, accompanying peaceably together with the harmleſſe, doth deſcribe the ſweet effects and benefits of the preaching of the Goſpel of Chriſt, whereby univerſall and moſt gracious tranquillity ſhould be marvellouſly wrought among all the true worſhippers of Chriſt, being by naturall corruption like hurtfull beaſts. Therefore ſuch as be contentious, and love debate, being given to cruelty, and wrong doing, have not the Spirit of the Goſpel.

Note alſo, that the Prophet Iſaiah ſpeaketh of beaſts according to their originall eſtate by their creation, when all things being made very good, and ſin not being entred into the world, there was a perfect harmony and conſent between man and beaſt; alſo between the beaſts one with another; and ſo ſhall be again, at the reſtoring of all things.

A Wolfe in Sheeps cloathing] A falſe Prophet, ſetting abroach damnable errors, to the deſtruction of mens ſouls, under pretence of truth. Matthew 7. 15. Beware of falſe Prophets, which come unto you in Sheeps cloathing, but inwardly they are ravening Wolves.

Wolves, Beers, Leopards, Lyons] The moſt mighty, fierce, and harmfull perſons, being tamed by the power of Chriſt in his Goſpel, and ſhall be joyned to his Church. This is an effect of Chriſts Kingdome, Iſa. 11. 6.

Wolves in the Evening] Tyrannous Rulers and moſt cruell enemies, exerciſed to miſchief, like unto an old Wolfe beaten and long exerciſed to ſpoyl in the Evening, Jer. 5. 6. Zeph. 3. 3. Her Judges are as Wolves in the evening.

Ravening Wolves] Moſt ſavage, fierce, and cruell men, whoſe pleaſure is in hurting the ſalvation of others. Matth. 7. 15. Are ravening wolves.

Woman] A female by ſex, made of God to be an helper to man, Gen. 2.

2. A Wife joyned in marriage to a man. 1 Pet. 3. 5. Thus holy women did attire themſelves, and were ſubject to their Husbands.

3. A Virgin, being a Mother. Jer. 31. 22. A woman ſhall compaſſe a man. Gal. 4. 4. Born of a woman; that is, a true man, taking fleſh of the ſubſtance of a Virgin, yet without a Father.

4. The viſible Church of God militant in earth. Rev. 12. 1. A woman cloathed with the Sun; that is, the Church compaſſed about Chriſt the Sun of righteouſneſſe. This is the true Church, decked ſpiritually with heavenly ornaments.

5. The Pope, and the whole body and maſſe of his filthy creatures, Cardinals, Maſſing Prieſts, Monks, Fryers, and Jeſuits. Rev. 17. 3. And I ſaw a woman ſitting upon a Scarlet coloured Beaſt, full of names of blaſphemy, &c. Verſ. 5. In her forehead was a Name written [Myſtery.] This is plain, that it cannot be meant but of the Romiſh Church, that falſe Church, decked not with ſpirituall garments, hid from the eyes of the world, but outwardly with Gold, Pearl, Purple, Scarlet, Crimſon, and all pompous apparell, glorious to the eye of the fleſh, being inwardly moſt filthy and full of abomination. Alſo effeminate, diſſolute, wanton men, which follow their owne affections, Iſa. 3. 12.

6. Infirm, weak, of ſmall courage, 1 Pet. 3. 6. Iſa. 19. 16. Jer. 48. 41. & 49. 22. & 50. 37.

7. A whole Nation, Iſa. 32. 10. Ezek. 16. 41. & 23. 2. Where by two women, the daughters of one Mother, is underſtood, the Iſraelites of the ten Tribes, and the Jews, Zech. 5. 7. where by the woman ſitting in the midſt of the Ephah, is meant, the people of the Jews.

A ſtrange woman] One who is not thine owne Wife, being a ſtrumpet. Prov. 2. 16. He ſhall deliver thee from a ſtrange woman.

Daughter of women] Cleopatra daughter of Antiochus the great, who diſappointed of his hopes, beſtowed her on Ptolemeus Epiphanes, King of Ægypt, that by her moſt corrupt and lewd counſell, he might circumvent and deſtroy her husband; whereas he was therein deceived, for ſhe ſtood with her Husband againſt her Father, contrary to their agreement. Dan. 11. 17. He ſhall goe unto the daughter of women, corrupting him, &c.

A fooliſh woman] Wicked Teachers, who ſet forth their devices in ſtead of Gods Word, Prov. 9. 13.

A woman whoſe heart is ſnares, &c.) A monſtrous evill woman in body and minde, breathing out, deviſing and doing miſchief of all ſorts; being full of crafts, ſubtle driſts, cunning wayes and arts, to inſnare, hurt, catch and deſtroy men. Eccl. 7. 26. I find a woman, &c. To eſcape ſuch a woman is a ſingular favour of God, without whoſe grace and help it is unpoſſible to be freed from her.

A virtuous woman] A woman endued with honeſt and holy manners. Prov. 31. 10. Who ſhall finde a virtuous woman?

Womb] That part of a woman, wherein ſhe containeth and nouriſheth her Infant, before it be born. Luk. 1. 31. Thou ſhalt conceive in thy womb, and bear a Son. Luk. 11. 23.

2. The Church, wherein (as in a womb) the elect are born again, by the incorruptible ſeed of the Word. Pſalm 110. 3. The youth of thy womb ſhall be as the morning dew.

To caſt out of the womb] Job 20. 15. is, To be deprived of evil gotten goods.

From the womb] From the time of our birth, ever ſince we were born. Pſal. 58. 3. The wicked are ſtrangers from the womb.

To have the womb ſatisfied with the fruit of the mouth] is, To be rewarded well or evill, by reaſon of his words, Pro. 18. 20, 21.

To

To ſhut and open the wombe] To make one barren and childleſſe, or to give one children. 1 Sam. 1.5. The Lord had ſhut her wombe.

To be won without the Word] To be gained (not efficaciouſly) but preparatively, by the honeſt life of the Wife, to a willingneſſe to give ear and attend the Word of God, which unbeleeving Husbands abhorred, 1 Pet. 3.1.

Wonder] Some ſtrange unwonted work of God, moving and deſerving admiration. Act. 2. 19. I will ſhew wonders in heaven above. Act. 4.30.

Lying wonders] A falſe jugling wonder, or a true wonder and miracle done to confirm falſe doctrine. 2 Theſſ. 2. 9. With all power, and ſignes, and lying wonders.

The miracles which the Romane Eccleſiaſticall Antichriſt (deſtroyer of the Romane Heatheniſh Empire) ſhall doe, be called lying wonders:

1 Becauſe appearing wonders for a time, yet indeed they prove no miracles.

2 Becauſe they be wrought to ſupport hereſies and lies in doctrine.

3 They are wrought by the power of Satan, the Father of lies, not by the holy Spirit of truth.

To wonder] 1. To be ſtricken with aſtoniſhment, or to fail in our knowledge at the ſight or hearing of ſome matter; that is, 1 new, or ſtrange, 2 great, 3 beyond our reaſon, Luk. 24. 41.

2. To be moved with extraordinary reverence and eſtimation of ſome great good thing, Luk. 4. 22.

3. To think earneſtly upon the cauſe and occaſion, the means and manner of ſome great and ſeldome ſeen thing, Pſal. 139.6,14. & 143. 5.

Wonderfull] Ample, large, and excellent withall, clear and ſplendent in glory. Pſal. 8. 1. & verſ. laſt. How wonderfull is thy name! Chriſt is wonderfull in nature, office, and works, as Iſa. 9. 6.

There be four ſorts of wonderful things.

1. Of nature, as that the Loadſtone ſhould draw Iron to it, that this power of the Loadſtone ſhould be reſtrained, if the Adamant be near it; and that the Adamant cannot be broken upon an Anvill, which is eaſily broken, being anointed with Goats blood.

2. Wonderfull things of Art; as, there were ſeaven buildings that were called the Wonders of the world, as the Pyramids of Ægypt, &c.

3. Wonderfull things of Satan, and his inſtruments, Magicians and Sorcerers, he can compaſſe the earth in a little time, he can raiſe tempeſts, hurry a body, and remove it in ſmall time, as the body of Chriſt from the Wilderneſſe to the pinnacle of the Temple, thence to the Mountaine. So the Sorcerers of Ægypt did many wonderful things.

4. Wonderfull things of God; as generally all his works are; and particularly the ſtrange miracles he wrought in Ægypt.

Wont] To frequent, 1 Sam. 30. 31. To accuſtome, 2 Sam. 20.18. Dan. 3.19. Mat. 27. 15. Mar. 10. 1. Luk. 22. 39. Act. 16. 13.

Wood] That which is cut out of Trees for any uſe, Gen. 22. 6, 7, 9. A great multitude of Trees growing together, Deut. 19.5. Joſh. 17. 15. Judg. 6. 26.

It is put for an Idoll, Hab. 2.19. and for doctrine that will not endure the tryall of Gods Word, 1 Cor. 3.12.

Woof] Lev. 13.48. So named of weaving in. The Hebr. word properly ſignifieth mixture, becauſe the woof is mixed with, and woven into the warp, or threads that run along. Aynſworth.

Wool] The ſubject hereof are Rams, 2 King. 3. 4. and Sheep. Hence we read of Sheep-ſhearers, Gen. 38.12. 2 Sam. 13.23,24. and ſhearing of ſheep, 1 Sam. 25. 4. The efficient cauſe or giver, God, Pſal. 147. 16. Hoſ. 2. 5, 9. Uſed for merchandiſe, Ezek. 27. 18. Profitable, Hoſ. 2. 9. for garments, Deut. 22. 11. Ezek. 34. 3. about which the virtuous woman employeth her ſelf, Prov. 31. 13. Preſcribed in the Legall worſhip, Numb. 19. 6. Heb. 9. 19. It's (for the moſt part) white, Iſa. 1. 18. Dan. 7. 9. Rev. 1. 14.

White as Snow, or Wool] Sinners by remiſſion of their ſins through Chriſt, by his perfect righteouſneſſe imputed, and by the renewing of the holy Ghoſt, become of foul and black, pure and holy, without ſpot and unblameable, Iſa. 1. 18. Ye ſhall be white as wool, or ſnow.

Word] Some ſpeech uttered by the mouth, to declare the intent and meaning of the heart. Pſal. 52.4. Thou loveſt all words, &c. This is a naturall word.

2. The Son of God, the ſecond perſon in the Trinity, by whom the Will of God is declared to the Church, as our mindes are expreſt to other men by our words, 1 Sam. 7. 11. 1 Chr. 17. 19. Hag. 2. 5. Joh. 1. 14. The Word was made fleſh. This is the Eſſential, Divine, and uncreated Word.

There be in Scriptures two ſpecial attributes, peculiar to the Son of God, the ſecond Perſon in the Trinity; one to be called [the wisdome of the Father] as in Proverbs, because he knoweth perfectly all the secrets and hidden things of God his Father: the other, [the Word of his Father] because by him those secrets are revealed to the Church.

These two Epithets Christ doth claim to himselfe, Mat. 11. 27. Joh. 1. 18. when he saith, none but he knoweth the Father, and no man ever saw God, he assumeth therein to be his Fathers wisdome; and to be his Word, when he saith that he revealeth and declareth him: hence called a Prophet, and that Prophet.

Note that Christ is rightly called the Word, because of the promise that was made of him to the Church from the beginning in Paradise.

3. The Scriptures of the Old and New Testament. Luk. 11. 28. Blessed are they that hear the Word. Act. 11. 19. This is the inspired and created Word.

4. The decree, ordinance, will, and beck of God, touching any thing that he will doe, or not. Mat. 4. 4. Man lives by every word that comes out of the mouth of God. Heb. 1. 3. Beareth up all things with his mighty Word. This is the Word of Gods ordinance and purpose. It signifies also a thing decreed of and uttered by Prophesie, Isa. 2. 1.

5. The divine Law, teaching and commanding good things, and forbidding evill. Psalm 119. 101. I have refrained my feet from every evill way, that I might keep thy Word. This is the Word of precept and commandement. Gal. 5. 14. In one word; that is, one precept.

6. Every promise of God, touching any good things, temporall and eternall; but especially the promise of free Justification by Christ, received by faith. Psal. 119. 8, 9. I wait for thy Word. Also vers. 25. Thy Word hath quickened me. Luk. 1. 38. Ephes. 5. 26. By the washing of water through the Word. This is the Word of free promise, whereof in Ro. 10. 8.

7. A word of prediction or foretelling things that are to come. Isa. 2. 1. The word which Isaiah saw upon Judah. Ezek. 3. 4. Declare unto them my words. This is the word of Prophesie: Also victory the matter of the word, Psal. 60. 12. Judg. 5. 1, 2. & 11. 63. 1 Sam. 18. 5.

8. A Commandement for doing any thing in the matters of this life. Luk. 5. 5. At thy word we will let downe our Nets. Luk. 7. 7. Say the word, and my Servant shall be whole. John 10. 35. This is a word of authority, charging things to be done effectually.

9. A grave, wise, and pithy sentence. Prov. 11. 6. To understand the words of the wise, and their dark sayings. Eccles. 12. 11. The words of the wise are like goads. Act. 20. 35. This is a Word of godly instruction and perswasion. Also it signifieth doctrine uttered and spoken to the teaching of the Church, 1 Tim. 4. 12.

Note; a Word first uttered by the Prophets, and afterward handled by such wise men as were furnished of God with gifts to divide it aright.

10. Any thing or matter, that is either said or done. Luk. 1. 65. And all these words were noysed abroad thoughout all the Hill-countrey. Exod. 18. 16. Deut. 17. 1. 1 King. 14. 13. Gen. 21. 1, 20. & 15. 1.

11. The voyce of God, calling a man to do the work of a Prophet, Jer. 1, 4. Ezek. 1. 3. This is the word of vocation.

12. The preaching of the Word of God, Act. 6. 2. 1 Thess. 2. 13. Not that it is the same with the Scriptures or written Word of God formally, but is, or ought to be so, 1 Analogically, or by agreement with it; 2 Materially, or for substance of that which the Preacher teacheth, Isa. 8. 20. 1 Tim. 6. 3. & 2. 4.

13. Prayer to God, or the word of Supplication to God. So the word of Elias, 1 King. 17. 1. is interpreted and explained by St. James, ch. 5. 17.

By the Word] According to the Commandement of God, sending Preachers to teach Christ. Rom. 10. 17. And hearing by the Word of God.

Some Interpreters, as Martyr, Pareus, doe interpret [Word] for the matter and substance of preaching, or Sermons; which must not be any precepts or traditions of men (which are both uncertain and unlively, too dead to beget faith;) but the written Word, or Scripture of Old and New Testament; which be indeed the lively seed and firm foundation of faith.

Though this interpretation be godly, yet the signification which I have given (out of M. Beza) is fitter:

1 Because it is written not Ex Rematos, of the Word, but Dia, by the Word.

2 Because it is Rhema, not Logos.

3 Because this doth well and meetly agree with the beginning of vers. 15. How shall they preach except they be sent? that is, the Word and Commandement of God must come to send and to warrant some to teach, and and others to heare them. Lastly, the [Word] is elsewhere put for Commandement, Luk. 5. 5.

The Word of faith] The Gospel or the doctrine of free salvation, upon condition we beleeve. Rom. 10. 8. This is the Word of faith which we preach.

Good words] See Accept, Grace, Justice, Righteousnesse, Justifie.

Idle word] A vain unprofitable speech, whereof there is no use for soul or body; for this life, or the life to come; for our selves or others. Mat. 12. 36. Men shall give account for every idle word they speak.

Word of the Lord] The Gospel, which witnesseth of the Lord; also the preaching of it, 2 Thess. 3. 1. 1 Thess. 1. 8.

To put words into the mouth] is, To teach, inform, instruct, Numb. 22. 38.

Not to speak after ones word] is, To acquiesce, and rest in it, Job 29. 22.

To send a word] is spoken when the thing is effected which God commanded, Psal. 107. 18. & 147. 14.

Work] Threefold.

1. The work of God onely, as Creation, or the creature; this God will not judge, but reform and repair.

2. The work of man onely, as sin; this will God judge, and not absolve.

3. The work of God and man together, as godlinesse, 2 Cor. 6. 1. This God will reward.

A work] Some outward deed or action, divine or humane, good or evill. Gen. 2. 2. When God hath made an end of all his work. Jam. 2. 18. Thou hast faith, and I have works, shew me thy faith out of thy works. Rev. 2. 13. I will render unto every one of you according to your works.

2. The free reward which follows good works, in life everlasting. Rev. 4. 13. And their works follow them. Also correction for sin, Isa. 5. 12, 19.

3. Such servile work, as is proper to every mans calling, which may be done in the six dayes. Exod. 4. 5. Also 20. 9. Thou shalt doe all thy work.

4. Merit, or deserving by works. Rom. 3. 20. Therefore by the works of the Law shall no flesh be justified. Vers. 28. Chap. 4. 2. & 11. 6. If it be of grace, no more then of works. Thus is [Work] taken in all places, where it is opposed and set against Faith or Grace.

5. Wicked and unhoneſt manners. Tit. 1. 16. They deny him in their works.

6. Stuffe or matter, needfull to build withall. Prov. 24. 27. Prepare thy work without.

Work of faith] A true lively faith, which is the work of Gods wonderfull power in the elect. 2 Thess. 1. 11. The work of faith with power. Joh. 6. 29. This is the work of God, that ye beleeve in him whom he hath sent.

Work of faith] Either Faith, which is a speciall and wonderfull work of God, or which is working and operative, working by love, Joh. 6. 29. 1 Thess. 1. 2. Gal. 5. 6. 2 Thess. 1. 11.

Work of the flesh] Such sinfull deeds as nature unreformed, or inbred corruption brings forth, Gal. 5. 19.

Worke of God] Any thing created of God, or any blessing or punishment, as work of his Mercy or Justice. This is the general acception of the word; but more particularly, the faith of the elect, which in the least measure and degree is yet wrought in our hearts by God, Rom. 14. 20. Whereas some understand that place of Paul, of mans salvation; others, of man himselfe, consisting of body and soul, and others of charity, or other fruits and gifts of Faith: yet it is best to interpret it of the weak faith of such as knew not their liberty by Christ; for thus the circumstances of the place lead me to expound it: also the words of Christ, Joh. 6. 29. The least spark of faith coming from God, must be cherished in our weak and infirm brethren, after the example of our elder brother, who doth not quench the smoaking flax, Isa. 42. 3.

Work of his hands] Gods people regenerate by his Spirit, to be new creatures, Isa. 19. 15.

Work of our hands] The duties both of our generall calling, as we are Christians, to wit, to beleeve in Christ, and to repent of our sins, bringing forth the fruits thereof by a godly and upright life; and also of our speciall and particular callings, as we are Magistrates, Ministers, Fathers, Masters, Subjects, Children, &c. Psal. 90. 18. Direct thou the works of our hands upon us.

Work of the Ministery] The whole duty which a Minister by virtue of his calling is bound for to perform unto his flock, as to Preach, to Rule, to Pray, to Administer the Sacraments, to exhort and comfort privately, &c. Eph. 4. 12. For the work of the Ministery.

Perfect work] Our consummation in Christ, which is the work and use of afflictions, sent unto beleevers, as Gods instrument, to polish and perfect them. As Jam.

Jam. 1. 4. Let patience have her perfect work.

To work, referred to God] To execute and fulfill ſomething decreed from everlaſting in Gods counſel. Eph. 1. 11. God worketh all things after the counſell of his Will.

2. To govern and rule the world by ordinary adminiſtration. Joh. 5. 17. My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

3. To doe ſome extraordinary thing, which may in ſpeciall manner, declare either Gods mercy or wrath. Act. 13. 41. I work a work in your dayes, a work, which ye will not beleeve, if a man would tell it you.

4. To ſatisfie by offering of Sacrifices, legall, or by ſuffering penal evils. Rom. 3. 20. & 4. 5.

To work, referred to men] To do ſome good action approved of God, and pleaſing to him. Joh. 6. 28. That we might work the works of God.

2. To deſerve ſomething by his work, or to reſt upon the merit of his work. Rom. 4. 4. To him that worketh wages is counted by debt.

3. Diligently to labour in a good vocation. Act. 18. 3. He abode with them, and wrought; for their craft was to make tents.

To work glory] That God hath made afflictions for Chriſt to be the way to eternall glory, 2 Cor. 4. 17. Act. 14. 22. Things work to glory, either as cauſes or occaſions, or neceſſary helps.

To work out] To be conſtant in doing good works, to the end of ones life, running on ſtill in the race of godlineſſe. Phil. 2. 12. Work out (or make an end) of your ſalvation with fear and trembling.

To work will and deed] To give power and make able by grace to will well, and work well, Phil. 2. 13. The doctrine of univerſall grace and free will, that all (if they will) may will and doe well, fals to the ground by this ſentence, which refers all to Gods grace in matters of pleaſing God, and of ſalvation, as in the latter end of this Verſe is very plain: of his good pleaſure; that is, as he willeth and pleaſeth, ſo he diſtributeth.

According to our works] As our works ſhall be good or evill, ſo ſhall our judgement and doome be. Rom. 2. 6. Who will reward every man according to his works. Pſalm 62. 12. Mat. 16. 27. Howſoever the form of the ſentence at the laſt day ſhall paſſe, according to the condition of our works, yet works merit not as cauſes, but witneſſe as tokens.

Works of darkneſſe] Sinful works, which come from ignorance and unbeleef, Eph. 5. 11. See darkneſſe.

Note. No good work in all the Scripture, but hath a commandement to do it.

2. A promiſe to them that do it.

3. An example of Saints which have done it.

By this rule moſt Popiſh works are diſcarded from being good works.

To ſhew by faith our works] Not that a lively true faith can be voyd of works (being ever coupled with love to God and our Neighbour) but that ones faith (whereof he boaſteth) cannot be ſhewed and demonſtrated by any argument, where the teſtimony of good works is wanting. Jam. 2. 18. Shew me thy faith by thy works. This beateth down Hypocrites.

Works of God] Such deeds as God commandeth, allowes, loves, and will reward. Joh. 6. 28. What ſhall we doe, that we might work the works of God?

2. The actions of Gods mercies towards the elect, and of his judgements towards the wicked. Pſal. 145. 17. The Lord is holy in all his works. Alſo v. 5, 10. All thy works praiſe thee. Iſa. 5. 12.

Works of God] 1. The Creation of the world, Gen. 2. 1, 2, 3. Heb. 4. 10.

2. The Creatures or naturall things created by God. Either Man, or any other, Pſal. 8. 4. & 138. 8. & 102. 25. Rom. 14. 20. Pſal. 104. 24.

3. The gubernation and preſervation of the world, Joh. 5. 17. Pſal. 145. 17.

4. The Sanctification of his Church, or the ſanctity it ſelf of the Church; and good works of the godly, which are Gods works originally, Joh. 6. 28. & 9. 4. Iſa. 26. Thou haſt wrought all our works in us. And Eph. 2. 10. But are ours poſſeſſively and inſtrumentally.

5. The Redemption of mankind, Joh. 9. 4. Act. 3. 41.

6. Any temporal benefit or work of God, if it be extraordinary and miraculous, Joh. 5. 36. & 10. 25, 38.

7. The glorification or exaltation of the good, Phil. 3. 21. Pſal. 111. 2, 3.

8. The condemnation or puniſhment of the evill, Pſal. 111. 7.

Good works] 1. Properly, thoſe actions which are according to Gods Law, Tit. 3. 8. Eph. 2. 10.

2. Improperly, and ironically, thoſe which men think to be good and are not, but are evill, Tit. 3. 5. Matthew 9. 13. Iſa. 57. 12.

Good

Good works] All manner of duties inward and outward, as well thoughts, as words and actions, towards God or man, which are commanded in the Law of God, and come from a pure heart, and faith unfained, being referred unto Gods glory. Eph. 2. 10. Created to good works. Blind Chriſtians, which think onely Almeſ-deeds to be good Works, or outward actions at utmoſt, be deceived; as the Papiſts, who reckon for good, ſuch not works as themſelves invented, and are commanded of God.

Good works and evill] All Moral virtues and vices, commanded or forbid in the Decalogue or Morall Law of God, 3 Joh. 11. Eph. 2. 16. Rom. 2. 7, 9. Joh. 5. 29.

2. The doers and workers of good or evil things. Rom. 13. 3. Rulers are not a terror to good works, but to evill. Evil works fear not, but the committers of them have cauſe of terror; as to the doers of good there belongeth praiſe and reward.

Alſo note, that the Works here, be not Moral, but Civil deeds; not Theological, but Politicall: ſuch virtues or vicious actions, as by the good Laws of the Magiſtrate, be commanded and prohibited: for there be very many works morally good and evill, which the Magiſtrate can neither praiſe nor puniſh, as all inward thoughts and imaginations. The rule of good works is the revealed Will of God: The generall heads of good works be theſe three:

1. Sobriety, which is the moderate uſe of ſleep, meat, drink, and other benefits of this life.

2. Righteouſneſſe, which is our juſt dealing with men, without fraud or oppreſſion.

3. Godlineſſe, which is the worſhipping of the true God, in a true and right manner, and with a true and ſincere heart, Tit. 2. 12.

The particular works of Chriſtians are then tryed and found to be good:

1. When they are guided by knowledge, and proceed of lively Faith, Rom. 10. 2. 2 Tim. 1. 5. Heb. 11. 6. and throughou that Chap. 1 Tim. 4. 4.

2. If they be directed unto Gods glory, 1 Cor. 10. 31.

3. When they are carryed with a joynt reſpect to all Gods commandements, Pſal. 119. 6.

4. When a ſpeciall care is had of doing the duties of our particular callings, and hold out with conſtancy, Rev. 2. 10. Luk. 3. 13.

Three chief ſpurs to good works (amongſt many) be,

1. The precepts of God.

2. The example of the godly.

3. The benefits promiſed to works of godlineſſe, both preſent and future.

Concerning the cauſes of good works, God onely is the originall, primary, and efficient cauſe, 1 Cor. 4. 7. Epheſ. 2. 10. Phil. 2. 13. Joh. 6. 28, 29. and ſo they are Gods works, and not ours.

1. By commandement.

2. By aſſiſtance.

3. By acceptation.

But again, they are our works poſſeſſively and inſtrumentally, Phil. 2. 12. Joh. 6. 28, 29. 1 Cor. 15. 10, 11.

They that doe oppoſe the ſubordinate (the grace of God, or the duty, or endevour of man) as contraries, make an efficient without an inſtrument, and an inſtrument without an efficient: to think to do any good without the help or grace of God, is to contemne Gods grace, and to flatter mans weakneſſe with the name of them; and again to expect the grace of God without our uſe of the means which God hath appointed, is to tempt God, and to nouriſh mens idleneſſe.

See My, Your, Power, Poſſeſſion, Gods.

Works of the Law] Not works done before Faith, and the grace of Converſion, for they be ſins condemned by the Law; but ſuch Works as be commanded by the Law, Rom. 3. 28.

Works of righteouſneſſe] See Good works, and Saved by grace, and Righteouſneſſe. Theſe ſave not,

1. Where they are not, Deut. 9. 4, 5, 6, 7. Tit. 3. 5.

2. Where they are good in opinion, but evil indeed, as Luk. 18. 11, 14. Mat. 9 13.

3. Where they want the merits of Chriſt to cover their imperfections, 2 Tim. 1. 9.

4. They ſave not, nor ſerve by way of expiation or ſatisfaction for evill works.

5. Nor as they are ours in our ſelves, but as Gods, and by Gods grace in us, Eph. 2. 9, 10. Rom. 6. 22, 23.

But yet they are ſaid to ſave, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Tit. 2. 11, 12. & 3. 5.

1. Privatively, as keeping us from our diſſolving, the contrary ſins, to which damnation is threatned, when they are committed, Dan. 4 24. 1 Pet. 3. 13.

2. Preparatively, as without which we ſhall not be partakers of the merits of Chriſt, Mat. 3. 2, 3. Luk. 13. 3, 5. Mat. 5. 20. & 18. 3.

As being the conditions which God requireth of all that ſhall be juſtified and ſaved, Mat. 5. 20. & 6. 14, 15.

Workers together] Apoſtles and Miniſters, who by their painfull preaching of the Goſpel, and outward diſpenſation of the Word and myſteries, do labour with, and under God, about the converſion and ſalvation of ſinners. 1 Cor. 3.9. For we are workers and labourers together with God. What doth this place further the Papiſts, to prove that Free-will of it ſelf, and owne natural ſtrength, doth work toward the imbracing of faith, repentance, ſpiritual righteouſneſſe, and regeneration of life? For in all theſe reſpects, Paul affirmeth himſelf and Apollos to be nothing, and that it is God giveth the whole increaſe, 1 Cor. 3.6. As God of his owne good will calleth Miniſters, putteth them forth to labour in the vineyard of his Church, poureth meet graces into them, to fit them to his work: So it is he alone which worketh in the hearts of the hearers to renew their hearts for to beleeve the Goſpel, and repent of their ſins. Therefore nothing but planting and watering, the externall work onely, belongeth to the Miniſters; the inward converſion is peculiar to God alone, who makes his Ordinances effectuall, where and when he pleaſeth, uſing his Miniſters as inſtruments onely in the ſalvation of men, as 1 Cor. 3. 5.

Working of Satan] His might and ſtrength, which Satan ſhal utter by Antichriſt, in doing wonders to deceive the reprobate by his errors, 2 Theſſ. 2.9.

Working together] The meeting of many cauſes to bring forth one common effect. Rom. 8. 29. All things work together, &c.

Workmen] The Miniſters of the Goſpel, Mat. 10. 10. Luk. 10.7.

His workmanſhip] Elect converted ſinners, who are not their owne, nor the work of any creature, but the work and fabrick of the mighty God alone, regenerating and as it were creating them the ſecond time, by renewing their corrupt nature, which was no more able to change it ſelf in whole, or in part, then to make themſelves at firſt. Eph. 2. 10. We are the workmanſhip of God, created, &c. Pelagians which do attribute our new birth to nature, and the Papiſts which doe divide this worthy work between nature and grace, do not know the Scripture, and therefore do grievouſly erre.

World] The whole frame of Heaven and Earth, with all creatures above and below. Joh. 1. 10. The world was made by him. Heb. 11. 3. This is the Elementary world.

2. All the people or inhabitants of the world, men and women, even whole mankinde. Rom. 5. 12. By one man ſin entred into the world. 2 Pet. 1. 14. Luſts which be in the world. A Metonymie. This is the reaſonable world, or world of men.

3. All unregenerate men, be they elect or reprobate. Joh. 15. 18, 19. I have choſen you out of the world. 1 Joh. 5. 19. The world lies in wickedneſſe. This is the world of the wicked, Joh. 16. 8.

4. The Elect onely. Joh. 3.16. God ſo loved the world. 2 Cor. 5. 5. God was in Chriſt reconciling the world. This is the world of the Elect, Joh. 3. 16. Elect tearmed the world, both becauſe they are taken out of Jews and Gentiles, and do by nature participate in the corruption and wickedneſſe of the world.

5. The company of true beleevers onely, whether they be Jews or Gentiles. 1 Joh. 2. 2. Not for our ſins, but for the ſins of the whole world. This is the world of the faithful, or beleevers.

6. The reprobate onely, and the whole company of them. Joh. 17. 9. I pray not for the world. Joh. 14. 17, 22. Whom the world cannot receive. This is the world of the reprobate, who be tearmed the world, becauſe they be the greateſt number, 2 they do moſt hurt to the whole world, 3 and do favour onely the things of this world.

7. Wicked luſts, ſuch as reign in evill men, the children of this world. 1 Joh. 2. 16. Love not the world, nor the things of the world. Often it ſignifieth that ſinful and miſerable condition which all men lie under through Adam's fall, Joh. 14. 15, and elſewhere.

8. The condition and ſtate of this terrene earthly life. 1 Cor. 7. 34. Careth for the things of the world; that is, things which belong to relieve us, whiles we live here in this frail condition.

9. Earth it ſelfe. Matth. 4. 8. And ſhewed him all the Kingdomes of the world. This is the Terreſtriall world. It ſignifieth earth, and all creatures living thereon, ſave ſuch as were in the Ark of Noah, 2 Pet. 2. 6.

10. The unbeleeving Gentiles only, being diſperſed throughout the world. Rom. 11. 10. If the fall of them, be the riches of the world. Sydoche of a part for the whole.

11. Every perſon indefinitely, without reſpect of ſex, age, degree, or countrey. Joh. 18. 20. I ſpake openly to the world. Joh. 3. 17. That the world through him might be ſaved; that is, is, whatſoever perſons ſhould beleeve in him at any time.

12. The pomp and glory that is in men, and in all earthly things. Gal. 6. 14. Whereby the world is crucified to me, and I to the world.

13. The things that God gives us here to uſe, for the maintenance of this life. 1 Cor. 7. 31. They that uſe this world, as if they uſed it not. This is worldly goods.

14. The ſtate and condition of ſuch as ſhal be glorified in heaven. Luk. 20. 35. They that ſhall be counted worthy to enjoy that world. This is the Celeſtial world.

15. All adverſary power of the world, that riſeth up againſt our Salvation, 1 Joh. 5. 4.

All the world] Beleevers of all ſexes, ages, times, countreys, or degrees. 1 Joh. 2. 2. Of all the world.

2. Exceeding many, by an Hyperbole, Joh. 12. 19.

Children of this world] Such as live in the world, whether they be good or bad. Luk. 20. 34. The children of this world marry Wives, and are married.

2. Such as are wholly given to the things of this life, and to this preſent world, Luk. 16. 8.

Ends of the world] The later dayes and times of the world. Heb. 9. 16. But now in the end of the world hath he been made manifeſt.

3. The certain period and point of time, when the world (as it now ſtandeth) ſhal be diſſolved. Mat. 24. 4. And of the end of the world.

Faith obercometh the world] That Chriſt received by faith, beateth down the remnants of corruption which reigneth in the world: Alſo ſtrengtheneth us to bear the perſecutions of the world; and laſtly, conquereth Satan the Prince of the world, 1 Joh. 5. 4.

Foundation of the world] The beginning of heaven and earth; or the time when they were firſt framed. Heb. 9. 26. For then muſt he often have ſuffered ſince the foundation of the world.

A friend of the world] One that loveth and embraceth the luſts and pleaſures of ſin. Jam. 4. 4. Whoſoever will be a friend to the world, makes himſelf an enemy to God.

God of this world] The Devil or Satan, whom wicked men ſerve and obey as their God, and in whom he rules and works effectually, as in his owne people and ſubjects. 2 Cor. 4. 4. In whom the God of this world hath blinded their minde.

Goods of this world] Riches, wealth, even all things pertaining to this life. 1 John 3. 17. Whoſoever hath this worlds goods.

Inhabitants of the world] The children of God which dwel in this world, and which for their ſake was reſtored, and is continued. Iſa. 26. 9. The inhabitants of the world will learn righteouſneſſe. Thus I expound it, and not generally of all men, by reaſon of the oppoſition in Verſ. 9, 10. between the Inhabitants of the world, and the Wicked, whom no corrections can tame and teach goodneſſe, be they never ſo equall and gracious afflictions, yet will not the ungodly by them be brought to their right ſenſes, to ſee and acknowledge the excellent and mighty works of God, nor to ſubmit to his Word.

2. The Babylonians, the whole put for the part. Iſa. 26. 18. The inhabitants of the world.

3. Elſewhere it is often put for all people, which do dwel on the face of the earth, and ſometime for ſinners and tranſgreſſors alone, as Iſa. 26. 21.

World of iniquity] An huge maſſe and heap of all manner of vices. Jam. 3. 6. Tongue is a world of iniquity; that is, an inſtrument and organ to utter the innumerable corruptions of the heart, out of the abundance whereof the tongue ſpeaketh.

Preſent evill world] The ſinful miſerable condition of ſuch as live now in the world; without the knowledge of Chriſt, being ſubject to the malice of Satan and the corruption of ſin. Gal. 1. 4. From this preſent evill world.

Worldly Sanctuary] The Tabernacle under the Law, till the Temple was built, to have been earthly and brittle, becauſe it was ſo made, as it might eaſily be taken aſunder, and put together again, Numb. 4. 31, 32. & 7. 8. Exod. 26. 3, 20. Heb. 9. 1. A worldly Sanctuary. This ſignifieth that the faithfull in this Tabernacle of their body (which is to be laid downe and ſet up) are ſojourners from the Lord, till they come to have a ſtable habitation in the heavenly Kingdome. The work-men of the Tabernacle being induſtrious and skilful men, Exod. 36. 1, 2, 8. did ſignifie all the Miniſters of the Church, with the ſeverall graces of the Spirit, fitting them to the Miniſtery, Rom. 12. 6. Eph. 4. 8, 11. 1 Cor. 12. 4. 1 Pet. 4. 10, 11.

Spirit of the world] That Spirit which teacheth ſuch things as the men of this world do delight in. 1 Cor. 2. 12. We have not received the ſpirit of the world.

That world] Eternal life in heaven. Luk. 20. 35. They ſhall be counted worthy to enjoy that world.

Worme] A contemptible baſe creature, creeping upon the ground, &c.

Of wormes there are divers kindes, as Earth-wormes, wormes breeding in the brain, ſtomach, belly of men, women, and children: So in beaſts, fiſhes, fruits, &c.

2. A perſon contemned in the world, and had in vile account. Pſal. 22. 6. But I am a worme, and not a man, a ſhame and contempt of men. Accuſing conſcience, Iſa. 66.24.

Wormewood] A bitter hearb ſo called, Prov. 5.4.

It is put, 1. For affliction and calamity, Lam. 3. 15, 19. Jer. 23.15. & 9. 15.

2. For injuſtice and oppreſſion, Amos 5.7. & 6. 12.

3. For a falſe Teacher, Rev. 8. 10, 11.

4. For a grievous ſin, Deut. 29. 18.

Worſe] More evill, Geneſ. 19. 9. More harmful, 2 Sam. 19. 7. More wickedly, 1 Ki. 16. 25. 2 Chr. 33. 9. Jer. 7. 26. & 16. 12. Sadder, Dan. 1. 10. Greater, wider, Matth. 9. 16. More dangerous, Mat. 12. 45. More troubled with her diſeaſe, Mar. 5. 26. Not ſo good, Joh. 2.10. Judgement, puniſhment, evill, Joh. 5. 14.

Are we the worſe, 1 Cor. 8. 8. Have we the leſſe, marg.

The laſt errour ſhall be worſe then the firſt. A proverbial form of ſpeech. The people will believe in him more then before, Joh. 11. 48. & 12. 32. which they counted errour.

Put it to a worſe, 2 King. 14. 12. Heb. was ſmitten.

Worſhip] Civil reverence due unto men, for their authority and gifts. Mrt. 9. 18. There came a certain Ruler, and worſhipped him. This is civil worſhip.

2. Outward religious ſervice, due unto God for the greatneſſe of his majeſty. Matt. 4. 10. Thou ſhalt worſhip the Lord thy God. This is outward divine worſhip.

3. Inward religious honour of the heart; ſincerely loving, fearing, and truſting in God, becauſe of his infinite knowledge, mercy, and power. Joh. 4. 24. Muſt worſhip him in ſpirit and truth. This is inward divine worſhip.

4. Immoderate reverence toward creatures. Act. 10. 25. He fell down at his feet, and worſhipped him. Rev. 22. 8. Neither Cornelius nor John did take Peter or the Angel to be God, they failed in exceſſe of reverence, and were rebuked.

To worſhip the Church] To give honour to Chriſt, dwelling and reigning in his Church, and to honour the Church in Chriſt her head. Iſa. 49. 23. They ſhall worſhip thee with their faces toward the earth. Rev. 3. 9. And worſhip before thy feet.

Worſt] Ezek. 7. 24. The moſt wicked, violent, furious, unconſcionable.

Worth] Gen. 23. 9. Full money, or full ſilver, according to the Hebr. According to the value of it, Lev. 27. 23. Tribute. Of more value, 2 Sam. 18. 3.

Make my ſpeech nothing worth, Job 24. 25. Heb. Bring my ſpeech to nothing; that is, Shew that my reaſons are nothing worth, and doe not prove that for which I brought them. Annot.

Worthy] One that deſerveth, by merit of ſome work done. Rev. 5. 12. Worthy is the Lamb to receive power. Alſo verſ. 4, 9. Thou art worthy to take the book. Likewiſe in all places of Scripture, where [worthy] is affirmed of Chriſt, and denyed unto men, it hath this ſignification; one worthy by approbation of ſtrict Juſtice.

2. Equal or proportionable. Rom. 8. 18. The afflictions of this preſent time, are not worthy the glory that ſhall be ſhewed; that is, not equal in the ballance of Juſtice.

3. One reckoned and accepted as worthy, through the worthyneſſe of Chriſt imputed unto him. Luk. 21. 39. That ye may be accounted worthy to eſcape all thoſe things that ſhall come to paſſe. Worthy by acceptation in mercy, Act. 5. 41. The verb in Greek is compound, and is uſed in Scripture alwayes to ſet forth the undeſerved graces of God, as Luk. 20. 35. Apocalyps 3.

4. Fit, or meet. Mat. 3. 8. Bring forth fruit worthy of repentance; that is, ſuch works as be meet and beſeeming thoſe that doe repent.

5. One of excellent valour and courage, deſerving great praiſe for doing hardy and valiant exploits. 2 Sam. 23. 9. One of the three Worthies.

To walk worthy of the Lord, and of the Goſpel] To live in ſuch ſort as is meet and ſeemly, for ſuch as have the mighty God for their Lord, and are profeſſors of the glorious Goſpel of Chriſt. Col. 1. 10. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord. Phil. 1. 27. As becometh the Goſpel. To walk agreeably to it.

Worthies] Nah. 2. 5. Gallant Heroes, Captains, and men of War, whether againſt Nineveh, as ſome; or belonging to Nineveh, as others. Annot.

Worthily] Ruth 4. 11. Doe thou worthily in Ephratah; or, get thee riches, or power; or, make thee grow mightily, and full of riches.

Wot] To know, Gen. 21. 26. & 39. 8. & 44. 15.

Would] To wiſh, Gen. 30. 34. Aynſworth. To be willing, or to offer himſelf, 1 King. 13. 33. To will, or pleaſe, Nehem. 9. 24. Eſt. 9. 5.

Wound] The hurt upon the body received by ſtroke or fall.

2. For great affliction, Iſa. 1. 6. Obad. verſ. 7. Job 9. 17.

3. The reproof of a faithful friend, Pro. 27. 6. Pſal. 141. 5.

4. For the trouble of conſcience, Prov. 18. 14.

To wound the conſcience, is, To cauſe a man to do that againſt his will which he thinks unlawful, 1 Cor. 8. 12.

W R.

Wrap] To cover, 1 King. 19. 13. To faſten, and take ſure hold, Job 8. 17. To hide ſin, Mich. 7. 3.

Wrath] Juſt vengeance taken upon ſinners in this world. Pſal. 90. 11. Who knows the power of his wrath? Eph. 5. 6. Rom. 3. 5. Which puniſheth. Iſa. 26. 21.

2. Eternall death in hell fire. 1 Theſſ. 5. 9. God hath not appointed us to wrath. 1 Theſſ. 1. 10. Which delivereth us from that wrath to come. Rom. 2. 5. This floweth from the juſt wrath of God.

3. The perturbation of minde, which moveth men to revenge their owne wrongs. Gal. 5. 30. Hatred, debate, wrath.

Wrath when it is attributed to God ſignifieth three things.

1. His juſt decree to puniſh ſin. Joh. 3. 36. Rom. 1. 18. The wrath of God is revealed from heaven; that is, the wrath of God, is made manifeſt by the effects of the ſame.

2. His threatnings againſt ſin, Pſal. 6. 1. Correct me not in thy wrath; that is, according to thy threatnings againſt ſin, Hoſ. 11. 9. Jon. 3. 9.

3. The puniſhment it ſelf, inflicted upon ſinners. Rom. 2. 5. To treaſure up wrath, is, To heap up puniſhment. Thus it is taken, Mat. 3. 7. Eph. 5. 6.

Children of wrath] Thoſe that are guilty of eternal death through the juſt anger of God againſt ſin, as all men be by nature and birth. Eph. 2. 3. And were by nature the children of wrath as well as others.

To give place to wrath] To ſuffer God to execute wrath and puniſhment upon our enemies that wrong us, committing our cauſe to him, who in due time will revenge it. Rom. 12. 19. Avenge not your ſelves, but give place to wrath. Deut. 32. 35. This phraſe by ſome is underſtood of our owne wrath, that we ſhould keep it in, and not ſuffer it to break forth, but digeſt and allay it in our ſelves, by meekneſſe of ſpirit.

Other Interpreters referre it to the wrath of our adverſary, which will be much appeaſed (if not wholly quenched) by our ſilence and patience, giving way to his anger without reſiſtance; even as the force of a gun or of lightning, is greatly broken, if they light and fall upon ſoft and yeelding things, as the ground, or wool, or ſuch like; whereas hitting upon hard things, as oakes, walls, &c. which do reſiſt, they violently overthrow all.

Theſe things are true, but the firſt ſenſe is fitteſt, as appeareth by the Text, Rom. 12. 19. by the words cited out of Moſes; for, Vengeance is mine, ſaith the Lord.

Wreathed] Lam. 1. 14. They are wreathed. They, that is, the penalties whereunto by them I have made my ſelf liable, and which God hath juſtly inflicted upon me for them, are made up together as in a wreath. The word here uſed is very pregnant, and made vigorous. It is derived (as ſome think) from the boughs or twigs of trees, or ſhrubs, that growing thick together, are intangled one with another. So tearmed, Gen. 40. 10. As others, from threads that are twined and twiſted together, to make up a line, cord, or cable, Eccl. 4. 12. Or, as others again, from withs and twigs that are wreathed together for the making of baskets. Or, as others, laſtly, from nets and ſnares made of lines ſo twiſted, wherein birds, beaſts, and fiſh are wont to be intangled; or weels made of ſuch withs and twigs, for the catching of fiſh, becauſe in the Chaldee and Syriack the word is commonly uſed for ſuch nets, Job 19. 6. Ezek. 12. 13. & 19. 8. and ſuch baskets, 2 Cor. 11. 33. Annot.

Wreſt] To pervert and turn to another end. Thus to pervert judgement, Exod. 23. 2. is, To oppreſſe under colour of juſtice, Deut. 16. 19.

To wreſt ones words; is, To turn them into another ſenſe then he meant that ſpake them, or then the words will bear, Pſal. 56. 4. Thus Heretickes pervert the Scripture, to confirm their falſe doctrine, 2 Pet. 3. 16.

To wreſtle] To ſtrive together, one man with another, which ſhould overcome the other by ſtrength. Gen. 32. 24. There wreſtled a man with him, till the breaking of the day.

2. To fight and ſtrive againſt the ſpirituall enemies of our ſalvation. Epheſ. 6. 12.

We wrestle against principalities and powers.

Wrestlings of God] Divine and vehement wrestlings, very great and earnest endevours, both with God in prayer, and by all other means that she could, Gen. 30.8.

Note that wrestling in Jacob, Gen. 32.24. which was a combating, by taking hold one of another, figured the spirituall strife and conflict which the children of God have, Rom 15.30. Heb.10.32. Phil.1.27.

Wretched] Properly miserable, poor, afflicted.

It is outward, by reason of outward calamities, or unsupportable burthen, Numb. 11.15.

2. Spirituall, twofold.

1 Privative, in the want of spirituall grace, as saving knowledge, righteousnesse, and sanctification, Rev. 3.17.

2 Positive, by reason of originall corruption, Rom. 7.24.

Wring] To straine or presse out dew, Judg. 6.38. Juyce of the grape, Gen.40.11.

It is put for, To afflict with grievous calamities, Psal. 75.8. To kill, Lev.1.15.

To wring the blood] The clots of blood that the dolors of Christs sufferings wrung from him in the garden before his oblation upon the Crosse. Lev. 1.15. And the blood thereof shall be wrung out at the side of the Altar: comp. it with Luk. 22.44.

Wrinkle] A blemish in the face or body, caused through age or affliction, Job 16.8.

2. The deformity of the soul by reason of sin, Eph. 5.25. Cant. 4.7. From this wrinkle the Church is free in this life, in justification by the blood of Christ, 1 Joh.1.7. and shall be in the life to come, in respect of sanctification, Eph. 5.27.

Write] is put for Reckon, Isa. 10.19. To touch and instruct, 1 Joh.2.6,7. Prov.22.20. To purpose and decree, Job 13.26. To declare, Jer. 22.30.

To write into the heart] is, to work into the heart by the Spirit of God, a gracious disposition and aptnesse to keep the Law evangelically, and to give some power and strength thereunto, Jer. 31.33. This is done in our effectuall calling, which is this writing. Cameron on Heb. 8.10. or spirituall knowledge and regeneration. Parens on Heb. 8.10.

To write with a mans pen] To write such a style as men do use in their writing, and in such letters as the most rude may read and know what is written, Isa. 8.1. Write in it with a mans pen. Hab. 2.1.

Writing] signifieth, something which Elias had written by way of propheſie whiles he lived, 2 Chr. 21.12.

Writing] is either, 1. Immediately, of God himselfe, Exod. 32.16. or mediately, by his servants, Deut. 31.24. Joh.5.47. Thus the Lord would have his Word written for the generation to come, Psal. 102.17. Isa. 30.8.

1 For our learning, Rom.15.4. & 4.23. 1 Cor. 9.10.

2 For our admonition, 1 Cor.10,11.

3 For our instruction, Exod. 24.12.

4 For our belief, that our faith might be strengthened, Joh. 20.31.

5 For the greater assurance of those things delivered by the word of mouth, Luk. 1.4.

To be written in earth] To be forgotten before God and his Church. Jer. 17.13. All that forsake thee shall be written in the earth.

To be written in heaven] To be predestinated and elected eternally by the firm counsell of God, to obtain salvation by Christ. Luk. 10.20. Rejoyce that your names be written in heaven.

To be written in the book of Remembrance] To be loved, respected, cared for, rewarded and remembred of God. Mal. 3.16. A book of Remembrance was written before him, for such as fear the Lord. See Remembrance.

Wrong] put for Hurt, or dammage, Act. 27.10, 21. Psal. 105.13. Jer. 22.3. Oppression, Ib. 13. Affliction, Lam. 3.59. Referred to the soul, Prov. 8.36.

Wrong is either, 1. In respect of him that doth wrong, Phil. 18. Which is condemned, Matth. 5.39. Exod. 2.13,14. Act. 7.27. Shall be punished, Col.3.25. Psal. 7.17. Judg.9.24. Luk. 18.7, 8. Example in Pharaoh, Gen. 12. 12, 14. and Abimelech, Gen.20.3,18. Ahab, 1 King. 21.10,19. It ought not to be done, Act. 7.26. Lev. 19.13. & 25.17. Ought to be confessed, 2 Cor. 13. Gen. 41.9. & 50.15. 1 Sam. 24 8.

2. In respect of him that suffereth wrong. 2 Cor. 7.12. Ought to be suffered, rather then to go to Law with scandall to the Gospel, 1 Cor.6.7. We ought not to revenge it, but commit it to God, Deut. 32.33. Pro. 20.22. Matth. 5.39. but forget it, Gen. 27.47. and forgive it from the heart, Matth. 6.12, 14, 15. & 18.35. Eph. 4.26.

To suffer wrong] To bear and put up quietly and patiently, any harm done unto us, without seeking revenge. 1 Cor.6.7. Why rather suffer ye not wrong?

Wroth] Gen. 4.5. Cain was very wroth,

or

or was vehemently grieved, or displeased. The Hebr. word signifieth to burn, or to be inflamed, either with anger or grief. The Greek here translateth he was grieved, and in sundry other places, as Joh. 4. 1, 9. where both the Greek version, and all the circumstances, shew it to mean grief. So in 1 Sam. 15. 11. 1 Chr. 13. 11. Neh. 5. 6. Aynsworth. To be angry, Gen. 31. 36. Jacob was wroth, and thereupon chode. Anger is a passion soon raised, but hardly ruled. The easiest precept in all the Scripture, is that of Paul to the Ephesians, Be angry, and the hardest prohibition (that which is joyned with it) Sin not, Eph. 4. 26. and never more hard for a man to forbear sin, then when he doth not forbear anger. Annot.

Wrought] is 1. applyed to any bodily work, Exod. 26. 36. Ruth 2. 19.

2. To Wood, Numb. 23. 23.

3. To Man, and then it is,

1 To commit sin, Deut. 17. 2. Josh. 7. 15. 2 Sam. 18. 13.

2 To prevail with God, 1 Sam. 14. 45.

4. To the Sea, and then it signifieth to be Tempestuous, Jon. 1. 11, 13.

It is put for, To stir up, and provoke, Rom. 7. 8. for, To obey, 1 Pet. 4. 3.

Y A.

Yarne] Thread that is spun of flax, or wool, or other like stuffe. The end is to make cloth, whereunto there is allusion, Matth. 6. 28. Luk. 12. 27. or other work, Exod. 35. 25, 26.

It is put for Merchandise, 1 King. 10. 28. 2 Chr. 1. 16.

Y C.

Yce] A growing together and thickening of the waters, through cold, Job 37. 10. & 38. 29, 30. Psal. 147. 16.

It resembleth the state and condition of this world, in the slipperyness and brittleness of it, Job 6. 16.

Y E.

Ye] pointeth out, and hath relation unto the persons spoken to, Gen. 3. 5. Luk. 16. 15.

Yea] A note, 1. Of affirmation, Matth. 9. 28. & 11. 26. & 13. 51. Act. 5. 8. Philem. v. 20.

2. Of asseveration, 2 Tim. 3. 12. Phil. 3. 8.

3. It is a note of constancy, Phil. 1. 18.

4. Of earnestnesse in a thing, Philem. v. 20.

5. A note of interrogation, Gen. 3. 1.

It is put for And, Job 2. 4. Be it so, 2 Cor. 5. 16.

Year] The space of twelve moneths. Luk. 3. 23. Jesus began to be about thirty years of age.

2. The whole space and time of our life. Psalm 90. 9. We have spent our years as a thought.

3. The seasons of the year; in which sense God is said to crown the year with his goodnesse, when he bestowes his blessings for the use of man in the severall seasons, Psal. 65. 11.

It is taken for time indefinitely, Psalm 77. 5. & 90. 14. Exod. 38. 8, 17. Hence Cajaphas is said to be the High-priest for that year; that is, then, Joh. 18. 13. For the office of the Priesthood (as Calvin thinketh) was not annuall, although others think that Annas and Cajaphas discharged the office by turns; so that he who was the first year the first Priest, the second year was the second Priest; and he that now was the second, the next year was the first.

The year of the Jews was either Abundant, Deficient, or Equall.

Abundant, they called Annus impregnatus.

Deficient, they called Annus cavus.

The year which was deficient, by institution they made it full; as when they took a day out of Cisleu that had thirty dayes, and put it to Marcheshvan, which had but twenty nine dayes.

That year which was abundant, by institution they made it deficient, when they took a day from Marcheshvan, and added it to Cisleu: Here Cisleu had a day more then enough, for none of their moneths had thirty one dayes.

Their year was ordinary, when Marcheshvan had nine and twenty dayes, and Cisleu thirty; and so through the moneths of the year.

That they might reduce the course of the Moon to the Sun, they interlaced a moneth.

The Sun exceeds the Moon in his course eleven dayes in the year; so that every third year there are thirty three odd dayes, of the which they make up a moneth, calling it the first Adar of thirty dayes, and they reserve the three odd dayes till the next yeer, and so forth till the nineteenth year. These interlaced moneths, with the odd dayes, made up the nineteenth year of the golden number, consisting of three hundred fifty four dayes; so that the Sun and the Moon met at one just period, as they did in the first year of the golden number of the nineteen years; the third, the sixth, the eighth, eleventh, fourteenth, sixteenth, were interlaced years, and the nineteenth year made up the golden number. The eighth year was intercalar, becaufe of the six odd dayes reserved from the years going before. Weems Christian Synagogue, p. 100.

Year of Sabbath, and Jubilee] Our perfect rest from sin and all infirmity through Christ in heaven, as the rest of the seventh day signifieth likewise, Levit. 25. 4,5, &c. comp. with Col. 2. & Heb. 4.

Years of an hireling] That as his years being expired, the hired labourer doth receive his reward, so the people of Arabia should at an appointed time receive the wages of their iniquity; their whole glory, even multitude of people, their riches and power being taken from them, Isa. 21.16.

Yeeld] is put, 1. for, To obey, 2 Chr. 30. 8.

2. To consent, Prov. 7.21.

3. To give increase, Hos. 8.7. Mar. 4.8.

4. To give, or render, Rom. 6.13,16,19.

5. To send out, Jam. 3. 11.

6. To free and deliver, Dan. 3. 28.

7. To procure, Heb. 12. 11.

8. To give up, Mat. 27. 5. Act. 5. 10.

9. To submit, and give over, Eccles. 10. 4.

Yell] A signe of great grief and calamity, Jer. 51. 38.

Yerne] To be tenderly affected, Genes. 43. 30. 1 King. 3. 26.

Yes] A particle of affirming, Rom. 10.18. or assenting, Mar. 7. 28. The same in effect with Yea.

Yesterday] An adverb of time. It is taken,

1. For the day going before, 1 Sam. 20.27. Joh. 4. 52.

2. For any time past, Heb. 13. 8.

3. For lately, 1 Sam. 15. 20. Job 8. 9.

4. For a short time, Psal. 90. 4.

Yet] noteth, sometimes the time present, Heb. 7. 10. Sometimes the future, Psa. 42. 6. & 43. 5. Jonah 3. 40. For a very short time, Joh. 7. 33. & 12. 35. & 13. 33.

It is a word of Correction, Gal. 2. 20. Continuance, 2 Chr. 27. 2. & 28. 22.

It is put for, Moreover, 2 Sam. 5. 13. For all this, Exod. 9. 30. Judg. 10. 13. Moreover, 2 Sam. 5. 13. & 6. 22. Hitherto, Ibid. 21. 15. Notwithstanding, Job 13. 15. Again, Zach. 1. 17.

Y N.

Ynk] Jer. 36. 18. The usuall materiall to write with in those times, μέλαν, 2 Cor. 3. 3. a μέλας, as atramentum, ab atro, black.

Y O.

Yoak] An instrument of wood or iron, to joyn men, or oxen, or other creatures together; serving either to tame or to punish. A materiall yoak.

2. Afflictions for sin, or the [illegible] sent from God. Lam. 3. 17. It is good [illegible] man to bear the yoak from his youth. This [illegible] yoak of tribulation.

3. Our grievous sins, which be the cause of our afflictions. Lam. 1. 14. The yoak of my transgressions is bound upon my hands. This is the yoak of our sins.

4. The cruell bondage, wherein Tyrants keep Gods people. Isa. 9. 5. Thou hast broken the yoak of their burthen. This is the yoak of oppression.

Yoak also signifieth servitude, Gen. 27. 40. Lev. 26. 13. Isa. 9. 4. & 10. 27. Jer. 27. 8, 11. Edom broke the yoak when Edom rebelled against Judah, and made them a King in Jehoram's time, 2 King. 8. 20, 22.

5. Fellowship or agreement in any thing, good or evill. 2 Cor. 6. 14. Bear not the yoak unequally with Infidels.

6. Gods Commandements that we should beleeve in Christ, and live uprightly. Matt. 11. 29. Take my yoak upon you. Also Ver. 30. This is the yoak of Gods promises and precepts, which is not heavy to the regenerate man.

7. The Law of Moses, with a strict condition of performing it perfectly. Act. 15. 10. To lay a yoak upon them, which neither our Fathers nor we were able to bear. This is the yoak of perfect obedience to the Law. A Metaphor.

The yoak of Christ, is,

1. The Crosse of Christ.

2. The service we owe to Christ. Both are easie, Mat. 11. 29.

The Crosse is so,

1 Because Christ hath taken away the sting thereof, which is sin, and hath undergone the curse, Gal. 3. 13.

2. God

2 God is at peace with us, therefore the Saints rejoyce in tribulation, Rom. 5.3.

3 Afflictions produce the quiet fruit of righteouſneſſe, Hebr. 12. An eternall weight of glory, 2 Cor. 4. 17.

4 They are ſhort, Ro. 8. 18. 2 Cor. 4. 17.

5 Chriſt meaſureth them according to our ſtrength, 1 Cor. 10. 13.

6 He giveth his holy Spirit to comfort his ſervants in the midſt of tribulation, 2 Cor. 1. 4, 5.

2. His ſervice is an eaſie yoak to the regenerate, 1 Joh. 5. 3.

1 They have a new nature wrought in them, which hath a great affinity with, and likeneſſe unto the ſervice of Chriſt; this change the Lord promiſes to work in his ſervants, when he would have them ſerve him, Deut. 30. 6, 11, 14. Ezek. 11. 19, 20. & 36. 27, 28. Jer. 31. 33.

2 Becauſe of the aſſiſtance continually given by God the Father, Son, and holy Ghoſt: The Father daily repaireth decayed ſtrength, with new ſupplies of grace; he willeth us to repent, Joel 2. 12. and worketh it, Jer. 31. 18. To circumciſe our hearts, Jer. 4. 4. and promiſeth that he will circumciſe them, Deut. 30. 6. To love him, Deut. 10. 12. and ſheddeth his love abroad in the heart, Rom. 5. 5.

The Son maketh it eaſie, becauſe being ingraffed in him, and joyned to him, as our root and head, we recei ve daily influence of grace from him, Rom. 6. 4. Joh. 5. 21, 25. & 11. 25. Eph. 5. 14. & 3. 16, 20.

The Spirit maketh it eaſie, by quickening us when we are dull and dead, Rom. 8. 11, 26. Joh. 4. 14.

The Graces of the Spirit make it eaſie,

1 Faith is our victory that overcometh the world, 1 Joh. 5. 4.

2 Hope is a ſtrong helmet of ſalvation, 1 Theſſ. 5. 8. and an anchor, Heb. 6. 18.

3 Love is a ſtrong help, and bluſheth at the name of difficulty; for it beareth all things, beleeveth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things, 1 Cor. 13. 7.

Yoke of his burthen] The burthen put upon the people, as a yoak, to wit, the corporal bondage of the Babylonians, and tyranny ſpirituall by Satan and ſin; being eaſed of the former by Cyrus, and by Chriſt of the latter, Iſa. 9. 4.

Yonder] pointeth out, and hath relation unto a perſon or place ſpoken of, 2 King. 4. 25. Numb. 23. 15.

You] as Ye. The perſon ſpoken to, Neh. 2. 20. Luk. 10. 16.

Young] It is ſpoken of unreaſonable creatures, Deut. 22. 6. Prov. 30. 17. Pſal. 78. 71. Iſa. 11. 7.

Of reaſonable, 2 Sam. 9. 12. Matth. 2. 8, 9. Lam. 2. 19. 1 Sam. 9. 11.

Young man] Gen. 4. 23. & 18. 7. is,

1. One ready for marriage, Iſa. 62. 5.

2. One able to bear armes, 1 Sam. 17. 58. 2 Sam. 1. 15. & 2. 14.

3. A ſervant, or waiting man, 1 Sam. 25. 5, 14. 1 King. 12. 8.

Young men] Such as for years were but young, being grown paſt childhood, and entring into mans eſtate. 1 Sam. 21. 5. The veſſels of the young men are holy. [The text ſeemeth to be againſt this.]

2. The firſt-born of the Iſraelites, which executed the holy thing, till Prieſts and Levites were conſecrated. Exod. 24. 5. He ſent young men of the children of Iſrael, which offered Burnt-offerings.

Your] ſignifieth, 1. The right or intereſt of a thing without the poſſeſſion, Matth. 5. 12. 1 Cor. 3. 21.

2. Poſſeſſion without right. This is called uſurpation, Jam. 5. 2.

3. Poſſeſſion and right, but not propriety, Luk. 16. 9, 12.

4. Both right and poſſeſſion, and propriety, Luk. 16. 12.

5. By uſe.

6. By delight.

7. By opinion.

Your Prince] Chriſt the Ruler and Lord of the Jews, Daniel's people, Dan. 10. 21. Like that chap. 9. 25, 26. Col. 1. 18.

Yours] 2 Cor. 12. 14. I ſeek not yours; that is, your eſtates, goods, riches.

Your ſelves] Not themſelves, but one another, as Jude 20. & Heb. 3. 13. Eph. 4. 32. where it is [your ſelves] in the Greek, but meaneth one another. The reaſon hereof is in Rom. 12. 4. 1 Cor. 12. 12.

Youth] Flouriſhing age, the time of rejoycing, Eccl. 11. 9.

It is vain, Eccl. 12. 2. in reſpect of affliction, Gen. 21. 15, 16, 17. in reſpect of ſin, whereunto that age is incident, Jer. 31. 19. Iſa. 54. 4. for the ſins committed in youth, Job 20. 11. Gen. 21. 9. Act. 7. 57.

The duty of youth is,

1. To fear God, Gen. 39. 8, 9. 1 King. 18. 12. 2 Chr. 34. 3.

2. To obſerve his Commandements, Matthew 19. 20. Mar. 10. 20. 1 Joh. 2. 13, 14.

3. To labour reformation of life, Pſalm 119. 9.

4. To renounce the pleaſures of the world, 1 Joh. 2. 15.

5. To live ſoberly, Tit. 2. 4.

6. To bear the yoak of the Lord, Lam. 3. 27.

7. To be imployed in the ſervice of God, and fighting againſt Satan, 1 John 2. 14, 15, 16.

It is the age wherein men are readyeſt to fall by ſin, Becauſe of the ſtrength of affections and heat of luſts: Example in the Prodigall, Luk. 15. the page of it is fooliſhneſſe, Prov. 22. 15. which leadeth to deſtruction, Ib.

It ought to be cured by the wholeſome information of the Word, Pſal. 119. 9.

Youthly luſts] High conceit of himſelf and his owne excellency, joyned with diſdain of others, 2 Tim. 2. 22.

Y R.

Yron bar] That which is hard to be broken, or overcome, Iſa. 45. 2.

Yron furnace] Carefull grief, anguiſh and ſorrow of heart, for great and grievous thraldome and ſlavery. Deut. 4. 20. The Lord hath brought you out of the yron furnace.

Yron ſinew] An obſtinate ſinner which wil not yeeld to the Word of God, no more then an yron ſinew will yeeld. Iſa. 48. 4. And he ſhall put an yron yoak upon thy neck.

Z A.

Zaanaim] A plain, Judg. 4. 11.

Zaanan] A going forth. A City, Mic. 1. 11.

Zaananim] Movings, or a moving; or, one ſleeping. A Countrey, Joſh. 19. 33.

Zaban] Trembling. The Son of Ezer, Gen. 36. 27.

Zabad] A dowrie. 1 Chron. 2. 36, 37. & 7. 21. He conſpired againſt Joaſh, 2 Chron. 24. 26.

Others of that name are mentioned, Ezr. 10. 27, 33, 43. They had marryed ſtrange Wives, verſ. 44.

Zabadiah] A dowrie of the Lord. 1 Chron. 8. 15, 17. The Son of Jeroboam of Gedor. He came to David at Ziklag, 2 Chr. 12. 7. Alſo the Son of Meſhelemiah, 1 Chr. 26. 2. Alſo the Son of Aſahel, a Captain over 24000 men to ſerve the King the 4. moneth, 2 Chr. 17. 8. A Levite ſent out by Jehoſaphat with the Princes to teach the people, 2 Chr. 27. 7. The Son of Iſmael, he was Ruler of the Houſe of Judah, for all the Kings matters, 2 Chron. 19. 11.

Zabbai] Flowing. The Son of Bebai; he marryed a ſtrange woman, Ezr. 10. 28.

Zabdi] A dowrie. The Grandfather of Achan, Joſh. 7. 1, 17, 18. Another mentioned, 1 Chr. 8. 19. The Grandfather of Mattaniah, Neh. 11. 17. He was over the increaſe of the vineyards for the Wine-cellars, 1 Chr. 27. 27.

Zabdiel] A dowrie of God. The Father of Jaſhobeam, who was over the firſt courſe of them that ſerved David. Under his charge were 24000 men, 1 Chron. 27. 2. A mighty man of valour, Neh. 11. 14.

Zabud] A dowry. The Son of Nathan, a principall officer and friend of Solomon, 1 King. 4. 5. The Son of Bigwai, Ezr 8. 14.

Zabulon] A dwelling. The Son of Jacob by Leah, Gen. 30. 20.

It is put for the poſterity of Zabulon, whoſe eſtate and condition is foretold by Jacob, Gen. 49. 13. His inheritance is given to him by lot, Deut. 33. 18, 19. Laid tribute upon the Canaanites, Judg. 1. 30. Goeth to war againſt the enemies of God, Judg. 4. 6, 10. & 6. 35. 44000 of this Tribe were ſealed by the Lamb in the forehead, Rev. 7. 8.

Zaccai] Pure, neat; or after the Syrian, juſt, or made juſt, Ezr. 2. 9. Neh. 7. 14.

Zacchur] Mindfull. The name of divers men, Numb. 13. 4. 1 Chr. 4. 26. & 24. 27. & 25. 2. Nehem. 3. 2. & 10. 12. & 12. 35. & 13. 13.

Zachariah] (called alſo Zacharias, Luk. 1. 5.) Mindfull of the Lord; or, a man of the Lord. The Son of Jeroboam ſlain by Shallum, 2 King. 14. 29. & 15. 8, 10. The Father of Abi, the Wife of Hezekiah, Ib. 18. 2. One of the Porters, 1 Chr. 15. 18. A dore-keeper, for the Ark, Ib. 24. A Ruler of the Houſe of God, 2 Chr. 35. 8. A Prieſt, Neh. 12. 41. The Father of John the Baptiſt, Luk. 3. 2. The Son of Barachias, Mat. 23. 35.

Zacher] Mindfull, or man. The brother of Gibeon, 1 Chr. 8. 29, 31.

Zacheus] Pure, juſt. Ezr. 2. 9. A principall Publican, who out of a deſire to ſee Chriſt, getteth up into a Tree, Luk. 19. 2, 3.

Receiveth

Receiveth Chriſt into his houſe, verſ. 6. Giveth large teſtimony of the truth of his converſion, verſ. 8. and is the Son of Abraham by faith, verſ. 9. He was of Jericho curſed by Joſhua, from this curſe he is delivered by Chriſt.

Zadok] Juſtified, juſt. Mat. 1. 14. In this ſenſe was his prayer, as is alledged, The juſt God of heaven and earth, look down upon our miſeries, and help us. This, or ſuch like was the prayer of Azor his Father, requeſting God for the defence of his people; and according to his prayers, and the prayers of other godly ones, the Lord was looking in mercy upon his people, and began to remember his covenant made to Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob; and therefore he of his infinite mercy was haſtening the coming of his Son Jeſus into the world, in whom all his diſtreſſed people were to finde mercy. The occaſion of this prayer aroſe from the vexations and troubles they ſuffered under the Kings of Syria and Ægypt; which waxed more and more grievous and intolerable unto them.

A Prieſt; the Son of Ahitub, 2 Sam. 8.17. who followed David in his tróubles againſt Abſalom, 2 Sam. 15. 24, 25. He anointed Salomon, 1 King. 1. 33, 34, 39. A mighty man that came to David to Ziklag, 1 Chro. 12.28. Brought the Ark of God to the place prepared for it by David, 1 Chron. 15. 12. & 16. 39.

Another of that name was the Son of Baana, who repaired the wall of Jeruſalem, Neh. 3. 4. The Son of Immer, Ibid. 29. The Son Meraioth, Neh. 11. 11.

Zaham] Deteſting, or unclean. The Son of Rehoboam, 2 Chr. 11. 19.

Zair] A place where Jehoram King of Judah ſmote the Edomites, 2 King. 8. 21.

Zalaph] A ſhadow, ringing of ſhaking; or according to the Hebr. and Syr. a ſhadow joyned together. The Father of Hanun, Neh. 3. 30.

Zalmon, or Salmon] Peaceable. The Son of Naaſſon, Mat. 1.4. His Father was a wiſe man, and nameth his Son, the Son of peace. Two notable virtues beſeeming ſuch a Father and a Son; a wiſe man will love peace, and by all means follow after it; but fools are the authour of diſcord. This word is written with ט, Ruth 4. 21.

Zalmon] (with ע) darkneſſe, or his image; or, the ſhadow of a gift. One of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 28. A Mount, Pſal. 68. 14.

Zalmonah] Our image; or, a gift of the ſhadow. The place where the people of Iſrael pitched after they had left Horeb, Num. 33. 41.

Zalmunna] A ſhadow or image of perturbation, or a ſhadow forbidden. A King of Midian, Judg. 8. 5, 6. Pſal. 83. 12.

Zamzummim] Thinking wickedneſſe, or wicked men, or wickedneſſe. A ſort of giants inhabiting the land of Ammon in old time, Deu. 2. 20. they were a wicked people, who truſting to their ſtrength and power, became notable Robbers, doing all things after their owne luſts. They were deſtroyed by the Ammonites, v. 21. thought to be the ſame with the Zuzims, Gen. 14. 5.

Zanoah] Forgetfulneſſe. Neh. 11. 30. The name of a man. Alſo Joſh. 15. 34, 56. The name of a place.

Zaphnath-paaneah] A man to whom ſecrets are revealed; or in the Ægyptian tongue, a Saviour of the world. The name which Pharaoh gave Joſeph, Gen. 41. 45. becauſe Joſeph by his ſtoring up of proviſion againſt a generall famine, was a means to preſerve them from periſhing by famine. But this is rejected by ſome. However, the impoſition of new names in the Ægyptian, as in the Perſian Court, was a reflection of honour and worſhip, ſaith Don Joſeph. And a conſiderable circumſtance of this reputation it needs muſt be, that the names ſhould be given out of the Princes owne tongue, from whom the honour deſcended. See Mr. Gregorie's Notes and Obſervations, p. 62, 63, &c.

Zaphon] The North-eaſt wind, or hid, or a beholder. A place, Joſh. 13. 27.

Zarah] Clearneſſe, or riſing up. Gen. 36. 13. The Son of Judah, Mat. 1. 3. He roſe firſt in the birth, Gen. 36. 13. by putting forth his hand, as a plea ant plant riſing out of a fruitful ground, or like the Sun riſing upon the Horizon (which the word rather doth ſignifie) but he pluckt it in again with ſpeed, as the Sun ſhrowdeth himſelf under the clouds. Theſe extraordinary motions in the birth import great conſequences. For the firſt place was appointed to Phares, howſoever Zarah aimed at it.

Zareah] Leproſie; or, an hornet. A City, Neh. 11. 29.

Zareathites] A family of the poſterity of Caleb, 1 Chr. 2. 53.

Zared] A valley where the people of Iſrael pitched, Numb. 21. 12.

Zarephtah] Perplexity of bread; or, the perſwaſion of perplexity. A Countrey belonging to Zidon, where the Lord had prepared a widow to ſuſtain Elijah in the time of famin, 1 Ki. 17 9.

Zaretan]

Zaretan] Tribulation, perplexity; a binding or giving perplexity. A place, Josh. 3. 16.

Zareth-shahar] A City, Josh. 13.19.

Zarhites] A family descended of Zerah of the Tribe of Simeon, Numb. 26. 13. Josh. 7. 17.

Zartanah] as Zaretan. A place by Izreel, 1 King. 4. 12.

Zartan] A place, 1 King. 7 46.

Zatthu] An Olive tree. One that sealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 14.

Zattu] The same. Of his children 845 returned from Babylon, Neh. 7. 13. Of his Sons there were that had married strange Wives, Ezr. 10. 27.

Zaza] Belonging to all, all manner of wayes, a wilde beast, shining bright; or according to the Syrian, going back. The Son of Jonathan, 1 Chr. 2. 33.

Z E.

Zeal] Increase of affections; as of grief, joy, hatred, love. Joh. 2. 17. The zeal of thy house hath eaten me up. Rev. 3. 19. Be zealous and amend.

Note. Zeal cometh of a Greek word, which is (ζέω) and signifieth to be fervent, hot as fire: (ζῆλος) which is emulation, and is put in good or ill part, which shall be discerned by the context or circumstances being well marked.

2. An honest and commendable desire, kindled in our hearts, to imitate or go beyond others in well-doing. 2 Cor. 9. 2. Your zeal hath provoked many. Tit. 2. 14. Zealous of good works. 1 Cor. 12. 31, 39. Gal. 4. 18.

3. An earnest desire of doing good things belonging unto us, and of hindering evill things, being joyned with sound knowledge and hearty love of Gods glory, and of our neighbours good. 2 Cor. 7. 11. Yea what zeal? Col. 4. 13. I bear him record that he hath a great zeal for you. Thus far it is taken in good part.

4. Earnestnesse of affection in good things, when neither the manner nor end of doing is good. Such was the zeal of Jehu, 2 Kin. 10. 6. and of the Jews, Rom. 10. 2. They have the zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. Also of Paul, being a Pharisee, Act. 22. 3. And was zealous toward God. Here it is taken in ill part, Galat. 1. 14. Act. 21. 20.

5. Fierce and fiery bitternesse, when men are earnest and hot in a bad cause. Phil. 3. 6. Concerning zeal, I persecuted the Church. Here it is taken in ill part.

6. Envy, indignation, Act. 5. 17. Also 7. 9. & 17. 5. The Jews moved with zeal, or envy. The Greek word translated Envy, or Indignation, doth signifie zeal in ill part, Act. 13. 45. & 17. 5. 1 Cor. 3. 3, 13, 14. 2 Cor. 11. 20. Gal. 5. 20.

7. The most earnest love of God, for the good of his Church, and his owne glory. Isa. 9. 7. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this. Isa. 37. 32. Here it is taken in good part.

Unto true Christian zeal there be these six things required.

1. A desire and lust after some thing which is truely good, or against something which is evil indeed.

2. That in this desire there be earnestnesse and vehemency.

3. That there be a grief for the want of this good thing we desire, or for some abuse done to it.

4. That this desire and grief be tempered with charity and discretion.

5. That we seek not our owne, but Gods glory.

Lastly, that all this do proceed and come from sincere and distinct knowledge of the ord, Gal. 4. 18. Rom. 10. 3. 1 Cor. 10. 31.

Zeal is a mixt affection of grief and anger, flowing from love; for what a man loveth earnestly, he is carefull to see it honoured, and grieved when it is dishonoured.

The sorts of it are many; for according as our love and grief are, so is our Zeal. If upon the right objects, moderate, in due measure, it causeth a zeal which is holy and spirituall: otherwise, if our love be inordinate, it begets a carnall and inordinate zeal.

Sometime the Zeal is not upon the right object, and then it may be great, but it cannot be good; as the zeal of Hereticks, who compasse Sea and Land to make one of their owne profession.

Sometime it is on the right object, not in due measure; either too cold, which is remission and slackenesse; or too hot, which is superstition. Of these saith the Apostle, Rom. 10. 2. It is a zeal not according to knowledge; a zeal which tendeth to death, not to life.

It is threefold.

1. Divine; which is twofold; one without knowledge, another with knowledge.

The first was in Paul, Gal. 1. 1. 4 Act. 8. 9. It is erroneous, being made voyd of the knowledge knowledge of the Will of God, yet having an opinion of true knowledge of his Will; hence the minde is inflamed with a love of the glory of God, and indignation againſt thoſe it thinks (though falſely) to be his enemies; ſo that it tends wholly to the hindering, yea ruine of them.

Zeal with knowledge, hath the knowledge of the Will of God going before it, as the cauſe thereof, and it burneth with a love of the Word of God, and hatred of thoſe things that hinder or ſeem to hinder the courſe thereof; and it is either ſeaſonable, as in Moſes, Phinehas, Elias, David, Pſal. 119. 139. and in Chriſt: or unſeaſonable, as of divers mentioned by Euſebius, lib. 4. c. 15. who not being urged by any enemie, offered themſelves to the fire.

2. Humane zeal is twofold. One of duty, another againſt it.

The firſt is of divers ſorts.

1. Honeſt. 2. Gracious.

Honeſt, as of the Husband not enduring a companion in his love; hence the word it transferred to God, who is ſaid to be jealous, when he will admit of no corrivall in his worſhip; or when he will not endure that the ſoul of man, being married unto himſelf, ſhould goe a whoring after other gods; wherefore idolatry in Scripture is called ſpirituall adultery, and fornication.

Gracious zeal is, 1. Unto grace; which is an ardent deſire of the knowledge of piety and true Religion, as was in Nicodemus and Cornelius.

2. Unto life; this cauſeth a man that he will not yeeld to any thing that may deprive him of Chriſt, but rather to ſuffer death, or any torment, then to be drawn from the truth of Chriſt; as in Stephen, Act. 7. 2.

Secondly, againſt duty, is the filthy deſire of laſcivious and wanton men, who have given themſelves to wantonneſſe, and luſt, in ſtead of the true God, Eph. 4. 17. and honeſt Matrimony; this zeal grievs the Spirit, and drives it out of the heart.

2 Unto death, as with them who burn with hatred againſt the true worſhip of God; as in Cain, the Scribes and Phariſees.

3. Devilliſh; as of Turks, Jews, and Papiſts, who are driven by the ſpirit of Satan to oppreſſe the truth; but true is he who hath ſaid, the gates of hell ſhall not prevail againſt it, Mat. 16. 18.

To guide it aright, theſe virtues muſt ſtill attend zeal.

1. The light of knowledge, that it may both begin and end with the Word.

2. Good diſcretion; it muſt be wiſe as well as warm; in greater matters greater, and leſſer in leſſer.

3. Sincere affection, abandoning all by-reſpects, beſide the glory of God, deſire of mens good, and conſcience of the good duty it ſelf. Taylor on Tit. 2. 14. p. 529, 530. See Mr. Samuel Ward his Coals from the Altar.

Iſa.

Iſa. 8. 2. A Prophet, the Son of Barachiah, Zech. 1.1.

Touching Jehojada the Father of Zachariah (whoſe Son was ſtoned with ſtones at the commandement of the King, 2 Chro. 24.21. thought to be the Zacharias mentioned by our Saviour, Mat. 23. 35.) It's alledged for the juſtification of this opinion, that he had two names, ſignifying the ſame thing in effect. For Jehojada ſignifieth, acknowledged of the Lord; and Barachiah, bleſſed of the Lord. By which laſt name he was called, becauſe of the holineſſe of his life, and his excellent merits both of the Church and Common-wealth. And although his death was long before Chriſt, yet it is by him imputed to the Jews living in the time of Chriſt, becauſe they reſembled the wicked lives of their Anceſtours, Mat. 23. 35. Luk. 11. 51. Where he ſeemeth to ſpeak of this, rather then of any other of that name, becauſe at his death he uttered theſe words, The Lord look upon it, and require it, 2 Chr. 24. 22. As the blood of Abel is ſaid to cry unto God (requiring revenge upon Cain) Gen. 4. 10. ſo that which Chriſt ſaith of Zachary ſlain by the Iews between the porch and the Altar, agreeth wel w^th^ that w^ch^ is ſpoken of the Son of Iehojada, 2 Chr. 24. 21. Yet ſome refer theſe words of Chriſt to Zachariah the Prophet, whoſe Fathers name was Barachias, Zach. 1. 1, 7. and the manner of Chriſts account ſeems to perſwade to it; who reckoning up the innocent blood ſhed by the Jews, begins at Abel, and ends in the laſt of the holy Prophets; whereas after the other Zachariah, many other Prophets and holy men were put to death.

Moreover, it ſeems to be without warrant to turn Jehojada's name into Barachias, or to ſay Zechariah's Progenitors were Iddo, Barachias, Jehojada, ſeeing no ſuch thing appears in the Genealogie.

Again, it ſeems not unlikely that that Zechariah, 2 Chr. 24. 20. was ſlain in the Court of the people, after he had preached unto them, ſtanding in a high place among them, as the 20 & 21 verſes ſeem to import. But the Zechariah in Matthew, was ſlain in the Court of the Prieſts, viz. between the Temple and the Altar, whither (being aſſaulted) he ran for Sanctuary, as others before him had done, though they were no Prieſts, as it may be Zachariah the Prophet was not.

Some referre it to the Father of John the Baptiſt, whom (they ſay) the Jews killed for the teſtimony he gave of Chriſt come in the fleſh; and of Mary, after her bringing forth of Chriſt, remained a Virgin. So that Chriſt meant to name the firſt Martyr Abel, and the laſt, to wit, this Zechariah newly then killed. But this laſt is without ground. The firſt opinion is moſt agreeable to the truth, ſeeing it is no where recorded that the Prophet Zechariah was ſlain, as Chriſt ſaith, ſeeing the Temple and Altar were not repaired in his time. Zina] All manner of wayes, or a wild beast, or shining bright. 1 Chr. 23. 10. The Son of Shimei.

Zion] A heap, tombe, looking-glasses, or drought. A Fort in Ierusalem, (called the Mount of the Lord) on the top whereof was a Tower called the City of David, 2 Sam. 5. 7, 9. Psal. 2. 6. The Temple was built upon it, in respect whereof the Church of the Iews is called Zion, because here they assembled; afterwards it was the title given to the Church of both Iews and Gentiles, that agree in one faith and true Religion, Zach. 10. 11. Heb. 12. 22.

It is thought to signifie the Saints in heaven.

The Church is compared to Zion, to inform us,

1. What we are by nature, viz. Forts of Iebuzites, Canaanites, enemies to God and true Religion. We were the halt and the blinde, mentioned Mich. 4. 6, 7. Alluding to 2 Sam. 5. 6, 7.

2. By grace, even conquered by David our King Jesus Christ, and fortified for his use.

In this respect the Church is fitly resembled to Zion.

1. Because of the height thereof; for she hath her heart and affections elevated and set upon the things above, Col. 3. 1. and her conversation in Heaven, Phil. 3. 21.

2. Because of the unmovableness thereof, Psal. 126. 1. Mat. 16. 18.

3. In respect of Gods habitation there, called therefore the City of God, the Mountain of his holiness, Psal. 48. 1, 2, 8. & 50. 2. He hath chosen it, and desireth to dwell in it, Psa. 132. 13, 14, 15. As David by an excellency reckoned Zion to be his City of residence; so God doth account of his Church, and every member thereof, that he will dwell in her and them, by his holy Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 19. by faith in the heart, Eph. 3. 17.

4. Because of his love to the Church above all the world, insomuch that he will give Christ to none but her, 1 Pet. 2. 6.

Inhabitants of Zion] The Church of the faithfull, Isa. 12. 6.

Aboard] Act. 21. 2. Into the ſhip.

Abode] or ſitting. 2 King. 19. 27. marg.

Abominably] 1 King. 21. 26. Heb. Abominations.

Abomination] That is, very abominable, Lev. 18. 22. as deſolation for very deſolate, Verſ. 7. Annot. on Iſa. 1. 13.

Had in abomination, 1 Sam. 13. 4. Heb. did ſtink, marg.

Abomination of deſolation, Mat. 24. 15. That the abomination of deſolation ſtanding in the holy place, is the Romane Army beſieging Jeruſalem, may appear,

1 By the parallel place, Luk. 21. 20. where before that admonition of (then let thoſe that are in Judea flee to the Mountains, &c. which here follows immediately, and ſo demonſtrates it to be the very matter) theſe words are ſet, When ye ſhall ſee Jeruſalem compaſſed with Armies, then know that the deſolation thereof is neer.

2 By the agreeableneſſe of the words to this ſenſe, and conſonance of them to that other expreſſion in St. Luke, for the βδέλυγμα ἐρημώσεως doth (by an Hebraiſme, imitated by the Writers of the New Teſtament) ſignifie an abominable, heathen, profane, waſting company of Souldiers, or the like. So in the place of Daniel (here referred to) 'tis clear, ch. 9. 27. With the abominable Armies he ſhall make it deſolate. The word abominable being ordinarily applyed to the then polluted and idolatrous heathen world, of which the Romanes were a principall part, which Armies were to work this deſolation on Jeruſalem. Agreeable to which it is what Artemidorus hath ſaid in his Oneirocriticks li.2.c.20. that γύπες Vultures, or Eagles (the very creatures, to which in this place the Romane Armies are compared, Verſ.28.) ſignifie in his art, wicked abominable enemies. The very paraphraſe of βδέλυγμα here. Dr. Hammond on Mat. 24. f.

Accurſed] Heb. the curſe. Deut. 21. 23. ma. Devoted, Joſh. 6. 17. marg. Separated, Rom. 9. 3. marg. Anathema, 1 Cor. 12. 3. marg.

I could wiſh that my ſelf were accurſed from Chriſt, &c. Rom. 9. 3. I could be content that I were ſeparate or excommunicate from Chriſts Church, not onely to want the honour of Apoſtleſhip, but to be the moſt abject creature, ſeparate from the body of Chriſt, the communion of Saints, and ſo delivered up to Satan (which containeth all temporall calamities, that he was willing to endure and undergoe for their good) or that as Chriſt being not accurſed, or worthy of any ill, became a curſe for us, ſo after his example, any the ſaddeſt condition might fall on me; or if it were poſſible, and if it might any way tend to this end, I could, me thinks, be content, to part with all mine owne hopes and intereſts in Chriſt, even mine eternall heaven and bliſſe; could endure any loſſe by way of expiation for my Brethren and Conſanguineans the Jews, to reſcue them from their infidelity, and the deſtruction that attends them. Dr. Hammond's Paraph. & Annot. b.

Accuſation] It's twofold.

1. That which is commenced before God, either againſt obſtinate and rebellious ſinners, Joh. 5. 45. or againſt the elect, Rev. 12. 10. But this laſt is to no purpoſe, Rom. 8. 33.

2. That before men. Where conſider,

1 That a Judge muſt not receive an accuſation againſt an Elder, under two or three witneſſes, 1 Tim. 5. 19. and he muſt not condemn any before he which is accuſed have the accuſers face to face, &c. Act. 25. 16.

2 The accuſer is unfit to be a witneſſe againſt any for ſmall faults, himſelf being guilty of moſt grievous crimes, Mar. 7. 2, 5, 9. Nor they to accuſe others of a crime whereof themſelves are moſt guilty, 1 King. 18. 17, 18. And good men will not accuſe their owne Nation, though moſt adverſe and injurious unto them, Act. 28. 19. And of old, it was unlawfull for Servants and Dependents upon others, to accuſe their Lords and Patrons. See 2 Sam. 19. 27.

3. That an accuſation is ſometime faigned, Gen. 44. 5, 15. Sometime falſe, raſh, unjuſt; where conſider,

1 That if the Accuſer be an honeſt man, whoſe accuſation is of ignorance, having the truth related, he is ſatisfied, Act. 11. 18. but if ungodly, then doe they not onely ſtudiouſly obſerve the ſpeeches and actions of the godly, whereby they may take occaſion to accuſe them, Dan. 6. 4, 5. Matth. 12. 10.

Mar. 3. 2. Luk. 6. 7. & 11. 53, 54. & 14. 1. & 20. 20. Joh. 8. 6. 2 Cor. 11. 12. but without any proof reiterate the self-same accusation against them, Luk. 23. 2, 5. Joh. 18. 29, 30.

2 That even the best have been falsely accused, Isa. 54. 17. Act. 11. 2, 3. & 21, 28. & 23. 28, &c. As also Christ was, Matth. 27. 12. Mar. 15. 3. Who must endevour to avoyd all occasions from them, that seek such, to accuse us, 1 Cor. 9. 15. 2 Cor. 11. 12. And to be modest in our Answers. As also, to be desirous that the matter may be throughly scanned, not refusing to undergo any punishment, if guilty, withall making known the integrity of our hearts. Thus in effect Ravanell.

Receive no accusation, 1 Tim. 5. 19. By the Judicial proceedings among the Jews, before the giving of the Sentence there were three parts:

1 מובא ריב, the Admission of the Cause or Suit. See Isa. 1. 23.

2 מבונה ריב, the Confirmation thereof by the Accusers oath.

3 חקד ריב, the Searching out of the Cause by Arguments afterwards produced, (See Job 29. 16.) and considered of by the Judge. Dr. Hammond Annot. e. p. 739.

Accuser] False-accusers, or Make-bates, 2 Tim. 3. 3. & Tit. 3. 3. marg.

Achor] Trouble. A valley in the Tribe of Judah, Josh. 7. 24, 26. & 15. 7.

Acknowledge] To retain in knowledge, Rom. 1. 28. marg. To acknowledge offence, Heb. be guilty, Hos. 5. 15. marg.

Acknowledgement] Col. 2. 2. The Originall ἐπίγνωσις, may be taken for faith, saving faith still growing, whereby we study to know Christ more (though already known) more firmly to imbrace him, more surely to confide in him, more to obey him, that we may joyn with knowledge, acknowledgement. Leigh Crit. Sac.

We must acknowledge the mystery of God even by an outward profession of our faith in Christ, and our consecration of our selves to the worship and knowledge of God. Byfield.

Acquaint] To get more knowledge of God, or walk more carefull in his wayes, Job 22. 21. Annot.

To have experience of, Isa. 53. 3. To know and take notice of, Psal. 139. 3.

Acquaintance] Neighbours and friends, with whom we familiarly converse, such as are known unto us, and to whom we communicate our counsels and purposes, and who may be helpful unto us in our distresse; should so be, Job 42. 11. In the second place, it is used for such a parcel of ground as a pair or yoke of Oxen could ordinarily plough in a day, 1 Sam. 14. 14. which among the Romanes were esteemed to be of two hundred and forty foot in length, and one hundred and twenty in breadth. Annot. on Isa. 5. 10.

Act] It's put for work, or evill deed, Isa. 59. 6. as of Adultery, Joh. 8. 4.

Acts] Words, or Things, 1 King. 11. 41. marg. Deeds, 1 Chr. 11. 22. marg. Sayings, 2 Chr. 9. 5. marg. Righteous acts, Heb. righteousnesses, Judg. 5. 11. marg.

Actions] Enterprises, proceedings, 1 Sam. 2. 3.

Activity] Genes. 46. 7. Or, of ability, power, prowesse.

It implyeth as well fitnesse of minde, as of body, and so prudence, diligence, valour, Exod. 18. 21. Aynsworth.

Pharaoh would not set over his Cattel any one that was not meetly qualified for the sufficient oversight of them: Much more curious choyce should be made of those who must have the oversight of the flock of Gods pasture, who are Men, Ezek. 34. 31. then of flocks of Sheep, or herds of Cattel. Annot.

A D.

Adam] as Adam, or after the manner of man, Job 31. 33. marg.

Adami] Josh. 19. 33. joyned with the following word Neked, it signifieth humane deception, or a cloud of malediction. A City.

Addar] as Adar. The Son of Belah, 1 Chr. 8. 3.

Adde]

Adde] Heb. To give above, Numb. 35.6. mar. When ſpoken of Men, it's for the moſt part taken in an evill ſenſe, as Job 34.37. 2 Chr. 28.13. Deut. 29.19. & 4.2. Prov. 30.6. Rev. 22.18. Gal. 3.15.

When ſpoken of God, it hath reſpect either unto his benefits, Gen. 30.24. 2 King. 20.6. Act. 2.41, 47. (2 Sam. 24.3. Luk. 12.31. Act. 5.14. & 11.24.) Or, unto puniſhments, (Jerem. 45.3. Revel. 22.18.) Ravanell.

Adjure] Charge, Cant. 2.7. marg. To binde by an oath, under the penalty of a fearfull curſe, Joſh. 16.26. 1 Sam. 14.24. Annot.

I adjure thee by the living God, Mat. 26.63. 'Twas a cuſtome among the Jews to adjure, wch was by ſome form of execration laid upon the perſon, if he did not ſpeak and anſwer truly. This among them obliged the perſon adjured, as much as if he had taken an oath; and therefore Chriſt, though before he had held his peace, now being adjured, thinks himſelf bound to anſwer. Dr. Hammond Annot. 1.

Adlai] The Father of Shaphat, 1 Chron. 27.29.

Admah] Earthly, red, or bloody. The name of a City, Gen. 10.19. which was deſtroyed with Sodom, Deut. 29.23. Hoſ. 11.8.

Adminiſter] To beſtow (alms) as it was intended by the givers, 2 Cor. 8.19, 20. Though generally it ſignifie any Office of the Miniſtery, or Eccleſiaſtical function, yet it is taken more ſpecially for the function of the Deacons, in diſtributing of alms to the poor. The word διακονέω ſignifies, to haſten much, of διὰ, which in compoſition augmenteth the ſignification, & κονέω to haſten; the Metaphor being taken from runners, who in running ſtir up the duſt. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Adminiſtration] 1 Cor. 12.5. that is, miniſtery and ſervice, and then on foot, or through the duſt. Leigh.

Adverſary] Heb. the man adverſary, Eſt. 7.6. marg.

Mine adverſary] Heb. the maſter of my cauſe, Iſa. 50.8. marg.

Satan is our adverſary before God (and therefore called שטן, ἐχθρὸς, enemy, ἀντικείμενος ſet againſt us) this he expreſſeth by accuſing (to which Rev. 12.11. refers) or impleading, and thence he is called ἀντίδικος, an adverſary, ἐν δίκῃ, in Court of Judicature, 1 Pet. 5.8. This he doth falſly ſometimes, as in the caſe of Job, ch. 9.11. (in which reſpect he is called διάβολος, a calumniator, by which the Septuagint oft render שטן) but ſometimes truely, upon the reall commiſſion of ſome ſin; to which purpoſe he is ſaid as an Explorator or Searcher for faults, to go up and down, to and fro upon the earth, Job 1. 7. When he hath any ſuch accuſation againſt any Brother, Chriſtian profeſſor, or pious perſon, then (as perhaps it was in the caſe of Peter, Luk. 22. 31.) he is ſaid ἐξαιτήσασθαι, to require him of God, demands to have him delivered up to him, as to a Lictor, or Executioner, σινιάσαι, to ſift and ſhake him terribly; and that perhaps is the meaning of his ſeeking whom he may devour, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Dr. Hammond Annot. on 1 Cor. 5. 5. e.

Septuagint

Adverſity] Evill, trouble, affliction, Pſal. 10. 6. Aynſworth.

Diſtreſſes, Pſal. 31. 7. Idem. Heb. halting, Pſal. 35. 15. marg.

Bread of adverſity, Iſa. 30. 20. or, of ſtraights. A proverbial ſpeech, importing ſhort or ſorry fare or dyet, ſuch as thoſe uſe to have allowed them that are ſhut up in Priſon, and ſuch as thoſe are put to in time of a ſiege, that are mured up in ſome City, the caſe of Samaria, 2 King. 6. 25. and of Jeruſalem, Jer. 38. 9. & 52. 6. Annot. Gods judgements on the ungodly, 2 Chr. 15. 6.

Advertiſe] To counſell. Numb. 24. 14. I will counſell thee what thou ſhalt doe (Numb. 31. 16.) I will counſel thee to cauſe them ſtumble, or fall; and I will teach thee what evill they ſhall do unto Moab. Aynſworth.

To reveal in the ear, Rom. 4. 4. marg.

Advice] Counſel, Judg. 19 30. 1 Sam. 25. 33. Conſent, judgement, approbation, 2 Sam. 19. 43. A grave or ſound ſentence or counſel, briefly ſhewing what's to be done, or what hath uſually been done, 2 Cor. 8 10.

Adviſe] To conſider and weigh throughly what's to be done in a buſineſſe, 2 Sam. 24. 13. To give counſel, 1 King. 12. 6.

Adviſed] Skilful, expert, wiſe. Pro. 13. 10. With the well adviſed is wiſdome.

Adviſement] Conference or conſultation had one with another, 1 Chr. 12. 19.

Adullamite] Gen. 38. 1, 12, 20. One belonging to the City Adullam.

Adulterer] Properly, a man that abuſeth his body by adultery, Job 24 15. Heb. 13. 4.

Figuratively, ſuch a lover of this world, as his minde is alienated from God, Jam. 4. 4.

Adultereſſe] A Wife that goeth aſide to another in ſtead of her Husband, Num. 5. 29. Eſt. 16. 32.

Adulterous] One that committeth adultery, Prov. 30. 20.

Adulterous generation, Matth. 12. 39. A baſtardly brood, Hoſ. 1. 2. No true children of Abraham, Joh. 8. 39. becauſe ſo much degenerate from his faith and ſanctity. So he calleth thoſe that forſook God by Idolatry, which is a ſpiritual fornication, Rev. 17. 2. or ſuch as the Apoſtle, Heb. 12. 8. called baſtards. Annot.

Advocate] παράκλητος. The true force of the word Paracletus, is Advocatus, (not the Nown, but the Participle) one called to, ſent for, invited to come, upon what occaſion, or for what end ſoever it be; παρά ſhews he ſhould be neer us, one ordinary.

It ſignifieth alſo one that beſeecheth, an Exhorter, Comforter, Doctor. Leigh Crit. Sac.

A F.

Afar] This word joyned with off, is put,

1. For ſpace between place and place, Gen. 37. 18. 1 Sam. 26. 13. Luk. 16. 23.

2. To be abſent, Pſal. 10. 1.

3. To eſtrange ones ſelf from another, Pſal. 38. 11.

4. To be ſtrangers, none of the viſible Church, Eph. 2. 13, 17.

Affairs] Matters, buſineſſes, and things which concern one, Pſal. 112. 5. Dan. 2. 49. Eph. 6. 21, 22. 2 Tim. 2. 4. Things, 1 Chr. 26. 32. marg.

Affect] To foul, or ſlubber; to affect with grief, moleſt, trouble, or make work. To ſtrip, or glean. To rob, or prey upon. To waſte away.

Mine eye affecteth (waſteth away) my ſoul, Lam. 3. 51. that is, I am even conſumed and waſted away; or, clean worn out, and ſpent with weeping; or, I am ſo faint with continual weeping, that my ſoul is even gone, my ſpirits are clean ſpent. Annot.

They zealouſly affect you, Gal. 4. 17. or, are zealous over you. He compareth the falſe Teachers to jealous Wooers, who can by no means endure a corrivall; therefore ſaith the Apoſtle, they exclude you from me, and from my doctrine of faith which I have delivered unto you, that you may be wholly theirs, and I have no part in you. Annot. The word hath an emphaſis, and ſignifieth, To be earneſt with heat and fervency. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Affectionated] Be kindly affectionated, Rom. 12. 10. His meaning is, that we ſhould improve the naturall affection we bear towards any to a higher pitch, even to Chriſtian charity. Annot.

Affectionately] Being affectionately deſirous of you. 1 Theſſ. 2. 8. With ſuch an affection as of a parent or friend.

Afflict] Cruelly to vex and oppreſſe, Gen. 15. 13. Grievouſly to puniſh, Pſal. 55. 19. To be grieved and humbled, Ezr. 8. 21. To humble, Judg. 16. 5. Ravanell. To melt, Job 6. 14. marg.

Affliction] or tears, Heb. eye. 2 Sam. 16. 12. marg. Iniquity, Job 5. 6. marg. Oppreſſion, Iſa. 30. 20. marg. Breach, Amos 6. 6. marg. Vanity, Heb. 3. 7. marg.

Afford] Render, yeeld, Pſal. 144. 13.

Affright] Were affrighted, Heb. laid hold on horrour, Job 18. 20. marg. The word ſignifies ſuch a fright as makes a mans hair ſtand an end, Job 4. 15. Ezek. 27. 35. & 32. 10. The meaning is, by invertion of words, that horrour hath taken hold on them, Iſa. 13. 12. & 21. 3. Annot.

To be ſore amazed, and aſtoniſhed with fear, Mar. 16. 5. Terrified, ſtricken with fear, Rev. 11. 13.

Afoot] Mar. 6. 33. Act. 10. 13. On their feet, not making uſe of Horſes, Aſſes, Mules, &c.

Afore] 2 King. 20. 4. Pſal. 129. 6. Before.

Aforehand] Mar. 14. 8. Come beforehand, hath by haſtening prevented.

Afore time] Before them, Job 17. 6. marg. Formerly, Dan. 6. 10. Joh. 9. 13.

Afraid] To run together, Amos 3. 6. mar. Terrified by the approach of the enemy, Iſa. 10. 29. Annot.

Afreſh] Again, Heb. 6. 6.

After] On, Gen. 7. 10. marg. As when, Judg. 16. 22. marg. At the end, 2 Chron. 18. 2. marg.

After a godly manner, or according to God, 1 Cor. 7. 9. marg.

After him, Heb. at his feet, 2 Sam. 15. 16. mar.

Afternoon] Judg. 19. 8. Untill afternoon, Heb. till the day declined, marg.

Afterward] This noteth that which ſucceedeth what went before; either,

1. Forthwith, Gen. 38. 30. Deut. 15. 9. Mat. 4. 2. Or,

2. Shortly upon, Exod. 11. 1. Mat. 21. 19. & 25. 11. Or,

3. Some yeers after, Gen. 32. 20. Act. 13. 20. Or,

4. Many yeers to come, Gen. 15. 14.

After thee, Deut. 24. 21. marg.

A G.

Agagite] Eſt. 3. 1, 10. One that came of Agag.

Again] Double, 2 Sam. 20. 10. marg. About, 1 Chron. 13. 3. marg. From above, Joh. 3. 3, 7. marg. Now, 2 Cor. 3. 1. Often, 1 Theſſ. 2. 18.

Againſt] Before, Deut. 31. 21. mar. Concerning, Iſa. 23. 11. marg. Over, Matth. 10. 1. marg. Within, Luk. 7. 30. marg. Upon, 1 Pet. 3. 12. marg. With, 1 Chron. 12. 21. marg.

Aged] Such as are full of days, Jer. 6. 11. Their duty, Tit. 2. 2, 3.

Agoe] 1 Sam. 9. 20. Matth. 11. 21. Ere this.

Agone] 1 Sam. 30. 13. Since.

Agree with thine adverſary] Matth. 5. 25. Conſent, or think the ſame things, bear him good will, compound, ſee thou come to an agreement, be deſirous of his friendſhip, accord, make a full agreement, atonement, be friends. Leigh Crit. Sac.

To be of one minde, harmoniouſly conſenting together, as voices or inſtruments in muſick, Mat. 18. 19. To bargain with, Mat. 20. 2, 13. To be like, Mar. 14. 70. To conſpire, reſolve, determine, Joh. 9. 22. To approve, or give conſent unto, Act. 5. 40.

Agreement] Rights, Dan. 11. 6. marg.

Aground] Act. 27. 41. On the ground.

Ague] I'l appoint the burning Ague, Lev. 26. 16. or Feaver. The Greek here tranſlateth it the Jaundiſe, but better in Deut. 28. 22. the feaver, or ague, which hath the name originally of burning. This diſeaſe Chriſt cured on ſuch as were ready to die therewith, Luk. 4. 38, 39. Joh. 4. 47, 52. Aynſworth.

The Originall word ſignifieth the diſeaſe (which Latine Authours call the Kingſevill) that is called the Jaundiſe, which ariſeth from a diſtempered head, and turneth the colour of the eyes. Annot.

Agur] A ſtranger; or gathering, or gathered together. The Son of Jakeh, Prov. 30. 1.

A H.

Ahaſai] The Son of Meſhilemoth, Neh. 11. 13.

Ahaſhtarai] The Son of Naarah, 1 Chr. 4. v. 6.

Ahaſuerus] Ezr.4.6. Heathen Hiſtoriographers call this man Xerxes, the Son of Darius by Atoſſa, and ſo by his Mother the Grandſon of Cyrus, called thus, becauſe he was an hereditary Prince; for he was born after his Father was actually King, and of a Mother heir to the Kingdome by lineal deſcent. This word is compounded of אחש great, ו & ריש head. Annot.

It was a name given to ſet forth the dignity of a man, rather then a proper name to diſtinguiſh him from others. Annot. on Eſt 1.1.

The Ahaſuerus mentioned Dan. 9.1. is thought to be the ſame with Artaxerxes, or Cyaxares. Annot.

Ahban] The Son of Abiſhur, 1 Chr.2.29.

Aher] The Father of Ir, and Huſhim, 1 Chr.7.12.

Ahian] A brother of wine. The Son of Shemida, Ib.19.

Ahiramites] Such as deſcended of Ahiram the Son of Benjamin, Num.26.38.

Ahlab] An hearty Brother, brethren of the heart, milking, or fat. A City, Judg.1.31.

Ahoite] 2 Sam. 23.9. Eleazer thus named.

Aholah] the elder, &c. Ezek.23.4. Theſe ſeem names framed and fitted to the preſent purpoſe in hand.

Aholah ſignifieth a manſion, or dwelling in her ſelf, meaning Samaria, which was the head City of the ten Tribes, Iſa.7.9. who having forſaken the Temple of God, had eſtabliſhed a worſhip of God according to their own minds, 1 King.12.16,28,31. and Aholibah ſignifieth my manſion in her, whereby is meant Jeruſalem, where Gods Temple was, in which the pure worſhip of God remained, 2 Chr.13.10,11. Annot.

A I.

Aid] To help, or aſſiſt, or ſtrengthen ones hands, Judg.9.24. marg.

Aile] What aileth thee now? Iſa.22.1. Heb. What to thee? that is, What is the matter? What hath betided, or is befaln thee? So Judg.18.23. Pſal.114.5. Annot.

Air] Heaven, Job 28.21. marg.

A K.

Akrabbim] The name of a place, Numb. 34.4.

A L.

Alabaſter] Matt.26.7. A veſſel made of Alab.ſter to keep ſweet oyntments in, which will keep them uncorrupted, ἀλάβαστρον, of a privat. & λαβεῖν, as hard to be held, for the ſlipperyneſſe, ρ being added by a Pleonaſmus; or, of α & λαβὴ, an ear, or handle, as not having any. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Alarm] When ye blow an Alarm, Numb. 10.5. or, a broken ſound. In Heb. Trugnah is generally any loud broken noyſe, either with Trumpets, as here; or, with mens Voyces and ſhoutings, as in 1 Sam.4.5. & this either a joyfull ſhout, and triumphant noyſe, as Numb.23.21. Pſal.47.6. Ezr.3.11,12. or a mournfull cry, Gen.20.16. Aynſ.

The alarm of war, Jer.4.19. or rather, the ſhout of battle, as the word is better rendred, ch.20.16. For the alarm is properly that ſound or noyſe by which men are rouſed up, and called upon to betake themſelves all to their arms; whereas that here intended is the ſhout that is made in joyning battle, or in aſſault. Annot.

Alas] A ſudden paſſion of the ſorrow of the heart, Numb.12.11. Joſh.7.7. Judg. 6.22.

Albeit] Ezek.13.7. Philem. v.19. Although.

Alexandrians] Act.6.9. Of Alexandria.

Algum] ξύλον θύϊνον, Heb. אלגום, Algum, A kind of moſt excellent wood, growing both in Lebanon, 2 Chr.2.8. and in Ophir, 1 King.10.11,12. 2 Chr.9.10. Ravanell.

Of the Thine (or ſweet, marg.) wood, ſee Rev.18.12. If the Etymologie be taken from the Greek tongue, παρὰ τὸ θύειν, it ſheweth that it was an odoriferous wood. It ſeemeth to be made of Thyia, a Tree to the which Theophraſtus attributeth great honour, reporting that the famous buildings of old Temples were made thereof; as another, that with this timber Temples of old were adorned. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Aliah] A Duke of Edom, 1 Chr.1.51.

Aliant] A ſtranger, no more regarded then a Travailer in a forain Countrey, Job 19.15. Annot.

A forainer (namely, in their eſtimation) Pſal.69.8. Aynſworth.

Alien] A forainer, Deut.14.21. A ſtranger, Iſa.61.5. One afar off, Act.2.39. One having no right nor title to a thing, Eph.2.12.

Alienate] To loſe, or disjoynt, Ezek. 23.17.marg. To alter, eſtrange, turn from, Eph.4.18. Where's implyed both the happy condition wherein man was, and miſerable, wherein he is. To put away, or transferre ones right, Ezek.48.14.

All] The multitude, Job 4.14.marg. Every very, Pſal. 6.6.mar. Fulneſſe, Jer. 8.16.mar. Ezek. 12. 19. marg.

All things] 1 Cor.13.7. The word πάντα, though it be an univerſall, is not to be taken in the utmoſt extent, but according to the uſe of the like phraſes in all languages, wherein the univerſall ſigne affixt, either to perſons, or times, or places, or things, ſignifies onely a greater number, but not all without exception. So when Pſal. 14. 4. it is ſaid of the children of men, they are all gone out of the way, all become abominable; it is manifeſt that it is not ſpoken of all men without exception, for verſ. 8. there is mention of Gods people, and verſ. 9. of the righteous. So for things, Joh. 14. 6. Not abſolutely all, but all that were uſefull to their office, are to be underſtood. So 1 Cor. 10. 23. All things are lawfull to me, i. e. Many of thoſe things which are unexpedient, or all indifferent things. So Phil. 4. 13. I can do all things, is determined there to the things there ſpoken of, to want, and to abound, &c. and ſo here the covering, and believing, and hoping, and enduring all things, is the concealing and burying in forgetfulneſſe many conſiderable injuries, and evils of other men, believing, and hoping, and enduring very many things, which they that have not this divine grace of charity will never doe. Dr. Ham. Annot. i.

Alledge] To propound a thing ſo cleerly (by bringing forth cauſes, reaſons, teſtimonies, proofs,) as if we ſaw it with our eyes, Act. 17. 3.

Allelujah] Praiſe ye the Lord, Rev. 19. 1. Thus begin and end Pſalms 146, 147, 148, 149, & 150.) It is uſed firſt in Pſal. 104. 35. A little after theſe words, Let the ſinners be conſumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more; So here firſt upon the deſtruction of the man of ſin, the word is uſed, and that four times. Broughton on Rev. 19. 1. It ſeemeth the Chriſtian Gentiles, after the fall of Rome, ſhall ſollicit the Jews to come in to Chriſt, and to joyn with them in praiſing him for Rooms fall. Annot.

Allied] To be a friend unto one, or a Couſin by marriage, Neh. 13. 4. which may be true, even in this laſt ſenſe of Eliaſhib and Tobiah, if either there was alliance between Eliaſhib and Shecaniah (whoſe Son in Law Tobiah was, Neh. 6. 18.) or between Tobiah and Sanballat, to whom one of the Grandſons of Eliaſhib was Son in Law, Nehem. 13. 28.

Allon-bachuth] The oake of weeping. The place where Deborah the Nurſe of Rebekah was buried, Gen. 35. 8.

Allow] To conſent unto, and take the patronage of Luk. 11. 48. To admit, receive, expect, Act. 24. 15. To approve, Rom. 7. 15.

Allowance] A certain proportion of proviſion alotted for ones maintenance, 2 King. 25. 30.

Allure] Spoken, 1. Of God, Hoſ. 2. 14. I will allure her, namely by my benefits, in offering her grace and mercy, I wil challenge her minde ſweetly. Annot.

2. Of Seducers, 2 Pet. 2. 18. who allure with fair promiſes, as men lay baits for fiſhes. Annot.

Alms] In the Originall ἐλεημοσύνη, Matt. 6. 1, 2, 3, 4. It is tranſlated alms, but ſignifieth mercy and pity; therefore all our alms muſt proceed from a mercifull and pitifull heart. In the Syriack it is, When thou doſt thy juſtice; to teach, that alms ſhould be of things well gotten, and that it is a righteous thing, and that which is juſt, to give alms. It denoteth not onely the gift, but the affection of the giver. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Alms-deeds] Works of mercy, Act. 9. 36.

Almighty] God himſelf, Pſal. 91. 1. who can work without means, Heb. 11. 3. Above means, 1 King. 19. 7, 8. With weak means, Joſh. 6. 20. 1 Sam. 17. 49. Againſt means, Dan. 3. 23, 25. & 6. 22.

Almug-trees] 1 King. 10. 11. Theſe were other then the Algum-trees mentioned, 2 Chr. 2. 8. (though that name be applyed to theſe, 2 Chr. 9. 10.) for the Algum-trees grew in Lebanon, the Almug in India. The Algum-trees were to be had again, theſe not ſo, as appears in the next verſe. This Almug was ſuch as is mentioned in Rev. 18. 12. if not the ſame. Annot.

Along] Exod. 2. 5. & 9. 23. Into the length. Minſhew Dict.

Aloof] Pſal. 38. 11. Far off.

Aloth] The name of a Countrey, 1 King. 4. 16.

Aloud] With a great voyce, 1 King. 18. 27. marg. To be heard, Nehem. 12. 42. marg. With might, Dan. 3. 4. marg.

Already] Long agoe, Eccl. 1. 10.

Alſo] It affirmeth one thing after another, Mat. 24. 27. 1 Joh. 1. 3. and is put for, Likewiſe, Luk. 11. 45. Verily, Mar. 14. 67. Moreover, or withall, Phil. 1. 29.

Altar] 3. A Civill Altar, not for the worſhip of God, but for another end, Joſh. 22. 10--34.

Alter] To change, Lev. 27. 10. To reverſe, not obſerve, ſeek to hinder, Ezr. 6. 11. To paſſe away, Eſt. 1. 19. marg. To paſſe, Dan.

Dan. 6. 8. marg. Not to be the ſame that was before, Luk. 9. 29.

Although] Exod. 13. 17. Joſh. 22. 17. Albeit, Notwithſtanding.

Altogether] Alike, Pſal. 62. 9. marg. In one, or at once, Jer. 10. 18. marg.

A M.

Am] I am not, Job 7. 8. that is, I can live no longer, marg.

Amalekites] Gen. 14. 7. Numb. 13. 29. Such as came of Amalek.

Amaſiah] The burthen of the Lord. The Son of Zichri, 2 Chr. 17. 16.

Amazed] Wonder, Iſa. 13. 8. marg.

Amazement] Act. 3. 10. A great aſtoniſhment, Mar 5. 42. In a trance, Act. 10. 10. & 11. 5. & 22. 17. as the Original ἔκστασις is rendred. It's when one is as it were gone out of himſelf, forgetteth himſelf, perceiveth not what is done, but hath his mind wholly taken up with ſuch things as are inwardly preſented unto him. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Ambaſſadour] Interpreter, 2 Chr. 32. 31. Meſſenger, Iſa. 18. 2. Annot.

We are Ambaſſadors, 2 Cor. 5. 20. It is but one word in the Originall (πρεσβεύομεν) and of a precious Emphaſis, for the word of action ſignifying the office, tells us, that thoſe officers muſt be men of action, ſo Eph. 6. 20. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Ambaſſage] Luk. 14. 32. The word is rendred meſſage, in Luk. 19. 14.

Amber] As the colour of amber, Ezek. 1. 4. or, a moſt lively colour, as of the pureſt burning braſſe; or rather, as of red, hot, fiery, burning coals, verſ. 13. when Angels are called Seraphim, Iſa. 6. 2, 6. as fiery and burning in the ſpeedy and fervent execution of Gods Will, Pſal. 103. Annot.

Thus Chriſt is preſented in a fiery way, when acts of wrath and judgement are to be executed upon a people, to ſhew that God and Chriſt is a conſuming fire to his enemies, Deut. 4. 24. Heb. 12. 20. Rev. 6. 17. Annot. on verſ. 27.

Ambuſhment] 2 Chr. 13. 13. Men lying in wait.

Amen] So be it, Jer. 11. 5. marg.

It is, 1. A note of Affirming or Confirming a thing to be, 1 Cor. 16. 28. Rev. 1. 18.

2. Of Wiſhing, Jer. 28. 6. Rev. 22. 20.

3. Both of Confirming and Wiſhing, Rom. 1. 25. Gal. 1. 5. Eph. 3. 21.

4. Of teſtifying our conſent both in a thing to be confirmed and wiſhed, Jer. 11. 5. Ravanell.

Sometime it is the ſame with ἀληθῶς, as appears by comparing Luk. 9. 27. with Mat. 16. 18. & Mar. 9. 1. Sometime it hath the ſame ſenſe with Utinam fiat, Mat. 6. 13. Sometime the interpretation thereof is ſet down, as appears by comparing Mar. 13. 43. with Luk. 21. 3. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Say Amen, 1 Cor. 14. 16. The word Amen is an expreſſion ordinarily uſed by the people, by way of aſſent to the prayer made by another before them. For as Maimonides ſaith, 'Twas a cuſtome of the Jews in their daily prayers, that he that had not skill or ability to pray himſelf, ſhould ſay, Amen; but he that had ability, ſhould pray himſelf. (See Deut. 27. 15, &c.)

The Talmudiſts mention a three-fold Amen.

1 Amen pupillum, when one prays, and another that underſtands not what he ſaith, gives anſwer to him.

2 Amen ſurreptitium, a ſtolen Amen, when it's before the end of the Prayer.

3 Sectile, when he cuts it into two parts, A--men, as he that yawnes, or is a doing or minding ſomething elſe. Dr. Ham. Annot. a.

Amends] Lev. 5. 16. Recompence, give ſatisfaction.

Amerce] or Mulct, fine him, Deut. 22. 19.

Amiable] Lovely, worthy to be beloved, Pſal. 84. 1.

Amiſſe] Evill, 2 Chr. 6. 37.

Ammah] His people. A hill, 2 Sam. 2. 24.

Ammihud] (See Amihud) the Father of Shemuel, Num. 34. 20. The Father of Pedahel, Ib. 28. The Father of Talmai, 2 Sam. 13. 37. The Father of Uthai, 1 Chr. 9. 4.

Aminadab] The Son of Uzziel, 1 Chro. 15. 10.

Ammonite] Deut. 23. 1. Ammonites, Ibid. 2. 20.

Ammoniteſs] 1 King. 14. 21. Such as deſcended of his younger Daughter.

Among, or Amongſt] In the midſt, Job 1. 6. marg. In. Rom. 1. 13. marg. For, Ibid. 11. 17. marg. By, 2 Tim. 2. 2. marg. Which is among you, 1 Pet. 5. 2. or, As much as in you is, marg.

Anethothite] 2 Sam. 23. 27. Of Anathoth.

Angel] Put alſo for a Prophet, Judg. 2. 1. Good inſtruments raiſed up for the Church, Rev. 15. 7. A Satanical inſtrument, Ib. 9. 1.

His Angel, Act. 12. 15. It may ſignifie here no more then a Meſſenger from St. Peter. So the word is, Mat. 11. 10. Mar. 1. 2. Luk. 7. 24, 27. & Luk. 9. 32. And ſo the Angels of the Churches, were not thoſe immortall ſpirits, Rev. 1. 19. But as the Apoſtles ſent Meſſenges to ſeverall Churches, who were to doe according to their appointment, and ſome in their ſtead to rule and govern there; ſo were theſe the Rulers of the Churches appointed by the Apoſtles. So the Heb. מלאך ſignifies indifferently any who hath any command or meſſage from a Maſter, and is rendred ἄγγελος, 1 Sam. 25. 42. a Servant, πρεσβὺς, a Meſſenger, or an Embaſſador, Numb. 21. 21. & מנוד, is rendred ἄγγελος, 2 Sam. 15. 13. from נגד nuntiavit; yea, and עבד, Servus, Miniſter, is rendred ἄγγελος, Iſa. 37. 24. Dr. Hammond Annot. e.

Their Angels, Matth. 18. 10. Whether the ἄγγελοι αὐτῶν here, be to be defined ſingular Angels, peculiarly deſigned to particular perſons, is not here diſtinctly affirmed, onely that they are as God ſees fit, employed in ſervices for the benefit of theſe little ones, i. e. of Chriſtians; and of that there is no doubt. Idem Annot. a.

Anger] Judg. 8. 3. marg. Sorrow, Eccl. 7. 3. marg. Great anger, 2 Chr. 25. 10. heat of anger, marg. It's ſhewed in the countenance, Gen. 4. 5, 6. & 31. 5. Dan. 3. 19. eyes, Mar. 3. 5. teeth, Act. 7. 54. tongue, and ſpeech, Gen. 37. 4. & 42. 7. Judg. 8. 1. Iſa. 30. 27. words, Prov. 21. 19. Eph. 4. 31. deeds, Pſalm 2. 5. Act. 9. 1. And is both ſinfull, Pro. 27. 4. Eccl. 7. 9. and lawfull, Eph. 4. 26. and that for ſin, whether in our ſelves, or others. It's ſpoken of God, Exod. 4. 14. Num. 25. 3. Iſa. 5. 25. of Chriſt, Mar. 3. 5. of the Devill againſt the Woman, Rev. 12. 12. of Men againſt Men, Eſt. 5. 10. Act. 5. 33. Rev. 11. 18.

Angle] Heb. Hook, as Job 41. 1. Hab. 1. 15. There being two kinds or courſes of catching fiſh moſt commonly uſed, by Hook, or by Net, both here pointed at. Annot. on Iſa. 19. 8.

Angered] Cauſed fervent wrath, Pſalm 106. 32. Aynſworth.

Angry] To ſmoak, Pſal 80. 4. marg. Nor angry with your ſelves, Gen. 45. 5. Heb. Neither let there be anger in your eyes, marg.

Anguiſh] Shortneſſe, or ſtraightneſſe, Exod. 6. 9. marg.

Anguiſh is come upon me, 2 Sam. 1. 9. or, my coat of male (or, my embroydered coat) hindreth me, marg.

Ankle] Ezek. 47. 3. That part of the leg which joyneth to the foot.

Ankle-bones] Act. 3. 7. The bones belonging to the ankle.

Annis] An hearb, Mat. 23. 23. Its ſeed is of a good ſmell, and profitable againſt many diſeaſes.

Anoint] 1. To pour oyl upon, Gen. 31. 13. with 28. 18. 1 King. 19. 16. 2 Ki. 9. 6.

2. To appoint and ordain, 1 King. 19, 15.

3. To take unto himſelf, make ready, Iſa. 21. 5. Mar. 14. 8. with Mat. 26. 12.

4. To uſe ſpirituall means to get divine underſtanding, Rev. 3. 18.

5. To make fat, Pſal. 23. 5. marg.

6. To ſmeer over with clay, Joh. 9. 6.

Anoint thine head, Mat. 6. 17. The interdict of unction and lotion among the Jews, belongs onely to dayes of Mourning and Humiliation; nor are they Feſtivall rites, but uſuall at all times, ſave onely of Faſting, Dan. 10. 3. 2 Sam. 12. 20. & 14. 2. So that which Chriſt here commands, under the phraſe Anoint, and Waſh, is no more then this, that in thoſe private Faſts of theirs, they ſhould appear in their ordinary guiſe, and not ſeem to men to faſt; not that they ſhould appear to feaſt at that time. Dr. Ham. Annot. i.

Anointed] put for Chriſt, 1 Sam. 2. 35. Pſ. 2. 2. Saul, 1 Sam. 12. 3, 5. One to be anointed, 1 Sam. 16. 6. David, Pſ. 84. 9. & 132. 10. Prophets, Pſal. 105. 15. One ordained and appointed, Iſa. 45. 1. A King, Lam. 4. 20. Mad-great and glorious with power and virtue of the holy Ghoſt, Act. 4. 27. & 10. 38. Heb. 1. 9.

Anointed ones, Zach. 4. 14. Sons of oyl, marg.

How God anointed Jeſus, Act. 10. 38. The cuſtome of anointing, notes the ſolemne entertainment of any one; and the anointing, or pouring oyl on the heads of the gueſts, is the higheſt expreſſion of acknowledging and teſtifying the greateſt joy (and ſo called the oyl of gladneſſe, Pſal. 45. 8.) that is to be found among them. From hence it came to denote the preferring one before another, and ſo became the ceremony of conſecrating to any ſpeciall office, and ſo was ordinarily uſed in the inſtalling men to offices of any eminencie: Whence the word cometh to be uſed metaphorically, for any that is preferred before or ſet over others. Thus Abraham, and the Patriarchs, that muſt not be toucht, in the Pſalmiſt are called Gods anointed, i. e. perſons by God preferred and advanced before others, taken into his ſpeciall care, and ſo ſignally teſtified by Gods dealings towards them. And ſo the anointed of the Lord, are thoſe whom God hath ſet over other men.

Agreeable to this is it that that eminent perſon propheſied of by Moſes, whom God ſhould ſend, and whom they were to hear, is generally known by the name of משיח the anointed, the Meſſias, or Chriſt, becauſe he was thus preferred by God (Pſ. 45 & Heb. 1. 9.) above his fellows, men and Angels themſelves, Iſa. 61. 1. & Luk. 4. 18. i. e. the Lord hath preferred me before others, and ſet me apart to this office, as he hath no other man. So Act. 4. 27. Thy Son Jeſus whom thou haſt anointed, i. e. marked out to be that beloved Son of thine, which was done at the Spirits coming down upon him; which muſt therefore be reſolved to be the meaning of anointing him in that place: and ſo 'tis evidently in this place, How God hath anointed him with the holy Spirit, and with power; i. e. whom God by theſe two means (the deſcent of the Spirit upon him, and the power of miracles, as by priviledges and marks of prelation) preferred and dignified beyond all others that ever were in the world, and demonſtrated him to be that promiſed Meſſias. Dr. Hammond Annot. d.

Anointing him with oyl, Jam. 5. 14. That anointing with oyl was a ceremony ſometimes uſed by Chriſt and his Apoſtles, in working their miraculous cures, healing diſeaſes, and caſting out of devils, appears, Mar. 6. 13. whereunto Prayer was added, as the more effectual and ſubſtantiall performance. It was ordinary (while thoſe extraordinary gifts remained in the Church) for diſeaſes to be cured, and health reſtored to the ſick, without the uſe of any other means. It was indifferently either uſed or not uſed by them, and many cures were wrought both without it, and the impoſition of hands. See Act. 3. 7. & 9. 34, 40. & 14. 10. & 16. 18. & 19. 12. & 20. 10. From whence it appears,

1 To what end this unction was uſed, preciſely to that of miraculous healing, or recovering the ſick to health; and that not through any virtue or efficacy in the oyl, but directly the contrary, as touching the eyes, laying on the hands, and ſaying the word, were uſed, none of which have any naturall force in them, nor were uſed on other deſigne, then to demonſtrate the miraculouſneſſe of the work, which was wrought without any contribution of means.

2 That this uſage as a bare ceremony, was not inſtituted by Chriſt, or any way commanded to be continued by the Apoſtles or their Succeſſors in the Church, even while the gifts of Healing did continue among them, but was by the Apoſtles themſelves very frequently omitted in their working of cures.

3 For that uſe of unction or enoyling, as a viand to thoſe that depart out of the world, there being nothing ſaid of it here (but on the contrary the whole uſe of it, in order to the recovering of the ſick) there is no colour of ground for aſſerting it, nor obligation to the uſe of it to be met with in the New Teſtament, and therefore it is ſtrange how it ſhould come to be eſteemed a Sacrament.

4 That even in order to the recovering of the ſick, it is not now a ceremony of any propriety, or fitneſſe for uſe, the gift of miraculous healing being not now pretended to in the Church. Idem Annot. f.

Anointing] 1. The act of conſecrating by oyl, or anoynted, Lev. 7. 35.

2. The holy Ghoſt, 1 Joh. 2. 27.

3. The work of him in us, verſ. 20.

Anon] Immediately, ſtraightway, Matth. 13. 20. Mar. 1. 30.

Another] One, Judg. 16. 7. marg. Companion, Eſt. 1. 19. marg. A ſtranger, Job 19. 27. marg. Fellow, or Neighbour, Zach. 11. 9. marg.

Anſwer] Defence, or Apologie, 2 Tim. 4. 16. Words, Judg. 5. 29. marg.

To anſwer] To ſpeak, Job 3. 2. mar. To make one know, Job 38. 3. mar. To return, Iſa. 41. 28. marg. To witneſſe, Heb. 2. 11. mar.

It's

It's ſpoken, 1. Of God, and ſignifieth, To puniſh, Ezek. 14. 7, 8. (See for other acceptions in the Dictionary) who is ſaid to anſwer out in the joy of his heart, Eccl. 5. 20. that is, anſwereth all his labour with joy, giveth him ſuch joy of heart as a full compenſation for all his labour. Annot.

2. Of Man.

3. Of a mans righteouſneſſe, and ſo put for Teſtifie, or Witneſſe, Geneſ. 30. 33. Iſa. 59. 12.

4. Of money, which is ſaid to anſwer all things, Eccl. 10. 19. is the meaſure of all things, will feed, cloath, harbour, purchaſe, and extend as a civill inſtrument to all ſecular proviſions. Money can command all things which are meaſurable thereby. It's profitable for all things which may be bought therewith. If men have money, that ordinarily can procure ſuch things for them as they deſire. Annot.

Anſwerable] Proportionable, agreeable unto, Exod. 38. 18.

Antichriſt] is ſure no ſingle perſon conſidered alone, but in conjunction with his followers; and in this latitude proper names of perſons are prophetically uſed to ſignifie people; Jezabel, for the hereſie of Gnoſticks, the whole ſet of them, and many the like. Dr. Hammond on 2 Theſſ. 2. 3. Annot. e.

Ἀντίχριστος, may be (moſt literally) rendred a Counter-Chriſt, and that is a Pſeudo-Chriſt, or falſe Chriſt; and ſuch was Simon Magus, who profeſſed himſelf to Chriſt Jeſus, who appeared to converſe among the Jews and the Gnoſticks, or followers of Simon, were bitter oppoſers of Chriſt, and all the orthodox Chriſtians, denyed Chriſt to be come in the fleſh, and perſecuted all that aſſerted it, and ſo were Antichriſts beyond all that ever any Chriſtians were, or can be imagined to be. Idem on 1 Joh. 2. 18. Annot. c.

Antiquity] Iſa. 23. 7. or ancient dayes, or times.

Antothite] An anſwer, ſong, affliction, or poverty. Abiezer thus named, 1 Chr. 11. 28.

Anvill] Iſa. 41. 7. A Smiths Stithy, that whereon the hot Iron is beat by the Hammer, and framed for ſuch uſes as the Smith pleaſeth.

The Originall cometh of a word to ſhake, or diſturb, and trouble, Gen. 41. 8. Pſa. 77. 4. Dan. 2. 1, 3. Whence a term for a bell, Exod. 28. 33, 34. but it is moſt commonly and frequently uſed for a courſe, or a turn, Gen. 18. 32. Joſh. 6. 3. This paſſage, him that ſmote the Anvill, may be rendred, the ſmiter by courſe; that is, him that wrought at the forge. Annot.

A P.

Apace] Swiftly, ſpeedily, Pſal. 68. 12. Jer. 46. 5.

Apart] Mat. 14. 23. It's all one with, Alone, aſide from, aſunder, by ones ſelf.

To ſet apart, Exod. 13. 12. Cauſe to paſſe over, marg. To ſever, Lev. 15. 19. Separate, Lev. 18. 19. Marvellouſly to ſeparate, Pſal. 4. 3. Aynſworth.

To lay aſide, Jam. 1. 21.

Apeece] Luk. 9. 3. Joh. 2. 6. Each one.

Aphik] as Aphek. A City, Judg. 9. 31.

Aphrah] Mic. 1. 10. Duſt. A City.

Aphſes] A Prieſt, or Levite, 1 Chron. 24. 15.

Apollonia] Perdition, or deſtruction. A City in Macedonia, Act. 17. 1.

Apoſtles] Luk. 6. 13. Whom alſo he named Apoſtles. This title which is here by Chriſt ſaid to be given to the twelve, is a name of power, and dignity, and authority in the Church. The government of the Church being now ſetled on Chriſt (as hath been foretold, Iſa. 9. 6.) whom his Father had ſent, Joh. 20. 21. Iſa. 61. 1. to be the Teacher and Lord of his Church, or Diſciples, Joh. 13. 1. and as the High-prieſt of our profeſſion; ſo the Apoſtle, Heb. 3. 1. the great Paſtour of his ſheep, Heb. 13. 20. and the onely Biſhop of our ſouls, 1 Pet. 2. 25. What was thus conferred on him, was alſo perſonally exerciſed by him upon earth, whiles he remained here. He preached the Goſpel, inſtituted Rites to continue in his Church for ever, called Diſciples, gave them Commands, uſed their Miniſtery, deſigned ſome to certain Offices; ſent out Seventy as Heralds before his face, gave them power to cure Diſeaſes, and ſo committed to them ſome, though but a temporary Office or Miſſion, which ceaſed at their return to him, Luk. 10, 1, 9, 17. On others he reſolved to inſtate a larger, and more durable power, to ſend them as his Father had ſent him, to make them his Succeſſors on earth, endued with that power by commiſſion from him, which he here executed, Joh. 20. 21. Solemnly, and with Commiſſion, in that notion of ſending, wherein the Procurator or Proconſul is ſent to his Province, or wherein Moſes is ſent to the Iſraelites in Ægypt, or wherein Kings, and Judges, and Saviours are every where in the Old Teſtament ſaid to be ſent, when they are by God advanced to any government.

Thus, as the Father ſent the Son, Joh. 5. 24, & 17. 18. So the Son ſent the Apoſtles, Joh.

20. 21. and what the Father gave to the Son, Joh. 5. 22. Mat. 10. 6. Iſa. 22. 22. Rev. 3. 7. Mat. 19. 28. & 21. 42. The Son in effect gave to the Apoſtles, Mat. 19. 28. Luk. 22. 30. 2 Cor. 10. 6. Joh. 20. 23. Mat. 16. 19. Eph. 2. 20. Dr. Ham. Annot. c.

Among the Apoſtles, Rom. 16. 7. Apoſtle ſignifies primarily that office whereunto the twelve were ſet apart by Chriſt immediately; and ſo that of St. Paul and Barnabas ſent immediately by the appointment of the holy Ghoſt, Act. 13. 2. Secondarily it belongs to ſome others, who after that received the like commiſſion from the twelve, or from St. Paul. Thus is James the Biſhop of Jeruſalem, often called an Apoſtle. See alſo Phil. 2. 5. Idem Annot. 6.

Apothecary] Perfumer, Exod. 30. 25. mar. Whoſe work was to compound oyntment, Ib. to make a perfume and confection, Ib. 35. to prepare ſpices for ſweet odours at Funerals, 2 Chr. 16. 14.

Apparently] In viſion, or by ſight and appearance, Num. 12. 8. Aynſworth.

Apparelled] 2 Sam. 13. 8. Luk. 7. 25. Clothed.

Appeal] To decline from the ſentence of one, and call upon another for help in extremity, Act. 25. 11.

Appear] To be ſeen, 2 Chr. 3. 1. marg.

Appearance] The face, 2 Cor. 5. 12. marg. 1 Theſſ. 5. 22. All appearance of evill, εἶδος, wch is ordinarily rendred appearance, ſignifying alſo (as the Latine [ſpecies] among Authours) kind, or ſort; the meaning will be from all ſort, or the whole kinde of evill, from all that is truly ſo, be it never ſo ſmall. Dr. Ham. Annot. e.

Appeaſe] To pacifie, mitigate, aſſwage, abate, quiet, reſtrain, Geneſ. 42. 20. Act. 19. 35.

Appertain] To be due, or belong unto, Jer. 10. 7.

Appetite] Life, Job 38. 39. marg. Soul, Eccl. 6. 7. marg.

Apple of the eye] Taken, 1. Properly, being named in Hebr. אישון, that is, a little man, for that ſuch an image appeareth therein, (others interpret it black, or blackneſſe) and is denoted by בת עין that is, the daughter of the eye, for that it is as a daughter unto the eye, and the black in the midſt thereof, is the principal thing therein.

2. Improperly, and that,

1 Synecdochically, for the whole eye, Lam. 2. 18. where the apple of the eye is ſaid not to ceaſe, when we weep alwayes.

2 Metaphorically, for that which is moſt dear and precious, Deut. 32. 10. Pſal. 17. 8. Zech. 2. 8. (in which places the Metaphor is doubled, for that the apple of the eye is aſcribed unto God) and ſo, To keep a perſon or thing as the apple of the eye, is, Moſt carefully to preſerve, as moſt dear and precious. And, To touch the apple of ones eye, is, To be injurious unto him, and harm him very much, which he cannot but take to heart. Ravanell.

Apple-tree] Cant. 2. 3. & 8. 5. See the Dict. on Canticl.

Apply] Cauſe to come, Pſal. 90. 12. marg. Made ready, Hoſ. 7. 6. marg.

Appointed] Sanctified, Joſh. 20. 7. marg. Girded, Judg. 18. 11. marg. Commanded, 2 Sam. 11. 14. marg. Of his decree, Job 20. 29. marg.

Appointed to death, Pſal. 102. 20. The children of death, marg.

Appointed time, Job 7. 1. Warfare, mar. Aſſemblies, Iſa. 14. 31. marg.

Appointment] Mouth, Numb. 4. 27. mar. 2 Sam. 13. 32. marg. Agreement, Job 2. 11.

If that I may apprehend that for which alſo I am apprehended of Chriſt Jeſus, Phil. 3. 12. or, ſo be I may lay hold, for which I have been alſo laid hold on, &c. that is, that I may catch or receive that prize, to which very end it is, that Chriſt himſelf hath contended for me, as for a prize of his, &c. Dr. Ham. Paraph. Yet I cannot do it as of my ſelf, it is Chriſts laying hold on me, that will and muſt inable me thus to lay hold on Chriſt. B. Halls's Paraph.

I now follow hard to overtake and lay hold on Chriſt, who when I before wandered and fled from him, apprehended me, and laid hands on me by his grace, Pſalm 119. 176. Annot.

Approve] To delight, Pſal. 49. 13. marg. To ſee, Lam. 3. 36. marg. To try, Rom. 2. 18. marg. To commend, 2 Cor. 6. 4. marg.

Aprons] Things to gird about, Gen. 3. 7. marg. Such as Women and Artificers wear.

Baptize] The word though it be derived from βάπτω, tingo, to dip, or plunge into the water, and ſignifieth primarily ſuch a kind of waſhing as is uſed in Bucks, where linnen is plunged and dipt; yet it is taken more largely, for any kinde of waſhing, rinſing, or cleanſing, even where there is no dipping at all, as Matth. 3. 11. & 20. 22. Mar. 7. 4. & 10. 38. Luk. 3. 16. Act. 1. 5. & 11. 16. 1 Cor. 10. 2. Dr. Featly ag. Anabap.

Why are they then baptized for the dead? 1 Cor. 15. 29. Why have they in their baptiſme made profeſſion of their belief of it, (See verſ. 14. 17.) it being certain that the dead, or the reſurrection of the dead, expreſſed here for brevity under that word the dead, is one of the Articles, and that a prime and ſpecial one, to the belief of which they were baptized, and to which baptiſme (being the putting in, and taking out of the water) doth referre, as a ſignificant embleme, firſt of Chriſts, then of reſurrection from the grave? And therefore to what end did theſe men in their baptiſme, profeſſe their belief of this Article, if they believe it not? To be a baptized Chriſtian, and not to believe the reſurrection, is a ſtrange ridiculous thing, an hypocriſie which they will never be able to anſwer to God or men, and that which actually deprives them of all benefits of baptiſme; and yet ſuch are they, if they make doubt of this. Dr. Ham. Paraph.

Or thus: If there be no reſurrection of the dead, What ſhall they doe? that is, What ſhall become of them? In what miſerable condition are they who are baptized, viz. with their own blood? and not onely ſuffer grievous torments, but even death it ſelf, for the dead, that is, for the cauſe or quarrell of the dead, or in ſtead of the dead; for whoſe ſake they choſe rather to ſuffer death, then they would detect them to the Heathen, or betray them into the hands of their bloody perſecuters; or who willingly undergoe the baptiſme of blood, for the faith of them that are now dead; and in ſpeciall, for maintaining this very Article of the reſurrection of the dead; for which, as St. Paul, Act. 23. 6. ſo many hundreds of Chriſtians more were called in queſtion, put to tortures, and perſecuted even to death. Annot.

Barbarous] Act. 28. 2. The Greeks and Romanes uſed thus to call and account of all other Nations, either in regard of their rude language, or for that they did inhabit deſert places, and lived after the manner of wilde beaſts. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Barbed irons] Job 41. 7. Heb. with thorns, that is, with iron darts ſharp like thorns, Annot.

Barber] Ezek. 5. 1. One that ſhaveth or clippeth off mens hair, trimming their heads and beards.

Bare] Spoken of grain that is ſowne, 1 Cor. 15. 37.

Barefoot] Iſa. 20. 2. or unſhod, the habit (when affected) of mourners, 1 Sam. 15. 30. when enforced, of captives, Jer. 2. 25. Annot.

Barked my fig-tree] Joel 1. 7. Heb. laid my fig-tree for a barking, marg. Made it clean bare, ſo that its branches became white.

To bar] To make faſt, Neh. 7. 3.

Barrel] A veſſel either for meal and dry things, 1 King. 17. 12. or for water (and other liquid things) 1 King. 18. 33.

Barren] Cauſing to miſcarry, 2 King. 2. 19. marg.

Barren land, Job 39. 6. ſalt places, marg.

Barrenneſs] Pſal. 107. 34. Heb. ſaltneſſe, marg.

Bartholomew] Whether Nathaneel was choſen to be one of the Apoſtles, under the name of Bartholomew, who is moſtly, and in the Goſpels, conſtantly joyned to Philip, and may be but the expreſſion of Nathaneel, by ſignifying him the Son of Tholomee, as Simon is called Bar, i. e. Son of Jonah or John, it is not certain, though that he was ſo, 'tis very probable by Joh. 21. 22. where Nathaneel of Cana in Galilee, is named with the reſt of the Diſciples, who were all Apoſtles. Dr. Ham. on Joh. 1. Annot. f.

Baſe men] Job 30. 8. Heb. men of no name, marg. Vile, or contemptible, Heb. of light eſteem, 1 Sam. 2. 30. & 18. 23. Annot. on Iſa. 3. 5. Low, Ezek. 29. 14. marg. Lewd fellows, of the baſer ſort, Act. 17. 5. ἀγοραῖοι, idle waiters in Markets, to tell or hear news; the vile or raſcall ſort, who will do or ſpeak what one will for money.

Baſe] A foot or prop ſuſtaining any thing, 1 King. 7. 27, 28. A ſeal, or place, Zech. 5. 11.

Baſilith] Neh. 7. 54. His Children returned from the Captivity.

Baſon] Baſons, or Cups, 2 Sam. 17. 28. marg. Bowles, 2 Chr. 4. 8. marg.

Bathed] Iſa. 35. 5. Embrewed in blood, as Jer. 46. 10. Heb. drunk, as Rev. 17. 6. or, ſoaked, Iſa. 34. 7. or ſatisfied, Pſal. 36. 8. Prov. 7. 19. Annot.

Battle] They joyned battle, 1 Sam. 4. 2. Heb. the battle was ſpread, marg.

Set the battle in aray, 1 Sam. 17. 2. Heb. ranged the battle, marg.

Battel-axe] Jer. 51. 20. or Hammer, ſo was the word rendred, ch. 50. 23. and it ſignifieth ſuch a weighty one as is able to break ſtones, and make them fly aſunder, as the root it cometh from properly ſignifieth, Pſal. 2. 9. Iſa. 27. 9. Thence alſo an inſtrument of diſſipation, or deſtruction, Ezek. 9. 2. Howbeit ſome ſuppoſe it here to ſignifie more ſpecially ſuch a warlike weapon, or ſpiked Pole-axe, as Horſe-men make uſe of in fight, therewith to batter and break the armour, helmet and harneſſe of thoſe they deal with. Annot.

Battel-bow] Zech. 9. 10. & 10. 4. Such were uſed in battels, 1 King. 22. 34. Iſa. 5. 28.

Batter] To war, 2 Sam. 20. 15. marg.

Battering rams, Ezek. 4. 2. (or chief leaders, marg.) namely to batter the walls, according to the ancient manner.

Battlement] Deut. 22. 8. In Greek a Crown, which was to compaſſe the roof of the houſe round about, to keep men from falling off, for in Iſrael the houſes had flat roofs, on which men walked, 2 Sam. 11. 2. and from thence they called and ſpake to the people; whereupon Chriſt ſpeaketh of preaching and proclaiming upon the houſe-tops, Mat. 10. 27. Luk. 12. 3. The height of the battlement might not be leſſe then ten Handbredths, (ſix of which made a Cubit) and it was to be ſtrong, that a man might lean thereon, and not fall. Aynſworth.

The word rendred battlements in Jer. 5. 10. is not found elſewhere uſed, but of the branches of a vine, as Iſa. 18. 5. Battlements may be ſo named, becauſe they ſhoot up like branches above the main body of the wall. Annot.

Babai] The Son of Benhadad, Neh. 3. 18.

Bay] Tongue, Joſh. 15. 2. marg. Strong, Zec. 6. 3. marg.

Bazluth] Ezr. 2. 52. His Children returned from the Captivity.

B E.

Be] Be brought in, Heb. 9. 16. marg.

Beacon] Iſa. 30. 17. Heb. a maſt, or a tree bereft of branches or boughs, marg. Such a tall pole as our May-poles, reſembling a maſt, erected on an hill, or ſet up in ſome eminent place, for ſome ſpeciall publick uſe, as from thence to give warning of the approach of ſome hoſtile Troops, or the like. Annot.

Bealiah] The god of an Idol, the Lord caſting himſelf down before it, or poſſeſſing it, or in an Aſſembly, or in the Church. One of David's Helpers, 1 Chr. 12. 5.

Bealoth] Caſt under, or oppreſſed. A City, Joſh. 15. 24.

Beam] Rib, 1 King. 7. 3. marg. Peece, or faſtening, Hab. 2. 11. marg.

Beans] 2 Sam. 17. 28. Ezek. 4. 9. A kind of grain.

Beard] The ſubject hereof both four-footed beaſts, as Lions, and Bears, 1 Sam. 17. 35. and Men, as of Amaſa, 2 Sam. 20. 9, 10. Aaron, Pſal. 133. 2.

To conſume the beard, Iſa. 7. 20. is, To take it wholly away, to make an utter riddance of it, the hair whereof is deemed not an ornament onely, but an argument of virility, which God therefore would not have to be defaced, Lev. 19. 27. and it was deemed therefore a contumelious usage of David's Servants, whom that Ammonite so disfigured, 2 Sam. 10. 17. It's to reduce one into a condition full of calamity and misery. And as to shave the beard, was of old a signe of disgrace, 1 Chr. 19. 4, 5. So to cut it off a signe of grief, Isa. 15. 2. and that either by tearing it through extremity of grief, and impatiencie of spirit, Ezr. 9. 3. or, by cutting and shaving it, which was anciently an usuall practise in times of mourning and lamentation, Lev. 19. 27, 28. & 21. 5. Deut. 14. 1. Job 1. 20. Jer. 7. 29. Ezek. 7. 18. Amos 8. 10. Mic. 1. 16. and that because ornaments (as hair is accounted to a mans person) in mourning are laid aside as unseasonable, Exod. 33. 4, 5.

To let ones spittle fall upon his beard, accounted a signe of madnesse, 1 Sam. 21. 13. as not to trim ones beard, a signe of sorrow, 2 Sam. 19. 24. Ravan. Annot.

To bear] To feed, Gen. 1. 29. marg. To take away, Joh. 1. 29. marg. Born up, or leaned on, Judg. 16. 29. marg.

Whose shooes I am not worthy to bear, Mat. 3. 11 that is, to remove, or carry away. Dr. Ham. Paraph.

Him they compelled to bear his Crosse, Matth. 27. 32. It was the custome in that punishment of Crucifixion, that he that was to be executed, should himself carry the Crosse. This it seems by Joh. 19. 17. Christ carryed himselfe, but it being so great a burthen, and perhaps not well supportable by all that were to suffer, they used to presse some body else, as a Porter or Burthen-bearer, to carry it after or neer the person that was to suffer, that so he might have the solemne disgrace, though not pain of it. Dr. Ham. Annot. e.

By the words joyned herewith, as fruit, iniquity, judgement, record, rule, sin, witnesse, &c. the meaning of such places is plainly to be perceived.

Bearers] 2 Chr. 2. 18. Porters.

Beaten down] Heb. broken in pieces, Jer. 46. 5. marg.

Beauty] Delight, Psal. 37. 4. marg. Strength, Psal. 49. 14. marg.

In the beauties of holinesse, Psal. 110. 3. or, in the comely honours of the Sanctuary, meaning either the comely (or honorable) places of holinesse (or the Sanctuary) as Psal. 29. 2. that is, the Church, or rather, in the beautifull ornaments of holinesse, that is, holy graces and virtues, wherewith Christ and his people are adorned, as the Priests and Levites of old with Urim and Thummim, and holy garments, Exod. 28. 2, 40. Isa. 52. 2. Aynsw.

Beautifie] Psal. 149. 4. or adorn, make glorious. So Isa. 60. 7, 9, 13. The Greek saith Exalt. Aynsw.

To glorifie, make magnificent. Annot. on Isa. 60. 7.

Beautifull] Isa. 4. 2. Heb. beauty, marg. Of a beautifull countenance, Heb. fair of eyes, 1 Sam. 16. 12. marg. Good of countenance, Est. 2. 7. marg.

Because] imply eth the reason of thing spoken of, Gen. 2. 23. & 3. 14, 17. and may be rendred For, 1 King. 7. 47. marg. In, Zeph. 3. 11. marg. How, Mat. 7. 14. m. That, Rom. 8. 27. marg.

Becken] By some signe with the hand to call, Luk. 5. 7. or, to obtain silence, Act. 21. 40. or, to ask a thing, Joh. 13. 24. or, to speak, Act. 24. 10.

Become] Made, Gen. 3. 22. Being shall be, that is, shall surely be, Gen. 18. 18. Aynsw. To be turned, Job 31. 21. marg.

Becometh] Is agreeable, beseemeth, befitteth, is meet for, suitable to, so as it graceth withall, Psal. 93. 5. Mat. 3. 15. Rom. 16. 2. Phil. 1. 27. Tit. 2. 3.

Bed-chamber] The place of rest and sleep, the private room in the house, Exod. 8. 3. 2 Sam. 4. 7. 2 King. 6. 12.

Bedstead] Of iron, Deut. 3. 11. Belike wood was not strong enough to bear his weight and strength, in stretching and turning himself upon his bed. Some take this repository not for a Bed for ordinary sleep, but for a Sepulchre, the Bed of the sleep of death. Annot.

Beeliada] An open Idol, or Master of knowledge. The Son of David, 1 Chr. 14. 7.

Beelzebub] Matth. 12. 24. In Heb. בעל זבוב, is rendred by the Greek of the Old Testament, Βαὰλ μυῖαν, the Prince of the flie, or flies, the god of Ekron, 2 Kin. 1. 2, 6. being indeed an Idol that the inhabitants of that City in Palestine worshipped, and conceived to have power over all hurtfull flies, and to drive them out of their Region. That this was the Heathen Jupiter, is not improbable, the title of μυίαγρος, μυοδώτης, ἀπομυίος, ἀποδυίος, μυίαγρος, & μυοδότης, being bestowed on him by the Heathens; i. e. he that caught, or drove away flies. See Plin. Nat. Hist. c. 28. lib. 10. This is here called Prince of devils, i. e. one that hath power over them (as 'twas it seems beleeved) beleeved.) able to throw them out of thoſe that were poſſeſt with them (whole legions together) like ſwarms of flies, which with their Prince or Chieftain fly about in the upper and middle Region of the air. This gives the reaſon of this ſpeech here, why they conceived Chriſt to caſt out devils by Beelzebub, becauſe Beelzebub they thought to have that power, and therefore to have the name of Ruler or Prince of devils; and Chriſt viſibly caſting them out, they thought he operated by his power. Dr. Ham. Annot. f.

Beerothite] 2 Sam. 4.2. Of Beeroth.

Beeſhterah] A City, Joſh. 21. 27.

Beetle] Lev. 11. 22. This word is not found any other where. The Greek tranſlateth it Ophiomaches, that is, the Serpent fighter; and that there are Locuſts which kill Serpents, Plinie mentioneth, lib. 11. c. 29. Chazkuni interpreteth the name Chargol, as ſtriving with the feet to skip with them. Aynſw.

Beeves] Bullocks or Neat, uſed for Sacrifices, of which the whole Burnt-offering was to be onely of the Male kinde, Lev. 1. 10. The Peace-offering, Lev. 3. 1. and Sin-offering might be of the female, Lev. 4. 32. & 5. 6. Annot. on Lev. 22. 19.

Befall] To happen, chance, fall out, come to paſſe. Spoken of one poſſeſſed with the Devil, whom our Saviour diſpoſſeſſed, Mar. 5. 16. but eſpecially of evill and trouble, either feared, Gen. 42. 4, 38. foretold to come, inflicted, Deut. 31. 29. Lev. 10. 19. Eſt. 6. 13. or which might come to paſſe, Act. 20. 22.

Befallen] Numb. 20. 14. Heb. found. ma.

Before] To, 2 Sam. 22. 24. marg. According, 1 King. 7. 6. marg. At the preſence of, Eſt. 7. 6. marg. With, Pſal. 18. 23. Mic. 1. 6. marg. In, Pſal. 18. 24. marg. Not in, Eccl. 7. 17. marg. Like unto him, Rom. 4. 17. mar. Under, 1 Tim. 5. 19. marg. As before, Gen. 31. 2. Heb. as yeſterday, and the day before, mar. Before one, Eccleſ. 2. 26. In his ſight, marg. Eſt. 2. 17. marg.

To pray before the Lord, Zech. 7. 2. Heb. to entreat the face of the Lord, marg.

Before-hand] Mar. 13. 11. The meaning hereof may be underſtood by the words whereunto it is joyned.

Before time] 1 Sam. 9. 9. Formerly, or in former time.

Beggar] One begging by the way ſide, Mar. 10. 46. or elſewhere, Act. 3. 3. wandering abroad for bread, Job 15. 23. A vagabond, ſeeking ſuſtenance, Pſ. 109. 10. None of which were to be ſuffered in Iſrael, Deut. 15. 4. There are of divers kindes: ſome that are driven to beg by reaſon of the want of their ſight, Mar. 10. 46. Luk. 18. 35. Some through lameneſſe, Act. 3. 2. Some, becauſe of grievous ſores, Luk. 16. 20, 21. Some through weakneſſe, ſickneſſe, &c. But the moſt are idle, lazie Vagabonds, of whom the Apoſtle may be underſtood, that if any would not work, neither ſhould he eat, 2 Theſſ. 3. 10.

Begin] To go about a thing, enterpriſe, attempt; make entrance, Gen. 11. 6. Judg. 10. 18.

Began he to go up, Ezr. 7. 9. Hebr. was the foundation of the going up. marg.

Beginning] The principall part, Prov. 1. 7. marg.

Even from the beginning, Joh. 8. 25. The phraſe ἀπ' ἀρχὴν, is here without queſtion adverbially taken, and ſignifies a note of affirmation, even ſo, or altogether, abſolutely. And ſo the ſumme of Chriſts ſpeech is, that though they made doubts and diſputes about him, what he was, yet he ſtill made no ſcruple to ſtand to his affirmations of himſelf; he ſtill affirms, that 'tis even as he tells them, all this while, abſolutely ſo, and no otherwiſe, he hath not ſpoken any thing too high of himſelf. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Beguile you] Col. 2. 18. or, judge againſt you, marg.

Behalf] For, Exod. 27. 21. Job 36. 2. Phil. 1. 29. Part, 1 Pet. 4. 16.

Behave] To walk, Pſal. 34. 14. marg.

To behave ones ſelf wiſely, 1 Sam. 18. 5, 14. Proſper, marg.

Behaviour] Heb. taſte, that is, his geſture, words, and carriage, whereby it may be diſcerned, whether a man be wiſe or fooliſh; mad, or in his right wits; as the taſte diſcerneth of meats, whether they be ſavoury or unſavoury, Job 12. 11. & 34. 3. Annot. on 1 Sam. 21. 13. Attire, carriage, geſture, Tit. 2. 3.

The Originall κατάστημα, ſignifieth an inward habit and conſtitution beſeeming holineſſe; for by this word Phyſicians properly expreſſe a conſtant ſtate of body, or health, or a ſound conſtitution. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Of good behaviour, 1 Tim. 3. 2. or modeſt, ma. The holy Ghoſt calls modeſt behaviour neat, for ſo the Originall word κόσμιον ſignifieth, implying that ſuch a one who is modeſt, is of a clean or neat behaviour. Leigh C. S.

Behead] Spoken of an Heifer, Deut. 21. 6. Iſhboſheth, 2 Sam. 4. 7. John the Baptiſt, Mat. 14. 10. The Martyrs of Jeſus, Rev. 20. 4.

Behemoth] Job 40. 15. or, the Elephant, as ſome think, marg. In Heb. beaſts. It is plurall, as ſome conceive, to ſhew that it is ſo great, that it is as it were conceived of many beaſts, or in ſtrength is equal to many. Others ſet the ſingular before it, and read the beaſt of beaſts; that is, the principal beaſt, as Wiſdomes, Prov. 9. 1. that is, the wiſdome of wiſdomes, or chief wiſedome. Like that title of the Canticles, the Song of Songs, that is, the moſt excellent Song.

The Elephant is an high beaſt, and being but one, may ſtand for many, to ſet out Gods power, &c. It is the greateſt beaſt on earth, the chief of God wayes, verſ. 19. and ſo moſt likely to be the beaſt here ſpoken of,

1 Becauſe it is the greateſt beaſt.

2 Becauſe the Elephant is not named any where in Scripture, therefore he gives unto him the common name of beaſts, by way of excellency, as Chriſt is called the Son of man. Annot.

Hereof ſee Geminian. de Similit. Symſoni Hierogl. Francii hiſt. Animal. Lauret. Syl. Allegor. Bercorii Reduct. Moral. With Purcas Pilgr.

Behind] 1 King. 10. 19. On the hinder part thereof, marg.

Behoved] Muſt, ought, Luk. 24. 46. Heb. 2. 17.

Being] Gen. 18. 12. Gal. 2. 14.

While I have my being, Pſal. 104. 33. that is, while I am. Aynſw.

Have our being, Act. 17. 28. ἐσμὲν, ſumus, Are.

Bekah] Half a ſhekel, Exod. 38. 26.

Belaites] of Bela, Numb. 26. 38.

Belch] Pſal. 59. 7. They belch out with their mouth, utter, or well out, as from a fountain, or bubble, as Prov. 15. 2, 28, marg. This ſimilitude is explained, Jer. 6. 7. As a fountain caſteth out her waters, ſo ſhe caſteth out her malice. Aynſw. Speak often of murthering me. Annot.

Believe] To obey, Rom. 11. 30, 31. mar. Doe not beleeve, Rom. 15. 31. are diſobedient, marg.

That believed not, Heb. 11. 31. That were diſobedient, marg.

Believed among us, Luk. 1. 1. that is, which have been done, acted, performed among us. Dr. Ham. Annot. a.

Believers] Act. 5. 14. 1 Tim. 4. 12. Such as believe.

Belief of the truth, 2 Theſſ. 2. 13. Faith, which layeth hold, not upon lies, but upon the truth of God, which is the Goſpel. Annot.

Bell] Uſed upon the hem of Aaron's garment, Exod. 28. 33, 34. in number 72, which were hanged 36 on the one skirt, and 36 on the other, each of which had a clapper of gold. Aynſw.

The Bell was for ſound, and the Prieſts lips were to preſerve knowledge, for the inſtruction of others, Mal. 2. 7. and he muſt not be mute, Iſa. 65. 10. If he be, it is upon his utmoſt perill, verſ. 33. And it muſt be a golden bell, for that it is the moſt precious and pureſt of metals, ſuch muſt his doctrine be, Prov. 3. 15. Annot.

By the ſound of the bells was ſignified, the voyce of Chriſt, which is heard of God in his prayer and meditation, and heard of the people in his teaching and inſtruction, Heb. 5. 7. & 7. 25. Deut. 33. 10. Iſa. 58. 1. Mat. 12. 18. Aynſw.

Alſo upon the bridles of horſes, Zec. 14. 20. (See marg.) Having ſpoken of the Horſes overthrow, verſ. 15. he addeth to make up the meaſure, that all their ſpoyls, even the very deckings of the furniture, if they were of metal, ſhould be conſecrated to God, to make Utenſils for his ſervice; wherein he ſeems to have relation to that which Gideon did, Judg. 8. 26. The meaning is, God ſhal convert to his ſervice in his Church, all ſuch things as before were employed againſt him. Annot.

Bellow] Jer. 50. 11. and bellow as buls. The word here uſed ſignifieth properly to neigh, the peculiar note of Horſes, ch. 5. 8. & 13. 27. Job 6. 5. and the latter word here uſed, ſignifieth as well Horſes as Beeves, as well Steers as Buls (See on ch. 46. 15. & 47. 3.) and it would rather be turned, ye neigh as ſteeds, or luſty ſteeds. Annot.

Bellows] Jer. 6. 29. Hereby ſome underſtand Gods chaſtiſements, ſome his Spirit; others, the Prophets tongue and throat, according to that, Pſal. 22. 15. & 69. 3. I ſhould rather ſay, their lungs, not unlike bellows, with much ſpeech and clamour waſted. An.

Bellp] Spoken of, and applyed to an artificial thing, 1 King. 7. 10. and to Hell, or place of deſtruction, Jonah 2. 2. Put for Bowels, Jonah 1. 17. marg.

Slow-bellies, Tit. 1. 12. In theſe words the people of Creta are by their Poet accuſed of habitual idleneſs and intemperance, who howſoever to the duties either of the firſt or ſecond Table, they were as heavy and ſlow as any ſnail; yet in the feeding of themſelves, and following Epicurus his trade, ſo diligent and inſtant they were, as every man ſeemed rather to be a belly then a man; and therefore doth the Poet by an uſual figure of ſpeech thus expreſſe them. And as the whole Hexometer, ſo much more was this part of it frequent among the Heathens, who were wont proverbially to call ſuch perſons bellies, as they

ſaw addicted to idleneſſe, gormandizing, and intemperance. Taylor on Tit.

Belong] To appertain unto as ones peculiar right; as unto God, interpretations, Gen. 40.8. ſecret things, Deut. 29.29. the ſhields of the earth, Pſal. 47.9. the iſſues from death, Pſal. 68. 20. mercies and forgiveneſſe, Dan. 9. 9. power, Pſal. 62. 11. vengeance, Pſal. 94. 1. ſalvation, Pſal. 3. 8. Unto Chriſt, believers, Mar. 9.41. Unto the twelve Tribes, their ſeveral Cities, &c. So by appointment, Eſt. 2. 9.

The word ſignifieth alſo, to fit, ſerve, conduce, Luk. 19.42. Heb. 5.14.

And beloved, 1 Tim. 6. 2. As this is the title of Chriſtians every where in the New Teſtament, ſo 'tis alſo a title of Servants too, in that they aſſiſt their Maſters in doing good, which is but the work of a Wife to a Husband, of one friend or beloved to another: Therefore Servants muſt not deſire or pretend to any common liberty, upon this ſcore, which was the doctrine of the Gnoſticks. Dr. Ham. Annot. a.

Belſhazzar] Bel-ſhe-azar, is; Bel is he that ſtoreth riches; but in Dan. 7. 1. his name is by (tranſpoſing one letter) Bel-eſhe-zar, that is, Bel, is made a fire by (God) the enemy, or on fire by the enemy (God). Broughton on Dan. 5. 1. & 7. 1. marg.

Belteſhazzar] Bel keepeth treaſure, or keeping Bel's treaſures. The name which the Prince of the Eunuchs gave unto Daniel, Dan. 1. 7. in Heb. בלטשאצר, which was according to the name of King Nebuchadnezzar his god, Dan. 4. 8. But in Dan. 10. 1. the name is altered, by diſplacing onely a letter, being thus, בלטשאצר, which ſignifieth, he braſt out a fire upon the enemy, even the Chaldeans. Annot. Broughton.

Belp] Jer. 5. 12. They have belyed the Lord, or (as ſome) dewyed him, as Joſh. 24. 27. Job 8. 18. & 31. 28. Prov. 30. 9. or, they give the Lord the lye, they make him a lyer, as ſhe ſpeaketh, 1 Joh. 5. 10. See Iſa. 59. 13. Annot.

Bemoan] To take pity upon, condole with, ſeek to comfort. Spoken of men, in relation to others, Job 42. 11. To bewaile, ſpoken with relation to ones ſelf, Jer. 31. 18.

Benches of ivory] Ezek. 27. 6. or, hatches of ivory well troden, marg. Ivory wherewith they covered the walls and floors of chambers, and the decks of ſhips, which ſhews their profuſe ryot and exceſſe of delicacy. Annot.

Bend] To bow or ſubmit unto one, Iſa. 60. 14. To apply to, Ezek. 17. 7. This word (in a different ſignification from the former) is applyed to the Bow, Jer. 51. 3. to the Tongue, Jerem. 9. 3. to Judah, whom God would uſe as his Bow, Zech. 9. 13. Bent, Hoſ. 11. 7. Set upon it, not hang in ſuſpence, or doubtful therein which way to take, but reſolved, and obſtinate. Annot.

Benefactors] Luk. 22. 25. εὐεργέται. The Hebrews called their Nobles, נדיבים, nedibim, liberal, beneficent, Pſal. 113. 8. & 47. 10. from נדב, nadab, he gave willingly, or liberally; ſo was Ptolemy King of Ægypt ſtyled Εὐεργέτης, from his beneficence to the Cities of Greece. Being at firſt given to Princes and great Lords for their perſonall virtue; at laſt it became common to Princes, and Lords, as Auguſtus, and other titles, whether in their perſons they were ſuch or not. The meaning of Chriſt here is, that he would not have his Miniſters of the Goſpel affect any high or ambitious titles of domination. Annot.

Benefit] 2 Cor. 1. 15. Grace, marg.

To benefit] To do good, Jer. 18. 10. Annot.

Benjamite] Judg. 3. 15. One of the Tribe of Benjamin.

Benui] Of the Sons of Bani, Ezr. 10. 38.

Berachiah] Speaking well of the Lord. The Son of Shimeah, 1 Chr. 6. 39.

Berechiah] The Son of Aſa, 1 Chron. 9. 16. One of the Dore-keepers for the Ark, Ib. 15. 23. The Son of Meſhillemoth, 2 Chr. 28. 12. The Father of Meſhullam, Neh. 3. 4. See 1 Chr. 3. 20.

Berith] The Covenant. The Idol of the Shechemites, Judg. 9. 46.

Berries] Yet gleaning grapes, &c. two or three berries, &c. Iſa. 17. 6. The meaning is, that though God ſhould cauſe them by whole multitudes at ſeverall times to be carryed away captive by the enemy, and of thoſe that they had left, ſome again to undergoe the like calamity, yet he would not make an utter riddance of them, Jer. 30. 11. He would deal with them as he had enjoyned his people to doe in gathering their grapes at Vintage, Lev. 19. 10. Deut. 23. 20. Some few cluſters ſhould be left, ch. 65. 8. A remnant ſhould ſtil be reſerved for a Church, ch. 1. 9. & 6. 13. & 7. 3. & 10. 21, 22. For even thoſe alſo that glean leave ſome behind them, Judg. 20. 45, 47. Jer. 49. 9. Obad. 5. Annot.

Beſeech] It's in effect the ſame with Intreat, make interceſſion, requeſt, pray, require, &c.

It's ſpoken of men unto men, Exod. 3. 18.

Of men unto God, Numb. 12. 13. 1 Sam. 23. 11. Neh. 1. 5. Pſal. 80. 14. So unto Chriſt, Mat. 14. 36. & 15. 23. Mar. 5. 23. & 7. 26. Luk. 4. 38. & 5. 12. Of God unto men, 2 Cor. 5. 20. Of the devils unto Chriſt, Mat. 8. 31. Luk. 8. 28. Of the Apoſtles, unto thoſe to whom they wrote, Rom. 12. 1. 1 Cor. 1. 10. 2 Cor. 10. 1. Philem. verſ. 9. 2 Joh. 5.

Beſet] To compaſſe round, Judg. 19. 22. & 20. 5. Spoken by David of his enemies, Pſal. 22. 12. who were ſo fat, proud, and cruel, that they were rather beaſts then men. Annot.

And of God, Pſ. 139. 5. ſignifying, ſtraitly to beſiege & encloſe, hold ſtraight, or form. Aynſ. To keep within the compaſſe of his knowledge, like a man that will not let his Servant go out of his ſight. Annot. And by Hoſea of the peoples doings, Hoſ. 7. 2. Their owne doings have beſet them about, like as it were with ropes and ſnares that they may no longer eſcape judgements, Pſal. 5. 22. or, the puniſhments of their miſdeeds have bound them; or, their miſdeeds compaſſe them on every ſide, wherein and whereof they boaſt themſelves as men do of a guard about them. There ſhall be no way left for men to eſcape. And by the Apoſtle of ſin, Heb. 12. 1. which ſome underſtand of originall ſin, others of ſin in generall, either of which intangleth, or wraps about.

It's a borrowed ſpeech, taken from a Net, or long garment. Annot.

Beſide, or beſides] Yet, or more, 2 Chr. 18. 6. marg.

Beſide himſelfe, Mar. 3. 31. Mad. See Act. 26. 34.

Beſiege] To beſet, beleaguer, compaſſe about, inviron a place, or City, as Joab did Rabbah, 2 Sam. 11. 1. Omri, and all Iſrael, Tirzah, 1 King. 16. 17. The King of Aſſyria, Samaria, 2 King. 17. 5. The King of Babylon, Jeruſalem, Ib. 24. 10.

To hem or keep one in a place, to the end he may be taken, as Joab did Shebah in Abel of Beth Maachah, 2 Sam. 20. 15. Rezin and Pekah did Ahaz, 2 King. 16. 5. as Saul would have David in Ziklag, 1 Sam. 23. 8.

Beſieged] 2 King. 19. 24. Fenced, marg.

A beſieged City, Iſa. 1. 8. Heb. kept, watched, as Ezek. 6. 12. or as ſome, waſted, as ch. 65. 4. as deſolate, in regard of the Countrey round about it, ſo in great diſtreſſe it ſelf, being ſo ſtraitned, that none can go in or out in ſafety, 1 King. 15. 17. 2 King. 6. 24, 25. & 18. 27. Jer. 4. 16, 17. & 5. 6. Annot.

Beſtead] Iſa. 8. 21. See Hardly.

Beſtir thy ſelf] 2 Sam. 5. 24. that is, ſet thy ſelf againſt thine enemies with all thy might and courage, being aſſured to prevail over them.

Beſtow] To put on, 1 Cor. 12. 23. marg.

Bethelite] 1 King. 16. 34. or Bethel.

Bethink themſelves] 1 King. 8. 47. Heb. Bring back to their heart, or call their ſins to minde. Annot.

Bethlehemite] 1 Sam. 16. 1. Of Bethlehem.

Beth-Dzon] The houſe of anger, or houſe of liberty. A City, Joſh. 10. 10.

Bethſhemite] 1 Sam. 6. 14. Of Bethſhemeſh.

Betimes] Seaſonably, in due and convenient time. Prov. 13. 24. If thou wilt ſeek unto God betimes, Job 8. 5. The Hebr. word ſignifies ſeeking early in the morning, making it his chiefeſt and moſt ſerious work, as men that have buſineſſe of weight, neglect no time, but goe about in the morning as ſoon as they are up. Annot. Continually and carefully, 2 Chr. 36. 15. marg.

Betray] If ye come to betray me to mine enemies, 1 Chron. 12. 17. that is, To diſcover where I am, or to take me, and carry me to Saul, and ſuch as joyning with him account me their enemy, and ſeek my life. Annot.

Spoken of Apoſtates, who ſhal betray them, who will not with them deny the faith, and run to deſtruction of body and ſoul for company. Annot. on Mat. 24. 10. Of ſuch as forgetting all Laws of Nature (as if their Religion taught them to be cruel and unnaturall) out of a blinde zeal will accuſe each other, and complain of each other to the Magiſtrate. Annot. on Mar. 13. 12. Of Judas, who under the colour of friendſhip betrayed Chriſt, Luk. 22. 48. and of the Jews, who were alſo his betrayers, Act. 7. 52.

Betrayers] Act. 7. 52. Such as betrayed Chriſt.

Better] Are we the better, 1 Cor. 9. 8. or, have we the more, marg.

To better] Mar. 5. 26. was nothing bettered, that is, did not recover of her diſeaſe, had no help, profit, or benefit by all the phyſick ſhe took.

Some better thing for us, Heb. 11. 40. Thoſe priviledges and advantages that the Fathers had not enjoyed, a reſt after long perſecutions, a victory over all oppoſers of Chriſts Church, that ſo what was promiſed to Abrahams ſeed, Gen. 22. 17. that they ſhould poſſeſſe the gates of their enemies, being but imperfectly fectly fulfilled to the Fathers, might have the utmoſt completion in the victory and flouriſhing of the Chriſtian faith over all the enemies thereof. Dr. Ham. Paraph.

Between, or Betwixt] This word imports a third thing relating unto two others, whether perſons, as Gen. 3.15. places, Gen.10.12. or other things, as feet, Gen. 49. 10. burthens, Ib. 14. eyes, Exod. 13. 9. pillars, Judg. 16. 25, &c.

Beulah] Married, Iſa. 62. 4. marg.

Bewail] So to bewail as one that fetcheth deep ſighs, Jer. 4.31. Annot.

To lament, mourn, weep, grieve, ſorrow, make doleful lamentation, Lev. 10. 6. Iſa. 16. 9. Luk. 8. 52. The word κόπτω, 2 Cor. 12.21. imports an exceeding meaſure of grief, ſuch as is expreſſed by crying and weeping, ſuch as we conceive in the death of a deareſt friend, moſt neerly allyed unto us. Leigh Crit. Sac.

The word κόπτω in Luk. 8. 52. & 23. 27. & Rev. 18. 9. ſignifieth in generall to beat, and ſtrike, but by a Synecdoche it is uſed for the geſture of mourners, and ſignifieth to ſtrike or knock the breaſt with the hand, as is uſed at burials. Ibid.

Bewray] Prov.27.16. Heb. proclaim. Ann. To diſcloſe, diſcover, ſhew, tell, make known, detect, reveal, complain of, Prov. 29. 24.

Bewray not him that wandereth, Iſa. 16. 3. Harbour and hide thoſe that are driven from their places of abode, and conſtrained to wander, leſt you your ſelves undergoe the like calamity. Annot.

One may be bewrayed by his ſpeech, Matth. 26. 73. as a thing by its ſmell, Prov.27. 16.

Beyond] On the other ſide, Gen. 50.10. Over, or after, Lev. 15. 25. To paſſe over, 1 Sam. 20. 36. marg. Above, more then, 2 Cor. 8. 3. To go beyond, 1 Theſſ. 4. 6. Oppreſſe, deceive, cozen, cheat.

Beyond meaſure, ἐκ περισσοῦ, Mar. 6. 51. ὑπερμετρῶς, Mar. 7. 37. Exceedingly, more then exceedingly, as you would ſay, exceſſively. Leigh Crit. Sac.

I cannot go beyond, Numb. 22. 18. or, I may not tranſgreſſe.

The word ſignifies ſometimes unability, whereby a man cannot; ſometimes unlawfulneſſe, whereby one may not, and conſequently will not do a thing, as in Gen. 34. 14. & 43. 32. & 44. 26.

Balaam's ſpeech here ſeemeth to imply all, for as he might not lawfully, being forbidden of God, ſo neither could he, being reſtrained of God, who would not ſuffer him to curſe Iſrael. Aynſworth.

B I.

Bibber] A great drinker, or drunkard, Prov. 23. 20. Mat. 11. 19. Luk. 7.34.

Bid] Sanctified, or prepared, Zeph. 1. 7. marg.

Bide] Rom. 11. 23. To abide, remain, continue, perſevere.

Biere] 2 Sam. 3. 31. Heb. bed, mar. Luk. 7. 14. coffin, marg.

Bile] Exod. 9. 9. or, as the Greek tranſlateth, ſores, botches, of which oftimes Leproſie did breed, Lev. 13. 18, 19, 20. Aynſworth. With ſuch God threatned to puniſh the rebellious people, Deut. 28.27. and with ſuch Job was tryed, Job 2. 7. or ulcer, Iſa. 38. 21. Annot.

Bilgai] A Prieſt that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 8.

Bilha] A City, 1 Chro. 4. 29. The ſame with Balah, Joſh. 19. 3.

Bill] An obligation, promiſe in writing, or bond of aſſurance, Luk. 16. 6, 7.

Bill of divorcement, Iſa. 50. 1. Heb. Book of abſciſſion, or cutting off, Deut.24. 1. So called, becauſe the Woman was thereby declared to be cut off from her Husband, unto whom ſhe had formerly joyned in Wedlock. Annot. So in effect Aynſw. on Deut. 24. 1.

Billows] Pſal. 42. 7. Such are moſt dangerous to drown. They have their name of breaking, as the next word waves, of wallowing or tumbling; both ſignifie afflictions. So Pſa. 88. 8. Jonah 2. 3. Aynſworth.

Bimhal] The Son of Japhlet, 1 Chron. 7. 33.

Binde] To chaſten, Hoſ. 7. 15. marg.

Bird] A fowle (Gen. 1. 20.) that hath a wing, Prov. 1. 17. marg. Hereof there are divers kindes mentioned in the Scriptures; as, of clean, Deut. 14. 11. unclean, Ib. 12, &c. ravenous, Ezek. 39. 4. unclean and hateſull, Rev. 18. 2.

Birth] Cutting out, or habitation, Ezek. 16. 3. marg.

Birth day] Obſerved by Pharaoh, Gen. 40. 20. When the Baker was hanged, Ibid. 22. and by Herod, Mar. 6. 21. when John the Baptiſt was beheaded, Ib. 27.

Birzavith] The Son of Malchiel, 1 Chro. 7. 31.

Bilhlam] In peace. One that wrote againſt the Jews, Ezr. 4. 7.

Biſhoprick] Office, or charge, Act. 1. 20. marg.

The word ἐπισκοπὴ, denotes prefecture or ruling power in the Church, viz. that Apoſtolick power, which at the coming of the holy

Ghoſt was to be inſtated upon him that ſhould now be choſen into Judas's place, to be an Apoſtle. Dr. Ham. on Act. 1. Annot. b.

Bit] A ſnaffle, Pſal. 32. 9. or bridle, (a part being taken for the whole) Jam. 3.3.

Bite] Taken properly for the biting of Serpents, Num. 21.6. Eccl. 10.8, 11. Amos 9.3. Cockatrices, Jer. 8.17.

Figuratively, to bite one, is, grievouſly to afflict him, (whether by backbiting, detracting, ſpeaking ill of, rebuking, taunting, or any other injurious dealing) Hab. 2.7. Gal. 5.15. And, to bite with the teeth (which is ſpoken of falſe Prophets) Mic. 3.5. is to be as ravenous beaſts, which greedily deſire abundance of food, that they may devour it, and therewith ſtuffing themſelves, may feed their bellies. Ravanell.

It's applyed, as to falſe Teachers, and contentious perſons, in Mic. 3.5. & Gal. 5.15. So to the force of wine, Prov. 23.32. vexing enemies, Hab. 2.7. and to Dan, Gen. 49.17. whoſe poſterity ſhould overthrow their enemies by ſubtilty, (as Serpents naturally are prudent, Gen. 3.1.) as Samſon did the Philiſtins, Judg. 15. & 16. and the Danites did Leſhem, or Laiſh, Judg. 18.

Samſon bit the horſe heels, that is, pulled down the houſe pillars, on whoſe roof 3000 perſons were, Judg. 16.26, 27, &c. Aynſw.

Bitter] That whereunto ſweet is contrary, Iſa. 5.20. Sorrowfull, according to the Greek, Exod. 1.14. Aynſw.

Such as bringeth bitter, that is, grievous, diſtaſtefull, ill-pleaſing things upon me; ſo the word bitter is commonly taken, Ruth 1.20. Prov. 21.6. Annot.

Froward, wayward, teaſty, churliſh, Col. 3.19. And thus too many Husbands are bitter unto their Wives. And bitter they are (better I would they were) both by words, when they reproach them for their infirmities and deformities; or when they grow quarrellous, finding fault with every thing, or grow into paſſion upon every occaſion: and by deeds; by uſing them diſcourteouſly, or by unjuſt reſtraint; or laſtly, by blows. Bifield on Col. 3.19.

This is applyed unto affliction, 2 Ki. 14.26. The belly, Rev. 10.9, 10. Cluſters, Deu. 32.32. Complaint, Job 23.2. Cry, Gen. 27.34. Eſt. 4.1. Day, Amos 8.10. Deſtruction, Deut. 32.24. Death, Eccleſ. 7.26. Envying, Jam. 3.14. Herbs, Num. 9.11. An haſty Nation, Hab. 1.6. Lamentation, Jer. 6.26. Lives, Exod. 1.14. Strong drink, Iſa. 24.9. Soul, Job 3.20. Waters, Exod. 15.23. Numb. 5.24. Rev. 8.11. Wickedneſſe, Jer. 4.18. The end of the ſtrange woman, Prov. 5.4. Words, Pſal. 64.3.

Bitterly] Weep bitterly, Iſa. 22.4. Imbitter my ſelfe in, or with weeping, for a ſore and grievous lamentation. Annot.

Moſt bitterly, Hoſ. 12.14. Heb. with bitterneſſe, Deut. 29.18. & 32.32. or, with their high places, as the word alſo ſignifieth. Annot.

Wept bitterly, Matt. 26.75. that is, abundantly, out of great grief and anguiſh of Spirit.

Bitterneſſe] Sadneſſe, grief, diſcontent, 1 Sam. 22.2. & 30.6. marg. A thing moſt irkſome and grievous, Prov. 14.10. A thing moſt pernicious, 2 Sam. 2.26. Impiety againſt God, and malice againſt men, Deut. 32.32. Heb. 12.15. Act. 8.23. Rom. 3.14. from Pſal. 10.7.

Bitterneſſe is the thinking, minding, and ſenſe of ſome great and grievous injury done unto us, which moveth and ſtirreth up our ſtomachs, inflameth our hearts againſt the doers thereof, that we cannot abide them. Let this, let all bitterneſſe be put away from us. Eph. 4.31. Ravanell.

B L.

Black] Spoken of Hair, Lev. 13.13. the Heaven, 1 King. 18.45. Marble, Eſt. 1.6. Skin, Job 30.30. Night, Prov. 7.9. the Church, Cant. 1.5. a Raven, Cant. 5.11. Gates, Jer. 14.2. Oven, Lam. 5.10. Horſes, Zech. 6.2. Sackcloth, Rev. 6.12.

Blains] Exod. 9.9. or, boiling bliſters, which the holy Ghoſt expreſſeth by an evill or malignant bile, (a noyſome and grievous ſore) Rev. 16.2. Aynſw.

Now the ſin of their ſouls brake out in the ſores of their bodies, and on the Beaſts for their ſakes, where the miſchief is not more miraculous, then the means uſed to produce it, which was by caſting aſhes of the fornace up towards heaven, which (though they produced ſuch ſcalding or boyling blains, or bliſters) were not hot, but ſuch as Moſes and Aaron might hold in their hands. Annot.

Blame] Gen. 43.9. Let me bear the blame, or be a ſinner, or ſin; that is, be guilty as a violator of my faith, and ſubject to puniſhment puniſhment according. See 1 King. 1.21. Aynſw.

Without blame] Eph. 1. 4. Without blemiſh, or blameleſſe, unreprovable; ſuch in whom Momus himſelf (the word is ἄμωμος) could finde nothing whereat to carp. It's rendred in Col. 1. 22. unblamable. In Heb. 9. 14. without ſpot, (or fault, mar.) In Jude v. 24. faultleſſe. In Rev. 14. 5. without fault.

To blame] To reprove, 2 Cor. 6. 3. & 8.20.

Blameleſſe] Gen. 44. 10. Clear, innocent, and ſo without puniſhment. The Greek ſaith pure. Aynſw. Mat. 12. 5. ἀναίτιος, guiltleſſe, innocent, without fault Luk. 1. 6. ἄμεμπτος, one that is without complaint, on whom others do not complain, as he complaineth not of others, 1 Cor. 1. 8. ἀνέγκλητος, ſuch a one as no man can juſtly call into queſtion, or taint with any infamy.

Blaſe abroad] Mar. 1. 45. To divulge, publiſh, ſet, or ſpread abroad.

Blaſpheme] The word βλασφημία, thus rendred in Mat. 9. 3. & Mar. 3. 28, 29. In Mat. 27. 39. is tranſlated revile; In Mar. 15. 29. rail; In Rom. 3. 8. ſlanderouſly to report; In Rom. 14. 6. ſpeak evill of; In 1 Cor. 4. 13. defame.

It's commonly taken in the Scriptures for words, or ſpeeches, with relation to God and holy things; as, to utter any derogatory unholy ſpeech againſt God, his Name, his Word, his Chriſt, his People, his Miniſters, his Spirit.

The Heb. נקב, nakab, properly ſignifieth to ſtrike, or pierce thorow, Iſa. 36. 6. Hab. 3. 14. Figuratively it is uſed for blaſphemy, Num. 23. 13, 25. which is a ſtriking through with evill words. Leigh. Crit. Sac.

Blaſphemer] 1 Tim. 1. 13. A railer, or evil-ſpeaker.

Blood] Bloods, Gen. 4. 10. marg. Quietneſſe, or likeneſſe, Ezek. 19. 10. marg.

Blood and water] Joh. 19. 34. There were Hereticks of the firſt ages, which affirmed Chriſt to have ſuffered death onely in appearance; but the coming out of this blood and water, upon the piercing of his ſide, confuteth them; for there being a capſula on the left ſide of the heart, called the pericardium, which hath water in it of continual uſe, for the cooling of the heart, the coming out of the water with the blood here, was a teſtimony of the wounding his very heart, the entring of that iron, the Spear into his ſoul, and ſo an evidence and demonſtration of his being truly dead. The water alſo was the embleme of all ſpotleſſe purity, and the blood was the evidence of his fortitude and conſtant patience, laying down his life for the truth of God; both ſerving againſt thoſe two baits or temptations, whereof the Gnoſticks made uſe to ſeduce the orthodox Chriſtians, namely, the allurements of carnall pleaſures, and terrors from apprehenſion of perſecutions; Chriſts purity repreſented by the water, ſerving againſt the former; as his patience, repreſented by the blood, againſt the other. Dr. Ham. Annot. e.

Blood-guiltyneſſe] Pſal. 51. 14. Heb. bloods; that is, from the guilt of my murther in ſhedding the blood of Uriah; as the Chaldee ſaith, from the judgement of murder, or from my native corruption. Aynſw.

Blood-thirſty] Pro. 29. 10. Heb. men of blood, marg.

Bloody] Spoken by Zipporah to Moſes out of indignation, Exod. 4. 25. A Husband, or a Bridegroom of bloods, that is, a bloody Bridegroom or Husband. As a man of bloods, 2 Sam. 16. 7. is a cruel bloody man. Some think the Childe is thus called, becauſe in the day of the Circumciſion, it is as eſpouſed to God by the ſeal of the Covenant. The Chaldee tranſlateth tranſlateth it, for the blood of the circumciſion let my Husband be given me. Aynſw. Some ſay that in the uſe of Circumciſion theſe words were ſolemnly pronounced, Thou art a ſpouſe of bloods unto me. Annot. Thus Shimei called David unjuſtly and maliciouſly, 2 Sam. 16. 7, 8. Thus is the Houſe of Saul tearmed, becauſe of the blood of the Gibeonites which he ſhed, 2 Sam. 21. 1.

Bloody crimes] Ezek. 7. 23. that is, ſins that deſerve death. Annot.

Bloody City, Ezek. 22. 2. Heb. City of bloods. So the bloody man, Pſal. 5. 6. the man of bloods, marg.

In Act. 28. 8. there's mention of a diſeaſe, tearmed the Bloody flix.

A skirt, hemme, fringe, Mar. 6. 56.

To border] Zec. 9. 2. And Hamath ſhall border thereby. Heb. And he alſo ſhall border Hamath thereby; meaning that the eye of providence ſhall limit, that is, ſhall ſtay the courſe of the power, conqueſts, and enterpriſes of Hamath chief City of Syria; or rather thus, Hamath ſhall ſhare in the burthen, bear a part in the puniſhment. Annot.

Born again] Joh. 3. 7. From above, mar. Born of God, Joh. 1. 13. Of the Spirit, Joh. 3. 6. Of water, and of the Spirit, Ibid. 5. See 1 Pet. 1. 23.

One born out of due time, 1 Cor. 15. 8. An Abortive, marg.

Born, for brought forth, Gen. 4. 18, 26.

Which were born not of blood, &c. Joh. 1. 13. To be born of any thing, ſignifies, to receive his beginning or principle of life and motion from any thing; and ſo here, to be born of God, is to have received ſome ſpeciall influence from him, and proportionably to be a Son of God, is that ſtate which is anſwerable to ſuch principle, a life proportionable to ſuch a beginning, that higher pitch of Chriſtian living now under the Goſpel. And in oppoſition to that,

1. Thoſe that are born in blood (which is the livelyeſt expreſſion of our corrupt birth, or naturall eſtate) are thoſe that live that naturall Heathen firſt life, the life of the Naman.

2. Thoſe that are born of the will of the fleſh are carnall men, thoſe that follow their owne turall vicious carnall Will. And,

3. Thoſe that are born of the will of man, they ſeem to be thoſe that by the influences of that higher rationall principle, live according to the Rules of rationall nature, i. e. of unregenerate morality, to which the Rules of Chriſts Law, ſuperadding much of light and perfection, the believers and receivers of Chriſt, are here defined to be thoſe that live according to thoſe Rules, that higher principle, (and ſo are ſaid to be born of God) and not according to any of theſe lower ſtates. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Borrow] Exod. 22. 14. Heb. aſk, and conſequently receive a thing lent, as movable goods, beaſts, houſhold-ſtuffe, and the like. Aynſworth.

Alſo, jewels of ſilver, and jewels of gold, &c. Exod. 3. 22. & 12. 35. Veſſels, 2 Kin. 4. 5. an Axe, 2 King. 6. 5. Money, Neh. 5. 4. To be repaid, reſtored, or made good, Pſal. 37. 11. 2 King. 6. 5. Exod. 22. 14.

Borrower] Prov. 22. 7. Iſa. 24. 2. One that borroweth of another.

Boſcath] In poverty. The name of a place, 2 King. 22. 1.

Boſor] Taking away. The Father of Balaam, 2 Pet. 2. 15. called Beor in Num. 22. 5. Peter writing from Babylon calleth him Boſor; for in the Babylonian or Chaldee language, the Hebr. letter ע, Ghain, is often pronounced like ז, whereupon the Greek Interpreters ſometime put ז in ſtead thereof, as Gnamiud, Numb. 1. 10. is in Greek Semioud, (See other inſtancees in Jer. 46. 17. & 29. 26. Numb. 13. 8. Ezr. 2. 2.) Aynſw.

Boſſes] Job 15. 26. The word ſignifies a thing that is higher then the reſt; as,

1. A houſe or building higher then others, Ezek. 16. 24.

2. The back of beaſts, which uſeth to be the higheſt, Pſal. 129. 3.

3. The eye-brows that are above the eye, Lev. 14. 9.

4. The upper part of the wheel, 1 Kin. 7. 33.

5. The

5. The body of man which goes upright, and is higher then the beasts, Job 13. 12.

6. The bosses and highest part of a buckler, as here. Some read it the backs in the second sense, because bucklers were wont to be made of the backs of beasts doubled. Annot.

Botch] Deu. 28. 27. Bile, or ulcer, & 35. Evill bile, sore, or malignant ulcer. Aynsw.

Both] Spoken of persons, Gen. 1. 25. & 3. 7. & 9. 23. Other things, as Tables, Exo. 32. 15. Boards, Exod. 36. 29. a Calf, and a Lamb, Lev. 9. 3. Hands, Lev. 16. 21. and so of other things. Both small and great, 2 King. 23. 2. from small even to great, marg.

Bottle] 1. A Vessel wherein to put water, Gen. 21. 14, 15, 19. milk, Judg. 4. 19. wine, 1 Sam. 10. 3. & 16. 20. abused to drunkenness, Hos. 7. 5. & Hab. 2. 15. (where some translate, not bottle, but heat, wrath, or anger. Annot.) Of which some were made of Earth, Jer. 19. 1. some of Leather, called in Hebr. נבל, nebel, which the Septuagint turn ἀσκὸς, as we, bottle, 1 Sam. 1. 24. 2 Sam. 16. 1. and ἀσκὸς cometh of α, & σχέω, to contain, as being capable of liquor. Leigh Crit. Sac. Such as it seemeth were the bottles whereby the Gibeonites deceived Joshua, Josh. 9. 10, 13. and unto such there seemeth to be an allusion Psal. 119. 83. I am become like a bottle in the smoak; that is, like a skin bottle or bladder that is shrivelled in the smoak. Annot. Dry and wrinkled. Aynsworth.

2. The inhabitants of Jerusalem, whom the Lord would fill with the wine of his wrath, Jer. 13. 12.

5. Gods remembrance or preserving. Psal. 56. 8. Put thou my tears into thy bottle; that is, reserve them diligently, Aynsw.

If God keep the tears of his Saints in store, much more will he remember their blood to avenge it, and though Tyrants burn the bones, yet can they not blot the tears and blood out of Gods register. Annot.

4. The clouds called the bottles of heaven, Job 38. 37. Which hold the rain, till God please to pour it down on the earth. Annot.

Bottome] That which is the lowest and undermost, as of the Altar, Exod. 29. 12. of the Sea, Job 36. 30. Heb. the roots of the Sea, marg. of Solomon's charet, Cant. 3. 10. Den, Dan. 6. 24. of the mountains, Jonah 2. 6.

It's put for bosome, Ezek. 43. 13. marg. Cuttings of, Jonah 2. 6. marg.

Bottomlesse pit] Rev. 9. 1. Hell, as being without bottome. See the Dict. of the Revel.

Bough] The word signifies,

1. The time of harvest, when the corn being ripe is cut down, Isa. 9. 3.

2. It is put for the corn then to be cut down, Joel 3. 13.

3. For War, wherein men are cut down by the sword, as corn by the sickle, Jerem. 51. 33.

4. For Boughs, which Trees put forth, as the Earth puts out Corn in Harvest, Isa. 27. 11. Psal. 80. 11. Annot. on Job 14. 9.

Joseph is a fruitfull bough, Gen. 49. 22. In the Hebr. בן פרת, filius fructescens, a fructifying Son; that is, a bough or branch which springeth out of the Tree, as a Son from the Father. The Greek saith, a growing Son, so the Chald. Aynsw.

The Lord shall top the bough, Isa. 10. 33. Hereby is meant, that God would cut down the chief and principall, those of greatest state and might in Senacherib's Army, such as are likened to high Boughs and tall Trees, ch. 2. 13, 18. ch. 18. 5. Annot.

By Boughs in Psal. 80. 10, 11. may figuratively be understood the beauty, increase and extent of the Church, as in Ezek. 31. 6. & Dan. 4. 12. Dominion and protection.

Bound] The end, Gen. 49. 26. The limit, Psal. 104. 9. Job 14. 5. A land-mark, Hos. 5. 10. A border, Isa. 10. 14.

The word signifies,

1 A decree or statute, Mal. 4. 4.

2 The thing decreed, a bound of place, Job 38. 10. A decreed time, Job 14. 13. Appointed food, Job 23. 12. A bounding place to the Sea, or a bounding time, within which as within a circled wall, the Sea is kept fast, Job 26. 10. & 38. 8, 10, 11. Psal. 104. 2, 9. Pro. 8. 19. Jer. 5. 22. Annot. on Job 26. 10.

Bound in the spirit, Act. 20. 22. Paul resolving to venture the hazard of imprisonment here, by going up to Jerusalem, whither if he go, he knows, and the Spirit of God tells him, vers. 23. it will befall him, may be said to be bound in spirit; but it may be also interpreted onely of his presaging and foreseeing his bonds, which being revealed by the Spirit of God to others of him, and probably immediately to him also, he may be said to be bound in the spirit, in that respect. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Bountp] Blessing, 2 Cor. 9. 5. marg.

Bountifull] Good, Prov. 22. 9. marg. Bountifull, Isa. 32. 5. or, magnificent; as some, the noble. The words of the Prophet (I conceive) should be rendred to expresse his mind aright; nor shall any Churle have the title of a Lord, or the like. The Hebraisme being adjoyned in the marg. And to a Churle

it

it ſhall not be ſaid, Lord; for ſo it is pointed in the Text; he ſhall not be ſaluted by, or graced with any ſuch title of honour. Annot.

Bountifulneſs] Simpleneſſe of heart, or benignity; bounteouſneſſe proceeding from ſimpleneſſe of heart, for liberality ought to be a pure and ſimple motion of doing good, without being corrupted by ones proper intereſt, and hope of recompenſe, 2 Cor. 9. 11. Leigh Crit. Sac. The word ἁπλότης is rendred in Rom. 8. 12. ſimplicity, or liberally, marg. In 2 Cor. 8. 2. liberality. In Eph. 6. 5. ſingleneſſe. So in Col. 3. 22.

Bountifully] Dealt bountifully, Pſal. 13. 6 The Original word Gamal, ſignifieth to give one thing for another, as proſperity after one hath been in adverſity; and though it be ſometime uſed for rewarding evill for good, Pſal. 7. 5. or evil for evil, Pſal. 137. 8. yet from God to his people, it commonly ſignifieth a bountifull rewarding of good things in ſtead of evill, which we rather do deſerve. So Pſal. 116. 7. & 119. 17. & 142. 8. & 103. 2, 10. The Greek tranſlateth, dealt bounteouſly; the Chald. rewarded me good. Aynſworth.

He which ſoweth bountifully, ſhall reap bountifully, 2 Cor. 9. 6. Greek, with bleſſings, word for word it is, He which ſoweth in benedictions or bleſſings, ſhall reap in benedictions. Annot.

Bow the knee] Gen. 41. 43. or tender Father. Heb. Abrech, marg.

Bow-men] Jer. 4. 29. Hebr. him that throweth or ſhooteth out arrows with a bow, as Pſal. 78. 9. Annot.

Boy] A Lad, or man-childe, Gen. 25. 27. Zec. 8. 5. marg.

B R.

Bracelets] Iſa. 3. 19. or Chains. The word comes from a root that ſignifieth to wreath, and hath affinity with one that ſignifieth the navel, Ezek. 16. 4. and with another that ſignifieth a coat of mail, or a brigandine, 1 Sam. 17. 5. and it is moſt likely to import any ſuch ornaments as conſiſt of links faſtened together, as in the mail of the coat thereof conſiſting; or of gold wire or thread therewith covered, twiſted, and wreathed together. Such as thoſe about the Tabernacle and Prieſtly robes ſeem to have been of both kindes whereof Chains and Bracelets are uſually made. It may (as ſome think) comprehend Chains of all ſorts, uſed about neck, arm, wriſt, or leg. Annot.

Bramble] Judg. 9. 14. or Thiſtle, mar.

Brand] A fire-brand, Judg. 15. 5. A brand pluckt out of the fire, Zec. 3. 2. A ſpeciall and choyce peece purpoſely ſaved and reſerved by God for his ſpecial uſe and ſervice, out of Ur of the Chaldees, out of the Babylonian fiery furnace. Annot.

Breadth] Gen. 6. 15. & 13. 17. The dimenſion of a thing from the one ſide to the other.

Break] Spoken of the day, 2 Sam. 2. 32.

Break] To run from, 2 King. 23. 12. m. Deſtroy, Pſal. 74. 8. marg. Breath, Cant. 4. 6. marg.

She brake the box, Mar. 14. 3. The Greek συνετριψε, in the active doth not naturally ſignifie ſignifie to break, but to knock, to beat, or ſhake together, or to rub or ſcrape. If it ſignifie contundere, or conquaſſare, to knock, or ſhake, then the meaning will be, that ſhe took the veſſel, or knockt it againſt the ground, that it might run the more fluently, and that the more corpulent parts might riſe from the bottome, and then ſhe poured it on his head. But if it ſignifie conterere, then it refers to the inſtrument ordinary among Apothecaries, to rub or ſcrape the inſide of the veſſel, that the oyntment ſtick not to it. Dr. Hammond Ann. b.

Breaker] Rom. 2. 25. A tranſgreſſor, the breaker up. The Aſſyrian and Chaldean.

Breaſt] That part of the body forward, from the neck to the waſte, Luk. 18. 13, Joh. 13. 25.

Bringers up, 2 King. 10. 1. Hebr. Nouriſhers, marg.

Brink] The ſhoar or bank of a River, Gen. 41. 3. Exod. 2. 3.

Broad] Wide, large, that which may be certainly meaſured, as the Altar, Exo. 27. 1. Plates, Numb. 16. 38. Chamber, 1 Kin. 6. 6. Walls, Jer. 51. 58.

Spoken of Gods commandements (which are infinite) Pſal. 119. 96.

Broided] 1 Tim. 2. 9. Plaited, marg.

Broidered coat] Exod. 28. 4. Mr. Aynſw. rendreth it a coat of circled work, and ſaith that this differed from broydered work, which was of many colours; but this Coat was of one colour, white, being of fine linnen only verſ. 39. but woven with circles or round hollow places, like eyes; wherefore the ſame word is after in verſ. 11. uſed for Ouches, or hollow places wherein ſtones are ſet.

Broken] That periſheth, Pſal. 31. 12. mar. Brittle, Dan. 4. 42. marg. Rent, or torn, Job 7. 5. Worn away, Pſal. 38. 8. Unuſual, Pſal. 31. 8. Violated, or made of none effect, Joh. 10. 35. Bullock] Isa. 65. 25. Jer. 31. 18. A young Steir or Heifer.

Bulrush] Exod. 2. 3. Thereof the Ægyptians used to make light boats, and vessels to go upon the waters, Isa. 18. 2. Aynsw.

Bulwark] A strong frontier, fort, sconce, rampart, made for strength and safegard of a City, 2 Sam. 20. 15. 1 King. 21. 23. Psal. 122. 7. Aynsw. on Psal. 48. 13.

A fortification raised by an enemy, that besiegeth a City, whereby being himself in more safety, he may the sooner take the City, Deut. 20. 20. Eccl. 9. 14.

Bunch] Spoken of Hyssope, Exod. 12. 22. of Raisins, 2 Sam. 16. 1. of Camels, Isa. 30. 6. Of which some kinde had one, some two bunches apiece, and were very usefull for carriage, in regard of the great weight they were able to bear, but especially with those that were to travel through waste places, because they could continue long without water, Isa. 21. 7. From this their bunched body arose that proverbiall speech of driving or drawing a Camel through a Needles eye, Matth. 19. 24. Annot.

Bundle] Spoken of Money, Gen. 42. 35. Myrrhe, Cant. 1. 13. Tares, Mat. 13. 30. Sticks, Act. 28. 3.

Bundle of life, 1 Sam. 25. 29. that is, in safe custody.

Burden] Gift, Psal. 55. 22. marg. Grievousnesse, Isa. 30. 27. marg.

Are burnt up, Jer. 9. 10. or desolate, marg.

Burnt incense, 2 Chr. 28. 3. or offered sacrifice, marg.

Burning] Isa. 3. 24. Tanning, or Sunburning. Annot.

Burnings] Who amongst us shall dwell with everlasting burnings? Isa 33. 14. The word it self properly seems to signifie an hearth, on which fire is made; so it is rendred, Psalm 102. 3. and some therefore here so render it, hearths of perpetuity, and have fire ever on them, and never leave burning; and this they understand of the Assyrians fury and rage that was never satisfied, but as the fire that hath never enough, Prov. 30. 16 was incessantly spoyling and making havock of Countreys and people, ch. 10. 7. & 14. 6. Which way soever the words be rendred, whether, Who among us can abide, or dwell, (to wit, in safety) with a devouring fire, with continuall burnings? or, who can gather forces for us against such? or, who can but fear such? they may well be the words of profane and wicked persons distrusting Gods providence and power to defend and protect them against the Assyrians. Annot.

Burnished] Polished, or furbished, Eze. 1. 7.

Burst] To break in pieces, Nah. 1. 3. To flow over, Prov. 3. 10.

Bushes] Commendable trees, Isa. 7. 19, marg.

Buſhel] It was among the Romanes a meaſure of dry things, containing ſixteen ſextarios, every one of which was one pinte and an half, Mat. 5. 15.

Buſhie] Cant. 5. 11. or Curled, marg.

Buſie] To be diligently employed or exerciſed about any work, 1 King. 20. 40. 2 Chr. 35. 14.

But] put for If, Joſh. 23. 8. mar. Onely, Job 2. 6 marg. Moreover, Phil. 2. 19. mar.

Butler] Cup-bearer, 1 King. 10. 5. mar.

Butlerſhip] The charge or office of a Butler, Gen. 40. 21.

Buttocks] Iſa. 20. 4. Hebr. fundament, that part which mans body ſits upon, and reſts on in ſitting.

The meaning of their buttocks uncovered, is, having not rayment ſo much as to hide their ſhame. So in deſpight were David's Meſſengers uſed by the Ammonites, 2 Sam. 10. 5. Annot.

Buy] To take, Prov. 31. 16. marg. Value, Mat. 27. 9. marg.

Buyer] Such uſually undervalue commodities, Prov. 20. 14. and rejoyce in their gaining, Ezek. 7. 12.

Buzite] Job 32. 2, 6. Elihu ſo named.

B Y.

By] From, Pſal. 5. 10. marg. Into, Pſal. 10. 10. marg. Being in, Job 27. 11. marg. To, Mat. 5. 21. marg. For, Luk. 1. 77. marg. Heb. 6. 7. marg. Becauſe of, Rom. 8. 11. marg.

By and by] Forthwith, Mat. 5. 21. Now, Mar. 6. 25. Immediately, Luk. 17. 7. Preſently, Luk. 21. 9.

By-wayes] Secret and unhaunted by-paths, that the enemies might not diſcover them. Judg. 5. 6. Annot.

By-word] Deut. 28. 37. A ſharp or cutting taunt. Ayuſw. 1 King. 9. 7. The Heb. word ſignifieth a ſharp or biting word; ſuch a ſcornfull ſpeech as pierceth to the heart. Ann. Job 17. 6. A by-word, or a Proverb. To ſpeak proverbs againſt a man; or, to make him a by-word, argues him to be in the depth of miſery, Numb. 21. 27, 28. Deut. 28. 37. Pſal. 44. 13, 14. Annot.

C A.

Cabbins] Jer. 37. 16. When Jeremiah was entred into the cabbins, or cells, or wards, or lodges. The Jewiſh Criticks ſome of them tell us, that they were cells, or lodges, ſituate before the Priſon, for the guards or wards that kept that Priſon, to abide in. But it may ſeem rather to ſignifie ſuch ſorry cells or cabbins as the Priſoners had to lie in. Annot.

Cage] Jer. 5. 27. As a cage full of birds, or a coup; for it is (as the Jewiſh Maſters tell us) a receptacle made of boards, wherein Fowlers and Poulterers uſed to fat their fowle. And it may ſignifie as well one made of twigs, as of Boards; for it is uſed alſo for a maund, or basket, Amos 8. 1, 2. Annot.

Cake] Hoſ. 7. 8. Ephraim is a cake not turned; as if he ſhould ſay, He is neither raw nor roaſted, dough nor cake, fiſh nor fleſh; which may be referred to the mixtures and differences of Religion, as was in Ahab's time, when they halted between Jehovah and Baal, 1 King. 18. or in Samaria, 2 King. 17. 33. See Zeph. 1. 5. Rev. 3. 15, 16. Or elſe it may relate to that, that being as it were all fired by Gods judgements, he was not one whit humbled nor amended by it, but was ſtill raw in impenitency and obſtinacy, like a cake that is burnt on the ſide, and dough on the other. Annot. They are thus tearmed, as who did retain circumciſion, and yet followed the ſuperſtitions of the Gentiles, and ſo ſeemed both to be Jews and Gentiles. Ravanell.

Calkers] Ezek. 27. 9. or Stoppers of chinks, Hebr. ſtrengtheners; meaning, the chief of this Nation, which were cunning Ship-wrights, were employed in mending or making of Shipping, verſ. 27. Hebr. Thoſe which mend thy breaches; which ſome take for the breaches of walls and buildings. Annot.

Called] Cauſed to come, Eſt. 5. 10. marg. Proclaimed, Lam. 1. 21. marg. Set, Judg. 8. 31. marg.

Called after my name] 2 Sam. 12. 28. Heb. my name be called upon it. marg.

Call back] Iſa. 31. 2. Heb. remove, marg.

Call

Call upon] Iſa. 12. 4. or proclaim, mar.

Calm] Jonah 1. 11. That the Sea may be calm unto us. Heb. may be ſilent from us, marg.

Calve] Their Cow calveth, Job 21. 10. Heb. ſendeth forth. The word imports ſafety and deliverance. Annot. Job 39. 1. The word it ſelf carries a great deal of pain with it, for it ſignifies to bring forth with grief. Annot.

Came] 1 King. 20. 13. Heb. approached, ma.

Came abroad] 2 Chr. 31. 5. Hebr. brought forth, marg.

Came upon] 1 Sam. 4. 19. Heb. were turned, marg. 1 Chr. 12. 18. Cloathed, marg. & 2 Chr. 24. 20. m. Job 4. 14. Heb. met, ma.

Camp] To encamp, or pitch a camp, Exod. 19. 2. To lay ſiege againſt, Iſa. 29. 3. Jer. 50. 29. It's applyed alſo to Graſhoppers, Nah. 3. 17.

Can] To be able, or have power, Pſal. 78. 19. Mar. 2. 7. Joh. 6. 44.

Cannot] To be unable, or want power, Job 9. 13. & 23. 8, 9. Joh. 3. 3, 5.

Canaaniteſſe] 1 Chr. 2. 3. A woman of Canaan.

Canaanitiſh] Gen. 46. 10. Belonging to Canaan.

Candle] Job 18. 6. or lamp, marg. So ch. 21. 17. marg. & 29. 3. marg.

Cane] Bought me no ſweet cane with money, Iſa. 43. 24. Heb. cane, or canel, as it is uſually tearmed, (for ſweet is not in the text) or calamus, as it is rendred, Ezek. 27. 19. but ſweet cane, as here. So Jer. 6. 20. either for the compoſition of the ſweet oyntment, Exod. 30. 34. or for the Incenſe, Exo. 30. 7. The ſweet cane, Jer. 6. 20. Heb. cane the good, or that is good, or cane of the beſt. Annot.

Canker] Their word will eat as doth a canker, 2 Tim. 2. 17. or Gangrene, γαγγραινα, from γραω, ſignifying to eat, as the diſeaſe called a Wolf, or a Canker doth, which if it be not looked to in time, groweth incurable, and not onely conſumeth the part where it is, but ſpreadeth farther in the fleſh. Such is the nature of hereticall doctrine, if it be not ſtopt in the beginning, and cured by ſolid confutations, and Eccleſiaſticall cenſures inflicted upon thoſe that are obſtinate, it will ſpread far, and run over the whole body of the Church, and corrupt the ſame, 1 Cor. 5. 7. Gal. 5. 9. Annot.

Cankered] Jam. 5. 3. or grown ruſty. Ann.

Caphtozim] The Son of Mizraim, Gen. 10. 14.

Captain] Joſh. 5. 14. or Prince, marg.

Captains] Ezek. 21. 22. or Battering Rams. Heb. rams, marg.

Captives] 2 Chr. 28. 17. Hebr. Captivity, m.

Taken captive] 2 Tim. 2. 26. Hebr. taken alive, marg.

Captibity] Ezr. 1. 11. Tranſportation, m.

Captibity captive] Eph. 4. 8. or a multitude of captives, marg.

Care] 1 Sam. 10. 2. Buſineſſe, marg.

Care for, 2 Sam. 18. 3. Set their hearts on, m. Deut. 11. 12. ſeek, m. Pſ. 142. 4. ſeek after, m.

Careful] Thou haſt been carefull for us with all this care. 2 King. 4. 13. This phraſe implyeth ſuch care, as hath a fear of failing in ſome duty mixed with it. It intendeth a very ſedulous and diligent care. Annot.

And ſhall not be carefull, Jer. 17. 8. or, nor taketh thought, or needeth to take thought. Ann.

We are not carefull to anſwer thee in this matter, Dan. 3. 16. The matter is ſuch as needs no time of deliberation, or anſwer at all; at leaſt in words, but rather in deeds, of conſtancy and courage on our parts. Annot.

Be carefull for nothing, Phil. 4. 6. that is, with tearing and torturing the heart, with carking thoughtfulneſſe, impiety, fretting impatiency. Leigh Crit. Sac. In Μεριμνάω. We muſt be carefull to maintain good works, Tit. 3. 8.

Carefully] If thou carefully hearken, Deut. 15. 5. If hearkening thou wilt hearken. Aynſw.

Waited carefully for good, Mic. 1. 12. or, was grieved for good, ſick for it: which they loſt, and carefully expected in vain; but were caſt out of their former good and happy eſtate, by thoſe publick calamities. Annot.

The more carefully, Phil. 2. 28. with the more forwardneſſe, diligence, care and ſtudy.

Carefulneſſe] Drink thy water with carefulneſſe, Ezek. 12. 18. heavyneſſe, penſiveneſſe, trouble, vexation or anguiſh of minde.

I would have you without carefulneſſe, 1 Cor. 7. 32. a doubtfull and carking care, a diſtracting care, ſuch as parts and rends aſunder the minde, μεμερισται παρα το μαιζον τον νουν. Leigh Crit. Sac.

What carefulneſſe, 2 Cor. 7. 11. or diligence; ſtudy and diligence, readily and carefully to put in practiſe what I commanded you, to correct your errour and neglect, in not inflicting the cenſure of the Church upon the inceſtuous perſon. Annot.

Careleſſe] How they dwelt careleſſe, Judg. 18. 7. i. e. that they were quiet, and ſecure (in their opinion) from all danger of ſur-

Careleſſe, Iſa. 32. 9. Heb. confident, alluding to their vain confidence, for which they are ſo frequently taxed, ch. 30. 12. & 31. 1. Annot.

Careleſſely] Ezek. 39. 6. or confidently, m.

Carkaſſe] Taken, I. Improperly,

1 For Idols or Images, Exod. 26. 30. (which are ſo called, becauſe they are bodies without ſouls, as Pſal. 115. 4. yet ſo that Idolaters are often ſo deluded, as to think the falſe gods do animate, inform, and quicken them; and becauſe they are loath ſome unto God, as dead and ſtinking carkaſſes to men. Annot.)

2 For the Sacrifices which were offered to Idols, Jer. 16. 18.

3 For the body of the Jewiſh people, whom God would deliver, Annot. or, the godly grievouſly afflicted.

4 For grievous calamities, Rev. 16. 3.

II. Properly for a dead body; as,

1 Of men; as of the Iſraelites which fell in the Wilderneſſe, Numb. 14. 29. Of Saul, and his Sons, 1 Sam. 31. 10, 12.

2 Of beaſts, Judg. 14. 8.

3 Of creeping things, Lev. 5. 2.

4 Of fowles, Gen. 15. 9, 10, 11. See Ravanel.

The carkaſſes of their Kings, Ezek. 43. 7. Not for that they defiled themſelves by touching their dead bodies; or, for that they were grown into the Idolatry of the Heathen, to deifie their dead Kings, and to reſcue their corpſes from adoration, for we no where read at any time of that their Idolatry; but rather that they defiled themſelves with humane carkaſſes, which they had ſacrificed alive to their Idols, which in Scripture are ſometime underſtood by the name of Kings, as the Ammonites uſe to call their Idols. See Lev. 18. 2. 1 King. 11. 5. 2 King. 23. 10. Amos 5. 26. Annot.

Humane bodies are called the carkaſſes of Kings, which the Kings of Judah did ſacrifice to their Idols. Ravanel.

Carmelite] One of or belonging to Carmel, 1 Sam. 30. 6. 1 Chr. 11. 37.

Carmeliteſſe] A woman born there, or belonging thereto, 1 Sam. 27. 3. 1 Chr. 3. 1.

Carmites] Such as deſcended of Carmi, Numb. 26. 6.

To be carnally minded is death, Rom. 8. 6. Gr. The minding of the fleſh, or the wiſdome of the fleſh. The word in the Originall is φρόνημα, which ſometime is rendred the deſire or affection; ſometimes minde, or meaning; ſometimes wiſdome; and in all theſe ſenſes, that which the Apoſtle here calleth φρόνημα σαρκὸς, is death, that is, tending to death, or bringing death; as on the contrary, the deſires, affections, and wiſdome of the Spirit, are life, and peace, that is, tend to life, and procure our peace. Annot.

Carpenters] Ezr. 3. 7. or Workmen, mar.

Carriage] Judg. 18. 21. Luggage, bag and baggage, train and proviſion.

Carried the Ark] 1 Chr. 13. 7. Heb. made the Ark to ride, marg.

Carrieth] Job 21. 18. Heb. ſtealeth, mar.

Men that carried tales] Ezek. 22. 9. Heb. men of ſlanders, marg.

Cart] An inſtrument with wheels, called in the Originall עגלה from עגל, for that it rolleth or turneth upon wheels, uſed both for carriage, as 1 Sam. 6. 11. & 2 Sam. 6. 3. & Amos 2. 13. and for to get the Corn out of the huſk, ear, or cod, Iſa. 28. 28. for which now the Flail is uſed, wherewith men threſh.

Cart-rope] Iſa. 5. 18. And ſin as it were with a cart-rope. Heb. the thick rope of a Wain or Cart. The word properly ſignifieth a thick cord, or rope; ſuch as thoſe are uſually wherewith Carts or Wains are drawn, and whereof Traces are made for beaſts that draw in them; and hereby is intimated the ſtrength of thoſe plots, that they make uſe of, for the accompliſhment of their wicked purpoſes, that they may not fail and miſcarry before they come to full effect, Pſal. 64. 5. 6. Annot.

It's put for ſtrong reaſon (as they conceive) of ſome evill Law. Bernard.

Cart-wheel] Iſa. 28. 27. The wheels of ſuch a Cart or Drey. Annot.

Carved] Spoken of Images, Judg. 18. 18. 2 Chr. 33. 7, 22. & 34. 3. of the Cedar of the Temple, 1 King. 6. 18. of the Walls thereof, verſ. 29. of the two Dores, which were of Olive-tree, verſ. 32. of the two Dores that were of Fir-tree, verſ. 34, 35. of the Sanctuary, Pſal. 74. 6. of Beds, Pro. 7. 16.

Carvings] Figures engraven, 1 Ki. 6. 32.

Caſe] put for, 1. Condition, whether good, Pſal. 144. 15. or bad, Exod. 5. 19. Joh. 5. 6.

2. A ſtrict or inſeparable tye or obligation, Mat. 19. 10.

3. Certainly, or aſſuredly, Deut. 22. 1. & 24. 13.

Caſement] Spoken of a Window, Pro. 7. 6.

Caſt] A throw, or hurle, Luk. 22. 41.

Caſt] 1 King. 7. 15. Heb. faſhioned, marg. Thrown or flung, Prov. 16. 33. Dan. 3. 6, 11, 15, 21.

Caſt down] Pſal. 42.5. Heb. bowed down, marg.

Caſt forth] Hoſ. 14.5. Heb. ſtrike, marg.

Caſt into] Mat. 4.12. or delivered up, m.

Caſt off] Job 15.4. Heb. made voyd. marg.

Caſt out of the neſt] Iſa. 16.2. or, a neſt forſaken, marg.

Caſt them] Exod. 10.19. Hebr. faſtened, marg.

A Caſt-away] 1 Cor. 9.27. I my ſelf ſhould be a caſt-away. Gr. reprovable, or unapproved. The word ſignifieth not a reprobate, as if he were uncertain of his election, or of obtaining the prize; for the contrary appears, Rom. 8.38. & 2 Tim. 4.7, 8. but reprovable or faulty. Ἀδόκιμος is a Metaphor either taken from thoſe who try metals, and caſt away that which is droſſie; or he goeth on in his former Metaphor of thoſe who proved Maſteries, and hath regard to thoſe times where there were certain Colledges or Academies like our Artillery gardens, for exerciſe of Arms, where the Novices that ſubmitted not themſelves to the rigour of their diſcipline, or were found tardy in their tryals, or of purſie or unwieldy bodies, were caſhiered again by their Maſters. Therefore here the word ἀδόκιμος, ſignifieth not to be caſt for ever out of Gods favour, but to be rejected either as baſe and refuſe ore or droſſe; or to be caſt out of their ſociety and company [who wreſtled, or ran for the prize. Annot.

Caſtles] 2 Chr. 17.12 places, m. being ſtrong places for defence, Prov. 18.19. Such as was the Caſtle of Zion, 1 Chr. 11.5. ſerving both as a defence againſt enemies, 2 Chron. 27.4. and as a Bridle to keep them under, who are brought in ſubjection. Such as that, Act. 21.34.

Cattle] Gen. 1.24. The word in the Originall is Behemah, which in the general acceptation may ſignifie any living creature, eſpecially great, wilde or tame; and in particular, ſome take it for the greater ſort of beaſts, and therefore render it in the Plural number by pecora; and ſome for the leſſer ſort, and tranſlate it by pecudes: but the moſt underſtand by it ſuch as are uſefull to man, either for his food or cloathing, drawing or burthen-bearing, and therefore in Latine have their name from help, for the word is jumentum, as it were juvamentum. Annot. Them God ſubjected under mans command, Gen. 1.26. Pſal. 8.7. whereupon Adam as their Lord gave names unto them, Gen. 2.20. Herein of old, a principal part of mans riches was placed, Gen. 13.2. Eccl. 2.7. and was a ſpeciall bleſſing, Zec. 2.4. For whom God provideth, Pſal. 104.14. and who are in their kinde to praiſe God, Pſal. 148.10. They are not all of one colour, Gen. 30.32. nor of a like ſtrength, verſ. 41. Some alſo were unclean, Lev. 5.2. Some great, others ſmall, Eccleſ. 2.7. Some fat, others lean, Eze. 34.20. They were uſed of old for exchange, Gen. 47.17. for food, Sacrifices, &c. Ravanel.

The Cattle alſo concerning the vapour, Job 36.33. Hogs and Sheep and Oxen that go to hide themſelves, when they perceive a tempeſt coming, thoſe being much more quick-ſented then men, and can perceive the vapours going up to cauſe rain, before man can ſee or feel them. Annot.

Cabes] Job 30.6. Heb. holes, marg.

Caul] Exod. 29.13. It ſeemeth by Anatomy, and the Hebrew Doctors, to be the Midriffe, marg.

I will rent the caul of their heart, Hoſ. 13.8. pericardion, that incloſeth and compaſſeth the heart, that loſty heart ſo lifted up, verſ. 6. I will wound them mortally. Annot.

Cauls] Iſa. 3.18. or Net-works, marg. as others, embroydered works. Some would have it to be ſome ornament about the legs, as the former about the feet, as if the former were ſome kinde of Shooes, or Slippers; theſe of Hoſe or Stockings: But there is little probability of either. Annot.

Cauſe] 1 King. 8.45, 49. or right, mar.

Cauſe] To make, effect, bring to paſſe, Gen. 7.4. Exod. 9.18. Jer. 15.4, 11. Be the authors of, Rom. 16.17.

Cauſey] 1 Chr. 26.16, 18. By the cauſey of the going up. There is mention made of a Cauſey, 1 King. 10.5. & 2 Chr. 9.4. which in both places is tranſlated, an aſcent, but that was from the Kings houſe, towards one of the fore-gates of the Temple. By this, not onely paſſengers went up and down, but alſo ſuch things as were brought in and carried out of the Temple, did paſſe up and down, and therefore (the Temple being on the ſide of an hill, whereunto they went up) this may be called the cauſey of going up. Annot.

Cauſleſſe] 1 Sam. 25.31. Prov. 26.2. or, without cauſe, without any juſt, warrantable, ſufficient ground for the ſame.

C E.

Ceaſe not] 1 Sam. 7.8. Heb. be not ſilent, marg.

Ceaſed] 1 Sam. 25.9. Heb. reſted, marg.

Without ceaſing, Act. 12.5. or inſtant, and earneſt, marg.

Celebrate] Lev. 23. 32. Hebr. reſt, marg. Sabbatize. Aynſw. To ſolemnize, Lev. 23. 41. To praiſe, Iſa. 38. 18. Thence Hallelujah, the firſt and laſt word of divers Pſalmes. Annot.

Celeſtiall] 1 Cor. 15. 40. Heavenly, ſuper-celeſtial, or upper-heavenly, as the word ἐπουράνια ſignifieth. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Cellar] 1 Chr. 27. 28. A Treaſury, or Store-houſe: as King Joaſh had ſome to ſee oyl beaten out of his Olive trees, ſo he had others to take care of it when it was brought into Cellars. Annot.

The Original אוצר cometh of אצר, to lay, or treaſure up. Buxtorf.

Wine-cellars] 1 Chron. 27. 27. Places where the wine was kept.

Cenſers] 1 King. 7. 50. Heb. aſh-pans, m.

Ceremonies] Numb. 9. 3. or Statutes; that is, all the Rites and Ordinances preſcribed, which the Greek tranſlateth the law thereof. Aynſw.

They were ſacred conſtitutions of Gods appointment, and obſerved as ſervice and worſhip to God. Bernard.

Certain portion] Neh. 11. 23. or, ſure Ordinance, marg.

Certainly] Surely, truely, verily, without doubt, without fail, Gen. 18. 10. Exod. 3. 12. Jer. 44. 17.

Certainty] Luk. 1, 4. The Originall ἀσφάλεια (which is derived of α & σφάλλομαι, to ſlip, fail, be deceived) ſignifieth ſuch a certainty, whereby we are ſure that we erre not, are not deceived. Leigh C. S.

C H.

Chafed] 2 Sam. 17. 8. And they be chafed in their mindes. Heb. bitter of ſoul, marg. That is, ſo bitterly enraged with this affront of their being forced to flie, and to leave their Wives, Children, and Habitations, that they will redouble their ſtrength and reſolution to recover what they have loſt. Annot.

Chains] Jer. 52. 11. or fetters, ma. Ezek. 19. 9. or hooks, marg.

The chains, Iſa. 3. 19. or ſweet balls, mar. Others, collars, as collars of Eſſes with us. Which may therefore amount much to one. But chains or collars, and theſe ſeem to be diſtinguiſhed, Judg. 8. 26. where both are mentioned. The word here uſed cometh from one that ſignifies to drop. And becauſe pure myrrhe is ſuch as drops or iſſues from the plant of it ſelfe, unforced, is by a word of the ſame Originall thence ſo tearmed, Exod. 30. 34. Some therefore ſuppoſe that by it here are meant, ſuch little boxes, like our Civit-boxes of gold, wherein they uſed either to reſerve or carry about them myrrhe, and other like odours or ſweet oyntments; bearing the name of that for which they were firſt made and uſed. See verſ. 20.

Others take it for pearls, ſo tearmed from the form of them (as ſome the like in Greek) reſembling the droppings of myrrhe, or other gummy matter: Such as we tearm Pendants, which our great ones were wont to wear at their ears. Annot.

Chain-work] Such wherein ſundry ſprigs, leaves, flowers, and fruits were artificially interlaced, as links of a Chain, 1 King. 7. 17.

Chalk-ſtones] Iſa. 27. 9. Hebr. ſtones of chalk or lime, for ſo the word properly ſignifies, (though no where elſe found in the Hebr. text of the Old Teſtament, but another uſed for it, ch. 33. 12.) as appears both by the words of pargeting, and a pargeter among the Talmudiſts, thence deduced; and by the Syriack in Daniel, where it is uſed in the Syriack form for the parget or plaiſter of the wall. Dan. 5. 5. As lime-ſtones broken in pieces; that is, as Chalk-ſtones broken in pieces to make lime, wherewith to parget. So ch. 24. 10. And the participle is in ſuch a form not elſewhere read, as implyes a breaking to pieces, as ſuch ſtones for ſuch uſes are wont. So Deut. 9. 21. 2 King. 23. 12. Annot.

Challenge] Exod. 22. 9. Which another challengeth to be his; or, which he ſhall ſay, that this is he, or this is it, which he, that is, which the Plaintiffe ſhall charge or challenge; is he, that is, the man that had it; or, this is it, that is, the thing which I challenge. Aynſworth.

Chamber] In the Scriptures there are ſeveral ſorts of Chambers mentioned, as the Bed-chamber, Eccl. 10. 20. Bride-chamber, Mat. 9. 15. Bridegroom-chamber, Joel 2. 16. Guard-chamber, 1 Ki. 14. 28. Gueſt-chamber, Mar. 14. 14. Inner-chamber, 1 Ki. 20. 30. Little-chamber, 2 King. 4. 10. Side-chamber, Ezek. 41. 5. Upper-chamber, 2 Ki. 1. 2. There are alſo mentioned, the Chambers of Death, Pr. 7. 27. of Imagery, Ezek. 8. 12. Privy-chambers, Ezek. 21. 14. Large-chambers, Jer. 22. 14. the North and South-chambers, Ezek. 42. 13. the Holy-chambers, Ezek. 44. 19. the Secret-chambers, Mat. 24. 26.

Chambers] 1 King. 6. 5. Heb. floors, Heb. ribs, marg. 1 Chr. 9. 26. 2 Chr. 31. 11. or Store-houſes, marg.

Chamberlain] 2 King. 23. 11. or Eunuch, or Officer, marg. Act. 12. 20. Gr. that was over the Bed-chamber, marg. Rom. 16. 23. Gr. Steward, marg.

Champion]

Champion] A plain field, or Countrey, Deut. 11. 30. A great fighter, 1 Sam. 17. 4. Heb. a man between two, or a duelliſt. Goliah ſo called, either becauſe he put himſelf between the two camps, or offered a duel between two, that is, himſelf and another. Ann.

Chance] And by chance there came downe a certain Prieſt that way, Luk. 10. 31. The words may be rendred, either thus. And the ſame time it fell out that a certain Prieſt, &c. Or, upon occaſion, i. e. having ſome buſineſſe that occaſioned his going by at that time. Dr. Hamm. Annot. a.

Chance] If a birds neſt chance to be before thee, Deut. 22. 6. that is, if unawares thou meeteſt with it, or lighteſt upon it; ſo the Greek tranſlateth, If thou meeteſt with a birds neſt before thee. Aynſw.

Chancellour] Ezr. 4. 8. The word tranſlated Chancellour, is of the Chald. termination. It is a word of high dignity with us. Some take it here to ſet forth the Preſident of that Councel which was for the Kings affairs in thoſe parts. Annot.

Changers of money] Mat. 21. 12. Which changed forain coyn into money there currant, that thoſe which dwelt far off, might there according to the Law, buy Sacrifices, and pay their oblations. Annot.

Changes] Job 10. 17. Divers afflictions, one coming after another, like waves in the Sea. Annot.

Changes of rayment, Gen. 45. 22. that is (as ſome conceive) a courſe garment for private uſe within the houſe, and a more precious Suit to wear abroad. Or, change of garments, is ſuch precious garments as will move a man to change thoſe he had before, to put the old off, and put on theſe, 2 King. 5. 22. Zech. 3. 4. Or, changes of raiment, might be of upper garments, which were not made for any body in particular, but might indifferently be worn by any; ſuch garments they put on often; and it may be they had more need of change, becauſe they uſed in paſſionate grief to tear their cloaths, eſpecially thoſe which covered all the reſt, as chap. 37. 29, 34. & 44. 13. and many other places. Hence it was that change of garments were not onely given in teſtimony of honour, or favour, but as wagers in conteſtation, or tryal of any matter in doubt, as Judg. 14. 13. Annot.

Changing] Ruth 4. 7. The alienating or paſſing over of ones right to another.

Changeable] Ha. 3. 22. Changeable ſuits. The word in Heb. is but one, and is found but in one place more, to wit, Zech. 3. 4. where it is rendred change of rayment. But a word of neer affinity to it, and of the ſame deſcent with it, ſignifies ſpoils taken from men ſlain and ſtript; whether armour, as 2 Sam. 2. 21. or raiment, as Judg. 14. 19. (where another word alſo is uſed for change of apparel) ſo called from a word, that ſignifies to pull away, or pull off, Deut. 25. 9, 10. and ſo it is thought that change of apparell, is here ſtyled; becauſe the one is put off, for putting on of the other, as Zech. 3. 4. But others rather deem it ſome ſpeciall kinde of apparel, that covered the body from the waſte downward, ſuch as our Womens Kirtles, or Petticoats are, for it is very neer the word that commonly ſignifies the loins, chap. 5. 27. & 11. 5. Annot.

Chapiters] Exod. 36. 38. Heb. heads, or tops. Aynſw. They were ſo called, becauſe they were on the tops of the pillars, for grace and ornament. Annot. on 1 King. 7. 16.

Chapmen] 2 Chr. 9. 14. The Spice-merchants, 1 King. 10. 15.

Chappel] Amos 7. 13. or Sanctuary, marg.

Chapt] Jer. 14. 4. Heb. broken, or is waſted and ſpoyled, as ch. 48. 20. Annot.

Charaſim] 1 Chr. 4. 14. that is, Craftſmen, marg.

Charet, or Chariot] Hereunto were Cities, 2 Chr. 1. 14. Horſes, 2 Sam. 8. 4. and Guiders, 2 Chr. 18. 33. appointed.

Thy charets of ſalvation, Heb. 3. 8. or, thy chariots were ſalvation, marg. Annot.

Charge] Numb. 31 49. Heb. hand. 1 Kin. 11. 28. Heb burden, Ezek. 40. 45. & 44. 8. & 48. 11. Word, or Ordinance, mar.

To charge] Exod. 19. 21. Heb. conteſt, 1 Theſſ. 5. 27. or adjure, marg. It ſignifieth alſo to Interdict, Gen. 28. 6. Command, Mar. 9. 25. Command with a denunciation, 1 Tim. 6. 17. Inhibit and threaten, Mat. 9. 30. Intreat very earneſtly, 1 Tim. 5. 21. Paſſe upon, Deut. 24. 5. marg. Attribute, Job 1. 22. marg.

Chargeable] 2 Cor. 11. 9. I was chargeable to no man; or, I chill'd, or benummed none, or fainted not in any thing. The word in the Originall is καταναρκήσω, which (as the Greek Scholiaſt obſerveth) ſignifieth a fainting or ſlackneſſe, chilneſſe or benummedneſſe; and the Apoſtles meaning is, that though he were in great want when he preached to them, and was not ſupplyed by them, yet his zeal was no whit thereby cooled, nor his induſtry abated; he flagg'd not any way in his Miniſtery, no nor ſolicited any of the Corimbians to afford him neceſſary maintenance, nor lay heavy upon them, though their bounty ſlackned to him. Annot.

The

The word cometh of νάρκη & ναρκάω, which is derived of νάρκη, which ſignifieth a Crampfiſh; a fiſh (ſay the learned) that hath ſuch a benumming quality, that the cold of it will ſtrike from the hook to the line, from the line to the goad, from the goad to the arm, from the arm to the body of the fiſher, and ſo benumme him, and take away all uſe and feeling of his limbs. His meaning is, that he was none of thoſe idle drones, that by their lazineſſe do even chill and benumme, and dead the charity of well diſpoſed people. Leigh Crit. Sac. I received nothing from any which carnall men count a burthen. Leigh's Annot.

Charge] And Jeſus ſtraitly charged them, Mat. 9.30. Charged, commanded; appointed with authority. Dr. Ham. Annot. k.

Charger] Numb. 7. 13. or diſh, platter. The word uſed by the Septuagint in Matth. 26. 23. Is uſed for a diſh. Aynſw. Theſe were not for the uſe of the Sanctuary (where were uſed golden Veſſels onely) but for ſome ſervice of the Court or Altar of Burnt-offerings; as for the ſhoulder and breaſt of ſacrificed beaſts, and the offerings of Meal, Oyl, and Wine, &c.

Charitably] Rom. 14. 15. (Gr. according to charity, marg.

Charme] Pſal. 58. 5. Charming never ſo wiſely. Being moſt expert, learned, and cunning in inchantments. Or, of him that inchanteth, or that conjureth, conjoyneth, aſſociateth. Inchanters have this title here, and in Deut. 18. 11. either becauſe by Sorcery they aſſociate Serpents, making them tame and familiar, that they hurt not; or becauſe ſuch perſons uſe to binde and tye bands or things about the body, to heal or hurt by Sorcery; or becauſe by their Conjuring art they have ſociety and fellowſhip with devils. Aynſw.

Charmer] Deut. 18. 11. The ſame in effect with the Inchanter. Such an one as uſeth Songs and verſes, or other words or ceremonies to produce ſupernatural effects. Annot. They have their name in Hebr. of whiſpering, or ſoft, ſweet, and eloquent ſpeaking, Pſal. 58. 5. Aynſw. The word thus rendred in Iſa. 19. 3. is no where elſe found. It ſeemeth that they had this name given them, from that ſoft, low, ſlow, and drawling ſpeech that they uſed either in their ſpells, or in their anſwers to thoſe that conſulted them. ch. 8. 19. Annot.

Chaſtening] When thy chaſtening was upon them, Heb. 26. 16. in thy caſtigation, Annot. Whereby may be underſtood, Gods rod of affliction.

Chaſtiſe] Spoken 1. of God, and that both in wrath, Lev. 26. 28. Hoſ. 10. 10. and in mercy, Jer. 31. 18.

2. Of men, both juſtly, Deut. 22. 18. and unjuſtly, 1 King. 12. 11. Luk. 23. 16.

Chaſtiſement] Deut. 11. 2. or nurture, which the Chald. tranſlateth doctrine, or inſtruction. It implyeth nurture both by words and works. Aynſw.

The chaſtiſements of a cruel one, Jer. 30. 14. Such ſtripes, as cruel and hardhearted perſons are wont to inflict. So Job complained that God was become cruell to him, Job 30. 21. Annot.

The chaſtiſement of our peace was upon him, Iſa. 53. 5. He was chaſtiſed to procure our peace, by removall of our ſins that ſet God and us aſunder, ch. 59. 2. the guilt thereof being diſcharged with the price of his blood, 1 Pet. 1. 18, 19. and to reconcile us unto him, Rom. 3. 25. & 5. 1, 10. 2 Cor. 5. 19, 21. Eph. 2. 13--17. Col. 1. 19, 20. 1 Pet. 3. 18. Annot.

Chatter] Iſa. 38. 14. or peep. Chatter aloud and apace, as Cranes and Swallows in parting with or miſſing their young; peep, as their young ones do, when they miſſe their dam, or want meat. Annot.

Chaunt] Amos 6. 5. or quaver, Iſa. 5. 12. as men uſe to do at Marriage-feaſts, at the ſolemnization of their Birth-dayes, and other like occaſions, not duly weighing that of the wiſe man, Eccl. 3. 4. Annot.

Chaws] Ezek. 29. 4. & 38. 4. In 2 Kin. 19. 28. & Iſa. 37. 29. the words are, I will put my hook in thy noſe; alluding either to a fiſh-hook, wherewith fiſh taken are drawn which way the Fiſherman pleaſeth, Job 41. 1. Amos 4. 1. or to ſuch rings as men put into the noſes of Bears and Bufales, to keep them in, and overmaſter them with, Ezek. 19. 4, 9. or, to a chain or collar put about the neck of a Dog, or ſome other beaſt, with a cord or leaſh faſtened thereunto, whereby to lead him, as ſome of the Jewiſh Maſters would have it, but the mention of the noſe ſeems not well to admit it, and the moſt of them go the firſt way; I ſhould rather the ſecond. Annot.

Check] of my reproach, Job 20. 3. Such a reproof as tends to my diſgrace. He means in thoſe words of Job, ch 19. 29. which were ſpoken to his fellows aſwel as to him, but he applyes them to himſelf particularly. Annot.

Checker-work] 1 Ki. 7. 17. A very artificial kind of work, whereby ſundry ſprigs, leaves, flowers and fruits were curiouſly interlaced Annot.

Cheek]

Cheek] Job 16. 10. They have ſmitten me upon the cheek reproachfully. This was a token of the greateſt diſgrace, not ſo much in regard of the greatneſſe of the blow or wound, as of the dignity of that part of the body which is ſmitten, to wit, the face, Lam. 3. 30 Mic. 5. 1. (and accordingly both Micaiah, 1 King. 22. 24. and Iſaiah, ch. 50. 6. were thus diſgraced) His meaning is, My friends have diſgraced me as much with ſlanders, as if they had openly ſtruck me upon the face, Jer. 18. 18. Annot.

To give the cheek to him that ſmiteth, Lam. 3. 30. is, patiently to endure all kindes of injuries, even the moſt reproachfull. Hence by that of our Saviour, Unto him that ſmiteth thee on the one cheek, offer alſo the other, Luk. 6. 29. is ſignified, that we muſt be ſo far from avenging our ſelves when injuries are done unto us, as that we muſt rather prepare our ſelves to ſuffer more. Ravanel.

Her tears are on her cheeks, Lam. 1. 2. Her cheeks are continually bedewed with tears, as if ſhe had a ſpring of them in her head, Jer. 9. 1. and they never wanting upon her cheeks. Annot.

Cheek-bone] Pſal. 3. 7. To be ſmitten thereon, a ſigne of reproach, Job 16. 10. Aynſw.

Cheek-teeth] of a great Lion, Joel 1. 6. Strong and fierce in biting and tearing.

Cheer] Be of good cheer, Mat. 9. 2. Be comforted, and doubt not of the recovery of thy health now thy ſins are forgiven thee, which were the cauſe of thy ſickneſſe. Annot.

Cheerfull] Zech. 9. 17. or Grow, marg. It's applyed to Countenance, Prov. 15. 13. Feaſts, Zec. 8. 19. a Giver, 2 Cor. 9. 7. God loveth a cheerfull giver. That which is extorted from a man, he properly giveth not; for liberality implyeth liberty, and neceſſity in this kind and liberty cannot well ſtand together. God loveth a cheerfull giver, becauſe he gives his heart firſt to God, before he gives his alms to the poor; and giving that which he giveth with a cheerfull countenance, he more comforteth the receiver, giving hope of future bounty; for what a man doth cheerfully, he will do again upon a like good occaſion.

Pliny writeth that it was obſerved among the Romanes, that never any good came to a man by offering a beaſt in Sacrifice, renitentem & trahentem ſe ab Aris, by a beaſt that violently drew back from the Altar, and could not be brought to it, but with much force. And moſt certain it is, that God eſteemeth of no offering of ours, which is not as free as liberall, according to our ability. Annot.

Cheerfully] Act. 24. 10. εὐθυμότερον, with a better courage.

Cheeſe] Job 10. 10. Thou haſt crudled me like cheeſe. As the woman preſſeth the milk with her hands, and with weights, to make it cleave together, and harden, til it become curds, and afterwards cheeſe; ſo God by the natural heat of the Mother, makes the ſeed in the wombe more dry, hard and firm, till it become a fleſhy maſſe, and after frames it into a body. An elegant ſimilitude to ſet out Mans conception in the wombe, and ſuch an one as the Philoſophers can ſcarce equall. Some underſtand it of mans Creation at the firſt, but that anſwers not to the ſtory in Geneſis, where no liquid matter is mentioned, onely he is ſaid to be made of the duſt of the earth, Gen. 2. 7. & 3. 19. Annot.

Cherethites] 2 Sam. 8. 18. Theſe (with the Pelethites) were old, expert, ſtrong, and valiant men (like the Pretorian Souldiers among the Romanes) which David choſe for his guard; ſo called (as ſome think) from the Heb. word Charath, ſignifying to be cut off, becauſe at the Kings command they executed offenders; but more propably they were ſuch valiant and expert Souldiers of the Iſraelites, as were put in garriſon into the Townes and Cities of the Cherethims in the Countrey of the Philiſtins, after David had ſubdued them, when dwelling at Ziglag, he made inroads into their Countrey, 1 Sam. 30. 14. from which being valiant and expert Souldiers, the King choſe his guard to attend his perſon. See Pelethites. Annot.

Cheriſh] 1 King. 1. 2. And let her cheriſh him, Heb. be a cheriſher unto him. By providing and bringing to the King ſuch ſavoury and pleaſant things as he may well reliſh, and taſte delight in: and alſo by lying in bed with him. Annot.

The Originall Θάλπω, in Eph. 5. 25. ſignifieth as to cheriſh, ſo to keep warm. A Metaphor taken from Birds or Hens, that hover their wings over their young ones, or that ſit upon their eggs. Leigh C. S.

Cheſt] That whereinto they put their beneficence, 2 King. 12. 9, 10. 2 Chr. 24. 8, 10. A box for money, which is called the Treaſury, Mar. 12. 41. That alſo wherein rich apparel was put, Ezek. 27. 24.

Chew] Spoken of Beaſts, Lev. 11. 4. Deut. 14. 7. Of men, Numb. 11. 33.

Chickens] Mat. 23. 37. An Hens brood, Luk. 13. 34.

Chief] 1 Sam. 14. 38. Heb. corners, marg.

1 Chr.

1 Chr. 11. 6. Hebr. head, marg. & 23. 17. or the first, marg. 1 King. 8. 1. Heb. Princes, marg. 1 Chr. 18. 17. Heb. at the hand of, mar. Amos 6. 1. or first fruits, marg.

Chief Musician, Psal. 4. 1. or Overseer, ma.

Chief Priest, 1 Chron. 27. 5. or principall Officer, marg.

Chiefest, 2 Chr. 32. 33. or highest, marg. Cant. 5. 10. Heb. a standard-bearer.

Chiefly] πρῶτον, first of all, Rom. 3. 2. μάλιστα, especially, Phil. 4. 22. 2 Pet. 2. 10.

Childe] Job 33. 25. Heb. childhood, mar.

Childhood] 1 Sam. 12. 2. Eccl. 11. 10. That part of our time, which succeedeth our infancy, and is usually held to continue, till our age of seaven yeers.

Childish] 1 Cor. 13. 11. Such things (as stammering speech, &c.) whereby our childhood is framed by little and little. Annot.

Childlesse] Without children, not having children, Luk. 20. 29, 30, 31.

Childzen] Ezr. 4. 1. Heb. Sons, marg. Jer. 15. 7. or, whatsoever is dear, marg. Joh. 21. 5. or Sirs, marg.

Young children, Job 19. 18. or, the wicked, marg.

Have, or obtain children, Genes. 16. 2. & 30. 3. Heb. be builded, or built, marg.

Strange childzen] Psal. 144. 7. Sons of the stranger, of a strange God, or people, as Psal. 137. 4. born Aliens. See Psa. 18. 45. Aynsw.

Your children, Mat. 12. 27. that is, either your Disciples, i. e. spirituall children, or your Countreymen, i. e. children of your Nation naturally, and so he means the Jews, who did pretend at least to exorcise, and cast out Devils. Dr. Ham. Annot. 8.

Children sitting in the Market, Matthew 11. 16. It was the custome of children among the Jews, in their sports to imitate what they saw done by others upon greater occasions, and particularly the customes in festivities, wherein the Musician beginning a tune on his instrument, the company danced to his pipe, &c. so likewise the customes in funerals, wherein some old women beginning the mournfull Song (as the Præficæ among the Latines) the rest followed lamenting and beating their breasts, Alas my Brother! Ah his glory! &c. These did the Children act and personate in the streets in play, and when one had begun to act the Musicians part, or another the old womans part, and the rest did not follow him in theirs, then was the occasion of this speech which is here mentioned, We have piped, &c. Dr. Ham. Annot. g.

Chimney] Hos. 13. 3. As the smoak out of the chimney. So the Israelites, though their State and Kingdome seemed to flourish, yet by reason of their Idolatry, they should easily and quickly be dispersed and brought to nothing. Annot.

Chilion] hope, or confidence, or trust; or, covering of an house. A Prince of the Tribe of Benjamin, Numb. 34. 21.

Choak] Spoken of the Swine whereinto the unclean spirits entred, Mar. 5. 13. Luk. 8. 33. Spoken also of the word, Mat. 13. 22. As overshadowing bryers, thorns, or weeds, keeping the Sun-beams from the Corn, and with more strong and rank roots drawing away the fatnes of the earth (which otherwise should nourish the corn) and thereby hinder it from all maturity of fruit; so do cares and pleasures in the soul. Indeed such a severe justice of God followeth the contempt and neglect of his Word, as that where it it mendeth not, it leaveth the hearer much more condemnable. Hence cometh it so often to passe, that when men for the present having their consciences convinced by the Word they have heard, and being moved by the evident power thereof to repent, and resolve to become new men; yet they presently fall back again into their old wicked courses; so that a man might probably think that they had rather repented of their repentance then of their sins; and that they had not before so much repented for that they had lived wickedly, as afterward, for that they had promised that they would live well. Consider this you foolish Libertines, who think it enough if you frequent good Sermons, though you presently after return to your filthy sins. Indeed Gods Word is the souls antidote, and sin its poyson. But what can the antidote profit, which hath more poyson poured down upon it? Ann.

Choler] Dan. 8. 7. He was moved with choler against him. Alexander the Great was stirred up, and provoked to anger against Darius.

Choos] Act. 21. 1. One of the Cyclades, mentioned Plin. lib. c. 34. Ann. See Coos.

Chop] Mic. 3. 3. The Prophet in this verse compareth the wicked Governours to Wolves, Lions, and most cruell Beasts and Butchers, thus with boldnesse of spirit decyphering, exaggerating, and charging their sins upon them. Annot.

Chopce] 1 Chr. 19. 10. or young men, m.

Chosen] People, Dan. 11. 15. Heb. people the of his choyces, marg.

The Church of the living God, 1 Tim. 3. 15. This is spoken in opposition to the false, dead, liveleſſe gods, whoſe pictures were adored in their Heathen Temples. Thoſe were places of meeting and aſſembling, but only for the worſhip of Idols, empty things; but the Houſe of God where Timothy was ſet Steward at Epheſus, contrary to Diana's Temple there, was the Church of the living God; ſo is every ſuch regular aſſembly of Chriſtians. Dr. Hamm. Annot. b.

Churle] Iſa. 32.5. The word here uſed, and not elſewhere found, ſeems to be much if not altogether the ſame in ſenſe with the former (vile perſon, a fool, a man of no worth, like a withered flower, or leaf, or branch, or plant; of no reckoning or eſteem, a niggard, a fooliſh niggard, as it's rendred by ſome, the Prophets manner being very frequently to deliver the ſame thing in divers tearms) the originall of it is uncertain. One of the Jewiſh *Critick*s ſaith, it comes of a word that ſignifieth to contain as a meaſure doth, and conſequently to meaſure, ch. 40.12. 1 King. 7.26. and would have it import one that doth all things, as by weight and meaſure, ſuch an one as with the Greeks is tearmed μικρολόγος & κυμινοπρίστης, one as we ſay that will cleave an hair. Another of them, though not unwilling to derive it from the ſame root, but in another notion, as it ſignifieth, to contain, that is, keep in, Jer. 2.13. & 6.11. yet, rather fetcheth it from another of no unlike notion, that ſignifieth to reſtrain, and ſhut up in priſon, which is thence alſo ſo tearmed, ch. 42.7. Jer. 32.7. & 37.4. and ſo it ſhould have in it a notion of tenacity, and denote one that hordeth up his treaſure, and keepeth it with him as impriſoned. A third ſaith, it ſignifieth one that hath thoſe words rife in his mouth, mine own to my ſelf. Annot.

Churliſh] 1 Sam. 25.3. Peeviſh, crabbed, wayward, hard to pleaſe.

Churning] Prov. 30.33. The words churning, wringing, and forcing, uſed in this verſe, are but one in the Originall מִיץ, and but one word (varyed in numbers onely, אַף & אַפַּיִם) for noſe and wrath, which makes the whole expreſſion much ſweeter, and Proverb-like in the originall Heb. then it can be in any Tranſlation. Annot.

Chuſe] Spoken 1. of God, who chuſeth that which is acceptable in his ſight, Iſa. 58.5.6. Thoſe whom he ſetteth apart, either unto the adminiſtration of ſome office, the participation of his free Covenant, or the fruition of eternall life. Places, in which he will have his worſhip to be performed.

2. Of men; and that both properly, as Exod. 18.25. 1 Sam. 13.2. & 17.40. Joſh. 24.15. Act. 6.5. Phil. 1.22. or improperly, as the Iſraelites choſe them a King, 1 Sam. 8.18. that is, ſought a King to be ſet over them, verſ. 5. Either way the word is taken; ſometime in a good part, as Joſh. 24.22. Pſal. 84.10. marg. Heb. 11.24, 25, 26. Luk. 10.42. Pſal. 119.173. Sometime in a bad, Luk. 14.7. So Prov. 3.31. Chuſe none of his wayes; that is, imitate not the wicked in their works, lead not your lives as they doe, &c. Iſa. 66.3. They have choſen their own wayes; that is, live as they liſt, live wickedly. Judg. 5.8. They choſe new gods, became Idolaters. Ravanel.

I will alſo chuſe their deluſions, Iſa. 66.4. I will make choyce of their owne deluſions, wherewith to puniſh them; they thought to deceive me with their hypocriticall devotions, and I will make their very hypocriſie their confuſion. Hall.

C I.

Cinneroth] Joſh. 13.27. 1 King. 15.20. A Countrey.

Circle] Iſa. 40.22. He ſitteth upon (or above) the circle of the earth, as Soveraigne Lord and Ruler of it, having heaven for his throne, and the earth for his footſtool, ch. 66.1. Annot.

Circuit] Job 22.14. He walketh in the circuit of heaven. The word properly ſignifies a circle made to keep things within compaſſe, Iſa. 44.13. So God made a circle for the Earth, Iſa. 40.22. and for the Sea, to keep it within bounds, Prov. 8.27. So for the heaven here, which is conceived to be circular and ſpherical. Some underſtand it of guiding the Angels in the higheſt heaven. Others of ordering the Stars in the middle heaven. Others of a circle to keep God in, that he can meddle with nothing below, as Atheiſts imagine. Annot.

The Sun hath its circuit, Pſal. 19.6. So the Wind, Eccl. 1.6. And of Samuel it is ſaid, that he went from yeer to yeer in circuit to Bethel, &c. 1 Sam. 7.16. Heb. he circuited, marg. namely as a Judge to hear and determine the cauſes of the people, and as a Prophet to teach and direct them. Annot.

Circumſpect] Exod. 23.13. Be circumſpect, be wary, or take heed unto your ſelves, that ye tranſgreſſe not. Aynſw.

Circumſpectly] Eph. 5.15. Gr. exactly, or preciſely. It ſignifies an accurate ſtudy and diligence throughout our lives, that we offend none, but by the light of faith and good works edifie all. It comes of two words, words, (ἀκριβῶς, πρὸς τὸ εἰς ἄκρον βαίνειν, or πρὸς τὸ ἄκρον ἢ τὸ βαθύ) which ſigniſſe to go to the extremity of a thing. We muſt be willing to go to the utmoſt of every command, to do things with exact diligence.

Ciſtern] 2 King. 18. 31. or Pit, marg.

City of David] 1 Chron. 11. 7. that is, Sion, marg.

City] 1 King. 8. 37. or Juriſdiction, ma. Ruth 3. 11. Heb gate, marg. So alſo 2 Chr. 6. 28. Mic. 5. 14. or Enemies, marg.

Citizen] Taken properly, 1. For one that is born, and dwelleth in a City, Act. 21. 39.

2. For one that hath the priviledge of a City, that is, free thereof, though not born there, as Paul was of Rome, Act. 22. 28.

3. For people or ſubjects, Luk. 19. 14. Improperly, for believers, Eph. 2. 19. Ravan. By Citizen in Luk. 15. 15. the Devill may be underſtood.

C L.

Clad] Taken properly, 1 King. 11. 29. Figuratively, Iſa. 59. 17.

Clamorous] Prov. 9. 13. Loud, talkative, full of words, making a noyſe.

Clamour] Epheſ. 4. 31. The Originall κραυγὴ is rendred in Mat. 25. 6. cry. So in Act. 23. 9. & Heb. 5. 7. & Rev. 14. 18. In Rev. 21. 4. crying. Hereby may be underſtood quarrellous words, tending wholly to contention and ſtrife. Hemingius. This is the horſe that beareth wrath on his back, for the rider. Chryſoſt.

Clark] See Townclark.

Claws] Hoofs of beaſts, Deut. 14. 6. Talons of Birds, Dan. 4. 33.

Tear their claws in pieces, Zech. 11. 16. Exceeds in ravenous cruelty the very wilde beaſts, Amos 3. 12. Annot.

Clay] That whereof mans body was formed, Job 33. 6. whereof morter and bricks for building, Nah. 3. 14. whereof veſſels are made by the Potter, Jerem. 18. 4. whereof Chriſt made uſe in giving ſight unto the blinde man, Joh. 9. 6. It's brittle, Dan. 2. 33, 34, 41, 42. Such as men are who dwell in houſes of clay, Job 4. 19. It's vile, or of no eſteem, nothing, Job 13. 12. Iſa. 10. 6 Iſa. 51. 23. Mic. 7. 10. It's clammy, and holdeth faſt; ſo that to be brought up out of the miery clay, is to be freed from ſome great danger, Pſal. 40. 2. It uſeth to be heaped up together, whence is that, to prepare rayment as the clay, Job 27. 16. or, to lade ones ſelf with thick clay, Hab. 2. 6. So in effect Ravanel.

It is turned as the clay to the ſeal, Job 38. 14. that is, the earth appears beautifull, that was hidden in the dark before. It hath as it were got a new form, or is renewed to the ſame ſhape it had the day before, as if it had a new ſtamp put upon it by the Sun-beams, as the clay hath by the impreſſion of the Seal. Annot.

In the clay ground, 1 King. 7. 46. Heb. in the thickneſſe of the ground, marg.

Clean] Iſa. 30. 24. or ſavoury. Heb. leavened, marg.

Cleanneſſe of my hands] 2 Sam. 22. 21. that is, the purity of mine actions, and mine innocency in all my courſes and dealings, in reference to my enemies. Annot.

Of teeth, Amos 4. 6. that is, famine and dearth, whereof 1 King. ch. 17, & 18. & 2 Ki. 4. 38.) Annot.

Cleanſed] Dan. 8. 14. Heb. juſtified, ma. The Land cannot be cleanſed, Numb. 35. 33. Heb. there can be no expiation for the Land, mar. Prov. 20. 30. Cleanſeth away evill, Heb. is a purging medicine againſt evill, marg.

Clear] To juſtifie, Gen. 44. 16. To acquit, hold innocent, Exod. 34. 7.

Clear] Zec. 14. 6. Hebr. precious, marg. Clearer then the noon day, Job 11. 17. Hebr. ariſe about the noon day, marg.

Clearing] 2 Cor. 7. 11. What clearing of your ſelves? Ἀπολογία, Apologie, or Defence, a Declaration of your innocence, that you wilfully offend not, which you make good upon the ſight of your errour, by your ſevere proceeding againſt the guilty offender. Annot.

The Apoſtles meaning is not, that a man ſhould ſtand to juſtifie or defend his ſins, but that a Chriſtian by humble confeſſion of his faults, ſhould make a juſt Apologie for himſelf, that his ſorrow is ſincere and unfaigned. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Clearly] Mar. 8. 25. τηλαυγῶς, afar off, and plainly. It is compounded of τῆλε, which ſignifieth a far off, and αὐγὴ, light, brightneſſe. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Job 33. 3. My lips ſhall utter knowledge clearly. I will ſpeak what I know to be true, I will as it were fan or ſcour my words from all chaffe or droſſe, Zeph. 3. 9. Iſa. 49. 2. He would not ſpeak falſe or deceitfull words. Annot.

Clearneſſe] Exod. 24. 10. or, in purity. Aynſw.

Cleave] To rent, break, divide. Spoken of wood, Gen. 22. 3. 1 Sam. 6. 14. Pſal. 141. 7. Eccleſ. 10. 9. the Ground, Numb. 16. 31. the Earth, Hab. 3. 9. An hollow place that was in the Jaw, Judg. 15. 19. Rocks, Rocks, Pſal. 78. 15. the Fountain and Flood, Pſal. 74. 15. the offering of Turtle-doves, or of young Pigeons, Lev. 1. 17. of every Beaſt that parteth the hoof, Deut. 14. 6. Mount of Olives, Zech. 14. 4. the Reins, Job 16. 13. He cleaveth my reins aſunder; that is, he followeth me with moſt ſharp and bitter pains. Ann.

Clefts] Iſa. 2. 21. The word in the Originall doth properly ſignifie a branch, ch. 17. 6. & 27. 10. And being applyed to Rocks and Hills, it ſignifieth ſuch parts thereof as the main body of the rock or Mount doth branch it ſelf forth into; the cliffs (as we tearm them) between which, places of refuge and ſhelter are oft-times found; and which being ſteep, and riſing higher then the main bulk or body of the Rock, are not of eaſie acceſſe for an enemy, Judg. 15. 8. Pſal. 104. 18. Jer. 48. 20. Annot. Hereby in Amos 6. 11. marg. may be underſtood rents or breaches.

Clemency] Act. 24. 4. Courteſie, or gentleneſs, as the word ἐπιείκεια is rendred, 2 Cor. 10. 1.

Cliffe] 2 Chr. 20. 16. Heb. aſcent, marg.

Clift] That which parteth the hoof of a beaſt into two Claws, Deut. 14. 6. The word clift comes from a word that ſignifies to break. And it may import holes made by floods or winds, or their own labour in digging. Annot. on Job 30. 6.

Climbe] To aſcend, mount, get up into a ſteep or high place or thing; as Rocks, Jer. 4. 29. Walls and Houſes, Joel 2. 7, 9. Heaven, Amos 9. 2. Trees, Luk. 19. 4. In Joh. 10. 1. by climbing up ſome other way, is meant, an endevouring to enter by undue and unwarrantable means, upon the charge of the Church. Hall. Whereinto there may be no entrance, but through Chriſt the dore. Annot.

Clipt] Jer. 48. 37. Heb. diminiſhed, or cut ſhort, mar.

Cloak] 2 Tim. 4. 13. Some take it for a riding Coat, or travelling Cloak; but the moſt ancient Syriack Interpreter takes it for domum, or repoſitorium Scriptorum; and Heſychius a moſt exquiſite Greek Grammarian inclineth to that opinion, that by it the Apoſtle meant Scriniolum, a little Desk or Coffer, wherein he laid his books or writings. Annot.

Some render the word roll, and thereby underſtand a parchment roll. Dr. Hammond on 2 Tim. 4. 14. marg. & Annot. b.

Cloath] In reſpect of the colour, is Blue, Numb. 4. 6. Scarlet, Ib. 8. Purple, Ibid. 13. In reſpect of the matter, Woollen or Hair, 2 King. 8. 15. Linnen, Mat. 27. 59. In reſpect of the propertier, Unclean, Iſa. 30. 22. comp. with Iſa. 64. 6. Clean, Matth. 27. 59. New, Matth. 9. 16. In reſpect of the uſes, Sacred, Numb. 4. 6--13. Civill, extraordinary, Deut. 22. 17. Ordinary, for decency, and the covering of ones nakedneſſe, when alive, Mar. 14. 51. when dead, Mat. 27. 59. For keeping of that hid and unſeen which is covered therewith, 1 Sam. 19. 13. 2 Sam. 20. 12. For keeping clean that which is wrapt therein, 1 Sam. 21. 9.

Cloathing] Taken properly, being various, as of Sack-cloath, Pſal. 35. 13. Silk and purple, Prov. 31. 22. Blue and purple, Jer. 10. 9. Lambs wool, Prov. 27. 26. Whereof ſome are ſaid to be Durable, Iſa. 23. 18. Soft, Mat. 11. 8. Long, Mar. 12. 38. Bright, Act. 10. 30. Gay, Jam. 2. 3.

Figuratively, as Pſal. 45. 13. Her cloathing is of wrought gold; whereby the righteouſneſſe of Jeſus Chriſt, with all divine virtues wherewith Chriſts Spouſe is cloathed, may be underſtood. Hall.

Prov. 31. 25. Strength and honour are her cloathing; that is, all her actions and carriages are full of honour, and bewray a maſculine ſtrength and fortitude. Hall.

Iſa. 59. 17. He put on the garments of vengeance for cloathing; that is, hath compleatly armed himſelf to reſcue his, and plague their oppreſſors. Hall.

Matth. 7. 15. Which come to you in ſheeps cloathing; which pretending to ſhew you a more ready and ſecure way to heaven, joyn with you, offer you their Miniſtery in appearance of harmleſſe innocency. Annot.

Cloſe] Secret, Numb. 5. 13. 2 Sam. 22. 46. Straight, or ſure, Job 41. 15. Neer, Dan. 8. 7.

To cloſe] Iſa. 1. 6. To cruſh, or wring out. Annot. Iſa. 29. 10. To ſhut. So Mat. 13. 15 Luk. 4. 20.

Cloſed upon them, Numb. 16. 33. or covered over them; ſo there was no hope left for their recovery. Aynſw. Dan. 12. 9. Barr'd up, hid, involved in ſome obſcurities and perplexities; not ſo plainly and perfectly to be underſtood, as thou doſt wiſh, verſ. 4. An.

Cloſer] Prov. 18. 24. A friend that ſticketh cloſer then a Brother. Oft-times friends are found, that are more ready to doe us pleaſure, then they that are neer us in the fleſh and ſo more obliged to us. And in trouble a friend ſticks cloſe to us ſometimes, when a Brother forſakes us. Annot.

Cloſeſt] Jer. 22. 15. Becauſe thou cloſeſt thy ſelf in Cedar. Thinkeſt thou that a ſeiling of Cedar can ſecure thee againſt the forcible aſſaults of a powerful enemy? or, doſt thou expect and make account to continue thy Reign, that thou art ſo buſie in building thee ſuch a goodly, brave, and ſtrong palace? Annot.

Cloſet] Joel 2. 16. Mat. 6. 6. Luk. 12. 3. A ſecret chamber, or cloſe and locked parlour, an inner or private room.

Bright clouds, Zech. 10. 1. or lightenings, marg.

Cloudy day] Ezek. 30. 3. Of horrible and ſtrange calamities, as rainy dayes are very ſtrange and rare in Ægypt. Annot.

Cloudy pillar] Neh. 9. 12. This was very extraordinary. While the people abode in one place, this cloud covered them all over, and ſheltered them in the day time from the parching heat of the Sun. When they were to travel, it gathered up into the faſhion of a Pillar, and went directly before them, Numb. 9. 15, &c. Annot. Pſal. 99. 7. A ſigne of Gods favour, but with ſome obſcurity; and ſo is inferiour to the mediation of Chriſt, who hath without clouds or ſhadows obtained eternall Redemption for us, that we may goe boldly to the throne of grace, &c. Heb. 4. 14, 16. & 7. 15. & 9. 11, 12. Aynſw.

Clouted] Joſh. 9. 5. Mended, repaired.

Clouts] Jerem. 38. 11, 12. Caſt-cloaths waſted with wearing.

Cluſter] or Bunch, of Grapes, Numb. 13. 24. of Camphire, Cant. 1. 14. of Raiſins, 1 Sam. 25. 18. [The breaſts of Chriſts Church (out of which the people ſuck the Wine of Gods graces by the Miniſtery of the Goſpel) are likened to cluſters of Grapes, Cant. 7. 7. So on the contrary in Deu. 32. 32. is ſignified the corruption of true doctrine by falſe Prophets and Miniſters of Antichriſt. Aynſw.] Hereby metaphorically the wicked and reprobate are to be underſtood, Rev. 14. 18. And hereunto elect and good men are compared, Iſa. 65. 8. Mic. 7. 1. Ravan.

C O.

Coals] Hab. 3. 5. or Diſeaſes, marg.

Coaſt] Countrey, Exod 10. 4. Side, Heb. hand, Numb. 13. 29. Bounds, Ib. 22. 36.

Coat] Dan. 3. 21. or Mantle, marg.

Coates] 2 Chro. 32. 28. Coats for flocks; that is, Folds, or places of ſafety and ſhelter for flocks of Sheep, Goats, and other ſmall Cattle.

Cockle] Job 31. 40. A ſtinking weed, as the Originall of the word in the Hebrew intimates. Annot. or noyſome weeds, mar.

Coffer] 1 Sam. 6. 8. A little Cheſt, or Caſket.

Coffin] Gen. 50. 26. Cheſt, or Ark; for the word Aron here uſed, is the ſame which is uſed for the Ark of the Teſtimony, or Covenant, Deut. 31. 9. Yet though they agreed in name, they differed much in their fabrick, both for matter and figure, and were placed at a diſtance one from the other, for the Ark of the Teſtimony was kept in the Holy of holies, in the Tabernacle where no other Ark or Coffin was admitted. Annot.

Cogitations] Dan. 7. 28. My cogitations much troubled me. My thoughts were much perplexed with the conſideration of theſe wonderfull viſions. Hall. He had many motions in his heart, which moved him to and fro to ſeek out this matter cunningly. Annot.

Collar] Job 36. 18. or Edge. They uſed in thoſe dayes to wear Coats open onely at top and bottome, and ſuch a one full of and ſtiffe with filthy matter, muſt needs hurt him that puts it on, or wears it, or puls it off. Annot.

Collars] Judg. 8. 26. or ſweet jewels, marg.

Colledge] 2 King. 22. 14. or in the ſchool, or ſecond part, which was that part of the City divided from that part where the Kings palace was. Some take it to be the middle Court, mentioned, ch. 20. 4. Being taken for a Colledge (as well it may) it implyeth that place where Prophets, and ſuch as were children of the Prophets had their uſuall a- Annot.

Collops of fat] Job 15. 27. So much that one may as it were take it up by handfulls. Annot.

Colour] Cloak or pretence, Act. 27. 30. Dye, paint, or tincture, Iſa. 54. 11. Spoken of the Plague, Lev. 13. 55. of Manna, Lev. 11. 7. of Wine, Prov. 23. 31. of Amber, Ezek. 1. 4. of burniſhed Braſſe, Ib. 7. of a Beryll, Ib. 16. of Cryſtall, Ib. 22. of poliſhed Braſſe, Dan. 10. 6. of Babylon, Rev. 17. 4. of a Coat, Gen. 37. 3. of a Garment, 2 Sam. 13. 18. of Stones, 1 Chro. 29. 2. of an Eagle, Ezek. 17. 3. Colour of it, Numb. 11. 7. Heb. eye of it, marg.

Divers colours, Ezek. 17. 3. Heb. embroydering, marg.

Many colours, Gen. 37. 3. or pieces, marg.

Colt, or Foal] as of a Camel, Gen. 32. 15. of an Aſſe, Gen. 49. 11. of a wilde Aſſe, Job 11. 12.

Come] Shall come upon him, Job 15. 21. The Hebr. word ſignifies,

1 To come to a place, Gen. 43. 21.

2 When it is ſpoken of the Sun, it ſignifieth the ſetting of it, Gen. 28. 11.

3 When

3 When a Mans carriage to a Woman, it is a modeſt expreſſion of lying with her, Pſal. 51. title.

4 When of Dayes, it notes our old age, Gen. 24. 1.

5 When of Words, it ſignifies the fulfilling of them.

6 When of Corn, it intimates the gathering of it, Hag. 1. 6.

7 When of a Congregation or Society of men, it notes admiſſion into it, as a member to enjoy all the priviledges of it, Deut. 23. 3.

8 When of a Covenant, it ſignifies making of a Covenant, or accepting of it, Jer. 34. 10.

9 When with application to Fathers, it ſignifies dying, Gen. 15. 15.

10 When of a thing without life, it notes the coming to paſſe of a thing, Gen. 1. 19.

11 When it is joyned with going out, it ſignifies adminiſtring an office in the Common-wealth, Church, or Family, Numb. 27. 17. Annot.

Before they came together, Mat. 1. 18. or were marryed; for betwixt betrothing and marriage, there was wont to be a ſet ſpace, Deut. 20. 7. in which that which is here related might well fall out, her being or appearing to be with-childe. Dr. Ham. Annot. f.

Art thou he that ſhould come? Matth. 11. 3. The Perſon or name of Chriſt, as the Meſſias of the Jews, was ſo unknown, that he was wont by them to be expreſt by ſome circumlocutions; particularly, by this of ὁ ἐρχόμενος, he that cometh, & Luk. 19. 38. by ἐρχόμενος βασιλεύς, the coming King, by which is diſtinctly meant the Meſſias, entring on thoſe great offices to which he was deſigned and deſtined by God. Dr. Ham. Ann. a.

Shall come to me, Job 6. 37. Coming to Chriſt, is believing on him, and is a conſequent of Gods giving them to Chriſt, not antecedent to it; and therefore when they are given to Chriſt, they are not looked upon as Believers already, but thoſe which will be ſuch. Dr. Ham. Ann. d.

What ſhall be the ſigne of thy coming? Mat. 24 3. There's a threefold Coming o Chriſt:

1 In the fleſh, to be born among us.

2 At the day of doom, to judge the world, 1 Cor. 15. 23.

3 A middle coming, partly in vengeance, and partly for the deliverance of his ſervants. In vengeance, viſible and obſervable on his enemies and Crucifiers, (and firſt on the people of the Iews, thoſe of them that remain impenitent unbelievers,) And in mercy, to the relief of the perſecuted Chriſtians. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Cometh] Joh. 5. 26. Heb. aſcendeth, mar.

Cometh on, Deut. 23. 11. Hebr. turneth towards, marg.

Comfortably] 2 Sam. 19. 7. Hebr. to the heart, marg. So Iſa. 40. 2. mar. or Friendly, Hoſ. 2. 14. mar.

Comforter] Eccl. 4. 1. It is ſome eaſe of a man in ſorrow, to ſee others pity him, and a great aggravation of miſery to be without a Comforter; when a mans adverſaries are ſo powerfull, ſo malicious and cruel, that others are afraid ſo much as to pity him, Job 6. 14, 15. & 19. 21. Annot.

The comforter, Joh. 14. 26. παράκλητος, or the Advocate. So Chriſt is called παράκλητος, 1 Joh. 2. 1. 1. See Rom. 8. 26. They were called Advocates, παράκλητοι, who were called or retained to ſpeak or plead for them, who had inditements againſt them, or otherwiſe were impleaded in any Court of Judicature. One intreated to favour another in judgement, an Interceſſour. Annot.

He ſhall give you another comforter, Joh. 14. 16. The word Paraclete in the Greek comes from a word of a large, and ſo ambiguous ſignification, and conſequently may be rendred advocate, exhorter, or comforter, and every one of theſe do fitly accord to the offices of the holy Ghoſt among the Apoſtles (on whom he was to deſcend) and ever ſince in the Church, and therefore ought not to be ſo rendred by any of theſe, as to exclude the others, but to be left in the latitude of the ſignification, which belongs to the Greek word; yet one notion there is of the word, which ſeems to be eſpecially referred unto, both here, & ch. 16. 8. namely, that of an Advocate or Interlocutor, an Advocate of the Chriſtians cauſe with God, Rom. 8, 26. and ſo alſo with Men, teaching the Apoſtles what they ſhall ſay, when they are brought before Kings, Matth. 10. 20. and an Advocate or Actor of Chriſts cauſe againſt the world of Unbelievers and Crucifiers, Joh. 15. 26. and efficaciouſly convincing the Adverſaries, Joh. 16. 8. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Comfortleſſe] Joh. 14. 18. or Orphans, marg.

To command] Ezr. 4. 13. To ſet a decree, marg.

Command] Job 39. 27. Heb. mouth, mar.

Commandement] Gen. 45. 21. Heb. mouth, marg. Exod. 34. 28 Heb. word, marg. Ezr. 6. 14. Chald. decree, marg. 1 Joh. 3. 11. meſſage, See marg.

An old commandement which ye had from the beginning, 1 Joh. 2. 7. That which you were taught at the firſt preaching of the faith unto you. Thoſe whom this Apoſtle here writes unto, were they which had formerly by his preaching received the Chriſtian faith, and the end of this Epiſtle being to confirm their conſtancy againſt the Seducers that were now amongſt them; it might be unto them a ſufficient argument to receive, that what now he ſaid to them, was no more then he had taught them, and they had abſolutely believed and entertained at the firſt preaching of the Goſpel unto them. Theſe Seducers bring you new doctrine. That which I bring you, is not ſo, but the very doctrine that you received at the very firſt preaching of the Goſpel to you; and that which you did receive ſo, deſerves to be look'd on, not with ſuſpicion, as novel, but with ſecurity, as an old commandement; which you can no more miſtake in adhering to, then you can think you did in your firſt receiving of the Faith. Dr. Hammond Paraph. & Annot. a.

A new commandement I write unto you, 1 Joh. 2. 8. The phraſe ſure refers to the words of Chriſt, Joh. 13. 34. where the duty of charity to our Brethren, though it had been commanded by Moſes Law, yet was now elevated to an higher pitch, by Chriſts example and precept founded therein, even to loving enemies, and laying down or venturing our very lives for the ſpirituall advantages of other men; in which reſpect this degree of Charity now required by Chriſt, is by him ſtyled a new commandement, Ib.

Commander] Iſa. 55. 4. One whoſe commands under pain of eternall deſtruction, each one ſtandeth bound in all things to obey, Act. 3. 22, 23. 2 Theſſ. 1. 8. Heb. 5. 9. Annot.

Conſultation] A deliberation, asking or demanding counſel or advice, Mar. 15. 1.

Conſulter with familiar ſpirits] Deut. 18. 1. This was Saul's ſin, 1 Sam. 28. 7--15. For which tranſgreſſion the Lord killed him, 1 Chr. 10. 13. and hath threatned to cut off all from among his people, that doe inquire of ſuch, Lev. 20. 6. Aynſw.

Conſume] Job 6. 17. Heb. extinguiſh, ma. Job 24. 19. Hebrew, violently take, marg. Iſa. 64. 7. Hebr. melt, marg. Ezek. 35. 12. Heb. devour, mar. Zeph. 1. 2. I will utterly conſume all things, Heb. by taking away I will make an end, marg.

Conſummation] Dan. 9. 27. Utter conſumption and finall deſtruction of that place and people of the Jews, Matth. 24. 2. Luk. 21. 6. See the like, Ezek. 11. 2, &c. Annot.

Conſumption] Levit. 26. 16. or ſhaking Ague. In Greek, ſcubbedneſſe. So in Deut. 28. 22. and elſewhere the word is not uſed. Aynſw. An utter riddance, Iſa. 10. 22, 23. & 28. 22.

Contain] To comprehend, 1 King. 8. 27. 2 Chr. 6. 18. To hold, 1 King. 7. 26. To be able to receive, Joh. 2. 6. & 21. 15. To belong unto, Rom. 2. 14. To moderate the appetite by main force and ſtrength, 1 Cor. 7. v. 9.

Contemne] Ezek. 21. 10. or Deſpiſe, ma. The glory of Moab ſhall be contemned, Iſa. 16. 14. or, ſhall become mean, of light eſteem, or of no repute. As 1 Sam. 18. 23. oppoſed to honorable, ch. 3. 5. The great weight that Moab now beareth, ſhall become light. He that weighs down ſo much now, ſhall then bear no weight, but fly up in the ballance. The word glory in Hebr. hath an intimation of weight in it, alluded to by the Apoſtle, 2 Cor. 4. 18. and the word contemned hath affinity with that that ſignifies lightneſſe, 1 Sam. 18. 26. & 49. 6. and they are both uſed promiſcuouſly, Numb. 21. 6. Job 40. 4. Nah. 1. 14. Annot.

Contemptible] Baſe, vile, not to be regarded, Mal. 1. 7, 12. & 2. 9. To have no worth in it, to be ſet at naught, and baſely to be eſteemed of, 2 Cor. 10. 10.

Contemptuouſly] Pſal. 31. 18. In deſpight, Aynſw.

Content] Gen. 37. 27. Were content, Heb. hearkened, marg.

Contention] Striſe, debate, variance, quarrelling, Prov. 13. 10. & 18. 18. It cometh of Pride, Prov. 13. 10. Scorn, Ibid. 22. 10. Folly, Ib. 18. 6. Wine, Ib. 23. 29. Fooliſh queſtions, and genealogies, Tit. 3. 9. Such as raiſe it up, Hab. 1. 3. It falleth out ſometime between Paſtor and people, Jer. 15. 10. Brothers, or ſpeciall friends, Prov. 18. 19. Act. 15. 39. Husbands and Wives, Pr. 19. 13. That which was between Paul and Barnabas, Act. 15. 39. is tearmed παροξυσμὸς, which ſignifieth more then diſſenſion; was ſuch as whereby they moved, ſtirred, provoked one another to anger, gauling and grieving one another, which prevailed to imbittering their mindes. In Tit. 3. 9. (and in many other places) the word ἔρις importeth evill ſtrife, in affections, words, ſcolding, brawling; yea, all unjuſt ſtriving, quarrelling. Leigh C. S.

A man of contention, Jer. 15. 10. A contentious perſon, a man given to ſtriſe and contention. One that ſtriveth and contendeth with with every one, as Iſa. 41. 11. Job 31. 35. But one whom the people doe all generally oppoſe, whom the whole Land ſtriveth and contendeth with; the lot, as of Chriſt, Luk. 2. 34. Act. 4. 27. ſo of his Miniſters, and Meſſengers, Luk. 21. 17. Act. 28. 22. Annot.

With much contention, 1 Theſſ. 2. 2. Gr. in much ſtrife, (ἐν πολλῷ ἀγῶνι) with much fervency of zeal, and ſtrong conteſtation with all gainſayers of the truth. Annot.

Contentious] Rom. 2. 8. Of contention, given to contention, ſtriſe, as about lands, houſes, &c. 1 Cor. 11. 16. φιλόνικος, one that loves ſtrife, or is given to it.

Contentment] Αὐτάρκεια, 1 Tim. 6. 6. Self-ſufficiency; for ſo the Original ſignifieth; for not only it inricheth the ſoul, and giveth true contentment, but alſo it hath the promiſe of outward bleſſings. Annot.

Continual Burnt-offering] Ex. 29. 42. or Burnt-offering of continuation (as the Gr. renders it) or of perpetualneſſe, which without intermiſſion was daily to be offered twice. And although other things have this word ſometime adjoyned, as the continuall bread, Numb. 4. 7. the continuall Incenſe, Exo. 30. 8. the continuall Meat-offering, Numb. 4. 16. yet commonly the daily Burnt-offering is meant hereby; and this ſometime when the Sacrifice is not expreſſed, as in Dan. 8. 11, 12, 13. & 11. 31. & 12. 11. Aynſw.

With a continuall ſtroke, Iſa. 14. 6. Hebr. a ſtroke without removing, marg. With a ſtroke unavoydable, or irrecoverable. Annot.

Continuall weeping, Jer. 48. 5. Heb. weeping with weeping, marg.

A continuall dyet, Jer. 52. 34. Heb. a proviſion of aſſiduity, that is, a daily or conſtant proviſion; as, a Sacrifice of aſſiduity, for the daily or ſet conſtant Sacrifice, Ezr. 3. 5. Annot.

Men of continuall imployment, Heb. men of continuance. Men of publick employment for the burying of the dead. Annot.

Continuall ſorrow, Rom. 9. 2. Sorrow without ceaſing.

Continually] Gen. 6. 5. Heb. every day, m. Job 1. 5. Heb. all the dayes, marg.

Continuance] Permanent, Deut. 28. 59. In the days, Pſa. 139. 16. Aynſw.

Continue] Ruth 1. 2. Continued, Hebr. were, marg. 1 Sam. 1. 12. Heb. multiplyed, mar. Job 17. 2. Heb. lodge, marg. Job 27. 1. Heb. added to take up, marg. Act. 18. 11. Gr. ſate there, marg.

Continue following, 1 Sam. 12. 14. Heb. Be after, marg.

Contradicting] To ſpeak againſt, gainſay, Act. 13. 45.

Contradiction] Gain-ſaying, Hebr. 7. 7. Reall contention, Heb. 12. 3.

Contrary] Lev. 26. 21. Heb. in contrariety, (which word in is added in verſ. 27.) or, at all adventure, by chance. The Hebr. Keri ſignifieth both contrariety, and chance, or accident. The Greek tranſlateth it contrary, or thwart, as oppoſing themſelves to God and his commandements. The Chald. expoundeth it, If ye walk before me with hardneſſe, that is, ſtubborneſſe.

If we underſtand it for chance, or adventure, the meaning is, to walk careleſly, come upon it what will; and to eſteem the puniſhments, not as from the hand of God for their ſins, but to come by chance, as the Philiſtines ſaid in 1 Sam. 6. 9. Aynſw. See marg. Eſt. 9. 1. Wholly otherwayes, Ezek. 16. 34. Unlike, differing, Matth. 14. 24. Againſt them, Act. 17. 7. Againſt, 1 Tim. 1. 10. A lyer againſt, as a Souldier in a trench againſt a Fort, Tit. 2. 8. An adverſary both in judgement and practiſe.

Contrariwiſe] On the contrary, 2 Cor. 2. 7. Gal. 2. 7. 1 Pet. 3. 9.

Contribution] A communion, communication, diſtribution, a certain common gathering, Rom. 15. 26.

Contrite] Iſa. 57. 15. By it here is expreſſed an inward contrition of heart, &c. ſoftned and humbled by apprehenſion of wrath, joyned with a deep ſenſe of godly grief, ſincere repentance, and ſerious remorſe for ſin, as ſin, as offenſive, diſpleaſing and grievous to God, 2 Kin. 22. 19. 2 Chr. 32. 26. & 33. 12. Ezek. 6. 9. Act. 2. 37, 38. 2 Cor. 7. 10. Annot.

Of a contrite ſpirit, Iſa. 66. 2. Heb. contrite of ſpirit, as ſome, ſuppoſing it to come from a word that ſignifieth to grinde, or to vex, Ezek. 13. 22. and to be the ſame with that which from thence derived its ſound, Prov. 15. 13. & 17. 22. & 18. 14. rendred ſometime a broken, ſometime a wounded ſpirit. But it ſeemeth to come from another root, and to ſignifie properly ſmitten, and by ſmiting weakened: Uſed elſewhere of the body, 2 Sam. 4. 4. & 9. 3. here applyed to the minde, and ſignifies one ſmitten in heart; as it is, Pſal. 102. 4. or dejected in ſpirit; as ſometime it is uſed alſo for an abject, Pſal. 35. 15. Ann.

Convenient] When a convenient day was come. Mar. 6. 21. ἡμέρα εὐκαίρος, is a feſtivall day, a day of vacancy, יום טוב, in Hebr. a good day, i. e. a ſolemne feſtivall day of reſt from labour, ſet apart for feſtivity; and ſuch it is clear was this, Herods birth-day. Dr. Hamm. Annot. b.

Conveniently]

Conveniently] Mar. 14. 11. Fitly, for time and place.

Converſant] Joſh. 8. 35. Were converſant, Heb. walked, marg. See 1 Sam. 25. 15. To keep company with.

Converſation] Our converſation is in heaven, Phil. 3. 20. We are Citizens of heaven, or heaven is the City of which we are free. The word πολίτευμα, from πολίτης, Citizens, is literally citizenſhip, and denotes a municipium, which is the ſtate and condition of thoſe who dwelling out of the City, have yet the jus Civitatis Romanæ, the priviledges of the City of Rome, belonging unto them. But this ſo, that theſe ſhall differ from thoſe that had their habitation in the City, who alone might be choſen to Offices in it. See Act. 22. 28. Thus is the Chriſtian here on earth, a fellow-Citizen of the Saints, Eph. 2. 19. Though while he dwells here, he be in an inferiour condition to them who have domicilium in urbe, the Saints that are in heaven, who alone are capable of reigning with God. Dr. Ham. marg. & Annot. l.

Convert] Pſal. 19. 7. or Reſtore, marg. Iſa. 6. 10. or Turn. Annot.

Her converts, Iſa. 1. 27. Thoſe that are reformed in her, from their evil courſes, chap. 10. 20, 21. & 59. 20. Or, thoſe of her that return, to wit, from Captivity, being bettered (as Manaſſeh ſometime, 2 Chr. 33. 22, 23.) by their bonds, Ezr. 6. 21. Pſa. 126. 1. Annot.

Convey] 1 King. 5. 9. Put, Neh. 2. 7. Bring over, Joh. 5. 13. To goe away privily.

Convicted] Joh. 8. 9. The word in the Originall ſignifieth the refuting of an opinion, that men had before drunk in, and were poſſeſſed of; their conſciences accuſing them that they were convinced. Leigh Crit. Sac. in Ἐλέγχω, ομαι.

Convocation] An holy Aſſembly, for performances of holy exerciſes upon ſet Feſtivalls, Numb. 28. 18--25, 26. & 29. 1, 7, 12.

Cook] 1 Sam. 9. 23. A dreſſer of victuals, whether by boyling, roſting, &c. About which Women alſo were employed, 1 Sam. 8. 13.

Cool] Gen. 3. 8. Heb. winde, marg.

Cool] Luk. 16. 24. To make cold, or refreſh.

Copie] Prov. 25. 1. To write out.

Coping] 1 King. 7. 9. The top of the wall whereon the beams were laid. Annot.

Copper] Ezr. 8. 27. Heb. yellow, or ſhining braſſe. Some take this for ſuch Amber as Beads were made of; or for a mixture of gold and ſilver together. It plainly appears that this was a very choyce metall that is here mentioned, in that there were but two Veſſels thereof, and they reckoned amongſt Veſſels of gold. Annot.

Copperſmith] 2 Tim. 4. 14. Two of the greateſt enemies St. Paul had, were two Smiths. The one a Silverſmith, Act. 19. 24. and this Copperſmith here, and both of them (as it is conceived) maligned and oppoſed him and his preaching, for the ſame reaſon, becauſe the Apoſtle taught that they were no Gods that were made with hands, and thereby hindered their gain, and marred their handy-craft, which was to make Silver or Copper Shrines or Images to the Heathen gods and goddeſſes. So Covetouſneſſe is the bane of Religion. Annot.

Copulation] Lev. 15. 16. Seed of copulation, or the effuſion of ſeed. The Heb. and Greek properly ſignifieth the lying or bed of ſeed; that is, by changing the order of words, the ſeed of the bed, or of copulation; and it is not meant here of the iſſue ſore-ſpoken of, nor when he lyeth with a Woman, whereof ſee verſ. 18. but of the ſeed of the healthful, who by imagination, dream, or by any accident in the night may be unclean, Lev. 22. 4. Deut. 23. 10. Aynſw.

Coral] Job 28. 18. or Ramoth. This word comes from a word that ſignifies to be high, and it may be the Tranſlators render it Corall, becauſe that it is ſaid to grow on rocks, Annot.

Corashan] 1 Sam. 30. 30. A City (as ſome think) which is called Aſhan, in the Tribe of Simeon, who had their inheritance out of Judah. Annot.

Cords of vanity] Iſa. 5. 18. Thoſe fetches and ſervices, toyliſome courſes and employments, wherein men bent to wickedneſſe, and ſet wholly thereupon, doe labour and take pains inceſſantly for the compaſſing of their intended evil practiſes, and the bringing about of their wicked deſignes, Pſal. 36. 4. Mic. 2. 1. Annot.

Corn] Deut. 16. 13. Hebr. floor, marg. Job 24. 6. Heb. mingled corn, or dredge, mar.

Corners] Exod. 30. 4. Hebr. ribs, mar. Neh. 3. 32. or Corner-chamber, marg. Iſa. 11. 12. Heb. wings, marg.

Corner-gate] 2 Chr. 25. 23. Heb. the gate of it that looketh, marg.

Corner-ſtone] Job 38. 6. Who laid the Corner-ſtone thereof? By whoſe aid did I as it were lay an high corner-ſtone to uphold and keep together ſo great a building? Who made made the parts to keep ſo cloſe together, and to keep up one another. The words are metaphoricall, to ſhew the firmneſſe of the work, as buildings laſt that have good foundations and corner-ſtones. Annot. Iſa. 28. 16. The choyceſt and firmeſt ſtones are made choyce of for corner ſtones, as well for the ſurer knitting of the walls together, as for the better bearing up, and the beauty alſo (Pſal. 144. 12.) of the building: In both which regards the name of a corner ſtone, ſuiteth well to Chriſt, Pſal. 118. 22. Matth. 21. 42. Act. 4. 11. ſince that he not onely beareth up the intire ſtructure of his Church, Mat. 16. 18. 1 Cor. 3. 11. Eph. 2. 20. but alſo joyneth and knitteth moſt cloſely and firmly together both the two main walls of Jew and Gentile, and each living ſtone alſo in either wall one to another, Eph. 2. 14--22. & 4. 15, 16. 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5. Annot.

Beccorius in his Dictionary on the word Angulus, relateth out of the Scholaſtick Hiſtory, that at the building of Solomon's Temple, there was a ſtone which the Builders could by no means fit for the building, but that one ſtone being wanting for the top of the building, that onely did fit. Thus Chriſt, whom the Builders rejected (the Jews) became the head ſtone of the corner, Pſal. 118. 22. Matth. 21. 42. Mar. 12. 10. Luk. 20. 17. Act. 4. 11.

Cornet] Pſal. 150 3. or Trumpet. See marg.

Corpſe] A dead body, πτῶμα a πίπτω, as cadaver à cadendo, for that it falleth by death, Mar. 6. 29. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Correct] Job 5. 17. Sometimes the word ſignifies reproving, which is a verball correction, as Lev. 19. 17. But here it imports a reall correction by ſtripes and troubles, ch. 33. 17, 19. Either he means, that Gods correcting wicked men for their ſins, is a way to bring them to bleſſedneſſe, by driving them to repentance; or elſe he includes the uſe of corrections. The man whom God by afflictions brings out of his evill wayes ſhall be bleſſed. Annot. Pſal. 39. 11. Doſt correct, chaſtiſeth. Aynſw. Pſal. 94. 10. Rebuke, Aynſ. Jer. 2. 19. To convince and condemne; or, to reclaim and amend. Annot.

φθείρεσθαι, corrumpi, ſignifies ſometime to be debauched to ſin; particularly, and in the moſt eminent manner, to thoſe ſins againſt nature, abominable Heathen luſts So 2 Cor. 7. 2. We have corrupted no man, ſeems to relate to thoſe falſe Teachers the Gnoſticks among them, who did thus corrupt and ſeduce their Diſciples. Dr. Ham. on 2 Pet. 1. 4. Annot. b.

Corrupted] Exod. 8. 24. or Deſtroyed. m.

Corruption] Jonah 2. 6. or the Pit, mar. 2 King. 23. 13. Mount of corruption; that is, the Mount of Olives.

Corrupter] Iſa. 1. 4. Children that are corrupters. Or, as ſome, corrupt children, children that deal corruptly, 2 Chron. 27. 2. Jer. 6. 28. Or, that have corrupted themſelves, Exod. 32 7. Deut. 32. 5. and their doings, Zeph. 3. 7. Heb. children corrupting, or corrupters, that is, waſtful, or waſters, as Prov. 18. 9. or deſtroyers, as Prov. 28. 24. Stroy-goods, or waſtfull children. A Metaphor taken from riotous and prodigall yonkers, that waſte and conſume their patrimony, the means left them by their parents, Luk. 15. 13, 30. Applyed to this people, as having imbezeled their ſpirituall patrimony, derived and tranſmitted to them from their religious predeceſſors, Gen. 17. 7. Deut. 7. 6, 8. & 32. 9, 20. Pſal. 147. 19, 20. & 148. 14. Rom. 3. 1. & 9. 4, 5. Annot. Jer. 6. 28. or corrupt; both corrupt themſelves, and corrupting one another. Annot.

Corruptible] That which either is, or may be corrupted; being ſpoken of Man, Rom. 1. 23. Crown, 1 Cor. 9. 25. Mens bodies, 1 Cor. 15. 53. Silver and gold, &c. 1 Pet. 1. 18. Seed, Ib. 23.

Corruptly] 2 Chr. 27. 2. The people did yet corruptly. This generall is thus in particular exemplified. The people ſacrificed and burnt incenſe ſtill in the high places, 2 King. 15. 35. This is ſet down as a fault in his government. It is thereupon ſaid, the high places were not removed. Had he removed them, he might have prevented the peoples corruption herein. Annot.

Nehem. 1. 7. We have dealt very corruptly, Heb. with corruption we have corrupted. Annot.

Coſt] Expence, charge, 2 Sam. 19. 42. 1 Chr. 21. 24. Luk. 14. 28.

Coſt] To give a price for, 2 Sam. 24. 24.

Coſtly] 1 King. 5. 17. Rare, or precious, as the word is tranſlated, Iſa. 28. 16. Annot. Of great price, πολύτιμος, Joh. 12. 3. Sumptuous, 1 Tim. 2. 9.

Coſtlineſſe] Rev. 18. 19. By reaſon of her coſtlineſſe, wealth, magnificence, ſtatelineſſe; the rare, precious, and honourable things by her affected and bought.

Cottage] Iſa. 1. 8. A ſhade or Booth ſet up in the midſt, or on the one ſide of the Vineyard, for the Keeper there to watch or repoſe himſelf, ch. 4. 6. Job 27. 18. Annot. Iſa. 24. 20. A Tent; either a Souldiers tent, as ſome, that is taken downe and removed, when they are to march, or are quitting of their Quarters; or, a Shepherds tent, which he he removes from place to place, as he findes conveniency of feeding for his ſheep, chap. 13.20. & 38.12. Annot.

Couch] Job 7. 13. Some take it for a place to reſt on in the day; but it may well be all one with the Bed mentioned before (as that alſo in Gen. 49. 4.) Annot. Pſal. 6. 6. Bedſtead. Aynſworth. Amos 3. 12. The Beds-feet. Annot. Luk. 5. 19, 24. A little Bed.

Couch] To lie down, Gen. 49. 9.

Covenant] Gal. 3. 15. or Teſtament, ma.

Covenant] To promiſe, 2 Chron. 7. 18. Annot. So Hag. 2. 5. Annot. To weigh, or pay, ἔσταιν, appenderunt. Beza. Matth. 26. 15. To bargain or agree, Luk. 22. 5.

Cover] Ex. 25. 29. To pour out withal, m. Lam. 3. 16. or, To roll, marg.

Covers] Exod. 25. 29. or (as the Hebrew Doctors underſtand it) Props. Aynſw.

Coveteth] An evill covetouſneſſe, Hab. 2. 9. or gaineth an evill gain, marg.

Covetous] A lover of money, φιλάργυρος, Luk. 16. 14. 2 Tim. 3. 2. Such as being in a better condition then others, by reaſon of their wealth, do yet ſtudy alwayes to have more, are not ſatisfied with what they have, though more then enough, uſe fraudulent and unlawfull means to enrich themſelves. See Leigh Crit. Sac. in πλεονεκτέω.

Covetouſneſſe] Rom. 1. 29. The word πλεονεξία, in this and many other places of the New Teſtament, which we generally render covetouſneſſe, ſignifies exceſſive, or unnaturall luſts (not deſire of money onely) and is ordinarily ſet down among the baſeneſſes of the Gnoſtick hereſie, as I here ſuppoſe it is. It cometh of πλέον ἔχω, and ſignifieth any immoderate deſire of any thing above ones portion. Dr. Ham. Annot. h.

Could not ſpeak] Neh. 13. 24. Heb. They diſcerned not to ſpeak, marg.

To ſurvey, Iſa. 33. 18. To reckon, Luk. 14. 28. To be perſwaded of, Mar. 11. 32. To regard, think, or judge, Phil. 3. 7, 8. To conclude, or to collect and gather, as by reaſon and argument, Ibid. 13. To judge or eſteem of, Jam. 1. 2. To vouchſafe, 2 Theſſ. 1. 11. mar.

Countenance] Neither ſhalt thou countenance a poor man in his cauſe, Exod. 23. 3. or, not honour; which the Greek and Chald. tranſlate, not pity in judgement. The like is ſpoken of the rich, in Lev. 19. 15. It teacheth to doe right in all cauſes, without reſpect of poor or rich. Aynſw. In charity we muſt have reſpect to a poor mans neceſſity; but in point of juſtice, neither the power of the rich, nor the penury of the poor, but his right onely, verſ. 6. muſt be regarded. See Pſal. 72. 2. Annot.

Coupled] Exod. 26. 24. & 36. 29. Heb. twined, marg.

Couragious] Amos 2. 16. Heb. ſtrong of his heart, marg. One that is valiant, without dread, nor diſmayed, playeth the man, doth valiantly.

Courageouſly] Deal courageouſly, 2 Chron. 19. 11. Hebr. take courage and do. Judges have need of courage, that they be not daunted with peoples murmurings and gainſayings. Annot.

Courſes] Judg. 5. 20. Hebr. paths, marg. 1 Chr. 23. 6. Heb. diviſions, mar.

Courteous] 1 Per. 3. 8. φιλόφρων, friendly minded. One that is affable, and ſtudyeth to doe ſuch things as are grateſull unto others.

Courteouſly] Civilly, as a loving man, φιλανθρώπως, Act. 27. 3. Friendly, lovingly, φιλοφρόνως, Act. 28. 7.

Couſin] Kin, ally, of the ſame blood, Luk. 1. 36, 58.

C R.

Crackling] Eccl. 7. 6. Heb. ſound, marg.

Cracknels] 1 King. 14. 3. or Cakes, mar.

Crafty] Job 5. 12. Sometimes the word is taken in a good ſenſe, Prov. 1.4. & 8.12. & 22.3. but moſt commonly in a bad ſenſe, for ſuch as uſe their wiſdome to hurt others, Gen. 3.1. Pſal. 83.3. and ſo here ſome think the word ſignifies, one that hath many turnings and windings in his minde, as the Serpent had in his body, Gen. 3.1. It comes from a word that ſignifies naked, becauſe ſuch as ſhew tricks of activity uſe to ſtrip themſelves naked. The ſame word ſignifies naked and ſubtile, Gen. 2.25. & 3.1. Annot.

Prudent, wiſe, πανοῦργος, (of πᾶν & ἔργον) One who through the dexterity of his wit is ready and fit for any work, 2 Cor. 12.16. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Craftineſſe] Job 5.13. In their owne witty devices, whereby they thought to ruine others. So did Haman periſh, Eſt. 9.25. God uſeth their craft to their owne deſtruction; as if a ſtrong man ſhould beat back the enemies weapon upon himſelf, whereby he intended to hurt others, Jer. 21.4. Or it may be a Metaphor taken from catching of birds in nets or ſnares. God uſeth their crafty devices, intended as nets to catch others, to catch themſelves, Pſal. 7.5, 16. & 9.15, 16. & 35.7, 8. & 141.10. Annot.

Craftſman] Deut. 27.15. or Artificer; implying all the devices of the moſt wiſe and prudent, which make Idols according to their own underſtanding, Hoſ. 13.2. Skilful in workmanſhip, 2 King. 24.14. Annot. A Work-man, or Handycraftſ-man, imploying his skil and pains about things unlawfull and unwarrantable, Act. 19.24, 38.

Crag] Job 39.28. Upon the crag of the rock, Heb. upon the tooth of the rock, for crags of rocks are like great teeth in faſhion and ſharpneſſe. Annot.

Craſhing] Breaking or bruiſing, great noyſes of the falling of houſes, and outcryes of men, Zeph. 1.10. See Hall.

Crave] Prov. 16.26. His mouth craveth it of him, Heb. boweth unto him. See Eccleſ. 6.7. Annot. Mar. 15.43. And craved the body of Jeſus, humbly begged, and earneſtly deſired it.

Created and made] Gen. 2.3. Heb. created to make, marg.

Creation] Rom. 8.22. or Creature, mar.

Creature] The earneſt expectation of the creature, Rom. 8.19. The word κτίσις, the creation or creature, being a generall word, without a reſtraint (and likewiſe with πᾶσα, all, joyned to it, verſ. 22.) is here ſet to comprehend all mankinde, the Gentiles as well as the Jews; and (having before ſpoken of the Jews) here the Gentiles peculiarly. Thus κτίσις & κόσμος are all one, the creature and the world, all the creation, as verſ. 22. and all the world, Mar. 16.15. Dr. Ham. Ann. d.

Creditour] Deut. 15.2. Heb. Maſter (or Owner) of the lending of his hand, that is, of the thing lent with his hand, which ſeemeth to imply Money, and the like; and that which is a mans owne, whereof he hath power, as to lend, ſo to remit.

It may alſo be interpreted, Every Maſter of the exaction of his hand, which he may exact of his neighbour, doe releaſe it; that is, every Creditour that hath right to exact (the debt) with his hand, do releaſe that which he might exact. Aynſw. Iſa. 50.1. Heb. lenders. Annot.

Creek] Act. 27.39. κόλπος, a Boſome, or Gulf of the Sea between two Capes.

Creep] Pſal. 104.20. Heb. trample, mar. Hab. 1.14. or Move, mar.

Spoken, I. Properly, of creeping things.

1. Which move or creep in the waters without feet, to wit, Fiſhes, Gen. 1.20, 21. Pſal. 104.25. & 69.25. Lev. 11.46.

2. Which fly in the air, having either legs above their feet, Lev. 11.21. Whereof it was lawfull for the Iſraelites to eat, v. 22. Or ſuch as had not, which were to be an abomination unto them, verſ. 23.

3. Which move on the earth, and abide therein, Gen. 1.24, 25. & 6.20. & 7.14. being either ſuch as have no feet at all, as the Serpent, or ſuch whoſe feet are ſo ſhort that they are ſcarce viſible, as might be inſtanced in divers. So in effect Ravanell.

It's alſo ſpoken of all the beaſts of the Forreſt, Pſal. 104.20.

Figuratively, of falſe Teachers, 2 Tim. 3.6. which under fair pretences inſinuate themſelves into mens houſes, &c. Hall. Creep like Ferrets or Weeſils. Leigh's Annot. Jude v.4. Which ſecretly and underhand creep in, Hall. Beſides our expectation, as Souldiers that march by a Town, and ſuddenly return and take it; or as Pioners, who enter by a Mine, while the Souldiers defend the Walls; or, not being ſent of God, take the Miniſtery upon them, of their own heads, Joh. 10.1. Annot.

Creeple] One lame or impotent in his feet, Act. 14.8.

Crib-yard] Job 39.9. Annot. Pro. 14.4. Annot. Manger, Iſa. 1.3. Annot.

Crime] ἔγκλημα, a fault, offence, or matter laid againſt one, or whereof he is accuſed, Act. 25.16. Αἰτία, the cauſe, verſ. 27. as the word is rendred, Act. 23.28.

An hainous crime, Job 31.11. The word ſignifies ſignifies a plotted ſin, ſuch a one as naturall corruption doth not ordinarily ſuggeſt, but men muſt beat their wits to invent and execute it. And ſuch ſins carry much miſchief with them. It is uſed in Scripture to expreſſe horrible ſins, as Inceſt, Lev. 18. 17. & 20. 14. Proſtitution of ones children to whoredome, Lev. 19. 29. Killing of the Levites Concubine by filthyneſſe, Judg. 20. 6. Annot.

Bloody crimes, Ezek. 7. 23. that is, of ſins that deſerve death. Annot.

Crimſon] Iſa. 1. 18. Some of the Rabbins take this to be a deeper colour then the Scarlet, and ſo in reaſon it ſhould be, if they be ſeverall colours. But others of them affirm them to be one and the ſame. They are moſt commonly joyned together, as importing one and the ſame thing. The genuine notion of either may be, the Scarlet grain of crimſon, or of the worm; that is, the wormy or crimſon grain, (for thereof hath the Crimſon its name, from the worm, and not from the grain) and the worm of the Scarlet grain, or the grainy worm, or Crimſon. For the latter word here uſed ſignifies a worm, chap. 41. 14. Jonah 4. 7. and a worm ordinarily grows in that grain wherewith the Crimſon is dyed; from whence alſo both in Arabick and in other tongues it hath its name. Annot.

Criſping-pins] Iſa. 3. 22. or, curling-pins. Such long Pins as they were wont to curle, or faſten their hair with, or to make uſe of their attire and apparel. Annot.

Crop] The craw, gargill, or gorge of a fowle, Lev. 1. 16.

Crop off] Pluck off, Ezek. 17. 4, 22.

Croſſe-way] Obad. v. 14. or breaches, to hinder the Jews from ſaving themſelves by flight, and to cut them off. Annot.

Crouch] To bow, or bend, 1 Sam. 2. 36. To break ones ſelf, Pſal. 10. 10. marg.

Crow] Spoken of the Cock, whoſe voyce being heard by Peter, he remembred the words of Jeſus, Mat. 26. 74, 75.

Cock-crowing] Mar. 13. 35. The third watch, which began at midnight, and held till 3 of the clock in the morning, was named ἀλεκτοροφωνία, cock-crowing. Goodwyn Moſes and Aaron, p. 100.

Crudled me] Job 10. 1. 2. Thickned the ſoft matter, & liquid ſubſtance whereof I was made The word ſignifies gathering together, Exod. 15. 8. Zeph. 1. 12. For moyſt things muſt be gathered cloſer together, into a narrower room, before they can be made dry and firm; as appears in making Bells, Coyn, Cheeſe. Annot.

Cruel] Cant. 8. 6. Heb. hard, marg.

Cruell hatred, Pſal. 25. 19. Hebr. hatred of violence, marg.

Cruelly] Ezek. 18. 18. Becauſe he cruelly oppreſſed, עשק עשק, oppreſſit oppreſſione, oppreſſed with oppreſſion. Tremel.

Cruelty] Violent wrong, Gen. 49. 5. Aynſ. Judg. 9. 24. The juſt revenge of that cruelty. Annot.

Ezek. 34. 4. With cruelty, fiercely, violently, ſharply, with an high hand.

Cruſe, or Bottle] 1 King. 14. 3. marg. Of water, 1 Sam. 26. 11. honey, 1 King. 14. 3. oyl, Ib. 17. 12.

Cruſh] To break, Job 39. 15. Lam. 1. 15. Heb. to break, or to deſtroy, as Iſa. 14. 25. Annot.

Lament. 3. 34. To cruſh under his feet, &c. When men exerciſe ſuch cruelty and oppreſſion upon them, that they tread them down, and trample upon them, as upon dirt and clay, or upon mortar and rubbiſh, untill they grinde them to powder; that is, have worn them clean out by hard & harſh uſage, Iſa. 10. 6. & 14. 15, 16. & 16. 4. & 51. 23. Jer. 12. 10. Dan 7. 7. & 1. 14. See Iſa. 3. 15. & Mic. 3. 3. Annot.

Jer. 51. 34. He hath cruſhed me, or bruiſed, as ch. 28. 25. or broken, as ch. 50. 17. hath boned me. Annot. Numb. 22. 25. Cruſht, or thruſt, or preſſed. Aynſw.

Cry] Amos 3. 4. Heb. give forth his voyce. marg.

C V.

Cud] Cheweth the cud, Lev. 11. 3. This in the Original ſignifieth the bringing up the meat into the mouth, to chew it again. Aynſw.

Cumbrance] Deut. 1. 12. Your cumbrance, or wearieſome moleſtation; trouble, as Iſa. 1. 14. This ſheweth the Magiſtrates office to be weighty and laborious. And by your cumbrance underſtand, the cumbrance that cometh unto me by you. For when a people is increaſed, the care and trouble of their Governours is increaſed alſo, 1 King. 3. 8, 9. 2 Cor. 11. 28. Aynſw.

Cumber] To be buſie about, to be drawn and wried round and round about, Luk. 10. 40. περισπᾶσθαι. To weaken, make fruitleſſe and ineffectuall, Luk. 13. 7. καταργεῖ ſignifieth among other things, to conſume and work out the heart of the ground; the meaning is, that they who are not fruitfull in good works, doe but make others barren by their example; deny others the occaſion of working. Annot.

Cunning] Knowing, Gen. 25. 27. A cunning Hunter, Hebr. a man knowing hunting. Aynſw.

Cunning workman, Exod. 26. 1. or exquiſite Craftſman, that skilfully deviſeth and curiouſly worketh in any Art. Idem.

Cunning Artificer, Iſa. 3. 3. Heb. the wiſe of the workmen, in timber, ſtone, or metall. Annot.

Cunning women, Jer. 9. 17. Such as profeſſed an art and skill of mourning, and making exquiſite lamentation, to which purpoſe alſo they were wont to be hired at ſolemn funerals, and there might be ſuch as were skilfull in compoſing of doleſull Poems and Ditties, that might raiſe up and enhance affections of that kinde in others. Annot.

It's applyed alſo unto playing on the harp, 1 Sam. 16. 16, 18. ſinging, 1 Chron. 25. 7. craftineſſe, Eph. 4. 14.

Cunningly] 2 Pet. 1. 16. Cunningly deviſed fables; woven together ſo artificially, that they might ſeem to be true, although indeed they be moſt falſe. Annot.

Cup-bearers] 1 King. 10. 5. or Butlers, m.

Cure] Jer. 33. 6. I will bring in health and cure, Heb. I am making cure and healing to go up, or to come unto her, or it, to wit, the City, as which ſhould be re-edified and raiſed up again. Annot. An healing, or curing, ἴαση, Luk. 13 32.

Cure] I will cure them, Jer. 33. 6. I will reſtore the people to their former ſtate again, ch. 3. 22. Iſa. 57. 18. Annot.

Jer. 46. 11. Thou ſhalt not be cured, or thou canſt not be cured; Heb. no cure ſhall be to thee. Annot.

To heal, Mat. 17. 16, 18. θεραπεύω, which ſome derive from Tarapheh, ſome from Teraphim. Leigh C. S.

Curious Girdle] Exod. 28. 8. or Embroydered. Annot. Called in Hebr. Cheſheb, of the cunning workmanſhip: In Greek, the woven work.

Current] Gen. 23. 16. or, paſſing to, and ſo allowed of Merchants, as the Greek turneth it; which the Chaldee amplifieth thus, that was taken for merchandiſe in every Countrey. Aynſ.

Curſe] Neh. 13. 25. or revile, marg. Job 1. 5. Curſed God, in Heb. it is bleſſed God, as 1 King. 21. 10, 13. Job 1. 11. & 2. 5, 9. Becauſe the crime of blaſphemy at that time was eſteemed ſo enormious and execrable that men could not endure to hear it called by the proper name, but although they had a word to expreſſe it by, yet they ſo deteſted that ſin, that they called it by the contrary. So a Sodomite and a Whore have their names in Heb. from holineſſe, being both moſt unholy, ch. 36. 14. Gen. 38. 21, 22. Deu. 23. 18. Ann.

Curſe] Act. 23. 12. or a note of Execration, marg.

Curſed] This is applyed both to Perſons and Things.

Perſons; as, 1. The reprobate, Mat. 25. 41.

2. Such as are ſtrangers from the Covenant of God, Joſh. 9. 23.

3. Such as are moſt ungodly and wicked, 2 King. 9. 34. Pſal. 119. 21. who are tearmed curſed before the Lord, 1 Sam. 26. 19. and curſed of him, Pſal. 37. 22.

Things; as Gen. 5. 29. & 49. 7.

Curſed, that is, to be abhorred, deteſted, and ſo grievouſly puniſhed. Alſo moſt miſerable, unhappy, Deut. 28. 18, &c. Ravanel.

Curſing] Deut. 28. 20. or curſe. Aynſw.

Curtains] for the Tabernacle, of fine twined linnen, &c. Exod. 26. 1. of goats hair, Ibid. 7. For their owne uſe, as whereof their Tents conſiſted, being faſtened to pins or ſtakes, Jer. 49. 29. Hab. 3. 7.

Cuſtody] Numb. 3. 36. Under the cuſtody and charge, Heb. the office of the charge, marg. the overſight of the charge. Aynſw.

Eſt. 2. 3. Unto the cuſtody, Heb. unto the hand, m.

Cuſtomes of the people are vain] Jer. 10. 3. Heb. Statutes or Ordinances are vanity, marg. Act. 6. 14. or Rites, marg.

Cut] Amos 9. 1. or Wound, marg.

Cut off] Job 11. 10. or Make a change, m. Zech. 11. 16. or Hidden, mar.

Cuttings] Lev. 19. 28. or inciſion. In Gr. inciſions. In Chald. hurt, or corruption. So in Lev. 21. 5. Aynſ. Jer. 48. 37. Wounds. An.

Cuttings] Nor make any cuttings in their fleſh, Lev. 21. 5. or make any inciſion, a thing forbidden the people alſo, Lev. 19. 28. Deut. 14. 1. So God would have them in their mourning for the dead, not to be immoderate, nor to imitate the Heatheniſh cuſtomes, which were Idolatrous. Aynſw.

C Y.

Cynamon] See Cinamon.

D A.

Dagger] Judg. 3. 16. The Original חרב is taken largely, (as ferrum in Latine) and diverſly rendred; as in Joſh. 5. 2. a knife. In Exod. 20. 25. a tool. In 2 Chro. 34. 6. a mattock. In Iſa 21. 15. a ſword. Buxtorf. Here it's rendred dagger, whereof Ehud made uſe in killing Eglon, as being both ſharp, and (that it might not be ſeen) ſhort.

Dainty] Meats, Job 33. 20. Hebr. meat of deſire; that is, ſuch as men uſe to deſire, for the pleaſant taſte of it, and ſuch as himſelf would have been glad of in his health. Annot.

Their dainties, Pſal. 141. 4. The Chald. expoundeth it of their Songs at banquets. Aynſw. Let not their proſperity allure me to be wicked as they are, Pſal. 37. 1. & 73. 15. Annot.

Dale] Gen. 14. 17. or Valley. A Valley not far from Jeruſalem, where Abſalom ſet up his Pillar, 2 Sam. 18. 18. Aynſw.

Dalphon] The houſe caves. Eſt. 9. 7. See Delphon.

Damme] Exod. 22. 30. Mother. Aynſw.

Damnable hereſies] 2 Pet. 2. 1. Gr. hereſies of deſtruction. Wicked opinions that ruine mens ſouls; or dangerous ſchiſmes, that will rent the Church, and bring deſtruction on it, if it be not prevented, 1 Cor. 11. 18, 19. Annot.

Damnation] 1 Cor. 11. 29. or Judgement, marg.

Shall receive to themſelves damnation, Rom. 13. 2. The word κεῖμα, according to its literal importance, ſignifies judgement, and no more, and is applyed to humane judgements ſometimes, either going to law, 1 Cor. 6. 7. or elſe ſentences of temporall puniſhments on malefactors, Luk. 23. 40. & 24. 20. Otherwhere it as clearly ſignifies divine, and that eternall puniſhment, as Act. 24. 25. Rom. 2. 2, 3, 5. Heb. 6. 2. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelfe, 1 Cor. 11. 29. i. e. Where the worthy receiver hath the benefits of Chriſts death communicated to him in this feaſt, and ſo eats and drinks ſalvation to himſelf: this unworthy intruder doth on the contrary bring by that means puniſhments; and if he repent not by the admonition of thoſe puniſhments, damnation on himſelfe. Dr. Hammond on Matth. 26. Annot. e.

Damned] Mar. 16. 16. Shall be damned. Shall be ſentenced and adjudged unto eternal pains, everlaſting condemnation, 2 Theſ. 2. 12. Gr. judged. Annot.

Dance] Pſal. 149. 3. & 150. 4. or Pipe, m.

Dandle] Iſa. 66. 12. And be dandled upon her knees; that is, ye ſhall be carefully and curiouſly, or tenderly and delicately nurſed up, as darling children of great ones eſpecially are wont to be, that are almoſt perpetually either in the arms, or on the knees. The word here uſed ſignifies to take much delight in ought. The Pſalmiſt oft uſeth it to expreſſe his delight in Gods Law, Pſ. 119. 16, 24, 46, 70, 77, 92, 142, 144. And of the comforts and refreſhments, which from thence his ſoul received, Pſal. 94. 19. It is uſed of Children playing and ſporting themſelves, ch. 11. 8. And ſome therefore here render it, Ye ſhall play upon her knees, as alluding to children that ſit playing upon their Mothers lap. Howbeit, it ſeemeth not amiſſe rendred dandled, for in ſuch dandlings children much delight; and it is implyed that they ſhould be as darlings, children of delights, Jer. 19. 20. (where this word alſo is uſed) and children of dandlings, as they ſeem tearmed, Lam. 2. 20. It hath reference to the manner of parents, that are won to have their young ones, their darling ones eſpecially, whom they take moſt delight in, frequently in their laps, on their knees, Gen. 30. 3. & 50. 23. Ruth 4. 16. Annot.

Dangerous] Unſafe, perilous, full of danger, Act. 27. 9.

Danites] Judg. 13. 2. Such as were of the Tribe of Dan, or his poſterity; who bordering upon the Land of the Philiſtins, were moſt ſubject to their incurſions and oppreſſions. Annot.

I durſt not, Job 32. 6. Heb. I feared, marg.

Dark] Lev. 13. 6. Dimme, obſcure. Aynſ. Numb. 12. 8. Hidden.

Dark ſpeeches, or hidden ſpeeches, riddles. A dark ſpeech is called in Hebr. Chidah, of ſharpneſſe, becauſe it requireth ſharpneſſe of wit, both to propound and expound the ſame, Judg. 14. 13, 14. And it is of the nature of a parable, Ezek. 17. 2, 3. And all cloſe and hidden doctrine is called a riddle, Pſal. 49. 5. So tranſlated, 1 Cor. 13. 12. and ſometime hidden things, Mat. 13.35. from Pſal. 78.2. Anſw. Job 3.9. Have no light. Annot. Job 18.6. or darkened, it ſhall be clean taken away, and darkneſſe come in the ſtead of it, Annot. Joel 2.10. With overſhadowing clouds, and ſwarms of theſe devouring vermins. Annot.

It's ſpoken of the Plague, Lev.13.6. Speeches, Numb. 12.8. Waters, 2 Sam. 22.12. (Hebr. binding of waters, marg.) Stars, Job 3.9. Light, Job 18.6. Cloud, Job 22.13 Way, Pſal. 35.6. Saying, Pſal. 49.4. Places of the earth, Pſal. 74.20. (darkneſſes, baſe, or mean, as in Prov. 22.29. dark or obſcure perſons, are the baſe ſort; the Gr. here tranſlateth it dark perſons, meaning the vile graceleſſe enemies Anſw.) Sayings, Pſal. 78.2. & Prov. 1.6. Night, Prov. 7.9. Mountains, Jer. 13.16. Places, Lam. 3.6. Day, Ezek. 34.12 Amos 5.8. Sentences, Dan. 8.23. Sun and Moon, Joel 2.9. Night and day, Mic. 3.6.

Darkly] 1 Cor. 13.12. ἐν αἰνίγματι, in a riddle. A proverbiall or enigmaticall ſpeech, and the Apoſtle hath reference to Numb. 12.8. and implyeth, that there is ſuch a difference between the imperfect knowledge which we have in this life, and the perfect knowledge which we have in the life to come, as is between the propounding the ſame thing in the obſcurity of a riddle, and declaring of it in plain, proper, and ſignificant tearms. Annot.

Darken] To hide and deface; or as the Gr. tanſlateth, corrupt, Exod. 10.15. Anſw. To defeat, prove helpleſſe, Iſa. 9.30. He ſhall ſee no more light, hope, and help of relief from above, then from below. Annot. Iſa. 9.19. To overſpread and overwhelm with calamities and afflictions, as chap. 8.22. & verſ. 1. The Chald. rendereth it deſolated; or as others read it, burnt up, as Joel 2.3. Annot. Iſa. 24.11. To extinguiſh, put out, paſſe away. Annot. Ezek. 30.18. To reſtrain, m. Zech. 11.17. Shall ſee nothing.

It's both corporal, Eccl. 12.2,3. and ſpiritual; applyed unto the heart, Rom. 1.21. underſtanding, Eph. 4.18.

Darkeneth counſel] Job ch. 38.2. Caſts a black colour on the ſoveraign brighteneſſe of the juſtice and wiſdome of my providence, accuſing my judgements of folly and injuſtice, who by ſearching out the counſel of his owne corrupt reaſon, makes it the more obſcure, and declares his owne folly, Rom. 1.22. Annot.

Darkiſh] Lev. 13.39. Somewhat dark, as in verſ. 6. So that their whiteneſſe (ſaith Sol. Jarchi) is not ſtrong, but ſomewhat dark. Anſw.

Darts] 2 Chr. 32.5. or Swords, or Weapons, marg.

Daſh] To break, Exod. 15.6. To ſcatter, Pſal. 2.9. Anſw. Pſal. 91.12. To hurt. Anſw. Pſal. 137.9. To beat or knock out ones brains, Jer. 13.14. By daſhing, to diſſolve, diſſipate, or break to pieces, Iſa. 27.9. & 22.28. And it is ſo applyed to Potters ware, Pſ. 2.9. to earthen pitchers, Judg. 7.19. to bottles, as here, & ch. 48.12. Annot.

He that daſheth in pieces, Nah. 2.1. or, the diſperſer or hammer, who was the Mede, Scythian, and Babylonian. Annot.

Daughters] Ezek. 27.16. or Cities, m. 1 Pet. 3.6. Gr. children, marg.

Dawn] Mat. 28.1. The original ἐπιφώσκω, ſignifieth to wax toward the light, although it be not light. Leigh Crit. Sac. To be light or clear, ſhine, appear, or ſhew it ſelf, διαυγάζω, 2 Pet. 1.19.

Dawning of the day] Job 3.9. Hebr. the eyelids of the morning, marg.

Day by day] Luk. 11.3. or for the day, m.

From day to day, 2 Sam. 13.4. Heb. morning by morning, marg.

High day, Gen. 29.7. Heb. the day is great, m.

Few dayes, Job 14.1. Heb. ſhort of dayes, m.

Many dayes, 1 King. 17.15. or, a full yeer, marg.

Dayes-man] Job 9.33. or Umpire, Heb. one that ſhould argue or reprove. So the word is uſed, Pſal. 105.14. and ſo God did to Laban, Gen. 31.24, 29, 42. One that might blame us, if we wronged one another in pleading, and might hear us argue the caſe with patience, and afterwards reprove or paſſe ſentence againſt him that did the wrong. Annot.

Daily] Pſal. 86.3. or, All the day, mar. Iſa. 58.2. Heb. day day, that is, day by day, or day after day, as morning morning, ch. 28.19, An. Luk. 9.23. Alwayes, continually.

Our daily bread, Matth. 6.11. The word ἐπιούσιος is capable of a double origination.

1. From the word ἐπιοῦσα, the day approaching; whether that be now the inſtant day, or elſe the morrow, that is (in the Scripture ſenſe, of the Heb. מָחָר) the future, the remainder of our lives, how long or how ſhort ſoever. If it be derived from hence, then the ἄρτος ἐπιούσιος will denote as much as ſhall be ſufficient, or proportionable for the future or remainder of our lives, which we pray that we may receive this day; i.e. as St. Luke interprets it, day by day.

2. From ἐπὶ τὴν οὐσίαν, that which is agreeable for my beeing, or ſubſiſtence, or condition in the world, which Solomon calls food convenient nient for him; and ſo in either ſenſe, but the firſt is more according to the analogie of derivations) that which is ſufficient and agreeable for the remainder of our lives; the daily ſuſtenance and neceſſaries of our bodies, and eſpecially of our ſouls. Dr. Ham. Annot. f.

Day-ſpring] Luk. 1.78. or Sun-riſing, or Branch, marg.

Day-ſtar] 2 Pet. 1.19. Chriſt, Rev. 2.28. & 22.16. Annot.

D E.

Dead] Judg. 5.27. Heb. deſtroyed, marg.

Dead men] 2 Sam. 19.28. Hebr. men of death, marg.

This my Son was dead, Luk. 15. verſ. 24. The Scripture-notion of the word נפש, dead, may be learnt from hence to ſignifie one that is deſperately engaged in a wicked courſe. Thus thoſe that were carried into captivity, and deſpaired of return, are called dead bones, Ezek. 37.3. and the reducing of them, is ſaid to be the bringing them out of their graves, verſ. 12. So the ſtate of Abrahams body, and Sarahs wombe, in reſpect of having hopes of a poſterity is called deadneſſe, Rom. 4.19. noting deſperation of children, and no more. So the ſtate of unchriſtian living is called death, 1 Joh. 2.14. and they that lived in a Gentile courſe, are ſaid to be dead in treſpaſſes and ſins, Eph. 2.1. Accordingly reformation, or recovery to good life, is called a riſing from the dead, reviving, being quickened, paſſing to life; whereby it ſignified no more but onely repentance from dead works, or renovation. Dr. Ham. Ann. c.

Deadly deſtruction] 1 Sam. 5.11. A torment that brought death.

Pſal. 17.9. Deadly enemies, Heb. enemies againſt the ſoul, marg.

Ezek. 30.24. A deadly wounded man. One ſtabbed, thruſt thorow, wounded to death.

Mar. 16.18. Any deadly thing. Poyſon, as they write of John, and others, in the Eccleſiaſticall Hiſtory. Annot.

Deadly poyſon, Jam. 3.8. that is, which brings death. Some think that herein S. James alludes unto Pſa. 140.4. Ann. Rev. 13.3, 12. See Dict. on the Revel.

Deadneſſe] Rom. 4.19. Utterly unprofitable, voyd of ſtrength, and unmeet to conceive and bear children.

Deaf] Taken, 1. Properly, Exod. 4.11. Lev. 19.14. Mat. 11.4.

2. Improperly; ſo the Devill is tearmed a deaf ſpirit, Mar. 9.25. as making ſome deaf whom he poſſeſſeth. And they may be ſaid to be deaf, that ſtop their ears that they may not hear; as the deaf Adder, Pſal. 58.4. And he is ſaid to be as deaf, who is ſilent, taketh no notice of, patiently beareth injuries offered unto him, Pſal. 38.13. Which the Lord alſo ſpeaketh of himſelf, Iſa. 42.14. I have long time holden my peace, I have been ſtill, and refrained my ſelf. Or, who being called upon, will not anſwer, Prov. 29.19. Therefore the Pſalmiſt prayeth to the Lord, Be not ſilent to me, Pſal. 28.1. Hear my prayer, &c. Hold not thy peace at my tears, Pſal. 39.12. See Pſal. 83.2. & 109.1. They alſo may be ſaid to be deaf, which having ears, hear not, Mar. 8.18. are not endued with wiſdome, and ſpirituall underſtanding, who through the grace of God, being made ſpiritually wiſe, are tearmed, the deaf that have ears. Thus in effect Ravanel.

Deal] To doe, Gen. 19.9. & 34.31. Exod. 21.9. Numb. 11.15. Deut. 7.5.

Deal thy bread, Iſa. 58.7. Hebr. break, or divide, as Jer. 16.7. For their loaves were ſuch as might be ordinarily broken, Matth. 26.36. Luk. 24.31, 35. See Ezek. 18.7. Lam. 4.4. Annot. To behave, offer ones ſelf, Heb. 12.7. To beſtow, impart, 2 Sam. 6.19.

Deal hardly, Gen. 16.6. Heb. afflict, mar.

Deal courageouſly, 2 Chr. 11.19. Heb. take courage, and doe, marg.

Deal] Numb. 15.4. A tenth deal; that is, the tenth part of an Ephah, to wit, an Omer. Annot.

The more a great deal, Mar. 7.36. & 10.48. So much the more.

Dealer] Iſa. 21.2. The treacherous dealer dealeth treacherouſly, Heb. the treacherous dealer, a treacherous dealer, or dealing treacherouſly. Some thus, the perfidious perſon dealing perfidiouſly, or a treacherous one dealing treacherouſly, or the treacherous dealer hath found a treacherous dealer. Annot.

Dealing] His violent dealing, Pſal. 7.16. Violent wrong. The word Chamas ſignifieth injury done by force and rapine, violation of right and juſtice. Aynſw.

Evill dealings, 1 Sam. 2.23. or evill words, m.

Have no dealings with the Samaritans, Job 4.9. Make no uſe of them, have no traffick, commerce, correſpondency with them.

Dear] Jer. 31.20. My dear Son, Hebr. a Son precious, or dear to me; for it cometh from a root that ſignifieth to be precious; and another word thence ſpringing is for precious in common uſe, Pſal. 116.15. Prov. 17.27. But the word here uſed is in a form that ſeems to import ſome eminency or excellency of the thing thereby ſignified, and is no where elſe found. It is ſomewhat like that, Prov. 4. 3. Annot. Luk. 7. 2. whom he made much of, made much account of, and had him in much eſtimation, Act. 20. 24. Of great price and value, Eph. 5. 1. ἀγαπητὸς. It is properly attributed to an onely childe, and ſheweth that God reſpecteth all his children as if they were but one, a darling childe. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Dearly beloved] The word ἀγαπητὸς, as it's often rendred dear, ſo it is dearly beloved. Thus the Lord tearmed his people, who were ſometime ſo dear to him, ſo deep in his affection, Jer. 12. 7. Thus the Romanes, Corinthians, Philippians, Timothy, & Philemon, by the Apoſtle Paul, Rom. 12. 9. 1 Cor. 10. 14. Phil. 4. 1. 2 Tim. 1. 2. Philem. v. 1. As the ſtrangers to whom Peter wrote by him, 1 Pet. 2. 11. The word ſignifieth, one worthy to be beloved, whom to love is moſt honeſt. Leigh C. S.

Dearth] Famine, Gen. 41. 54. 2 King. 4. 38. 2 Chr. 6. 28.

Concerning the dearth, Jer. 14. 1. or drought, Heb. concerning the words (that is, the matter, as Eſt. 9. 31. Pſal. 65. 3. & 17. 8.) of the reſtraints, to wit, of rain, as Pſal. 17. 8. where the ſame is in the ſingular number. Annot. As the want of rain hindereth the earth from bringing forth Corn for the ſuſtenance of man, ſo upon the want of Corn inſueth famine.

Death] Numb. 16. 29. The common death of all men, Heb. as every man dyeth, marg.

1 Ki. 2. 26. Worthy of death, Heb. a man of death, marg.

In the ſhadow of death, Luk. 1. 79. In a ſpirituall ſenſe, the ſhadow of death, is a ſtate of ſin and ignorance, want of light or knowledge, and want of warmth or grace; the deſcription of the ſtate under the Law, which afforded neither of theſe in any proportion to what is now done by Chriſt, and ſo left men in a dangerous condition, till Chriſt was thus pleaſed to ſhine upon them, and thereby to reſcue them out of it. Dr. Ham. Ann. ſ.

Debaſe, &c.] Iſa. 57. 9. Heb. made low, or laid low. Thou haſt laid thy ſelf low, or debaſed thy ſelf, as one that boweth himſelf down to the ground, or to the loweſt ground, as if thou wouldeſt goe even into the ground, or the grave. An alluſion, as ſome think, to ſuch vile and baſe Strumpets, who among the Greeks had their name from proſtituting themſelves on the ground; yea, under the ground, in Cellars, and Vaults, and in Tombes and Monuments, ſometimes. I conceive rather, from ſuch as in a moſt ſubmiſſe and ſervile manner, caſt themſelves at the feet of thoſe whom they ſue and ſeek to for ought, as if they would creep into the very ground. Annot.

Debate] 2 Cor. 12. 20. Strife, as ἔρις is rendred, Rom. 13. 13. Contention, 1 Cor. 1. 11. Evil ſtrife, in affections, words, ſcolding, brawling, yea all unjuſt ſtriving, quarrelling. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Debate] Pro. 25. 9. Debate thy cauſe with thy neighbour, Hebr. debate thy debate. Abſtain what in thee lyeth from ſueing thy neighbour at Law, agree, compoſe the difference between your ſelves. See Matth. 5. 25. & 18. 15. Tremel. Iſa. 57. 8. Debate, or contend. Annot.

Debt] Neh. 10. 31. Heb. hand, marg.

Decay] Faln in decay, Lev. 25. 35. Heb. his hand faileth, marg. that is, unable to relieve himſelf. Aynſw.

Iſa. 44. 26. Decayed places, Hebr. waſtes, as Neh. 1. 5, 8. & 2. 1, 2. Annot.

Deceaſe] Luk. 9. 31. 2 Pet. 1. 15. ἔξοδος, death, which is the departure of the ſoul out of the tabernacle of the body, into an heavenly countrey. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Deceaſed] Iſa. 26. 14. They are deceaſed, they ſhall not riſe. When they are once deſtroyed, they ſhall no more be able to recover themſelves and their former eſtate again, then a man when he is once dead, is able to recover, and return to life again. Dead, ſo called, of a word that ſignifies, to be infeebled, to faint, to remit, to give over, to ceaſe, becauſe men in dying grow faint and feeble; being dead, ceaſe to act, and to live. Annot. and on ch. 14. 9. Died, Mat. 22. 25.

Deceit] Prov. 20. 17. Bread of deceit, Heb. bread of lying, or falſhood, marg. Prov. 26. 26. Whoſe hatred is covered by deceit, or hatred is covered in ſecret, marg.

Deceitfull] Man, Pſal. 5. 6. Heb. the man of deceit, marg. So Pſal. 43. 1. Mouth of the deceitfull, Pſal. 109. 2. Heb. mouth of deceit, marg. Slothfull, Prov. 12. 24. marg. Prov. 27. 6. Earneſt, or frequent, marg. This is applyed to Man, Pſal. 5. 6. & 43. 1. Prov. 29. 13. Men, Pſal. 55. 23. Matters, Pſ. 35. 20. Tongue, Pſal. 52. 4. & 120. 2. Mic. 6. 12. Zeph. 3. 13. Bow, Pſal. 78. 57. Hoſ. 7. 16. Work, Prov. 11. 18. Workers, 2 Cor. 11. 13. Witneſſe, Prov. 14. 5. Meat, Pro. 23. 3. Kiſſes, Pro. 27. 6. Favour, Ib. 31. 30. Heart, Jerem. 17. 9. Weights, Mic. 6. 11. Luſts, Epheſ. 4. 22.

Deceitfully] Gen. 34. 13. With deceit. Aynſw.

Exod. 8. 29. Deal deceitfully any more, any more deceive. Aynſw.

Hitherto he had played the Hypocrite, whoſe whoſe manner is (in diſtreſſe) to ſpeak fair, and pretend humility, but no ſooner is the plague taken off, but Hypocrites return to their wickedneſſe again. See Pſal. 78. 34, 36, 37. Dealt deceitfully with her, or unfaithfully tranſgreſſed, and treacherouſly, failing of that which was expected at his hands. The Chald. tranſlateth, he hath ruled over her. Aynſw.

Lev. 6. 4. Fraudulently, by unlawfull and unjuſt means. Job 6. 15. Perfidiouſly, treacherouſly. So the word is uſed, Iſa. 21. 2. Jer. 3. 20. בגד, a garment, is of the ſame root, becauſe our firſt parents had no garments, till they dealt perfidiouſly with God. Their firſt garments were a cover, and a ſigne thereof. Annot.

Job 13. 7. And talk deceitfully for him. The word ſignifies literally, to ſhoot, or caſt down, as Exod. 15. 1. Pſal. 78. 9, 57. and metaphorically, to deceive, as Gen. 29. 25. For they that are caſt down by deceit, are ſhot at with calumnies, and caſt down from their hope. Annot. Pſal. 24. 4. To deceit. Aynſw.

Pſal. 52. 2. Working deceitfully, or doing deceit; that is, as a Razor, which in ſtead of cutting the hair, cutteth the throat. [Or it may be referred to the man, Q. doer of deceit, as the Greek ſaith, thou haſt done deceit. Aynſw. Jer. 48. 10. negligently, or ſlackly. Aynſw.

2 Cor. 4. 2. Uſing deceit. They handle the word deceitfully, who either corrupt it, by mingling falſe doctrine or humane traditions with it, or thoſe which preach the pure and ſincere truth, but not ſincerely, ſeeking by the preaching thereof their owne glory or gain, as did the falſe [Apoſtles, Phil. 2. 15, 16. Annot.

Deceitfulneſſe] Fraud, deceit, legerdemain, ἀπάτη, of a privat. & πάτος, a path. A drawing out of the way.

It's ſpoken of riches, Matth. 13. 22. Mar. 4. 19. and luſts, Heb. 3. 13. and is rendred in Col. 2. 8. deceit, in 2 Theſſ. 2. 10. deceivableneſſe, in 2 Pet. 2. 13. deceivings.

Deceivableneſſe] 2 Theſſ. 2. 10. It's all one with deceitfulneſſe, the originall word being the ſame.

Deceive] To delude, Gen. 31. 7. Deceitfully to oppreſſe, or defraud, by cavillation, calumniation, falſe accuſation, or other like unjuſt means, Lev. 6. 2. Aynſw. To entice, or draw away by riches, pleaſures, or falſe perſwaſions (of which Job 31. 27.) Deut. 11. 16. Aynſw. To beguile, 1 Sam. 19. 17. To faign ones ſelf to be another then he is, 1 Sam. 28. 12. To circumvent, deceive with fair words, or under a fair pretence, 2 Sam. 3. 25. To erre, or goe out of the right way. Metaphorically, to ſin, or goe out of Gods way, as Pſal. 119. 176. To be miſled by others, Job 15. 31. Annot. To allure, Job 31. 9. For Strumpets deceive by allurement, Prov. 7. 13, 14. Annot.

Deceive not with thy lips, Prov. 24. 28. or, rather (with Mercer, and others) Intice not with thy lips; that is, neither be thou thy ſelf, nor ſuborn any other to be a falſe witneſſe, which many will doe, when themſelves are loath to appear. Some Rabbins derive the Originall word from פתה, and ſo the ſenſe will be, Bruiſe not thy neighbour with thy lips, by bearing falſe witneſſe againſt him. Annot.

A deceived heart, Iſa. 44. 20. or, a deluded heart, as Judg. 16. 10, 13. Job 17. 3. Annot.

Greatly deceived, Jer. 4. 10. or much deceived, Hebr. deceiving deceived. Some, ſuffered them to be deceived, as Iſa. 63. 13. Ezek. 14. 9. by giving them up, and leaving them to their falſe Prophets deluſions. Others, thou haſt ſhewed this people to be greatly deceived. But they may well be read by way of Interrogation, Haſt thou indeed thus deceived this people? Annot. Jer. 5. 9. Mock, and delude, or beguile. Annot. Jer. 20. 7. The text may well be rendred, O Lord, thou perſwadeſt me, and I was perſwaded, to wit, by thee; (the word in his firſt notion ſignifieth to perſwade, in generall, and ſimply, and by perſwaſion (as it is oppoſed to a violent impulſion) to induce and allure unto the doing of ought good or evill, without any ſpeciall connotation of fraud or guile, as Prov. 25. 15. and is attributed to God himſelf, by Noah, Gen. 9. 27. in alluſion to Japhet's name; and by God himſelfe uſed of himſelfe, Hoſ. 2. 14.) Thou didſt perſwade me to undertake this Propheticall employment, when I was of my ſelf nothing forward, but averſe rather thereunto, and deſired to be excuſed from being ingaged therein, ch. 1. 6. Annot. To fail one, Lam. 1. 19. Annot.

Ezek. 14. 9. I the Lord have deceived that Prophet, 1 King. 22. 23. 2 Theſſ. 2. 11, 12. Rom. 1. 24. He deceives him by ſuffering him to be deceived by their rewards, as Judges are ſometimes by bribes, and birds and fiſhes by baits; by withdrawing alſo his ſpirit, and reſtraining grace from him, and by ordering wiſely and juſtly ſuch occaſions and occurrences as work upon his corruption. Annot. Zech. 13. 4. Heb. to lye. By their falſe propheſies, or by ſeeking to gain an opinion of holineſſe to themſelves from their rough garments, or to deceive the people with an opinion of holineſſe in the garment it ſelf, both which Popiſh Monks and Friers did by their Cowls and Friery weeds. Annot. To ſeduce, or cauſe to erre, Mat. 24. 4, 5. Tit. 3. 3. It is a word borrowed from Travellers that are in a wrong way, and that go by gueſſe, who are out of the way, (wander after the manner of wandring ſtars) and will not be called in. Leigh C S.

Rom. 16. 18. Fair ſpeeches deceive the hearts of the ſimple. The word ἐξαπατάω, ſignifieth ſuch a deceit which a falſe Thief uſeth to a Traveller, offering himſelf a guide to direct him a better way to his journeys end, and ſo leading him to ſome diſmall place, that he may rob him. Leigh C. S. To draw from the common and beaten way, as if one were not in the right way, Eph. 5. 6. (the originall is ἀπατάω. Leigh C. S.)

Deceiver] Gen. 27. 12. As a deceiver, or as one that cauſeth to erre. The Gr. tranſlateth it a deſpiſer, the Chald. a mocker; or, we may Engliſh it, a very deceiver, for in the Hebr. as is often a ſure affirmation, Neh. 7. 2. and ſo the Greek anſwering thereto, Joh. 1. 14. Aynſw. Mat. 27. 63. πλάνος, a notable Couſener, Impoſter, ſeduced, and ſeducing others. See Leigh C. S. Such a one our Saviour was reputed, but falſly; ſuch the Apoſtles alſo, 2 Cor. 6. 8. Others truly, that dealt fraudulently and falſe-heartedly with God, Mal. 1. 14. Such alſo as are mentioned, Tit. 1. 10. 2 Joh. 7.

Decently] 1 Cor. 14. 40. εὐσχημόνως, honeſtly, as the word is rendred, Rom. 13. 13. & 1 Theſſ. 4. 12. In a good faſhion, mannerly, modeſtly, orderly, ſeemly, fitly. Leigh C. S.

Decide] 1 King. 20. 40. To determine, conclude.

Deciſion] Joel 3. 14. or concuſion, or threſhing, for ſo the word is uſed, Iſa. 28. 27. & 41. 15. naming the place ſo from the event, alluding to the Harveſt, verſ. 13. and haply to the Valley of Jehoſaphat, where in times paſt he threſhed the Moabites and Ammonites. Annot.

Declare] Job 28. 27. or Number, mar.

Declaration] Eſt. 10. 2. Shewing, ſetting forth.

Decline] To turn aſide from, Deut. 17. 11. Aynſw. To ſwerve, Pſal. 44. 18. Aynſw. To ſtretch out, Pſal. 102. 11. Aynſw. To go aſide to the right hand, or the left, in exceſſe or defect, Job 23. 11. Annot.

Decreaſe] To be going, or abate, Gen. 8. 5. To diminiſh, Pſal. 107. 38. To be obſcured as a ſtar at the riſing of the Sun, Joh. 3. 30, Annot.

Decree] Dan. 6. 7. or Interdict, marg.

Decree] To ordain, conclude, determine, Eſt. 2. 1. To reſolve, Job 22. 28.

That decree, Iſa. 10. 1. or draw up; for the word ſignifies properly to pourtray, Ezek. 4. 1. or paint, ch. 23. 4. or engrave, ch. 22. 16. or write, ch. 30. 8. or delineate, circumſcribe, as with a compaſſe, ſet or limit out as by line and level, Pro. 8. 27, 29. Hence it is tranſlated to matter of Judicature, Ibid. 15. And ſome tranſlate it here preſcribe, becauſe Judiciary Sentences are not onely wont to be drawn up, and deſcribed, or engroſſed, but to preſcribe alſo what men are to doe, or to endure; and circumſcribe them, or keep them within compaſſe. Annot.

Decreed] Ibid. 22. Heb. decided, determined, 1 Ki. 20. 40. or, preciſely cut out, Job 14. 8. as infallibly, and unfailably, or irrecoverably decreed; ſo exactly limited how far forth it ſhall proceed. So Dan. 11. 36. Annot.

Dedicate] Deut. 20. 5. or initiate, that is, begin to take poſſeſſion of, and to uſe it; which was wont to be done with ſolemnity, feaſting, and ſinging praiſe to God, as the Title of Pſalm 30. ſheweth, concerning David's houſe. Aynſw. To conſecrate, 2 Sam. 8. 11. To purifie, Heb. 9. 18. marg.

2 King. 12. 4. Dedicated things, or holy things, Heb. holineſſes, marg. Ezek. 44. 29. or devoted, marg.

Dedication] or Initiation, conſecration; called in Heb. Chanuccah; which when it is ſpoken of Men, meaneth the catechiſing, initiation, information, and training up to any new thing, which they were not accuſtomed to before. When of other things, (as of Houſes, before they dwelt in them, Deut. 20. 5. the Houſe of the Lord, 1 King. 8. 63. the Altar, Num. 7. 20. Things ſet apart for holy uſes, 1 King. 15. 15. 2 Chr. 15. 18. 2 King. 12. 18. Ezek. 44. 29.) it meaneth the firſt uſing of them, or dedication and conſecration to their firſt uſe, which was done with ſolemnity, 2 Chro. 7. 5, 9. Ezr. 6. 16, 17. Neh. 12. 27--43, &c. Aynſw. on Numb. 7. 10.

Deed] Act, Gen. 44. 15. Work, Matth. 16. 27. Luk. 23. 41, 51. Act. 19. 18. And in many other places, Action, Matter, Buſineſſe, 2 Sam. 12. 14. Retributions, Iſa. 59. 18. Annot. Jam. 1. 25. or Doing, marg.

Good deeds, Neh. 13. 14. Heb. kindneſſes, m.

They overpaſſe the deeds of the wicked, Jer. 5. 28. They goe beyond the very Heathen themſelves in wickedneſſe. The Hebrew is word for word, they paſſe by words or matters of evill, that is, evill things. When any evill either is menaced, or befalleth them for the evil

evill they doe, they paſſe it, or put it by, and do the evill for all that. Others thus, they paſſe by evill, they eſcape thoſe evill occurrents of penalty and judgement, wherewith others are ſurpriſed, as Pſal. 73.5. One underſtandeth it of perſons in bad caſe, ſad or afflicted, as the word evill is oft uſed, Gen. 41.4. Lev.27.10,33. Prov. 15.15. as if the meaning were, they paſſe by the matters, or cauſes of ſuch, refuſing to meddle with them. Annot.

There are deeds good, Neh.13.14. evill, Ezr. 9.13.

Deem] Act.27.27. To think, as the word ὑπονοέω is rendred, Act. 13.25. To ſuppoſe, as Act. 25.18.

Deep] Into the deep, Luk. 8.31. That ἄβυσσος ſhould here ſignifie the pit of hell, the place created for the devil and his angels, whereſoevẽ it is ſituate, may be gueſt by the nature of the word, which ſignifies bottomleſſe, and from the uſe of it in ſome other places of the New Teſtament, as Rev. 9.1,2. & 11.17. & 17.8. & 20.1,3. where there is mention of chains, as there is of tartarum, 2 Pet. 2.4. And ſo alſo the context here inclines it; for the firſt requeſt of the Devil to Chriſt was, verſ. 28. I beſeech thee torment me not. And in the other Goſpel, Mat.8.29. Art thou come to torment me before my time? Expreſſing the Devils fear, that by this coming of Chriſt, he ſhould preſently be caſt into his chains of hell, and confined to thoſe torments, which he thought belonged not to him till the day of Judgement; and the next was in plain words, not to ſend him into hell, or the pit. Dr. Ham. Annot. d.

A night and a day I have been in the deep, 2 Cor. 11.25. To what paſſage of St. Paul's ſtory this of his being a day and a night ἐν τῷ βυθῷ, in the deep, doth belong, cannot be ſhewed out of Scripture. 'Tis not altogether improbable what Beda ſaith, that in Cyzicum there is a Priſon, which for the depth of it under ground, is called βυθὸς, or the bottome of the Sea, a moſt noyſome filthy priſon. In this as a moſt infamous Priſon, St. Paul might well be caſt, paſſing from Troas to that City. Idem Annot. c.

Deeply] Iſa. 31.6. Have deeply revolted, Heb. have deepened revolt, namely, by their ſeeking to Ægypt, and relying on an arm of fleſh, verſ. 1,2. which is a revolting from God, 2 Cor. 16.7. Jer. 17.5. In the word of depth, ſome think there is an alluſion to the depths of their plots and projects; and digging deep, as imagining to conceal them even from God, ch. 29. 25. It is not unlikely that the Prophet had a purpoſe to minde them, both of the grievouſneſſe of their defection and malignancy, and of the greatneſſe alſo of the danger, that thereby they had plunged themſelves into, as being ſunk ſo deep in revolt, that unleſſe they did riſe and get up again the ſooner, by ſpeedy and hearty repentance turning unto God, from whom they had revolted, they were like ſuddenly to periſh without hope of recovery. Annot.

Deeply corrupted themſelves, Hoſ. 9.9. Hebr. made deep, or corrupted. So deeply rooted and drowned in the bottome and gulf of their idolatries and iniquities, that there is no hope of curing and ſaving them. Or wholly corrupted to the bottome, as Iſa. 31.6. Annot.

And he ſighed deeply, ἀναστενάξας, Mar. 8.12. Being vehemently offended with their ſo great infidelity, he inwardly grieved. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Deepneſſe] Matth. 13.5. No deepneſſe of earth. It's all one with the former words, they had not much earth; that is, not much care to receive, not much underſtanding to apprehend, not much faith to believe, not much will to obey, not much love to retain it. Annot.

Defamed] 1 Cor. 4.13. Gr. hard, or evill ſpoken of. Annot. Blaſphemed. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Defaming] Jer. 20.10. or defamation, or detraction, or ſlander, as it is not amiſſe rendred, Numb. 24.36. Pſa. 31.13. Pro. 10.18. for the word ſeems properly ſo to ſignifie, to wit, a falſe report, tending to the diſcredit of the party or thing, whereof it is reported, Numb. 13.32. & 14.36,37. Annot.

Defeat] To make voyd, diſappoint, fruſtrate, bring to nought, 2 Sam. 15.34. & 17.14.

Defence] Numb. 14.9. Heb. ſhadow, ma. 2 Chr. 11.5. A place of ſuccour, or refuge, fortification, ſtrong hold, &c. Job 22.25. or Gold, marg. Pſal. 7.10. Heb. buckler, m. Pſal. 59.9. Heb. high place, marg. So Pſal. 62.2. marg. & 89.18. Shield, mar. Iſa. 4.5. Heb. a covering, mar. The word here uſed comes from a root but once read, that ſignifies to cover, and by covering to protect. The word is found onely in two other places, Pſal. 19.5. & Joel 2.16. being in both uſed for one and the ſame thing, to wit, the Bridegroomes chamber, cloſet, or bower. A place, as of ſecrecy, ſecurity and ſafety, ſo of ſolace and delight; not unfit to repreſent as well the comfort and joy, as the immunity and ſafeguard, that Chriſt the Bridegroom by his gracious preſence, affordeth to the Church his Spouſe, Pſal. 31. 20. & 84. 11. & 91. 1. Annot. Nah. 2. 5. Coverer, or covering, marg. This by moſt is taken to be ſome engine, or movable defence, made after the ancient faſhion, under which the aſſailants drew neer to the wall, &c. Annot. Act. 22. 1. Anſwer, (wherein one rendreth an account of what he hath ſaid or done) as the the word ἀπολογία is rendred, 1 Cor. 9. 3. 2 Tim. 4. 16. 1 Pet. 3. 15.

Defenced City] Jer. 1. 18. Hebr. for a City of defence, Pſal. 108. 10. & 34. 7. that is, to be like a City ſtrongly built, and firmly fenced, ſupported for the ſtructure of it, not with timber, but with iron Columnes: and environed, not with ſtone, but with ſteel walls. Annot.

Jer. 4. 5. Let us go into the defenced Cities, for ſhelter and ſuccour againſt the invading enemies, Heb. Cities of fortification, or defence. Annot.

Defend] Judg. 10. 1. Heb. ſave, or deliver, i. e. to preſerve them in their peace, liberties, and the purity of Gods worſhip, againſt all that did oppoſe them. Annot. 2 Sam. 23. 12. comp. with 1 Chro. 11. 14, 27. To deliver, Pſal. 5. 11. To cover, or protect, mar. Pſa. 20. 1. To ſet on an high place, marg. Pſal 59. 1. Heb. To ſet on high, marg. Iſa. 31. 5. To fence, and ſo to defend, by fencing a place round about, as a Vineyard, ch. 5. 2, 5. or a Garden, Cant. 4. 12. which from thence hath its name. So Pſal. 34. 7. & 125. 2. Zech. 2. 5. Annot. Iſa. 37. 35. Heb. to ſhield (for thereof cometh the word ſhield, uſed v. 33.) or fence; for thereof alſo cometh the name of a garden, as a place fenced and incloſed, Cant. 4. 4. Annot. Act. 7. 24. To keep ſafe, ἐμύνατο.

Defie] Numb. 13. 7. To deteſt with angry threats, and hateſull indignation, as the word ſignifieth in Dan. 11. 30. Aynſw.

1 Sam. 17. 10. I defie the armies of Iſrael; that is, by daring and challenging them to fight with me, I expoſe them to ſcorn and contempt, if not a man in their whole army can be found that dare anſwer my challenge. Annot. 2 Sam. 21. 21. To reproach, marg. To reproach, dare, and challenge with ſcorn and deſpight. Annot.

Defile] Gen. 34. 2. Heb. to humble, marg. Iſa. 30. 22. To uſe in a diſgraceſull manner, as Deut. 9. 21. 2 King. 18. 4. & 23. 8, 13, 14.

Defiled, Mar. 7. 2. or Common, marg.

Defiled] Leſt they ſhould be defiled, Joh. 18. 28. Legally polluted by being preſent among the Heathen or Romane Souldiers, which being a Legall pollution, would make it unlawfull for them to eat the Paſſover. Dr. Ham. Paraph.

Defraud not] Mar. 10. 19. or Deprive not. Thou ſhalt reſt contented with thine owne, and not ſeek to increaſe thine owne condition by the diminution of other mens. Dr. Ham. Paraph.

Degenerate] Jer. 2. 21. The tearm u here hath in it a notion of revolting, or departing, ch. 17. 13. Annot.

Degree] Rank, eſtate, condition, whether low or high, 1 Chro. 15. 18. & 17. 17. Pſal. 62. 9. Of low degree, ταπεινὸς, one humbly minded, Luk. 1. 52. One who is afflicted with poverty, diſgrace, or any kinde of calamity, Jam. 1. 9. Annot.

Iſa. 38. 8. The ſhadow of the degrees, marked upon the ſurface of the Dyall, to ſhew the progreſſe of the Sun, and the proceſſe of the day together with it. Annot.

Delay] Exod. 22. 29. or, Not fail. See Deut. 26. 1, 2, &c.

Delaying is often uſed for deferring a thing to the laſt, and ſo conſequently for failing, and not doing it, Deut. 27. 10. & 23. 21. Hab. 2. 3. though it alſo may imply a deferring longer then the due time. Aynſworth. Exod. 32. 1. The firſt ſignification of the Hebrew word is to be aſhamed, Gen. 2. 25. and becauſe long tarrying and looking for ones coming cauſeth ſhame (as in Judg. 2. 35.) therefore the word is alſo uſed for tarrying, or delaying the time, Judg. 5. 28. and ſo is here tranſlated by the Chald. & Gr. And in Rev. 10. 6. time is uſed for delay. Aynſw. Pſal. 119. 60. To diſtract ones ſelf, to wit, with worldly cares, fears, pleaſures, &c. Aynſw. Mat. 24. 48. To tary, ſo the Originall χρονίζω, is rendred, Luk. 1. 21. Mat. 25. 5. Heb. 10. 37. To linger, or prolong the time, Act. 9. 38.

Delay] Act. 25. 17. Ἀναβολὴν, prolonging, differring. He commendeth his owne juſtice herein. Long delayed often proveth more heavy then ſpeedy injuſtice. Annot.

Delectable] Iſa. 44. 9. Their delectable things ſhall not profit; their delightfull or deſirable things. Their Idols, which they do ſo dearly affect, and delight ſo much in, ſhall not ſtand them in any ſtead when they need their help, ch. 45. 20. Jer. 2. 28. or, they are altogether unprofitable, good for nothing, verſ. 10. ch. 41. 29. Ann.

Delicacies] Rev. 18. 3. See Dict. on the Revel.

Delicate] Deut. 28. 54,56. Dainty. See Iſa. 47. 1.

Delicates] Jer. 51. 34. He hath filled his belly with my delicates. He hath filled his treaſuries with whatſoever matter of ſpeciall price or worth he could finde in me, Iſa. 39. 4, 6. 2 Chr. 36. 18. Lam. 1. 10. See the like expreſſions, Job 15. 20, 23. See alſo v. 44. Annot.

Delicately] 1 Sam. 15. 35. retaining ſtill the countenance and carriage, the garbe and gate of a King, although in his preſent condition he was become a priſoner. Annot. Pro. 29. 21. Daintily, Lam. 4. 5. Deliciouſly, Heb. on delicates or dainties. Luk. 7. 25. Pleaſure, τρυφῇ, or ryot, as the word is rendred, 2 Pet. 2. 13.

Delicateneſſe] Deut. 28. 56. Daintineſſe, niceneſſe.

Deliciouſly] Rev. 18. 7, 9. See Dict. on the Revel.

Delight] To be in love with, love greatly, like well of, Gen. 34. 19. To chuſe to love, Deut. 10. 15. To take pleaſure in, Deut. 21. 14. To accept of, 2 Sam. 15. 22. Annot. To finde ſpeciall delight and ſingular pleaſure in, Job 22. 26. Annot. To have a love and liking to, Jer. 6. 10. To be good in ones eyes, Eſt. 2. 14. comp. with verſ. 4. Annot. To affect, Pſal. 37. 23. Aynſw. To be well pleaſed, Iſa. 42. 1. Annot. To will, or have to be done, Iſa. 65. 12. Annot. To finde comfort in God, when the world affords none, or from him receive matter of delight, as a fruit of his prayers. Ann. To be delighted with, Rom. 7. 22. Annot.

It's ſpoken of God, of the godly, of the wicked.

Delight] Pleaſure, delectation, rejoycing, Pſal. 1. 2. & 16. 3.

Delight is not ſeemly for a fool, Pro. 19. 10. The free uſe of things is not to be permitted to him that cannot uſe them aright. Or delight may be taken here for dainties and pleaſures, the uſuall effects and evidences of wealth and greatneſſe, as if he had ſaid, Wealth and abundance doth not become a fool. Annot.

Delightſome land] Mal. 3. 12. A moſt happy land, and abounding with all things that can be deviſed in the world. Annot. Pleaſant, lovely, acceptable, deſirable.

Delilah] See Dalilah.

Deliver] To ſave, Judg. 2. 16. marg. To ſhut up, 1 Sam. 17. 46. & 23. 12. marg. To judge, 1 Sam. 24. 15. marg. To turn aſide, Job 36. 18. marg. To paſſe away, Pſal. 81. 6. marg. To make to be found, Zech. 11. 6. mar.

Deliver] To cry out in travell, 1 Sam. 4. 19. marg.

Deliverance] 2 King. 5. 1. or Victory, m. 1 Chr. 11. 14. or Salvation, marg. Obad. v. 17. or Eſcape, marg.

Deliverance from Jacob, Pſal. 44. 4. Or, the ſalvations of Jacob, that is, the full ſalvation, the abſolute deliverance of thy weak people the poſterity of Jacob. Aynſw.

It is uſed in the plural number, in way of extention and augmentation, to intimate a concurrence of all manner of ſalvation and deliverance, fully and perfectly accompliſhed. See Annot. on Iſa. 26. 18.

Deliverer] Heb. a Saviour, Judg. 3. 9. m.

No deliverer between them, 2 Sam. 14. 6. None to part them. See marg.

Delivery] Draweth neer the time of her delivery, Iſa. 26. 17. Hebr. approacheth to bring forth, or to be delivered, as 1 Sam. 4. 19. Annot.

Deluſion] Strong deluſion, 2 Theſſ. 2. 11. Efficacy of deluſion, ἐνέργεια πλάνης. Leigh's An. The word πλάνη is rendred errour, in Matth. 27. 64. Rom. 1. 27. Jam. 5. 20. 2 Pet. 2. 18. & 3. 17. 1 Joh. 4. 6. Jude v. 11. Deceiving, Eph. 4. 14. Deceit, 1 Theſſ. 2. 3. God by withholding his grace, ſhall blinde their eyes, who wilfully ſhut them againſt the truth; or, for their obdurate malice and incredulity, ſhall give them over to Satan, to captivate their mindes and underſtandings, and powerfully ſeduce and deceive them, 1 King. 22. 22. Job 12. 26. Iſa. 19. 14. Ezek. 14. 9. Rom. 1. 24, 28. 2 Cor. 4. 4. Annot.

Deluſions, Iſa. 66. 4. or their devices, or deſignes. Some Interpreters here render it, deluſions, illuſions, petulancies, or mockeries; which ſome take actively or ſubjectively, for the abuſes, indignities, and diſhonors done by them, and offered to Gods ſacred Majeſty; and theſe put for the reward of them, or the reward of the ſame due unto them. Others paſſively, or objectively, for the reproachfull and diſgraceſull uſages, which they ſhall be expoſed unto, undergoe, and indure; and this well ſuteth with what followeth: ſo the meaning will be; As they have made choyce of ſuch wayes and courſes as pleaſe not me; ſo will I make choyce of ſuch things for them as they ſhall finde ſmall pleaſure in; ſuch as ſhall bring nothing but reproach and deriſion, dread, and diſtraction, upon them that ſhall expoſe them to ſhame and terrour, Jer. 18. 16. & 19. 8. & 24. 9. & 25. 9, 18. & 29. 18. If hereby we underſtand devices and deſignes, the the due and deſerved reward of them are meant, as ch. 65. 7. Annot.

Demand] And the demand by the word of the holy ones, Dan. 4. 17. or according to the word of the holy ones in this Petition. Intimating, that in the conſultation as it were about the puniſhing of the pride of Nebuchadnezzar, the holy Angels petitioned for this very thing, as well as the holy ones and Saints on earth petitioned againſt him. Annot.

Demand] To ask, inquire, ſearch after, 2 Sam. 11. 17. Dan. 2. 27. Luk. 3. 14.

I will demand of thee, Job 38. 3. Heb. and make thou me to know. Annot.

Demonſtration of the Spirit, and of power] 1 Cor. 2. 4. He preached ſo, that his doctrine by the Spirit wrought powerfully in the hearts of his hearers. Or, by the demonſtration of the Spirit, and of power, he meaneth the evident confirmation of his doctrine by the gifts of the holy Ghoſt, and the ſignes and wonders which he wrought among them. Annot. Or, a ſecret power and authority of the Spirit going with his Word, inlightening with his owne, other mens underſtandings; and heating by his owne, other mens affections. Leigh's Ann.

Deny] To withhold from, Prov. 30. 7. marg.

Deny me not, 1 King. 2. 16. Hebr. turn not away thy face, marg.

I denyed him not, 1 King. 20. 7. Hebr. I kept not back from him, marg.

Denounce] To ſignifie, tell, declare, foreſhew, advertiſe, make knowne, Deut. 30. 18.

Depart] Jer. 6. 8. Heb. be looſed, or diſjoynted, marg. 1 King. 15. 19. Heb. go up, ma. 1 King. 11. 21. Let me depart, Heb. ſend me away, marg.

Iſa. 38. 12. Mine age is departed, Hebr. my generation, (as Jer. 2. 31. Act. 13. 26.) that is, mine age, (as ours render it) or mine iſſue, (my poſterity, as others, becauſe he had no male-iſſue then. See ch. 53. 8.) or mine habitation (as Pſal. 84. 10) is made to goe, (as Job 4. 21.) Annot.

Departure] (A removing or going forth) into exile, likely, and captivity. Annot. Death, 2 Tim. 4. 6. (ἀνάλυσις) which as it were the unfolding of the net, or the breaking open of the priſon dore, by which the ſoul being before detained in a kinde of thraldome, is enlarged. Leigh C. S.

Depoſed] Dan. 5. 20. Chald. made to come down, marg.

Deprived] Bereaved, Gen. 27. 45. Aynſw. Job 39. 17. God hath deprived her of wiſdome, Heb. hath made her to forget wiſdome; that is, hath not given to her. Annot.

Iſa. 38. 10. I am deprived of the reſidue of my yeers, namely, which I hoped to have lived, and in courſe of nature might have done. So Pſal. 55. 23. & 89. 45. & 102. 24. Heb. I am made to miſſe the reſidue of my yeers, ſo ſome. Or, as others, I am bereaved of the reſidue of my yeers. Annot.

Deputed] Conſtituted, appointed, ſet apart, 2 Sam. 15. 3.

Deride] To mock, ſcoffe, laugh at, Hab. 1. 10. And they derided him, Luk. 16. 14. The Phariſees did not ſimply laugh at Chriſt, but gave alſo externall ſignes of ſcorn, in their countenance, geſtures, they blew their noſes at him, for that's the meaning of the originall, ἐκμυκτηρίζω. Leigh's Annot. They contemned him as a thing of nought, and unconſiderable, as if he broached vain paradoxes, eccentrick, and far out of the way to the worlds affections. Annot.

Deriſion] Have in deriſion, Job 30. 1. Laugh me to ſcorn. This is ſpoken of God, Pſal. 2. 4. but after the manner of Men, (as it's ſaid he laugheth, mocketh, is angry, &c.) not that he hath ſuch paſſions as men, but becauſe he doth ſuch things as men uſe to doe when they are moved with ſuch paſſions. The Heb. Doctors ſay, The Law ſpeaketh (of God) according to the language of the Sons of Adam. Aynſw.

Deſart] Behold he is in the deſart, Mat. 24. 26. that is, Chriſt, or his true Church where he is preſent, is in the Separation, and among thoſe who withdraw themſelves from the publick profeſſors of Chriſtianity: for thoſe falſe Chriſts, and their inſtruments, uſed to draw men and women out into the Deſarts, where they might more ſecurely, and without diſcovery or reſiſtance make head, and gather Congregations. Annot.

Deſcent] The deſcending or going down, Luk. 19. 37. where he was in ſight of Jeruſalem. Annot. Heb. 7. 3, 6. Gr. pedegree, m.

Deſcription] The largeneſſe of every ſeverall Region and Province, with the Cities, Towns, and Villages therein, Joſh. 19. 6.

Deſcry] To view, or take ſpeciall notice of, Judg. 1. 23.

Deſerts] According to their deſerts, Ezek. 7. 27. Heb. with their judgements. Annot.

Deſerve] Haſt puniſhed us leſſe then our iniquities quities deſerve, Ezr. 9. 13. Heb. hath withheld beneath our iniquities. God withheld his hand from taking vengeance of them, according to their deſire. Annot.

God exacteth of thee leſſe then thine iniquity deſerveth, Job 11. 6. He layes not upon thee all the puniſhment thy ſins have deſerved, but layes far leſſe load upon thee. Others read it thus, That God forgetteth thee in compariſon of thine iniquity; that is, that he puniſheth thee ſo little that he ſeems to have forgotten the greatneſſe of thy ſin; and therefore thou haſt no cauſe to think that he deals hardly with thee. Annot.

Deſire] Deut. 14. 26. Hebr. aſk, marg. 1 Sam. 20. 4. Heb. ſpeak, or think, marg. Jer. 22. 27. Heb. lift up their minde, mar. Jer. 44. 14. Heb. lift up their ſoul, marg.

Earneſtly deſireth, Job 7. 2. Heb. gapeth after, marg.

Deſire] Job 31. 35. or Signe, mar. Job 34. 36. or, my Father, mar. Eccl. 6. 9. Heb. ſoul, marg. Eph. 2. 3. Gr. the will, marg.

The deſire of women, Dan. 11. 37. Some apply this unto Antiochus, as meant of him, for that he would not permit his owne Wives (whereof one ſerved the God of Iſrael) to worſhip any other God ſave Jupiter Olympius. Some unto the Romane Empire, for that the Emperours children were not made Succeſſors in the Empire, according to the deſire of their Mothers. But Mr. Parker in his Viſions and Propheſies of Daniel expounded, diſapproveth thoſe, & applyeth it to Antichriſt, with whom the lawfull deſire of women, that is, marriage, is not regarded, who lightly eſteems it in all, and forbids it to the Clergy, as is foretold, 1 Tim. 4. 3. p. 119.

Deſirable] Ezek. 23. 6. Hebr. of deſire. Tremel.

Deſirous] Affected, or taken with deſire, Prov. 23. 3. To be willing, Luk. 23. 8. To have a minde.

Joh. 16. 19. Being affectionately deſirous, 1 Theſſ. 2. 8. ἱμειρόμενοι, deſiring with affection, deſirouſly deſiring, being held with ſuch a deſire and affection as of a parent or friend; touched, taken up with a deſire, from ἵημι, or ἵμαι, I ſend, or extend, and ἔρως, love, deſire. Some read it ὁμειρόμενοι, that is, joyned, [and cleaving to you, from ὁμοῦ, together, and εἴρω, I joyn. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Deſolate] Solitary, forſaken. Spoken of perſons, both men and women, 2 Sam. 13. 20. Job 16. 7. Pſal. 25. 16. & 40. 15. Iſa. 49. 21. Jer. 10. 25. Lam. 1. 13. & 4. 5. Ezek. 20. 26. & 35. 4. & 36. 3. Mic. 6. 13. Gal. 4. 27. 1 Tim. 5. 5. Of ſeverall other things, as of Altars, Ezek. 6. 6. Cities, Job 15. 28. Iſa. 54. 3. Jer. 9. 11. Congregation of the hypocrites, Job 15. 34. Countrey, Iſa. 1. 7. Flocks of ſheep, Joel 1. 18. Garners, Ib. 17. Gates, Lam. 1. 4. Ground, Job 38. 27. Habitation, Pſal. 69. 25. Act. 1. 20. Heart, Pſa. 143. 4. the Heavens, Jer. 2. 12. Heritages, Iſa. 49 8. Jer. 2. 12. the High places, Ezek. 6. 6. the High-wayes, Lev. 26. 22. Houſes, Iſa. 5. 9. Luk. 13. 35. Idols, Mic. 1. 7. Inhabitants, Jer. 10. 25. Land, Iſa. 6. 11. Mountains, Ezek. 33. 28. Palaces, Ib. 19. 7. Places, Job 3. 14. Pſal. 109. 1. Sanctuary, Dan. 9. 17. Towers, Zeph. 3 6. Vallies, Iſa. 7 19. Waſters, Ezek. 36. 4. Waters, Iſa. 15. 6. Wilderneſſe, Jer. 12. 10.

Deſolate, Iſa. 3. 26. or Emptyed, Hebr. cleanſed, marg.

Deſpair] To have no hope, 1 Sam. 27. 1. To be paſt hope, 2 Cor. 1. 8.

Not in deſpair, 2 Cor. 4. 8. or, not altogether without help or means, marg. There is a rationall deſpair, when a man having erroneouſly ſought for ſome good from that which is wholly unable to afford it, doth thereupon give over ſo fruitleſſe an enquiry, and betake himſelf to that which is more effectual, Iſa. 55. 2. And there is a paſſionate deſpair, proceeding from that frowardneſſe of heart, which ſuch a diſappointment is apt to produce in carnall mindes, when becauſe a man cannot enjoy that good from a thing which he expected, he will therefore wholly fall out with it, though it be otherwiſe good in its degree, and doth bring ſuch comfortable fruit as God appointed it for. This is a ſinfull deſpair. Ann. on Eccl. 2. 20.

Deſperate] One that thinks his miſerable ſtate to be incurable, Job 6. 26. (See Jer. 2. 25.) Annot.

Deſperate ſorrow, Iſa. 17. 11. or deadly pain. Annot.

Deſperately wicked] Jer. 17. 7. Both words are but one in the Text, which ſome render deſperate, ſome deadly; others joyning both together, deſperately bent unto, and ſet upon deadly miſchief; wholly given deceitfully to deſtroy, and to do miſchief, 2 Sam. 20. 9, 10. Pſal. 64. 5. Annot.

Deſpiſe] 2 Sam. 19. 43. Hebr. ſet us at light, marg.

Deſpiſed, Neh. 4. 4. Heb. deſpite, marg.

Deſpiſers] Act. 13. 41. which ſeemeth to be taken from Iſa. 28. 14. where they which are here tearmed deſpiſers, are called there ſcornfull men, men of deriſion, irriſion, mockers and deſpiſers of Gods Word. Ann.

2 Tim. 3. 3. ἀφιλάγαθοι, not lovers (but haters) of them that are good, yea of goodneſs it ſelf. Leigh C. S.

Deſpite] Contempt, deſtruction, Ezek. 25. 6. See Dict. on Heb. 10. 29.

Deſpitefully to uſe one] Mat. 5. 44. Luk. 6. 28. To vex, trouble, annoy, hurt, as they which do diſpleaſure with ſundry incurſions and inroads, moleſt with invaſions, not unlike the ſallies of a martiall man; the originall ἐπηρεάζω, coming from the root Ἄρης, Mars. Or, falſly to accuſe, as the word is rendred, 1 Pet. 3. 16. Leigh Crit. Sac. The originall ὑβρίζω, thus rendred in Act. 14. 5. is rendred in Mat. 22. 6. by entreated ſpitefully, in Luk. 11. 45. reproacheſt, in 1 Theſſ. 2. 2. ſhamefully intreated.

Deſtitute] Pſal. 102. 17. The lowly. So the Greek here turneth it, which elſewhere we call heath, that groweth in the Wilderneſſe, Jer. 17. 6. & 48. 6. By the name in Hebr. it ſeemeth to be ſome naked ſhrub, and ſo a fit reſemblance of Gods afflicted people made low, naked, and deſolate by their enemies. Or, we may turn it, the broken down, or ruined, from Jer. 51. 54. Aynſw.

Pſal. 141. 8. Leave not my ſoul deſtitute, Heb. make not my ſoul bare, marg.

Prov. 15. 21. Deſtitute of wiſdome, Heb. voyd of heart, marg.

Ezek. 32. 15. Deſtitute of that whereof it was full, Heb. deſolate from the fulneſſe thereof, marg.

1 Tim. 6. 5. Deſtitute of the truth. Voyd of all care and love of truth. Hall. As being averſe therefrom, enemies thereunto.

Heb. 11. 37. Deſtitute, wanting thoſe things whereof they ſtood in need.

Jam. 2. 15. Deſtitute of daily food, wanting, lacking daily food.

Deſtroy] Gen. 7. 4. Heb. Blot out, mar. Ex. 8. 9. Heb. cut off, marg. Exod. 15. 9. or poſſeſſe, mar. Deut. 32. 25. Heb. bereave, mar. 2 Chr. 14. 13. Heb. break, mar. 2 Chr. 31. 1. Heb. to make an end, marg. Job. 2. 3. Hebr. to ſwallow up, marg. Job 4 10. Heb. beat in pieces, marg. Job 34. 25. Hebr. cruſh, marg. Pſal. 5. 10. or, make guilty, marg. Pſa. 52. 5. Heb. beat down. marg. Pſal. 78. 47. Hebr. kill, marg. Hoſ. 2. 12. Heb. make deſolate, m. Mal. 3. 11. Heb. corrupt, marg.

To deſtroy, Exod. 12. 13. & 2 Chr. 20. 23. Heb. for a deſtruction, marg.

Deſtroyer] A breaker thorow, Pſa. 17. 4. that is, the robber or thief, as this word is expounded in Greek, Mat. 21. 13. from Jer. 7. 11. One that breaketh bounds, or limits, houſes, hedges, laws, &c. So Ezek. 18. 10. Aynſw. A high-way thief, and robber, Prov. 28. 24. Heb. a man deſtroying. Annot.

To the deſtroyers, Job 33. 22. Heb. to thoſe that kill men. Which may be underſtood either of enemies, or of diſeaſes. Annot. One that maketh waſte, Iſa. 49. 17. Spoken of an Angel, Exod. 12. 23. Samſon, Judg. 16. 24. Nebuchadnezzar, Jer. 4. 7. the Chaldeans, Jer. 22. 7. & 50. 11. the plague, 1 Cor. 10. 10. comp. with Numb. 14. 37.

And were deſtroyed of the deſtroyer, 1 Cor. 10. 10. What is here ſaid, they were deſtroyed by the deſtroyer, is in the ſtory from whence 'tis taken, Numb. 14. 37. They died by the plague before the Lord. So the Angels that came to Lot's houſe, are ſent to deſtroy the City, Gen. 19. 13. In all which, and many more places, where plagues are ſaid to be inflicted of God by Angels, it doth not appear that the Angels uſed as inſtruments of thoſe plagues are the faln Angels, or Devils, but thoſe heavenly that wait on God, to execute his wrath, as well as convey his mercies. Thus Gods coming with his Angels is an expreſſion of deſtructions, and yet thoſe are μυριάδες ἁγίων, Jude v. 14. or multitudes of heavenly Angels. Dr. Ham. Ann. d.

Deſtruction] 2 Chr. 22. 7. Hebr. treading down, marg. Iſa. 1. 28. Heb. breaking, marg. So Iſa. 15. 5. marg. & 59. 7. m. Hoſ. 7. 13. Heb. ſpoyl, marg.

Detain] To retain, or cauſe to tarry, Judg. 13. 15.

Determinate] Act. 2. 23. Determined, and as it were by definitive ſentence concluded; By the determinate counſell. Not that the counſell of God herein excuſed the Jews or Judas wickedneſſe, ſeeing God wrought not in them, but by them, making good uſe (for mans redemption) of that they did wickedly. Annot.

Determination] Zeph. 3. 8. Right, decree. Annot.

Determine] 2 Sam. 13. 32. or Settle, mar. 2 Chr. 25. 16. Heb. counſell, mar.

Deteſt] Deut. 7. 26. To abhor, have or eſteem abominable.

Deteſtable things, Jer. 16. 14. As of Men, Pſal. 106. 38. & 7. 31. & 19. 5. Ezek. 16. 20. And of vile and unclean creatures, which they ſacrificed to their Idols, Deut. 12. 17. Iſa. 65. 4. & 66. 16. called the carkaſſes of their Idols, Lev. 26. 30. wherewith they cauſed God to abhor his owne inheritance, Pſal. 106. 40. Annot.

Devil] Put for the gods of the Heathen, and Idols, Deut. 32. 17. 1 Cor. 10. 20. the Golden Calves, Calves, 2 Chr. 11.15. Wicked perſecuters, Rev. 2.10.

Thou haſt a devil, Joh. 7.20. All ſort of diſeaſes were in thoſe dayes brought on men (ſometimes) by the devil, and ſo generally they that are brought to Chriſt for cure, are ſaid to be poſſeſt, but eſpecially thoſe who were more ſtrangely affected, without any viſible cauſe of it, were generally thought to ſuffer this from the Devils getting power to poſſeſſe them; and of ſuch ſort eſpecially mad men, who not being diſcernibly ſick, or ill-affected, did yet behave themſelves as if they were in ſome ſtrong diſtemper, which is oft an effect of a diſeaſe, or μανίας ἔνδον, and therefore were by them thought to be poſſeſt by ſome evill ſpirit. So ch. 10.20. & Matth. 11.18. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Devilliſh] Jam. 3.15. or full of Devils. The Greek word ends in ὠδης, denoting a fulneſſe, becauſe fleſhly wiſdome aims at Satans end, viz. to keep a man in an unregenerate eſtate. It's the wiſdome which is proper to Devils, or which is inſpired by Devils or evil ſpirits. This worldly wiſdome is called devilliſh, both becauſe it imitateth the Devil, and is ſuggeſted and inſpired by him. The Devils are called Daimones, as if it were δαήμονες, that is knowing; and the Ancients did attribute unto them the invention of ſciences & humane arts; but properly they were the firſt authors and inventers of worldly wiſdome, which teacheth men to vilifie others, to exalt themſelves, and what's theirs. Leigh's An.

Devilliſh, that is, that which the Devill practiſes, Job 1.10, 11. Rev. 12.10. Annot.

Deviſe] Exod. 31.4. To think thoughts. Aynſw. To uſe, 2 Sam. 14.14. Annot. To plot and contrive to root out, 2 Sam. 21.5. Annot. To invent, 1 King. 12.33. To plot together, Pſal. 31.13. Aynſw. To think, Pſal. 35.4. Id. To imagine. Ib. 20. Id. To practiſe, Pro. 2.20. mar. To think of, or conſider earneſtly, Pro. 26 9. To conſult, or contrive, Iſa. 37.2. Annot. To purpoſe, Lam. 2.17 Idem. See Cunningly.

Debote] Lev. 27.28. Devoted thing, in Heb. Cherem, in Gr. Anathema, which word Luke uſeth in Gr. for the gifts wherewith the Temple was adorned, Luk. 21.5. It meaneth things dedicated and ſeparated from common uſe to God. And often this Cherem is uſed for deſtroying a thing utterly as accurſed, Exod. 22.20. Deut. 7.2. & 20.17. And for forfeiting or confiſcation of goods, Ezr. 10.8. Here, and in Numb. 18. and other where it is put for devoted things, wholly given unto God. Aynſw.

Devotions] Act. 17.23. σεβάσματα. Such things are dedicated to the worſhip of God, or of them who are taken for, or thought to be gods, as Altars, Temples, Images, Monuments. Leigh Crit. Sac. Gods that you worſhip, marg.

Devourer] Mal. 3.11. The Caterpillars, and whatſoever deſtroyeth corns and fruits. Annot.

D I.

Diadem] Job 29.14. Not onely a covering of the head, but an ornament to it, ſurrounding the Temples, as the word imports. Such did Kings and Prieſts wear. Annot.

It's put, 1. for Gods adorning of his Church, Iſa. 28 5.

2. For the Churches excellency, Iſa. 62. 3.

3. For a Kingdome, Ezek. 21.26.

Diall] Iſa. 38.8. Sun-dial of Ahaz, Heb. degrees by or with his Sun, marg. which were marked upon the ſurface of the dial, to ſhew the progreſſe of the Sun, and the proceſſe of the day together with it. Annot.

Die] 1. Corporally, the death of the body.

2. Spiritually.

3. Eternally. See To dye.

Died] for Coloured, Exod. 25.5. Iſa. 63 1.

Diet] Jer. 52.34. or Proviſion, though having reference chiefly to Diet, yet including alſo all other ordinary accommodations together with it. Annot.

Differ] To vary, or be unlike, 1 Cor. 15.41. Gal. 4.1.

Who maketh thee to differ? Gr. diſtinguiſheth thee, marg.

Differing gifts, Rom. 12.6. diverſe, unlike.

Difference] A ſevering, Exod. 11 7. Separating, Lev. 10.10. & 11.47. & 20.23. Aynſw. Diſtinction, Rom. 3.22. & 10.12.

Differences] Diverſity, 1 Cor. 12.5.

Dig] 2 Chr. 26.10. or Cut out, marg.

Dignity] Excellency of dignity, Gen. 49.3. that is, moſt excellent in dignity or preferment. Whereby the dignity of the Prieſthood ſeemeth to be meant, as by ſtrength following, is meant the government or Kingdome. Aynſw. Eſt. 6.3. Reward by ſome honorable place, or profitable office, Eccleſ. 10.6. High advancement, Heb. heights, marg. Hab. 1.7. or exaltation, or deportation and captivity; or burden, as ſome tranſlate the word. Annot.

Dignities] Speak evill of dignities, Jude v.8. Speaking evill of thoſe that are ſet over them, them; whereby is meant, their contumelious uſage of the Apoſtles, or Governours of the Church (who are called δόξα Χριστοῦ, the glory of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 8. 23.) with whom particularly they had many controverſies and diſputations (referred to verſ. 9.) in which thoſe contumelious ſpeeches, on the Gnoſticks part, would be but effects of their great daring pride, (mentioned 2 Pet. 2. 10. immediately before it) and of their diſcriminating themſelves from all others, verſ. 19. and ſo is very probable to have been obſervable and accuſable in them. Dr. Ham. Ann. c.

Diligence] Haſte, Mar. 6.25. Luk. 1.39. Carefulneſſe, 2 Cor. 7.11. Care, Ib. 12. Forwardneſſe, 2 Cor. 8.8. Earneſt care, Ib. 16. as the word σπουδὴ, is there rendred, as Rom. 12. 8. 2 Cor. 8 7. Heb. 6. 11. 2 Pet. 1. 5. Jude v. 3. by diligence. It is a ſpeedy and ſwift putting of the thing, whereunto one hath a mind, in execution.

Diligent] Studious, earneſt, painful, forward, and that giveth or ſetteth his mind to a thing; Prov. 10. 4. & 12. 24,27. Careſull, inquiſitive, Pro. 27. 23.

A diligent ſearch, Pſal. 64.6. Heb. a ſearch ſearched, marg.

Diligently] Inſtantly, σπουδαίως, Luk. 7.4. Carefully, earneſtly, readily, with affection or ſignification of good will, with taking pleaſure and delight.

It's applyed to Asking, Deu. 3.14. Bringing on ones journey, Tit. 3. 13. Conſidering, Pſal. 37. 10. Prov. 23. 1. Jer. 2.10. Doing, Ezr. 7. 23. Following, 1 Tim. 5. 10. Hearing, Job 13. 17. & 21. 2. Hearkening, Ex. 15. 26. Deut. 11. 13. & 28. 1. Iſa. 21. 7. & 55. 2. Jer. 17. 24. Inquiring, Deut. 17.4. Mat. 2. 7, 16. Keeping, Deut. 4. 9. & 6. 17. & 11. 22. Pſal. 119.4. Learning, Jer. 12.16. Looking, Heb. 12.15. Obeying, Zech. 6.17. Obſerving, Deu. 24.8. 1 Ki. 20.33. Searching, Mat. 2. 7. 1 Pet. 1. 10. Seeking, Lev. 10. 16. Prov. 7. 15. & 11. 27. Luk. 15. 8. 2 Tim. 1. 17. Heb. 11.6. Teaching, Deut. 6.7. Act. 18. 25.

Dim] His eyes were dim, 1 Sam. 4.15. Heb. ſtood. marg.

Mine eye alſo is dim, Job 17. 7. The word primarily ſignifies contracted or ſhrunk up. And it is applyed ſometimes to the eye, the nerves whereof being ſhrunk up by ſickneſſe, or old age, the ſight decayes, as ch. 16. 16. Pſ. 6. 7. Sometimes to wounds, when they are contracted and grow leſſe and leſſe, as Lev. 13. 6. Sometime to the minde, the Spirits being contracted or leſſened by griefe of heart, as Ezek. 21. 7. Annot.

The eyes of them that ſee ſhall not be dim, Iſa. 32. 3. or cloſed, as ch. 29. 10. or, ſhall not look another way, or they ſhall now look aſide, after their Idols, and other frivolous ſtayes, whereon they then relyed and reſted. Annot.

How is the gold become dim? Lam. 4. 1. The Hebr. word ſignifies to hide, conceal, or cover, Ezek. 28. 3. & 31. 8. How is the gold wherewith Gods houſe was ſo richly and royally adorned, now overwhelmed and covered over with traſh, and buried in heaps of duſt and rubbiſh. Annot.

Dimneſſe] Iſa. 8. 22. The word ſeems to import utter or extreme darkneſſe. Annot.

Iſa. 9. 1. Dimneſſe ſhall not be ſuch, Heb. it ſhall not be dimmed or darkened. Annot.

Dinaites] Ezr. 4.9. This, and the eight other names following, are Chaldee names of thoſe Nations that the King of Aſſyria placed in the Land of Iſrael, within the circuit of the ten Tribes. Annot.

Dine] Gen. 43. 16. Heb. eat, marg. See Luk. 11.37. Joh. 21 12, 15.

Dinner] Prov. 15.17. The word אֲרוּחָה cometh of אָרַח, he journeyed, and ſignifies a Travellers dinner, a ſhort and ſudden one, without preparation. Annot. Buxtorf. Matt. 22. 4. Luk. 11. 38. & 14.12. ἄριστον, as if it were ἀόριστον, for that there was no certain hour appointed before; or ἄριστον from ἄρειον which ſignifies the morning; or for that πρὸς τὴν ἄρτα it was pregared for them that were going to war; or, ἀπὸ τῆς ἀρᾶς, from prayers, which are to be premiſed; or, of ἄριστος, the beſt, for that in reſpect of a Supper, a Dinner is the beſt, as whereby the ſtrength of the body is repaired, and is enabled to daily labour. Leigh C. S.

Diotrephes] Who loveth to have the prehemi-nence, 3 Joh. 9.

This Diotrephes was a Chriſtian that from Gentiliſme, received the Faith in that Church to which Gaius belonged, and to which the Apoſtle ſeems to have ſent the former Epiſtle Commendatory of the Brethren, verſ. 9. Whether he were a Biſhop in this Church, may be doubted; or whether onely one that immoderately aſſerted that dignity, or aſſumed it, not belonging to him, φιλοπρωτεύων may ſignifie one that loves, or uſeth immoderately this dignity, when he hath it, and one that ſeeks it inordinately, and aſſumeth it. Dr. Ham. Annot. c.

Dip] in blood, Exod. 12.22. Lev. 4. 6. & 14.51. Gen. 37 31. Pſal. 68.23 Rev. 19.13. an boney-combe, 1 Sam. 14.27. oyl, Deut. 33.24. vinegar, Ruth 2. 14. water, Numb. 19. 18. Spoken of a bunch of hyſop, Exod. 12. 22.

the

the Prieſts finger, Lev. 4. 6, 17. the living bird, cedar-wood, ſcarlet, and hyſop, Lev. 14. 6. hyſop, Numb. 19. 18. the foot, Deut. 33. 24. morſell, Ruth 2. 14. the tip of Lazarus his finger, Luk. 16. 24. Joſeph's coat, Gen. 37. 31. the Prieſts feet, Joſh. 3. 15. Naaman, 2 King. 5. 14. a ſop, Joh. 13. 26. Judas his hand, Mar. 14. 20. a rod, 1 Sam. 14. 27. a thick cloth, 2 Kin. 8. 15. a veſture, Rev. 19. 3.

Direction] Numb. 21. 18. The word is (ſuplyed) not in the text, which is therefore printed in another character.

Directly] Numb. 19. 4. Directly before the Tabernacle; that is, toward the fore part, or dore thereof. Aynſw.

Dirt] Ordure, or mans dung, Judg. 3. 22. Clay, Pſal. 18. 42. Aynſw.

Iſa. 57. 20. Whoſe waters caſt up mire and dirt. This ſome expound of the iſſue of wicked mens practiſes againſt Gods people, as producing nothing beneficiall to themſelves, but ſorry traſh, ſuch as the Sea is wont to caſt up. Others, of the effects of Gods judgements upon them, whereby he would work them unto repentance, but cauſeth them onely to diſcover their own filth, wherewith their hearts are full fraught. See Jude v. 13. Rev. 16. 8, 11. Annot.

Diſallow] To diſapprove, diſlike, nullifie, be contrary unto, Numb. 30. 5, 8, 11.

The ſtone which the builders diſallowed, 1 Pet. 2. 7. ἀπεδοκίμασαν, rejected, Mat. 21. 41. Mar. 8. 31. & 12. 10. Luk. 9. 22. & 17. 25. & 20. 17. Heb. 12. 17. In all which places the Originall word is the ſame.

Diſanul] To make voyd, Job 40. 8. An. Iſa. 28. 18. Shall be diſanulled, Heb. expiated. So ch. 27. 9. Or, as ſome, dawbed over, becauſe the word is ſo uſed, Gen. 6. 14. It ſhall be clean wiped away as a writing blotted out, and a deed defaced and cancelled; for ſo it is alſo, when ſins are expiated with God, ch. 23. 25. Col. 2. 14. Annot. To abrogate, Gal. 3. 17. Heb. 7. 18.

Diſappoint] Pſal. 17. 13. Heb. prevent, m. To make voyd, or fruſtrate, Job 5. 12. Annot. To break, Pro. 15. 22. Idem.

Diſcernet] Heb. 4. 12. See Dict. on the Hebrews.

Diſcharge] Eccl. 8. 8. or, Caſting off weapons, marg. There is no diſcharge in that war; or, no weapon wherewith we can prevail in our war with death; or, there is no miſſion into this battle, no dimiſſion in this war. No man can have a vacation, or an exauctoration from that warfare. There is no protection or deliverance from the hand of death. Annot.

Diſcharged] 1 King. 5. 9. I will cauſe them to be diſcharged there; disburdened, unloaded. There my men ſhall leave them with thy ſervants, that they may be diſcharged of them. Annot.

Diſcipline] Job 36. 10. He openeth alſo their ears to diſciplne. The Originall מוסר, from יסר ſignifieth both chaſtening, Iſa. 26. 16. and inſtruction, Pro. 1. 7. for by correction cometh inſtruction, Pſal. 119. 71.

Diſcomfit] Judg. 8. 12. Heb. terrifie, mar. Iſa. 31. 8. His young men ſhall be diſcomfited, or they ſhall be unto tribute, or they ſhall become tributary, or they ſhall be unto melting. The meaning is, either their multitude ſhall melt away, as 1 Sam. 14. 16. or their heart ſhall melt within them, as Joſh. 2. 11. & 5. 1. & 7. 5. And they ſhall faint for fear, as chap. 10. 18. Annot.

Diſcomfiture] 2 Sam. 14. 20. מהומה, Deſtruction, 1 Sam. 5. 9. Vexation, 2 Chron. 15. 5. Trouble, Iſa. 22. 5. See Buxtorf. Dict. in the word הום.

Diſcontented] 1 Sam. 22. 2. Heb. bitter of ſoul, marg.

Diſcontinue] Jer. 17. 4. Shalt diſcontinue from thy heritage; or intermit, ceaſe from, and forbear to till the land that thou now poſſeſſeſt. Annot.

Diſcover] Job 12. 22. To unfold a thing and lay it open to the ſight of men, which was hid from them before. Annot.

Job 41. 13. Who can diſcover the face of his garment? Who can take that off from him that is ſeen as a garment about him, and hides a great part of him, that is, the Sea? Who can take that ſhelter from him? Annot.

Diſcovered, Pſal. 18. 15. Revealed. Aynſw.

Diſcovereth, Pſal. 29. 9. Maketh bare. Idem. Iſa. 3. 17. & Hab. 3. 13. Heb. make naked, m. Act. 21. 3. To appear, Act. 27. 39. κατανόουν, from κατανόεω. To take exact notice of, to conſider, Mat. 7. 3. To perceive, Luk. 6. 41. To behold, Act. 7. 31, 32. Jam. 1. 23, 24.

Diſcouraged] Iſa. 42. 4. He ſhall not be diſcouraged, Heb. broken, mar. or bruiſed. And it is uſed in a notion of oppreſſion, 1 Sam. 12. 3, 4. & 58. 6. Hoſ. 5. 11. Amos 4. 1. Others, he ſhall not run; referring it to another root, and expounding it either of timidity and cowardiſe, that ſetteth men on running, ch. 21. 14, 15. Jer. 48. 9. or of temerity and turbulency, that maketh men run on head, Job 5. 13. Proverbs 19. 2. and ſo the meaning ſhould be, He ſhall doe all things conſiderately, and adviſedly, not haſtily, or raſhly. Annot.

Col. 3. 21. Leſt they be diſcouraged, ἀθυμῶσιν, be put out of all heart, caſt down in their mindes. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Diſcreet] Prudent, wiſe, indued with underſtanding, Gen. 41. 33, 39. σώφρων, Tit. 2. 5. Sober, as the word is rendred, 1 Tim. 3. 2. & Tit. 1. 8. One that can ſo moderate his affections, that in every thing he keepeth a ſuitable mean.

A man of a ſound minde; that is, prudent, and circumſpect, from σάω to keep, and φρὴν the minde, or φρόνησις wiſdome. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Diſcreetly] Mar. 12. 39. ὑπεκρίθη, as it were from ὑπὸ κρίνειν, he anſwered as one having a ready minde, as we vulgarly ſay, with his wits about him, or learnedly, and skilfully. Annot. The word is ſignificant, as one having a reaſonable ſoul. Leigh C. S.

Diſcretion] Pſal. 112. 5. Heb. judgement, m. Prov. 1. 4. or Adviſement, marg. Prov. 19. 11. or Prudence, marg.

Which is without diſcretion, Pro. 11. 22. Heb. departeth from diſcretion; is voyd of, or careth not for wiſdome, knowledge, underſtanding.

Diſeaſe] A maladie, or evill diſpoſition of the body. It's in effect the ſame with ſickneſſe.

Pſal. 103. 3. Who healeth all thy diſeaſes, or ſickneſſes, griefs and puniſhments in ſoul or body, and ſpiritually ſins. Ayuſw.

Eccl. 6. 2. An evill diſeaſe, a very grievous trouble; when a man by ſordid thoughts, baſeneſſe of ſpirit, unquiet and unceſſant cares, greedy deſires, diſtruſtfull jealouſies, anxious fears, thronging employments, keeps himſelf from taking any delight in his Abundance, and pierceth himſelfe through with divers ſorrows, 1 Tim. 6. 10. Annot.

Diſeaſed] Corporally, 1 King. 15. 23. Mat. 9. 20. & 14. 35. Spiritually, Ezek. 34. 4, 21.

Diſfigure] Matt. 6. 16. The Originall word ἀφανίζω, is tranſlated in verſ. 19, 20. corrupt, in Act. 13. 41. periſh, in Jam. 4. 14. vaniſh. It ſignifieth the very aboliſhing of their favour, and viſage, deforming their natural complexion, and pining themſelves to make their faces pale, that ſo men might the better take notice of their much faſting. Leigh C. S.

This ἀφανίζειν πρόσωπα, being uſed as a means to make others believe that they are in a coudition of ſadneſſe and faſting; and of ſadneſſe, as that may be an evidence and reporter of their faſting: ſo it may poſſibly ſignifie onely negatively, they do not anoint and ſet out themſelves as men ordinarily doe, when no ſad occaſion forbids it. See v. 17. But it may alſo ſignifie to hide, cover; and it's known that that of hiding, veiling, or covering the face, was cuſtomary among the Jews, and hath been ſo among other Nations in time of mourning; and ſo ſtill among us the uſe of hoods in cloſe mourning is obſerved, and veils are generally the garment of mourners. See 2 Sam. 19. 4. Eſt. 6. 12. Ezek. 24. 7, 22. Mic. 3. 7. And then why may not this be the meaning here? Dr. Ham. on Matth. 6, 16. Annot. h.

Diſguiſe] To diſſemble, or faign one ſelf to be what he or ſhe is not, as the Wife of Jeroboam, 1 King. 14. 2. Ahab, 1 King. 22. 30. A Prophet, 1 King. 20. 38.

And diſguiſed his face, Job 24. 15. Hebr. putteth his face in a ſecret place. Hideth it with his cloak, or with a viſard, that he may not be diſcovered. Annot.

Diſh] In 2 King. 21. 13. the State of Jeruſalem is reſembled to a Diſh; the Inhabitants thereof, to the Filth thereon. Maids uſe to waſh and wipe clean away the filth on the Diſh. Thus ſhould the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem be clean taken away, and the ſtate of the Jews utterly overthrown, and turned upſide down. Annot. Mat. 26. 23. A charger, or platter, being a kinde of veſſel in which meat was put.

Diſhes, Exod. 25. 29. or chargers. To receive the fine flower, and other oblations brought unto the Temple, and for the Shew-bread which were to be placed upon them. Ayuſw. Annot.

Diſhoneſt gain] Ezek. 22. 13, 27. Gain got by covetouſneſſe, avarice.

Diſhoneſtly] 2 Cor. 4. 2. Gr. ſhame, mar.

Diſhonour] Ezr. 4. 14. The Chaldee word which is thus tranſlated, properly ſignifieth the nakedneſſe of the privy parts, which cauſeth contempt. Annot. Pſal. 69. 20. or ignominy, calumny, ſlander. Ayuſw. Pro. 6. 33. A wound in his fame, which ſhall never be done away. Annot. Rom. 9. 21. 1 Cor. 15. 43. 2 Cor. 6. 8. 2 Tim. 2. 20. The Originall word ἀτιμία is tranſlated vile, Rom. 1. 26. Shame, 1 Cor. 11. 14. Reproach, 2 Cor. 11. 21.

Diſhonour To viliſie, have in ſmal eſteem, Mic. 7. 6. To deſpiſe, contemn, ignominiouſly deal withall, diſgrace, whether by word, deed, geſture, Joh. 8. 49. Rom. 1. 24. & 2. 23. See Leigh Cr. Sac. in ἐπαισχύνω. To make aſhamed, καταισχύνω. So this word (rendred diſhonour in 1 Cor. 11. 4.) is tranſlated, Rom. 5. 5. & 9. 53. or, confounded, marg. To confound, 1 Cor. 1. 27. To ſhame, Ib. 11. 22.

Diſinherit them] Numb. 14. 12. Deprive them them of the Land promiſed unto their Fathers: the Gr. & Chald, tranſlate, deſtroy them. Aynſw.

Diſmayed] Iſa. 21.3. Heb. afrighted. An. Be not diſmayed, Iſa. 41. 10. The word properly ſignifieth to look about, ch. 17. 7,8. or to look aſide, ch. 32. 3. as men are wont to do when they are in diſtreſſe, Pſal. 142. 4. then to be amazed, as in ſuch caſes men oft are, ch. 29. 9. And laſtly, to be diſmayed, as here. Annot.

Jer. 17. 18. Let them be diſmayed, or deſtroyed, Heb. terrified, or afrighted, as Deut. 1. 21. Joſh. 1. 9. or broken to pieces, as 2 Sam. 22. 35. Pſal. 18. 34. Annot.

Diſmaying] Jer. 48. 39. or afrightment. Annot.

Diſmiſſe] To diſcharge, ſend away, licence, or give leave to depart, 2 Chr. 23. 8. Act. 15. 30.

Diſobedience] Eph. 5. 6. or Unbelief, m.

Diſobedient] Rebellious, 1 King. 13. 26. Ar. Mont. Such an one as is ἀνυπότακτος, 1 Tim. 1. 9. Not ſubject, untractable, refractary, who knoweth not to be ſubject himſelf. Unruly, as the word is rendred, Tit. 1. 6. That will not be brought under the yoke. Leigh Crit. Sac. Ἀπειθὴς, Rom. 1. 30. and 10. 21. Tit. 1. 16. & 3. 3. One that's ſtubborn, incorrigible, will not be perſwaded. Leigh Cri. Sac.

Diſorderly] ἀτάκτως, 2 Theſſ. 3. 6. Out of order, or aray, as Souldiers in War, having their ſtations aſſigned them, are, when they ſwerve therefrom. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Diſpatch] Ezek. 23. 47. כרת. To fell or cut down.

Diſperſions] Jer. 25. 34. The dayes of your ſlaughter, and of your diſperſions are accompliſhed, Heb. your dayes for ſlaughter, and your diſperſions. The time deſigned for the ſlaughtering and diſperſing of you is fully come, as Luk. 2. 6. Act. 1. 2. not paſt and gone, as the word in our Verſion might ſeem to import. Annot.

Diſplayed] Pſal. 60. 4. or, to uſe for a banner, which hath the name of lifting high. Aynſw.

Diſpleaſed] Act. 12. 20. Herod was highly diſpleaſed, or bare an hoſtile minde, intending war, 1 Sam. 8. 6. diſpleaſed Samuel, Heb. was evill in the eyes of Samuel, mar.

Diſpleaſure] Spoken of God, Deu. 9. 15. Pſal. 2. 5. & 6. 1. & 38. 1. ſignifies, wrath, fervent ire, inflamed diſpleaſure. The Originall Charon, noteth burning or inflammation of choler, ſometime of grief, Gen. 4. 5. Jonah 4. 10. Sometime of other affections, Neh. 3. 20. Aynſw. on Pſal. 2. 5.

Spoken of man, as Judg. 15. 3. it ſignifies ones doing harm or hurt unto another.

Diſpoſed] Who hath diſpoſed the whole world? Job 34. 13. or, who hath placed him over the whole world? Who hath laid the charge of the whole world upon him? Annot. Job 37. 15. Secretly to order, and that unſeen of men. Ibi. Act. 18. 27. Would, thought good, 1 Cor. 10. 27. Think fit, are willing, Prov. 15. 33. The whole diſpoſition thereof, or every judgement or ſentence. Ibid.

Diſpoſition] Act. 7. 53. An ordinance, as the word διαταγὴ is rendred, Rom. 13. 2. Gal. 3. 19. or ordination, or miniſtration. See Leigh Crit. Sac.

Diſputation] Act. 15. 2. reaſoning, as the συζήτησις is rendred, Act. 24. 29.

Diſputations, Rom. 14. 1. διαλογισμοὶ, Engliſhed in Rom. 1. 21. imaginations, and in the mar. of Rom. 14. 1. thoughts. But it ſignifieth more, even reaſonings, diſputations, diſcourſes, done with weighing and poyſing things. Leigh Crit. Sac.

The word here (in Rom. 14. 1.) ſeems to ſignifie the arguings or reaſonings, and conſequently reſolutions of men concerning themſelves, to the managing their whole courſe of life, what is lawfull or unlawful for them; and particularly here (as the context inforced it) the reaſonngs and reſolutions of thoſe, that from the liberty of diſuſing the Moſaicall Law, given by Chriſt, conclude the lawfulneſſe of eating any thing. Dr. Ham. Annot. a.

Diſputer] Where is the diſputer of this world? 1 Cor. 1. 20. Where art thou that ſpendeſt all thy time in ſearching out the ſecrets of Nature, and in propounding and reſolving difficult queſtions? And thus he triumpheth over the Wiſards of the World, for there was not one of them that could ſo much as dream of this ſecret and hidden myſtery. Annot.

The Diſputer (ſaith Goodwyn in his Moſes and Aaron, p. 34.) inſiſted upon Allegories, and ſearched out myſticall interpretations of the Text. Hence himſelf was tearmed Darſchan; and his Expoſition or Homilie, Midraſch; and their School, Beth Hammidraſch. They were counted their profoundeſt Interpreters; whence that of the Pſalmiſt, Pſal. 84. 7. They go from ſtrength to ſtrength, is interpreted, from their Temple to their Beth-Hammidraſch; from an inferiour to a higher School. The Wiſe men were Teachers of Traditions; the Scribes Teachers of the Text, according to the literall interpretation; and the Diſputers, Teachers of Allegories and Myſteries; which fabulous expoſition breeds queſtions and diſputations, 1 Tim. 1. 4.

Diſquietneſſe]

Diſquietneſſe] Pſal. 38. 8. The groaning or rumbling roaring noyſe. Aynſw.

Diſſemblers] Pſal. 26. 4. that is, the hidden, that is, Hypocrites, ſecret evill doers, ſuch as hide themſelves to do evill. Aynſw.

Diſſenſion] στάσις, Act. 15. 2. & 23. 7, 10. In Mar. 15. 7. it's rendred inſurrection, in Luk. 23. 19. ſedition, in Act. 19. 40. uproar. It may be taken in good part, as Act. 15. 2. for that conflict that Paul and Barnabas had with the Patrons of Circumciſion, was warrantable and lawfull; as that altercation alſo which the Phariſees had againſt the Sadducees, Act. 23. 7.

Diſſimulation] Rom. 12. 9. Let love be without diſſimulation, ἀνυπόκριτος, unfaigned, that is, not hypocriticall, ſo the word ſignifieth. Thus muſt our faith alſo be, 1 Tim. 1. 5. & 2 Tim. 1. 5. Thus our wiſdome, Jam. 3. 17. hypocriſie, Gal. 2. 13.

Diſſolved] Neh. 2. 6. or Molten, marg.

Diſſolveſt my ſubſtance, Job 30. 22. Thou cauſeſt my body to melt away like wax, by the heat of my affliction. Some read it, and diſſolveſt my wiſdome. Thou bringeſt me to my wits end, like a Mariner in a grievous ſtorm, ſo that I ſee no way to eſcape, Pſal. 107. 27. Annot.

Diſtaffe] Prov. 31. 19. What this is, is well known unto good Houſewives. Time was when even Kings daughters were not aſhamed to be employed about this and the Spindle. Annot.

Diſtant] Exod. 36. 22. Equally diſtant one from another. Set in order one againſt another. Aynſw.

Diſtill] Deut. 32. 2. My ſpeech ſhall diſtill as the dew; or, let it diſtill, or flow down, as the Gr. tranſlateth, let my words come down as the dew; and the Chald. let my ſpeech be received as the dew. Aynſw.

Diſtinction] 1 Cor. 14. 7. The original διαστολὴ, in Rom. 3. 22. is tranſlated difference. So in Rom. 10. 12.

Diſtinctly] Neh. 8. 8. So they read in the book of the Law of God, diſtinctly. This is oppoſed to a faſt tumbling over the Word of God; when men ſpeak ſo faſt as people cannot diſtinguiſh their words, they read not diſtinctly. Annot.

Diſtracted] Pſal. 88. 15. for fear leſt evils ſhould befall me, or doubtfully troubled. Aynſw.

Diſtraction] 1 Cor. 7. 35. Let, impediment, hinderance.

Diſtreſſe] Gen. 42. 21. Anguiſh, Tribulation. Aynſworth. Pſal. 4. 1. Straightneſſe, Aynſworth. Luk. 21. 25. Affliction, miſery, 1 Cor. 7. v. 26. Neceſſity, marg.

Diſtreſſe] Deut. 2. 9. Diſtreſſe not, or uſe no hoſtility againſt. marg.

Numb. 22. 3. Moab was diſtreſſed; that is, irked, grieved, pricked in their hearts with a loathing of this people. Aynſworth. 2 Cor. 4. 8. Yet not diſtreſſed. The Originall στενοχωρούμενοι, ſignifieth not every preſſure, but to be ſo preſt by a throng in a narrow place, ſo that we cannot poſſibly get out; the meaning of the Apoſtle then is, that though they were laid in wait for, and beſet on all ſides, and were enforced to ſtrive and ſtruggle with all their might, yet that they eſcaped, and that God gave them an iſſue with the temptation, how great ſoever it were, 1 Cor. 10. 13. Annot. The word in 2 Cor. 6. 12. is tranſlated, ſtraitned.

Diſtribution] 2 Cor. 9. 13. κοινωνία, in Rom. 15. 16. it's rendred contribution, in Heb. 13. 16. communication.

Diverſe kinde] Lev. 19. 19. The Hebrew Kilajim is a generall word for all mixed things, as the Chald. tranſlateth it, as in beaſts, ſeeds, garments, and the like, and it hath the name of reſtraint or prohibition, becauſe ſuch mixtures are forbidden. Aynſw. The reaſon of this was, that the order of Nature in the diſtinct kindes of creatures might be preſerved; and with this there was implyed an inſtruction againſt mixtures of Religion; as the prohibition of mingling of ſeed of ſeverall ſorts, and the wearing of a Linſey-woolſey garment, in this verſe, was a document or leſſon of ſimplicity, or ſincerity, againſt double dealing. Annot. It's in effect the ſame with various and manifold, and is ſpoken of ſeeds, Deut. 29. 9. weights, Deut. 25. 13. weights and meaſures, Prov. 20. 10. (wherewith to deceive in buying and ſelling, having large and heavy to buy withall, light and ſcanty to ſell withall) colours, Judg. 5. 30. 2 Sam. 13. 18. 1 Chr. 29. 2. kindes of ſpices, 2 Chr. 16. 14. veſſels, Eſt. 1. 7. laws, Ib. 3. 8. ſorts of flies, Pſal. 78. 45. vanities, Eccl. 5. 7. diſeaſes, Mat. 4. 24. places, Ib. 24. 7. kindes of tongues, 1 Cor. 12. 10. luſts, 2 Tim. 3. 6. miracles, Heb. 2. 4. waſhings, Ib. 9. 10. doctrines, Ib. 13. 9. temptations, Jam. 1. 2. as of divers other things.

Divers colours, Ezek. 17. 3. Heb. embroidering, marg.

Diverſities] 1 Cor. 12. 28. or Kinds, ma.

Divider] Luk. 12. 14. An umpire, diſtributer, or ſharer out.

Divination] Numb. 23. 23. that is, preſaging or foretelling of things to come. Aynſ. Deut. 18. 10. Without any ground of reaſon, or divine revelation. Annot. Some did it with ſand, ſome with ſtones, ſome by lying down on the ground, ſome with iron, ſome with a ſtaffe (See Hoſ. 4. 12.) carried in the hand and leaned on, &c. Aynſw. This was unlawfull, tearmed falſe, Jer. 14. 14. flattering, Ezek. 12. 24. lying, Ezek. 13. 6.

or

Spirit of divination] Act. 16. 16. πνεῦμα πύθωνος. This is an epithet of Apollo, who was wont to give anſwers to them that enquired. He was named Pythius, which Deut. 11. 18. is called אוֹב, ob. So 1 Sam. 28. 7. Annot. Ob ſignifieth a bottle, Job 32. 19. applyed to Magicians, who poſſeſſed with an evill ſpirit, ſpeak with hollow voice as out of a bottle, and (as ſome ſay) with ſwollen bellies; whereupon the Gr. verſion uſually calleth them, Eggaſtrimuthoi, as ſpeaking out of the belly. But the holy Ghoſt in Act. 16. 16. expoundeth it more fully, the ſpirit of Python, (or of Divination) meaning, of the Devil, whoſe anſwers were given to the Heathen by theſe means; the chief whereof was called Pythius Apollo, and his Temple Pythion, and his Feaſt Pythia, kept to his honour, who was faigned to kill the Serpent Python. Aynſw. on Deut. 18. 11.

Diviſion] 1 Cor. 1. 10. Schiſme, marg. 1 Cor. 3. 3. or Faction, m. Exod. 8. 23. Heb. redemption, marg.

Divorcement] Deut. 24. 1. Hebr. cutting off, marg.

D O.

Do] Joſh. 5. 8. To make an end, marg. Judg. 13. 1. To adde, marg. Mat. 6. 2. To cauſe, marg. Eph. 6. 13. To overcome, ma.

Doer] Gen. 39. 22. He was the doer of it; that is, by his word and appointment it was done. So the Chald. Paraph. (in the Maſſorites Bible) explaineth it, adding by his word. Thus Pilate is ſaid to give the body of Chriſt unto Joſeph, Mat. 15. 45. when he commanded it to be given, Mat. 27. 58. Aynſw. This is applyed to the Law, Rom. 2. 13. Jam. 4. 11. Work, 2 King. 22. 9. Jam. 1. 25. Word, Jam. 1. 22, 23. And ſpoken of the evill, Iſa. 9. 17. 2 Tim. 2. 9. 1 Pet. 4. 15. the proud, Pſal. 31. 23. the wicked, Prov. 17. 4. Pſal. 101. 8.

Evill doers, Job 8. 20. Heb. the ungodly, m.

Doleſull creatures] Iſa. 13. 21. Heb. Ochim, a word no where elſe found. It is by moſt thought to ſignifie ſome ſuch kind of harmful creatures, as by biting or ſcratching, put men to pain, as derived from an interjection of a mournfull notion. Ezek. 6. 11. & 21. 9. Some of the Rabbins ſay, they are ſuch as aſtoniſh men at the ſight of them. Yet others again would have them to be no other then our Ferrets. Nor want there of the Jewiſh Writers, that ſuppoſe the word to ſignifie not a beaſt, but a bird: Some kinde of fowle, ſo termed of the doleful tune that it hath. An. Mic. 2. 4. Doleful lamentation, Heb. lamentation of lamentations. Annot.

Doze] 1 King. 6. 32. The two dores, or leaves of the dores, m. 2 King. 25. 18. Heb. threſhold, mar. So 2 Chr. 23. 4. & Iſa. 6. 4. m. Jer. 35. 4. Heb. threſhold, or veſſel, marg. Ezek. 41. 2. or Entrance, marg.

The dore is now ſhut, Luk. 11. 7. The Romanes were wont to expreſſe the firſt part of the night, the cloſe of the evening, by prima face, candle-lighting. A latter part, other Nations expreſt by ſhutting up the dores, called in Gr. κλαυσίθυρον, which time was wont by a kinde of Bell-man to be cryed about the ſtreets. Thus in this place the dore is ſhut, is meant as an expreſſion of the lateneſſe of the time of night, and is expreſt verſ. 5. by μεσονυκτίου, at midnight. Dr. Ham. Annot. b.

Doze-keeper] Pſal. 84. 10. I had rather be a dore-keeper, Heb. I would chuſe rather to ſit at the threſhold, marg.

Doze-poſt] Exod. 12. 7. On the upper dore-poſt, &c. But on the threſhold under their feet it was not commanded to be ſprinkled. Hereby a reverend regard of the blood of Chriſt ſeemeth to be taught. See Heb. 10. 29. Aynſ. And to profeſſe unto all their love unto the Law, and to have it alwayes in remembrance, it was to be written on their Dore-poſts, Deut. 11. 20.

Doubt] Without doubt, Gen. 37. 33. Aſſuredly.

No doubt but, Job 12. 2. or, Of a truth. It is of the ſame root with Amen, and imports certainty. Annot.

Doubt] Make us to doubt, Joh. 10. 24. or Hold us in ſuſpenſe, marg.

He that doubteth, Rom. 14. 23. or diſcerneth and putteth a difference between meats, mar.

I ſtand in doubt of you, Gal. 4. 20. or I am perplexed for you, marg.

Doubtfull] Neither be ye of doubtfull mind, Luk. 12. 29. Live not in careſull ſuſpenſe, m. Be ye not of wavering and doubtful mindes, about temporall neceſſaries, as they muſt needs be, who depending onely on ſecond cauſes, do not put their confidence in Gods providence, which never faileth thoſe who truſt in him, Pſal. 9. 10. Heb. 13. 5. Annot.

The Originall μετεωρίζεσθαι, ſignifies primarily and literally, to be carryed up high in the air, as clouds or birds flying there, which becauſe because they have no firm foundation there, but are toſt and driven about uncertainly; hence it ſignifies firſt ῥόμβεσθαι, vagari, to think of this and that without any conſiſtence of minde. Secondly, to hang as the clouds do in the air, in an impatient ſuſpence, or anxiety. Thus to be in doubt and uncertainty of reſolution, is to keep in ſuſpence, Joh. 10. 24. Dr. Ham. on Luk. 11. 29. Annot. a.

Not to doubtfull diſputations, Rom. 14. 1. or not to judge his doubtfull thoughts, or the diſcernings of reaſonings. Annot.

Doubtleſſe] or Certainly, Iſa. 63. 13. Ann.

Doubts] Dan. 5. 12. Chald. knots, marg.

Dove] He ſaw the Spirit of God deſcending like a dove, Mat. 3. 16. That the holy Ghoſt both here and in other places, did viſibly appear, there is no doubt, but that he came upon Chriſt in the body or ſhape of a Dove, cannot be concluded from this place, nor from the parallel, Mar. 1. 10. but onely that the Spirit deſcended, and came, or lighted on him, as a Dove uſes to do on any thing, firſt hovering and overſhadowing it. The Spirit deſcended, ſo as he might be (and was really) ſeen as it were a dove, i.e. as a Dove viſibly deſcends and lights on any thing; or, in a manner ſomewhat reſembling a Dove, not defining any ſhape wherein the holy Ghoſt appeared. Dr. Ham. Annot. k.

Dough] Exod. 12. 34. Paſte, to knead and bake for bread, עֲרִסָה, for that it ſwelleth and is puffed up, Exod. 12. 34. Employed for a civil uſe, Ib. 39. a religious, Numb. 15. 20, 21. Neh. 10. 37. an idolatrous, Jer 7. 18.

Who ceaſeth from raiſing, (or the raiſer will ceaſe from making, marg.) after he hath kneaded the dough, Hoſ. 7. 4. Who ceaſeth from making and heating the Oven, no longer time then while the dough is kneaded and leavened; ſignifying their continuall, eager, burning deſire after theſe ſins. Annot.

Dongue] Phil. 3. 8. or Dogsmeat, σκύβαλα, as it it were, κυνάρια, crums caſt unto dogs. Leigh Crit. Sac A vile thing to be rejected.

Dongue-gate] Neh. 3. 13, 14. One of the gates of Jeruſalem was thus named, as whereby (in likelyhood) the rubbidge, ſullage, and filth of the City was carryed out.

Dongue-poyt] Neh. 2. 13. This was a place whither they brought their duſt and dongue; or elſe this was that dongue-gate, mentioned ch. 3. 13. Annot.

Down] 1 Sam. 16. 11. Heb. round, m.

Down ſitting] Pſal. 139. 2. Sitting. Aynſw.

Downward] Beneath, 2 King. 19. 30. Eccl. 3. 12.

Dowry] God hath endued me with a good dowry, Gen. 2. 20. or given me a good gift, as the Gr. tranſlateth. Aynſw.

D R.

Drag] Hab. 1. 15. or Flue-net, marg.

Burn incenſe to their drag, Ib. 16. In ſtead of acknowledging all their greatneſſe to come from God, and giving him thanks, and ſerving him, they attributed it unto themſelves, and to their induſtry, underſtanding, and valour, arrogating that to themſelves which was onely due to him. Annot.

Dragging the net with fiſhes] Joh. 21. 8. σύρειν, is properly to ſweep the ground, as they doe who fiſh with trails or draught-nets, whoſe plummets ſink the lower part of the Net to the ground, leſt the encloſed fiſh ſhould eſcape. Annot.

Draught] Matth. 15. 17. The Privy, or Houſe of office, ἀφεδρῶν, for that it's placed from common view, and thereupon men ſit whileſt they eaſe themſelves, of ἀπὸ & ἑδρῶν, from ἕζεσθαι, to ſit. Leigh Cr. Sac. In Luk. 5. 4, 9. the originall word is ἄγειν, which ſignifieth the taking a prey, namely of fiſhes.

Draught-houſe] 2 King. 10. 27. that is, a Jakes, or (as we ſay) a Privy. This they did to teſtifie the abominableneſſe of the Idol which there ſtood, and of the Idolatry which was there uſed. The Idols of the Gentiles had a name given unto them in Heb. which ſignifieth dirty or dungy gods. See 1 King. 15. 12. In this reſpect a Jakes was a fit houſe for them. Annot.

Draw] Joſ. 8. 6. Heb. pull, marg. Prov. 3. 13. Get, marg.

Drawer] Deut. 29. 11. Such as hewed wood, and drew water, were the baſeſt ſervants or ſlaves of Iſrael, (as afterward was the caſe of the Gibeonites, Joſh. 9. 21, 23, 27.) yet even they by faith were admitted into the Church and Covenant of Iſrael. Aynſw.

Dread not] Deut. 1. 29. Be not terrified. Aynſw.

Dreadfull] Gen. 28. 17. Fearfull. Aynſw.

A dreadfull ſound, Job 15. 21. Heb. a ſound of fears or terrour. Annot.

They were ſo high that they were dreadfull, Ezek. 1. 18. Of fearfull height, and compaſſe and motion. Repreſenting likely the high, wondrous, unſearchable adminiſtration of things in this world, and of the paſſages of Gods providence in them, bringing fear and dread, amazement and aſtoniſhment to men, Job 21. 7, &c. & 12 6. Pſal. 73. 1, &c. Jer. 12. 1. Hab. v. 2, 3. Annot. Spoken alſo of the fourth beaſt, Dan. 7. 7, 19. of the Chaldeans, deans, Hab. 1. 7. of God, Dan. 9. 4. of his name, Mal. 1. 14. of the day of the Lord, Ib. 4. 5.

Dzeamer] Gen. 37. 19. Heb. maſter of dreams, marg. Deut. 13. 1. Which ſaith he hath things revealed to him in dreams. Annot. By a dreamer, he ſeemeth to denote the inferiour ſort, that ſaw things more obſcurely; as by a Prophet, the ſuperiour ſort, ſuch as ſaw Viſions. Aynſw. The Apoſtle Jude ſpeaketh of filthy dreamers, verſ. 8. They were ſo given to wantonneſſe, that they not onely practiſed it, being awake, but alſo dreamed of it, and defiled themſelves in their ſleep. Or dreamers, becauſe they vented their owne dreams and fancies inſtead of Gods truth, Jer. 23. 25. to 28, 32. Annot.

Dzeſſer of the vineyard] Luk. 13. 7. The Keeper of the vineyard, the Vine-dreſſer, of ἀμπελ⊙, a vine, and ἔργον, work. Leigh C. S.

Dzew a bow] 2 King. 9. 24. Heb. filled his hand with a bow, marg.

Dzy] Job 12. 15. To extinguiſh quite, or deſtroy. Annot. Iſa. 42. 15. To lay deſolate the whole Countrey of Chaldea, and of thoſe that were adjacent and adjutant to it, Annot. Job 18. 16. To wither for want of moyſture, Annot. Job 28. 4. To be drawn up, or diminiſhed, Annot. Pſa. 69. 3. To be burnt, parched, or hoarſe, Aynſw. Joel 1. 10. or, To be aſhamed, marg. Dry, Ezek. 30. 12. Heb. drought, marg.

Dzyſhod] Iſa. 11. 15. Heb. in ſhooes, m.

Dzink] Job 40. 23. He drinketh, Hebr. he oppreſſeth, mar. Cant. 5. 1. drink abundantly, &c. or be drunken with loves, marg.

Dzinkers of wine] Joel 1. 5. Such as were exceſſive drinkers thereof, drunkards.

Dzinks] Heb. 9. 10. See the Dict. on Heb.

Dzive] 2 King. 9. 20. To march, marg. That which is driven away, Eccleſ. 3. 15. marg. That which is paſt, as it's in the Text.

Dziver] Job 39. 7. Heb. the Exactor, ma.

Dzop] The leaſt part of liquid matter; as of water, Job 36. 27. dew, Job 38. 28. blood, Luk. 22. 44.

Dzop] It's properly ſpoken of liquid things, as the rain, Deut. 32. 2. dew, Ib. 33. 8. water, Judg. 5. 4. honey, 1 Sam. 14. 26. It's taken for, To weep abundantly, Job 16. 20. See Pſa. 119. 28. To teach, preach, propheſie, Ezek. 20. 46. & 21. 2. Amos 7. 16. To bring or beſtow an ample bleſſing, as thy paths drop fatneſſe, Pſal. 65. 11. the fountains ſhall drop down new wine, Joel 3. 18. Ravanell. To come to decay. Through idleneſſe of the hands the houſe drappeth thorow, Eccleſ. 10. 18. Which firſt cauſeth the walls and timber to rot, and ſo tendeth unto ruine; and ſecondly cauſeth a mans habitation to be irkſome and uncomfortable unto him, Prov. 19. 13. & 27. 15. Annot.

Dzopſie] Which had the dropſie, Luk. 14. 2. Either a Tympany, or that which is the Anaſarca, or Dropſie univerſally ſpread over the whole body, the ſwelling fleſh becoming ſpongie and ſenſeleſſe; and ſo much the more incurable, by how much longer time the crude humour from the corruption of the liver had prevailed and ſetled an evill habit upon every part; what ever, how deſperate ſoever to man, he that made man, can repair any ruine in man, and perfectly cure him. Annot.

Dzobe] Gen. 32. 16. or herd, Gen. 33. 8. Company, camp. Aynſw. Band, mar.

Dzought] Gen. 31. 40. the Heat. Aynſw. Deut. 8. 15. or thirſt, meaning, a land of thirſt, as is expreſſed in Iſa. 35. 7. and ſo the Chald. here tranſlateth, a place of dryneſſe. Aynſw.

Dzowſineſſe] Lazineſſe, negligence, careleſneſſe, eſpecially when occaſioned through gluttony and drunkenneſſe, Prov. 23. 21.

Dzunkard] Deut. 21. 20. A drinker, or carouſer of wine. Annot. Pſal. 69. 12. Heb. drinkers of ſtrong drink, marg. One given to drink, accuſtomed to be drunk, μεθυσος, 1 Cor. 5. 11. & 6. 10.

Dzunken] It's put, 1. Properly, for one taken, overcome with drink, whether occaſionally, as Noah, Gen. 9. 21. (whoſe ſin may be compared with Adam's, who tranſgreſſed by eating, as Noah by drinking the fruit of a tree; upon that, Adam ſaw himſelf naked, and was aſhamed; upon this, Noah is naked, and his ſhame diſcovered. Aynſw.) And Lot, Gen. 19. 32, 35. Or otherwiſe, as Nabal, 1 Sam. 25. 36. This is diſcernible by their ſtaggering, Job 12. 25. Pſal. 107. 27. Iſa. 19. 24. Spuing, Jer. 25. 27. Speaking and doing they know not what; yet are not all thus, which are of others ſo judged, 1 Sam. 1. 13, 14. Act. 2. 15.

2. Figuratively, 1 For overwhelmed and afflicted ſore, Iſa. 49. 26.

2 Brought downe under judgement, Iſa. 63. 6.

3 Wanton riotouſneſſe, and infamous luſts, Hab. 2. 15.

4 All inordinate living, 1 Theſſ. 5. 7.

5 Exceſſive delight, Rev. 17. 2.

6 There's mention of drunken with wine, Gen. 9. 21. not with wine, or not ſo much, or not onely with wine, but with a ſpirit of ſtupidity, being dulled in their underſtanding, lulled aſleep in their ſinfull practiſes, unſteady in their courſes, as ſecure as men drowned in drink, and by reaſon thereof, in a deep, or dead ſleep, Iſa. 29. 9. Annot. With their owne blood, Iſa. 49. 26. Of the dregs of the cup of trembling, Iſa. 51.17. Wormwood, Lam. 3.15. The blood of the Martyrs of Jeſus, Rev. 17.6.

D V.

Due] Prov. 3. 27. From them to whom it is due, Heb. the owners thereof, marg.

Dulcimer] Dan. 3. 5. or Singing, Chald. ſymphony, marg.

Dumah] A City, Joſh 15. 52. or Countrey, Iſa. 21.11.

Dumb] Behold thou ſhalt be dumb, Luk. 1.20. The Hebr. חרש, as the Gr. κωφὸς, ſignifies both a dumb man, and a deaf, and is wont to be rendred either by ἀποκωφᾶν, or by ἀποκωφεῖν, Mic. 7. 16. i. e. growing, or becoming deaf, for there the Context refers to the ears. In this place one of the ſignifications of the Hebr. ſeems to be put for the other, σιωπῶν, ſilent, or dumb (if we beleeve Theophylact and the Ancients) for ſurdus, deaf, and ſo that which is added, καὶ οὐ δυνάμενος λαλῆσαι, and not able to ſpeak, will be no pleonaſme, but ſignifie him dumb alſo. For that he was not onely dumb, but deaf, appears by his friends, who did not ſpeak but nod, and make ſignes to him, verſ. 62. And it is not probable that of the two things that befell him, one ſhould be twice, and the other not once foretold by the Angel. Dr. Ham. Annot. f.

Dungeon] Exod. 12. 29. Hebr. houſe of the pit, marg.

Durable] Stable, ſtedfaſt, conſtant, Pro. 8. 18. The word in his prime notion ſignifies old, 1 Chr. 4.22. Pſal. 6. 7. Alſo durable, ſuch as will laſt long, as having a notion ſometime of continuance onely, not of decay, Job 21.17. Annot. on Iſa. 23.18.

Dure] Matth. 13. 21. Dureth for a while. Endureth for a time, as the word πρόσκαιρος, is rendred, Mat. 4.17.

Durſt] See Dare. Job 32. 6. Durſt not. Heb. I feared, marg.

Duſt of gold] Job 28. 6. or gold-oar, ma.

Duty] Ezr. 3. 4. As the duty of every day required, Heb. the matter of the day in his day marg.

D W.

Dwarf] Lev. 21.20. or hath a ſmall ſpot, or a thin film. This by the Hebr. is referred to imperfection in the eye; by others, to the ſmall or thin ſtature of the body; as to be a dwarf, or over ſlender. The Hebr. Dak, is generally that which is ſmall or thin. Aynſw.

Dwell] Joel 3.20. or Abide, marg. So Joh. 1. 28. marg. Dwell at eaſe, Pſal. 25.13. Hebr. lodge in goodneſſe, marg. The dwelling places, Job 21. 28. Heb. the tents of the Tabernacles. marg.

Dwellers] Inhabitants, Act. 1.19. & 2.9.

Dwelling] Gen. 10. 30. Heb. ſeat. Aynſw. Pſal. 91. 10. Tent. Aynſw. Jer. 49.33. A place of abode. Pſal. 87.2. More then all the dwellings of Jacob. Theſe the Chald. expoundeth Synagogues of the houſe of Jacob, which were in all the Cities of Iſrael. Aynſw.

E A.

Each] Every, Gen. 15.10. Numb. 1.44. & 7. 3, 11, 85. & 17. 6.

Each people, Neh. 13.24. Heb. of people and people, marg.

Eagle] Whereſoever the carkaſſe is, there will the Eagles be gathered together, Matth. 24. 28. Whereſoever the Jews are, there will the Romane Armies (whoſe enſigne is the Eagle, and who will have a ſagacity to find out Jews, as the Eagle hath to ſmell out carkaſſes, Job 39. 30.) find them out, and ſlaughter them. To this finall deſtruction of the Jews, by the Romane Eagles, that Propheſie ſo long before delivered by Moſes, Deut. 28. 49. & Hoſ. 8. 1. may be applyed. Dr. Ham. Paraph. & Annot. m.

Ear] Exod. 9. 31. The Hebrew Abib, ſignifieth a green ear of corn, with the ſtalk, Lev. 2. 14. Of it, the month when Corn was newly ripe, is called Abib, Exod. 13.4. Aynſ. Hereof meution is made, Mar. 4.28. & 2.23. Luk. 6.1.

Ear] 1 Sam. 8.12. Iſa. 30.24. To plough, till the ground, Gen. 45. 6. Neither earing, that is, ploughing, or tillage of the Land, the Chald. ſaith ſowing. This ſeemeth to be for lack of Corn, which therefore in the laſt yeer Joſeph ſupplyed, Geneſ. 47. 23. Aynſw.

Ear-ring] Gen. 28.22. or abillement, jewel, oueh; which was hanged ſometime on the ear, Gen. 35.4. Sometime on the noſe, face, or forehead, Ezek. 16. 12. And ſo this here was, as the 47 verſe ſheweth. Aynſw. Iſa. 3. 20. Amulets, ſuperſtitious trinkets of magicall device, ſuppoſed to have virtue againſt charms charms, and inchantments, and other casual evils: Plates or Medals of gold, with spels or characters ingraven on them to that purpose. This seemeth thence to be conceived, because of the neer affinity between the word here used, and that that signifies to charm and inchant, Psal. 58. 5. Eccles. 10. 11. Annot.

Earnest] Carefull, solicitous; applyed to expectation, Rom. 8. 19. Phil. 1. 20. desire, 2 Cor. 7. 7. care, Ib. 8. heed, Heb. 2. 1.

The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth, Rom. 8. 19. The word ἀποκαραδοκία (which cometh of ἀπὸ, κάρη the head, and δοκεῖν to bee seen) is very significant. It signifieth the looking for of some person or some thing, with lifting up the head, or stretching out of the neck, or putting forth the head, or setting out the eyes, with earnest intention and observation, to see when the person or thing shall appear; as a poor Prisoner that is condemned doth, who often putteth forth his head out of the window, in a continuall expectation of the gracious pardon of his Prince; or, as a man who looketh for the coming of a speciall friend, whose company he much desires, having a promise of his coming, he getteth him up to some Turret or high place, and putteth forth his head, and looketh this and that way, and he setteth his eyes on the way his friend is to come, to see if he can espy him coming, wishing and desiring his appearance: So the creature doth earnestly and continually (as it were) with the stretching out of the neck, or thrusting forth of the head, expect and wait when the Sons of God shall be revealed. The text runneth thus, The expectation, or earnest desire of the creature, expecteth or waiteth. An Hebr. Pleonasme to expresse the continuall desire or expectation of the creature. Mark first the emphasis of the word doth expect, as one that puts his head out of a Castle to look for some body. Secondly of the phrase, the expectation expects, as if the creature were nothing else but expectation. The Apostle in Phil. 1. 20. According to my earnest expectation, to signifie the strongnesse and sureness of his hope, useth this very word, expressing as much as they that earnestly looking for a thing, stretch out the head to look for it. Leigh C. S.

Earnestly desireth, Job 7. 2. Heb. gapeth after, marg.

Earn] To get or purchase by ones labour, Hag. 1. 6.

Earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes, Heb. pierced through, m. Ib. Reap not any profit or benefit by all their labours. Annot.

Earth] While the earth remaineth, Gen. 8. 22. Heb. as yet all the dayes of the earth, mar.

Earthen] Applyed to a Vessel, Lev. 6. 28. a Potters bottle, Jer. 19. 1. a Pitcher, Lam. 4. 2. as being made of earth.

In earthen vessels, 2 Cor. 4. 7. or in vessels of shell. Though the Apostles were as it were earthen vessels, of small price, weak, frail, subject to many knocks and falls, yet there was most excellent treasure of wisdome and knowledge in them. Annot.

Ease] To ease ones selfe, or do the work of Nature, Deut. 23. 13. Heb. sitteth down, marg.

Ease to be understood, 1 Cor. 14. 9. Gr. significant. Ease to be intreated, Jam. 3. 17. εὐπειθής, or gently intreating, for it may be taken either actively or passively; that is, to be perswaded easily to the best, or apt to perswade others with good speeches. Leigh C. S.

My yoke is ease, Matth. 11. 30. The word χρηστὸς signifies ἀγαθὸς good, and something more good in the highest degree, and is rendred gracious, 1 Pet. 2. 3. So Christs yoke, the precepts which he layes on his Disciples, are here said by him to be not onely a good, but a gracious, benigne, bounteous yoke, that any man is the better for taking on him. Dr. Ham. Ann. l.

Easier] Lighter, lesse burthensome, Exo. 18. 22. Not so hard, lesse difficult, Matth. 19. 24. Luk. 16. 17.

Easily] Soon, readily, 1 Cor. 14. 5.

East-side] Judg. 21. 19. or towards the Sun-rising, mar. Where the words border, end, gate, part, side, street, wind, are annexed hereunto, the sense is plain.

Easter] Act. 12. 4. πάσχα, the Passeover. The word is originally Hebr. signifying to passe by, to leap, or passe over, פֶּסַח Pesach, from פָּסַח, Pasach. See Exod. 12. 13, 27. Leigh. C. S.

Eastward] Gen. 2. 8. from Canaan, and Arabia Petrea, where Moses is thought to have been when he wrote this story, so was Mesopotamia situate. See Numb. 23. 7. compared with Deut. 23. 4. & Gen. 28. 2--8. inclusively, compared with chap. 29. 1. Annot. It's mentioned in many other places, whereof exact notice being taken, together with the context, it will be easie to find out the meaning.

Eat] Before I eat, Job 3. 24. Heb. before my meat, mar. Freely eat, Gen. 2. 16. Heb. eating thou shalt eat, Isa. 28. 4. He eateth it up, Heb. swalloweth, mar.

Eater] Out of the Eater came forth meat, Judg. 14. 14. i. e. which lives by prey, and devours all, and is food for none, came forth nouriſhment fit to preſerve the life of others, (namely, honey out of the carkaſſe of the Lion) Annot. There's mention of eaters of fleſh, Prov. 23. 20. bread, Iſa. 55. 10. figs, Nah. 3. 12.

E C.

Eccho] Ezek. 7. 7. Sounding again. See marg.

E D.

Edge] Ezek. 43. 13. Heb. lip, m. Spoken of the Sword, Gen. 36. 26.

Set on edge, Jer. 31. 29, 30. made dull, blunt, as the Original word ſignifieth.

2. Of hundreds, of Men, 2 Sam. 13. 8. Neh. 11. 12. Jer. 52. 29. Of yeers, Gen. 5. 4, 7, 10, 13, 16, 17, 18.

3. Of thouſands, of the Camp of Ephraim, Numb. 2. 24. Of the Males of the Kohathites, Numb. 3. 28. Of the Levites, from thirty yeers old, and upwards, Numb. 4. 48. Of the Iſraelites numbred by Joab, 2 Sam. 24. 9.

To ſeven and alſo to eight, Eccl. 11. 2. that is, to many, a definite number for an indefinite, 1 Sam. 2. 5. Job 5. 19. Mic. 5. 5. Annot.

Eighth] Applyed to Moneth, 1 King. 12. 32, 33. Perſon, 2 Pet. 2. 5. Perſon, or State, Rev. 17. 11. Precious ſtones, Rev. 21. 20. Yeer, 2 King. 24. 12.

Eighteen] Spoken of, 1. in units, and that of Cubits, 2 King. 25. 17. Perſons, Gen. 14. 14. Luk. 13. 4. Sons and Brethren, 1 Chr. 26. 9. Wives, 2 Chr. 11. 21. Yeers, Judg. 3. 14. & 10. 8. 2 King. 24. 8. Luk. 13. 11, 16.

2. In thouſands; as, of the Children of Iſrael that were deſtroyed by Benjamin, Judg. 20. 25. Of the Benjamites ſlain by the Iſraelites, Ib. 44. Of the Syrians ſmitten by David, 2 Sam. 8. 13. Of the half Tribe of Manaſſeh, which came to make David King, 1 Chr. 12. 31. Of the Edomites ſlain by Abiſhai, 1 Chr. 18. 12. Of talents of braſſe given by David, for the ſervice of the Houſe of God, 1 Chr. 29. 7. Of meaſures of the City, Ezek. 48. 35.

Eighteenth] Spoken of a Lot, 1 Chron. 24. 15. & 25. 25. Of Yeers, 1 King. 15. 1. 2 King. 3. 1. 2 Chr. 34. 8. Jer. 32. 1.

Eighty] Spoken of Yeers, Gen. 5. 25, 26, 28.

Either] is ſpoken uſually of two, whether Perſons, as Lev. 10. 1. Matth. 6. 24. Luk. 16. 13. or Things, as Levit. 13. 49, 58. Numb. 22. 26. Sometime of more, as Deut. 17. 3. 1 King. 18. 27. 1 Cor. 14. 6. In ſome places it's all one with Or, as Luk. 6. 42. Jam. 3. 12. And uſually Or followeth the word whereunto it is joyned, as good or bad, Gen. 31. 24. (from good to bad, marg.) warp or woof, Lev. 13. 58. a bullock or a lambe, Lev. 22. 23. great or ſmall, 1 Sam. 30. 2, & 30. 2. whereby the meaning is plainly ſeen.

Elder

Elder then he] Job 32. 4. Heb. elder for dayes, marg. The elder, Rom. 9. 12. or greater, marg. Eldeſt ſervant, Gen. 24. 12. One that had lived longer with him then any of the reſt, or was older then any of them. Eldeſt Son, Gen. 27. 1. the firſt born. Though Apollo Anglicanus render the word πρεσβύτεροι, Presbyters, accounting the rendring of it Elders, to be corrupt, yet if τῦ λαῦ be joyned therewith, (which he alſo joyneth) Eccleſiaſticall Presbyters had no hand in the apprehending of Chriſt, nor are they to be reputed the diſciples of the Jewiſh Presbyterians, between whom and Aſtrologers there's now ſuch antipathy. And whereas he ſaith that the proper reading of πρεσβύτεροι, is Preſbyters, will he render theſe words in Joh 8. 9. Ἀρξάμενοι ἀπὸ τῶν πρεσβυτέρων, ἕως τῶν ἐσχάτων, beginning at the Presbyters, even unto the laſt? What can he ſay againſt ours, beginning at the eldeſt, even unto the laſt? Such went out firſt, either becauſe they who had lived longeſt had more ſins, or becauſe they being more prudent, firſt apprehended the force of the ſentence. Annot.

Elders] The Elders or Heads of the families, were chief men among their Tribes, who were farther choſen, and by impoſition of hands received into the Sanhedrim, and ſo made Judges there, and theſe are called the Elders of the people, Mat. 21. 23. & 26. 3, 47. and of Iſrael, Act. 4. 8. Dr. Ham. on Mar. 5. Annot. c. The ſame Author holds, that by Elders in Act. 11. 30. and in many other places of the New Teſtament, Biſhops are meant, which he endevoureth to prove at large. Annot.

Elephant] See Behemoth.

Election] According to election, Rom. 9. 11. The Hebr. בחר, ſignifies both to chuſe, and to preferre, and is therefore rendred not onely ἐκλέγειν, to chuſe, but alſo προαιρεῖν, to preferre, Deut. 7. 6. & 10. 15. Prov. 1. 29. and agreeable to that ἐκλογὴ, election, here ſignifies prelation, & ἡ κατ' ἐκλογὴν θεῦ πρόθεσις, is, Gods purpoſe in reſpect of this, (or, for the) preferring one before the other. Dr. Hammond Annot. g.

Calling and election, 2 Pet. 1. 10. By calling is meant the mercy of God in making them Chriſtians; and by election, that peculiar favour of being the remnant, to whom the promiſe of deliverance belonged, and in whom they ſhould be fulfilled; when the reſt of that people, remaining obdurate in their ſins, ſhould be deſtroyed. Idem An. d.

Eleben] Applyed to Apoſtles, Act. 1. 26. Bullocks, Numb. 29. 20. Cities, Joſh. 15. 51. Cubits, Ezek. 40. 49. Curtains, Exo. 26. 7. & 36. 14, 15. Dayes, Deut. 1. 2. Diſciples, Mat. 28. 16. Sons, Gen. 32. 12. Stars, Gen. 37. 9. Yeers, 2 King. 23. 36. & 24. 18. In Judg. 16. 5. there's mention of eleven hundred pieces of ſilver, as in Judg. 17. 2. of ſo many ſhekels.

Elebenth] Captain, 1 Chr. 27. 14. Day, Numb. 7. 72. Hour, Matt. 20. 6, 8. Lot, 1 Chr. 24. 12. Moneth, Deut. 1. 3. Zec. 1. 7. Son, 1 Chron. 12. 13. Precious ſtone, Rev. 21. 20. Yeer, 2 King. 9. 29. & 25. 2. Jer. 1. 3. & 52. 5.

Nothing elſe, Judg. 7. 14. No other thing, Joel 2. 27. beſide, which is expreſſed, Iſa. 45. 5, 6.

Elymas] the Sorcerer, Act. 13. 8. The word אלם, alem, or alim in Arabick ſignifies knowing, or skilfull, and is applyed to thoſe that know things divine and humane, from עלם, alam, ſcivit, he knew; and ſo μάγος, perhaps מגוש from נש, which in Syriack and Arabick ſignifies ſcrutari, or explorare, to ſearch, will ſignifie the ſame alſo. From this concurrence of the words, ἐλύμας and μάγος, in the ſame notion, it is clear that neither of them here was a proper name, (that having before been ſet down to be Barjeſus, verſ. 6.) but both in ſeverall languages, the title of their wiſe men, skilled in the ſecret learning, whom we ordinarily call Magicians. And μάγοι, being in ſo common uſe among the Grecians, though perhaps of an Eaſterne origination too, is here ſet as an interpretation of the other. Dr. Hammond Annot. a.

E M.

Emboldened] 1 Cor. 8. 10. Gr. edified, m. What emboldeneth thee? Job 16. 3. What ſubſtantiall and ſure grounds haſt thou, or ſolid reaſon to confirm what thou ſayeſt? Sure none at all. Annot.

Eminent place] Ezek. 16. 24. or Brothelhouſe, marg. Ezek. 17. 22. חלול, an heap. And I will plant it upon an high mountain, and eminent; that is, God would ſet this King upon his holy Hill of Sion, Pſal. 2.6. and over his Church. Annot.
